

From the Editor's Corner

Several versions of this story are going around town. Just which one is true we don't know... but this is the one we like the best:

Before last week's Caro-Cass City football game, someone from Caro sent some carnations to the Cass City gridders. Then Saturday, after the Hawks' upset victory over the Tigers, someone from Cass City returned the favor and sent the Caro players a box of lilies.

We suspect that many of our neighbors are getting tired of seeing us darken their doorway.

While installing our new press we've borrowed without fear or favor. Our thanks to Leonard and Dale Damm, Rabideau Motor Sales, C. R. Hunt Construction, Tom Vargo, Harold Paul and John West for needed help while we were erecting our press.

Speaking about the press, the visiting experts erecting it really get around. One of them is scheduled for Afghanistan where the government has purchased a new press.

Mrs. Nancy (Schwaderer) de Beaubien has brought a copy of the Michigan State Gazetteer (1887) that tells about Michigan, including Tuscola County and Cass City, at this period. We have the book on display and will try to review parts of it next week.

It was another quiet Halloween in Cass City. As far as we were able to determine early Wednesday morning, vandalism was nil again this year.

The record of the past few years in Cass City is a tribute to all area ghosts and goblins and the relationship between the Cass City Police Department and the youth of the community.

Drive Chairman Willis Campbell reports that the Ekland-Novesta Community Chest drive is proceeding on schedule. With about 50 per cent of the returns in, $3,454.55 has been collected. The drive quota is $7,000.

Collections to date have been better this year than in the last three years when a last-minute surge has been needed to put the drive over the top.

Suffers Chest Injuries In Car Accident

A Cass City man suffered chest injuries Saturday, Oct. 28, when his car went in a ditch a half mile east of the intersection of Jacob Road and Elmwood Road, according to a report from the office of Sheriff William Tomlinson.

Joseph Wilks, Route 1, Cass City, was taken to Caro Hospital with chest injuries after he reportedly attempted to miss a tractor driven by Edward R. Ewald, Route 1, Unionville and his car went into a ditch. Damage was confined to the left side of the car.

Council in Quiet Session

Trustees met in the quietest meeting of the year Tuesday night at the Municipal Building. There were no visitors, no complaints and very little new business transacted.

Trustee Lee Rabideau said that he had contacted the Tuscola County Road Commission concerning signs outside the village limits on Cemetery Road and that the Commission had agreed to place the signs.

They will be placed 1,000 feet ahead of the present speed limit signs in the village. North of Cass City the sign will read: "25 mile speed ahead" and south of the community the sign will say: "35 mile speed ahead."

The council acted in response to a request from the Cass City Chamber of Commerce.

Enact Amendments

Several ordinance amendments informally okayed at a previous meeting were adopted and will become law when published next week.

One changes the offstreet parking requirements for churches from one space for every three seats in the church to one to every six seats. Another establishes one-way traffic and parallel parking on one side of the alleys adjacent to Main Street.

The final amendment charges all of sidewalk construction for new homes to the property owner rather than on a 50-50 basis used previously.

Discuss Signs

Alley one-way signs were discussed. The council felt that they may have been slightly on the small size. The village had purchased 20 signs and found that they had only half enough as two signs are needed for each entrance. Twenty more signs are on order.

Not Interested

The council reviewed a joint inspection with Ekland Township of the former Brinker Lumber Co. buildings on Main Street.

It was the consensus of opinion of the board and the council that the buildings were not suited for a township-village-five department building. The asking price was $16,000.

Change Lights

When police protection was needed, a light went on in the tower above Wood's Drug Store. When the tower was torn down the lights were moved to the fire department roof, Village Engineer William Schram reported. A white light is used in the day-light hours and a yellow light at night. When the sun shines, a yellow light is almost invisible, Schram said.

Blood Bank Due At Hospital Friday

Donors are reminded that the mobile blood bank is again scheduled at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Persons desiring to build up credit or return previously used blood to the bank should come to the hospital from 1 to 9 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3.

Truck's Sad, Pigs Glad... Driver Uninjured

Ten porkers bound for Eria Meat Packing Company, Cass City, made a last ditch attempt to escape the meat cutting block after the truck in which they were riding with 30 other pigs rolled over on M-53 early Friday morning. All but one were rounded up in a near-by swamp.

The truck, owned by Eria Meat Packing Company, was driven by Charles Nemeth Jr., Cass City. Nemeth miraculously escaped injury in the accident which demolished the truck.

A number of the pigs were injured and had to be processed immediately.

According to a report filed by Bad Axe State Police Trooper Keith Springstead, Nemeth stated the load shifted and the truck went off the road into the ditch and rolled over. The load was insured, the truck was not.

The accident occurred Friday morning at 5:30 a.m. in Greenleaf township.

Fourteen From County Answer Draft Call

Fourteen Tuscola County young men were scheduled to leave Caro Wednesday for the Detroit Induction Station where they were to be processed into the various branches of the armed forces.

There will be no draft call during the month of November, according to Mrs. Alice Ellwanger, of the Caro Selective Service office.

Those answering the October draft call were: William Matthews, James G. Nunn, Lionel Emery, Edward McLane, Guy Keller, John Hunter, Robert Rickwalt, Bruce Dennis, Norbert Ackerman, Charles Harpham, Edward Freeman, Richard Hergenreder, Alfred L. Vele and Gerald L. Hurshburger.

Citizens Committee to Have Open Meeting

The steering committee of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools and members of the school board will meet Monday night at the school for the purpose of formulating future recommendations to the school board.

It is an open meeting and interested parties are invited to attend.

OPEN HEART SURGERY the early part of this month will be required to close a large hole in the heart of Kay Kendall, 5, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kendall, Cass City. At least 15 pints of blood will be used during the operation. She is shown here with all the paraphernalia needed for her first day at school.

Hole in Heart

Pert Kay Kendall Faces Operation

By Dave Kraft

Pretty, pert Kay Kendall is five years old. She calls to shells, starfish, leaves, gold fish, lizards and likes animals in general. In short, she is an average five-year-old child.

Yet Kay is different than her playmates in one respect. She was born with a hole in her heart.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kendall, Cass City, were informed of the malady last June, following a pre-school examination by a local doctor, Dr. H. T. Donahue. Kay is to undergo corrective surgery the first part of this month at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

The medical terms for the problem is "inter-septal defect." Defined, it is a hole in the top of the heart between the two main arteries into the heart.

In Kay's case, the hole is quite large and will have to be repaired. It will not repair itself and if left alone, will enlarge the heart and shorten her life. Open heart surgery is involved and during the operation, an automatic or artificial heart will be used to keep the blood circulating.

A staggering 15-16 pints of blood are expected to be used during the operation. (Hills and Dales Hospital will accept blood donations and transfer them to the Detroit hospital.)

The affliction was not noticed sooner because Kay showed no outward symptoms, except that from the time she was three, she has gained very little weight. The lack of weight was originally attributed to her small bone structure. Her parents have now noticed that she seems to tire easily when playing. She has had very few childhood diseases.

September 18 she underwent minor surgery in which a plastic tube was inserted in the subcutaneous vein near the hip and run up into her heart. It confirmed the original diagnosis.

And what does Kay think of all this? "She doesn't say too much about it," relates her mother. "I was worse off than she is... her doctor says she is very well prepared for the operation."

"It was harder for us to accept than for her... to have her for five years and not know and then to find out..."

Kay lives at home with her parents and a brother, Kurt, 4. Her father is a tool grinder at Walbro, Cass City, and her mother is a registered nurse at Caro State Hospital and at Hills and Dales Hospital when needed.

Following the operation, she will need special nurses for about three days in a private room. She will have to remain at the hospital for about 10-15 days and will have to spend an equal amount of time at home before returning to school. In the meantime, her parents have been instructed not to limit activities.

Following the minor surgery mentioned above, Kay was hungry on the way home so the family stopped for a bite to eat. Kay had a hamburger, a cabbage salad, a glass of gingerale and sandwich, all of which is a logical meal to a five-year-old.

Kay's life is just one problem after another. Her first day at school this year, she was sent home on the wrong bus and arrived an hour and a half late. She was just as philosophical about that problem.

"She was all smiles when she got off the bus," tells her mother. "That was fun... I think I'll do that again," she smiled.

Coming Auctions

Saturday, Nov. 4—Mrs. Hutson McPhail has scheduled an auction at the farm, six and a quarter miles east of Cass City.

Wednesday, Nov. 8—Frank McVety will hold a farm auction at 1:30 p.m. at the place, one mile west and three miles north of Deford on Phillips Road or three miles south and two west of Cass City. Included in the sale are cattle, machinery and poultry.

Saturday, Nov. 11—Henry Gohsman will hold a farm auction at the place, eight miles south and one-half mile east of Cass City. Included in the sale are cattle and machinery.

Principal's Eye Injured In Lab Explosion

Cass City High School Principal Arthur Holmberg was struck in the eye with a piece of flying glass Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 25, when a test tube exploded in a chemistry class experiment.

Two students were also injured and another test tube exploded, injuring two other students. The injured were treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital and released. They were Cathie Van-Vliet, Joanne Milljore, John Battel and Bill Hutchinson.

According to Mr. Holmberg, it was a routine experiment in the preparation of oxygen by heating a mixture of potassium chlorate and manganese dioxide. The mixture had been tested twice previously, once by him and once in a class demonstration, the day before. Both times the experiment worked perfectly.

The class experiment was stopped before any further explosions could occur.

Mr. Holmberg theorized that someone may have accidentally returned another chemical to the wrong jar, perhaps sulphur.

Doctors removed the piece of glass which was lodged behind the cornea and Mr. Holmberg returned home Monday morning. He expected to return to his classes the latter part of this week.

Orthopedic Clinic Scheduled at Hills and Dales

An orthopedic clinic sponsored by the Michigan Crippled Children Commission as part of its statewide program of assistance to the physically handicapped children will be held at Hills and Dales General Hospital Tuesday, Nov. 7. The examining physician will be John O. Goodsell, M.D., Saginaw, an orthopedic specialist.

The clinic is being offered to this area's crippled children in need of medical attention to be examined and evaluated for their orthopedic needs. There will be no charge for the examination.

Besides the staff from the Michigan Crippled Children Commission, which will consist of orthopedic nurses and a physical therapist, local public health nurses of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties will also participate in conducting the clinic.

The volunteer workers who will assist with the clinic are: Mrs. Lewis Bishop, Mrs. H. T. Donahue, Mrs. Cameron Wallace, Mrs. Grant Hutchinson and Mrs. George Murray, all of Cass City, and other members of the Hills and Dales General Hospital Auxiliary.

Information regarding the orthopedic clinic may be obtained by contacting the office of the Public Health Nurse, Courthouse, Caro.

Ugly Youths Given Justice Court Fines

Martin J. Kubaeki, 21, Donald Novak, 20, and Leonard Czewski, 20, all of Ubbly, paid fines and costs of $30.85 each in Cass City Justice Court Monday.

Kubaeki pleaded guilty to furnishing alcoholic beverages to a minor and Novak and Czewski each pleaded guilty to consuming alcoholic beverages. They were arrested Sunday afternoon by Cass City Police Chief William Wood and jailed until Monday.

Hawks Pull Year's Greatest Upset in 7-0 Win Over Caro

It was home-coming time at Cass City Friday and the Cass City Red Hawks celebrated with the upset of the season as they defeated the league-leading Caro Tigers, 7-0.

Caro played in the first half as if they thought they were going to win almost as they pleased and when they trailed in the second half, were unable to penetrate Cass City's stout defense that has not allowed a point against it in the last three games.

It was the defense that won the game... it stopped the Caro attack and scored the touchdown. The Tigers, calling plays with an apparent disregard of the Hawks' ability to score, tried a pass midway in the second quarter from their own 24.

Dick Crenson intercepted on his own 41 and started racing down the sidelines behind a wall of blockers. The last Caro defender had a shot at him as he crossed the goal but he shook him off to go in standing up. A moment later he ran for the point to conclude the scoring for the day.

"Preparedness" Fallout Answer

Editor's Note: Radiation fallout and fallout shelters have become vitally important to people in the Cass City area. Rev. Father Frank L. McLaughlin, pastor of the St. Agatha Church, Gagetown, tells why in this first of a series about fallout problems in Cass City.

"Preparedness" is the over-all answer! was the solution offered by Rev. Father Frank L. McLaughlin, Gagetown, to the local problem of radiation fallout in the event of a nuclear attack. "A person usually has time to get to safety if they know what they are doing."

Father McLaughlin based his statement on facts and data he acquired at a Religious Affairs course given at the Office of Civil Defense, Battle Creek, September 18-22.

"A shelter is the answer to the problem," he asserted. "The individual family," he explained, "can build its own shelter inexpensively if the man can mix mortar and lay blocks."

What kind of shelter? He could recommend no particular type, but stated instead that any shelter, as long as it meets the necessary requirements, could be effective. To cite an example, he stated that if a shelter had three feet of dirt around and on top, the inhabitants would be safe from fallout.

To further point out the possible simplicity of a fallout shelter, he remarked that in some places, a person would be able to cut radiation exposure to one-fiftieth by digging a hole and driving a car over it.

The latter, however, would provide only temporary safety. A shelter must be able to house its occupants at least 14 days. To do this, a few of the items needed would include a two weeks' supply of water, sanitary facilities, canned food, battery radio, lighting and other essentials.

There are three types of radiation particles involved in a nuclear explosion, according to Father McLaughlin. The first two, Alpha and Beta particles, are relatively harmless. The real culprit is the Gamma ray which "can go right through a person."

It is similar to an X ray in that it is very energetic. As a comparative example of radiation, in treatment of skin cancer one square inch of skin may be exposed to 500 roentgen of X-ray radiation without ill effects to the patient. One-tenth of this amount over the entire body would likely be fatal. "People are so unconcerned," he offered in regard to the attitude of the majority in regard to national security in the event of attack.

Why is it of concern to all of us? If a 10-megaton bomb (equivalent to 10 million tons of TNT) was dropped, a 10-mile area would be destroyed in 10 minutes. In 16 hours, a 130-mile area would be affected by fallout and in 18 hours, a 300-mile area would be affected.

Over a two-week period, with normal winds, the amount of radiation contamination would be 20,000 roentgen (a measurement of Gamma particle contamination) 50 miles from the blast; 2,000 roentgen 130 miles away; 400 roentgen 175 miles away and 100 roentgen 300 miles away.

A simple explanation of roentgen is that of 100 persons suffering a 650-roentgen dose of gamma rays, 50 per cent would die.

Father McLaughlin has been a Civil Defense since World War I when a friend, the head of Civil Defense in another city, showed him that city's setup. The Father found that no provisions were made for the movements of priests or ministers in time of attack and since then he has made a study of the job of the priest and minister at attack time.

In the quiet security of the anteroom of the St. Agatha rectory, the possibility of human annihilation through nuclear warfare seemed a far cry from the present, yet the emphatic manner in which Father McLaughlin presented his case made it apparent to the casual observer that "Preparedness" is the answer.

PLANNED ADDITION. This is an architect's drawing of an estimated $45,000 addition planned for the Cass City Hospital. The board of directors approved the plans last week. The new section will include an elevator and storage space. It will enable internal changes in the present building including segregation of the maternity ward and the setting up of an X-ray Department, Record Library, General Offices and installation of a sprinkling system. The architects, Sedgewick and Sellers, Flint, also planned the new Post Office.

Challenge City Clubs

Hawk Debaters Join New League

Cass City's High School Forensic department, because the school has joined a new debate league, will be eligible to compete in the 1961-62 state debate competition with finals in April.

The league, officially called the Lower Thumb Debate League, contains 13 schools. Previously Cass City belonged to no league and debated on the state schedule.

The 1961-62 debate topic is: "Resolved, That the federal government should equalize educational opportunity by means of grants to the states for public elementary and secondary education."

Cass City's debate coach, Marvin Hauck, released the following tentative list of team members: Tom Craig, Tom Ellis, Bill Dobbs, Bob Freiburger, Bill Eberline and Bob Milligan. The list is expected to grow as the season advances.

Coach Hauck sent out a challenge to Cass City debaters in service clubs and other organizations for practice debates on the question. A practice debate was held Wednesday, Oct. 25, at the School Library at 6:30 p.m.

League debates will be held in Caro, November 13; Almont, December 11; Millington, January 8, and Reese, January 29.

In further explaining the League, Hauck stated that each school will have four debates at each meeting, two negative and two affirmative. He felt that the league will be good for the students due to the fact that they will go to other schools and meet other students.

Some of the member schools are Akron-Fairgrove, Almont, Caro, Cass City, Inlay City, Millington, North Branch, Reese, Sandusky, Brown City, Frankenmuth and Lapeer.

After four rounds of preliminary debating, each school will enter an elimination tournament in February - to be culminated with state finals April 28, at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Top debaters will also be competing for $3,000 in college scholarships provided by the Detroit Free Press.

Miss DeLong has enrolled in the Medical Laboratory Technician course and Miss Hartwick has enrolled in the Dental Nurse course.

1961 FARM BUREAU COOPERATORS—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goodall, Route 2, Cass City, have been named 1961 County Farm Bureau Cooperators of the Year. The presentation was made at the annual County Farm Bureau meeting, October 26, in Caro.

Goodalls Named FB Cooperators

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goodall, Route 2, Cass City, have been named 1961 County Farm Bureau Cooperators of the Year. The announcement came at the annual County Farm Bureau meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at the Caro High School before an attendance of 352 persons.

The Goodalls were introduced and presented the award by Bruce Ruggles, 1960 State Cooperator of Year winner.

Full-time farmers, the Goodalls live on a 360 acre farm three-quarters of a mile north of Cass City, with their three children, Linda, 16, Gordon, 18, and Grant, 12.

Chief cash crops raised on the farm, the same one Mr. Goodall was born on, are corn, wheat, barley, oats, alfalfa. They also raise beef cattle and a few sheep.

In order to be eligible for the award Mr. Goodall had to be nominated by a local organization. He was then sent a questionnaire on his community services in regard to his church, 4-H, Community Chest and other activities.

The questionnaire also requested information concerning his participation in Farm Bureau, what offices held and what Farm Bureau services used. He is a member of the County Farm Bureau Board of Directors.

As a county winner, he is now eligible for the regional and state awards.

In other Farm Bureau business, Viola Daenzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Daenzer, Millington, was introduced as the Miss Farm Bureau winner. The presentation was made by John Goodchild, president of the Young Peoples Committee. He also introduced the other contestants — Mary Lee Seurynek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seurynek, Gagetown; Betty Denhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Denhoff, Kingston and Shirley Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens, Mayville.

New directors elected at the meeting were: Alfred Goodall, District one; Lyle Sylvester, District three; J. Edward Goodchild, District five; Frank Satchell, District seven; Clifton Lotter, District 9; Arno Keimath, District 11, and Clinton Milner, member at large.

The directors met following the meeting and elected officers for the ensuing year. They were: County President Clifton Lotter, Silverwood; Vice-president Lyle Sylvester, Fairgrove, and Third Member Carl Middleton, Mayville. Guest speaker was Melvin Woehl, coordinator of Public Relations for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

TCFA In Debt Plans Fund Raising Program

The Tuscola County Fair Association has planned a number of fund raising activities to help reduce a $17,904 deficit incurred over the past few years. One of the events featuring Bert Ruby's TV Wrestling Stars will be held Saturday, Nov. 4, at the Caro High School gymnasium at 8:00 p.m.

The card, sponsored by the American Legion of Caro and the Tuscola County Fair Association, will feature eight of the nation's finest matmen in three big matches.

La Bestia, "The Beast", will take on Wee Davy Duncan, "The Great Scott" in the main event.

Ever since his savage, brutal annihilation of Leaping Larry Chene in a television match several months ago, the Beast has been the center of a storm of controversy unprecedented in modern mat annals. Thousands of letters demanding that he be forever barred from wrestling have poured into newspapers, matchmaker Bert Ruby and the officers of the state athletic commission.

The 1961 fair was not a financial success, adding some $3,579 to a $14,325 debt the association already had.

Attendance was cut sharply this year due to heavy rains during fair week. Fair premiums in the open class and the 4-H were so much higher that it took almost $3,000 to pay the increase.

Gate receipts were down due to reduced gate prices, however, grandstand receipts were up from a year ago.

Max Lawrence, president of the association, said a complete breakdown of this year's expenses and receipts will be presented to the Fair Association in booklet form as he felt that the public "which has given outstanding support," has a right to know what happened. These will be handed out at a November 8 meeting in the Supervisors' room at the county courthouse.

CHAIN REACTION

One lie has to be supported by another, and eventually it doesn't have a leg to stand on.

Gagetown OES Installs Officers

Some 125 members of the Order of the Eastern Star and friends attended the annual installation of officers for Gifford chapter at Gagetown Monday evening. Guests were present from Port Huron, Utica, Roseville and many Thumb chapters.

She was assisted by Mrs. Beatrice Simpson, Vassar, Past Grand Esther as marshal; Mrs. Bernice Rothacker, Roseville, as chaplain; Mrs. Grace Ferguson, Roseville, past grand organist as organist and Mrs. Arlington Hoffman of Cass City as soloist.

The new worthy matron, Mrs. Leo Russell, was escorted to the East by her daughter Cheryl and Raymond Kelcher, father of Mrs. Russell, who will serve the chapter as worthy patron this year, was escorted to the East by his son Don of Sebawing.

Officers installed besides the elected officers announced previously include: chaplain - Mrs. Raymond Kelcher, marshal - Mrs. Archie A. McLachlan, organist - Mrs. Robert Osborn, Adah - Mrs. Donald McCallum, Ruth - Mrs. Don Wilson, Esther - Mrs. Andrew Freeman, Martha - Mrs. James Wilson, Electa - Mrs. Don DeLong, Warder - Mrs. Jerry McBride, sentinel - Harry Wood and flag bearers - Orlo Wood, Mrs. George Hartman and Mrs. Irene Wood.

The works of some people are constant prayers of self-praise.

FARMERS AND COMMUNISM

Nikita Khrushchev recently told the 22nd Congress of the Russian Communist Party that in another 20 years Russia would catch up to and surpass the West in production and living standard.

In so doing, he largely repeated the claims of the Bolsheviks of World War 1, blandly ignoring the fact that 44 years of Communist rule have failed to materially narrow the productive gap between the two systems.

Since we are all unwilling victims of a cold war that may get hot, here are some simple facts that reveal the system we may have to fight:

Russian agriculture... basic source... of all the wealth and strength of the country, employs eight times as many workers on three times as much land as the United States, yet produces only 40 per cent as much produce, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

You don't have to look far for the answer to this failure when you consider the fact that the 5 per cent of Russian agricultural acreage still privately owned in the form of farmer's "plots," currently produces 82 per cent of the country's eggs, 65 per cent of its potatoes and 50 per cent of its green vegetables!

The world has justly acclaimed Russia's space accomplishments. But they should be measured against the more earthly fact that most Russian automobile traffic comes to a halt when it rains. Know why? Because spare auto parts are so scarce, motorists hide their wipers INSIDE their cars to avoid theft.

Isn't it good to live in a free country?

The order was handed out Wednesday, Oct. 25, in a session of the Circuit Court at the County Courthouse, Caro. In the other court business, the case of the People vs. Douglas Formento, Millington, a plea of guilty was set aside and the order of nolle prosequi (no action) was entered.

Formento, along with Stanley Johns, Millington, was charged with setting fire to an unoccupied building in Juniata township on July 14, 1960. There will be no further prosecution against either man.

Jerry Johnson, Clio, was given three years probation, a fine of $150, costs of $150 and ordered to make restitution of $283.88, in the case of the People vs. Jerry Johnson. The entire sum is payable at the rate of $15.00 per month.

Johnson was alleged to have passed a $43.40 check on the Frankenmuth State Bank, Frankenmuth, using the name Hubert D. Wright. The act reportedly took place on February 15, 1960, in Millington.

IT SEEMS TO ME Finland's Greatest Finally Disappoints

By Rev. Robert J. Searls

We have come to expect a fast pace and exciting action in any book coming from Finland's greatest modern novelist, Mika Walteri. It is unusual for a Scandinavian work to translate so smoothly into English that is sharp and pungent, as have the books of this historical novelist.

However, I suffered a dual disappointment in his most recent work, "The Secret of the Kingdom". First was his method. This tale is told through the device of personal letters rather than by direct narrative. I have never felt that this technique was as direct or crisp as the more conventional. If you do not feel that way, you will, no doubt, enjoy the book more than I did.

The second disappointment is that Walteri would succumb to the temptation to try to out-do the Bible. It seems that novelists have as an occupational hazard the desire to write 'the greatest story ever told' better than He who is revealed in the telling. I have read the efforts of Lloyd Douglas, Sholem Asch and Kazantzakis, among others, and am delighted to report that I own none of them.

The main character and writer of the letters is a young Roman traveler and man of means, Marcus Menzies, who arrives in Jerusalem just in time to witness, on a Friday afternoon, the crucifixion of three men - two of them thieves, one the Galilean heretic, Jesus. By chance he is present the following Sunday when the borrowed tomb is found empty and he is personally committed to the idea that Jesus, who was dead, is now alive.

Marcus began his own pilgrimage to find "the secret of the kingdom," hampered on the one hand by the suspicion of the disciples that he was 'of the enemy' and on the other hand by Roman authorities who thought him 'soft on communism', a convert to Christianity. What follows is strictly according to formula, including a romantic love tale unsavily preying the greatest store of Love in all history.

If you do not share my two causes of disappointment and if you enjoy historical novels, you will undoubtedly enjoy this tale. But if it makes you feel that, by doing so, you have somehow done something religious, please burn the book!

"The Secret of the Kingdom," by Mika Walteri, G. P. Putnam's Sons, available from the Elkland Township library.

"Debbie" Builds Paddle Wheel Outboard With Imagination and Hand Tools

OUT OF THE PAST and into the future came the idea for Edwin "Debbie" Phillips' paddlewheel outboard motor. Trying it out

—Half-tone courtesy of Bay City Times

Edwin Phillips has a lot of time on his hands. Give him an old washing machine motor, a bicycle chain and sprocket and some odds and ends and he's just liable to build a paddle wheel boat motor.

As a matter of fact, that's just what he did recently over a two-year span. Using hand tools and imagination, he has constructed a duck hunter's dream, a paddle wheel motor that can get a boat places a regular boat motor would foul up.

The chain driven wheel has eight metal tipped paddles and as Mr. Phillips puts it, is "not too much for speed." It could be stepped up by adding a bigger motor and a wider wheel.

"Debbie", as Ed is better known, is looking for a backer to put the motor on a commercial basis. He has had a number of interested hunters and fishermen look at the motor.

The project involved quite a little experimenting. One side-mounted motor went to pieces under the strain. The present motor, Debbie figures, is about one-half horse.

He comes by his mechanical abilities naturally. He has, over the past years built such items as a garden tractor, a buzz saw and three motor bikes. At one time he used to rebuild motor bikes as a source of income, a talent that he taught himself.

"This is the only thing I've ever built that people have taken much interest in," Debbie relates.

He has lived on Phillips Road southeast of Cass City in the same location for the past 56 years. Until 25 years ago, he was a farmer. A serious kidney operation sent him to less strenuous work. At present, he grows most of his food in a small garden adjacent to his modest three room home.

His idea for the paddle wheel motor originated from seeing and hearing about the "swamp scooter", a boat driven by an airplane motor.

Always thinking ahead, he figures that if he attaches cross pieces to a regular 16-inch wheel, he can make a ski mobile for traveling on ice.

Debbie sums his inventiveness up to something he was told a long time ago.

"About 20 years ago, a fellow told me 'necessity is the mother of invention' and I'm beginning to believe it!" he says.

Farmers Get A Little Over Third of Consumer's Dollar

"Michigan farmers get a little better than one-third of the consumer's dollar". This brightening statement is the result of a U.S. Department of Agriculture report for 1960 which lists Michigan in the top 10 states in acreage and production of 33 crops.

State farmers took in cash receipts totaling $746,946,000 in 1960, according to a recently published report on Michigan agriculture. This put farming in second place as a source of income with industry first and tourists third.

On a crop basis, the State holds the number one position in pickles and field beans. It is also first in sour cherry production and ranks second in output of sweet cherry varieties. It is ranked among the top ten in sugar beets, potatoes, alfalfa hay, all fruits and a number of other crops.

To paint an even brighter picture, last year's receipts were more than $40 million above the $705,302,000 of 1959, indicating that farming is becoming a bigger business than ever.

The human race may have been cradled in the Near East, but it was put on wheels in America.

Now and then a man gets his fingers burned trying to pull another's chestnuts out of the fire.

Picking Committee Chairmen Described As Blessing And A Burden

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
The state constitutional convention adopted a great many of its rules for procedure from practices followed in the Michigan Legislature, but one deviation, due to the nature of the Con-Con, was both a blessing and a burden.

This is the problem of committee chairmanships. In the Legislature a complicated seniority system, built up through long practice and more or less strictly observed, determines who shall preside over various committees.

But, as Con-Con president Stephen S. Nisbet often said, all the convention delegates are freshmen.

Committee chairmen, therefore, were rather arbitrary selections made by Nisbet and his three vice-presidents, George Romney, Edward Hutchinson and Tom Downs.

Mark Twain described the cauliflower as "the cabbage with a college education." Have you noticed this sparkling white member of the cabbage family in your market?

We know that fresh cauliflower is available the year around, but the most abundant supplies are available in October, November and December. There is a good reason for this seasonal abundance for cool weather with moist air is required for highest quality.

And, speaking of quality, when choosing a cauliflower look for (1) a clean, white hard head, (2) leaves which are fresh, stiff and green, (3) size does not indicate quality. With a little care cauliflower can be kept a week to ten days. Remove the outer leaves and stalk, wash and store in the refrigerator in a moisture-proof wrap or container.

Cauliflower should never be over-cooked, because it becomes mushy, discolored and develops a strong taste and odor. A fork inserted easily indicates that it is sufficiently cooked to the "tenderly crisp" stage.

Do not forget that cauliflower furnishes a good supply of Vitamin C. If it is served raw, the vitamin content will be higher. Try serving some of the flowerets raw sometime and as a special treat, with a dip. Another suggestion, try chopping the outside leaves, cook until just tender and serve with a lemon-butter sauce.

Right now is an excellent time to freeze cauliflower. It is easy. Just break the flowerets into one inch pieces. Wash and blanch three minutes in boiling water. Chill quickly, pack, seal and freeze.

On November 7, project leaders from Section I will meet at the Artist's Market, 207 Adams Street, for their lesson, "Understanding and Interpreting Painting", from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Then on November 8 the project leaders from Section II will meet at the same place for their lesson on the same subject.

On November 10 the Christmas Workshop and Tea will be held at the 4-H Memorial Building from 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. This tea is open to all home economics extension women and their friends.

Mrs. Zella Vyse, vice-chairman, presided over the meeting during which plans were made for the group to attend the Christmas Tea and Workshop at the 4-H building, Caro, November 10.

Mrs. Grant Ball and Mrs. Albert Whitfield presented the lesson, "Wardrobes in Fashion", stressing the basic dress and accessories and also building the wardrobe around one basic color.

Much talent is lost to the world unless it is backed by courage.

Find the weak spot in your character—then start work on the levee.

The unvarnished truth causes more trouble in the world than a bare-fisted lie.

Charity may cover a multitude of sins, but an afternoon bridge covers a stream of gossip.

From experience comes judgment—and lessons learned the hard way are seldom forgotten.

Since no delegate felt he could claim chairmanship as a matter of right, there were few complaints about the men chosen to lead the committees, although there was some grumbling about committee assignments in general.

The potential danger in the Con-Con method of selecting chairmen will come when action of the convention is readied for voters. Almost sure to be raised by somebody is the question of whether different chairmen would have produced different decisions on the basic law subject matter.

Generally speaking, the State of Michigan has plenty of everything. Except of course, money to run its government.

Few would find fault with the "land of plenty" concept as applied to Michigan because an abundance of manufactured goods, agricultural products, scenic and recreation areas, water, skilled workers and investment capital is all around.

But once, some 90 years ago, Michigan was in trouble because of a shortage of one of the most common items known to man: stone.

Nowadays, the only major lack that makes a splash in the Water Wonderland is lack of jobs. Or, as during the infamous "cash crisis" of 1959, lack of money for government.

But in order to get a state Capitol, Michigan had to go to Ohio. When plans for a structure of stone to replace the old frame building which had existed prior to 1871 were complete, a search was undertaken for materials.

Michigan had fine stone, but not enough of any color to build its seat of government building. So the three-man Board of Building Commissioners, headed by Gov. Henry Baldwin, sent to Ohio in 1871 and selected an Ohio sandstone for construction of the Capitol.

Many Michigan products went into the Capitol, even if the main outside material was from a southern neighbor. Perhaps even the iron which went into some of the girders and furnishings of the Capitol and dome was produced from ore mined in the Upper Peninsula.

It's not often that any phase of government gets a chance to go back to the beginning and start out the proper way to handle the signature cards, so things just went along for years with no change.

All the requirements and procedures are spelled out in the state election law, which is admittedly somewhat vague, complicated, ambiguous and generally difficult.

The violations discovered in the Upper Peninsula, however, were not caused by problems of understanding election law. They were simply improper procedures perpetuated through the years, probably because the system seemed to be working all right. Little regard was given to technicalities.

The need for re-registering all the voters, since it will be a difficult job, points up the need for closer scrutiny of official practice, both by officials and citizens.

There is a multitude of lessons for officials charged with supervising voting procedures and for "just plain" citizens.

The problems in the two Houghton county villages were mostly improper signatures on voter registration cards. Apparently nobody ever bothered to find

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was making their customary expert observations on the human race and, judging from their comments, they ain't much hope for it.

Ed Doolittle, fer instant, said he was reading in a magazine article where they is 18 million fishermen in the United States, and the next day he saw where some column writer in a newspaper claimed they was 18 million chronic liars in this country. Ed claimed the two figgers come out perfect and was final proof that all fishermen is liars. And the sad part about it, allowed Ed, was that the number of fishermen is increasing at a steady rate. Zeke Grubb said it was just plain hard to git the truth out of anybody that had ever been close to a fishing pole. He said he wouldn't be surprised if a fish didn't go home and tell a lie about the size of the bait he stole.

Bug Hookum, who looks at things a little on the dark side, was lamenting that personal liberty was disappearing in this country. He claimed if we didn't git some of these lawyers out of the legislature and the Congress, we'd soon have to git permission from the Attorney General to open a bureau drawer. Most of the fellers agreed as how lawyers has managed to git so many laws on the book that there can't be such a thing no more as a "law abiding citizen."

In the main, Mister Editor, I think Bug and the fellers is about right. I ain't as big a joy-killer as Bug but I ain't never been a feller to look up the chimney fer Santa Claus either. Back in the old days a new state or federal law was passed only after many months of thought, prayer and deliberation. Fer instant, I can recollect when I was a boy they was discussing a fence law fer cattle. One legislator got up and argued agin it, said he didn't want no fence law on account of when a pore man stole a pig he didn't want to make him lift it over no fence. In them days, human weaknesses was took into consideration. It also proves, I reckon, that the pore man voted pritty regular in them days.

Clem Webster told the fellers he was having a heap of trouble this year separating the figgers from the facts. He claims he gits a set of figgers about once a month from the Agriculture Department showing the farmer is doing fine but they don't jibe with his bank book. Clem said, in case the fellers hadn't noted it, they is a difference between figgers and facts. Fer instant, he explained, when you look at a lady with a girdle on, you're looking at the figger, but without the girdle you're looking at the fact. That Clem is a card, Mister Editor.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

WANDERING WITH WARREN

Sometimes There Is No Hiatus

By Ilene Warren

Some weeks ago, I referred to the lovely month of October as a pleasant hiatus between summer and winter. My use of the word "hiatus" reminded Florence Searls, who works at the Chronicle, of an experience she and her husband, Robert Searls, shared because of this word.

Mr. Searls' brother, a GBS correspondent in Hong Kong after World War II, wrote a dispatch using the word hiatus. Mr. Searls wrote a letter challenging his use of the word.

Some time later, the Searlses were awakened in the wee hours of a morning by the jangling of the telephone. "We have a telegram for you from Hong Kong." Sleepy eyes snapped awake and anxious glances were exchanged—but the telegram was simply: "Hiatus means..." and there followed an explicit dictionary definition of the word!

Ease from anxiety was quickly followed by an Edgar Kennedy slow burn. I should imagine!

Enjoyed a trip to Toledo a week ago. While there we visited the zoo. I love to go to zoological parks and especially enjoy the cats. There's quite a variety at the Toledo Zoo—my favorite was that King of Beasts, the majestic lion, but the prettiest ones were the snow leopards.

This was my first trip into Ohio by automobile—back in 1952, when we lived in Royal Oak, we flew to Cleveland on two different occasions. Once to see the Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees play baseball and later to see the Cleveland Browns play. "Browns" is the right name for the Cleveland pro-football team, isn't it?

I guess I'm just not much of a football fan. Beats me how anyone can see any sense in a football player running around his own right end, messing up the block and tackle, and still getting his quarter back.

In the battle known as Bunker Hill fought one Caesar Bason. He and two others of his race (Peter Salem and Cuffee Whittemore) served in Colonel William Prescott's regiment.

After the Americans were forced to begin their retreat from Breed's Hill, Caesar Bason, who had one shot left, said to himself, "Steady, Caesar, give 'em one shot more." However, before he could pull the trigger a ball struck him in the thigh. He tried to stagger away but after a short distance collapsed behind a fence. Here he was found by Captain Aaron Smith. Loss of blood had weakened Caesar but he and Captain Smith set up a load and fire system with their muskets—while Smith used one, Caesar reloaded the other. When Smith's gun was smashed by a bullet he lifted Bason to his back and began retreating.

As the British began to gain on them (Caesar was a big man and Smith was not) Caesar said, "Put me down, Captain. I'm going to die anyway. You save yourself." Smith let him slide to the ground but did not leave him until a squad of British soldiers approached and Caesar cried, "Go, Captain. Go. Next time you fight give 'em one for Caesar."

Caesar Bason fought for freedom—his freedom and our freedom. He served beside such other patriots as Joseph Warren, Richard Gridley, Peter Salem. Caesar Bason was one of seven freed Negroes who fought in the historic Battle of Bunker Hill. He was one of the heroes of the Revolutionary War.

Myron Karr, who suffered a shoulder dislocation during football practice last week, was able to play during the last half of the game between Cass City and Caro Friday night.

Mrs. Margaret McIntyre of Port Huron is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jennie McIntyre, and Steve Sweeney for the next week.

Sunday visitors at the James Hempton home were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Elliott of Owendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Karr were guests Sunday of her brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sowden in Yale.

Watch your step—the neighbors will watch your misstep.

The fellow who has time to spare has made good use of his time.
