One of Many Now Gone

Remember the Post Office at Novesta?

From the ditor's Corner

John Zabinski, who has been waiting for seven months for the wife he married abroad to come from Poland, is trying a new approach. He is working through the Red Cross. He has high hopes that the organization will be able to secure results.

Efforts of the United States Consul with the Communists in John's behalf have been fruitless. ****

A last-minute deluge of petitions turned the race for school posts from a quiet affair to a scramble for seats on the board. With four running for the fouryear term and three seeking to fill the three-year vacancy, area electors will have a wide choice when balloting to fill the important posts.

We'll have a complete rundown of all the candidates prior to the election.

There has been a good deal of talk over the coffee tables by merchants for new sidewalks in the business district. We've heard this before, but never to such a great extent as in the last week.

The word is that the council is ready and willing to do the work as soon as the merchants come up with a proposal and their share of the financing.

We trust that the retailers will not talk a good thing to death, but start concrete action(no pun intended) this summer.

Announce Annual Spring Vocal Concert Theme

"Say It With Music" will be the theme of the annual Spring Vocal Concert, Thursday, May 24, at 8:00 p. m. at the High School, according to Roger Parrish, choral music department director.

An estimated 75 students will take part in the program, including the High School Choir, several soloists and a number of ensembles.

background musical differ this year from last season's concert in that the music will be "sacred and secular" instead of from a hit Broadway play, Parrish announced. The concert will be presented as an assembly to the students of the junior and senior high school on Thursday afternoon. There is no admission charge for the Thursday evening performance, however, a freewill offering will be taken.

Folks hearing about the postal deficit and the "inevitable" raise in postal rates will be surprised to learn that way back before the turn of the century postal rates decreased.

Kenneth Priestly of Vassar, who has made a hobby of collecting facts about the Michigan postal system and hopes to write a book in a couple of years about it, says that mail in the 1860's cost three cents each. In the 1880's the price was two cents for a first class letter.

Way back when, in the earliest years of the service, letters cost five cents within 400 miles and 10 cents if they went beyond this distance.

Priestly was able to prove all of these interesting figures to the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon when he showed slides of cancelled letters to illustrate his points.

Post Offices Flourished

Before the days of rural free delivery, post offices flourished. Some of the pioneer residents of the community can probably recall some of the now defunct offices.

For instance, Colwood's post office opened Feb. 27, 1884, and closed May 31, 1905. Novesta's postal department gave up the ghost July 31, 1905, after serving the area for about 30 years, since Aug. 25, 1874.

These were just two of a long list of offices that went out of business when the mailmen started their routes along country roads.

Picked at random, here is a sampling of some of the area offices that once flourished: Elkland (four miles north of Cass Elmwood, Ellington, City), Worth, Greenleaf, Sanilac, Holbrook, Cumber, Farmers and Falcon. Mr. Priestly said that he switched to the postal history of the Thumb when his former hobby of collecting stamps became too expensive. Any stamp I wanted and did not have cost in the neighborhood of $100 and so I switched, he explained.

No Change in School Mills

Cass City High School will again receive a maximum of eight and a half mills from county taxes for operating costs. Superintendent Willis Campbell told Board of Education members at a meeting Monday night.

The statement was made during a report by Campbell on the preliminary County Board of Allocations order.

Campbell told the group that Sanilac and Huron counties will give the school nine mills, if Allot Tuscola county will give nine mills. Under state law, unless nine mills are allocated in Tus-Tax cola county, Sanilac and Huron counties will have to cut their allocations to Cass City districts back to eight and a half mills. Čass City and county schools last year, asked for a bigger cut of the millage pie but the allocations board refused to increase the millage. With the school's evaluation at currently over $15 million, the eight and a half mills will come to approximately $134,810.00.

The final hearing on the allocations is set for Tuesday, May 22, at the Courthouse, Caro. On other financial fronts, the board passed a resolution ordering Campbell to borrow "up to $40,000" to help take the strain off the school's budget caused by teachers' summer salaries.

Under the present system, teachers are paid two months in advance during the summer. This year, the summer salary figure is approximately $50,000. Because State Aid totaling $51,908.01 has not arrived, the current budget will not handle the salaries, Campbell reported to the board. Surplus money on the 1950 retirement bond, which was recently paid up, was transferred to a savings account, pending a decision from the attorney general. The money, amounting to approximately $5.000, is currently in a checking account. The board also set the debt retirement on the 1954 bond at one mill and at one and threequarter mills for the debt retirement on the 1960 bond. In other business, Campbell reported to the board that the school's present master clock would have to be replaced in the hear future because of the unavailability of parts.

The clock, a Standard' Electric clock, was installed in 1926. According to an estimate from the company, a new clock will cost approximately $441, plus the cost of oreliminary installation work.

ing to County Clerk Archie Hicks. Essentially the same as last year, the board gave a maximum of four and a half mills to the county, two mills to the townships and eight and a half mills to county high schools. Depending on their needs. township allocations ranged from six-tenths of a mill to the maximum two mills. Area townships received the following allocations: Elkland, six-tenths of a mill; Ellington, eight-tenths of a mill; Novesta, two mills, and Elmwood, two mills. Rural school allocations ranged from one mill to 9.7 mills, depending on budget needs. All county high schools received the 8.5 mill maximum.

Final hearings for the Allocations Board have been set for Tuesday and Wednesday, May 22 - 23.

Members of the board are: William Scott, county superintendent of schools; Arthur M. Willits, county treasurer; Irvin Dean, J. Arthur Haley, Milford Culbert and Kenneth Priestly.

Kaufman, a General Insulated Wire Works, Inc., employee, replaces Don Erla as president of the organization. Erla was elected temporary president at an earlier organizational meeting.

Also elected at Tuesday's meeting were Rodney - Krueger, external vice-president: Dan Erla, internal vice-president; Richard Dillman, secretary; Jim Ellis, treasurer, and Bill Tuckey, director.

Four of the members of the new club, Kaufman, Kraeger, Jim Johnson and Richard Gaffney, donated blood Wednesday at the Hills and Dales Blood Bank during the group's first project. President Kaufman has indicated that the blood donations may become a continuing project with the club.

The organization's next meeting is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, May 22, at the New Gordon Hotel at 8:00 pm. Kaufman extended an invitation to all area young men between the ages of 21 and 35 to attend the meeting.

AN OPTION TO END WHEEL SPINNING

New car buyers deciding on what options they need or can do without usually never give a thought to one of the least expensive but most useful aids to driving they could have on their cars.

This is known as Positive Traction Differential. It is a special rear axle gear assembly that prevents spinning one wheel on ice or when it is clear of the road. It is so effective that it largely eliminates the need for snow tires, which in actual fact are usually more expensive.

Standard differential gearing transmits power from a single drive shaft to both rear wheels. In itself it is a complicated mechanism because it must have a variable capacity to turn one wheel faster than the other when the need arises, such as in rounding a curve. The outside wheel in a turn is moving faster and the differential equalizes the power drive to both-wheels.

This necessary quality becomes a handicap on ice and rough roads however. With one wheel on ice and the other on dry pavement, for instance, all power is shifted to the wheel with least grip, causing it to spin.

Positive Traction is an additional mechanism that doesn't affect the variable action on curves but which prevents spinning by equalizing the pull on both wheels.

Though Positive Traction .. improves handling of .. your car at any time of year, it is naturally most useful in Winter driving. The time to install it however is when you buy your new car, so keep it high on the list as one of the most essential and least expensive of optional equipment.

Cardew, elected by the Lake Huron Presbytery, is one of four laymen representing the 24,000 Presbyterian members in this Presbytery. His attendance at the meeting marks the first time since the 1943 Detroit National Assembly that Cass City has had a delegate at the national meeting.

The Assembly is made up of an equal number of ministers and laymen elected from the 201 Presbyteries in the country.

Reports, recommendations and actions which will affect the entire demonination are studied, discussed and voted upon by the commissioned delegates. Outstanding national and world church leaders will be among the Cass City guest speakers.

East Tawas Girl

Scout Campout Site

Fifteen Cass City Girl Scouts. members of Troop 52, took part in a week-end camping trip at the Earl Getchel cabin at Sand Lake, near East Tawas, recently. Those attending were: Linda Gruber, Kathy Holm, Kathy Herhalt, Bonnie Lapp, Peggy Mc-Connell, Shirley Neal, Gayle Rabideau, Joyce Seeley, Carol Seeley, Dorothy Tracy, Carol Tracy, Bonnie Weippert, Linda Weippert, Judy Wright and Barbara Gruber.

Mrs. George Getchel, Mrs. Earney Seeley and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gruber accompanied the girls. During their three-day stay, the girls saw the Lumberman's Monument, Loud Dam, "Smokey," the Michigan black bear, and a number of species of wildlife.

St. Joseph Catholic Church. East Tawas, and the First Baptist Church, Tawas City, were visited by the girls Sunday morning.

11 Brownies in

Overnight Campout

Eleven Cass City Brownies, all members of Troop 10-A, took part in an overnight campout Friday night, May 11, at a farm near Ellington, according to Mrs. Harold Craig, troop leader.

The girls left Friday afternoon and returned Saturday afternoon. During their stay, they prepared their meals over an open fire and spent the night in sleeping bags in tents. Mrs. Mary Prieskorn, assistant leader, also accompanied the girls.

Members of the troop will become Girl Scouts at a "Fly-up" ceremony at their next meeting. Those who attended the campout were: Susan Ayres, J. Auten, Lynn Atwell, Diana Bryant, Ruth Cummings, Chris Craig, Margie Clarke, Mona Calka, Linda Douglas, Sally Geiger and Janet Koepfgen. يستساجع والمتكر والمتكر والمتكر

ENJOY IT IN A NEW '62 VALIANT

If you'd like the best deals of the Springtime, just cultivate your Plymouth-Valiant Dealer. We're blossoming with good reasons why you should see us about a new Valiant right now. For example, we can tell you that Valiant's resale value is higher in relation to its first cost than full-size cars. That makes Valiant a better buy for you. And right now our current need for used cars makes your present car worth more. So make this a happy Spring, treat yourself to a brand-new Valiant and a shower of savings.

Poppy Davs MAY 24-25-26

The Poppy has become recognized as an appropriate way in which our war dead can be honored while the disabled are rehabilitated. The need for the relief work which Poppy Funds make possible has grown each year. Our government has done much for disabled veterans and families of deceased servicemen, but much also remains to be done.

Funds from Poppy Day contributions enable The American Legion and Auxiliary to meet this need. Of the monies collected by the volunteers from these organizations, not one cent is retained.

When you are asked to wear a Poppy, remember the veteran in a hospital or workshop who made this memorial flower. Our Poppy Day purpose has always been to honor the war dead by assisting the living. This is the true significance of Poppy Day.

The Want Ads Are Newsy Too.

Agent's Corner Frances T. Clark County Home Demonstration

Agent Next week is Michigan Week. Michigan is widely known for its many industries. Yet, Michigan is a very important agricultural producing state. Probably every package of navy beans, every jar of cucumber pickles and any canned or frozen red tart cherries you purchase at the grocery store were grown in Michigan. The last few years Michigan has become the top state for the production of hothouse rhubarb. Because of Macomb County, Michigan is unique in the production of hothouse rhubarb. From early January until April, Macomb County harvests about three-fourths of the total National crop of hothouse rhubarb. Michigan ranks second in the production of asparagus processing, blueberries and plums. Blueberries are delightful in muffins, pancakes or in many other tasty dishes. The blueberry constitutes a crop upon which there is little economic data. There are huge acreages of blueberries in Michigan, mainly in western counties, and the state is either first or second in National production. Much of the crop is sold on the fresh fruit market. The experiment station at South

Haven is a leader in the propagating of new varieties. With Kalamazoo the birthplace of America's commercial celery industry more than a century ago, Michigan has long been famous for this crop in which it stood as the nation's number three producer last year. The state's yield was 794,000 hundredweight; value to grower was $2,094,000. We also rank third in the production of apples and spearmint. Michigan ranks fourth in asparagus (fresh market), cantaloupe, carrots, peaches, pears, red beets, strawberries and sweet cherries.

A yield of 3,600,000 bushels of peaches in 1961 placed the state in the fourth spot in yield of this flavorful fruit. Worth of last year's crop to the grower was estimated at $6,600,000. Pickled, canned or fresh peaches are delicious. For more than half a century the state's production was mostly late varieties. Today the state has changed to an earlier maturing variety, some of which propagated at the South were Haven Experimental Station. Michigan ranks fifth in the production of grapes, green lima beans, onions, peppermint, sweet corn (fresh market) and tomatoes (fresh market).

Michigan does not do much canning of sweet corn, but we do have a lot for the fresh market. Last year the crop is estimated to have brought growers $1.8 million. Strangely, Wayne Coun-

For Michigan Week, I would like to suggest having foods produced within our state. Here are some suggestions that will help you in making a day's menu. Appetizer: Michigan apple juice, grape juice or tomato juice.

Relish plate: Michigan pickles, radishes, cottage cheese, spiced apple slices, corn relish, deviled eggs, green onions or potato chips.

Meat course: Michigan beef, ham, pork, lamb, turkey or chick-

Vegetables: Michigan potatoes, green beans, corn, tomatoes, asparagus and peas.

Salads: Michigan cottage cheese and Michigan pear with Michigan maraschino cherries. Michigan Walderf salad, Michigan peach with cottage cheese, Michigan bean salad. Have fresh biscuits and Michigan honey, maple syrup or jellies to go with the salad. Desserts: Michigan cheese and wafers, ice cream, Michigan canned or frozen fruits with cookies, pies utilizing Michigan fruits such as cherry, apple, peach, raspberry, pear, blackberry or blueberries.

Beverage: Milk, buttermilk or chocolate milk.

As you look over these suggestions, do you realize that few states have as wide a variety of home-grown foods for their menus?

Michigan Mirror Organized Opposition Forming Against "Single Unit" Feature of Constitution

By Elmer E. White Michigan Press Association The constitutional convention is running into the first signs of opposition to its proposed product.

Plans are progressing to present the document to' the people as a single unit in November, if possible. The single unit feature of the Con-Con report likely may severely lessen its chances for approval.

Several organized groups attacked portions of the proposed Constitution even before the anvention took its third and final vote on the provisions.

Supporters of the one-package idea contend with some logic that the Constitution is a single entity and must be considered this way if government is not to become confused. They stress that most (an estimated 85 per cent) of the sections have near unanimous approval of Con-Con delegates; the state will gain a great deal by the new document.

George Romney, likely GOP candidate for Governor, has named many of his troops for his campaign against incumbent Democrat John B. Swainson. It is unlikely either will face competition in the primary. Swainson is expected to call out many of the same troops who helped him

State Sen. John H. Stahlin, Belding businessman, wants to have the second spot on the Republican ticket. Others are very likely to seek this nomination. The Democratic field generals will be the same as they are now: the office-holders on the Administrative Board. Republican nominces for these posts apparently are all still in combat training. 森床度

Beland has a herd of 43 high-producing Holstein cows and 15 heifers. Grain is fed at the rate of one pound to 5 or 6 pounds of milk produced on pasture and to each 3½ pounds of milk produced when cows are in the barn. A Livingston county dairy farmer, Ray Eisle, started using a combination of rotation and strip-grazing during 1961 with excellent results. Eisle will use strip-grazing again this year to reduce trampl-ing losses during the early part of the season. He will alternate this coves between two 15-aere fields through August. Many Families Will Find Portable Dishwasher Best

For many families, the most suitable automatic dishwasher is a portable. This type has the same labor-saving features as the built-in, but has the special advantage of mobility. Portables are often preferred by families who rent a home or apartment, or whose kitchens don't have adequate space for built-in dishwashers.

The portable is especially ideal for a kitchen that doesn't need a general remodeling but does lack one of the most prized features of a truly modern kitchen — an automatic dishwasher.

With a portable, a family can up-date a kitchen on a small budget because the only cost is for the dishwasher itself. It requires no special plumbing, no installation and no alterations of kitchen or counter.

The motorist who travels the highways at break-neck speed will sooner or later break his own neck.

No Guesswork About Drying

There need be no guessing about how hot or how long you should dry your laundry. Many electric clothes dryers are equipped with fabric selectors that help you provide the right temperature and time for every fabric on the market. Special low temperature, high-air-flow cvcles, for example, are featured for certain synthetic fabrics requiring careful treatment.

Here are other features offered by some dryers today: Wash- wear cycle - correct drying temperature is followed by fluffing and cooling off period: separate air-fluff cycle without heat for blankets, pillows, shag rugs, etc; damp-dry cycle for all fabrics; drying with heat and air without tumbling; air drying with neither heat nor tumbling

Two other advantages of electric clothes dryers are the result of the policies of dealers and Detroit Edison. During the "Michigan Holiday" contest now in progress, Tuscola County Electric Appliance Dealers are offering special prices on electric dryers. For its part, the Edison Company for many years has offered free servicing. The company will repair or replace the electrical operating parts of its customers' electric dryers without charge for parts or labor. This is not only a convenience, but an important long-run saving.

Electric Home Can Save Many Hours

The total electric home can save a housewife 2,000 hours of work annually, or over five hours daily, according to Detroit Edison District Manager, Harry Richards.

He said, a conservative breakdown of the time saved can be figured roughly as averaging out something like this: Washing, drying clothes 6 hrs. weekly 5 hrs. weekly Ironing Shopping 6 hrs. weekly Dishwashing 101/2 hrs. weekly Garbage disposal 1 hr. weekly Time saved with automatic

Misc. (sweeping, 61/2 hrs. weekly etc.)

Total 2,052 hrs. annually The time saved on daily chores is nearly the same as a man's average working week. This ability to accomplish more and to work efficiently are by-products of total electric living.

The time and labor saving aspect of electric living is important to the welfare of the homemaker's family, especially in today's busy world, Richards added.

The free time that women are going to have in the years to come will probably keep them as busy as the hours they spent taking care of the family chores in the past. With one difference! What they do will be of their own choosing and not imposed on them. As a result, the Edison Official said, we may expect the women of the 1970s to be as different as the women of the Victorian era were from the flappers of the 1920s. Electric Living in the home will be the largest contributory factor to that change.

"In 1979 the typical American housewife will probably look 10 years younger than she actually is, will probably speak more than one language, will drive an electric car, be more interested in geography than gardening and will be a tutor as well as parent to her children," concluded

Here's the ideal year-'round ations from a small retail conweather forecast for heart pacern to a major supplier of buildtients and others who've got to ing products needed by area conwatch their weather:

Air Conditioning

For Heart Patients

"Sunny, warm, minimum of, abrupt temperature changes, no prolonged hot or cold spells; moderate relative humidity."

So say Louis A. Kapp, M.D., and Dr. James K. McGuire, U.S. Weather Bureau climatologist, in an article for G.P., a professional medical journal.

Although they agree that a warmer climate is beneficial to sufferers of various types of heart diseases, they warn that excessive summer heat and wide temperature extremes place too great a strain on the heart.

Does this seemingly utopian climate exist in the United States? Not exactly, according to the authors, but some areas come wetty close. Among them are Florida, southeastern California and southern Arizona.

But even in these areas there are weather changes detrimental to some patients. During hot weather, the authors emphasize, an efficient cooling system is essential and heart patients are advised to remain indoors at least part of the time.

One permanent and convent ient solution to the problem of heat waves and high humidity is proper air conditioning. The installation of room air conditioners in a house could make vear-round residence suitable in a hot and humid climate. Not only will a room air conditioner make inside temperatures comfortable, but it will also rid rooms of excess humidity.

Doctors Kapp and McGuire have this advice for the aged as well as for patients with heart conditions:

"Those who spend only the winters in a warm climate should not return to a cold environment too early (generally not before mid-April); they should do it gradually, with a short stop-over in a moderate climate if possible." a modern wood, brick and glass
