Sentence Howell to Jackson Prison

Judge T. C. Quinn sentenced Junior Howell to two to five years, with a recommendation for two years, in Jackson Prison for unlawfully driving away an automobile Wednesday, Feb. 18, in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

Howell had pleaded guilty to stealing a car owned by Robert Paling when arraigned Feb. 9.

Several domestic cases were also heard Wednesday.

Glenn Louise Crump of Vassar was granted a divorce from Robert Lee Crump. A dollar was granted in lieu of dower and payments to be made for alimony were held in reserve by the court.

Wayne Hovermill's alimony payments to Ann P. Hovermill of Caro were reduced from $15 to $12 weekly. Mr. Hovermill was ordered to pay $3 extra weekly until alimony arrears were paid.

Ronald Abke's petition seeking a reduction in alimony payments was denied by the court.

TRANSFER PROPERTY—The 13 property owners whose property transfer to Cass City School District was approved by the State Board of Education are in the Cedar Run and Bingham School Districts. The area outlined xxxxx includes all of the some 60 property owners that are asking for transfer to Cass City District.

The heavily shaded area shows the original Cass City District before consolidation and the lightly shaded area shows the district as it is today.

To Cass City School District

From the
Editor's Corner

Police Chief Bill Wood said this week that many children in Cass City are indulging in exceedingly dangerous habits that have developed because of the area's unusually severe winter.

The children are sliding down the piles of snow into village streets and some are hitching sleds behind cars. Both have resulted in fatal accidents in the past. Extra vigilance by parents now may save a tragic accident, Mr. Wood points out.

Predictions for the spring election in Tuscola County are that there will probably be only about 6,000 votes cast. That's a small amount when compared with the some 16,000 that voted at the presidential election.

At every election, a few voters who planned to cast ballots find that they are ineligible because they failed to register. Deadline for registering for the spring election is Mar. 9. . . . it only takes a moment to see your township clerk and become eligible. Better do it now.

Rev. Vender Resigns
At Marietta; Plans
To Return Here.

Rev. Melvin R. Vender, the assistant pastor at the First Presbyterian Church at Marietta, O., since leaving Cass City a little over a year ago, has resigned his position.

In a letter to members of the congregation he said that he was resigning on the recommendation of his doctor. A cardiogram revealed, Rev. Vender said, that it would be necessary to slow down before more damage was done.

Although he was not required to give up all work, Rev. Vender said that he felt that a part-time "part-time assistant" would not produce what the church needed and that he felt it in the best interests of the church and his health to voluntarily resign.

Rev. and Mrs. Vender plan to return to Cass City in April.

Honor Two at Birthday Party
Sunday Afternoon

Friends and relatives honored Mrs. Jennie Martin, 90, and her brother, John Doerr, 92, at a birthday party Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Martin.

A buffet lunch was served from a table decorated with a four-tier birthday cake, made by Mrs. Clifford Martin, and lighted tapers. Mrs. Martin received a purse of money.

She has nine children: Mrs. Herman (Grace) Moore, Gagetown, City, Mrs. Eva Moore, Gagetown, City, Mrs. Hasket (Hazel) Blair, Bad Axe, Mrs. Donald (Beatrice) Miljure, Grant, Mrs. Edith Harris, Saginaw, Claude and Howard Grant and Clifford of Cass City. There are 31 grandchildren, 55 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. . . . a total of 97 descendants.

Mr. MacTavish awarded first class badges to Robert Fischer, Jim Fritz and Tom Craig. Jim Rawson awarded merit badges to Robert Fischer. Concluded on page eight.

State Board Okays
Transfer of Land

The State Board of Education notified 13 property owners living west of Cass City that their applications for transfer from the Gagetown-Owendale School District to the Cass City School District had been approved.

The 13 whose petitions were submitted were regarded as a test case for property holders in the Cedar Run and Bingham School Districts. Some 60 more applications are expected to be submitted to the State Board as soon as possible.

Supt. Willis Campbell said that it was through a misunderstanding that all of the residents in the two districts were not placed before the State Board at its Feb. 13 meeting. It was thought that the application by the 13 whose names appeared on the petition would serve for the entire area. However, only the 13 who signed were affected by the ruling.

The ruling of the State Board reversed a previous decision of the County Board of Education when the applications of property owners in the two districts were denied.

If the State Board approves the applications of the remainder of the property owners in the districts, as expected, it will mean that the valuation of the Cass City District will be increased by some $282,000 in county equalized valuation and a total of 37 more pupils will come to Cass City Schools. Cass City School district's valuation was $9,073,665.04 on the state's equalized valuation.

The 13 property owners transferred by the board were: James Milligan, Orendo McGrath, Margaret McClorey, Wayne Peddie, Homer Randall, Daniel Aleksis, Stanley Walters, Howard Loomis, Nelson Anker, William J. Donnelly, John Anker, Fred E. Bartell, Roy Allen and John Juhasz.

The first meetings of the newly formed Presbyterian Women's Association were held last week when 74 women attended seven circle meetings held Feb. 16 and 18.

On Thursday, Feb. 19, 26 women attended a training work-Continued on page four.

Rotarians See
Films of Alberta

Carl Diltz of Saginaw showed films of a fabulous 30-day hunting trip into the wilds of Alberta, Canada, Tuesday noon at the regular meeting of the Cass City Rotary Club at the New Gordon Hotel.

The retired Saginaw sportsman showed the rugged mountain terrain and many pictures of wildlife in their natural habitat. Included were mountain goats, sheep, elk, deer and moose.

The group traveled into the interior with a caravan of pack mules, 10 horses, four guides, a horse wrangler and a cook.

Mr. Diltz was introduced by Father I. J. Mikulski, an old friend of the guest speaker.

Gavel Club to Sponsor Track
Meet in April

Mike Yedinak told members of the Cass City Gavel Club of progress in arranging for the first annual Gavel Club Invitation track meet slated in April, at the regular meeting of the club Tuesday night at Parrott's Dairy Bar.

Mr. Yedinak said that he had written 50 schools and had received answers from 20 of them. It will be the first meet of this type ever held in Cass City and was made possible by the improvements to the track completed by Gavelites as a club project.

Prior to passing the tests, Mr. Willy was licensed as a class D or C operator. There are only eight Class B operators in the Thumb of Michigan.

The only class left for Mr. Willy to work for is Class A. Operators in the "A" are qualified to handle plants in communities of 100,000 and over.

Mr. Auten also briefly outlined the advantages of wills and discussed joint ownership of property.

Plan Appreciation
Days in Cass City

Thirty-four Cass City merchants will sponsor appreciation days weekly in Cass City starting sometime in March, it was announced this week by spokesmen for the Chamber of Commerce.

Shoppers in the village will receive tickets with purchases and they will be placed in a barrel and each week a drawing will determine a lucky winner.

Sponsors said that the tickets will be given by participating stores regardless of what items are purchased for the weekly prizes.

Council in Quiet
Session Tuesday

Several minor items were discussed at one of the quietest council meetings in recent years at the Cass City Municipal Building Tuesday evening.

After a long delay and much negotiation with the County Road Commission, trustees okayed the payment of a bill for its share of the cost of water main work on South Seeger Street, just outside the village limits.

At the village's request, the tile size was increased from 12 to 15 inches. The original agreement between the county and the village was not recorded and there was some doubt as to what share of the total cost each should pay.

In the settlement, trustees agreed to pay a total of $1,441.80 of the total bill which was $5,362.12. Elkland Township will pay $941.80 and the remainder will be paid by the county.

A long discussion of the village's responsibility when water pipes are frozen was tabled for further study. Several home owners submitted duplicate bills for work completed that they felt was on village property.

A check will be made in the village and the problem discussed again at a later date.

Other Business

B. A. Calka and John McCormick were appointed to the board of review for Cass City.

C. R. Hunt, who is a nominee for village president, resigned his trustee's position. The village election is scheduled Mar. 9 and Mr. Hunt is without opposition for the president's post.

Phil Olosowy appeared before the council to ask if the council could act to remove neighbor's property from the land owned by the American Legion. He was informed that the action was a civil case and not within the jurisdiction of the council.

Nelson Willy, village disposal plant operator, informed the council that he had passed the tests and is now classified as a Class B operator.

Prior to passing the tests, Mr. Willy was licensed as a class D or C operator. There are only eight Class B operators in the Thumb of Michigan.

The only class left for Mr. Willy to work for is Class A. Operators in the "A" are qualified to handle plants in communities of 100,000 and over.

Mrs. Fry Explains
Planning to WSC
At Bigelow Home

Fifteen members of the Woman's Study Club were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Andrew Bigelow.

Mrs. Arthur Moore, president, read two letters concerning Federation projects. The first, in behalf of Michigan Indians, was tabled for further consideration.

The second was a petition for stricter regulations for drivers' licenses. The Cass City club cooperated with all of the Women's Clubs in the United States by signing the petition. Members who were absent Tuesday will also be asked to sign.

Mrs. Bigelow commented briefly on congressional action, giving special emphasis to the new filibuster rule passed by the Senate. She also read a letter she received from Mrs. Ernest Schwadner describing the Woman's Club she attends in Florida.

President-elect Mrs. William Wetters appointed a program committee for 1959-60. Serving will be Mrs. Ralph Gauer, Mrs. Leon Rollison and Mrs. Keith McConkey.

Mrs. Gauer read a list of possible programs and then asked members for suggestions for programs they would like next year.

Mrs. Moore then told of an invitation from the Junior Woman's Club for members to aid in receiving guests at the county convention slated in Cass City Apr. 23.

Mrs. Wilma Fry was the guest speaker and she explained the need for the planning commission appointed by the council.

Tracing the growth of the village from the days when it was from four to six blocks long and two to three blocks wide to its present size, she said that Cass City had been fortunate because the founders had planned well for the future. Now planning and zoning for the future are needed, she said. Cooperation of the Townships is necessary if the greatest good is to be derived from the work of the planner who has been hired.

Mrs. Fry pointed out that the planner will furnish only a plan and blueprint for future development. The village and townships will have to do the work.

Roll call was answered by suggestions for civic improvements. Concluded on page eight.

Bishop Okays New
Catholic Church
In Cass City

Father I. J. Mikulski, pastor of St. Pancratius Catholic Church, announced this week that the Bishop of the Saginaw Diocese has granted the parish permission to build a new church in Cass City.

The decision was reached this week in a consultation by Father Mikulski and the Bishop. Morris and Wesolek of Bay City have been designated architects for the new modern structure and preliminary plans are now being designed.

Actual construction is expected to start in about 18 months on the church grounds between the present church and the rectory.

Cost of the new church has not been decided.

WSWS Hears Mrs.

Mrs. Little gave a comprehensive and instructive review of the lesson on the Middle East. Her discourse was followed by an interesting discussion, several members participating.

During the business session, supervised by Mrs. Stanley Kim, president, department chairmen submitted reports and plans were made for a birthday supper to be held in April to raise funds for the conference project.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Ray Silvermail, Mrs. Wilma Fry was appointed to perform the duties of that office.

Mrs. Mabel Jickling, Mrs. C. J. Striffler and Mrs. John Dickinson were chosen as a nominating committee by the president and the annual Lincoln penny offering was received.

The hostess, Mrs. S. R. Wirtz, was assisted by Mrs. A. Seeger in serving refreshments. The women were seated at a long table, centered by blooming African violets.

Mrs. Harry Young and Mrs. O. W. Nique will be hostesses at the March meeting and Mrs. John Essau will be the leader.

Wallace Keglers Win Second Round

At the close of the second round of City League competition, the Dillman and Wallace teams were in a deadlock for first place. A roll-off was necessary to determine a winner. Thursday, Feb. 19, Dillman's won the first game by 67 sticks. Wallace won the second game by 60 leaving their opponents with a slim seven pin advantage going into the third and final game. This game was close all the way with Wallace winning by 10 pins, taking total pins for the three-game roll-off by three pins.

The Dillman team now must win the third round of competition in order to have the opportunity of defending their City League championship which they have held the past two seasons. Since the bowling alley award trophy was first presented to a championship team at the end of the 1948-49 season, the trophy has been won by a team captained by Dillman five seasons out of nine.

BULEN TALKS Cars

IF YOUR CAR'S STOLEN . . . YOU'RE PROBABLY TO BLAME!

Whenever I read in the paper about someone's car being stolen I can't help but wonder if it wasn't through the owner's own carelessness. It constantly amazes me to see the way some drivers park this big investment of theirs and blissfully walk away leaving it wide open for any passing thief or joy riders on the prowl.

Figures prove that of all your property, your car is most likely to be stolen. And it can be a costly and annoying experience, even if you are covered by insurance. Even though most cars are recovered, they're often stripped and damaged.

To help protect your car against theft, or if it is stolen to assist the police in its recovery, here are a few safeguards to take.

1. Don't leave keys in an unattended car, even for a few minutes.
2. Always lock car doors. And make sure all windows are secured.
3. Never leave valuable articles where they can be seen. This is just inviting a break-in.
4. Place a hidden mark on your car - such as, under the dashboard. Then you'll be able to identify your car, even if the thief repaints it or changes the license number.
5. Notify the police at once if your car is stolen. Don't delay by first calling your family or insurance company.
6. Make sure you know your current license number. Police can often spot stolen cars within minutes if they are given the license number right away.

By observing these rules you'll go a long way towards protecting your car against theft.

But if you want a real "steal" in a thoroughly reconditioned used car . . . just drop in and see us.

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS

You'll love the full six-passenger comfort in the cars

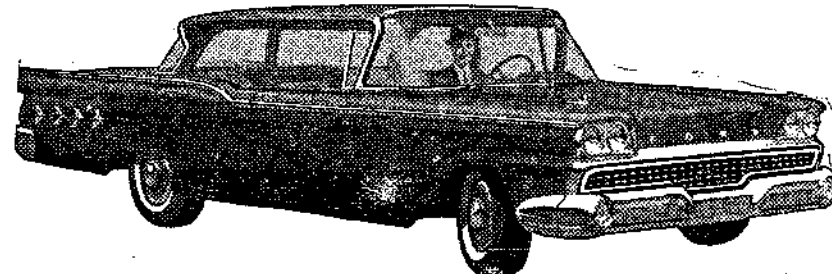

BUILT FOR PEOPLE!...

Just one standard was used by Ford in designing its 1959 car — people! First, Ford made the door openings wider, so it's easier to get in and out. Next they made sure that six big people — not just four or five — could stretch out on seats that are padded their full width. Result? More room for everybody's legs, elbows, hips and hats... more solid comfort than ever before.

BUILT FOR SAVINGS!...

Savings start the moment you buy a Ford. A price tag comparison with major competitive cars will prove it! And you go right on saving. Ford's standard engines that thrive on regular gas save you a dollar each tankful. Ford's Full-Flow Oil Filter means oil changes only each 4000 miles. Ford's aluminum mufflers last twice as long. And new Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing!

Gilbert LaGorce Dies in Sleep

Gilbert Grosvenor LaGorce, 48, director of advertising for the National Geographic Magazine, died in his sleep of a heart attack, Friday, Feb. 20, at his home in Washington, D. C.

Mr. LaGorce often visited Michigan and was the father of Mrs. Harry Paul, Jr., of Cass City.

Advertising director since 1952, Mr. LaGorce was in charge of the magazine's advertising offices in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. He was largely responsible for building up a youthful and vigorous advertising staff.

Early in his career at the Society, Mr. LaGorce worked with its lecture and film programs. He also worked on the stratosphere explorations which the Society conducted with the Army Air Corps.

Mr. LaGorce was active in Washington civic and social life. He was a member of the Chevy Chase, Advertising, and National Press Clubs. He was a member of several distinguished dining clubs, including La Confrerie des Chevaliers du Tastevin and Alfalfa. He worked with the Police Boys' Club and was president of the Washington Chapter of the National Wildlife Federation.

In addition to his parents, Mr. LaGorce is survived by his wife, Louise LaGorce; his daughter, Mrs. Paul; a son, John Oliver LaGorce II, at home; two grandchildren, Deborah Louise and Harold Paul III, and a sister, Mrs. Byron Bruce Newell, of Washington.

A requiem mass was offered Tuesday, February 24, in St. Ann's Catholic Church, Washington, with burial in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

badges to seven scouts. Earning the badges were Tom Craig, Robert Fischer, Walter Hempton, Dennis Rienstra, Dean Rienstra, Jerry King and Lawrence Shagena.

Although Jim MacTavish has already earned Eagle rank in scouting he has earned additional merit badges and they were awarded by Mr. McConkey. Mr. MacTavish also received the Bronze Palm.

Mr. MacTavish also awarded polar bear awards to scouts who earned them during the year.

Surplus Milk To Present Problem

Record-shattering milk production in the Detroit market during January has led officials of Michigan Milk Producers' Association to predict that the market will soon have twice as much milk as it needs for bottling purposes.

January production was nearly 173 million pounds -- 14 million more than last January and the highest figure for that month in the history of the market. It was exceeded by May 1958, peak production month of last year, by only 2.4 per cent.

"If the present production trend continues," MMPA President Glenn Lake said, "we can expect milk production to hit 200 million pounds in May or June of this year. That's 25 million pounds more than last May and June, and about twice as much milk as we can sell for bottling. The rest will have to go into surplus milk products, at surplus prices."

"If Detroit's economy was healthy and Class I sales went up 2 or 3 million pounds a year as they should, the pressure from increasing production wouldn't be so bad," Lake said. "But instead of sales increases, the continued recession in Detroit has resulted in weaker Class I sales than a year ago. Except for strong milk promotion programs the loss in sales would certainly be greater."

Class I sales were up 2.4 per cent from December but were off .73 per cent from January 1958.

MMPA's monthly market report showed an increase in production per farm of 72 pounds a day over last year. This boosted gross income per farm to $666, 11 per cent above last January, but also reduced the average price per hundredweight received by farmers because all the extra milk had to go into the lower-return Class II (manufactured) products.

Premiums over Federal Order prices negotiated by MMPA added $705,000 to farmers' income, or about $65 for each farmer.

In Outstate Michigan markets, average prices ranged from a high of $4.496 in Saginaw Valley to a low of $3.389 in Ironwood. Other prices were: Sault Ste. Marie $4.33; Jackson $4.27; Battle Creek $4.26; Holland-Zeeland $4.20; Muskegon $4.19; Marquette $4.18, and Grand Rapids, $4.06.

MMPA reported that it had negotiated new premium price contracts in all Michigan markets in which it operates.

The lack of foresight is often demonstrated by the after effects.

People who follow their inclinations very seldom know where they are leading them.

Soil Testing Still Good Investment

Maintaining or increasing the productivity of soils by various economic methods continues to be one of the major problems of farmers throughout the country.

Soil testing is the link that ties all-important soil research and the farmer together, making this conservation possible, remarks Don R. Kebler, county extension agent in agriculture.

Low yields, poor quality, or even total crop failure often results from the deficiency of one or more of the mineral elements in the soil. Testing has not only aided in the correction of these deficiencies, he said, but has made possible the prediction of them. Quick tests have also been a valuable tool in identifying toxicities quickly, he noted.

Michigan farmers spend about $50 million annually on fertilizer, indicating the importance of soil testing to ensure that none of the money is wasted.

Kebler identifies four major developments in soil testing and fertility relationship:

1. The level of fertilizer recommendations in the future will be higher than now, as more intensive cultivation is employed. This will make soil testing more necessary, he said.
2. A sampling service will be incorporated into fertilizing programs. Experiments indicate that farmers are willing to pay for such a service.
3. Soil sample numbers will increase considerably. There has been a 260 per cent increase in samples tested over the state between 1950 and 1957.
4. Present research will aid in the evaluation of present problems, including carry-over and availability of soil nutrients.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION

State of Michigan, The Probate Court for the County of Tuscola.
In the Matter of the Estate of Arta L. Farrot, deceased.
At a session of said Court, held on February 18th, 1959.
Present: Honorable Henderson Graham, Judge of Probate.
Notice is hereby given that the petition of Earl W. Farrot, the administrator of said estate, praying that his final account be allowed and the residue of said estate assigned to the persons entitled thereto, will be heard at the Probate Court on March 10th, 1959, at 10 a. m.
It is Ordered, That notice thereof be given by publication of a copy hereof for three weeks consecutively previous to said day of hearing, in the Cass City Chronicle, and that the petitioner cause a copy of this notice to be served upon each known party in interest at his last known address by registered mail, return receipt demanded, at least fourteen (14) days prior to such hearing, or by personal service at least five (5) days prior to such hearing.

ty extension agent in agriculture, is its low initial cost. Chief advantages of the upright silo are less storage losses and opportunities for complete push-button feeding.

When no more than 400 tons of silage are harvested each year, there is very little difference in the annual cost of owning and operating the different types of silos but the stave silo costs about $4,000 more for 400 tons storage capacity.

When 600 tons or more are harvested, annual storage costs are lower for the tower silo. When 800 tons are harvested and handled, annual costs per ton are $3.50 for the wood bunker and $2.23 for the tower silo. Initial investment is still higher in the tower silo.

Annual costs of storing silage are greatly reduced when silo size is increased. In a 16 feet by 40 feet silo, costs per ton are $2.24, and in a 20 feet by 60 feet silo, costs are reduced to $1.21.

The fact that all men are born equal is the thing that makes it so difficult for us to forgive the success of our friends.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see where some fellow in Georgia that's been making and selling wood barrels for 50 years is going out of business. He says there ain't no sale now for nothing but metal drums. I reckon sour kraut aged in a rusty tin barrel is another one of them post war improvements. We're going to keep on getting them improvements till totemain poison gets us all.

I hate mighty bad to see wood barrel makers go out of business. Besides losing all the useful things a wood barrel is good for, what's going to happen to them annual cartoons showing a man walking home from the tax office in a barrel? It seems to me that them Congressmen, since they subsidize everything else, should come to the aid of the wood barrel makers.

And a piece in the paper this morning says they're going to have a contest in some North Carolina town to see which can walk 25 miles the fastest, a man or a horse. It was the man, not the horse, that thought up this contest. I think that illustrates in a nutshell the difference between horse sense and the kind some humans has got.

Well, our Congressmen is getting back in the political groove and it looks like the Democrats has took over for the time being. Politics in Congress for the next two years is going to be as one-sided as a drunk's hat. The Republicans ain't going to have no more say-so in the thing than a hog has at a hog calling contest. That's the way it goes, the Republicans run the country for a spell, then the Democrats take over and I reckon as long as we keep swapping ends things will survive. In the meantime, life for the voter is a everlasting struggle to keep his money coming in and his hair and teeth from coming out. Republican or Democrat Congress, it ain't the idea that the worst is yet to come that gets him down. It's the terrible uncertainty of when it's going to get here that keeps him awake at night. And the thing that worries me, Mister Editor, is that our problems get bigger and bigger all the time. For instance, in the thirties you had to buy an apple to help the unemployed, but now you've got to buy a automobile.

That rich fellow that died in Maryland a couple year ago and didn't leave no will and no family really started somepun. The papers said yesterday that more'n 26,000 has now filed claims for his estate. I'm going to tear the top off my birth certificate and file my claim today. I'm going to mail it along with 50 words more or less on who I think I am. If I hit the jackpot I'm going to quit writing this little piece for your paper and build me a broadcasting station.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Final Rites Sunday
For Mrs. Sprague

Funeral services for Mrs. Hester Sprague, 83, were held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Little's Funeral Home. Rev. Lloyd Wilson, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene of which she was a member, officiated and burial was in Mosher cemetery at Hemans. Mrs. Sprague had been ill for several years. She died Friday in the county hospital, where she had been a patient for six weeks.

Daughter of the late David and Esther Young Mosher, she was born in Sanilac County July 19, 1875.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. John Kitchen and Miss Ethel Mosher of rural Cass City; one brother, Eugene Mosher of Oxford, several stepchildren, nieces and nephews.

Michigan Mirror News In Brief

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Citizens will obey between 100 and 200 more laws next year.

These will be the successful bills from the estimated 1,000 legislators will sponsor in the weeks and months ahead.

The new laws will range from some obscure correction in the drain code to important, and perhaps vexing, revisions of the state's tax structure.

Michigan's present laws would fill a good-sized bookcase. Some are ignored, like the prohibition against watching a ball game on Sunday.

Lawmakers have created their own legends in Michigan.

One member of the legislature is said to have come to a session pledged to vote "no" on everything simply because "the people have too many laws now."

Another this year sponsored a bill that has been defeated every time it appeared since he first introduced it 25 years ago. Some suggested starting a "Quarter-Century Club."

Statisticians curious enough to do the job once figured it costs $2,000 to sponsor a bill in the legislature.

The bill starts as an idea in the mind of someone who sees the need for more controls, fewer controls, better law enforcement, or less, more state services or, maybe, for no reason.

There is always a number of bills legislators sponsor because a voter back in their districts asked them to, and most of them die without fanfare or excessive sorrow.

It is then possible for the legislator to return home and soothe the voter who had the idea, thusly: "Gee, I tried on your bill. I introduced it and fought like a tiger, but those other fellows just wouldn't go along."

Proposals come to the legislature as ideas and are put into bill form by experts known as bill-drafters. It is a rare occasion when a legislator drafts his own bill.

Each bill must be read three times, though the first two times are within seconds of each other. This is immediately before it is referred to a committee for study. The third reading is just before a final vote.

Usually, a bill is never completely read aloud.

Committees work on a bill, listen to the pros and cons. The committee vote is often the most important. Many bills never get out of committee to be considered on the floor.

When they do, they are placed on a debate schedule known as "general orders," or "special order on general orders," giving it a priority. After debate, it goes to third reading.

Third reading brings the final vote and, if it passes, the bill goes to the opposite house where the process is duplicated before it is sent to the governor's office for his signature.

More than 3,000 state employees will get an extra pay raise July 1.

It will be in addition to the seven per cent boost granted all employees under the merit system by the state civil service commission.

Reason for the extra increase involves adjustments in ratings and levels and the changes are being made generally in the highest and lowest classifications. The cost will be between $157,000 and $230,000 a year.

Construction of a new 10-story state office building, estimated at $9,800,000, has apparently been shelved for this year.

The committee of legislators trying to arrange the project ran into trouble borrowing money, after insisting that the employee retirement fund wanted a too-high interest rate.

So now, construction of the office building and a separate home for the Michigan Supreme Court both are waiting for the legislature to act on a special bonding program.

The Warps Are Newsworthy too.

PONTIAC NAMED CAR OF THE YEAR

"Pontiac with wide-track wheels is the best combination of ride... handling...performance and styling of any '59 car" —The Editors of Motor Trend Magazine

In making its annual automotive award, the staff of Motor Trend Magazine, leading automotive publication, tests and evaluates all new cars. Here are quotations from the April 1959 issue:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. Everyone considering a new car should experience it."

"It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving the wheels farther apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

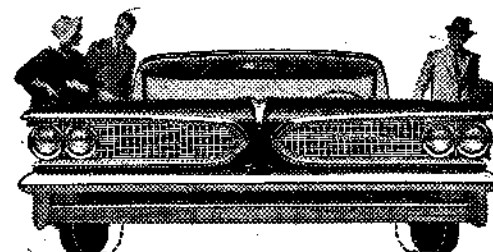

"Pontiac's lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fleet look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its over-all integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine. The new 420E Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage while operating on regular grade gasoline."

"Pontiac is again tops in performance, based on our extensive road testing. Acceleration is outstanding, yet the engine is unusually quiet and smooth."

Your nearest Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you road-test this award-winning automobile on your own. You'll see why it's the year's most talked-about car!

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean disappear, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier. Handling is easier. You drive with a new confidence, a comforting security. Pontiac gives you roadability no "narrow gauge" car can offer.

The Gilford area will meet at the Gilford Extension Community Hall on March 6. All of the workshops will begin at 1 p.m. Mrs. William Tonkin, Fairgrove, secretary to Michigan's extension home economics council, reports that at Farmers' Week all district chairmen were represented at the state council workshops. These workshops were held throughout the entire period of Farmers' Week. Many future plans for Extension's local and district home economics groups were discussed.

The Moreland group had a splendid family night dinner on February 14. Around 40 members and guests braved fog and rain to gather at Gilford's Extension Hall for the evening. The women of the Gilford group served a turkey dinner.

Did you have to strain the gravy the last time to get the lumps out before you served it? Or, was your last cream pie filling soupy? Let us consider how both catastrophes can be avoided next time.

First, it is the starch which is responsible for thickening the white sauce, gravy, sweet sauce, pudding or a pie filling. Cornstarch and flour are the two main sources of starch in such food products. Starch is in the form of tiny granules which are microscopic in size and will not dissolve in water. If you place them in cold water, they just sink to the bottom. When we stir them up and start to heat the starch in water, nothing seems to happen at first. Then gradually the granules start to swell. Before long they have grown so large that they have difficulty sliding past one another as we stir the mixture. Then we say that the mixture begins to thicken. It becomes thicker and thicker until it begins to boil or is nearly at the boiling temperature. As the mixture cools, the starch forms a sort of meshwork which holds the liquid - and has a fairly firm jelly structure.

Knowing these facts about the behavior of starch in hot water, we can figure out how to avoid lumps. When we dump starch or flour into hot liquid, the outside of the clumps swell as they come in contact with the hot liquid, but the granules in the center of the clumps stay dry because the liquid cannot touch them. You probably have seen this if you have ever broken open one of these lumps in the gravy you made.

Then, the secret is to add the starch so that each granule has an opportunity to come in contact with the liquid. There are three usual methods of separating the granules: mix the starch with fat, with cold water, or with sugar.

We use the separation with sugar method only in making pudding or other products which use a large amount of sugar in proportion to the starch. You should mix the starch and sugar together thoroughly before adding the liquid. Then, as the sugar dissolves, each granule is completely surrounded by the liquid and a smooth pudding is the result.

In making white sauce or gravy, we often mix the starch or flour with melted fat. Only after they are mixed so that each granule is coated with fat do we start to add the liquid gradually and heat the mixture.

Another way you may follow is to mix the starch or flour thoroughly with a little of the cold liquid, water or milk before heating it or adding it to more hot liquid. In both of these methods, each starch granule is completely surrounded with water before it begins to swell, and so you get a smooth gravy, sauce, or pudding.

The reason for a soupy pudding or runny pie filling is usually just not cooking it long enough. A little thickening can be noticed long before the granules are swollen to the maximum amount. So, give it time.

Some directions say to cook until the raw starch flavor disappears. But, sometimes this seems to happen long before maximum thickening has occurred. It is not a very reliable test.

So that you may always make smooth and properly thickened gravies, sauces, puddings and pie filling, it is most important to see that the granules are separated before they are heated in water or other liquid, and to see that the product is cooked long enough.
