Live Better Sale in Village April 24-25

"Live Better By Far" is the theme that Cass City's merchants have adopted for a giant town-wide sale and a huge demonstration by local automobile dealers Friday and Saturday.

Highlighting the two-day event will be the placing of new model automobiles on Main Street and special sale items in nearly every store in the community.

Hawks to Open League Baseball Schedule Today

Cass City ended its exhibition schedule Thursday, Apr. 16, with a 8-2 victory over Pigeon and was slated to play Bad Axe this afternoon (Thursday) at Cass City Recreational Park in the opening Thumb B Conference game. The winner of the contest will be favored to cop the league toga. Pre-game dope favors the champion Hawks, who have annexed the diamond championship for three years in a row.

Pigeon provided the Hawks with all the competition they needed and the game, played in perfect baseball weather, was in doubt until the final out.

The Panthers jumped into a one-run lead in the opening stanza on an error, stolen base and single to center by Fogle.

Neither team was able to score after the initial inning until the fifth when Cass City counted twice to take the lead. Bob Holcomb singled and stole second. He went to third when the catcher's throw went into center field and scored on Severance's sacrifice fly to right.

Dave Wilson then repeated the scoring route taken by Holcomb when he singled, stole second and went to third on the catcher's heave into centerfield. He scored on a wild pitch.

In the sixth Cass City scored the run that meant victory without the benefit of a hit. Ron Concluded on page eight.

From the Editor's Corner

Cass City is featured in an advertisement in this week's issue of Business Week as an outstanding example of a planned community.

A copy of the four-color ad has been inserted in your copy of the Chronicle. The success story is one that every booster of Cass City can take credit for.

Although the active work for industry probably dates back eight years ago when 10 businessmen banded together to purchase the industrial site in Cass City, the success of the program can be traced to the efforts of every community booster.

Adequate zoning, fine subdivisions, the recreational park and the wide Main Street contribute directly to the community's growth and prosperity.

Now the planning commission and the new Cass City Community Hospital are progressive steps that will help keep Cass City dynamic and growing.

The Chronicle has a limited number of copies of the advertisement sponsored by Detroit Edison Co. available for free distribution on a first come, first served basis.

seniors in Michigan high schools who had completed one or more years of Industrial Arts work. From the original applicants, 12 boys were invited, along with their instructors, to spend a day at the University of April 18. Mr. Orion Cardew, local Industrial Arts teacher, accompanied David. Each contestant was required to bring a shop project and was interviewed by a group of judges. The final selection was based on scholarship, craftsmanship and personality. As one of the two selected for the final award, David will receive one hundred dollars the first year. An additional hundred dollar scholarship will be granted each succeeding year to the boy making the best record in his freshman year in the Industrial Arts department at Western Michigan University.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Ackerman of Cass City. He has been an Industrial Arts major during his high school years here.

Cass City Easy Victors in First Triangular Meet

Cass City had little trouble remaining undefeated in track Wednesday, Apr. 15, when they easily defeated Marlette and Sandusky. The score was Cass City 96, Marlette 22 and Sandusky 16.

Cass City was prevented from making a clean sweep of first place in every event when the medley relay team was disqualified after finishing in front.

The results: 120-yard high hurdles—won by Leeson, CC; Powell, CC; McCormick, CC; Lindsey, M.: 16.8. Medley relay—won by Marlette. 100-yard dash—won by Auvil, CC; Anthes, CC; Wright, CC; McGonagle, S.: 10.6. Mile run—won by Parrott, CC; Concluded on page eight.

Gavel Club Invitational

Twenty Schools to Compete Saturday

Given favorable weather Saturday, an all-time record crowd for a track meet in Cass City is expected for the first annual Gavel Club Invitational at Cass City Recreational Park.

A total of 20 schools will send their ace thrillheads here to test the best facilities in the Thumb area in time trials that start at 1 p.m. and the finals that are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

The meet will be the first major one on the new track and all proceeds will be used to pay for the new facilities.

The Gavel Club has been working on the track for two years and has spent some $3,000 for materials, exclusive of labor.

Highlighting the improvements was the enlargement of the track to the standard size recommended by the state.

It has an eight-lane straightaway of 220 yards and 42-inch lanes. The track has been curbed on the inside of its entire 440-yard circular length.

Planners Study New Parking Provisions

The Cass City Planning Commission is currently studying a series of new regulations designed to provide adequate future off-street parking when new business comes to Cass City. The changes were submitted by George Vilcan, planning expert hired by the village.

If adopted the changes will become law when an amendment to the present zoning ordinance is passed.

The regulations set up standards for the amount of off-street parking necessary to be provided for every home, industry, school, church, business, hospital, clinic and any other conceivable building that will be erected.

If adopted, the new law will have no effect on established businesses except where they decided to build additions for expansion.

The parking regulations were adopted from standards learned after several surveys by responsible organizations as to the minimum amount of parking needed for each business, Mr. Vilcan said.

Future Growth?

The planners are still in the preliminary stages of their master plan for Cass City. Mr. Vilcan said that it would not be realistic for the village to plan for expansion on the basis of past growth. We are making our plans for the future to be ready if a large plant moves in and the population suddenly mushrooms, he explained.

Already completed is a land use map of Cass City. It shows residential property within the village occupies 139 acres. Business takes 13.3 acres and industry 30.5 acres.

Roads and other right-of-ways occupy 206.1 acres. There are 86 acres of vacant land, enough to take care of an additional 1,000 persons.

Population The population of the village now stands at 2,000 persons... continuing the gradual increase in Cass City since 1900. But while the community has grown, Elkland Township has decreased in population, the planners learned in their study.

In its present boundaries, Cass City is not capable of handling 4,500 persons. Although not complete, tentative plans for expansion now call for more homes in the northeast and southeast section of the village.

Because of the greater majority of the population that is south of Main Street, Mr. Vilcan said that thought should be given for making future-grade school expansion with a unit somewhere in the southern section of the village.

The industrial corridor should expand south of its present location in southwest Cass City into the township, he said.

Among the many activities sponsored by the classes were boxing, pie throw, fun house, picture taking, cake walk and basketball toss. Boxing proved to be the most popular, authorities said.

Assistant Principal Eli Holes said that if the carnival is held again next year, it probably will be held earlier so that smaller children can attend and still be home for regular bed time.

Milk Prices Down; Volume Increases

Although prices paid farmers in the Detroit milkshed are down, production has pushed average income per farm to higher levels than a year ago, according to the monthly market report of Michigan Milk Producers Association.

The base price to farmers in March was $4.04 per hundredweight, compared to $4.12 in February and $4.32 in March 1958. Average income per farm, based on a monthly production of 15,651 pounds of milk, was $616 in March, 11 per cent higher than the $558 average income received in March of last year. Production per farm was 18 per cent above year ago.

Total milk production in the market was 175 million pounds during March - - - 17 1/2 million more than a year ago. Class I (drinking milk) sales accounted for only 108 million pounds of total production, representing a drop of nearly 2 1/2 per cent from last year.

Over $60 of the average income per farm resulted from price negotiations of MMPA, which added $62,000 to Detroit area farmers' milk income for March. The negotiated Class I price was $4.44, or 65c a hundred higher than the Federal Order price.

All major Michigan markets except Jackson showed higher production than a year ago. All markets except Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie had lower Class I sales than March of 1958. Average prices paid in Out-state markets: Battle Creek, $4.22; Jackson, $4.21; Valley markets, $4.09; Sault Ste. Marie, $4.08; Marquette, $3.97; Holland and Muskegon, $3.87; Upstate Michigan, $3.84; Iron Mountain, $3.77; Grand Rapids, $3.75; and Ironwood, $3.67.

Keep Moth Balls From Youngsters

Don't use moth balls to keep animals off your lawn, warns a specialist from the University of Michigan Medical Center.

"They are poisonous," stresses Dr. George H. Lowrey, "and might prove fatal if accidentally eaten by young children."

Dr. Lowrey, the physician in charge of the Medical Center's Poison Control Service, says that the preschool child is especially apt to pick up and eat things he finds. "Youngsters from one to five years old are attracted by the white color of the moth balls and are intrigued by the odor, which they find pleasant."

Other substances which are not poisonous are available to keep animals away from plantings, Dr. Lowrey emphasizes, and are much more effective than moth balls.

The smell of moth balls, which is offensive to dogs and other animals, only lasts a short time outdoors, he says. Safer protectors last longer and are often the same color as shrubbery so they can be hung inconspicuously in branches.

Several cases of moth-ball poisoning have been brought to the U-M Medical Center over the past five years. "These children found moth balls in their closets at home," Dr. Lowrey reports, "and eagerly swallowed them."

Treatment for such cases is most effective within the first four hours. During this time doctors can use a "gastric lavage," or stomach pump, successfully. After four hours, the poison has been mostly absorbed, and the pump has diminishing effect.

The U-M Poison Control Service contains extensive lists of commercial products with their chemical components, toxic ingredients and antidotes. A physician is always available in the Emergency Suite for answering phone inquiries from patients and other doctors. The number is NOrmandy 3-1531, ext. 589.

In this Kingswood, every window is Safety Plate Glass.

Nicest wagon that ever joined your family!

Chevy's station wagons should really be called family wagons. You can choose from five models, including the four-door nine-passenger Kingswood, with its rear-facing rear seat.

Here's a brisk and breezy wagon that'll take on any chore you name, from a trip to the beach to a journey home from the lumberyard. There's room, you see, for a whole half-ton of cargo—a space ten feet long, with the rear seat and tailgate down.

These wagons are easy to load, too—you just roll the rear window into the tailgate and flip it down flat. No liftgate to wrestle with.

Chevrolet's so easy to handle it's a natural for the lady of the house. Big, safer brakes, too. Chevy's even got bigger tires—they come as standard equipment on every one of our wagons. But why not fall in love with a Chevy firsthand—at your Chevrolet dealer's!

The car that's wanted for all its worth!

BULEN MOTORS

BULEN TALKS Cars

EVER HEAR OF A CAR WITH THREE WHEELS? To tell the truth I never had either until I read about it in a recent issue of a popular mechanical magazine. But because I found it of such interest of a bygone era I thought I'd pass along a few of the facts to you.

The three-wheeler was tabbed the Kelsey Motorette . . . and it was designed back in 1910 by a man of the same name. The two main reasons it never had a chance to prove itself was a faulty motor casting and lack of capital on the part of the inventor.

However, this car did prove that it got over the ruts that passed for roads in those days with surprising ease. A no mean trick as old-timers will recall.

It was a two-cylinder job with a 10 horse power engine with a top speed of 20 miles per hour. And incidentally, it was put on the market for a mere $385.00.

And unlike the steering wheels of the cars we're familiar with the Kelsey was steered by a tiller which folded up and out of the way, when the driver wanted to get out.

It carried four gallons of gas, but you could get 20 miles per gallon.

Another interesting feature I noted was that the motor was under the seat . . . and that the planetary transmission had two forward speeds—high, low . . . and, of course, reverse.

Well, the article had much more to say, but I think the features I've mentioned are the main ones you'd want to know about an inventor's dream of long ago.

It just goes to prove that automobile engineering has come a long way since the early days of its inception. And we have many fine examples of that statement right now on our lot. They're used cars . . . but they haven't been used much . . . so come on down and have a look.

Soil Stewardship Week

SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK is May 3-10 this year, Albert Bauer, Chairman of the Tuscola Soil Conservation District, announced today. The Tuscola District is cooperating with more than 2800 other Soil Conservation Districts in sponsoring Soil Stewardship Week throughout the entire United States.

All ministers in the Tuscola District are being asked to assist the district in calling the attention of the people to the fact that our soil is a God-given resource.

Materials emphasizing the relationship between the church and the good earth are being provided for each minister.

It is an inescapable fact that poor soil means poor people and poor churches. There is a direct relationship between the condition of the soil and the ability of people to support their churches. Man must work with God to carry out this sacred trust of soil stewardship which he has been given, is the theme of the week.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Use New Seasoning To Highlight Those Favorite Vegetables

IT'S SURPRISING what a new seasoning can do to make old favorite vegetables acceptable again. In case any vegetables have fallen into disfavor in your family, try them in a new way or at the very least, with new seasonings.

Here's a good supper plate with an interesting combination of vegetables plus the seasoning of garlic salt with vinegar dressing to add spice:

Peas Salad Plate (Serves 4)
1 cup cauliflowerets
1 cup Cheddar cheese strips
1/2 cup diced cucumber
1 1-pound can peas
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
3 cups torn lettuce
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/4 cup salad oil
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon garlic salt
Arrange cauliflowerets, cheese, cucumber, peas and eggs on beds of torn lettuce. Chill one hour. Meanwhile, combine remaining ingredients, mixing well. Pour dressing over salad before serving.

It will be a tempting Sunday night supper when you serve an attractive platter of canned peas arranged with cucumber pieces, cheese strips, cauliflowerets and hard-cooked eggs, sliced. Sliced ham and muffins go well with this vegetable specialty.

Canned peas are one of the real bargains in foods. Use them with tomatoes for a novel vegetable combination:

Peas and Tomatoes (Serves 6)
2 tablespoons butter
1 medium onion, chopped
1 1-pound can peas, drained
1 1-pound can tomatoes
Melt butter, add onion and cook over low heat 5 minutes. Add vegetables and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, for 15 minutes to allow flavors to blend.

Good Exercises

For strengthening the arch, there's nothing like toe-pick-ups. You can try picking up Turkish towels, marbles or pencils with the toes.

For strengthening the leg, walk on the balls of the feet. If you prefer you can rise on tiptoes, count slowly to ten, let the heel down, then repeat.

If you're walking barefoot around the house, do some walking on the outside of the feet. This is good for strengthening the instep.

Walking barefoot is relaxing and good for the feet. Don't do it if you're overweight as you need the support of your shoes. Slim down first, then go barefoot.

For a pedicure, remove polish first, then clip the nails straight across. Leave the sides of the nails alone. With a buffer and powder or paste polish, buff them in one direction only. Then soak in soapy water for 5 minutes. Dry thoroughly.

Massage cream around the cuticle, then push back cuticle with cotton covered orange stick. Clean under the nails and scrub the toes with a brush. To apply polish easily, separate the toes with a piece of tissue. After polish is dry, grasp the foot and massage all of it.

Be meticulous about leg hair removal. Do this on schedule so you have no embarrassing moments. An alcohol rub on the legs after hair removal is bracing, too.

Self-made men are the product of self-made opportunities.

When the train of thought gets on the wrong track, stop the train.

Some people will lend a hand if they think there is a chance of borrowing two at some future date.

The opportunities you lose are quickly picked up by someone who possesses ambition and ability. Advertise it in the Chronicle.

The Finishing Touch

Warm weather is just around the corner—the weatherman tells us—and with its arrival millions of vacationers will begin pounding a steady path to Michigan's 59 state parks and recreation areas. Wear and tear on recreational facilities by 17,000,000 visitors in 1958 left Conservation Department employees and inmate labor with a heavy work load during the off-season months. Workers are now painting and touching up equipment in preparation for the busy summer months that lie ahead.

What's OLDS got that makes it sell so well?

Here are the reasons why!

- DEMONSTRATED ENGINEERING LEADERSHIP! Wherever you look on a '59 Olds, you see the result of advanced planning and thinking... the latest in mechanical features and applications. If it really makes for better driving, you'll find it first on an Oldsmobile!
- PROVEN REPUTATION FOR QUALITY! Olds owners know from personal experience that their Oldsmobile will deliver long-lasting pleasure and performance because it's built right... right from the start!
- DISTINCTIVE OLDSMOBILE STYLING! There's no other car on the road that has the rich smartness, the unique two-toning, the crisp beauty of line that sets Olds apart from the ordinary wherever it's seen!
- COSTS LESS THAN MANY GUESSES! An Oldsmobile does look expensive. In fact, many guess an Oldsmobile costs much more than it actually does... but you'll find there's a Rocket to fit most every pocket!
- ROCKET ENGINE PERFORMANCE! The favorite feature of Olds owners is the lively, spirited action they get from the remarkable Rocket Engine... it's so quiet, responsive, reliable!
- ECONOMICAL OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE! Because it's a quality-built car to begin with, owners report that their Oldsmobiles cost less to operate in the long run than other cars in its price class! And there's excellent fuel economy, too!
- TRADITIONALLY HIGH RESALE VALUE! Official used car figures show that Olds value holds... brings a higher percentage of its original cost at trade-in time... gives more for your money while you own it!

See why your investment holds when you go over to Olds...

What's Next Gov. Williams?

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Gov. Williams is erecting the biggest political question mark in Michigan history.

He is swinging into the shank of his sixth consecutive term with more partisan enemies than at any time since he first became chief executive in 1949.

Republicans are making capital of the near bankrupt state of the treasury and are continuing their drumfire over his link to labor leaders.

No one expects Williams to try for a seventh term as governor; his bid for the presidency, a hot and cold prediction for years, is almost a certainty.

Williams himself is silent on the subject except for general statements about everybody wanting to be president.

On a world tour, Mrs. Williams told reporters in Tokyo her husband "has had enough" and wouldn't try for governor again. Williams feigned surprise.

Now comes the report that the state's top Democratic leaders are taking deep soundings in the national political earth to see what Williams' prospects will be in 1960.

So far, the national polls have barely mentioned Williams.

National publicity about Michigan's near bankruptcy after 10 years with Williams at the helm have damaged his chances, a point that he is trying to correct in out-of-state speeches.

One writer pointed out the irony.

Williams tells national audiences that Michigan is economically healthy, that it is only a matter of time before the state regains its position lost temporarily during the "national recession."

Michigan audiences hear the other side of the coin: That only alert economy by the administration is preventing bankruptcy in the face of a stubborn Republican legislature which refuses to pass an adequate tax program.

Reports indicate that Democratic strategists are preparing to launch Williams' 1960 bid in one or two presidential preference primaries, including Wisconsin.

They are surveying the strengths and weaknesses of his potential rivals, including Senator John Kennedy, of Massachusetts.

Williams is accepting speaking invitations around the country to explain his position on various national and international subjects. These trips make frequent targets for GOP criticism, but the Governor ignores the remarks.

Economy is the order of the day in state government, now more than ever. James W. Miller, the state controller, has ordered all trips out of the state screened, several publications suspended or modified and all expenditures reduced.

Two high officials attended meetings in New York and paid their own expenses.

A controversial highway department magazine for employees, "The Hy-Lighter," was suspended. Others have been using a less expensive printing process recently.

Senator Hart has been receiving praise from even his critics for disclosing details of his office payroll in Washington.

House of Representative members were openly attacked for placing their relatives on payrolls. None from Michigan was involved.

When the Senate refused to make the same disclosures about all members, Hart voluntarily released a list of his employees and their salaries.

Notes: An association of optometrists has suggested that highways should be tinted green and the center lines painted yellow to provide less strain on the eyes of drivers.

The Highway Traffic Safety Center at Michigan State University heard a nationally-prominent physician state recently that the "driver with two drinks is more dangerous than the drunk driver."

The speaker reasoned that a drinking driver is more confident of his ability and more likely to take chances.

More people could live within their income if their neighbors didn't have the borrowing habit.

Home Extension Agent's Corner

Frances T. Clark
County Home Demonstration Agent

The Wisner group has come up with a clever idea to raise money toward the Extension women's community project of furnishing a room at the County Nursing Home. Each member of the group will send out little aprons to their friends asking that they pay a penny for each inch of waistline toward the fund.

The Tuscola county extension women's big day will be April 30. It is their annual Achievement Day and will this year be held in Kingston high school auditorium from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. In the forenoon we expect to have Mrs. Lucy Miller, county public health nurse, Mrs. Bernice C. Haley, lawyer from Bad Axe, and Mrs. Faith Kelly, acting director of Sanilac health department, as our special guests and speakers. Standard extension groups will be announced as well as the Tuscola county extension woman of the year.

The women are proud to announce that Mr. Fred G. Alexander, assistant professor of speech, Michigan State University, will be their main afternoon speaker. He will talk on "Rumor Clinic." Twenty-five groups have thus far let Mrs. Louis Wenzloff, Kingston, exhibit chairman, know that they will have exhibits up for Achievement Day. Mrs. Charles Spohn, chairman of Sanilac county extension women's council, and Mrs. Floyd Collison, chairman of Huron county extension women's council, will be the judges of the exhibits. The winners will be announced during the day.

A turkey dinner will be served at the Methodist Church and the Masonic Hall. The cost of the meal will be $1.50. Let my office know how many tickets each group would like. If there are any non-extension women that would like to attend the Achievement Day program, they will be welcome.

How many of you homemakers are finding that some of your upholstered articles or linens are showing signs of mildew? The warm humid days create just the right conditions for the growth of mildew. I have been getting calls on how to combat mildew so will give a few directions on the subject.

Speed is essential in removing mildew spots from furniture and other household items because, under certain conditions mildew molds may produce permanent stains within a few hours and in time, materials may rot to pieces.

Mildew is a fungus that grows from spores. These spores are in the atmosphere at all times. They will grow when the climate is right and the atmospheric conditions are favorable. That means warm and humid weather. Actually, mildew is a vegetable-like structure that grows within a fabric and interlacing among the yarn. It is something like the growth of Spanish moss in trees.

Since mildew thrives on dampness, sun and air are two valuable aids for destroying it. To get full benefit of natural factors, as well as to prevent scattering mildew in the house, take mildewed upholstered articles, rugs, mattresses, etc. outdoors for cleaning. Brush with a whisk-broom and then use the vacuum to remove the mold. If spots remain, sponge the article lightly with a thick dry soapuds, wetting the fabric as little as possible. Wipe with a clean dry cloth or with a cloth wrung out of diluted alcohol. Dry well. To dilute alcohol, add one cup of water to one cup of denatured alcohol.

If you should find mildew on painted surfaces, remove the mildew stains with a commercial paint cleaner. Then apply a mildew-resistant paint to the surface.

Some men try to substitute other things for character and reputation.

Courteous driving has always paid big dividends—cash in the bank, plus the lives it saves.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Pick A Bouquet Of Colorful Cottons For New Fashions

THIS SEASON cottons will blossom in a bold bouquet of colors and prints. Even the mousest of women will be more like butterflies, wearing bright fashions in sportswear, party dresses, in town fashions or working clothes.

It would seem that the designers of these new fashions feel that after the debacle of the sack and chemise, women might be just a bit queasy about what to choose next. Thus, they've centered the fashion spotlight on colors and textures and let the silhouette slip back gently to normal waistlines, rounded hips and pretty sleeves.

Cottons are brighter and prettier than in many seasons, and much more serviceable, too. Many more will feature the minimum care features. In past seasons these finishes have been of varying reliability and disastrous results after five or six washings. Shrinkage control, the sanforized feature, has been added to a great many of them.

No one is ever too young for the empire look as this young lady shows, wearing a Caprice bubble print cotton dress and jacket. Ruffled eyelet embroidery at the jacket edge gives a versatile touch to this versatile outfit that mother can make. It's a regulated cotton that needs only the touch of an iron.

What to Choose
If you shop now, look for these guideposts: colors that are bright and clear, even flamboyant. Choose sunny yellow, pink to red to orange which is called the geranium, peonia or Paris pink group.

Greens are fashion important, especially the deep, intense or clear Springlike greens. Lilacs and lavender tones which tend to purple are more popular than the blue.

If you like prints, this is your year.

Select Casseroles With Good Flavor

Do the casseroles you serve have something interesting about them? Flavor or texture interest? Character? If they don't, better do something about them fast.

Casseroles are filling and economical and easy to serve since they go into the oven and come to the table without any change of dishes. Prepare them in advance of busy days. They'll be a good friend in helping avoid last minute rushes or expensive, ready-to-serve foods.

Here's a casserole with plenty of flavor and a souffle texture which is certain to please:

Mushroom Cheese Puff (Serves 4-5)

4 slices bread
2 cups grated American cheese
3 eggs
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms
Cut bread in small cubes. Arrange bread and cheese in layers in shallow buttered baking dish. Beat eggs slightly, add milk, seasonings and undrained mushrooms. Pour over bread and cheese. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 45 to 50 minutes until puffed and browned on top and set in center. Serve at once.

Shrimp-Corn Casserole (Serves 6)

2 cans corn creole
2 1/4-ounce cans devalined shrimp, drained
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
1/2 cup crushed cheese crackers
Combine all ingredients except olives and crackers and pour into a greased baking dish. Spoon chopped olives around edge of casserole. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Just before serving, sprinkle crackers in center of casserole.

Always plug the cord into the appliance and then into the outlet, recommend home economists at Michigan State University.

Will Complete Line Project in July

Replacing and expanding the outside telephone facilities of the eastern and southern rural areas of the Cass City exchange will require almost $61,000, reported General Telephone's District Manager H. F. Janson.

The buried telephone cable and wire project, which started in September of last year, is expected to be completed by July of this year, Janson stated. The expanded facilities will provide greater service for present requirements and is engineered to meet future growth of the Cass City area.

Apply Now for Lamb And Wool Payment

April 30 is the deadline for applying for incentive payments on lambs and wool sold during the year ending March 31, 1959, reminds Alfred Ballweg, county extension director. Applications can be made out at the county agricultural stabilization and conservation office, Caro.

Sales slips on unshorn lambs and wool sold during the period April 1, 1958 through March 31, 1959 are needed when applying for the payments.

Sheepmen are urged to make application this year because payments on lambs may be as much as $1 per hundredweight. Payment is made on lambs sold for slaughter and for feeders. Those farmers who have bought feeder lambs, however, will receive payment only on the gain put on while owned by them. Farmers are advised to apply for lamb payments.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister, Editor:

My experience with driving a automobile ain't too wide on account of there's too many things to go wrong with a car for a thinking man to fool with very long. If the battery ain't dead a tire is flat or the license is due or the gas tank is empty or a hen is setting in the back seat and a feller don't want to disturb her. And I been around long enough to know driving a car ain't no sign you own it, you may be just renting it from the finance company. But I know more about cars than them automobile associations that is advocating a law requiring anybody who hits a "unattended vehicle" to leave a written note giving his name and address.

If a woman backs her car out from the curb on a crowded Saturday afternoon and knocks the paint off'n the side of the car parked to her right and the car parked to her left and maybe off the back end of the car on the opposite side of the street, this new law would require her to write three notes with her name and address and leave 'em in three cars.

If I had a car and it was scraped by a woman backing her car out, I would appreciate it if she would just keep on driving. As sure as thunder if she tries to git back into her parking space to write me a note she done it, she'll take off more paint and smash more fenders going back in and coming back out, doing three times as much damage as she would've done afore they passed the law.

I say when a woman with two or three kids in the front and back seat and a cigarette needing the ashes flicked gits her car started and out in the middle of the street, regardless of how many fenders she took with her, the thing that's needed fer peace and tranquility is to keep her going and git her home as quick as possible without stopping to write no notes.

If I backed out and dented somebody's car, I know enough about human nature to know leaving him a note ain't going to pacify him. He's going to be as mad as a wet hen in just one direction but if he don't know who done it he'll scatter his anger in all directions at the human race in general. A note would just make him concentrate on me and he'd brood over it fer months, and you know blamed well I ain't gonna pay him nothing on account of his car being parked at the wrong angle in the first place.

If they start that note-writing propaganda around here, Mister Editor, you give 'em the benefit of your editorial enlightenment on the subject.

Yours truly
Uncle Tim

Mitchell to Serve For Six Months

Keith E. Mitchell, Cass City, will begin six months of active duty training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, April 26, it was announced this week by Major General Theodore S. Riggs, Commanding General, VI U. S. Army Corps.

Mitchell is a member of Battery A, 798rd Field Artillery Battalion, Army Reserve, headquartered in Ubyly.

After completing his tour of duty, Mr. Mitchell will return home to fulfill his military obligation by serving with the Ubyly Army Reserve unit.

Expert Tells Best Corn Weed Chemical

Many Michigan farmers are continuing to find a weed-killing chemical called 2,4-D one of the best choices for controlling weeds in corn.

That's the report from Boyd Churchill, farm crops scientist at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

Churchill says that some of the newer chemicals can do a little better job of knocking out weeds. But when farmers figure the weed control they get for the cost of material, 2,4-D has the edge. Tests over eight years at the Experiment Station show that one pound of 2,4-D sprayed pre-emergence followed by one cultivation gives corn yields comparable to three cultivations. A pound of 2,4-D ester costs about $1.35.

Churchill adds that the cost of some of the other chemicals could be reduced by band spraying. Also, he doesn't recommend that 2,4-D be sprayed pre-emergence on sandy soils.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago
Walter E. Walpole, president of Walbro Corporation of Fenton, and representatives of the Cass City Development Corporation signed papers Tuesday afternoon agreeing to move the factory to Cass City.

The Detroit Edison Company recently printed a new brochure giving many details about the Cass City community, its population, industry, business places, transportation facilities, etc.

Representatives from the State Highway Department denied a petition from the Elkland township board to extend the speed control zone past the Elkland cemetery or to post "no parking" signs on the south side of M-81.

Dr. George C. Carrick, chairman, announced today that plans for the Lions Club charter night program in Cass City have been completed. Sen. Frank D. Beadle, Lions international counselor, will act as toastmaster.

Mrs. Fred McEachern was elected president of the Cass City and Elkland Township Library board to replace Mrs. Chester Graham, who recently resigned. Other members of the board are Mrs. Earl Douglas, Mrs. M. C. McLellan, Mrs. Norman Huff and Mrs. H. M. Bulen.

Ten Years Ago

E. B. Schwaderer was elected a member of the county road commission.

Gagetown High School has announced honor students of the 1949 graduating class. Eleanor M. Schwartz is valedictorian and Ann Meininger is salutatorian.

Eighty friends and relatives surprised Mr. and Mrs. William Kitchen with a party Saturday night in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Little, who have operated the Cass City Fruit Market the last two years, sold the business to Alden Asher. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Knapp will observe their golden wedding anniversary with open house Sunday.

Ray Silvernail suffered several broken ribs and bruises when his team of horses became frightened and ran away while drilling oats. Mr. Silvernail was thrown to the ground and run over by the drill.

Twenty-five Years Ago

The board of education has tendered contracts to all members of the teaching staff at Cass City School with salary increases for each teacher for next year. A manual training course will be added and music and art will be full-time subjects.

According to the farm crops department at Michigan State College, farmers who have signed contracts to decrease corn or wheat acreage may handle the contracted acreage in one of five ways: plant to trees for a farm woodlot; allow to lie fallow, mow and leave any natural growth; summer fallow or work to destroy noxious weeds; plant to crops for soil improvement or to prevent soil erosion, or plant to pasture or meadow crops not to be harvested while under contract.

Final steps were taken Tuesday night for the organization of a Cass City local of the National Farmers' Union. Lyle Koepfen is president; Emory Lounsbury, vice-president, and Henry Smith, secretary.

Thirty cases were listed on the docket for the May term of circuit court in Tuscola County. There were three criminal cases, 12 civil, 13 chancery and two divorce cases.

Thirty-five Years Ago

A. O. McAnally, a Detroit retailer, has purchased the Parrott Creamery from Earl Parrott. A. Hillman, who has been employed by Mr. Parrott, will continue as local manager.

The senior class will present the play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," at the opera house next week. In the cast are: Ilene Profit, Dorothy Tindale, Beatrice Gilles, Marguerite McTavish, Lucille Corkins, Curtis

Tractors Deadly For Youngsters

One-third of the children who will be killed in a tractor accident this year are not yet in kindergarten.

In the five-year period, 1953-58, a total of 44 children under 14 were killed in tractor accidents. Fifteen of these were under four years of age. Ten were in the 5-9 group and 19 in the 10-14 group.

Children's deaths in tractor accidents are startling, says Richard Pfister, agricultural engineering safety specialist at Michigan State University.

"If a man between 30 and 40 has a son who is under 14, there are 30 times the chance that the boy will be killed in a tractor accident than the father," says Pfister.

Tractors are equipment for work and not for play. But it's a difficult decision in deciding when a boy is old enough to drive a tractor. Age or physical ability are not suitable yardsticks insists Pfister. He suggests using this guide: a boy ought to be able and be trusted to completely maintain a tractor before he is allowed to drive it.

Meadow Management Leads To Beef Gains

Produces Marketable
Animals In Short Time

Several years of meadow research in Colorado has demonstrated that improved management can mean big gains in beef cattle production efficiency.

The research, concerned mainly with the time of harvesting forage crops, use of irrigation water, and fertilization, compares the advantages to be gained from skillful use of these combined practices with their ordinary use.

The total of these practices: (1) produced market-weight animals faster; (2) cut forage intake per pound of beef produced; (3) took less water to produce a pound of forage; (4) increased the yield of harvested forage per acre, and (5) increased the crude protein content of the forage.

Studies show improved range management leads to beef gains.

Only 520 days were required to produce 1,000-pound beef animals with the experimental practices, compared with 1,260 days under ordinary ranching conditions. Total forage intake per beef animal in test practices was only 13,300 pounds against a total forage intake of 20,300 pounds for unusual practices. Thus, cattle under test practices produced a pound of beef on about 13 pounds of forage, compared with some 30 pounds needed for a one-pound gain under usual conditions.

A combination of good water management and early harvest produced a ton of forage with as little as 9.5 inches of applied water an acre. Under conditions of usual water management and late harvest, up to 196 acre-inches of applied water were required to produce one ton of forage.

High Cost Of Farming Pushes Age Bracket Up

High cost of operating a modern farm is pushing the age brackets upward for farmers in many states.

Oregon, for example, now has the smallest proportion of farm operators under 35 years of age and the largest percentage over 65 years of any census dating back to 1920, says C. Curtis Mumford, Oregon State college agricultural economist.

The report, based on the 1954 federal census of agriculture, shows that while the average age of Oregon farmers has changed little in the past two decades, there are fewer "young" farmers.

That times have changed since an ambitious young man with a plow and good team of horses could break into farming is emphasized by the fact that only one per cent of all Oregon farmers were under 25 years of age in 1954.

At the other end of the age scale, 17 per cent of Oregon's farmers were 65 years or older at the last census.

Pipe Holder

Inexpensive well-pipe holder is handy when pump and pipe are removed from well to repair cylinder. It's made from strap hinge and wood block, which is slotted as indicated. One end of hinge is cut to wide, shallow V-shape and mounted on block. Be sure hinge is strong enough to support pipe, is firmly attached with heavy screws.

CASS CITY:

Another city in Southeastern Michigan has planned for industry

painting by John Falter

Convenient shopping facilities and pleasant living conditions combine to make Cass City worthy of its name as "The Hub of the Thumb."

Cass City is a community confident of its future. It's made up of self-reliant people, characterized by a pervasive spirit of friendliness and cooperation. There is an enterprise which is going to result in the formulation and adoption of a comprehensive development plan for the city's future growth. No detail will be missing.

Concurrently, by action of the Cass City Industrial Corporation, an industrial district is in use now. It has attracted new industry that has already created 400 additional jobs in a community of 2,000. Successful area planning, thriving new businesses . . . those are twin recommendations worthy of investigation by any firm seeking a new home. In Cass City, business can know today exactly what kind of a community will be its home twenty years from now.

Cass City offers more: comfortable homes, fine schools, complete municipal services, low taxes and superior recreational facilities. It has planned and acted to help industry prosper in its midst. It is ready, willing and able, as are many other Southeastern Michigan communities, to welcome industries seeking a better place to work.

DETROIT EDISON

Provides Southeastern Michigan with versatile electrical energy

CASS CITY is in the process of completing plans for its orderly future growth. That fact alone is newsworthy because community planning has not yet become commonplace—although more and more municipalities are moving in that direction.

But Cass City's plans give all indications of being outstanding among the most comprehensive and thorough of any that we know of (and it is our business to know about them all).

In recognition, the color ad above appears in the April 25 issue of BUSINESS WEEK, a national magazine distributed to leading industrial and business men. It is one way by which we hope to contribute to the growth and prosperity of Cass City and of our state.
