The problem is building a rink that will remain serviceable through the skating season with a minimum of maintenance.

Jerome Root Jr. and the Elkland Township Fire Department believe that they may come up with the solution this year.

The rink will again be located on the tennis courts. The new wrinkle for better skating will be spreading a thin coat of sand over the pavement before applying the water.

To stop seepage from around the sides, the plastic strips used as last year's base will be placed over the edges of the rink.

Another new feature for this year is that village crews will maintain the rink after the department builds it. Although the village has on occasion cleaned the rink, most of the work was left to members of the fire depart-

"The village has the time and the equipment," Root remarked.

Root has also received permission from the Little League to use their dugouts as shelters for the skaters.

While no date has been set for building the rink, Root. announced that it is hoped the pond will be ready for Christmas vacations, weather permitting.

The new attempt joins a long list of other plans that up to this year have failed. Previous attempts have included last year's plastic base, different locations for the rink and different methods of applying the water.

Last year's plastic base "worked fairly well, but it was too expensive," Root says. "There were a few bubbles, too," he added.

Comprised of three huge plastic sheets costing $60.00 apiece, the base was expected to be used at least for another year when purchased.

As usual with Hawk squads, lack of height is expected to be one of the weaknesses of the team. Wilson has three boys starting who are "on the rim" or over and another potential rebounder is Jim Knoblet, but the squad lacks that good big man that every coach is seeking.

Despite the inexperience of the team and its other weaknesses, many fans believe that the Hawks have a good chance to substantially improve on the 4-10 record of last year.

When the survey was completed, trustees had planned to limp along doing what they could each year with available funds but the 50 per cent participation by the government galvanized them into the ambitious project.

The trustees voted to float revenue bonds to raise their share of the money. The project will undoubtedly result in another boost in water rates. Although no figures are available because actual costs cannot be set until final plans are drawn and approved, it is likely that a $100,-000 issue would require an additional $10,000 yearly for 15 to 20 years. Presently Cass City's water and sewer charges bring in over $30,000 annually.

Despite the expected increase in rates, local residents will still be paying no more, and, in most cases, less than is charged for water service in other neighboring communities.

The Project

Although some of the work suggested in the survey could have been delayed, parts of the plan are crucial. One is overhead storage, Cass City is now serviced by a tank 38 years old well over the normal 25 years life expectancy of these tanks. Total capacity of the tank is 56,000 gallons. Needed in the village is a tank with a capacity of 200,000 gallons. In case of water failure, the village has less than a two-hour supply . . . recommended minimum is 10 hours, according to estimates of insurance experts. Also slated are the installation of eight-inch water mains and other revamping of the lines. When completed Cass City's water system will be adequate for the present and for future ex-

Sheets Stung In Greenlee Bankruptcy Case

A Cass City man is listed among 38 unsecured creditors who list amounts totaling $265,-954 due them from a Davison businessman who declared bankruptcy this fall.

Richard Sheets, a Cass City livestock dealer, reportedly signed a note with George Greenlee, ex-Davison banker, early last spring.

FACTS ON TIRE WEAR

Tires will last some motorists up to twice as long as others. The reason is in the type of driving they do, roads and weather conditions. If the well known rules for longer tire wear are observed: correct inflation, balance and alignment; avoidance of fast starts and stops and sharp comering, then lesser known conditions will still affect wear drastically.

Road surface has a great deal to do with tire wear. Country gravel roads, for instance, cut normal tire life just about in half - a fact that may not surprise some farmers.

The best road surface is smooth asphalt. Using that surface as 100 percent, coarse asphalt increases tire wear ten percent; concrete roads 30 percent; stone block roads 35 percent and broken asphalt 45 per cent.

Heat is tire life's worst enemy and therefore wear from this source is greatest in Summer and least in Winter. Counting heat generated by speed as normal at 60 MPH, wear increases 34 percent at 75 MPH and decreases 25 percent at 40 MPH.

A modern automobile is a major investment for most of us. It is only common sense to treat that investment with the same consideration we would treat a like amount of cash if we were handling it constantly. It is far cheaper to keep it in top condition than to repair it when it breaks down; to care for it as you would most other possessions of similar worth.

If this is what you wish to do with your car, we operate the type of garage you are looking for.

Tuesday, crews were to start removing several trees in front Caro.

Work on the building was started last spring.

The new church, boasting an overflow seating capacity of 600 persons, will replace the present building which was built in 1903. The old building will eventually be torn down and replaced.

One unusual feature, recently finished, is a brick screen directly in front of the door which will serve as a planter and as protection for a statue of Mary, the Blessed Mother. It will also serve to help deflect noise from Seeger Street traffic.

HAWKS OPEN SEASON

They cite the over-all weaker league as the reason. Preseason estimates place Bad Axe, Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port and Vassar in the top echelons with the remainder of the clubs scrambling for victories.

Definitely weaker this year are Sandusky, Marlette and Frankenmuth. Caro and Cass City are expected to be at least as good as they were in 1961-62 but both schools posted mediocre records and have plenty of room for improvement.

Cass City's role in league competition could be decided very quickly. After they meet Marlette, they face two of the top three rated teams on successive Fridays. Both games are at home. Vassar plays Dec. 7 and Bad

Timber Doodle Dinner

Woodcock hunters, here's an easy way to prepare a tasty dinner in the field. First, snip off wings, lower legs, and heads of the birds (a pair of fowl scissors works best for this). Next, skin out the body. Then halve the breast by cutting down the point of the breast bone and along the joints where the wings are attached. Skin out the upper legs and place all these cleaned pieces on strips of bacon over a wood fire. Cook each side about eight minutes, depending on taste and size of fire. Wrap potatoes in two layers of cooking foll and place in the fire shortly be-fore the birds begin to cook. Finally, coffee, canned cranberries, and lots of butter for the potatoes provide a dinner a hunting man likes. Eating utensils can be packed in your hunting jacket without much bull - Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Mellendorfs Observe 25th Anniversary At Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mellendorf celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday at an open house held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross, Owendale. An estimated 100 persons attended the affair, given by the couple's four children.

Mr. Mellendorf, 49, was born Feb. 12, 1913, and Mrs. Mellendorf, the former Thelma L. Ross, was born Feb. 3, 1917. The couple were married by Rev. Wesley Dafoe at her parents' home. Mr. Mellendorf is a farmer and also works at the Sebewaing sugar factory. He is a member of Acme Lodge, Gagetown, and both are members of the Gifford OES and the Owendale Methodist Church The couple have four children,

Lee of Wyoming, Carolyn of Richmond, and Linda and Fronda, both at home. They also have two grandchildren, David and Cynset in operation. Simultaneously, Cass City will also be "plugged in" to the nation-wide Direct Distance Dialing network. "These new services, combined with their seven-numeral phone numbers, will give Cass City customers as modern a communications system as is available," General Telephone District Manager H. F.

Janson stated. For the first time, Cass City telephone users will be able to dial their own local and long distance calls. The long distance feature will enable Cass City residents to reach over 55,000,-000 phone across the nation without the assistance of an operator, Mr. Janson noted.

Describing a dial cut-over like the one Cass City will experience Tuesday, Mr. Janson said, "the early morning dial conversions are interesting and hold the drama of an important countdown. As most of the town is still sleeping, an alert tenseness grows in the telephone building as the awaited hour closes in."

Mr. Janson explained, "for a split second, at 6:00 a.m., all Cass City phone service will be dead as the cables to the common battery equipment are literally cut and the new equipment nows into use. Telephone , specialists will instantly begin to strip 'block picks' from between contact points in the new dial switching equipment." The block picks protect the equipment and prevent its use prior to the conver-

He continued, "soon the switchroom floor will be covered with at their wedding, served coffee. small strips of wood (block picks). When all the picks have been removed, a series of tests is run to assure the correct operation of the new system."

The new service for Cass City, Mr. Janson pointed out, is part of General Telephone's $16 million expansion and improvement program.

Telephone directories were deivered earlier this week, and Harold Janson, district manager, pointed out that hours for repair service are not as rigid as appear in the new books. Under repair calls, the directories list "Between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Saturday, call 872-2157." Janson reports that the number applies to all repair calls, any

Erosion Top Farm Problem

"Erosion is the dominant problem on 739 million acres of America's farm land. This is more than half of the agricultural land in the United States. Erosion is a problem requiring constant attention on 234 million acres of cropland."

These facts, along with many more, are found in a new publication just issued by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. It is called "Soil Erosion, The Work of Uncontrolled Water." A copy can be obtained from the SCS office, 837 S. State Street, Caro, Wilbur Kellogg, Soil Conservationist, said.

Kellogg, who is assigned by the SCS to assist the Tuscola Soil Conservation District, said that the new bulletin contains 16 pages and 25 pictures describing and illustrating the causes and types of erosion caused by water. It is the latest publication by the SCS that deals with this basic problem of American farmers

MINOR ACCIDENTS

Miss Thompson, suffering from chest and shoulder injuries, was taken to Bay City General Hospital along with Joseph Giffel, 77, and his son, Gerald, 40, both of Bay City. The elder Giffel suffered knee cuts and chest injuries and his son was treated for facial cuts.

The accident was investigated by Sebewaing Marshall Charles

A minor accident involving a 22-year-old Kingston driver and a Sandusky man was reported to Sheriff's deputies Sunday after-

According to the report, a car driven by Lawrence G. Miners, Kingston, approached a Bliss Road hill on the wrong side, near M-24, and collided with a car driven by Mark Smith, Sandusky. Smith reported that he saw Miners' car coming and managed to stop before the collision.

Shirley Nash, 15, Caro, was an occupant in Miners' car.

Elected were Alfred Goodall, Executive Committee regular member, and Clare Carpenter, Tuscola County's non-voting delegate to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention. The convention is being held in Atlanta, Ga, December 10-13.

Also elected to the Executive Committee were Lyle Sylvester, Fairgrove, president, and Robert Bush, Caro, vice-president.

In other business, final plans for attending the Michigan Farm Bureau Institute were outlined. Attending from Tuscola county will be: Lyle Sylvester, executive committee: Cecil Baker, resolutions committee, Emil Schiefer, legislative committee, and Clifton Lotter, public relations com-

Roll Call

Plans were also finalized for the 1963 Roll Call kick-off dinner, December 4, at the County Farm Bureau Building, at noon. Expected to attend are Roll Call area men, Roll Call captains and volunteer Roll Call workers.

Robert Foerch, Michigan Farm Bureau Organization division manager, will be the guest speak-

The kick-off program will include training and instructions by the county insurance staff, Roll Call assignments and distribution of materials. Duane Sugden, Thumb regional man, will also take part in the program.

John Koepf Sr., Roll Call manager, recently reported that Tuscola county, with 2,465 members, is the third highest county in the state in membership size.

The drive, for new Farm Bureau members, ends December 31. The kick-off dinner will be served by the County Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

Lions to Observe Leader Dog Week

Leader Dog Week, paying tri-bute to the Leader Dog School, Rochester, has been set for December 2-8, according to B. A. Calka, Cass City Lion president. Support for the school is one of the major projects of the Cass City club. During a recently completed campaign, the club donated $50.00 to the school." Calka announced that the seven-day observance was proclaimed earlier by Gov. John B. Swain-The nonprofit school was founded in 1939 by the Michigan Lions and has trained nearly 2,000 leader dog and blind person teams. None of the dogs are purchased by the school; all are contributed. The dogs are, in turn, furnished without charge, to all eligible applicants. Calka invited those who may know of a blind person interested in obtaining a leader dog to contact a local Lions member. He also urged anyone wishing to contribute a potential leader dog to write Leader Dogs for the Blind, Rochester.

The good loser has one advantage-he is always invited to sit in at the next game.

Hanging Greens To Open Methodist Advent Season

Cass City Methodist Church members will mark the beginning of the Advent Season Sunday, Dec. 2, with "The Hanging of the Greens," according to Rev. James Braid.

Slated to begin at 4:00 p.m., the work has been assigned to various church groups as follows: Senior High School classes and youth group and the Kouple's Klub will decorate the sanctuary; the Junior High School class and youth group and the Adult Bible Study class will do the entrance and the tower room, and the Sunday School classrooms will be done by the children and their parents and

The Adult Bible Sunday School class will decorate the lounge and the WSCS will do the Fellowship

From 5:30 to 6:15, those helping with the work will gather in the sanctuary for a carol sing. Both the Junior and Chancel Choirs will offer special Christmas music, and the Christmas story will be told from the Scriptures.

A White Gift offering will be taken for the work of the Methodist Children's Home, Detroit. Earlier in the day, at the 11:00 a.m. worship, Rev. Braid will begin a series of Advent sermons. His subject for this Sunday will be "The Great Promise." Other sermons during the season will include: "The Greatest Book," Dec. 9; "The Greatest Servant," Dec. 16, and "The Greatest Gift," Dec. 23.

County Farmers Receive Social Security Benefits

Social Security benefits paid to farmers in Tuscola county total $15.478.81 each month, John T. Maidlow, manager of the Saginaw District Social Security office, announced today. Approximately 50 per cent of the claims for social security benefits in the Saginaw office from self-employed persons come from Speaking in connection with the observance of Farm-City week, Maidlow pointed out that both farmers and city workers are equally concerned with the problem of economic indepen-dence during their later years.

The farmer came under the social security program later than city people. When the Social Security law was passed in 1935, only industrial and commercial workers came under its provissions.

In 1950 regularly employed farm workers came under social security along with self-employed workers. But self-employed farmers were excluded until 1955.

The credit a worker needs to qualify for retirement benefits is determined by his age.

Under this plan a farmer who becomes 65 this year needs credit for less than three years of work under social security. This way, farmers are not penalized for not being under social security since its beginning. ' use," Gannon said.

The spokesman for the community colleges gains support for his observation from Ferris Crawford, of the State Department of Public Instruction.

"These institutions must be viewed as an important part of the total framework of higher education in Michigan." Crawford said. 'The demand for education beyond high school in or near a student's home community is increasing almost daily even now. This demand will continue to increase."

John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, voiced some agreement on the need for community colleges as a service to Michigan's growing

"The problem of educating our youth is not a problem of the colleges and universities," Hannah said. "It is a public problem, because it is the public's children who must be educated."

Hannah, a graduate of Grand Rapids Junior College, said there likely will be a day in the not too distant future when Michigan's colleges and universities will need more help in handling the needs of the annual high school graduating classes.

Did you know that the cranberry is one of the few fruits native to America that is grown commercially today? When the Pilgrims reached our shores about 350 years ago, they found that ord cranberry crop is now moving to market. Production is 13 per cent greater than average. There will be plenty of cranberries for holiday meals. Many homemakers serve cranberries at other meals, for the tart flavor contrasts pleasantly with meat

For top quality, shoppers should learn to recognize choice cranherries. Look for berries that are plump, firm and dry with high luster. Avoid soft or shriveled berries that have a dull appearance.

Annual DHIA Meeting Slated At Caro Dec. 6

Tuscola county dairymen, members of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association, are invited to attend the annual meeting of the association on Thursday, Dec. 6, at the 4-H Building, Fairgrounds, Caro, according to Henry Hohman of Vassar, association president. The meeting will start with a turkey dinner served by the 4-H Mothers' Club at 12:00 noon.

In addition to the regular business, an interesting program has been arranged to include an illustrated lecture on a recent trip to Russia and other European countries by Ed Mantey of Fairgrove,

During the month of October, 104 dairy herds in the county were under test with 3,738 cows. The meeting is open to any interested dairyman, said Hohman. Other officers and directors are: Frank Satchell, Caro, vicepresident; Mrs. Harold Blaylock, Vassar, secretary and treasurer, and directors, Werner List, Vassar: Lloyd Walz, Vassar: Grover Laurie, Cass City; Clarence Merchant, Cass City; Don Koepfgen, Cass City; Fred Ruggles, Kingston; Leon Keinath, Millington, and Elmer Simmons, Cass City.

If you lived through our nation's great depression of the 1930 period, you can see if this book is accurate. Despair, questions, more despair, and sometimes giving up marked the mood of those horrible days and the book accurately reflects the dilemma of midwestern farmers who also faced drought -- devastating drought -- and sandstorms at the same time as they faced bank failures, low (if not nonexistent) markets and many, many mortgage sales. I recall the period, but through a city dweller's memory. This is one small part of the story as lived by farmers, THE BONES OF PLENTY, by Lois Phillips Hudson.

The book is much too long and the opening pages I found tedious. But if you do your part by careful reading there, the final two-thirds of the book picks up interest fast. This is Mrs. Hudson's first novel and promises some good things to come, especially if she learns to wield the red

The framework of the novel is built around one farm family with the unlikely name of the George Custer family. George is a leader and a very hard worker. He rents the farm from a merchant and ploughs nine years of devastatingly hard work into the farm, hoping to buy it -- but the depression was horribly timed and his ultimate answer is to sell out - presumably to spend

Cass City Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Marks of Flushing were week-end visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kehoe. Mr. Kehoe is a patient in Cass City

Demoinstration Club

Hospital.

Eight members of the North Elmwood Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, Nov. 13, for an afternoon session at the home of Mrs. William Ashmore.

Roll call was answered by giving a sewing hint. Mrs. Fred Dorsch was a guest. Mrs. William Ashmore and Mrs. Ervin Walrod gave the lesson on mending and darning.

The members planned to attend the tea in Reese Thursday, Nov. 29, in the Home Extension hall where they were to display a decorated Christmas tree.

The group is sending 15 dozen cookies to the Veterans hospital in Saginaw next Sunday. The Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Comment Tuesday, Dec. 11, and will be an all-day meeting. The hostess, Mrs. Ashmore, served refreshments.
