

Means $7,500 Hike Locally

Allot Schools Nine Mills

Cass City High School's operating budget is slated for a $7,500 lift because County Allocations Board members voted to give qualifying high schools nine mills instead of 8.5 mills, as earlier announced.

Members of the board, following a three-day final hearing, voted to give nine mills to the schools, four and a quarter mills to the county and one and three-quarter mills to townships.

Because of their decision, the Cass City school district can now accept the full nine mills available from Huron and Sanilac counties.

In total figures, the decision will mean approximately $580,000 for the county, $1,125,000 for the schools and $240,000 for the townships.

Preliminary allocations, announced earlier this month, were set at eight and a half mills for schools, four and a half for townships, exactly the same as was allocated last year.

School and township allocations were based on "qualification or need." Elkland township received one and a half mills, Elmwood one and three-quarter mills and Novesta, one mill.

All county high schools received the nine mills except Reese, 8.7 mills, and Unionville, 8.6 mills. Both school budgets asked for the amounts received.

Representatives from all of the high schools, all the supervisors but one and representatives from some of the primary schools attended the hearings which were held Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, May 22, 23, 25.

Meet Play Director

Although the village's Summer Recreation Program will have the benefit of a new and experienced director again, the program will be much the same as last year, according to a report from Mrs. Richard Case, newly-appointed program director.

Mrs. Richard Case

Mrs. Case, the wife of the Cass City High School, hard director, was recently appointed director of the program by the village council.

No newcomer to the recreation program field, Mrs. Case received extensive training with the Mott Foundation, Flint, during two summer sessions with the Foundation's summer program.

Mrs. Case, the mother of two small children, attended Central Michigan University where she majored in elementary teaching. Her work with the Mott Foundation was during summer vacations from Central.

Saturday, May 26, she attended a Michigan Council of Recreation workshop at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

"We plan to stress creativity in art and handicraft," she explains. "Most of the emphasis, however, will be on physical fitness."

The six-week program, which begins Monday, June 25, and ends Friday, Aug. 3, will include a "Parade on Wheels," art shows, pet shows, displays, swimming lessons, a DJ dance and other activities.

The program will be held daily from 9:00 a. m. till noon.

The parade, according to Mrs. Case, is tentatively scheduled for sometime during the first week of the program and will include bicycles, tricycles, wagons, strollers... anything with wheels... "it's for all ages."

Swimming lessons, as previously reported, will be free this year, with classes starting at the four-year-old level. Tentative plans call for three lessons per week, weather permitting.

The DJ dance is slated for sometime later in the season. Complete weekly schedules will be released when the season begins.

Remember Open House for Teachers

Authorities in charge this week issued a reminder to residents of the Cass City School District that they are invited to attend the open house in honor of eight departing teachers.

The event is scheduled at the Cass City Elementary School gym from 5-7 Sunday.

Explain New Constitution to Civic Groups

A look at some of the details of the new Constitution to be given before the people was placed to members of the Cass City Rotary and Zonta clubs Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel by Milton Higgs, Con-Con delegate from Bay county.

Higgs, who was on the judicial and style and draft committees at the convention, presented some of the highlights of the controversial points of the document.

He said that reapportionment, the big bugaboo at the convention, was settled with a formula that represents 80 per cent population and 20 per cent area.

Higgs, a Republican, was sharply critical of Gus Scholte who, he says, runs the AFL-CIO which in turn rules the Democratic party.

He pointed out that the new document would eliminate justices of the peace and highway commissioners and substitute an appellate court and supreme court with seven instead of eight members.

The constitution would limit the governor's appointive power to fill vacancies on the supreme court, Higgs added.

One of the points which seems to have found favor with everyone is a change in the election laws that would allow state-elected representatives and other elected officials, including the governor, to serve for four-year terms, instead of two-year terms. Under the new constitution, the state highway commissioner would be appointed instead of elected.

In finances, the constitution permits only a flat rate income tax and keeps intact the 15-mill tax limitation. It reduces property tax from 100 per cent to 50 per cent of the equalized value, Higgs pointed out.

After his formal talk, Higgs answered questions from the audience.

He was introduced by Al Krueger, program chairman for the day.

Completion Near on Gagetown Projects

The near-completion of the installation of 1,000 feet of new slip-seal eight-inch glazed storm sewer on Gage and East State streets in Gagetown has been announced by President Joe Mosaack.

The work is part of a current reconstruction program going on in Gagetown.

On other fronts, a new water line serving five homes on East State and Center streets is under construction. Back-hoeing for the project was done by Dale Rabideau, Cass City.

Currently under consideration by the village council is a new sidewalk project involving approximately 1,500 feet of sidewalk in the village.

Still to be discussed, according to Mosaack, is the rebuilding and resurfacing of a quarter-mile on the main roads running east and west into the village.

Work is presently being done by the county on the main road south of the village.

Jaycees Set Charter Night

Charter night for the Cass City Junior Chamber of Commerce has been slated for Tuesday, June 26, according to Richard Dillman, secretary.

The decision to charter was made by the members of the newly-formed organization at a meeting Tuesday, May 22, at the New Gordon Hotel.

The Jaycees' constitution, as read by President Don Eria, was accepted.

In other business, the group discussed possible projects for the coming year.

More members are being sought by the fledgling organization before charter night because a membership of at least 25 persons is required to charter.

Zabinski Sells 3 Cows in Hurry

"Cancel my ad," said John Zabinski this week. "I've sold my heifers... got a good price, too."

Mr. Zabinski had ordered this ad for two weeks but had sold the heifers by the week end.

His ad read: FOR SALE—3 Holstein heifers, 2 years old, springing. One due in June. John Zabinski, 1 south, 1 1/2 east of Cass City.

At Village Council

Anthes' Request Starts Hassle

A request by Ed Anthes that he be restored to duty as a relief patrolman for the village touched off a heated hassle at the regular meeting of the village council Tuesday night at the municipal building.

Anthes, who pointed out that he had been hired to work on maintenance and as a relief patrolman, said that he had filled the job satisfactorily for six and a half years and felt that he should continue to do so. He added that the loss of the auxiliary job had resulted in a severe cut in pay.

His request had the support of Trustee Jim Seals and the opposition of Lee Rabideau.

Rabideau objected to the way that Anthes had been issuing tickets and performing his duties in the village, saying that he had "insulted motorists" and that he had several complaints from residents of the village. "I will not approve any police work for (Anthes) unless it is understood that he change his method of issuing tickets," he said, Anthes challenged Rabideau to name these people and the councilman then named several who had complained, including one complaint which had been heard by Trustee Fred Auten.

The argument then became so heated that President Hunt tabled the matter until another meeting.

Before it was tabled, the council had explored the idea of giving Anthes enough hours to bring his total up to that received by other members of the maintenance force who now all work more hours than Anthes.

Other Business
In other business, the council hired Mrs. Arthur Little to fill in as clerk at $50 a week due to the illness of Mrs. Wilma Fry, who sent in a letter of resignation as clerk and treasurer. The council will advertise for a village treasurer.

John McCormick protested the elimination of parking in front of the St. Pancratius Church. He was told that parallel parking would be allowed and that with the new parking lot at the church, there would be plenty of parking space.

Carnival Air Gone From Memorial Day Festivities

When Cass City and area residents joined in Memorial Day observances Wednesday, they repeated a scene that took place all over America and that has taken place annually in the village almost since the time it was founded.

Despite Cass City's larger size and the fact that village observances had such an early beginning, present activities fall short of matching the festivity and carnival atmosphere of earlier Memorial Days.

The major difference is reflected in the size of the parades as illustrated by a May 27, 1891, issue of the Cass City Enterprise. Parades then, as compared to present parades, were much larger and the whole village took part in the program.

According to the Enterprise, the parade line-up was as follows: "chief marshal, floral wagon, cornet band, Milo Warner Post No. 232 of the GAR, orator of the day in carriage, Board of Education, teachers and pupils, Cass City Tent No. 74, KOTM, assistant marshal, citizens on foot and citizens in carriages."

Services were held in the village and at the cemetery. Both involved more ritual than current services.

The village of Cass City was platted in 1897. The following year, General John Logan, GAR commander in chief, set May 30 as the day for commemorating Civil War dead.

It is not known exactly when the village started the observ-

Duke Turner, proprietor of the Western Auto store, reported to police chief Carl Palmateer, Saturday, that a transistor radio had been taken from the store.

Later the same day Palmateer recovered the radio from a 13-year-old boy. It had been badly damaged.

Promise Village A Clean Sweep

Village streets with curb and gutter should be in for a clean sweep when plans formulated by the council for a new street broom are completed.

The council will take bids on a broom to be attached to one of the village's tractors. The unit will reduce sweeping time from three men for four hours to two men for one hour.

Cost of the new broom is expected to be in the neighborhood of $1,250.

Sweeping Main Street (M-31) is made easy financially for the village because the State of Michigan pays the village about $400 annually for doing the work.

The new equipment will also make it possible to sweep the street more often.

missed the Memorial Day ritual just twice in the past 41 years. Memorial Day observance in Cass City included a parade and cemetery services with Rev. John Fish, Presbyterian pastor, as featured speaker. (Chronicle photo)

Other Discussion

Several other points were brought to the attention of the council by Eria. The subjects and the council's reaction were:

Clean-up, paint-up, fix-up week in the village was not given enough emphasis and there was not enough time to plan an adequate campaign.

The council will hold another clean-up week, probably in the fall, and work with the Chamber for action.

Place trash receptacles on Main street so merchants can place trash there instead of sweeping it into the street.

The council took no action and there was very little discussion on this point, although there were no objections to the measure.

remembers. "There were still quite a lot of them around."

He also recalls that the services were generally the same, including the parade, cemetery services and rifle squad. Audience participation was only slightly larger than it is now, he relates.

The Legion Post staged out of existence in 1926 and it wasn't until 20 years later that another post was organized in the village. Mr. Little recalls that the money left in the Post treasury was used to buy lockers for the "new high school."

It wasn't until 1946, a year after World War II, that the present American Legion Post sprang into existence. It was shortly after that the Post took over once again the direction of the Memorial Day program in the village.

"We had just as many veterans," recalls Mr. Little, "although we didn't have near as many to draw from as they have now."

"The GAR didn't march, of course... they rode in cars," he

Similarities Found During Village Industrial Tour

Four visiting Owosso businessmen, all members of the Owosso Development Corporation, found a number of striking similarities between Cass City and Owosso during a half-day tour of the village Wednesday, May 23.

The men, participating in an Industrial Exchange between the two towns in conjunction with Michigan Week, toured Hills and Dales General Hospital, Walbro and General Insulated Wire Works. Directing the tour were Harry Little and Herb Ludlow, Cass City Development Corporation officials.

Cass City's industrial delegation to Owosso was Cliff Croft, Development Corporation president, and Luke Tuckey, a corporation director.

Robert Brewer, one of the four Owosso delegates, was emphatic about the worth of the exchange when asked if he thought it was beneficial.

"Very much so," he replied. "Although Owosso's Development Corporation is set up a little differently, we have noticed quite a few similarities."

The group was particularly impressed with their tour of Hills and Dales Hospital. Investigation by one of the members turned up the fact that daily rates at Hills and Dales are lower than at Owosso's hospital.

"A village the size of Cass City is very fortunate to have two hospitals," one of the group commented.

Croft, a native of the Owosso area, expressed amazement, following his return, at the tremendous growth in that community during the past few years.

He compared it to Cass City's recent industrial growth, but on a larger scale. "It's not the type of growth we can expect," he explained, "because they have more population and more facilities."

Lists Requests to Council

Chamber Asks For Action

Dick Eria, president of the Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the Cass City Village Council Tuesday night with a long list of requests and complaints for the council.

Many of the subjects discussed have been under scrutiny for periods varying from weeks to years and others are more recent problems that the trustees are facing.

Most pressing problem (and the most expensive to solve) is Main street.

Needed, the Chamber feels, are new sidewalks and street lights. It appears to be the general consensus of the council that this work will be done.

Discussion by the council centered around a new type hardened blacktop now in use at Davison that was installed there for 21c per square foot.

Lee Rabideau reported that the new walks in Davison look good and that the merchants are happy with them.

It was decided that a committee of councilmen and members of the Chamber visit Davison.

Little discussion was made about the new street lights. However, at an earlier meeting, the council had informally agreed to pay the increased cost of electricity if property owners would pay for the fixtures and installation.

Other Discussion

Several other points were brought to the attention of the council by Eria. The subjects and the council's reaction were:

Clean-up, paint-up, fix-up week in the village was not given enough emphasis and there was not enough time to plan an adequate campaign.

The council will hold another clean-up week, probably in the fall, and work with the Chamber for action.

Place trash receptacles on Main street so merchants can place trash there instead of sweeping it into the street.

The council took no action and there was very little discussion on this point, although there were no objections to the measure.

Clean up vacant lots in the

The council does this periodically, but cannot step in and do the work and charge it to the property owner unless it becomes a public nuisance.

Prohibit the selling of merchandise in town by itinerant non-residents.

President Hunt explained that there is an ordinance against this that will be (and has been) enforced whenever a complaint is made.

From the Editor's Corner

The three adult concerts scheduled this summer under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce are kaput.

Members of the retail division have cancelled plans because the three Friday night performances are not enough for the expected cost ($200 plus gifts for players).

Wilma Fry has left the village because of illness. Her last official act was a reiteration of a policy she has followed since becoming clerk and treasurer of the village.

Her letter of resignation from a Saginaw hospital carried this postscript that admonished the council to "Watch That Budget."

And through the years, Mrs. Fry did just that... serving as watchdog of village funds while plugging unnecessary expenditures with a determination that could not have been exceeded if the money had come directly from her own pocket... instead of from yours and mine.

Because of her full time work for the village and her long service she perhaps knew more about the working of the village than any other councilman or employee.

She will be missed.

We hope that the Chamber of Commerce's request for trash receptacles on Main street will bring action by the council.

We've been plugging for this improvement for several years now, with no action. Perhaps trustees will see the light and make this inexpensive, much needed improvement for Main street.

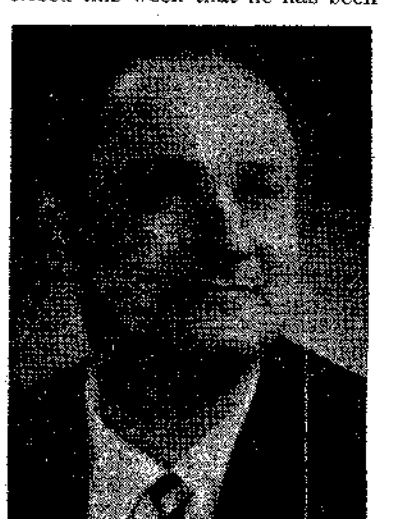

The council hired its new police chief at a special meeting early in May. We feel that perhaps the trustees acted hastily... not in their choice of officers but in the way he was selected. Business of such public interest should be conducted, if not at a regular meeting, at a meeting which has been well publicized so that interested village residents could attend, if they desired.

The fire alarm Tuesday night proved to be a false alarm and a lot of village firefighters got needlessly wet.

Investigation proved that the alarm was made in good faith by Oscar Brooks who thought he spotted a fire in the garage of his next door neighbor, Bud Gruber.

Richard Eria of Cass City disclosed this week that he has been Richard Eria appointed as a member of the Michigan Selective Service Board for Tuscola County.

The appointment went into effect May 18, according to a letter received from President John F. Kennedy.

Dehmel-Green Seek Re-Election

Two legislators announced this week that they will be candidates for re-election on the Republican ticket in the primary election Aug. 7.

The two are Tuscola County State Representative Allison Green and State Senator Arthur Dehmel from the 20th Senatorial district.

Both men cite their experience in government as one of the best reasons for their re-election.

Green points to his four terms as Republican floor leader in the House of Representatives and the possibility of being named the Speaker of the House, if he is returned to Lansing, as two reasons for his re-election.

If named speaker, Green would be the first from Tuscola county honored since 1875 and the second person from the county to be honored in 125 years.

Green is now serving on the school aid, legislative audit commission and the committee on economic growth.

One person, Orville Hubbard, also of Kingston, has already announced his candidacy for the post filled by Green.

Senator Dehmel

There has been no announced opposition to the candidacy of Dehmel for re-election. He has served in the Senate since 1955. He became the first person to

Jones Listed in Student Who's Who

Michael David Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jones, Cass City, is one of a number of students honored at the Central Michigan University Recognition Convocation recently.

Jones was honored because his name appeared in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

He was selected for the publication on the basis of being a Cadet Commander (Battle Group Commander) of ROTC; receiving a Presidential award for ROTC; receiving a distinguished military student award, having been elected junior class president, and as student body president.

He maintained a B average during his four years in college.

New Books Offer Variety of Topics

A collection of new books was made available to readers at the Cass City and Elkland Township Public Library this past week and includes two westerns, seven light fiction.

Also in the collection are: "The Image of Kate," by Mary Astor; "Dearly Beloved," by Anne Morrow Lindbergh; "Refuge in Avalon," by Marguerite Steedman; "The Novice," by Giovanni Arpino; "Tomorrow's Miracle," by Frank G. Slaughter; "The Rancher Takes a Wife," by Richmond P. Hobson Jr.; and "Leave Your Tears in Moscow," by Barbara Aronson.

Others are: "My Life in Court," by Nizer; "Youngblood Hawke," by Herman Wouk; "Hornstein's Boy," by Robert Traver, author of "Anatomy of a Murder"; "One Clear Call," by Edwin Ryan; "A Time to Pass Over," by H. Gordon Green and "The Bible Salesman," by Alma Stone.

Appoint Standing WSC Committees

Yearly reports of club officers and the appointment of standing committees by President Mrs. Margaret Haire highlighted the last regular meeting of the season of the Cass City Woman's Study Club.

The meeting was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. L. Schwaderer where members enjoyed a potluck dinner.

The committees appointed were: Program-Chairman Mrs. B. Benkelman, Miss Gertrude McWebb, Mrs. Frank Meiser and Mrs. Schwaderer, Miss Nina McWebb.

BULEN TALKS Cars

THE END OF PACKARD
The Studebaker-Packard Corporation is dropping the name of Packard from its corporation title and thus declaring an end to the era of one of the fine cars of history.

The last Packards were built in 1958 on a common body shell with Studebaker. The first one was built in 1899 in Warren, Ohio, by J. W. Packard and his brother who assembled the parts by hand in a small workshop.

Like many of the fine automobile makes established since then, the Packard was built as an improvement on some of the vehicles being manufactured at the time, particularly the Winton Horseless Carriage.

The story goes that Packard first proposed some improvements in the Winton vehicles to the already famous manufacturer. Winton rejected them saying: "If you're so smart why don't you build a better machine yourself?"

Mild and easy going Packard was offended and replied: "Why, Mr. Winton, I guess I'll do just that." Packard designed a roomy, luxurious and prestige automobile which that famous car remained until its death.

The decline of Packard was due primarily to market changes and the unpredictable shifting of public preferences. Perhaps most of all, Packard will be remembered for one of the most famous slogans ever coined in the industry - "Ask the Man Who Owns One."

Its meaning makes as much good sense today to anyone seeking a quality car or a reputable, reliable dealer.

Michigan's First Fishermen

Fishing was serious business to Michigan's early Indians. Despite an abundance of fish, it was a continuous challenge to grow, shoot, and catch enough food for their needs. Thus, good fishing sites had a strong say in determining where Indians lived. Techniques used to catch fish depended upon the time of year, the type of fish sought, and sometimes the ability of the Indians. Nets made of wild hemp, nettles, basswood bark, and other fibres were popular and yielded great catches. Spear fishing was also popular. Spears were made of long poles, 18-20 feet long with a flat, sharply-pointed "dart" at the end. The dart was attached to a cord and when a fish was struck it separated from the pole and remained in the fish. Small fish-like lures were used to attract fish within striking range. While there were tremendous pressures in providing adequate food supplies, early explorers noted that the Indians were careful not to kill fish indiscriminately.

Hawk Nine Blows Title Chance in Loss to Vassar

Cass City lost a chance to share the Thumb B Conference Baseball crown Tuesday, May 22, when they dropped a 9-6 decision at Vassar.

The loss dropped them to third in the league. The Hawks finished second in the league last year and third this year, the lowest for a Cass City team in over a decade under the management of Irv Claseman.

The Hawks booted away the title with the Vulcans... committing seven errors while the winners played faultlessly in the field.

Cass City took an early lead in the first on a double by Karr and a single by Robinson. Vassar came back in its half to score three times. They nicked Wayne Brown for two hits, coupled with a pair of boofs, for the markers.

Cass City went ahead again in the top of the second with three runs when Ellis doubled, Morley singled, Brown tripled and Hillaker singled.

In their half of the second Vassar went ahead to stay. Two errors were instrumental in helping the Vulcans to three more runs. At the end of two the Vulcans were in front 6-4.

Vassar widened its lead in the fourth with two more hits and another Hawk boot.

Cass City moved back into contention in the sixth with a pair of runs on three hits. But a nifty Vassar double play ended the last chance Cass City had of pulling the game out of the fire.

The Vulcans added an insurance run in the bottom of the sixth without the benefit of a hit. Robinson. Leading the hitters for Cass City were Brown with two for two and Ellis with two for three. Caro and Sandusky share the Thumb B crown for the year.

The line score:

V	330	201	x	9	8	0

Millington Game
Cass City ended its season with a non-league game Thursday night under the lights at Millington.

The game was tied 6-6 at the end of the regulation seven innings, but the Hawks exploded for five runs in the eighth to win.

Jerry Hillaker, who was the leading Hawk hitter this season with .467 average, collected three hits as did Roger Karr and Larry Brown was the winning pitcher when he relieved Sawicki in the fourth.

The line score:

CC	121	110	05	11	14	4

19 Students Take Part in Recital

Nineteen piano students of Mrs. Willard Dobbs and Mrs. Jack Esau were presented in a recital Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the Methodist Church.

Participating were: Anne Bulen, Judy Clasen, Pamela Dobbs, Eric Esau, Susan Gue, Lynn Halre, Robbin Hoffman, Frank Holes, Karen Holm, Janet and Susan Koepfgen, Bonnie Lapp, Richard Lorentzen, Cindy and Gloria Marshall, Kathy Mark, Mike Murphy, Janet Parrott and Terry Rabideau.

Punch and cookies were served at the close of the recital. About 60 attended.

First Quarter Highway Fund Distribution Told

Cass City is slated to receive $6,645 of the $81,731,669 first quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections, according to a report from John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner.

The money, collected during the first three months of 1962, shows a decrease of $1,222,333 over the same period for 1961. Tuscola county will receive $290,627 from the total collections.

Two area villages, Gageton and Kingston, will also receive a portion of the money. Gageton is slated to be paid $2,319 and Kingston will receive $1,700.

Mackie, in his report, attributed the decrease to the fact that more motorists bought their 1962 license plates earlier than usual. License sales were up 80 per cent in November and December.

Total collections during the first quarter amounted to $83,499,085. Collection costs of $1,590,985 and the Waterways Commission's share, amounting to $176,431, were deducted from the total figure.

Motor Vehicle Highway Fund monies come from all state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes, license plate fees and a small amount of miscellaneous fees.

Spring poets are born—but that doesn't help matters much. Skillfully laid on, there is no limit to the amount of flattery most people can absorb.

County Men at DeMolay Reunion

Fritz Neitzel, Cass City, and Phil Schraeder, Caro, attended a Third Degree Night at the Zion Lodge No. 1, F&M, at the New Masonic Temple, Detroit, Wednesday, May 23. The meeting was also a reunion for the Zion Order DeMolay.

Neitzel, a member of the original Zion Order DeMolay, is on the advisory board of the Tuscola Order DeMolay and Schraeder is a member of the Caro DeMolay and Father of the Tuscola Chapter.

Slate Services for Albert Leslie, 62

Funeral services for Albert Leslie, 62, were slated for today (Thursday) at 2:00 p.m. at Little's Funeral Home following his death Monday at Veterans Memorial Hospital, Saginaw. He had been in ill health the past 10 weeks and had been a patient at the hospital for the past seven weeks.

Mr. Leslie, a lifelong area resident, was born in Sanilac county, July 17, 1899, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Leslie. He married Miss Florence Jicklick in Bay Port, June 12, 1929. Following their marriage, they settled on a farm in Evergreen township where he lived until his death.

A Marine veteran of World War I, he was a member of the North Branch American Legion and a member of the Decker Lodge No. 479, F&M.

Surviving, besides his wife, are: four daughters, Mrs. Jack (Margaret) Milligan, Decker, Mrs. Robert (Beatrice) Wallace, Hemlock, Mrs. Ross (Mary) Beach, Lansing, and Miss Jean Leslie, at home, and a son, Dale Leslie, Decker.

Also surviving are: two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Fleming, Decker, and Mrs. Walter Emerick, Mt. Clemens, and eight grandchildren. Two brothers and one sister preceded him in death.

Rev. Joseph Shaw was slated to officiate over the services and committal services were to be under the auspices of the American Legion. Interment will be in Elkland Cemetery.

The man who hesitates often profits from the mistakes of others.

OWNED BY the same Columbia Township family for 103 years, the Abke farm on Ashmore Road, near Hoppe Road, has been designated a Centennial Farm by the Michigan Historical Commission. Family members, left to right, are: Mr. and Mrs. Dale Abke, their two boys, and Julius Abke — father of Dale and son of the first family owner, William Abke. The Abkes were one of three Tuscola County farm families honored Thursday, May 24, by the Historical Commission and Detroit Edison at Centennial Farm ceremonies in Caro.

Three Tuscola County Farmers Receive Centennial Plaques

Three Tuscola County Centennial Farmers were awarded centennial plaques before an audience of 64 persons attending the Detroit Edison sponsored Tuscola Centennial Farm luncheon, Thursday, May 24, in Caro.

Area persons given the award, which included the plaque and photo of their farm, were Julius and Dale Abke, Columbia township. The pair are father and son.

Guest Speaker Dr. Louis Beeson, executive secretary, Michigan Historical Commission, told the group that Tuscola ranks 21st in the nation's 3,300 counties in farm income. He also pointed out that of the 1,630 Centennial Farms in the State, 33 were in Tuscola county. Weston Raven, Caro, County Michigan Week chairman, stressed that, "we, as residents, should sell Michigan to others... we have a good product." Raven is also a Detroit Edison official. Harry Richards, Caro Detroit Edison district manager, presented the awards and Alfred Ballweg, county extension agent, gave a brief history of farming in Tuscola county.

Charles Woodcock, Board of Supervisors chairman, on behalf of the attending supervisors, accepted a permanent record of the centennial farms in the county. The plaque was awarded by A. L. Lane, Detroit Edison official.

Attending the meeting, besides the centennial farmers and supervisors, were representatives of county newspapers and radio. Other centennial farmers honored were Mrs. Laura Rinnes, Reese, and Fred and Roy Bodimer, Vassar. It's often the small talk that causes the biggest trouble.

Name Teachers for Vacation Church School

Faculty members and helpers have been named for the Cass City Vacation Church School, according to a report from Rev. John Fish, Presbyterian pastor. The school begins Monday, June 11, and ends Friday, June 22, with classes running from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. daily. Kindergarten classes will meet at the Methodist Church; primary classes will be held at the Presbyterian Church and the junior classes will assemble at the EUB Church. Kindergarten instructors are: Dorothy Hunt, superintendent; June Hillaker, Diana Kraft and Donna Auten. Assisting will be: Lynn Searis, Ann Starbann, Renate Connolly and Rose Cook. Teaching primary classes will be: Eunice Kaufman, superintendent; Vera Nicol, Juanita Ryland and Pat Toner. Tim Knight, Betsy Jones, Jane Ballard and Judy Wright will assist. Junior class teachers are: Betty Kim, superintendent; Laura Bryant and Roberta Arndt. Helpers are: Beryl Copeland and DeeEllen Albee. Mrs. Fritz Neitzel, school director, has announced that there will be an emphasis on pre-registration in Church Sunday School classes on June 3 and June 10. Registration cards will be available and pins will be presented to those who register. Registration will also be held on the first day of the vacation school. The kindergarten department will include four-year-olds as well as those who are entering or graduating from public school kindergarten. Primary includes first, second and third graders and the juniors include fourth, fifth and sixth graders.

KOMMENTS BY KRAFT

It Was A Long Needle, But Not That Long!

By Dave Kraft

All winter long I've been fairly breaking my arm, patting myself on the back because I hadn't caught a cold.

Then came Spring. Wonderful spring, with its cold weather, its hot weather, cold weather, hot weather and hot-cold weather.

Finally, my nasal passages and my sinuses made a pact and soon I was looking like a poor man's Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer. I tried to lick it by eating four-way cold tablets like they were going out of style. I must have had a six-way cold, because they didn't help.

Finally, I decided the only solution was to call on Dr. Donahue's clinic and see what they could do for me.

The popular and most sure-fire remedy is a shot of penicillin. Now, I've been in enough hospitals and had enough shots to know where one gets a shot of penicillin, and it ain't in the head.

Believe me, it took a lot of nerve to go, especially since I do all my typing from a sitting position.

After an examination, Dr. Donahue, prescribed something for my sinuses, a heat treatment and some medication. Also, as I knew he would, a shot of penicillin.

After treating my sinuses, the doctor took me into another room for the heat treatment. It really wasn't necessary. I was already sweating that penicillin shot.

Following the heat treatment, I went back to the examination room where the nurse was to give me the shot.

While she readied the needle, we discussed such pleasantries as the change in the weather and so forth. She had her back to me and I warily gauged the distance from where I stood to the door.

Just as I was going to break for the door, she turned around with the needle in her hand. It looked as big as a jousting lance straight from King Arthur's Court.

"Be brave, you coward," I told myself as I crouched against the wall.

"Are you right-handed or left-handed?" she asked.

"This," I thought to myself, "is a very ridiculous question." Being right-handed or left-handed is very important in writing, eating or athletics, but for penicillin shots? I mean, after all.

It threw me off guard. It was several seconds before I could remember which handed I was.

"Left," I finally said. "Roll up your right sleeve, please," said the nurse. This was getting silly. That was a long needle, but not that long. Perhaps it was subterfuge. While I was concentrating on rolling up my sleeve, she was going to stab me in the back with that javelin.

Just as I was reaching this conclusion, she deftly and painlessly gave it to me in the arm. I was so overjoyed that I didn't even faint until I got home.

During the examination, Dr. Donahue gave me a guided tour of his clinic. It is a compact, complete, obviously well thought-out facility.

Cass City and the area can be thankful that they are fortunate enough to have not one but two hospitals, plus all the other fine medical facilities it has.

I missed the vocal concert the other night because of my cold. I was really looking forward to it, especially after the recent band concert.

I've been to a number of programs where Roger Parrish and his vocal students have performed and I'm sure that the program was a huge success.

Final Rites Held for Mrs. Fountain, 85

Final rites were held Saturday at St. Pancratius Catholic Church for Mrs. Agnes Fountain, 85, who died Thursday, May 24, at the Rapson Rest Home, Pigeon. She had been a patient at the Home for the past two years and had been in ill health for the past six years. The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Antone Wickenheiser, she was born in Carleton, Michigan, March 8, 1877. She married Robert Fountain in Carleton, February 6, 1907. She moved to this area two years ago.

Surviving are: three daughters, Mrs. Theodore Dobson, Whittemore, Mrs. Robert Long, Evanson, Ill., and Mrs. William Ebert, Cass City; one son, Joseph Fountain, Cleveland, Ala., and 14 grandchildren. A brother and two sisters preceded her in death.

Rev. Arnold Messing officiated at the services and interment was in Novesta Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were by Little's Funeral Home.

A MYTH The things that go without saying must have escaped some of the gib talker's attention.

THE ODDS Take things as they come—only one in a million catches up with that promising future.

Words may fail them, but some people just keep talking.

Services Held for Arthur Watson, 89

Funeral services were held Saturday at Little's Funeral Home for Arthur Watson, 89, lifelong area resident who died at his home in Greenleaf township Wednesday, May 23. He had been in ill health for the past two weeks.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Watson, he was born in Greenleaf township, July 5, 1872.

Surviving are: a brother, William Watson, Greenleaf township, and a number of nieces and nephews. Three brothers and three sisters preceded him in death.

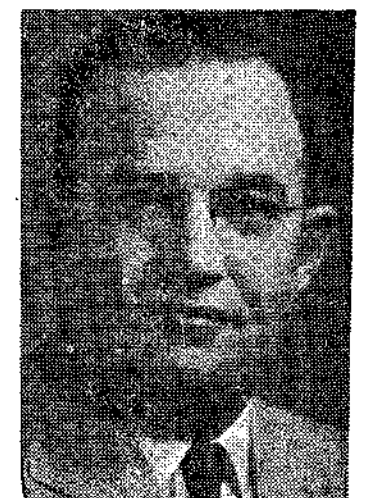

Rev. Milton Gelatt officiated and interment was in Elkland Cemetery.

REPUTATION is an important factor in the memorial business, and the fact that CUMINGS MEMORIALS, INC., Caro, has been at the same location with the same ownership for the past 50 years bears this out.

Most of the firm's business comes through people they've thoughtfully served. The reason -- understanding, sincere guidance and dependability in helping you select a fine monument of select Barre Granite.

Also to their credit is the fact that they have a large display of 35 different granites, which "lets you see what you buy, when you buy."

Another outstanding feature of Cumings Memorials, Inc., is the fact that the firm is the only memorial business in the county that does its own lettering and cutting, insuring specified results.

Remember, for monuments whose eternal beauty is backed by the strongest guarantee in the monument industry, it's Cumings Memorials, Inc., Caro.

WANDERING WITH WARREN

A Lot of Things Happened in May

By Ilene Warren

Memorial Day. Somehow its meaning - in this day of wars and rumors of wars - has become ingrown. It has become not only a Memorial-of but also a Tribute-to.

It was General John A. Logan, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who, in 1868, set the 30th of May as a day when the graves of the dead Union soldiers should be decorated. This commemoration has since been extended to include the "honored dead" of the Spanish-American War, the War to End Wars and all subsequent wars, both hot and cold.

May is nearly over. Today marks her passing. Helen Hunt Jackson wrote, "The voice of one who goes before to make the paths of June more beautiful, is thine, Sweet May!" May was beautiful - can June be more?

A lot of things happened in May. In May of this year, Scott Carpenter made his successful orbits of the earth. In May thirty-five years ago, Charles Lindbergh completed the first non-stop air journey from New York to Paris. Do you remember? His was a hero's welcome home such as John Glenn recently received. While I cannot remember the occurrence (I was only four), I do recall a picture of "Lindy" in the National Geographic Magazine depicting his receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross from President Coolidge. Lindbergh was my first hero - and a quite handsome one, too.

One cannot think of Lindbergh without recalling the tragic death of his child... this was rehashed recently in a book. I can remember the daily anticipation people felt as they hoped and prayed the child would be found - and the sorrow and sympathy shared by the nation when the news came that the little boy was dead. No greater tragedy, really, than the death of any child - but it touched so many because this man, the father, had been their hero.

Another son, Jon, was recently in the news. He's doing scientific research in oceanography. While spacemen are soaring into the firmament, Jon Lindbergh and others like him are delving into the deep.

In September 1942, the Japanese (in retaliation for the Doolittle raid on Tokyo) planned a mission whereby it was hoped that the Oregon forests would be set ablaze by bombs and thus, by the fire's spreading, panic the West Coast of the United States. Chief Warrant Officer Nobuo Fujita, a Geta pilot with ten years' naval service, was chosen for the honor. Obviously, the mission was a failure. Three of the bombs were duds; the fourth started a small blaze that was quickly spotted and extinguished by forest rangers.

The sequel to the story is more interesting. The Junior Chamber of Commerce of the small town of Brookings, Oregon, (the town nearest the forests that Fujita bombed) has been raising $3,000 to bring Fujita, his wife Ayako and English-speaking son Yasuyoshi to visit the area where twenty years ago Fujita's bombing expedition met with failure.

As he packed for his trip to Oregon, Fujita expressed the hope of establishing with his hosts a plan whereby Japanese and American boys might make summer visits to each other's country. Fujita stated that he is prepared to apologize for his 1942 raid and will present the Brookings Jaycees with the 400-year-old samurai sword that he carried in his plane during his raids. Fujita commented, "This is the finest possible way of closing the story. It's in the finest of samurai traditions to pledge peace and friendship by submitting the sword to a former enemy."

Agent's Corner

Frances T. Clark
County Home Demonstration Agent

I wonder if you know a Mrs. Jumble? She is that woman who handles her food cart like a weapon. A food cart can be a dangerous weapon. She shoves aggressively into cross aisles without checking traffic movement first, crowding too closely on others' heels and concentrating on food displays without frequent checking of the traffic situation ahead.

She also shops without a plan, changes her mind about a selection she has made. Then when she does make a selection, she may change her mind and remove it from her cart, setting it down just anywhere, turning stockboys into detectives in their efforts to maintain an orderly classified assortment of foods.

If her rocketing cart hangs into a display, dislodging merchandise, she glances quickly around and hurries off, leaving a roadblock, broken jars, spilled food for someone else to report to a store employee.

Those youngsters you see fumbling among the groceries, racing among other customers, they belong to Mrs. Jumble. Where is their mother? Probably parked center-aisle or somewhere else, having a carefree chat with a friend.

You can always spot Mrs. Jumble in the fresh produce department because she's the shopper handling delicate fruits and vegetables unnecessarily, tossing them aside carelessly. Sometimes she has long fingernails which pierce tender tomatoes or damage several perfect fruits before she makes her own selections and moves on. It is Mrs. Jumble who is responsible for those signs your retailer had to post during the last soft fruit season, "Don't Pinch the Peaches." The unfortunate part is we all must pay for the damage she does. "The produce that is damaged today, becomes tomorrow's throw-away."

Even at the check-out counter, Mrs. Jumble disregards "food store-etiquette". She delays the check-out line to send a member of her family back for one more item, or has to send a produce item back for in-department weighing. She transfers items from cart to counter, making no effort to keep "two for" items together, or trying to arrange purchases price side up.

To help you to not be a Mrs. Jumble, why don't you arrange your shopping list by departments within the store? Of course this means making out a complete shopping list before going to the grocery store. You will find shopping for yourself and others a pleasure instead of a jumble.

On June 6 I will be holding an all-day workshop on "Canning Chair Seats". The beginning clothing construction workshop will have its last lesson June 4 at the Gilford Extension Hall from 1:00-4:00 p.m.

Michigan Mirror

State Legislative Deadlock Broken

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

The Legislative deadlock was broken by Gov. John B. Swainson when the Democratic chief executive said his hopes for fiscal reform in 1962 were "dead."

Reasons behind his abandonment of attempts to bring up an income tax for another vote, however, will be the basis for many of the fall campaign arguments. Swainson said he gave up hope because the Republican-dominated Legislature "failed again to face up to its responsibility."

Republicans, however, have contended throughout the session that Swainson's push for an income tax was based partially on a hope that the GOP would hold firm against it. He was afraid of his chances for re-election if a statewide income tax was passed, they said.

House Republicans also will have a good deal of political fodder from Swainson's "death" announcement because of the status of tax talks when it came. The majority party in the House had seen the first of its proposed "nuisance tax" bills die in an initial vote.

Majority Leader Allison Green, Kingston Republican, then decided "to let the Democrats take over" to bring out an income tax program they said they wanted.

The income tax package never saw the light of debate in the House before Swainson announced the end of hope for fiscal reform.

As in 1959, when an income tax proposal passed in the House and was killed in the Senate, several Democratic members of the lower chamber were opposed to a payroll levy but said they would probably vote for it.

Swainson reportedly had asked his party House caucus members to hold out for "one last try" to pass an income tax.

An intra-party squabble, centering in Macomb County Democratic units, also may have entered into the Governor's decision to end the stalemate.

The Governor will not admit he asked for any "unit rule" among House Democrats, as he reportedly did in a caucus. Republicans likely will have good grounds for campaign material in the apparent Democratic split over the income tax.

Present-day historians have been very successful in digging back to find that people 50 years ago, at least a few of them, had the wisdom to predict some of the advances made in the last half-century.

Dr. Fred S. Siebert, dean of Michigan State University's College of Communications Arts, may be one of the persons whom future historians cite for foresight in the newspaper world.

Siebert predicts that the newspaper of the future will be more of a news distributor than presently and less of a disseminator of fiction, features and comics.

The primary function of newspapers 50 years from now, according to the MSU spokesman, will be to give readers an accurate and balanced picture of events of the community which it serves.

"This does not mean eliminating the interesting and unusual," he said. "It means increased emphasis on the significant, the meaningful, the important and the balanced picture."

The future trend will be to leave entertainment to the producers of television, radio, movies and magazines, according to Siebert.

Automation, business pessimism and several other factors take the chief blame for unemployment changes.

One of the main classifications in the "other factors" is the youth in the labor force: school dropouts.

Dr. Daniel H. Kruger, associate director of Michigan State University's Labor and Industrial Relations Center, cites school dropouts as "one of the nation's most tragic manpower problems."

All past trends would indicate that employment problems of youth will become more pronounced as years pass, Kruger contends. It is currently estimated that one-third of the nation's young people drop out of school before completing the 12th grade.

In Michigan, Kruger said, the dropout rate is about 80 per cent. In Detroit alone there were 6,300 school dropouts during 1961, about 300 more than in the previous year.

"The classroom teacher has a most important responsibility for decreasing the number of dropouts," Kruger contends. Teachers can and must make an effort to understand the particular needs of students.

Other segments of society also must play a part in recognizing the danger of school dropouts.

The significant relationship between education and unemployment must be emphasized, he said. Every group of statistics available shows that the higher the formal education, the less unemployment is a problem.

Kruger stressed that economic growth of a community or state will never solve the unemployment problems of school dropouts. "Even if there was a significant expansion in the number of jobs available, many of the young people would be unable to qualify for the available employment."

BALE TWICE AS FAST WITH HALF THE LABOR!

Today there's a new way to bale—that lets one man bale and load faster than a 2- or 3-man team! The new system consists of a New Holland Hayliner plus a simple, foolproof mechanism that "airlifts" the bales into a trailing wagon.

It costs surprisingly little. In fact, the lowest priced Hayliner—the new Compact Hayliner 65 with Tele-Flow feed—costs no more with Bale-Thrower than many balers without automatic wagon loading! You get the job done in half the time—all by yourself! See us about a demonstration today.

Personal News and Notes from Gagetown

The Rev. Fr. Frank McLaughlin presented diplomas to 12 graduates of St. Agatha School Sunday morning at the 10:30 Mass. The graduates were Phyllis Schwartz, Joan Lopez, Joan Salcido, Linda Lorenz, Penelope Dillon, Gayle Dillon, Penelope Kanehl, Patrick Tooley, Peter Leiterman, Clyde Leiterman, William Ehrlich and Joseph Ciupa. The girls wore white caps and gowns and the boys green caps and gowns.

Mrs. George Purdy had as guests during the past week Mr. and Mrs. Tony Carolan of Bay City, who spent Wednesday, May 23, and Thursday at their farm home and visited other relatives, Dr. Perry Fritz of Pigeon, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Purdy and Miss Glenda Eastman of Saginaw and Mrs. Don Wilson and George.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gartner and family of Lincoln Park, Charles Proulx, Pauline and Gerald Proulx of Pontiac were week-end guests of Mrs. Edward Proulx.

Mrs. Viola Merchinson spent Saturday and Sunday in Flint with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Hopkins.

Mrs. Aura Beaudon went to Lansing Saturday where she attended the wedding of her nephew, James Beaudon, and Rosalyn Parker in Resurrection Church. The reception was held in the evening in the Artillery Army. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Thiel, William and Michael of Pontiac were Saturday guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Thiel. Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Salgat were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Follman at their cottage at Black Lake.

Mrs. Burt Wood, who spent the winter and spring in Toledo, Ohio, with Mr. and Mrs. Delos Wood, in Detroit with Mrs. Clarence Wood and in Milford with Mr. and Mrs. Zefferly LaClair, returned home Saturday. Delos Wood and Tom brought her home and stayed until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neil and Colleen of Pontiac were Sunday dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kehoe. They were Sunday breakfast guests of Mrs. C. P. Hunter.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. M. P. Freeman were Mrs. Lee Coonan and Mrs. Harry Nye of Pontiac. They called at the Patrick Kehoe home in the afternoon.

A graduation party honoring Patricia Comment, graduate from Owen-Gage High School, was given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Comment, at their home after the graduation exercises. A buffet luncheon was served. Saturday evening guests at the Comment home were Mrs. Harry Nye and Mrs. Lee Coonan of Pontiac. Seventy guests attended open house at the William Ashmore home Sunday honoring Robert Ashmore who graduated from the Owen-Gage High School Friday evening. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served. Robert received many gifts and a sum of money. Guests came from Tawas, East Tawas, Detroit, Lum, Grindstone City, Caro, Owendale, Cass City and Gagetown. Robert expects to take a course in mechanics and farming.

Miss Margee Munro of Clarkston and James Munro of Pontiac spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Munro.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wertz and family and Mrs. Julia Sutton of Flint were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Mackay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Walrod and Bonnie spent Sunday in Ferndale and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Perrault.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tamblay of Bay City and Mr. and Mrs. Don Schwartz and Mark were Sunday dinner guests of Steve Schwartz and Phyllis. Afternoon guests were Mrs. Leon Heineman of Carrollton and Mrs. Leo Marston of Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kehoe held open house Sunday from 2 to 5, honoring their daughter Terry, an Owen-Gage graduate. A buffet luncheon was served to 60 guests who came from North Branch, Detroit, Bay City, Cass City, Owendale and Gagetown. Terry expects to attend CMU and major in arts.

Mr. and Mrs. Evin Walrod and Bonnie were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Perrault of Ferndale.

Mrs. Merwin Lawson of Brooklyn, Mrs. Thomas Nash of Fraser and Gordon Nash and daughter Donna of Albion were Sunday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jamieson and visited Mrs. William Jeneaux at the Convalescent Home in Pigeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fischer entertained 65 guests Sunday at a buffet luncheon in honor of their son John who was among the Owen-Gage graduates who received their diplomas Friday evening. Guests came from Reese, Bay City, Saginaw, Dearborn and Detroit. John received many gifts and money.

Mary Lou Ehrlich, who graduated from Owen-Gage High School, and William Ehrlich, an eighth-grade graduate from St. Agatha School, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ehrlich, were honored Sunday when 30 relatives and friends gathered at their home. A buffet luncheon was served. They received gifts and money. Mary Lou expects to go into nurse's training in the spring.

Open house was held Sunday for Lynn Burdon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Willard Burdon. Lynn graduated from the Owen-Gage High School. Thirty-five guests attended. A buffet luncheon was served. Lynn received many gifts and money.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

I see by the papers where the House Committee on Operations, whatever that is, reports that our Federal Government now owns 740 million acres of land in the United States and 433,000 acres in their foreign countries. The report says this don't include any acres used for military purposes.

I don't recollect ever reading in any of them pamphlets from the U. S. Department of Agriculture what the Government has got on this land. They ought to give a detailed report on their holdings like they make me give on mine. I save a little on taxes by cutting the corners here and there in my report. For instance, when I list my holdings I leave out the gulleys and fertit about the chickens. My old lady claims the chickens is hers and I tell her, at her age, she is tax exempt on chickens. I'm willing for the Government to fertit about the gulleys and chickens, but I'd shore like to know what else they got on them 740 million acres. For the sake of the taxpayers, I hope they ain't got 'em in the Soil Bank.

We was discussing this item at the country store Saturday night and Zeke Grubb allowed as how the Government owning so much

Roger Deering Wins Good Conduct Honor

Roger D. Deering, radioman second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Deering of Gagetown, was awarded the Good Conduct Medal, May 4, while serving with Tactical Air Control Squadron 22 at Little Creek, Va.

He received the medal for demonstrating high achievement in conduct and proficiency in rate during three years of continuous active service.

Deering is now serving with Tactical Air Control Squadron 22, which departed its home port of Norfolk, Va., on May 14, for a five-month deployment with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The unit, a part of Amphibious Squadron Six, will participate in a series of landing exercises during the operational training in the Mediterranean area.

The unit is scheduled to return to Norfolk in early October.

Before entering the Navy in August 1958, Deering was graduated from Owendale High School.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

Gary Don Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones of Decker, has been awarded a Michigan State University 4-H scholarship, it was announced recently by authorities at the college. Mr. Jones was a member of the Evergreen Guys n' Gals 4-H club for seven years. He is a 4-H Service Club member and has been a junior leader for two years.

A local group of amateur artists will participate in a 'clothesline' exhibit and sale of paintings at the Saginaw Art Museum June 8-9. Mrs. James Wallace of Cass City will display work at the exhibit. Several other local artists will participate in the exhibit. If framing is completed in time, Frank Walsh, John Sommers and Bob Schuckert will show paintings.

Ray Whalin and four members of his tumbling team from Cass City School entertained members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel. Presenting an exhibition of tumbling for the group were Bob Wright, Dave Ware, Paul Schember and Martin Yedinak.

Cass City took another step forward this week when the postal department announced that home carrier service would be established within 90 days.

Ten Years Ago

Seventy-five seniors of Cass City School will leave Monday on a four-day trip to New York. Boarding a special New York Central train at Detroit, they will be met by seniors from several other schools, making a total party of about 500 students and their sponsors.

Orion Cardew was named president of the Teacher's Club at a meeting held in Cass City recently when officers were named for 1952-53.

Acting on a telephone call, the Tuscola county Sheriff's Department swooped down on a cock-fight Sunday afternoon at a farm near Vassar. In the raid, an estimated 20 persons were arrested and 57 fighting cocks seized after the meeting place had been located by Deputies Grant Ball of Cass City and William Tomlinson.

It doesn't take fancy fishing equipment or a world of experience to land the big ones these days and Paul O'Harris, 14, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trathen, has the evidence to prove it. Fishing with a small reel in the Cass River near Greenleaf, Paul landed a 27 1/2-inch pike that weighed six pounds. What's more, the young angler was on his first fishing trip and the large pike was the first fish that he ever landed.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Commencement week activities of the Cass City High School are scheduled for next week when 57 students will finish their high school careers here and will be presented with diplomas. Lewis Pimney, who graduates from the dental department of the University of Michigan this month, has received an orthodontia appointment to teach in a clinic at the university for the next two years while studying for his master's degree.

June, the month of graduation, finds four of the 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. MacRae of New Greenleaf receiving diplomas. Two will finish college courses, one will receive a high school diploma and another graduated from the eighth grade.

Alice E. Hecht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hecht of Vassar, and a pupil of the Richville School, Denmark township, has the highest mark of all the 366 pupils who passed the recent eighth grade examination in Tuscola county. She is 14 years of age and the pupil of John G. Ziegler. Her average in the examination is 97.87 per cent.

Thirty-five Years Ago

Preparations are under way for celebrating the 50th anniversary of the organization of the Presbyterian Church on Saturday and Sunday, June 25 and 26. Sunday morning, the anniversary sermon will be delivered by the Rev. E. H. Bradfield, who was pastor 20 years ago when the present church building was remodeled.

The Jolly Farmers' Club enjoyed an exceptionally pleasant evening on Thursday when nearly 100 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tuckey for a pot-luck supper. Mrs. Stanley Warmer favored the club with a reading and Mrs. John Beebehyser with a piano solo. Mrs. A. J. Knapp gave a short but helpful talk on "Michigan, My Michigan," the Rev. I. W. Cargo spoke on "Cooperation of the People and the Government" and Robert Wagner gave a brief talk on ways of bringing to Cass City some factory or plant that would give work to local people and would also take care of the extra products from the farm.

Mrs. Susan Mathews, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Eunice Crafts, was 95 years old Friday, May 27, and a number of her friends and relatives came with well-filled baskets and had dinner with her. A beautiful three-tiered birthday cake was made by her daughter, Mrs. Matt Parker.

The man who makes light of the faults of others seldom sets the world on fire.

ORDER APPOINTING TIME

State of Michigan, The Probate Court for the County of Tuscola.

In the Matter of the Estate of John Seeger, Deceased.

At a session of said Court, held on May 9th, 1962.

Present, Honorable Henderson Graham, Judge of Probate.

Notice is hereby given that all creditors of said deceased are required to present their claims in writing and under oath, to said Court, and to serve a copy thereof upon Cameron M. Wallace of Cass City, Michigan, fiduciary of said estate, and that such claims will be heard by said Court at the Probate Office on July 20th, 1962, at ten a.m.

It is ordered, that notice thereof be given by publication of a copy hereof for three weeks consecutively previous to said day of hearing, in the Cass City Chronicle, and that the fiduciary cause a copy of this notice to be served upon each known party in interest at his last known address by registered, certified or ordinary mail (with proof of mailing), or by personal service at least fourteen (14) days prior to such hearing.

Henderson Graham, Judge of Probate.

land could cause trouble. Zeke claims all the wars since Adam has been fought over land, trying to take more of it or keep the other country from taking some of yours. Zeke reported, incidental, that his farm was littler ever time he looks at it and he thinks maybe his neighbor is doing a little fence-moving in the light of the moon. He figgers one of these days he'll have to take down his shotgun and re-gilt it.

Ed Doolittle said him and the Government was a heap alike in one respect. The Government has got 740 million acres of land and is $300 million in debt. Ed says he's got 133 acres of land and owes $2,800, not including the $25 he's behind with his preacher. According to that report from the House Committee on Operations, claims Ed, him and the Government is both land pore.

Well, Mister Editor, it looks like it's going to cost a feller 5 cent to mail a letter and cost you about double to mail your paper after July 1. Them Congressmen is mighty upset over the postal deficit. In fact, they is so upset that I see where the House mailing and folding room reports it sent out one million pieces of postage-free, political mail in February and is predicting that by the time the Congressional races git in full bloom in July and August they'll be sending out 300,000 pieces of postage-free, political mail a day from them Congressmen to the voters back home. But they claim this ain't costing but a few million a year, just peanuts.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Are Farm Problems Entirely Farmers' Problems?

Let's look at the facts. Farmers make up only 9% of our population yet they feed 180 million Americans. You and me. In other countries up to 90% of the population works the land; yet food shortage—even famine—is an ever present threat. Russia and Red China are only two examples. Our farmers do more than feed us, however. For example, 40% of all jobs in private industry are related to agriculture—either on the farm, supplying the farm, or processing farm products. But that's not all. "Industrial" Michigan alone produced $740 million in farm products last year—to rank in the top 1/3 among farm states in the nation.

What do these facts mean? Our national and state economy, our jobs, our daily nourishment—all are inseparably tied to agriculture.

Are farm problems entirely farmers' problems? We think you'll agree that a sound and stable farm economy is important to every one of us.
