Plans Set for All-Star Show

Evergreen to Ask Voters for School Addition

A date for a special election to seek approval for an addition to the Evergreen Township Unit School is expected to be set this week, following action taken at the annual school meeting Monday.

The school now has enough money to pay off the entire indebtedness on bonds that run through 1967 and is considering the addition for more storage space.

Thirty-five persons attended the meeting. One vacancy on the board was filled. Incumbent Allison Brown did not choose to run for re-election. Named in her place was Mary Joyce McNaughton.

Hike, Talent Show Fill Playground Summer Schedule

A hike and picnic and talent show are the next features in the summer recreation program. In addition to physical activities, the playground is offering handicraft with the spotlight on free plaster of Paris molds made by the children.

Dr. William Harr supplied the playground with 300 pounds of plaster of Paris which has enabled the program to offer plaster casting without a charge this year.

Due to the conflict in schedules, the annual mummer's parade has been postponed so that everyone may participate in the village clean-up day, according to Mrs. Lillian Yedinak, playground director. Watch the Chronicle for an announcement of the date and time of the parade.

"We would like to extend our hearty thanks to Mrs. Gerald Priesskorn for her generous offer to assist in the swimming instruction. With the increased attendance in swimming classes this year, her presence and ability are truly appreciated," Mrs. Yedinak said.

A hike and picnic are the playground's feature, July 13. Hikes will be organized for each age group. The children are to bring their own lunches and drinks while the fire for roasting will be furnished.

At the end of the hikes, everyone will meet together for a picnic lunch. The picnic will end at 1 p.m. Thursday, Mrs. Yedinak said.

The Elementary School Gymnasium will be the scene of the Talent Show July 13 at 7 p.m. Contestants are to sign up at the playground or contact Eli Holes before Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Yedinak said that each contestant should be sure to state clearly what his act will be when he registers. The best acts will be awarded prizes, Mrs. Yedinak said. All parents and friends are invited to attend, she said.

The Pet Show July 6 drew 72 entries which competed for prizes. The most unusual pets were Dorothy Tracy's baby raccoon. Concluded on page ten.

Cass Theatre
Watch for the "Absent Minded Professor," starts Friday, July 14.
6-29-3

An all-star professional revue has been carded for the free evening show at the Cass City Homecoming Thursday, Aug. 3, Gerald Priesskorn, president, announced this week.

Heading the program will be Mel Snyder, a featured performer on network television. He has an unusual balloon sculpture act and makes animal figures and other objects in seconds with balloons. The popular entertainer also will be the master of ceremonies for the show.

Another TV entertainer, Jack Ripley, has also agreed to appear. An impressionist, Mr. Ripley imitates Liberace, Lawrence Welk, Ed Sullivan and other personalities. He also gives his impression of several of the more popular singers.

Concluding this portion of the show will be Day and Dolly Liddy who will present novelty acts.

Present Queen

Another highlight of the evening show will be the presentation of the queen and her court to area visitors. Also scheduled is the announcement of the winners of the various awards in the Livestock Show that will be held in the morning.

D-J Dance

Although the traditional dance under the stars on the tennis courts at the park has been abandoned, a D-J dance has been arranged to take its place. It will be held at the school immediately following the evening show.

Cass City Skin Divers Find Relic

Five teenage Cass City skin divers came up with an old car lamp during their week of camping and diving at Burnt Cabin Pointe.

Larry Finkbeiner, 17, Bruce Avery, 17, Bill Eberline, 15, Mike Bryant, 16, and Phil Jones, 15, all of Cass City, have been examining an old ship wreck.

Larry and Bruce stayed at Burnt Cabin Pointe from July 3 to 8. The other boys, with Phil Jones, 15, of Cass City and George Balzer, 19, of Onondaga, camped with them for a couple of days but didn't stay the whole week.

50 Miles in an Ice Cream Cart
July 8, Larry and Bruce drove the 50 miles back with about 500 pounds of equipment in a converted ice cream cart. Though they said they ran out of gas near Saginaw, they made the trip in two and a half hours.

Burnt Cabin Pointe is on Lake Huron east of Port Austin and Pointe Aux Barques. Between two light houses at Port Austin 8 feet of water. It is embedded in one of the ledges.

1868 Pump

Bruce brought up an old car lamp off the wreck. They also said that they found a pump with a patent date of Aug. 11, 1868, on the wreck.

Larry has been diving four years and Bruce three. A month ago they started, with the help of Andy Wise, who now lives in Port Huron, a skin diving club called the Otters, for anyone more than 15 years old.

The club now has 13 members, almost half are girls, the boys said. Larry is president and Bruce is secretary.

These Gardeners Not Greenhorns

By Mary Basing

Like a woman after hours before her looking-glass, a finished rose can have a glory all its own. But the care that it takes to make it so!

Two local women know the necessary time needed to grow roses that meet a standard of more than conventional loveliness.

On the back patio, leading to a neat and colorful garden, a neighbor kitten scampered through red geraniums, as Mrs. Betty Crandell smiled in the sunshine when asked how much time she put on her garden.

Besides caring for her flowers, including chrysanthemums, pansies and shrubs, Mrs. Crandell pays $10 a year to receive four roses to test-grow for the Jackson and Perkins Rose Company, a principal rose-growing concern, according to Mrs. Crandell.

First Year at Testing
"This is my first year in the test plan," she said. "You grow the roses sent to you and fill out a sheet about the habit, vigor, foliage, color, etc., of each plant."

Jackson and Perkins decided they could tell more about a rose before putting it on the market by sending it to individual gardeners around the country. There the roses are raised under normal circumstances rather than in the "ideal conditions" of a nursery, she said.

Each tester gets to keep his roses. If one dies or has a flaw the company usually sends one to replace it. The company is naturally trying to develop better flowers, Mrs. Crandell said.

She started her garden on South Seeger street six or seven years ago, Mrs. Crandell said. Then it was a vegetable garden, she said.

Each rose seems to have a significance all its own.

Rose For Peace

Mrs. Crandell walked to a large bush with white blossoms and said that it was a French rose called Peace.

"This is one of the best roses of the century," she said. "As I recall it was introduced about the time they founded the United Nations."

Each of her roses is tagged. Most of them are hybrid teas, she said.

As the reporter was leaving, Mrs. Crandell handed her a bouquet of four pink roses.

Snakes in Cherry Trees

Mrs. Esther McCullough was in her garden on South Seeger street.

"Do you know how to keep blackbirds out of cherry trees?" she demanded. Before there was time to answer, she said:

"Put snakes in the trees." This brought a shiver up this reporter's back.

"I know there are 35 blackbirds in my cherries and I've tried everything. Now I'm putting rubber hoses in the trees. A neighbor said the birds would think they were snakes," she said.

"I don't have time to take care of my garden. I work every day and just get it cleaned out when it looks like this again." She gestured, with her hand full of weeds, to the profusion of daisies and other flowers, some with an undergrowth of green weeds.

"I just can't get around it all," she added.

Mrs. McCullough said she has been in the Jackson and Perkins test plan four years.

"Roses need a lot of time. They must be dusted, clipped and fed plant food," she said.

Depending on how many roses die during the winter, Mrs. McCullough said she always buys more than the four test roses.

"Last winter was hard on roses," she said. "It wasn't that it was so cold, there just wasn't enough snow to furnish a cover."

Smoke Tree

There are more than roses and cherry trees in Mrs. McCullough's garden. Near the house there is a roof-high, 20-year-old Smoke tree. From a distance, its clusters of minute flowers takes on a cloud-like effect and it looked like it might blow away.

"In the morning when the dew is on that tree, the sun will glint off the water and the whole tree is like a sparkling ball," Mrs. McCullough said.

Peach trees, grapes, currants, raspberries, asparagus, a beauty bush, Flowering Quince, a Magnolia tree, a Tulip tree, bachelors buttons, a Blue Spruce and a Birch tree are only a few of the colorful inhabitants of Mrs. McCullough's garden.

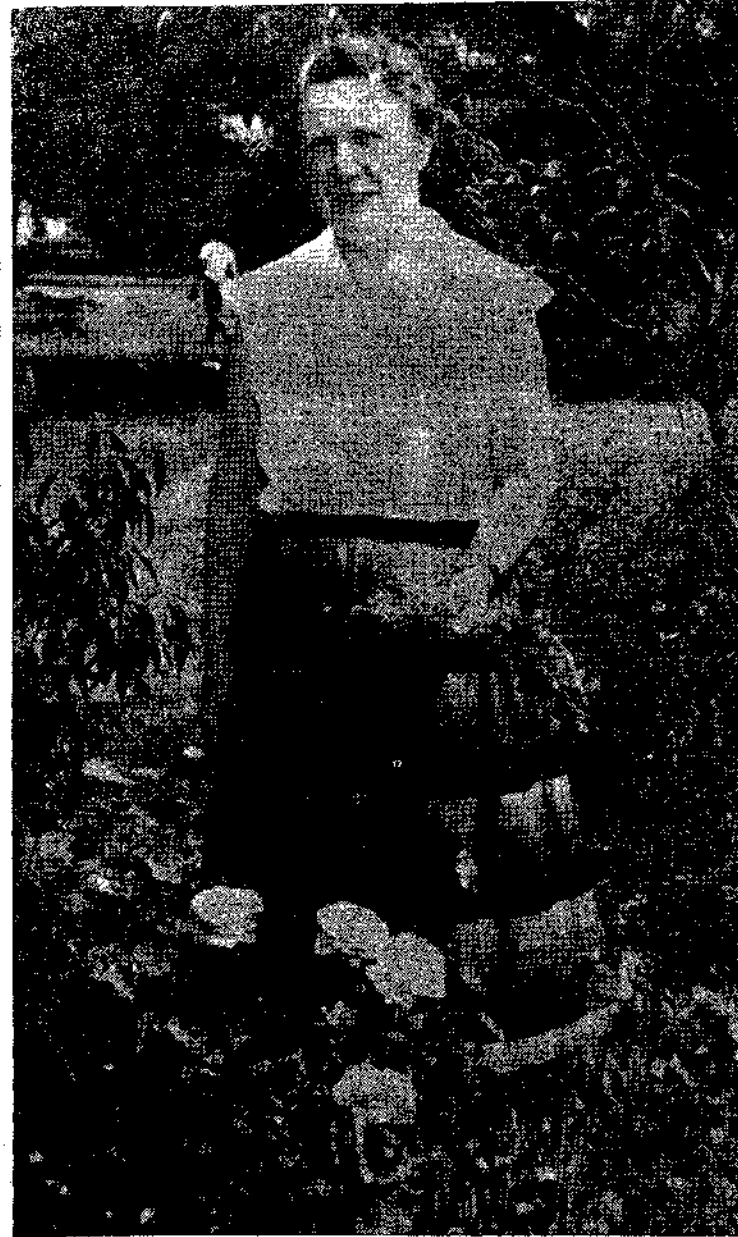

Against the back of the house, at the front of the garden, was a honeysuckle vine. "When the honeysuckle is in blossom the whole neighborhood can smell it," she said.

"In the spring the garden has a sort of jungle beauty, I guess," Bobby and Sunflower Seeds. With a handful of honeysuckle and a small, fragrant white

Financial Report Presented

Few at Annual School Meet

Members of the Cass City School Board are threatening to discontinue the annual meeting of the board following Monday's meeting at Cass City High School when only six electors attended the annual meeting to hear about the condition of the school district.

The very poor attendance contrasted sharply with the attendance last year when 47 attended. One reason for the sharp decline may have been due to the shift in the time of the meeting.

It is usually held following the election of school board members. Because the election was earlier this year, the annual meeting was held at a separate date.

The few attending learned that the expenditures at the school increased slightly and passed the half million dollar mark. Last year total disbursements were $472,238.46 and this year the district's costs were $509,147.42.

Just how close did Cass City come to meeting its obligations last year? Supt. Willis Campbell said that the school was $11,000 short and also failed to buy a school bus that normally would have been purchased last year.

Despite the fact that the school was recently denied an increase in millage at a special election, the school will have more money for operating this year.

At this writing the operating millage for the school is 8 1/2, the same as was raised last year, but the board is seeking an adjustment and the millage could go to nine mills before tax time rolls around.

But even if it doesn't, an increase in valuation will still increase your tax bill. Assessed valuation of the district jumped from $11 1/3 million to over $15 million this year. This increase is not expected to meet the needs of the district.

What cuts in the curriculum or service that the school will make has not yet been decided.

In past years, for instance, the district has voted at the annual meeting to transport students who live a mile from the school, but not far enough to qualify for payments from the state. This year there has been no decision on whether these children, and others within the village, will be hauled by school buses.

Set Tax Rate

At a regular meeting following the annual meeting, the board set the mill rates for the school year. A mill is $1 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. A total of 3.55 mills will be raised for debt. Taxpayers will pay eight-tenths of a mill for the 1950 debt, one mill for the 1954 debt, and a mill and three-quarters for the 1960 debt.

Instruction Costs

Cost of instruction and administration increased, the financial report indicated. The superintendent's salary went from $10,800 to $11,800 and other salaries jumped accordingly.

Principals' wages went from $22,000 to $24,000 and the teachers were paid a total of $233,623.43 as compared to $211,097.50 the previous year.

Coming Auctions

Saturday, July 15—Household items will be sold to settle the estate of Gertrude Sternberg at the place, 215 Butler St., Bad Axe. Saturday, July 15—Earl Gerard will hold a Holstein dairy auction at the farm, 13 miles north of Lapeer.

From the Editor's Corner

On page six of this issue are two new features in the Chronicle. Running for the first time this week is a book review column written by the Rev. R. J. Searis. It will appear every other week or so, if reader interest warrants. The other is a column, "Visitor's Viewpoint," by Mary Basing which started last week and will continue through the summer months.

We invite your comments about these additions.

An incidental benefit to the street washing program Tuesday by the firemen was that it helped cool off the downtown area. Probably the most appreciative of the firemen's efforts was the Chronicle staff which was forced to burn the midnight oil that night to meet the Wednesday publication time.

Although the lack of interest in the annual school meeting Monday has members of the board threatening to abandon the event, we personally hope that they will give it at least one more try next year.

It's the one time a year that school taxpayers have the chance to learn firsthand just what the board is doing and to learn its attitude about finances and other important questions.

Pastor Appointed

The Rev. Dellis W. Hudson, who was pastor of the Lamotte United Missionary Church, has been appointed pastor of the Bethel United Missionary Church in Roseburg, north of Yale.

Street Ready for Sidewalk Sale

Main Street is sparkling clean for the week-end sidewalk sale following the work Tuesday night by the members of Elkland Township Fire Department who washed Main Street and the sidewalks in front of businesses to prep for the big event.

The work was originated by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce and was one of the details in preparation for the sale.

Others include the closing of North Seeger for a block so that children of area shoppers can enjoy themselves while mom is shopping.

Tickets for the rides will be available from cooperating merchants and with these tickets all rides will be just 10 cents. Without the tickets the rides are 20 cents each.

Cass City merchants have made an all-out effort to make this year's sale the biggest of any of the three that have been held. Bargains of almost every conceivable type will be placed on the sidewalk.

Other merchandise, such as groceries, not suitable for outdoor display, has been placed on sale within the stores. You'll find out prices in most every store on the main stem. Many of them are advertised in today's Chronicle.

Added Feature

An added bonus for shoppers this year will be the mystery shopper. Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the shopper will walk up and down Main Street Thursday, Friday and Saturday. On each of these days he will select two persons at random and present them with a $5 gift certificate good at any store in Cass City.

Deford Elevator Sold

Ralph Terry of Oakley, near Owosso, has purchased the Deford Frutchey Bean Co. elevator, it was announced this week.

The elevator, established shortly after the turn of the century, has a new owner but its operation will remain the same, Mr. Terry said.

The Frutchey Bean Co. will still be the purchasing agent for the concern and the name will not be changed.

"Although I will own the elevator, I will actually work the same as area managers of other Frutchey elevators," Mr. Terry said.

The Deford elevator was the third established by the Frutchey Co. The first was in Saginaw and the second in Cass City.

Mr. Terry has been associated with Frutchey Bean Co. for some 25 years. Besides working in the Saginaw office, he managed elevators at Fostoria and at Oakley. He will be assisted in Deford by his wife who will handle the books, a job she has had at each of the elevators managed by Mr. Terry.

Virgin Timber Still Stands At Battel's

By Mary Basing
When the white settlers came west and north they not only pushed back the native Indians but destroyed most of the timber that once covered the Great Lakes country.

But one mile east, three north and two east of Cass City there stands about nine acres of hardwood virgin timber that somebody missed.

Since 1882, this timber has stood on the Battel family farm. According to Art Battel, his grandfather, George, bought 80 acres in 1882 and farmed it with a pair of oxen. He put up a house and later, in 1896, a barn; most of the material for these buildings came from the nine acres of virgin woods near the house.

The family still uses the barn and part of their house is the original.

Spared by Fire
Most of the trees must be over 200 years old, Mr. Battel estimated. The woods survived not only lumberjacks but the great Thumb fire that raged through this area in 1881.

Virgin timber is a rarity around here, according to Mr. Battel. It is woods that hasn't been lumbered out and grown up again.

The Battel family has had 15 or 20 offers in the last ten years to take the timber down.

"We've never put a price on it. It's sort of part of the farm," Mr. Battel said. "It acts like a wind-break for the house."

"The woods are an insurance. If some of our buildings are destroyed we can take lumber out of the woods to rebuild."

Mr. Battel said that he didn't think there would be any money in selling the lumber. He said that he thought by the time the land was cleared, there would be no money left.

"Besides, it would be one awful eyesore until the stumps were gone," he said.

"The Battels have a sugar maple in the woods. Every spring they can see the leaves turn and make maple syrup."

The Battels have been tapping for over 70 years—and the tap holes can be seen on the big Maples throughout the woods.

Historic Woods
The woods are full of history. Concluded on page ten.

Least Bittern, Family
"Sitting Tight"

It looks as though Mrs. Least Bittern was spellbound from keeping her eyes on the birdie above when Conservation Department cameraman Robert Harrington took these pictures. Instead, she had "frozen" as these birds do when they are trying to go unnoticed by outsiders. Even at his tender age, Junior seems to have picked up this family trick as he struck a statue-like pose while clinging to a cattail. Another fuzzy little youngster was all but hidden as he nestled under his mother's protective wing. Although they are fairly abundant in Michigan's watery areas during the summer months, least bitterns are not often seen, let alone photographed, because of their secretive nature. Their favorite home is in the cattail country of marshes. About the size of a meadowlark when it reaches adulthood, the least bittern is the tiniest of all herons.

Con-con Candidates To Meet Public

The public has an opportunity to meet the Con-Con delegates July 19. There will be an open meeting at 8 p.m. at the Dom Polski Hall located south of Caro on M-24 titled "Meet the Con-Con Delegate Candidates."

This meeting will give voters an opportunity to meet the candidates and to form their conclusion as to whom they think is best qualified. Bruce Ruggles, chairman of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau Legislative Committee, announced July 6.

"I hope all interested voters will attend as each candidate has been invited and will be given an opportunity to express his qualifications and views," Mr. Ruggles said. There will be a question and answer period, he said.

BULEN TALKS Cars

THE LEAST EXPENSIVE WAY TO SERVICE YOUR CAR

There is a simple rule to follow if you want to keep your car service bills to a minimum. That is to get that service done by the most experienced mechanic you can find.

The reasons are fairly obvious: A fully qualified mechanic can diagnose car trouble in most cases immediately without wasting costly service time trying this or that alternative. Furthermore, once diagnosed, the trouble is remedied on a factory-set time basis under a guarantee, that the customer must be completely satisfied with the job or it will be done over without further charge.

This is the way our service shop is run at Bulen Motors. Whatever your trouble is we have a mechanic who has done that same job repeatedly. He acquired this specialized knowledge at factory schools where he was taught the right way as well as skill in using modern time-saving equipment.

In case you think this applies only to complicated tuneups and transmission jobs you are mistaken. Recently we had occasion to repack a customer's front wheels only to find that both wheel bearings were ruined by loose nut adjustments from the previous packing 5000 miles earlier. It is one small example of very many. Repacking should be done with a repacker and grease, gun which forces old grease out of the bearings; not by just slapping new grease into the bearings by hand.

Every reputable car dealer knows more car SALES come through his service entrance than the showroom door. That is the fundamental reason he makes his service superior.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary LeRoy Bergman

Miss Patricia Ann Asher and Gary LeRoy Bergman were married Saturday evening in the Cross Lutheran Church at Pigeon at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Ernest Henkleman officiated at the candlelight double-ring ceremony.

Patricia Ann is the daughter of Harold J. Asher of Cass City. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bergman of Pigeon. The bride chose a gown of silk organza fashioned with wrist-point sleeves, portrait neckline outlined with Alencon lace extending to a fitted bodice and gracing the full sweeping floor length skirt. Her crown of pearls and aurora borealis crystals held a silk illusion fingertip veil. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a cascade of pink sweetheart roses, white carnations with stephanotis on a white Bible with matching trim. Miss Patricia Anthony of Clarkston, a close friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She chose a gown of pink silk organza with matching sculptured head-dress of pearl accents and a circle veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations with trim to match her gown. The altar of the church was decorated with candelabra and white gladioli.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Leppien sang the Lord's Prayer and were accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Henkleman. Melvin Bergman of Pigeon, the groom's uncle, was best man. Seating the guests were Donald Sturtevant of Bad Axe, the groom's uncle, and Gordon Starr of Pigeon.

Mrs. Asher chose a beige linen and lace sheath dress with bone accessories. Mrs. Bergman chose a blue linen sheath with white accessories. Both wore corsages of pink miniature roses and white carnations.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Stanley Asher, chose a blue lace jacket dress with a corsage of pink miniature roses and white carnations. The bride's table was decorated with candelabra and a three-tiered wedding cake.

The bride chose for her wedding trip to Niagara Falls a lilac two-piece ensemble. They will reside in Elkton.

Final Rites Tuesday For Area Resident

Funeral services for Frederick Ernest Schell, 82, of Ellington Township, retired electrical contractor and farmer, were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Douglas Funeral Home. Rev. S. R. Wurtz, pastor of Salem Evangelical U.B. Church, officiated and burial was in Ellington cemetery. Mr. Schell died Saturday in Cass City Hospital.

Son of the late Henry and Isabel Schell, he was born at North Branch, Oct. 3, 1878. He married Miss Edna Bardwell in Detroit, August 6, 1907.

Surviving are: his wife, a patient in the Stevens Nursing Home; two daughters, Mrs. Frances Waltz of Detroit and Mrs. Ruth Steiner of Lake Charles, La.; three sons, Malcolm of Detroit and Robert and Donovan of Ellington; 13 grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Isabel Dawson and Miss Vera Schell, both of Saginaw.

BOOK REVIEW

It's Not New... But It's Still Good

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

If you missed both the motion picture and the book until now, you will find Nevil Shute's "On The Beach" exciting summer reading. Not new (1957), it is nonetheless timely and current. It is by all odds the best treatment I have seen in fiction of man's newest alternative — race suicide by atomic war.

Set in Australia, the time is some months after the 1963 final war. No life exists in the northern hemisphere and the radiation sickness is taking its inevitable toll and marching steadily toward the people in that southern nation.

Part of the suspense that grips you is provided by submarine (the final ship of the U. S. Navy) visits to examine the coast of the United States — spurred on by erratic radio transmissions from Seattle. Did someone live through the war? Is the fallout thinning? What does a dead city look like?

How do people act toward each other knowing that by a specific date it will overtake them? Shute builds his story around half a dozen principal characters, drawing their personalities in masterful portrayals. Among them are an Australian Naval officer and his wife; an American submarine captain who is supreme commander of all U. S. military units, just by virtue of being alive; an Australian woman who drinks too much until the sub-commander inspires her to some sense of purpose in her life; an Australian atom scientist.

There is a poignant love story woven through the book, made all the more appealing because it is not the sexual encounter so common in today's fiction.

Primarily this is a story of how people react with "things as they are" — knowing that in September they will all die. What would it do to family life? What does one do to pass the time sanely on this cosmic death row? Are moral standards still valid? Of what real value is money? One man's answer to these questions in terms of human personality make up the story.

Some problems are posed without any real attempt at answering them. For example, is it morally right for the government to make available to its citizens the means to suicide by painless poison?

The author drew me into the drama and I wondered just which character was me in the "final days". Did I live as if the inevitable could never happen to me? Or did my approaching certain death dominate my every conscious moment? Or was I... but then read it yourself and see. I found myself hoping right to the end for a change of "sentence" which I knew could not be.

Because in atomic warfare there are no survivors! "On the Beach", hardback edition by William Morrow & Co., paperback edition by Signet Book.

Visitor's viewpoint

By Mary Basing

The spirit of the Fourth came early to some people this year. Late one night before the traditional day some bodies were setting off firecrackers outside my window. I only wish they would do it every morning so that I could get this body to work on time.

That feature on people who worked the Fourth brought the usual grumbles from Phil Retherford, according to Jim Moore. "Simon" Haire asked for the story as soon as I got to work July 5 (8:35 a.m.) and the people interviewed were picked at chance by this reporter in an effort to meet the 10:15 deadline. I missed it by half an hour.

It seems that Mr. Retherford's store is open every holiday and he felt slighted. Sorry I missed him. Maybe I can write about his laboring on Labor Day.

Baubles of Bowlegged Basing will probably be my byline next fall. That's if I can survive the beating my ankles take from the stirrups in the saddle of the horse, Prince, I've been riding. I don't have riding boots and the leather rubs my ankles raw.

Good old Prince. He grows fonder of me every day — me or the sugar I give him.

Maybe some day I'll write a book: View From the Chronicle Front Window. I'm almost convinced that I should get a super-sized shade after the other day. While rolling more than 300 pennies, four unidentified girls stood before the window for about 15 minutes and made faces at me.

I'm impressed with Cass City's recreation park — especially the swimming and wading pools. The closest thing that my home town, Eaton Rapids, has to them is the Grand River swimming hole where the local kids (including my three brothers) have to use a rope to swing out over the weeds to get to the muddy middle.

I've added another chapter to my adventures with the Haire's Studebaker. Coming home from Gagetown Thursday the water in the radiator started boiling and I pulled into the Haire's to get some water. I called up the Chronicle office but there was no one there who could help me. I called a garage but no one could come out and put more water in.

The man at the garage said to wait awhile and let it cool off before I take the cover off. He said he wished he could be there because it might blow all over. I decided to wait quite awhile before taking the cover off.

Finally a man dressed as a farmer came along and calmly fixed it up. As I drove into town I vowed never to drive that car again at least until some sort of hose is fixed on it.

Since I cut my hair I have a suppressed desire to see an ape again. A five-continent zoo and menagerie and ten cages of wild animals may be drawing cards but if I go to see the Cole Circus it will be to see the apes.

How times change—the man who considered himself a progressive yesterday finds he's impeding progress today.

Pat yourself on the back too often, and your best friends will see to it that you have plenty of elbow room.

The younger generation has one big advantage over the old—it still has plenty of time to out-grow what ails it.

Mrs. Emily Reader Dies at 89

Mrs. Emily Reader, 89, died July 7 at the Cass City Hospital where she had been a patient four days. She had been in ill health the past 11 years.

Mrs. Reader was born in Devonshire, England, June 22, 1872, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Jeffery. She was married to James Franklin Reader at Scogog Island, Ont., Feb. 12, 1901. After their marriage the Readers came to this community and settled on a farm in Grant Township. In 1944 they retired and made their home in Cass City. Mr. Reader passed away Dec. 12, 1948. Mrs. Reader was a member of the Grant Methodist Church over 60 years.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Samuel (Mildred) Pidanis of Pontiac and one sister, Mrs. Minnie Hockin of Brooklyn, Ont. One son, one daughter, four brothers and two sisters preceded her in death.

The funeral was at 2 p.m. July 10 with Rev. Fred Werth, pastor of the Gagetown Methodist Church, officiating. She was buried in Elkland Cemetery.

Usually the folks who can tell you the most about the future have accomplished the least — past or present.

People find it easy—they can size up everyone but themselves.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago
Members of the Cass City Gavel Club were working far into the night Tuesday to bring tile for drainage of the track at the Cass City Recreation Park using three trucks belonging to Walbro Corporation, Gross & Maier and C. R. Hunt to haul the tile from Caro to Cass City.

There's life in old Dobbin yet! While there's no disputing that the tractor has supplanted horses on most farms, don't think that teams are now useless. Two weeks ago Archie Hoagg advertised his team for sale. He dropped into the Chronicle office after the ad had run and reported that no less than 15 persons had come out to the farm interested in buying.

Mrs. Wilma Fry this week announced the names of the first 10 persons in the village to pay taxes this year. They are: Wesley Perry, John E. Gruber, Steve Harbee, Dave Ackerman, Mrs. C. Howarth, Mrs. Mary McGilvray, Harold Waldie, Mrs. William Willard, Frank Hegler and Earl Streeter.

Ten Years Ago

Archie Storton resigned his position as manager of the Greenleaf Frutchey Bean Company July

1, after spending 24 years at the head of the Greenleaf Elevator. He will be replaced by his long-time assistant at Greenleaf, George Fisher.

The Tuscola County Boots and Saddle Club held their annual benefit horse show for the patients of Caro State Hospital Sunday with an estimated 50 horses and riders participating. Many events were on the schedule and riders from Cass City were among the winners. In the Balloon Busting event for women, Miss Peggy Urquhart took second place and Colleen MacNamara took third honors. Miss Urquhart also took second place in the Pony Express event, while Carol Farksmith won third in the Children's Musical Chairs event. Ralph Youngs, of Cass City, took part in the Dance of the Range event which followed the grand entry.

Twenty-five Years Ago
Twenty-five have enrolled in the summer vacation program of the Youth Center in Cass City. Miss Florence Smith is in charge of the shop work for boys, Miss Janet Allured is the instructor of art for girls, Rev. P. J. Allured is supervisor of games, and story telling hours are conducted by local ministers.

Miss Leona Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lee, was a member of "The Four Flats", a quartet of young ladies who sang over WBBM, Chicago, at 7:15 p.m. Sunday.

All but one of the 20 instructors in the Cass City School for the coming year have signed and returned contracts. Two new teachers were engaged during the past week. Miss Dorothy Howell is the new teacher in Latin and English. Mr. Clayton is the new teacher of music at the school and in addition to band instruction, he will have charge of vocal music in the junior and senior high schools.

Thirty-five Years Ago
A county picnic will be held in Sanilac County Park on Thursday, July 22. The program commences at 2:30 sharp, with Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck one of the speakers.

Ben East, nature writer, has an article in the current issue of Nature Magazine, in which he tells of a visit made one year ago to Lone Tree Island in Saginaw Bay, Sebewaing, for the purpose of banding baby tern which hatch there by the thousands each year. Miss Helen High and Miss Carolyn Purdy (Gagetown) have secured positions for a few weeks at the University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

TIP TO MOTORISTS
The owl and the cat can see better at night, but the average driver can't—so slow down. Slow down—people in a hurry always pass up more than they catch up with.

40 Cents of Tax Dollars Goes for Schools in State

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
The "Budget in Brief" for the fiscal year which started July 1 was just released by the Department of Administration. The report shows that 40 cents out of every tax dollar collected by the State of Michigan goes for education; an estimated $485 million a year.

The next largest amount, 18.8 cents, goes for highways, while 14.6 cents goes for welfare; 6.5 cents goes for mental health; 2.1 cents for public health; 1.8 cents goes for general administration; 1.9 cents for conservation and agriculture; 1.6 cents for prisons; 1.1 cents goes for the State Police. Regulatory services, debt service and other miscellaneous expenditures amount to 11.6 cents.

The booklet is designed to simplify the State's complex budget so that it can be understood by the average person.

"An informed public is the best guarantee for good government," Gov. John B. Swainson said in a foreword he wrote for the booklet.

"It is to inform our people that this State Budget, in brief, is published," Swainson said. "State government is the people's business" and "it is important that they know how the money they pay as taxes is spent by their elected public officials."

More than half the taxes collected by the State are returned for the use of local governmental units and that the remaining money "is being spent most efficiently by the State," said the Governor. "In this connection, it is to be noted that a recent U. S. Bureau of the Census report indicates that Michigan requires only 4.8 employees per 1,000 population for the conduct of the state's services, compared to the national average of 5.7 for all states," Swainson concluded.

The biggest public works program in Michigan history is entering its final stages.

Four years ago this summer, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie outlined plans for a five-year, $1 1/4 billion highway construction program.

It called for construction of 900 miles of freeways, modernization of more than 3,000 miles of other highways, and elimination of all gravel roads on the state highway systems.

There were a few skeptics, including some in the Highway Department, who said it "couldn't be done." Never before had a Highway Commissioner anywhere in the U. S. announced construction plans that far in advance.

There is no doubt Mackie took a gamble when he unveiled his program. Any number of things—weather, right-of-way problems, or the capacity of the road building industry to do the work—could have thrown the program off the track.

The five-year program, now in its final year, got off to a slow start but gradually picked up steam. Within two years, the number of miles of freeway had doubled, from 101 miles in 1957, to more than 200 miles. By the end of the third year, it had tripled and today, Michigan has 550 miles of freeway open to traffic, more than five times as much as it had when Mackie took office.

And the final miles of gravel highway will be paved early next year. There were more than 800 miles of gravel road on the state highway system four years ago.

By the end of this year, the Highway Department expects to open its 800th mile of freeway and will pass the 1,000-mile mark by the end of 1962.

Most of these freeways are on the 41,000-mile National Interstate System of Defense Highways and are marked with red, white and blue signs.

Michigan has been one of the leading states in building its share of the Interstate system.

Since last December, it has possessed the longest continuous stretch of toll-free Interstate highway in the nation, a 203-mile highway from Detroit to Stevensville on Lake Michigan, which is known as Interstate 94.

Michigan aims to keep its lead as the nation's number one road building state. Right now, more than 300 miles of freeway are under construction throughout the state, including 140 miles between Mt. Pleasant and Indian River.

This is the longest continuous highway construction project in Michigan history and one of the longest ever built at one time anywhere in the United States.

Uncle Tim: From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

A feller has to look mighty careful to find anything in the papers anymore that don't keep him shook up and worried half crazy. The headlines is full of gloom and doom, stories about how them Russians is closing in all around us and hinting that maybe civilization will get wiped out in the showdown. I recollect reading a while back where the Navy was making all officers git themselves a sword and wear it at formal affairs. A sword will be mighty handy when it gets to ever man fer himself, and with the rat race we got going in the world today, I'm thinking about gitting myself one fer civilian use.

But if a feller will skip the big type and read down in the fine print, he can find a heap of items that'll help take his mind off'n his troubles. Fer instance, I see where a inspector in the U. S. Mint says our money is meeting the "physical requirements." It's comforting to know there's somepun it's meeting.

And a expert from the Retail Association says more and more folks is going to the smaller towns to shop. A general trend to the small towns would be a big help to a heap of us. It used to be that a feller couldn't see much in a small town, but nowadays wimmen dress about the same everywhere.

Here a while back, I was telling you about this pamphlet from the Department of Agriculture saying onions wasn't very good fer humans to eat. I see in the papers yesterday where two fellers died from drinking a concoction of varnish, shellack, lemons and onions. I reckon they just got too many onions in it.

A note of progress comes from a official of Eastern Airlines. He says they'll have jet passenger planes by 1970 that'll travel 3,000 miles a hour. The piece didn't say, but I figger these planes won't have no seats. A passenger wouldn't git set down good till it was time to git off.

On the Washington front, the papers is saying them Congressmen is trying to speed things up so's they can adjourn in time fer a summer vacation. Some will be taking all their kinfolks on a big Government tour and some will be coming home to mend their political fences. Them that takes tours, I reckon, is the ones that's got their poltics in pritty good shape back home.

On the home front, our preacher is having a hard time separating church and state. He said Sunday that a feller that don't go to church is abusing his constitutional right to go to church. It's his right to visit Kalamazoo, too, but according to my preacher's doctrine, if he ain't been to Kalamazoo he's abusing his constitutional right to do so.

But maybe things will look better next week, Mister Editor.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Slate Annual Barley Tour Wednesday

This year possibly more than before, farmers are showing a greater interest in barley production. The federal feed grain program may have stimulated this interest, according to Ron Keblar, county extension agent in agriculture.

The farmer is not the only person interested in barley, however, as the malting companies for years have been stimulating Michigan malting barley production. These companies feel Michigan grown malting barley is as good as any found anywhere.

Again this year on July 19, a tour to some of the Thumb area barley growers will be held for all interested farmers and representatives of the brewing industry.

This tour will start in Huron county and end at the barley research plots on the E. C. Korthals farm near Reese. Milton Erdmann, Michigan State University crops specialist, will be on hand to conduct the tour.

In Tuscola county the tour will start at 3 p.m. at the Jack De Simpelare farm on Ackerman road, 1 3/4 miles west and 1 mile south of Unionville. The second stop at 3:40 p.m. will be at Glyde Rohlf's farm on Cramer road, 1 mile east and 1 1/2 miles south of Akron. The third stop at 4:20 p.m. will be at the Norman, Dean and Davis Pike farm, 3 3/4 miles west of Fairgrove.

The afternoon tour will end at the Pike farm about 4:45 p.m. but will resume at the E. C. Korthals farm for a twilight tour stop beginning at 7 p.m. These research plots at the Korthals farm are on the Bradleyville road, 3 1/2 miles east and 1 1/4 miles south of Reese.

The public is invited and Keblar remarks there are several management practices besides the variety plots which should be of interest to those attending.

It's the people who are rolling in money that offer the most objections when it comes to the churning process.

Methodists to Hear Guest Speaker

The Cass City Methodist Church will have as its guest speaker Sunday, July 16, at 10:00 a. m. the Reverend Harold Mondol of East Lansing.

A representative of the Michigan Temperance Foundation, Mr. Mondol will speak on "Where There's Life."

At the present time, Mr. Mondol is working on his doctorate degree in speech at Michigan State University. He was born in India, where his parents are still serving as missionaries and his father is the Methodist bishop in New Delhi.

Local Artist Exhibits In New Orleans

Mrs. Leontine Wallace is exhibiting nine oil paintings in New Orleans, La., for three months during the summer. The paintings are being shown at 708 Bourbon street in the heart of the French Quarter.

Mrs. Wallace said Grinnell's Gallery on Woodward in downtown Detroit has been carrying her work for about four months. Four pictures have been sold so far, she said.

The local artist has been invited to exhibit in the Ninth Annual Invitational Art Exhibit at Ann Arbor starting July 20. The painting she said she would show is titled "Amaryllis."

Mrs. Wallace said she plans to go to New Orleans July 29 for a month. The last week in August she will be teaching at the Alma Civic Art Guild, an accelerated course in portraiture. The classes will be August 29 to Sept. 1, 7 to 10 p.m.

FIND RELIC

Concluded from page one. Rosie, and Debbie Chapman's goats, Billy and Bobbie. Donna Yedinak won the prize for having the smallest pet in the show with her ant, Peanut.

Kathy McCullough's dog, Corky, won top honors as Best in the Show. The best dog by a boy went to Bruce and David King with Perky, and the best cat by a girl was Sharon Eberline's Boots. Prizes went to Lynn Atwell's pet turtle, Peter, for the best aquatic pet; Bobby Donahue's Smokey won the best horse in the show; award; Frank Holes' Theodore, the largest dog in the show; Debbie Boylan's Pixie, the best dog by a girl; and Eddie Ackerman's Cinder, the best cat by a boy.

The best-trained pet was David Doerr's dog Cookie, the smallest dogs in the show were Carolyn Bigham's, Taffy and Gail Whitaker and Bobby Kozan's, Jerry.

The end of the show met with applause as the winners marched off the field with their prizes, Mrs. Yedinak said.

Farm Bureau at Eastman Home

The Cassland Farm Bureau met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Eastman.

During the business meeting, Chairman Eastman announced the "Meet the Con-Con delegate candidates" meeting scheduled July 19 at the Dom Polski Hall, located on M-24 south of Caro, beginning at 8:00 p.m. This is an open meeting in which each candidate will have the opportunity to present his qualifications, views and give the public a chance to meet them to ask questions. Alfred Goodall reported the wheat referendum usually held in July has been postponed until Aug. 26 because of the expected change in the program.

Mrs. Clare Carpenter urges participation in the Tuscola County bean cook-off to be held at the Cass City Home-coming Aug. 8.

The group has entered the "Co-operator of the year" contest. Alfred Goodall was nominated as one who has cooperated in the total program of Farm Bureau.

Clinton Law briefly reported on the progress of the Farm Bureau Services and the projected volume for the year.

The topic for discussion was on ways farmers can be more effective in public relations.

The next meeting will be held at the Ed Golding home.

The hosts served ice cream and cake.

Babe Ruthers Win Third Straight Game

What was billed as a rather tough game for Cass City Babe Ruthers turned out to be an easy victory as the locals swamped an inept Elktion nine, 32-4.

Practically all of the Cass City batters fattened their averages. Simple ground balls in the infield became base hits as the Elktion defenders failed to field even the most routine balls.

Cass City scored 15 runs in the second frame to eliminate all doubt as to the outcome. Roger Karr walloped three home runs and a pair of singles in six trips. His brother, Myron, got four for five. Others to connect were: Stine, two for five; Ellis, two for six; Yedinak, three for five; Walter Hampton, five for six; Ed Retherford, two for three; and Jim Champion, two for five. Cass City collected 25 hits.

Champion continued to hurl effectively. He was in trouble in the fifth when he lost control to yield all of Elktion's hits and runs. The line score:

CC	0	15	4

The next game will be at Cass City Recreational Park today (Thursday) at 4 p. m. when Bay Port will furnish the opposition.

The standings:

	W	L
Cass City	3	0
Bad Axe	3	0
Bay Port	2	1
Pinnebog	1	2
Port Austin	1	2
Elktion	1	2
Uby	1	2

Walbro Boosts Narrow Lead In City League

Just two games were played in the City Softball League this week as the Fourth of July holiday curtailed the schedule.

Deford bounced into the year column for the first time this year with a 2-1 decision over Erla's and Walbro measured General Cable, 9-4.

Erla-Deford
In about as dramatic a game as you will ever see, cellar dwelling Deford played like league champions and staged a last inning rally to score both of their runs in their 2-1 decision.

The decisive action started when Harry Hartwick picked up a hit leading off the inning. After two were out, Warner also hit to keep the drive alive. The winning run scored on an error on a ball hit by Allen.

Erla's scored in the opening inning and for awhile it looked as if the run would be enough for Dan Erla to win with. Rock walked the lead-off hitter, Fox, and he scored on a smash by Carl Kolb with the only run of the game for the Foodmen.

Erla's outthit Deford, five to four, but the winners made their safeties count for the victory.

Walbro-Cable
Walbro poured across six runs in the second inning against General Cable and then coasted to a 9-4 decision in the nightcap.

The factory nine batted around in the second and among the six hits collected in the inning was a round-trip blast by Pete Martin.

Cable also had their hitting togs on as they nicked Elwyn Helwig for six hits including a home run by Dean Hoag.

The standings:

	W	L	GB
Walbro	5	2	-
Cable	4	3	-
Erla's	3	3	1 1/2
Bach	3	3	1 1/2
Deford	1	5	3 1/2

Knowing the rules of safety is only half enough—you have to practice them.

No Favorites in New Pony League

Little League Race Tightens

Action in this year's Little League campaign indicates that nearly any team in the league, with the possible exception of the Cubs, could win the regular season crown.

The Giants measured the Yankees Wednesday, July 5, as Duane Delong went all the way for the Giants and scattered six hits in a 12-4 decision. David Bliss started for the Yankees and was tagged for six runs before he was relieved by Ken Hayes in the first inning. Hayes was effective until the fourth when the Giants nicked him for two runs. Jim Ballard relieved Hayes and was charged with two hits and three runs in two innings.

Hitting stars for the Giants were Nicholas with two for three and Brinkman with two for four.

Pirates-Tigers
In a battle for first place Friday, the Pirates bested the Tigers, 9-6, behind the one-hit pitching of Tom Kelley. David Asher went all the way for the Tigers and was charged with six hits.

Besides pitching his team to victory, Kelley also starred at the plate with two hits in four tries. Phil Gray blasted a home run over the fence in the first inning.

Giants-Pirates
After losing their first two games, the Giants continued on the come back trail Monday as they knocked the Pirates out of sole possession of first place with a 10-4 victory. Duane Delong went all the way for the Giants, scattering nine hits. Delong, with two for four, and J. Novak, with two hits in three tries, were the big stickmen for the Giants. Mike Root was the starting and losing pitcher. He was relieved by Phil Gray in the second. Errors and walks were a big factor in the Pirates' loss as they outthit the Giants nine to six. Big guns for the Pirates were John Roveda, Tom Kelley and J. Tuckey, all with two hits in three tries.

League Standings:

	W	L	GB
Tigers	3	1	-
Pirates	4	2	-
Giants	2	2	1
Yankees	2	3	1 1/2
Cubs	0	3	2 1/2

With four games played in the newly organized Pony League, the three teams in the loop are all tied and a close race is seen for the remainder of the season.

The Pony League now plays on a diamond constructed on the Walbro Corporation property. It was built by Walbro and offered for the use of the new loop.

In games this week the Blue Angels topped the Yellow Jackets, 10-9, on Friday and the Yellow Jackets whipped the Red Devils Monday, 6-5.

Pacing the Angels to victory were Dick Stroupe, who clouted a home run, and Charles Roveda, who picked up a triple. Wayne Copeland and Stroupe each picked up a pair of safeties.

For the Yellow Jackets, Sharard tripled and singled while Larry Seale and Bob Rabideau each collected two hits.

Stroupe was the winning pitcher and Sharard the loser. Play was marred by errors due in part to the newly constructed field.

Monday's Game
Monday the Yellow Jackets topped the Red Devils, 6-5, despite the fact that the Devils outthit them eight to five. Ed Retherford was the winning pitcher and Sammy Wells was charged with the loss.

Jerry Knoblet and Bob Bliss paced the winners as they each collected a pair of doubles in three tries. Schembers was the big gun for the Devils with three hits in four tries.

The standings:

Yellow Jackets	2	2	-
Blue Angels	1	1	-
Red Devils	1	1	-

State Police Give Helping Hand

By Hene Warren

Last week, I quoted Wendell Wilkie in this column: "Freedom means that if you are a professor, you don't have to alter . . . history as a bureaucrat prescribes." I have always believed that our modern history books are truthful; it pleased me to have this belief confirmed recently by a young German girl.

About a month ago, this girl, an exchange student from Western Germany, spoke to a group of women in Shabbona. She stated there was little difference between the history related in our textbooks and the history told in the German books but that there were a great many differences to be found in the textbooks printed and studied in Russia and Russian controlled countries. She mentioned as an example the books to be found in Eastern Germany.

Some people who are fully convinced that the country is going to the dogs won't do a doggone thing about it but whine.

A great many people are on the way, but only a few have a definite idea where they want to go.

How many of you have longed for a luxury looking silk dress but have questioned its cleanability? Now fabrics made from silk have a combination of the look of luxury with the practical appeal of easy upkeep.

A new finish has been developed for silk which adds to its washability and dry-cleaning properties. It is called "Special Permel-Plus For Silk" and makes silk resistant to creases, spots and stains.

This finish has been described as giving finished silk goods a "bouncy" hand and a "shimmering" appearance. The finish should last through repeated washings or dry cleanings. You will find this new finish on silks that fall in better blouses and dress lines.

I am getting telephone calls when the homemaker's freezer stops running and the temperature goes up, asking if the stored food can be refrozen. It all depends on how much the food has thawed. If the foods have thawed only partially and there are still ice crystals in the packages, they may be safely refrozen. Even this partial thawing, however, reduces quality. If the foods have been previously subjected to high temperatures and have lost quality, the additional loss may result in foods of very low quality. Refrozen foods should be used as soon as possible.

If the foods have slowly thawed over a period of several days and have reached a temperature of 40 degrees, they are not likely to be fit for refreezing. Under these conditions, meats, poultry, most vegetables and some prepared foods may become unsafe to eat. Most fruits and fruit products soon develop an undesirable flavor under these conditions.

THE PROBLEM
 The high cost of living these days makes one-half the world wonder how the dickens the other half manages to live.
