

Cass City to Seek Federal Aid Funds

Federal Funds are available on a matching basis for village projects under the Federal Area Redevelopment Act and Cass City will attempt to secure a share of the Federal funds, it was disclosed at the regular meeting of the village council Tuesday night at the Municipal Building.

For over a year now, the village has had on file a complete survey taken by Hubbell, Roth and Clark, village engineers, telling what is needed to bring Cass City's water system up to ideal standards.

This ambitious program would cost about $273,000. However, the village feels that an adequate system can be established for much less money than this and they are going to investigate the necessary steps needed to get in to the Federal program.

Drain Garfield

A much smaller village project will be completed at once. Garfield from Seeger to Ale has two blocks left to be drained and, on the suggestion of Trustee Harold Guinther, they have decided to finish the drainage work this fall so that the road will be ready for resurfacing in the future.

Garfield is now a heavily traveled road because of the factory traffic and the village has found it nearly impossible to keep it in good condition as a gravel road.

Church Request

Another street problem before the council was a request by the St. Pancratius Church for removal of four trees, new sidewalks and a blacktop slab back of the curb.

The council readily agreed to the tree removal and sidewalk request but refused the blacktop request because of the street uniform and because of maintenance problems.

Street Lights

A request by Mrs. J. M. Bustamante for a street light at the end of Third Street was denied because only one home is in the area. Houghton street, in the same area, now has four more homes than when the last survey was made and it is possible that a light will be erected there.

Fleenor Fourth Veteran to Quit Fire Department

A total of 100 years of service by four Elkland township firemen ended Thursday night, Oct. 25, with the resignation of Ray Fleenor, a veteran of 28 years with the department.

Fleenor was the fourth fireman to resign from the department since the first of the year. Between them, the four men represented a total of 100 years with the department.

Mort Orr, after 51 years with the organization (1911-1962), was the first to resign. He was followed by Ed Baker, 20 years (1942-1962) and a relative newcomer, Ed Golding six years (1956-1962).

Need Caro Upset To Save Grid Year

If Cass City could register an upset at Caro Friday it would take the edge off an otherwise dismal season for the Red Hawks . . . for no season is a complete loss for Cass City when the Tigers have been defeated.

Although a victory will probably rank as an upset, it will not be as big a surprise as Cass City recorded in 1961 when Caro came to town undefeated and tied only by Bad Axe for the league lead only to drag home on the short end of a 7-0 score.

The Hawks could do with a little more luck than they have had in their last two games. For the second straight week they lost by a margin of three points. Safeties have been the big bugaboo.

It's been that kind of a season for Cass City. Starting with their opening week of scrimmage where three regulars were injured, the Hawks have been plagued by misfortune. With a little luck the team could have had as many wins as losses. Friday's game was a good example.

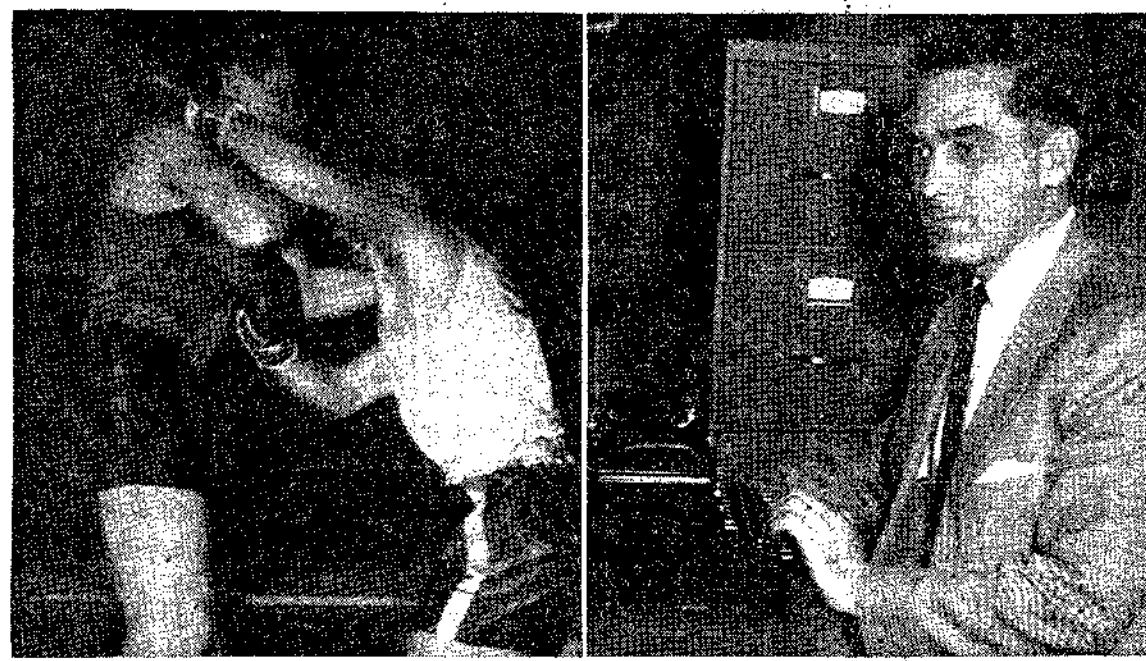

Defensive Battle

By the margin of a successful point after touchdown and a blocked kick resulting in a safety, Cass City was defeated Friday by Marlette.

Neither team was able to push across a marker in the first half. Both teams threatened but lacked the punch to push across a touchdown.

In the opening quarter Marlette marched down the field to the Cass City five-yard line, but the drive fizzled when the Red Raiders fumbled.

Cass City threatened with 1:45 left in the first half. Roger Karr took a punt and raced 30 yards behind good blocking to the Marlette 20-yard line. But the Hawks intentional. Holes is the holder of a Marine lightweight championship won during World War II, boxed in college and was a Golden Gloves contender.

Pugilistic Marine, Placid Principal Are One-in-Same

If you ever have the opportunity to take Eli Holes, Cass City High School assistant principal, on for a fast 10 rounds and you suddenly find yourself lying on the canvas face up, think nothing of it. You're not the first who came out second best in a boxing match with Holes.

During Holes' three years of boxing in service and two years in college, he flattened many challengers.

Holes is the holder of a Marine lightweight championship and was a Golden Gloves winner. He fought on the same college boxing card with a boxing great and he's met other boxers in the ring who went on to win championships.

Holes' switch from pugilist to principal didn't come because teaching offered more or because he "saw the light." As a matter of fact, he had no intention of ever becoming a professional.

"I was never at anytime a professional and never would have turned professional," he states.

In 1943 Holes, then a tender 17, joined the Marines in the midst of World War II. It was while he was being sent to New Zealand with a replacement group for a division that lost men at Guadalcanal that he won his only championship.

During matches aboard the ship, he won the 22nd Replacement lightweight championship. His service career took place mostly in the Pacific Theatre. Despite the fact that the men were at war, boxing was very popular at the recreation areas.

"There was a high degree of interest in boxing," he reports. "Wherever there was a base, there was boxing."

He fought in matches at Guam, Guadalcanal, Hawaii and New Zealand.

After leaving the service in 1946, he did some Golden Gloves boxing. In 1947 he won three fights at the Kalamazoo matches and was eligible to go on to other matches, but the local division didn't go any farther.

TKO Victim

It was during his Golden Gloves boxing that he suffered his only knockout. Holes, interested in boxing, signed up for a boxing show. His opponent was Homer Branch, Flint.

"They stopped the fight in the third round when I couldn't lift my gloves anymore," says Holes. He met Branch again and beat

Saturday Last Day to Apply for Absentee Ballots

County voters who haven't picked up their absentee ballots by 2:00 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 3, will just be out of luck, warns County Clerk Archie Hicks.

That's the deadline for those who expect to be out of their voting precincts on election day, Tuesday, Nov. 6, to apply for their ballots.

Absentee ballots must be in by the last mail, election day, Hicks advised.

Jaycees Install Over 100 Belts During Clinic

Cass City area drivers purchased over 100 seat belts from Cass City Jaycees during their Seatbelt Clinic, according to a report from Jim Jezewski, general chairman.

The sales represent an estimated $100 profit for the club. Most of the sales were made before the Friday and Saturday, Oct. 26-27, installation dates, Jezewski reported.

Drivers who didn't get their belts and still want them for new cars or Christmas gifts, have until Tuesday, Nov. 13, to place their orders.

An estimated 20 belts were installed Friday night, and the remainder were put in during Saturday's day-long session. The belts were installed at Auten Motors.

Nursing Home Joins Hospital Association

Albin Stevens this week announced that Stevens Nursing Home in Cass City has recently been accepted as a member of the American Hospital Association.

Mr. Stevens said that he was happy that his facility was able to meet the requirements to make him eligible for membership.

Heavy Election Turnout Predicted

A hot gubernatorial race is expected to bring "off year" election returns in the county close to the record proportions of the 1960 presidential campaign, according to Archie Hicks, county clerk.

"Because of the heated campaign in the race for the governorship and the way the interest has been, I look for an above average vote for an off year," he states.

In anticipation of the large turnout, Hicks' office has ordered 18,000 ballots. Registered voters in the county total approximately 18,400. A total of 17,288 voted in the 1960 presidential campaign.

Michigan's Governor John B.

Swainson, completing his first term as the state's top official, and George Romney, Republican dark horse, have fought one of the most bitterly contested battles for the governorship in many years.

Romney, a Republican dark horse in a predominately Democratic state, has a large amount of support from both parties. Swainson, relying on his term in office and voting trends in the past, may prove to be a not-too-easy-to-beat opponent.

In any event the popularity of both candidates promises a close election, if not in the county, throughout the state.

On a county level, two new Republican candidates are seeking seats that have been vacated. In the race for sheriff, Hugh Marr is seeking to fill the sheriff post, left vacant by William Tomlinson. Marr's Democrat opponent is Robert Russell.

George W. Clark Jr. is seeking the coronor post previously held by Melvin Weissenborn, who did not seek re-election. Also seeking the post, on the Democratic ticket, is Lee E. Blackmer.

Other candidates are:

State Lt. Governor - T. John Lesinski, Democrat, and Clarence A. Reid, Republican.

Secretary of State - James M. Hare, Democrat, and Norman O. Stockmeyer, Republican.

Attorney General - Frank J. Kelley, Democrat, and Robert J. Danhof, Republican.

Treasurer - Sanford A. Brown, Democrat, and Glenn S. Allen Jr., Republican.

Auditor General - Billie S. Farnum, Democrat, and L. William Seidman, Republican.

Congressional Congressman-at-large - Neil Staebler, Democrat, and Alvin M. Bentley, Republican.

Representative in Congress - James G. O'Hara, Democrat, and H. Charles Knill, Republican.

Legislative State Senator - Arthur A. Dehmel, Republican (No Democrat candidate).

State Representative - Duane Farnum, Democrat, and R. Al-lison Green, Republican.

Supreme Court Four-year-term - Michael D. O'Hara and Paul L. Adams, incumbent.

Two-year-term - Otis M. Smith, incumbent, and Louis D. McGrover.

Circuit Court Commissioner - C. Bates Wills.

County Prosecuting Attorney - Richard F. Kern, Democrat, and James J. Epskamp, Republican.

Clerk - Ivan Middleton, Democrat, and Archie Hicks, Republican.

Treasurer - Ursula Stewart, Democrat, and Arthur M. Willis, Republican.

Register of Deeds - Mildred Hill, Democrat, and William Profit, Republican.

Drain Commissioner, Charles F. Becker, Democrat, and Free-land Sugden, Republican.

Coroner (2) - Charles S. Main, Democrat, and J. Benson Collon, Republican.

From the Editor's Corner

About the only two races in Tuesday's election that we feel strongly about are the race for governor and for Seventh District United States Representative.

We think that George Romney is Michigan's best bet in the coming two years and because we favor Romney, we favor the Republican cabinet on the theory that a Republican governor (or Democratic) deserves party help in the administrative posts.

* We also endorse Incumbent Jim O'Hara, a Democrat. As a member of a rural community, we have just one major objection to our present Seventh District Representative . . . and that is undoubted allegiance to populous Macomb county whose interests are not the same as the remaining five counties in his district.

Balancing this is what we consider to be a good record in Congress and a demonstrated interest in doing the finest job he can for the people of the district and the nation.

His opponent, Charles Knill, a securities broker, is evidently a fine businessman but his experience in government is limited and his ability as a potential congressman unproven.

* There are plenty of drawbacks to publishing a paper . . . but occasionally it has its brighter moments. One of these occurred when Mrs. Frank Novak came in with a sample column for the paper concerning cooking and events around the home.

Because of space limitations we reluctantly were forced to turn down the column . . . and then Mrs. Novak went to her car and returned with a pan of homemade rolls to "illustrate" what

Cuban Crisis Spurs County Action

Fallout Survival to Be Family Project

Tuscola county's Civil Defense program is being beefed up as a result of the Nation's current strained relations with Communist Cuba, county leaders were told at a special Civil Defense meeting in Caro Friday, Oct. 26.

A conclusion reached at the meeting, according to Frank Kroswek, county CD director, was that "it's (Civil Defense) going to be mostly a family or individual project. We don't have enough adequate buildings which can qualify as fallout shelters."

The meeting was called, Kroswek explained, to find out what the county's resources were in the event of a nuclear attack. Attending were county and village officials and press and radio representatives.

The county has only four buildings that can double as fallout shelters, Kroswek reported.

Helwig Sells Car Quick with Liner

"I told you when I placed the ad that one time would be enough and it was," Elwyn Helwig reported after he had sold his car with a Chronicle liner.

"Must have received about a dozen calls and sold the car at the price I wanted," he continued. Helwig sold his car privately and then purchased a new one in a straight cash deal.

The advertisement read: FOR SALE - '54 Ford with overdrive, in good condition, 5 good tires, reasonable. Call 478-J. Elwyn Helwig.

UNICEF Drive Nets $142.39

Noah Parmer, UNICEF treasurer, reported that Tuesday night's collection in Cass City netted $142.39. Some 60 children and 22 adults and helpers participated.

Spokesmen said that they appreciated the generosity of area residents in the drive. They also reported that if any homes were missed and desire to help that contributions can be left at Neitzel Studio.

New Nursing Home Started

More and more emphasis will be placed on rehabilitation by convalescent homes for the patients who have potential for this type therapy, said Eldon W. Purdy as he discussed nursing homes in general and his new 40-bed home now under construction near Mayville.

Purdy announced construction of the facility last week.

The addition of the 40 beds will bring to about 132 the number available in the county today.

Albin Stevens, who runs the Stevens Nursing Home in Cass City, says that the new facility will probably be needed as most of the available beds in the county are now filled.

Construction of the new building will be of cinder blocks. It will be completely fireproof and plans have been approved by the State Health Department and the state fire marshal's office. Cost of the building will be some $150,000.

The new building will be all on one floor. In addition to the facility, Mr. and Mrs. Purdy are preparing to build a residence on the site.

There's nothing wrong in building air castles, but don't use gold bricks in their construction.

THIS PHEASANT is not a record-breaker but for awhile the Chronicle thought it almost was. When Clayton Karr brought the rooster to the office Monday night he announced that it had 30 tail bands, just two short of the State record. Obviously, this sort of bag was worth a picture, which we promptly snapped.

But about an hour later Karr called and said that he had learned that 41 bands, not 32, was the State record. And about an hour after that he called again and said that his bird had 33 bands not 30. But it's a good shot of a beautiful pheasant and typical of the many birds that nimrods are finding in the area this year, when it stops raining long enough for them to get into the fields.

Two from Cass City In Marching Bands

A Cass City young man is Tuscola county's only representative in the 183-member University of Michigan Marching Band this year.

Representing the county is Tom Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jones. A freshman in the School of Music where he is specializing in music composition, Jones is also a member of the U-M Symphony Band. Jones plays both the bass and the tuba. As a member of the band, he performs at all home games, and is slated to travel this fall to Michigan State and Purdue Universities for band performances at games there.

Tom Jones

Another Cass City youth is currently with the Michigan State University marching band. He is Doug Avery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Avery.

Now in his third year with the band, he is a music major and plans to become a band instructor. A baritone horn player, Doug graduated from Cass City High School in 1960.

As a member of the marching and concert bands, he also accompanies both groups on away from home programs.

Before a man can reach the top of the ladder he has to work through the crowd at the bottom.

Education seems to cover every phase of life, except how to live a peace with one's fellow man.

FOUR FIREMEN RESIGN

Concluded from page one. Fleenor listed business and home location as the reason for his resignation.

"Because my business takes me out of town so much, I didn't feel I could do a good job anymore," he stated. He also recently moved just outside the west village limits.

During his 23 years with the department, Fleenor held the captain and assistant chief posts. He was assistant chief when he resigned.

Members named Harold Guinther to the assistant chief post and appointed Dave Kraft to take over Fleenor's fireman's duties. When Fleenor joined the department, it had no trucks, just a hose cart. The first car at the fire hall during a fire hauled the cart, he recalls.

Active in community programs, Fleenor has also been a leader in Scouting affairs locally.

The fall offensive is in full swing—first down and ten to go.

A dollar can't even look its owner in the face today without feeling ashamed of its weakness.

EXCEPTIONAL CHILD

In the education of handicapped children, there are two concepts, fundamental to all education, which are so basic that they are frequently overlooked. The first of these is that public education is one of the inalienable rights of every child. This concept allows for no exceptions, even among the handicapped. The second is that handicapped children are essentially like so-called normal children. They are children first, and handicapped children second.

Any plans for the education of handicapped children must be based on recognition of both their basic needs as children and their special needs as handicapped children. Frequently, the special needs of these children are such that they can be met best with those services we term "special education."

Sound educational principles dictate that these special education services should be applied only when they are demanded by the needs of the child. The regular classroom is the best educational environment for any child to meet his basic needs. Achieving social and emotional maturity is not easy even for the child without disabilities; it is frequently very difficult for the handicapped child. It can be attained only through relationships which build mutual confidence and respect.

This is one of a series of Michigan Press Association Education features published as a public service in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Education Association.

Award $1,411 in Fines Monies to Local Library

Penal fines money totaling $1,411.32 has been awarded to the Cass City and Elkland Township Library, according to Mrs. Arthur Little.

The money, presented to the township treasurer by the county, is divided by the village council between the school and the public libraries. The local division is on the basis of the number of children served by each of the units.

The school's portion of the monies was $2,089. An earlier report of the village council proceedings of Monday, Oct. 8, erroneously listed the school's portion as $600.

Koroleski-Rutkoski Wed in Double-ring Ceremony at Kinde

St. Mary's Catholic Church, Kinde, was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Joan Koroleski of Kinde and Frank V. Rutkoski of Cass City. The Rev. Fr. Henry S. Podsaid performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioluses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of bouquet taffeta styled with a fitted bodice, scalloped neckline outlined with embroidered pearls and sequins and elbow-length tapering sleeves. The full sweeping chapel-length skirt featured a flat front panel with an embroidered motif. Her fingertip veil of bridal mist was secured to a double crown of pearls and crystal. A cascade bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid entwined with ivy were her flowers. She presented a bouquet of white carnations to the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Miss Mary Mielke was soloist and organist at the ceremony. Miss Phyllis Rutkoski the groom's sister, was maid of honor. Her blue sheath dress of nylon organza over taffeta was styled with a fitted bodice, scooped neckline and belted bubble overskirt. Yellow mums, croton leaves and wheat formed her bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Gail Repke, friend of the bride, and the Misses Lucille and Katherine Rutkoski, sisters of the groom. Matching hats and shoes completed their ensembles which were identical to the honor maid's. They carried arrangements of bronze mums, croton leaves and wheat.

Best man was Gene Kloc, friend of the groom. Ushers included Louis Koroleski, brother of the bride. LaVern Rutkoski, brother of the groom, and Bernie Ederer, also a friend of the groom.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Enick Rutkoski of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Koroleski of Kinde.

Mrs. Rutkoski chose a gold dress for her son's wedding. Mrs. Koroleski wore a blue knit dress. Both mothers had rose corsages.

Acting as flower girl was the bride's niece, Karen Koroleski. She was dressed in blue organza with matching headpiece. Her bouquet was miniature size, styled as the bridesmaids'. Mike Rutkoski, brother of the groom, was ringbearer.

A reception for over 600 guests was held at the Kinde VFW Hall. Guests attended from Saginaw, Detroit, Rogers City, Caro, Bay City, Mio, Port Austin, Bad Axe, Uby, Harbor Beach, Midland and Cass City.

He is a graduate of Cass City High School and is a salesman for the Bauer Candy Company. She is a graduate of North Huron High School, Kinde, and Saginaw Business Institute.

For the wedding trip through eastern states, the bride chose a gold brocade dress with gold accessories.

The couple will make their home in Cass City.

The ideal retirement house is compact, comfortable, convenient, easy to maintain and as accident-proof from falls as possible.

Most sermons are worthwhile, but nothing beats good example.

Mrs. L. William Meyer

St. Matthews Catholic Church, Flint, was the setting Saturday when Bonnie Lee Pine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Violis Pine of Unionville, exchanged marriage vows with L. William Meyer of Detroit.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned in candlelight silk mist with high oval neckline and long sleeves. The controlled skirt featured a side drape overlaid with a garland of Alencon lace encrusted with tiny pearls. The pleated back fullness finished with a tailored miniature bow and a cathedral train. Her bouffant veil was of English silk illusion secured with a jeweled pillbox.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Janice Pine. Her sheath gown of bronze satin perla was accented with a draped waistline and featured a French godet cascade in the back. Her small veil was held in place with a pillbox hat and a small rosette. She carried a cascade of bronze and gold mums.

Identically attired, only in gold, were the bridesmaids, Miss Kally Pine, Miss Margaret Meyer and Miss Sharon Holland of Ann Arbor.

Performing the duties as best man for Mr. Meyer, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Legor Meyer of Flint, was Nelson Gonzales. Groomsmen were Charles Fahey, William Dunn and Lawrence Lipinski.

Mrs. Pine, mother of the bride, wore a fashioned dress of Nile green with beige satin accessories. Her corsage was of miniature orchids in autumn colors.

Mrs. Meyer was attired in beige with accessories of mink brown. She wore a corsage of beige orchids.

Following the ceremony, the couple greeted 250 guests in the Sky-room at Bishop Airport. After a trip to Miami and New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer will reside in Dearborn.

Mrs. Meyer is a graduate of St. Mary's Hospital School of Nursing in Saginaw and a 1956 graduate of Cass City High School.

Mr. Meyer is a graduate of General Motors Institute in Flint and is employed with General Motors in Detroit.

Mrs. Lee R. Sowden

Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Sowden will make their home at his farm near Owendale following a week's Northern Michigan wedding trip. The couple were married Saturday at the Grant Methodist Church.

The bride, Elaine Judy Elliott, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Elliott and the groom is the son of Mrs. Clark Sowden, all of Owendale.

The Rev. Frank Greer was clergyman at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Don Buchanan was vocalist and Mrs. Clair Profit was pianist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a rose-point lace gown with scalloped wedding ring neckline outlined with seed pearls and iridescents. The gown was designed with a molded bodice, wrist-point sleeves and floor-length skirt with an accent of roses on the side. The skirt fell into a brush train with ruffled tulle. A crystal and pearl headpiece held her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with Stephanotis lower-knots.

Maid of Honor Miss Martha Hass of Walled Lake chose a rose silk organza over taffeta gown which featured a scoop neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and molded bodice. The bell-shaped skirt was ballerina length with matching bow accent. A matching pleated bandeau held a circular veil in place. Her flowers were a cascade of white carnations tipped in blue.

Janet Sowden and Joanne Elliott, both of Owendale, were bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to the maid's of honor, only in blue, and their flowers were white carnations tipped in rose.

John Blair of Mt. Pleasant was best man. Ushers were Frank Elliott and Robert McAlpine.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elliott chose a black and pink metallic print dress. Her flowers were white carnations. Mrs. Sowden chose an olive green sheath dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was also white carnations.

Two hundred guests attended. Out-of-town guests came from Flint, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Pontiac, Tawas City, Rose City and New York City.

Mrs. Clifton Endersbe, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake.

Walsh-Franzel Wed At Freiburg Church

Recently married in St. Ignace Church, Freiburg, were Sharon Walsh and Charles Franzel. The Rev. Arthur Mulka performed the 9 a.m. ceremony.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Walsh of Tyro and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Franzel of Coloma.

The bride chose a crisp white taffeta gown trimmed with Chantilly lace. Sequins adorned the Sabrina neckline and the redingote effect on the skirt front was outlined with lace. The chapel train extended from a bustle of taffeta rosettes. A crown of pearl and crystal droplets secured her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a lace covered prayer book with an orchid and Stephanotis.

Miss Kathryn Hund was maid of honor. Her gown was pink taffeta with an Empire waist. The bouffant skirt caught in a bustle. Her pink circular veil was held by a pearl and sequin crown.

Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Franzel and Mrs. Richard Morlock, cousin and sister of the groom. Their gowns were styled the same as the maid's of honor. They carried cascade bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Flower girl was the groom's niece, Sherie Franzel. Roderick Walsh was ringbearer.

Douglas Walsh was best man with Richard Morlock and Dale Walsh as groomsmen. Ushers were Norman Franzel and Victor Moreau.

Mrs. Franzel wore a rust wool suit and Mrs. Walsh wore a beige wool sheath dress. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

A reception was held at St. Joseph's parish hall, Argyle. The couple took a week's wedding trip and are living on a farm.

He is a 1958 graduate of Cass City High School and she is a graduate of Uby High School.

Cass City Boy Scout Program Among Best in Thumb; 25 Boys in Troop

Cass City, long a bulwark of scouting in Tuscola county, has big plans for the new year, members of the Cass City Rotary Club learned Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Rotary sponsors the Boy Scouts in Cass City. Members learned of the program from Scoutmaster

Jim Ware, Assistant Scoutmaster Derek Romain and Senior Patrol Leader Larry Seale.

Under this leadership scouting has continued to prosper. There are now 25 boys in the local program. "Biggest competition we have for scouts is television," Ware wryly reported. The Scoutmaster reported that scouting locally is well financed and well equipped.

After his opening remarks, Romain described a camp-out and Seale told of the local program for the past year.

One of the big events for 1963 will be the Scout Fair, revived after a lapse of a year, the leaders said.

Keith McConkey, who served several years as Scoutmaster for the local troop, acted as program chairman.

YOU COULD LOSE YOUR REPRESENTATION!

Remember July 18?

Memories are short these days. So much is happening that we sometimes forget the events of only a few months ago.

But, when we vote on November 6, we'd better remember July 18.

That was the day when the Supreme Court of Michigan threw out, by a one-vote margin, the State Senate apportionment we voted for just 10 years ago. The court told us we had to take the kind of apportionment demanded by Gus Scholle, regardless of the fact that the people had overwhelmingly rejected it at the polls.

By that same one-vote margin, the Court also cancelled the primary election and told the people they might have to elect 32 Senators on an at-large basis.

This could easily have meant that all the Senators would come from one or two counties, depriving us of our voice—of any voice—in the Senate of Michigan!

Only action by the U. S. Supreme Court saved us! And the fight isn't over yet.

What does this mean to us on November 6?

Well, the present Governor has said that the Michigan Supreme Court decision, which almost cost us our representation in the Senate, was "A great victory for the people." Which people, Governor Swainson? Certainly not those of us who live here. Certainly not the 1,269,807 of us (a 294,289 majority) who voted for the present Senate plan that the Michigan Supreme Court threw out.

Fortunately, the Governor's opponent, Mr. George Romney, supports a Senate apportionment plan which provides effective representation for all the people. He also supports the right of the people to vote on the kind of legislative representation they want. Romney has called the Swainson-Scholle apportionment steamroller a "power grab." He's right.

When we vote on November 6 we ought to remember what John Swainson wants to do to our voice in the legislature. We ought to remember where George Romney stands.

We ought to remember that Governor Swainson's appointee, Attorney General Kelley, deserted the people and argued for Gus Scholle.

We ought to remember that two Justices of the Supreme Court are up for election, and that we can change the make-up of the Michigan Supreme Court by electing two new Justices.

Let's remember July 18 on November 6. Let's do what we can to see that we still have a voice in the State Senate.

Urge Testing for Profits

More Tuscola county dairymen should use the Dairy Herd Improvement Association testing service to check milk production and raise profits. Production records provide the farmer with information on each cow in his herd so he can make more careful feeding and management decisions, according to Alfred Ballweg, county extension director for Tuscola county. The more than 88,000 cows enrolled in Michigan's Dairy Herd Improvement Association averaged more than 11,000 pounds of milk during 1961. The average Michigan cow only produced about 8,000 pounds of milk last year. This additional 3,000 pounds of milk means at least $100 more profit per cow for the farmer who has his herd enrolled in the DHIA program. Higher producing cows show an even greater return, says Larry Johnson, dairy specialist at Michigan State University.

For complete production, feed, breeding and feed cost information, the DHIA plan is the best milk testing program. The DHIA supervisor visits the farm one day each month to obtain milk weights, milk samples and other needed information. Cost runs about $6.50 per cow each year for a 30-cow herd.

Dairymen interested only in production records can select the lower cost, Owner-Sampler program. This plan operates in conjunction with the local DHIA, but the dairyman takes his own milk weights and samples. These are picked up by the local DHIA supervisor who determines the butterfat content of the milk and calculates the records.

In each of these two testing programs, records are computed on modern electronic, data-processing machines at Michigan State University.

For further information on the testing program, contact the Co-operative Extension Office or either of the two DHIA supervisor-testers - Gordon Tedford, 227 Greenleaf Road, Cass City, and David Greenleaf, 5616 Waterman Road, Vassar.

KOMMENTS BY KRAFT

Please, Mr. Custer, I Don't Wanna Go!

By Dave Kraft

Well, this may be my farewell column. What with things coming to a head in Berlin and Cuba, the powers-that-be are thinking about sending me out to cover things for the home newspaper.

I view this with mixed emotions. I like to travel, but not on one-way trips. As the fellow in the song said, "Please, Mr. Custer, I don't wanna go!"

When ole JFK said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country," I backed him 100 per cent - with reservations.

I'm perfectly willing to die for my country and all that stuff, but can't I do it without bloodshed? If I'm killed, what'll happen to all my social security? What'll happen to my goldfish?

I don't want you to get the wrong impressions... I'm not unpatriotic... I'm a coward. And besides, I bleed when I'm shot.

And another thing... they had their chance to use this tired old shell of humanity as cannon fodder and they turned the offer down.

I enlisted in 1958. I took my physical in Seattle, Wash. After the tests were over and graded, the examiner called off the names of those who'd passed.

He called me up. "Kraft, you did great on the written tests. You got 95, but you're 5-E."

"What's 5-E?" says I.

"That means you're a permanent physical reject," says he.

I'd have torn him to pieces but there were a bunch of guys with guns and uniforms standing around.

Even if the paper doesn't send me to Cuba to cover any flare-up, it still doesn't look too good. I saw a picture the other day showing the range of the 2,000-mile missiles reportedly based on Castro's little playground.

If I'm not mistaken, Cass City is about 1,999 1/2 miles from Cuba.

I noticed that Washington state is out of the 2,000-mile range and I was getting all set to pack my things and go home to Momma when some sorehead pointed out how close it was to Siberia.

I guess my best bet is to stock up on .22 shells and wait and see what happens. That means I'll have to cut down on my four-legged rat shooting and see what the two-legged ones are going to do.

Until then, I'll just sit around and do my fighting ala Walter Mitty.

I understand that the War Department has revived an old tune and is using it as their theme song. It's "I'll See You in C-U-B-A."

Just to clarify myself on this issue, I feel JFK's move was an unavoidable and completely justifiable action and in the best interests of the nation. Darn it.

As if I didn't have enough to worry about, the other night Fritz Neitzel dropped by and casually remarked that I had been accepted as an Elkland Township fireman.

My entire fire fighting experience has been limited to putting out an unruly barbecue pit.

Fritz said that I had 100 per cent backing from all the members present... all three of them.

All I can say is, "Gentlemen, I accept this appointment with all due appreciation and humility. However, if I'm ever trapped in a burning building... somebody's gonna hear about it."

Before I go any further... I know what that stuff is that Mrs. Ervin Walrod found in her field.

It is dropped from airplanes to test the reception at the Port Austin radar station. Previously, airplanes could drop this stuff and it would foul up the radar reception.

As I understand it, the new system is not supposed to be affected by it and the drop was to test it out. It has been done throughout the country for the past few years. Or so I've been told.

Mrs. Glen Folkert, Bay City, told Mrs. Mary Prieskorn, Cass

The only ship that will come in for the man who sits around and waits is a receivership.

There's a lot more oil taken from a shark's liver than from the shark's oil well.

Well, GEORGE ROMNEY,

what are you going to do about our STATE FINANCES?

The real question here is not alone one of money—but, mostly, one of serving people. Can a state government which is bankrupt, deeply in debt and poorly managed provide the right kind of services for the people of Michigan? Or can a state with a sound financial structure and which is well-managed provide better services? Under which kind of government will the people of Michigan benefit most?

Better schools. Better mental health facilities. Better employment services. Better social services. All of these services, to be better, must be supported by a sound, well-managed state financial program.

Will you give me a chance to PROVE what a new team in Lansing can do?

Sound financial management for Michigan starts with spending reform. Spending reform does NOT mean the cutting of vital services. It does mean improving the quality of these services by eliminating waste and duplication. Then we need tax reform to make sense out of our present crazy-quilt tax program. A new tax program must reflect the wishes and the ability to pay of all the citizens.

LEADERSHIP in Lansing is necessary to bring all sides together to work for a sound, equitable financial program that will benefit all the people of Michigan. I'd like to put my experience in leading groups of people with diverse ideas to work for you.

George Romney

$20 Million Bridge Opens at Soo at End of This Month

Two Bridges Open
Two milestones in bridge construction will be marked almost simultaneously this year.

A new International Bridge at Sault Ste. Marie, linking Michigan and Ontario, will be opened at the end of this month. The following day marks the fifth anniversary of the opening of the Mackinac Bridge across the Straits.

The new bridge across the St. Mary's River near the Soo Locks is expected to increase the flow of traffic between Michigan and Ontario.

The international span will eliminate the fleet ferry boat service which has served the twin cities in the two countries since the late 1800's. It cost $20 million in construction.

The predicted increase in traffic flow created by the new bridge was based on records of the Mackinac Bridge. During its first five years, nearly 6.3 million vehicles have been recorded crossing the straits.

In a similar period, the last five years in which ferries operated on the Straits, about 4.3 million vehicles used the ferry service.

ment is under orders to launch a nationwide search "for a top-flight authority to head a broad, new recreation program for Michigan."

The title to be given the new department official would be Deputy Director. The position was proposed as a means of implementing a recent recreation program formulated in a study by Louis F. Twardzik, assistant professor in the Michigan State University Department of Resource Development.

The same hitch lies in this new position, however, as is in the search for an Economic Development director. The Civil Service Commission must first approve creation of the deputy director's post.

Then the Legislature must be convinced to include funds in the Conservation Department budget to cover the salaries of the deputy director and his proposed staff.

More Schools Built
School districts are making effective strides forward to meet the increasing demand for facilities, according to Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett.

Bartlett said classroom construction in the state during the first three months of the current fiscal year showed a 42 per cent increase over the same period of 1961.

Department records showed that construction of 1,131 classrooms was approved during July, August and September this year as compared with 727 for the same months last year.

"The sizeable increase of the past three months can be attributed at least partially to Michigan's new school bond loan program," Bartlett said. The program removed limitations on bond ceilings and "greatly improved financial means for new construction," he said.

The state superintendent said the trend would have to continue climbing if Michigan is to meet its school needs. "We need 2,400 new classrooms this year if only the minimal requirements of increased enrollment are to be met," he said.

Estimates are that Michigan will require 20,000 new classrooms during the next five years, Bartlett said.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where this new Secretary of Labor says it ain't that we got so much unemployment in this country, that what we got is a "readjustment." Back during the war, ever time Hitler had to retreat, he announced he was giving "disengaged from the enemy." When a feller is unemployed under this new "readjustment" plan, I reckon that means he has got disengaged from his job.

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was trying to put this double talk together and git it to fit. Ed Doolittle said he figgered it was a "readjustment" when your neighbor lost his job, a depression when you lost yours, and a panic when your wife lost hers. Could be, Mister Editor, that President Kennedy should've made Ed his Secretary of Labor. At least, you can understand what Ed's talking about.

Clem Webster allowed as how this "readjustment" might be having a heap to do with all the suicides that's in the papers lately. Clem claims he was reading about five men killing themselves in one day in North Carolina. Zeke Grubb didn't agree, argued that we ain't never had a time in history when a man had more to live fer. Fer instant, claimed Zeke, the average feller ain't got his house paid fer, his car paid fer, his TV paid fer, and the chances was 10 to 1 he was behind with his taxes. Everybody agreed with Zeke they wasn't no excuse fer a feller killing hisself on account of not having nothing to live fer.

Bug Hookum reported that he had saw in the papers where the Internal Revenue folks in Washington has announced official that, starting this year, the cost of medicine fer hay fever is full tax deductible. Ed allowed as how that was mighty good news on account of all the sickness in his family this year come original from hay fever.

The session, as usual, final got around to wimmen and they was one or two comments that might be worth putting in the minutes. Fer instant, Josh Clodhopper said he saw a piece in the paper by some fashion designer saying the new fashions fer wimmen was going to try to make wimmen look like wimmen again. Personal, Mister Editor, what they been wearing ain't left much doubt about the matter.

And one feller said he saw a piece in the papers where a man in Atlanta the other day donated a loudspeaker to his church in fond memory of his wife. On account of my old lady reading my little piece here ever onct in a while, I ain't got no comment to make on this last item.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

I wonder what values do you, as a homemaker, put first. And, what do you do around your home to fulfill those values?

I would like to have you check yourself with this quiz put together by Doris Montgomery Dyer and Dr. Beatrice Paulucci of the Michigan State University Department of Home Management and Child Development. It was used recently in a research project aimed at finding out if homemakers' everyday activities reflect their values. It may give you a better indication of what is most important to you and whether or not you are actually putting your values into practice.

Read all nine value descriptions. Then select the one that describes you best, second best and least.

1. I want to get the most for my money. I shop around for bargains. I try not to waste things, money or time. I consider myself economical.

2. I want the things my family does, to be socially accepted and influential. I would always want my family to do things that other people like and would want to copy. I want other people to respect my house and family. I want to be admired by other people.

3. I like to do things that keep my family healthy and good-natured. I want to prevent illness in my family and avoid accidents. I see that the family gets nutritious meals and arrange the house and activities so they get enough rest.

Important to be Together: 4. I like to do things with my family because I think it is important for family members to be together in both work and play. I want to help my family to be content. I arrange the home atmosphere so that family members can be with each other in work and play.

5. I like the things that I do to agree with the teachings and belief of my religion. I arrange so my family can practice our religion, attend religious services, hear prayers and the like. I teach my family to be honest and kind to other people.

6. I enjoy my friends and like to do things for them. I like to be around people. I like to get together with my friends. I think it is important to have close friends.

7. I want lots of freedom to do the things I want to do. I would prefer to come and go as I please. I would like to do things as I want, without restrictions of daily duties. I take the time to do things that interest me.

Arrange for New Experiences

8. I like to do things that increase my education and fitness for present and future times. I want to know what is going on around me. I want my family to be interested in learning. I arrange house and activities for new experiences for my family. Reading material is available for all the family.

9. I want to have things attractive and orderly. I would like my surroundings to be harmonious. I enjoy working with pretty things. I arrange so that my family members can express themselves artistically.

The values represented by each example are: 1. economy; 2. prestige; 3. health; 4. family centrism; (unity); 5. religion; 6. friendship; 7. freedom; 8. education; and 9. esthetics.

Perhaps these answers seemed obvious to you, but perhaps, too, the little test helped you to clarify your own values. And, Mrs. Dyer points out, "most people hold several or all of these values in varying degrees."

What this world needs most is shock absorbers for the people who are inexperienced.

LACK EDUCATION

Most people have excellent aim in life—it's inferior ammunition that causes the failures.

Book Review

Wallace Traces Mormon Religion

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

Irving Wallace, author of THE TWENTY-SEVENTH WIFE, first appeared in this column when his best-selling novel, THE CHAPMAN REPORT, was reviewed for your pleasure. This book, however, is not strictly a novel, though it is my opinion that the author desired to write another one when this volume was compiled. (If 430 pages don't constitute a 'volume,' I don't know what does!) In fact, in the back of the book there appears a unique full chapter of acknowledgements, in addition to the more scholarly bibliography. Wallace has attempted to read all there is to read about Mormonism, which in itself is no mean task!

The book is built around a wife, variously believed to be the nineteenth and the twenty-seventh, of Brigham Young. It attempts to put polygamy (a part of the faith, a century ago, for Mormons) in perspective. And through the story retraces, for the reader who cannot do it for himself, the beginning of the Church of the Latter Day Saints and of their early persecution and subsequent moves to new locations, ending in Salt Lake City, Utah. It is interesting to note that the late Mark Twain investigated, unofficially, the Church and its BOOK OF MORMON, saying, among other things, "It is chloroform in print," which is a fair criticism of much writing that is done in our day.

Ann Eliza Young was the last wife Young had, but not the most pliable. She was a widow with two children when she married the stern-faced prophet. She found him strict and dogmatic — and away from her too much. So, on July 15, 1873, she left the home where she had lived and trusted the Methodist minister and his wife to give her refuge. She got her courage back slowly, then began lecturing, being booked in theaters, churches and schools by a Major Pond. Enthusiastically welcomed, she became, with time, an acceptable lecturer. But she traveled with a companion at all times — one trial for her was the stories circulated that she and Major Pond (more like a minor puddle than a major pond!) traveled unscorted together. This type of sensationalism was always made up by the agents of Brigham Young.

The limitations of space here prevent the listing of all of the biographical material used for reference to the period that she was Mrs. Young, and of the incidents of her divorce and her travels. Some of the difficulty for her was the fact that all of her friends and all of her family were in the Church, and thus inclined to take Young's side — until the furor died down.

She became a national figure and is given (here, at least) much of the credit for existing legislation which outlaws polygamy in the United States. She continued lecturing, stopping for a brief Michigan marriage, and then resumed her career.

This is not the easiest book to read and Wallace could have used a more helpful chronology, but it is still interesting and covers a great dispute. We sometimes get the feeling that Ann Eliza is too often justified in the book, but no one can read it with disinterest. For the long winter evenings soon to be with us, this book will make good (though not great) reading.
