

Schelke's Clutch Shooting Nets Title for Bad Axe

In one of the finest exhibitions of clutch shooting ever seen in Thumb district tournament play, Larry Schelke, Bad Axe center, sunk a pair of free throws after the whistle had blown ending the game to tie the score for his team and make the Hatchets eventual winner in overtime, 68-69, Saturday at Caro High School.

The final whistle had blown when the Bad Axe youth calmly sunk the two free throws that threw the game into a tie at the end of regulation time, 59-59.

From then on it was no contest as the Hatchets poured in nine points while holding Cass City scoreless.

Although it was the dramatic free throws that enabled Bad Axe to upset the Hawks as district champions, the game was actually lost much earlier.

When Gary Hutchinson, Roy Tuckey and Dick Kloc left the game via the foul route it was a question of which would go first... the time on the clock or Cass City's lead.

In the first quarter Cass City went into an early lead paced by the shooting of Tuckey, who netted nine points, and at the end of the quarter was in front, 18-12. They continued their lead well into the second period until Hutchinson and Tuckey were forced to the bench with three fouls.

The Hatchets immediately started to close the gap and were behind by only a point, 30-29. In the third quarter neither team was able to score well and the Hatchets' one-point advantage led the score at 40 all going into the final period.

Cass City rallied at the start of the final period and ran up a lead as much as nine points early in the quarter. With as little as three minutes to go they were ahead by as much as seven points. But when their regulars were forced to leave with fouls they closed the gap and set the stage for the last second heroics by Schelke.

Tuckey poured in 19 points to lead all scorers. Hutchinson had 13 and Randall 11. Tageson scored 15 for Bad Axe and Schelke netted 14.

A rugged defense moved Cass City into the finals of the district class B basketball tournament Thursday night when they topped Vassar in a spine tingling game that was not decided until the final whistle, 48-45.

It was an extremely satisfying victory for the Hawks. Vassar was regarded as the team to beat in the tourney and had gone undefeated since the middle of February when they were topped by Cass City. Since that defeat they whipped every team in the league.

It was truly a team victory for the Hawks. The rebounding of Roy Tuckey and the ball handling of Tim Anthes were impressive... but equally valuable were the key rebounds and 10 points contributed by Art Randall. Gary Hutchinson missed a couple of easy lay-ups in the third period, but canned another try late in the game to preserve the victory for the Hawks. It was a key bucket.

Cass City opened the game with a spurt that carried them into an eight-point lead and they led throughout the contest although several times in the last half the Vulcans pulled to within a point. But each time the Hawks managed to score to keep their lead.

With Randall hitting a pair of buckets and Hutchinson adding seven points, the Hawks scored 15 points in the opening period while Vassar hit 12.

The Hawks matched their total in the second quarter and Vassar counted 13 to give Cass City a five-point, 30-25, lead at intermission.

The Hawks' lead varied from two points to seven points in the third quarter. At the end of the period the lead was just three points, 42-39.

With a minute and a half to go in the game Cass City's lead was cut to a single point. Ball control paid off for the Hawks and resulted in an easy lay-up for the Hawks and a three-point lead.

The Vulcans came charging back to score, but were detected traveling. A moment later they intercepted the ball again and sunk another bucket but...

Supervisors to Study Tuscola County Insurance

A question of liability insurance to cover Mr. Vaskowitz, who will be the county dog catcher on a part time basis, prompted supervisors to instruct the committee on bonds and insurance to make a study of all the insurance carried by the county.

The action occurred Monday at the regular meeting of the board at the courthouse in Caro.

The supervisors want to be sure that the county carries liability insurance on all persons doing county work.

The committee will report its findings to the board.

Salary Problem

Members of the board decided to get a legal ruling from the attorney general at Lansing to find out whether the county's method of paying road commissioners is legal. At the present, members are paid a salary and a special payment for extra meetings, plus a mileage allowance.

State auditors say that they should only be given the salary. Since the term of office of a commissioner is for six years and a new man comes on the board every two years, supervisors were reluctant to increase the wages of one of the board and not the other two.

Wages for members are frozen until election. Raising each member at election time would mean that one member would serve for four years and another for two years for wages less than the most recently elected member.

Chairman Archie Hicks of Deford said that since Monday was probably his last meeting as chairman of the board that he wanted to thank the supervisors for their cooperation during the year.

He was given a rising vote of thanks by the board.

Law Enforcement Group at Bush's

A meeting of the Saginaw Valley Law Enforcement Officers Association was held Tuesday night at Bush's Restaurant. Some 30 executive officers discussed mutual problems in a round table discussion following a dinner.

Among persons attending were Police Chief Bill Wood, Cliff Ryan, C. R. Hunt and Ed Anthes.

From the Editor's Corner

The new airport in Cass City probably doesn't interest Jack Ferguson of Snover too much. Tuesday he flew his ski equipped small plane to the edge of town and landed in a field on the farm of Mrs. Ralph Loney... stayed awhile and then took off again.

Helen Stevens, school nurse and Cass City health officer, pointed out the hazards of polio. In the past two years, according to Dr. Albert Heustis, state health commissioner, there have been 702 new cases of crippling polio. Mrs. Stevens says that polio is not a children's disease and can strike anyone. One of the 39 fatal victims in 1958 was a man 62 years old.

Only about 20 per cent of the adults in Michigan and about half of the children have had the shots even though it has been definitely established that vaccination prevents polio.

Mrs. Stevens says that if the series of shots is started now, two can be administered before the dangerous summer season.

Slate Zone Hearing Tuesday at School

Perhaps no proposed new regulation in local history has caused as much confusion or has been as generally misunderstood as has the proposed new zoning law suggested by George Vilcan, planning consultant.

One individual believed that the regulations would not permit him as a home owner to enlarge or change his home in a residential district... another thought that it would prohibit the selling of his business. Both ideas were erroneous.

The right answer to these and all other questions regarding the new zoning will be answered Tuesday evening at the Cass City Elementary School Gym when Mr. Vilcan will be present at the formal hearing.

After the hearing the zoning regulations will not automatically become law. They will go into effect only after they have been adopted by the council and published.

However, it is likely that the results of the hearing will be considered by the village council when they consider passing the zoning regulations at their regular meeting following the hearing.

Name Trustees At First Annual Hospital Meeting

Some 50 persons attended the first annual meeting of the Hills and Dales General Hospital Tuesday night at Cass City High School and re-elected the nine trustees that had served on the board prior to the forming of the non-profit corporation.

There were four candidates for the three vacancies for a one-year term on the board. George Jacoby, Mrs. James Champion and Mrs. Edwin Fritz won over Duane Gettel of Kingtown.

There was no competition for the remainder of the board positions. Named for two-year terms were Mrs. Sherwood Rice Jr., Alex Ross and Archie McLachlan. Serving for three years will be M. B. Auten, John Haire and James Bauer.

In a meeting of the board following the annual meeting, officers were elected.

John Haire is president. Mrs. Doris Fritz, vice-president; M. B. Auten, treasurer, and Mrs. James Champion, secretary.

Two Hawk Cagers On All-League Dream Team

Cass City placed two men on the 10-man Thumb B All Conference basketball team, named last week by coaches in the conference.

Honored were Gary Hutchinson and Roy Tuckey. Bad Axe placed two players on the dream squad. Bill Tageson, the all everything for the Hatchets, was a cinch choice. Doug Logan, accurate outcourt shot for the Hatchets, also made the grade.

Frankenmuth was represented by the only sophomore on the squad, Bert Bleke. Dick Hamilton, the only bright spot on a weak squad for Caro, was selected, as was Ole Olsen, the plucky little guard from Sandusky.

Vassar placed two men on the squad. Tom Temple, clever ball handling floor man for the Vulcans, and Mike Zwerk were the selections.

Rounding out the first team was Jack Caister, big, rugged center from Marlette.

Honorable Mention

One Cass City player, Tim Anthes, was selected for honorable mention.

Others and the teams they play for were: Fred Barkholtz, Bad Axe; Cliff Beckham, Vassar; Richard Brown and Jim Caister, Marlette; Randy Heine, Frankenmuth; Jim Horwath and Bill Johnson, Vassar; Tom Leach, Frankenmuth, and Larry Schelke, Bad Axe.

TIMELY TIPS ON TIRES

One thing that makes us especially proud is the number of people who buy their first used car from us, let us service it, and then as they move up, come back to buy newer cars from us.

Servicing by good mechanics is the most important single point in preserving the value of a car. But there is so much an owner can do himself to get more mileage and more dollars out of his car.

Take the simple little matter of keeping tires properly inflated.

Tires that are overinflated wear out quickly in the middle of the tread; Underinflation is just as bad. It brings overheating which causes the layers of fabric inside the tire to separate.

Wandering and weaving on the road can be caused by underinflation, and a pull to one side can result from unequal inflation on the front tires or from not having matched treads. Underinflated tires can cause a shimmy, too.

All this worry can be saved by nothing more, complicated than checking your tire pressure. When you've been running around town, pressure should be no more than three pounds above the recommended cool pressure; on the open highway five pounds above is all right.

These are the important little things you'll learn by talking to the people on our lot and in our service department. When something really goes wrong, those mechanics have the machinery and the know-how to fix it. But like any good doctor, when nothing is really wrong, they'll tell you.

BETTER-BRAKES...BUICK '60

BRAKES HATE HEAT!

Buick's fin-cooled Aluminum Drums get rid of heat quicker so you're safer!

Brakes generate their own worst enemy—terrible heat. Excessive heat is bad because it may cause brakes to lose part of their effectiveness. So the faster you can dissipate it, the better off you are.

Buick gets rid of heat faster by using fin-cooled brake drums. On the front wheels, where most of the braking is done, the drums are aluminum. They cool more to make but they shrug off heat much faster than drums made of ordinary metal. Buick is the only American car that makes them standard, at no extra cost, because you will be safer with them.

Best time to buy a Buick '60 is now because you will get top dollar on your old car and have a wide selection of colors and body styles from which to choose. You can own a quality Buick for less than you might think, and your Buick Dealer can arrange terms to suit your budget.

OIL AND HERBS mix with ancient philosophy. Ancient Greece—Even the philosophy of ancient Greece could not resolve the interminable question of what to do about dandruff (though scaling scalp certainly had no such official name in those days). In desperation, the Greeks tried the more practical approach of mixing oils and herbs. The mixture was kept in a clay pitcher and at an appointed hour was poured over the scalp by slaves. Shallow, shell-shaped basins were used, so that the oil could be easily scooped out for reapplication. Because washing was infrequent, the oil saturated the hair and demanded simple, classic hair styles. However, nothing was achieved in the way of a dandruff cure. Dandruff treatment complete with set, $2.00 at Helen's Beauty Salon. Personalized hair styling by Helen, Leota and Barbara. Phone 309W. 6469 Main. 3-10-3

The new Tudor and Fordor Falcon Wagons—tenth and seventh wonders of the Ford wagon world!

America's station wagon specialists complete the world's largest wagon family with TWO NEW-SIZE wagons. They're Falcons in size and savings—and full-fledged Ford wagon wonders when it comes to work! With 2 feet less car to manage, you're a genius at solving traffic problems—a past master at parking.

Falcon Wagons are priced up to $154 less than other 6-passenger compact wagons. The 2-door model is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger wagon.*

Falcon gives the best gas mileage of any American-built wagon, on regular fuel. You can go up to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline! You get other Falcon savings, too. Repairs cost less. Change oil only once in 4,000 miles. And the Falcon's aluminum muffler normally lasts twice as long as the ordinary kind.

Longest load floor in the compact field is yours in a Falcon. It's over 7 ft. long, with cargo space totaling more than 76 cubic feet!

Full-six-passenger room, too, because Falcon Wagons are built for people. There's room for hats, hips and legs. Come see these newest wonders from the Ford wagon world!

Judge Louis C. Cramton, elected last November to fill the vacancy in the Tuscola-Lapeer circuit, was nominated by the Republican party to succeed himself in that position in the primary election Monday. He defeated his opponent, Theron Atwood, by over 1000 votes.

Five years of experimental work with fertilizers under farm conditions on the John Reagh farm have proved to the soils department at Michigan State College that dollars invested in extra plant foods yield remarkable returns on the investment.

A 36-32 victory over Harbor Beach and a 55-22 triumph over Pigeon earned another district championship for Cass City and the right to defend their regional title. Cass City will meet Yale in the first round of the Lapeer tournament.

Thirty-five Years Ago
The contest for the office of village clerk brought out 347 voters Monday. Miss Lura De-success.

Witt, a sticker candidate, defeated Mrs. Mary Moore, the caucus candidate. Other officers elected were: president, John Caldwell; treasurer, Philo Rice; assessor, Harry Hunt, and trustees for two years, M. B. Auten, G. A. Tindale and Roy Bricker. Frank Meredith of Argyle captured five two-month-old wolves in a wood on his farm last week.

A. E. Goodall of Cass City was elected as a director of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau at the annual meeting Tuesday.

Jacob Maier, who had been engaged in the photography business in Cass City for 45 years, died Tuesday at his home. Howard Retherford of Deford was elected president of the County Association of Farmers' Clubs in a meeting at Caro Thursday.

Thieves made off with 85 chickens from the flock of John Gordon in Greenleaf township Friday night. Evidence revealed that the thieves stopped at a vacant house on the next farm and enjoyed a chicken dinner.

TIP TO MOTORISTS
Try to remember that the facts are all on the side of the train in an argument with an automobile.

STEPPING STONES
Beware of the fellow who is always making new friends—it's a sign his old friends are on to him.

PROGRESS
In this era of modern gadgets and push-buttons an escalator may soon replace the ladder of voters Monday. Miss Lura De-success.

Green Stamps
MICHIGAN
PRICES DOWN!

Like the ads of local merchants that you see in this newspaper, S&H Green Stamps boost business. At the same time they help keep prices down.

Here is why: When a store sells more, it can sell for less, since bigger volume brings lower costs.

Stores that use S&H Green Stamps must sell competitively. Michigan housewives are expert shoppers. They read the ads. They check and compare prices. And they can't be fooled!

Trading stamps are being saved today by two out of three American families—about 35 million in all. And their use is still growing in this and other States.

For the best values, shop at the stores in your community that give S&H Green Stamps.

State Purchasing Director Reared in Cass City

J. Stanley Bien, director of State purchasing, is a Cass City High School graduate and his remembrances of the village were told to Steve Spilos, newsman with the Northeast Detroit.

Bien's department has eight buyers and a Standards Engineer which spends $35 million annually for more than 100,000 items.

His account of his early years in Cass City recalls much of the village's pioneer history. These are some of the highlights as recorded by Spilos in his article.

"He was born on Dec. 8, 1892, in a log cabin on a farm near Bay Port, Michigan. A few years later, his father, William Henry, died and his mother, Salome, took her three small sons and moved in with her father, John Striffler.

"John was one of the first seven settlers in the Cass City area, and to clear his land he cut down many beautiful white pine trees. He tapped 600 maple trees; had quite a number of milking cows and western cattle, which grazed near the Cass River, and he raised sorghum.

"The sorghum mill was wedged into a hillside and was operated by horse power. The syrup was heated and drained off into barrels and the scum was ladled off into a bucket and fed to the pigs. 'Sometimes it fermented,' Bien laughed, 'and you never saw anything as funny as those pigs. They were drunker'n a lord.'

"Bien was named John, after his grandfather, but he shortened it to J, when someone told him it would give him prestige.

"Bien graduated from Cass City High School. His younger brother, Bill, also graduated from Cass City High School and they both decided to attend the Normal School of Physical Education in Battle Creek, where Bien hurt his knee in a football game with Olivet College.

"This ended his physical education and the two brothers transferred to the teachers' college in Kalamazoo. Ruth Rebecca Mumby of Bronson Methodist Hospital became Bien's wife and they now have two daughters and five grandchildren.

"Until he went to work as supervisor of procurement for the State Highway Department under Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner in 1937, he had many jobs. He was superintendent of the Webberville schools; a Model T, fuel oil, Fuller Brush and Frigidaire salesman; an advertising manager for the Dudley Paper Company, and, during WPA days, worked as a buyer for the procurement division of the U. S. Treasury."

Elmwood Group at Beardsley Home

Eleven members and one guest were present Tuesday afternoon when the Elmwood Home Demonstration group met with Mrs. Ernest Beardsley, Mrs. Otto Rusko was the assistant hostess.

Mrs. William Anker presided over the business meeting and members answered roll call by naming their idea of the most beautiful spot in Michigan.

Mrs. Grover Laurie and Mrs. Anker presented the lesson, "Property Rights."

An all-day meeting with Mrs. Otto Rusko is scheduled for March 29th.

Schedule Feedlot Tour Mar. 17

Tuscola county farmers interested in beef cattle feeding are invited to attend the feedlot tour Thursday, Mar. 17, which will include two farms, starting at 1:30 p.m.

At 1:30 persons attending will be at the Ellis Aldrich farm, a mile north and three-quarters of a mile west of Fairgrove. The first major sugar beet top silage feeding program in the Thumb will be examined.

One-hundred and twenty-five quality Hereford steers were put on feed Sept. 30 and fed beet top silage made from 40 acres of beets and 200 pounds ground corn cob per ton of silage. Both corn and beet silage fed with 32 per cent supplement. The steers are to be ready for June and July market. All feed is handled mechanically.

At 3 p.m. the Frank Fuller farm feedlot, a mile east of M-81 on Gerou Road will be visited. A mixed lot of steers are on feed. A very practical feeding arrangement that makes use of the old barn for feed storage, automatic waterer, corn silage and 20 per cent supplement will be seen.

Hugh Henderson, extension specialist in animal husbandry at Michigan State, will attend and answer questions. Everyone is invited to attend either one or both of the tour stops.

Tuscola county has the potential for a big increase in cattle feeding, said Alfred Ballweg, county extension director. It's a way to put extra men hours to productive use.

MERCHANTS LEAGUE

The winners built up slight margins in each of the first three periods and held on for the victory despite a 17-11 margin for Tuckey's in the last quarter.

The last games of the regular season will be played tonight (Thursday) and the results will determine the league champion.

The standings:

Mr. Brookman stayed with a Dutch doctor in an apartment and was fortunate enough to be taken on a trip to Switzerland and to spend a week at a youth camp on an island in the North Sea. The youth camp trip was paid for by the doctor.

Temperatures reached 125 degrees Fahrenheit in Holland and the language barrier was bothersome when Mr. Brookman first arrived.

He said that the Dutch have adopted "okay" and "come on" (learned from the American soldiers) into their language.

One of the best results of the program, the guest speaker believes, is that the program is helping to break down prejudice in Holland and the United States.

Group II served the dinner with Mrs. Leo Tracy and Mrs. Fred Neitzel, co-chairmen. Mrs. Avon Boag led devotions and the program chairman for the evening was Mrs. Delbert Rawson. The topic was "Light for Today's Children."

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. A. Brookman of Birmingham, Mrs. A. O. Purdy and Mrs. James Parker of Caro and Mrs. Jack Connell of Cho.

Family Program To Feature Africa

A special church family program featuring a discussion of Africa will highlight the next five Sundays in Lent, the Rev. John Fish, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, announced this week.

Starting at 4 p.m. the programs will be concluded with a supper. Persons attending will be divided into three classes. Children will be directed by Mrs. James A. Milligan. A youth class will be under the direction of Mrs. K. L. MacKae.

The adult class will include a film, "The Challenge of Africa," scheduled for Mar. 13.

Other adult programs in the series will include a dramatic reading, "Cry, the Beloved Country," a panel presentation of the political situation in Africa and reports of the church's work on the African continent.

Chairmen for the series include: Mrs. Melvin Vender, worship; Mrs. Ella Price, music; and Mrs. Lewis Bishop, supper. A care group for younger children will be provided.

Letter to Editor

Hollywood, Fla.

Dear Editor

I am sending $6.00 for two years for the Cass City Chronicle paper. I like it very much. I have been receiving the Chronicle since 1938 so please send it to me again.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Julia Lenard

People down on their luck find lots of arguments to prove it.

THE OTHER FELLOW

Whether a joke is good or bad seems to be the direction in which it is pointed.

Barren Chapter in Forest Story

This stump vista stands as a solemn reminder of the timber harvests during the late 1800s and the devastating forest fires that followed. This scene recaptures northern Michigan as it looked, by and large, at the turn of the century after logging operations had virtually stripped its lands of virgin pine and some years, razed more than a million acres. Effects of this era are still felt today and many of the Conservation Department's programs center around repairing the damage they caused or using the benefits they provided.

Meager Pay Most Important Reason for Nurse Shortage

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Angels of mercy in Michigan would like a little more earthly goods to accompany the "heavenly accolade." In short, nurses are looking around and deciding that they could use a little mercy themselves when it comes to salaries.

Best figures available from state government and the Michigan State Nurses Association indicate that in out-state Michigan starting salary for nurses (and this may mean a woman with up to 10 years experience) is between $3,000 and $3,600 per year. It is somewhat higher in metropolitan areas.

This is substantially below starting salaries for teachers. Average starting salary for a teacher out-state is about $4,000, estimates the State Department of Public Instruction. Teachers start at about $4,500 in large cities and suburbs.

Nurses point out that they work 12 months a year compared to the teacher's 10; and that their work week rotates around seven days including all holidays.

Meager wages are a major factor in an increasingly acute shortage of nurses, Patricia Walsh, president of Michigan State Nurses Association, told key members of that organization. A recruitment problem is rapidly developing because other fields which require much less preparation pay much higher salaries. She said that girls who consider the income they can expect after three or four years of rigorous nursing training are more and more inclined to go into other fields where wages are higher and working hours more pleasant.

"First priority in MSNA for 1960 is higher salaries," stated Miss Walsh. The registered nurses organization realizes their success will depend in large part upon public support they can stimulate.

Members seemed a little surprised at their early experience which indicated that the public has a certain sympathy for their position but no inclination to pay higher medical bills without resistance. They found that Mr. Citizen thinks his bill for doctors, hospitals, drugs and medical insurance is increasing too rapidly as it is.

"Everyone I've talked to blasts the doctors," reported one person.

Support of the M. D.'s will be very important to the R.N. cause. Nearly all 20,000 registered nurses in Michigan work directly for a doctor, in a hospital controlled by doctors or indirectly under the supervision of a doctor.

There are 15,000 more registered nurses who are not working in the medical profession. Some of these have married and are raising families. Others left for higher wages and better working conditions in other fields, says MSNA. The nurses organization is sure that many of this group could be interested in returning to the patient's bedside if the pay schedule were realistic.

"The seriousness of the growing nurse shortage will depend upon how fast something is done to make the profession one where a woman can perform her important duties proudly and for an adequate salary," said Miss Walsh. "Unless something happens to bring this about, conditions will worsen."

More than 100 Michigan communities now have industrial development corporations to construct buildings for sale or lease to industry they invite to move in. At least 20 have actually played a part in building plants this last year.

Don C. Weeks, director of the Michigan Economic Development Department, says that the greatest service a state development agency can perform is to help communities do a better job helping themselves, and he points with pleasure to the success record of many Michigan communities.

Here is a list of fruitful accomplishments:

South Haven built a new plant for the Loveloy Flexible Coupling Co. of Chicago. This is the fourth industrial building project undertaken in that city in recent years.

The Owosso Development Organization built two additional factory buildings in 1959, one for the Shiawassee Metal Finishing Company and the other for the Owosso Container Company. Muskegon, which has a record of assistance to industry going back many years, added another accomplishment during 1959 by assisting in the construction of Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company's new automatic pinsetter production facility.

The village of Elk Rapids, which obtains basic financing through one-dollar-a-week contributions from members of a development corporation, built its fourth new factory building last year. This plant was constructed for the Colton division of Snyder Tool Company of Detroit, as a facility in which to make precision machinery for use by pharmaceutical manufacturers.

Among other communities which took part in constructing new plants through industrial development corporations or similar organizations in 1959 were: Berrien Springs which built a new plant for the Wellcraft Company of New Carlisle, Indiana; Brown City for Frank Motor Homes, Inc.; Marysville for Pre-Cast Concrete Company; Caro for Weldments-Pacific Inc.; Inlay City for Federal Press Steel Company; Kingston for Marlette Kingston Enterprises, Inc.; Cadillac for Plymouth Industries; Lexington for Redall Industries; Marlette for Metalcraft Inc.; Rogers City for Nicolay Dancy Company; Traverse City for Arca Products Co.; Crystal Falls for Cloverland Metal Fabricators Inc.; West Branch for Evans Products Company; Sandusky for the Elkton Box Company, and Gagetown for C & B Industries.

Although this list of communities is probably not complete, it gives an indication of the widespread interest by development groups throughout the state in the local industrial development corporation as a device for assisting industries already located in the community or in bringing in new industries which also contribute to the area's growth.

Give a lazy man the hot-foot—he'll need no other excuse to move.

Our Michigan

Soo Locks Most Important in World

Unequaled anywhere else in the world in navigational importance are the famous locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

Through these tremendous shipping facilities . . . routing huge lake freighters and passenger ships around the 22-foot fall of the St. Mary's river rapids in an eight-month Great Lakes navigation season than either the Panama or Suez canals handle in a full year . . . and more than twice the tonnage passing through the Panama canal alone. The locks serve an average of 90 vessels a day . . . 70 of them freighters. Illustrative of their importance, a modern lake freighter carries about 15,000 tons of cargo—equal to 300 rail-way carloads. And some of the newer boats on the lakes are designed to carry 19,000 tons or more.

Opening of the billion-dollar St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959 put Michigan's 40 lake ports on one of the main routes of world trade.

Ours is the principal maritime state on the nation's new Fourth Seacoast, boasting more million-ton ports than any other state. Among our maritime advantages are our many natural harbors, our long coastline and our favored location in America's industrial heartland.

Now, with the Seaway, 80 per cent of the world's merchant fleet can reach our harbors at Detroit, Port Huron, Muskegon, Bay City, Escanaba and other port towns along our 3,121-mile Great Lakes shoreline.

Detroit and Muskegon rank as our principal world trade ports, but others . . . like Escanaba, Marquette, Port Huron, Bay City, Saginaw, Monroe, South Haven . . . are ports of call for foreign flag vessels.

Detroit ranks among the top three ports in the country in value of products shipped, and is the nation's leading port for trade with Canada.

In foreign trade registered through the Michigan Customs District, we are usually topped only by the Port of New York (occasionally by both New York and New Orleans). The Customs District office in Detroit reported the 1957 value of our foreign trade was more than $2 billion.

The Rush-Bagot agreement of 1817 between the United States and Great Britain—applicable to Michigan waters—limits the employment of warships on the Great Lakes by the U. S. and Canada.

That restriction, however, didn't prevent Michigan's Great Lakes shippers from winning fame as leading producers of navy vessels for both the United States and Britain during World War II.

Among our major wartime makers of combat ships were the Defoe Shipbuilding Company at Bay City and the Great Lakes Engineering Works at River Rouge—both still active in turning out giant ore carriers and other vessels for peacetime commerce.

For its output of 156 ships of war during World War II, the Defoe Company, organized in 1905, was recognized as the Great Lakes region's largest producer of fighting craft.

In 1957 the same company began the production of guided missile destroyers for the Navy. The first of these new type destroyers, the 438-foot USS Harry B. Wilson, largest American warship built up to that time at a Great Lakes shipyard, was launched April 22, 1959. Three more like it are to join the fleet by 1961.

Assembly of these 4,500-ton combat vessels, equipped to fire Tartar anti-aircraft missiles and armed with the latest of anti-submarine weapons, became possible at a Michigan shipyard when the St. Lawrence Seaway opened. Without the deep-draft waterway from the Great Lakes to the sea, the big destroyers could not have reached the Atlantic.

Never has the world been so hilariously excited over a single event in the advance of aviation as it was in May, 1927, when a son of Michigan made the first nonstop solo flight from New York to Paris.

His name: Charles A. Lindbergh, born in Detroit in 1902, son of a Detroit school teacher.

In a later day Capt. Iven C. Kincheloe Jr., of Cassopolis, an Air Force jet ace of the Korean War, won the Mackay trophy in 1956 for his altitude record of 126,000 feet in the X-2 rocket research plane, traveling more than 1,500 miles an hour.

Before his death in 1953, the Air Force had selected Capt. Kincheloe to be the first man to pilot a rocket plane into outer space.

The great need in the world today is for more individuals who will accept responsibility—not try to duck it.

Home Extension
Agent's Corner

Frances T. Clark
County Home Demonstration Agent

The Tuscola County Extension home economics council will meet on March 16 at 2 p.m. in the courthouse.

On March 17, Extension home economics group project leaders in Section II will have their lesson on "The best use of your sewing machine." Miss Dorothy Exler, extension specialist in textiles, clothing and related arts from Michigan State University, will teach the lesson. This meeting will be held at the Gilford Extension Hall at 1 p.m.

One of the treasured memories of childhood is opening the door at home and smelling something baking. In many homes each week, homemakers are deciding "shall I buy bakery cake or use a mix, or start from scratch?"

Over 600 million cakes are baked annually with cake mixes alone. From one or two brands on the shelf in 1945, today the grocery stores have mixes of at least five leading manufacturers who are putting out a total of 7 to 12 different varieties each. Fifty per cent of all mixes on your grocer's shelves are cake mixes.

Many merchants say homemakers' habits in the store and in the kitchen have changed, too. Today's homemaker is spending a smaller proportion of food dollars for flour, and a larger proportion for mixes.

In Dawson, Minnesota, a small group of homemakers took part in a study to see if it was more economical of time and money to make baked goods (starting with the ingredients) or to use boughten mixes. They found that they did save time by using commercial mixes, but the cake, cookies, piecrust and biscuits cost more than those they made starting with individual ingredients.

When you are comparing the cost of home-baked goods with mixes and ready-to-eat items, it is necessary to compare those that are alike. For example, compare the cost of a cake mix for yellow cake with what it would cost you to make a comparable plain yellow cake.

But, to be a fair comparison, you will need to add the cost of any extra ingredients the mix directions call for, to the cost of the package mix.

Among cake mixes there are four types. There are mixes that need only water, those that need only milk, those that need eggs and water, those that need eggs and milk added. Some packages even include the aluminum pan for baking and the frosting.

In a comparison study of 15 cake mixes in Michigan markets, which made (one type of cake) in a two-layer, eight-inch size the cost-per-serving, without icing, varied from 2c to 5c. The cost-per-serving for two-layer, eight-inch bakery cakes of this type without icing was from 8c to 12c. Homemade cakes using a basic recipe for the same size and type of cake, cost about 4c a serving.

In choosing from among the mixes, you can save money by reading the important label information on the mix package. For instance, some cake mixes give more servings from a package than others. Some mixes cost more because they require the addition of eggs and milk. Once this information is noted, it is easy to figure the cost-per-serving from the different mixes, and find the best value.

The label also has suggestions for variations, so you can add a satisfying, individual touch of your own to the product.

Because of the standard controls maintained by the processors, the quality of the mixes is very good. By following the directions with regard to mixing, addition of ingredients, size and time of baking and the temperature and time of baking, you will be sure of a good product.

Remember that mixes have a limited shelf life, so buy often to be sure that when you bake you will have a satisfactorily fresh, light product.

Spending borrowed money to be a good friend usually results in a bad ending.

Luck may play a small part in a man's reaching the top of the ladder, but it takes more than luck to remain there.

Statesmen keep their eyes on the next generation—politicians keep their eyes on the next election.

It's just human nature for the man who does wrong to think he's doing right to keep it a secret.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night didn't git nothing settled permanent. It was one of them sessions where they just couldn't git together on the major problems. The Congress will go a whole term sometimes with sessions like that so I reckon it ain't agin the law.

Ole Bug Hookum was in his usual lamenting mood and he did most of the lamenting fer the group. All his life Bug has been what you might call a one-mule farmer, a feller that's farmed fer 40 years without nothing to work with unless he borrowed it. I recollect years ago when I bought my first tractor. I kept it hid three months afore Bug knowed I had it and come over to borrow it. That's about the best I've ever done on Bug.

He allowed Saturday night that the small farmer and rancher has gone the way of all progress and that his place is about to go soon—into sub-divisions. He was mighty bent down with the burden and I reckon he'll cry all the way to the bank when he sells. Bug has been a great feller fer carrying burdens but if you'd pile everybody's burdens in a cornfield and give him his choice, it's two to one he'd take back his same old burdens. He said if he sold his place he aimed to lay in the bed until plum past sunup ever day. All his life, he claimed, he's heard that folks that didn't git up early in the morning didn't amount to nothing but fer some reason or other the folks he knowed that got up early always had to go to the late risers to git some money.

Outside of Bug's lamenting, things was pritty optimistic at the meeting. Most of the fellers allowed as how they'd got their income tax report sent off in plenty of time. Clem Webster was saying that he noted in the instruction pamphlet on one page where a widower could file a joint return, and on another page where a joint return had to be signed by both parties. Clem said he didn't know exactly how that could be done but he wasn't going to worry about it until he got to be a widower. In the meantime, he allowed, he's mighty thankful fer his old lady on account of her being deductible.

Speaking of complaining, it won't be long now afore the ranchers and farmers will start complaining about how much grain or cotton or somepun to plant. I've always said raising crops was a little like drinking liquor; A feller can't ever git the exact amount of liquor in him to suit him. My policy fer crops is gitting more and more ever year to be about like my policy fer liquor—leave it alone.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Tuscola county association of certified seed growers, Alan Houghtaling of Reese was elected president, Ruben Keinath, also of Reese, vice-president; Russell LeValley of Akron, secretary-treasurer. Other members of the board of directors are Foster Hickey, Fairgrove; Clare Harrington, Akron, and Glyde Rohlf, also of Akron.

The board of directors represents some 70 certified seed growers in Tuscola county, according to Alan Houghtaling. The Tuscola county association of certified seed growers will again encourage the use of certified seed through 4-H members carrying crops projects. Small lots of certified seed of beans, oats and wheat will be distributed to 4-H crops club members not now using certified seed on their farms. The association will also provide awards for the 4-H crop judging contest to be held in conjunction with the 4-H crops show to be held again this fall.

NO EXCEPTION

Too many folks figure that the golden rule is a measure of conduct laid down for other people.

Be enthusiastic, but don't set a pace you can't keep up with.
