Area Entries Sweep All Top Honors

Sheepmen Bring Home Galaxy Of Top Awards

Paced by Larry Goodall, who showed the champion Cheviot aged ram, and Dr. Harry Crandell, who exhibited the champion Oxford ram and ewe, entries from Cass City dominated two divisions of the sheep show at the Michigan State Fair last week.

It was Dr. Crandell's aged ram that took top honors at the show. Other Cass City entries placing well in the division were Arthur Severance, third, Dr. Crandell, fourth, and Kenneth Baur, sixth and ninth.

Mr. Baur showed the second place yearling ram. Linda Severance was third, Dr. Crandell sixth and Mr. Severance, seventh and 18th.

Top ram lamb was exhibited by Ruth Ann Severance. Mr. Severance was second and sixth, Dr. Crandell fourth and fifth, and Linda Severance, seventh. Mr. Baur was eighth.

In the aged ewe competition, Dr. Crandell was third and Linda Severance, seventh. Mr. Baur was eighth and 11th and Mr. Severance, 13th and 14th.

Dr. Crandell's yearling ewe was first and the champion of the Oxford show. Linda Severance was second and Arthur Severance fourth. Mr. Baur finished seventh and Ruth Ann Severance was 10th.

Dr. Crandell had the third ewe lamb and Mr. Severance placed fifth.

The aged flock of Dr. Crandell was tops for the show. Arthur Severance was seventh and Linda eighth.

Mr. Severance had the second best pen of four sheep and Mr. Baur was sixth in this competition.

In the get of sire competition Mr. Severance was second and Baur was fifth. Mr. Severance had the top breeders' young flock. Mr. Baur was third.

4-H Show
In the 4-H division of the Oxford show, Mr. Baur was third.

Enrollment Up Slightly at Cass City Schools

Enrollment at Cass City Schools was slightly increased this year, Supt. Willis Campbell reported Tuesday. There were some 1,204 pupils in school when the count was taken as compared to 1,141 at the time the census was taken last year.

There were 570 pupils in the grades. Junior high listed 183. Enrollment in the top four grades was: ninth, 125; 10th, 104; 11th, 110, and 12th, 112.

Mr. Campbell also explained that due to increased costs this year, the $10,000 in additional funds to be received under the provision of the new state aid bill will be used to operate the school and not placed in a reserve fund as previously reported. The reason for this, he said, is that a deficit budget has been approved and the school would have been some $27,000 in the red based on last year's formula. The extra state money, the increase in students and a few operating economies may allow us to operate in the black now, Mr. Campbell said.

The 34th semiannual 4-H and FFA market livestock show and sale was the most successful on record for members of the Cass City Livestock Club, who swept virtually all of the top honors in the beef, sheep and hog divisions.

Besides having the top animals, the youngsters were aided by many local buyers who attended and bought the animals or upped the prices by bidding on virtually every animal exhibited by a member of the Cass City club.

The grand champion steer was a Shorthorn shown by Jean Leslie of Decker. It was purchased by Eria Food Center for 41 cents per pound. The reserve champion was an Angus shown by Carol Hecht of Richville.

The grand champion hog was a Lightweight Yorkshire shown by Janet Jickling of Kingston, a member of the Cass City club. It brought 65 cents a pound. The reserve champion was a light-weight Berkshire shown by Robert Bullock.

Janet's grand champion pen of hogs was purchased by Gross and Maier for 30 cents a pound. David Buchinger of Reese showed the reserve champion pen.

The grand champion pen of fat lambs was shown by Grant Goodall and brought 30 cents a pound. The reserve champion pen was shown by Linda Goodall and purchased by Eria Food Center.

The grand champion individual fat lamb was a Southdown shown by Linda Severance and brought 77 1/2 cents per pound. In the showmanship contests, Linda Severance was first in sheep. In cattle Hugh Milligan was first and Jean Leslie second.

In hogs, William Schnell was first. Second was Robert Bullock and third was Larry Bauer. John Battel was fourth and Janet Jickling fifth.

Beef Sale
Besides the champions, others from Cass City finished in the following order in the beef division: Hugh Milligan had the third light weight and Jean Leslie the fourth light weight. Allan Milligan had the fifth light weight. The steer was purchased by Fred Iseler.

Sheep Sale
Grant Goodall showed the third individual sheep which was purchased by Harry Little of Cass City. Linda Goodall's fifth place individual was purchased by Eria Food Center. Sixth individual and third place pen were shown by Ruth Ann Severance. Other sheep of Grant and Linda Goodall were purchased by Eria Food Center.

Hog Sale
John Battel's heavyweight pen was judged best at the show. Roger Root showed the third light individual and John Battel the third heavyweight individual. It was purchased by Cass City State Bank. The third heavyweight pen was purchased by Gambles and Rabideau Motors and was exhibited by Mark Battel. Mark also had the fourth heavyweight individual, which was purchased by Eria's.

Supervisors in Monthly Session

The monthly meeting of the Tuscola County Supervisors was held Sept. 9 at the courthouse in Caro with all present except Supervisors Mueller, Kirk and Sylvester.

Chairman Archie Hicks asked that all stand in silence in memory of Supervisor Earl Lindsey, who had died since the last meeting.

It was moved by Supervisor Draper of Millington that representatives be sent to attend the supervisors and tax assessors conference at Lansing, Sept. 21 and 22. He was supported by Supervisor Butler of Wells township and the chair was instructed to appoint a committee to attend this meeting.

Later in the meeting, Supervisors Kirk of Juniata township, Woodcock of Vassar and Golding of Elkland township were appointed. The trip will be financed by the county.

The question of renting the county farm was brought up and it was moved by Supervisor Woodcock and supported by Halcyon of Vassar that the renting of the farm be referred to the committee on buildings and grounds with instructions to bring in recommendations to the board.

In the past, since the new county home has been built, the farm, consisting of 120 acres, has been rented out to farmers. The first two reports to be given were bills. Report three was last year's financial report for the Adult Mental Health Clinic of Saginaw Valley and the

Hawks Lift Curtain on New Grid Season Friday at Clio

"Strong on offense with plenty of work needed on defense" is the way that Coach Mike Yedinak sized up his team this week prior to the opening game at Clio Friday night.

The boys know a few more offensive plays than they did last year and we have about 18 boys capable of going in and doing a job for us so we should have good reserve strength, Yedinak explained.

The Hawk eleven will have to be good to win its early games. Clio promised to be one of the toughest teams on the schedule.

Last year Clio was one of the toughest teams that the Hawks faced. They lost three outstanding regulars, but picked up some good prospects from the freshman team of two years ago and could be "loaded" when they face Cass City.

Following the Clio game the Hawks play at Bad Axe in the opening Thumb B Conference game.

The Hatchets rank with Caro, Frankenmuth and Vassar as the league's teams to beat this season. Coach Yedinak is afraid that the team will fail to jell in time to take the Hatchets and Clio in stride.

Veteran observers believe that the squad is capable of repeating as conference champions.

Auction Sale Plans Launched By Club

Plans for the annual auction sale, to be held Oct. 13, were launched at the Sept. 15 meeting of the Gavel Club. The proceeds of the auction will go for various worthwhile projects.

Anyone having serviceable items to donate, such as used furniture, garden and lawn tools, clothing, etc., may call any Gavel Club member for pickup.

Also at the meeting, Barney Freiburger, the toastmaster, called on various members to give short talks about various phases of their business or profession. Those who gave talks were Dr. E. C. Fritz, Dick Hampshire, Harry Little, William Ruhl and Fred Auten.

Another appointment is that of the Rev. Joseph Karaba, O.S.B. of St. Andrew Abbey, Cleveland, Ohio, to the St. Joseph parish, Rapson and Mission of Smith Corners. He will work for the establishment of a Benedictine foundation in the Thumb district area.

A welcoming ceremony will be held for Father Karaba Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

The proposed budget calls for $14,837.02 worth of expenditures. Sources of income are as follows: Tuscola county, $1,850; Saginaw county, $5,000; Bay county, $3,750; Midland, $1,850, and professional fees, $2,400, making a total of $14,850.

It was moved by Woodcock to place the proposed budget on file with instructions to investigate the matter further and report back to the board. He was supported by Butler and the motion was carried.

The fourth report was given by Supervisor Hofmeister of Elmwood. He recommended that, since the necessary proof of need had been furnished, obligations be fulfilled and the costs of $2,164.25 be paid for the 4-H premiums for the Tuscola County Fair. The motion was carried.

The fifth and last report was also given by Hofmeister and pertained to the matter of a weed commissioner in Almer township. After investigation, the committee decided that the problem was local and should be referred back to the township board. The motion was carried.

The last motion was by Supervisor Conant of Ellington township, supported by Supervisor Jones and carried, that Supervisors Mueller of Denmark township and Sylvester of Wismer township be paid their per diem for the session as they were ill.

The next meeting will be Oct. 12.

Despite the loss of many of last year's stars this year's lineup is studded with good football players.

There's plenty of go in the backfield with five stellar performers competing for four spots. Captain Alex Lopez is a fixture, as is Tim Anthes at quarter. Bob Wright, who showed flashes of brilliance in his sophomore year, should be ready to live up to his early promise of greatness. Dick Kloc and Bill Gage, both seasoned reserve players, round out the big five of the backfield.

Barring injuries the starting offensive line is set and should be fast, but small.

Roy Tuckey will anchor the center. Art Randall and Les Severance are at ends. Tackles

Father Mikulski Transferred to Caro Rectory

The Rev. J. J. Mikulski has been transferred from St. Pancreas Church in Cass City, where he has been the pastor since June 12, 1956, the Diocese of Saginaw announced recently.

Taking his place will be the Rev. Guido Gori, who will be installed Sept. 29. The Rev. Mikulski will be installed at the Sacred Heart Church in Caro Sept. 30.

While Father Mikulski has been the pastor of the St. Pancreas Church, the property on Seeger Street has been bought and the building fund for the new church started.

Also, the former Krug residence has been purchased for a permanent rectory and two office additions added.

Father Mikulski feels that the most important achievement has been the drawing up of definite architect drawings for the new church, which will be started within two years if everything goes on schedule.

Another appointment is that of the Rev. Joseph Karaba, O.S.B. of St. Andrew Abbey, Cleveland, Ohio, to the St. Joseph parish, Rapson and Mission of Smith Corners. He will work for the establishment of a Benedictine foundation in the Thumb district area.

A welcoming ceremony will be held for Father Karaba Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

DOMINATION of sheep divisions of the livestock shows was continued at the State Show at the State Fair last week when Cass City entries walked off with top prizes in the Oxford and Cheviot divisions in 4-H and open classes. are Bill Finkbeiner and Ken Mathews. Dick Albee and Gary Bartle will be the guards.

When the defensive unit is playing Jack O'Dell, Gordon Goodall and Grant Hutchinson will see action. Larry Robinson will see work in the defensive backfield. Bob Sawdon is expected to play and can play either offense or defense. Paul Holmberg will probably see action on the offensive line.

Junior Women in First Fall Meeting

The Cass City Junior Women's Club held its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Lee Hartel, Sept. 10. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Robert Alexander and Mrs. Harry Miller.

The community calendar project was reported as being well under way and sales of the calendars will be continued until the last of September. Sept. 23 and 24 are designated as work nights to compile the listings.

The club expects to use the proceeds of the sale for the expansion of the playground equipment or for some other worthwhile project.

Mrs. Calvin MacRae, president, announced her standing committees for the coming year and Mrs. Miller, program chairman, introduced Mr. Roy Opel, investment broker, who spoke about buying stocks.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Jerome Root Jr. and Mrs. Pat Kendall.

Old Deford School Becoming Memory

For the last few weeks, the area has been concerned with the history of an old building being torn down on Main street. It is now time to take a look at another old building that has seen its day, the old Deford school.

The school was built over 45 years ago and has seen many pupils go through its doors; it is now being torn down.

Voters Favor Primary System In Light Vote

The ayes had it at the election Tuesday night at the municipal building and the system of nominating candidates for village officers has been changed from the caucus system to the primary.

The vote was discouragingly light, with only 50 votes cast. Forty-eight were yes and two no, with no votes invalidated.

Mrs. Wilma Fry, village clerk, said that she could not understand why more people did not turn out to vote, since it concerns everyone in the community and the election had been publicized for three weeks.

A candidate for nomination now needs a petition with signatures amounting to 10 per cent of the number that voted in the last regular election. Petitions should be turned in to the village clerk by Dec. 31.

Memorials Given at OES Meeting

A memorial service for Mrs. John Bohmsack and Douglas A. Krug was held at the Sept. 9 meeting of Echo chapter OES by Mrs. Keith McConkey, chaplain, assisted by Mrs. Arlington Hoffman as soloist.

Also at the meeting, plans were made to entertain the Tuscola County club at Cass City Sept. 26, starting with a supper at 6:30. At the close of the meeting, dessert refreshments were served in the dining room where small states and other objects represented a "Back to School" theme.

Only One License Lost in Area

During the past week, only one of the 215 Michigan drivers that had their licenses suspended or 67 of the drivers whose licenses were revoked occurred in Sanilac, Huron or Tuscola counties.

Phillip Hergenreder of Caro received a financial responsibility suspension for driving while under the influence of liquor twice.

A suspension is a temporary withdrawal of the driving privilege up to a maximum of one year.

Marlette Holds Road Dedication

Marlette will dedicate the $460,000 highway improvements within the village Thursday evening, Sept. 17, with a ribbon cutting ceremony, talent show, street dance and refreshments, all free.

Million Jobs Needed in State

By William Haber, Eugene C. McKean and Harold C. Taylor.

To provide full employment for expanding population, Michigan should develop more than a million new jobs over the next 11 years. For every two jobs available in the state in 1958, a third will be needed by 1970.

Approximately 38 of every 100 Michigan residents should be employed in 1970. Of these, 13 will hold manufacturing jobs, 21 will be in non-manufacturing, and 4.5 will be self-employed or work on farms.

Only 33 per cent of the state's population now holds jobs. The higher overall level of employment forecast for 1970 is in line with Michigan's experience prior to 1954, however, and is similar to national levels of employment during normal times.

In the spring of 1959, total employment (farm and non-farm) in Michigan, was approximately 2.7 million, some 1.1 million below the 1970 target.

Achievement of a 3.8 million job goal by 1970 is a reasonable possibility. But it can be reached only through cooperative effort of all the state's citizens.

The 1970 factory job total is only 60,000 above the level which prevailed in Michigan during 1953. While it may loom large in comparison with 1958, it is not insurmountable.

Employment in Michigan automotive manufacturing in 1970 may total 400,000 — about the same level as the state experienced in 1956 and 1957. If this estimate is accurate, Michigan will need an average of 25,000 new, non-automotive factory jobs annually between 1958 and 1970.

We must make sure that Michigan's rate of growth in the future is adequate to provide work for our present and our growing population.

Population migration to Michigan and other highly industrial states in the surrounding area will continue in the future, though perhaps not at the high rates of the past two decades. While the rate of industrialization of the Southern states is encouraging, it is far short of enough to take care of their growing populations.

We should do our share of the nation's work as efficiently as possible. If we have transportation problems, we should solve them. If there is any basis for the charge that our tax structure thwarts maximum development of profitable business and well-paying job opportunities, then we should correct it.

This is a good time for pruning trees, according to landscape specialists at Michigan State University. When you prune, be sure to cut the branches flush with the tree trunk. It makes healing smoother.

Automatic waterers pay off on lots of Michigan livestock farms, reports Donald P. Brown, an agricultural engineer at Michigan State University. Heating elements keep the water free of ice. Units should be located near windbreaks.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Silk Appears Again On Lingerie Scene For Summer Wear

"SHE WALKS in beauty as the night," goes a lovely line of poetry. This summer it may well be so if she wears the luxurious silk lingerie being offered.

Silk appears on the lingerie scene in all its glory. It may have enchanting prettiness, so endeared by some women, or, it may have that classic simplicity which has charmed others.

Some silk pieces show elaborate detail, lace and embroidery. Others reflect the quiet harmony of Grecian and Empire clothes.

Shimmering silk satin is used extensively for slips and gowns trimmed with delicate Alencon and Valenciennes lace. These come in subtle tones of peach, champagne and shell pink as well as pristine white.

Prints and Colors

China silk is seen in the new short peignoir and gown ensembles, printed with colorful floral sprays. Pure silk crepe also appears in floral printed summer robes as well as white or pale peach. Both are lace trimmed and slimly tailored, unornamented except for monograms.

Luxurious pink silk satin is the theme of this exquisite summer nightgown. The high-waisted bodice is crescent-shaped in delicate Alencon lace which is applied onto the gown with a stylized flower motif.

Half-petticoats, so effective with some of the slim suits and dresses, are printed in lush tones of fuchsia and pink, royal blue and turquoise on white silk.

Coffee-toned roses are printed on a white half-slip that is bordered with ecru Alencon lace and has matching "baby doll" panties.

Fuchsia and pink butterflies printed on white silk create a lace-trimmed half-slip that has a matching bandeau and panties.

Empire Lingerie

The Empire period is beautifully reflected in silk lingerie. It's seen in the fitted waists, shirred bodices, flowing lines, full-blown sleeves and floating diaphanous fabrics which characterize gowns, peignoirs and slips.

In this theme is a new camisole and petticoat duo frosted in white silk organza trimmed with lace. The camisole has wide straps and a fitted bodice.

Dips Will Please Unexpected Guests

Friends often drop in during the summer while traveling or while driving. What could be nicer than to pull a dip from the refrigerator along with some crisp vegetables to serve as a snack or while you get a meal together?

Add some crackers to the dip platter and guests can while away the time while chatting, thus leaving you free either to visit with them or to get a meal together if they're staying to supper with you.

California Shrimp Dip (Makes 1 pint)

- 1 large ripe avocado
- 2 tablespoons lime or lemon juice
- 1/2 small clove garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 1 cup small curd cottage cheese
- 1 cup cooked shrimp (1 5-ounce can)

Small lettuce leaves
Paprika or parsley

Cut avocado in half; remove seed and skin. Mash with fork until smooth, then blend in lime juice, garlic, seasoned salt and pimiento. Add cottage cheese and shrimp. Pile into bowl and surround with crisp lettuce leaves. Sprinkle with paprika or parsley.

Star Olive Dip (Makes 1 cup)

- 1/2 cup ripe olives
- 2-3 ounce packages cream cheese
- 2 teaspoons minced parsley
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Mayonnaise

Cut olives into small pieces. Combine with all remaining ingredients, using enough mayonnaise to give desired consistency for dipping crackers, carrot, green pepper or celery sticks.

CONTAGIOUS

People who face the world cheerfully always accomplish the most in this life.

Many Michigan nurseries have dwarf fruit trees that fit small gardens and yards. Trees five to seven feet high produce big crops. You don't need a ladder to pick the fruit, says Robert Carlson, a Michigan State University horticulturist.

There will be a preliminary meeting for all county women interested in making feather hats on September 23 at 2 p.m. in the courthouse.

The Extension home economics members will hold their annual fall open meeting on September 24 at 8 p.m. in Caro's community high school. This meeting will be open to all extension women, their husbands and friends.

Mr. James Sutherland, Caro's new school superintendent, will give the welcome address, followed by Rev. Benjamin Whaley of Midland. Rev. Whaley will speak on "The United Nations." Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. The committee for the open house is: Mrs. Allan Houghtaling, Northwest Gilford group; Mrs. John LeValley, South Almer group; Mrs. William Churchill, Watrousville group; Mrs. Peter Gaborik, Wells-Bethel group, and Mrs. Herbert Tait, Wells group.

So many homemakers are now busy freezing fresh vegetables for winter use. It is easy to freeze fresh vegetables, but do not over-simplify the process. Be sure to take time to blanch these vegetables. To blanch foods, you simply scald them in boiling water, then cool them quickly before freezing in ice water. The scalding destroys enzymes present in the vegetables. The enzymes in the vegetables are the cause of off-flavor and unnatural colors. Scalding time varies with the different vegetables. This is generally because of the different size pieces.

From one research article I've read lately, it was found that green beans changed in flavor within two weeks after freezing if they were not blanched. The vegetables should be cooled in the same amount of time it takes to scald it. For instance, if green beans require three minutes to scald, they should be cooled in three minutes. To test, bite into a piece of the vegetable. It should be cool to the center.

If you should want more information and directions for freezing foods, ask me for the bulletin 216, "Freezing Foods for Michigan Homes," or write to the Bulletin Office, Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan, for a copy.

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "wash-board" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, brawnier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

When you go peach shopping, don't complain because peaches are too firm. Producers and retailers like to handle peaches that are firm-ripe. These peaches get bruised less in handling and shipping. Home economists at MSU point out that peaches picked while still firm will ripen at room temperature within a few days. Just be sure the background color is yellow-not green.

Short Courses In Winter for Farmers at MSU

"Efficient production doesn't assure success in today's complex agriculture," said Harold Henneman, new director of the Michigan State University short course department.

That is why this fall and winter, hundreds of Michigan farm boys won't waste slack time but will be taking short courses at MSU.

Young farmers can take a 16 months' short course in general agriculture which opens October 27 and includes courses in conservation, marketing, land ownership, farm business, analysis and writing and speaking skills.

"The short course program doesn't stop at teaching," the director said. "The graduate knows just where to go on campus for technical advice or for help in finding an agricultural job."

MSU now graduates about 300 short course students a year and even hundreds of non-farm workers take farm-related short courses each year. Dairy plant members and employees enroll in dairy industry; grocers take up meat retailing and equestrians take MSU's unique horseshoeing course.

Also, last winter, about 75 farmers came to the campus one day a week and many brought their wives along for instruction in home economics and related subjects.

"Each year, about 20-30 short course students transfer much of their course credit to a regular four-year program," Henneman explained. "Also, a few students in regular four-year courses transfer to the short course program."

Even a sincere peacemaker is occasionally accused of butting in.

October 4 will be "Tuscola Day" in the opening of the Community Fund and United Health and Welfare Fund drives throughout the county, according to Rudolph Todd, chairman of the county-wide, one campaign plan which has been followed for the past several years.

The annual hog and steer sale held at Caro Tuesday was an outstanding success as local buyers and packing houses from larger cities pushed the average price of 22 steers to $29.79 a hundred pounds and hogs to $23.99 per hundred for 86 hogs sold.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cumpor have purchased a restaurant in Marlette, four doors west of the stoplight in that village. Mr. Cumpor will continue to manage the New Gordon Hotel in Cass City while Mrs. Cumpor will manage and do the cooking in the Rendezvous.

Plans are being completed for a reception to be held Thursday evening, Sept. 29, in the school auditorium when the committee in charge of arrangements hopes that many parents of school children and those interested in school affairs will attend the reception to meet teachers and other school personnel.

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, in the high school, the Gavel Club will be host to the softball players, managers, sponsors and fans of the season just closed.

Application blanks are being sent out to 52 students who have expressed themselves as interested in the establishment of a freshman college at Cass City. These students have been asked to meet at the high school Monday, Sept. 24.

New students are being added every day to the enrollment of the Cass City high school. Twenty-two more students are paying tuition than a year ago.

All farmers in Tuscola county who have made application for corn-hog contracts will be required to put their signatures on a final typewritten copy before these contracts are sent to Washington to obtain benefit payments.

Bids for the purchase of buildings at the Cass City fairgrounds were opened at the meeting of the village council Monday evening and all buildings were sold except the grandstand and the floral hall.

Emphasis placed on drought John J. Campbell, chairman of the county road commission, has received word that the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has approved the recommendations of W. F. Brooks, federal engineer, for the building of the scenic stories for the past few months have aroused an unwarranted concern among consumers that there will be shortages of human food, according to the Consumers' Council at Washington.

Thirty-five Years Ago
A striking illustration of the need for more purchased sires throughout the entire country, and particularly in Michigan, is shown by a survey made by the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture, highway from Port Austin along the shore to Bay Port.

Early and midseason estimates of the size of Michigan's bean crop this year are being revised and greatly reduced by those familiar with bean conditions, according to J. F. Cox, professor of farm crops at MAC.

Complete primary returns from Genesee county showed Ku Klux Klan supported candidates had carried the county by a good majority.

Tuscola county road commissioners received a check for $10,000 today from the state administrative board as initial payment due the county for reward road construction.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

A fellow in town was telling me yesterday he's got a teen age grandson that claims to be in a "shook up" condition most of the time. This fellow says he can spot the symptoms of the disease in his grandson real easy, but he ain't got no idea what causes it. The boy told him that teen agers usually gits shook up following a "delightful disaster."

I don't know what's going to happen to this country with such booby-hatch talk going on amongst our young'uns. When taxes and inflation finally git 'em in the next generation, I reckon they'll call it a "splendid panic" or "comfortable starvation."

If delightful disasters can git a fellow shook up, some of the news items lately has been mostly of the shook up variety.

For instant, I see where a New York columnist says the Army now owns 8,000 miles of rope, enough to stretch across the country twice. They bought it during the last war and now they can't use it and they can't sell it. They're paying $200,000 a year for storage space on it. If that fellow will dig a little deeper he'll probably find about 80,000 miles of red tape tied around the rope. And he'll probably uncover a couple influential politicians that's in the rope business.

It ain't been too long ago that I saw where one Government agency bought 50 million pounds of some sort of surplus material for 87 cent a pound and sold it to the Army for 35 cent a pound. I reckon the War Department was mighty glad to git it whole-sale like that. The fact that the taxpayers lost 41 million dollars on the deal don't worry them fellows in Washington.

And some bureaucrat, talking on the radio last night about a new tax plan, said the "new income tax" would apply the increase to what the taxpayer had left over after paying the current tax. The best I can make out of that kind of talk, Mister Editor, is that they've got your shirts and pants and now they're going after what's left, which is mostly your underwear.

But things could be worse, Mister Editor. I see where the U. S. Department of Agriculture says a good wife is worth $69,000 to a rancher or farmer. The piece didn't deduct nothing for depreciation or upkeep and I ain't starting no argument with my old lady on the subject. And a piece here says the Retail Clothing Association is "featuring jet blues, atomic greys, rocket browns, and cosmic greens" for men's clothes this winter. It was mighty thoughtful of 'em not to include "calamity black."

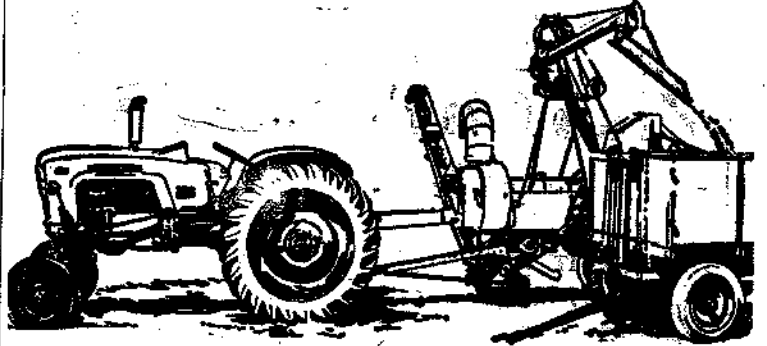

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Critical Period Ahead for all Michigan Gubernatorial Candidates

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
A critical period is ahead for the fast-growing field of potential candidates for governor in 1960.

And that includes the incumbent. Those closest to Gov. G. Mennen Williams insist he has not made up his mind whether to seek a seventh term.

Meanwhile, Democrats who are potential candidates, especially those on the State Administrative Board, are told to keep their ambitions under wraps.

And Republicans are kept guessing.

In less than a year the campaign will be under way. Although announcements for some can be stalled off until spring, decisions must be made soon so courses can be charted and trial balloons released.

Republicans are confident '60 is their year. Forces that held back before will be thrown into a pre-primary power struggle between liberals and conservatives in the party. The gap between the two appears to be widening.

Democrats have confidence because, they say, the Republican-controlled Legislature gave them issues voters will remember. But the possibility that Williams may seek another job carries with it the possibility of a free-for-all primary among Democrats.

A landslide victory in 1958 for Secretary of State James M. Hare swept him to the head of the line of Democrats waiting for Williams to vacate.

State Supreme Court Justice George Edwards has proved his popularity with voters and has wide respect among leaders. But he says he is happy on the bench. State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown would like the job but does not want to go through a primary fight. Attorney General Paul L. Adams, Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson and Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie are other members of Williams' "cabinet" mentioned as replacement prospects.

Among Republicans, Paul D. Bagwell has the most apparent backing. His strong showing against Williams in 1958 made him a party hero. Yet many within the party are looking to industry, Washington and the State Senate for candidates for governor.

The GOP liberals see American Motors President George Romney as a good "name" candidate for the nomination. Some in the other camp look to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield for leadership.

Some talk is heard among Republicans of Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) and Rep. Robert Griffin (R-Mich.) as candidates for the nomination.

Both have been on the firing line recently. Morris was chief architect of the Republican tax stand in the Legislature.

Griffin was vaulted to prominence in Congress by the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill.

A familiar name in pre-primary speculation about candidates for governor in 1958 has hinted he may announce early next year as a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Rep. George Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) is viewed as a rebel by GOP regulars.

But his criticism of his party's legislative program has kept him in the public eye, as has his chairmanship of a national committee promoting New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the presidency.

Two leading lawmakers in Lansing are hoping Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.), the 84-year-old Congressman from the Third District, does not seek re-election.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) said he would like the job but would not oppose Hoffman in a primary.

House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) would like the job and may not wait.

Another octogenarian serving Michigan voters is Rep. Louis Cramton (R-Lapeer), who will be 84 Dec. 2.

Cramton played an active role in the tax fight. Early in the session he sought a constitutional amendment that would have removed doubts about constitutionality of the proposed graduated personal income tax. He voted against most of the Republican use-sales tax plans.

Cramton, father of fair employment practices legislation, first served the state as law clerk in the State Senate from 1903 to 1907.

He was elected to the Michigan House of Representatives in 1908, went on to become a member of Congress and a circuit judge, and then returned to the Legislature in 1948.

Newest institute of higher learning in Michigan is Northwood, which will open its doors to students for the first time this year.

Northwood is located in Alma, in the remodeled former home of Ammi W. Wright, a wealthy lumberman who built the house in 1859 of materials imported from Europe. Many of the original art pieces and decorations remain in the school to give an atmosphere of history and tradition.

The school offers a unique mixture of business and liberal arts classes in the theory that students trained for the commercial world will be more confident, capable, enjoy life more and be promoted more rapidly if they receive some background in the basic social and cultural subjects.

First class will consist of 100 students, but the Northwood staff is expected to grow quickly.

People who run up too many bills find it difficult to run down the money to pay for them.

The fellow who tells a lie has to tell a thousand more just to keep that one in the dark.

In prohibition days the ships that passed in the night usually carried their own moonshine.

You can wait for a train of thought, but don't depend on it getting there in time.

A great many more opinions are formed from rumors than from the facts in the case.

OLD DEFORD SCHOOL

Deford school were E. C. Rockwood and Joyce Retherwood. Since then, if you count the number of teachers the school employed each year, you would find that over 113 teaching years have gone by at the school.

The brick building was what they called fireproof in those days but the inside did not live up to its reputation as Lawson Stinger, who lived a short way up the road, could tell you.

"His dog, a great Dane, woke the family one night by going from the bed to the window. Finally Lawson and his wife got up to investigate and they saw what the dog was warning them about.

The old school was on fire, not on the outside but on the inside. The fire was caught in time to prevent any great damage and the Stinger dog was the hero of the day.

Mrs. Howard Holcomb, the woman who related the story to us, said that it was a miracle that the dog could tell what was going on, as the fire was on the inside of the school.

This is only one of the stories told about the old building that has served its community so well. We are sure that there are many more.

SPECIAL DEER HUNTING AREAS FOR 1959

○-NOV. 15-30
●-DEC. 1-6

“Any deer” hunting will be open in 39 food shortage and crop damage areas in Michigan this fall. Hunters have until midnight, October 10, to submit their applications for approximately 100,500 special permits which are being offered for hunting in these areas. Application cards should reach all license dealers in the state by September 15. Applicants are reminded that special area changes have been made since last season. Hunters must apply for permits by these numbered areas rather than by counties. No person may submit more than one application. According to present plans, drawings will be held in Lansing, October 22, for areas where applications outnumber special permit quotas. Each permit will be valid for only one area.

Special Service at Baptist Church

"Comrad Khrushchev - Friend or Foe" is the title of a sermon to be delivered Sunday evening, Sept. 20, at the First Baptist Church, Cass City, by the Rev. R. G. Weckle.

Both pros and cons will be given because of the momentous significance of the visit and the content in national life.

Such questions as "Have we forgotten our war dead in Korea? Have we accepted the blood purge of Hungary? Have we minimized the murders of the refugees in various countries?" will be treated in this talk.

The service will be at 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of the First Baptist Church, Cass City, and the national interchurch council, The American Council of Christian Churches.

Four queens in a game of poker are fine, but not in the game of love.

A beef herd fits well on large farms with lots of pasture, says W. L. Finley, animal husbandman at Michigan State University. Finley says a 15-cow herd could add $1,000 income on many farms. Beef enterprises require little labor and no expensive buildings. But market prices often fluctuate—making the business a bit risky.

Workshops Results

In last year's re-upholstery workshop which was held in Vassar, Mrs. Joe Baranic re-upholstered an over-stuffed chair. After she got the chair home, she discovered how bad the upholstery looked. She decided something had to be done to the davenport. So her next project was to re-upholster the davenport.

When the family came to admire the two pieces of furniture, they noticed that the floor of the family room looked badly worn. Mr. Baranic said that if his wife could re-upholster a chair and davenport, he ought to be able to lay a new tile floor. Now their family room has a new floor to go with the two pieces of furniture that June re-upholstered.

The fine result of this project brought a togetherness for this family, working as a unit to beautify their home and make their dollars go farther.

Mrs. Baranic is a World War II bride. Joe met June while he was a G. I. stationed near Watford, England. The Joe Baranics live on a farm at 5190 Dixon Road, Vassar, and he and his brother William farm 500 acres. They raise beans, wheat, corn and sugar beets as a cash crop as well as whiteface steer feeders fattening in their feedlot.

June has no relatives in the U. S. but her mother, father and three brothers live in Watford, England. Next year her parents will visit Joe and June to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Joe and June have two children: Joey, 7, who attends Tappen Elementary School in Vassar, and a baby, Anna Marie, age 3 years. There were five different types of workshops held in the county last year. A refinishing workshop was held in Gilford, Mayville and Vassar. Some antique furniture was refinished into beautiful and serviceable pieces of furniture, as well as present day dining chairs and serviceable tables.

Lampshade construction workshops were held in Gilford, Caro, Unionville and Millington. Around 80 lampshades were completed in these four workshops.

Canning and seat weaving workshops were held in Unionville, Vassar, Gilford, Mayville, Reese and Caro.

Forty-five chairs were caned and 9 chairs had woven seats constructed.

Re-upholstery workshops were held in Gagetown, Gilford and Vassar. Two davenports were re-upholstered with an estimated savings of $200.00. Twenty chairs, and a 3-piece sectional were also re-upholstered in the above workshop with an estimated savings to the women of $250.00.

A slipcover construction workshop was held in Gilford. Five chairs and a davenport were slipcovered.

These workshops teach the women a skill as well as help them to stretch the house furnishing budget. This year the following workshops will be held: millinery, which will include the making of feather hats, blocking and re-designing felt hats and making of spring hats. Other workshops will be designing and construction of hooked rugs, cotton dress construction, construction of curtains and draperies, slipcover construction, as well as any of the workshops held last year.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Luxurious Look Of Season's Silks Capture Attention

THIS IS THE year for a silk dress, the luxury fabric which gives every woman that feeling of being as fragile and feminine as the fabric itself. There's a silk for every occasion and the fashions by so many native designers should enable every woman to find one that's most appealing to her.

Much excitement in pattern, color and texture are evident in this group. The pattern is of primary importance and the colors are strong and clear. Textures may vary from the very nubby to the very sheer.

Prints are Nice

Understated monotonies and good spacing contribute a real touch of elegance to many of the floral prints for which silk is such a good material as a medium. High keyed colors and dramatic designs furnish fashion interest in many of the others.

There's another field of silks which is worth noting in the fashion picture and these are the revival from the 1920's of the stylized, flat prints in the polka and Roualt manner.

Stylish with a Grecian aura, this sinuous white silk crepe dress designed by Femala shows soft gathers converging at the high Empire waistline. The graceful fold falls to the hemline.

Contrasted with the florals are cleverly executed miniatures and geometric prints. Even in warm weather they can look neat and crisp as well as light and feminine.

Silk screen printing is the rule and contributes much to the rich, luxurious look of this season's fashions.

Malt May Increase Barley Feed Value

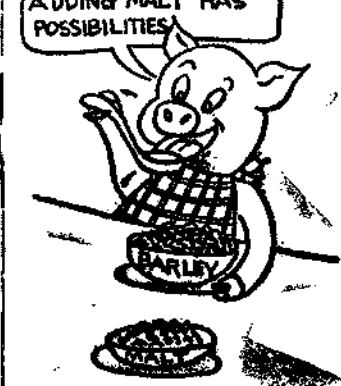

Break Down Grains, Speed Digestion

Possibilities of increasing the feed value of barley with the use of special malt products are under study at Oregon State College.

Dr. J. E. Oldfield, animal husbandman in charge of the project, says the malt enzymes may help break down the fibrous grains and speed digestion. They show some promise in tests of increasing gains of pigs on a barley ration, he added.

It is known that barley and other fibrous grains, although apparently well-suited as animal feeds according to chemical analysis, do not produce as rapid rates of growth as corn and other non-fibrous grains. The OSC research with enzyme additives and work elsewhere on soaking and drying of the grain prior to feeding as a means of stimulating natural enzyme activity within the kernel are part of a broad program aimed at enhancing the feed value of barley.

ADDING MALT HAS POSSIBILITIES

Research hopes to enhance barley feed value through malt enzymes.
