

Hawks Edge out Caro Tigers, 56-52

Cass City won its second conference game in three starts when they posted a 56-52 victory over Caro in a raggedly played game at Cass City High School Friday night.

The Hawks jumped off to a lead midway in the second period and were never behind, although a last quarter rally almost pulled the game out of the fire for the Tigers.

Tim Anthes, on quick breaks and driving lay-ups, paced Cass City's attack with 18 points. Gary Hutchinson chipped in 14 to keep Cass City's attack rolling.

Cass City opened the game with two quick baskets by Larry Robinson from outside the foul circle and by Hutchinson from the side of the court to take a 4-0 lead. But it was short lived as they turned out to be the only field goals for Cass City in the initial canto.

The Hawks cashed six of eight free throws to hold the Tigers to a 10-10 tie at the end of the quarter.

Anthes and Hutchinson found the range in the second quarter as they both hit three times from the field. Gordon Goodall hit a pair of charity heaves and a bucket as Cass City scored 16 points while Caro scored just six points. At the half Cass City led 26-16.

In the early moments of the third quarter the Hawks added to their lead. They went in front by as many as 16 points before the Tigers rallied and started to close the gap.

At the end of the third period, Cass City was in front 45 to 33. With Jack Nigg and Bill Kinde finding the range in the final quarter, most of the lead was quickly dissipated in the quarter.

With 31 seconds remaining on the clock, Cass City led by just three points. Art Randal converted a foul shot with about 15 seconds left to make the score 56-52 and the Tigers were unable to do anything about it in the final seconds remaining.

Cass City shot 31 per cent, but the percentage is misleading. They missed numerous shots from close-in and only because they were able to get so many lay-ups were they able to post the percentage they did.

The Tigers, helped by a hot streak in the final period when they hit from all over the floor, finished the game with a percentage mark of 32 per cent.

The game was fairly rough and both coaches used plenty of their bench strength in an attempt to come up with a smooth working club.

Sheriff Reports Holiday Arrests

Arthur Perry of Marlette was found guilty of disorderly conduct this week by Justice Ruth Tennant of Caro and was fined $25 with $8.25 costs or 10 days in jail.

Also charged with disorderly conduct was Donald Jean Gamet of Vassar who appeared before Justice Ivan Middleton. He was released on a $50 bond.

Breaking and entering the North Grove Inn is the charge facing Chris Lauinger of Pontiac who is out of jail on a $200 bond, according to the Tuscola County Sheriff's department.

From the Editor's Corner

If you think your Christmas mailing list was a problem, consider the post office which handled between 108,000 and 110,000 pieces of mail during the holiday. The volume increased about five per cent over last year, according to Postmaster Lewis Bishop.

Three extra persons were taken on to help with the holiday load, one as a clerk, the other two as mail carriers. The regular staff consists of six clerks and five carriers.

Preparations for the Christmas rush began December 15 and lasted until Christmas Eve. The post office lobby was open from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day except Sunday, but the postal employees worked from 7 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. and several put in four to six hours on Sundays.

Since Monday is another holiday, the Chronicle will be short a work day again. All news and advertising copy should be in by Saturday for the January 5 issue.

This week's Chronicle is brought to you through the courtesy of the staff, minus John and Dorothy Haire who are vacationing in New York. We're sure we have the only boss in town who leaves his instructions in nine stanzas of verse.

By the way, John went to New York because he received an anonymous tip that the fishing off the Brooklyn Bridge is good this time of year.

Lights Dedicated

Memorial lights were dedicated December 18 at a candlelight service at the Presbyterian church in memory of Mrs. A. A. Hitchcock.

The lights illuminate the pulpit and communion table and the stained glass windows on the south and west walls.

A time clock turns on the window lights in the evenings.

Village Offices

Persons seeking offices in the village government should file their petitions with Mrs. Wilma Fry, the village clerk, by December 31.

Any registered voter who presents a petition with the minimum of 10 names may put himself on the ballot for president, assessor, clerk, treasurer or one of three council positions.

Mrs. Fry will be in her office in the municipal building from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

3 Hurt as Car Skids Off Road

Three persons were injured Wednesday when the car in which they were riding skidded off the dead-end of Hess road, one mile north of M-38.

The driver, Fred New, 20, of Gagetown sustained a fractured nose. Passengers Bill Spriggs and Elmer Schumaker, both of Sebawing, suffered cuts and bruises.

3 County Students Get MSU Degrees

Three county persons were among the 698 students who received degrees from Michigan State University December 6.

They are John K. Hudson of Caro, who received an MA degree in foundations of education, and Robert L. Colestock and LeRoy K. Lehner, both of Unionville, who received an MA degree in agricultural engineering and a BS in landscape architecture, respectively.

To Repair Old Motor Leveling of Hill St. Okayed by Council

The village council approved a request made by E. B. Schwaderer and James Bauer Tuesday that Hill St. which leads to Hills and Dales General Hospital be leveled because the slope is dangerous.

Mr. Schwaderer said the street was too slippery even if approached at a very careful speed and that it was often impossible to prevent sliding out into Church Street.

He suggested that a two-and-a-half or three-foot leveling would be sufficient. He said the operation would involve a little more than 1,000 yards of dirt.

The council thought that the banks along the road should also be sloped to prevent snow banks from forming. The water pipe running along the street will be dug up and placed deeper. The total cost of this operation was estimated at $750.

The council also discussed putting up more and better directions to Hills and Dales.

Repair Old Motor

The problem of a motor for the stand-by water pump was settled Tuesday night. The motion was made and carried that the old motor should be repaired rather than a new, more powerful one purchased at this time. There was one dissenting vote.

A new 30 horse-power motor could be purchased for $827.26 plus $138 for the starter with $100 deducted because of the maintenance contract.

Concluded on page ten.

Christmas Baskets

Eighteen baskets of food, toys and clothing were distributed to needy families in this area by the Junior Woman's Club Friday.

The food and some of the clothing were purchased with funds provided by the Community Chest.

The Lions Club contributed money toward clothing and the Junior Woman's Club bought and wrapped toys for the children in these families.

Preparing Christmas baskets is an annual project for the women, according to Mrs. Don Eria, club president.

Stahlbaum Ticketed

Jack Stahlbaum, 26, of Cass City received minor injuries last Wednesday when his car ran off Cedar Run Road and hit a tree. Extensive damage was done to the car.

He was ticketed by the Bad Axe State Police who sent an officer to investigate.

Learn Songs

Mrs. Leone Shaw walked briskly into the classroom. "Bon jour, classe," she said, and her students, 30 bright-eyed third graders, replied without hesitation, "Bon jour, Madame."

These students and some 70 more are taking part in an experiment being tried by Cass City Schools this year.

Mrs. Shaw has long advocated foreign language instruction on the grade-school level, but even she wasn't sure that third graders would be ready.

However, a visit to one of her classes proves that youngsters of this age not only are ready to assimilate another language, but also are very willing to learn.

These children are good. Having minored in French and remembering the first stumbling attempts of myself and fellow students, as we tried to satisfy the implacable Madame Miller, I was greatly impressed by the accomplishments of these youngsters.

In class, Mrs. Shaw moves about the room, going down the aisles to talk to individual children. She fires a fast-paced barrage of questions about the weather, their names, how many brothers and sisters they have. Thus the class session is more like a conversation between teacher and student than a laborious recitation.

Teaches Phrases

Mrs. Shaw teaches the youngsters sentences and phrases rather than individual words. She has not shown them written French because she feels they should get a better base in English or they might get confused.

"Teaching them orally also gives me greater individual contact with the students," Mrs. Shaw said.

When she asks a question the hands of the volunteers wave like flags on a windy day.

Often she will introduce a new word or phrase without telling what it means. By relating the word to what the children already know and by gesturing and inflections, she gets across the meaning more emphatically.

During the class period I visited, Mrs. Shaw asked a little boy a question using the word "like" which the children had not heard before.

The little fellow stood there puzzled as she repeated the question, "Do you like her?" meaning a girl he often called on during class games.

When he still did not understand, Mrs. Shaw put her arms around him, and hugging him, said with a teasing voice, "I like you," in French. Then she repeated, "Do you like her?"

The embarrassed boy stopped wiggling as the meaning of the new word suddenly dawned on him. He answered with an explosive "non" that showed just how well he understood.

Because the children are alert for gestures and expressions, they often comprehend French better than adult students, Mrs. Shaw said.

Learn Songs

The youngsters have also been learning songs which they sing with great gusto.

A game, one of many which Mrs. Shaw devised, called "Who Has the Eraser" gives the children a chance to ask and answer questions among themselves.

One child is sent out of the room, while another gives the eraser to a student in the class. When the first child returns he asks who has the eraser, calling on students by name.

The ones he calls on give the appropriate reply in French.

Games such as this make vivid use of the words the children learn while letting them work off their youthful energy.

Parents who have spoken to her say they are very glad about the instructions their children are receiving and hope it will be continued to high school, Mrs. Shaw said.

This continuous instruction, however, would call for another French instructor. It is Mrs. Shaw's hope that the school board will recognize the need for this addition to the staff.

Otherwise she thinks this new level of language education should be moved up to the junior high school, where there will be more continuity to the instruction and not leave such a gap between third grade and high school.

Leontine to Have Own Exhibit in Saginaw Museum

Mrs. James Wallace of Cass City, who signs her paintings "Leontine", has been invited by the Saginaw Museum to exhibit her work at a one-man show January 8-29.

Leontine will show some 31 oil paintings and pastels.

The public has been invited to attend a reception for the local artist January 8 from 2-5 p.m. at the Saginaw Museum on Michigan Avenue.

Besides supplying paintings for a Dallas, Texas, interior decorator, Leontine also teaches adult art classes in Cass City.

Sports Car Damaged

A sports car driven by Delbert Law, 18, of Cass City was damaged on the right front end Thursday as it took to a ditch to avoid hitting a pickup truck that had stopped in the road.

The accident happened about midnight on the Cemetery road two and a half miles north of Cass City.

Driver of the pickup was Milton Solden of Rt. 3, Cass City.

According to reports, Solden told deputies Paul Berry and Carl Palmateer that he heard something dragging and stopped to see what it was.

The officers said Law told them he could not see well and that he could not turn out around the truck because a car was coming from the opposite direction.

News Highlights of 1960 as Reflected on the Chronicle's Front Page

Good-bye, 1960, you certainly were an eventful year in Cass City's history.

A two-decade dream was realized in August with the opening of Hills and Dales General Hospital.

New businesses took their places in Cass City. Civic problems such as zoning and fire protection threaded their way through the year. The pages of the Chronicle reflect pride at the accomplishments of the people in this area.

Looking back before facing the New Year, we see that these events made the news in 1960:

JANUARY

The expansion urge hit Cass City in January. A school committee discusses a four-room addition to the elementary building and the move for an air strip is initiated. Financially the village is doing well and Cass City teachers rank high on county pay scale. The zoning problem raises its head.

Jan. 7. Brinker Lumber Co. is sold to Croft-Clara Inc. State Supreme Court upholds lower court ruling denying damages claimed by Argyle Cheese Co.

The Rev. Ernest E. Robinson retires from Methodist church after 47 years of service. Year-end report shows village in the black.

Jan. 14. Cass City teachers rank second on pay scale in the county. Home and School Council discusses four-room addition to grade school. Red Hawks lose to Marlette 59-52.

Jan. 21. County supervisors resort to deficit financing. Rotary Club honors Mort Orr and Charles Patterson. Nine students from school bomb scare.

MARCH

The zoning problem drags on and on during this month. Gagetown stirs with unrest over election procedures, while Cass City residents take honors in science, livestock shows and music.

March 3. Clinton Law sells feed and supply business to Farm Bureau Services. Village council okays site of new post office.

William Sumner, 103 years old, honored at family gathering in Deckerville. Expansion brings promotions at Walbro.

March 10. Two hundred exhibits are expected in Cass City High School's Science Fair. Election turn-out runs high in Gagetown, where incumbent president Joseph Mosack wages a sticker campaign. Trustees of Hills and Dales General Hospital are named. Zoning meeting is planned again.

March 17. Cass City entries sweep up top honors at 35th semiannual 4-H and FFA Market Hog show and sale. Little is accomplished at zoning meeting. Twenty-six students take blue ribbons at Science Fair. Mac and Leo team wins Merchant's league crown.

March 24. West's lot is approved by Attorney General as post office site. The Rev. George Getchel preaches at Novesta church. Final rites are held for Leonard D. Urquhart. Farm Produce Co. votes to liquidate. Gagetown waits for state elections investigator to come.

March 31. Cass City High School band earns top rating at district festival. School will ask for new bond issue, to finance four classrooms. Council again postpones action on zoning proposal. Bids are being accepted on post office. Elkland township leads county in tax collections.

APRIL

Money dominates the scene in April. Cass City electors approve the $125,000 school addition and $111,000 is earmarked for road improvement. More area is added to Cass City school district.

April 7. Seventeen Cass City seniors are named to National Honor Society. Airstrip problem is discussed at Chamber of Commerce meeting. Elkland township okays $2,386 for hospital donation. State inspector finds irregularities in Gagetown election.

April 14. Churches schedule special services for Good Friday and Easter. Council and planning commission reach compromise on zoning problem. Bond issue for school addition is 1.75 mills. Douglas Avery is awarded MSU music scholarship. Elmer Conant is named chairman of county board of supervisors.

April 21. Wayne Powell of Cass City is among three county youths killed in an accident near Owendale. Electors are to vote on $125,000 grade school addition. Disputed school district is made a part of Cass City district. Valuations jump in area townships. Twenty-five schools are expected at invitational track meet.

April 28. Voters approve school bond issue and addition to be ready Nov. 1. Janet McConkey is named Tuscola County Dairy Princess. General Cable building will cover full block. Costs of improvement and drainage of Doer road are set at $11,000. Twenty-two teams are at Gavel Club invitational. Junior high band receives highest possible rating in state festival.

MAY

Cass City's young people make the news in May. Scholarship winners are named. The band takes top honors. The track team races to second place in regional meet.

May 5. Kathleen Bartle receives scholarship to MSU. New Sunday postal service is announced. Supervisory staff is appointed at Hills and Dales. Senior band earns division one rating at state festival. Hawk nine expected to lose Thumb B loop title.

May 12. Douglas Avery sings on TV "Talent Quest." County road commission explains position on payment controversy. Delbert Law is awarded U of M scholarship. Many activities are planned for visit of exchange mayor of Carleton. Hawks win pair to move into title contention.

May 19. Exchange mayor is feted. M-81 group works for highway improvement. New businesses open in Cass City area. Senior class plans trip to Chicago. Village population shows little increase, while figure for county is up 12 per cent. Regional track meet is held here, with local team taking second place honors.

May 26. Paul Holmberg leads Hawks to track crown. Blood bank will be established at Hills and Dales. Haire and LaPorte end Chronicle partnership. Four vacancies are to be filled on school board. JoAnn Bigelow will teach in Peru. Ruth Karr receives

WANDERING WITH WARREN

Snowcream-Forfeit Of Atomic Age Living

By Ilene Warren

It's nearly time to say farewell to 1960, the threshold of the so-called "Soaring Sixties." It seems to me to have been a year crammed full of happenings, some bad as well as good. It has been a memorable year for me for many reasons. I am reminded, again, of a bit of verse: "Good-bye, kind year; we walk no more together. But here in quiet happiness we part; And from thy wreath of faded fern and heather I take some sprays, and wear them on my heart."

So, farewell, 1960! Hail, 1961!

said it, "If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you; that is the principal difference between a dog and a man."

SHABBONA

Mrs. Wilfred Turner and Mrs. Robert Burns called at the home of Mrs. Bruce Kritzman Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 20, to make plans for the annual Christmas party of the Shabbona Extension Club which was held Dec. 27 in the Community Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steed of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Rader Hammett, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lefler and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Lefler Jr. spent Christmas Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Lefler Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kritzman spent last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Murphy at Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Warren spent last Sunday at the home of Margaret and Lillian Dunlap at Caro.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Henry and Jim of Dearborn spent Sunday and Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns.

The entire family of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McNaughton, 54 including 19 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren, were at the D. B. McNaughton home last Monday. Fifty were served at the annual Christmas dinner.

Last Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steed of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Lefler Sr. spent the afternoon visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lefler.

Thirty-three members of the family of Mrs. William F. Dunlap met Monday in the Shabbona Community Hall for their annual Christmas dinner. Guests were from Cass City, Kawikawin, Caro, Madison Heights and Royal Oak, as well as the local area.

Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, Mrs. Hazen Kritzman attended the Gray Ladies Christmas party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gift in Marlette. Gifts were exchanged and a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dorman and children spent Christmas Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Atwood in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Platt of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kritzman and daughters, Sharon, Laurie and Karri, of Saginaw, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Deneen of Cass City, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Kritzman and Marilyn and Nancy of Deckerville enjoyed Christmas Day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Kritzman.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Kritzman and Mr. and Mrs. James Morell of Argyle visited their brother, Felix Shagena of Tyre, last Monday. Mr. Shagena is critically ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McIntosh of Argyle and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Smith spent Christmas Day with Mr. and Mrs. Voyle Dorman and Miss Kaven Dorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Evo of Madison Heights visited Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kritzman last Tuesday.

It seems a shame that one of the prices, albeit a small one, we have to pay for living in this atomic age is that of enjoying snowcream. That used to be a big treat after the first fluffy snowfall (you had to have the right kind of snow for the best snowcream). We, my sister and I, would brush aside the top snow and fill a bowl with the snow below. In the house, we added either milk or cream (depending on mother!), sugar and vanilla. It was delicious; almost (but not quite) as good as the home-made ice cream we had in the summertime. My brother, Jack, was more adventuresome: he would add fruit or maple syrup or whatever else he could think of that caught his fancy! I sampled some of his concoctions but always preferred just plain vanilla snowcream.

Now, we have to forego this simple pleasure - since our pretty white snowfalls of today may be contaminated by radioactive particles.

I listened to the WLEW presentation of Handel's "Messiah" last Thursday evening and enjoyed the beautiful music and appreciated the clarity with which the words were sung. I have met Franklyn S. Weddle, who directed the choir and the orchestra, and am one of his admirers so perhaps that was a contributing factor to my enjoyment. I have attended two music classes (each only a week's duration) under Mr. Weddle's tutelage and he is an interesting and charming person. This presentation of the "Messiah" will be carried on the national networks later and I hope to hear it again.

In this kind of weather, I'm always coming to work bundled up and exclaiming how low the temperature "went last night" - of course, we do have that big refrigerator, the Cass river, right outside the house! However, since my quoted degrees are always lower than any others, I am being "pooh-poohed" and it has been suggested that I buy a new thermometer. Well, just last Friday morning, I found an outdoor thermometer on my desk. One of the shop suppliers had given it to Keith Murphy, Bulen's parts manager and purchasing agent. Keith gave it to me and said, "Here, now you can double-check the temperature!" We shall see.

BULEN TALKS Cars

A NEW YEAR - 1961

This is the time of year we should all add up our assets and count our blessings. Some of these are spelled "assets" and some are spelled "assets". The "assets", of course, keep a roof over our heads but the other "assets" of living in a free society and being able to seek happiness in our own way make life under that roof worthwhile.

This is the time of year for pledges. We're going to play safe by sticking to the ones we've made throughout the year. That is, we promise to sell used cars as good as honest reconditioning can make them at the lowest possible price and to spare no effort to help you get the maximum satisfaction out of your new car.

There are a few operators in our business who maintain that the honest approach in advertising doesn't pay. The only technique that works is to outsmart the public with gimmicks they say, and in so operating they encourage the public to attempt to outsmart the dealer. We're still going to go on disagreeing with that thinking.

We'd like to thank our many customers for the confidence they have shown in us by buying their car from us and letting us service it. We'll continue to try to deserve that confidence.

While some parts of our country may have temporary economic distress, the overall picture and future forecasts are very bright. We need only to work together to make them come true.

We wish a Happy New Year to you and yours.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. MacKay

The Salem EUB church was the scene of the November 26 wedding of Miss Ruth Ann Gaffney and Mr. Ralph James MacKay, both of Cass City.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaffney of Sears.

The Rev. S. E. Wurtz officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of silk taffeta with an empire waist and a French lace bodice. A headpiece of orange blossoms secured her veil of French illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with an or-chic. Attending the bride were Miss Janet Russell of Cass City as maid of honor and Mrs. Helen MacKay of Cass City, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid.

The best man was Stuart Little. Also attending was Robert MacKay, the bridegroom's brother.

Richard Gaffney, the bride's brother, and Jim McTavish seated the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. MacKay will make their home in Kokomo, Indiana.

He leaves a son, Carl of Clarkston; a brother, Lee Hendrick of Tyre; his mother, Mrs. Mary Fulcher of Greenleaf township, and two grandchildren.

The Rev. John Hall Fish officiated at services in Little's Funeral home Saturday at two o'clock. Burial was made in Novesta cemetery.

1960 Tax Guides Now Available

The 1960 Farmers' Income Tax Guide is now available at the Cooperative Extension Office in Caro. According to Don Kehler, county extension agent in agriculture, no changes in the basic rules have been made since last year.

Even though only minor changes have been made over the last few years, farm operators frequently pay more income tax than legally necessary. For instance, extra depreciation can be had if new capital assets are depreciated on either the sum of the digit, declining balance or the 20 per cent additional method.

Most farmers use the straight-line depreciation method.

Salvage value must be taken on most newly acquired capitalized assets, and this includes purchased livestock kept longer than one year and used for draft, breeding or dairy purposes. Depreciation is then taken on the difference between the purchase value and salvage declared.

Dairymen often neglect to enter properly the gain or loss from sale of purchased or raised livestock kept longer than one year and used for draft, breeding or dairy purposes. Income from sale of such animals is not entered on the 1040F schedule but on Schedule D. Social Security will check on this and if entered incorrectly the farmer will be refunded the amount he paid toward Social Security from this part of his income.

These tax guides are free. Just stop in the County Cooperative Extension Office, or mail in a request or telephone for a copy.

VILLAGE COUNCIL

There would be no cost to repair the old 25 horse-power motor except for what parts are needed.

The present motor when repaired will allow the pump to handle 300 gallons a minute. The new motor would have been able to handle 350 gallons.

The Council approved the purchase of a new chain saw.

The recommendations of a Detroit Edison engineer will be sought as to the location and number of additional street lights needed in the village.

It was moved and carried that all bills be paid.

Michigan Political Climate Changing for Better

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

If there's such a thing as political climate, it seems to be changing for the better in Michigan.

The constant thunder and lightning of clashes between Republicans and Democrats under the Capitol dome could even change into the soft zephyrs of compromise and cooperation.

More realistically, the opposing sides of the political aisle may be trying just a little harder to work together and to see the value of the other's point of view.

Williams nor the Republicans wanted to hold back the state's progress.

Many reasons for squabbling were outside the particular area being argued at any given time. Political and personal pressures completely unrelated to the realm of everyday state operations were at work during the entire time Williams was bringing the Democratic party to prominence in Michigan.

Animosities sprang up quickly and centered themselves in the Governor and the Senate Republicans.

any disputes that may arise. A series of three meetings will be completed in the spring so that all parties connected with possible labor troubles involving public employees as defined by state law will know how to act when the time comes, if it does.

More highly organized employee groups in public and quasi-public enterprises and a substantial increase in public employee disputes has made it necessary to educate those involved, according to Allan D. Chisholm, chairman of the labor mediation board.

To draw the weather analogy just a bit farther, with a Democrat in the Governor's chair and Republicans in control of the Legislature, it's always partly cloudy.

Though a sudden and violent squall can arise from a "cold front" of partisan disagreement, it need not blow hard in all directions for a long period of time.

The recent special session in which lawmakers voted a penny hike in the sales and use taxes came off without a hitch. The bitter wrangling of the 1959 and 1960 regular sessions, caused in part by the inflexibility of both parties, was missing.

True, the tax hikes were dictated by the people when they voted on the question Nov. 8. But Governor-Elect John B. Swainson, who served two terms in the State Senate and presided over that body as Lieutenant Governor for two years, showed an ability to get along with his former colleagues.

More important, most of the 22 Republicans in the Senate made an effort to get along with Swainson.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and the GOP lawmakers were at odds almost constantly on almost every issue during the entire 12 years he spent as chief executive.

An analysis of the vastly complex reasons why this was so is rich ground to be explored by the authors of weighty tomes in the realm of political science.

Needless to say, neither Wil-

A new face in the front office, particularly since Swainson lacks the "hand-picked by Williams" stamp, plus a realization that both parties are going to have a strong voice in government, could lead to a new era of legislative harmony, if not outright togetherness.

Michigan hunters heeded a warning, and as a result nobody died from faulty heaters in trailers during the 1960 season.

Last year, nine fatalities were recorded because carbon monoxide gas crept into the mobile sleeping quarters of cold weather nimrods.

Specifically, the 1959 deaths were attributed to an improperly designed vent which permitted the fumes to remain inside.

Trailer owners, health department engineers, heater manufacturers, trailer dealers and State Police joined in a concerted effort to prevent deaths in 1960.

Of equal importance was the work of newspapers and other publications and media.

During and after last season, word of the faulty systems was spread through reports of the deaths and the reason for them. Before and during the 1960 season, warnings were put out and repeated, and checks were made to make sure recommended changes were made.

The result: no deaths from this cause.

VanBlaricom Rites Held Saturday

Funeral services for Foster J. VanBlaricom, 62, of Highland Park, a native of Kingston township, were held Dec. 24 in the Rev. Douglas Funeral Home, The Rev. Alan Weeks of Kingston officiated and burial was in Novesta cemetery.

Mr. VanBlaricom died Dec. 15 in his apartment.

A former supervisor for the Michigan Employment Commission in Detroit, he had lived in Highland Park the past 20 years.

Son of the late Arthur and May McCracken VanBlaricom, he was born in Kingston township Feb. 26, 1898. He was graduated from Cass City High School in 1917.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Amy Kelley of Flint and Mrs. Edna Harris of Marlette, three nieces and two nephews.

In the final analysis it's the results that really count—not plans or promises.

A SINCERE THANKS

Last January, Hastings Mutual announced the observance of its 75th Anniversary year. It was in 1885 that we began to serve the people of Michigan with windstorm insurance. At that time, our company was known as Michigan Mutual Windstorm Insurance Company. Today, as we start our 76th year, we serve more rural Michigan patrons than any other all-Michigan insurance company. In addition to windstorm, Hastings Mutual now offers fire, liability, hail, homeowners and multiple peril protection.

While striving to give you the fastest, most efficient claim service possible, we also offer the security of knowing that you are protected by one of Michigan's oldest, most respected insurance companies. To you who made this growth possible during the past 75 years, Hastings Mutual and its more than 350 licensed agents express their most sincere thanks.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

Village trustees approved a budget of $102,200 for 1956 Tuesday night at their regular meeting. The budget is over $9,000 higher for 1956 than it was in 1955. One of the major increases in costs in operating the village will be for operating and paying for the new sewer disposal plant.

Fritz Neitzel was the guest speaker at the Cass City Gavel Club Tuesday evening. He presented slides taken by Klaus Schultz in Germany. Jim Wallace was accepted as a new member of the club.

Five men will form the January quota for the Armed Forces from Tuscola County. Among the five will be Douglas C. Bird of Cass City. Others to leave are: Floyd A. Redwanz, Reese; William C. Meyer, Akron; Jerry W. Hanlin, Millington, and Kenneth C. McLeod, Caro.

Yule displays attracted 7,663 cars in nine days according to the automatic counter placed at the Gavel Club display at the Cass City Recreational Park.

Mr. Harold Oatley, former scoutmaster of troop 194 in Cass City, will show slides Friday night at the Clinton Law home. These slides were taken at the world jamboree at Niagara Falls last summer.

Ten Years Ago

A Nativity scene complete with shepherds offering gifts to the Christ Child won Lloyd Vyse first prize in the Chamber of Commerce home-decorating contest. First prize in the contest was $25. Tying for second place award of $15 this season were Mrs. Murray DeFrain and Roger Parrish.

The Cass City Grange observed their annual Christmas party Thursday evening at the Bird schoolhouse. Mrs. Samuel Blades presented several of her pupils of the Stone School in a Christmas program. A Christmas play, two solos by Melbourne Rienstra and a pantomime by Lee Sowden with Sharon and Gladys Wright, Joyce McLellan and Marjorie Stahbaum as singers comprised their offerings to the entertainment. Mrs. Peter Rienstra accompanied all vocal numbers on the piano.

Members of the fire department, garbed in their fire-fighting coats and hats and riding in the fire truck, visited the Stevens Nursing Home and others about town singing Christmas carols Sunday afternoon. Instrumental music was furnished by Harold Guinther and Walter Jezewski with guitars and R. M. Hunter with the violin. Candy and apples were presented to the shut-ins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses G. Parker celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary Sunday very quietly at their home on North Seeger Street with their son and family, Rev. and Mrs. Cletus A. Parker and two daughters of Bay City, as guests.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Dr. and Mrs. Donahue left by motor for New York and will sail for Bermuda on their wedding trip. For going away, the bride wore a dress of wine crystal velvet topped by a seal coat. With this, she wore black accessories. They expect to return from their trip about Jan. 5.

Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Wilson were pleasantly surprised on their return from the Sutton Church Christmas program Monday evening to find a large crowd of friends and neighbors at their home to help celebrate their twenty-first wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Sam Vyse was elected president of the Art Club Friday afternoon when the club met at the Vyse home. Other officers elected are: Mrs. I. W. Hall, vice-president; Mrs. Ben Kirton, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Edward Golding and Mrs. Henry Tate, flower committee.

In the Detroit market, according to the Michigan Milk Producers' Association, records show that the nearly 13,000 members producing milk for the Detroit market received on an average a little more than $1,000 income per farm from their herds this past year. According to records of producers, cow income varies from $50 to $170 per cow. Frank H. Reid, Neil McLarty and M. E. Auten, trustees of segregated assets of the Cass City State Bank, are announcing today that 20 per cent payments are being made to all holders of certificates of participation. The amount of these payments will total $28,424.05. This is the third payment on trust funds to be made by this bank since its opening after reorganization on March 12, 1934, when 50 per cent of the deposits was available to depositors.

Thirty-five Years Ago

A Shorthorn baby beef grown by Joseph Campbell of Fairgrove and sold as a holiday special by the Tolt Market of Caro won first at Cass City, Caro and Bay City fairs and was second at the Michigan State Fair.

The pen of ten white Leghorn pullets owned by Harry Burns of Millington is now third among the one hundred pens at the International Egg Laying Contest at East Lansing. Mr. Burns' ten pullets have laid a total of 270 eggs during the first six weeks of the contest.

Frederick J. Libby of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, addressed a union meeting of local churches held at the Presbyterian Church Sunday evening.

Sixty-two students of the Cass City High School have been neither tardy nor absent for the first five months.

The first meeting of the Woman's Study Club in the New Year will be held at the home of Mrs. F. E. Kelsey next Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 5. The following is the program: Magazines for the Home, Mrs. J. L. Cathart; community singing; Character Training in the Home, Mrs. C. Champion; America's Relations With Other Countries, Mrs. L. Wheeler; discussion leader, Mrs. N. Gilles; roll call, My Favorite Magazine.

Ann Arbor by-pass is typical of Michigan's modern freeways

Again Michigan leads the Nation! 500 miles of freeways now open to traffic in Michigan!

A record-breaking 500 miles of modern freeways—easier driving and four times as safe as conventional highways—are now in use by millions of Michigan motorists and thousands of vacation travelers. One highway alone—Interstate 94—runs 203 continuous miles from downtown Detroit to St. Joseph. It's the longest stretch of toll-free, limited access highway in the United States!

Today, Michigan holds 1st place in Interstate System construction—up from 35th place just 3 years ago. Since 1957, Michigan's freeway mileage has increased 5 times! You can thank your capable state highway engineers, backed by efficient contractors and crews.

You can be glad, too, that more than 99% of these beautiful new freeways are paved with concrete. Its lower cost and proven performance save tax money. Concrete highways and streets outlast asphalt almost 2 to 1 and cost up to 60% less to maintain. Add greater safety. Concrete gives more skid resistance, wet or dry, and better nighttime visibility.

In front-running Michigan and other progressive states, highway engineers choose concrete to save money and provide motorists with the safest, smoothest-riding, longest-lasting highways.

College Youth Lead Methodist Worship

College youth will present the 11 a.m. worship service at the Methodist church New Year's Day.

This is an annual tradition of Methodist churches throughout the nation.

Sharing in the leadership of worship will be Janis Knight, who attends Alma College, Ron Fleenor of Michigan State University and Ruth Karr of Central Michigan University.

Ushering will be Edwin McConkey of the University of Michigan, Ernest Teller of Elkhart University, William Ruhl of Ferris Institute and Roger Marshall of MSU.

Four speakers will share the general topic, "A Student Views Today's Issues."

Michael Fritz, who attends Albion, will speak on "The World Situation," Janet McConkey of the U of M on "Brotherhood," Lynn Albee of Albion on "The Future" and James Hutchinson of MSU on "The Moral Situation."

Nursery service will be available.

Sweeney Herd Tops In Tuscola County

Heading the list of herds with 500 pounds or more of butterfat during the past dairy herd improvement association testing year is that of Dolan Sweeney of Uby, with 628 pounds of fat. Other county dairymen in the "500" class are: Clarence Merchant, Cass City, 567 pounds; Quibro farm, Caro, 524 pounds; Ronald Hampshire, Deford, 519 pounds; Carl Bauer, Reese, 514 pounds; and Ben Loeffler, Reese, 506 pounds fat.

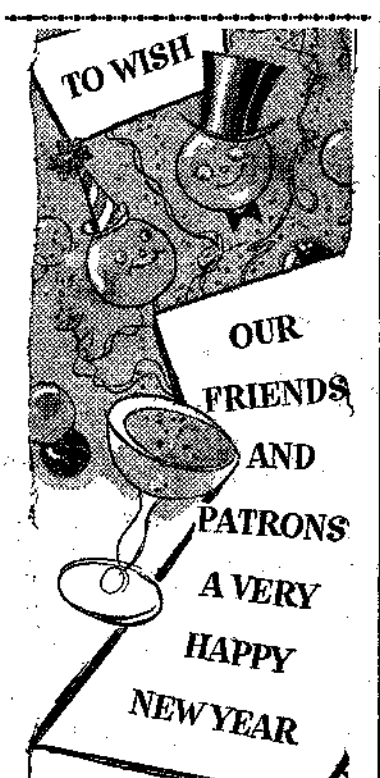

Topping the list of 400 pound herds is that of Blaylock and Rupprecht of Vassar with 493 pounds fat. Other county dairymen in the 400 class are: Charles Crittenden, Kingston, 488 pounds; Don Koepfgen, Cass City, 487 pounds; Ronald Opperman, Vassar, 483 pounds; George Foster, Fostoria, 479 pounds; Earl Koch, Millington, 478 pounds; Jackson Brothers, Caro, 477 pounds; Charles Seddon, Kingston, and V. J. and Clare Carpenter, Cass City, 464 pounds each; Don Stillson, Cass City, 463 pounds; Jay Marr, Mayville, 460 pounds; Roy Brown, Fostoria, 459 pounds; Werner List, Vassar, and Edward Golding, Cass City, 451 pounds each; Clayton Rohlfis and Sons, Fairgrove, 449 pounds; Howard Loomis and Sons, Gagetown, 445 pounds; Lawrence Bublitz, Fairgrove, 442 pounds; Alvin Frahm, Frankenmuth 439 pounds; Charles Cook, Deford, 439 pounds; Jensen and Weinzierl, Millington, 438 pounds; Dan Lukasavitz, Cass City, 433 pounds; Leonard Thompson, Cass City, 431 pounds; Lavern Englehard, Unionville, 426 pounds; Henry Hohman, Vassar, 425 pounds; Ernest Keinath, Millington, 419 pounds; Tom Laurie, Cass City, 413 pounds; Maynard McConkey, Cass City, 412 pounds; Frank Satchell, Caro, and H. G. Reinhardt and Sons, Reese, 410 pounds each; Lloyd Walz, Vassar, 406 pounds; and Grover Laurie, Cass City, 400 pounds.

With 39 herds completing the year under regular DHIA test, our county average, according to Alfred Ballweg, county extension director, was 12,176 pounds milk and 441 pounds of fat per cow. We are above the state average of 11,178 pounds milk and 420 pounds fat, said Ballweg.
