The building will also give the company ample room for indoor hoist and wash area and storage,

Four of the youths entered guilty pleas and presentencing investigations were ordered for November 28. Ropp entered a plea of not guilty to the charge.

Ropp and Robinson were arraigned Friday, Nov. 2, in Bad Axe where they waived examination on similar charges.

School to Observe Education Week

Students, parents and teachers are invited to learn more about the role played by the school in the community during American Education Week, Nov. 11-17.

This year's observance is centered about the theme, "Education Meets the Challenge of Change."

Locally, a committee has been working under the leadership of James Seals, high school counselor, to involve as many persons as possible in the week's activities.

Students will learn of the importance of education in their lives through special programs in connection with their classes. A series of vocational information field trips has been planned to local industries. Representatives of the community business life will also speak to student.

A DARK STAIN on a blood-spattered bed marks the spot where Mrs. Catherine Hrabec, 83, was brutally attacked early Monday morning by her husband, Steve, 78, as she lay sleeping in her room in their five-room home at 6279 Church. Hrabec allegedly struck his wife in the head six times with a ball peen hammer.

Mrs. Hrabec Still Critical, Husband Asks Examination

A warrant was to have been issued sometime Wednesday charging 78-year-old Steve Hrabec, Cass City, with "felonious assault with intent to murder" in the hammer bludgeoning of his wife, Catherine, 83, early Monday morning. Hrabec has demanded examination and is scheduled to appear in Circuit Court. Bond has been set at $5,000.

Hrabec allegedly struck his wife in the head six times with a ball peen hammer as she lay sleeping in her bedroom in their five-room home at 6279 Church Street.

She suffered a skull fracture, brain damage and severe loss of blood, according to the attending physician, Dr. Earl Nelson. Mrs. Hrabec was taken immediately to St. Luke's Hospital, Saginaw, after X-rays taken at Hills and Dales General Hospital revealed the extent of her injuries.

Dr. Nelson said that her condition following an operation Monday was critical, but that the St. Luke's physician reported she was "doing a little bit better."

County Prosecutor James Epskamp, in an interview earlier in the week, stated that if Mrs. Hrabec dies, the charge will be murder. He added, however, that "in all probability, the charge will be attempted murder or assault with intent to murder."

A check later the same day with Sheriff William Tomlinson revealed that the lesser charge would be used on the warrant that was to have been issued Wednesday.

Epskamp, in his interview, reported that Hrabec stated that he had intended to kill his wife. Epskamp also felt that the assault had been premeditated because Hrabec, in his statement, said he went from his room to the basement to get the hammer and from the basement to his wife's room to kill her.

First word of the assault, which reportedly took place at about 12:45 a. m., came when Hrabec called Police Chief Carl Palmateer at 2:00 a. m. and said, "I killed my wife."

Mrs. Hrabec was conscious when Palmateer arrived and he immediately called for an ambulance.

Hrabec offered no resistance and was taken to the county jail. He made a complete statement Monday before Epskamp.

Palmateer took the hammer, described as a six-ounce ball peen hammer with a 15-inch handle, to the Lansing Crime Lab for a thorough check Tuesday.

Palmateer stated that Hrabec's account of the incident was vague and that he gave different accounts of the reason for the assault.

At one point, he told Palmateer that he had hit his wife only once but six lacerations were evident on Mrs. Hrabec's head. One blow pierced the skull and drove parts of the skull against her brain.

Hrabec had reportedly shown signs of mental disturbance over the past year.

Palmateer was unable to get any account of the incident from Mrs. Hrabec, who reportedly speaks very little English.

The couple have been married 54 years.

Deer Causes One Of 3 Area Crashes

Two Cass City drivers were involved in two accidents investigated by Sheriff's deputies the past week.

A deer and a car tangled Monday evening on East Deckerly road and the car came out second best. According to a report, the accident happened when a deer jumped in front of a car driven by Elfriede Koepf, 32, Cass City and she was unable to stop.

The car she was driving, owned by Henry Leboda of Deford, suffered a damaged hood, right fender and grill. The report did not state the condition of the deer.

Occupants in the car were Helen, Clemons, Patricia, Linda and Elizabeth Koepf.

In the second accident, Sunday evening, a car driven by Lee M. Smith, Cass City, was struck by another vehicle driven by Raymond Karr, Fairgrove.

According to a report filed by Caro Patrolman Howard Putnam, investigating officer, Smith was traveling east on M-81, near the Caro village limits and the Karr vehicle was attempting a U-turn when the two cars collided.

A Cass City man was ticketed Halloween night by Police Chief Carl Palmateer for failure to yield the right of way following a two car accident at the intersection of Leach and West Main streets.

Ticketed was William P. Brady, 49, Cass City.

Brady's car reportedly struck a car driven by Ernest Bullock, 17, Decker, at the intersection. Brady stated that he was watching some children nearby and failed to see Bullock's car approach.

Miss Virginia Gross was an occupant in the Bullock vehicle and Marie Brady was riding in the other car.

Brady's right front fender was damaged and minor damage was suffered by the Bullock car.

The Cass City State Bank and The Pinney State Bank will be closed Monday, Nov. 12, Veterans' Day. 11-8-1

Tuscola county gave its usual big pluralities to Republican candidates in Tuesday's election, but the margin dipped slightly as Democrats took a slightly larger percentage of the vote than they did in 1958 and 1960.

Based on the race for Governor, Democrats received about 34.6 per cent of the total county vote. In 1958 the percentage was 32 per cent and in 1960, 31 per cent.

Much of the gain by the Democrats was in the western edge of the county. Elkland township retained traditional GOP strength, voting about four to one for George Romney. However, Elmwood township continued a trend started in 1960 by voting nearly as many Democratic tickets as they did Republican.

Ticket Splitting

There was a good deal of ticket splitting in the county as there was in the State. Romney led all Republican state office seekers in the county and James Hare was the leader for the Democrats, closely followed by Jim O'Hara seeking re-election to congress.

George Romney will be the first Republican governor in 14 years in Michigan. He will have a GOP controlled legislature to work with, but his cabinet will be Democratic.

Assured of re-election were Democratic incumbent Secretary of State James Hare, Attorney General Frank Kelley, Treasurer Sanford Brown and Auditor General Billie Farnum.

County officials received their usual big majorities to remain in office with only Richard Kern, Democratic candidate for prosecutor, and Robert Russell, Democratic candidate for sheriff, posting slightly better averages than the remainder of the county Democratic ticket.

Republican incumbents returned to office with little difficulty in the county were: James Epskamp, prosecutor; Archie Hicks, clerk; Arthur Willits, treasurer; William Profit, register of deeds; Freeland Sugden, drain commissioner, and Ben Collon, coroner. George Clark, Republican, also was named coroner and will be serving his first term. Another new Republican county office holder is Hugh Marr who takes the sheriff's reins from William Tomlinson, who did not seek re-election.

Allison Green had no trouble retaining his office over the bid of Democrat Duane Farnum. James O'Hara rolled to victory over Charles Knill, using a big Macomb county plurality to offset GOP margins in Thumb counties.

Record Off Year Vote Set

Tuscola county voters reflected the state average as the 14,000 ballots cast represented nearly 80 per cent of the county's 18,380 registered voters. The turnout was a record for an off year election.

Elkland township polled a better average than the county as a whole with a record turnout in both precincts. Precinct No. 1 returns totaled 515 out of 635 registered for an 82 per cent turnout and Precinct No. 2 polled 592 votes out of 680 registered for a whopping 86 per cent.

Ellington township was the only other area township to equal the county average with 263 out of 334 voters turning out for a 78 per cent average.

Kingston recorded 405 out of 546 for 74 per cent. Elmwood township had a 72 per cent turnout with 421 out of 587 registered voters at the polls.

Lowest area voting average was turned in by Novesta township with 70 per cent or 280 of its 400 registered voters casting ballots.

From the Editor's Corner

A familiar sight cruising the Cass City area these days is Bill Eberline and his 12-cylinder pre-war Lincoln.

The car is evidently old enough so that it is creating interest in old car bugs. The other day Bill said that he was offered a 1959 Chev convertible and, more recently, a 1960 Chev in trade for the car.

But Bill is not about to sell. If they want it, I want it, he reports with a grin.

"Besides, why should I trade my Lincoln that increases in value every year for a car that is steadily worth less?" Bill asks.

Although not all are printed, we are grateful to all the folks who casually tell us about their results from Chronicle liners. Many of them make interesting reading as well as good publicity for the paper. None of these testimonials is solicited, but all are appreciated regardless of whether they do or don't get into the paper.

For all of you pheasant hunters who dream of hunting in the Dakotas, be informed that they don't just wait to be shot.

Lewis Bishop returned from a jaunt to pheasant Utopia Monday and says that there are lots and lots and lots of birds . . . but they are wild.

Section after section of the land is in the soil bank and there is lots of cover. Many times the birds rise out of range and many times they just run.

The natives of the area get groups together and walk through the field while others are stationed at the end of the field to shoot the birds flushed.

But even this is getting less effective, Bishop reports, as the birds run to the side, instead of in front of the hunters.

We bagged our limit (10 a day for six days) Bishop said, but we worked for our birds.

Trip Highlights Told At Farm Bureau Women's Meeting

The Tuscola County Farm Bureau Women met at the Farm Bureau center Friday, Nov. 2, for the regular meeting of the committee.

The group heard Sharon Satchell relate her experiences while touring abroad this past summer with the International Lions band. This 92-piece band was made up of students from the United States to provide good will and to show the other countries what a high school band can do.

Margaret Osgerby, a teacher at the Tuscola Co. Retarded School, spoke on a typical day at the school. She told of the teaching methods, materials used and the needs of the school. Members of the committee contributed boxes of items which will provide enjoyment for the children at the retarded school.

Mr. Nagy, Flint, attended the meeting, speaking for the cancer society of Tuscola county. He talked on the need for a board of directors within the county which would serve to give more effectively the service available.

The group voted to serve the membership kick-off dinner Dec. 4 to the captains and workers of the coming membership drive. Mrs. Clare Carpenter is chairman of the dinner.

A contribution of $50.00 was voted for Tuscola county 4-H to share in the cost of sending an achievement winner to Chicago.

Plans were made for about 20 women to attend the annual meeting of Michigan Farm Bureau women in Lansing Nov. 7.

The next meeting on Dec. 7 will provide a Christmas surprise.

Install Officers At Decker OES

Installation ceremonies of Decker Chapter OES had 150 guests from Decker, Kingston, Bad Axe, Cass City, Peck, Marlette, Lexington, Mayville, Sebawaing, Montrose, Grand Blanc, Port Huron and Detroit in attendance. Mrs. Shirli Morse was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Lucille Fleming seated guests.

Mrs. Lydia Chard was the installing officer and was assisted by Mrs. Beatrice Willis, marshal; Mrs. Shirli Morse, chaplain; Mrs. Evelyn Strue, organist, and Mrs. Marion Dorman, soloist.

The installing officers and each of the new officers were presented handmade violet corsages, gifts of the new Worthy Matron.

The lights were dimmed as Edward Phetteplace Jr. carried in the Past Grand Chaplain's Bible and placed it on the altar and knelt while Soloist Mrs. Donna Haddix sang, "Reverent Hands."

The retiring officers honored the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Evelyn Simmons, and the Worthy Patron, Rudy Cagala, with a ceremony, "Stars in our Hearts," as they were presented the jewels of their offices.

Edward Phetteplace escorted his wife, the new Worthy Matron, to the East. Their daughter, Mary Jane, gave a recitation and their son, Charles, sang a song. Several special songs were rendered by the Dorman family of Shabbona.

Rev. Shaw, pastor of the Methodist Church, dedicated a basket of bronze mums in memory of Mrs. Phetteplace's mother and Mr. Phetteplace's father.

The evening closed with "The Ceremony of the Lighted Cross" by the Job's Daughters of the Marlette Bethel.

Lunch was served by a committee, from tables decorated with the Worthy Matron's symbol, The Open Bible, and sprays of violets, carrying out her colors of purple and white.

Job's Daughters were seated at a special table centered with the Cross, white candles and tiny violets. Each received a purple and white cross bookmark. Mrs. Phetteplace received many gifts.

Open House Honors 30th Anniversary

An open house at the Shabbona Community Hall Sunday honored the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Voyle Dorman. An estimated 150 persons attended the three-hour affair given for the couple by their five children. Mr. Dorman is custodian at the Evergreen Township School. She is the former Miss Marion Groombridge.

The couple were married by Elder Willard Parks, in a double wedding ceremony. The other couple were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Kilbourn, Sandusky, who were also present at Sunday's open house.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorman are members of the RLDS Church and the Decker OES.

They have three daughters, Mrs. Dean (Yvonne) Smith, Mrs. Floyd (Janice) McIntosh, Mrs. Robert (Karen) Sawdon, and two sons, Harley and Wilbur. They have nine grandchildren.

Guests attended from Flint, Port Huron, Sandusky, Caro, Cass City and the area. Gifts and money were presented to the couple and refreshments were served.

BULEN TALKS Cars

THE PROGRESS OF SEAT BELTS

If you are considering buying a new 1963 car you would be well advised to spend the few extra dollars required for a quality seat belt. Nothing makes a seat belt believer faster are now installed in 6.9 per cent of all cars on the road, though a good percentage of drivers fail to wear them consistently.

Nothing makes a seat belt believer faster than being in an accident without one (providing you survive, that is). Medical authorities state flatly that better than one third of fatal injuries would be avoided if the victims had been wearing belts.

One group of drivers who always fasten their belts before driving anywhere are the test engineers in charge of safety tests for the major car makers. Watching the results of a crackup against a concrete barrier at 30 MPH with dummies in the cars is apparently quite a convincer for anyone inclined to consider a belt too much trouble.

New cars come pre-punched for seat belt installation now and the job of fitting your car with belts to match the upholstery is a fast and simple one.

...It is important to wear seat belts on shopping trips and other short drives, as well as longer trips. Three out of four traffic fatalities occur within 25 miles of home and more than one half of all injury-producing accidents take place in urban areas.

Learn to use this safety device now before you become convinced the hard way.

World Neighbors WSCS Theme

"World Neighbors" was the theme for the regular meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at the Methodist Church Monday evening.

Program Chairman Mrs. Gilbert Albee explained the two-fold purpose of the program was designed to help parents and teachers increase children's awareness of world neighbors and to suggest resources that will help children appreciate peoples of other nationalities and other races.

"The examples set by parents and teachers in their attitude toward other people and nationalities will largely determine the child's attitude," it was explained.

"As we carefully feed our children healthy bodies, so we should nourish minds to develop Christian ideas and attitudes toward all mankind," Mrs. Albee said.

Other suggestions to develop appreciation for world neighbors were: read books about other nations, listen to recordings of great music and discuss life of composers, attend band and vocal concerts, sing together, prepare foods from other lands and practice Christian social relations.

Mrs. Albee said that the Warren Kelley family in Cass City has opened their home to world neighbors.

She introduced Mrs. Kelley who told of many rewarding experiences enjoyed by this association with world neighbors.

The remainder of the program was in keeping with the general theme.

About 50 attended the dinner which was designed around dishes popular in other countries and also in the United States. Co-chairmen were Mrs. Don Lorentzen and Mrs. Dale Brown.

Mrs. Howard Bacon led devotions on the theme, "Who Is My Neighbor?"

In the business meeting reports were submitted telling of various money-making projects and plans for the next meeting discussed.

Zimmer Appointed To FHA Committee

Vernon M. Zimmer of Unionville has been appointed as a member of the three-man Tuscola County Farmers Home Administration committee, the agency's County Supervisor, Robert B. Abbott, announced this week. The appointment is for three years and begins on July 1.

Mr. Zimmer succeeds Maynard H. McConkey whose 3-year term expired this year. The other two members serving with Mr. Zimmer are Clifton E. Lotter of Silverwood and Carl D. Middleton of Mayville.

The local Farmers Home Administration county committee reviews applications by farmers and other rural families for six different types of agricultural, housing and water loans made in Tuscola county. In addition, the committee advises with the county supervisor regarding the adapting of national loan policies to local conditions.

Mr. Zimmer has spent his lifetime in farming and is currently the owner and operator of a 400-acre cash crop farm. Crops consist of beans, sugar beets, wheat and corn and he also raises some hogs and cattle. He is assisted in his farming program by two sons. For the past 10 years he has been an active member of the Unionville School Board.

Gagetown WSC Hosts Cass City Club Monday

The Cass City Woman's Study Club was the guest of the Gagetown WSC Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Floyd Werde-mann.

Mrs. William Anker, president of the Gagetown club, welcomed the guests and read a poem about club work entitled "The Faithful Few."

Miss Gertrude McWebb reviewed the book, "A Simple Honorable Man" by Conrad Richter.

The new novel is the story of a storekeeper turned minister and the fictional record of a life spent in service of others.

The book indicates, Miss McWebb said, the power of simple goodness to obscure sometimes earthy and violent people.

Richter is a Pulitzer prize winner for a previous novel, "The Town", written in 1951.

"A Simple Honorable Man" is available at the Elkland Township Library.

Following the program Mrs. Anker and Mrs. Leslie Beach poured when refreshments were served.

EUB Conference

Impresses Wurtz

Rev. Samuel R. Wurtz, Salem EUB Church pastor, Cass City, was among an estimated 4,000 persons who attended the General Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church recently at the Civic Auditorium, Grand Rapids.

One of the most significant items to come out of the session was the proposed merger of the Methodist and EUB churches.

The final decision in the matter will have to wait until the General Conference of Methodist Churches in Pittsburgh in 1964. In the meantime, study committees will probably be set up by the two churches.

Rev. Wurtz stated that he was highly impressed with the wide range of national and international religious leaders who addressed the assemblage during the session.

"I am deeply grateful that it was my privilege to have been there," he stated in an interview.

Five hundred elected delegates from the United States, Canada, Europe, Africa and Asia attended the session.

No Dick Tracy — No Coffee Break

By Dave Kraft

I am really getting worried. With utter disregard to his own personal safety and my coffee break, Dick Tracy has parachuted into the midst of a bunch of bad actors.

If you keep up on things that really count, you are aware that a group of hooded hoods have stolen Diet Smith's space gadget and are really raising heck.

So far, they've put a man in orbit . . . without a space capsule and left another joker handcuffed to the top of a church steeple. I missed the conclusion of the episode in which they planned to set some good guy down in front of his home. (I think they planned to let him out at about 10,000 feet . . . without a parachute.)

Now Tracy, brave, reckless, foolish hero-type that he is, has chuted into the middle of the plot and is masquerading as one of the hoods. (Tracy is the good guy . . . so far, he's only thrown one guy over the cliff.)

Here's the kicker . . . just as sure as God made little green inch worms, he's gonna get caught. I've seen these guys in action. There won't be enough left of Tracy to wipe up with a discarded comic section.

Can you possibly imagine what a coffee break would be like without Dick Tracy? I just couldn't do it. I think I'd rather get caught drinking pop through a straw.

Speaking of mean guys . . . some dirty pumpkin picker purloined my daughter's jack-o-lantern on Halloween night.

It's not so much that they stole from my child . . . she didn't like the thing anyway.

It's just that . . . well, I spent a good half-hour carving that thing out at no little expense to my fingers. It looked so good I thought I'd freeze it and save it for next year.

I was really proud of it. I'd captured a certain wistful, down-trodden, lacerated look that kept a good share of the trick-or-treaters away from our door.

I shall miss him.

The night after Halloween my wife and I were sitting in the living room watching television when we heard some voices in the vicinity of our car.

I thought perhaps it was some left over trick-or-treaters, so I grabbed a flashlight and headed for the basement door. I planned to outflank them by going down through the basement and out through the rear basement door.

I purposely avoided turning the light on so as not to give my plan away.

Quietly and carefully I opened the basement door and stepped off into a clothesbasket half full of clothespins that my wife had obligingly left at the top of the stairs.

If I hadn't had a good grip on the doorknob, I'd have ridden the basket clear to the bottom. As it was, I darn near gave myself a hernia trying to keep my balance and slammed the door in the process.

When I finally made the bottom of the stairs, I draped my arm across my face to protect

Try a touch of herbs in sandwich fillings. Roberta Hershey, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, suggests a mixture of tuna, cream cheese, diced celery and salad dressing flavored with dill seed or fresh dill. Chicken salad sandwich filling gets a flavor boost with a dash of dried Rosemary.

Dial and DDD Day: Dec. 4

The most modern telephone services available -- Dial and Direct Distance Dialing -- are coming to Cass City on December 4. Automatic dial service will enable you to place your own local calls . . . and Direct Distance Dialing will mean you can dial your own long distance calls to over 55,000,000 phones across the nation without the assistance of an operator.

Both new services are fast, easy and convenient. Instructions about them will be sent to you soon in a special letter. The first pages of your new directory will also include complete instructions.

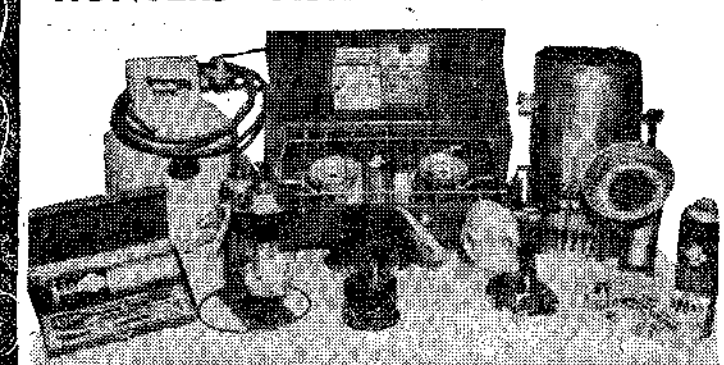

The latest development in telephone numbering -- All Number Calling -- is also a part of the Cass City system. This feature, which will eventually be carried to all phones in the nation, means each Cass City telephone will be identified by seven numbers.

General Telephone is proud to bring you this new communications system. It is part of Gen. Tel's 1962, $16 million expansion and improvement program in Michigan.

From a short press item: "Chipmunk Kills Rattler Then Dies from Poison." Bellefonte, Pa. A chipmunk weighing scarcely half a pound, thwarted the plans of foresters near here to witness a battle royal between a rattler and a black snake. Unable to locate a black snake, the foresters placed a chipmunk in the rattler's den to provide the reptile with a meal. The chipmunk had other plans and taking the aggressive, literally bit the 4½ foot snake in two. The chipmunk was bitten during the struggle and died of the poison from the rattler's fangs but not until it had lived to see its enemy die.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where the Defense Department has final give out some figgers on them Chinese feathers we been stockpiling. I reckon it had got to the place where they was getting about as many letters on this item as they had feathers so they decided to give out some information on the subject.

The piece I got here says we had 10,095,900 pounds of 'em stored in 1961. It took 18 warehouses scattered around the country to store this item, for a total of $14,828 square feet, and the storage costs come to $16.20 a ton. But things is looking better fer 1962. According to this piece, the Defense Department is getting ready to use about a million pounds of feathers and this will bring the 1962 supply down to around 9 million pounds.

We was talking about these things at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle claimed this was very encouraging news from Washington. Ed figured that if we kept on using a million pounds a year fer 9 years and didn't buy no more, we'd git this item caught up and could close out the storage costs. But Clem Webster allowed as how Ed was mighty ignorant on how things was operated in Washington. Clem predicted that them boys in the Pentagon was already busy replacing the million pounds they was using in 1962.

All the fellers was agreed that in another four months the Defense Department was liable to come out with a piece telling how much they was paying fer them Chinese feathers. Bug Hookum even predicted that in a year or two they might even announce what kind of feathers they was and what they was doing with 'em.

And while the Defense Department was giving the taxpayers informed on the feather situation, the Government Printing Office come out with a new list of volumes that is now ready fer the taxpayers. Senator Williams of Delaware give the list to one of them Washington column writers, and I'll have to admit, Mister Editor, they got a little somepun fer everybody. Fer instant, they got one volume on how to trap bobcats and one on how to control stray dogs. But the one that took my eye was "Problems of Present Day Poetry in Romania." I aim to order that one fer my old lady, and this column writer said I could git it by writing to the Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. If you ain't got your copy yet, Mister Editor, I'd git my order off today. After all, you helped pay fer it.

And to put the stopper in the jug fer this week's news from Washington, I see where, in 1961, the Department of Agriculture sent Soil Bank checks to 2 colleges, 2 penitentiaries, 3 airports and 4 golf courses. I aim to git my cemetery lot on the list fer next year.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

As the leaves turn from green to gold to brown, we know it is harvest time for squash and pumpkin. There are many varieties from which to choose, but the two main classifications are summer and winter.

Actually, summer and winter terms have nothing to do with the season, but with the maturity of the vegetable. Summer squash is considered to be ones which should be eaten while they are immature. Usually, they do not need peeling for the rind should be tender and the seeds soft, so the whole squash is edible. The main varieties are the yellow crookneck and straight neck, cocozelle, scallop and zucchini.

In contrast, winter squash must be mature when harvested. The shell is very hard and the seeds must be discarded. Winter squash will keep beautifully as long as they are kept cool but not exposed to freezing temperatures. The main varieties are Hubbard, Buttercup (or Delicious, Butternut and Acorn).

Squash vary considerably in size, from the small acorn to the sometimes huge Hubbards. Usually the smaller size squash is sold by the head and the larger Hubbard by the pound. Which ever way they are sold, they are hard to beat for beauty, abundance, food value and economy. The squash family are all particularly rich in Vitamin A.

There are any number of ways squash may be used. The most common use is as a vegetable with butter and seasonings. Yet it can become a main dish by combining it with cheese in a souffle or with onions and ham. Stuffed acorn squash makes an appetizing main dish. Breads, muffins and even pancakes become more interesting in flavor and color with the addition of squash. And by the way, squash do desserts proud by way of orange squash custard chiffon pie.

As far as cash value of squash as a crop, it is not one of the 10 most important produced in the U.S. Still it is a very popular vegetable and much of it is being sold in the processed frozen form.

With Thanksgiving just around the corner, better plan to have squash in some form for the holiday family dinner. Squash is almost as traditional as turkey.
