Pair Recovering From Accidental Gunshot Wounds

Two youths are improving from injuries received in gun accidents during the week.

Charles Gage, 16, Cass City, was shot in both legs Sunday while hunting in Tuscola County. He was treated in Pleasant Home Hospital by Dr. H. T. Donahue. Some 25 shot pellets were removed from the right leg and 10 pellets were taken from below the knee of the left leg. There were no fractures and Dr. Donahue described the youth's condition as good.

The accident occurred when a gun laid down by a companion, Jerry Gage, of Deford discharged. He had set his gun down while he and Charles went to retrieve a pheasant from a dog.

Lounsbury Accident

Jack Lounsbury, 13, of Royal Oak is improving from injuries suffered when he shot himself Monday, Oct. 19, while handling a .22 caliber rifle at his home.

Tuesday night in Beaumont Hospital his spleen was removed. Other organs injured by the bullet were his stomach, lung and liver.

Mrs. Alvin Hutchinson, the boy's brother, was called to Royal Oak and returned home Saturday. Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Lounsbury.

Smith First to Complete Area Chest Collection

Willis Campbell, chairman of the Elkland and Novesta Township Community Chest drive, said that Henry Smith was the first of the many solicitors to return his envelope.

Persons he was assigned to contact all contributed, Mr. Campbell said, and the campaign is off to a good start.

However, the drive chairman cautioned, the chest has a quota of $7,000, the largest in history, and the combined effort of the entire community will be needed if we are to reach our goal.

The area has a proud record for meeting challenges of the Chest drive. Never since the United drive was organized here has the community failed to meet its quota.

Much of the credit for its success goes to the volunteer solicitors, authorities said, and to the residents of the area who have always given generously when called upon each fall.

Wild Cow Injures Clifford Jackson

Cliff Jackson was injured Tuesday when a cow he and Olin Bouck were unloading at Reed's slaughterhouse went wild and smashed a trailer.

Mr. Jackson suffered broken ribs and an injured leg. He was hospitalized at Pleasant Home Hospital.

Cass City's most ambitious Halloween party in history has been scheduled for Saturday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Sponsored by Walbro Corporation and under the direction of Mrs. Mike Yedinak, there will be games, contests, prizes and other entertainment.

A camera will be the grand prize. Other gifts will include flashlights, footballs, rubber balls, boxes of crayons and candy. Prizes will be awarded by W. E. Walpole, president of Walbro.

Besides the huge night program, an afternoon costume parade is scheduled. Starting at 1 p.m., the paraders will march down the north side of Main Street to the Chronicle office and return to Auten Motor Sales on the south side of Main Street.

The evening festivities will start with a huge bonfire at Cass City Recreational Park and the program will include the assistance of many adults.

M. B. Auten will tell a ghost story and Mrs. Fritz Neitzel will read the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow." An Indian dance, mummies' room, group singing led by Roger Parrish, a marshmallow roast, a peanut scramble and a snake dance for older participants will be featured. Children are invited to attend in costume.

Working with Mr. and Mrs. Yedinak and Eli Holes are several students including Paul Holmberg, Susan Barnes, Susan Shaw, Kathy Ballard, Marty Yedinak, Elizabeth Matlack, Emory Orto, Tom Ellis, Diane Yedinak, Jim Rawson, Marvin McCormick, Bob Hutchinson and Tom Craig.

In a Halloween poster contest held at the school Bob Bullock was awarded first prize from a variety of good posters.

A total of 19 students entered the poster contest.

Deny Raise for Courthouse Help

Mrs. Lelia C. DeBoer, executive secretary of Tuscola County Red Cross, answered a complaint about irregular hours of the deputy in her office, Mrs. Schobert, to the Tuscola Board of Supervisors last week.

She said that Mrs. Schobert did not work Fridays but made up for the time off by being on call on the week end and by working at night when the need arises. Supervisors voted to have any Red Cross employee paid by the county work the regular five-day week during the hours that the courthouse is open for the present.

The matter was then referred to the committee on salaries for study and recommendation.

Gavelites Pay $500 Of Hospital Pledge

Phil Reed was the program chairman for the Cass City Gavel Club and he presented a film on the presentation and interpretation of verbal communications in business.

In the business meeting Tuesday night at Parrott's Dairy Bar, members voted another $500 towards their hospital pledge and discussed further fund-raising projects.

Employees Credited for Tusco's Success in Cass City

"One of the main reasons that Tusco Products is a success is because of our employees," Bob Bauer, plant manager, said Tuesday as he traced the history of the concern in Cass City from its conception. Speaking to Rotarians Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel, Mr. Bauer said that Tusco Products was born when the parent company, Baldwin Rubber of Pontiac, learned that there was a new market for carpeting in automobiles.

When General Motors designed the first of the cars with the hump down the center in 1957 the old style carpeting, of sewn pieces then in use was inadequate. GM asked its suppliers to design a one-piece carpet that would perform more efficiently.

Baldwin Rubber's designers came up with the answer and they were issued a pilot order for 2,000 mats. With the contract seemingly assured, Baldwin officials started looking for a spot to build the new product.

After surveying the entire area, Baldwin selected Cass City for four principal reasons. The community was well located

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS will be prowling on Halloween Saturday and all over the area preparations are under way for the big night. One of the keys to a successful night for the small fry is a pumpkin or two illuminated with a candle. Engrossed in the project are members of Mrs. Robert

From the Editor's Corner

Add to the variety of free entertainment planned for area children on Halloween, free popcorn in front of the fire hall with the compliments of the boys of the fire department.

It's activities such as these by civic minded residents that have helped Cass City earn the reputation as one of the most law abiding communities in the Thumb. There has been a very limited amount of vandalism here, in the last decade at least, as compared to other communities.

A. H. Henderson came to the office Tuesday and said that he had a curiosity to show us. He then opened his car trunk to show a fur bearing animal that he explained was a badger.

It looked remarkably like an extra large raccoon. Mr. Henderson said he found it on the side of the road south of Cass City where it had been killed by an automobile.

Teachers will gather at Saginaw Thursday and Friday for the Region 11 meeting of the Michigan Education Association which includes Huron, Sanilac, Tuscola, Saginaw and Genesee counties.

The meeting will give all students in the five counties an extra two days of vacation as school's out during the annual confab.

We are surprised to learn this week that some 30 residents of the area have signed for the 14-week Dale Carnegie course sponsored by the Gavel Club. We felt that it would be virtually impossible for that many persons to crowd the course into busy schedules. Authorities say that there are still six vacancies left and that there is still time to take the course that is now under way.

Warren Kelley, local florist, says that it is essential for local businessmen who have purchased trees to help decorate Main Street to see that they are watered daily.

Rain is not enough. Two buckets of water each day is needed from now until the ground freezes if the trees are to survive, he said.

Hawks Paste Caro To Lead League

A fired up Caro football eleven played Cass City on nearly equal terms for the better part of two quarters and then faded rapidly before a diversified Hawk attack to take a 47-7 pasting Friday at the Cass City Recreational Park.

The victory kept the defending league champions undefeated in conference play and set the stage for the championship game Friday, Nov. 6, at Frankenmuth.

Since the Hawks are at home to non-conference Flint St. Michael Friday night in the last home game of the year, it is certain that the Hawks will be undefeated when they face Frankenmuth. Frankenmuth has a conference game left but are odds-on favorites to be defeated for the game-of-the-year with Cass City.

It took the Hawks only a few moments to score the first marker of the game. Caro rambled with fourth and a yard to go on their own 29-yard line and failed to gain. Cass City took over and scored in eight plays, punching out short yardage every time they ran a play. Tim Anthes dived over from the one to score.

Early in the second quarter, Caro capped a drive that started on their own 35-yard line with a six-yard sprint by Ron Mastelec for a touchdown. A run for the point was good and Caro led 7-0.

Stung by the Tiger score, the Hawks wasted no time in forging back into the lead. With Bob Wright and Dick Kloc picking up most of the yardage, the Hawks moved from their own 42 to pay dirt in seven plays. Kloc scored from the one. Anthes passed to Art Randall for the extra point.

With less than a minute left in the first half, Cass City's air arm swung into action for another marker. Anthes hit Randall behind the Caro secondary and the glue-fingered end trotted into the end zone to make the score 19-7.

Despite a blinding rainstorm, the Hawks turned the game into a rout in the third period when they scored 21 points.

They scored in three plays from their own 45-yard line as Anthes kept the ball and dashed through guard for 34 yards to score. He passed to Wright for the extra point.

It took the Hawks 11 plays to score the next time they got the ball. Wright got the marker in a six-yard dash and Anthes scampered.

UNICEF Drive Details Set by Area Churches

Churches in Cass City are once again sponsoring a "trick or treat" campaign in the village where children collect money instead of treats and the money is sent for distribution through the United Nations Children's Fund.

Children from the second through the seventh grades are asked to meet at the scout rooms of the village at 5:30 p.m. Saturday where they will be divided into groups, given a UNICEF identification tag and collections made under adult supervision.

Authorities say that UNICEF collectors will approach each home in the village only once. The children will be treated after they have canvassed the village.

It is expected that more than

Pass Revision of Hospital Ordinance

In a roll call vote the Village Council voted by a three to two margin to amend a section of the ordinance that established the Cass City Community Hospital, Tuesday night at the Cass City Municipal Building.

The change places the responsibility for saying who will practice in the hospital with the board of trustees that are presently appointed by the village president with the approval of the council.

The wording of a motion presented by Trustee Lee Rabideau and seconded by Mrs. K. I. MacRae said in part, "all admissions and right to practice in said hospital shall be in the discretion of the board of trustees . . . may provide rules for temporary or special admission for practitioners in specialized practice or in case of emergency."

The amendment was carried when Trustee Leo Ware joined with the bill's sponsors to give it the needed majority. Voting against the change were Cliff Ryan and Warren Wood.

Mr. Ryan said that he felt that the matter of running the hospital should be left to the board of directors and that the board was in the process of presenting a resolution for the consideration of the council, probably at the next meeting.

To change the ordinance when the persons most directly concerned are working on the same project was felt to be wrong by Mr. Ryan and Mr. Wood.

Mr. Rabideau said that if a future resolution is passed by the council, no harm will be done by passing the amendment now.

John Haire, chairman of the board of trustees of the hospital, was present and explained that the board was attempting to form a new corporation so that the hospital would be out of the hands of the Council.

He said that the new plan had several advantages including a greater eligibility for grants from foundations and the assurance that the village taxpayers would not be responsible for any deficits that the new hospital might incur.

Basic argument in the Council today is deciding who will have the final say as to what doctors and personnel will be admitted to the new hospital when it opens.

Those who favored the amendment Tuesday feel that the Council should make the decision and those who oppose the measure feel that changes should come from the board of trustees.

One councilman, Jim King, was absent Tuesday.

To Form Committee For Investigation Of Community Hall

The Elkland Township Board and members of the Elkland Township Fire Department met with the Village Council Tuesday night to discuss setting up a committee to plan for a new community hall and fire station.

Ed Golding Jr., who heads the committee from the fire department, pointed out that the building presently in use is inadequate and predicted that the day would come when action would be impossible to avoid.

Not Pressing

President C. R. Hunt said that the idea of a new community hall was one worth investigating but said that he felt that it was nothing pressing at this time. It's a project for the future and should be done right when started, he said.

He suggested that a committee from the council and representative from the planning commission be added to the investigating committee.

Elkland Supervisor Ed Golding Sr. said that the area has a good fire department that has lowered fire insurance rates and "we want to keep it that way." All members of the township board were present for the discussion Tuesday.

Council Mulls Gas Plan

The cost of running the village fleet of vehicles occupied the Village Council Tuesday night in their regular session at the Cass City Municipal Building.

Trustee Lee Rabideau said that the cost of gas varied from 28 cents to 32 cents and said that he felt the village should receive a better price since it uses some 700 gallons monthly.

The suggestion brought a complete examination of the method that gas is purchased and resulted in action for investigation of a bulk tank and pump for gas.

It is likely that the matter will be discussed again when further investigation is completed. President C. R. Hunt suggested that it might be possible to get bids for a year's supply of gas and include a tank and pump in the bid price.

Sewer Pump

The new building under construction for Anrod resulted in a motion by trustees that the village build a pumping station to handle sewage on Doerr Road and parts of Garfield Road at an estimated cost of $1,500.

President Hunt said that it would be possible to place a sewer to the Anrod property without a pump but that such action was merely postponing the inevitable. The measure was passed without a dissenting vote.

Load Limit

Because of latex in the sewage coming from Tusco Products, state inspection revealed that the disposal plant was handling a maximum load. Nelson Willy, operator, said that the situation will be corrected soon as Tusco has pledged a filter over their sewage line.

Electrically Timed

Cass City may have electrically timed speeds if a test of used equipment scheduled for Wednesday morning proves successful. The timer was taken on approval from Oxford for $75. New the equipment is worth some $600, Police Chief Bill Wood told trustees.

If purchased, signs telling of the new speed control device will be erected on the approaches to the village and the new method inaugurated.

Six Fined in Village Justice Court Cases

The second motorist in as many weeks paid a fine and costs in Cass City Justice Court for failing to stop for a school bus.

Sanford Stableford, 49, of Flint pleaded guilty before Justice Reva M. Little to passing a halted bus in Elmwood Township and paid a fine and costs of $19.80.

Several other persons were also fined.

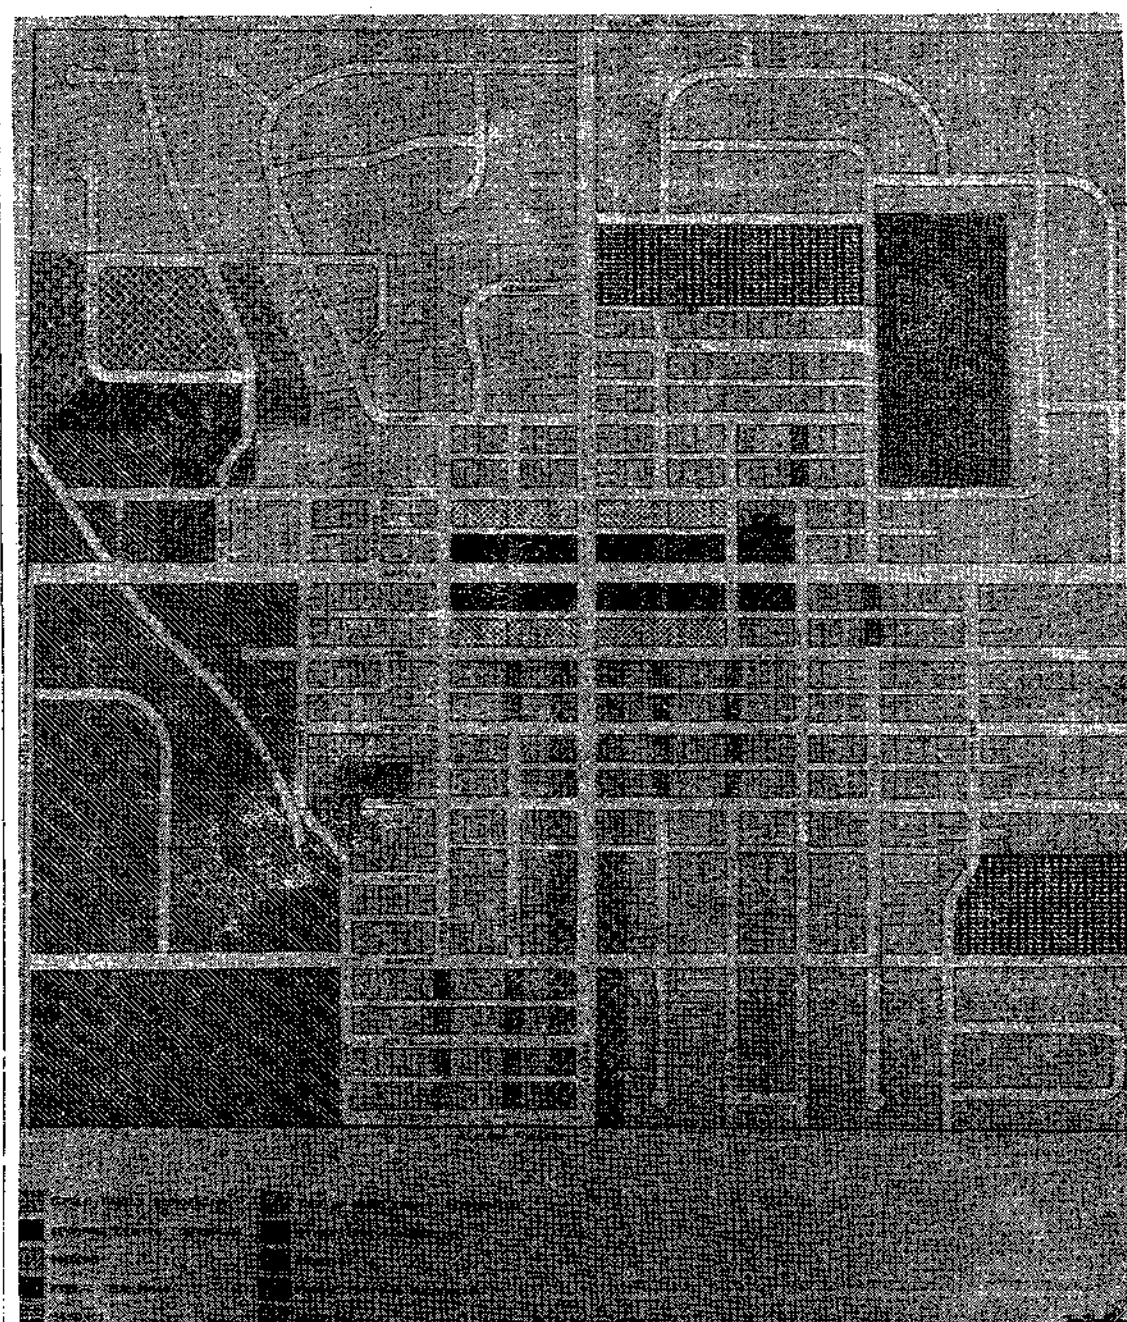

Charles August Papkey, 57, of Cass City paid a fine and costs of $29.30 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving 80 miles per hour in the nighttime.

Wednesday, Oct. 21, Edward Zorvan of Waterford and Robert Smith, Richard Scawach and Theodore Adams, all of Pontiac, pleaded guilty to trespassing and paid a fine and costs of $14.30 each.

The trespassing was on the Stanley Walter farm in Elmwood township.

CITY OF FUTURE—Although the odds are great that Cass City will never look exactly like this, George Vilcan, planning expert, presents this map as the ideal way the community should progress.

In the plan only two streets, Main and Seeger, flow through town uninterrupted. All other streets are not through streets. This design is made to discourage traffic in residential areas and to slow down cars that use residential streets.

Note the many walkways and the small park near Brooker and Third streets and the section in the southeast corner that the planner would like to see reserved for a school in the distant future.

Better Sesame Stand By Seed Treatment

Disease Cuts Yield Of Oil-Seed Crop

Use of disease-controlling seed treatments can contribute to higher stands of the oil-seed crop, sesame, according to USDA.

Studies at Beltsville, Md., showed seed treatments can result in a significant reduction of bacterial leaf spot, blight damping off, and other diseases.

Although sesame is one of the world's oldest seed crops, little work has been done anywhere on control of its diseases. In the United States—particularly in the Southeast—diseases resulting in poor stands are a major problem.

Diseases are a lesser problem in the Southwest, largely because rainfall is less.

Sesame is valuable both for its whole seed, which is used by bakers and confectioners, and as a source of a high-quality food oil.

Disease control important if U. S. is to increase sesame production.

Since World War II, the United States has imported between 9 to 24 million pounds of sesame seed annually—about 90 per cent of total U. S. consumption. Improvement of sesame through research can help to provide American farmers with a bigger share of this market, and could offer a profitable alternative crop to farmers operating under acreage restrictions or basic crops.

In greenhouse experiments with untreated sesame seed, growing in soil naturally infested with disease organisms, less than 1 per cent of the seeds grew to a stand... but a 90-fold increase in stand was recorded from seeds treated with protective chemicals.

Exchange Reports On Uruguayan Farm Life

Workers in large Uruguayan dairy farms milk 350 to 400 cows twice daily, all by hand.

Miss Mary Christensen, Torrington, Wyo., an International Farm Youth Exchange to Uruguay says, "The milking on dairy farms is always done by hand. The Uruguayan people believe it is better and more efficient than with a milking machine."

In a letter home, Miss Christensen said that she lived on three dairy farms within 100 miles of Montevideo, Uruguayan capital. She stayed on a 60-cow dairy farm where four men milk the cows in about two hours. Uruguayan dairies cool the milk in cool water, and trucks haul it, in cream cans to Montevideo.

To be sure the cows are milked dry, and to simplify feeding the calves, farmers let the calves nurse their mothers after milking.

For increased milk production, Miss Christensen says farmers supplement "very good" native grasslands with special feeds. A typical supplement is made of ground alfalfa, wheat, corn and barley, mixed with sunflower oil and water.

Sanitary conditions of Uruguayan dairying prevent using raw milk. Some people drink boiled milk or use it for baking. "They use very little milk in the home," she notes, "but they do put some in coffee or tea." Most milk is used for cheese and other dairy products.

Great Lakes Receive Helping Hand

Approximately 80,000 lake trout were planted in lakes Michigan and Superior last June by Conservation Department and U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service workers. Another 800,000 trout were released by Wisconsin and Ontario. The plantings launched a 10-year restoration program for lake trout in the upper Great Lakes where lamprey predation has taken a heavy toll. As groundwork to Michigan's cooperative role in this program, Department workers are again collecting spawn this fall from lake trout in five northern inland lakes. Although much of the stock reared from these eggs will be planted in the Great Lakes, a sizeable portion will be returned to the inland lakes which are tapped.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Facts as the basis of advertising investments

Once upon a time, all business men who advertised were, willing or unwilling, perforce speculators. They couldn't help it, because in those days they had no way of knowing what they would get for their money.

Today, advertising money can be invested on the basis of facts—the information in the reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative, nonprofit association of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers. The ABC has established standards for measuring the circulations of newspapers and periodicals, just as there are definite standards for the weights and measures of merchandise.

This newspaper is a member of ABC. Our circulation is audited by experienced circulation auditors. The facts thus obtained are issued in ABC reports which show how much circulation we have, how it was obtained, where it is distributed, and other information that tells business men what they get for their advertising money when they invest in these columns.

Ask to see a copy of our ABC report.

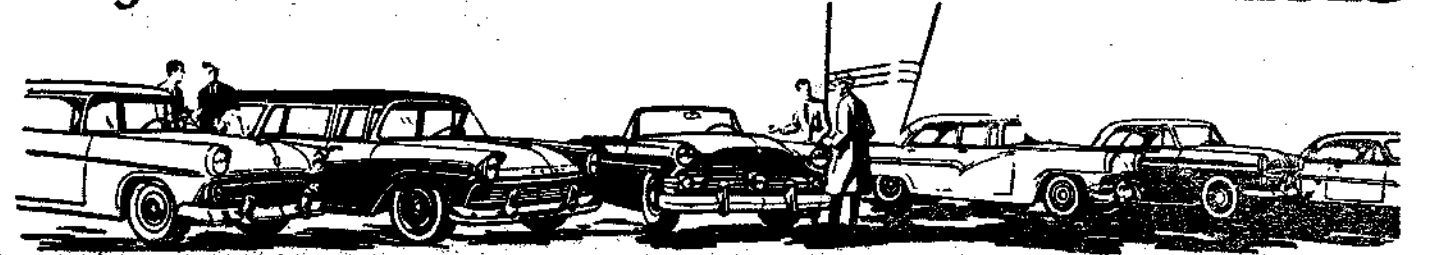

Through the reports issued by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, this newspaper, along with other publisher members of ABC, voluntarily and regularly give the buyers of advertising more verified factual information than is available for any other advertising media at any time.

Rye in Rotation Cuts Bean Disease

On a trip into the northwestern part of the county last week, I called at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Keyser located in Section 13, Wisner township," said Alfred Ballweg, county extension director. While visiting with Mr. Keyser about his crop rotation on his 125-tillable-acre farm, I learned that he is making good use of rye in a rotation consisting of wheat and beans. His wheat acreage like most farmers is small due to the wheat acreage control program.

Mr. Keyser like many other Tuscola county farmers in the heavy soil area of the county is crowding his rotation with a row crop and in this case it is beans. Because of this type of crowded rotation with beans many farmers are experiencing difficulty with root rot and other diseases of beans. Root rot cuts heavily into the yield of beans on many fields each year, said Ballweg.

Mr. Keyser feels that he is helping to reduce his bean disease problem by seeding rye in the fall (usually during September) on the fields that he will put into beans the following year. "I have used rye off and on for 16 years," said Mr. Keyser, "but have used it consistently for the past 8 years."

Mr. Keyser seeds his rye at about 1 1/2 bushels per acre, with a generous application of fertilizer. He plows down the rye during early May in preparation for bean planting. During the past several years, he has used the German variety, Tetra Petkus. This variety of rye makes a slower growth in fall and spring than does the variety Balbo, but is winter hardy and on good soil where it is grown for grain it may reach the diameter of a lead pencil and height of 6 feet.

While there is no definite research, it is felt that rye plowed down as a green crop helps to improve soil structure and soil aeration, said Ballweg.

A lie has to keep moving or the truth will nail it down.

Supervisors at MSU Thursday

The Tuscola County board of supervisors was represented at the Michigan State University supervisors day held on the campus Thursday, October 22.

Supervisors from most counties in the Lower Peninsula were represented as guests of Michigan State University for a look at agricultural research and Extension work carried on at and from the campus of Michigan State University.

Visits were made to various research projects under way in various departments of the University during the forenoon and a parade of research was presented to the group at the livestock pavilion during the afternoon.

Attending from Tuscola county were Milton Hofmeister of Gagetown and Dayton Davis of Vassar, members of the agricultural committee of the board of supervisors; Earl Beutler, supervisor from Wells township, and Grover Bates, supervisor from Tuscola township. Alfred Ballweg, county extension director, accompanied the supervisors to the M. S. U. Supervisors' Day.

Organizing 4-H Winter Projects

Approximately 850 4-H Club members completed 1700 projects during the summer, reports Ed Schrader, County Extension Agent in 4-H Club work. There were 46 4-H Clubs active during the summer, carrying a wide range of projects. Some of the most popular projects were: Gardening, Food Preparation, Food Preservation, Dairy, Livestock, Crops and Horses. One project which has shown a decrease in the state during the past few years, showed an increase in Tuscola county this summer; this project was poultry.

The 4-H summer project had to be completed by October 1, and the projects for the winter season are now being started.

There are 68 4-H Clubs throughout the county where a wide variety of projects is offered. Club work is open to any youngster from 10 to 21.

Christmas Town Still on Must List

Editor's note: This editorial is reprinted from the Saginaw News because many persons connected with the pageant felt that it expressed their sentiments accurately.

Thousands of Michigan folks who found Cass City's annual Christmas Pageant an inspiration marveled also that an undertaking of such ambitious proportions was the strictly local product of the Thumb community's people.

Announcement Wednesday that the pageant would be suspended until 1960, and in future be presented on alternate years, may prove a bit disappointing to many who looked forward to this annual pilgrimage with anticipation.

The fact is, however, that with all the community effort and special talents of its prime movers, this pageant had become simply too much to put together and present, with the high standards its organizers had set, within the space of 12 short months.

After all, the world-renowned Passion Play in the little Bavarian town of Oberammergau was fashioned and presented by villagers only once in each decade. This should afford a measure of comfort to our Cass City friends, and doubtless reassurance that "the even years of Christmas" will bring forth pageantries of new heights.

Between times, Cass City will still remain on the "must" list for all Yuletide tourists who thrill to the spectacle of fairytale lighting—an art which won it the laurel of "Michigan's Christmas Town" before the advent of the pageant.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

The community of Gagetown, through the Gagetown Development Association, has succeeded in raising nearly $60,000 for the construction of a building to house the Michigan Pipe Company, Wes Downing, president of the association, announced this week.

Voters in six districts in the Deford area voted 131-53 to reorganize into one district, at a special election held Monday at the Novesta township hall. The districts united were: Deford, Crawford, Leek, Ferguson, Seelbach and Greenwood.

Three men from the Cass City area are among those who form the November draft quota. They are Donald Hanby, and Maynard Helwig of Cass City and Dale Lich of Gagetown.

Neil Marshall of Grant township was fatally injured Tuesday when a neck yoke of a grain drill, drawn by horses, broke and he was pinned under the drill.

Because of federal aid received on the resurfacing of Main Street, the cost of the work here has dropped from the original estimate of $15,000 to $8,415.

Merlin Adams, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Adams of Colwood, was killed Monday morning when he stepped in front of a gravel truck seven miles northeast of Caro.

Ten Years Ago

Miss Josephine Oleski will reign as queen of the homecoming Friday night when Cass City meets Vassar at the recreation park. Serving as her court will be Miss Marilyn Agax and Miss Marilyn Behr.

The village council is considering a change from the present street lighting in the business district to boulevard lighting. A representative of the Detroit Edison Co. appeared before the council Tuesday night to discuss the change.

Four-year-old Terry Lowell was severely injured Sunday when he fell from a moving car. The Lowell family, from Millington, were en route to the Lloyd Adkin home to attend a family reunion. Terry was taken to Pleasant Home Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reid are attending the state grange meeting at Jackson this week as delegates from Tuscola county.

Officers were elected at the last meeting of the Elmwood Extension group. Mrs. T. C. Hendrick is chairman; Mrs. Leslie Lounsbury, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. William Anker and Mrs. Alvah Hillman, project leaders, and Mrs. Floyd Dodge, council representative.

Cash Crisis, Jobs Still Top Issues

Michigan lawmakers usually have at least a half year to rest up between sessions.

Not so this year. They won't even have to bother to clean out their desks. The marathon 1959 session, longest on record, has taken the legislature to within earshot of the January opening of the 1960 session.

Sounds of '60 already are being heard in the legislative chambers. A busy docket is assured.

Aftermath of the 1959 cash crisis and buildup for the 1960 fall elections will in themselves provide enough kindling to keep political fires going in the Capitol during the winter.

State finances again will be the number one issue.

Investigations during the closing months of this year will provide ammunition for the opening shots of next year's legislative session.

One of the most battle-scarred issues, the state's "economic climate," has been attacked by a committee headed by Sen. Carlisle H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo).

Morris will take his five-man committee to several cities before reporting to the legislature with recommendations for bringing more jobs into Michigan.

The Morris committee won't have to look hard for suggestions. The Republican State Central Committee, Gov. G. Mennen Williams' Committee on Economic Future (COMEF), and George Romney's Citizens for Michigan all have studies under way. The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, which will be organized in December, is sure to have a few words of advice on behalf of businessmen.

Williams already has announced he will propose a state Economic Growth Act, patterned after the Federal Full Employment Act of 1946.

The most-investigated agency in the legislative interim will be the Highway Department. Sen. John H. Stahl (R-Belding) got senate authorization to look into Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie's administrative practices. State controls over trading stamp companies may be proposed by a study committee headed by Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston). Other reports will be due from committees studying everything from agriculture to zoning.

Natural resources administered by the Conservation Department will be in the object of attention in the 1960 Legislature. Conservation officials say it will be a critical year for park temper the air in the room, with cooled or heated air as needed, a new way. They (not just the fur-

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I'm getting a little out of patience with them Japs. They give us the Japanese beetle, then they about ruin our textile business with cheap goods, and now they've got a new one. By cross-breeding they've been raising roosters that'll crow non-stop for 55 seconds. It says here that the first shipment of these alarm clocks for farmers and ranchers reached the West Coast last week.

The good old American rooster is a reasonable bird that has woke up the farmer in this country for 200 years without much complaint. He gives the farmer a ordinary three-second cock-a-doodle-do, waits a decent spell and gives him another three second warning. Two or three of these and he quits and lets a feller git up in peace and quietude.

A rooster that'll stretch his cock-a-doodle-do for 55 seconds non-stop will give half the farmers and ranchers in this country a nervous breakdown afore the year is gone. Between the Japanese beetle and this new rooster business, it looks like they is now out to kill off American agriculture fer good.

I think our Government should put a very high duty on them new Japanese alarm clocks. I aim to write my Congressman about it today. The farmer in this country has enough troubles without starting the morning all shook up by one of them perpetual-motion roosters. The old fashioned three second cock-a-doodle-do was good enough fer George Washington and it ought to be good enough fer us.

That note you got, Mister Editor, about me and my old lady maybe don't git along so good is a mistake. Me and her git along fine. Like all wimmen, she has her little faults. Fer instant, if you take her to town to git somepun, you'll have to find a all-night joint because that'll be the only place open by the time she gits dressed and ready to go. And she talks a heap, too. In fact, some nights she's so tired she can hardly keep her jaws working. And she never gits beyond eyesight of the television set no more. At first, TV just took the place of radio at our house. Now it has just took the place. But you tell your readers, Mister Editor, that we git along fine. One reason we git along so good is that I learned right after the ceremony that a feller shows a great command of the English language to say nothing when his old lady has got the floor.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

A Michigan State farm engineer reminds farmers to clean out rust and sludge around tractor radiators and engine blocks. "A clean, efficient cooling system lets tractors start and run well all winter long," according to Robert White.

Home Extension

Agent's Corner

Frances T. Clark
County Home Demonstration Agent

The 4-H clubs of Tuscola county will have their Achievement Day Tuesday, November 3, at 8 p.m. This year the 4-H Achievement Day will be held in Caro's elementary school auditorium.

The Elmwood and North Elmwood extension groups are sponsoring a tree planting day on November 4, for their recreation park. The women of these two Extension groups are cooperating with the Gagetown Study Club and citizens of the area in equipping this park for teen-agers and adults. This community project is a splendid project for the entire community.

The entire Extension staff will be on hand to help with the tree planting for the park.

Mrs. Anita C. Dean, food and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, will be in Tuscola county on November 5 to teach the Extension project leaders the lesson on "Using Herbs for Flavor". Section I is scheduled for November 5 at 1 p.m. Section II will have their lesson on November 6 at 1 p.m. Both meetings will be held at the Detroit Edison building, Caro.

This time of the year there is a heavy supply of heavy hens coming in to the local markets. This is wonderful because when the weather starts to turn cool, the old-fashioned cool weather foods are tops.

Why is there a large supply of heavy chickens just now? During this time of the year, broiler-chicken producers are busy making room for their growing flocks, so they are selling the older, brooder hens. In the market brooder hens are "stewing chickens" or "heavy hens", weighing 5 pounds and over.

Has it been a long time since you cooked a stewing chicken? Remember, the meat does not have to fall off the bones in order to be tender. For a 5 to 6 pound hen, allow 2 to 2 1/2 hours simmering time. Fork tender is tender. When you buy that stewing chicken, you will probably notice yellow fat showing through the skin over the back and breast bone. This is the way it should look. The tip of the breast bone of your stewing chicken will be firm and stiff, rather than soft and flexible like the breast bone of a fryer.

Also, stewing is not the only way to "do" stewing chicken. It can be put in a covered roasting pan and roasted to tenderness in the oven. In a 350 degree oven, it takes about 2 1/2 hours. A cover on the roasting pan is important. This keeps the steam in the pan, and the chicken cooks more quickly than it will without a cover.

Cooking a stewing chicken gives you a chance to use spices and herbs too. Bay leaf, celery tops, whole peppercorns and thyme make a good start to flavor accents. It also gives you an opportunity to have old-fashioned fried chicken. Simmer the chicken parts until fork tender. Remove from the broth and cook in melted butter until the skin is brown and crisp. The brown drippings and broth make wonderful gravy for mashed potatoes or oven baking powder biscuits.
