Rev. Melvin R. Vender told members of the Cass City Women's Study Club of the problems and activities of senior citizens, persons 65 years old and older.

"There is no white in lengthening life if it is not fruitful," he told members at the home of Mrs. Harold Perry Tuesday afternoon.

He explained that there are now 9,000 senior citizens in Michigan and some 75 1/2 million in the United States. Associations and magazines catering to this age group are now prevalent, he said. Insurance and drug programs are also available.

In the business session, members voted to donate to the cancer fund and to a scholarship fund for Latin American Youth.

Second Beet Payment Due for Area Farmers

The second payment on the 1960 beet crop of $1.25 per ton will be in the hands of growers Saturday, April 22, Gilbert Smith, manager of Michigan Sugar Company, Caro, announced this week.

The payment will bring the total to $3.19 per ton. A third payment to be made Oct. 15 is expected to bring the total amount paid to about $14.00 per ton.

The total payment for the 1959 crop was $10.80 per ton. However, the '59 crop averaged 18.1 tons per acre and the '60 crop 14.4 tons per acre.

Big Acreage
Controls have been lifted on beet acreage and farmers are free to plant as many acres as they desire. Already planted in the April 5-8 period are about 1,000 acres.

The company is shooting for 12,000 acres in the territory served by the Caro plant. Already under contract are 10,600 acres as compared with 9,500 planted last year.

Farmers interested should contact the company or the area fieldman, Smith said.

Mrs. Ralph Gauer was elected lay delegate and Jake Hiller the alternate to the annual church conference to be held May 17-21 at Blissfield. Elected communion stewards were Mrs. Jake Hiller, Mrs. Ben Schwegler, Lawrence and Edward Buehrly, Richard Hampshire and David Boorin.

Ronald Geirer will represent the local church on the Bay Shore camp board.

A $250.00 raise was voted for the pastor's salary and the missionary budget for the coming year was set at $2,000.00.

Tell Programs for Church Teachers

Two programs for church teachers were announced this week.

A Bible school teacher's meeting is scheduled Saturday, April 15, from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Methodist Church.

A training course for teachers will be held in Bay City at the First Presbyterian Church, 805 Center Avenue, April 27, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Interested persons are invited to attend both meetings.

Tell Poppy Poster Contest Winners

Eight entries were made in the Poppy poster contest, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, held in Cass City school with the cooperation of the art teacher, Mrs. Ruth Esau.

Winners in class II were Barbara Bustamante, Penny Howell and Carol Lapp. Class III winners included Theodore Marshall and Clare Hosmer.

The posters were judged by Mrs. Warren Kelley and Mrs. Alex Greenleaf.

The posters of Barbara Bustamante and Theodore Marshall will be entered in the Seventh district association contest.

Mrs. Garrison Stine is serving as Poppy chairman for the Cass City Auxiliary.

Gavel Club Wrestling Bouts Saturday

All-star professional wrestling comes to Cass City Saturday night, April 15, at the Cass City High School. The stellar mat program, sponsored by the Cass City Gavel Club, will feature six of the nation's finest wrestlers in four big matches.

Dick "Mr. Michigan" Garza, wrestling's gentle Hercules, will take on 336-pound Crybaby McCarther in one of the headlined attractions.

McCarther is perhaps the only wrestler of modern times to rise to stardom on the strength of his tear ducts. A clever and determined competitor when things are going his way, big Mac reacts to adversity by surrendering to his emotions and letting loose with a heartbreaking torrent of tears.

Mac's behavior in the ring is particularly paradoxical in view of his educational background and obvious social polish. Away from the ring, he is one of the most articulate men in wrestling. Able to converse intelligently on almost any major topic, and to hold forth expertly on such specialties as Comparative Religions and Astronomy, he is an extremely impressive conversationalist.

Further, before he became a wrestler, McCarther was an auto racer, an occupation that calls for steady nerves and unyielding self-discipline. Why then, does McCarther go so completely to pieces when confronted with misfortune in the ring?

The answer will probably never be known, for his crying jags are the one subject upon which McCarther is unable to comment coherently. On occasion, he has been known to burst into tears when confronted with the question of why he behaves in such a unique manner.

Joe Smith will go against Percival E. Pringle in another top match.

A Mighty Midget clash will pit Tiny Tim against Dandy Andy Moore.

As a special added feature, the winners of the first three matches will return against the losers in a six-man mixed Australian tag-team bout. Midgets will be in the ring with heavyweights.

Cass Theatre
"Big Fisherman" plays Saturday and Sunday, April 15-16. Cinemascope, color. Giant Biblical story. Regular admissions. 4-13-1

PREPARED for the annual spring concert are members of Cass City School music department. The event is scheduled Sunday, April 16, at 3 p.m. at the high school auditorium. Playing will be members of the high school concert band, the junior high band and the sixth grade orchestra. Conductor is Donald R. Gillette, left. Mr. Gillette will also play a clarinet solo. Guest conductor is Roger Parrish. Students rehearsing are from left: Bette Lou Bond, Joyce DeLong, Beverly Hurd and John Jezewski. (Chronicle photo)

3 Bands Featured In Annual Concert

The Cass City High School Band, Junior High Band and Sixth Grade Orchestra will present a Spring Concert Sunday, April 16, at 3:00 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. The groups, conducted by Donald R. Gillette, will feature music from 16th century composer Palestrina to 20th century George Gershwin.

The Junior High Band will play "Adornatus Te" by Palestrina, "Akers" Little "Classic Suite", "Belmont Overture" by Ralph Hermann, "Elmira" march by George Alibott and the Ted Messing march, "New Trails".

The Sixth Grade Orchestra, a recently formed group of combined string and wind instruments, will demonstrate their abilities with full orchestra music.

The compositions and composers listed for the high school band almost look like an "Around the World" theme was used. J. Olivadori's Spanish march, "El Caballero", will open the program followed by the "Ballist Music" from Rossini's famous opera.

Remembered by many local persons, we suspect, is Patricia Yaroch, who was a Chronicle summer reporter several years ago.

Pat recently was married in Rome, Italy, to Sante Alessandro Bastardi. The newlyweds will live on the Via Accademia Peloritana in Rome for a year. (We wonder if that is like Main Street in Cass City?)

Legion Auxiliary Meets in Caro

Thirty attended the monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening at the home of Mrs. James Stapleton in Caro. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Isabel Hagen, Mrs. William Robbin of Caro and Mrs. Henry Cherry of Flint.

Members voted a donation to the Junior Woman's Club for hospital magazine subscriptions.

Plans were furthered for the annual supper to be held in the Legion hall Thursday evening, April 27, for Legion and Auxiliary members and their families. Mrs. William Donnelly is general chairman with Mrs. Dorus Klinkman and Mrs. Phil Olsoway as entertainment committee.

Mrs. Cora Klinkman and Mrs. Philip McComb were appointed as a committee on the Gold Star mother program.

Dorus Klinkman has given the Unit flag holders for the Unit's new colors.

About $26.00 was netted from the white elephant sale held in connection with the meeting. The door prize went to Mrs. Philip McComb.

The May meeting will be with Mrs. Arthur Little.

School Study Committee

Traces School District Area

In determining the future needs of the Cass City school system, the school population growth that might be expected from outside the city limits is easier to estimate than growth within the city limits, according to the School Study Committee.

The history of annexation to Cass City Schools started in 1954. The latest addition was made April 13, 1960. The number of potential districts that might be added to the Cass City school system can be fairly well determined but the school population growth within the city limits is still the big question mark, a representative of the committee said.

The first school annexed to the Cass City School District was the Paul School, Novesta No. 2. It was transferred into Cass City district by the Tuscola County Board of Education Dec. 9, 1954.

The Holbrook (Greenleaf No. 4) was next and was annexed by the same procedure by the Tuscola County Board of Education June 8, 1956.

Then in 1957, 12 districts were annexed by the vote of the people in their respective districts. These were:

Elmwood No. 6	Hillside
Grant No. 4	Heron
Greenleaf No. 6	McConnell
Grant No. 6	Dickout
Elkland No. 4	Wright
Elkland No. 6	Sand Valley
Elmwood No. 7	Sunshine
Elkland No. 1	Dillman
Elkland No. 5	Bird
Novesta No. 2	Brown
Columbia No. 8	Remington

Sept. 23, 1958, the Cedar Run District and the south portion of the Bingham District petitioned the Cass City District to transfer into Cass City. This petition was sent to the Tri-County Boards of Education (Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron) and was turned down Oct. 14, 1958. It was then appealed to the State Board of Education and 13 pieces were transferred as of Feb. 13, 1959, in the Cass City School District.

Ask For Transfer
Then on May 1, 1959, the Cass City Board of Education asked for the transfer of the remaining pieces of property originally asking transfer. This was turned down by the Tri-County Boards of Education June 9, 1959. On June 17, 1959, this Tri-County decision was appealed to the State Board of Education and on Sept. 16, 1959, the State Board ruled that these additional 66 pieces be transferred into the Cass City School District.

Again on Dec. 18, 1959, Owendale-Gagetown Area Schools asked the County Boards of Education (Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron) to transfer Cedar Run and the south portion of Bingham into their district. This the Tri-County Boards did on Feb. 13, 1960.

Then it was again appealed to the State Board of Education by the Cass City School District and was transferred permanently into the Cass City District April 13, 1960.

Potential Additions
Three outlying primary districts, namely: Greenleaf, Stone and Wickware, are potential additions to the Cass City School District. When and if this occurs it will complete the annexation of prospective primary districts.

The Deford Community School and the Evergreen Township Unit (Shabbona) are both fourth-class school districts to the south and east of Cass City. They are about the same in size and are sending most of their high school students to Cass City. Deford is comprised of seven primary districts.

Vote Scheduled
Currently a vote is planned to determine whether Deford should annex to the Cass City district.

168 MILES TO THE GALLON A pair of scientists recently took a 1924 coupe, expertly tuned it, super-inflated the tires, discarded all excess body weight and drove it an unbelievable 168 miles per gallon.

You could probably get something over a hundred m.p.g. on most cars if you were prepared to follow the scientists, methods. They pumped tire pressures up to a dangerous 110 pounds, blocked off the radiator to keep the engine hot at low speeds, used ultra-light lubricants and never exceeded 20 m.p.h.

When the car reached 20 m.p.h. they shut off the engine and coasted down to 5 m.p.h. when they started it again.

If you are having gas mileage trouble and you need a tune-up then that's the first place to start. Modern engine tuneup is a highly skilled art and our specialists take constant refresher courses on new engines and testing equipment.

State Forced to Move Carefully

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
The state of Michigan as an employer often seems to drag its feet when it is merely choosing its path carefully.

A case in point is provided by group insurance programs, both life and health protection, which Michigan recently decided to adopt. Barring hitches the plans will go into effect with the start of the 1961-62 fiscal year July 1.

The problems and pitfalls have been enormous, however, and they may not be over yet.

A mistake by Civil Service would be even worse than one in private business. Industry cannot afford too many missteps, of course, but there are too many enemies of government employment policies to permit a single serious blunder without drastic reaction.

The Civil Service Commission looked long and hard at programs in private industry before it authorized an insurance plan for the roughly 31,000 state workers with Michigan paying part of the cost.

Authorization came last November. In March, insurance companies were selected and program terms defined.

Characteristic caution marked the step from start to finish. More than two years ago, cost estimates were solicited from various insurance companies. After the Civil Service Commission waited until a survey was taken of some 385 public and private employers where group insurance programs with employers paying half the cost were in effect. It went ahead with a program for state workers.

Authorization to negotiate the insurance programs was given after bids were taken.

Since state law sets group life insurance premium rates, the deciding factors on the firm which would handle the policies dealt mostly with how much of the money taken in would be kept by the company, how much would be returned to the state in claims and dividends and other complicated factors.

Apparently there was no problem on the health insurance program. This went to Actna Life Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. But the life insurance portion caused considerable uproar.

United Beneficial Life Insurance Co., Omaha, Neb., a companion firm of Mutual of Omaha, was given the nod, chiefly because it would return a large portion of the premiums collected to the state in taxes and dividends.

In giving the business to United Benefit Life, a pair of state firms, whose bids could not match the Nebraska company's, were passed by.

The commission, faced with the problem of paying a higher rate to Michigan companies for an identical service available from an outstate source, decided to expend the fewer dollars with the outstate firm.

The two companies, whose higher bids were identical, protested.

Gov. John B. Swainson said he would look into the situation. The Civil Service Commission said the complaint of the Michigan companies was groundless.

Meanwhile, state classified employees quietly hoped they would get the opportunity, now enjoyed by many in private industry, to take advantage of group insurance rates.

If ladies tipped their hats, the entire female population of the United States would owe a doff or two to one of Michigan's esteemed Supreme Court Justices.

Justice Talbot Smith, in a new book called Lawyer, says women are "really good at" the practice of law.

Smith, a member of the high court since 1955, says that women face an uphill battle for recognition as attorneys, but that he has personally never seen an incompetent or overly emotional lady lawyer.

He also says that state service is one of the best positions for women making a career of the legal profession.

Smith's book, which recently went on sale, ranges over the whole field of law, taking a critical look here, poking a probing finger there. Anyone contemplating law as a career can get a panorama of the profession from the book.

Smith, incidentally, is the second member of Michigan's high court to take to writing. Former Justice John D. Voelker, who sometimes writes under the pen name Robert Traver, wrote the best-seller Anatomy of a Murder and then retired from the bench to devote full time to literary pursuits.

DOWN MEMORY LANE FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

The first driving training car for use of students in a driver education course at Cass City High School has been ordered and the program is expected to start June 1, according to school authorities.

One of the largest crowds of the season attended the annual "Chum night" of the Cass City Community Club, Tuesday at Cass City High School. Drawing the interest of local residents was the performance of the high school band. The program included a solo by Jim Jezewski, division one winner at the recent State Festival. President Ray Thorpe announced that the club will meet the second Tuesday in May for the final time before adjourning for the summer.

At a unique 6:45 a.m. breakfast meeting held at the New Gordon Hotel Tuesday, the board of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce discussed the controversial Friday evening opening of stores and postal delivery in Cass City. It was decided to not open the stores on Friday evenings. Keith McConkey, chamber president, will write the proper authorities about home delivery of mail in Cass City.

The Thumb Choral Festival will be held in Bad Axe April 14. The local Girls' Glee Club has 40 members who are expected to sing in the festival.

A group of boy scouts started on a two-day trip in their canoe on the Cass River Saturday. Plans called for the group to go as far as Frankenthum, but adverse weather conditions held up progress over the week end and the boys were forced to leave the river Sunday afternoon in Vassar. Making the trip were Fred McConkey, Tom Hullen, Chuck Reed, Jim Hutchinson, Lynn Albee, Fred Tyo, Stuart Little, Bob Johnson, Chuck Patterson and Jack Perry. Mr. Reed was the group leader.

Donald Schenk, son of Mrs. Alma Schenk of Cass City, has received word that he has passed the state board of pharmacy examination and is now a registered pharmacist.

The annual Presbyterian Church meeting was held Monday evening in the church basement with a 6:30 o'clock potluck supper. R. A. McNamee was elected to succeed himself as elder for three years and Delmar C. Youngs was elected elder to fill vacancy. Trustees elected were R. A. McNamee and Lewis Law.

H. Bohnsack; assistant conductress, Mrs. Mason Wilson; secretary, Mrs. Roy Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Young. Mrs. Mason Wilson and Mrs. C. W. ## Poor Speech Retards Growth

To be human is to speak, and man is, therefore, the only creature to suffer impairment of the capacity to speak or to comprehend language.

Such an impairment tends to affect adversely the growth and expression of abilities and personality. To the degree that it does so, it restricts the individual in his pursuit of happiness and limits the possibilities of his benefiting from education, making a living, raising a family, and exercising the rights and obligations of citizenship.

According to conservative estimates published by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare Office of Education in 1959, approximately 4 per cent of the Nation's school children have seriously impaired speech. The total number seriously affected is somewhat more than 1 1/2 million, enough boys and girls to fill a city larger than the Nation's capital. The number of adults with major speech problems is estimated to be at least another 1 1/2 million, thus making a national total of 3,000,000 or more; and the number is increasing in proportion to the general population increase.

The above figures represent only those whose handicaps are of such severity that they are certain to go through life at a serious disadvantage vocationally, socially and personal ways if not given appropriate corrective attention. It is important, therefore, to recognize that the number of school-age children with somewhat less severe problems is at least another 1 1/2 million. This means that the total number who would benefit from remedial services is approximately double the above figures or about 8 per cent of our Nation's school children.

In Tuscola county there are more than 800 children who need speech therapy. Speech problems occur throughout the entire range of intelligence and ability. The gifted, as well as those of average and below average mental capacity are involved. On the basis of general clinical experience it can be assumed that a large number of youths with speech handicaps will drop out of school, or decide not to enter college, or discontinue their college education. Such handicaps are particularly unfortunate as reasons for school "drop-outs," because they affect so many who are otherwise fully able to benefit from continued school experience.

Whatever is done for handicapped children contributes to the learning passed by communication disorders we develop improved insights and methods. This achievement of our educational objectives for all children. First, by surmounting obstacles to will influence the entire education program, making it better for the children who have normal speech. Second, by helping those children who have special problems, our schools set a morally uplifting example.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:
Spring ain't arrived real good afore we got troubles. The fellers at the country store Saturday night was agreed that April is gitting to be the most aggravating month in the year.
First off, Ed Doolittle warned everybody to be on the lookout fer the annual Spring cleaning. Ed says that in one day a feller's old lady can clean up around the place in such a manner as to set the household back a whole year. Some of the fellers was in favor of a law making spring cleaning illegal, unlawful, and a public felony.
And Clem Webster reported he'd saw in the papers where one school has already named their Commencement speaker. This was received as mighty bad news on account of it has took most of us all summer and winter to git over some of the Commencement speeches we read in the papers last spring. Clem claims it'd be a heap better fer the graduates if they'd git turned out a couple hours earlier so's they could git a running start in life. They ain't got a second to lose in adjusting themselves to a country where a plumber's helper makes more money than the school principal, where prices is so high they'll probably have to wear their caps and gowns to work, and where the only blessing of finishing one war is to git ready fer the next one.

And when the Government set April aside fer the Revenue folks it just about put the stopper in the jug. Zeke Grubb allowed as how it used to be a feller could do a little twisting and turning with them income tax forms but now, claims Zeke, if you do more subtracting than adding, you got to send the records along fer proof. This'll be bad fer Zeke on account of him subtracting a heap better'n he adds. And I happen to know that Zeke keeps his records writ on the barn door and gitting that barn door mailed to the Income Tax folks is going to be a problem fer Zeke.

Of course, April has a few good points. Fer instant, Thomas Jefferson was born in April. But we even got a little argument from the fellers about ole Tom. Most of the fellers was agreed that Jefferson done a heap of fine things in his life, but Bug Hookum was lamenting about ole Tom inventing the swivel chair. Bug allowed as how inventing that contraption fer them bureaucrats in Washington just about offset all the good he done in life.
Taking everthing in consideration, threats of spring cleaning and commencement speeches, income tax, and swivel chairs, it was voted by all that April ain't one of our best months. Ed Doolittle went so far as to say we could run the country pretty good with just eleven months and give April to Khrushchev.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

WANDERING WITH WARREN

Time & Topic Is The BIG Problem

By Hene Warren

Considerate persons have asked me if I find it difficult to find things to write about. . . two of them have even offered to assist. One, Pat Wagner, has related a few anecdotes concerning her two boxers; the most amusing is the one about the time the Wagners went away and left Jinx, the oldest of the boxers and the only one they had at that time, at home. Jinx was quite unhappy; she usually went with the family and she was disturbed about being left alone. Jinx had her revenge, however; she went to the piano, knocked off Brenda's photograph and then settled down to do some chewing in earnest -- on slippers. I believe!

But back to finding topics about which to write: Since I've been writing one thing or another for a long time, I doubt if I'll run out of things to write about; my biggest difficulty is finding the time to write and choosing that about which to write.

Speaking about writing for a long time, the earliest effort I can find is a short story titled "A Day at The Carnival" which was written when I was eleven or twelve years old. I recently reread this story and gleaned a few chuckles from it. What imagination was displayed in naming a set of twins Pell and Mell! Most interesting, however, was the illustration of economics: Five children spent the day at the carnival with $1.40 and it's amazing what one could do with that little money back in 1934.

Sixteen years ago April 12th, President Roosevelt died. Almost everyone can tell you what he was doing when he heard the news of the president's death. I was living with my sister in Royal Oak at the time. I had just arrived home from work and was making myself a sandwich when May and Bill (my sister and her husband) came home. "Did you hear the news?" they asked. "What news?" I queried. "The president's dead." They seemed rather excited but not overly serious and I thought it was another of those morbid-type jokes that are pulled every now and then. "Ok," I said, "I'll bite. What's the joke?" "It's not a joke," stated May. "Roosevelt's dead." My sandwich turned to sawdust in my mouth and I could not finish it. Still I would not believe them until I ran to my room and heard it for myself on the radio.

A recent magazine article wrote of him as a controversial figure in that he was the most hated and most loved man of our age. I was one of those who loved him. And I was one of that band of selfish citizens who urged the Fourth Term upon him (amongst my papers stored away is the reply that was dictated back to me).

It's not so strange that FDR meant a great deal to me when one considers that I was but ten years old when he took office and twenty-two when he passed away. For twelve years he was president and those physical years from ten to twenty-two are just about the longest twelve years in one's life. My admiration for Franklin Delano Roosevelt wasn't cultivated in a home where the views of the Democratic Party were reflected - quite the contrary. When he was elected in 1932 I first heard him referred to as "That Man Roosevelt" in tones that made the words something of an epithet. However, as early as 1936, despite wearing a Landon button, I was merrily singing "Happy Day Are Here Again" and wasn't particularly unhappy when Roosevelt was re-elected. From then on my liking for the man grew and in 1944 I counted it one of my proudest moments when my very first vote was cast for him as President of the United States. Little did I know the price that my vote along with the many others would shortly exact.

Shakespeare wrote, "He was a man, take him for all in all; I shall not look upon his like again." This quotation reminds me of FDR, as he was affectionately called. For despite his faults, and he had them, despite his mistakes, and he made them, he was one of the truly great men of our time.
