Two Free Bikes Awarded Friday In Cass City

Two Cass City residents were given free bikes at the free drawing Friday night at the corner of Main and Seeger streets. The bikes were presented with the compliments of the Chamber of Commerce to Charles Bond and Patty Rabideau.

The final free drawing is scheduled Friday night at 9:30 p.m. when another bike will be presented.

Santa Visits

The Chamber Santa will again be in the village with candy for all Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening.

Postmaster Lewis Bishop reports that it's very important to both city and rural carriers to have mail receptacles free and clear of snow and ice as possible. Extra care by patrons could avoid injury through accident and speed the delivery of mail, Bishop said.

Residents are reminded, too, that carriers are not required to deliver mail when property owners fail to clear an approach and a condition exists that could cause injury to the mailman.

Building.

For two months the Cass City Village Council has been mulling the water rate problem, trying to establish uniform rules and increase charges for water and sewer that will make the department self-sustaining. At the regular meeting of the council Tuesday night, a program was presented that met the approval of all trustees except Jim Seals, who thought that a more equitable raise could be worked out. For this reason final action was again delayed until after the holidays while Seals checks other possible changes in the system.

Biggest change proposed by the council Tuesday was in charges for sewer, which is operating at a deficit. Since the sewer and water charges are billed together, the Chronicle will present a composite comparison of the old and new prices. Exactly how each water user will be affected must be individually figured, but the new rates under discussion are:

water sewe Up to 5,000 gallons $4.00 $2.00 (128- users) 5,001 to 15,000 gallons .45M.45M (336 users) 15,001 to 25,000 gallons .30M .30M (158 users)

25,001 and over .20M .15M (93 users) How do these prices compare with prices now in effect? If you were in the minimum usage category (under 5,000 gallons per quarter) your increase would be just 15 cents, from $5.85 to $6.00. If you used 15,000 gallons quarterly, your bill would go from $11.05 to $15.00. If you used 25,000 gallons, the bill would rise from $14.95 to

One of the businesses in the category is Erla Food Center which uses vast amounts of water, most of it for their coolers. To handle cases of this type, trustees are discussing installing a meter, draining the water into the storm sewer and deducting the amount of water that can be disposed of this way from the sewer charge. would be paid by the user of the three years if credit is okay.

Assessor's Pay A letter from Mac B. O'Dell, present village assessor, sparked a discussion of the money paid for assessing. The job takes some 10 weeks and trustees felt that the $400 paid was not enough and jumped it to $600. There was some discussion about hiring a man to make a more complete survey of all homes in the village and setting up a more complete file, but no action was taken.

worth anything, better be careful. In recent weeks there has been an epidemic of thefts in the area. One lady, who wishes to remain anonymous, said that she has lost three beagles. Charles Becker reports that he has lost two Brittanys.

No one likes to take an increase in rates and we know that there will be grumbling when the new water rates finally go into offect.

However, in our dozen years of covering the council, we regard the present new water charging system as one of the finest efforts of the village's governing body. There has been a lot of work devoted to the change and in our opinion represents a step forward in village administration.

And even with the new increase, area residents should remember that Cass City is still substantially under charges assessed in neighboring communities.

It's nice to be able to be laudatory about an area endeavor ... especially during the Christmas season.

victory of the season Friday night with a spine tingling 61-59 decision over Bad Axe at Cass City High School.

The Hawks were sailing along with a comfortable lead late in the final period when the visitors rallied and almost pulled the Thumb B Conference tilt out of the fire.

With a little less than three minutes to go the Hawks were in front by 11 points. The Hatchets pulled a full-court press and started closing the gap. With a minute and a half left the gap had narrowed to five points. Cass City went into a stall. But when the Hawks missed a charity toss Bad Axe went down the court and scored. Root also announced that the Awarded their certificates, along with 27 other county persons, were: Sharon Allen, Dorothy Tracy, Lucille Wotton, Al Avery and Lyle Richardson.

The eight-week course was designed to prepare instructors who will in turn teach in the area.

Mrs. Carl Mantey, R. N., Caro, instructor for the classes, will now become the county co-ordinator of the Medical Self-help Program.

Tuesday's session was the last instructors' class to be held under the program. Frank Kroswek, civil defense director, stated that further instructor classes will not be necessary since nearly every village in the county was represented at the classes.

Calka Appointed To Hospital Board

Ralph Gauer has resigned his post as a member of the board of directors of Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Gauer, who was serving his first term, said that he resigned because his wife had accepted the post of Supervisor of Nurses at the hospital and he felt that there might have been a conflict of interests if he remained on the board.

The board appointed B. A. "Curly" Calka to replace Gauer on the board.

night when his car slammed into the rear of a truck trailer on Dutcher Road, north of Caro."

Injured was Larry A. Spiekerman who suffered multiple lacerations of the face, possible internal injuries and concussion.

> Issued a summons for failure to take proper safety precautions was James L. Ford, rural Caro, driver of the truck.

According to investigating officers, Ford's truck, owned by Standard Truck Leasing Company. Detroit, had stalled on Dutcher Road at about 9:00 p.m. Ford told Deputies Paul Berry and Robert Larsen that he was working on the truck when the accident occurred at about 10:50.

He stated that he had turned the truck's left turn signal on and had placed a flare.

Spiekerman and a witness reportedly stated that neither saw any lights nor the flare.

Earlier in the day, a car driven by Howard W. Gregg, Snover, collided with a Hart Bros. Elevator, Vassar, truck at the intersection of North Vassar Road and M-81. The truck was driven by Henry T. Jones, Saginaw.

Investigating Deputy Hugh Marr said Gregg told him that he was attempting to pass the truck when it turned in front of him. Jones also told Marr that his

Counties Share Expenses

Full-time Probation Officer Possible

Tuscola county supervisors will decide at their next session whether or not to share with Lapeer county the office expense of a full-time probation officer.

If the supervisors decide in favor of the full-time officer, C. H. Hamilton, county Friend of the court, will have to turn over part of his duties and it's alright with him.

"There is a definite need for a full-time officer," he stated in an interview Tuesday. He cited a heavy divorce docket as his need for help.

A full-time probation officer is available from the State Corrections Department if the two counties share the estimated $1,900 office expenses per year, Circuit Court Judge Timothy Quinn told Lapeer supervisors at a recent meeting.

Joint action by the Tuscola and Lapeer Boards will be discussed at the January session. At present, Hamilton must make presentence investigations and keep tab on those on probation. He is currently carrying a probation load of 42 cases. The average probation load is between 40 and 45 cases, but has gone as high as 60 cases. His probation work is just a minor portion of his duties. As Friend of the Court, he has jurisdiction over 225 divorce cases involving 450 children.

In each divorce case involving children, the homes have to be investigated personally before a judgment in the case can be handed down.

Last year, he spent 67 days in the court rooms. His office has to prepare court calendars, send out trial notices and jury notices and attend all court sessions as well as keep the alimony payments rolling in.

Many persons also come to him for personal advice on how to keep their homes and families from breaking up, he added. In regard to his probation work, Hamilton remarked, "I should be doing some counseling, but I just don't have enough time."

The state officer would take over the probation work, leaving the divorce work for the Friends of Court in the two counties. His salary would be paid by the state but the counties would have to share the office expenses.

If the counties agree to share the expenses, the officer will probably be appointed in Febru- Stone Company, Bay Port. ary.

Crowd Brings Dilemma at Grade Program

Grade school authorities in Cass City were not sure just how many persons would turn out to the open house Monday night that featured a singing program by the various grades. But even the most optimistic of the forecasters were not prepared for the deluge of parents, relatives and friends of pupils that descended on the elementary building.

The huge crowd was so much larger than expected that the formal program went flying and a make-shift program instigated. Instead of holding the singing in the elementary gym, the youngsters were herded into the hall where a piano was hastily rolled and the singing conducted. The gym was crowded with visitors eating cookies and drinking punch.

Harried teachers explained that it was the first time that this program had been attempted and that in the future plans for more visitors would be inaugurated.

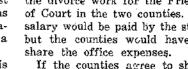

Despite the confusion, most parents enjoyed the night and the opportunity of seeing their children perform.

Funeral services for Mrs. Harvey Kapnick Jr., 39, of 2748 Landon Rd., Shaker Heights, Ohio, were to be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the Cass City First Presbyterian church. The Rev. Tom Bennett Maurer, pastor of the Park Ridge, Ill., Community Church, of which Mrs. Kapnick was an active member, was to officiate, assisted by the Rev. M. R. Vender.

Rev. John Hall Fish and the Mrs. Kapnick was the former M. Jean Bradshaw of Cass City. She died Dec. 16 of a heart attack. The remains were to be at the Douglas Funeral Home from three p.m. Wednesday until 11 a.m. Thursday, when they were to be removed to the church. Daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Bradshaw, she was born in Cass City Nov. 25, 1923. She was married to Mr. Kapnick April 5, 1947, at Cass City. After graduation from high school here, she attended Cleary Business college in Ypsilanti. The Kapnicks moved a few months ago to Shaker Heights from Park for the last minute heroics already described.

The Hawks looked much improved over their performance in their initial game against Marlette. They moved the ball well and their moments of sloppy ball handling and erratic play were less than in their first game of the year. From the field the team posted a creditable 33 per cent. From the charity circle the team shows need for improvement, hitting only nine of 22 for a 41 per cent average. The scoring was well divided.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jezewski

Miss Elaine Marie Armstrong and James L. Jezewski exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Dec. 1, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Armstrong of Marlette.

The Rev. Donald Krohn, pastor of North Goodland Baptist Church, and the Rev. S. R. Wurtz, pastor of Evangelical United Brethren Church, Cass City, officiated.

The fireplace mantel was decorated with a floral piece of white snapdragons and white, yellow and orchid mums flanked with crystal candelabra and white tapers.

As the bride descended the staircase she was wearing a ballerina-length white taffeta gown with long sleeves ending in wrist points. Dainty appliques decorated the sweetheart neckline and the full skirt. The shoulder-length veil was held in place by a pearl tiara. She carried a white Bible with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a white gold necklace with diamond pendant, a gift of the

And the snow fell like dandruff. I had my first lesson in making a skating rink. Harold Guinther, Basil Bigham, Barney Freiburger and I.

Every year the fire department builds a community skating rink. It's sort of taken for granted that it will be done. If everyone that uses it had to stand out there in the middle of the night and spray water in weather that made cold water steam, it wouldn't be taken for granted. The whole department takes part in the job. It's a fine thing to see. The night I was out it was so cold that by the time you got back with the second load of water, the preceding load was already frozen. When I got there Barney was handling the hose. He asked me if I'd like to take over.

I weigh about 145 pounds, well-dressed. Less than welldressed, I tip the scales at about 126 pounds. I wear good heavy clothes because a strong wind can keep me trapped against the side of a building for hours. The upshot is that Barney didn't hand the hose to me, he handed me to the hose. I grabbed ahold of it and started spraying in the direction Barney had been spraying. All of a sudden I felt myself moving. I lifted one foot to bring myself back in position and started moving faster. I slammed my foot down, but I still kept moving in

Calends To Calendar

In ancient Rome, the priests called the people together on the first day of every month, known as Calends, and announced the sacred days and festivals to be observed during the month. The people checked the days on their "fasti," marking the important feasts in red. Thus from the "Calends" we derived our word, calendar.

Old China Celebrated

In old China, New Year's was a 15-day affair which began on the First Day of the First Moon and climaxed with "Teng Chieh," or the Feast of Lanterns. Family gatherings were traditional throughout the New Year season and the exchange of gifts and all sorts of entertainment filled the days until "Teng Chich."

In Northern China, lanterns were hung in doors and windows, symbolizing the advent of longer days. In Southern China, spectacular lantern-lit parades, featuring huge fire-breathing dragons (supported from within by many men) would wind their way through the crowded streets.

THE CASS CITY STATE BANK

December 20, 1962

Dear Santa Claus:

Over eighty years ago this bank was organized and its building constructed. It has witnessed vast changes. If there is anyone living who can recall its origin, he will probably admit he has changed a little. Few buildings in town can match it for age but the old bank structure goes on from year to year. It is proudly carried in the bank statement at one dollar - the dollar represents furniture and fixtures.

There was a time when a child was happy with an orange or a rag-doll for Christmas. Mama was delighted with a new apron; Dad was glad to get a shaving-mug. Today! Heavens! We can't go into that except to say Dad is glad to get it over.

The past year has seen a lot of new faces in town whom we heartily welcome. We in turn mourn the passing of many familiar ones.

Those fortunate ones who journey to warmer climates! It is hard to know what to say about them. Is it that they are thin-blooded or are they attracted by the dog-races? Is it that they like to fish or maybe avoid decorating for Christmas? Is it they want to play shuffle-board or are they just plain lazy?

Anyway, Santa, we know you do not change. We know you will visit our community again this year but we ask that you will impress upon us, as we look around the world, that we should be deeply grateful for all the many blessings we have had.

		Sincerely yours,

The Beagle

A gay tail-wagger and keen rabbit chaser with plenty of bounce to the ounce. That's the beagle. In a rabbit patch, a pack of these peppy dogs scurries about snif-ing like sixty. They hop this way and that over obstacles, their noses never leaving the ground. If some old half wisp of rabbit smell turns up for one, he match-es it with half a howl, and that draws the others into a single bunched mass of wiggles. When they really think they've got a live one going, chorusing howls of/delight come forth, and off they go in a line, wild-eyed with happiness. All this really saves many bunny lives; hunters are so often caught up with the spirit of the chase that many refuse to shoot, lest all that canine happi-ness be ended abruptly. The beagle stands about 10-15 inches tall, weighs 20-40 pounds, and usually is black, brown and white.

Christmas, Florida Once Feared Hostile Indians

The town of Christmas, Florida today is a symbol of peace and good will. Thousands send Christmas cards and packages to be mailed from this small community during each boliday season. Christmas, Fla., was established 122-years ago as a fort to provide protection against hostile Indians, Today, it is a small, average town, with no claim to fame other than its unique postmark, "Christmas, Fla."

Each year, thousands of Americans send their cards and packages to the Chamber of Commerce in the nearby city of Orlando, and the Chamber sees to it that the items are mailed from nearby Christmas.

Airlines Promoting Shop In Europe Trip

In the way of an unusual pre-Christmas gift, KLM Royal Dutch Airlines seeks to popularize Christmas shopping Europe, suggesting that husbands send their wives to do Christmas shopping tax-free in Amsterdam, Holland. Dramatic? Sure, says the airlines, "but it only costs $359.60 round trip and since shopping seems to be one of the major loves of American women, why that things are cheaper in Europe and that a smart shopper can

CHRISTMAS MEMORIES

It does no good to comment, as so many do at this time of year, on how much our Christmas has changed.

The candles on our trees are now electrical (and thereby much safer) and the carols are more likely to come from a three-speed phonograph (and will, therefore, be more musical, if not more dedicated, than our own efforts).

We do not regret really that our Christmas has changed. For whatever havoc progress has wrecked on this day of Christ, it remains still a day that stands out in each year as bright as

And all the uncles and aunts and cousins and nephews (some of them fun and some of them pretty unbearable) fit into our memories because we remember them from Christmases.

Memory is among our great treasures and no mechanical contrivance can ever take its place as a source of pleasure. Christmas, as the focal point of memory, can never be changed fundamentally des-

Memory, made of Christmases, is brighter than any string of lights, sweeter than any wine and more beautiful than any phonograph. In wishing all our friends a Merry Christmas, therefore, we are wishing you all another day that will soon become a pleasant and mellow memory!

In the "something different" department, why not use a gay petticoat to replace cotton at the base of your Christmas tree this year?

This "petticoat" can be made quickly with feit and pinking shears. Cut hole in the middle of the felt and slash from outer edge to fit around the tree. Scallop with pinking shears and decorate. When needles begin to fall from the tree, it is a simple matter to remove the petticoat and dump them.

Agents Help Children Have Merry Christmas Insurance agents of an Evanston, Illinois, company have developed a tradition of sharing at Christmas time. Two years ago, they gave up their Christmas gifts from the company to establish a four-year scholarship with the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. In 1960, the scholarship was continued and in addition the agents extended their share of the Christmas spirit by "adopting" three needy children through Foster Parents Plan, Inc. Through FPP, the agents now provide monthly assistance to children in Italy, France and Hong Kong.

USE SPOTLIGHT

If you want your outdoo decorations to really attract attention, spotlight them and conceal the source of the light as much as possible. Placing the spotlight beneath nearby shrubbery hides the source of the light - but be careful; spotlights get hot and might cause damage to the shrubbery or cause a fire.

The items laid out above may not look very important, but they could help save your life if you became lost in the wilds of northern Michigan during this time of the year. wilds of northern Michigan during this time of the year. Except for the knife and rifle, these atticles can be packed into a snug, easy-to-carry kit (right photo) weighing only about 1½ pounds. Included as basic survival equipment are a compass, stick matches in a waterproof container, a small tin or aluminum pot, a strong-backed belt knife, a few packets of dehydrated soup or potatoes, a spoon, 40-50 feet of eighth-inch nylon line, an extra pair of wool socks, and a 10 X 10 foot piece of four-mill polyethylene. mas was just another winter day in early New England, Puritan children were not without toys. It is quite likely that children in Puritan families received toys as awards for being good. Since there were no stores in which to , buy toys, the father had to rely on his own ingenuity and imagination.

In most instances, toys were miniatures of furniture or other items familiar about the home, and were carefully whittled out of wood.

Some interesting toys from the New England of a century and a half ago may still be seen at Old Sturbridge Village, Mass., a recreation of a typical town in this period of American history. Included in the collection are such items as a doll bed, wheelbarrow, a slant-topped desk, and a tiny team of oxen drawing a sled.

CAROL ONCE SUNG Before 1550, the English carol was a poem that could be recited or sung, and might cover any subject of the times. It was danced as well as sung, The word "carol" came down from the French "carole," which meant a round dance, or a dance performed in a closed circle.

Holiday Decorations

Go Far Back In Time The ancients celebrated the winter solstice - the return of the sun—by decorating their homes with branches of mistletoe and holly.

Traditionally, Martin Luther is said to have set up the first Christmas tree for his children, although it was half a century after Luther's death that the first reference to a yule tree appears. A manuscript traced to the year 1604 relates: "At Christmas they set up fir-trees in the parlors at Strasbourg and hang thereon roses cut out of many-colored paper, apple wafers, gold-foil, sweets, etc."

By Elmer E. White Michigan Press Association To Tax or Not

The year-long battle, blamed by many for causing the election loss by Gov. John B. Swainson, will be renewed in 1963 but could take on a considerably different form

Michigan Mirror

Rep. John T. Bowman, Roseville Democrat, will be a member of the State Senate next year. He promises to re-introduce his bill to urohibit cities from levying an income tax on non-residents who work in the cities.

A citizen movement, sparked by the mayors of suburban Detroit communities, is still gaining strength also in the form of petitions to the Legislature.

Bowman's bill, which was would most likely pass with a good sized margin as it did in the current session. This would put it squarely on Governor-elect George Romney's desk for the same major decision which Swainson faced.

> The petitions to be presented to the 1963 Legislature by the Vigilance Tax Committee could seem to be a mandate to pass Bowman's bill.

On the other hand, lack of legislative action could make the petitions take on the form of a mandate to put the question of taxing non-residents on the ballot as a referendum. In this way, the people could pass the law without having it go through the Governor's hands. ***

Whether Romney plans to introduce a total fiscal reform program, which presumably would include a state wide income tax, is still unanswered.

Republican strength for such a proposal, as part of a tax revision program, reportedly has gained since the 1962 session unofficially closed its doors.

As one Republican Senator from Central Michigan put it: "It's something the people are going to have to face. Either every major city is going to be passing an income tax, and then the smaller cities will follow suit until we are all paying such a levy, or the state is going to do it before the pattern becomes too compli-***

It could well be both the new Governor and his Republican backers will decide to let the state ride for a full year on the benefits of the added revenues before tackling the touchy problem of an income tax in the Senate again.

vetoed by Swainson this year, conveniently absent if such vote were taken this year. If a Republican governor proposed such a tax, they would be even more inclined to abstain or openly oppose the legislation.

1,000 Freeway Miles Michigan's Freeway system, now past the 1,000-mile mark, has a relatively brief history. The first mile of freeway was opened to traffic July 1, 1942, as part of what then was known as the Willow Run Expressway, now part of Interstate 94. Just two years ago, the 500th mile of freeway was opened between Ann Arbor and Jackson. This stretch was part of the final section of I-94 between Detroit and Lake Michigan.

Now the 1,000th mile, located somewhere between Brighton and Lansing, marks the completion of the I-96 freeway between Detroit and Muskegon.

This milestone in highway construction also gave the state its third border-to-border high speed route. The first was the I-94 route near the southern state border. Then, just over a month ago the final link of the Ohio-to-Mackinac Bridge freeway was added to the road system. Now motorists can cut in half the time consumed in driving from Detroit to Muskegon as compared to the travel time of about five years ago.

More Jobs, More Accidents The improved employment in Michigan in the last picture several months brought with it the almost inevitable increase in industrial accidents, according to the Michigan Insurance Information Service. During the past year, through Sept. 30, the total compensable work injuries reported to the State Workmen's Compensation Department was 31,232. This represented an increase of 626 over last year. Last year, however, when employment was down compared to 1962, the injury rate showed a decrease of 2,513 from the previous 12-month period.

One bright note showed in the Department's annual report, however, in the breakdown of the injuries. The 31,232 total included 183 deaths, two permanent total disabilities and 881 permanent partial disabilities.

Fine Wrapping Enhances Gifts

Decorative wrapping can do much to enhance the appearance and value of the most simple gifts.

Here are a few suggestions to help you to better gift wrapping: Always work on a solid surface -a kitchen table, for instancethat affords plenty of "extra" room

Carefully measure paper before cutting. Cutting away excess paper after gift is half wrapped cumbersome task, does not make for neat wrapping. Make your bow separately and do not attach it until rest of wrapping is completed. Be sure that ribbon matches at least one of the colors in wrapping paper.

Dont' use dainty designs or pastel paper for a man's gift. Paper with large designs or broad stripes should not be used to wrap small packages.

ABOUT NAZABETH

Nazareth, the chosen city and one of Christendoms heliest places, was once so insignificant that the term "Nazarene," was applied to Jesus Christ in derision. When Jesus called his first disciples, Philip of Bethsaida was chosen and Philip happily informed Nathanael, "We have discovered the One about Whom our scriptures speak. He is Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph." And Nathanael replied, "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" But when Nathanael came to Jesus, Jesus spoke to him and Nathanael exclaimed "Thou art the Son of God: Thon art the King of Israel." Nathanael returned to Nazareth in the company of a few chosen disciples as Jesus was to begin His ministry in the land He loved se well.

MISTLETOE CUSTOMS

The ancient Druids worshipped mistletoe because it grew on their sacred oak. At the end of each year, a Druid priest would cut down the mistletoe with a golden sickle, and not one twig was allowed to touch the earth. Later, sprigs of mistletoe were fastened over doorways to ward off evil spirits.

Christmas Feast Huge Affair In Olden Days

Possibly one of the greatest Christmas feasts of all time was that sponsored by King Henry VIII in Westminster Hall in 1248. He had tents erected and artificial gardens plotted within the spacious hall of his palace. Knights came out of the tents to joust in tournaments and fantastically dressed dancers covered from head to foot with gay ribbon streamers emerged from the gardens to entertain the guests: Cost of the gold cloth used in the celebration amounted to 600 pounds alone.

Citizenship Panel

Area Youth in 4-H

"What is the greatest economic dilemma in America today?" "Is Collective bargaining an aid to the general welfare?" "Does the uninformed voter contribute more to democracy than the non-voter?'

These questions were not posed from a high level council of political advisers. They came from 4-H club members attending the 41st National Club Congress recently.

The provens were pointed to a panel during a lively ses-sion of Wednesday's program on "Citizenship in Action" at the Conrad-Hilton Hotel.

Michigan's 37-member delegation, representing clubsters from all areas in the state, took part in the session -- part of a dream trip for more than 1200 4-H boys and girls from all of the nation's 50 states. Those from Tuscola County included: Adeline Ose-Unionville; Camellia guera, Bush, Caro, and Larry Merchant, Cass City.

Dr. Russell Mawby, director of the state's 4-H Club program at University, Michigan State moderated a panel which included representatives of agriculture kabor, industry and Aucation. "You are the core of the citizenship apple," a charming Louisiana coed challenged the audience. Dr. Earl Butz, Dean of Agriculture at Purdue University, told the group that in the words of Plato, "The price of not participating in government --- is being governed by people less capable than themselves.'

"The goals of American labor are essentially the same as those of any responsible citizen in a democracy," Andrew Biemiller, legislative director for the AFL-CIO, observed. In a provocative discussion that Aid Officers Electedfollowed, the 4-H'ers roundly applauded an observation that few people deny the right of any group to bargain, but reserve respect for anyone who gives an honest day's work for a day's wages!

"When we do less and less to get more and more -- we grow soft," Dr. Glen Olds, President of Springfield College (Mass.) told the club members. He charged that future citizens are faced with a paradox of accepting military responsibilities at 18 while postponing citizenship rights until 21 to reflect on what they might do in their youth organization.

Summing up the session, President Olds suggested the axiom that "The perfectability of man makes democracy possible -- the pervertability of man makes democracy necessary."

AROMATIC ITEMS

Frankincense and myrrh, aromatic resins which the Wise Men brought as gifts when they followed the Star of Bethlehem to the place of the Nativity, are valued ingredients in the manufacturing of perfume of the oriental type. Essential oils are obtained from the resins by distillation.

YULE LOG CUSTOM Medieval England celebrated Christmas for twelve days instead of four. The celebration began with the lighting of a huge log, which was kent burning for twelve days. At the end of the twelve days, the fire was extinguished and a remnant of the fire kept for the following year when it would be used to kindle a new log. This gave rise to the Yule log custom and explains why Christmas is sometimes referred to as "Yuletide."

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor: The fellers at the country store Saturday night was paying their respects to this new 5-cent stamp they got to put on letters come January 7. Ed Doolittle said his neighbor was showing him a item in Time Magazine where France was putting out stamps now with mint-flavored glue. Ed allowed as how they ought to put a little flavoring in the glue fer this new 5-center we got coming up, claimed it might take some of the bad taste out of the public's mouth. Ciem Webster said he couldn't git too excited over Ed's suggestion. He figgered it would take them Congressmen five years to agree on a flavor. But Clem did fer the Congress to git started on this idea at the next session. Zeke Grubb reported he was reading a piece in the papers where the Post Office officials was estimating they would be four billion Christmas cards mailed this year, that they would weigh 80,000 tons and the postage would come to around $123 million. As a general thing, Mister Editor, I always send a 10center to my Congressman at Christmas time, but on account admit it wouldn't hurt nothing of not knowing how he voted on this postage hike, I'm leaving him off this year. That'll cut the estimate down a hair.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howey Bug Hookum was lamenting visited her father, Mr. and Mrs. that we got another Christmas Will D'Arcy, in Cass City just around the corner and that Wednesday evening. things ain't no better, maybe Miss Janice Moore spent the worse, than they was last Christweek end with her parents. Mr. mas. Bug claimed that all this welfare business and deficit financing has sprung up in the last 25 year. He told the fellers he figgered it gits started down in the public schools. He says the teachers is afraid of the principals and the principals is afraid of the superintendents and the superintendents is afraid of the school boards and the school boards is afraid of the parents and the parents is afraid of the children and the children ain't afraid of God Almighty. Bug allowed as how it was time the schools give more courses in hard work and less courses in how to git along in a welfare state. He said he was in favor of teaching kids in the first grade that a feller ain't got equal rights in this country unless he pulls a equal part of the load.

That was the longest speech, Mister Editor, I ever heard Bug make in all the years I been setting in on the meetings at the country store. But the fellers liked it pritty good and Ed Doolittle even made a motion that we run Bug fer some big school job come the next election. Everbody, including me, voted fer the motion.

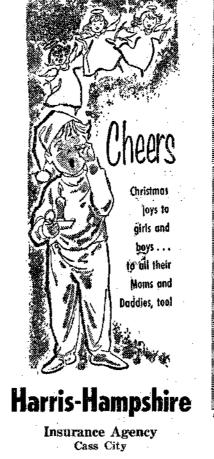

A Merry Christmas, Mister Editor, to you and all your readers and subscribers. Yours truly, Uncle Tim
