House Moving Traditional for Anthes Family

"House moving has been the family occupation for three generations," said Amasa Anthes. "My father was a house mover and I have been doing it for almost all my life. Now my two boys are in the business."

"We move about 100-125 houses a year; that is, my sons do. I'm retired from the business now, so they run it all."

"The business has changed from the days when my father did it. In the old days, houses were moved on rollers and the back roller was taken out and placed in front and so on down the road. It took three men on each end of a roller to move it from the back to the front."

"Now all the moving is done on rubber tires. Timbers are placed under the house and then the house is jacked up about three feet. The basement is built up with cement blocks and the moving tires placed under. The house is then ready to move."

The moving tires are attached to a metal frame on which there is a long metal piece with grooves the timbers are placed in. This metal piece is on ball bearings so it can tip in any direction. In this way, the house cannot be strained if it goes over a bump.

"Very few houses are damaged when they are moved. It happens sometimes, but not very often," he said.

When Mr. Anthes was asked why people move houses, he replied, "Most of the people have built a new home and want to sell the old one. Someone buys it and moves it to his own lot."

"One funny example was a man who had his house moved to Bay City from Wisner. He later decided that he wasn't so fond of his in-laws and within the year had the house moved back to the original place."

"It is not unusual for a house to be moved more than once. In fact, they are sometimes moved several times."

It seems, from talking to Mr. Anthes, that moving a house contains more angles than just jacking it up and carting it off. One angle is the matter of a moving permit. To obtain a permit to move the house on a state road, a bond of $100,000 must be put up to insure against any damage that may be caused by the house. Also, week ends and holiday periods are taboo for moving a house.

Once these minor problems are taken care of, there is the problem of what route to take, considering that many of the wires are too low to go under. There is also the problem of bridges to cross.

If the problem of wires comes up, the company they belong to must be called and they will either raise the wires or lower them so the house can be driven over. There is a charge for this service.

No route can be taken where a bridge to pass under is not high enough. If there is a small bridge that is not wide enough but has no top, it is built up and an arch built over the top of it. The house is then hauled over the top of the bridge.

Also, on the state highway, a sheriff or state police escort has to accompany the house.

Little League Diamond Due For Face Lifting

The Little League baseball diamond and the skating rink will be given a general face lifting this fall with funds furnished by the Cass City School District, the village and perhaps Elkland Township.

Trustee Jim King explained the project Tuesday night to the council at its regular meeting at the Municipal Building.

He said that the school has already authorized up to $500 for the work and that the township is interested in the project but does not know if it is legal to help sponsor the work. Total cost, Mr. King said, will be about $1,000. The village council authorized $300 for the work making a total of $800 now available.

Plans call for permanent dug-outs and an outfield fence to be erected. The entire area will be leveled and the skating rink moved to a new location near its present site.

Submit Budgets To United Fund

Budget requests from various participating agencies were submitted at a meeting of the Tuscola County United Health and Welfare executive board Wednesday, Sept. 23.

Agencies and amounts requested were: Michigan United Fund, $9,412; American Red Cross, $10,000; Boy Scouts, $8,100; Girl Scouts, $2,000; Salvation Army, $850; Crippled Children, $100, and supplies, $250.

Members of the executive committee from the Cass City area attending the meeting were: Chairman Audley Rawson and Co-chairmen Dave Ackerman and Fred Auten.

High School Band At MSU Saturday

The Cass City High School Band was one of 32 bands from high schools throughout the state to participate in the annual band day at Michigan State University Saturday. Some 2,752 boys and girls played during the event.

Each band was allowed two minutes to march the length of the field. One of the guest conductors of the bands was Dale Harris of Pontiac. He was the first president of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

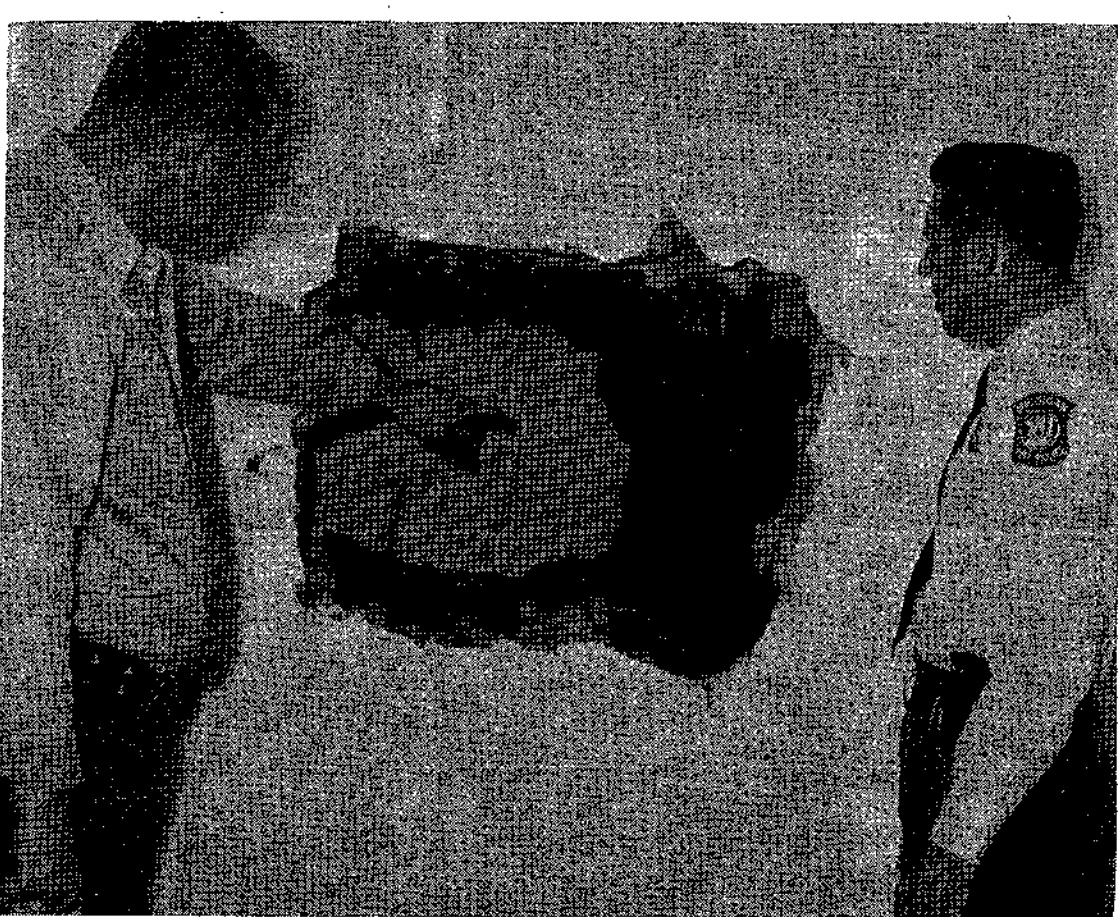

The bands depicted the 25 years of the MSBOA and then formed MSU as they completed their ceremonies on the field.

33 New Books Now Available at Public Library

Thirty-three new books became available to patrons of the Cass City and Elkland Township Public Library this week, Mrs. Arthur Little, librarian, has announced.

Included is an autobiography, "Groucho and Me."

POINT OF ENTRY—Cass City Police Chief Bill Wood points to the hole hammered through eight-inch concrete that thieves used to break into Erla's Food Center Monday morning. Also examining the spot is Marvin Allgeyer, Bad Axe State Police trooper. (Chronicle Photo)

Loss Set at $2,000

Erla Food Center Looted Monday

A band of bandits coolly flaunted the law in Cass City early Monday morning and stole some $2,000 in merchandise from Erla's Food Center, entering after breaking a hole in the wall to the rear of the store.

The thieves evidently were inside the store for some time as evidence indicated that they ate hot dogs and pop while in the store, according to Police Chief Bill Wood and Bad Axe State Police Trooper Marvin Allgeyer, who investigated.

Besides the looting the robbers ransacked and a cash register broken. An attempt was made to pry open frozen food lockers, but it failed.

It was the second time that the Erla Store had been broken into. The first occurred three or four years ago and the guilty party was captured.

Police say that they are working on several leads at this time.

Another fine musical presentation may fall by the wayside in Cass City. The Cass City Community Choir, which has been presenting fine free concerts at Christmas and Easter, started practice Tuesday. Not enough persons attended to hold a rehearsal.

Directors issued a distress call early Wednesday and unless area singers respond there will be no concert. Practice is weekly at the Methodist Church.

Police Chief Bill Wood is co-operating with the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police in the "Stop Sign Drifters" campaign. He is responsible for the numerous signs distributed throughout the village.

Statistics show that last year the stop sign drifters killed 108 and injured 987 persons and cost Michigan citizens an estimated $14,500,000.

The campaign is needed.

Gary Moore of Avon Lake, Ohio, was a guest at the regular meeting of the Cass City Village Council. Mr. Moore is president of the Ohio village that has an estimated population of about 9,000.

Many of the problems of Cass City are problems of Avon Lake and several are solved differently. In Avon Lake it's easy to get a new sidewalk. The village pays only two per cent of the cost and the property owner the remainder.

It's a 50-50 proposition in Cass City. In both communities a petition for the work must be submitted.

Mr. Moore, who is a former resident, warned the council of too high taxes on industry that have driven many plants from neighboring communities in his area of Ohio.

He was told by Almer Krueger, president of Anrod Screen Cylinder Co., that he felt that the village's taxes of industry have been very fair.

Working for the village is more profitable in Avon Lake than in Cass City. Mr. Moore receives $3,000 a year for his part-time work as boss of the community and councilmen receive $600 yearly. In Cass City, the president and trustees receive $5 per meeting.

Say Goodbye at Tea To Fr. Mikulski

Members of the Altar Society and Ushers' Club of St. Pancratius parish said goodbye to Rev. Fr. Isadore J. Mikulski at a silver tea Sunday afternoon at the Rectory.

"Father Mike" left Wednesday to become the pastor at the Sacred Heart Church in Caro. He was presented with a gift by members at the tea.

Trustees Discuss Pump for Sewer

A request by Almar Realty Corporation for a sanitary sewer at the corner of Doerr Road and Garfield Street in Cass City's industrial site sparked a general discussion of extending sewer service on all areas where special equipment may be needed. Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the village council at the Municipal Building.

The area where a new building is to be erected by the company may be too low for the extension of a sewer. If it is, a pump will be operated so that the area can be serviced. Village President C. R. Hunt said that it was time that the council started giving consideration to what can be done in all the areas where natural fall sanitary sewers cannot be erected. A pump to do the work and a small building to protect it from the weather is relatively inexpensive, he explained.

If a pump is installed to handle the corner of Garfield and Doerr Road it would also service all the homes on Doerr Road that are within the village.

Situation Better
Police Chief Bill Wood reported that he had discussed the traffic situation on Garfield with authorities at Walbro Corporation. The company posted a notice warning workers of the dangers and Mr. Wood said that a check on three or four different days indicates that the situation is much better.

Another control for the road will be the erection of yield-right-of-way signs at corners approaching Garfield. They will be the first signs of this type in the village.

Tax Delinquents
Treasurer Wilma Fry reported that tax collections this year are the slowest that they have been in recent years. A total of $40,000 is collected in Cass City and there is still $3,000 outstanding. Taxpayers have until Oct. 15 when taxes must be accounted for and nonpayers will be delinquent.

Parking Stalls
It's not likely that parking stalls on Main Street will be painted this fall, but when they are a change will probably be inaugurated.

President Hunt reported that experts suggest a 52 degree angle, stalls six-feet wide and a safety zone two feet, eight inches wide for each car on streets the width of Main. The safety zone is painted with lines parallel to the curb and drivers will be in violation if their cars touch the area.

UNICEF Meeting At School Monday

The UNICEF committee and representatives of area churches will meet Monday, Oct. 5, at 8 p. m. at the high school, it was announced this week. Ministers and two or three laymen from each church are asked to attend.

UNICEF is the campaign conducted on Halloween when children collect pennies instead of treats and the money is used to help the needy in foreign countries.

Hawks Notch Big Win over Hatchets

The Cass City Red Hawks took a giant stride towards another Thumb B Conference football crown Friday when they edged Bad Axe 19-12 at the Hatchets' field. The Huron County eleven was one of the three teams expected to provide the most competition for the crown.

It took two sparkling runs by Bob Wright and a heads-up play by End Art Randall to preserve the Hawks' string of unbeaten games in the conference.

The Hawks were forced to come from behind to win. Bad Axe scored early in the opening period when Quarterback Fred Barkholtz passed to Halfback Jerry Smith who legged it to the four-yard line from where Steve Walzak smashed through center to score. The kick was blocked.

It took Cass City just two plays to get that marker back. After a line play netted four yards, Bob Wright took a handoff and smashed off tackle, broke into the clear and outran the secondary in a 61-yard touchdown scamper.

The Hawks started another pay-off march the next time they got the ball. The drive started at midfield. After a beautiful pass from Anthes to Randall picked up a first down on the Bad Axe 24, Wright took off on a 24-yard jaunt behind good blocking to mark up the second marker. A pass from Anthes to Alex Lopez was good for the point.

Randall personally accounted for the touchdown that proved to be decisive early in the second quarter. A Hackett punt bounced into his hands on the 49-yard line as players from both teams waited for it to roll dead. The alert end wheeled and raced to the Bad Axe two before he was stopped from where Lopez ground over in two line plunges.

In the waning moments of the first half, Bad Axe started a drive against the Hawks and the clock and bested them both when they scored with just three seconds left. Barkholtz tossed to End Bill Tagueon from eight yards out for the score.

Neither team was able to score in the second half. The Hawks put on a sustained drive that moved from midfield to the two-yard line before the ball went over on downs.

However, the drive took 17 plays and kept Bad Axe from having a chance to score for most of the quarter. Bad Axe ran only five plays from scrimmage during the period.

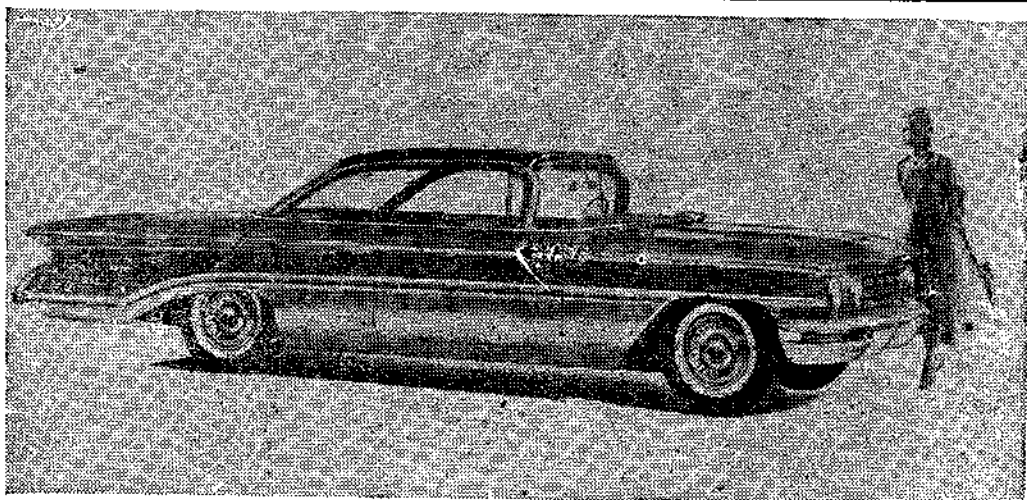

Home-coming Game
The Hawks' first home game will be home-coming when Sandusky will furnish the opposition. The Redskins won their conference opener, 25-6, over Marlette.

1960 Olds Has Fresh, Smooth Look

Designed for the start of a dynamic new decade is this 1960 Oldsmobile "98" Holiday Scene-Coupe. The low, level hood treatment affords maximum visibility through the Vista-Panoramic windshield. This smooth look is carried through on rear fenders and the expansive rear deck. Heat-resistant glass is standard in the spacious rear window of all Scene-Coupe models.

Adding smart accents to the front end styling are the horizontal grille louvers. The parking lights are safely recessed in the wrap-around section of the bumper where they can be easily seen from the front or side. The Holiday Scene-Coupe body style is available in all Oldsmobile series for 1960.

Final Rites Held for Retired Fireman

Rosary devotions were held Sunday evening at the Hunter Funeral Home in Gagetown for Frank Dixon, who died Friday at his home in Gagetown. The Rev. Frank McLaughlin officiated at funeral services Monday morning at St. Agatha Church. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Dixon had been ill for six months. He was born May 29, 1892, in Lonaconing, Md. He married Eileen Antley in Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 14, 1920. They moved to Tuscola County three years ago from Detroit, where Mr. Dixon had worked as a fireman. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the St. Agatha church.

Surviving are: his wife; three sons, William of Gagetown, Robert of Detroit and Richard of Caro; a daughter, Mrs. Douglas (Mavis) Parker of Gagetown; 11 grandchildren; three brothers, James of Detroit, Dave of New Jersey and John of Oregon, and three sisters, Mrs. William Quinn of Turtle Creek, Pa., Mrs. John Scott of Newcastle, Pa., and Mrs. Mae Greisheimer of Detroit.

Use Stilbestrol For Profitable Beef

Cattle feeders are missing possible profits if they aren't using stilbestrol in their fattening rations, according to an animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State University.

Hugh E. Henderson says the synthetic hormone has shown up very well in recent nutrition research.

"Stilbestrol can be used profitably throughout the fattening period for both steers and heifers," the expert believes. "The level of feeding must be regulated very carefully, as stilbestrol is a female sex hormone."

Steers and heifers can grow faster when the hormone is provided them, he says. Breeding animals should never receive it. Stilbestrol may be implanted at the base of the ear, but side effects are less likely to occur from feeding.

Five milligrams per head per day to steers and heifers under 500 pounds, increasing to 10 milligrams per head daily at 600 to 700 pounds for steers and 700 to 800 pounds for heifers is the recommended rate, says Henderson.

Growth is increased, though the length of the feeding period is not decreased. This, says Henderson, brings heavier-weight finished carcasses.

"If undesirable side-effects appear," the specialist warns, "stop using the material until they clear up."

Here Friday from Chevrolet ..

Elegant Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan—one of 16 spanking new Chevrolets you can choose from.

THE SUPERLATIVE '60 CHEVY

This is the one that says '60 like no other car. From its clean-thrusting grille to its dapper rear deck, there's so much that's new and different about this superlative Chevrolet it stands out from the rest like a fresh-minted coin. And you'll be just as wide-eyed over what's inside—the relaxing roominess, tasteful trim, hushed elegance of its new Body by Fisher, all comfortably cradled by Full Coil springs at all four wheels. Yet, sumptuous as this new Chevy is, it's got all the thrifty virtues that make it unmistakably a Chevrolet—with new economy of operation, new dependability, new longer life. Here, then, we're confident both you and your budget will joyously agree, is the nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came!

Here's the car that introduces a whole new decade of design—with so much that's new and different the others can only hope to come close.

It's the superlative '60 Chevrolet—with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, new splendor in every clean-etched line.

Freshly shaped contours rake back from the unified new grille to the jaunty rear deck, fitted with craftsmanship you'd expect only on the most expensive makes. Inside, the solidly built new Body by Fisher surrounds you with finely tailored fabrics and spacious elegance. There's room to sprawl in, room to sit tall in—generously provided by Chevy's soft-wide seats and extra margin of hat space. And there's even more leg room for the man in the middle—thanks to the way Chevrolet engineers have shaved down the transmission tunnel.

Out on the road, as Chevy's Full Coil ride will persuade you most gently, there's not a car near the price that comes close to the hushed comfort of this one. Adding to your sense of silence and solidity are thicker, newly designed rubber body mounts that do an even more efficient job of isolating road shock and noise.

Quiet, quick-responding power is provided by a choice of two standard engines—Chevy's famed Hi-Thrift 6 and a new Economy Turbo-Fire V8 that gets up to 10% more miles out of a gallon of regular while delivering greater engine torque at normal speeds. There's also a choice of five other V8's and five transmissions, to assure the exact power combination to satisfy the itch in your driving foot. Chevy's accent on comfort and convenience even extends back to its easier-to-load luggage compartment. You'll also find a convenient new parking brake that automatically returns to normal height after application, a new clutch linkage that filters out engine impulses more effectively than ever and new two-toning motif available on all 16 fresh-minted models.

But, impressive as all this may look in print, there's really only one way to tell how near to perfection this superlative '60 Chevrolet actually comes... and that's to drop in on your dealer and drive one!

CAR CLOCKS DO VARY... HEATERS STOP HEATING
Don't blame it on the clock if your car clock gains or loses. Nor is any such inaccuracy grounds for believing it is going haywire.

Car clocks, you see, operate on direct current, while home electric clocks operate on alternating current... which is corrected daily at the electric company's power station.

So your car clock may gain or lose as much as seven minutes a week... a gain or loss of half an hour in a month's time. Some clocks can be adjusted for less inaccuracy but the regulating screw must be handled with care.

Something else often misunderstood are car heaters. If yours isn't throwing enough heat, check it for circulation of water. First, feel heater fittings where they connect to hoses. If both fittings aren't about the same heat as the upper engine fitting there may be an obstruction... such as, an overlooked shut-off control valve; clogged hose or heater core or air trapped in too-high curve of heater hose.

Also be sure to check for circulation of air. Make sure heater fan runs... listen for it. Then determine if air ducts and dampers are working right. A simple test here is to hold a cigarette in front of the air intake. This will give you an accurate smoke-check on the operation of these valves.

Understanding your car better and attending to minor maintenance details yourself will mean more enjoyable driving for you. Of course, major repairs call for an expert's attention... so when something serious goes wrong with your car drive in and let our factory-trained mechanics go to work on it. Not only does a well cared for car mean more economical driving -- but when you're ready to trade you'll get a better deal for it.

THE REVOLUTIONARY Corvair BY CHEVROLET

There's nothing like a new car—and no compact car like this de luxe Corvair 700.

Here's the car created to conquer a new field—Chevrolet's low-priced compact Corvair. The product of nine years of research and development, it's America's first truly compact car that retains the ride and 6-passenger comfort you're used to in a big one.

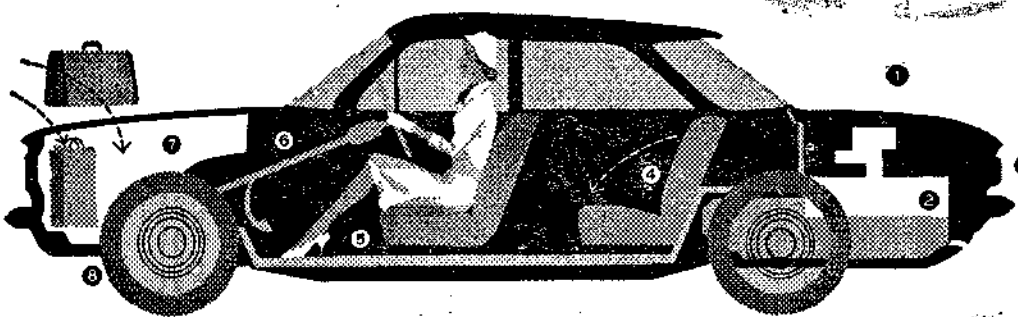

The key to this small miracle: America's only rear-mounted aluminum engine—a lightweight 6 that's so revolutionary it can be packaged with the transmission and drive gears as one compact unit.

With the engine in the rear, the Corvair's floor is virtually flat, front and rear, so there's plenty of foot room for everybody. Combined with Corvair's unique body-frame construction by Fisher, this provides interior spaciousness comparable to many postwar conventional-sized cars.

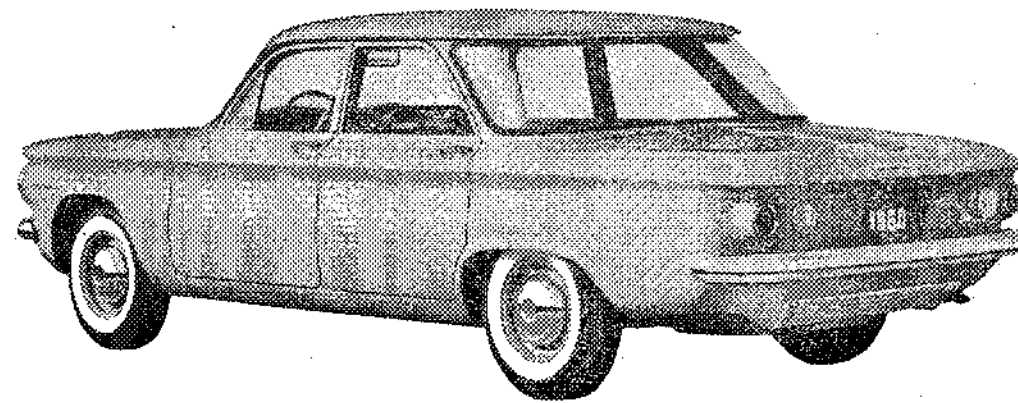

Shifting engine weight to the rear also makes for easier compact car handling and gives glued-to-the-road traction on ice, mud or snow. And with independent suspension at all 4 wheels—an advance comparable to the independent suspension of front wheels years ago—you get a poised, unruffled ride that rivals even the costliest cars.

These are all things no front-engine compact car can give you. And with them you get outstanding economy and practicality that would never have been possible if Chevrolet engineers had been content to make the Corvair merely a sawed-off version of a big car. Corvair's size—some 5 inches lower, 2 1/2 feet shorter and 1,300 pounds lighter than conventional sedans—makes it a joy to jockey through busy streets, a pleasure to park (no need for power assists). Its revolutionary Turbo-Air 6 gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon of regular. And, because the engine's air cooled, you never have to fuss with antifreeze, you get quicker warmup (even heat for passengers comes—almost instantly—from an airplane-type heater*). Wonderfully practical, yes. But you'll find the most practical thing of all about Corvair is its remarkably low price. Your dealer's the man to see for all the short, sweet details.

America's only car with an airplane type horizontal engine!
America's only car with independent suspension at all 4 wheels!
America's only car with an air-cooled aluminum engine!

The engine's in the rear where it belongs in a compact car!

You have your choice of two Corvairs—this one's the standard model.

See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer

1 REVOLUTIONARY TURBO-AIR 6

Gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon, needs no antifreeze, provides quicker warmup with less wear on parts. It's the world's first production 6 with the ultra-smooth, space-saving power of horizontally opposed (not vertical or V-stroke) pistons.

2 ONE-PACKAGE POWER TEAM

Wraps rear engine, transmission and differential into one compact unit. Takes less room, leaves you more.

3 STYLING—PURE AND SIMPLE

Clean, uncluttered lines shape both 4-door models—the de luxe Corvair 700 and the standard Corvair. Each has its own distinctive trim, and you get more visibility area than in many full-sized cars.

4 FOLD-DOWN REAR SEAT*

Works instantly, adding to Corvair's versatility by enlarging rear seat cargo space to 17.6 cu. ft.

5 FLAT FLOOR

Corvair is America's only compact car with a practically flat floor, the only one with the kind of relaxing room that U.S. motorists are used to.

6 UNISTRUT BODY BY FISHER

Does away with conventional frame, incorporating all structure into a rigid body-frame unit that gives you more inside room with less weight.

7 UNDER-HOOD LUGGAGE COMPARTMENT

Trunk's up front (like an elephant's) where it's convenient for groceries, shopping bags, luggage.

8 4-WHEEL INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION

There's no conventional axle—front or rear. Wheels, cushioned by coil springs, take bumps independently of each other, for smooth, road-hugging ride.

*Optional at extra cost.

By Rights, Who Owns Michigan's Water?

Water is like air: owned by no one and yet owned by all. In Michigan, the right of water usage is determined by the water source. The use of water in streams or lakes is governed by the riparian doctrine. Under this doctrine, riparian owners may use these surface waters for domestic and other purposes which do not materially reduce the flow or harm the quality of water. This right of reasonable use does not imply ownership. Non-riparian owners may use these waters for such non-consumptive uses as fishing, swimming and boating. Michigan's other water source—ground water—is also protected by the rule of reasonable use. Although this common law provides much freedom for water uses, it limits usage according to the rights of others.

Home Extension

Agent's Corner

Frances T. Clark
County Home Demonstration Agent

At last week's Extension home economics council meeting, Mrs. Loren Armbruster from Caro I group was elected community chairman. She will fill out Mrs. Robert Schmuck's term, of Unionville.

A large number of people were out for the Extension home economics groups' fall open house held in the Caro Community School. Rev. Benjamin Whaley, from the First Methodist Church of Midland, gave an outstanding talk on the "United Nations."

At present Rev. Whaley is the minister of youth and education at the First Methodist Church of Midland. He has attended United Nations' seminars with both the youth and adult groups. This fall he will direct a churchman's seminar on the United Nations in Midland. Rev. Whaley has served the Owendale and Unionville Methodist churches.

I find that these days it "pays to know your hams," for they probably will be advertised extensively the coming months. The fall crop last year was up 17 per cent and the crop from December to February of this year was up another 16 per cent. Also, the amount of pork in cold storage July 1, 1959, was 37 per cent higher than July 1, 1958. Consequently, there will be lots of pork available.

Now you will have to decide which type of ham is best for your use—whole, half, end or portion butt or shank, semiboneless or boned and rolled. I have made out a chart as an example for your use the next time you go shopping for that ham.

	Av. Price lb.	Serving lb.	Av. Price Serving
Shank or butt end or portion	.39	2 to 2½	.19½
Half	.49	3	.16½
Whole	.49	3	.16½
Semi-boneless half	.63	4	.15½
Boned and rolled	.75	5	.15

Considering only cost, either a semi-boneless or a boned and rolled ham would be the least expensive to serve, yet the cost per pound for each is higher than other type hams. In each case, the portions which cause the most waste have been removed.

Another question for you to answer is how much you use at one time. But ham is good to the last sliver and its versatility is practically unlimited.

All grocers have "problem minority" among their customers. Do you wonder if you qualify for the title?

Here are some clues: Customers who handle tender ripe produce carefully, bruising it by tossing it back roughly, while making their personal selections.

Those who press the base of a cantaloupe, instead of checking aroma, to determine ripeness.

Those who complain about "freshness" or "quality" of chicken or pork purchased on Thursday and refrigerated until serving on Sunday, instead of freezing the meat when it will not be used within 36 hours.

I hope you past the test with "no" answers on every clue. If you answered, "Yes, I've done that!", these habits should be broken.

The force of habit is strong with most of us. Many times we do not realize we are in a rut until we try to break a habit. It is nice not to be a "problem minority" at the grocery store.

GREENLEAF

Greenleaf Extension Club—The Greenleaf Extension Club met Thursday, Sept. 24 at the home of Mrs. Anson Karr. Nineteen ladies were present, and answered roll by naming parts of an automobile.

After the business meeting and the arrangement of future meetings, Mrs. Lynn Spencer and Mrs. Curtis Cleland gave the lesson on "The Inside of a Car," followed by a quiz on the lesson.

The next meeting will be Oct. 21 at Mrs. Theodore Gracey's. The lesson on "Seasonal Salads" will be given by Mrs. Gracey and Mrs. William Lewis.

Mrs. Karr served tea and a delicious lunch at the Thursday meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Karr, Jeffrey and Jacqueline of Grosse Pointe Woods were overnight guests of his mother, Mrs. Anson Karr, and attended the 25th reunion of Keith's class of 1934 in Cass City. Sunday the Keith Kars and Mrs. Anson Karr had dinner with Mrs. Doris Mudge and Mrs. Eleanor Morris at Old Greenleaf. Anson Karr is fishing in Canada.

Mrs. Robert Hoadley went Saturday to visit her daughter Patty, who is in school in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurer and children from Uby called on her mother, Mrs. James Walker, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Seeger and daughter Sandra from Detroit were week-end guests of Mrs. Lucy Seeger.

Mrs. Eleanor Morris, Mrs. Anson Karr, Mrs. Doris Mudge and their sister, Mrs. Hazel Watkins, left early Monday morning for a short trip through northern Michigan.

Mrs. Henry McLellan, Mrs. Rayford Thorpe and Mrs. Jennie McIntyre were shopping in Bay City Tuesday.

Miss Leona Loomis and friend of Caro were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Rienstra.

Mrs. Bill Vogel of Flint spent from Friday till Tuesday at the Pete Rienstra home.

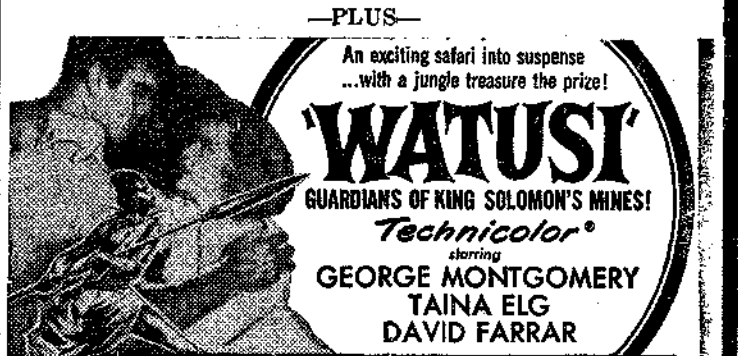

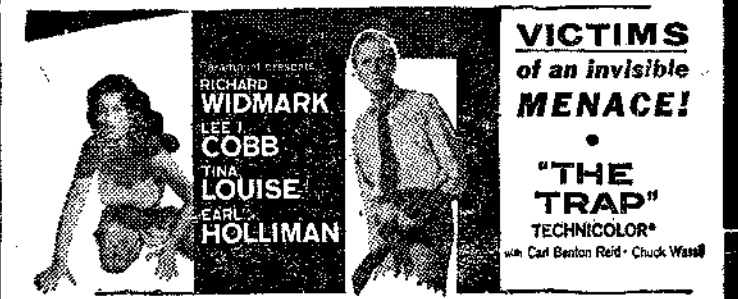

At least a fool and his money are always invited places.

Farmers who raise more than 40-50 acres of corn should seriously consider field shelling, says Robert Maddex, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University. High-moisture shelled corn will keep in a concrete silo stack for on-the-farm feeding.

Slate Annual Fall 4-H Crops Show

Plans are being made for the annual 4-H Fall Crop Show. This is an annual event looked forward to by 4-H members, reports Ed Schrader, County Extension Agent in 4-H Club Work.

The Crop Show will be sponsored again this year by the Caro Farmers Co-op Elevator and the Michigan Elevator Exchange. Additional awards will be given by the local retail merchants of Caro.

Club members will exhibit corn, wheat, oats, barley, potatoes, and beans. These will be in run exhibits.

Several outstanding awards will be given this year. Trophies will be given to the first place exhibit in each class. Gift certificates will be given to the first three places. A watch will be given to the best corn exhibitor.

The outstanding award will go to the Sweepstakes winners, which will be an educational trip to Chicago in late November.

During the past 11 years more than 800 have completed The University of Michigan's certificate program in real estate.

Urge United Effort to Improve State's Business Climate

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Unified efforts to improve Michigan's business climate have been urged by leaders of both parties.

Both Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Paul D. Bagwell, Republican candidate for governor in 1958, have suggested the interests of Michigan should be put ahead of political considerations and suspicions.

But this may be too much to expect. Another election is in the making—and both Republicans and Democrats say it appears the "business climate" may be an issue as it was in 1958.

Michigan's reputation will suffer still more if the 1960 campaign echoes 1958.

This is a warning that comes from between the lines of the widely-quoted report on Michigan's economic future prepared by the Upjohn Institute for employment Research under direction of William Haber, University of Michigan economist.

"Guard zealously the good name of the state," Haber urged. "Stop undermining its reputation by exaggerating its problems and minimizing its virtues. We have shortchanged the state long enough."

I-told-you-so reaction came from both parties when the Haber report was issued. Republicans said it proved Michigan had a problem. Democrats said it proved Michigan's problem was not as bad as Republicans made it sound.

But Williams and Bagwell were in agreement in saying the Haber report indicated there has been too much talk and not enough action. "We have talked about this problem long enough," Bagwell said. "Now is the time for action."

"The time is long overdue for a really united effort . . .," Williams said.

Michigan waits.

Advertising is getting increasing emphasis in discussions about what should be done to spur Michigan's economic growth.

Both the Tourist Council and the Department of Economic Development heard welcome words in the Upjohn Institute's report on the potentials of the Michigan economy.

The report cited the need for more money for tourist and industrial promotion.

Expansion of institutional advertising of Michigan as a site for industrial location was cited as an area of necessary action by the Upjohn report.

"While many persons doubt whether industrial promotion efforts have been effective in other states," the report said, "it seems to us desirable that such efforts be stepped up in Michigan."

Special attention is needed to a study of the potentialities of the tourist industry, the Upjohn Institute said.

"While this industry will have little to do with growth in the industrialized southern half of the Lower Peninsula, the report said, it would be very helpful in improving the economic status of the remainder of the state."

Lawyer-writer John D. Voelker is willing to share the Upper Peninsula after all.

Voelker, Michigan Supreme Court Justice, indicated in his best-selling "Anatomy of a Murder" the Mackinac Bridge would spoil the Upper Peninsula by making it too easy for people to get there.

The famous Michigan author set the record straight in "Anatomy of the Upper Peninsula," an article in the 1959 Michigan Yearbook.

"I know of no pleasure greater than having others share with me appreciation of a beautiful land," the native of Ishpeming said. "They are all welcome."

An uneasy summer ended with reappointment for Dr. Albert E. Heustis, who feared he was victim of a political disease.

Heustis, Michigan's health commissioner for more than a decade, last spring got caught in the middle of Governor Williams' budget battle with the legislature.

Lawmakers said they could not raise the $18,000 salary for the position unless Williams would say whether Heustis would be reappointed. Williams refused to be pressured, and Heustis' term expired June 30 without action.

The salary finally was boosted to $19,000 and Heustis got a new lease on the job in mid-September.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

Grant Ball made a determined bid for a start on curb and gutter work on Seeger street in Cass City Tuesday night, when he appeared before the council to see if he could get a definite commitment for the work.

Children in Cass City under the age of six are invited to enter in a contest to select the king and queen, prince and princess and duke and duchess of toyland, says Miss Jackie Buerkle, director of the event.

An enthusiastic cast is at work on the forthcoming production, "You Can't Beat Fun," a gay musical variety revue which the Rotary Club is sponsoring Wednesday and Thursday at the Cass City High School auditorium.

Among housewives in Tuscola county, food occupies the number one spot on the budget. Out of every dollar they spend in the local retail stores, 25 cents goes to buy food for the family table.

The board of the Cass City Community Club has arranged an outstanding program for the first fall meeting of the organization Tuesday when Judge Joseph Friske will speak to members at the Cass City High School auditorium. His subject will be "Germany After 1945."

Ten Years Ago

The Gagetown 4-H Club, in bringing their summer projects to a close, sponsored a two-course banquet in the Methodist Church dining room.

Extensive plans are being made to redecorate and refurnish the Girl Scout rooms. The village council has already decided to give a new ceiling for the larger room. Steel lathing will be used to make the roof entirely safe.

Janice L. McMahon, Cass City, has just been named secretary of the senior class in the Ferris Institute College of Pharmacy at Big Rapids.

"Rotary Clubs in 82 countries throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace." That was the message of Samuel Ball of Bay City, governor of district 220 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Cass City Tuesday, following a conference with Rotary officers, directors and committee chairmen. Sanilac county extension women will hold their annual achievement day Oct. 28 at Marlette High School. Committees in charge of the day's events are making plans for an all-day program, with a luncheon to be served at noon.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Miss Ruth M. Daniels, a foreign missionary worker, will address two meetings in Cass City today. She will speak at the meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Frank Hall and at the Baptist Church.

The trip of the sugar queen to Washington, D. C., to present President Roosevelt with Michigan sugar products has been cancelled. Miss Johanna Sandham of Cass City, who was selected sugar queen at the Tuscola County Fair in August, received a cash award of $100 for winning the title.

Four teachers have been assigned as instructors in the junior college which will open at Cass City next Monday.

The 54th convention of the seventh district WCTU closed here Friday night. Thirty-five of the 40 unions in the district were represented and 120 delegates registered.

The Cass City Ladies' Band will sponsor a musical comedy, "The World's All Right," with a cast of over 200 local persons Oct. 11 and 12.

Thirty-five Years Ago

Cass City business and professional men are extending an invitation to the people of the Thumb district to attend the pavement opening celebration and home-coming which will take place at Cass City next Friday.

Members of the Woman's Study Club at their meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Atwell, chose Thursday, Oct. 16, as the date for entertaining the Tuscola County Federation of Women's Clubs.

Fire threatened to destroy James Whale's feed barn late Saturday night when the car belonging to John Towle of Evergreen township burst into flames.

The sugar beet crop outlook in the Thumb of Michigan is better than it has been for some years and sugar factories are expecting to start their campaigns early this month with the prospects of long runs.

Establishment of the proposed Flint river cut-off drain district was blocked Wednesday by the refusal of the city of Saginaw to agree to unconditional removal of the injunction secured in 1916 by the city and other interested townships and individuals to restrain Lapeer, Tuscola and Sanilac counties from deepening and widening the Flint river, and the refusal of the drainage board to proceed unless the city agreed to unconditional removal of the injunction.

Another fresh one from Pontiac!

The inspired beauty of perfect proportion!

The precision control of Wide-Track Wheel Design!

The softer ride of supple suspension!

The wide choice of vigorous Tempest V-8 Engines tailored to economy or high performance!

The car craftsmen who developed Wide-Track Wheels, the innovation that brought a new standard of roadability to the American passenger car, present another fresh original for 1959!

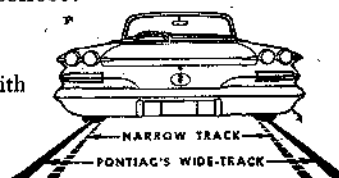

With clean, crisp lines they've composed a delightful rightness of form with unity and rhythm.

Into the proved principle of Wide-Track (wheels farther apart for a steadier stance) they've engineered an ingeniously improved suspension system. This combination of a firm foundation and supple suspension gives you flawless control, more skill in the fine art of driving, smooth stability, bump-yielding softness.

The power plant is typically Pontiac. A wide range of restless, ground-gaining power packages to choose from. All are husky V-8's, ranging from the frugal 425E economy engine that prefers regular grade gasoline to the fiery Tempest 425.

Haven't you been an admiring spectator of Pontiacs long enough? Isn't this your year to become a participant in Pontiac pleasure, to move up to Pontiac ownership, where the enjoyment is the fullest, where the point of view is the freshest?

Wide-Track Wheels give you swiftest stability, solid comfort. You maneuver with skillful sureness, accurate control. It's the sweetest, most precise, most rewarding driving you've ever felt.

MOVING BUSINESS

to accompany the caravan. If the house is going from one county to another, state police escorts are used.

To move a house five miles, the price would average $600-$800 depending on the wires that had to be removed from the path of traffic.

In the old days, it was considered good to progress about one half mile a day but now the average is 15 miles a day. The average speed with a house is 4-5 miles an hour while a garage may be moved at speeds up to 10 miles an hour.

Occasionally the movers have animal pests to contend with, bees being the worst. The bees are sprayed but if this fails to kill them, the bees are more vicious than ever.

Sometimes a bird will have built its nest in the eaves of the house and is moved right along with its home.

It is not necessary for the occupants to get out of the house when it is moved, but the results may be varied. One woman stayed right in her house when it was moved and as meal time rolled around, served the movers lunch from the back door.

But another time, a pregnant woman stayed in the house when it was moved, became seasick and almost died as a result.

One time, the Antheses cleared a whole 10-block area for the highway department when a new road was being put through.

Since the roads are plowed by the highway department, a house can be moved in winter almost as easily as in the summer. One unusual case was when the house was to be moved over the fields and a path had to be bulldozed through the snow.

"Moving a house is similar to moving a trailer, only more of it," said Anthes.

Self-made men might be more popular if they had only mixed a little humility with their material.

Happy Hunting Land

ALWAYS ASK PERMISSION.
BE CAREFUL OF LIVESTOCK AND PROPERTY.
CATCH CRIPPLES BY USING DOGS.
DON'T EXPECT THE LIMIT EVERYTIME—ENJOY THE CHASE.

Courtesy and caution are two essential ingredients for happy and healthy hunting this fall. They are particularly vital during the small game season in southern Michigan where most of the lands are privately owned. Hunters should ask land owners for permission before going off on their property. A survey last fall revealed that when politely asked, four out of five southern Michigan farmers permitted strangers to hunt on their lands. This cooperative arrangement also dictates that hunters exercise safety and respect for livestock and property.

Lowes Celebrate 35th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Helwig were hosts to 41 relatives Sunday at a gathering which celebrated the 35th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Helwig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lowe of Snover. The party was a surprise to the guests of honor. They received many gifts.

Mr. Lowe and Miss Norma McAllister were married Sept. 23, 1924, and have lived in Argyle township since that time. They are the parents of six sons and three daughters: Keith, Gerald, Dean Lowe and Mrs. Linda Helwig of Cass City, Mrs. Elaine Hillaker and Robert and Dale Lowe of Snover, Mrs. Georgene Brown of Tyre and Orwood Lowe, at home. They have 18 grandchildren.

All but one of the children, and 16 of the grandchildren were present Sunday. Others attending the celebration were Mrs. Lowe's mother, Mrs. J. M. McAllister, Mrs. Lowe's sister and family, the L. C. Boyds of Croswell, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Baker of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Adair of Sandusky.

A man can do anything he puts his mind to—of course, having the mind for it is what really counts.

Charles Beardsley Buried Saturday

Services for Charles Beardsley, 62, of Oxford were held Saturday at the Immanuel Congregational Church in Oxford. Mr. Beardsley died Wednesday evening, Sept. 23, at his home following a long illness.

He was past post commander of American Legion Post No. 108 and a member of VFW Post 4036 of Oxford.

Surviving, besides his widow, Mary, are his children: Mrs. Phyllis Darovitz of Huntington Woods, Merle of Leonard, William of Oxford, Donald of Dearborn, Harold of the U. S. Navy, A. D. Melzer and Mrs. Doris Dalglish of Lake Orion, Mrs. Ora Beardsley, Miss Lora Melzer and Mrs. Noame Miller of Oxford, Mrs. Helen Copeland of Cass City, Mrs. Jean Galpin of Pontiac and Mrs. Isabel Richmond of Washington, D. C.

Nineteen grandchildren and four brothers survive. The brothers are: Frank of Kentucky, William of California and Francis and Henry of Oxford. Surviving sisters are: Mrs. Ellen Rees and Mrs. Ruth Rossman of Oxford and Mrs. Elizabeth Spencer and Julia Dadds of Almont.

Burial was in Elkland Township cemetery.

LIBRARY BOOKS

Seven new westerns, two mysteries and three light fiction numbers are also among the recent arrivals. Included in the mysteries is Erle Stanley Gardner's newest book, "The Singing Skirt." Expected to be high on the wanted list are "Games for All Ages and How to Use Them," by Wackerbarth and Graham; "Oscar, the Curious Ostrich," for the little folks, and for the youth, "Geronimo, Wolf of the Warpath," "George Washington, Frontier Colonel," "To California by Covered Wagon," "The Land of the Pilgrims," "Marconi," "Casey Stengel, Baseball's Greatest Manager," "Pee Wee Reese Story," "Warren Spahn Story," and the "Phil Rizzuto Story."

Concluding the list are nine novels: "Doctor on Trial," by Elizabeth Seifert; "The Final Diagnosis," by Arthur Hailey; "All Our Tomorrows," by Josephine Lawrence; "Station Wagon in Spain," by Frances Parkinson Keyes; "As I Live and Breathe," by John Weaver; "Three is a Family," by Edna Pottigrew; "All My Fathers," by Natalia de laFerre; "Blind Man's Mark," by Bruce Palmer, and "Nicola," by Audrey Lindop.

Rotate Sugar Beets Says MSU Expert

Farmers who plant sugar beets too often in the same field are playing into the hands of tiny root-attacking nematodes, says John A. Knierim, entomologist at Michigan State University. "Even nematode-free fields shouldn't go into sugar beets more than three years in a row," according to the expert.

Knierim advises planting sugar beets only once in four years when a few infested spots show up. One crop every five or even six years gradually reduces the nematode population in hard-hit fields.

Nematodes were first discovered in Tuscola county sugar beet fields two years ago, reports Alfred Ballweg, county extension director. A few additional fields were discovered this 1959 season with spots injured by nematodes.

The tiny creatures burrow into roots. Parasite fungi and bacteria often set up shop in the injured area. "Top growth looks stunted, and it tends to wilt quickly in hot weather," says Knierim. "The naked eye can just see greyish-white, lemon-shaped females clinging to the roots."

"Many growers bring home egg-holding cysts in a few clumps of someone else's dump dirt from the beet factory," the nematologist relates. "Dump dirt should never go back in the field. Instead it should be placed in out-of-the-way low areas."

"The sugar beet nematode has been a real problem out west," says Knierim. "Not long ago, the pest put five beet processing plants in Utah out of business."

This microscopic villain would look rather gruesome if it were enlarged to the size of a 24-inch eel, the entomologist grins. He paints a picture: "You can see light through the body under a microscope. There is no skeleton. A tube extends the entire length of the body. A mouth at the front of this tube houses a fairly-long hollow needle. The needle pumps digestive juices and enzymes into the attacked root. Some of these juices poison the plants."

Soil fumigation controls truck-crop nematodes. But, says the expert, fumigation costs between $40 and $75 per acre. Sugar beets couldn't pay for such an expense in Michigan. "Check with your county extension agent when a field looks suspicious," Knierim advises growers. "He may encourage you to send a soil sample to Michigan State University for testing."

The cyst nematode on sugar beets is one of over 100 plant-eating species. Thousands of species are harmless. In fact, many nematodes help break down soil organic matter for plant use.

BALLROOM DANCING

An instructor from Saginaw will teach the course and dances taught will include the fox trot, waltz, cha-cha, tango and jitterbug.

Total cost of the program is $9.50 which can be spread over the first three lessons.

In addition to the instruction a bonus will be a dance book that highlights dance floor etiquette. Registration will be at 7:30 on the night of the first lesson. Complete information is available from Mrs. W. E. Walpole of the Zonta Club.

who will meet with her fourth grade Scouts Wednesdays after school in the Scout rooms. An assistant is needed for Mrs. Tracy's group.

Another new leader is Mrs. Pat Rabideau who will serve as leader for fourth grade Girl Scouts meeting Fridays after school in the Scout rooms. An assistant is needed for this group.

Mrs. Fay McComb, who will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Schwadener of Kingston, will have seventh grade Girl Scouts. Time of meeting for this group is to be determined.

Informal Rodeo at Turner Farm Sunday

Several persons from the Cass City area participated in an informal rodeo Sunday afternoon at the Walter Turner farm. Many special events were staged including races and flag races.

A similar event has been planned by the group for Sunday, Oct. 4, at the Turner farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hutchinson will be hosts at an open house Sunday, Oct. 4, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Cass City Methodist Church to commemorate the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson.

Mr. Hutchinson and the former Jennie Leek were married Oct. 6, 1909, at the bride's home in Kingston township. They have lived in the Cass City area, including their present farm home, for 32 years.

They have a son, Grant W. of Cass City, and three grandsons, James, Grant and William.

COUNCIL MEETING

Community Building
Ed Golding Jr., committee chairman appointed by members of the Elkland Township Fire Department, wrote the council asking them that trustees listen to their plan for a combination community hall and fire station at a regular or special meeting.

Trustees said that the group would be welcome at any regular meeting. Mr. Golding said that his committee would like to see the structure a joint project with Elkland Township.

A discussion of sidewalks in the village was held and trustees generally agreed that they needed repair. Money for any extended project is not available as the curb and gutter work on Seeger Street has used available funds. The council agreed that there was no objection to property owners repairing their own sidewalks if they so desired.

Echo Chapter Hosts County OES Groups

Fifty-five members from eight of Tuscola county's nine chapters attended the county OES club meeting in the Cass City Masonic hall Saturday evening when Echo chapter was host. A cooperative meal was enjoyed at six-thirty.

A monetary prize was presented to Gifford chapter of Gagetown for having the best chapter representation, exclusive of the host chapter.

A short musical program was presented as entertainment with Mrs. Arlington Hoffman singing two solos, accompanied by her daughter Gail, Sharon Profit, DeeEllen Albee and Mickey Pomeroy presented a musical trio with Mrs. Willard Dobbs as their accompanist.

The next meeting will be at Fairgrove in December.

District Meet for Farm Bureau Ladies

The District 6 camp for Farm Bureau Women was held last week at the Bay Shore EUB camp at Sebewaing.

Registration totalled 134 ladies from Huron, Sanilac, St. Clair, Lapeer, Bay and Tuscola counties. Cass City area ladies who participated in the program were Mrs. James Wallace, Mrs. Ellwood Eastman, Mrs. Mack Little, Mrs. Clare Carpenter and Mrs. William D'Arcy.

Highlighting the camp was the appearance of Mrs. Keith Walker of western Australia, who was visiting in this area after speaking at the ACWW in Scotland. She told of her country and activities.

The group was taken on tour by Mr. Howard Greene, biologist for the conservation department, to the wild game area. This is a developed 3000 acres for the protection of wild life.

The program was climaxed with the installation of officers of the district. Mrs. Bruce Ruggles of Kingston is chairman; Mrs. G. Makedonsky of Inlay City, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Edward Golding of Cass City, secretary.

The spring annual meeting of the women of District 6 will be Apr. 19 at Lapeer.

Michigan's beef cattle industry is growing fast, notes R. H. Nelson, head of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State University. The state's farmers raise plenty of corn to triple the present beef cattle population.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Crisp styling and air-cooled engine in CHEVROLET'S COMPACT CORVAIR

An aluminum, air-cooled engine mounted at the rear is among a multitude of mechanical features Chevrolet has originated for its all-new Corvair. A car that seems small only when you park it, the Corvair boasts "big car" roominess and performance due to a long-term engineering study of compact design. Low, fleet styling in accord with American tastes, a unique suspension system and unitized body-frame construction are among other features in the six-passenger four-door sedan. All 1960 Chevrolet cars will be on display in dealer showrooms on October 2.

Clare S. Beckett Dies Unexpectedly

Clare S. Beckett died unexpectedly Thursday evening, Sept. 24, at the Veterans Hospital in Saginaw, where he had been a patient about two weeks.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Gagetown Methodist Church with the Rev. Fred Werth officiating. Hunter Funeral Home in Gagetown was in charge of arrangements. Committal services at Elmwood cemetery were under the auspices of Acme Lodge, F & AM.

Mr. Beckett was born March 30, 1895, at Kempton, Ont. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Moses Beckett. He moved from Canada with his parents to Elmwood township in 1910 and settled on a farm. He and his brother operated the farm until he retired several years ago.

Surviving are: one sister, Mrs. William Anker of rural Cass City, and one brother, Charles of rural Gagetown. One brother, Kelbe, died in 1918.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where the high level politicians is gitting in gear for the 1960 elections.

The Republicans is bragging about prosperity and the Democrats is predicting a panic. All I know for shore is that if we ever have another panic in this country, it'll be televised.

And I see where a big insurance company has come out with a list showing how car drivers stand. Workers for wholesale firms git first place for being good and careful drivers, farmers and ranchers rank fourth, teachers sixth, and high school students is at the bottom of the list, in 72nd place, the worst drivers on the road. That adds up, Mister Editor. If Johnny can learn to read without learning to spell, I reckon he figgers he can drive without looking where he's going.

But I ain't blaming the schools for all this juvenile delinquency. It got a head start the day the woodshed was replaced by the garage. There's a old saying that he that giveth to a pig when it grunts and to a child when it hollers will end up having a fat pig and a unruly child. Too many parents use the giveth plan.

I brung up the topic at the country store Saturday night but all the fellers was busy talking about fishing and said juvenile delinquency would have to wait. I ain't criticizing 'em none fer it. Fishing does a feller a heap of good and most of the time it don't do the fish no harm.

I heard a Civil Defense feller talking on the radio the other night and I'm writing my Congressman about his speech. He said in case a city is bombed city folks should pack up and go stay with their kinfolks in the country. It has took us country folks 20 years to git our city kin out of the habit of swarming down on us ever Sunday and eating us out of house and home. We got it done by leaving home on Sunday, putting up "Small-pox" signs all over the place, and blocking the road with rocks and tree limbs. And now this defense feller comes along and undoes 20 years of hard work. It's important to git this feller off the air, and fast!

Our preacher talked Sunday on "family relations." He said a husband ought never start a argument with his wife when she's tired. I shore ain't starting one with mine when she's rested.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim
