From the Editor's Corner

Deer season opens Tuesday and a good many nimrods would like to bring home a buck as big as the one that caught itself in a fence Thursday afternoon at the Don Loomis farm, four miles west and a quarter of a mile north of Cass City. It was a big eight-pointer that the men who found it were forced to kill and call the conservation department.

Of course, there will be a few lucky area nimrods to bag a deer that big or bigger next week, but we'd wager a good deal that no camp will duplicate the success that Steve Dodge experienced some 10 years ago.

Hunting near East Tawas 15 men had 15 bucks hanging from the deer poles by the second day. Steve brought in a picture to prove his story.

However, if he doesn't recommend the area, for the next year the same crew in the same spot never killed a deer on opening day.

While we are almost certain that no one group will bag 15 deer this season, we trust that those of you who bag either a buck or a doe will call in the information for our annual "buck luck" column.

Supt. Willis Campbell said that the cooperation of Cass City residents at the Frankmuth-Cass City football game kept traffic at a minimum— as local folks walked to the game or doubled up with friends. "We cleaned out the cars in 15 minutes following the game. Tell 'em thanks for helping out," he declared.

The double lined stalls for Main Street, originally okayed by the council when parking was decided, have been discarded. Takes too much space and leaves too narrow a space for drivers to squeeze their cars into, Village Engineer William Schram remarked, as he and the crew started the work Tuesday.

It's a man's world? It's interesting to note that even old "Bloody Fingers," Unionville bank robber, takes orders from the "little woman" as he returns some $20,000 at her request.

Coming Auctions
Friday, Nov. 11—William Wnuk will sell cattle and machinery at the premises, three and a half miles north and a half mile east of Kingston.

Saturday, Nov. 12—Raymond J. Abraham will sell Holstein cattle and milking equipment at the place, three miles north and one mile west of Ruth.

Saturday, Nov. 12—Sylvester Oseotski will sell at auction, 60 head of dairy cattle, feed and machinery at the farm, four miles south, three miles east and a half mile north of Cass City.

Late Returns Boost Chest Funds to $6,059

Late returns have boosted the Elkland and Novesta Townships Community Chest to within striking distance of its quota of $7,000, Willis Campbell, chairman, said this week.

The Chest fund has swelled to $6,059 with seven solicitors from a total of 59 still to turn in envelopes from assigned areas.

For the area to reach its goal of $7,000 calls for a concentrated effort. Chairman Campbell said that it may be necessary to seek additional funds from those who have made donations and may be in a position to increase them.

Defeat Proposal for Funds for Gagetown Fire Department

Elmwood township will not establish a sinking fund for a new fire hall and equipment for the township. The special township proposition was defeated 302 to 258... a margin of 44 votes.

The voters had been asked to bond themselves for two mills for three years. Gagetown Village President Joe Mosack had threatened to cut off the township's fire protection unless the cost of running the department while the village furnished the volunteer firemen to run the department.

Freak Accident Partially Burns Truck Wednesday

Damage was estimated at $300 on a freak accident involving a truck owned by Bill Sprague, owner of Elkton Roofing and Siding Co., Wednesday, Nov. 2, about a mile and a half north of Cass City.

A rear wheel of the vehicle came off and sparks caused by the axle striking the pavement ignited spilled gasoline. A flash fire resulted that burned the motor, some insulation hose and part of the truck.

The fire was extinguished by the Elkland Township Fire Department.

Four Teen-agers Injured in Owendale Crash

Four teenagers were injured Friday in an accident on Owendale Road, a half mile south of Owendale, when a flat tire caused Miss Pam Blette to lose control of her car and hit a tree.

Injured were: Mary Lee Seurynck, cuts and bruises; Donna Hafner, broken arm and severe lacerations of the face; Miss Blette, broken leg and cuts, and Robert Wilson, a broken leg.

All four were taken to Shneur hospital in Pigeon.

NEW PRESIDENT—a narrow victory seemed assured for Senator John Kennedy early Wednesday morning in a very close election.

Suggest Changes in Evergreen Zoning

An estimated 30 Evergreen township residents attended a special meeting Friday at the Shabbona Town Hall to discuss zoning of the area.

Several objections to the zoning as proposed by the zoning committee were heard. Two major changes in the proposed zoning were made by the group.

Original plans called for 10 acres of land for a trailer in the township. Suggested change is to reduce this size to a land area equivalent to an average city lot.

Requirement for homes in the township under the proposed zoning was reduced from a minimum of 575 square feet to 400 square feet of floor space.

Action on the zoning by the township will now wait on the Sanilac Board of Supervisors which must approve it before any future action by Evergreen authorities can be taken.

Olsow Fined and

Phillip Olsow of Cass City pleaded guilty of drunk driving before Justice Ruth Tennant in Caro Saturday and was sentenced to two days in jail. He also paid a fine of $100 and costs of $6.25.

Joan Bigelow Describes Life In Lima, Peru

Miss Joan Bigelow described her stay in Lima, Peru, last summer and showed pictures of conditions in the country where she was a volunteer teacher, to some 75 members and guests of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church Monday evening.

The pictures revealed many facets of life in Peru and included shots of the very rich and the very poor. Miss Bigelow said she took few pictures of the poorer sections and only one of a slum area out of consideration to the people living there.

The children she taught in the Colegio Maria Alvarado school were middle class and parents often made great sacrifices to send them there. Though this is a Methodist school, children of any faith are accepted. There are children from Protestant, Catholic and Jewish homes.

The only qualification insisted upon is the child's ability to learn with special emphasis on his ability to read and write English.

Parents are anxious, Miss Bigelow said, to have their children acquire these skills because the best jobs go to those who have this ability.

The guest speaker said that a great many German refugees are in South America. Persons who fled Nazi rule are now advancing the culture of their adopted lands amazingly fast.

There are many missionaries in South America working with Indians and other groups that are

Democrats Gain in Tuscola County

Defeat Sunday Sale of Beer by Over 700 Votes

Tuscola county gave its widest margin in favor of prohibiting the Sunday sale of beer and wine in the county that it has shown in the three times the issue has been before the voters. A total of 8,895 voters voted to prohibit the sale while 8,246 voters were in favor of allowing the taverns to open.

In 1956 the "drys" won by only 39 votes. Meanwhile, a similar proposition in Huron and Sanilac counties was defeated. Strong table-topper organizations in the counties waged a vigorous campaign to keep the Sunday sale of beer and wine legal as it was the first time the issue had been before the voters in the two counties.

Other Propositions
As expected, voters followed the state trend and approved proposition number one calling for the full faith and credit of the state behind school bonds. The county vote was 7,930 to 7,26. The county followed the state trend when it approved the increase of the state sales tax from three to four per cent. A total of 8,137 were in favor while 7,618 voted against the measure.

Surprisingly enough, many voters were for a constitutional convention, in Tuscola county. It was expected that the rural areas would be almost solidly against it. The vote was 8,316 against and 6,068 in favor.

Honor McKenzie At Meeting of Masons Saturday

Clark McKenzie of Kalamazoo, a former resident of Cass City, was the guest of honor at a special meeting of Cass City Masons Saturday night.

An estimated 100 persons attended, including 16 officers from Anchor Lodge 50 87 of Kalamazoo. Mr. McKenzie, as "Mr. Mason" and "Mr. Republican," told the group that the special meeting was a memorable occasion for him.

Mr. McKenzie was raised to a Master Mason in the Cass City Lodge in 1938 and served as Master of the Lodge in 1966.

The guest of honor is now a 33rd degree Mason, the highest degree in the order.

The program included degree work for an apprentice degree in the Masons.

M. B. Auten spoke at the program for Mr. McKenzie. The guest of honor left the community over 40 years ago.

Among his many laurels is Clark McKenzie field at Western Michigan University, named in his honor for his work in behalf of the University at Kalamazoo.

Tuscola County voters turned out in record numbers to cast an unofficial total of 17,288 votes in spirited balloting that saw Democrats eat into traditional Republican majorities in the county as Michigan's Democrats made a clean sweep of all major offices in the state.

Slightly more than 80 per cent of the county's 20,314 voters went to the polls, an increase of about 1,200 over the 1956 total vote.

Vice-president Richard M. Nixon lost about two per cent of the majority that President Eisenhower carried in 1956. The president had 71 per cent of the county's vote while Mr. Nixon received 69 per cent of the vote this year.

McIntosh Defeated
Although Robert J. McIntosh carried Tuscola county by a majority of 11,546 to 5,250 over James O'Hara, Mr. O'Hara's big Macomb county plurality swept him into office for a second term.

McNamara Wins
One of the surprises of the Michigan election was the ease in which Senator Patrick McNamara swept into office over Alvin Bentley. Polls had indicated that the two men were running almost even the week before the election. In the county, Bentley polled 11,582 votes while McNamara polled 5,252.

Paul Dagwell followed the county trend as he polled 11,658 votes to 5,801 for John Swainson. All Republican county candidates won as expected. A complete breakdown of the vote for these offices can be seen in the breakdown by precincts.

A new official who will take office Jan. 1 will be Archie Hicks of Deford, clerk, who replaces Fred Mathews who is retiring.

The heavy vote delayed the tabulation of returns. Wells township was the first to report at 11:35 p.m. Tuesday. The last township to be completed was Vassar which checked in at the courthouse at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Most townships in the county gave more votes to the Democrats this year. In 1956 Elkland went better than six to one for the GOP. This year the margin is about five to one. Biggest switch in votes occurred in Elmwood township which went from three to one Republican to a nearly equal Democrat and Republican vote.

The complete returns by townships appear elsewhere in the Chronicle.

Switch Social Security Visiting
Day This Month

Because Friday is Veterans' Day, a legal holiday, the representative of the social security office has changed the date for his monthly visit to Cass City.

He will be at the clerk's office in the Municipal Building Monday, Nov. 14, from 1 to 3:30 p.m. instead of Friday.

The regular schedule of visits will be resumed in December.

Epskamp Asks For Crackdown on Traffic Violators

James Epskamp, Tuscola county prosecuting attorney, has called for a crackdown on traffic violators.

Speaking to county justices of the peace, State Police and other law enforcement officers Monday in Caro, he said that more stringent enforcement of the law is necessary to try and stem the wave of traffic fatalities that increased from 17 in 1956 to 29 already this year.

Officers at the meeting praised the student driver training course and advocated a once-a-year safety check for automobiles.

They said that the point system now used by the state, which keeps tabs on poor drivers, is making drivers more interested in keeping a good driving record.

Cramton Tells of Highlights of Long Political Career

Louis Cramton, 84, of Lapeer, retired United States representative, recalled highlights of his career for members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

The distinguished speaker who looks and acts younger than his years reviewed a political career that started over 50 years ago.

He recalled how he came to Cass City to speak at the hotel when campaigning in his younger days. "At that time and during my many other visits through the years I've always received a warm welcome in the community," Mr. Cramton said.

Visits with dignitaries during World War I in Italy, France, Greece and the Balkans were recalled and two medals received on his trip to Europe were displayed to members and visitors.

Mr. Cramton said that the course of history might have been changed if Alexander of Serbia, with whom he lunched on his European trip, had not later been assassinated by Mussolini.

While recalling the headlines he had known, Mr. Cramton told of hiring William Jennings Bryan to speak at a lecture series and said that Eugene Debs was the finest orator that he had ever heard.

Elaine Lounsbury on CMU Dean's List

Elaine E. Lounsbury, a junior at Central Michigan University, was one of 372 full-time students on the dean's honor list at the end of the spring semester. To be eligible for the list, a student must have an accumulative point average of B or better.

Besides Miss Lounsbury, others to place on the list were: Max V. Sherman of Akron, Sheila A. Ramsower of Caro, Teresa C. Hauger of Millington, Joel S. Heinrich of Reese and Margo G. Pasch and Christie A. Kuhnle of Vassar.

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on.

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvaire 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!

Con-Con Issue To Bring Problems

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Just one of the multitude of items which would come before a Constitutional Convention, should one eventually be called, is the question of whether the Michigan Legislature should be strengthened.

And if so, how to go about it. The question is worthy of consideration now even though the earliest a Con-Con could be called under present circumstances is next fall. And then only if voters approve proposal three on the Nov. 8 ballot; then vote in favor of a convention at the spring election next year and elect delegates at special primary and general elections.

Other issues expected to go before any Con-Con range from four-year terms for the governor and some other state officials to lotteries.

Roughly 20 propositions for proposed change in the Constitution, all aimed at making government smoother, more efficient or cheaper, have been seriously mentioned as subjects which should be considered.

No doubt there are many more. More power for the Legislature might be one item less subject to partisan feeling and more apt to be discussed seriously on its merits than many others.

One chief reason it comes up is this: In the past 50 years the size, power and scope of the Executive, and to a lesser extent, the Judicial, branches of the government have increased enormously. The Legislative branch is still vested with the same power it had originally—namely, the making of laws. Even that has been limited.

Legislative hands are tied by the present constitution when it comes to certain situations. Sizeable funds are earmarked for schools and roads, etc., and authority is delegated to other sources. An outstanding example of the latter regards the Civil Service Commission which can raise wages of state employees regardless of the Legislature's desire.

These are situations the Constitutional Convention would review for possible change.

There is really no effective means for the Legislature to determine if the policies it establishes are producing intended results.

Only in its budgetary function, that is, the approval of money spent to administer the laws it makes, can the Legislature check on the execution of those laws.

One suggestion for strengthening the Legislature calls for creation of a legislative auditor who would conduct performance audits which would supplement fiscal audits, now handled by the Auditor General.

Some people say the elected Auditor General should be replaced by a similar officer appointed by and responsible to lawmakers.

Vaccination can protect a person from contracting influenza in about seven out of ten cases, the State Health Department reports.

Two shots given two to four weeks apart can provide protection for the current season only. Flu epidemics in the winter of 1957-58 and again in 1959-60 demonstrate that influenza can still be a major contributing cause of death, the Department said.

Thousands of flu-associated deaths might have been prevented through vaccination.

People over 65, pregnant women and persons suffering from heart, kidney or lung disease are most susceptible to severe cases of flu, and they are also most likely to die from it.

Unfortunately, reactions from the shots to prevent it are sometimes worse than the flu itself.

The vaccine is made from flu virus which is grown in chick embryos, so persons sensitive to eggs or egg products are the ones who are most likely to suffer a serious reaction to the shots, the Department said.

Periodic reports from the State Police on Michigan traffic safety continue to show drivers are behaving less safely this year than last.

Provisional figures, which are likely to go up when final reports and delayed deaths are tabulated, show 1,097 dead on highways in the first nine months of 1960. This is five per cent more than last year.

Injuries were up 40 per cent, while accidents increased by 6 per cent, State Police said.

The unusual hike in injuries is at least partly attributed to more comprehensive report form in use since Jan. 1, 1960.

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER OF A WOMAN

The automobile manufacturers have long recognized that the "little woman" looms pretty big when it comes to deciding on the family automobile and most modern body styles and interiors are aimed at satisfying her taste.

The surveyors got some shocks recently though when they brought their marketing data up to date with a poll of female drivers. First off, the gals told them they didn't like their advertising - too many pictures of pretty girls and too few ads explaining the advantages of the car - which makes some sense.

Less than half of them had driven in the smaller cars, but they liked the idea for the ease of handling and parking. And practically all thought they could do with less horsepower.

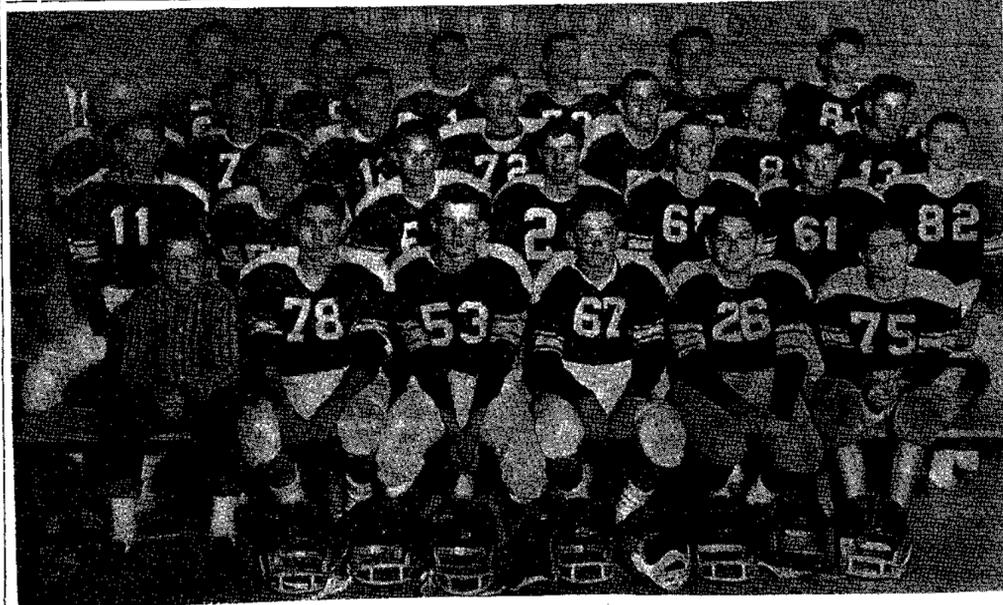

A real surprise was that most preferred FEWER style changes, higher seats, more built-in safety, doing away with the drive shaft hump, bigger glove boxes and - I knew there must be a feminine angle here somewhere - more places to hang things!

A few came up with a suggestion that a lot of us he-men could put to good use. They wanted a set of instructions covering "how to fix it" for such things as flooded carburetors and other minor mechanical problems.

One of the most common ideas proposed was for instruction courses for ladies so they could understand the workings of their cars and look after them better. Come to think of it, a few good looking female mechanics around to brighten up our garage might just do wonders to boost business... though it's good now. People again seem to like the new Chevrolets and Oldsmobiles. If you haven't seen and tried them, please come in. We're proud to show you, tell you about them!

Village Receives Highway Funds

Third quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections were slightly higher in 1960 than they were last year, John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner, said this week, as distribution to 83 counties and 510 incorporated cities and villages started.

Tuscola county's share of the money is $147,465.91. Sanilac county receives $142,177.35 and Huron county, $135,551.05.

Cass City's share of the fund is $3,485.23. Other area communities will receive the following amounts: Caro, $5,752.82; Gageton, $1,221.81; Kingston, $883.60, and Owendale, $982.68.

All of the money received from the highway fund is restricted for use on roads and streets. The highway department receives 47 per cent, counties 35 per cent and cities and villages, 18 per cent.

Superior Line Play Brings Loop Title to Frankenmuth

A rough and rugged Frankenmuth line ended Cass City's domination of the Thumb B Conference Friday night as they ground down a much lighter Hawk forward wall to win going away, 41-13.

In the game rated a tossup, there never was any doubt of the outcome after the first quarter as the Eagle backs tore through the Hawk defense for consistent gains of from three to 10 yards. Frankenmuth piled up an awesome 474 yards rushing in the game.

It was a sad ending to the brilliant high school careers of such stalwart seniors as Tim Anthes, Bob Wright, Paul Holmberg, Bob Sawdon, Dick Albee, Gordie Patterson, Larry Goodall, Gary Bartle, Gordie Goodall, Darrel TerBush, Art Randall, Dave Binder and Jim Walmsley.

It must have been especially frustrating for Wright, Cass City's nominee for all-state honors, who played only part of the game and ineffective when he did because of an injured leg.

Despite a roughing-the-kicker penalty, Cass City was unable to move after they took the opening kickoff and Frankenmuth took over on their own 25 and moved to score in 16 plays.

Regardless of who carried the ball in the series, the Eagles picked up at least four or five yards on each play from scrimmage. Mike Nuechterlein, Randy Heine, Walter Reinbold and Jerry Reinert alternated in the drive. Heine scooted over from 12 yards out for the first marker. A run by Reinert was good for the extra point and the Eagles were ahead 7-0.

In the second quarter, Frankenmuth started another payoff drive from their own nine-yard line. They scored in just nine plays.

Reinert scampered on runs of 20 and 25 yards in the march that was capped by Heine's run for a touchdown from 10 yards out.

The Hawks fumbled the next kickoff and Frankenmuth recovered and raced in for their third marker of the game shortly before the half ended. They moved 39 yards in 10 plays with Heine again getting credit for the touchdown. At the half, Frankenmuth was in front 21-0.

Second Half

Frankenthumb started to turn the game into a rout in the early part of the third period as they scored again the first time they got the ball in a drive that covered 63 yards with Reinbold going over for the marker.

Anthes, who played one of the finest games of his brilliant career, vaulted the Hawks and moved 52 yards to score. Key play was a pass for 16 yards to Binder for the touchdown.

Frankenthumb got that touchdown back in just two plays. They took the kickoff to Cass City's 45. Heine went 12 yards on the first play and 33 yards on the next play to score.

The Eagles made the score 41-0 the next time they got the ball. They moved 65 yards in 13 plays as James Baker scored.

Cass City added another touchdown in the closing moments of the game. Anthes passed the team 73 yards for the marker. He found Randall three times for gains of 19, six and nine yards and flipped a pass to Holmberg in a play that covered 33 yards and the score. A pass to Randall was good for the extra point.

Coach Mike Yedinak said that Larry Robinson, David Ashmore and Tim Anthes played rugged defensive ball for Cass City. Anthes was a standout on offense for Cass City and was responsible for what offensive power the Hawks were able to muster.

Annual Meeting For MMPA

Michigan Milk Producers Association last year marketed more milk for more money than ever before in its history. MMPA Manager Jack W. Barnes told an overflow crowd at the Association's Annual Meeting in East Lansing November 3.

"We marketed over 2 billion, 388 million pounds of milk for 33,019 members," Barnes reported, "for a total return of $102 million. Both are all time records. Price agreements negotiated by MMPA throughout the state accounted for nearly $10 million of our members' total income."

The MMPA Manager cited the negotiated price agreements, expansion of Federal Milk Marketing Orders to most of Michigan, and the Association's acquisition of the Dairyland Cooperative Creamery Co. as the major developments of the year.

In a keynote address to 455 delegates and 250 guests, a record attendance at an MMPA annual meeting, Association President Glenn Lake said the organization has become less of a cooperative in the traditional sense, and more of a professional and aggressive marketing organization at the demand of its dairy farmer members.

He called for a uniform milk inspection law to halt duplication of inspection costs and standards.

In the only election to come before delegates, Harold Blaylock of Vassar was re-elected a director-at-large on the MMPA Board of Directors for three years.

Delegates passed a total of 23 policy resolutions, including one authorizing a special deduction of 1/4c per hundredweight of milk for two months to finance an agricultural public relations program.

They also approved resolutions to study the feasibility of market supply management programs and the freezing of base quotas until Class I sales reached a certain percentage of total supplies of milk.

Time to Buy The Political Hatchet

By Ilene Warren

The voice of the people has been heard in our land. Now that we have elected the president of the United States of America, it is time to bury the sharply honed and slightly mud-smeared hatchets and become the united states of a united people, unified by the mutual ideals of freedom, progress and peace and working together to achieve these goals. Longfellow wrote something that is apropos: "Look not mournfully into the Past. It comes not back again. Wisely improve the Present. It is thine. Go forth to meet the shadowy Future without fear."

Most of my nieces and nephews are married and have families. I'm never quite certain whether I should refer to their children as nieces and nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews or just plain grandchildren!

Anyway, two grandnephews and one grandniece spent a recent Sunday at our home. (Their father, my nephew Bill, was doing some plumbing work for us.) The kids really had a lark playing with the dogs and investigating the river. They begged a pan from me and caught three baby crawfish; Billie, who is six, fixed up a homelike atmosphere for the captives by placing several little stones in the pan. Only trouble was that in the interest of other activities the children went home without releasing the prisoners . . . so guess who had to return the crawfish to the river!

Jan, who is eight, is developing into quite a clown. Typical of her antics was a little incident that occurred while the men were working on the plumbing. She picked up a few short lengths of oakum and draped them across the top of her head so that they hung down like ringlets. "Look, daddy," she said, "Goldilocks."

In the early evening, when visibility was limited, the three of them and I ran out to a nearby section where little evergreen trees are growing in rows and we played hide and seek there. Billie and I were together and Jan was with Mark. I suppose I appeared a little foolish romping up the rows and snuggling down next to a tree to hide . . . but I certainly had a lot of fun. As Marcus Aurelius wrote, "Remember this, that very little is needed to make a happy life."

I like to read. Some books I read because they can teach me something - others I read for sheer enjoyment . . . and often find that I learn from them, too. Sometimes I become so immersed in a book that my surroundings fade away and I am living with the characters in the story.

One such book for me was Allen Drury's "Advise and Consent" (the Reader's Digest Condensed Book version). After finishing this story, my interest in congressional activities was whetted and I found myself searching for news items about these activities - so from the educational viewpoint the book was helpful in creating a greater interest on my part in senate affairs and, I believe, increased my understanding at least a little. But aside from any practical gain, my interest and enjoyment in reading the story made me reluctant to lay it aside to take up other duties. Mr. Drury wrote about people who were interesting and who came alive for me as I perused the book. The mild "flag waving" - so unpopular today - lifted my soul and refueled the lamp of patriotism that I was smothering under pseudo-internationalism. Further, I confess to having a lump in my throat and an ache in my heart before finishing the book; and, after reading Robertson Davies' "Battle Cry for Book Lovers," I'm not ashamed of this confession. He writes: "Foolish people laugh at those readers of a century ago who wept over the novels of Dickens. Is it a sign of superior intellect to read anything and everything unmoved, in a gray, unfeeling limbo? Happy Victorians! Perhaps their tears flowed too readily. But some of Dickens' critics - by no means men of trivial intellect - wept. If this should meet the eye of any modern critic, let me ask him: "When did you, sir, last weep over a book? When did you last give a book a fair chance to make you do so?"

It's difficult to know just what one's earliest memory is. We hear our parents and older brothers and sisters relating many incidents and soon it seems that we, too, can remember them. It would be impossible for me to narrow my earliest memories down to one as the first remembrance . . . but there is one thing that I cannot remember and that is learning to read. I can recall standing at a blackboard (my dad made it for me) to practice my letters (tutored by an older sister who was a schoolteacher). But I can't remember not being able to read. I must have "drifted" into it by sitting on my mother's lap as she read to me out of many books, including a little brown primer that was given to me one Christmas. At any rate, somewhere along the way and at an early age I developed a love for books . . . however it came about, I am very grateful.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

Ever year along about this time, when the weather starts getting cool, I notice the big wedding pictures and stories falls off in the newspapers. All summer long the papers is full of pictures of folks getting married, what the bride wore and them things. When I was a boy we didn't have all that to-do over a wedding. But there's one thing that ain't changed none, and that's how the wedding come about.

The first person that knows a feller is going to marry a girl is the girl's mother. Then the girl finds it out, then all their friends begins to guess it. And then the feller himself finds all of a sudden he's engaged.

Marriage will teach a young feller a heap of things, like thrift, regular hours, keeping his mouth shut and many other splendid habits he wouldn't even need if he stayed single. It can make a rich man pore and a pore man squirm for a long time. Of course, I ain't agin the institution of marriage, I'm just saying that, like taxes, it can have its drawbacks.

But everybody loves to read about marriages. That's the first thing my old lady looks fer in the papers. I saw a piece reprinted in a magazine not long ago from a Raleigh, North Carolina, newspaper in 1851, more'n a hundred years ago. It was a letter to the editor from a woman and she said: "You can't think how much good the marriages do me. If you knew how I love marriages you would have them in each issue of your paper. The elopements are wonderful and the murders are most satisfactory, but I like best of all the marriages."

That is perfect proof, Mister Editor, that the marriage season is the best one fer selling newspapers.

Back when I was a boy most everybody got their wedding news over the telephone. We had a rural line with 12 houses on the line. Ever house had a different ring and all the phones rung no matter which number you called. I recollect that our ring was three shorts and a long and when you took down the receiver you'd usually hear 11 more receivers come off the hook, and they'd stay off until you got through talking. If you didn't hear but 10 receivers click you'd know one family was away from home or they was too sick to git to the phone. It was the best newspaper system ever invented. But I recollect that my Grandpa was agin putting ours in. "Them fool contraptions," he allowed "will draw lightning and kill everybody in the house."

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim
