

Play Program Starts

The summer playground will open Monday, June 26, at the Elementary School Building from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon Monday through Friday.

There will be a scavenger hunt June 28 at 10 a.m. An on-wheels parade sponsored by the village of Cass City and Elkhart township will start at 1:30 June 30. The parade will leave from the entrance of the recreation park and march down main street to Seeger Street and then to the school for refreshments, Mrs. Michael Yedinak said.

Prizes will be given to the largest and smallest vehicles. The best wagon, bicycle, tricycle, roller skates and band group will receive a prize. Also there will be a prize for the best costume of a boy and girl.

The parade has been a feature of the playground for eight years, Mrs. Yedinak said. There is no age limit on the participants, she said. About 100 to 150 people are expected.

The playground will sponsor a DJ dance June 30 from 8:30 p.m. to 12 a.m. in the high school gym. The proceeds will go to the playground.

Swimming classes will begin July 3. There are two teachers, Mrs. Yedinak and Eli Holes, and two assistants, Marty Yedinak and Jane Ballard.

70 Old Settlers Hold 51st Meeting

About 70 people came from all over the United States to the Old Settlers reunion June 17 in the Deford Community School. People were there from El Cajon, Calif., Phoenix, Ariz., Kentucky, Port Huron, Detroit, Union Lake, Flint, Sandusky and the nearby Deford area.

The oldest person attending was Mrs. Carrie Everett, 94, of Kingston who taught in the Deford school in 1878.

The program consisted of vocal and instrumental music, a reading and a memorial service.

A boys' quartet composed of Gary and Eldred Kelley, Larry Retherford and Paul Weeks provided some of the music. Others participating in the program were Mr. and Mrs. Audley Horner and daughters, Cathy and Roberta, Hazel Little, Arlene Peaseley, Carol Seeley, Kathy Holm, Arlene O'Dell, Ruth Freeman and Judy O'Dell.

Barbara Coulter contributed a reading and Mrs. Erwin Binder conducted the memorial service in memory of the 21 who died during the past year. A collection of antiques was shown by Alex Paladi. Old photographs were shown.

Rinard Knoblet, vice-president of the Old Settlers, welcomed the guests and Rev. Earl Parrott of Flint responded to the welcome.

Mrs. Alton Lyons of Kingston will serve as program chairman for next year's reunion which will be in the same place. All officers were re-elected as follows: president, William C. O'Dell; vice-president, Rinard Knoblet, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. William D'Arcy.

The Old Settlers have been meeting for the past 51 years, Mr. Knoblet said. It is a group of people who now live or once lived in this area.

Games Help Teach Bible in Summer

By Mary Basing

Summer is the time of bicycles and baseball but area children give up some baseball time and ride their bikes to church to take part in vacation Bible school.

In order to spend more time with children and give them concentrated Bible instruction, local churches are planning or carrying out Bible school programs that have so far involved more than 200 children this summer.

Church of Nazarene

More Biblical instruction seems to be the primary purpose in having Bible schools. Rev. L. A. Wilson of the Church of the Nazarene said his church wanted to give further instruction to children from pre-school age to about the sixth grade. The Church of the Nazarene's Bible school was last week, Rev. Wilson said there were about 24 participants.

Novesta Church of Christ

Rev. George V. Getchel of the Novesta Church of Christ said his church's two week Bible school started June 19. The purpose was to spend more time with the children than during the rest of the year, he said.

The Novesta Church of Christ's Bible school has 16 teachers, some of them high school students giving lessons in handicraft and using the lessons and games to teach different Biblical lessons each day. Their theme is Living for Jesus, Rev. Getchel said that there were about 74 children participating on opening day but that he expected a few more as the session progressed.

Council of Churches

Rev. Robert Searls of the Cass City Methodist Church said the principal reason for his church's Bible school was to combine handicraft and recreation to give more concentrated Bible instruction to the children.

The Cass City Methodist Church, the Salem EUB church and the First Presbyterian Church are uniting their efforts in a two week Bible school which started June 12. Mrs. Michael Yedinak, coordinator for the Cass City Council of Churches' program, said that the purpose of their Bible school was twofold.

1. It gives more training to children in two weeks than during the rest of the year and
2. It is one step forward in coordinating the church program here in town.

About 100 children, the same number as in past years, have taken part in the 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. program, Mrs. Yedinak said. The age of the children is from 4 to 11 or 12 years. This year's Council of Churches' Bible school theme is Life of Jesus, she said. They have 8 teachers and 10 high school student helpers.

Mrs. Yedinak said their program involved stories, play time, handicrafts and music. Their achievement day will be June 23 at 7 p.m.

Evening Bible School

An evening Bible school is the feature of the Holbrook Baptist Church, according to Rev. Milton Gelatt. This church's Bible school will be from August 14-18 at 7 to 9 p.m. Rev. Gelatt estimated that as in years before there would probably be about 40 participants. Like the Council of Churches' program, the Holbrook Baptist Church has two purposes. One is to give more Bible instruction to children than during the rest of the year.

Unlike the Council of Churches, the second purpose is to try to get regular attendants in Sunday school. Mrs. Yedinak said that the Council in its Bible school program is making no drive to get other than its own church children to participate. Rev. Wilson said that his church had a few outsiders in its Bible school but only two children that do not ordinarily go to church.

Blankets for Rescue Home

Rev. Wilson gave an example of some of the handicraft projects of his church: the junior class during Bible school made two crib blankets and a layette (a complete outfit for a newborn baby) that were sent to the national Church of the Nazarene rescue home for unfortunate girls at Pilot Point, Texas.

Coming Auctions

Saturday, June 24—Mrs. Blanche Hansing will sell household goods at the home at 6627 Seed St., Cass City.

Saturday, June 24—To settle the Edward Weiler Estate, an auction of farm machinery and household goods will be held on the premises, five miles north of Bad Axe on M-53.

It's Worth a Cake To Be in Hospital On Your Birthday

Mrs. Lucille Sommers has started something new. Starting "right away" every patient under the age of 14 or over 70 years whose birthday falls during their stay at one of the hospitals will be presented a birthday cake, compliments of Sommers Bakery, Mrs. Sommers said.

Both the Cass City Hospital and Hills and Dales General Hospital will receive cakes.

The bakery has given other cakes away. During May Mrs. Sommers said she had a number of big Mother's Day cakes left over. She presented a 12 inch cake to the Hills and Dales General Hospital, a 10-inch cake to the Cass City Hospital and a 10-inch cake to the Stevens Nursing Home. Mrs. Sommers said she received cards of thanks from those receiving the cakes.

For the last five years the bakery has given a cake to the Mother of the Year in the Thumb, Mrs. Sommers said. This year the cake was 16 inches.

Deford Youth Dies in Bad Axe Hospital

Jerry Michael Zawilinski, 13, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zawilinski of Deford, died Thursday in Hubbard Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe.

Jerry suffered from a brain tumor and had been ill for two months. He was an eighth grade pupil in the Deford School. He was born Nov. 25, 1947, in Cass City. Surviving, besides his parents, are: two sisters, JoAnn and Linda; three brothers, Allen, John Jr. and Ricky, all at home, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Peters of Tyre.

Rosary devotions were held at 8 p.m. Sunday and prayer services at 9 a.m. Monday at Little's Funeral Home. Requiem High Mass was sung Monday at the St. Pancratius Church. Rev. Father Arnold Messing officiated. Burial was in Elkhart Cemetery.

Minnie Benkelman Dies at 95

Cass City lost one of its eldest citizens June 18 with the death of Mrs. Minnie Benkelman, 95, in Stevens Nursing Home. Mrs. Benkelman had been ill for some time. She was a patient in the nursing home for several weeks. She was born Wilhelmina Jesse in Sturgis, Sept. 24, 1865 and married Benjamin F. Benkelman in St. Francis, Kansas in 1892. They came to Cass City in 1901, lived at 1454 Maple Street and remained here until their deaths.

Mr. Benkelman ran a general store until his retirement in 1924. He died in 1952.

Surviving are three daughters and two sons: Mrs. E. T. Ball (Ruth) of Pottersville, N. J.; Mrs. Wilmet Carpenter (Mae) of Farwell; Mrs. J. E. Pease (Lois) of LaGrange, Ill.; Harold and Ben of Cass City. Other survivors are four grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren. Concluded on page ten.

Start Planning for 12th Home-coming

Preliminary plans for the 12th annual Cass City Home-coming were completed at a regular meeting of the board of directors of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce last week.

Chamber President Gerald Prieskorn said that standing committees have been appointed.

They include Al Freiburger, in charge of the parade. Persons or organizations planning to enter should contact him as soon as possible, authorities said.

Clinton Law is in charge of tents and will represent the Chamber in the work connected with the Junior Livestock Show, always one of the highlights of the day.

Controlling concessions will be Tom Jackson, while Lee Smith will again handle the horse show. The committee is checking to find the chairman for the horse pulling contest.

Mr. Prieskorn is in charge of the evening show. Plans for this event are incomplete. One feature of the evening's entertainment may be discontinued. The annual dance at the tennis court may be discarded and the money used in other parts of the program.

In recent years, Chamber members said, there has been almost no one at the free dance.

One feature of the event, the annual queen's contest, has grown each year in popularity. The event will be handled again this year by Dick Eria. C. M. Wallace will be in charge of the kid's games.

As always, the event will be staged on the first Thursday in August. This year the date is Aug. 3.

School Teachers All Sign Contracts

For the first time in many years, all the teachers at Cass City Public Schools signed their contracts, according to Supt. of Schools Willis Campbell.

There will be a fourth first grade starting next fall with a new teacher hired for that grade, Mr. Campbell said. Because the age of children in the first grade is crucial, the school likes to keep this grade small, he said.

The school has hired two new teachers: Donna Bullock Shea and Jacqueline Freiburger. One will teach the new first grade class and the other will have the kindergarten. According to Mr. Campbell, the school would like to hire a new junior high teacher but so far hasn't done so.

Either the advanced high school French class or third grade French may have to be eliminated because of lack of funds, Mr. Campbell said.

The school staff for 1961-1962 will be: Willis Campbell, superintendent; Arthur Holmberg, principal; Eli D. Holes, assistant principal and English; Marie Murray, elementary principal; Dave Ackerman, history, and Orion Cardew, industrial arts.

Other teachers are: Richard Carroll, commerce; Lyle G. Clarke, vocational agriculture; Irving Claseman, civics and coach; Eleanor Dillman, mathematics; Ruth Esau, high school and elementary art; Donald Gillette, band and instrumental music; Marvin Hauck, speech and English 9, and Kathleen Jackson, home economics.

Fulton E. McLain, chemistry, physics and science 8; Anne Mance, girls' physical education and history 8; Donald Mance, mathematics; Carol Manno, English 11 and 12; Pauline Milligan, English 8 and mathematics 8; Roger Parrish, vocal music and elementary music; John Schmitzhauser, physical science and science 7; James Seals, counseling and English 10, and Ruth Seals, English 10 and 11; are some of the other teachers.

Other teachers are: Leone Shaw, Spanish and French; Jerry Shea, librarian; Dale Sherman, sociology, government and geography; Robert Stickle, sociology, government, civics and refresher mathematics; R. Dale Strickland, bio-

Biggest Problem

Biggest problem facing the Chamber of Commerce is the evening show. Professional shows of good caliber are expensive. In other years two of the best were an ox roast and a rodeo.

The increased cost of these attractions were paid for in two ways. For the ox roast, a special donation was received from Cass City Oil and Gas Co. For the rodeo, an admission charge was made.

Although everyone agreed that it was a good show, members of the Chamber are still arguing whether it was right to charge for an event at the Home-coming that has been free the other 10 years of its existence.

The Chamber board is committed to a free evening show again this year so that area visitors will still be able to take in all of the scheduled events without paying a single penny.

Submit Wheat Application Now

The ASC county office is accepting wheat allotment applications for certain farms. A producer who intends to seed wheat for 1962 on a farm for which a 1959, 1960 and 1961 allotment was not established, who desires to be considered for an allotment, must make application for an allotment, according to Mike Singer, chairman of the Tuscola Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Application forms are available in the ASC county office for use in filing a request for an allotment. The producer must apply in writing before July 1.

Fair To Feature Daredevil Racing, Reduced Prices

Auto daredevil driving, a horse-pulling contest and night harness racing are a few of the features of Tuscola county's 1961 fair which opens August 21 at the fairgrounds in Caro.

Dozens of crop and livestock exhibits open with the fair on the bigger midway. Monday night the Aut Swenson Thrillcade will perform in front of the grandstand. Tuesday night, ten acts from the Thumb will present "4-H Share the Fun" with Michigan State University 4-H representative Arden Petersen as master of ceremonies.

The night harness racing will open Wednesday night with state and local officials on hand for the dedication of the new lighted track.

Rev. Bayless, Ex-Cass City Pastor, Retires

Rev. Charles Bayless, minister of the Cass City Methodist Church from 1933 to 1939, retired during the 1961 Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church after serving in the ministry for 42 years.

A native of Detroit, Rev. Bayless graduated from Detroit Eastern High School and in 1922 received his bachelor of arts from the University of Michigan.

Rev. Bayless worked with church camping and has served for 15 years on the Board of Pensions for Methodist ministers. He served the Cass City church longer than any other minister the church has had. Serving many churches in the past 42 years, Rev. Bayless spent the last four years in Mayville.

In the future, Rev. Bayless plans to live in Detroit and work at Plymouth Methodist Church with Rev. Melbourne Johnson.

Church League Opens Season With Full Card

The Cass City Church League swung into action this week with a full slate of six games.

The curtain opener, Monday, June 12, saw the Cass City Catholics rally to score all of their runs in the last inning for a 4-3 victory over the Methodists. Mike Hnatjuk went the distance for the winners.

In the nightcap, the players pounded the ball all over the lot as Decker Methodist defeated Evans by the football score of 19-18.

Wednesday, June 14, Lamotte-Mizpah pounded out a 16-6 decision over the Gagetown Nazarenes. Phillip Morse was the winning pitcher for Lamotte-Mizpah.

In the late game Wednesday, Walt Hempton pitched Grant-Fraser to a 17-9 victory over the Presbyterians.

Friday, one of the largest crowds of the young season saw Gerry Hillaker pitch Argyle-Cass City Baptists to a convincing 7-1 victory over Deford-Kingston-Shabbona.

The final game Friday pitted the Church of Christ against Shabbona Methodists. Tim Anthes pitched the win for Church of Christ. The winners shoved across three runs in the final inning for their narrow 9-8 victory.

Two 4-H'ers Attend Conservation Camp

Judy Ross and Kenneth Craig, 4-H club members from Tuscola County, are among the 150 4-H'ers from all over the state attending the 25th 4-H Conservation Camp at Chatham this week, according to Ed Schrader, County Extension Agent in 4-H Club work.

While at Chatham they will be watching wood being manufactured into a product like leather, counting deer and sawing logs by hand. These and dozens of other activities will keep the 150 4-H'ers busy at the 25th annual State 4-H Conservation Camp near Chatham, June 19-24.

Judy and Kenneth are among the many boys and girls representing 73 counties. They are the pick of 14,000 Michigan 4-H'ers with conservation projects.

Participants will visit a mine at Republic in Marquette County. They will conduct a kind of deer census at the Michigan Department of Conservation's Cusino Wildlife Station in Alger County.

The program includes a visit to the Slapneck Watershed near Chatham and a tour of MSU's Upper Peninsula Experiment Station. Several educational talks and other tours will fill the five-day camp. There will be recreation in the evening and afternoon.

BULEN TALKS Cars

SCHOOL'S OUT!

Any motorist who has had the unfortunate experience of running over a dog with his car knows how unpredictable an animal can be in time of danger.

Why is this? It is simply because a playful animal just doesn't realize the danger to his life that an approaching automobile can be. Often as not he acts on a fear impulse, runs in the wrong direction - and right under the car's wheels. If the motorist can't stop in time, an animal can be killed or badly injured by the impact that even a small car can cause.

A motorist driving his car where children are present during these summer vacation months must realize that the burden of caution is on him. Children engrossed in play are like playful puppies, unaware of danger, and just as unpredictable.

The extra-low speed limits of school zones were not designed by legislators to harass motorists. They were designed so that in an unpredictable emergency - such as a child dashing unexpectedly onto the road - a motorist can stop abruptly.

Give children at the roadside a wide berth, especially those youngsters riding two-wheelers that can suddenly lose their balance and fall in front of your vehicle. And slow down when passing groups of children on the highway where no signs order you to.

It's better to lose a little time than a youngster. Don't you agree?

And, be sure your brakes are operating properly.

If you are involved in an accident, the police will check your brakes. If they aren't working properly you will definitely be suspect.

How will you feel if your neglect causes an accident and someone is killed? Be sure your brakes are ready when you need them. If they're not 100 per cent, have them repaired today by a competent mechanic.

This is the season for picnic and outdoor cooking. How is your grill? Also, is there plenty of good Michigan hardwood charcoal on hand? Michigan hardwood charcoal or brickets are the best that can be used.

There are many foods that can be charcoal broiled, yet the universal favorite is steak. Since good steaks are higher priced than other foods for broiling, it pays to know your steaks. This is particularly true as the season for greater demands for steaks is just beginning. Steaks are least expensive during the winter when demand for roast is greater.

Steaks are cooked with dry heat; therefore, good quality beef is a prerequisite. Quality can be determined by grade; U. S. Prime is the top quality; U. S. Choice next to the top.

Which cut of steak should you use? There are four main types of steaks. To know steaks it helps to know a little basic anatomy of a steer and trade terms. For example, a fore quarter is that portion which includes a front leg and extends through the ribs of the animal. A hind quarter includes a back leg and extends up to the ribs, with one exception. Usually two ribs are left on the hind quarter.

From the hind quarter, the cut nearest the leg is the sirloin and the first cuts will have a round bone and only a small amount of tenderloin. As the sirloin cuts progress toward the center, one will find a long blade bone and the amount of tenderloin increases.

The next cut will be the Porterhouse steak. This steak has a characteristic T-bone and has the largest amount of tenderloin of the four steaks being discussed. The T-bone steak is very similar to a Porterhouse. It has a T-bone, but is a smaller steak and has tenderloin.

The Rib or Club steak are terms often used interchangeably. These steaks are from the two ribs left on the hind quarter. They have the long rib bone and do not have any tenderloin.

In the price range, Porterhouse is the most expensive, T-bone is next, then the Sirloin and the least expensive is Rib or Club steaks.

Most steaks which are pre-cut, ready to purchase, are about an inch thick. Some people prefer a thicker steak, particularly if they prefer rare steaks. With the thinner steaks it is very important not to overcook them for then the natural flavors are cooked out and the steaks will be dry. In fact, many restaurants will not guarantee the tenderness of their steaks if the customer orders it well done.

A good steak is good eating with just salt and pepper! If you wish a gourmet's touch, here is a suggestion: ¼ cup Roquefort or Bleu cheese, mixed with 2 tablespoons butter and a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Spread over top of steak as soon as it comes from the broiler, or grill and serve immediately.

Seed Growers to Meet at Akron

Tuscola county certified seed growers, wives and friends of the certified seed industry will gather at the Akron school gym on Tuesday, June 27, for a chicken barbecue and meeting, according to Glyde Rohlf of Akron, president of the county association of certified seed growers. The Tuscola association is now in its fifth year as an organized group.

The association was one of the first to organize in Michigan and has taken an active part in promoting the best interests of the growers in our county. The board of directors feel that through their county association they are able to keep in closer touch with the over-all problems of the certified seed growing business and also help to carry on an educational program which we hope will result in a better understanding on the part of our Tuscola county growers, said Rohlf.

Some over 5,000 acres of certified seeds were grown in Tuscola county during 1960 by both regular and contract growers. The total number of farmers growing certified seeds in 1960 in Tuscola county was 117. Certified seed growers from Saginaw, Bay and Sanilac counties were invited to join the Tuscola association at the last annual meeting.

During 1960 the following varieties and acres of certified seeds were grown in Tuscola county: Genesee wheat, 1011; Sanilac beans, 1254; Michelite beans, 459; Gary oats, 1460; Rodney oats, 178; Clinton oats, 60; Ajax oats, 124; Moore barley, 18; Trail barley, 40; Erie barley, 168; Wong barley, 68; Pennoll, 86; Dual wheat, 125; Burnett, 48; and Oneida, 50. Several of the varieties are not approved for certification in Michigan but are grown for out of state buyers.

Other officers and directors of the association are: Francis Starkey, Akron, vice-president; Russell LeValley, Akron, secretary-treasurer; Allan Houghtaling, Reese, Foster Hickey, Fairgrove and Lyle Aldrich, Fairgrove, directors.

Playing Possum Works

On More Than Dogs

By Hene Warren

I was the victim a week or so ago of one of the oldest dodges in the world of animals... at least we concluded that I was.

Early Sunday morning, about four o'clock, the dogs (they had been loose in the yard all night with the front gate closed to prevent their roaming the countryside) began to raise a noise. I called them from the bedroom window and they reluctantly came to the house but as soon as I sleepily crawled back into bed, they were back at the road fence continuing their racket.

Usually when Pride makes a fuss, he has a reason - so I finally decided to see what the trouble was. Just outside the fence, not more than a foot away, lay a light gray animal curled up (like a new moon) with its thin but not hairless - tail gently drooped over a small sturdy weed and its head loosely tilted to one side with its mouth slightly open.

The dogs, quiet now that they had my assistance, stood at alert attention while I studied the little animal. I thought it must be an opossum. "Poor little thing," I said to the dogs, "it's been hit by a car - or something's happened to it - and it's crawled here to die."

I made the dogs go back to the house and I went back to bed, regretfully concluding there was nothing to be done. Peace reigned for awhile but within a half-hour Pride was making a racket again. Once more I went outside (I get lots of morning sleep this way). The animal had moved about four inches and now was lying on its other side - deciding that it was trying to get back to its burrow or nest where it might take care of its wounds (though I could see none). I took the dogs and put them in their pen.

When we officially arose at seven o'clock, Ron went out to open the gate. I ran out and said, "Take a look at my little animal - see what you think we should do."

Ron replied, "I doubt if your 'little animal' will be there." We looked... and it wasn't. Ron said, "Didn't you ever hear about playing 'possum'?"

Of course! The clever little thing! I don't know why I didn't think of that - but I always have an excuse. So it was early and I was still half asleep!

While on the subject of animals, we do have a variety out where we live. One Sunday afternoon, not long ago, we saw a deer bounding across a neighboring hillside. A few days ago, quietly approaching the river in an attempt to spy our wild baby ducks and their mother, we saw instead a muskrat swimming up the river with a long piece of greenery in his mouth and trailing it along behind him - he swam past the bridge and then suddenly submerged.

We've heard the short staccato bark of a fox on a summer's night - the first time I heard this sound I not only jumped out of bed but almost out of a year's growth! We've seen mink - heard the chattering of coons - had cabbage plants disappear from the garden to be replaced by deer tracks - watched a mother quail, with her brood of little ones trail-

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I been sorter down in the dumps here lately about the world situation, but I was reading a article last night that settled my nerves more'n anything I've saw in a long time.

A expert from the Department of Agriculture says the answer to peace in the world hinges on food and not weapons and that in the end the United States can't lose.

He had figgers to show that the food situation is very bad in Russia and China. The farmers ain't producing enough to feed the people and they is even predicting a famine in China come this winter. They can't get no help from Russia on account of the slave labor farms in Russia has been a failure. This fellow said ole Khrushchev is as mad as a hornet but can't do nothing about it.

The article says a careful survey shows it takes six Russian farmers to grow as much food as one American farmer. In China it takes seven and one-half farmers to do the same job. On the other hand, this fellow shows that we'll have no problem feeding the 50,000,000 more people predicted for this country in 1975. He gives the figgers to show that it'll take only 10 per cent increase in livestock feeding efficiency but no more pasture land. He says our food surplus today would feed the extra 50,000,000, even if we didn't have no improvements in methods of crop growing.

This fellow from the Agriculture Department, who the editor of the magazine calls the "leading expert farm economist" in the business, says the exploding population increase in China and Russia don't give them two countries but two choices in the very near future. They can get out of the arms race or starve to death.

He says the missile race is already beginning to tell on Russia.

Maybe, Mister Editor, after ole Khrushchev gets through pounding his shoe on barn doors around the country, he'll be willing to set down at the Summit and talk sense. One thing is for shore, he ain't going to bury us, as he said, with his country full of empty stomachs.

Along them same lines, I see where a official Communist paper has announced that great blessings has come to the common man in that country. A pound of processed meat has been reduced in their money from $12.80 a pound to $8.20. According to official figgers, their average wages is $100 a month. They couldn't buy no processed meat afore the cut and they still can't buy none. Same difference, I'd say.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Recreation For Children a Problem

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Where do the kids that crowd our schools go in the summer? A silly question? Maybe, but one that should mean much to any citizen, parent or not, who has stopped to contemplate the tremendous job it is to provide recreation facilities for youngsters.
A really great many youngsters flock to the playgrounds, swimming pools and libraries provided by villages, townships, cities, counties and the state of Michigan.
Recreation, like almost every other facet of modern-day life, has become big business.
Therefore, it has big problems. Overstrict and complicated child labor laws make it difficult or impossible for boys and girls to get even menial summer jobs. Kids who are old enough want to play ball. They want to swim, and do handicraft work. The younger ones want play equipment to climb, slide on, jump over and occasionally fall off of.
Generally, municipal units of government carry the biggest load in the struggle to provide adequate recreation. And generally, they do a good job.
The Recreation Association of Michigan, an affiliate of the Michigan Municipal League, is one of the groups that provides a place where recreation officials can exchange ideas about the complex problems of setting up programs to provide the best possible recreation.
Among the questions which come up each time a city or other unit of government gets ready to set up its recreation program are those concerning budgets; what equipment to buy; how to organize a baseball league; what do kids in various age groups like to do best, and on and on and on.

Everybody interested in his children should also be interested in his local recreation program. For the rural resident, the outings organized by groups for rural children often use the facilities of a local unit of government, or the state. In the city, the programs help keep the young people busy, exercised and out of trouble.
Not only must the proper facilities be provided, supervision must be adequate and safety must be stressed.
One of the most complex questions ever to face the Michigan Legislature was the huge bill which revised the code of judicial procedure for the state. Lawmakers in 1961 passed the bill, after failing to get around to it the year before. It was signed into law by Gov. John B. Swainson.
While it won't take effect until 1963, and is almost certain to be changed in more than one respect before it even becomes operative, it could prove to be the most far-reaching step in many a year.
It's safe to assume that not more than a handful of legislators ever read the proposal from cover to cover. In its latest form it was 664 pages long.
As backers of the bill said during its course through the law-making process, it had to be taken largely on faith.
The faith was in a committee of the State Bar of Michigan, in

3 Dairy Members Take Annual Tour
Jon Garner, Vassar; Martin Schmettler, Millington, and Robert Carpenter of Cass City represented the 128 Dairy members of Tuscola County, last week in Detroit at the Annual Michigan Milk Producers tour, according to Ed Schrader, County Extension agent in 4-H club work.
While in Detroit the boys observed the Michigan Milk Producers Board in action and toured dairy processing plants in Detroit. The boys were informed about the future of the dairy production.
On Wednesday, they were the guests of the Detroit Tigers and saw the Tigers win the game from Boston.

Farm Bureau Women Hear of Traffic Safety

The Tuscola County Farm Bureau Women's Committee met at the 4-H building June 14 to hear Trooper Spurlin from the Bridgeport State Police Post present a program on highway safety.

The 32 present viewed a film, "One in Four," and learned that there is no such thing as a minor violation.

During the business meeting, Chairman Mrs. Clare Carpenter announced that the Tuscola County bean cook-off will be held at the Cass City Homecoming Aug. 3.

The group voted to again sponsor the 17-year-old Korean boy. This is the ninth year of continuous sponsorship by the committee.

Mrs. A. Earl Taggett, Caro, is the newly elected vice-chairman for the committee and Mrs. Nellie Cooper, Kingston, was elected treasurer. They will be installed in October to serve for two years.

The Camp Kett fund has reached $319.35 and bake sales are being held throughout the county in an attempt to reach the goal of $890 for this project.

Mrs. John Graham urged members to write their congressman and give him their opinion on the Federal Aid to schools proposal.

Six attended the Northwest Camp at Traverse City June 6-8 and reported on their experiences at camp. Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. May Schell attended from Cass City.

The July meeting of the group will be held at the Indianfields Park and the Lapeer County Farm Bureau Women will be guests. A mystery tour has been planned.

Explain Official Calfhood Vaccination

What is an official calfhood vaccine?

An official calfhood vaccine, says Alfred Ballweg, agricultural agent for Tuscola county, is a calf vaccinated between four through eight months of age with Strain 19 vaccine to give it protection against brucellosis.

The vaccination must be performed by a licensed, accredited veterinarian and the animal must be tattooed on the ear.

The veterinarian is then required to submit a record of this vaccination along with the identification numbers of the animal to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The owner is sent a permanent certificate which identifies the animal as an official calfhood vaccinee.

The vaccination gives the animal a high degree of resistance to brucellosis. It means increased value to the owner at sale time as a premium is paid for breeding cattle that are official calfhood vaccinees.

Vaccination not only helps protect the cattle from brucellosis, but also provides health protection to the owner and his family. Brucellosis can be contracted by man only through infected animals.

The immunity gained from calfhood vaccination lasts well into the life of the average adult cow. Re-vaccination is not necessary because it has been shown that this does not increase immunity.

U of M Grads

Constance Langmaid

Two Cass City girls were graduated from the University of Michigan June 17. Miss Mary C. Shaw and Mrs. Constance B. Langmaid received their degrees during the Saturday ceremony in Michigan Stadium.

Edward R. Murrow, chief of the United States Information Agency, was principal speaker with U of M President Harlan Hatcher presiding over the exercises.

Miss Mary C. Shaw, 6675 W. Pringle Road, received a bachelor of arts in English. After her marriage, June 24, to Eugene A. Moore, she plans to teach English this fall in the 8th, 9th and 11th grades at Wylie Groves High School in Birmingham, she said.

Mrs. Constance B. Langmaid received her bachelor of science in nursing. She and her husband Bob live in Ann Arbor where she is working at the U of M Hospital. Mrs. Langmaid, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bartle, graduated from Cass City High School in 1956.

Little Leaguers In Close Game

The Tigers staged a rally in the final inning that knotted the score, then went on to cop the victory from the Pirates in overtime Wednesday, June 14, in the opening Little League game for both clubs.

Larry Hartwick pitched the first six innings, limit for a Little Leaguer, and David Asher pitched the seventh. Hartwick received credit for the win. The loss was charged to Mike Root, who relieved Tom Kelley in the sixth and was tagged for the final six runs.

John Shagena picked up three for three for the Tigers. Fred Ryan and Kelley each cracked out a pair of safeties for the losers.

Pirates-Giants
Friday the Pirates registered their first win of the year with a narrow, 12-11, decision over the Giants. Mike Root started for the Pirates and allowed just five hits in three innings. However, his wildness kept the Giants in the game as he issued nine walks. He was relieved by Phil Gray who was credited with the victory as he allowed only one run in the last three innings. Duane Delong started for the Giants and was relieved by Brinkman who was charged with the loss. Root was the big hitter for the night with three for four.

Monday's game between the Yankees and Cubs was rained out and was to have been replayed Tuesday, June 20.

Dear Sir:

Once again I attended a graduation night program, other than Cass City, and I must confess it left me a little sad.

The program Cass City has, and the many beautiful flowers the graduates walk under as they pass down the aisles to be viewed by their parents and friends is a sight that remains with you always.

I have attended many graduations, but none, to me, is as beautiful as Cass City's program. I am very grateful that three of my children graduated from Cass City High School.

To the persons responsible for the beautiful decorations at graduation time, go my heartfelt thanks.

The real test of any man's worth is his influence on youth.
