Farm Census Half Complete in Area

The 1959 Census of Agriculture is about 50 per cent completed in this area, it was announced today by Field Director John E. Tharaldson of the Census Bureau's regional office at Detroit. The Census official stated that he was well pleased with the cooperation the census takers are receiving from farmers in the area and has hopes of completing the canvass within the next ten days. He pointed out that the field canvass of farms is one of the larger costs of the census and cooperation of farmers in completing questionnaires promptly will be a vital factor in keeping down the final cost of the undertaking.

Owendale Youth Killed in Crash

Funeral services for Richard J. Fritz, 21, of Owendale who was fatally injured in an accident Saturday night, were held at the Latter Day Saint Church of Elkton Wednesday afternoon. The accident occurred when Mr. Fritz lost control of his car at about 7:35 p.m. Saturday and crashed into a tree while driving on Cemetery Road, four and a half miles south of Cass City.

According to Troopers Lawrence Miller and Noel Rowe of the Bad Axe State Police, the car left the road and traveled some 141 feet before hitting the tree. After the collision, the car went another 101 feet before stopping on the road.

Mr. Fritz died at Pleasant Home Hospital at 12:05 Sunday. He suffered a fractured skull and fractures of both legs.

He was born in Grant Township Jan. 27, 1938, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fritz.

Surviving are his parents and a brother, Rexford Fritz, at home. Another brother, Burdette, was killed when his car collided with a train southwest of Cass City four years ago.

Officiating at the final rites was Elder Jay Dickinson. Burial was in Riverside cemetery in Elkton.

Hurry Presents Walbro Progress Report Tuesday

Neil Hurry, sales manager for Walbro Corporation, told of the problems encountered by the company in its early days, its present position in the market and its plans for the future Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Speaking to Cass City Rotarians, Mr. Hurry told the story of the company's beginnings in 1950, when an anticipated contract with Reo Motor Company was cancelled because the company was not known in the field.

He told how production started for Clinton Motor Company and how Lauson was added at a later date and said that the company's aim for carburetor production this year is two million units.

Although this production represents a sizeable share of the market, Mr. Hurry said that plans call for Walbro eventually to make every type small engine carburetor that is built.

Autopulse Division
Mr. Hurry came to Walbro from Electric Autopulse Co., the concern purchased by Walbro in October of 1957. He said that the pump was one of the first patented and preceded the mechanical fuel pump created by Carter. One of its biggest selling points is that it eliminates vapor lock.

Among the customers for the pump are Dodge and International trucks. Another item of the Autopulse division is the manufacture of fuel lifters, Mr. Hurry said.

The fuel pump has world-wide distribution and the company is planning a similar distribution in the replacement carburetor market. "Cass City's name will soon be sent all over the world," Mr. Hurry said.

Plastic Company
Latest concern to come under the company's control is the Arjay Manufacturing Co. in Vassar. The company builds several plastic parts for Walbro and company officials believe that it can become an important addition to the company because of the vast plastic market, Mr. Hurry concluded.

Chest Drive May Fall Short of Quota This Year

With the majority of the envelopes returned it looks as if the Elkland and Novesta Townships Community Chest may fall short of its $7,000 goal, according to figures released this year by Chairman Willis Campbell.

A total of $4,687.70 has been collected. This amount will be boosted considerably by returns from Walbro Corporation and Tusco Products. Judging by past returns these contributions will not be enough for the Chest to reach its goal for the year.

Mr. Campbell pointed out that a solicitor has now been to your home. If you were away, help for the Chest can be given to Mr. Campbell at the school.

Solicitors have been averaging two calls to each home and still have not been able to personally contact everyone, the chairman said.

All solicitors who have not completed their work are urged to do so as soon as possible so the campaign can be tallied and completed, Mr. Campbell said.

Cassland Group At Goodall Home

The Cassland Farm Bureau met Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goodall.

The discussion, led by Maynard McConkey, centered on the United States Supreme Court and the Constitution. Decisions were reached on how far Congress or the Supreme Court should go to take over the powers of law given to the States by the Constitution, and what the aims and purpose of the Supreme Court should be.

Other business included a report given by Mrs. Edward Golding Sr. on the State annual meeting of Farm Bureau Women held at East Lansing and a report by Mrs. Clare Carpenter of the activities of the county women's committee.

The topic for discussion in December is "Inflation - A Tool of Prosperity or Bankruptcy?"

Home and Contents Lost in Area Fire

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a tenant house on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Comment Saturday afternoon on Bay City-Forestville Road.

Lost in the blaze were the clothes of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nicholas and baby and the family's furniture.

The Gagetown Fire Department was called but the fire was beyond control when they arrived. Visiting the Nicholas family at the time of the fire were Mr. and Mrs. Duane Deering. Mr. and Mrs. Comment were in Frankennuth.

The loss was partially covered by insurance. Electricity in the area was off for more than three hours due to the fire.

Bakery Thief Sent To Jackson Prison

Judge T. C. Quinn sentenced Maurice Hawkins of Millington to three to 15 years in Jackson Prison Wednesday for breaking and entering a bakery owned by Al Ewert of Vassar.

His companion in the crime, Arnold Richard Sutphin, Vassar, was sentenced to probation for three years, ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs of $100 and make restitution of $20.

It was the first criminal charge against Sutphin and another in a long series for Hawkins, Friend of the Court John Humm's pre-sentence investigation revealed.

Hawkins was sent to a boys' correctional school by the Probate Court as a minor and admitted stealing automobiles on four different occasions. He was on parole from Jackson Prison when his latest crime was committed.

New Area Hospital Ahead of Schedule

Administrator Oran Hudson estimates that construction of the Cass City Community Hospital is some two weeks ahead of schedule.

Progress has been rapid on construction after an initial delay that saw construction lag as much as six weeks behind schedule.

The roof joist installation has been started and should be completed today. About 10 per cent of the stone facing of the building has been completed and approval of the equipment lists for the hospital has been received from the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction, Hudson reports.

Final approval from the Public Health Service is yet to be received.

Meanwhile, work recently completed or about to be completed includes the interior brick walls in the basement, pouring of the foundation for the smoke stacks and the erection of the emergency entrance slab.

The steel canopy over the emergency entrance will be built very soon and the bases for the parking area lights have been installed.

Best Equipment
Confirmation of a shipping date sometime before the end of the year has been received on another major piece of hospital equipment, the surgical lights.

Purchased through the American Sterilizer Company of Erie, Penn., the light in the major operating room actually is two separate lights mounted on individual tracks and follows the basic principle of two independent light sources for major surgical procedures, Hudson explained.

They are designed to offer better deep cavity illumination to decrease shadow and allow for selection of pattern sizes and a variation of light intensity up to 10,000 foot-candles power.

Another outstanding advantage of the dual light provides the surgeon with illumination which eliminates the need for awkward portable lighting.

"Another advantage of the lights is that they are designed so that heat will not travel along the light beam and dry out tissues during an operation."

A special sterilizable handle allows the surgeon or nurse to move the light during an operation without danger of contamination. The light is filtered for maximum color intensity and ease on the surgeon's eyes.

Another light for the emergency room is good enough so that it is considered and used as a major operating room light in many hospitals.

The special light for the delivery room will meet the exacting demands of physicians and surgeons in delivery, Hudson said.

Total cost of the lights for the three rooms was $3,040 and would have been greater if the administrator had not been able to purchase a used light that met the necessary specifications at a savings of some $800.

BUCK LUCK

Charles Peasley, 14, hunting deer for the first time, shot a spikehorn near Manton shortly after opening of the season Sunday.

Charles Helm was successful on opening day as he bagged a spikehorn hunting near Roscommon.

Earl Harris shot a spikehorn on the first day near Ewen.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Luettke returned home with one of the outstanding success stories of the season when they bagged both a buck and a doe.

Raleigh AuBuchon of Cass City filled his any deer license when he shot a 185-pound doe at 8:30 a.m. Sunday.

Lack of Water Hampers Firemen As Home Burns

Fire razed the home of Albert Curtis in Deford Tuesday afternoon, destroying all but a few small pieces of the owner's belongings.

Firemen were hampered by a lack of water and the blaze, fanned by a strong breeze, soon demolished the home.

Fire equipment from Caro and the fire truck and tank wagon of the Elkland Township Fire Department were unable to save the home although the fire fighters battled the flames for several hours in sub-freezing weather.

Mr. Curtis said that he was in Cass City when notified of the fire which was discovered by his son-in-law, Mr. Fredericks, also of Deford.

Mr. Curtis said that the loss was partially covered by insurance.

Junior Woman's Club Installs New Members

At the monthly meeting of the Junior Woman's Club held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Rodney Krueger, it was decided to hold the annual Christmas party at Bush's Restaurant Dec. 10 at 7 p.m. Dinner will be followed by a gift exchange.

Each member will donate a child's wrapped Christmas gift to be placed in Christmas baskets.

Also decided was an additional piece of playground equipment to be purchased from the proceeds of the sale of birthday calendars.

The members elected to give Gloria Walsh a get well card shower.

Mrs. W. E. Walpole's review of Communism highlighted the program.

Hawks Open Cage Drills as Fifty-six Report for Practice

Fifty-six boys reported for the first day of basketball practice last week as the Cass City Red Hawks started preliminary drills in defense of their Thumb B Conference and District Class B basketball crowns.

Gone from last year's title quintet are such stalwarts as Fred Leeson, Bob Holcomb, Bob Tuckey, Newell Harris, Bill Ruhl, Ron Copeland and Forrest Walpole.

This year the team will be built around members of last year's good junior varsity squad and five lettermen, none of whom were among the starting five last season.

The letter winners are all seniors. They include Dick Kloc and Alex Lopez at guard, Les Severance and Jerry Smith at forward and Roy Tuckey at center.

Coach Irv Claseman is pinning his hopes for another successful season on the members of last year's JV squad. The boys are quick and very aggressive, but will be short. Tallest among them is Paul Holmberg at six feet, two inches. Only other players from the reserves that will stretch to six feet are Gordon Goodall, six feet, one inch, and Marvin McCormick, who is exactly six feet.

Showing great promise at guard last year were Dick Albee and Tim Antnes. They'll be fighting with Alex Lopez and Larry Robinson for the starting nod when the season opens.

Among the forwards whom

Claseman is counting on for help are Gary Hutchinson, Paul Holmberg and Art Randall.

Center candidates include Roy Tuckey, Goodall and McCormick.

Coach Claseman says that it is impossible to predict how this year's squad will do in conference competition. He said that much of the results will depend on how fast the team adapts itself to varsity tempo of play.

There is no indication yet who will be the starting five. The positions are as wide open as they have ever been, Claseman said.

Milk Production Reaches New High; Prices Jump, Too

Class I (drinking milk) sales and average income per farmer both reached new high points in the Detroit market during October.

The monthly market report of Michigan Mills Producers Association showed total Class I sales of 118 1/2 million pounds — up four per cent from last October to the highest volume in the history of the market.

Production, meanwhile, totalled 174 million pounds — down fractionally from the previous month and up about 1 per cent from October 1958.

These trends, and the beginning of a seasonal premium on Class II milk, raised the super-pool or negotiated base price to farmers to $4.54, and the average or blend price to $4.41 — ten cents above a year ago and 43c above the Federal Old Blend price.

With an average production of 515 lbs. per day, each farmer paid under the MMPA agreement with dairies had a gross milk income of $704 for October. MMPA price negotiations accounted for more than 10 per cent of this figure, adding $750,000 to farmers' total income.

The most significant price report in outstate Michigan concerned Lansing, where farmers went from among the lowest-paid in the state two months ago, to the second-highest-paid as a result of MMPA negotiations.

The average price paid farmers in Lansing for October milk was $4.48 per hundred — second only to the Valley markets (Bay City, Saginaw, Mt. Pleasant, and Midland) where the average price was $4.61.

Free transportation in this life is usually on the wrong road.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupé

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, unruffled way of going, from the solid thunk of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came...

BULEN TALKS Cars

ARE YOU "STEERING" FOR TROUBLE? It's a fact that of all the cars we take in on trade very few get by without having a "front end" job done on them.

Then, too, most of us drive over rough country roads at one time or another. And even the best roads have some pretty bad bumps.

Not only will it mean more pleasurable and economical driving but more SAFETY, when you do.

More Students at U of M Starting Teaching Careers

More than twice as many University of Michigan students are starting teaching careers as did five years ago, according to Dean William C. Olson.

"The number of provisional teaching certificates granted to the University's education students has more than doubled—from a total of 387 in 1954 to 950 last year," he says.

"Many factors are motivating students to choose teaching for a career," Dean Olson explains. Among them: (1) growing awareness of the importance of education, (2) increasing economic reward for teachers, (3) uncertainty in the labor market, and (4) increased financial assistance given undergraduate students going into the teaching profession.

In the undergraduate division of the U-M School of Education, a 70 per cent increase in male enrollment has occurred over the past two years, Olson reports. But there still is a majority of coeds in the school.

Graduate interest in education courses is being maintained at a high level. Last year, the University awarded 696 master's degrees and 26 doctoral degrees in education.

"Between 1959 and 1960, it is expected that students obtaining certificates for the teaching of mathematics will increase 81 per cent," the dean states. "The number of those interested in teaching science, other than physics, will increase 42 per cent; language 35 per cent, and English 21 per cent."

Plant Seed Corn With Points Down

Planting seed corn kernels with points down and flat sides parallel to the rows conserves soil moisture and may reduce cost of production by increasing the yield per acre, USDA scientists report.

Precise placement of kernels takes advantage of the natural growth habit of corn leaves. The leaves develop usually on opposite sides of a stalk and at right angles to the flat sides of the seed from which each plant grows.

Known as "orientation planting", the method has been used successfully in cooperative experiments by Federal-State scientists at the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, Urbana.

It was found that "oriented" corn plantings reduced the amount of moisture-consuming sunshine striking the ground by as much as 90 per cent. Thus, more moisture was available to the corn during the critical ear-setting stage than was the case in plots of random-planted corn. In limited tests, they found yields of corn from the oriented plots were as much as 8 to 23 bushels greater per acre than yields from random-planted plots.

Corn planted by the orientation method grows with its leaves in fan-like or elliptical formation at right angles to each side of a row.

DOUGHNUTS WITH A DIFFERENCE!

New yeast-raised Sugar 'N Spice Doughnuts with an unusual touch of orange are delicious and festive fare for holiday parties. Team them with ambrosial apple cider to make food fit for the gods—and guests!

- SUGAR 'N SPICE DOUGHNUTS
1 cup milk
1/4 cup margarine or butter
1/2 cup light brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup warm (not hot) water
1 package of cake yeast, active dry or compressed
2 eggs, well beaten
2 teaspoons nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
5 1/2 cups sifted flour

Scald milk. Stir in margarine, light brown sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast and stir until dissolved. Add eggs, spices, orange rind and lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in flour. Turn out onto lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Shape into ball. Place in greased bowl and brush top with soft shortening. Cover with dampened cloth and let rise in warm place (85°) until double in bulk, about 1 1/2 hours. Turn out on lightly floured board and roll out 1/2 inch thick. Cut with 1 1/2 or 2-inch biscuit cutter. Place on baking sheet, cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until double, about 30 minutes. Fry 3 or 4 at a time in hot fat (365°) about 3 minutes. Drain on paper toweling; sugar while warm. Makes 4 dozen.

While in Canada they will make a stop at the Welland Canal (Seaway) and Niagara Falls, then on to New York City. A visit to the United Nations and Chinatown are just two of the many places they will visit while in New York City.

From New York City, they will go to Philadelphia for a sight-seeing tour, and return back to Caro via the Pennsylvania-Ohio Turnpike.

I find that women as well as men are very waistline conscious these days. Did you realize that ten million Americans waste 500 million dollars a year on quack diets, fake pills and the junk of non-scientific medicine men? There are so many other better ways this money could be used! Such as additional education, travel and better food just to list a few ways the money could have been used.

Anyone really interested in losing weight successfully should consider the following factors before going on a diet: (1) Consult your doctor. (2) Have the desire to lose weight badly enough to follow through. (3) The amount and rate of weight reduction should be determined by a doctor or nutritionist. (4) The reducing diet should be adequate in protein, minerals and vitamins, even though it is low in calories. (5) The new reduced weight should be maintained by controlling future calorie intake.

A low calorie diet has been developed and tested at Michigan State University and Cornell University. This diet is adequate in all the dietary essentials except energy. It is high in protein, moderate in fat and contains enough carbohydrates to supply 1500 calories each day. Here is the low calorie diet:

Breakfast: one-half cup orange or grapefruit juice, 1 cooked egg, 1 slice bread, 1 teaspoon fat and 1 cup skim milk.

The noon meal: 4-ounce broiled beef patty, two-thirds cup green or yellow vegetable with 1 teaspoon fat, 1 medium-size fresh fruit and 1 cup skim milk.

Evening meal: 4-ounce serving of broiled fish or lean beef or lamb, two-thirds cup cooked yellow or green vegetable with 1 teaspoon fat, small serving-canned or fresh fruit in light syrup and 1 cup skim milk.

Coffee and tea may be used in this diet without cream or sugar. Alcoholic or sweetened beverages are to be avoided because they contribute calories without adding vitamins or minerals.

Anyone interested in bulletins to help with a reducing diet may call my office, OS 3-3161, or come in and see me.

Spring will be coming and The Want Ads are Newsy too.

State Talks Economy, But No Cost Cuts Expected in Budget

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Michigan's next budget is bound to be a whopper.

Even while the legislature searched for a tax program to balance the 1959-60 budget, state agencies were completing requests for their 1960-61 allowances from Michigan taxpayers.

The money pinch has made agencies economy conscious the last few months; but not so much so that there has been a widespread clamor for budget cuts by agencies themselves.

A half billion dollar general fund budget is expected to be sought by the agencies. Mental health and education will be the most costly items.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and the legislature will be under tremendous pressure when they review all agency requests. The Governor claims the current budget provides for the most rigid and severe economy, even before curtailments brought on by the cash crisis.

Department heads will argue that three years of "austerity" mean the next budget should be larger than would have been sought had the state been able to keep pace with demands for service. On the other hand, there are those in the legislature who will argue that now more than ever there is need for further economies. They want to deal with inefficiencies caused by civil service regulations, overstaffing, long coffee breaks, etc.

Words from the past by Williams are expected to be repeated in the Governor's budget message. For the past three years he has introduced his budget much the same way:

"If this budget appears to be large, let us remember that we are paying not only tomorrow's bills, but the bills we have accumulated through yesterday's neglect."

Further consolidations will be recommended to the legislature by the Governor's advisory council on reorganization.

Among proposals considered by the council:

1. Suggestions to create a central agency to coordinate the work of the various professional and vocational licensing boards now operating as separate departments.
 2. Let the Department of Public Instruction do the work of some state educational boards and commissions.
 3. Give the Conservation Commission jurisdiction over the Mackinac Island state park.
- It won't be easy, but it seldom is to bring about change in government. The "ins" are usually better entrenched, work harder at resisting, and have more at stake than those seeking the change.

Powerful lobby interests can be expected to oppose any moves that would result in a loss of stature for any professional licensing boards.

A furor was raised when Williams proposed the merging of State Board of Alcoholism with the Health Department. The Senate vetoed the proposal.

What ever happened to the six reorganization plans approved by the legislature earlier this year? These plans, which included consolidations in the fields of revenue-collecting, health and welfare, were drafted to go into effect Jan. 1, 1960. But technically they cannot become effective until 90 days after the 1959 legislative adjourns. Since we are already within 90 days of Jan. 1, a new confusion has been created.

Encouraging signs have emerged from all the clouds of controversy about Michigan's business climate.

William M. Day, president of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and chairman of the Economic Development Commission, said the state's success in getting new industry the first nine months of the year was encouraging.

Seventeen companies on the Economic Development Department's list of prospects located plants in Michigan during the period. The department said it was "working on" 50 other prospects.

Community cooperation is a major factor in luring new industry to Michigan. The state has 100 communities prepared to offer financial assistance, and 39 can establish planned industrial sites.

More than 300 Michigan newspapers helped develop a spirit of community cooperation by donating space for a series of industrial promotion ads.

Michigan's first snow brought with it predictions that big things are ahead this season for winter sports.

Michigan is counting on a 15-million-dollar ski season. The state has 73 winter sports areas, many of them with their own snowmaking machines.

This year's theme: "Ski and Stay."

State officials are hoping the ski crowd will include visiting industrialists who will consider Michigan as a location for plant expansion.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
November has the honor of being the only month in the year with a "Week" that makes sense. Back in 1955 they started observing National Long Underwear Week around the middle of November.

It was about time! A kid that ain't wore his long handles or long Johns from October to May ain't been brought up right. I been figgering fer a long time that all this virus stuff we've been having the last few years is on account of folks not wearing their long handles in the winter time. There ain't nothing that can beat 'em fer keeping the cold out and the heat in during a rough winter.

Of course, they had to go and change the pattern a little bit. Instead of making 'em with the flap seat and famous trap door, they're making 'em now in two pieces. I reckon the two-piece kind is better'n none.

When I was a boy nobody but city slickers went without his long underwear in winter. A feller that didn't wear long underwear was a suspicious character in the community. We wouldn't trust him as far as a doodlebug could bore a hole in a brass door knob.

I see where one outfit, the R. Y. Cooper Manufacturing concern, says they'll sell 750,000 dozen suits of long underwear this year. I reckon things is a little better'n I was figgering.

If we can get this country back into long underwear, we'll be getting it back to basic thinking and sound performance. Of course, I know that most of the present generation don't know what long handles or long Johns is anymore. Things has moved along so fast that even a heap of country folks don't wear 'em no more. In fact, things has moved along even out in the country to the point where the farmer's daughter now tells the jokes to the traveling salesman.

Our preacher took his text Sunday from old Ben Franklin. Some of the folks didn't like him not taking it from the Bible, but anyhow he took it from Ben: "Spend half your time looking after your own business, and the other half letting other people's business alone." He wasn't aiming at me. The only business I look after is mine and a few of my close neighbors. But there was a heap of folks there Sunday that needed that sermon mighty bad.

He also talked a spell about people being humble. He said the meek inherited the earth just like the Bible says. I got to believe my preacher, Mister Editor, but in 1959 it looks like ever time the meek inherits somepun, the unmeek takes a mortgage on it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim
