Schwaderers Tell Highlights of European Trip

If everyone decided to go to Europe as easily as Gil Schwaderer did, we would all be there. One day, cousin Tom Schwaderer walked in and asked him if he wanted to take an extended tour of Europe with him this summer. He said "Yes."

So, four months later, accompanied by another friend, Denny Doolen of East Lansing, they started off. June 13 found them winging their way across various small bodies of water and states to New York City, and from there they flew to London, via Shannon, Ireland.

On their trip, they visited Scotland, Ireland, England, Austria, Germany, Italy, France, Holland, and Denmark.

In Germany, Tom bought a Mercedes Benz, so most of the trip was made by auto.

"We drove from Germany to Italy over the Alps," said Gil, "taking the Grossglockner path or whatever they call a road, and it has 26 or 27 hairpin turns in it."

The boys found driving not too bad as all throughout Europe, the traffic signs are more or less uniform and speed limits the same. And since they did not drive in England, they did not have to worry about left hand road driving.

"The languages did not prove too difficult as most of the people in Europe speak English. Except in the smaller towns, of course," said Gil.

"There was one time that the language did prove a little bothersome and that was in Venice. When you enter Venice, you park your car in a garage on the outskirts of the town and proceed by gondola if you are rich and by boat bus if you aren't. We took the boat bus."

"Anyway, we didn't know where the hotel was and certainly didn't know what small canal to get off at. You see, the bus only goes on the main canal and there are many small ones branching off it."

"So, we asked one of the conductors to let us know where to get off. But we didn't speak Italian and he didn't speak English so before we knew it, we were hopelessly mixed up and quite a way up the canal from where we wanted to be."

"We got off the bus, which was a chore in itself, considering the luggage with us, and debated how to get back down the canal. We finally got on another boat bus, and got back to our corner, which to us was quite an achievement."

As for doing their laundry etc., they invested in some of the modern miracles and took all wash and wear, drip dry clothing and did their laundry themselves.

To get back to the driving problems again, Gil said that some of the drivers were a little vicious but that he guesses that you would always find that.

Bicycles were very popular in some of the countries, especially Holland. "In fact, they even have a lane for bicycles down the main streets. When you stop for a light, there are bicycles lined up for half the block. I'm not sure, but I think driving a car is safer," remarked Gil.

Each country seemed to have a national car. In Italy the Fiat and Isotta were the most popular; in Germany, the Volkswagen, and Labor Day held a cruel twist for Mr. and Mrs. Arlington Gray of Decker. It was the birthday and day of funeral services of their only son, David.

David, a laughing six footer of 16, died 4:30 a.m., Friday, Sept. 4, after his motorcycle ran into the side of a car driven by Clifford Warren Hill, 29, of Cass City, at the blind intersection at Hoadley and Argyle roads, near Argyle, at 8:50 the previous morning.

At the time of the accident, David was on his way to meet some of his friends to go on a trip to the Straits. His sleeping bag and camping equipment were already on the cycle.

The boys had planned on going above the Straits and returning as far as West Branch Sunday to stay at the home of one of the boy's relatives. They were not going to return to Cass City until Tuesday morning to avoid the Labor Day traffic.

None of the boys went. Now, every morning and evening they go out to the Gray farm and help with the chores.

David would have been a senior this year at Cass City High School. He was secretary of FFA, secretary-treasurer of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, treasurer of the Motorcycle Club, a member of the Shabbona Methodist Church and a junior 4-H leader.

Next fall he was to have gone in the Navy, after which he was planning to return to the farm, where he already had his own cattle and crops.

This summer he had worked on the farm and played on the church softball team.

Three members each of the MYF and Motorcycle Club were pallbearers and the remaining members of both clubs were honorary bearers.

Hill, the other person involved in the accident, left the scene and drove to the residence of Clinton Mitchell on Hoadley road where he told Mitchell what had happened. Mitchell in turn notified the proper authorities.

Hill was arraigned before Justice Harry Balhoff, Sandusky, on a charge of failure to stop and render aid at the scene of a personal injury accident. He was bound over to circuit court after waiving examination and bond was set at $500.

Surviving, besides his parents, are two sisters, Mrs. Donald (Marilyn) Schneider, 20, of Arlington, California, and Esther, 12, at home, and his maternal

Expect Light Vote to Decide Election Law

Voters in Cass City will go to the polls at the Municipal Building Tuesday to decide whether to change the village's system of nominating candidates for village offices. A light vote is expected. If approved it will change the caucus system of nomination to the primary system. Persons favoring the switch say that the new system allows voters to examine the candidates before they are elected and tends to limit the controlling of the election by a few voters.

Persons favoring the present system say that in a town as small as Cass City requiring signatures on a petition tends to discourage good men from running for office.

If the voters favor the switch they will be following a recent trend in Tuscola County. Many townships have already discarded the caucus system in favor of the primary system and other townships are considering the move.

Fashion Show to Raise Gagetown Park Funds

A second Fall Festival Dessert Party and Fashion Show is planned for Tuesday, October 6, at the Gagetown Public School auditorium at 7 p.m. by the Gagetown Community Park Association.

Included will be fall coats, suits, dresses, sportswear, maternity wear and millinery in junior, misses, and women's regular and half sizes. Jewelry and furs will be accessories.

Mrs. Dennis Rocheleau and Mrs. Grover Laurie are general program chairmen and the following are committee heads: Mrs. C. P. Hunter, reception; Mrs. Richard Downing and Mrs. Floyd Werdeeman, tickets; Mrs. Elmer Simmons, seating arrangements; Mrs. Edward Fischer and Mrs. George Hendershot, food; Mrs.

Baby Finishes Ahead Of Grandmothers

Ricky Lee Hendrick was born Sunday night, Aug. 30, at one o'clock at Tacoma, Washington.

His grandmothers, Mrs. George Fisher Sr. and Mrs. Lee Hendrick, left Tri-City Airport at 10:24 p.m. that night to spend a couple of weeks with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Hendrick.

They arrived in Washington at 10:25 a.m. August 31, hours before the baby was due. But the baby beat them to the draw and arrived at 1 p.m. August 30.

Mr. Hendrick is stationed with the Army at Tacoma.

New State Aid Bill Provides

$10,000 More for School This Year

Even though Cass City High School will get well over $10,000 in additional state aid funds when the provisions of a recently passed school aid bill become operative, the money is not planned on to run the school this year.

Supt. Willis Campbell said the school's budget has been set using the money obtainable under last year's formula of $190 per student. Additional money received under the new formula of $205 per student will be placed in a reserve fund, Campbell explained.

The state-wide increase in the base rate is $15 per child, modified by the various district assessments. The increase for Cass City will be approximately $10 per child. The deductible millage factor brings all schools below $15. Its purpose is to equalize the difference between the "rich" and "poor" districts.

The rich districts, those with more property valuation per child, get more deducted than the poor districts.

Total attendance in Tuscola County school districts for 1958 was 13,861. The valuation of the districts is $80,335,897. Total state aid for the county in 1958 was $1,465,420.74. The increase in state aid for 1959 school year, based on last year's attendance records, will be $148,975.12.

Under the old formula, the primary (rural) districts' gross allowance was a flat rate of $4,370. Under the new rates, the allotment for a one-teacher school with 15 or more students will be $4,715 and the rate for a one-teacher school with 10 to 14 students will be $3,075.

To be eligible for any state aid the districts must raise a minimum of six mills and a maximum of eight mills school taxes. Property valuation in districts has increased about one per cent to give slightly more revenue to county schools.

In the bill, aid to adult education has been dropped and an allocation of $12 million has again been made for transportation.

However, as the number of children has increased the grant per child has steadily dropped.

Originally each school received $60 per child. Last year it was down to $52 and is expected to be a little less this year.

NEW TEACHERS—When Cass City Schools opened Wednesday pupils were greeted by several new teachers. Tuesday they were briefed on their new duties at the annual teachers' meeting. From left: Mrs. Mary Ryan, second grade, and Miss Carol Mannino, English.

Bumper Corn and Beets Expected

Pleasant Surprise: Bean Crop Good

Cass City area farmers were faring better than the county as a whole as the first of this year's bean crop began pouring into area elevators.

A check of both local elevators shows that the pick has been relatively small, despite the recent rains. Sanilac beans have been better than Michilite this year. Standing higher off the ground, not as many rotted on the vines. Sanilacs have been picking only one or two pounds while Michilites have been averaging four to five pounds.

Early harvestings indicate that the yield will be good... with an average that should reach 25 bushels to the acre. Given 10 days of good weather the bulk of the crop will be harvested.

According to County Agricultural Agent Alfred Ballweg, there has been more damage in other sections of the county. With the crop a little further advanced in the west corner, many farmers were caught by the rains with their beans pulled.

The recent rains also raised havoc with third cutting alfalfa... becoming more prevalent now that the first cutting is harvested earlier.

Bumper Crops

The rains were ideal for pasture and for fall seeding of alfalfa. Every corn farmer smiles when he looks up at his corn crop. Some two weeks ahead of last year, it is expected to be one of the best or the best corn crop on record.

Already in some sections of the county farmers are making silage, Ballweg said.

Equally heartening is the beet crop. Last year's crop of beets was the best on record and many farmers are already predicting that this year's crop will produce more tons per acre than was yielded in 1958. Sugar content will not be known until the beets start for the factory in the last week of September and in October.

Hear Three Cases In Circuit Court

Three cases were heard before Judge Timothy C. Quinn in Tuscola County Circuit Court in Caro, Wednesday, Sept. 2.

Universal CIT Credit Corporation received a default judgment from Melvin and Stella Wheaton for money due on a car they mortgaged with CIT.

The car was repossessed and sold for $500, leaving $477.61 due on the mortgage. The court allowed a judgment of $409.83 and costs of $29.90.

The divorce decree of Lois Gladly and Delbert Gladly was modified to allow the father to establish a new visiting place. Witnesses were Lois, Delbert and Len Gladly.

The final case was a paternity suit brought by Dianne Jo Ann Wark of Akron against Jackie Ray Parr of Brown City. A plea of not guilty was entered and bond set at $200 cash.

Tallman Baby Killed in Crash

Andrew Tallman Jr., five months old son of Andrew Tallman, 24, of Deford, was killed when the car driven by his father swerved out of control on Dodge Road, two miles west and a quarter of a mile south of Deford, Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m.

The car slipped into a roadside ditch and smashed into a stump, according to a report by Deputy William Putman of the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department, who investigated.

The death of little Andrew was caused by a skull fracture. The driver and two other passengers, all members of the Tallman family, were injured in the crash.

Mr. Tallman suffered chest injuries and his wife, Jessie, 24, lacerations of the face, leg and chest.

A daughter, Patricia, 4, suffered cuts and bruises and a fractured leg.

The injured members of the family were taken to Pleasant Home Hospital for treatment. None are in critical condition. The car was demolished.

The five first-place winners will receive $100 worth of books of their own choosing; the 20 second-winners will receive $50 worth of books of their own choosing, and the 50 third-place winners will receive their choice of Life's "Picture Cook Book," "The World's Great Religions" or "The World We Live In."

Woman's Study Club Starts 51st Year Tuesday

The Woman's Study Club of Cass City started its 51st year Tuesday at the home of Audrey Kinnaird in a meeting highlighted by the address of the newly elected president, Mrs. William Wetters.

Retiring President Mrs. Arthur Moore thanked the members for their assistance during her terms as president and turned the gavel over to Mrs. Wetters.

The new president called Vice-president Mrs. Ella Croft to the chair and presented flowers to Mrs. A. J. Knapp for her 51 years of service.

Mrs. Wetters stressed many of the important points in the club's bylaws and reviewed the club's obligations to the State and National organization.

Other highlights of her address included telling that she believed the community needed tax service and a parody of Kipling's poem, "If," with meaning pertaining to the local club.

The 30 members and guests also were entertained as the eight past presidents present were honored.

Mrs. Moore poured at the tea that closed the meeting.

The Tuscola county fall council meeting will be held on September 17 in the courthouse at 2 p.m. On September 18, the preliminary hooked rug design and construction meeting will be held in the courthouse at 1:30 p.m. Any woman in the county who is interested in attending this meeting will be welcome.

Mother and I had a wonderful Canadian vacation, but the states and, especially, Tuscola county looked so good when we got back.

As you walk through the produce counter at your market, have you noticed and smelled the aroma? The fragrance of ripe, golden peaches, rosy-ripe strawberry apples, dry, rosy-netted honeycracks and cantaloupes will light your eyes and whet your appetite. It is such a temptation to carry home more of the luscious Michigan grown produce than you have storage space for. A bushel of peaches will yield 32 to 48 pints of canned or frozen peaches. If you pay $3 to $4 a bushel, a pint of "home-preserved" peaches will cost 15c to 17c. That cost includes the peaches, containers, sugar and ascorbic acid needed for frozen peaches.

Fresh apple picking has begun in Michigan. The Chenango apple

(some call them Strawberry or Sheepnose) will be around 13c to 15c a pound. When these apples are completely ripe, they are the most sweetly-fragrant of all varieties and fine for eating out of hand.

Michigan Bartlett pears are at the peak of their season. The Michigan Stanley prune plums are plentiful, delicious, but a little small in size this year. The small tart plums are beginning to appear and that means plum-jelly time.

An assortment of grapes is on the market, including the purple-blue Ribiers, the little white Thompson seedless, the red Malagas, and the long pale-green Ladyfingers and Italia.

The Michigan vegetable growers are saying: We are up to our necks with produce. The high humidity and hot weather have caused a "stepped-up" production of tomatoes, sweet corn, green beans, potatoes, cucumbers, green peppers and lettuce.

Have you noticed the wide assortment of onions offered this month? There are Michigan Spanish onions, jumbo, large, medium white, yellow, Italian red, pickling and fresh green onions.

People could hear more complimentary remarks about their fellow man if that was what they were listening for.

Legislature Passes Few of Governor Williams' Bills

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Only two of 16 bills labeled "urgently needed" by Gov. G. Mennen Williams cleared the legislature this year.

The governor early in June sent a special message to the legislature urging action on bills dealing with employment, business, education, and highway and industrial safety.

Thirteen of the measures died in committee; another—the controversial "K-12" bill to force school consolidation—passed the House but was shelved in the Senate Education Committee. One of the bills was the proposal to create a state Seal of Quality for agricultural products. Williams has been advocating this for 11 years.

Success came to a widely-backed motorboat safety bill providing for numbering of motorboats under a federal system. The bill, sought by Williams' Water-safety Commission, extended jurisdiction of local enforcement agencies.

Defects in 1966 legislation were corrected by the second of the 16 priority bills.

Certain procedural and technical imperfections were noted after the 1966 legislature passed the Development Credit Corporation Act, a government-sponsored plan used with success by other states in encouraging industrial development.

The legislature corrected this by permitting industrial development credit corporations to acquire land.

Another industrial lure, a measure to permit establishment of industrial park authorities, failed. It would have permitted the acquisition of property, borrowing of money and issuing of bonds to develop industrial parks. The bill was considered necessary to encourage communities to develop suitable land for plant development.

Despite emphasis the past year on Michigan's "business climate," Williams and the legislature were unable to agree on means of fostering programs to attract new industry.

The legislature was a forum for criticism of Michigan's economic climate. Little was done to build Michigan.

Scandals that develop in the Secretary of State's Branch System are soon forgotten by most. But Secretary of State James M. Hare, who thinks he has a remedy, remembers.

More than 50 branch managers have been removed from their jobs in the last four years for misuse of funds, sloppy book-keeping or other improper activities.

There has been a turnover of about 260 managers—about the number of branches—in the last four years.

"A great many get in and get out," Hare said. "They can't make a living."

"We've been averaging a new branch manager every 10 days."

"It's a bad system from end to end."

Hare's suggested remedy: put the managers under civil service instead of allowing them to be appointed—by Hare.

"I have no objection to patronage," Hare said. "But not when millions of dollars are involved."

The Civil Service Commission, which has 12 large branch offices under its classification now, is considering doing the same with about 30 more.

But Hare wants them all covered by civil service.

Unless managers are busy enough to be fulltime employees, the Commission does not want any of Hare's plan.

Most leaders of both parties like it the way it is.

It won't be long. Members of the Michigan Christmas Tree Growers' Association are making plans for their rush season.

Nearly 13,000 growers, many of them businessmen and professional workers, are raising Christmas trees this year.

Thirty million Christmas trees are planted each year by commercial growers. About seven million become saleable every winter. But only two million will likely be sold this December, the association said in reminding its members to prepare for Christmas shopping.

MR. BEAN GROWER:

We think you should pool your beans with the Michigan Cooperative Bean Marketing Association.

HERE'S OUR SIDE OF THE STORY:

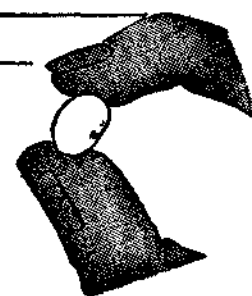

- When a lot of farmers pool their beans they also pool their strength to deal profitably with big canners and exporters.
- When large quantities of beans are under one merchandising unit they can be held off the market at harvest time to avoid market glut and depressed prices.
- They can be sold in large quantities or small through the year, depending on when and how they can be sold to the best advantage.
- You get a good advance or delivery time while you wait for the beans to be sold.
- When the pool is closed you get what the beans sell for with only actual marketing costs deducted.
- The more farmers who pool their beans, the more effective the pool will be.
- When you pool your beans with MCBMA you have your own organization working for you because...
- MCBMA is run by farmers for farmers' benefit.

BULEN TALKS

BLOWER OR BRAKER?

Some wise apple once cracked that the general run of pedestrians was entirely too slow. Bet he was one of those guys who uses his horn to make up for poor driving abilities. Speaking of horn blowers I guess the city once most famous for this ear-shattering offense was Paris, France. Paris taxi drivers have even been regaled in song for their horn leaning and erratic driving habits.

But when the traffic toll began to soar even higher the gendarmes decided that Paris drivers would henceforth have to start leaning on their brakes and not their horns. So they outlawed the blowing of those famous horns.

There was a great difference of opinion about this... as a lot of people thought the accident rate would climb even higher. After all, a horn blast was at least a warning to run for cover.

But, surprisingly, the anti-horn decree had the opposite effect. Although, at the time, the number of vehicles in Paris was increasing by almost 8,000 a month -- the number of accidents after the ban-on-blowing dropped as much as 25 per cent.

That was the average for all types of street accidents... and the number of accidents to motorists decreased an astonishing 32 per cent!

So, whenever I'm deafened by horn-happy motorists I can't help wondering if we shouldn't take a page from the reformed French. Of course, there are times when horn blowing is an essential safety device... but it seems to me that more of us could break bad horn habits and use the brakes instead.

Certainly, when you buy one of our dependable used cars you can be sure the braking system is in perfect working condition. It's one of the very first things we attend to before offering a car for sale.

And, as a result of record breaking sales in July and August we have a complete (too many) stock of Used Cars, even including two pickups. If you are looking for a particular car, come in, we probably have it. And, all GUARANTEED IN WRITING (over $300.)

3 New Cars left. 2 Chevrolet Bel Airs, one Oldsmobile 88 4 Door Hardtop. Proof of the deals we have been making - our record sales. Don't wait too long. We intend cleaning out all new cars, reducing Used Cars and Trucks substantially before October 1st.

Ferguson—Bublitz Vows Exchanged

Miss JoAnn Barbara Bublitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bublitz of Munger, was the bride of Ronald Colin Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Ferguson of Pontiac, Saturday, Aug. 22, in a 3 p.m. ceremony at the Bethel Lutheran Church, Bay City.

The Rev. Martin Schroeder officiated. The church was decorated with candles, white glads and mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk mist taffeta and imported hand clipped Belgium lace, designed with a scalloped portrait neckline and long tapering wrist-point sleeves. The smoothly molded bodice in princess style, tapered to a full skirt of lace dramatized by tiny seed pearls and sparkling iridescents.

The back was highlighted by a row of French buttons that ended in a cathedral train.

A matching rosebud cloche headpiece with side clips and jewel accents held the fingertip veil of bridal illusion.

Miss Delores Olson of Bay City was maid of honor and bridesmaids were: Mary Jo Bublitz, cousin of the bride, of Bay City, Jo Ann Fritz of Rose City and Mrs. Elwyn Baerwolf, sister of the groom. They were all attired in identical dresses of pink silk organza over sway taffeta.

The dresses had fitted bodices with semi-round neckline and quarter length set-in sleeves. The modified belt skirts were trimmed with a wide band of silk shirring and a butterfly bow at the back.

The hats were a band of silk with matching bow design and secured to an illusion veil.

Best man was Martin E. Johnson of Charlevoix, fraternity brother of the groom.

The groomsmen were Keith O'Dell, friend of the groom of Cass City, Ralph Ball, brother of the groom of Sandusky, and Milard Ball, brother of the groom, Snover.

Aldon and Lyle Bublitz, Bay City, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Ring bearer was Michael Popp, cousin of the groom and flower-girl was Cindy Rae Bublitz, niece of the bride.

A wedding dinner for members of the bridal party and their families was held at 5:30 and at 6:30 a reception for approximately 450 was held at Munger Hall.

A wedding trip around Northern Michigan was planned, after which the couple will reside at Mt. Pleasant, as the groom is a student at Central Michigan University. Mrs. Ferguson will teach.

Beef Quality Is Our Responsibility At IGA Food Stores!

There is only one way that we know how to provide our customers with consistent quality beef week after week, and that is to be constantly searching for the finest quality beef available. August 19 at the Future Farmer Fat beef sale at St. Johns, Michigan, IGA purchased over half of all the Choice and Prime beef offered for sale.

This fine beef has been properly aged and is being offered to your discriminating consumers this week at our store. After the beef was dressed it was inspected again to make sure that it met all "TableRite" beef specifications before offering it for sale in our market. We know that you will enjoy this fine beef as so many of you have complimented us on TableRite beef.

Don't neglect to notice that all meat cuts at IGA are "table trimmed" which means no excess fat or bone left on the plate after dinner.

You always serve the finest with TableRite. Try some and you will taste the difference!

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

The boys at the country store Saturday night brought up several items that ought to be recorded in the minutes. Some of the fellows is getting worried over this new round of inflation and then 200 billion dollars we owe. One of 'em said he was 18 years old afore he ever heard the word "billion" and it happened when some do-gooder from the county seat was talking about the germ count on the dipper at the town pump. And he allowed he was 30 years old afore he ever heard the word used in connection with money. He was lamenting the sad fact that since he was 40 he ain't heard it used in no other capacity.

Ed Doolittle claims you newspaper editors is handling the situation in a very bad way. He allows as how you editors ought to quit discussing the danger of inflation in terms of billions and git it down to language a rancher, dirt farmer and store clerk can understand. For instance, Ed says he put a penny in one of them peanut machines the other day and got 4 salted peanuts. He claims if you editors would go to the people preaching about 4 salted peanuts for a penny you'd git somepun done about inflation.

Another item that is worrying the fellows is the way they're git-ting so many regulations fer things around your own propety. One of 'em said he saw where a feller was fined $25 fer running a electric extension wire to his own barn. On account of him not being a licensed electrician, he don't know how to plug in a extension cord. They'll have it fixed in another 10 years so's a man can't milk his own cow if he ain't a licensed cow doctor, and if he's a cow doctor and uses a milking machine, he'll have to git a electrician's license to operate the milker.

I see where U. S. Senator Sam Erwin says these is times that "tax our patience." I figgered they'd git around to that sooner or later. They've taxed about everything else and now we'll have to pay fer what little patience we got left. The next budget will include a sliding tax scale on patience, about 2 per cent fer lawyers and 4 per cent fer you and me.

Things is gitting mighty restless all over, Mister Editor. People is nervous, nobody is sleeping sound no more, and ulcers is now a plague upon the land. As fer me, I'm gitting as restless as one preacher listening to another preacher preach. I reckon that's about as restless as a feller can git.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Winter Spelt Now Grown in County

A number of Tuscola county farmers have started raising a fall-sown feed grain called spelt, reports Alfred Ballweg, county extension director.

Spelt is culturally related to wheat. But it's really a feed substitute for oats.

The "new" grain was fairly important in southwestern Michigan twenty years ago. New, improved winter barley varieties now give better returns in that area.

Recently, spelt has taken hold on poorly-drained, heavy soils in the eastern part of the state. Winter barley often winter-kills on such soils and farmers can't plant oats early enough for top yields.

Spelt has about as much feed value per bushel as oats, the specialist reports. A cow's mouth may get sore unless the grain is ground before feeding.

The grain ranks above wheat but below winter barley as a fall-sown companion crop. Alfalfa seed can go on in the spring as soon as a grain drill stays on top of the soil.

Ballweg advises planting two bushels per acre. Be sure to plant after the Hessian fly-free date.

As yet, Michigan State University scientists haven't recommended any spelt varieties. Research is continuing.

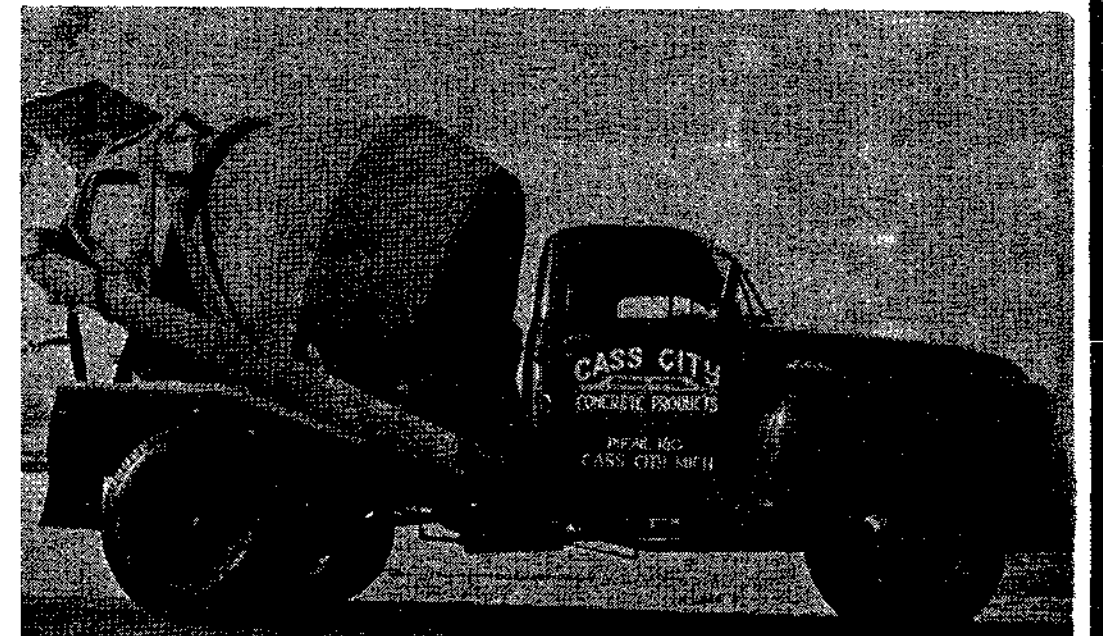

Some people are as easily rattled as others are hard to shake.

September 15 Set As Fly-Free Date

The only satisfactory method for the control of the Hessian fly is for wheat growers to pay attention to the "fly-free date" for Tuscola county when seeding wheat this fall, said Alfred Ballweg, county extension director.

September 15 is the fly-free date for Tuscola County. Farmers who jump the gun on planting wheat before this date are inviting injury not only to their own wheat crop but to their neighbors' too, according to Ballweg.

Considerable Hessian fly damage showed up in the 1958 wheat crop. Consequently there is a build-up of the fly. Therefore, farmers should be even more careful on not planting wheat ahead of the fly-free date this fall.

Former Resident Dies in Pontiac

He also leaves two daughters; grandchildren; one brother, Roy of Cass City, and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Nichol of Deckerville, Mrs. Herbert Bartle of Cass City and Mrs. Dale Gingrich of Bay City. Those from Cass City who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wagg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bartle.

Local Art Club Cops Top Prizes At Fair

It is becoming a practice for the Cass City entrants in the livestock show to take the championships and first prizes at the Tuscola County Fair.

It seems now that the Cass City folks are arriving in the cultural field also. Four Cass City artists exhibited a total of 11 paintings at the fair and walked off with the sweepstake prize and the first and second place in the water color division.

Mrs. James (Leontine) Wallace was awarded the sweepstake prize for taking first place in both the oils and charcoal division and Frank Walsh won both first and second place in the water color division.

Other entrants were John Sommers and Mrs. Gene (Kay) Corkins.

Champions to Host Advertising Group

The S. Champion Advertising Company will be host to the 85th annual convention of the Michigan Outdoor Advertising Association at Hidden Valley, Gaylord, it was announced this week.

The annual event is scheduled Thursday and Friday, Sept. 10-11. The meeting will be opened by Jim and Becky Champion, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Champion. They will post an outdoor poster welcoming the group to the convention.

The Champion children are the fourth generation in the outdoor advertising business in Cass City and the Champion agency is observing its 59th year in business.

September Cutting Can Injure Alfalfa

An alfalfa plant's root system is its food cellar. September cutting or pasturing can empty this cellar with the long winter just ahead.

Alfalfa stands need at least one month of uninterrupted growth before the first killing frost this fall, says Alfred Ballweg, county extension director. Cutting at that time will mean a weaker stand next spring.

The critical one-month period is Sept. 1 to Sept. 30 in central lower Michigan.

New top growth begins almost immediately when a plant is cut or eaten. In September, this growth may deplete food reserves enough to encourage winter injury. Of course, a killing frost stops food storage.

"You needn't be too particular about a stand that's in its last productive year," Ballweg points out. "In a pinch, you could get emergency pasture from such a field."

Men who nurse grievances are of little use for other purposes.

The world will be a better place in which to live when people become more eager in their friendships than their enmities.

It's next to impossible for a man to believe anyone can be on the square after he has lost faith in himself.

Modernization Doubles
Capacity of
MMPA OVID PLANT

Michigan Milk Producers Association purchased the milk processing plant at Ovid, Michigan three years ago.

Today, after thorough modernization by MMPA crews, the estimated net worth of the plant has nearly tripled and it is the largest single processing plant in Michigan. Capacity has been increased to 1 million lbs. of surplus milk a day; the annual sales volume is approximately $7,000,000.

This tremendous processing capacity helps maintain a more stable market and a fair return to dairy farmers by controlling surplus milk.

It is an invaluable marketing tool—completely owned by dairy farmers.
