with MIM LS 300 SPREADERS

Low loading height, 75-80 bushel capacity... just two of the many features that make the LS 300 a leader in its field. Rugged steel angle frame construction allows box to set low, still have large capacity. Weight on 2-wheel models is balanced for easy handling. Auto-turn front axle on 4 wheel models allows short turns. Spreader can be backed into barn with ease. High grade, clear wood box is specially treated to lengthen life. Wide, tapered bottom helps move manure to rear. Two beaters driven by single heavy-duty steel chain shred manure evenly. Carbon steel distributor blades pulverize the manure, spread it over ground in a wide, even pattern. Distributor is specially designed to eliminate possibility of blank spots in the row. Balanced 3-lobe feed cam lets you spread 3, 6, 9, 12, or 15 loads per acre. Handy hitch screw jack serves as stand for loading, folds out of way when spreader is in use. Eight models to choose from: 2 or 4 wheel tractor-drawn, 4-wheel horse-drawn.

BULEN TALKS Cars

YEAH... ANOTHER WOMAN DRIVER!

I've never believed that the ladies make poor drivers... in fact some of them put the men to shame when it comes to good driving. But that doesn't stop the jokes about women drivers and I heard one that tickled me the other day.

It seems that two neighbors arranged to go down town together and on arriving at the parking lot, the lady driver turned to her friend and said, "The only thing I don't like about parking is all the noise it makes... there's always such a crashing sound."

Well, minor bumps do happen to most of us once in a while when we park a car and these minor bumps are worthy of far more attention than they get from most motorists.

When you have a small accident, be sure that you check for paint damage. A break in the paint, left for months without attention can run into quite a stiff repair bill when you do get around to having it fixed up.

Minor scratches and paint bruises should be repainted. That way you avoid rust and corrosion that often eats a hole right through the metal... and can spread along under the paint at a surprising rate. It's a good plan to have all such jobs done twice a year. You'd be surprised how much better your car will look... and when trade-in time comes it makes a difference in your deal.

Surprised that Joe Riley's '54 Olds Holiday Coupe is still here. This very clean car has only 29,000 actual miles on it. One Owner. Has new tires. Beautiful Two Tone Paint, Hydra-Matic Drive, Heater, other extras. Very little of the potential mileage in this Olds has been used. A beautiful car at a reasonable price.

IT COULD HAPPEN TO YOU! When a car stands in Winter cold, moisture from the air can collect in the low points of the gas line—freeze it shut—stop the flow of fuel. You're stopped until a tow-truck comes!

This WON'T happen to you with Standard Gasolines with DE-ICER. De-Icer prevents gas-line freeze! Get it at NO EXTRA COST, in Gold Crown Super-Premium and Red Crown King-Size Regular—drive worry-free.

You expect more from Standard...and you get it!

Hustle has its place in everyone's life, but don't try to catch up with tomorrow.

Mrs. James P. DeLapa

Miss Judith Anne McCormick and James Patrick DeLapa of Grand Rapids were married Saturday, Jan. 10, at nuptial high Mass at St. Pancratius Church. Rev. I. J. Mikulski officiated at the doubling ceremony. Mrs. Ray Toohy was organist and soloist. Red poinsettias were arranged on the altar for the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John V. McCormick of Cass City and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. DeLapa of Clarksburg, West Virginia.

The bride's gown was styled with a bodice of hand-embroidered lace with wristpoint sleeves and a Sabrina neckline adorned with iridescent sequins. The skirt of parchment taffeta featured a full princess line falling to a chapel-length train and was highlighted by large bows at the back. She wore a crown of hand-embroidered lace with a fingertip veil of French illusion. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations intertwined with a string of miniature pearls. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Miss Thresa McCormick, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Miss Thresa Werdeeman was bridesmaid. They both wore gowns of holiday red taffeta fashioned with scooped neckline and shirred elbow-length sleeves. The full ballerina skirts featured a bow at the front of the hemline. They carried cascade bouquets of feathered carnations with red ribbons.

John Malone of Clarksburg, W. Va., was best man. Ushers were Don Holton of Grand Rapids and John A. McCormick and Marvin McCormick, brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother wore rose-beige lace over taffeta with brown and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a dress of beige flannel with brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A wedding breakfast and reception were held at the New Gordon Hotel for 100 guests. Guests were present from Detroit, East Lansing, Traverse City, Grand Rapids, Dayton, Ohio, Clarksburg, W. Va., and Baltimore, Md.

The newlyweds will live at 1122 Wealthy St. S. E., Grand Rapids, where the groom is employed by the R. C. Allen Business Machine Company. The bride is engaged in student teaching at Wyoming Park Public High School.

The bride is a graduate of Cass City High School and will graduate from Michigan State University in March. The groom is a graduate of Roosevelt Wilson High School in Clarksburg, W. Va., and of Michigan State University.

Mrs. James Johnson of Cass City, Miss Thumb Cosmetologist of 1958, crowns Miss Virginia Cramer of Akron, this year's queen. Complete details of the meeting Monday, Jan. 12, appeared in the Jan. 15 issue of the Chronicle.

NEW OLIVER

110-Bushel PTO No. 270

Sized Right for Big Spreading Jobs

This is the practical size—all the capacity you need for large dairy and feeder herds, to save time in the daily job of spreading.

There's new ruggedness in the big No. 270—deeper, wider, stronger flareboards... heavier side stakes... extra huskiness all the way through to take the pounding of power loading, to handle tough, oversized, matted chunks.

There's new power take-off flexibility in the No. 270, too. A new, in-line power drive adjusts automatically to the twists of heavy loads in rough fields. And you can heap up the low Oliver. There's no overhead cylinder arch to interfere with loading or unloading.

Rear wheels are located to balance the load, aid traction in slippery barnyards. Self-locking hitch stand avoids lifting. Check the new Oliver No. 270 before you buy any PTO spreader.

Michigan Mirror News In Brief

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Traffic safety in Michigan is approaching the point of maximum efficiency.

For three consecutive years, the deaths in auto accidents have been reduced more than 10 per cent.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, who accepts only part of the credit for his highly-trained force, says the situation is like becoming an expert at golf.

"You get your score down in to the 70s and its tougher and tougher to take off even one more stroke," he said.

Michigan is now in second place to Pennsylvania in the number of deaths for each 100,000,000 travel miles, a giant step from the records of three years ago and before.

Records show that 179 fewer persons died in traffic in 1958 than the year before. The accomplishment is one of those rare non-political areas of government where it is possible to find Republicans and Democrats congratulating each other.

Childs claims that laws passed by the Republican-controlled legislature and approved by the Democratic Gov. Williams have played a large part in the program.

These include speed limits of 65 miles an hour during the day and 55 miles an hour during the night; improved driver-training education in the schools.

In addition, stiffer requirements for drivers have been imposed and enforced.

Thousands of drivers found to be incompetent, habitually negligent, or those with unsatisfactory driving records are taken off the road through suspension or revocation of their licenses.

Officials, from Williams, Secretary of State James M. Hare, chairman of the state safety commission, down to the least deputy sheriff in the state, are ready with praise for each other.

The top-level strategy group worked hard, but all acknowledged the cooperation of the law enforcement agencies, the press, radio and television, the schools, the churches and others.

The problem of trying to reduce traffic deaths another 10 per cent for the fourth straight year is a matter of mathematics.

Each year, the 10 per cent is computed on a smaller base.

But, as Hare said, the 1959 record must level out to a bare

100 deaths a month if the goal is to be reached. That figure was topped seven times in 1958, with 153 killed in November.

From a mathematical standpoint, it is impossible to continue reducing the figure 10 per cent forever.

"If we did, we would, of course wind up at zero," said one safety expert.

Obstacles arose at the first safety commission of 1959. Law enforcement agencies showed that a major share of the accidents and deaths are occurring on rural county roads where police patrols are at a necessary minimum.

They agreed it is not the fault of county sheriffs whose manpower is at a minimum, or the State Police, whose main duty is patrolling the state highways.

Childs brought up another point.

County roads that once were gravel surfaced and slow now have been hardsurfaced and have become fast, usually with no change in the grade on curves.

Drivers, who were held at 45 to 50 by conditions before now can travel 60 and 65 with an often misleading feeling of security.

During 1959 safety leaders in Michigan will embark on a series of campaigns to improve the already enviable record of the state on the highways.

There will be a sterner crackdown on drinking drivers, a greater emphasis on enforcement on rural county roads and another push to take incompetent drivers off the road.

These programs have been in effect for years in Michigan and have been credited with much of the improvement.

Another factor is the growing number of miles of safer two-lane divided superhighways that are being constructed under Michigan's $1,250,000,000 five-year plan.

But, everyone in and out of government agrees that the focus of safety on the highways is unchanged and unchanging, that the man most responsible is still the driver.

Each year, the 10 per cent is computed on a smaller base.

But, as Hare said, the 1959 record must level out to a bare

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

We had a right interesting session up at the country store Saturday night. First off, Ed Doolittle told us about his wife's operation for appendicitis.

Ed said she had been planning this operation for some time, had cooked up a month's supply of vittles, called on her preacher, writ her last will and testament in case things went wrong, and ordered a wheel chair from Sears and Roebuck.

Well, come Monday and time for the operation, said Ed. He took her over to the hospital Sunday night so's they could get a early start on her Monday morning. All the neighbors come by to bid her farewell for a month or two, and it was very sad. Ed said he cried a little, but his wife was brave and went right after supper Sunday night.

They operated on her Monday morning and that night they had her setting up in bed, walking the next afternoon, and Wednesday night they told her she was going home Thursday. Ed said when he left her Saturday morning to go to town she was out digging in the flower garden. "If this keeps up," Ed allows, "they'll be operating on a feller and pushing him off the table and chasing him home."

And we decided Saturday night that farmers and ranchers is the biggest gamblers on earth—and the dumbest. They gamble on rain, drought, heat, cold, frost, hail and insects, and at the end of the year if his gambling has turned out all right, on account of him working like a dog, he sells his grain or his cotton or his cattle fer whatever they'll pay him.

And when he sells he discovers some birds in Washington or New York or New Orleans has been buying and selling his crop four months afore it was made and has come out ten times better off then he has, and they has been doing it in a air conditioned office.

If farmers and ranchers would quit gambling the hard way and raise just enough fer their own needs one year, the price would git up there to where them city fellers couldn't afford to speculate with it. They'd be too busy trying to git some of it to eat. But you'll never git farmers and ranchers to do this. Just here and there you'll find a feller like me and Ed Doolittle that's willing to rest up fer a whole year.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Michigan's Factories, Farms and Stores Depend on Trucks

Manufacturing, farming, the retail business—all have one thing in common: each needs transportation facilities.

And, since the motor truck provides fast, flexible, direct service unequalled by any other form of transportation, more tonnage is shipped by truck in Michigan each year. (Nationally trucks haul more than 3 times as much tonnage as all other systems combined!)

Every truck you see on the road is working—working to help keep Michigan's economy humming, to help keep employment and sales high. There isn't a corner of the State that isn't served daily by trucks. And factories and shopping centers can be located anywhere and be assured of efficient truck service so long as they're on a road.

You see how vital trucks are to Michigan.

Cass City is scheduled to play Sandusky Friday night in the top game of the season in the conference. The Redskins are in second place in the league and a win for the Hawks will make them overwhelming favorites for the league crown again.

Inspection for Cub Pack Slated Wednesday Night

The annual inspection will be held when the Cass City Cub Pack meets Wednesday evening, Jan. 28, at 7 p.m. in the elementary gym, Cubmaster Harry Miller announced this week.

If possible, each boy is to attend in uniform according to the inspection sheet he received from his den mother. Cubs are asked to bring the sheet to the meeting.

Authorities are asking that every boy attend to take part in the inspection and the remainder of the program. They reminded parents that they are expected to attend with their sons.

Farm Bureau Ladies Hear County Health Problems Discussed

The regular meeting of the Farm Bureau Women Wednesday, Jan. 14, was highlighted by reports and discussion by the 29 members attending.

Miss Betty Ann Schemp of Mayville gave an outstanding talk, describing her experiences on a trip to Chicago. She was awarded the trip for her eight years in 4-H work during which she completed 79 projects.

Mrs. Lucy Miller, public health nurse for Tuscola County, told the group, "Why there is a need for a public health nurse." She explained her duties and told how much more is needed for the health and welfare of the county. She pointed out that the first principle of good health is conservation, knowledge, protection and prevention. The second is treatment, she said.

Mrs. Miller said that Cass City is the only school in the county that employs a school nurse. An interesting question and answer period followed.

During the business meeting conducted by Chairman Mrs. Mack Little, the group planned for the lunch to be served to the delegation of the district petroleum meeting. The Tuscola County Farm Bureau will entertain District Six at Dom Polski Hall Feb. 12.

Members voted $20 for the Korean boy the group is sponsoring. The money will be sent for the boy's birthday and is to be used to pay tuition fees so he can continue in school.

Cassland community group of Cass City provided the refreshments. Mrs. Clare Carpenter was assisted by Mrs. Ed Golding Sr. and Mrs. Ellwood Eastman.

County Home Demonstration Agent

There will be a lampshade workshop in the courthouse for any interested person on Feb. 3 at 1:30 p.m.

The women from the Unionville area will have a lampshade workshop on February 5 at the home of Mrs. Weingarth in Unionville. The time of the workshop will be 1:30 p.m.

You are invited to attend Farmers' Week which will be held this year from February 2 through February 6 on the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing. The name "Farmers' Week" is an old one, but now the program is planned for farm and city women alike. In other words, the program is for all Michigan women.

The program set up this year is much the same as it was last year. The plan is, in the morning, small group sectional meetings will be held on the third floor of the Michigan State University Union building. These will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and will cover a variety of topics. Each woman who attends can select the topic most interesting to her and attend that particular sectional meeting. On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons large general sessions are scheduled.

The annual homemakers' luncheon is to be at noon on Wednesday, February 4.

Cassland Group At Golding Home

Eighteen members of the Cassland Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Golding Sr. Jan. 13 for the second in a series of discussions on taxation.

Maynard McConkey led discussion on property taxes. This poses a real problem to farmers as Michigan farmers pay twice as much of their realized net income for property taxes as other income groups. Local governments depend almost entirely on property taxation for their revenues. If local governments are to keep control at home, they must find ways to do their own financing. Financial support from the state or Federal governments surrenders the right to run their own show. Where else can the local government get revenues except from property taxation, the group asked.

Assisting in the discussion was Alfred Goodall who reported on the public policy meeting held in Caro on "taxation — local, state and federal."

Mrs. Clare Carpenter, read her essay, "What Freedom Means to Me," and was presented a gift for her efforts.

Ellwood Eastman, chairman of the membership drive in Elkland township, reported on membership in the county.

The next meeting will bring discussion on state income taxes. All Farm Bureau members are invited to attend and voice their opinions. Contact Mrs. Alfred Goodall for place of meeting.

Honor Crawford for Teaching 30 Years

Supt. D. A. Crawford of Unionville was honored recently by the Unionville PTA for his 30 years of teaching. A "This Is Your Life" program was planned for the evening. Approximately 300 persons attended.

Mr. Crawford's five sisters, Mrs. Harry Russell and Mrs. Harry Hool, Gagetown; Mrs. Del Profit and Mrs. William Profit, Cass City, and Mrs. Lawrence Harrison, Capac, were present. Supt. Willis Campbell presented the honored guest with a bouquet from the Tuscola County Schoolmasters Club.

Mr. Crawford received a leather briefcase, presented by Lawrence Hofmeister, president of the Unionville Board of Education. The honored guest also received a diamond ring from various organizations and businesses in the community.

SUPERVISORS

was $1,500 for the Saginaw Valley Mental Health Clinic and $467 for membership in the Institute of Local Government.

The Public Health Department of the county cost a total of $7,586.87 to run in 1958 for the work of the county nurses in schools, maternal cases, child and adult service and TB service.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Presbyterian Men To Meet Sunday

Arthur Close, president of the Flint Presbyterian Council of Presbyterian Men, will speak to the men of the Cass City Presbyterian Church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church.

Mr. Close will suggest programs, projects and possibilities for the Cass City chapter of the organization. Scheduled at the meeting is the presentation of the constitution of the chapter for adoption and discussion of plans for the annual spaghetti dinner and future plans of the club.

Mr. Close will meet with the executive committee of the chapter at 6 p.m. for a supper at the church.

4-H Leader Awards To Decker Residents

Among the leaders to receive silver clover awards for five years of service at the annual Sanilac 4-H Leader Recognition banquet were Otis Dorland and Mrs. Lloyd Severance, both of Decker.

The banquet was held Tuesday, Jan. 13, in the Sandusky Elementary School.

Slate Sanilac Rural Education Meeting

The third annual meeting of the Sanilac County Association for rural education will be held in the court house in Sandusky Wednesday, Jan. 28, at 8 p.m., Clara M. Spencer, secretary, announced this week.

Important educational issues will be discussed and the public is urged to attend.

DOW CHORUS

Dow Girls' Chorus and Dow Symphony in presenting an operetta, an oratorio or other religious programs. The Dow Chorus will sing to approximately 20,000 persons this year.

Nationally known concert and operatic stars appear with the chorus each season. They will bring a guest soloist with them plus a barbershop quartette for their concert in Cass City.

The male voices are so flexible that a Dow Chorus concert plays the full range of musical types—from classical and oratorio numbers to ballad and novelty type songs. Their singing is always expressed with vigorous fervor and a catching spirit that sends the audience away singing.

Because this concert will be of interest to all people of the Thumb area tickets are being made available in each of the towns in the district surrounding Cass City. Locally they will be available at Mac and Scotty and Wood's Drug Stores. Tickets may also be purchased at the door or from any band student.
