Commerce Board Boosts Prizes for Yule Decorations

The board of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce voted to increase the amount of prize money offered in the annual Christmas home decoration contest in an effort to stimulate more decorations this year, President B. A. Calka announced this week.

The action was taken at the regular monthly meeting of the board Monday evening. First prize in the contest has been doubled and is now $50. Other prizes have been increased accordingly. Second prize will be $40. The third best decoration in the village is now worth $30, while the fourth will bring $20. Fifth prize is $10 and there will be 10 prizes of $5 each.

Meanwhile, the board announced that work on the decorations for Main Street has started. The decorations will be under the direction of Lloyd Wyke.

Workday
The date for the annual workday has also been set. The traditional cooperative effort of local residents will be Sunday, Nov. 30, and members will receive full details by letter, Mr. Calka said.

The day will start with a breakfast at 7:30 a. m. served by the Cass City OES.

Courtesy Tickets
In other action, the board went on record as favoring courtesy tickets to parking violators until Jan. 1. After that time, the board feels that ample notice will have been given and overtime parkers should be fined.

Cox Pleads Guilty In Federal Court
Elwin E. Cox, 21, of Cass City pleaded guilty in Bay City Monday of defrauding the government and was returned to his job on an area farm pending a presentence investigation.

Mr. Cox had obtained a family military allotment for John Murphy Goodshot, 21, of Rhode Island who posed as his wife.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard asked Cox, "Were you and this fellow going together?" and Mr. Cox said that the marriage was an arrangement to get money.

Goodshot is charged with receiving four allotment checks totalling nearly $500 from the Navy on the fraudulent marriage. Goodshot has pleaded guilty to a similar charge in Nebraska Federal Court.

Cox told the court that $67 was taken from his check monthly as his share of "family" support.

Expert to Present Home Decoration Tips Here Monday
The Cass City Zonta Club will sponsor a public meeting featuring Miss Helen Higgins, home service advisor of the Detroit Edison Company, Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the elementary school gym.

Miss Higgins will explain how to build door, window and outdoor displays for the home.

The meeting was originated by the Zontians in an effort to realize their campaign to "Light Up Every Home for Christmas."

Fine Jewell in Cass City Justice Court
Dennis Jewell, 39, of Cass City was arrested Monday evening by Marshall Bill Wood on a charge of drunk and disorderly.

He pleaded guilty before Justice Mrs. Reva M. Little in Cass City Tuesday and was fined $10 and costs of $5.65.

Varied Business
The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors adopted a new procedure in handling county money Monday in their regular meeting in the courthouse at Caro.

Previously, most of the county funds had been deposited in the two banks in Caro. The new contract calls for the first $100,000 of county money to be placed in both Caro banks.

Sums over that amount will be deposited in banks throughout the county. The county will receive interest of one and a half per cent for money deposited on 90-day certificates of deposit and two and a half per cent for money deposited on six-month certificates of deposit.

Sums up to $10,000 can be deposited in each of these banks: Reese, Millington, Gagetown, Kingston, Mayville, Unionville, Fairgrove, Akron and The Pinney State Bank and The Cass City State Bank, of Cass City. The new contract will become effective Jan. 1.

See Old Buildings
Supervisors adjourned at noon and visited the Tuscola County Nursing Home to examine the former facilities for nursing care in the county. Their examination was made to determine what to do with the buildings.

It was decided to authorize the welfare committee to sell the former building used for the nursing home and the buildings immediately adjacent to this building. Members of the committee are Chairman Hugh Marr, Archie Hicks and LaVerne Draper.

Supervisors will not sell the farm land around the nursing home this year. They decided to rent the land for another year. The farm buildings will also not be sold this year.

ALL ALONE—Forrest Walpole is so far in front of defensive Bad Axe gridders on this play that they were out of range of the camera. This picture was snapped as he cut sharply to the sidelines on one of his three touchdown runs. Cass City easily won the Thumb B championship with a 38-0 victory.

300 See Nursing Home Dedicated

The Tuscola County Nursing Home was dedicated in special ceremonies Tuesday before an estimated crowd of 300 persons.

The hour-long ceremony was highlighted by the handing of the keys from Clark Ackley, architect, to Chairman Shufford Kirk and the special hospital committee of the board of supervisors which includes Harold Cook, John McIntyre, Charles Woodcock, Archie Hicks, Grover Laurie and Milton Bedore.

The keys were then given by Mr. Kirk to Mrs. Gladys Wilcox, chairman of the Social Welfare Department. Also present were the other members of the welfare board, Maynard McConkey and Elmer Haines.

A representative from the State complimented the county on its new facility in a brief address. The Caro High School Band was present and played as part of the ceremonies.

Following the official dedication, the visitors toured the nursing home and were served coffee and donuts.

The $390,000 hospital was authorized by county voters in the November election of 1956. The former building had been condemned by the State Health Department. At the polls the voters okayed a three-mill tax levy for 14 years to pay for the building.

The 124-bed home will amply serve the needs of the county and is built for easy expansion.

The building has been erected with all fireproof materials, with a brick exterior and lightweight blocks behind the brick. Concrete foundations, precast concrete floor and roof, metal windows and doors have made the hospital a rigid, sound-resistant, economical type construction.

The hospital has three basic nursing units, one for bedridden and critically ill patients, another for mentally confused or contagious patients and the third for ambulatory patients.

Parents of children through the third grade will confer with teachers Thursday and the remainder of the kindergarten and grades four through six are slated for parent conferences Friday.

School authorities say that the conferences aid in giving parents a better understanding of the child at school and the teacher a better understanding of the child at home.

Teachers urge that all parents attend the conferences.

Returns Reveal Chest Drive Lags In Cass City Area

Incomplete returns in the annual Elkland-Novesta Township Community Chest Drive reveal that the drive is lagging this year, Chairman Willis Campbell reported this week.

A total of $4,001.22 of the quota of $6,500 has been collected. There are 16 solicitors yet to report in the village and 18 in the rural area, Mr. Campbell said.

Returns from Novesta Township are also incomplete. This year's drive is the first that Novesta and Elkland have made a joint campaign for Chest funds.

Mr. Campbell said that many persons have not been asked to give because they were away when the volunteer worker called at their home or because their names have not been placed on the master lists.

Those persons can help the Chest drive by calling the school or mailing their contributions to William Ruhl at the Pinney State Bank. All contributions mailed will be credited to the proper territory, Mr. Campbell said.

The drive chairman reminded area residents that the Community Chest in the Cass City area has never failed to reach its quota and urged an extra effort by all residents to keep the record intact this year.

Solicitors who have not reported are asked to do so this week, Mr. Campbell said.

Fire Razes Farm Home Sunday
The Elkland Township Fire Department battled a fire that was thought to have been caused by faulty wiring from about 9:30 Sunday morning to nearly dark at the farm home owned by Mrs. Archie MacAlpine, 10 miles north-east of Cass City.

The fire was discovered by a tenant at the farm, Mrs. Aaron Jantzi. She saw sparks coming from around a ceiling light fixture and called the fire department.

When she left the room, part of the ceiling fell and exposed the burning joists. Mr. Jantzi was not at home at the time.

The fire was protected from the efforts of the firefighters because it was burning behind the brick veneer of the home.

Slate Girl Scout Leadership Training Course in Vassar
There will be a Girl Scout leadership training course at the Methodist Church in Vassar Thursday and Friday, Nov. 13-14, Mrs. Arthur Kelley announced this week.

The course will be from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and is designed for leaders, committee members or others interested in Girl Scout work.

The training is free and there will be a baby sitter present each day. Coffee will be furnished and those attending are asked to bring their lunch.

Persons interested in the scout training are asked to contact Mrs. Kelley about transportation.

With an awesome display of offensive and defensive power, Cass City rolled over Bad Axe 38-0 in the championship tilt Friday night at Cass City Recreational Park before a record crowd estimated at 2,000 persons.

Bad Axe, previously undefeated in conference play, was no match for the explosive Hawk runners or the crunching Hawk defense. It was apparent that Cass City was on its way to its third straight Thumb B Conference title and an undefeated season early in the game.

Only a fumble stopped the Hawks' parade of touchdowns in the first quarter as they moved to the Bad Axe 12 from their own 20 the first time they got the ball.

Forrest Walpole, Cass City's candidate for all-state, busted the game open the first time Cass City received possession in the second period and was a standout all evening.

The fleet halfback broke through the line, shook off a pair of Hatchet tacklers and raced 80 yards to score. Fred Leeson added the extra point and Cass City was in the lead 7-0.

Walpole scored the next Hawk marker to cap a 56-yard drive. He went 32 yards to cross the last white stripe after Alex Lopez and Chuck Auvil had worked combined for a first down.

Ahead 13-0 as the last half started, the Hawks added two more markers in the third period.

They held Bad Axe after the opening kickoff and then moved 67 yards in nine plays.

The key play in the game was a brilliant pass from Leeson to End Dave Wilson that covered 21 yards for a first down on the five. Walpole pounded over three plays later from the one. Leeson again kicked the extra point.

The next march started on the Bad Axe 48. After a five-yard penalty, Lopez went the distance only to have the play called back by a clipping penalty at the 25.

With the ball on the 40, Cass City scored in just four plays. Auvil went the last 11 yards as he slanted through the line and dashed virtually untouched into the end zone.

Coach Mike Yedinak just about emptied his bench in the final period but it was a first stringer, Auvil, who scored the fifth touchdown. He capped a 60-yard drive when he raced for 23 yards to score.

Bob Wright, who has shown great promise at halfback, picked up the final touchdown. He picked up 23 yards on one dash in the 45-yard march and then smashed over from the one to score.

Coach Mike Yedinak said that the victory was a team effort. It's impossible to pick out the best defensive player, he said, all were magnificent Friday.

Coach Yedinak says that this is the finest team that he has ever coached. "They had everything," he said. Speed, desire and aggressiveness . . . everything that makes an exceptional football team.

Walpole picked up 278 yards in 19 carries Friday for a 14.7 average to spark the offensive backs . . . over half of the total yardage made by the Hawks on the ground. The team averaged 8.9 yards each time they carried the ball.

During the season the Hawks piled up an average of eight yards on each carry and made. Concluded on page eight.

New Parking Lot Forces Removal Of Area Landmark

One of the oldest buildings in the community is being moved this week to make room for a new parking lot to be erected at the east end of the alley north of Main Street, between Oak and Seeger Streets.

The building is the shed located directly behind Bigelow Hardware that was recently sold to make room for the lot.

It was purchased by the late Nilton Bigelow in 1888 and was used as part of the hardware store when the business was known as Howe and Bigelow. How old it was at this time, no one can recall.

While the present brick building was erected, the shed and the former two-story hardware building were moved into the street and business was conducted in the middle of Main Street, Andrew Bigelow recalled.

Upon completion of the new hardware, the old building was sold to Elmer Seed and used for a business located between Brinker Lumber Co. and Baldy's Sunoco Service. What became of this building is not known.

At the same time that the building was sold, the shed was placed in its present location where it has weathered the years until progress dictated its removal.

Two Walbroites in One-week Course At Wittenberg
Two Cass City residents were among the 14 industrial supervisors who completed a one-week course Friday in Wittenberg College's Management Development Program.

Receiving diplomas at the end of the one-week course were Howard Bacon and James M. Wallace, both employees of the Walbro Corporation.

Wittenberg's Management Development program brings industrial foremen and supervisors to the Wittenberg campus for a concentrated week of study in the fields of economics, business operation, communications and human relations.

Methodists Tour Jewish Center
Fifty-one adults and young persons visited the Jewish center in Saginaw Sunday in a trip sponsored by the Youth Fellowship of the Cass City Methodist Church.

They listened to Rabbi Kaps tell of symbols and meanings of the Jewish religion and were shown scrolls, Eternal Light, prayer books and other articles used in worship.

They visited the synagogue and toured the center of which the synagogue is a part.

Sharon Farmer in School Ceremonies
Sharon Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Farmer of Deford, was one of the members of the freshman class of Marygrove College, Detroit, accepted as a full-fledged college student Sunday in ceremonies held at Sacred Heart Chapel in Detroit.

The freshmen traded the green and gold freshman caps for the black mortar boards which will be worn for all formal academic occasions.

Freshmen and members of the college faculty were guests of the junior class in the campus dining rooms at noon.

Several at Farm Bureau Convention
Mrs. Mack Little, Mrs. Clara Carpenter, Mrs. Edward Golding Sr., Mrs. Stanley Lagos, Mrs. Gail Parrott and Mrs. Laurence Copland attended the 14th annual meeting of Michigan Farm Bureau Women at East Lansing Monday.

The group heard Ervin I. Peterson, assistant secretary of agriculture, ask "What Do You Want from Washington?" and then answered with "More Government or an Umpire?"

SUCCESSFUL HUNTERS—Joe Sommers returned to Cass City this week with these bears after a week of hunting near Seney in the Upper Peninsula. "We knew they were there," Mr. Sommers said, "we saw the tracks nearly every day we hunted." It was not until the last day that the cub was sighted. Mr. Sommers shot it and his companion, William Parrott, shot the mother when she charged out of the brush after the cub was hit. The mother bear was killed instantly and the cub died after a short run.

The big bear had been trapped twice. Members of the conservation department reported that it weighed 150 pounds in 1955; 127 pounds in 1956 and 145 pounds now. The cub and difference in feeding conditions account for the change in weights, it was reported.

Yule Trees Big Business in State

Michigan's Christmas tree industry is big business but it can get a lot bigger and more profitable to growers and merchandisers in the state if they can counteract some of the advantages seen by buyers in importing trees from Canada.

A Michigan State University bulletin giving a vivid picture of Michigan's Christmas tree industry and containing suggestions designed to increase the home state market is available to growers free from the county extension office. When requesting the booklet, ask for special bulletin 419, "Resurvey of Christmas Tree Marketing in Michigan." It was prepared by Lee M. James, associate professor of forestry, Michigan State University.

Michigan's current annual output of Christmas trees is about 1,140,000. A rapid shift is taking place from wild balsam fir and spruce to plantation trees, predominantly Scotch pine. Annual plantings have risen rapidly from 1951 through this year.

Exports of Yule trees from Michigan totaled 212,000 trees in 1956. Imports into the state, principally from Canada, totaled 672,000. Our northern neighbor's export role is emphasized by an annual flow of more than 8 million trees through our state en route to other states.

James found that many Michigan tree buyers look to Canada for their supplies rather than their home state because Canadian trees frequently can be delivered to Michigan markets cheaper than similar domestically produced trees.

Many home state buyers are contacted by dealers in Canadian trees or find they can contact sources of supply more readily in Canada than at home. Also, big buyers usually find it easier to purchase in larger quantities in Canada.

Other advantages listed in buying Canadian trees are that they are always bundled before shipment in contrast to the loose piling of Michigan trees. Some big dealers handling Canadian trees have been more effective than local dealers in selling their product.

A number of helpful suggestions on how Michigan's Christmas tree market may more successfully compete with the Canadian grown trees are listed in the booklet. Most of the secret of increasing Michigan's market lies in better merchandising practices, including promotional and advertising programs, backed up by the ability to furnish larger volume shipments at lesser cost to Christmas tree dealers.

New Folder Tells State's Dairy Facts

Although Michigan farmers produce a wide variety of products, this is mainly a dairy state. Census figures show that 25 per cent of the state's farms were called dairy farms in 1958.

A new extension folder, now available at the county extension office, gives an interesting, illustrated summary of the major changes that are taking place in Michigan agriculture. A copy of the folder, F-259, is free for the asking.

Other census data show that number of farms is dropping while the farm size is increasing. In 1954, about 80 per cent of the farms were over 140 acres in size, compared to 20 per cent in 1945. This change in size and number of farms has been greatest in the northern counties of the state.

More Michigan farmers are working off the farm, about 40 per cent in 1954, and the number of tenant farmers is dropping. In 1954, only 7 per cent of the farms were being rented, compared to 19 per cent in 1935.

Other trends are fewer farms producing milk but farms still producing milk have larger herds; fewer farms are producing pork but each farm with hogs has more sows; fewer farms are keeping sheep; total hen numbers are changing little but the farm flock size is increasing; more farms have running water and nearly all farms have electricity.

Coral reefs are skeleton-like masses formed by the secretion from animals called "coral polyps."

Why milk is essential for growing adults

Sure, we all know milk is essential for growing kids. Builds strong bodies, sound bones, good teeth. But, we say, we're already grown. Yet that's not entirely true. Actually we're still growing—not taller, of course, but older.

Fact is that our bodies are in a constant state of change, as long as we live. Every time we move a muscle, body cells and tissues wear out and must be rebuilt. The average person wears out and rebuilds every cell in his body in seven years. This means that every seven years we must build an entirely new body. And milk—the most complete source of protein, the only practical source of calcium—is nature's body builder.

Now, body tissues include, of course, the skin. In order to rebuild facial tissues that help keep our complexions soft and smooth—free of premature wrinkles—we need the protein, calcium and vitamins contained in milk. That is why milk is often called nature's beauty aid.

Milk is important for adults for many more reasons. A glass of milk before each meal, for example, helps curb our appetites; helps us overcome the temptation to overeat—and at the same time provides many of the nutrients we need to feel vigorous and alert. Milk helps ease nervous tension, too, promotes sound, refreshing sleep.

And if you've forgotten how good a cold, cold drink of fresh milk can taste—we suggest you try some soon. Especially if you're a growing adult.

County 4-H'ers Receive Awards

The 1958 4-H club program of Tuscola County's 1,300 4-H club members officially drew to a close Tuesday evening, Nov. 4, when 275 leaders, parents, club members and friends gathered to see over 50 youngsters gather up 85 awards.

County medals were given to 45 club members for recognition of their achievements in the projects in which they were enrolled. Roy Wightman of the Darbee 4-H Club and Janet Albrecht of the Gilford Community 4-H Club received the annual Michigan Farmer award given to the outstanding boy and girl in 4-H club work for 1958.

Mr. Philip Miller, district manager of the Cities Service Oil Company of Bay City, presented Michigan 4-H Key Club awards to Sue Black of the Wisner 4-H Club; Leland Irish and Harriet Forshee of the Lewis 4-H Club; Roy Wightman of the Darbee Club, and Grace Donnelly of the West Elkland 4-H Club. The agent stated that this was the second year that Michigan's 4-H club members were to receive this award and that it is given to club members who have provided significant leadership in their clubs and counties.

Winners of the 4-H crops show which is held annually in conjunction with the fall achievement program are: Larry Hickey of the Graham 4-H Club, with his bean and barley exhibits; Bonnie Englehart and Jerry Taylor of the Jolly 4-H'ers of Millington, with their shelled corn and Yorkwin wheat exhibits, respectively, and Jim Trump of the Richville Community 4-H Club, with his champion ear corn exhibit. Larry and Jim were awarded the annual trip to Chicago December 1 to 4, which will include not only county crops show winners, but the 4-H King and Queen and two achievement booth winners.

BULEN TALKS Cars

THERE ARE ONLY TWO CAUSES OF ACCIDENTS! Before you say "Why this guy has gone completely nuts." Let me tell you that the two-cause statement is the considered opinion of experts who have been studying highway safety and accidents for years.

Mechanical failure, the lesser of the two causes, accounts for approximately one accident in twelve. Included in mechanical failure are all such things as breakdown of brakes, steering and so on. And behind the mechanical failure, there is often the human failure of the motorist who neglected to take reasonable care to ensure that his car was in safe condition.

Apart from mechanical failures, there is only one cause of accidents... the failure of drivers to adjust to conditions. What about snow, rain, ice, bad roads, heavy traffic, children or animals on the road? These are all conditions. Sure they are troublesome... but they result in accidents only when drivers fail to adjust for them.

The good driver can and does travel under a very wide range of conditions. By taking extra care and lowering his speed he compensates for the adverse conditions. I have driven with people who adjust to conditions so well that they are as safe in their car in a snow storm as many of us are sitting quietly in our living room on a sunny day.

Nearly every battered car, nearly every injured motorist or pedestrian is evidence of one... or more drivers... who did not adjust to conditions. In the winter months ahead, there will be many days when conditions on the road are bad... take a little extra care won't you?

Eliminate "Mechanical Failure" for the Winter with a new CHEVROLET - OLDSMOBILE or a tested Reconditioned "OK USED CAR."

Come In, Look Them Over, Drive the One You Like. You will be surprised at how little it will cost for a New Car or a Good Used Car. We're always glad to see you.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Lamb Roast Can Be Mealtime Headliner In Different Ways

LAMB is a delicious meat to use in platters with a mint sauce or cubed in a salad for a main dish. A large roast can be served for two or more meals. It's easy to roast by inserting a meat thermometer and turning the oven to slow, 300° F. Roast, uncovered without water, until the insert thermometer registers 175 to 180° F. Serve, sliced, hot with mint jelly. To serve leftovers, use these ways:

Lamb Platter with Mint Sauce (Serves 4-6)
 1/4 cup chopped mint
 1/4 cup vinegar
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 cup water
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 12 slices cooked lamb
 Sliced tomatoes

Sliced lamb roast in the foreground is garnished with tomato slices, radishes and carrot curls to be served with fresh mint sauce. Marinated lamb is served in scoop-out tomatoes while the bowl features cubed lamb and potatoes in a main dish salad.

Combine mint, vinegar, sugar, water, salt and pepper; mix well. Chill. Arrange lamb slices and tomatoes on platter. Serve with mint sauce. Garnish as desired.

Lamb in Tomato Chops (Serves 4)
 2 cups cooked lamb, cubed
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 2 tablespoons cooking oil
 1/2 teaspoon paprika
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 1 medium tomato
 1 tablespoon mayonnaise

Keep Guests Busy For Party Success

What's the recipe for a successful party? The simplest answer is to keep the guest moving or circulating from one party of friends to another and drifting from one activity to another.

The hostess who seats her guests comfortably in one room and even serves them there will have a party that just about dies on its feet, or on the seats, for the secret is to keep the guest moving. One successful hostess says she always invites more people than she has seating capacity and everyone seems to have a wonderful time.

Plan Guests Carefully
 Planning who to invite is just as important as planning the right food. You don't want all your witty friends at the same gathering because it will be hard for everyone to get an opportunity to talk. Neither do you want all your shy friends at a gathering, for who would then get to bring out their conversation?

Mull over the possibilities and come up with a group which excites your imagination. The final list should have a wide range of people as well as many possibilities for conversation.

Don't be too perfect about the housekeeping for a party as that atmosphere can freeze your guests as soon as they enter the house. Yes, do polish the furniture and vacuum the rugs, but if you have magazines in the living room, don't clear them all out.

Spontaneity gets a big boost if you're not setting and waiting for the guests when they arrive. It will relax them more if you're polishing glass or mixing cream cheese or salads when they ring the doorbell.

Conducting Party
 You, like an orchestra conductor, can open conversational topics with leading questions. Unless however, you're a really keen conversationalist, plan in advance what you're going to ask about so it doesn't lead to a one-way blind street of talk by one person.

For a group who is really getting along spiritedly it's wise not to interrupt, but of course, you can maneuver them into moving about at refreshment time if these are planned for dining room or kitchen.

Most people aim to give a narrow-minded man a wide berth.

Clothing Leaders At 4-H Workshop

Fifty-five 4-H clothing club leaders attended a workshop recently at the Wilber Memorial 4-H building, relates Bill Muller, county extension agent in 4-H club work.

Leaders of teaching beginners in the 4-H clothing project, states the agent, and also had an opportunity to review the pamphlet for clothing leaders which was prepared by the Singer Company.

The agent went on to say that winter 4-H clubs are now in the process of organizing and that any girl 10 years of age by Jan. 1 is eligible to participate in 4-H club work. As a clothing project member, girls will become members in an organized club, receive a clothing project bulletin, and instruction for the project year enrolled in. At spring achievement, the member will exhibit and model her garment along with other girls in her club and the county. Last year 387 girls completed clothing projects in Tuscola County, and as many if not more will be enrolled in this project for 1959.

For further information on how you can become a 4-H club member, contact the Cooperative Extension Office in the Tuscola County Courthouse at Caro.

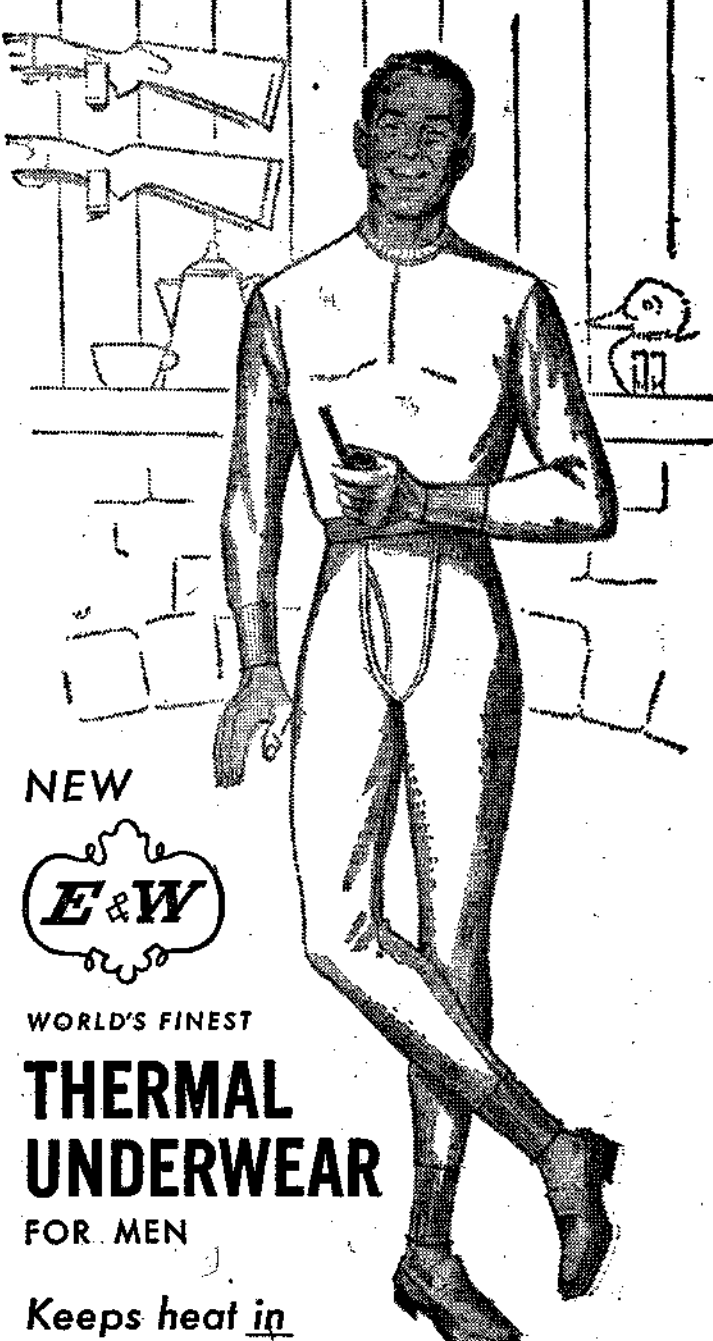

A great many men shiver in the cold just because they imagined they had the fire of genius.

Price Support May Be Expanded Here

If a new corn program is adopted by farmers in the referendum Nov. 25, price supports will be required to be offered each year on oats, rye, barley, and grain sorghums, County Office Manager Charles B. Eckfeld, of the Tuscola County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

In the past, generally speaking, these other grains have been on the permissive list. This means that the Secretary of Agriculture was authorized but not required to make price support available on them.

If these supports become mandatory as a result of the referendum, the price support each year will be at a level determined to be fair and reasonable in relation to the price support for corn, taking into consideration relative feed values, the ability of producers to keep supplies in line with demand and other factors

Letter to Editor

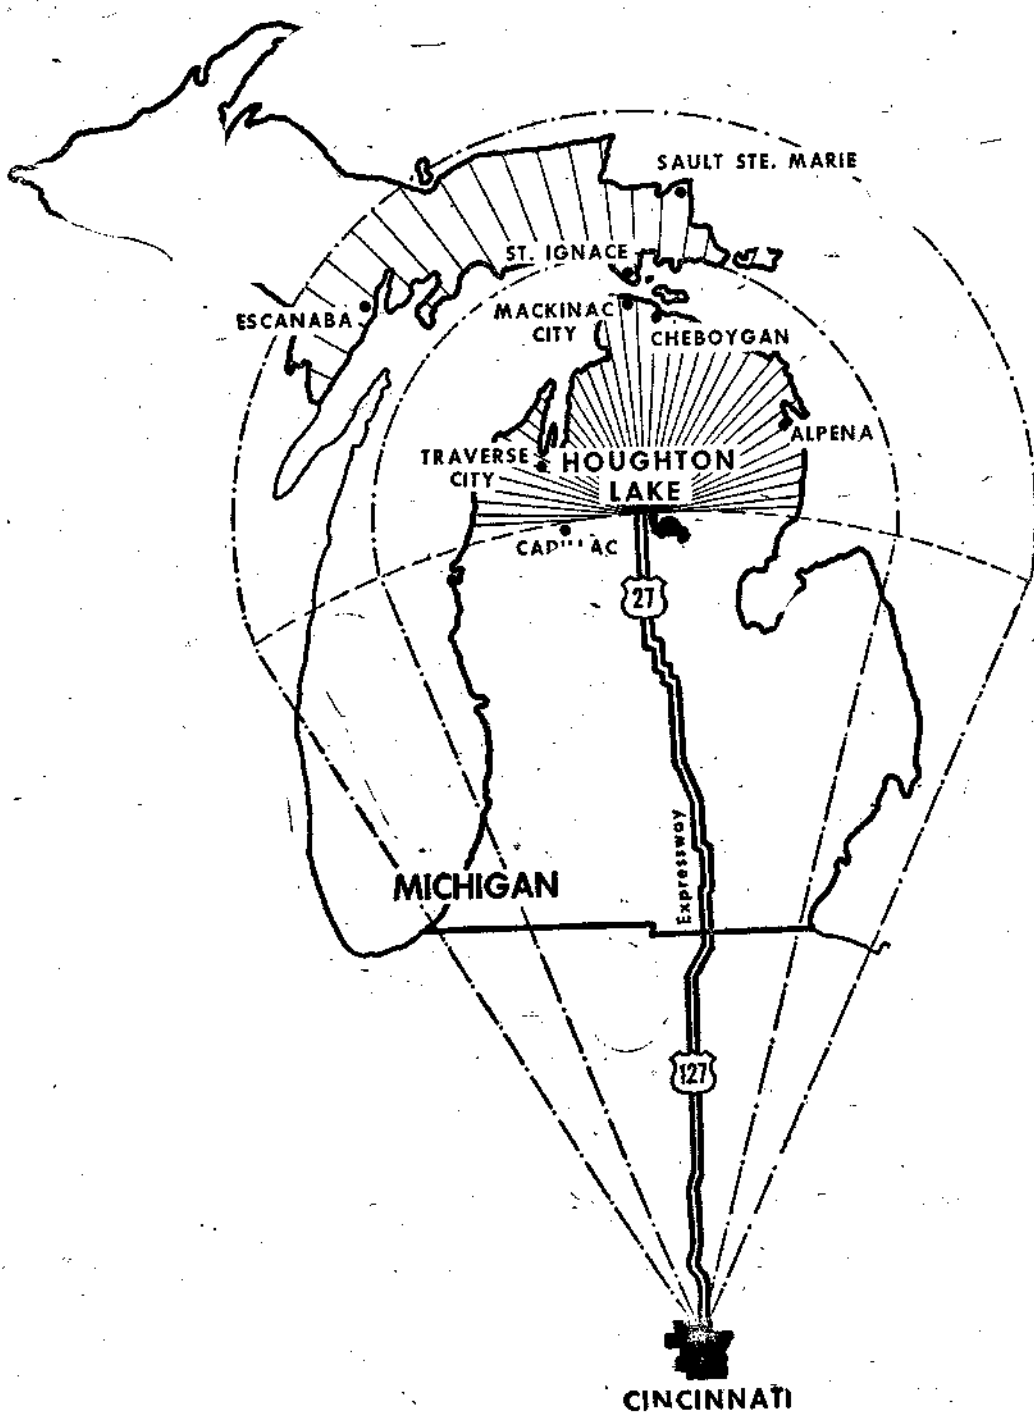

November 6, 1958
Mr. John Haire,
Cass City Chronicle,
Cass City, Michigan.
Dear Mr. Haire:
We were indeed pleased to note in the Sunday edition, November 2nd, that you have been able to realize your dream in building a hospital for your community.
The writer recalls a delegation from your city coming down to Yale some years ago and going through our hospital and we realize what efforts you have had to put forth in accomplishing what you have done.
We wish to extend to you our congratulations and trust that you will have a very successful operation in your new venture.
The writer feels quite sure that after you have been in operation for four or five years you will look back and say to yourselves how did we ever get along without this hospital. This has been our experience here in Yale and we want you to know that if there is anything that we can do to assist you in your setup, we will be only too pleased to have you call on us.
With kindest personal wishes, we are
Yours very truly,

Debaters Meet at Owendale School

Students from Kingston, Owendale-Gagetown and Reese met for a discussion meet of the Upper Thumb Debate League Thursday, Nov. 6, at Owendale-Gagetown School.
The 23 students present discussed "What features of British education would best serve the interests of the people of the United States?"
The meeting and discussion was arranged so that students could learn group thinking and "pool" information for the 1958-59 debate season.
Discussion questions and debate propositions are defined by the Michigan High School Forensic Association.
Members of the Upper-Thumb Debate League are: Caro, Cass City, Kingston, Owendale and Reese.
The good judgment of some people will never wear out—they don't use it often enough.
Some people seem to think that every idea that comes into their heads is an inspiration.

The drawing of the map above depicts the expanded resort area penetration which will result from the completion of an expressway-type highway from Michigan's southern border to Sault Ste. Marie, according to a preliminary report submitted by Dr. Frank Suggitt, Michigan State University, to the Michigan Good Roads Federation. Using the Cincinnati-Houghton Lake route as an example, Suggitt points out that the expressway, and expressway connections to it, will permit out-of-state tourists from Cincinnati to travel into areas touched by the outer arc in the same time-period as present routes permit them to cover the distance to Houghton Lake. The expressway, with conventional connecting roads, will permit persons to travel to areas touched by the inner arc in the same time-period as present routes permit to cover the distance to Houghton Lake. As a result of this future time-distance change, Suggitt predicts a great increase in Michigan's tourist-resort business.

In the reverse of this example, Suggitt pointed out that the time-distance change, resulting from the expressway, will provide a market area expansion of 5 million more people in Illinois, Kentucky and West Virginia, who will be as close time-wise as Cincinnati is today.

Progressive Building New Supply Depot

One of Michigan's largest and finest IGA food store supply depots will be erected in Vassar to house the new headquarters of the Progressive Grocery Co., a franchised IGA wholesaler now located in Bad Axe. This was announced this week by Douglas A. Grimes, Progressive's alert and energetic president.
Grimes said the new structure, which will be completed by March 1, 1959, will contain 90,000 square feet of space and will feature the most modern facilities available. Grimes also pointed out that he will consolidate with the Progressive Grocery Company, the Rodman Wholesale Company of Alma, which he also owns, and that the customers of both Progressive and Rodman will be served from the new warehouse.
"Our new operation will have the latest type of equipment and will feature a frozen foods department, a dairy division, a meat and produce department, in addition to groceries of all kinds," he said.

Mr. Peterson answered questions of a press panel of educators and editors.
The cost of socialism was discussed by Dr. Clifton Ganus of Harding College, Arkansas. Dr. Ganus presented his impression of Europe after his tour of the continent. He said that personal responsibility is decreasing. Individuals are no longer thinking for themselves, he claimed. The wars have killed the spirit of the people and what was left has been killed by the government promising to take care of their needs.
Dr. Ganus told how U. S. aid money in France was spent for winning and dining and Germany's for rebuilding their country. He predicted that Germany will again be the number one country in Europe.
Dr. Ganus said that to stay strong, the United States must study the facts, learn the truth and strive to keep Communists from destroying moral fiber.
It's all right to speak straight from the shoulder, but be sure it originates a little higher up.
The memories that seem to last the longest with a certain type of people are the shortcomings of their acquaintances.

WOMAN'S WORLD Easy, Relaxed Look Keynotes Fashions Of Current Season

FASHION silhouettes for the season show a relaxed and eased look. It is still unfitted to a great extent, but there is shape to it as evidenced by the bloused dress, the trapeze or cone shape and the Empire line.
All the clothes are softened and feminine, whether they're slender or flaring. Gathers, tucks and soft pleats emphasize the feminine look.
Fabrics Show Grandeur
Outstanding quality and color are evident in the fabrics used. Colors are taken from the horizon, the fields and the forests. Magnificent prints bring the east to the west, some muted, some brilliant. Velvets and corduroys reflect new splendor in color and pattern, often elegantly interpreting the beauty of the Orient.
Plaids are as bright as the autumn landscape and take to play logs, unfitted dresses, bright separates and coats.
Tweed is striking in year-round weight cottons that are tailored and ladylike for any schedule.

The trapeze or cone silhouette is shown in this dress of black and white cotton tweed with a high waistline circled by a gleaming patent leather belt. Black buttons highlight veiled seams that spread from the round neckline to a lined skirt.
Suited to any occasion is the robe-trotting suit. In wide-shoulder, a free-form coat gracefully flares at the back to top a pencil-slim skirt.

New Styles

Another innovation seen in coats is the red corduroy trapeze-shaped raincoat that can be worn for sunny days, too. Full with a hip belt placed slot style through the pockets, this is a coat destined to be popular on the campus.
Fashioned for coed, commuter or the woman who likes sport clothes is an outfit in houndstooth check. The softly pleated skirt is covered with a long, unfitted, draw-string-tied jacket topped off with a hood.
For other dress-up occasions, there's the sheath dress, the last word in chic and smartness. These are figure-flattering and figure-revealing, often bowed at the back and flounced at the hemline to give a most provocative look.

Cake Squares Serve As Tempting Snack

There's a special appeal to the simple cakes like raisin squares and gingerbread since the homemaker can whip them together when she has an oven dinner. Tangy, spicy and good without being frosted, they make wonderful snacks and pack easily for those box lunches.
Orange Raisin Squares (Makes 18-inch cake)
1 cup golden raisins
1 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 1/4 cups water
1/2 cup shortening (part butter)
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
Rinse and drain raisins. Combine with sugar, water and shortening; boil 5 minutes. Cool to room temperature. Add orange rind and vanilla. Sift together remaining dry ingredients and stir into first mixture. Beat well. Turn into greased 9-inch square pan. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven 35 to 40 minutes.
Maple Syrup Gingerbread (Makes 1 oblong cake)
1 cup maple syrup
1 cup soured cream
1 egg, beaten
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 1/4 teaspoons baking soda
1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
Blend together maple syrup, cream and egg. Sift together dry ingredients and stir into liquid, beating well. Add shortening and beat thoroughly. Pour into greased oblong cake pan and bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven 30 to 40 minutes.

Fescue Poisoning Found In New Area

Fescue foot is reported in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association from a climatic and soil type environment—muck soil pastures in Florida—which differs from those in the areas where the disease has been found previously. Previous reports of fescue poisoning in cattle have been from the Rocky Mountain area and mid-South.
Research at the College of Veterinary Medicine, Colorado State University, indicates that the poisonous substance resembles the causative agent in ergot poisoning.
Of the 171 steers in the group of cattle turned out on muck soil, 18 died and 15 showed slight or severe lameness and lost the "switch" from the tail. Of 150 steers in good condition, only 15 developed a slight limp, although several lost the switch.
The less severely affected animals recovered and new cases stopped appearing within a few weeks, even though the animals were not moved off the pasture. This suggests, the report said, that fescue may be poisonous only at certain stages of growth or under certain weather conditions. A second possibility is that the animals acquire resistance after exposure for a period of time.

Greenwood 4-H Club Accepts Members

Plans were completed to attend the Achievement Day at Bad Axe Saturday. President Phyllis Enders conducted the business meeting.
The next meeting is Nov. 19 at the home of the club's president.

"Bug" from Birds

Causative agent of the eastern type of equine encephalomyelitis called sleeping sickness in horses is found near fresh water swamps. Virus is passed from mosquitoes to birds and back to mosquitoes. Migratory birds may carry the infection organisms from fresh water swamps to salt water marshes where mosquitoes are efficient carriers of the organism, reports American Veterinary Medical Association.

In both England and the U. S. the term "convict" refers only to a person found guilty by a jury.
A coot is an aquatic bird found principally in South America.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Knowledge is power, according to an ancient saying, and there are few today who would argue the point. One of the finest sources of knowledge in the state is supplying its citizens with both knowledge and power. It has been functioning steadily and well, making its services available to any and all who inquire.

This is the Michigan State Library, homeless since 1949 when a fire destroyed the state office building where it was located.

Since that fire, nine years ago, library departments have been scattered around Lansing. It is one of the last services to be considered for "new" housing in state government. Working under handicaps that have been largely overcome through sheer determination, the library staff continues to function. Its services are still available, and today it serves more people than ever.

Mrs. Loleta D. Fyan, state librarian, said the statewide use of the library has hit an all-time volume during the past year.

In raw figures covering a seven-year period, records show that Michigan residents borrowed 221,000 books during the past year, compared to 118,000 in 1951.

More than 45,000 books were loaned to libraries throughout the state under the "feeder" library network serving outlying rural areas.

Reference services, one of the least-known of the library's functions, handled 113,000 requests for information, compared to 48,000 in 1951.

This is the service that enables citizens to get detailed research on all subjects by dialing the telephone or writing a letter. It is used by high school and college debating teams, many students, teachers, officials, newspapermen and any citizen curious about any fact.

The State Law Library, on the second floor of the Capitol, has also felt a pinch. It is a vital source of legal information for the legislature, state departments, the Supreme Court, and judges and lawyers throughout Michigan.

Lack of funds have forced a cutback in library services because more requests came in than can be handled by the limited number of staff employees.

The pinch is also felt in the library's Upper Peninsula branch at Escanaba. There book loans are almost double the 1955 rate, and last year reached 33,000.

"The State Library belongs to all residents of Michigan," said Mrs. Fyan.

"More than 75 per cent of our users are out-state residents," she said. The remaining 25 per cent include state employees and Michigan State University faculty and students."

Investigations have an effect on state agencies even if they are not immediate and dramatic.

The Senate committee assigned to eliminate waste in state government has made both friends and enemies during its first five months of operation, and its leaders already are claiming results.

Senator L. Harvey Lodge, Drayton Plains Republican, assessed his committee's work when challenged at a recent hearing. He said that it saved $116,000 for the state by showing that the State Police could maintain their services without serious effects and still cut the budget by that sum. Lodge added that as the hearings started Gov. Williams reduced his staff of State Police aides by one man.

While there were no resounding orders issued on the use of state cars, Lodge said the system has been tightened up and fewer abuses are present because the committee put the subject in the spotlight.

Dollar savings have been made in the mental health system, Lodge said, by publicizing the existence of bakeries and land-rendering rooms in state hospitals and a solarium for geraniums in another.

Lodge said the responsibility for a $154,000 loss caused by a mistake in processing a highway bond issue has been fixed and that Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has changed the system.

There are still other savings, he said, which will result from generally tighter operations in the state agencies.

The committee will make its report to the 1959 legislature in January - confident that even if the report does not lead to changes in laws an "atmosphere of economy" will have been created, at least for a time.

Don't expect too much of a self-made man-it may be his first attempt at the job.

Lamb Growers to Promote Sales

Tuscola County wool and lamb producers will help carry out sales promotion and advertising programs for wool through deductions from payments for the 1958-59 wool marketing year, Charles B. Eckfeld, County Office Manager of the Tuscola County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

The program operates under the National Wool Act and is carried out under an agreement between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council. The current program of deductions to finance sales promotion was approved by more than a two-thirds majority vote in a referendum held in 1955.

Rates of deduction will continue at one cent per pound from shorn wool payments and five cents per 100 pounds of live weight from unshorn lamb payments. These are the same as the rates that prevailed during the past three years.

Social Security Rates and Benefits Increase in '59

Social security tax rates will go up January 1, 1959, but so will benefits, reminds Don R. Kebler, county extension agent in agriculture. Employer and employee rates will be 2 1/2 per cent each. Rates for self-employed persons will be 3 3/4 per cent. Also beginning with the first of the year, earnings up to $4,800 will count toward social security benefits.

Kebler says that other changes have been made that farm people will want to check. Among these is an amendment that will allow certain dependents of disabled workers to become eligible for benefits.

Work requirements for disabled people over 50 have been liberalized. Previously these persons needed to meet two requirements: must have worked under social security for at least five out of the last 10 years before becoming disabled and at least a year and a half of their work under social security must have been during the three years just before they became disabled. This second requirement has now been removed.

Disabled workers whose social security disability benefits were reduced or were not payable because they received workmen's compensation or other federal disability payments are now eligible for a full payment.

Pigeon High School won the Upper Thumb football championship Friday night by defeating Cass City, 6-0.

The Cass City Flower Shop will have its formal opening at its new location in the Burt block on Main Street Saturday. It was announced by George Clara, proprietor.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Little Change in Farm Income Tax

Although many changes were made in the federal income tax law this year, only a few of these changes affect farmers. This is the report of Don R. Kebler, county extension agent in agriculture. Two changes "of particular interest" to farmers are increased first year depreciation and an increase in loss carry-over period.

A farm business can now elect to write off 20 per cent of the cost of tangible personal property in the year it was purchased. This 20 per cent is in addition to the regular depreciation on the balance. It also applies to used as well as new property acquired after December 31, 1957, for use in the business.

Kebler points out that this 20 per cent depreciation is limited to tangible personal property subject to depreciation and costing not more than $10,000 (or $20,000 on a joint return), with a remaining useful life of at least six years. Property obtained from relatives does not qualify. The extra 20 per cent depreciation is computed without taking in account the salvage value.

The second change permits a net operating loss to be carried back three years and forward five years. This change begins with 1958. Before, net operating losses could only be carried back two years and forward five years.

More details on these and other changes will be available in a farmers' tax guide that should be on hand in the county extension office by November 15, 1958.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mr. Editor:
As a general thing my old lady is fer womanhood, the P. T. A., her preacher, rummage sales, alarm clocks, hard work and the Constitution. Most everything else she's dubious about, and one of the things she's most dubious about is me writing this little piece for the paper. She claims I didn't git much work done around the place afore I started it and now I ain't worth shooting.
I told her writing fer the paper give me a chanct to expand, sorter like them sack dresses gives a woman a lot of room to shake, rattle and roll if the occasion arises.
And my old lady ain't above censoring this little piece if she gits a chanct. Fer instant, I had somepun in here not long ago about some wimmen ought to wear two or three girdles on account of everthing seemed to be in the wrong place. She cut that line out, Mister Editor.
Now I don't think no man is worth much till he gits hitched up with a good woman to tell him what to do. I ain't never saw a bachelor that could do nothing as good as a married man that has got a wife to tell him what to do and how to do it. James Buchanan, fer instant, was the only bachelor President we ever had and he was a awful flop.
I wouldn't trade my old lady off fer a dozen like Liz Taylor, and ever onct in a while I take her on a little trip to git her mind off my shortcomings. Fer instant, I took her on a fishing trip the other week, hoping it might improve her thinking along some lines. We stopped at one of them joints along the road to git a bite to eat and she saw some gal in there playing the juke box and doing the rhumba and that's all the thinking she's done since. She said this gal wasn't dancing, just trying to wave goodbye to somebody without using her arms.

But anyhow, Mister Editor, it got her mind off me writing this little piece for the paper and I'm safe fer another spell. Come spring and I think I'll take her to see one of them bathing beauty contests and that ought to keep her thinking machine busy till way up in the summer, long enough fer me to figger up the next move. A feller has got to do a heap of long distance planning these days if he don't want to lose his old lady, and I shore don't want to lose mine. It's mighty hard to live up to a reputation with your neighbors and live one down with your old lady at the same time.
Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

November Is Time For Soil Samples

Taking soil samples in November has many advantages, reminds Don R. Kebler, Tuscola County extension agent in agriculture. Not only does one obtain big benefits from a soil test obtained fertilizer recommendation, but a good saving is managed when buying fertilizers in December and January. During these months fertilizer companies allow real bargains in order to spread their sales and production more uniformly over the year.
Buying fertilizer at this season of the year enables the farmer to put in his supply well in advance of the spring planting rush. So when the planting season comes, the farmer saves the delay of buying and hauling when it's time to plant.
One of the costly items in farming is the fertilizers used, so it must be used wisely. A crop yield is partially controlled by the plant food available and the balance between nutrients.
Many farmers are forced each spring to buy a substitute fertilizer because the proper analysis they desire is not available. In many of these cases the subsequent yields have been reduced even at the time of planting.
To show an example; in one of our neighboring counties this year, a survey showed that the farmers following a fertilizer recommendation had higher wheat yields than those who guessed.
Extension folder F-174 is available at your cooperative extension office in the courthouse, Caro. It tells how to take proper soil samples.
At various times in history counterfeiting has been punishable by death.

—Forrest Walpole—

5' 10" 155-lb. senior—Gained 1239 yards from scrimmage in 99 carries giving him an average of 12.5 yards every time he ran with the ball. In addition he picked up 93 yards on 3 passes that he caught; 11 yards on 1 kickoff return, and 158 yards on 11 punt returns, giving him a total of 1501 yards in 114 attempts that he carried the ball. This is an average of 13.2 yards everytime that he got his hands on the football. Also, he was among the top ten in the number of tackles that were made by the defensive team for the season. He scored 110 points on 18 touchdowns and 2 P.A.T.

—Chuck Auvil—

5' 9" 175-lb. senior—Gained 781 yards from scrimmage in 97 carries, giving him an average of 8.1 yards every time he ran with the ball. He scored 55 points on 9 touchdowns and 1 P.A.T.

—Dave Wilson—

5' 11" 170-lb. senior—Converted from fullback a year ago to offensive end and defensive linebacker and captain. Caught the most passes for the team, was an outstanding blocker, but was especially effective as a linebacker. He led the team in tackles for the year getting 86 of them in 8 ball games. He also intercepted 3 passes to lead the team in that respect, tying Lopez and Harris for the honor.

—Bob Tuckey—

6' 2" 185-lb. senior—Played first string offensive and defensive tackle. Like Wright, he was a standout at the position for the past two years. A very rough and rugged lineman. Finished among the top ten in defense and was especially adept at opening holes for Walpole along with Newell Harris.

NIORS ACCOMPLISHED THIS YEAR!

nal Game

This will probably be the last time these boys will don the uniforms they wore as members of the Cass City High School grid squad. There were nine seniors on the squad, seven of them were in school Monday when this picture was posed.

— Fred Leeson —

6' 1" 180-lb. senior—Played end last year and was converted to quarterback to bolster the loss of Jim Johnson. Became number one quarterback and a very excellent field general and ball handler. Threw 24 passes for the season completing 10 of them for 196 yards and 4 touchdowns. Many of his passes were dropped by the receivers or his record would have been better. Had a .417 passing percentage. Also, became a very tremendous defensive end. Was also among the top ten defensive men on number of tackles made for the season.

— Chuck Wright —

5' 11" 170-lb. senior—Played first string offensive and defensive tackle. A standout at the position for the past two years. He was second in the number of tackles made in the past season; however, missed one game which cost him a chance for that honor.

— Newell Harris —

5' 8" 150-lb. senior—Played guard in this, his first year as a regular although he was an alternate at the position last year. Newell was the most improved ball player on the team this year. Played a tremendous game on offense; but starred even more on defense. He had the fourth most tackles on the team, tied for the most pass interceptions, and had the distinction of being the only lineman to score. He did this on a pass interception against Vassar. He was a very excellent corner linebacker.

— Bob Copeland —

6' 3" 190-lb. senior—Played on the second team as a center, but was on the regular extra point team at that position. Made only one bad pass all year long, so did a very good job. Was a candidate for the most improved ball player on the team.

— Larry Malace —

5' 9" 150-lb. senior—Played left end on offense. Did a very creditable job of blocking; caught only two passes for the year, but, they were the only two thrown to him.

The women of the Caro area will have a chance to learn canning and seat weaving on November 18 and 19. The meeting will be from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the 4-H club building. This meeting will be open to extension women as well as non-extension women. Contact my office for the list of material needed for the workshop.

The Vassar area women will have the canning workshop at Mrs. Raymond Lake's home on Friday, November 21, from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Let us talk today about potatoes. Potatoes pay off in eating pleasure and in food value. When you add sliced cooked ham, lean ground beef, or crisp minced bacon, potatoes become a one-dish meal. Diced carrots, parsley sprigs, or mushroom slices give potatoes a flavor change. A topping of grated cheese or paprika adds a touch of color. Penny for penny, potatoes have more energy-giving food value than any other vegetable. Potatoes contain, besides the energy-giving nutrients, significant amounts of vitamin C, B vitamins and iron.

Potatoes more than pay their way in food nutrients for each calorie they furnish. One medium sized potato has about 100 calories, the same as an apple or an orange. It is the extras, such as butter, gravy, etc., that add the calories.

Choose potatoes wisely. Look for those that are firm, smooth, reasonably clean, fairly well shaped and relatively free from blemishes. To store potatoes, keep them away from light and in a cool place (60 to 70 degrees). Time was when folks bought several barrels of potatoes in the fall and stored them for winter use. Storage place was the basement — cool, dark and humid with a dirt floor. Today if you have a basement, it is dry and warm with a concrete floor. As John Carew, Michigan State University extension specialist in horticulture, says, "It is fine for the kids, but not for the potatoes." So, you let producers and grocers store potatoes for you, and buy amounts you can use up in a short time.

The best potatoes come to dinner in their own jackets. Cooking potatoes in their skins saves the minerals and vitamins. If you must pare them, keep the peelings thin and cook the potatoes as soon as you peel them. If you soak potatoes, the vitamins leach out into the soaking water.

To cook potatoes, use as little water as possible — just enough to cook them without sticking. If you are cooking potatoes in a hurry, cut them into small pieces and cook in a small amount of water. Baked potatoes are a favorite to prepare and to eat. If you like a crusty baked potato-shell, just wash and dry potatoes before baking. If you prefer a tender crisp skin, rub lightly with bacon fat, salad oil or butter and place the potato in a shallow pan for baking.

To give your potato a mealy texture, knead them in the shell before cutting and serving. You will need a heavy towel or pot holder to protect your hands. To guard against baked potatoes exploding in the oven, prick skin with a fork or make a small slit just big enough to let out any extra steam before putting into the oven.

Let's all use more potatoes in our menus for better health.

Check Costs When Drying Corn Crop

It is important that corn being dried for farm feeding or for sale be at the proper moisture level, reminds Don R. Kebler, county extension agent in agriculture. The recommended figure is 15 per cent moisture. But if the corn is to be stored for a long time, then the moisture content must be down to 13½ per cent. The cost of removing this last 1½ per cent may be more than is justified and farmers ought to carefully compare the cost of this moisture removal with the added value of the corn.

Agent Kebler has another bit of advice for those farmers who are drying corn. Freshly-dried corn must be allowed to cool after heated-air drying before it is stored. This corn is usually about 120 degrees after drying and it will soon spoil if stored at that heat. It should be allowed to cool to a point within 10 degrees of the outside air. This additional cooling will also remove additional moisture.

Extension bulletin 316 entitled "Drying grain with forced air" is available for the asking at the county cooperative extension office.
