Fast Police Work Catches Thief of Car Within Hour

Within an hour of the time the theft of John Barry's car was broadcasted over the police radio at 5:10 p.m. Tuesday, Ed Anthes, Cass City police officer, had apprehended the thief.

The car was reported missing from the huckleberry marsh off Decker road to the Tuscola County Sheriff's department, who in turn broadcasted it over the police radio.

"I heard the announcement that a 1955 Ford, all green except for a black panel plate, was stolen. Around 6:10 I saw the car on M-81, a mile and a half west of town," said officer Anthes. "I apprehended the thief and called the sheriff's department."

The thief, a 13-year-old youth from Akron, claimed the car belonged to his aunt and uncle.

When Barry arrived with some other officers, he was asked what relation the boy was to him. "None, I never saw him before," he said.

The boy, who had a previous record for stealing a tractor from Caro last year, was taken to Caro.

Evergreen 4-H'er Returns From Trip

Janet Auslander of the Evergreen 4-H Club was one of eight girls from Michigan who won a three-day home furnishing tour to Grand Rapids Aug. 2-4 for her achievements in the 4-H home improvement project. Mrs. Marion Gray, leader, also went on the trip.

The eight girls and their leaders visited the Exhibitor's Building where manufacturers displayed their current lines of furnishings, a furniture factory to see furniture in the making and a local department store to view design trends in carpets, draperies and dishes.

From this top award group, one girl will be chosen for state honors and a chance for a trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in December.

Supervisors to Aid In Soil Survey

The agricultural committee will work with Wilber Kellogg of the Soil Conservation Department in Caro in a forecast of land use in Tuscola County in 1975, it was decided at the regular meeting of the supervisors Monday at Caro. Kickoff date for the program will be Sept. 9 and the work in the county will be part of a nationwide survey as requested by the United States Department of Agriculture. Local facts are to be compiled by Oct. 25.

The facts ascertained here will go to form the State forecast which will then be sent to Washington, D. C., to help form the national pattern.

The survey will include such factors as determining the number of acres in crops, woodland and pasture and the relationship of the soil to land use.

Also to be considered is the loss of valuable farm lands through industrial and home expansion and how much this growth will affect the county in 1975.

Mr. Kellogg said that the survey will be used to help determine the treatment needed for land. "In the Cass City area, for instance, there are rolling areas," he said, "and there is probably soil erosion. This survey should tell us where."

Other business
A report of minor corrections needed at the Tuscola County Nursing Home was made and it was pointed out that they will be attended to by the contractor within the next few weeks.

A bid of $472 from the Tuckard Nursery Co. of Sebawaing for landscaping the Nursing Home grounds was accepted by the supervisors.

Varied Program At Rotary Club Tuesday Noon

A Cass City resident and a native of Austria combined to furnish an entertaining program for Cass City Rotarians Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Sextus Lanner, 25, an exchange student who is visiting in Elkhart for 10 weeks, told members of his native country, saying that it had half the land area of Michigan and about a million more persons.

Mr. Lanner is a student at the University of Vienna and will receive his doctor's degree after another year of study. He is one of 100 students to make the trip to the United States.

After Mr. Lanner's brief address, Rotarians saw slides taken by Al Krueger on his numerous trips through the Great Lakes. Shown were most of the better ports in Michigan. Mr. Krueger described the points of interest and told the advantages and disadvantages of each port.

Werdemans Feted On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Werdeman began their 25th wedding celebration Saturday by attending a Thanksgiving Mass at St. Agatha's Church with the Rev. F. McLaughlin as celebrant.

Following the Mass a breakfast was served at their home to 50 guests. Approximately 250 guests attended an afternoon reception at which buffet luncheon was served.

The home was decorated throughout with summer and fall flowers and the table was centered with a three tier decorated wedding cake made by Mrs. Vincent Wald.

The Werdemans received many gifts of silver, including a money tree from which hung many silver dollars.

Mrs. Werdeman, the former

Keep Home-coming Say Area Residents

Each year, the Chamber of Commerce puts much time and effort, not to mention a huge sum of money, into the annual Cass City Home-coming.

Also, each year, the affair has to be expanded and made more inclusive to keep up with itself and satisfy the public. This year's Home-coming even included a free ox-roast.

Recently, there has been some talk about town to the effect that the annual Home-coming is not worth the time and money put into it. Some say it would be better to have the Home-coming every five years and have a bigger affair, spending the extra money on more worthwhile projects here in town.

Consequently, a Chronicle representative interviewed several persons at the Home-coming and asked for their opinions on the subject. Here are some of the answers:

Mrs. George Davy, Cass City—"There is something to be said for the idea of having the Home-coming every five years. To me, it sounds like a good idea although the exact project to spend the extra money would require some serious thought."

Walker Matlack, Cass City—"We have been here for only a year and this is the first Home-coming I've been to, so I don't have too much of an opinion as yet."

Lee Hartel, Deford—"I come every year and enjoy it. I do think it could be held on a week end and have a larger midway so the community would be able to get more out of it."

Art Battel, Cass City—"I am satisfied with it every year myself. I realize a lot of time and effort goes into it but I think the Chamber of Commerce does good for the community with it. I am most interested in the 4-H show, being a leader. It benefits the 4-H because it is about the only service done for them by the community. With the Home-coming the members get to show their projects and get some recognition for their efforts."

Kenneth Butler, Cass City—"I think it should be left as it is. If it is that far apart, the people would lose interest in the Home-coming."

Everett Field, Deford—"I think it should be left as it is every year. Once you start

A CAREER IN NURSING awaits these area women following their graduation from the Saginaw General Hospital School of Nursing August 9 at 3 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church, Saginaw. The graduates received hospital school pins and diplomas. The main speaker at the 67th annual commencement was Glen Boissoneault, editor of the Saginaw News. Following the commencement, a reception was held for about 500 guests, parents, friends and teachers in the church parlors. From left to right: Joan Seeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Seeley of Cass City, has accepted a position at the Pleasant Home Hospital, Cass City. Miss Beverly McComb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay McComb of Cass City, will be at the Saginaw General Hospital as will Mrs. Janet Gaister be at the Saginaw General Hospital as will Mrs. Wilfred Gaister of Decker. Miss Caren Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Cummings of Gaytown, is the class president and has been the first vice-president of the student association, second vice-president of the district student nurse association and was a delegate to a national student nurse convention in 1957. She will also join the staff of Saginaw General Hospital.

From the Editor's Corner

It would seem from the brief sampling completed by the Chronicle at the Home-coming last week that the event is as popular today as it was when started 10 years ago.

If it continues to please area patrons of Cass City it is fulfilling its purpose and is worth the time, effort and money it takes to produce it. If the time comes when visitors say, "It's nothing but the same old thing, I wonder why I bother to come," that's when the annual event should be discarded, not before.

Keith McConkey is staging a one-man campaign to add a distinctive touch to Cass City's Main Street. He already has persuaded a good many of the town's merchants to purchase boxed evergreen trees to place on the sidewalk in front of their business establishments and is now busy contacting the remainder of the merchants with the plan. This winter when the annual street decorations are erected, Mr. McConkey's plan calls for each merchant to light his tree to create another unique Christmas tradition in Cass City.

His next step was to persuade the other merchants in his block to follow suit, which they did.

The only place on the one block there is any question as to whether a plant may be purchased is the post office.

Complete Plans for Holstein Show
Plans for the annual Tuscola county Black and White Show are completed, announced Foster Hickey, Holstein Breeders' Association president.

Judging will begin at 11 a.m. at the county fairgrounds on Saturday, August 22. Exhibitors can bring in their entries any time in the morning before judging begins. Each exhibitor must bring one bale of straw for each animal exhibited.

The classes to be judged will be the same as last year, remarked Foster.

Main Street Soon To Turn Green

Within a couple of weeks one block and part of another of Cass City's Main Street will be sprouting trees at every place of business, thanks to the ingenuity and persuasiveness of Keith McConkey.

Mr. McConkey thought that the stores should do something to improve themselves and the community so he purchased two trees to place in planters outside his store. So far one has been delivered.

His next step was to persuade the other merchants in his block to follow suit, which they did.

Little Leaguers Receive Trophies

The Cass City Little League awards picnic was held Saturday night in the elementary gym with over 250 attending. Although the picnic was forced inside by cold weather, enthusiasm was not dampened.

Each member of the champion "Tiger" team received a gold baseball. They were: Brent Gallaway, Jerry Knoblet, Jim Knoblet, Dean Stine, Miles Profit, Jim Champion, Rick Bringardner, Dave Barnes, Tim Barnes, Don Englehart, Dave Asher, Tom Kelly, Tom Guinther and baby Gary Barnes.

Their coaches, George Gallaway and Bob Walpole, received ash trays with the gold figure of a baseball player on them.

The Tigers won the championship by defeating the Cubs 9-7.

The following boys received trophies: Jim Champion (Tigers) best earned run average, 2.60; Jerry King (Yanks) and Don Englehart (Tigers) best batting average, .486; Dean Frakes (Pirates) most valuable player, and Gordon Wheeler (Cubs) outstanding play-off player.

Medals were given to the following boys: Jerry King, most hits; Jim Champion, most runs

Although the exact number that attended the annual Cass City Home-coming is not known, it was one of the largest crowds to attend since the first home-coming 10 years ago.

The day was perfect for the event and the cool evening gave glad relief from the oppressive heat of the last few weeks.

Reigning over the action filled day was Queen Bonnie DeLong, who received a cedar chest filled with gifts for her prize. Maxine Root and Lynn Burdon were her court.

The children's parade featured 146 floats and decorated bicycles. First prize went to the "Purple People Eaters."

Second went to the "Raggedy Ann and Andy's House" and running a close third was the float depicting pioneers.

Horse Pulling
The ever popular horse pulling was made more exciting because of the close competition. Although there were nine teams entered, three of the men had two teams apiece.

First place went to Clayton Woodard, Lansing, as did the fourth place. Second was Ed Waisenbaugh, Sebawaing, and Ray Brink took the third position.

Clare Auslander, Decker, took the fifth and ninth places; Walter Putman, Caro, the sixth and seventh, while Robert Burns, Decker, was eighth.

A year ago the weight went up to 7,100 pounds, a new record, but this year the top weight was 6,700.

Kids' Games
With 66 Little Leaguers and their female counterparts in attendance at the home-coming, the kids' games were crowded with contestants trying to win spending money.

In the bag race for boys and girls under 10, Linda Sue Brown, Sue Ann New and Brenda Jean Powell won the first three places in that order.

The bag race for boys and girls, 10-14, was won by Frank Mosher with Sharon New and Jane Ballard winning the second and third places.

The girls' under 10 50-yard dash was won by Sue Ann New,

Brenda Jean Powell and Patty Novak. The 50-yard dash for girls 10-14 was won by Sharon New, Patsy New and Joyce Errer.

For the boys only, there were two three-legged races, one for under 10 and one for 10-14. The under 10 division was won by the teams of Kenneth Paul Kennedy and John Henry Simmons; Wade Strace and Douglas Englehart, and Lee Soldan and Gary Grey.

The second division winners were the teams of Arthur Bean and Bob Profit; Dennis Gremel and Bernard Emmos; Frank Mosher and Ken Crawford.

For the girls only, there were two divisions of a shoe scramble. Sue Ann New, Patty Novak and Shirley Mae Emmos took the under 10 division while Carol Rose Tracy, Cathy Hughes and Florine Sweeney took the second division.

Last but not least was the wheelbarrow race for boys. David Watson and Steve Holli; Bobby Skinner and Johnnie Shagena; Douglas Englehart and Duane Englehart were the winning teams in the under 10 division.

Ken Crawford and Frank Mosher; Elvin Lee Luana and Alan Zawilinski; and Arthur Bean and Bob Profit were the second division winners.

Saddle Horse Contest
Although the saddle horse contest did not have as much publicity as some of the other contests, a good crowd turned out to see the event.

The flag race was won by G. McQueen, W. Turner and S. Bullock, in that order. Barrel bending was won by C. McQueen, D. Chippi and D. McIntosh.

Chippi, McQueen and Bullock took the ride and lead division while McQueen, Turner and Chippi swept the clover leaf bending.

The evening program was rated by most as the best show the home-coming has seen so far. It consisted of the presentation of the 4-H trophies by Alfred Goodall and the presentation of the home talent show, consisting of 10 best acts in the Cass City area.

Included were a quartet, duet, solo, two tap dances, a piano and

THE MICHIGAN COOPERATIVE
BEAN MARKETING ASSOCIATION

A LETTER TO BEAN GROWERS:

We want to talk about bean prices.

We can't help you with production problems, but we think the MCMA pool offers a real opportunity for you and the other bean producers to get more for your crop.

Ninety percent of all the navy beans grown in the U.S. are produced within an hour's drive of your farm. Doesn't it just seem sensible that you and the other growers should get together on some basis to market these beans to a good advantage?

Through the MCMA pool you can do this. You can control enough of the bean crop to bargain effectively with canners, packagers and exporters. You can offer large quantities or small, whichever is to your advantage. The extra price goes to you - not to someone else.

The MCMA pool has been in operation for 5 years now and every year has returned its members more for their beans than most other growers received. But what is more important - all beans have sold for more money because of the pool. It could be still more effective this year if you and more of your neighbors pool your beans.

When you pool your beans you get most of the market price at delivery time, then when the beans are all sold you get a final check, which represents the actual selling price with only the marketing cost deducted. The profit is returned to you.

So think it over won't you, and see if you don't agree that it makes sense and dollars too, when you pool your beans with the MCMA, which is a farmers' organization run for farmers benefit.

Stop and talk it over at the elevator where you see the sign with the little white bean.

WHAT! NO SPARE?

Don't be surprised if in the not too far distant future you'll only have four tires to contend with. It seems that the spare is destined to be relegated to the museum -- along with running boards and rumble seats.

We're already familiar with tires having an inner air chamber. As you know these are protected by a two-ply layer of rubber capable of supporting the car at moderate speeds until you reach the nearest service station... so that repairs to the puncture in the outer casing can be made.

But did you know that there is also on the market as an accessory -- a collapsible spare? This is a thin emergency tire that's carried folded in a little suitcase. This collapsible spare is mounted on the wheel and inflated with a carbon dioxide cylinder... that is included in the kit.

The flat regular tire is easily removed with the special tool that is also provided.

Ah, progress!

Meanwhile, back to the tires - including the good old-fashioned spare - you're now depending upon for safe driving. The condition of your tires can often mean the difference between life and death.

So be sure to check your tires often for signs of uneven wear, cuts or bruises. Make sure your tires are carrying the right amount of air pressure at all times, too. And I've said this before - but I'll say it again... the only place for a tire without any tread is on a dump heap.

Believe me, we're fussy about the condition of the tires on the used cars we sell, too. Come on down and look over our late-model cars. They're in top condition from rubber to roof.

CLEANUP. The 1960 Chevrolets will come out on October 2nd. We have 20 new cars. We want them all gone. So, NOW is the time to get a really good deal on a brand new Chevrolet (or Oldsmobile) which we will guarantee up to three years or 35,000 miles, whichever comes first. If you have been holding back, NOW is the time.

We have a good selection of models. But when these are gone we cannot replace them. And, if the steel strike continues? Come in, see how little it will cost to trade.

Thicker, sturdier steel wheels last longer—give extra strength inside and out. AP Mufflers have stronger construction. Outer heads are up to 2/3 thicker and shells are up to 1/3 thicker for added corrosion resistance. This ruggedness, plus more inner construction, explains why this popular muffler (see above) can take the weight of a 5-ton tractor with practically no damage to the shell.

THICKER, COATED STEEL AND "DRI-FLOW" DESIGN GIVE AP MUFFLERS LONGEST LIFE

AP's extra strength and engineering features have always meant longer life. For many years AP mufflers have been made with up to 2/3 thicker steel, and now 8 out of 10 AP mufflers use premium coatings to give AP thicker steel even longer life! Add to all this, AP's revolutionary "dri-flow" design which whips internal corrosion by eliminating condensation and you see why, AP, you get premium quality at the regular price.

The special events committee from the Women's Extension Home Economics Council will meet at 2 p.m. Aug. 17 in the courthouse. They will make plans for the home economics extension fall open meeting. This meeting will be held Sept. 24 at 8 p.m. in Caro community high school. This year the council women voted to give special invitations to their husbands to attend with them. Rev. Benjamin Whaley from Midland will be the extension home economics council's special guest.

He will talk on the United Nations. The following women are on the special events committee: Mrs. Allan Houghtaling, chairman, from the Northwest Gilford group, Mrs. John LeValley from the South Almer group, Mrs. William Churchill from the Watrousville group, Mrs. Peter Gaborik from the Wells-Bethel group and Mrs. Herbert Tait from the Wells group.

The women's extension council Christmas workshop committee will meet Aug. 19 at 2 p.m. in the courthouse to make plans for the annual extension Christmas workshop. The following women are on this committee: Mrs. Perry Johnson, chairman, and Mrs. Glyde Rohlf from the Fairgrove-Almer group, Mrs. Arthur Walt and Mrs. Rex Garner of the North Vassar group, Mrs. Laurence Lumley and Mrs. Stanley Soule of the Mayville group, Mrs. C. N. VanWormer from the Arabela group and Mrs. Don Adams of the Fairgrove group.

On Aug. 21 at 1:30 p.m. the council members will have their officer's training session. The meeting will be held in the courthouse.

During August, there will be lots of plentiful foods for every homemaker to choose from. Beef supplies will be about four percent higher than last year. The price of beef will remain firm on higher grades and lower on the less expensive grades of beef.

During August, Michigan vegetables will be plentiful. Snapbeans, beets, cabbage, sweet corn, lettuce and tomatoes will be especially plentiful.

While we are talking about vegetables, let us sing a song of sixpence: for four and twenty salad greens. Sixpence: that is about a nickel and a nickel goes a long way towards buying the four and twenty salad greens. There are all the varieties of lettuce, plus watercress, beet leaves and collards to choose from.

It is fun to mix up a salad of different greens. The big must of salad mixing is to be sure that the greens are dried; just so you do not dilute the dressing during the tossing. If there is moisture left on the leaves the salad may come to the table looking just a little tired.

Buy or pick just a few of four and twenty salad greens and then sing a song of sixpence because a nickel still goes a long way.

There was only one entrant in the Guernsey class, that of Frank Tordai. His was a cow 30 months and under 36 months, which received B rating.

Jean Leslie won the championship in the Shorthorn class. Also entered and receiving A ratings were two steers each of Hugh and Alan Milligan.

Bonnie Spencer had the only Hereford steer judged A, and Jean Leslie had the only Angus steer, also A.

Swine

The champion pig was a junior sow shown by Robert Bullock. Also showing junior sows were John and Mark Battel, both with A ratings.

The sow over six months class was entered by Mark and John Battel, Delbert Law and Robert Bullock, all receiving A's.

All-Star Game

Approximately 150 persons were on hand to see the Giants take the Little League All-Star game by topping the American League Yanks 10-7.

Sammy Wells was the winning pitcher as he held the Yanks scoreless for three innings.

The key blow for the winners was a two-out triple down the left field line by the Pirates' Mike Root, when the bases were loaded.

All 66 members of the Little League performed.

27 at August Legion Meeting

Twenty-seven attended the August meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening in the Legion hall. The new president, Mrs. Doris Klinkman, presided.

A business meeting was held in which a report of the Seventh District meeting, held Sunday, was presented. Membership chairman, Mrs. Harve Klinkman, is receiving dues for 1960 memberships.

At the close of the business meeting a white elephant sale was held. It netted $27.00.

The hostesses, Mrs. Vern McConnell, Mrs. Luis Salas, Mrs. Dorothy Lorf and Mrs. Arthur Little, took the entire group to a local restaurant for dessert refreshments where four qualifying members were presented with plants.

Mrs. Jake Wise heads the hostess committee for the September meeting.

Michigan's Future Bright

By Elmer E. White

Michigan Press Association
Michigan's industrial development and its year-around vacation lure has helped bring atomic power to the state.

The state got a look into the future late in July when Consumers Power Co. officials outlined their plans for construction of an atomic-powered generating plant on a 600-acre tract in Hayes Township, Charlevoix County.

It made a good show.
And the utility says it likes
what it sees in Michigan's future.

"We look forward to the future
with great confidence," said James H. Campbell, senior vice-president of the utility. "We believe that Michigan will continue to be an industrial leader and that its population will continue to grow and prosper."

Campbell said the utility thinks
"that prudent foresightedness requires that we engage in the development of atomic-powered electric generating plants in order to meet the challenge in the future as Michigan continues to grow industrially and otherwise."

Northern Michigan's future looks especially bright to Consumers.

"The kilowatt-hour consumption in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula has been growing at a faster rate than in any other area in the system," Campbell said. "Numerous small manufacturing companies have located in the area. The growth of this territory as a vacationland, both summer and winter, is adding load in the territory."

Campbell cited the "improved economic condition of the area,
and the impact of the Mackinac

Bridge and the St. Lawrence Seaway."

Pioneering by another utility has helped pave the way for the Consumers project, at least in the mind of one key state official.

"I am convinced these things can be made safely," said State
Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford, a member of a special committee established to study
atomic power in Michigan.

Blackford and other officials recently inspected the Detroit Edison A-power plant near Monroe.

Consumers officials told the Public Service Commission they would incorporate "every possible safeguard to eliminate any known danger to the public, to our employees or to the equipment."

The utility thinks all of Michigan will ultimately benefit from the project, primarily because of the research that will be conducted.

"We believe that the construction of a boiling water reactor at Big Rock Point will be a sound means of meeting the growth of electric demand in that part of the state," Consumers President Dan E. Karn said. "It will also be an important step toward our goal of producing electric energy at reasonable cost by means of nuclear fuel."

The Northern Michigan Plan
will use a boiling water type of reactor.

In this type of reactor, heat
produced through nuclear fission converts water into steam. The steam then spins the blades of a conventional turbine-generator,
producing electricity.

Consumers also participates in the Enrico Fermi atomic power plant project near Monroe, where Detroit Edison and other utility and industrial companies are working on a "fast breeder" reactor, which produces plutonium

as a byproduct.

Campbell was asked by the Public Service Commission if the utility would seek an electric rate as a result of the development of the Northern Michigan plant.

"No," he said. "We have nothing of the sort in mind. This nuclear project alone will not give rise to an electric rate case."

The Consumers project makes Michigan somewhat of a proving ground.

"What we are endeavoring to do is build an atomic plant of a comparatively known and tested
design," said Consumers attorney Don T. McKone, "but with features aimed to further bring us along the road of the production of electric energy by nuclear fuels on a commercial basis."

The Michigan utility has gone through what McKone calls "almost a complete process of evolution from a hydro plant company
to a steam generation company."

McKone told the Public Service Commission, "We may well be on the verge of a similar transition from coal-fueled plants to nuclear-fueled plants."

The Michigan legislature appeared this year to be on the verge of passing legislation to prepare for the atomic age. But two bills on atomic energy died in the Senate State Affairs Committee.

One was sponsored by Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids).
Another sponsored by Sens. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) and Lewis Christman (R-Ann Arbor)
would establish a radiation standards safety board. It would prescribe rules and regulations on atomic energy activities and promote "safety and progress."

Much more is expected to be heard about atomic energy in the future in Michigan.

GONE FOREVER

The saying that time is money
probably comes from the fact that both of them fly.

SO TRUE

To err is human—the man who fails to profit by his mistakes is a classic example.

OVER-CONFIDENT

The man who can turn a bluff
into ready cash soon stumbles
over his own success.

Greenleaf Completes
100 Months' Service

David Greenleaf, local Dairy Herd Improvement Association
supervisor, is completing 100
months of continuous DHIA testing in Tuscola County. This is the first time for any DHIA supervisor ever to complete this long a period of service to dairymen in Tuscola County, said Alfred Ballweg, county extension director.

David started testing May 1951, taking over the job of the late Jack Rose, formerly of Caro.
David started with 22 herds on regular DHIA. After testing for 100 months, six of the original 22 herds are still under test in David's association. The original six herds are George Foster,
Fostoria; Roy Brown, Fostoria;
Harold Blaylock, Vassar; Werner
List, Vassar; Ben Loeffler, Reese,
and Ruben Rohloff, Reese.

During this period of time,
David has enlarged his service to Tuscola County dairymen so that today he has 21 herds on regular DHIA and 41 herds on ownersampler, making a combined
total of 1,508 cows.

David is married and has two children. He makes his home in Fremont Township or in the center of the area he serves as DHIA tester.

4-H Tractor Tests
Slated for Missouri

Boys and tractors will replace girls and horses when the 1959
Central States Regional 4-H Tractor Operators' Contest is held at the horse show arena of Stephens College, a nationally famous girls' school in Missouri.

Host to the event will be the Missouri Agricultural Extension Service when the state delegates meet. Michigan is one of the 19 states that have registered so far.

SETS EXAMPLE

It isn't so much what a man professes, but how he lives his life that really counts.

ON THEIR OWN

A few can rest on their laurels
—while most men are thrown upon their own resources.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I got a heap of sympathy fer that feller they picked up in Washington the other day walking around in a daze. He said he couldn't recollect if he was connected with the War Department or the State Department. We got a heap of 'em like him in Washington, only they don't get picked up.

And back at home it's git-ting harder and harder fer a feller to tell whether he's on his way to the pore house or coming home from the booby hatch.

Per instant, this piece I was reading in the papers last night said a pore man today ain't as pore as a pore man was 10 year ago. I reckon that means the money he ain't got today ain't worth as much as the money he ain't got 10 years ago. It got me so confused I caught myself walking backwards to slop the hogs this morning.

And on the political front one Congressman says we ain't spending too much money, just ain't taking in enough fer our needs.
The Democrats say the treasury is half empty and the Republicans smile and say it's half full.
The Federal Housing Commission says there ain't no shortage of houses, just a over consumption of space. On top of all that,
The American Collectors Association holds a convention and she got married she aimed to votes that they'll no longer be known as "bill collectors" but as "adjusters of delinquent obligations." In a month or two they'll shorten that to ADO and when a pore man gits his notice

he won't know whether he's charged with moral delinquency
or hiding from his obligations.

Well, on the brighter side, on account of the politicians having no control over it, we've been having some mighty fine weather lately fer setting out under a tree. Ever time my old lady catches me taking it easy I remind her that lazy men has made most of the great discoveries in life. Old James Watts was setting in the kitchen watching his old lady work when he got interested in the steam coming out the kettle and figgered out the first steam engine. And Newton discovered the law of gravity
when he was laying in the shade
under a apple tree watching apples fall. When I git to quoting the scriptures like that to my old lady, she puts the stopper in the bottle by allowing as how, when make one husband do fer a lifetime, but now it looked like it wasn't going to work. How's a feller going to combat that kind of talk? If any of your subscribers knows the answer, Mister
Editor, please tell 'em to write.

Yours truly,

Uncle Tim
