for next year's crop. All farmers must cut their acreages by 10 per cent under terms of the new wheat legislation. Acreages may be cut voluntarily up to 40 per cent under provisions of the law. In Michigan more than four-fifths of the crop is normally planted to white wheat which has special milling uses. Some observers of the grain trade believe there may be a shortage of soft, white wheat next year and farmers might well consider planting their full 1962 allotment. Farmers can plant up to 13.5 acres without penalty but are eligible for price guarantees only if they remain within their farm allotments. Regardless of acreage or planting plans of individual farmers, Alfred Ballweg, county extension director, advises growers to use tested production practices to insure highest returns. The specialists list a number of practices which will help farmers get top yields.

Michigan is one of but few states which can grow high-quality, soft, white wheat. Over 88 per cent of the state's crop is normally one of the white varieties. Extension crops specialists S. C. Hildebrand at Michigan State University notes that Genesee remains the most popular and best recommended white variety for all sections of Michigan. Avon, a new white variety showed slightly higher yields and better lodging resistance than Genesee but very little seed is available for next year's crop. Yorkwin and Cornell 595 are also good varieties but will generally not yield as high as Genesee. Yorkwin is also subject to lodging. High quality seed is a must for a good crop. Certified seed is the only type that consistently meets all seed standards. All wheat seed should have a germination test this year since there is a considerable amount of sprout damage and some "sick" wheat. The seed division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture in Lansing is equipped to make accurate germination tests. Seed should also be treated before planting to control bunt.

Crop sequence and rotation are also important for top yields. In Michigan, wheat should not follow wheat, said Ballweg. "Take all" and other root diseases have greatly reduced yields in successive crops. Hessian fly damage is also greater when wheat follows wheat. Fertilizer is a must on most Michigan soils for high-yielding crops. The MSU crops men suggest 400 pounds of 5-20-10 on clay, silt loam and loam soils where no soil tests have been made. On sandy soils 300 pounds of 5-20-20 or a similar analysis are recommended.

Tyre, Michigan
Sept. 23, 1961
Dear Editor,
There seem to be two points of view concerning our local schools, one that the schools need more money so they can make the program more varied and interesting, the other that schools should economize to make the tax burden a little less heavy—the one consisting of parents of school children, the other the solid citizen who pays the high proportion of the taxes, has brought up his own family successfully, and is looking forward to a comfortable retirement.
The solid citizen's main concern is, "Are our schools teaching the children to read?" He has doubts about the subjects that were not taught in his day.
As I see the library books come home from school at the rate of one a day, I can answer, the children can and DO read. If reading calls to mind "The Rover Boys," "Tom Mix," and "The Bobsey Twins", he is wrong. These kids read biographies of famous Americans, science, history—the latest are Paul de Kruif's "Microbe Hunters" and "Land of the Great Lakes." These are no children's picture books! The librarian's huge stack of books to put away daily testifies to the fact that ours is only one of a good many reading families. If one should care to hear some poor reading he has only to listen to his own contemporaries, who were taught in the twenties by teachers who did not have degrees, read the legislative report at his next club meeting. If he has any notion of the construction of words, it is pure coincidence that he had a teacher who was born to her work.
The statement that we should adopt some of the methods of Western Europe brings to mind the letter one of our children received from a little girl who said, "I topped my class in spelling and vocabulary." When she passed her 11 plus, proving that this spelling was among the best in her crowded class, I had a much higher opinion of our own school system, which allows a much larger proportion of the children to receive the benefits of our schools.
After an evening as consultant in algebra, geometry, English, and French, and getting a sample of the modern, intelligent way they are taught—good solid subjects that don't change with time—thank heaven, my fifth grader drops a bombshell, "What is a watt?" "How many megatons in the latest bomb exploded?" The teen-age crew comes up with, "Where is the 'U. S. News and World Report' that came today?" Can you help me with this experiment for the science fair?
Now this last one brings up something else—will there be a science fair? Will we have qualified teachers to guide the young generation's experiments or does our civilization start to degenerate right here? Does our advocate of the three R's feel qualified to lift the hood of his own car and adjust the carburetor? Or can he fix his own television? If these young people aren't exposed to instruction so our civilization has a future, is he willing to give up his oil furnace and "cut down x trees in a day with a two man cross cut" like the problem in his mathematics book? Is he willing to take orders from a foreign nation that teaches its young?
We were proud when one band member advanced from not knowing "America" from "The Star Spangled Banner" to enjoying classical music. Band did this for us. It is disappointing not to have this instruction continued, but it would be a worse blow if our other excellent teachers should be forced to leave us to earn a suitable living, leaving history and science in the hands of unqualified or subservient elements.
Living costs are spiraling upwards and we must realize that this is true for teachers also, and if we want quality we have to compete with other ways of life. I realize also that prospective citizens that amount to anything will look first to see what kind of schools we have.
If I must help the family with science, because we no longer have good teachers with modern training, I must say in summary, "HELP!"

FRIDAY A New World of Worth from Chevrolet for '62!

'62 Impala Sport Coupe—with a roof line that looks like a convertible's

'62 CHEVROLET Rich new styling with Jet-smooth ride!

Here's everything a car fancier could want. Fresh-minted style that comes to a climax in the sportiest sport coupe you've seen yet. A road-gentling Jet-smooth ride. A new choice of V8 skedaddle. Rich Body by Fisher interiors. Beauty that's specially built to stay beautiful. Here in '62 is more than ever to please you from the make that pleases most people.

If you've wondered what owning an expensive car is like, here's where you find out—without the expense. Check it over from its clean-thrusting prow to its rakish rear deck. Look inside the deep-well trunk. Step through one of those wide-opening doors and plump down on a seat the size of a sofa. Then—head for the open highway. That sittin'-on-satin feeling you get is Chevrolet's famous Jet-smooth ride at work—with a pliant Full Coil spring cushioning at each wheel. The standard six and V8 are triggered to do special things on regular gas, and for real hair-trigger reflexes you have a choice of four optional-at-extra-cost V8's with output all the way up to 409 hp. Hard-working helpers (like the new steel front fender underskirts that guard against corrosion) give this '62 its built-for-keeps beauty. Even the heater and defroster come as standard equipment this year. This is the kind of car that will make you feel luxurious all over, and your Chevrolet dealer will be only too happy to show you how easy it is to have one of your own.

Corvair Monza Club Coupe

THE '62 CORVAIR MONZA
The car that puts sport in the driver's seat!
Step right up and meet the latest version of the car that's proved its mettle in the fiercest competition going—'62 Corvair. Bigger new brakes team up with Corvair's renowned rear-engine traction for just about the surest footed going on the road. A new Monza Station Wagon makes its debut. And all models sport freshly tailored upholstery inside matched by sassy new styling accents outside.

This jim-dandy's got the stuff that drivers dote on. Backstage you have a standard aluminum air-cooled engine that turns up 80 hp. (or if you like more razzamatazz, one that uncorks 102 hp.). You can pick from a 3-speed Synchromesh transmission, a 4-speeder or Corvair Powerglide.* Sure enough, there's independent suspension on all four wheels to keep the ride as amiable as ever. Inside, you'll find a heater and defroster, cigarette lighter, dual sunshades, front-door armrests and automatic choke as standard equipment on the 500 Coupe, 700 Coupe and Sedan, Monza Coupe and Sedan, Monza and 700 Station Wagons. There are lots of reasons for liking what's new—and tried and true—in the '62 Corvair. And your dealer's eager to tick 'em off for you.
*Optional at extra cost.

Chevy II 300 2-Door Sedan—sensitivity at its Sunday best

HERE'S THE NEW CHEVY II
Modern basic transportation in a totally new line of cars
Here are all solid, time-tested virtues you know you can count on from all the Chevrolet family—plus some surprises you've never seen on any car before. A full line of saucy new-size models, each built a new way for easier service and maintenance. Thrifty? Choice of a frugal 4- or spunky 6-cylinder engine (in most models). Roomy? Sedans seat six solid citizens, bag and baggage. Price? A real pleasant surprise!

This plucky new Chevy II comes about as close as a car can to perpetual motion. Beneath that fetching, fresh-shaped bonnet you'll find the kind of long-lived dependability that has always been Chevrolet's special stock in trade. All nine models (station wagons, a hardtop, even a convertible will soon be available in the lineup) are designed to save you money and service. Major front-end sections, including fenders, bolt on for easy replacement in case of damage. More savings: The heater and defroster are yours as standard equipment. Tough—but ever-so-gentle—Mono-Plate rear springs flex as a single unit, eliminating the friction of old-fashioned multi-leaf springs. And, maneuverable and sensibly sized as this Chevy II is, it gives you the kind of passenger and packing room that'll make many a "big" car wonder how it's done.

See the '62 Chevrolets, the new Chevy II's and '62 Corvairs at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's

BULEN TALKS CARS

LADIES AT THE WHEEL

Modern cars look smarter and suffer from far fewer maintenance problems than automobiles did years ago and one of the reasons is women.

Let's face it fellows, the ladies are more demanding than we are and the industry is hustling to meet their wants. This is the prime reason North American cars have always led the field in style, comfort and reliability over their European counterparts where feminine influence is less pronounced.

A recent survey reveals that eight out of ten women drive and that 48 per cent of them drive every day. Ninety per cent take the car out at least once a week. Forty-three per cent buy the gasoline for the family car and about the same percentage have the service work done.

Comparative accident records show they are as equally competent drivers as men, despite the fact that superior male, chuckles may still be heard over those female driver jokes ("Ors is the only house in town with dented trees - my wife drives.")

Ladies are most interested in style. A national magazine recently received 33,000 entries in a design contest for a car style of the future. It is a rare woman these days though who doesn't have some idea of the various working parts of an automobile.

We are always pleased to take the time to explain the technical mysteries of the engine or other mechanical parts of their cars to our lady customers. Experience shows that once properly informed, they take as good care of a car as they do their home.

MICHIGAN IS SCIENCE

Science is contributing much to the growth of Michigan and Michigan is contributing much to the achievements of science.

At research laboratories of Michigan colleges and universities, of private industry and government in Michigan, dedicated men and women are working day and night on scientific advancements to benefit all mankind—and incidentally to benefit Michigan industry.

Distinguished in work for peaceful use of the atom, Michigan is a center of newest developments in medicine, uses of natural resources and processes in manufacturing.

Outstanding scientists are coming to the state in increasing numbers to work in public and private research. Another reason Michigan is a great place for industry.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together we can assure a greater future for all of us.

IT SEEMS TO ME

We Could Use A Marriage Broker

By Rev. Robert J. Searls

I see by the papers that Hollywood star Rita Hayworth has just shed husband number five. I wonder if she will ever 'get the message' that apparently she is not 'fit to be tied' by the matrimonial knot. It reminds us that there were 400,000 divorces in our nation last year with one out of three marriages ending with divorce.

This devastating decay in our family life is an acid eating away at the very core of our way of life. Many factors are involved but experts now say that the primary problem is not the ease with which divorce is available but the ease with which a young couple can get married. Too many married too young, after too short a courtship, knowing too little about each other.

As a marriage counselor, I often yearn for revival of an old Chinese custom -- the use of a marriage broker, who, somewhat objectively, matched two personalities, letting the couple fall in love after they were married. It made for amazingly stable family life!

Or so it seems to me.

Much of the hysteria about admitting Red China to the UN stems from a misunderstanding of two things.

During WW II many of us knew that the nations of the world had to find a better way than war to solve international tensions. An old American custom suggested itself: bring together the disagreeing parties and let them air the problems and affect compromises. To do this, potential enemies must also be there. So, in forming the UN our enemies became members: Russia, fascist Spain and Communist Cuba, for example. With Red China a major threat to us, it would seem to indicate that ventilating our disagreements in a world body (the UN) would offer some hope of avoiding war.

I have read that there is reason to believe that while Krushchev in public is supporting Red China's bid to the UN, he is trying to thwart that bid undercover. It is no secret that the Red Chinese are not altogether happy with Moscow or Moscow with them. Those of us who oppose Communism would not be unhappy to see these iron curtain nations fighting amongst themselves.

It is folly to believe that Red China will be overthrown in our time. There is no valid reason to believe that mainland Chinese are anxious for the corrupt Chiang Kai Shek to return to power.

This means that the government of Red China is the government of 1/5 of the world's population, at present not represented in the UN. The small uncommitted nations (neutral) whom we desire as allies wonder what we have to fear from their presence in the world forum.

Or so it seems to me.

Too much tillage really amounts to "unplowing" a field, say Michigan State University soil scientists. Any system that leaves the soil loose, such as minimum tillage, is a step in the right direction.

Red Carpet Service At Foodtown IGA

Red Carpet Service, which heretofore has been reserved for extra fare passengers on jet airliners, crack transcontinental trains and guests of the nation's leading hotels, will be introduced for the first time in food marts when the preferential Red Carpet Service is made a part of the basic policy of more than 5,000 IGA Food Stores in 46 states Thursday morning (today).

Orville W. Johler, IGA's vice-president in charge of advertising and merchandising, said that he has everything in readiness to give "The Lady Who Pushes The Cart" all of the extras and conveniences ever accorded anyone anywhere where Red Carpet Service was used as the symbol of extra privileges.

Johler further pointed out that Red Carpet Service which is to be used as a continuing theme for years to come will encompass each IGA store from "wall-to-wall". Store personnel will wear red ties. Checkout girls will wear red-tied aprons. In the event of rain, sleet or snow, carryout boys will escort customers to their cars in the store's parking lot with huge oversize red umbrellas.

Don R. Grimes, IGA's president said, "The new program is one of the largest and should be one of the most effective in IGA's 35-year history," and continued by saying:

"In order to be a success in this highly competitive era, a business must give its customers far more than quality at a price -- it must give added service, too.

A man has a right to be a live wire, but not to burn his friends.

Character can't be whitewashed -- nothing will cover the blemish.

Contentment is a poor policy -- it is certain death to enterprise.

Now here—a great new exclusive from Buick

ADVANCED THRUST

Move power forward for arrow-straight going

It puts the engine ahead like the tip of an arrow • It tames "wind wander" and road sway • It sweeps you forward in a hush of luxury • It turns the floor hump into foot space.

WHAT IT IS—Buick's big new move: It positions the great new Wildcat V-8 and Turbine Drive way up front over Buick's front wheels.

WHAT IT DOES—As the engine went forward, the floor hump went DOWN. And, the forward weight makes wheel response far quicker, cornering far surer, ride far smoother.

WHY YOU'LL LOVE IT—It's the closest you can come to sports car handling in a passenger car. Distances shrink before its 3/4-G thrust. Hills disappear. Lean on curves is gone because the frame's gone wider. Winds don't make you wander. It's going at its Buick best!

Plan New Club for Area Young Women

The Cass City Home Economics Extension group is planning to organize a club for younger women. Any area young women interested may call either Mrs. Ralph Gauer or Mrs. Herbert Ludlow.

Twenty-four members answered roll call at the first fall meeting of the group Thursday at Martin's Restaurant. During the business meeting, Chairman Mrs. Gauer announced her standing committees for the year.

Mrs. William Ruhl, county council member, gave a report to members on county activities for the year. The Cass City group will furnish cookies and also serve them at the Veterans Hospital in Saginaw on Oct. 8.

NOVESTA OFFICIALS

Rock feels the township has improved considerably since he returned to his home in 1944.

"Our roads and buildings are better, the township is maintained better -- even the cemetery, probably because there is more tax money available," he said.

Concerning the three-mill controversy that recently raged in the Deford Community School District, Rock said:

"If we voted to keep the school here we should pay for it. A lot of 'em voted to keep it here then when the question of millage comes up they don't want to pay."

Township population, now at 1,010, is on the increase, according to Rock. Fire protection is furnished by the Elkland Township Fire Department.

Rock was raised in Novesta township and attended Deford Community School.

In 1940 he went to Detroit to work for two years and then in 1942 he worked in Flint until he returned to Deford in 1944. Since then the 42-year-old clerk has worked for the County Road Commission.

Rock, who makes $400 a year as clerk, has two children, Herman, 21, who is studying for the ministry at Asbury College, and Henry, 20, at home.

Bad habits make it impossible for many a man to turn over a new leaf—he allows the pages to get all gummed up.

A similar charge against Dale Martin was referred to Justice Court for re-examination.

George Sylvester Jr. pleaded guilty to indecent liberties with a 12-year-old girl and James Martin pleaded guilty to a similar charge for appearing naked in public in Millington township.

Bernie Thompson pleaded to forging a $10 check at Len's Bar July 28.

Judge Quinn ordered a presentence investigation of all cases and sentence dates will be set.

For the second time within a year the North Grove Inn was entered illegally.

Home Service Expert Speaks to WSC Tuesday

Miss Helen Higgins, home service advisor for Detroit Edison Co., told members of the Cass City Woman's Study Club "What's Washable" in the meeting of the organization Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Wetters.

The 22 members present each received a plastic measuring cup from the guest speaker who emphasized the importance of reading the labels on every item that is purchased.

After describing the many items that are washable today and giving hints on how to do it, Miss Higgins answered questions from club members.

Prior to the talk, Mrs. Margaret Haire accepted the president's gavel from Mrs. Wetters, retiring president. Mrs. Haire took over the leadership of the club after Mrs. Otto Goertsen resigned because of illness.

Members of the club were told that the 35th annual East Central District meeting would be held Oct. 10 at Marlette. Mrs. Marie Bigelow and Miss Muriel Addison are the club's delegates. Other members are expected to attend.

Roll call was answered by members telling of a current event.

WANDERING WITH WARREN

Watching the River Is Good Therapy

By Ilene Warren

Last Thursday was the kind of day that poets eulogize: Soft summer breeze, wide blue sky trimmed with white wispy clouds, the sunshine warm and lazy. Soft background music was provided by crickets with the shrill cry of a cicada occasionally featured as a solo part.

If you had stopped by our home early in the afternoon, chances are you'd have found me sitting at the edge of the river. Did you ever sit at the edge of the brown Cass River and watch the slow, almost imperceptible, drift of the water? It's good therapy for sloughing off the cares and problems of our workaday world.

We have some crude but adequate concrete steps down to the river's edge. Last Thursday afternoon, I sat on the bottom step watching the sun-streaked river slowly pass me by - tiny minnows darted swiftly through the water, now and then flashing to the surface to nibble at some minute particles - the sun lay on my shoulders like a warm mantle - and the wind whistled tunes in the treetops.

My mind slowly relaxed and emptied itself of the thousand and one responsibilities and commitments that beset each one of us - I felt myself drifting into a pleasant semi-somnolent tranquility... when all of a sudden: splat, splat, splat! Before I knew what was happening, my collie dog (who'd been wading downstream) came gallumphing down the steps not only disrupting my soul-refreshing reverie but getting me wet in the bargain!

Moral: If you're seeking a bit of soul searching or soul refreshment and you go to the river to find it, leave the dogs home - and go alone.

Recently, I found myself faced with the making of a decision that would not only affect my husband and me but would involve others. I sought my husband's advice which I sorely needed even though this decision was one that I would have to make. In his words of counsel there was this that has remained with me: "Whatever you do, remember to do what seems to be best for everyone not just for yourself."

And, you know, that's just what I hadn't been doing. My approach to the situation had been, basic-ly, a selfish one. My thoughts had been concerned with: Will this inconvenience me? Do I really want to do this? Will people think I'm doing the right thing? And so on. Not once had I been considering how this decision might work out for the others involved.

When I attempted to lay aside my selfish doubts, the decision was easier to make and thereby I learned a valuable lesson: The decision made isn't as important as how that decision is achieved. Actually, we ought to be more selfless and less selfish in all the things we do - and what a sad fact that this is easier said than done!

Brief Illness Fatal For Clyde Fishwild

Clyde P. Fishwild of Deford died Tuesday, Sept. 12, at Hills and Dales General Hospital after a brief illness.

Born Aug. 22, 1899 in Rock Island, Illinois, he moved to Tuscola county three years ago from Detroit, where he had been a tool-maker for the Ford Motor Co.

Mr. Fishwild, unmarried, is survived by two brothers, Charles of Pontiac and Bennie of Berkeley, and was preceded in death by one sister, Mrs. Richard Strandgard of Deford.

Funeral services were held Sept. 15 at the Colton Funeral Home in Caro. The Rev. Alan Weeks, minister of the Deford Methodist church, officiated. Burial followed in the Ferry Mount Cemetery, Pontiac.

I think that most of us use tomatoes so frequently and in so many ways that it is hard to believe that they have not always been grown in this country.

It is at this time of the year that tomatoes grown in our area really came into their own. Throughout the remainder of the year fresh tomatoes are available from other parts of the country.

When buying fresh tomatoes, good quality is indicated if the fruit is well-shaped, plump, smooth, firm, has a rich red color and is free of blemishes.

Ripe tomatoes need to be stored in the refrigerator until ready to be used. Ripen green tomatoes at room temperature but not on a sunny window sill.

Decide which type of food reserve best meets your own situation. In some cases, a combination of these two methods may be desirable. The important thing is that you have enough food in your home or shelter to last until it is safe and possible to get other foods.

STYLE LEADER OF THE COMPACTS

At left: here is the stunning new interior trim offered you as standard equipment in a Valiant Signet 200.

America's lowest-priced hardtop with bucket seats!

You just can't beat Valiant for value! Look at this sports-minded Signet 200—just introduced!

Inside, king-size bucket seats. Custom-tailored interior trim. Deep-pile carpeting. The Valiant Signet 200 clearly says: now it's enjoyable to be economical!

Proof? Plenty! Start with styling. Valiant has an attractively pleasing new-car personality all its own. Here's a distinctive different automotive design originated by Valiant for Valiant!

Valiant's every bit as easy to handle as it is eager to run. Improved torsion-bar suspension, new-design tires give Valiant limousine-like roadability—yet the new '62 Valiant keeps all the cornering control and finger-tip handling ease of the carefree compact it is. Valiant is priced up to several hundred dollars less than many other compacts.

So do yourself the favor of finding out what a buy Valiant is. Your Plymouth-Valiant dealer will welcome you. That's the place to see the style leader of the compacts!

Nobody beats VALIANT for value!

If you are looking for economy without compromise, look to America's favorite compact: this year there are more Falcons than ever to choose from—13 in all. The Galaxy/500—new in name, new in luxury—is for those who want all of the elegant extras. The 1962 Galaxy makes it easier than ever to move up to fine-car luxury—at the low Ford price. All Galaxies are beautifully built to be more service-free. They go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. Brakes adjust themselves automatically.

FALCON SQUIRE WAGON... Brand new for '62, it's sleek and sophisticated. Inside, it is available with Futura bucket seats and console! Outside, it has elegant woodlike steel side paneling.

FALCON FORDOR SEDAN... Just one of 13 Falcons for 1962, this 4-door sedan has an improved version of the Falcon Six engine that last spring recorded the best gas mileage for a Six or Eight in the 25-year history of the Mobilgas Economy Run.
