Increment Boost for Teachers

Board Hikes Salaries $100

Cass City High School teachers' pay increase for length of service will jump from $100 for the first year to $200 as the result of action taken Monday night at a special meeting of teacher-representatives and the Board of Education.

Prior to the new agreement, the teachers received a $100 increment raise after a year's teaching experience. Under the new schedule, this raise will be $200.

In dollars and cents, teachers formerly signed contracts for $4,700 for their second year of teaching. Now the contract figure will be $4,800.

Increment at Cass City extends over a 12-year period. Twelve of the teachers have already passed this point and will receive $100 increases, thereby raising the maximum salary.

Approximately 30 of the teachers are eligible for the full $200 increase. Overall, this means total salary increase of $7,400 for the next year instead of an estimated $3,100.

The decision for the increase came at the end of a two and a half hour meeting during which six members of the Teachers' Club presented the teachers' proposals. Representing the teachers were Jerry Shea, Orion Cardew, Dale Strickland, Mrs. Keith Murphy, Mrs. F. D. Profit and Lila Phipps.

In cementing their arguments for a pay increase, the teachers cited the fact that of 272 schools in the State with the same amount of teachers, 242 had a higher maximum salary than

They reported that teachers as group felt they were suffering more on maximum salary than on beginning salary. Because of this, it was felt that the maximum should be raised near the beginning of teaching.

Besides the salary increase, the teachers asked that the school pay a specified amount towards the cost of insurance. No specific amount was set but a negotiated figure between $50 and $100 was suggested.

The Board turned the proposal down, passing a motion stating that they felt they had done as much as possible considering the school financial condition.

The salary increase, according will be absorbed by the additional $22,000 anticipated for next year's operating expenses. The additional money will be reflected in new students and in the fact that the school will not start the year approximately $17,000 in debt. The increase would take up about one-third of the $22,000.

Three administrators, James Seals, guidance counselor; Eli vice-principal, and Mrs. Paul Murray, elementary principal, were also given pay hikes.

In other business, the board decided to take no action in regard to two letters by Band Director Richard Case, seeking additional supplemental pay for extracurricular acticities and asking to start a summer band Concluded on page eight.

Hawks in Loss to Vassar

Vassar turned the tables on Cass City Friday as they spurted in the last half to record a 62-47 victory. In the first meeting between the two clubs, Cass City won 54-52.

Vassar won because they were able to control the backboards. As in most games this season, the Hawks were unable to get a second shot offensively or stop their opponents from picking up baskets on rebounds while on

Despite the glaring weakness, the game was much closer than the final score indicated.

After trailing for almost three periods, Cass City rallied to tie the score with two minutes left in the third canto.

But the Vulcans rallied and pulled ahead to stay. At the end of the third quarter they were ahead 43-39.

A big 19-8 advantage in the last quarter provided the final margin of victory for Vassar. The game was actually lost in the first quarter when Cass City experienced a cold shooting spell. The club was able to hit for only 12 points while Vassar raced into a 10-point lead.

The Vulcans were paced by AI Murphy who put on a one-man show as he burned the nets for 30 points, mostly on a deadly jump shot from around the foul circle.

Bob Morley with 13 points and Larry Robinson with 11 points were the scoring leaders for Cass City.

JV's Lose

Cass City's Junior Varsity was unable to solve Vassar's pressing zone defense and went down to defeat 42-87. The team was guilty of many floor faults and had trouble bringing the ball down the floor, especially in the first half.

Lights Okay if Merchants Pay

Cass City can have new fluorescent lights on Main Street if merchants want them enough to pay for the cost of installation while the village absorbs the increased cost of electricity.

That was the decision of the council in its regular session Tuesday night when queried by Chamber of Commerce President Gerald Prieskorn.

The Chamber had been told by Detroit Edison Co. that lights for the village would be installed free. However, a closer examination of the local situation revealed that the present lights have not yet been depreciated and for that reason an installation charge of $2,800 will be necessary to install fluorescents. The proposed lights for

Main Street, not including the adjacent alleys, would boost the village's electric bill about $1,000 a year or about 20 per cent more than the $4,500 now being spent for the entire village. If the alleys are included the cost would jump about a third.

For the increased cost, the village would receive about twice the light now on Main Street and about two and a half times more than is now present on the alleys.

President C. R. Hunt all members agreed to the installation if merchants pay the cost of erecting the fixtures. Reasons cited varied: from general improvement of the city to helping the business district keep competitive with neighbring

Grant $80,914.41 In Damage Suit

John Hoornstra, Vassar, seeking damages for a 1960 car accident, was granted $80,914.41 Friday, Feb. 23, by Circuit Court Judge Timothy C. Quinn. The judgment, culminating a three-day, non-jury trial, is reported to be the largest sum ever granted in Tuscola county.

Hoornstra's original claim, filed by his attorney, James Churchill, Vassar, was against Fiddes-Moore and Company for $250,000 for damages incurred when a car in which he was a passenger was struck by a truck under lease to the company.

The accident took place Octob ber 26, 1960, on Van Buren Road, in Richville, when the truck, driven by Harvey E. Sargent, turned across the center line and into the car in which Hoornstra was riding.

CASE OF THE EXPERIENCED SHOPPER Car buyers who insist on buying on price alone are running the risk of coming out second best in a battle of wits with an unethical

How this can happen, even to a buyer who has some experience with the "tricks of the trade" in price shopping, was illustrated once again recently in a case involving a travelling salesman.

When this particular buyer received an allowance quote on his used car some $200 higher than competing dealers he was naturally pleased; though he suspected the figure might be a "highball." That's a fake high price allowance for his used car, offered in the hope of luring the shopper back to the dealer's premises after he has finished his shopping tour. Cantiously, he had the salesman put the offer in writing.

He returned to the dealer some days later to pick up his new car after his price comparison tour convinced him that he was indeed getting a $200 "bargain." It turned out the salesman had made a "mistake." The dealer couldn't possibly offer him that much, and, in any case, the offer hadn't been signed by the proper authority, they, were sorry to say.

Meanwhile, our buyer had told his wife, friends and business as sociates how he had "saved" $200 by some smart bargaining. Caught in the embarrassment of his own story, he bought the car at a price somewhat higher than a reputable dealer had offered him, rather than confess he had been outsmarted.

We don't do business this way. Our offer is "firm". It includes all taxes, etc. We do not charge tax twice (often happens), nor charge extra for the wheels. Never add anything after the deal is made, regardless of how long it takes to get the car, though your used carhas gone down in the meantime.

To make it short, we give you a "Fair Shake". Otherwise we wouldn't be nearing our 25th Anniversary. You wouldn't come back again and again, for which our Thanks!!!!

101.74 At the annual meeting of the Tuscola Co. Farm Bureau, held October 25, 1961, the following resolutions were acceled adopted: 46.25 adopted:
1. Resolved, that white or yellow lines on county tarvia roads be reactivated at least on curves and hills.
2. Resolved, that Farm Bureau urges that the County Board of Supervisors make some research toward county zoning.
194.86 It would be appreciated very much if the County Board of Supervisors would consider the two above resolutions.

44.40 the county Board of Supervisors would consider the two above resolutions.

Thank you.

Lately there has been an influx of hand-crafted articles from other countries and this has helped to create an interest in folk arts and crafts here in the United States. As a result. crafts are attracting attention as a worthwhile leisure pursuit. Crafts furnish an excellent creative outlet in our highly mechanized society that offers little opportunity for self-expression in our daily activities.

A craft fills the need for creativity best if it is a useful piece of art which has been fashioned by hand and craftsman's original design is used. It has been conditioned by the materials used and the techniques of the craft. Media such as mosaic, block printing, rug hooking, silk screening and weaving can be utilized to fit individual needs.

Manufacturers are jumping on the craft band wagon and are turning out many so-called craft kits. These kits often present the individual with neither a creative challenge nor a useful educational experience. Crafts to be effective must be approached from the creative and experimental point of view with as much emphasis on the conception of the idea as on its expres-

The Spaniards introduced that jewel of a vegetable, the potato, into Europe. The potato was found by the Spaniards while searching for the mythical land of El Dorado where gems and gold lay in heaps.

Potatoes have a satisfying effect upon everyone. They are easy to fix, easy to serve, and so easy to enjoy. Spuds are an "anytime" item and belong in your must in every-menu list. Served alone or as a part in creative dishes, they lend the kind of magical appeal which transforms a menu into a feast. Potatoes are always a "good buy" and important in American

This year's crop was larger than the average potato crop and the prices are truly easy on the food budget. When buying potatoes, look for those that are firm, well-shaped with shallow eyes, and ones that are free from decay and blemishes. A green colored potato is the result of exposure to light, either natural or artificial. At the present time there are 38 different forms of processed potatoes on the market. The price ranges from 5 cents per serving to 38 cents per

The Want Ads Are Newsy Too.

"Our Legs Don't Get Cold Anymore!"

"With electric heat, there are no drafts or cold spots-even the floors are nice and warm," says Mrs. William Albert of Nankin Township, Michigan. "We saved $300 on installation when we converted from the old system. Electric heat saved us space, too-now we have an extra closet where our chimney used to be. There's nothing to worry about or take care of. My draperies stay a whole lot cleaner. For all the electric appliances we have-range, water heater, clothes dryer, air conditioner—we think our $35 per month electric bill is a real bargain. Believe me, once you have electric heat, you won't want anything else."

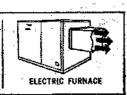

What about your home? Do you have a hard-to-heat room? Are you adding on a room? Are you buying a new home? Is the heating system in your present home more trouble than it's worth? One of the types of electric heating units shown below may be the answer to your heating problems. One easy way to find out is to ask your electrical contractor. Another is to call your Edison office. We'll be glad to send you a copy of our free booklet. "Electric Home Heating" and will answer any questions you may have about the modern, worry-free way to heat your home-electrically.

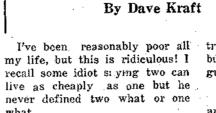

My Wife Likes to

Keep Me in Stitches

My family and I are presently in a state of advanced thrift.

This condition set in shortly after we got married and little improvement has been made. The future looms gloomily on a debtfilled horizon. When I was a bachelor, I used to throw away my socks with holes in them and have my "holey" pant pockets repaired at the cleaners, but no more. Now I wear them until the last thread The hole-in-the-sock situation didn't present too much trouble until my suede chukka boots (circa 1959) wore out and I had to resort to my exfords. Up to that time, unless the hole spread past my ankle, I was set. My wife is a dandy little housekeeper, a wonderful cook and a master at the sewing machine but give her a needle and thread and she's liable to sew herself to the closet door. She hadn't had much experience at darning before marrying yours truly but she had the right technique . . . putting a light bulb inside the sock as a form. Some of her first attempts, however, felt like she left the bulb in the sock. Her real trumph is sewing up pockets. I've seen better sewing on a sack of grain. As a matter of fact, that's just what they look like when she gets done.

Still, it's better than some of my attempts when I was bachin'.' used to make a couple of quick thrusts and a parry here and there and then tie it off. It usually looked like a sow's ear and was just about as effective.

I suppose I wouldn't have so much trouble with my pockets if I didn't carry half my past around with me. Usually, I have my jackknife and fingernail clipper in one pocket and my lucky silver dollar, lucky Apache tear stone and an old wooden soldier (that I can't force myself to throw away) in my other pocket.

As soon as my front pockets wear out, I transfer everything to my rear pockets. When they go, I resort to my socks.

Being the modest little fellow I am, it is excruciatingly painful to have to hoist my pants leg and fish around for some loose change if I want to buy anything. Clerks also seem to have an aversion to taking my money after such a display.

It is embarrassing, too, when I forget about the hole and after making a purchase, drop the remaining change in my pocket only to see it rolling around on the floor seconds later.

I usually cover up by mumbling, "Oops, missed my pocket . . . "

I'm seriously thinking of solving the problem by sticking strips of two-sided tape to my legs and doing away with pockets altogether. All I'd have to do then is slap my change against the tape and forget about it. Of course, I might have some

I've been reasonably poor all trouble withdrawing my hand, but that's the chance you take, I

> Well, Col, Glenn finally did it and all I can say is, "Better he than me". His feat brings to mind a couple of anecdotes.

> A number of years back, Stuart Hamblin of radio fame wrote a new set of lyrics to the hit song, "This Old House," made so popular by Rosemary Clooney. In one chorus, the fellow singing the song put a bull and five cows in the rocket and shot them off. He was known forever after as the fellow who "fired the herd that was shot around the world."

There is a record currently on the radio by Jose Jeminez (Bill Dana) about astronauts and in one portion, the announcer asks him if everything is "A-Okay", and Jose, out in space, reports back, "No, it's B-A-D and is going to get W-O-R-S-E!"

I see by the papers where a than in education. Congressman from Georgia says the Guvernment has got to spend reading a piece in a magazine another $10 million this year to git rid of hog cholera. That's one item that won't have no trouble gitting through the Congress. Them same Congressmen that voted agin gitting rid of ignorance with Federal aid to education will vote solid to git serious in some parts of the rid of hog cholera. Long ago they took note of the political fact that more votes is in pigs New York. I ain't acquainted

Speaking of education, I was where teachers in some cities is "gravely concerned over the rising hemline" among high school girls. I reekon this is tendollar talk meaning high school girls is exposing too much leg.

The piece said it had got so with these things well enough to pass a opinion on it. When I was a boy nobody ever spoke of a girl having legs. They was referred to in a very low voice as limbs.

But I do know some changes in the attitude of wimmen in these matters has took place down through the years. I recollect when I was a boy, fer instant, that when a windstorm come up the wimmen folks would always grab fer their skirt. Now they always grab fer their hat.

I brung up this hemline item at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle claimed hemlines has been rising now fer some time among young and old alike and the matter ain't worthy of much attention. He says about all this magazine piece proves is that the high school girl is more interested in her frame than she is in her frame of mind and they ain't nothing wrong with that in these times. In fact, allowed Ed, it was right smart thinking. As long as a feller picks out his girl from looking at her hosiery instead of looking into her heart, claims Ed, the frame is the thing.

But it could be, Mister Editor, that Ed is a little too broadminded on the subject of hemlines. Ed watches television a heap and some of them wimmen on television can git a feller confused about both hemlines and necklines. I would like to git a opinion from that school teacher that has been fussing about my spelling and grammar. It would be nice to git a letter with the spelling and grammer done real proper, even if her opinion was all wrong.

But gitting back to them Congressmen, I see by the papers where both the Democrats and Republicans in this new session of the Congress is setting up committees to help the farmer. If I recollect right, ever Congress since George Washington has set up somepun to help the farmer. What they actual want to do is help him mark his ballot. Yours truly,

It may be true that silence is golden, but very few are able to convert it into cash.

A few weeks ago I mentioned seeing two cardinals east of town that flew up from the edge of the highway to disappear into the shelter of the cedars west of the bridge.

Almost every morning - and sometimes at night - I have seen eardinals in the same vicinity. The cedars must be a favorite home for them - because the two have been gathering company until at last count there were at least ten cardinals eating gravel at the edge of the road. What a lovely sight it was to see that many cardinals flit up and away, making a gay flash of crimson against the soft whiteness of the

This Early School Cost Only $12,000

The school pictured in this week's photograph was the public building of which the townspeople were most proud. This school stood on the same rise of land that the present school plant does; however, it stood west of the present school and faced south.

The building in the front with its addition was constructed in the 1880's. Built of brick, two stories high with a basement and heated by steam, the complete unit cost $12,000.

An 1898 issue of the Cass City Enterprise had this to say about it: "The high school room is acknowledged by all to be one of the best in the state, being large enough to accommodate about 120 pupils. There is a recitation room in connection and five other departments. The in those days.

basement is used for lunchroom and gymnasium."

Three Anecdotes of The Great Fire

Almost everyone has heard | cause of our abundant water sup about or read about the Great ply and the most heroic and per-Fire of '81. We have chosen three | sistent efforts on the part of our items for this week's Pages.

In Greenleaf Township, Mr.

and Mrs. John Dunlap and their children (John Jr., Milo and Ellen) were forced to flee from their home. They ran to the river where they sat in the water: Mr. Dunlap had brought a quilt and he dipped it in the water and put it over their heads. A neighbor's cow heard their voices and walked into the river to lie down beside them. (Ellen Dunlap later) where four of their children still ing the danger was past."

A present resident of Evergreen Township, Dan McNaughton, can recall the Fire of '81. A lad of six, he was placed on the roof of his home by his father while the hired man climbed onto to which many persons fled. No End to Con-Con Seen by Deadline

By Elmer E. White Michigan Press Association Likelihood of a March 31 adjournment of the Constitutional Convention grows' dimmer daily as the sessions in Lansing's

Civic Center lengthen. This was the date tentatively set following an attorney general's opinion which said the convention should complete its project by March 31 if it were to go to the people in the November election.

There were several delegates who questioned the validity of the informal opinion, because the present Constitution specifies the convention can direct a vote on proposal anytime 90 days or more after adjournment.

Now, with debate running several days on the meaty sections of the proposed document, many delegates feel May 15 would be a more probable target date. The 1961 legislative appropriation for Con-Con included delegate salaries through the mid-May date.

Politics enters into the consideration of adjournment, also. The official entry of Con-Con delegate George Romney into the gubernatorial race as a Republican candidate brought Democrats to their feet with cries that the 99 GOP delegates were using the convention to boost Romney.

If Romney's bid for Governor and the product of the convention were placed on the same ballot, the Constitution proposed would become a political football regardless of its content, they seem to think, Delaying consideration of the Constitution until April, 1963 would give it more of a fair chance, say long-time boosters of the movement to revise the present 1907 document. Some criticism will undoubtedly fall on convention delegates if they fail to meet the March 31 adjournment. It would seem a wise move, however, to admit that a mere five months work might not produce a document which should serve Michigan's needs for a basic law during the next several

A 1958 report on education in Michigan recommended all counties with 20,000 or more population establish a community col-Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett has now created a unit he hopes will enable many communities to follow this recommendation. Bartlett recently named Dr.

Gorton Reithmiller, president of Olivet College, as head of a Commission on Community College Development. The commission will contact civic leaders with the idea of expanding the present 16-unit community college system to accommodate the increasing numbers of students who want and need an education beyond the 12th grade.

Hundreds of American ag experts this summer and fall will tour Europe under the Good Will People-to-People program. They will visit farms and related industrial plants. Selection of places to be visited was made by the director of Michigan's department of Agriculture, G. S. McIntyre, who also is president of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture. Mr. McIntyre recently made a whirlwind eight-day visit to Europe with Les Davis, co-ordinator of the goodwill program.

Meeting with American ambassadors and attaches as well as officials of other countries in setting up the plans, Mr. McIntyre visited Brussels, Moscow, East and West Berlin, and Warsaw before returning. The tours later in the year of American, farm people, for which Mr. Mc-Intyre made arrangements, will be 21-day affairs. Groups from at least 14 states are expected to  Legislators deserve understanding in dealing with their problems. Every session they are deluged with requests, urgings or demands to supply service to people of the state. Some of these needs are important.

But it is seldom that those who advocate the expenditure of funds, and sometimes substantial expenditures, concern themselves with how the cost will be met. --

Unfair abuse results for legislators who will not approve some of these proposals. Sen. Elmer Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, has often been victim for ridicule or contempt because he blocked expenditures for what many people think are worthy causes. He and committee members must remember as they approve each section of the budget that they are limited to the money available. If they approved every expenditure, the state would soon be further in debt.

Members of the Appropriations Committee are older, more experienced men. Only one new man is on the 1962 Committee, Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain). Other members are all Republican and include Frank D. Beadle. St. Clair; Clarence F. Graebner, Saginaw; Arthur A. Dehmel, Unionville; Lynn O. Francis. Midland; Lloyd A. Stephens, Scottville, and Stanley G. Thayer, Ann Arbor.

Suggestions for raising funds connected with any proposal to spend state money has been invited by some legislators. In other words, they want those who advocate the expenditures to tell them where the money is coming from. Is it really an unfair or unwise idea?
