May Change Curb Style to Save Money

The Cass City village may change the type curbing to be used on curb and gutter projects in the village, it was decided Tuesday night at the regular meeting of village trustees.

Presently using a nine-inch high curb at a cost of about $2.00 per foot, trustees decided to cut the height on less frequently used roads at a savings estimated at 10 to 15 cents per foot.

In other business, the council voted to petition the State Highway Department to close Main Street for an hour and a half, for the annual Home-coming parade, and to change a street light.

At the last meeting they voted to erect a light at the foot of Seed Street. This four-way light was expected to help illuminate the parking area at Cass City Recreational park and throw light to Rose Street.

The light was placed 100 feet to the west of the end of Seed and does not serve its purpose. The council is petitioning Detroit Edison to move the light to the originally requested position.

Drain Tax Review Scheduled for 6th

The review of the special assessment taxes for the Marsh Number Two Branch Drain and the Hill Branch of the Shafter Drain will be July 6, according to Freeland Sugden, county drain commissioner.

The Marsh Number Two Drain was let June 21. The lowest bid was $1,377 by Lee Dillon of Unionville. The nine bids ranged as high as $3,283.

The bagged riprap was let to Norman Weitzel of Bad Axe. The five bids ranged from $1,188 to Weitzel's $914.75. Jensen Bridge and Supply Company of Sandusky will furnish the corrugated metal pipe. The six bids on the pipe ranged from $2,190.25 to Jensen's $1,946.75.

The Hill Branch of the Shafter Drain was also let to Dillon. His bid was $1,081.53. Weitzel bid successfully on the riprap and the Wheeling Corrugating Company will furnish the culvert pipe. Weitzel's bid was $645.32 and the Wheeling bid was $544.75.

Willison to Spend Year in County Jail

Harold Willison of Millington was sentenced to a year in the Tuscola county jail Wednesday, June 21, for statutory rape by Judge T. C. Quinn in Tuscola County Circuit Court in Caro.

Mr. Willison pleaded guilty to the offense with a 13-year-old girl, when arraigned.

Vern Bias of rural Caro pleaded guilty to uttering and publishing for writing a check on a Caro bank where he had no account.

He will be sentenced July 5 after a pre-sentence investigation is made.

Erla Takes Reins At Rotary Club

Clifford Croft turned the reins of the Cass City Rotary Club over to President-elect Dick Erla at the regular meeting of the organization Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Mr. Croft has completed his year as president of the organization.

The program included a discussion of village managers by Mr. Croft and Mr. Bauer and of parking by Willis Campbell, Keith McConkey and Mr. Kritzman.

Mr. Kritzman is a new member of the club.

School Board Borrows $25,000

The Cass City Board of Education borrowed $25,000 from local banks "to take care of necessary expenses," Willis Campbell, superintendent of schools, said June 28.

The expenses include some salaries and bills for June, Mr. Campbell said.

The loans were necessary after Cass City voters turned down the request for more operating funds for the school June 12.

Defective Brakes Cause Damages To 2 Local Cars

Faulty brakes were the cause of an accident that sent four persons to the Hills and Dales General Hospital June 25.

A 1960 Dodge station wagon owned by Dr. William Harr and driven by John Sisco III, 16, of Monroe hit a 1961 Chevrolet sedan owned and driven by Maynard H. McConkey, 48, of Cass City.

The sedan was driving south on Leach when the station wagon pulled out of an alley between Main and Pine Streets. Fenders were crumpled when the station wagon failed to yield the right of way to the sedan.

Sisco told police that his brakes failed as he pulled out of the alley going west. Both cars were reported going about 15 m.p.h.

Clara McConkey, 47, Janet McConkey, 18, and Linda McConkey, 13, occupants of the sedan, were taken to the hospital but released the same day. Sisco also was taken to the hospital but has been released.

The occupants of the station wagon, Michael D. Sisco, Monroe, and Billy Harr, Cass City, were uninjured.

2 Charlotte Men Injured As Car, Truck Overturn

Two men from Charlotte, who are in this area putting up silos, were injured June 26 when they lost control of a car and truck on M-81 east of Cass City.

Russell Cain, 27, driver of the car, was trying to start a truck driven by Larry Bowen, 18, by towing it when he and Bowen lost control of their vehicles. Both the car and truck overturned.

Cain and Bowen were taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital with scrapes and bruises. Bowen had a 12-inch cut on his back. Both were reported in good shape and released June 27. The truck and car were "pretty well washed out," according to the State Police.

To Elect School Board Members

The annual election for the Owendale-Gagetown area school district No. 16 will be July 10 at the Elmwood Township Hall on Lincoln Street in Gagetown.

Two board members will be elected for four-year terms expiring June 14, 1965. Those who have filed petitions for these terms are: Barney Fahrner of Sebawaing, Thomas Laurie of Cass City and Anton Peters Jr. of Owendale.

Firemen Called To Grass Fire, Fuel Oil Leak

Eight thousand gallons of number two fuel oil poured into the yard and gutter around a 10,000 gallon tank at the County Garage in Deford and the Cass City Fire Department stood by and watched.

"If it had been mine I would have filled every bathtub I could get my hands on," said Fred J. Neitzel, volunteer fireman.

Children playing near the tank June 21 heard something gurgling and told their mother that water was running out of one of the two 10,000 gallon fuel and gasoline tanks. Seeing the backyard flooded with "black gold," the mother called the State Police. The fire department was called at 2:25 p.m. to stand by while the police pumped the fuel into a brine tank.

One of the tanks, filled with 8,000 gallons of fuel oil, cracked as its foundation settled, causing the leak.

The fire department, June 22, had no trouble putting out a fire in a hay field on the Clayton Roof farm at 3629 W. Huron Line Road. About an acre of hay was destroyed during the noon fire, caused by a spark from a tractor, according to Alvin Avery.

Gagetown Woman's Study Club Has Membership Tea

The Gagetown Woman's Study Club is sponsoring a membership tea today (Thursday) from 2 to 4 p.m.

Speakers will be Mrs. H. C. Waterworth, East Central District president, and Mrs. Harry Ewald, immediate past president of Huron County Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Committee members for the tea are Mrs. James LaFave and Mrs. Dennis Rocheleau.

Lester Ross Elected President of Board

The Cass City School Board met June 13 in the high school to elect new officers. Elected were: Lester Ross, president; William Ruhl, treasurer, and James Gross, secretary.

No plans were made for the future and no committees were appointed, according to Supt. Willis Campbell's office.

WORLD'S SMALLEST resuscitator, obtained by Hills and Dales General Hospital to help newborn babies who have trouble drawing their first breaths, is so sensitive it can supply oxygen to a parakeet. Thimble is used for "mask" in demonstration. A mask slightly larger than a 50-cent piece fits snugly over a baby's face.

Hills and Dales Boasts World's Smallest Resuscitator

The world's smallest resuscitator has been obtained by Hills and Dales General Hospital, Cass City, to help newborn babies who have trouble drawing their first breaths.

Oran Hudson, hospital administrator, said the new units are so sensitive they can gently force air through an opening as small as a pinhole and can automatically adjust to lung capacity as tiny as that of a mouse.

"The 'Handy' OB (obstetric) resuscitator is the first ever built especially for the artificial respiration of newborn babies," Hudson said. "Until this unit was developed it was considered impossible to produce an automatic positive and negative resuscitator so small."

The cylindrical mechanism is three inches long, two inches in diameter and weighs seven and a half ounces.

The OB resuscitator, supplied to the hospital by the National Cylinder Gas Division of Chemtron Corporation through its Detroit office, provides life-giving oxygen to an infant if there is the tiniest opening in its airway, even when the airway is filled with mucus or other material or when the walls are kinked or partially collapsed.

From the Editor's Corner

The only weakness that we can see in the latest solution to the village dump is the limited number of hours that it will be open for use.

We understand that the last time the dump was locked, except for specified periods, litter lined the gate in front of the dump and along the roadway.

In an attempt to eliminate this, the council expects to strongly prosecute any violators.

Despite this, we believe that the only way the plan will work is for everyone to realize that the village has tried to reach a solution to a perplexing problem and help by strictly adhering to the new regulations.

Andy Bigelow, one of several harness racing fans in Cass City, is enthusiastic about the new night racing in Caro. He said that the new lights installed at the track leave not a shadow and said that anyone remotely interested in the trotters and Concluded on page eight.

Make it Official

The village council Tuesday night voted to amend the village parking ordinance to make the new parking regulations valid in court.

Since one-hour parking was established on Main Street and two-hour parking set up for parts of side streets in the business district, the ordinance has been inadequate for enforcement.

Training Horses Labor of Love

By Mary Basing

Some people walk their dogs but few people get up early every morning to exercise their horses.

Lyle Koepfgen does. Every day at 5 a.m. he drives to Ralph Youngs' farm east of Cass City and there behind the barns, surrounded by half grown corn, he trains and exercises his two pacers, Mam'selle and Mite B. Gold.

Youngs built his one-half mile race track seven years ago. Since then he has owned about ten horses that he has raced around the state in harness races.

Koepfgen and Harold Murphy seem to have an informal partnership with Youngs. Koepfgen keeps four of his five horses at the Youngs farm. He and Murphy come to the farm at 5 a.m. and feed the horses. Then at "about 5:45" Koepfgen comes back and exercises Mam'selle and Mite B. Gold for about two hours, Murphy said.

Youngs has one horse, Prince Emmanuel, a three-year-old he bought this spring in Delaware, Ohio. This trotter is now lame and spends his time in a grassy pasture near the barns. Koepfgen and Murphy take care of him.

Mam'selle is a seven-year-old French horse raised by H. G. DeVries of Holland, an eye, ear and nose doctor who raises a few colts to sell. Koepfgen bought the two-year-old colt, Mite B. Gold, a half sister to Mam'selle, last fall, Murphy said.

"Mammy and Goldy are average horses. I like them," Koepfgen said.

2:8 Minute Miler

Kathy Kay, a pacer, the one horse Koepfgen does not keep at the Youngs' has run the mile in two minutes and eight seconds. A horse should be able to race the mile in about two minutes and ten seconds or the owner might as well keep him home, Koepfgen said.

Kathy Kay has a year-old colt and is expected to foal another soon, he said. Koepfgen also keeps Prince, a quarter horse trained in working cattle, at the Youngs farm with the colt.

Hobby: Horses

When asked why he races horses, Koepfgen said:

"I think every one should have a hobby of some kind. For me it was horses; I've always had horses. I'm in it for the fun of it, it's just a hobby and I don't care about the money."

"I've sold out two or three times but it gets in your blood and I always go back to horses. 'You don't always win - sometimes it's hard pickings but harness racing is a lot of fun.'"

Murphy and Koepfgen have both lived around Cass City all their lives, according to Murphy.

"I've lived in the same house since 1919 and worked with horses about 42 years," he said.

Murphy, a school bus driver, works with the horses, watching them work out in the morning and coming out at night to feed them and pack their feet with clay to keep the hoofs soft.

"Lyle and I go together where the horses go," Murphy said.

Electric Walker

Every morning Mam'selle and Mite B. Gold are put in the harness and raced around the track. Then they are either bathed or washed down with hot water and liniment and covered with blankets. After their bath they are tied to the walker, a circular metal rig with an electric motor that keeps it turning slowly as the horses walk with it.

This walker is the only electric one in this part of the country, according to Koepfgen.

There is a standard bred horse and a thoroughbred; the first is used in harness racing while the other is a running horse, Koepfgen said. A harness-racing horse may be a pacer or a trotter.

When a horse paces both legs on one side are off the ground at the same time but when he trots the front leg on one side and the hind leg on the other are off the ground.

Few Trotting Pacers

A harness racer either trots or paces, Koepfgen said. Although Mam'selle, since she was once a trotter and re-trained to pace, Concluded on page four.

Settle Village Dump Hassle

Action on Cass City's pressing dump problem was taken Tuesday night by the village council at its regular session at the Municipal Building.

The village will continue to operate the present dump under new stringent rules and regulations as the community dump and has established a site for use of the village collector, Marcus Heilig, that will not be open to the public.

Under the new regulations the present dump will be open just five hours weekly on Thursday afternoon from 1 to 6 p.m.

At this time Mr. Heilig will be present to supervise the dumping of garbage.

Not Admissible

Under the new program large bulky items that cannot be handled and fill the dump rapidly will be prohibited. Large boulders, old wire, tree stumps and other items of a similar nature are all on the taboo list.

The village has constructed a trench for covering the garbage that will be used only by Mr. Heilig. This site is on property set back from Doerr Road and previously discussed.

The new program will go into effect next Thursday when the first open afternoon at the present dump will be held. The council expects to establish stringent penalties against anyone who does not abide by the new rules and to prosecute all offenders.

No Participation

Elkland township, which had offered to participate in the cost of the dump, is not involved in the new solution to the five-year-old problem.

Whether or not an arrangement will be made with the township later has not been disclosed.

The arrangement is a compromise solution reached after storms of protest ruled out dumps at the south village limits and west of Cass City.

176 Attend First Day at Playground

A new record of first day attendance, 176, was set at the playground June 26. The "On Wheels Parade" will be June 30 starting from the Recreation Park entrance. There will also be a D-J dance June 30 at the high school.

Mrs. Lillian Yednak will teach from 10:30 to 11 a.m., five and six-year olds; 11 to 11:30 a.m., two, three and four-year olds, and 11:30 to 12 a.m., water ballet.

There will be no playground July 4. Plus the swimming lessons July 5 there will also be a pool party. July 6 is the pet show.

Woman Pastor At Sutton Church

The Rev. Helen L. Royce, local elder, has been appointed to the Sunshine and Sutton Methodist Churches of rural Caro, just west of Cass City, by the recent session of the Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church.

Miss Royce has been transferred from Hermansville, a four-point charge including the Cunard, Faithorn and Vulcan Methodist Churches, which she had served since 1957.

On the Sutton-Sunshine Circuit she follows the Rev. Alfred Gascho who has served the pastorate for four years. However, Rev. Royce is not a complete stranger to the area, for she previously served the church at Caseville from 1942 to 1944.

The Rev. Miss Royce, who has been a supply pastor since 1933, is unique in her chosen career in that she is one of only 20 women among the several hundred ministers in the Detroit Conference.

5 Area Students Make Honor Roll at Commerce School

Five Cass City students made the honor roll at the Northeastern School of Commerce at Bay City this spring term.

They were Bonnie Dorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Dorman; Bob Harbec, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harbec; Dan Jacoby, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jacoby; Patricia Harmon, and Betty Miklovich.

Robert W. Sneden, past president of the National Association and Council of Business Schools, addressed the graduates during the commencement exercises June 21.

Diplomas were presented by Louis H. Bork, director of NESO, assisted by Sneden. Invocation and benediction were by the Rev. David J. Ernberger, pastor of the Countryside Presbyterian Church of Saginaw.

Local Company Splits

The gas portion of Cass City Oil & Gas Company has been sold to Cliff Ferguson of Decker, Stanley Asher, manager of the company, announced this week.

The sale splits the business of one of the community's oldest and most successful concerns. Incorporated in 1918, it has been under the guidance of Stanley Asher for 32 years.

Mr. Asher has been connected with the company for 36. One of the reasons for the switch in the business is because Mr. Asher wants to retire. Under his direction, the Cass City Oil & Gas Company has paid a dividend of 10 per cent every year for 31 years. It was one of the few businesses that continued to show a profit during the depression. It is the Chronicle's oldest continuous advertiser, never having missed an issue for over 25 years.

Expand Appliance Business

Already one of the largest appliance centers in the Thumb, the change will result in an even larger appliance business.

On the drawing boards is a greatly expanded sales and service center for the company. Present plans call for a move from their present location to the building now occupied by Freiberger's Paint & Hobby Shop. Freiberger's will occupy temporary quarters in the building formerly occupied by Ideal Plumbing and Heating, across the street.

The alley that separates the present Cass City Oil & Gas appliance building will be closed and the present Freiberger building extended to adjoin with the present appliance building.

Freiberger's will then occupy the front of the building presently used by Cass City Oil & Gas and the remainder of the space will be used by the appliance center.

The new name for the appliance store will be Thumb Appliance Center.

The gas division of the company will continue to do business as Cass City Oil & Gas, Mr. Ferguson said. No change in the method of operation or the personnel is expected, he added.

Gary Bartle's Car Hit in Port Austin

Gary Bartle, 17, of Cass City was in a two-car accident in Port Austin at 10 p.m., June 24. James Siedlecki, 19, of Bad Axe drove his car into the rear of Bartle's car as Bartle stopped his car for a red light.

No one was injured though damage to the cars was estimated at $50 for both.

Miniature pearls frosted the embroidered Alencon lace which etched its rose pattern over the entire bodice styled with petal scalloped bateau decolletage, sleeves tapered to below the elbow and traditional buttons down the back.

A contour fold of the ivory silk defined the slender high-rising Empire waistline and the bouffant skirt belled with back-swept fullness, spreading to a stately train.

A Queen Guinevere headdress of tiered silk crowned her filmy veil of silk which cascaded to fingertip length. The bride carried a bouquet of tiny phalaenopsis orchids with trailing ivy.

Bush, mother of the groom, wore a brown linen dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Clifford IOOF hall for the 325 guests.

Attending the wedding were the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Papke, and family of Northfield, Mass.

Fraser Bible School Ends 2 Weeks' Work

The Fraser Vacation Bible School completed its two-week session June 23. Mothers and teachers of the children provided a dinner at the church the same day.

During the two weeks there was a daily average attendance of 50 children, according to Mrs. Doris Mudge. The teachers were: Mrs. George Fisher Sr., beginner's class, and Miss Charlene MacRae, assistant; Mrs. Henry McLellan, primary class, with Mrs. Peter Rienstra and Miss Kathleen Leitch, assistants; Mrs. John Fletcher and Mrs. Laurence Hartwick, junior class; Rev. Glenn Fishbeck and Mrs. Leslie Stewart, junior high class, and Mrs. Harrison Stine, music director.

June 25 was Children's Day at the church with the pupils presenting a program of songs, Bible readings and recitations. After the program, the congregation visited the Sunday School rooms to see the exhibits of work done by the classes.

Donald L. Smith At Norfolk, Va.

Donald L. Smith, Radarman Third Class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of Cass City, and husband of Mrs. Arvilla Jane Smith of Fostoria, was temporarily assigned to Naval Receiving Station, Norfolk, Va., pending his release to inactive duty in the Naval Reserve.

This Naval Receiving Station, commanded by Captain W. A. Hunt Jr., USN, processes about 6,000 men per month. These Navy men are on their way to and from military activities all over the world.

Many a man wins an argument at the expense of losing a friend.

BULEN TALKS

LADIES ONLY

Most ladies have heard the cynical male joke about the female driver, who replied when informed by a mechanic that her engine was "missing": "Well that's certainly strange. I'm sure it was there when I drove in a few minutes ago!"

For the benefit of gals who would like to bandy technical terms with the experts, here is a glossary of definitions that is bound to impress the most prejudiced mechanic, not to mention their own special male authority.

MOTOR MISSING: usually sparks plugs too wide or fouled . . . weak coil or condenser . . . weak breaker points or springs. HARD STARTING: could be weak battery . . . moisture on spark plugs or in distributor . . . faulty battery cable or ground connection . . . weak coil or condenser . . . spark plugs worn out or dirty . . . carburetor needs cleaning or adjusting.

FOR POOR GAS MILEAGE check: defective carburetor . . . valves need grinding . . . spark plugs need cleaning, adjusting or replacing. SHAKY STEERING can be caused by faulty front wheel alignment or balance . . . loose connecting rods . . . defective steering gear. If your car RUNS HOT, check for a defective water pump, cooling system, thermostat or fan belt . . . low radiator level . . . sparse fuel-air mixture. MOTOR KNOCK . . . low octane fuel . . . excessive combustion chamber deposits . . . overheated engine.

Our mechanics will be pleased to reward your interest with an explanation of your car's mechanical faults, or, if it has none, to honestly tell you so. Over the years, many of our highest valued trade-ins have come from women with an intelligent interest in preserving the performance and worth of their cars.

CAR MISBEHAVING? Let our Eminent Specialist "Silent Tom Cottick" diagnose its ailments. Minor ills without treatment too often become expensive major operations. Our prognosis is free. Perhaps "Blue Cross" will take care of the whole thing?

NEVER ECONOMIZE on LUBRICATION!!! Oil and Grease are the cheapest things you can put in any make of car. Have it lubricated regularly, keep oil clean and fresh. Your car will run better, last longer, be worth more when you trade it.

HARNESS RACING

Though trotting and galloping are a horse's natural gait, most horses must be trained to pace, he said. A huddle, a piece of adjustable leather with a large loop on each end, is used to train a pacer.

A sulky or bike is the usual buggy pulled by a horse. The Koepfgen horses pull either a yellow or blue buggy. They are frail looking with wheels like those on a bicycle, leather hoops for the driver's feet and small, padded seats.

Koepfgen's son, Don, drives Mam'selle and Goldy in the races, Murphy said.

The horses are raced in harness races at fairs and parks such as Hazel Park in Detroit. They win money and sometimes a blanket as a trophy, Koepfgen said.

GREEN HORSE

Trotters and pacers are not generally raced together. Each horse, besides being classed as either a pacer or trotter, is classed according to his money

EARNINGS

A 30 class horse is a green horse, one that has never won any money such as Mite B. Gold or Prince Emmanuel. Mam'selle is a 19 class pacer, who has won more than $4,000 and less than $5,000.

HORSE MATINEE

An owner can enter his horse in a faster class but not in a slower one, Koepfgen said. Mite B. Gold has placed first in a matinee, a race without a purse, he said. The reason for the matinee is to get horses used to the starting gate, the crowd, the noise and running along side other horses.

"It's like sending a kid to the kindergarten," he said.

At 14 years a horse is considered too old to race by the U. S. Trotting Association, Koepfgen said.

Mite B. Gold and Mam'selle are shod by a man named Dunk Valley at Whittemore, Koepfgen said. "He is one of the best blacksmiths in Michigan and one of the oldest," he said.

"He's been shoeing horses for about 46 years," Murphy added. Koepfgen and Murphy used to work at the fairground track where the recreation park is now. Koepfgen says he feels training and racing have improved since he began in two ways:

1. Now there are new and better training methods and
2. Horses are much faster now due to interbreeding.

Mite B. Gold raced June 24 in a matinee at the Caro Fairgrounds. She received a red and white plaid blanket as a prize for winning both the heats that she raced in.

Both horses looked well-kept and healthy with a special fondness for cubes of granulated sugar and carrots.

TEETH GRITTING PAYS OFF

During the interview, Goldy restlessly pawed the ground and chewed. This reporter asked what she had in her mouth.

"She's like a baby, she grits her teeth," Koepfgen said, laughing.

Mite B. Gold went right on gritting her teeth during her bath, first at the reporter then at the numerous swallows that inhabit her barn and the surrounding fields.

Soon it paid off: she didn't make so much noise as she ate her sugar.

Class of 1921 Holds Reunion Saturday Night

Saturday night the Cass City Methodist Church was the scene of a nostalgic but enthusiastic reunion of the members of the Cass City High School class of 1921.

There were 37 students in the original class and through a great deal of coordinated work on the part of several members of the group, all 33 of the remaining members of the class were located and contacted. All but five of them were able to return to Cass City for the gala event.

Forty-five were seated at the smorgasbord banquet table and were served by volunteer members of the WSCS. Fred Pinney of Cass City had been class president and was elected to conduct the evening's program which he opened with an address of welcome.

The roll-call was read, then several humorous presentations made which were in keeping with the wistful adage printed on the cover of the program booklet, "With Age Comes Wisdom." A group sing-along was highlighted by an original parody created just for the occasion by Mrs. Alexandra MacKenzie of Lathrop Village (the former Alexandra Carnegie) which cleverly managed to include the names of each of her classmates.

A film, "Project Hope," a documentary on the famous hospital ship "Hope," was presented by Glenn Bixby, president of the Exello Corporation of Detroit.

The membership was honored in a farewell salutation given by Mrs. Violet Biber (formerly Miss Violet Elliott) who had been one of the group's teachers.

Most of the participants came for the celebration from various parts of Michigan, but others came from Canada, Indiana and Florida. One member, Mrs. Kathryn Guppy (formerly Kathryn Credland), flew in from California to be with her classmates on this 40th anniversary.

1971 will be the class' 50th anniversary and already plans are under way for a "Golden" reunion.

Letting Temporary Taxes Die No Small Feat For Michigan's Legislature

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

The certainty of death and taxes is widely publicized in story and song, but the death of taxes, even though they be "temporary" in nature, is a rare thing indeed.

Michigan will witness the death of the so-called "nuisance" taxes which were passed to ease the Cash Crisis of 1959 this June 30.

Despite the promises of politicians from both parties that the taxes would expire, this is no small event. The roughly $50 million annually resulting from the taxes will be sorely missed by the state's still unhealthy treasury.

Efforts were made to extend the taxes, which carried the expiration date when they were passed.

The taxes were practically painless, as taxes go. They levied a penny a pack on cigarettes, 4 per cent on the use of telephones and telegraph service, a charge on tobacco products, and additional charges on liquor and beer purchases and the corporation franchise fee.

Some lawmakers had the idea that austerity budgets for some areas of state government, notably higher education and mental health, could be increased and perhaps some of the state's staggering $60 million debt retired if one or more of the taxes were extended.

But no agreement could be reached on the why and wherefore of continuing the taxes, so the Legislature kept hands off.

Now come the liquor interests, plus some lawmakers, with the proposal that a refund on certain of the taxes be made. The situation that causes the anguish is this: Liquor dealers were assessed the nuisance tax on their floor stocks when the tax went into effect.

It would be equitable, they say, to refund a similar amount on the floor stock on hand when the taxes expire.

While the proposal may be a sound logical position, needless to say it was greeted with no great show of enthusiasm when mentioned on the floor by Sen. Charles S. Blondy, D-Detroit, during the last days of the regular session.

The tax on tobacco products was not on floor inventories when passed, so these dealers do not have the problem.

The Liquor Control Commission says it is powerless to refund the tax without action by the Legislature. Lawmakers can't get to the problem until the 1962 session, and by that time, the whole thing may be forgotten and better left dead.

Just for the record, labor unions weren't the only ones to applaud Gov. John B. Swainson's veto of the controversial Unemployment Compensation bill passed by the 1961 Legislature.

A recent issue of the Michigan Food News, a publication for retail grocers, in a column signed by editor Willis R. Keasey, also said the people were better off with the bill inoperative.

Said Keasey: "The bill is one of the biggest monstrosities ever passed by the Legislature . . ."

The strong voice which undoubtedly caused Swainson to veto the bill came from the unions. Equally vocal were the forces pleading with the Governor to sign the bill, or let it become law without a signature.

These belonged to many big and small employers and those interested in the "economy climate of the state."

Keasey's point, on which he could find much agreement, was that a percentage of small businessmen would have to pay higher rates under the bill.

Merits of the bill, which had as its chief aim the beefing up of the Unemployment Compensation Fund, and its drawbacks were debated almost to the point of tedium before Swainson acted. While the labor unions opposed the bill on totally different grounds than did some small businessmen, this relatively quiet but tremendously important segment of the Michigan economy was glad that it did not have to face up to increased costs of any kind.

Mr. Average Consumer in Michigan might feel a little sheepish if he contemplates a recent word from J. L. Littlefield, chief of the foods and standards division of the Department of Agriculture.

Littlefield and his boss, Agriculture Director George S. McIntyre, warned buyers to beware of advertising that lallyhoos a "king size quart," a "full pound," a "giant gallon" and the like.

A pound is a pound, the official said, and the same goes for any other unit of measure.

Law requires that anything sold as a pound really be a full pound. The size of a pint, quart, gallon or any other standard unit of measure is also spelled out in the statutes, so any billing that hints of a bonus is deceptive, the officials said.

While everybody seeks a bargain, common sense would dictate that advertising of the "full pound" type is really only a gimmick.

Like so many other things right under our noses, this obvious truism escapes us too easily, and it takes the prompting from an official quarter to bring things into focus.

I'm Really Not An Isolationist

By Irene Warren

The habit I have of reading during my lunch hour has given rise to a few comments. It's really not that I'm an isolationist - it's just that I love to read and have so little time for it. The lunch hour has seemed a good opportunity to do a little reading.

Recently, I started reading the newspaper while eating lunch deciding it would be a way to keep abreast of events - but, somehow, the front page news items as well as other items inside the paper just aren't conducive to good digestion. So, now I just read the comics and do the crossword puzzle.

And I may have to cut the comics - even they are beginning to be involved. Will Brenda Starr be fired or won't she? What will happen to Grandma Wills and Dondi with the escaped prisoner hiding in their house? And, goodness' sake, what kind of international affair is Charlie Dobbs getting into?

See what I mean? If this keeps up, I may just do the crossword puzzle while eating lunch - and that's hardly the same as reading!

Not long ago, the opportunity to learn the status of my maturity in one relationship came to me. And that was in connection with my antipathy toward the lowly worm, grub and caterpillar.

To illustrate how I used to react to the sight of worms, I'll tell about something that happened when I was about fourteen. Lillian, my sister, and I were outside. Feeling a slight tickle above my ankle and thinking that a fly was inspecting the premises, I brushed at my leg with my hand. Soon the tickling resumed. I glanced down and discovered that one of those brown and blue fuzzy tent caterpillars was clinging to the cuff of my ankle and was tentatively exploring my leg with his nose - trying to ascertain, I suppose, whether or not it was safe to leave the good foothold he had on my ankle.

I began to shudder and to scream, "Take it off! Take it off!"

Lillian stared at me. "Take what off?" she asked.

I pointed down at the little intruder and kept yelling, "Take it off!"

Lillian looked at me with cold disapproval. "Take it off yourself," she replied. Which, in retrospect, I recognize as the wisest attitude she could have taken - at the time I felt deserted and left alone to cope with a deadly enemy.

I finally reached down and making a frantic brush with my hand succeeded in dislodging my hitchhiker.

That is a typical example of my former reactions to these lowly creatures. Of late years, I have attempted to control my emotions and to achieve a more sane attitude toward these tiny members of the Animal Kingdom. What happened a few days ago, indicates that I have made some improvement.

My husband and I were visiting the Paul Dunlap family. Marge Dunlap and I were standing in the dining room where we were folding the clean laundry. Jimmy, a three-year-old, and Dale, one of the older boys, came in the house. Jimmy tossed something at me saying at the same time, "This for you."

I glanced down at the little thing that struck me on the chest just a little below my chin and spied the tent caterpillar clinging to my dress just as Jimmy proudly stated with a big grin, "Caterpillar."

I calmly flicked the unwitting guest off my dress with my grimace - but I did say to Jimmy rather firmly, "I don't like caterpillars so don't bring me any more, please, or you and I won't be buddies."

Dale, who picked up the caterpillar and carried him outside, looked at me like I look at caterpillars, but Jimmy crawled up on a chair beside me and gave me the old one-two-three with his blue eyes as he assured me that we should remain buddies.

Kids are wonderful - even if they do have a penchant for worms, grubs, snakes, frogs, ad infinitum!

THE TEST

A man may be judged for what he stands for, but it's what he falls for that really counts.

YOUR CHOICE

A fellow can't crow like a rooster in the morning if he stays up all night like a hoot owl.

Have faith in mankind, but it still pays to count your change.

County Produces Surplus Feed

Tuscola county produces enough surplus feed to market 25,000 more head of cattle, Hugh Henderson, extension specialist in animal husbandry at Michigan State University, pointed out to Tuscola county bankers at a livestock feeding and financing meeting held Monday evening at the 4-H Building, Caro.

Michigan has become a large corn producing state. During 1950 Michigan farmers produced some over 46,000,000 bushels of corn. By 1959 it has jumped to over 109,000,000 bushels. Surplus corn is purchased by the dozens of carloads in Michigan and shipped to western states where it is fed to cattle that are in turn shipped into Michigan for slaughter.

Michigan produces 37 per cent of the meat consumed in the state while 63 per cent is shipped in - 17 per cent of which is brought in on the hoof and 46 per cent as processed meat.

Area Crops Show Weather Injury

Beans, corn and cucumber plants are showing signs of weather injury, reports Don R. Keblor, county extension agent in agriculture.

The rusting appearance seen on bean leaves is called "sun scald" and is due to exposure of the leaves to excessive ultra-violet rays of the sun. This condition is not generally found in Michigan but is quite common in areas where beans are raised at higher elevations in states like Colorado. Exceptionally clear atmospheric conditions, free of dust, allows greater penetration of these rays to the earth's surface. When this occurs excessive exposure to the rays results in the destruction of growing tissue. Sun burn on people is caused by over exposure to these same rays.

The silvery sheen seen on corn and cucumber leaves seems to be the result of a severe drop in temperature, immediately preceded by high temperatures. Actually there has been a severe temperature shock on the growing plants.

In either instance there will be little adverse effects showing up on the crops providing normal growing conditions prevail. New growth is not showing effects or signs of these injuries.

DOWN MEMORY LANE
FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

In a brief ceremony held prior to the Cass City-Vassar baseball game Sunday, the new scoreboard was dedicated. It was erected in memory of Chet Dorland who was killed after being hit on the head by a thrown ball. Rev. S. R. Wurtz officiated at the ceremony. Assisting members of the team, who built the board, were Pat Crawford, Bill McKinley, Fred Matthews, Stuart Atwell, Orion Cardew and Fritz Neitzel.

Otto Priekorn this week is announcing the grand opening of his new enlarged Ben Franklin store in Cass City, a little under four months after the building was destroyed by fire.

At a regular meeting of Tri-

County Post No. 507 American

Legion Tuesday evening the following officers were elected for the coming year: commander,

Stanley Martinek; junior vice-commander, Clifford Seeley; adjutant, Arian Brown; finance officer, Jack Howell; chaplain, Tom

Cottick; sergeant-at-arms, Jake

Wise.

Ten Years Ago

Four Cass City men were among those honored at Camp Rotary, near Clare, by the Order of the Arrow, camping honor society of the Boy Scouts of America. James Ware was one of ten members who received the Brotherhood Honor, second of the three ranks of members of the order. Edward Baker, Ray W. Fleenor, and Russell Foy were among the 44 initiated into the Ordeal Honor, the beginning rank. All four are active locally in scouting. Baker as district chairman for Tuscola County, Fleenor as committee chairman in Cass City, Ware as junior assistant scoutmaster, and Foy as acting senior patrol leader for the summer. Robert Putnam, James Baker, Dick Wallace and Harold Outley were among the hundred members of the Arrow at Camp Rotary, Friday through Sunday.

Rev. Otto Nuechterlein, pastor of the Cass City Lutheran Church, attended a dinner and reception in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Nuechterlein of Bay City, on Sunday, June 24. Three members of the Cass City Fire Department attended the monthly meeting of the Tuscola County Firemen's Association at Akron. The three from here were: "Buck" Rabideau, Al Avery and Walter Jezewski.

Twenty-five Years Ago

The annual Cosgrove reunion was held Sunday, June 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Keating, on Garfield Avenue, and was attended by about 80 relatives. A potluck dinner was served on the lawn at noon and ice cream and cake were served later in the day. The oldest present was Mrs. Ida Gray, 79 years old, of Detroit and the youngest was Tommy Blakely, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Blakely of Midland. Guests were present from Detroit, Flint, Uby, Owendale, Gagetown, Midland, Caro, Greenville, Sanford and Cass City.

The Cass City Ladies' band will fill its first engagement of the summer season at Argyle on Tuesday, when they will play at the 39th annual rally and picnic of the Northwest Sanilac County School association. Oscar Buschlen is president of the association, Percy Starr, vice-president; D. Henry, secretary; C. Lowe, treasurer; Rev. Bruce David, program chairman; Jay Stoutenburg, marshal; and Virgil Lowe, in charge of sports.

Thirty-five Years Ago

This is the season for family reunions and several family gatherings have been held during the past week when ideal weather conditions have prevailed and happiness has been the dominant note in the annual events. Members of the Meredith clan to the number of more than 100 gathered at the Sanilac County Park for their annual meeting and basket dinner. A Bayley-Cooper reunion was held June 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Schwaderer and Mrs. Margaret Levagood. Sixty-nine were present. Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hiser of Elmwood township were made happy Sunday when a party of relatives and friends gave them a surprise visit. All but one of their seven children were present to enjoy the potluck dinner and the afternoon's visit.

The annual meeting of the Tri-county Oil Men's Club was held in the Hotel Montague at Caro on June 24. The wives of the men were guests. Fifty-five were seated at the banquet. During the evening the wives were supposed to introduce themselves and each was to tell something good about her husband. It is understood very little was said. Robert Warner of Cass City was elected president of the club and D. Capling of Caro was named secretary and treasurer for the coming year. Robert Warner gave a short talk and Mr. Adams, the retiring president, after a few well chosen words called upon M. B. Auten of Cass City, who responded with a ten minute speech in his usual pleasing manner.

From calls and personal talks with many people, I am wondering if in the minds of many people, vitamins are not classified as food nutrition. They seem to think that vitamins are medicines that you buy at the drug store. Some people feel that they can go "hog-wild" on these "vitamin medicine cure-alls" because they can buy all they want without a doctor's prescription.

Actually, vitamins are nutrients. Fifteen vitamins are essential for life and when we buy them in concentrated form rather than in natural foods we are simply doing our grocery shopping at the drug store.

There are some facts that we should all know about vitamins. In spite of their "cure-all" reputation vitamins are no more essential in our diets than amino acids, fatty acids, carbohydrates or minerals. It is quite easy to get all the vitamins we need from our food.

When food is used as a source of vitamins, it is hardly possible to get a case of imbalance which can result with improper use of concentrates. For it is possible to get too much of some vitamins when taken in concentrated form, particularly the fat soluble vitamins.

We depend largely on meat, liver, milk, eggs, whole grain cereals and green and yellow vegetables as sources of the 15 essential vitamins. But if we make sure that we get vitamin A, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and vitamin C from a variety of natural foods, we will also get the remaining 10 vitamins in sufficient amounts.

We need to think about buying vitamins in our natural foods when we go to the grocery store because they are essential for growth and reproduction, protection against disease, coagulation of the blood, resistance to infection, and formation of intercellular substances to keep our bodies functioning as they should. They are also important in helping our bodies utilize the nutrients in food.

Vitamin A is necessary to keep skin and mucous membranes healthy and resistant to infection. It is also necessary to protect against night blindness. Best sources of Vitamin A are liver, milk, fat, egg yolk, green and yellow vegetables.

Thiamine (B1) is necessary for normal appetite and digestion, for a healthy nervous system and to help change substances in food into energy for work and heat. Best sources of thiamine are pork, liver, meat, whole grain cereal, whole grain bread, milk and dairy foods.

Riboflavin (B2) is necessary to help cells use oxygen, to help keep vision clear, for smooth skin without scaling around mouth and nose or cracking at corners of the mouth. Best sources are milk and other dairy foods, green and yellow vegetables, enriched cereal, liver, legumes and eggs.

Niacin helps the body to utilize carbohydrates, fats and amino acids. A lack of niacin will cause pellagra, nervousness and loss of appetite. Best sources of niacin are milk, nuts, fish, meat and legumes.

Vitamin C is essential to help cement body cells together and to strengthen the walls of the blood vessels, to help resist infection and to help in healing. Best sources are citrus fruits, tomatoes, cabbage, fresh fruits and vegetables.

Be sure to notice again that meat, liver, milk, eggs, whole grain and enriched cereals, green and yellow vegetables are on several lists.

And because some of these same foods are good sources of protein and minerals, we can also say that as long as you select from a large variety of many foods and meet your protein requirement and your mineral requirement, you will also meet your vitamin requirement.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

The Constitution says everybody is entitled to the pursuit of happiness and, come next Tuesday, the pursuit will be on.

I aim to come through Independence Day this year without a scratch. My plans call for setting in a rocking chair on the front porch and rocking with the grain. I might get a mosquito bite or two but that'll be pritty good compared to all the broken bones I'll be reading about in the papers.

Back when I was a boy it wasn't so dangerous to venture out of the house on July 4. We had a old mule named Jerry and he had a heap of faults but he never turned the buggy over on account of rounding a curve at 90 mile a hour. And they wasn't no 7-cent road tax on his oats. Pa would hitch up the wagon and we'd all go to town on Independence Day. First off, we'd go in some store that was open and get a nickel's worth of cheese, a ten-cent can of sardines and a box of crackers and then we'd all eat like a hog.

Nowadays if a family wants to come to town and eat like a hog, they'd have to sell a hog to get the money.

I was reading a piece in the papers about a feller named Elwood Haynes and his contribution to Independence Day. On July 4, 1894, at Kokomo, Indiana, ole Elwood cranked a one-horse-power, two-cycle engine on a rubber-tired buggy and took off at 7 mile a hour.

When Elwood twisted the crank that Independence Day, he started somepun. The piece said a stone marks the place where America's first gasoline automobile sputtered off down the road. And I reckon, Mister Editor, they is a million stones today in this country erected in memory of folks who has died by that device in the pursuit of happiness on Independence Day.

Of course, I ain't hankering to go back to them days of crackers and sardines and ole Jerry. But sometimes I do get right homesick to pick up a newspaper and read where the big argument of the day is somepun gentle like gitting off the gold standard. Back in them days the papers was full of discussions about things. Now everthing is a argument. In a discussion folks exchange ideas but in a argument they just swap ignorance. You could have a real discussion around a store counter eating crackers and sardines. Around these new-fangled eating places today, about all you git is a argument.

Talking about arguments, I see where two writers is having a argument on how many wimmen a man can love at the same time. I don't know nothing about wimmen, but I know men, and I'd say that if a feller has a hankering for wimmen he can love as many as time, opportunity and wimmen permits.

Yours truly,

Uncle Tim

Action Brisk in Little League

Action was brisk in Cass City's Little League during the week as three games were played. It was a bad week for the Cubs who were involved in all three games and was the loser in each contest.

Yankee-Cubs

Tuesday, June 20, the Yankees topped the Cubs 7-3 behind the slants of David Bliss. Tommy Frankowski was charged with the loss. Gary Stine banged out a pair of hits in three tries for the Yankees. Seeley hammered out two hits in four tries for the losers.

Pirates vs. Cubs

The Pirates remained in contention for the league crown with an 11-7 nod over the Cubs. Tom Kelley was the winning hurler. Zawilinski was charged with the loss. Mike Root had a perfect day for the Pirates with four for four, while his teammate, Ed Gruber, collected two for three. For the Cubs, John Maharg had two hits in three tries.

Cubs-Tigers

The Cubs almost registered their first victory of the season Monday. They bowed to the Tigers 6-5. David Asher received credit for the win. J. Maharg was the loser. For the Tigers, Larry Hartwick had three for three and Asher two for three. Sparking the Cub attack were Mike Murphy with three for four and Tom Guinther with two for two.

Three-Team Race In City League

It looks like the battle for the title in the Cass City Softball League may shape up as a three-team race, as Bach must now be considered a serious contender with Ellenburg on the mound.

With the Sebewaing hurler and Elwyn Helwig pitching, the league boasts two of the finest moundsmen in the area.

Ellenburg proved his worth Tuesday night, June 20, against Erla's who were leading the league with a perfect 3-0 record.

The polished hurler, who opposing sticklers say can do just about anything with a ball except throw it straight, shutout the Foodmen with just one hit by Don Erla in a 1-0 decision.

The game was decided in the first inning when Clare Comment picked up a hit and scored.

Walbro Wins

Helwig had his turn to shine in the nightcap. He limited Deford to a single safety in a 2-0 decision for Walbro. En route to victory he struck out 19, a new season's high. He was helped by his brother, Maynard, who clouted a round tripper.

Rained Out

Erla's lost a cinch victory over General Cable Thursday. They had run up a 19-2 lead after four innings when the rains came. The contest will be played over. Bach and Deford were also postponed.

Church Softball League in Action

Action in the Church Softball League was curtailed by rain as only four games were played during the week.

Saturday night a pair of make-up games were played under threatening weather conditions. Argyle-Cass City Baptists man-handled Church of Christ 11-1. Jerry Hillaker was the winning pitcher. The combined team of Baptists looks like one of the strongest clubs in the loop and should be in contention for the league crown all the way.

In the nightcap Saturday, EUB outslugged the Presbyterians, 13-10. Wayne Brown earned the decision over Bob Morley.

Wednesday night, June 21, Deford-Kingston topped the Decker Methodists and the Catholics remained undefeated with a 14-5 nod over Grant-Fraser.

Bob Harbec's fine relief pitching featured the contest.

Friday's games between Shabbona Methodists and Gagetown Nazarene and Lamotte-Mizpah vs. Cass City Methodists were rained out and have been re-scheduled for July 8.

Babe Ruthers Cop First Game of Year

Behind the fine pitching of Jim Champion and the hitting of Roger Karr, the Cass City Babe Ruthers won the opening game of the season Thursday, defeating Pinnebog, 6-1.

Champion started and won his first game after graduating from the Little League. He fanned 10 and yielded just three hits.

Karr, who looks better after every game, rapped out three hits in four trips.

Cass City opened the scoring in the first when Karr singled and Marty Yedinak doubled him home. They iced the game with three more in the second on four walks and Karr's single.

Pinnebog scored in the fourth on a hit, two stolen bases and a ground out.

In the top of the seventh, hits by Bill Hutchinson and Karr and a sacrifice fly by Tom Ellis netted Cass City its final runs.

The Babe Ruthers will play in Cass City today (Thursday) at 4 p.m. against Uby.
