

Prize Money Upped For Home-coming

From the Editor's Corner

There have been many conflicting rumors about the cost of a room in the new Hills and Dales General Hospital, due to open sometime in August.

According to a patient and visitor information pamphlet prepared by Oran Hudson, administrator, the charges will be $20 daily for a private room; $16 daily for a semi-private room, and $14 daily for a ward.

Prices do not include drugs, operating or delivery room charges, x-ray, laboratory fees or other special charges, the pamphlet says.

William Profit, county register of deeds, has investigated the ownership of the land used for the area's dump grounds. The question is now settled. According to the deed, the village of Cass City owns the land and has owned it for a long time.

It was sold to the village for $125 by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson and Henry M. Marshall June 1, 1907.

We thought our car was stolen for about 10 hours Tuesday. (It had only been driven off Main Street through the courtesy of Ed Anthes of the Cass City police force after we forgot it was parked in front of the Chronicle on the holiday Monday.)

In trying to find it we talked with a trooper from the Michigan State Police and learned several interesting and informative tidbits about the recovery of stolen cars.

About 90 per cent of the thefts are by persons using the car for a joy ride... these cars are found within 24 hours in most cases.

When a stolen car is reported, the local police department, sheriff's department and State Police are all alerted to watch for the vehicle.

The joy riding theft of a car is so common in large cities like Detroit, that the theft is not reported on a state-wide basis for three days after it occurs... the reason is that about 98 per cent of the cars are recovered abandoned within the city within that period by authorities.

We received a payment for a subscription from Pfc. Donald Hoppe with a draft on the Bank of Ireland. The checks are considerably different than the American version. We'll have it on display for interested persons for the next week.

Sandy Legatz, our gal Friday reporter for the summer, spent the Fourth of July hobnobbing with the gentry. She was a guest at the Mackinac Island home of Gov. and Mrs. Williams. "It's a thrill to have a suite of rooms all to yourself," she reports.

A little luck at the Detroit Race Course helped the Hills and Dales General Hospital. Gerald Prieskorn took time off from his duties at the Ben Franklin store and, with his wife, attended the annual Cass City Rotary Club excursion to the DRG.

They had one of those rare days when you beat the ponies and came back $35 or so richer. Since they expected to lose they took the unexpected windfall and donated $50 to the hospital.

The big cities... Bay City and Saginaw... have nothing on Gagetown. Village president Joe Mosack reports that they have taken their own private census and the results show that the village has not lost population. Ten years ago the population stood at 410. The U. S. Census figure was 374. The private Gagetown census figure was 403. Makes quite a difference tax-wise, Mr. Mosack said.

There will be an increase in prize money for the horse-pulling contest and 4-H horse show, two of the events planned for Cass City's Home-coming August 4, according to Tom Jackson, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Awards for the horse-pulling contest have been set at: first, $35; second, $30; third, $25; fourth, $20; fifth, $15, and sixth, $10. All entering teams will receive $5.

Prize money for the 4-H horse show has been raised from $9 to $15.

The home-coming will feature again this year a queen's contest. Girls who would like to enter may do so at McConkey's Jewelry Store. The entrants must be unmarried, age 15 to 23 and must live within a 15 mile radius of Cass City. The girls will be judged on poise, posture, natural beauty, personality presentation and neatness.

Other events scheduled for the Home-coming are kiddies' and adult parades, games, All-Star Little League game, variety show and a dance.

"The Chamber is going to investigate the possibility of having the State Police skin-diving team give a demonstration again this year," Jackson said.

In charge of the various events are: kiddies' parade, Eli Holes and Mrs. Mike Yedinak; adult parade, Jim Wallace and Jerry Prieskorn; games, Fred Auten and Cameron Wallace; horse-pulling contest, Orville Hutchinson and Andrew Bigelow; All-Star Little League game, Michael Yedinak; 4-H horse show, Lee Smith; queen's contest, Richard Eria; Cass City High School Band, Doug Avery, and dance, Lloyd Bryant and Richard Eria. Groups wishing tents for the home-coming should contact Clint Law, who will order them, Jackson said.

Sherman Barn Demolished by Fire

A barn on the Bruce Sherman farm, four miles south and three miles east of Cass City, burned to the ground Monday afternoon destroying a quantity of old hay.

The blaze was thought to have been caused by a short circuit in the wiring. Fanned by a strong breeze after the windows blew out, the barn was quickly razed.

The Elkland Township Fire Department was called and succeeded in saving all of the nearby buildings.

Playground Sets New Record For Attendance

An average of 170 children daily for the first five days set a new record for the number of children attending the playground program in Cass City.

A total of 851 children was counted. There were about 150 children attending the five different swimming classes.

Helping the playground directors this year is a representative from the Cass City Junior Woman's Club who helps with the administration of the program each day.

Two events are scheduled this week for the children. Today (Thursday) a picnic will be held at noon at the park. The children will bring hot dogs, buns and dessert. The recreation department will furnish mustard, catsup and pickles for the wienie roast.

Friday the doll show and mothers' tea is scheduled at the recreation department while the boys will hike to condensary creek. The doll show starts at 10 a.m. Many prizes will be awarded.

The hike starts at 9:30 a.m. and will include a scavenger hunt at the creek.

At 11:30 a.m. the boys and girls will be treated to Kool-aid. Swimming lessons will continue on Tuesday and Thursday mornings for the next five weeks.

William Profit, county register of deeds, this week reported the biggest first six months in the history of his department in Tuscola County.

In the first six months of 1959 no money was received for oil and gas leases in the county. Through June of this year, 647 leases were processed.

Area School Elections Slated Monday Evening

A large crowd is expected to attend the annual school meeting of the Deford Community School Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Elected will be two trustees for three-year terms. The terms of Glen Tousey and Marjorie Pringle expire.

The Deford district elects trustees at the annual meeting when nominations are received from the floor at the time of the meeting.

Also expected to be discussed is annexation to another school district.

The annual meeting for the Evergreen Township Unit School will also be held Monday at the school at 8 p.m. One trustee will be elected. The term of Milton Fox expires.

Mr. Stickle said that students are occasionally flunked because of inability to drive a car correctly. One student flunked three times. However, most failures are in the classroom because of attitude. Each class of 30 will have three or four failures, the teacher explained.

The students receive six hours of driving instruction and 30 hours of classroom instruction in the course.

Mr. Stickle regards the classroom experience as by far the most important aspect of the course.

Robert Stickle, driver training instructor at Cass City High School, explained the changes in the driver training program at the school and told Rotarians of the results of the first few years of the program, Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Since 1956 when the program became compulsory at Michigan schools there has been a sharp decrease in the number of fatal accidents in the 18-26 age group, the ages in which more accidents occur.

Mr. Stickle said the reason for the improvement was the training program and work of the Michigan State Police, regarded as one of the best forces in the nation.

The program costs taxpayers about $45 per pupil trained. Twenty dollars of the cost of last year's program was to have been paid locally and the remaining $25 from state tax funds. However, the allotment from the state has been less than promised because of the financial crisis of Michigan.

Because the program is now held in the summer, the cost will be reduced this year to $28 and if promised funds from the state materialize, most of the cost will be taken care of by state taxes.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schwartz and Mrs. and Mrs. Sylvester Pinkoski. Rev. Fr. Frank McLaughlin officiated.

Vocalist and organist was Mrs. Ray Toohey.

The bride chose a gown of rose-point lace with tulle molded bodice with a stand-up scalloped v-neckline, long tapered sleeves and a full skirt. A crown of iridescent and seed pearls held her finger-tip English mist veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Maid of honor was Janet Schwartz, sister of the bride, who wore a ballerina-length gown of white nylon with miniature yellow roses and yellow cummerbund, round neckline and full skirt.

They wore gowns and head-dresses identical to that of the maid of honor, in white with mint green and white with light blue, respectively. They carried bouquets of mint green and light blue carnations to match their dresses.

Elmer Champagne of Kingston, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man and groomsmen were Keith Pobanz and Dale Rabideau.

Kretschmer—Dunn Vows Said July 2

Two hundred guests attended the double-ring wedding ceremony at which Miss Ruth A. Kretschmer of Flint and Richard Dunn of Flint were married by the Rev. Frank McLaughlin.

The ceremony, before a gladioli and candle-decorated altar was at 11 o'clock, Saturday, July 2, in St. Agatha Church in Gagetown.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Kretschmer of Owendale. Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn of Flint are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a ballerina-length gown of white silk organza over netted taffeta. The molded bodice featured a sabrina neckline of applique lace with short puff sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her shoulder-length veil was secured to a petal cap of seed pearls and iridescent sequins and she carried a white missal topped by a white orchid and valley lilies with white streamers.

Honor maid was Bonnie Pine of Ann Arbor. She wore a waist-length dress of yellow nylon dotted swiss with a fitted bodice, round neckline and a full skirt and she carried a cascade bouquet of lavender painted carnations with yellow streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Loren Adams of Bay City and Dana Kretschmer of Owendale, sisters of the bride. They wore lavender colored nylon dotted swiss dresses with fitted bodices and bouffant waist-length skirts and carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations with lavender streamers.

They all wore circular veils attached to flowered head bands. The veils matched their dresses. Robert Dunn served his brother as best man. William Dunn and Clare Comment were other attendants. Loren Adams of Bay City and Lawrence Kretschmer of Owendale seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a gown of blue and white silk print with white accessories and a pink rose corsage. Mrs. Dunn wore a blue and green print chiffon dress and a corsage of white roses.

After the nuptial High Mass, dinner was served at the American Legion hall in Unionville for the bridal party and immediate families.

Five hundred guests attended the reception in the Legion hall in the evening.

The newlyweds, upon their return home from a trip through northern Michigan will make their home in Flint at 610 Pierson St.

The bride is a bookkeeper at the Argus Business Co. and the bridegroom is employed at Monseigneur in Flint.

Area Drain Work

N. C. Weitzel of Bad Axe, the contractor for the Cedar Run drain, should complete work on the rip rap this week, according to Freeland Sugden, Tuscola county drain commissioner. The excavating has been finished.

Raymond LeJoie completed the leveling last week. The final engineer's report will be made some time this week.

As soon as rights-of-way are secured, the Webster drain in Elkhart and Novesta townships will be let to contract.

Surveying will begin soon on a branch of the Reid drain, Sugden said.

Jefferson 18 days to write the Declaration of Independence. But in them days we had statesmen that was thinking of the next generation. Today we got mostly politicians that is thinking about the next election and voters that is thinking about what their old lady is going to have for supper.

I see where the American Institute of Bakers has recommended that the hole in the doughnut be reduced from 7/8 of an inch to 3/8 of an inch. That's the first break the eating public has got in several years. And it's worthy of note that it didn't come from the Congress.

And I was looking at some pictures in one of them slick magazines showing night gowns that the wimmen can use the next day for street clothes. You wear 'em to bed at night and the next day wear 'em to the grocery store. That might be alright for them city wimmen but if my old lady would ever wear that contraption she calls a night gown to the grocery store they'd either lock her up or lock up the grocery store. Maybe both.

While it ain't world-shaking news, since I'm mentioning my old lady, I might report that her and them wimmen in her circle at the church is having another squabble. Ever since I've known that bunch they've fought among themselves six days a week and praised the Lord together on Sunday. This time it's over some of 'em wanting to put a kitchen in the church basement and some being agin it. I don't know which side my old lady is on and I shore ain't gitting her started by asking her. But from what I hear tell, a heap of churches has now got kitchens. Maybe that's the reason I ain't heard in the last few years that old saying "pore as a church mouse." With all them kitchens, I reckon a church mouse is now as fat and sassy as the rest of 'em.

On the international front, I see where a Russian in East Germany claims that Russia invented the steam engine. Sounds reasonable. I was brung up to believe Fulton invented it, but the Russians shore invented hot air, and steam comes from hot air. From that point it would be easy to hook a engine to it. Any day now, them Russians is going to invent a beer that foams from the bottom.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Pirates Lose First Little League Game

The race for the regular season Little League championship tightened this week as the third place Tigers won their first game of the year by upsetting the previously undefeated Pirates while the second place Cubs were winning.

Pirates Lose
The Pirates, who had been beating all opposition by large margins all year, bowed 10-0 as the Tigers won behind the brilliant pitching of Copeland Friday.

Pacing the attack for the winners were R. Hartwick with two doubles in three tries and Gallo-way with two hits in three official trips to the plate. Wallace banged out a pair of safeties in three attempts for the losers.

Monday, June 27, the Cubs lambasted the Giants 23-1. Turner got credit for the win and Brown was the loser. Knoblet cracked out a home run to help his team at the plate.

Yankees—Giants
The Giants lost a heart breaker Wednesday, June 29, when they dropped a slugfest to the Yankees by one run, 20-19. Holik was the winning pitcher and Bob Rabideau the loser. Rabideau did his best to win his own game. He knocked in six runs. Les Nichols also helped with four RBIs.

Ed Gruber supplied the big punch for the winners with six runs batted in on three hits including a home run and two doubles.

In a make-up game played Thursday no decision was reached as the Tigers and the Yankees battled to a 15-15 tie which was called because of darkness. It will be finished at a date to be decided.

Let Contract for New Post Office

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced that a contract has been signed for the construction and lease to the Post Office Department of a new post office building at Cass City.

The successful bidder is Rockwell Brothers, Investors, Mt. Morris. Groundbreaking and construction will begin soon with completion and occupancy set for November 15. The lease will run for 10 years, with two five-year renewal options included in the contract.

The postal facility will be located on the southeast corner of Church and Sherman Streets. It will provide 3,406 square feet of interior work space, a 240-square-foot loading platform and 9,920 square feet of hard surfaced parking and truck maneuvering area.

Specifications also call for new modern lighting and equipment, including a low, open patron-service counter.

Summerfield pointed out that the postal facility to be built at Cass City is typical of many others going up elsewhere throughout the country. "These new post offices," he said, "contain not only the modern patron-service counters and eye-saving fluorescent lighting, but provision is made for patron service after regular business hours."

The Postmaster General also pointed out that the new post office in Cass City, one of 1,400 new post offices to be built in fiscal 1960, will remain under private ownership while leased to the Federal Government, and hence will pay local real estate taxes to bear its share of the cost of local government.

Letters to Editor

The Chronicle welcomes letters to the editor. In most instances letters will be printed in full. However, the paper reserves the right to edit letters to fit space requirements. All letters must be signed. Names will be withheld upon request.

Having enjoyed an association with the people of Cass City for most of my life I know that they must be unaware of the importance of providing free activities for some of the youth of this community otherwise the charge for the use of the swimming pool would not have been put into effect.

Since this paper is widely read in this area I feel that it is very unfortunate that negative or hypocritical propaganda should be distributed through this press.

It would be easy for you to fool the credulous people of this community, but for myself, an educator, and others who are interested in the welfare of youth, we find that the truth of the matter is quite evident.

It would seem that the real reasons for the charge being made are two fold in nature. First, action that would deter activities which are readily recognized as a delinquency (The adults are quick to note such behavior) should be taken to spend the money of the community for activities which will not only be useful and enjoyable to the youth but also may be enjoyed as the youth grows into adulthood. The amount needed for the pool could be easily written off the record for, after all, the welfare of youth is more important than the extensive expenditures made each year which are of doubtful value. Excessive adult pride and inadequate knowledge of the needs of youth may result in the development of habits of theft to insure the money needed to enter the pool each day. Small though the amount may seem to the adult, to the child who desires to swim and cannot because of the lack of money, may feel that the need is greater than the realization of a breach of morals or ideals which may be the seed to later problems of delinquency.

The second factor which leaps to mind is that inadequate discipline must prevail at the pool if the only way in which the children can be controlled is to be threatened by ejection. While it is true that freedom of action leads to the development of friendships, I know that if discipline is to be expected it must be developed through action which leads to the respect for the control agency not through friendship. If this is the case may I recommend that the use of the pool be by membership only. That each youngster pay 25c for a card of membership at the beginning of each season. That if ejections are necessary the card of membership be revoked for 2 weeks and that no youngster may enter the pool without first presenting his card. This would develop pride, self discipline, and also responsibility.

May I sincerely recommend that the people who are interested in the welfare of youth use this letter as a guide to their action to have the charge at the pool revoked.

BEWARE OF THESE DRIVERS

If you have one or more children in your family then you must have had a few anxious moments. You've seen them career across a busy street without looking either way. Perhaps your muscles have tightened up involuntarily.

Children on tricycles and bikes invite tragedy almost every day. Especially when they're enjoying the weather after being shut in all winter. We're thinking now too of older ones in their teens who dodge traffic with their two wheelers.

We're reminded of a road sign put up in a small town by the local Lions Club. It said: "OUR CHILDREN AREN'T CARELESS - THEY'RE JUST CAREFREE. IT'S UP TO ALL OF US TO BE CAREFUL FOR THEM!" Don't you agree?

Construction Still Booming In Entire Cass City Area

Construction in Cass City so far this year is slightly under what it was in 1959. But last year was a booming 12 months for building as it saw construction begin on the new general hospital and several industrial plants, in addition to $88,060 worth of new homes for Cass City.

A total of $617,330 was spent in Cass City during 1959 for building and remodeling, according to building permit applications filed with Wilma Fry village clerk.

The largest single application was $350,000 for construction begun on the Hills and Dales General Hospital.

During February, March and December of 1959, there were no building permits issued. June and July were peak months, reporting $46,310 and $40,150 respectively.

In October of 1959 the Anrod Screen Cylinder Co. was issued a permit and given the go-ahead on construction of its new $70,000 building on Garfield Street.

Approximately $83,060 was spent on building six homes in the Cass City area during 1959, the records show.

Also constructed during 1959 was a gas station and additions were made on a church and several stores were remodeled.

So far this year (January to June), $406,476 has been spent on building, $300,000 of which is the estimated cost of the General Cable Corporation, now under construction. Otherwise May has been the peak month with $27,250 listed as the estimated costs of construction. No building permits were issued in January.

A permit was issued to Croft-Clara Lumber Inc. for its recently completed building to swell this year's total.

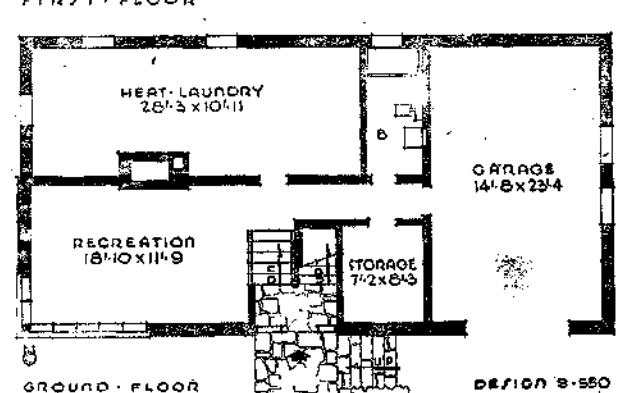

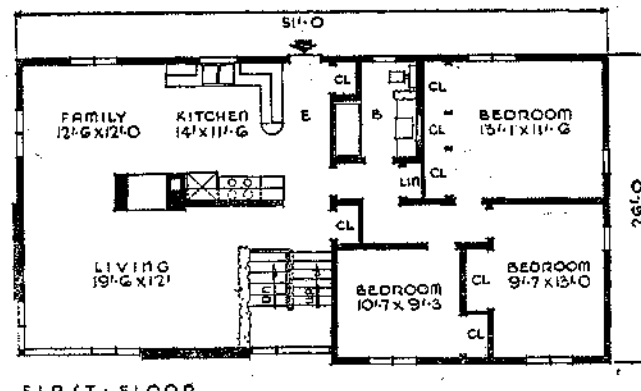

In 1959 the amounts estimated for construction came to $436,610 for the half year, in comparison with $406,476 for the first six months of 1960.

Women spent more than $1 billion in beauty salons in 1958. To gain their share of the beauty market, perfume and cosmetic advertisers last year invested over $12 million in national newspaper advertising.

Do your best today and you'll be hard to beat tomorrow.

Area residents are reminded that each year many thousands of dollars are lost by home owners who are bilked by confidence men in the building and remodeling racket who make wild claims and offer "give away" prices.

Anyone can protect themselves against losses of this type by buying only from firms who sell known quality and have established a local reputation.

Any of the firms listed in this section as well as others who are established in the area can be trusted by area shoppers needing building and remodeling supplies.

Variety and selection are large and prices are tailored to fit the home owners' budget.

Decorate With Wood for That Added Sparkle

Sometimes a room can be given just the added snap and sparkle it needs by paneling the walls—on one wall—with a rich, colorful wood.

Such a project offers two golden opportunities:

1—Creation of optical illusions through design and colorful styling. By simple "sleight-of-hand," you can alter the apparent dimensions of rooms and remedy visual defects of displeasing contours.

2—The chance to create attractive room walls that require virtually no maintenance.

Not only is wood paneling easy on the eyes, but it can also be an antidote for existing eyesores.

To explore the possibilities, let's consider the case of a small, cube-like kitchen with plain plastered walls. This is a type found in many of our older homes.

If you are not "square" by inclination, the severe regularity of form may grow monotonous—not to mention the private aversion of your wife to a "prison."

Wood paneling, of course, will not change the physical dimensions of such a room. But it can mean a great difference in its appearance, depending on how you vary the "pitch" of the boards.

Your paneling can be applied directly to the existing wall surfaces. A pleasing "mirage" can be achieved by horizontal placement of boards on two opposite walls and vertical placement on the remaining pair.

Horizontals make the walls seem longer and lower; verticals make them look narrower and taller. The resulting variety breaks the monotony of your square.

The natural warmth of wood dispels the impression of bleakness that cramped quarters incur, and certain finishes will give an impression of greater room size.

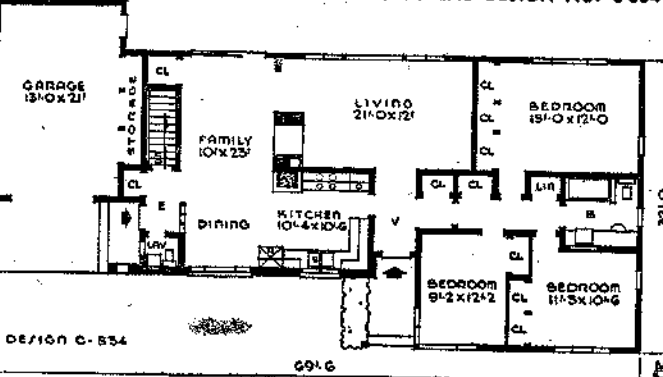

The natural gold of many woods is enhanced with a "natural finish" and provides a most appetizing color for your kitchen—so digestible that you may also use it for a breakfast room. Cool grays or blues can be applied with simple stains. Either color makes the room look larger and more appealing, and will not obscure the wood grain.

If you have to criticize, see to it that it is self-criticism.

Consideration for the other fellow always pays dividends in the long run.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-534

DESIGN C 534. An attractive low-styled contemporary house. From the side door you enter the family room, kitchen or basement. The living room opens to a large family room with sliding glass doors to a possible terrace. A two-way fireplace is a feature for both the living room and family room. The kitchen makes additional use of the fireplace chimney with a built-in charcoal grill. The central hall routes directly to all areas and serves as a buffer for three generous bedrooms with large wardrobe type closets. There is a built-in lavatory and dressing table in the main bath.

Building materials used are brick, vertical V-joint siding with pitch and gravel on the roof to achieve the striking exterior appearance. Containing a full basement, the plan covers 1,476 square feet of living area (not including 297 square feet for the garage) and contains 26,272 cubic feet. Flower Border Can Serve Many Useful Purposes

A good flower border can serve many purposes. It can be used as a background or to separate your own garden from your neighbors. It will also be useful for cutting or for color.

Cutting flowers before they are faded or dry will give you more flowers and will remove the unsightliness caused by poor flowers, reminds Fred B. Widmoyer, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State University.

The soil where a border is planted should be prepared deeply. Widmoyer advises adding considerable organic matter such as well-rotted manure, peat moss, or ground corn cobs.

Plants should be spaced two-thirds of their height apart, the proper height being listed on the seed package. Such spacing will reduce the amount of weeding and cultivating that is needed in most flower beds.

However, remember that these plants are competing for light, moisture and nutrients. It may be necessary to fertilize and water more frequently when plants are that close together.

Widmoyer says the plants can be either purchased or started from seed. If you start them from seed, be sure the plants are started about three to five weeks ahead of the time required for transplanting out-of-doors.

Plant only good, sturdy plants with excellent root systems. At the time of transplanting, water each plant with about one teaspoon of a starter solution. This is made by dissolving one tablespoon of a completely water soluble fertilizer in one gallon of water.

Insects and diseases can be controlled by spraying thoroughly once each week with an all-purpose ornamental spray. Your local nurseryman has sprays of this type.

Another reminder for effective flower borders is to plant in groups according to variety.

Put at least three plants of one variety together in each group. This informal planting is better than having a single plant of each color or planting in rows.

Widmoyer recommends using named varieties of the plant to carry out color schemes. Commercial variety mixtures are most frequently recommended for the cutting garden or naturalized plantings.
