MICHIGAN SETS ANOTHER HIGHWAY RECORD

MICHIGAN WILL HAVE the longest continuous stretch of toll-free Interstate highway in the U.S. after Dec. 19 when the final link of Interstate 94 will be open to traffic. The freeway extends from Detroit to St. Joseph, a distance of 203 miles, and also is the nation's first border-to-border Interstate freeway. State Highway Commissioner John C.

Mackie and other top national, state and local officials will participate in a ribbon-cutting ceremony to mark completion of the last section to be opened, an 18-mile stretch between Jackson and Ann Arbor. The new section also includes Michigan's 500th mile of freeway—five times as much as the state had only three years ago.

Yule Lights--A Tradition

Lights are a wonderful part of our Christmas tradition, says Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county extension agent in home economics. A light shone 'round the angel who appeared to the shepherds announcing the birth of the Christ child. Then the star appeared to guide the wise men on their journey to Bethlehem, and a divine light formed halos about the heads of the holy family.

The light we most often think of at Christmas time is the light of the Christmas tree, with its twinkling bulbs and gay decorations. Legend traces the first lighted Christmas tree back to the 16th century when Martin Luther strolled through the countryside one Christmas Eve. He was so impressed with the beauty of snow-flecked evergreen trees sparkling in the moonlight, he returned to his home and tried to recapture the outdoor scene. He attached candles to a small evergreen tree, simulating the reflections of the starlit heaven. The lighted tree of Christmas did not become a permanent symbol of our holiday season until many years later. It was adopted as part of the American celebration about 1850. Though the symbol remains the same, the decorations have changed through the years. Instead of festoons of strung popcorn and cranberries, there are ropes of tinsel and colored paper. The cookies, fruit, flowers and paper ornaments have given way to brightly colored ornaments of metal, foil and glass. Instead of tufts of cotton there is spun glass angel hair, tinsel and snow of crushed foam. The small, colored wax candles, with their flickering flames, have been replaced by flame-shaped incandescent bulbs. The lights of Christmas—both in candles and bulbs—have a symbolic significance. Red stands for the courage of Jesus. Green is for the new and growing life made possible by his birth. Blue is for truth, and white is for purity.

Folks who live double lives find neither is to be commended.

BULEN TALKS Cars

SNOW STORMS AND BARGAINS

Winter is the toughest time of the year on car dealers. Not only is business at its lowest yearly ebb, but the dealer's cost of operation rises sharply.

One example of this that is painfully evident to every dealer is the increased cost of "board and room" for the used cars exposed to the weather on his lot. Snow removal and other expenses almost double the cost of maintaining his inventory.

In warmer months used car inventory costs average $3.00 per day per car. This includes depreciation, lot expenses, washing, license fees, battery recharging, etc. Snow and ice and lower temperatures increase all costs with the exception of depreciation to around $5.20 per day.

A used car in winter must have its engine started more frequently and maintaining battery strength becomes a major maintenance item. Anti-freeze becomes necessary and washing, because of snow and ice, requires many times the man hours of warmer weather. Cars must be washed inside, one at a time, and allowed to dry before being returned to the lot.

For these reasons Buleen Motors is anxious to keep its used car inventory at minimum, now, during the winter months. We prefer to pass on in savings to buyers the money that would otherwise be spent maintaining a large inventory. There is clearly no better time to buy a used car than now and if you buy from us you can be sure that it is a sound reliable car properly reconditioned and sold on honest terms.

New Parks Sticker

Come January 1, park users will need annual or daily stickers on windshields of their vehicles to enter 55 of Michigan's 62 parks. Annual stickers will go on sale late in December at hunting and fishing license dealers in areas covering these 55 parks. They also will be available at all parks. The annual sticker (above) will cost $2 at parks and an additional 15 cents at dealers to cover their handling expenses. Aside from this handling charge by dealers only, all permit money will go directly toward retiring a bond issue which will finance a proposed $3,000,000 parks improvement and lands acquisition program during the current fiscal year. Daily 50-cent stickers will be sold only at parks where they are required.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:
A feller can tell from the signs that Christmas is about to git here again. The postmaster in New York, fer instant, reports that he's gitting hundreds of letters being forwarded there to Santa Claus. I would suggest he forward 'em along to Washington. Santa Claus has been making that his legal residence now fer the last 30 years or more.

And country folks all over the nation is reporting finding cedar stumps on their property where a tree used to be. That's a shore sign their city cousins is busy gitting ready fer Christmas.

And another sign that Christmas is just around the corner is the pieces in all the papers about the outlook fer business in 1961. These fellers that tell us in advance how things is going to be fer another year always start back in December so's people will loosen up on their pocketbooks during the Christmas shopping season. As fur back as I can recollect ain't none of them ever predicted a bad year, even back when we was having a panic and them that didn't have no belt to tighten was holding their pants up with a plow line from the barn. Fer instant, all of 'em this year is predicting business will be so good in 1961 we won't have nothing to complain about. I think business will be real good in 1961, but not that good. It ain't never been that good, and we've had some bumper years.

I see by the papers where the new administration is strong in favor of Federal aid to education. I'm strong fer education, too, Mister Editor, on account of gitting so little of it myself. I went to a one-room school and we didn't have many advantages. About the only advantage we had over these modern schools was we could always git just one more in that room. Today they got so many gymnasiums and things that they just can't git one more in the classroom.

But the thing that worries me about Federal aid to education is the interest. The Federal government can't git the money no place except from us folks back home, and experience has showed that bout half of all they git from us rubs off in Washington afore it gets back to us. I figger that 100 per cent interest is a little high, even fer education. I wish they was some way we could handle this proposition and save that 100 per cent interest.

On account of this not being very modern thinking, I better quit now afore somebody takes me off the air.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

And then there's the special comfort of knowing that sudden illness will not be a financial hardship on others. That's where Blue Cross-Blue Shield can help. You can keep your Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection after retirement if you are employed in a firm having Blue Cross-Blue Shield. And there's no need to worry about having it canceled because of recurrent illnesses or repeated hospital stays. These are added reasons why Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection is chosen by nearly half of the people in Michigan. How about you?

THEY WORK HARDER BECAUSE THEY RIDE EASIER!

Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. That's why Chevy trucks keep on working and saving for extra thousands of miles.

I'll Take the Green Christmas Tree

By Ilene Warren

There are many beautiful Christmas trees this year: pink ones, silver ones, some that change colors - but for me, the most beautiful tree is still the green, woody kind with baubles and tinsel. Where there are children one can still find colored paper chains, popcorn strung on strings, and other homemade decorations.

We visited a family last week where there are two children in school and two pre-school children. Debbie, the oldest, eagerly asked her mother, "When can we start making our Christmas decorations?" "Oh, next week, I guess," replied the mother. Curious, I asked, "What do you make? Paper chains?" "Oh, no," answered Elizabeth, "we make little houses, Christmas scenes and..." she continued with an eagerness that matched the children's, "today, we saw a real cute idea on TV that we're going to try to make." And she told me about it. Christmas in the Walker home is a busy time - a busy time of fun. They are doing in that home, on a small scale, what Cass City in its effort to be Christmas Town does on a big scale! As the Walker family creates home decorations, they will be learning and they will be entering into a part of the true spirit of Christmas.

how to cope with our central heating!

Remember the old joke we heard during the war years? The main criticisms the British made about the Yanks were: they're overheated, overfed and over here!

Even the fellow who stays on the level in this life has to take a great many humps.

OUT OF GAS
The man who burns the candle at both ends is apt to leave part of his life's work undone.

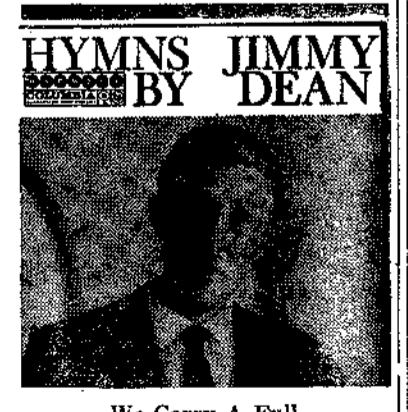

Some time ago, I quoted an old proverb: "If there is righteousness in the heart, there is beauty in the character. If there is beauty in the character, there will be harmony in the home. If there is harmony in the home, there will be order in the nation. When there is order in the nation, there will be peace in the world." Mrs. Curtis Cleland has informed me that this little proverb is the prayer of the United Nations.

The stars are brilliant this time of year. Last week it was dark when I went outside to take the dogs something to drink; frost sparkled like diamonds in the brown grass and the stars were bright and twinkling. There are a couple of lines of poetry that come to mind: "The stars are glittering in the frosty sky, numerous as pebbles on a broad seacoast."

We decorated our Christmas tree last Thursday night. Ron always sets up the tree, spaces the lights and then turns the rest of the job over to me. I enjoy trimming the tree. Some of our baubles are just baubles, but a few have special memories associated with them. One came as part of the decorative wrapping on a gift from the "Bulen Gang" - a few unusual ones were given to me by Ron for our first Christmas in our home in Royal Oak. I imagine nearly every family has a few baubles with which they associate certain, often sentimental, memories.

Jack Frost did some sketches on our car windows last week. He doesn't get to work on house windows as much as he used to... he is felled by our heating systems! When I was a child I loved to trace the patterns so beautifully etched during the night on the windows of our farmhouse. Like the everchanging designs in a kaleidoscope, the patterns were always different.

Speaking of heating systems, I enjoyed a recent Ine: Robb column in the Detroit Free Press in which Miss Robb mildly chided our British friends for being critical of our central heating. Miss Robb suggested that our friends from England be instructed in the arts of turning down thermostats, turning off radiators, and opening windows; then, she concluded, they'll know

Highway Officials Concerned About Accident Statistics

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Michigan highway safety officials are still very concerned by traffic accident statistics for 1960.

The provisional November death toll compiled by the State Police was 135, which is 6 per cent less than the same month a year ago.

However, police expect the toll to exceed November, 1959, when delayed reports of deaths are in. As it stands using the provisional figures for November, 1960, the state traffic toll is running some 8 per cent ahead for the whole year.

Some 1,418 persons have died this year compared with 1,311 in the comparable period last -- an increase of 102.

Virtually complete figures for October show 168 deaths, 48 or 34 per cent, higher than October, 1959. The cumulative 11-month total for injuries is also up as is the number of accidents.

Latest figures available show estimated travel for the first nine months of the year to be 23.8 billion miles, an increase of 3 per cent.

The death rate of 4.6 per 100 million vehicle miles was up 2 per cent, State Police said.

Since December, with its Christmas and New Year's holidays and greatly increased travel, is always one of the worst months for producing traffic statistics, safety experts are more than ever concerned that the year will end with a final record worse than it should be.

Bad weather and bad holiday driving habits could produce an even bigger rash of deaths.

Regulation of egg nog may seem of less than vital concern to Michigan's millions--except at Christmas time.

But, application of a law passed by the 1960 Legislature which sets up standards for the traditional drink is one of the jobs of the Agriculture Department.

It is, however, just one of many facets of the department's year-around activities in protecting consumers from adulterated or unwholesome food, and from being victimized by faulty or mal-adjusted weighing and measuring devices.

The egg nog law sets higher minimum standards for butterfat content in the Christmas drink.

The Agriculture Department's dairy division said butterfat now must be at least 8 per cent and egg yolk solids have to be increased to 1.1 per cent.

If artificial color or flavor is added, the label on the container must say so, the department said.

For the uninitiated, egg nog is usually flavored with nutmeg, spice, sugar syrup, vanilla and dried egg yolks. This is mixed with milk and cream.

Some people add a spot of spirits to give a warming touch to the drink.

However, it is against Michigan law to sell egg nog to which alcoholic beverages have been added. Taken straight -- that is, without any alcohol -- egg nog is an excellent dairy food for youngsters, the Agriculture Department said.

A timely warning comes from the Health Department: Don't shovel too much snow or you may find yourself the victim of what may be called Snow Shoveler's Heart Disease.

Too many men over 40 think they can shovel snow with youths of 20--even though they regularly have no physical exercise, the department said.

While the typical cartoon husband tries hard to get out of snow shoveling, many men do it just to prove they're no pantywaist.

Whatever the reason, if you're not used to exercise or working hard, take it easy, the department said.

Anyone who has had a heart attack should check with his doctor before even attempting to shovel the walk, and even previously healthy men are apt to take the attitude that it can't happen to them.

It shouldn't be too hard to find a neighbor lad to do the shoveling for a dollar or so, the department said.

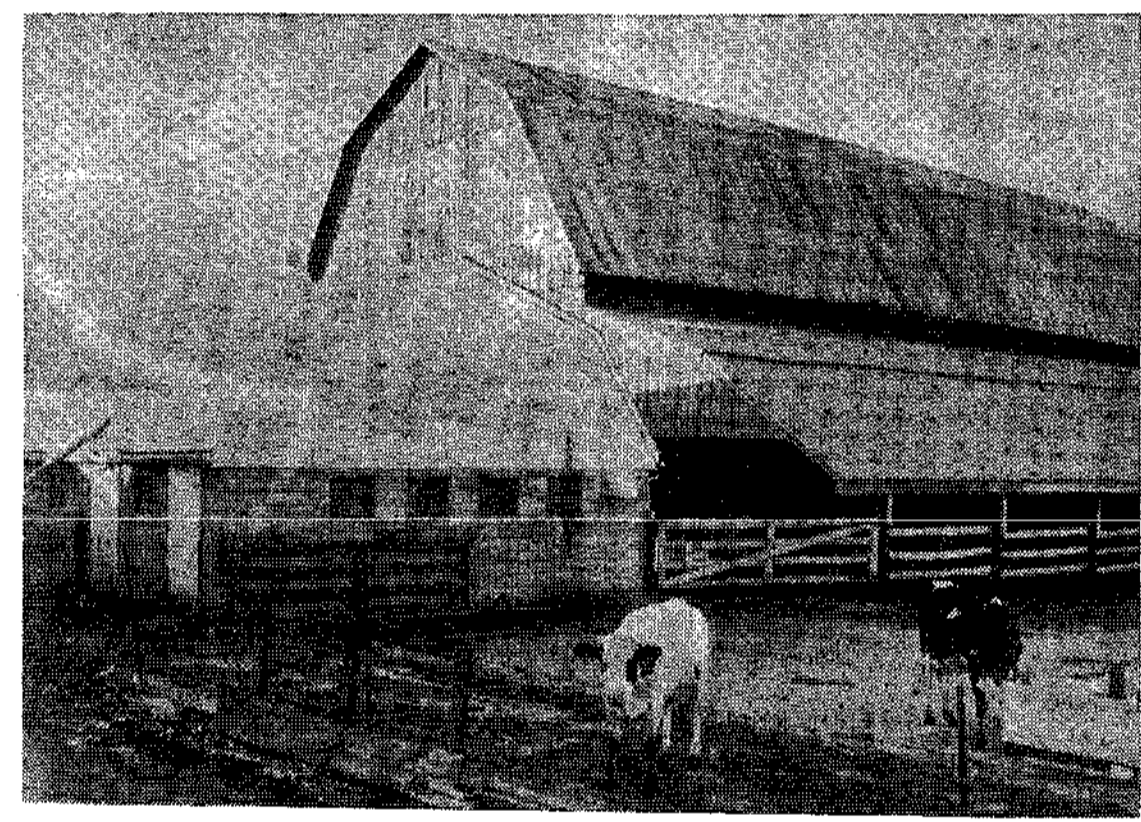

And if you feel you really should get out in the crisp winter air, you can always supervise the job.

Dear Santa...

All over America, boys and girls are eagerly awaiting the coming of Christmas... looking forward to the toys for which they've asked in their letter to Santa. It's a big job for Santa—keeping all these boys and girls happy—but he has a big helper in the trucking industry. The hundreds of thousands of trucks and trailers that all year long bring Americans everything they eat, wear, or use are kept extra busy at Christmas-time. From factory to showcase to Santa's pack, the toys and other gifts that bring so many happy smiles on Christmas morning depend on trucks to get where they're going... Merry Christmas, everyone!

Are you one of the homemakers who did not get time to bake your Christmas fruit cakes? Well, here is an idea for fruit-cake bars that may fill the gap left by not having your own fruit cake. These bars can be used without a three-week melting period required by a regular fruit cake.

Any medium-rich fruit cake recipe may be used, but there should be enough batter in relation to fruit so that the mixture can be spread easily in a shallow pan. I would like to suggest that you use a golden fruit cake recipe, then add an additional one to two cups of dates, sliced in match-like strips.

For the baking, you will probably need two shallow "bromine" pans, about 7 1/2 x 10 inches. Prepare the pans by lining them with two thicknesses of greased brown paper or white unglazed paper, such as good typewriting bond. Fit the paper up the sides of the pan and extend it above the edges. This paper prevents scorching of the raisins and currants.

Pour the batter one-inch deep and spread it well into the corners of the pan. Arrange decorations of candied cherries and moistened candied citron or green candied pineapple on top. For this, the fruit is scalded to moisten and to avoid excess drying out in baking. Protect fruit design somewhat by pushing it down into the batter.

Bake the cake for 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 hours. Begin with an oven temperature of 325 degrees. When the cake puffs up and begins to brown, reduce the temperature to 275 degrees.

To keep the cake from drying out, place a shallow pan on the lowest rack of the oven and fill with an inch and a half of boiling water. Bake the cake near the middle of the oven. When the cake begins to brown slightly and is dry on top, cover it loosely with thin parchment paper, brown paper or bond paper. This will keep the fruit from caramelizing and the cake from getting too dry. Do not use wax paper. Bake until the cake tests done. When in doubt, cut a small piece from the corner and let it cool. Remove the finished cake from the oven and place it on a wire cake rack to cool in the pan.

The cake can be topped with a glaze when it is cool. A simple glaze is 1 1/4 cup white corn syrup, 2 tablespoons water and 1 tablespoon orange juice. Boil mixture in a very small pan about one minute. Brush the glaze on lightly and let it dry before cutting the cake into bars.

If you prefer individual fruit cakes to the bars, you can use the same batter. Brush paper baking cups with oil or melted shortening and put them in muffin pans. Spoon batter into the cups to about 2/3 full. Decorate the top with candied fruits and bake at 300 degrees F. for 45 minutes, or until done.

Wrap cool bars or cakes in moisture-proof, air-proof material for storing. For convenience, bars can be left in the baking pan and the pan wrapped tightly. The cakes can be kept at room temperature for a short time. If they are to be kept more than a month, however, the refrigerator is a better storage place.

He's a really big man if he places the blame for his downfall where it really belongs.

History proves that the best way to help your community or nation is to help yourself.

The fellow who can prolong an argument until it wears itself out is usually a winner.
