

Petition Dismissal Sought By Graham

Tuscola County Probate Judge Henderson Graham, charged with misconduct in office, has filed a counter-petition with the Michigan Supreme Court, according to his attorney, Thomas R. McAllister.

Goodrich Men Tour Hospital

Six Goodrich residents, part of a committee which is determined to provide modern hospital facilities for their community, toured Hills and Dales General Hospital Thursday night.

Their look at the modern facilities was one of several they have made in the Thumb. They said that the hospital was the best equipped of any its size they visited and as well equipped as any larger facility they had visited.

The Goodrich committee is not seeking as large a hospital as Cass City boasts. The town of less than 600 persons has now raised some $400,000 . . . they want to build a 25-bed hospital.

There will be no Federal aid money for Goodrich. The Office of Hospital Survey and Construction has ruled that Goodrich should be served by a Flint hospital some 20 minutes away.

The impetus for the push for a new hospital in Goodrich came when the Michigan Department of Health closed the former hospital last February because it failed to meet their minimum standards.

From the Editor's Corner

We were going to have a "man on the street" interview story about fallout shelters in Cass City this week . . . but Newsman Dave Kraft found it difficult to find an average citizen with any ideas on the subject.

There are very few shelters in Cass City and a relatively few persons with crystal ball ideas on the subject.

We intend to change our method of interviewing and hope to come up with some opinions on shelters for next week's paper.

Grant Hutchinson came strolling into the office last week with a pussy willow in full bloom. With the winter weather of the last few days, it's likely that all of the freak blossoms will now be killed.

We've had more reports of unseasonal flowers, fruit and similar items reported during this mild fall than any other year that we can remember.

We hope that there will be a reverse in the trend of the last couple of years when less and less volunteers turned out to help decorate Main Street.

In recent years many time-consuming details have been abandoned and with an adequate crew there is a minimum of work for everyone.

Dr. William Harr reported last week for a physical examination for the Armed Forces. Although classified 1-A, Dr. Harr doesn't think that he will be called in the immediate future. There are a lot of dentists who figure to be called before he is.

"Boy, wouldn't that be just what I need," said Bill, who is the father of six and just getting established in the dental profession.

Cass City Abounds In Identical Twins

Do look-alikes like the same things? This question arose after an investigation revealed that Cass City has an abundance of twins in its school system. Eleven sets, as a matter of fact, and seven of these sets are look-alikes.

Donald and Ronald Dillon, 12th graders, and Dean and Dennis Rienstra, 11th graders, were singled out to act as guinea pigs in the first of a series on look-alike likes and dislikes. They were asked about their clothes, school, studies, hobbies, sports and whether they practice "togetherness."

The 16-year-old Rienstra twins, red-headed sons of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rienstra, Cass City, generally like the same things.

They agree on sports. Dean, however, is perhaps a little more active in school sports than Dennis. Both enjoy hunting and fishing.

They tend to wear different clothes, unless, as one put it, they want to fool the teacher. They don't wear the same clothes primarily because they don't like the same things and because it is a way to retain their individuality.

The boys are in definite agreement on girls. They are in favor of them, that is. So far, they both like different girls, a necessity in keeping harmony in the home.

Dean and Dennis ordinarily go places together, but usually only as a matter of necessity. Theirs is a one-car family. They each have separate rooms at home.

Their grades, too, are pretty much aligned, with Dean usually just a half-point ahead of Dennis.

Ronald and Donald Dillon, 18-year-old sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dillon Sr., parallel the Rienstra twins in nearly every respect, except school sports and their home life.

Ronald is a track enthusiast while Donald leans more toward baseball. Both like hunting.

As far as clothes are concerned, they too strive to be different by wearing different clothes.

The boys share a room at home, but would prefer separate rooms and they go places together only because they, too, belong to a one-car family.

During the interviews, both sets had definite answers to the questions and each boy displayed a separate personality. They quipped, or were thoughtful and except for the fact that, facially, they are like peas in a pod, it was as if interviewing four different people.

The next series will deal with some of the look-alikes in the elementary grades.

Good Relations With Community Industrial Aid

Industrial development in Cass City in the last eight years has outstripped similar development in any other community in the Thumb.

During a period when many communities are experiencing a loss of industry to the south or a general curtailment of job opportunities due to automation, Cass City has shown an increase in employment.

The increase, of course, has come from the steadily increasing number of factories which have selected Cass City as an ideal location for their businesses.

One reason for this, according to persons who have negotiated with plants in the past, is the excellent reputation that the community has earned for co-operation between management and employees.

In the fierce competition for plants, often all major factors, such as availability of site, source of raw materials, closeness to market and availability of labor, are equal . . . management then looks to the community and its residents before making a final decision on plant location. It's here that Cass City shines. For instance, Walbro Corporation, which started very small and has steadily expanded, has always credited its employees and its relations with the community as two of the principal reasons for their growth in producing and selling highly competitive products.

On a village level, decorations will remain the same as last year except for those decorations that are replaced. A member of the Chamber is scheduled to collect $10.00 donations from the merchants for installation and replacement expenses. Donations may also be mailed to Treasurer Dick Eria.

Stores will begin staying open until 9:00 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 15, and will remain open nightly thereafter until December 23. No decision has been reached on whether or not the home decoration contest will be held.

Notice
I will be at the Cass City State Bank on Fridays and The Pinney State Bank on Tuesdays to collect taxes for Elkland township. Delbert Proffitt, treasurer. 11-23-2*

Friday and Saturday

Yule Savings in Town-wide Sale

The week end following Thanksgiving is traditionally the start of the Christmas shopping season. Recognizing that area shoppers are starting to fill their lists, Cass City merchants have set aside Friday and Saturday for a town-wide sale of wanted Christmas items.

Nearly all of the retail merchants in the community are participating to make the event one of the biggest ever held in Cass City.

Special items galore abound in the advertisements scattered throughout the paper. Included are toys of nearly every description . . . all selling at discount prices.

Wanted Christmas clothing items have also been slashed for the two days. Also included are Christmas cards and a variety of unusual gift items for men, women and children.

Participating in the sale are: McConkey Jewelry, Fuelgas Co. of Cass City, Albee Hardware and Furniture, Freiburger Paint & Hobby, Hartwick Food Market, Towne and Country Floral, Cass City Oil and Gas, Thumb Appliance Center, Wood Rexall Drugs, Krizmans', Auten Motor Sales, Hunter's 5c to 7c, Federated Store, Ben Franklin Store, Riley's Foot Comfort, Gambles, Cass City Floral, Mac and Scotty Drug Store, Freiburger Grocery, Little's Furniture, Bigelow Hardware, Kingston Butter Co.

Annual Union Service Tonight at Nazarene Church

The annual community Thanksgiving service will be held tonight (Wednesday) at the Church of the Nazarene with Arthur Holmberg, Cass City High School principal, as featured speaker.

The title of Mr. Holmberg's address is "For This We Are Thankful."

The order of worship will be in the hands of the host pastor, Rev. L. A. Wilson. The service is open to the public. The church is located on the south side of Third Street between Seeger and Oak Streets.

According to Rev. Robert J. Searls, chairman of the services, Mr. Holmberg's selection as guest speaker symbolizes the growing participation of the laity in the ministry of the church.

Take Babies, Too Says John Krug

John Krug of rural Cass City reported this week that vandals had stolen 10 ducks from his farm home Saturday night.

"Announce in the paper that they should come back and take the two baby ducklings that were left without a mother," Mr. Krug remarked with a grimace.

Rebuilding Hawks Prep for Cage Opener with Sandusky

It's a rebuilding year for Cass City High School's cage team as Coach Irv Claseman greeted 89 candidates from the upper three grades and 29 freshmen in opening practice sessions at the school gym.

With a Thumb B Conference game scheduled for the opener just 10 days away, when the Red Hawks play at Sandusky, the squad has plenty of work ahead.

Gone from last year's quintet, which finished third in the league and bowed to Vassar in the district finals, are four regulars. They include all three of the front-court men, Gordon Goodall, Gary Hutchinson and Art Randall. From the backcourt, Tim Anthes will be missing. Only regular returning is Larry Robinson at one of the guard positions.

Last year's varsity reserves are relatively inexperienced. The letter winners include Dick Cresson, Casimer Lubaczewski, Bob Morley, Tom Jones, Roy Powell and Wayne Rexin.

From the junior varsity will come several boys who are counted on heavily by Coach Claseman. Possibly the top

Name 2 Hawks To Thumb B All-Star Team

Coaches of the Thumb B Conference selected an all-conference team at a meeting held Monday night and Cass City was honored with two spots on the dream team. Caro and League Champion Bad Axe dominated the selections with four and three men, respectively, on the first eleven.

Representing Cass City were two backs, Larry Robinson and Dick Cresson. Robinson was the type player that could fill in anywhere and do a good job. He opened the season at quarter and then went to fullback. He was picked on the dream team at guard for his ability as a line-backer.

Dick Cresson led Cass City's offense and was the Hawks' most dangerous break-away threat.

Rounding out the first eleven were: ends, Ross Hanson, Bad Axe, and Gerald Blank, Sandusky; tackles, Wayne Emery and Ray Matestic, both of Caro; guard, Mike Cottick, Bad Axe; center, Dick Widdows, Sandusky, and Theron Dan Guigard, Bad Axe, and Backs, Don Turner and Gordon Knowles, both of Caro.

Second team

One Cass City player was named to the second team. He was Chuck Seeley at guard. Others selected were: ends, Dick Engle, Bad Axe, and Gary Miller, Caro; tackles, Dick Kervin and Lee McDowell, both of Bad Axe; guard, Floyd Schmitt, Bad Axe; center, Pete Frye, Vassar, and backs, Tom MacAlpine and Al Hask, both of Bad Axe; Steve Kovacs, Caro, and Jack Provost, Sandusky.

Named to the honorable mention list from Cass City were Jerry Hillaker, Jim Marshall and Roger Parker.

Community Chest Deadline Set For This Week

Latest figures released by Elkland-Novesta Community Chest chairman, Willis Campbell, show that $4,803.80 has been contributed to this year's drive. The goal is $7,500.

It is expected that the drive will be completed by this week, according to Mr. Campbell. Eleven envelopes are still out in Cass City and an equal number are out in the country.

For the past 13 years, the drive has always gone over its quota.

RECOVERY SLOW. Mrs. Harvey Linderman, Cass City, keeps busy by crocheting, a hobby she picked up during her long stay at an Alpena hospital. She and her father, William Rogers, were injured in an accident that took the lives of her daughter and her mother on November 20, 1960. (Chronicle photo)

Recovery Slow from Tragic Accident

It's been a long slow road to recovery for Mrs. Harvey Linderman whose legs were shattered in a tragic automobile accident near Alpena . . . the same accident that took the lives of her daughter and her mother.

Coupled with the intense physical pain of long hospitalization was the emotional trauma of the death of two of the persons closest to her. Killed in the accident, which left her with two fractured legs and multiple lacerations, were her two-year-old daughter, Ruth Ann, and her mother, Mrs. William Rogers.

The accident took place near Alpena on November 20, 1960, when a car driven by her father, William Rogers, left the road and hit a tree. Mr. Rogers suffered lacerations and a broken hip.

Recovery began with three and a half months in traction at Alpena General Hospital. First, however, steel pins had to be driven into her legs, her leg fractures set and 24 stitches were required to close a scalp wound.

Next there was a month and a half at home in bed, followed by three months in a wheel chair. Now, since September, with the aid of crutches, she can do some of her household, leaving the majority of it to her children.

"The first two weeks were the worst," she recalls. "The rest is patience . . . just getting well and knowing God is right there with you."

Relatives and neighbors took over household duties during those first months while she was in the hospital and even after she came home, they continued to help. "I feel like I owe a lot of people a lot of things," she says.

"I used to work pretty good, I sure hope I can get back to it . . . I don't feel worth very much this way." With the aid of her crutches, she washes dishes, bakes cakes and pies, mends on and mends. She hopes to be rid of the crutches by next spring.

During the interview, she kept busy by crocheting, a hobby she learned while in the hospital.

The 44-year-old housewife lives on a 200-acre farm with her husband and four of her seven children. At home are William, 21, Norma Jean, 13, and the twins, Helen and Harvey, 11. Three of her daughters are married, Mrs. Ron Peters, Argyle; Mrs. William Woodard and Mrs. Hazen Roberts, both of Cass City.

Mr. Linderman concentrates his farming on cash crops -- wheat and corn -- a few pigs and runs a small lumber business on the side.

What about the death of her daughter and her mother . . . how does she feel? Mrs. Linderman has remained philosophical through the whole ordeal.

"It comes back to you every day, especially when you lose someone. It's awfully sharp. I can only think it must be for a reason . . . only the Good Lord knows why."

She and her baby were riding in the back seat of the car with her father and mother up front. She was knocked unconscious by the crash and when she regained consciousness, she recalls seeing her daughter on the ground.

"I heard someone say she was gone and I knew at least she wasn't going to suffer."

She wasn't told until the next day that her mother had died.

"She was awfully sick before the accident, we thought she had cancer. In my mind, I felt relief for her and I knew she'd be with Ruth Ann and they'd be together."

While in the hospital, she received many letters, nearly 900. "They helped me a lot," she reminisced.

What about the future, now that she is back home? "It's good to be back," she says, "but there is always that vacant chair . . ."

BUCK LUCK

James Lefler, Cass City, got an eight-point buck Wednesday at Argyle with a 20-foot shot. The deer dressed out at 155 pounds.

Wayne Whittaker, Cass City, brought down an eight-point, 196 1/2-pound buck Wednesday with a 40-yard shot.

Robert Brown, Tyre, got his six-point buck at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday. The deer, shot eight miles east and one and a half north of Cass City, dressed out at 160 pounds.

Lyle Deneen, Cass City, shot a six-point buck Wednesday morning at 7:30 a.m. near Skidway. He dropped the 140-pound deer with a 50-foot shot.

Calvin McIntosh, Cass City, shot a seven-point buck about 9:00 a.m. the first day of hunting season near Lewistown.

Joe Schmidt shot a seven-point, 175-pound buck south of Cass City on Friday.

William Slaughter brought home a big 16-point buck that he shot one and a half miles south of Cass City on River Road.

Special Service At Scientist Church

Expressions of gratitude for God's goodness by members of the congregation will highlight the Thanksgiving Day service of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Caro.

The service opens with the singing of a hymn from the Christian Science hymnal. The First Reader, Victor M. Guernsey, will read the Thanksgiving Day Proclamation of the President of the United States.

Scriptural readings in the special lesson-sermon on the subject of "Thanksgiving" includes verses from II Corinthians.

Charity may cover a multitude of sins but the meddler always uncovers some new ones.

Learn to face adversity, and you can stand prosperity if it happens to come your way.

Even hard work and perspiration won't work unless mixed with a little intelligence.

SO TRUE

The days are growing shorter—just like the savings of the man who has been on vacation. Sometimes the banquet speaker is a good talker, but he has an impediment in his thoughts.

Look ahead and prepare—don't look back at the past and regret.

IT SEEMS TO ME

Just Who Is Our Enemy Anyway?

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

A story doing the rounds in diplomatic circles is about a Himalayan named Singh. He loved to 'mitch' -- which in his native tongue meant to 'sing.' A U.S. aid program helped establish a television station in his country, and one of the hit shows was "Mitch Along With Singh."

Which reminds me of a rumor I overheard to the effect that one of our nation's leading rock 'n' roll singers is being forced to retire. Seems his adenoids healed!

That ends this column's brief excursion into interests cultural.

I read something in one of the Detroit dailies, about our present cold war tensions, that made sense -- it seems to me. We often wonder why our European friends are so reluctant about contributing troops and money to NATO -- a military organization designed to keep them safe from any military action against them by Russia. The article pointed out that most of Europe sees the dread enemy -- not as Russia -- but Germany. Twice in half a century German troops have overrun much of Europe. These nations view with grave foreboding any enlargement of German power or of German armed forces.

Think about it for a moment and you will see that this could be true. Terrible things were done in occupied countries by German troops. These terrible things are not easily viewed with objectivity. Memories are emotional. So when we are tempted to be critical remember that those are the nations whose homes were demolished, whose families were sorely treated by the Nazis -- when Russia was our ally.

How easily alignments shift. Look back to WWII. Our enemies: Germany, Italy, Japan. Our allies: France, Great Britain, Russia (primarily). Look how the teams have shifted! You have to have a program to tell the players. No wonder the small nations are confused. We, who pledged that Germany and Japan would never be great military powers again, have in recent years insisted that they build up arms and men to fight against Communism. Can you make sense out of all this?

Reading is coming back! This was the consensus of book publishers at a convention recently. Since the coming of television to our homes, libraries and book-sellers have experienced dwindling interest in the printed page. Now the trend is changing, sparked in some measure by the availability of good books at a reasonable price, bound in paper.

The recall from his post as commander of our forces and subsequent resignation of his commission by one General Walker has interesting ramifications. The right wingers are trying to project a martyr role for this able commander whose recall resulted from his violation of military regulations mostly having to do with political activities. Some are drawing comparisons of this incident to President Truman's recall of another general, Douglas MacArthur. At the heart of the problem is the continual chafing of high level military men at being subject to civilian control. This is basic to the American way of life and the Secretary of the Army is to be commended for his sane and fair handling of the issue. Or so it seems to me.

Be Careful With Old License Plates

Secretary of State James M. Hare warned Michigan drivers buying new license plates to destroy or mutilate their old, but still valid, license plates and tabs.

"The old green and gold plates with their 1961 tabs can be used until midnight on February 28, 1962," Hare said. "When buyers of 1962 licenses mount their 1962 green and white plates they often fail to destroy their discarded license. Criminal elements in the community can pick up such plates, attach them to a vehicle, and steal the vehicle, use it for a joy ride, or use it in committing a crime."

Because the original owner doesn't know it is being misused, nobody reports the "missing number" and the police have difficulty in apprehending the thieves, or in checking out chiselers who may be using someone else's plates on an old jalopy for a free hundred days of no-fee driving. Hare suggested that all persons keep their old plates in their basements or other reasonably secure place until March 1, or that they tin-snip them in half to avoid their being used illegally before tossing them into a trash can. He pointed out that every year a few innocent people have some unpleasant explaining to do to enforcement officers when "their plates have been reported on a vehicle involved in a crime, a hit-run accident, or a teenagers rumble."

The fellow who learns to swallow his words in time seldom has cause to eat them.

CAN YOU IDENTIFY THESE PICTURES OF A LOCAL FARM TAKEN ABOUT THE TURN OF THE CENTURY?*Indians In Evergreen?

The fact that Indian arrowheads have been found in the soil proves that Indian hunters once roamed the wood of Evergreen Township. The Cass River undoubtedly served them as a highway.

Some Indians were here when the first settlers came. One group used to camp in the woods near the river on the George Jones place. They came each spring for a number of years. Some were basket weavers.

At one time, when a Mr. Proctor had gone for supplies and had been absent for four days his wife became sick; her supply of wood had run low when an old Indian came along. He could not speak English but, recognizing her need, stopped to chop some wood and stayed to help until Mr. Proctor returned. The Indian spent the nights stretched out on the floor before the fire. Certainly his good deed would indicate that not all Indians were bad Indians!

About 1905, the last Indian camp was made on the east bank of the "Deadwater" section of the Cass River (in Section 18 just west of the bridge on M-58). An Indian, familiarly known as "Old Indian Dave", had camped at this spot for many years with his son John and a nephew.

Dave made whipposts, bows and arrows for sale; the nephew made baskets and John did the hunting. For many years Jason Kitchen had one of the whipposts that he bought for ten cents. Margaret Parrott Dunlap has a little hatchet that "Old Indian Dave" gave to her when she was a young girl. There are many others who have warm memories of this friendly Indian.

For instance, there is the experience the Sam Wheatons had with Indian Dave. Dave was sitting outside the Wheaton house quietly working on a task while his son John was out hunting with his dog. Mr. Wheaton, hearing the barking of a dog, said, "Dave, I hear the dog barking; sounds like he has a bear." No response. Mr. Wheaton repeated his remark several times. Finally, without looking up from his work, Dave answered, "My son kotch him; my son kotch him." In a little while the dog came around a bend in the bank of the river, followed by John who was carrying a woodchuck.

That the Indians ate the woodchuck was evident when Dave came to the Wheaton house a little later asking for a chicken because woodchuck meat was too strong for his stomach.

"Old Indian Dave" was a colorful character. We'll be glad to hear from anyone who can give us more information about this man who walked for a time on the pages from the past.

WOOLEN MILLS

Cass City

This is an item gleaned from the Cass City Enterprise of 1898, heading a short column of liner advertisements.

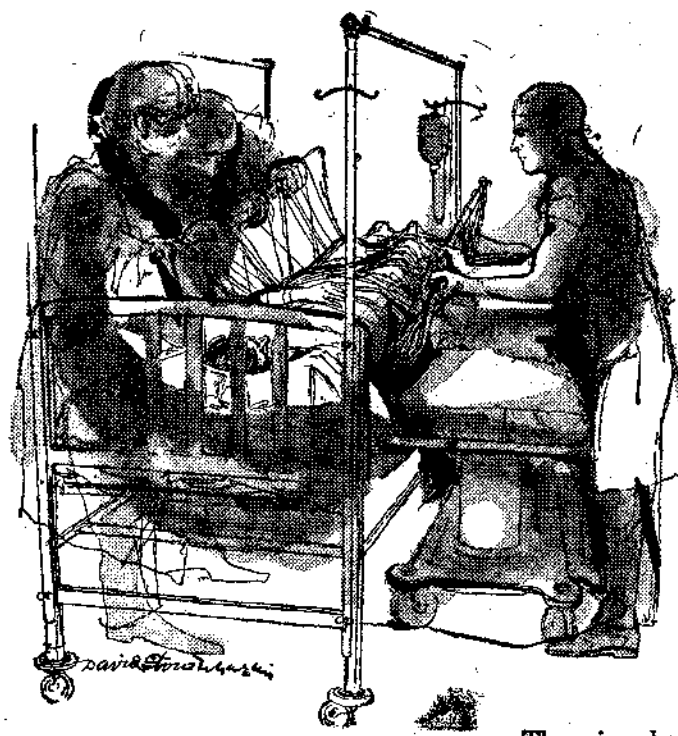

Doesn't this start you thinking along a number of different lines? Who knows the whole story about the woolen mills? What it did? And what under the sun would they be doing with that much wood if some enterprising woodsman did fill the

STATE INVITES IMMIGRANTS

In 1881, per the recommendation of Governor David H. Jerome, the state legislature provided for a commissioner of immigration -- who initiated a pamphlet entitled "Michigan and Its Resources" -- this pamphlet, translated into German, Dutch, French and Swedish, was given wide circulation and was credited with bringing many immigrants to the state.

It listed wages and prices and some of these are interesting to read. Carpenters were paid $2 to $3 a day, bricklayers $2.50 to $3, woodcutters $22 to $26 a month with board, farm hands $16 to $25 a month with board and female domestics $1.50 to $3.50 per week with board. Prices were low -- with the Upper Peninsula generally higher than Detroit. Roast beef was quoted at ten to sixteen cents a pound, fresh pork ten to fifteen cents, chickens eight to eighteen cents, butter twenty to thirty-five cents, coffee fourteen to thirty, sugar ten to twelve and a half, potatoes forty cents to a dollar a bushel, milk was four to eight cents a quart, eggs twelve to thirty cents a dozen and board could be had for $3 to $5 per week.

While Michigan was eager to attract industrious immigrants it wanted to discourage the slothful; therefore, one issue of the pamphlet (1893) carried the following warning: "Emigrants who float in with the tide will not find Michigan their El Dorado... The Lord hates a lazy man, and the law takes care of the dishonest. Michigan is a hive of industry with no use for drones."

Will $500 cover this emergency?

At a moment like this, you shouldn't even have to stop and think about cost. And with Blue Cross-Blue Shield comprehensive coverage, you don't. The care that is needed is there. Whether it is a $500 hospital bill or 10 times that, or more, you're covered. This is the essential difference in Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection. It provides benefits in hospital and medical services... not in terms of dollars. It provides care. Isn't this really what health protection is for?

There is only one Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Don't settle for less. If you have never looked into the many advantages of Blue Cross-Blue Shield membership, do it now. Just call the enrollment specialist in your area.

It's wonderful to be cared for Virtually every acre of forest, game, fish and recreational land owned by the State of Michigan is "taxed" in one way or another. Strictly speaking, the Department does not pay taxes on this land but rather it makes "payments in lieu of taxes" to local units of government. In recent years, these payments have totaled nearly $800,000 annually, and like everybody's tax bill, they go up every year. Money for the payments comes from the Department's General Fund. The Department is "taxed" by the State of Michigan for the privilege of holding and managing the land and fishing license fees (see graph).—Mich. Dept. of Conservation

F. B. Committee Women Install New Officers

Tuscola County Farm Bureau Women met Nov. 15 at the home of Mrs. Clark Montague in Caro with 28 present.

During the business meeting, Chairman Mrs. Clare Carpenter installed Mrs. Earl Targett, Caro, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Nellie Cooper, Kingston, treasurer. Girls were presented to retiring officers Mrs. H. Daenzer, Millington, and Mrs. Bessie Monte, Caro.

Mrs. Mack Little, safety chairman, urged members to refrain from reaching to pills and medicines as candy, as this practice leads to accidental poisoning of children.

Mrs. Eldon Bruce spoke of the Farm City Week, Nov. 17-24, and suggested ways to promote a better understanding between rural and urban people.

25th Anniversary

To be Celebrated With Open House

Open house will be held Sunday, Nov. 26, honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Lounsbury, Royal Oak. The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. Gladys Lounsbury, 6612 Cass City Road, Cass City, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Mr. Lounsbury was born in Cass City and Mrs. Lounsbury, the former Margaret Morse, was born in Gagetown. They were married at home by Rev. Terrilliger. Mr. Lounsbury is employed at Higgins Pontiac, Royal Oak.

The party will be given by their four children, Mrs. Alvin (Barbara) Hutchinson, Mrs. James (Alice) Halsey, Sharon and Jack.

Growing Elk Herd Poses Problems

Eradicated from Michigan in the wake of the early lumbering era, elk have regained part of their former niche in the state's wildlife picture. In 1918, about 20 of these big animals were released in the Pigeon River area which lies generally east of Vanderbilt. Today, the protected elk herd, estimated at 1,200-1,500 animals, has spread beyond this area. Massive and majestic, these animals have become strong drawing cards for tourists. Their steady growth in numbers has, however, been accompanied by rising damage complaints from foresters and farmers. It is possible that some form of control will be needed in the near future to cut down elk damage and keep the herd in better balance with all interests, including game.—Mich. Dept. of Conservation

The monthly meeting of the Cass City Zonta Club, held at the New Gordon Hotel Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, was highlighted by the sale of a pound bag of beans for $8.30.

The beans were sold by Mrs. Marie Krueger who auctioned them to the highest bidder. The Chinese auction was instigated by the Cass City Lions Club which furnished the beans and will receive half of the money for their Sight Conservation Program. The remainder will stay with the Zontians to swell the club's treasury.

Top bidder for the beans was Mrs. Helen Agar. Miss Agnes Milligan totaled the bids.

In the business meeting the club completed plans for the annual Senior Citizens Christmas party slated at the hotel Sunday, Dec. 10.

Mrs. Susan Dyer of Midland, area one director, was the guest speaker. She was accompanied by Miss Koepfgen, also of Midland, who is a native of the Cass City area.

Mrs. Gerald T. Kappen

The Rev. Father Frank McLaughlin officiated at the double marriage ceremony of Catherine Mary Beckett and Gerald T. Kappen in St. Agatha's Church, Gagetown, Saturday, Nov. 4.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beckett of Gagetown and Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Halliday of Detroit.

Cathy, given in marriage by her father, was fashioned in a floor-length bridal gown of Chantilly lace. A tiered skirt and sweetheart neckline, trimmed with sequins and pearls, accented the gown. A Swedish type crown highlighted with aurora crystal beads held her elbow-length bouffant veil of pure silk imported English illusion. Atop a white prayer book, she carried roses and Stephanotis.

Miss Charlene Beckett served as her sister's maid of honor. She was attired in a magenta nylon gown with a crushed cummerbund, scrolled sequin trim and streamer panels. Her white fur headpiece matched the muffs trimmed with roses which she carried.

David Logas served as best man and ushers were brothers of the bride, Patrick and Paul Beckett.

Mrs. Raymond Toohy was organist and soloist.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Beckett chose a black wool knit dress complemented with white accessories. Mrs. Halliday, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of champagne silk with taupe hat, gloves and shoes.

Flowers for both mothers were white roses.

Following the ceremony, an afternoon dinner and reception were held at Martin's dining room in Cass City.

After a short honeymoon trip through Northern Michigan, the newlyweds now reside three miles south and four miles west of Cass City.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Cass City and the bridegroom, a 1959 graduate of Caro. He is presently employed at the LaPeer State Hospital.

Couple Exchanges Marriage Vows

The Good Shepherd Lutheran Church was the scene of an all velvet wedding Saturday, Nov. 4, when Mary Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sattelberg, became the bride of Bruce Richmond of Pigeon. The afternoon ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Heilmann before an altar banked with gladioli and candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white velvet gown and carried a prayer book which was given to her at her confirmation by the Rev. A. W. Wilkening. Her illusion fingertip veil fell from a crown of pearls. She also wore a strand of pearls. An orchid topped her prayer book.

Maid of Honor Beatrice Salowitz chose a red velvet gown with matching headpiece. She carried a fur muffs topped with an American Beauty rose.

Violet Sattelberg, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid in blue velvet. She also carried a muffs topped with a rose.

Ralph Richmond Jr., brother of the groom, was best man. Karl De Simpeleau, cousin of the bride, was attendant.

Guests were seated by Fred Richmond, brother of the groom, and Gerald Sattelberg, cousin of the bride.

A reception for 350 guests was held at the Arbeiter Hall in Sebawaing after which the couple left on their wedding trip.

Guests were present from Tonawanda, New York, Detroit, Madison Heights, Saginaw, Caro, Unionville, Pigeon, Caseville, Bay Port and Snover.

The couple will live on a farm near Pigeon.

General Telephone Authorized to Increase Rates

General Telephone has been authorized by the Michigan Public Service Commission to increase its annual revenues by $2,478,000, according to a release from the company.

District Manager H. F. Janson, Cass City, stated in an interview that he didn't have enough information on the increase to state how it would affect local users.

He added, however, that he is scheduled to attend a meeting and that he should then be able to report to the Chronicle on any rate change.

An earlier request of $4 million was asked but was later reduced to $3.23 million. The money is needed for a substantial improvement and expansion program, taxes, depreciation and financing costs.

Citing a 1961 construction program of approximately $18 million, Company President T. A. Saunders stated in the release, "We will make every effort to maintain our construction program designed to achieve 100 per cent automatic dial operation by the end of 1962, without any substantial change."

Accept responsibility when it happens your way—try to find a more efficient way of doing your work, not running away from it.

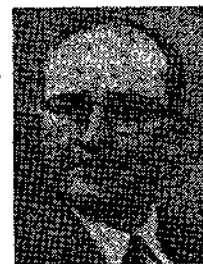

Cass City Man on Aircraft Carrier

Harland J. Wilson, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wilson of Cass City, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Independence, now on duty with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The ship recently visited Cannes, France, for six days, giving crewmen the chance to visit such places as Nice, Monte Carlo and Grasse, the perfume center of France.

Other ports-of-call for the carrier have been Athens, Greece; Istanbul, Turkey, and Rhodes, Greece. The ship is scheduled to return to its Norfolk, Va., home port in mid-December.

Extension Group Studies Paintings

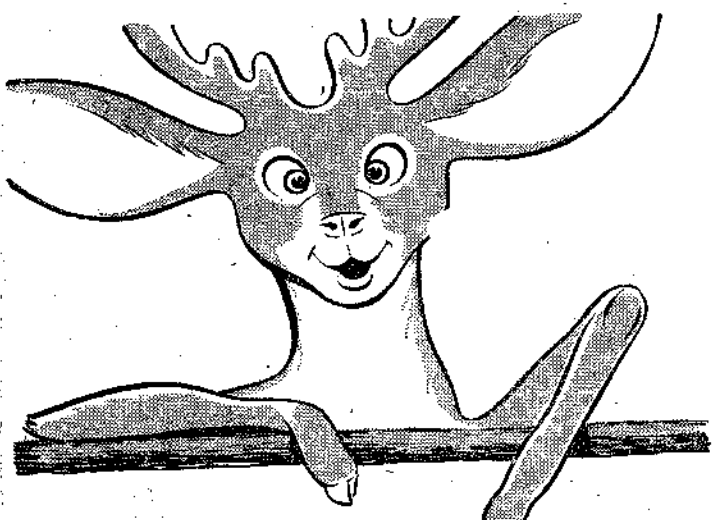

Nine members and three guests of the Elmwood Extension group met at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Salgat Nov. 15 at 1:30 p.m. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Mrs. William Anker. A report of the Council meeting was given by Council Member Mrs. Ada Salgat. Roll call was answered by naming an artist and a picture he painted. The lesson, "Understanding and Interpretation of Paintings," was given by Mrs. Inez Beach and Mrs. Frankie Anker.

Fifteen dozen cookies were donated for the Saginaw Veterans Hospital for Sunday, Nov. 19.

WANDERING WITH WARREN

Emerson Wrote Thanksgiving Prayer

By Ilene Warren

I've met my match when it comes to wandering! Renee, the baby girl who lives at our house, has taken to rolling and giggling so successfully that she has become able to wander over the floor in just about any direction she chooses. First the wastebasket attracted her; next she discovered if she maneuvered properly she could kick her feet against the lower half of the TV console; finally, she located a throw rug and what fun it was to lie on it, catch hold of one end and then roll over until she was tangled in it! It was right then that we decided we'd have to get a playpen - for her protection as well as our peace of mind! And the sooner the better before she became too used to the freedom of the floor and the pen seem a prison to her. Thus it was that Ron, my husband, brought home from Toledo a fine playpen (40x40) for Renee and she seems to enjoy it almost as much as she did wandering around on the floor!

Renee was six months old the ninth of this month - we think she's pretty smart. She gets up on her hands and knees in the playpen and rocks back and forth although she hasn't tried to creep yet! She sits alone - and in her teeterbabe she makes us worry about bowed-legs because she insists upon standing up while she empties the tray of toys in the hope that one of her slaves will come and pick them up for her! She jabsbers a blue streak - and I do mean blue. At times (not too often, thank goodness) when she shows a bit of temper her chatter sounds almost profane!

A few weeks ago in this column, I wrote that we were going to do away with Renee's one o'clock "Bottle Command." We've been successful. The first night, she cried and scolded for nearly an hour (weren't we mean?) before she faded into a soft croon that lulled her back to sleep. The next night the session lasted about ten minutes. The third night she roused up, mumbled a little and returned to slumberland. Since then, it's been four weeks now, she's been practically an angel about sleeping at night. We just hope she'll be as easy to train in other ways!

At this Thanksgiving Season each one of us has much to be thankful for - and this in spite of the troubled times in which we live.

For a small instance, since I've been writing about her, I am thankful that Renee has come to our house - and whether she stays for a short time or a long while, I'll be thankful for the time she is here.

Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote the following - it is an appropriate prayer of thanksgiving: For each new morning with its light,

Father, we thank Thee, For the rest and shelter of the night,

Father, we thank Thee, For health and food, for love and friends,

For everything Thy goodness sends,

Father, in heaven, we thank Thee.

State Sales Tax Cost Average Consumer Nearly $45 During Last Fiscal Year

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Residents of Michigan paid an average of $44.95 each in sales taxes during the fiscal year which ended June 30, according to the Revenue Department.

The previous year's per capita sales tax collections were $41.40. Revenue officials said most of the increase was due to the new four per cent rate, rather than increased retail sales.

Eighteen counties recorded per capita collections higher than the state average. Of these, 10 were tourist centers and eight contained large metropolitan areas.

Roscommon County, classed as a tourist center, has the smallest permanent population among the 18 above-average counties, but led the list with $64.28 per person collections. This was the 10th consecutive year the north central county held this position.

Cheboygan County, another northern location which draws heavily on tourist business, was at the bottom of the counties above the state average with $46.21 per capita. The Council pointed this would indicate 1962 will bring a surplus but said it did not "share this optimism."

Michigan's deficit was above the $65 million mark in the 1960-61 fiscal year. This was the highest since the "cash crisis" of 1959.

Revenues from the increased sales and use taxes to date this year were below estimates and the last months fell below the collections last year when compared proportionately to the 1960 three per cent rate, said Revenue Commissioner Clarence W. Lock.

If Michigan's historical cycle is to continue its pattern of the last 15 years, the state will have a financial surplus in 1962, but most of the experts predict a break in the cycle.

A Citizens Research Council report showed Michigan's treasury recorded surpluses in the period from 1946-49 and 1954-57. Deficits were on the books in 1950-53 and 1958-61.

Grand Traverse with $61.92, Emmet with $60.04, Osego with $54.19, Crawford with $52.83, Clare with $48.87, Wexford with $47.77, Isco with $47.26 and Mackinaw with $46.51.

Counties with metropolitan areas on the list were Ingham with $55.04, Kent with $52.92, Kalamazoo with $50.39, Oakland with $48.81, Wayne with $48.27, Calhoun with $47.34, Bay with $46.91 and Genesee with $46.37.

Other tourist counties with above average collections were Some bright spots were noted in the October collections, when auto sales taxes rose markedly. Lock said "a strong boom" would be required if the $462 million revenue estimate was to be reached and "a noticeable boost" would be necessary if income was to equal the $432 million budget approved by the 1961 Legislature.

New taxes might be inevitable, the Research Council said. Lock steered away from any prediction on this question, and legislative budget writers said they could not take a stand on it at this time.

The 1962 Legislature will be hard pressed to make do with current revenues but ways to eliminate the mounting deficit will also be of primary concern.

Four proposals considered in past years by the Legislature after urging by law enforcement and safety officials were the focal points this year in a series of regional traffic safety conferences called by Gov. John B. Swainson.

Meetings at Sturgis, Muskegon, Birmingham, Houghton, Alpena and Cadillac under the auspices of the State Safety Commission discussed any and all phases of traffic safety of interest at the local level.

Gerald W. Shipman, executive secretary of the state commission, said the four points were emphasized by all-enforcement officials as well as safety-minded private citizens who attended.

A stronger chemical test with "implied consent" was emphasized first. Current law requires written consent to administer the tests.

Vehicle safety inspections by state-designated service stations should be written into the law, the conferees said. Discussions recommended State Police be authorized to check abuses of the law.

A joint traffic safety study committee in the Legislature was suggested to "filter out worthy proposals for bills and resolutions."

assemble traffic safety information and make long range plans to meet the growing traffic safety problems.

The fourth proposal, ranking in controversy perhaps with the chemical test recommendation, called for expansion of the 12-point violation system to all drivers.

Juveniles are exempt from the point system under provisions of the probate code. Most juvenile authorities in the past contended this exemption should remain in the law.

News From Greenleaf Area

Tuesday morning Anson Karr, Frederick Powell, Sanford Powell and Ike Lee of Lamotte Chambers left to hunt deer near Atlanta. Keith Karr and Carl Nelson of Detroit joined them for the week end.

Wednesday the Ladies Aid of Fraser met at the church for dinner and quilting. A committee of four women, Mrs. Ronald Fox, Mrs. George Fisher Sr., Mrs. Henry McLellan and Mrs. Pete Riestra, served a turkey dinner to 60 guests. The next meeting will be Dec. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Riestra and family are moving to the house on the farm of Mrs. Ira Brinker, north of Old Greenleaf Corners.

Paul Soini of Bad Axe was guest speaker at Fraser Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher Jr. and family have moved from the trailer house on his father's farm to the Bukowski farm house, one mile north and a half mile east of Old Greenleaf.

Mrs. Roger Forster and sons are staying with her parents,

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Profit, while Mr. Forster is hunting. Mr. and Mrs. Clem Briolat left Tuesday for hunting in the north. The Men's Council of Fraser met Thursday night at the church for a business meeting. Friday evening a combined meeting of Uby and Fraser pulpits committee was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wills.

Former Cass City Teacher Dies

Edith Carlin, former Cass City teacher, died October 11 at her sister's home in Rahway, New Jersey. Her sister is Mrs. N. G. Loos.

Miss Carlin, considered one of the best teachers ever to teach at Cass City, taught French and history from 1936 to 1942. She was recently teaching in New Jersey.

MEA Meeting Next Monday in Akron

The Tuscola County District of the Michigan Education Association (MEA) will hold a district meeting in Akron, November 27, at 7:30 p.m.

Highlight of the program will be a discussion of the proposed revision of the MEA constitution.

Eight 4-H'ers Attend Chicago Show

Eight outstanding Tuscola County 4-H Club members are in Chicago this week attending the International Livestock Show and the National 4-H Club Congress as county winners in the 4-H Award program.

Two of the 4-H Club members are Ruth Anne McConnell and Judith Ruppert, winners of the Editor's Award for their leadership activities.

Ruth Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McConnell of Akron. She has completed seven years of 4-H Club work. She has served as president of the 4-H '61-ers Club, president of the County 4-H Service Club, and several officers in her local club. She has been very active in the foods, clothing and leadership programs. She has been outstanding in the demonstration program. In 1960 she received a trip to the National 4-H Center as winner of the State Demonstration.

Judith, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ruppert of Akron, is the other Junior Leader to receive the leadership award. Judy has been active in foods, clothing, small crafts and crops. She has attended the State Junior Leadership school, and has won the County Dress Revue for the past two years.

This year's winner of the Dairy Award is Diane Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster of Fairgrove. Besides being active in Dairy, Diane has had projects in freezing, foods, clothing and the Junior leadership program. She has also given a county winning demonstration.

The winner of the Livestock Award is Eugene Palmreuter of Vassar. Eugene is the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Palmreuter. He is well known in the county. He has been a Livestock Showman for the past 10 years. He has also been active in crops. He has held several offices in his local club, the Richville Community 4-H Club.

The Achievement winners are Adeline Osegner and Ruth Nellet. Adeline is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Schmidt of Unionville. Adeline has been active in a variety of projects including conservation, foods, automotive and vegetable gardening. She has attended the State Junior Leadership school, and the State 4-H show. She has been on the County Crops and Garden judging teams and she placed second in the State Automotive program.

Ruth Nellet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nellet of Akron, is the other Achievement winner. She has been active in gardening and crops programs. She has attended the National Safety Conference in Chicago as winner of the State Demonstration in Home Safety and she is the secretary of the County 4-H Service Club.

Ray Ruppert and John Fischer are representing the Crops program. Ray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruppert of Fairgrove and he has been active in crops, electrical and conservation programs. He is active in the County 4-H Service Club, and the '61-ers Club. He is also a Junior Leader.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fischer of Gagetown. He has been active in crops and dairy programs and has held several offices in his local club.

While in Chicago, the group will visit the Chicago Board of Trade, the Art Museum, the Museum of Science and Industry, Maxwell Street, and several other points of interest. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Foster Hickey and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Kirk of Fairgrove, 4-H Club Leaders.

The trip is sponsored by: Fullmer Stock Yard; Clark Canning Co.; Farm Bureau Women; Michigan Bean Company; DHIA and ABA's; and the Civic Clubs of the County, Reese; Caro and Cass City Rotary Clubs, Cass City Gavel Club, Fairgrove Business Men's Club, Cass City Lion's Club, Jaycees of Caro, Exchange Club of Caro, and Cass City Chamber of Commerce.

Live within your income—it's a sure way to avoid excitement.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

Maybe your memory is better than mine but I can't recollect a important domestic problem our Government has actual solved in the last 20 years. Whenever we get one, which is about ever day, them Congressmen just subsidizes it and passes on to someone else.

For that reason, I perked up when I read where Congressman Carroll Kearns was trying to meet one problem head-on. According to the papers, he is trying to get a committee appointed by the Congress to count the gold reserves at Fort Knox about twice a year to see if it's all there.

Now there, Mister Editor, is a Solomon if I ever saw one. Grand larceny gets easier and easier as the dollar gets cheaper and cheaper and it's got so a feller has to set on a revolving piano stool to keep a eye on what's happening to the taxpayers money. Things has come to such a pass in Washington that we now got investigators investigating the investigators.

Even the Government office help is getting mighty careless about money. I was reading, for instance, where a feller in South Carolina got a $10 bill with the signatures printed upside down on it. How he ever kept it long enough to notice it, I don't know, but it just goes to show how careless they're getting in Washington with money. I'm strong in favor of counting the gold bricks at Fort Knox twice a year. In fact, if I had my druthers I'd druther they'd count 'em about twice a month.

Another thing I'm in favor of, Mister Editor, is this plan of the income tax folks to have the citizens knowed by the number instead of by name. When they pick mine I hope they'll take my Army serial number in World War I, my Social Security number, my telephone number and my old lady's age, put 'em all in a poke, shake well and git me a good one. I aim to use it from now on for my official signature on everything, letters, checks, bank notes and letters to my Congressman.

Come to think about it, I might even order my old lady to have it put on my tombstone. It'd save a few dollars on the burial expenses. Instead of putting a long rignmarole, just let the stone cutter chisel, "Here Lays X2M-47652."

I see by the papers where them Russians has used up so much barbed wire to keep folks from defecting to West Berlin that the East German farmers and ranchers is complaining they can't git enough fer their pasture fences. They say milk is hard to git in East Germany and when their cows starts defecting, c'le Khrushchev is in real trouble. In a manner of speaking, Mister Editor, I hope them East German cows will milk this situation for all it's worth.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Orson Hyde will observe their golden wedding anniversary at the Decker Masonic Hall, Saturday, Dec. 1.

Harvey Fleming of Snover should qualify as one of the most successful hunters in the Cass City area. Mr. Fleming, 61, went deer hunting on his farm on Leslie road for the first time in his life Thursday. Armed with an old 12-gauge shotgun, he spotted a six-pointer headed his way across a pasture. When the buck was about 150 feet away he took dead aim and dropped the buck in its tracks with a neck shot.

After 44 years of carrying mail from the Cass City Post Office, Guy Landon has announced that he will retire Dec. 1.

Two foreign students who are attending the English language school at Ann Arbor were expected to arrive Wednesday evening to spend the holiday week end with the Rev. and Mrs. M. R. Vender. Both students, Jitsugo Honda of Japan and Javad Minoo of Iran, are teachers of English in their home countries. They will be with the Venders till Sunday afternoon.

Ten Years Ago

Joe Babich, who lives one mile south and two miles west of Deford, captured a big, eight-point buck in the afternoon of the first day of the season. It weighs an estimated 225 pounds. Babich reports that he has been hunting for five years and has bagged his buck every year.

Annette Pinney of Cass City will be one of some 400 selected high school students to perform at the Midwestern Music Conference to be held on the University of Michigan Campus Nov. 20 to Dec. 2.

John Warrington has a hand carved solid silver badge in his collection that is rapidly developing into a valued collector's item. It is the first badge ever issued to workers on the park and boulevard at Belle Isle, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Kettlewell were in Port Huron Sunday to attend a dinner and gathering in the home of his sister in honor of the 89th birthday of Mr. Kettlewell's father, Robert Kettlewell.

Twenty-five Years Ago

A lovely surprise dinner was given Sunday, Nov. 15, when Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McBurney entertained in honor of the former's mother, Mrs. Jane McBurney's 89th birthday.

Advance parties of Cass City's deer hunting army made themselves comfortable in northern camps the last of the week to be on hand for the opening of the season. Among the hunters to trek north are D. E. Turner and Aaron Turner accompanied by William Wright and C. Spaulding of Elmwood. Arthur (Tommy) Dewey was the first to return to this community with a deer. Glenn Folkert, with Don Gage of Lapeer, left last week to hunt in Northern Michigan. B. A. Elliott and Earl Harris left Saturday to make camp in the vicinity of West Branch. Arthur Little, accompanied by two uncles of Mrs. Little's, left early Sunday morning to hunt deer near Curran.

Marlette was defeated last Friday. This is the first time in years that Cass City has won this honor, and with the opening of the season this year, it looked like an impossibility.

E. M. Sweet was 86 years old on Wednesday, Nov. 17, and all of his children except one son came to spend the day with him.

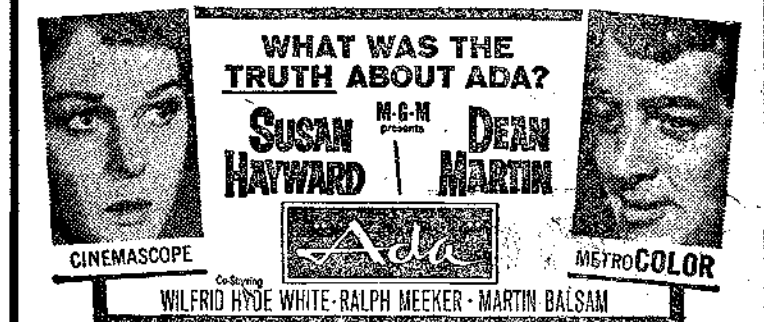

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kinnaird accompanied Mrs. Hugh Kinnaird and daughter, Miss Minnie, and Mrs. Hugh Cooper as far as Flint on their way to Muskegon, Heights. Mrs. Cooper expects to spend some time with Mrs. Kinnaird and daughter at their home there.

Wheat Program Sign-up Deadline Draws Near

Wheat growers have only a short time left in which to complete applications for participation in the 1962 Wheat Stabilization Program, reports George Schian, County ASCS Office Manager.

December 1 will be the final date on which applications can be accepted at the County ASCS Office, Caro.

Any grower who received a 1962 allotment or Marketing Quota exemption notice is eligible to participate in the program. Those growers who do not exceed their allotment of planted acreage will be eligible for price support if they divert the minimum 10 per cent acreage required.

Any wheat producer who was unable to plant at least 75 per cent, or more, of his 1962 wheat acreage allotment, because of adverse weather conditions, (and who has not signed up this acreage in the 1962 Wheat Stabilization Program) will be eligible to receive wheat history acreage credit for this unplanted acreage.

The Tuscola ASCS County Office, however, must be notified, in writing, by December 1, 1961, that you were unable to seed at least 75 per cent of your wheat acreage allotment because of adverse weather conditions.

Agent's Corner

Frances T. Clark
County Home Demonstration Agent

Over 300 people attended the Tuscola county home economics Christmas Tea and Workshop held at the 4-H memorial building last week.

Mrs. Luman Mowry from the Wisner home economics extension group was the chairman. She was helped by the following committee: Mrs. Albert Scherzer of the Richville group, Mrs. Walter Schultz of the Arbela group, Mrs. Robert Hall and Mrs. A. T. Sholly of the Cork Pine group and Mrs. Max Austin of the Wells-Bethel group. The Watrousville group also helped on this Christmas Tea and Workshop.

When people get together, especially women, the cost of living will likely be discussed. The food dollar seems to be the main topic of interest, because everyone is concerned about food costs, in one way or another.

The money the consumer spends for food becomes income to the farmer and to hundreds of people in the food industry. This means that farmers, consumers and market agencies are all interested in how the food dollar is distributed.

The farmer is now getting a smaller share of the consumer's dollar than he was enjoying previously, according to the quarterly marketing and transportation situation report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The term "price spread" puzzles many people. The price spread is the 63-cent difference between what the farmer gets and what the consumer pays for food items. The assembly of products from many different farms, transportation, processing, warehousing, wholesaling and retailing are all part of the cost of selling.

The farm value of the average market basket of farm foods declined five per cent from the first to the second quarter this year. This dip in farmer's prices offset the rise in marketing charges so there was little change in retail prices.

Marketing charges averaged three per cent higher in the same period. Nearly all the rise resulted from increases in marketing costs for beef and fresh fruits plus wage increases.

The retail prices paid by the consumer steadily increased during the past decade for all groups of farm products except poultry and eggs and fats and oils. These rising prices were caused primarily by an ever-widening price spread.

For the market basket of farm foods, total marketing charges in 1960 were 36 per cent higher than the 1947-49 average, and the retail cost was up 12 per cent.
