

Rebukes Farnum in Statement

Kirk Returns Illegal Pay

Shuford Kirk, Juniata township supervisor, presented County Treasurer Arthur Willits with a check for $37.50 Monday in answer to recent charges by Auditor General Billie Farnum that he had accepted payment unlawfully for calculating the 1961 tax rates for the county's 23 townships.

In a written statement presented to the county supervisors at their February session Monday in Caro, Kirk stated that "by way of review, it should be remembered that I did this work only after being requested to do so by resolution of the Board of Supervisors."

He also commented in his statement that he felt he was given the assignment because of his position as chairman of the Equalization Committee, as had been the rule in the past. "I thought of the work as part of my duties as committee chairman, responsible to the board of supervisors."

"Now, however," he continued, "the Auditor General, without consultation to myself or any member of this board, has ruled I am ineligible to do this work and must return the money paid me for doing it. This I have done."

Farnum, in ordering the money paid back, cited a state law that no supervisor may be hired by the county. He charged that the payment of the $37.50 constituted employment and was therefore illegal.

In accepting Kirk's statement, the supervisors instructed Clerk Archie Hicks to send a copy to the Auditor General.

New Insurance Plan

In other business, the supervisors approved a five-year package insurance plan covering all county buildings as one unit for fire and wind damage at 100 per cent value. The plan will cost the county $850 per year.

The five buildings involved are valued at $1,991,670. Previously, the courthouse, jail and residence and jail garage were under one policy while the county nursing home and garage were under a separate policy. The agent for the plan is Max Lawrence, Caro, and the parent company is Michigan Miller's Insurance Company of Lansing.

Along other financial lines, the board paid a $1,875 appropriation to the Adult Mental Health Clinic of Saginaw Valley and transferred the county school budget of $16,975 from the general fund to the school district fund. Both amounts were approved at the January session.

A three-man Drainage Committee was appointed to attend the State Drain Association legislative meeting at Frankenmuth Wednesday, Feb. 27. Named to attend were Howard Clement, Koylton township, Shuford Kirk, Juniata township, and Harry Beatenhead, Akron township.

Big Surplus of Welfare Funds

Tuscola County's Social Welfare Department finished 1962 with a $72,756.50 balance, according to a report filed by Irl Baguley, director. The report was presented to the county supervisors Monday during their February session.

According to Baguley's report the direct relief department finished the year with a $56,069.32 balance while a $16,687.18 balance was reported in the social welfare department.

Baguley attributed the huge balance to three things, economizing, increased employment and medical assistance to the aged by the state.

He explained that the $56,000-plus in direct relief has accumulated over the past two years partly because the department has been operating under the Medical Assistance to the Aged program by the state.

An increase in general employment in 1962 also accounted for decrease in direct relief and resulted in a shift of the relief load from the western edge of the county to a more even spread throughout the county.

Budget Cut

At a recent session, the supervisors cut the welfare department's budget by $30,000 in answer to a request by Baguley that $60,000 of the surplus be set aside for a new wing for the county nursing home.

"We are really quite crowded out here," Baguley explained. "Because of the Board's refusal and the cut in the budget, we'll

Little Interest in Elkland Primary, Area Caucuses

Elkland township's first primary election and area caucuses are exciting little interest among area voters. In Elkland township, the battle for the treasurer's post is the only contested race in the Monday, Feb. 18, primary. All other township candidates, with the exception of one, are seeking re-election.

Mild interest is also reported in area caucuses slated for Saturday, Feb. 16, and Monday, Feb. 18.

Gagetown, a local political hot-spot, may be the only exception. The village will hold its caucus Monday and if past trends hold true, will set the scene for a hot political battle.

Elkland township

The only contested post in the Elkland primary is for the treasurer's post currently held by Delbert Profit. Seeking to unseat Profit is Mrs. Gloria Hartwick.

The only other new candidate on the slate is Donald Koepfgen, for the board of review seat. John Zinnecker, incumbent, originally sought re-election, but withdrew his petition.

Seeking re-election are: Edward G. Golding, supervisor; Charles E. Patterson, clerk, and John Marshall, trustee.

Both precincts will vote at the Town Hall. Polls will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m.

Caucuses

Evergreen township will hold its caucus at the Community Hall Saturday at 2:00 p. m., according to Clerk Harvey Fleming. Elmwood township will hold its caucus the same day at the Town Hall, Gagetown, at 1:00 p. m. Greenleaf's caucus is Saturday at 2:00 p. m.

Gagetown will caucus Monday at the Gagetown Public School at 7:30 p. m., according to Joe Mosack, president.

McDonald Murder Trial Underway

Selection of a jury and opening testimony in the first degree murder trial of Glen McDonald, 28, Caro, was to have started Wednesday before Circuit Court Judge Timothy Quinn in Caro.

McDonald is charged with first degree murder in the Dec. 10 death of Richard English, Caro, outside a Reese bar.

Prosecutor James J. Epskamp, in the first murder trial in the county in many years, will reportedly attempt to prove that McDonald hand loaded an automatic pistol to fire two shots, one of which struck English in the back. He died en route to St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw.

Epskamp has called 29 witnesses for the trial.

From the Editor's Corner

It takes more than an application to receive a Federal grant under the provisions of the Federal Public Works Acceleration Program, according to insiders in Pinconning, which has received $256,000 under the program.

Pinconning's application was entered in October, two months earlier than Cass City's, and was one of the first to be submitted. Authorities there followed the application with several meetings with U. S. Senators Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart. They credit the efforts of the Senators in their behalf as a big help in receiving the grant.

When the Cass City School Board holds its special meeting Wednesday, Feb. 20, to set teachers' salaries, it would be wise for members to consider the salaries on the basis of what is best for the school.

What any group earns not connected with the school is immaterial. What is important is the best possible education for the children.

We feel that lowering salaries in a time of inflation is not the answer.

Sooner or later, school district taxpayers are going to have to face up to the fact that proper education for their children is going to cost more money.

We can't conceive of the majority accepting "second best" for their children indefinitely.

Chronicle Liner Sends Dog Home

A Cocker found its way home with a Chronicle liner last week. The dog was found hurt, lying under a car in front of the home of William Leverich. Mrs. Leverich ran this ad:

FOUND—Taffy colored adult female cocker with collar. Phone 872-3555.

Thursday morning the Nelson Cremels called and claimed their dog.

We Are Interested in having Del Profit serve us another term as Township Treasurer. Your support would be appreciated. Friends of Del, (adv.)

Stiff Fight for Three Council Posts

Fired up by the many problems besetting Cass City, voters have shown more than ordinary interest in the village primary election Monday, Feb. 18. As usual, there is plenty of competition for the vital trustee posts.

Sure to be nominated are two new trustees from five villagers seeking three open posts. Incumbent Leo Ware is bowing out of local politics and veteran trustee Lee Rabideau is scheduled to move up as village president.

For the benefit of village voters, the Chronicle this week presents a detailed background of all the candidates.

In other election news, Clerk H. L. Bridges reminded voters that the polls will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. at the Municipal Building. He also reminded voters expecting to be out of town on election day that the deadline for application for absentee ballots is 2:00 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 16.

President

Lee Rabideau is unopposed in his bid for the village president's seat. The chair is being vacated by Curt Hunt who was appointed to the post last spring to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Andrew Bigelow.

Rabideau, a four-year veteran on the council, is just finishing his second term. A resident of the village since 1938, he has been associated with Rabideau Motors since 1945. He is married, has four children and is a member of the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans.

"My main reason in seeking the post," he explained, "is that the majority of the council is so new. I'm the oldest member and I also intended to quit with the end of this term. This, however, would have left the council with three trustees with only one year of experience. I felt it was my duty."

Trustees

Six men are vying for the three open trustee seats left vacant by Rabideau, Leo Ware and Jerome Root Jr. Root is seeking re-election. Also seeking the posts are: Lambert Althaver, Ken Eisinger, Bernard Freiburger, Dean Hoag and R. M. Hunter.

Lambert Althaver

Althaver, a Walbro vice-president, has been in the village for eight years, except for a three-year stint with a Walbro subsidiary in Omro, Wis. While in Omro, he spent one year on the village council. He is a member of the Gavel Club and is also an active member in the First Church of Christ Scientist, Caro.

He is married and has three children.

"I do feel I have some administrative background and some experience in small town government which would enable me to make a contribution to Cass City," he states.

Kenneth Eisinger

Eisinger, general manager of Fuelgas Company during the eight years it's been in the area, is a Mason, on the Chamber of Commerce board and is active in the Presbyterian Church as a deacon and member of the choir. He is a 16-month veteran of the Korean war. He is married and has three children. He's seeking the post because "I think a lot of Cass City. The way Cass City goes, all the business in and around Cass City will go. The way business goes determines how the village will benefit. What the council needs is businessmen who can do what they think is right, regardless of cost."

Bernard Freiburger

"Barney" Freiburger, a resident of the village since 1935 and owner of Freiburger Grocery since 1945, is married and has three children. He is a past president of the defunct Cass City Community Club, a past president of the Chamber of Commerce and a former member of the Gavel Club. He is currently a member of the St. Pancratius Usher's Club and Holy Name Society and the Elkland Township Fire Department. He seeks the post because he "was asked to run by certain members of the council. Also, like everyone else, I'm interested on page four.

Teachers to Appear

Board Protests Extra Pay

Cass City High School teachers receiving supplementary pay have been asked to attend a special Board of Education meeting Wednesday, Feb. 20, to tell why such pay shouldn't be dropped from next year's contracts. The meeting is at 8:00 p. m.

The move was announced at the close of the board's regular February meeting Monday night at the high school. Supplementary pay, currently being paid in 18 different departments, ranges from $100 to $500.

The supplemental pay issue touched off a furor during the board's discussion of teachers' contracts for the coming year. Most outspoken opponent to the extra money, particularly for coaches, was Donald Reid.

Reid pressed for a revamping of the contracts, contending that "We're paying some money they aren't earning. I think the coaches are too high."

He also asserted that the coaches are receiving over $1,000 above regular teaching salaries. "Why supplement them when other teachers spend much outside time with no pay?"

Reid pointed out that it has been reported that teacher-morale is low. "I say that it'll raise morale more if we equalized the salaries than if we raised their pay."

He stated that one of the biggest complaints he had encountered in pushing for a millage increase was that the farmers see "them making more money here (at school) than they are with a $100,000 investment."

Two other supplementary payments singled out were those for librarian and the home economics department.

The 18 departments receiving supplemental pay include:

Instrumental music	$200
Vocal music	$200
Athletic Director	$100
Football coach	$500
Assistant coach	$250
Basketball coach	$500
Assistant coach	$250
Baseball coach	$250
Track coach	$250
J. V. Football	$250
Jr. Hi, all year	$400
Dramatics	$150
Debate	$100
School Annual	$100
Home Economics	$200
Jr. Class Sponsor	$100
Librarian	$200
Art	$100

A five-minute time limit will be imposed on the teachers for their remarks. Final contract proposals will be determined at the session also.

In other business, the board approved a motion to purchase new back-drop curtains for the stage to replace an old, soiled and ragged set now in use. The new curtains, including tracks and covers, will cost $1,554, delivered and installed and will be in place before graduation exercises.

The board also approved a $79.88 bid from Leeson's Paint and Wallpaper for Venetian blinds for the new special education room. The bid includes installation.

Supt. Willis Campbell gave the February financial report which indicated that the school has a general fund balance of $75,625.04. Total receipts for the year were $293,528.13 while total disbursements as of the first of the month, were $217,903.09, leaving the over $75,000 balance.

Short term loans yet to be paid, Campbell pointed out, total $65,000, leaving an actual balance of $10,625.04. Eating into the $10,000-plus balance will be the curtain cost, an insurance payment of $1,500 and other miscellaneous, regular expenditures.

"We'll probably just break even at the end of the year," Campbell stated.

In approving the payment of the insurance bill, the board instructed Campbell to ask Ed Doerr, school insurance agent, to have a company official present at the next meeting to explain what the present policy covers. The board also decided, as per last year's minutes, that the commission for the writing of the school policy would be divided among the various agents who wrote school insurance in the past, pro-rated as to the amounts they were writing before the new policy.

No action was taken on a request by Eli Holes, assistant principal, seeking a golf team this spring. The team would compete with other schools and would be taught after school. The students would supply most of the equipment and golf fees. The only cost to the school would be $100 for a teacher.

The board also approved payment of a $186.19 bill for special education room supplies. The bill was the remainder of a $1,186.19 bill, $1,000 of which was paid by the county in conjunction with its special education program.

Cass City Drops Pair of League Cage Games

The Rangy Sandusky Redskins bombed the nets in the second half to record an easy 68-42 decision over Cass City Tuesday night at Cass City High School.

The rally came after the two teams had played on nearly even terms for two periods. In the fast moving first quarter, Cass City hit for 16 points and Sandusky countered with 18.

In the next quarter, it looked for a while as if neither team was going to score. The Redskins scored just eight points and the Hawks netted only six.

Cass City made its most serious threat of the game just following intermission when they twice moved to within a point of the visitors.

But after that temporary spurt, the Redskins rallied and moved into a comfortable 11-point lead. Coach Wayne "Speed" Wilson then pulled all of the regulars and Sandusky promptly made a runaway of the game in the final quarter.

Bad Axe rolled to a tremendous first quarter lead Friday and then held on in face of repeated Hawk threats to post a slender 59-55 decision on their home court.

Hitting on almost every shot, the Hatchets rolled to a 16-3 advantage with just five minutes gone in the opening quarter. By the end of the period, Bad Axe was in front 20-3.

Although Cass City rallied to outscore Bad Axe in each of the next three periods, they were unable to overcome the early Hatchet lead.

They made several threats, but were never able to move into the lead during the entire game. Twice in the final quarter Cass City was within a point of tying, only to fade with a possible victory in sight.

Sophomores Sparkle
Heartening for Hawk fans was the play of the club's sophomore talent. Playing much of the game were Jim Knoblet, Jim Champion and Ed Retherford.

All of the boys played well. Retherford was, especially outstanding as he racked up 22 points on eight field goals and six of seven gift heaves. Knoblet, piling up his most playing time of the season, was very effective under the boards.

Through about half of the game Wilson fielded two juniors. Concluded on page four.

Gas Theft Brings Fine, Jail Term For Deford Man

A Deford man was fined $50.00 and 10 days in jail for larceny of gasoline when he appeared before Justice Reva Little in a court session Saturday, Feb. 9, in Cass City.

Sentenced was James Kish, 22. He was also ordered to pay costs of $6.25 and was to spend another 10 days in jail if he didn't meet the fines.

Kish, a 17-year-old brother and two minor youths from Cass City and Deford admitted the theft of 110 gallons from two Novesta township farms, according to Deputy Carl Palmateer. The last theft was Thursday, Feb. 7.

Kish had just finished a jail sentence and had been released from the Tuscola county jail Tuesday, Feb. 5. He was arrested for the gas theft Friday, Feb. 8.

The 17-year-old youth appeared in Justice Court Tuesday and pleaded guilty to a similar charge. He was given a $25.00 fine and a 10-day suspended sentence. The youth was also given a six-month probation sentence and ordered to pay costs of $4.80.

Cobras Mush to Victory in 2nd Klondike Derby

Cobra Patrol, Troop 122, of Ubyly mushed to victory Saturday in the second annual Klondike Derby at Cass City Recreational Park. Troop 122 scoutmaster is Mike Babiszewski of Ubyly.

Approximately 182 scouts, scouters and spectators watched the annual event. Scouts and scouters included 140 boys from 11 troops and 24 leaders. Also present were four district committee members and 14 Explorer judges.

Tied for second place were Skunk and Wolf Patrols, both of Millington Troop 150. Clayton Howell is scoutmaster. Third and fourth places went to two Caro troop 160 patrols, Apache and Flying Eagle, respectively. Cobra Patrol will receive a patrol first aid kit.

To compete in the derby, the various patrols raced to a campsite where they received sealed orders. Next they stopped at six "Alaskan towns" where they competed in signaling, judging, first aid, compass reading, rope work and flint and steel fire building.

After completing the tasks, a race was run across the football field. During the competition, the scouts were paid in "gold nuggets" which they used to purchase hot cocoa at the end of the competition.

CHEVROLET TRUCK QUALITY

You can see the difference wherever you look

If you believe various makes of trucks are pretty much alike, you aren't doing justice to your pocket-book. There are differences.

A Chevrolet truck welcomes comparison. Look at the little things on it—latches, hinges, stitching in the upholstery. Notice how strong the tailgate is, the rubber encased chains that keep it from sagging.

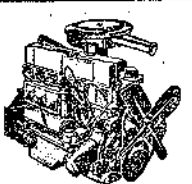

The body floor is made of select wood to eliminate the rust problem and give you better footing. The lower side panels are double-walled; you might dent the inside but it won't show through.

Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

If you are going to need a new truck this year, you should look at the quality Chevrolet has to offer. May we bring over a new '63 so you can examine it?

BULEN TALKS

THE SALESMAN AND THE MECHANIC

You can't blame the car makers for advertising. Without advertising, people are not influenced to buy the goods a manufacturer has to sell; it raises the standard of living, one authority said, by raising the standard of living.

George Bernard Shaw was an Irish writer of the generation before ours who said what he thought. He said that a codfish lays ten thousand eggs a day without making a sound. A hen lays an egg at a time and cackles with every one. Nobody eats codfish eggs but everybody eats chicken eggs. That's really why it pays to advertise.

When a salesman becomes over-enthusiastic, it is a mechanic who has to make good on his promises. A customer is not someone who has been sold something. A customer is someone who has been sold something that he is SATISFIED with. It is the PERFORMANCE of the product that makes a customer out of a buyer. Mechanics back up performance.

Here is the problem in a nutshell: car manufacturers have conveyed the IMPRESSION to some of the public through advertising that the 1963 warranties mean complete NEGLECT of service; dealers know neglect means future high repair bills and a used car worth less when you are ready to sell it.

Why don't you consult your dealer as to how much service you need on your car? If he is interested in your repeat business, as we are with our customers, he will tell you honestly, and both of you will benefit if you do as he suggests.

Village to Get Fourth Quarter Highway Monies

Cass City is slated to receive $3,721 as its portion of the $46,177,670 fourth quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections being distributed to the state; 83 counties, and 511 incorporated cities and villages.

Tuscola county will receive $157,483, as compared to $107,542 for Huron county and $162,454 for Sanilac county.

Area villages slated to receive portions of the money include: Gagetown, $1,292; Kingston, $950, and Uby, $1,580.

Michigan 1963 license tab sales fell off during the fourth quarter and was partially responsible for a $1,839,825 decrease in net receipts for the same period as compared to 1961.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed thusly: $21,703,508 to the State Highway Department; $16,162,184 to the counties, and $8,311,981 to the cities and villages.

An additional $594 was withheld from the counties' share for snow removal.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway fund.

Big Difference

One of the big differences between the Hatchets Friday and the team that played in Cass City was the presence of Mike Dechane who missed the first contest with a knee injury.

Dechane was an effective rebounder and whipped in 21 points. He collected eight of his points in the last quarter when Cass City was threatening to pull the game out of the fire.

Cass City will play the Lakers here Friday and Tuesday travel to Bay City where they meet St. Stanislaus.

In the preliminary, the Cass City JV squad picked up a narrow victory, 53-46.

VILLAGE ELECTION

Dean Hoag

Hoag has headed the shipping and receiving department of General Insulated Wire Works, Inc. for the past two years and has been an area resident all his life. He is president of the United Steel Workers Union at the plant, a member of the Jaycees and active in the village basketball league. He is married and has three children. Hoag lists as his reasons for seeking the post, "I think more should be done for youth development in the village... youth activities are on the decline. I also feel it's time someone without business interests was on the council."

R. M. Hunter

Hunter, retired, owned the Western Auto Store in Cass City for 18 years. He was a 16-year member of the Cass City Rotary Club and is an elder in the Presbyterian Church. The Hunters have one son. He's making his bid for the trustee post because "I was asked by a number of Cass City businessmen to run. They felt my 16 years on Main Street would make me aware of business problems, while the fact that I'm a resident and a home owner gives me the other side of the story," he commented. "However," he concluded, "if I go in, it'll be with no strings attached... I'll do what I think is right, regardless."

Jerome Root Jr.

Root, the only incumbent trustee to seek re-election, is ending his first two-year term. A life-long area resident, he has been in the building business since 1942. He is a member of the Elkland Township Fire Department, a third-year member of the Community Chest Board and is a past member of the American Legion, VFW and the Chamber of Commerce. He is married and has three children. "I had intended to quit at the end of this term," he explains, "because of the press of business. A number of businessmen and councilmen, however, asked me to run again because of my experience."

Assessor

Assessor Mac O'Dell is seeking re-election to his second term as assessor. He is currently serving in the dual position as a salesman for Rabideau Motors and B. A. Calka Real Estate. He's seeking the re-election so that his "one year of experience will not be wasted." He is married and has three children, one in school, one graduated and one in the service. He has been active in the county Republican party.

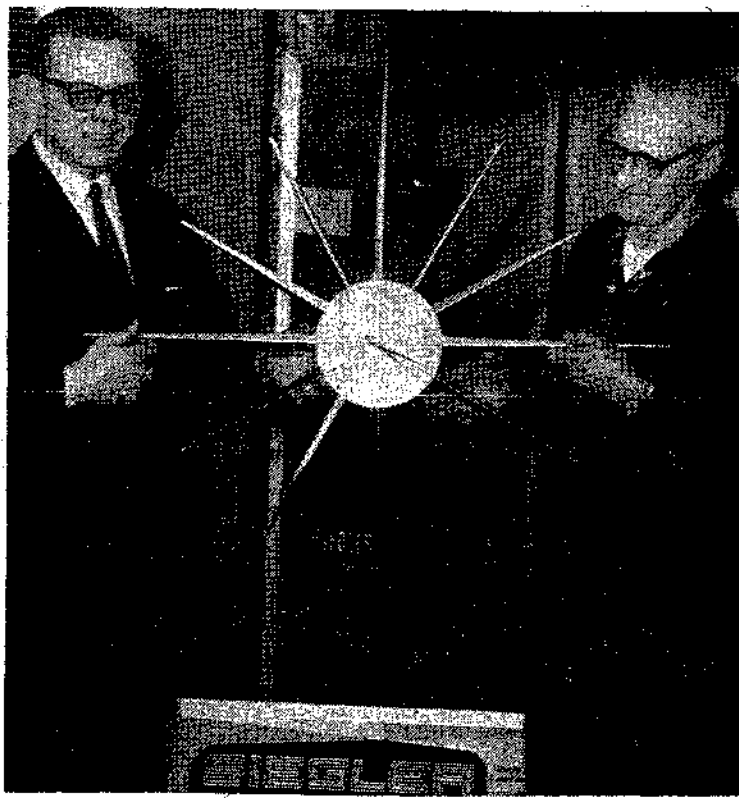

Clerk-Treasurer

Officially, H. L. "Bill" Bridges, clerk-treasurer, is unopposed in his bid for re-election to his post as clerk but is opposed by Alden Asher for the treasurer's job. Unofficially, however, he is unopposed for both posts.

Asher, in a surprise move late last week, announced that he was not actively seeking the treasurer's post. The owner of Asher's Men's Store, he announced that immediate plans for remodeling and expansion of his business would make him unavailable to properly assume the duties of the office, if he were elected. He also announced that in the event he was elected, he would have to resign.

Asher's name will still be carried on the ballot because the deadline for withdrawing from the race was early in January.

Bridges, owner of the Cass City Lanes bowling alley, is originally from Caro. Before coming to the village four years ago, he spent 10 years as the head of an accounting department for a Detroit firm. He's married and has four children. "Like most persons, as a resident of the village I'd like to see the job run by someone qualified," he states. "I feel I've had the proper experience and education to handle the work."

Lynn Atwell Cops First at Ski Meet

Lynn Atwell, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Atwell, Cass City, won the first place trophy in the 10-year-old and under category at the Michigan Ski Meet at Holly, Saturday.

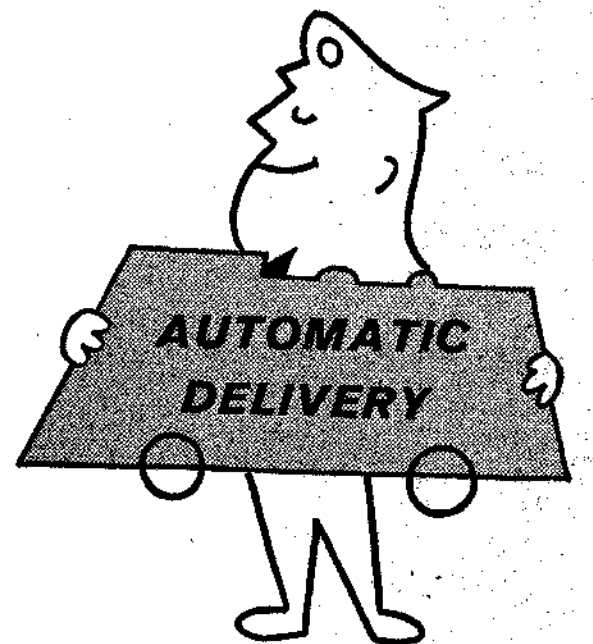

Lynn, who has been skiing since she was three years old, is also the holder of a number of other trophies won at previous meets.

Her time in the Detroit News sponsored meet was 51.8 seconds for the slalom course. Two weeks ago, Lynn took two firsts at Dryden in a slalom and a downhill race for 11-year-olds and under.

The "Teen Team", sent out by Youth for Christ International, will leave March 10, for almost four months of ministry in six nations of South America.

Granddaddy of Michigan's Fish

Come Feb. 1, one of Michigan's most specialized winter sports—sturgeon spearing—starts its annual one-month stand on inland non-trout waters. Virtually all of the season's action will take place on Burr, Mullett, and Black lakes of Cheboygan county. Spearing is done from shanties over marl-bottomed waters 10-20 feet deep. Rope is tied to heavily weighted spears so fishermen can hold and "play" large fish. The sport demands a good deal of skill—and patience. A Conservation Department survey showed that sportsmen spent an average of 240 hours for every sturgeon they speared in the three Cheboygan lakes during the 1956-58 seasons. This helps explain how some sturgeon live to be 100 years and older; the Department's survey revealed an age range of 19-70 years among sturgeon speared in the lakes. In addition to being Michigan's longest-lived fish, the shark-like sturgeon is also the state's largest. The record sturgeon speared in Michigan came from Mullett lake in 1955; it weighed 175 pounds and measured 86 inches long.

To Limit Akron's Main St. Parking

Parking will be prohibited on one side of a short section of M-188 in Akron, the State Highway Department has announced. The parking ban will be on the south side of the highway from the west limit of the village to Main St.

Highway Department officials said the restriction is a result of cooperative safety studies by the Highway Department, State Police and local authorities. It is designed to improve traffic safety, especially in the vicinity of a church, a bowling alley and a county garage where vehicles parked along the highway have caused hazardous conditions.

No parking orders have been signed by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

They will become effective as soon as no parking signs have been put up along the route.

Leaders See What Makes 4-H Tick

The 4-H Club leaders that started their 4-H careers within the past two years are studying what makes the 4-H program one of the most popular youth programs in the nation, according to Ed Schrader, County Extension agent in 4-H Club work.

During the series of five sessions, the 4-H leaders take a closer look at the 4-H program, job of 4-H leaders, history and philosophy of 4-H Club work, means of evaluation, how to work with various age groups and the weaknesses of the 4-H program.

The next meeting will be on "How to Work with Various Age Groups" on Feb. 28 at the courthouse starting at 8:00 p. m.

4-H Leaders Receive Tips At Workshop

The 4-H Club Food Prep leaders will be receiving some important tips on making yeast breads from Helen Higgins, Detroit Edison Electrical Living Advisor, on Thursday, Feb. 14, at the Detroit Edison building.

The art of making yeast breads and rolls is still very important in 4-H Club work, according to Ed Schrader, County Extension Agent in 4-H Club work. Annually over 200 girls learn how to make yeast breads and receive special recognition by the use of yeast in their breads.

The workshop is scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m., Schrader concluded.

"I would have praised you more had you praised me less."

BPW Views Safety Film, "On Impact"

Approximately 50 persons were present Wednesday evening, Feb. 6, when the Cass City Business and Professional Women's Club entertained the Cass City Zonta Club and the Caro Business and Professional Women's Club.

The committee in charge included: Mrs. Verna MacRae, Mrs. Ellen McCormick and Margaret Mataszak. The chicken and ham dinner was served at the New Gordon Hotel, followed by a program on safety presented by the program chairman for the evening, Mrs. Thelma Pratt.

Special speaker for the evening was State Trooper Richard Richter from the Bad Axe post, who showed a film entitled "On Impact". He then talked to the group about traffic safety, stating that the two main reasons for traffic accidents are: first, too high a rate of speed for weather and road conditions and second, following too closely the vehicle ahead.

He also stated that 27 per cent of the traffic accidents are caused by the 20-35 age group. A question and discussion period followed his talk.

The next meeting of the BPW Club will be held March 6.

Gavel Club Tourney Starts Second Week

Despite a cutback in entries in the second annual Gavel Club Bowling Tournament, competition is still strong for the $250 and $150 first and second prize purses, according to Dick Wallace, chairman. The tournament got under way last week end.

Wallace reported that only 24 teams have registered as compared to last year's total of 36 teams. One bright note is that at least six and possibly 10 teams from Kinde are slated to compete.

Responses from the Cass City area were good, Wallace remarked, with 17-18 local teams entered.

Although entries are fewer this year, the two top purses are guaranteed. The remaining prizes will be taken from what's left. In the first tournament, $648 in prizes was doled out.

Last year the Gavel Club turned over $130 in proceeds to the playground fund for equipment. Wallace anticipates the amount will be smaller this year.

Tournament bowling is still to be held this week end, Feb. 16-17, and Feb. 23-24. Bowling starts at 8:30, 6:00 and 8:30 p. m.

KOMMENTS BY KRAFT

Don't Know What To Tell You, J.J.H.

By Dave Kraft

Because of this column, I get a few letters from time to time from some of my readers along with some appreciated personal comments.

I got a letter the other day which quickly drew my attention and deserves an answer before I put it to some other good use. Inasmuch as it was only initiated "J.J.H." I couldn't give it the dignity of printing it but I think a few excerpts will be sufficient.

It read in part: "Am I to recognize you by the photo which does blench the sheet of news? That's a photo of a lad undergoing the pangs of puberty. The paper would not permit a mere lad of 14 or 15 to be in its employ - child labor laws you know. Will the photo of today's Dave Kraft be printed?"

"In a recent column (some of which are actually excerpts from The Bobsey Twins at the Seashore) you have the audacity, the gall to dishonor to my friend Al Avery's '64 Plymouth station wagon. This fine breed, poised to spring into action at the sound of the fire siren, is maligned by one who whimpers when a safety match is ignited. This fine machine was created by the hands of skilled men. You, sir, your origin? . . . I challenge your libelous remarks. You will hear from me again."

Well, J.J.H., I don't know what to tell you. That picture is of a clean-cut, good-looking, healthy, well-mannered, all-around American boy and, if you'll forgive my humblity, that's me all over.

As far as the "pangs of puberty," it's been a darn long time since my puberty panged . . . if it ever did.

One thing you were right about. The paper doesn't employ 14 or 15-year-olds. If that remark was really a query for a job, I'm sorry because, judging from your letter, you, too, would be too young.

In regard to this column being excerpts from "The Bobsey Twins," I have two things to say. One, I'm glad to see you have other reading interests besides my column, but aren't "The Bobsey Twins" a little heavy? Two, if the Bobsey Twins don't care, why should you?

As far as my doing dishonor to Al's wagon, Heaven's to Murgatroid! Nothing could be further from the truth. I was merely trying to point out a few of its inadequacies, much as you point out mine in your letter.

Surely the kettle wouldn't call the pot black just because it sits on a different fire. Nay, verily I say unto you . . . excuse me, I lost my head.

I think you were a little off base on the wagon's being "poised to spring into action." Al, himself, admitted that there wasn't a spring left anywhere in the thing. That's why it rides so low.

In my article I never said anything about his wagon's dereliction to duty . . . far from it. Let the fire whistle blow and Al's wagon is always there . . . sometimes even without Al.

Another thing, I don't whimper at an ignited safety match. I may cringe, but never whimper. I take it you have derived from my column that I'm a coward. Not so. A little chicken-hearted, maybe, but not a coward.

My origin, like most everyone else and I'm sure this includes you, has been traced back to Adam and Eve, and in some cases, even further. That's a darn lot further than Walter Chrysler's horseless carriage can claim.

My father is a mechanic and my mother is a housewife. I'm an only child. I haven't decided whether they felt the first one turned out so badly or was so good there wasn't any sense going any further.

You challenged me and as the challenged party, I have the choice of weapons. How about a rat shooting match? We'll see who comes back with the most rats . . . or maybe we'll just see who comes back . . .

Seriously, I'm always happy to receive good or bad comments about my column and I'm sure "J.J.H." meant it all in fun. If he didn't . . . well, he still probably uses sticky, gummy roll-on deodorants and there's not much you can do for him anyway.

Politicians Vie for Credit at Lansing

The vicious circle of political credit-taking is an interesting phenomena to watch.

A recent example of a dispute over pride of accomplishment came when Gov. George Romney presented his budget message to the Legislature. He said some $34.6 million surplus would result at the end of the current fiscal year. Some $33 million of this, he proposed, should be applied to the state's current deficit.

Gov. John B. Swainson made a similar pronouncement a few weeks before the end of his two-year term. Citing savings accomplished under his administration, Swainson then estimated the surplus at $35 million.

The Democrats, now without the attractive public forum automatically provided to the party which holds the executive office, would very much like to take credit for reducing the deficit. Ever since 1959 when the fiscal crisis of a "payless payday" brought national attention to Michigan's problems, the Democrats were largely given the blame for creating the deficit. Their voices were hardly heard when they attempted to shift the blame to the Republican controlled Legislature.

There is no doubt that the surplus to be counted on July 1 will be a remainder from the Swainson administration, since his budget runs through the end of the current fiscal year.

The likelihood of his party getting credit for creating the surplus is very small, however.

Legislative records will show that the surplus is largely the result of a $77 million "nuisance tax" package passed during 1962. The same record will show Democrats in the Legislature fought the tax down to the wire and in the end provided only the bare minimum of votes necessary to pass the package through both houses.

The same record will show that Swainson voiced publicly his reluctance in letting the tax bills become law without his signature. It is rare when a Governor attempts to take credit for a law which on passage he did not approve by signing it into effect.

Gambling, prohibited by law, is practiced in one particular way almost daily in Michigan, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

"If you sit in a parked car with the motor running, you're taking a gamble with death," he said.

At least a dozen young people, and at least 45 persons of all ages, have been killed by carbon monoxide poisoning in the early part of this winter, said Heustis.

The lack of wisdom of sitting in a parked car with the motor running is never realized until it's too late, because there is no fool-proof method of detecting the silent deadly carbon monoxide.

The victims are usually overcome rather suddenly without warning, because the rapid build-up of carbon monoxide causes the occupants of the vehicle to be overcome without experiencing the headache, nausea and smarting eyes which are common symptoms of exposure to the fumes.

Because of the high incidence of carbon monoxide deaths among young couples in parked cars, Heustis has issued a special request for parents to impress upon their children the danger of such a practice.

"The best way to prevent accidental carbon monoxide exposure in a car is simply never to sit in one with the motor running and all the windows closed," said Heustis.

If you want a job well done, seek an expert at it. This is exactly what the Michigan Week officials have done in naming a chairman for Hospitality Day during the May observance.

Win Schuler of Marshall, well-known for his four restaurants, plays host to thousands of visitors to the state every day.

As head of the planning for Hospitality Day during Michigan's annual "brag week," Schuler is urging every community to carry on activities to demonstrate its friendliness to visitors.

As in previous years, Schuler hopes communities will provide free meals, entertainment, gifts and parking, or just official greetings to visitors coming into Michigan from other states.

His recipe calls for presenting Michigan as "America's Hospitalityland." The ingredients are a friendly greeting and a gracious invitation to visit, mixed with a bowl of friendship and good fellowship.

"A happy and friendly place to live, a place to be proud of: these are the assets we own and must display if we are to grow and prosper to the fullest fruition," says Schuler.

If these are the ingredients which have given Schuler the success he enjoys in his commercial enterprises, it is very likely that properly applied they could also work to advantage for communities in the state.

Book Review

Valuable Reading --
All 350 Pages

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

This week I am reviewing a book which I believe not to be in the library and one that you will have to order to get locally. It is in the nature of not "easy" reading. It was loaned to me by Robert Stickle and, while I have thoroughly enjoyed what I have read, have not read it with my accustomed speed.

The book is THE WORLDLY PHILOSOPHERS, by Robert L. Heilbroner, has the subtitle, "The Lives, Times, and Ideas of the Great Economic Thinkers" and is published by TIME, INC.

Among the philosophers whose economic theories are laid out for study are Adam Smith, Parson Malthus, David Ricardo, the Utopian Socialists, Karl Marx, Thorstein Veblen and John Maynard Keynes. A marvelous addition to this volume is "A Guide to Further Reading," as well as an index.

If you like to know what men of influence have thought and why they thought it, and especially how it has influenced today's current events -- this is the book for you. Heilbroner has the happy ability of putting great theories into understandable terms. If you have thought of reading some philosophers' works sometime and then have been discouraged by the size of the books and, even more, by the greater size of the ideas found there, you will find this valuable reading for 350 pages -- good for a winter's afternoon. (or any other time).

I thank Bob Stickle for introducing the book to me and, as evidence of sincerity, pass it on to you.

Diadem comes from the Greek 'Diadema', a band, or to bind around, encircle; crown.

"Anglo-Saxons" is a name given Germans who conquered Britain after the Romans left in the fifth Century.

Boston is east of New York.

75 Attend County

Mastitis Clinic

Seventy-five area dairymen attended an excellent mastitis clinic Wednesday, reports Don R. Kebler, county extension agent in agriculture. They had a real opportunity to learn firsthand how improper milking practices cause poor milk letdown and mastitis.

Dr. Glen Reid, Michigan State University veterinarian, opened the clinic at the Robert Bush farm by demonstrating the irritation test. This test will show the amounts of white blood corpuscles in milk from a mastitis-infected quarter. This simple equipment is easily available to dairymen to use as the first means of detecting mastitis.

Donald Murray, MSU dairy specialist, gave a brief talk on the irritation caused by using poorly adjusted and managed milking equipment.

Following this and for the remainder of the morning stop, Floyd Ducker, Mayville, demonstrated the checking and adjustment of milking equipment.

During the afternoon portion, a film was shown which exemplified what was demonstrated in the morning. Reid and Murray spoke at further lengths as to the causes, cures and prevention of mastitis.

Dr. Rex Orr, Caro veterinarian, explained the role of local veterinarians in combatting this disease.

Following the clinic, Kebler remarked that every dairyman should consider seriously having his milking equipment checked frequently each year.

A lunch was served by the 4-H Mothers' Club.

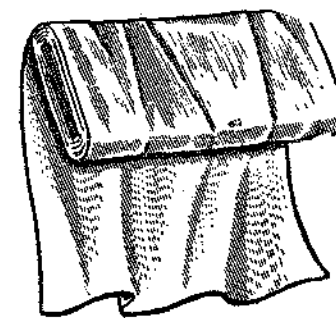

A good listener is not only popular everywhere but after a while he knows something.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

You will recollect that here awhile back the fellers at the country store was in favor of reducing each state to one Senator and cutting the House members in half. It was figured that this move would pay off the national debt in about 10 year.

Well, Mister Editor, I got some powerful new fodder for this campaign. It is a well known fact that Senators and Congressmen has got to git votes, and to git votes they got to spread the gravy on pritty thick back home. The figgers has just been released on how thick the gravy is git-ting.

The item I got here says that in 1962 we had 2,538,390 civilians working in Government offices. This is a increase of 46,045 over 1961 and they is estimating that in this year of 1963 the number will go up another 20,000. This piece says it is now taking over $14 billion to pay these Government workers.

Congressman Earl Wilson of Indiana says when he first come to the Congress 20 years ago, he was in a state of shock the first week from watching Government secretaries polishing their nails, reading movie magazines and writing letters to their boy friends. And he says it is twice as bad now. He claims that today, in addition to all them other things, they is busy working cross - word puzzles, walking around in the halls with transistor radios hung around their neck, and some of 'em is even knitting sweaters.

It looks like the gravy is git-ting too thick to stir and about the only way the taxpayers can thin it down a bit is to thin out them Senators and Congressmen.

Furthermore, I see by the papers where, while the Congress was adjourned, we had 27 U. S. Senators and Congressmen, some of 'em defeated in the last election, taking tours at Government expense. They call 'em "fact finding" trips, but it seems they has to take their wives and relatives along to help git the facts.

And I have took note, Mister Editor, that right now during the cold weather, most of the facts that need finding out about is to the South where it's warm. In the summer time the facts shifts to the North.

Senator Harry Byrd said last week that the 46,045 civilian workers the Government added last year cost the taxpayers $257 million extra, and that the 20,000 they was figgering on adding this year would cost another $112 million. That's mighty hard on the taxpayers but I reckon it's good for the transistor radio folks.

We got a heap of fine and honest men in Washington, and we got some that ain't so fine. The fellers at the store is maintaining that if we cut the number in half, we can keep a better watch on which is which.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

How many of you homemakers love to get that very first seed catalog through the mail? At my home everything stops until I've given it at least a half-way look through. But, don't let that eye-appealing catalog fool you. We still have plenty of winter weather ahead and during these months the seasonal peak supply of pork will occur.

We all know that pork has a lot to offer. It provides wonderfully appetizing eating for family meals. It is an extremely important source of high quality protein. It also is important for Vitamin B and contains iron, niacin and vitamin A.

Producers are trying to level out the production of pork so the supply peaks and valleys will be smoother. Progress is being made but at the present time more pork comes to the market during the winter months than any other time of the year. Oh, by the way, I would like to give you a suggestion . . . how about buying some extra rib end roasts during the peak pork season and have your butcher cut the backbone, then freeze them? Then during the summer, barbecue these like old-fashioned spareribs and you really have some deliciously good eating. Prices of fresh pork cuts will vary with the supply. We can expect the lowest prices in the winter. On the other hand, prices of cured pork do not vary as much as for fresh pork. The fact that cured pork can be stored helps to level out the peak seasons and, therefore, prices for cured pork usually will not go as high or as low as for fresh pork. Cured hams are in greater demand during the Christmas and Easter seasons and prices will change at these times from the regular seasonal pattern.

In contrast, however, the price of bacon will change more readily than for ham. The demand by consumers for bacon remains quite stable throughout the year. Yet, during the summer months the supply is lighter and the price is usually higher than during the winter.

Which pork cut will you buy for your family? If you wish to compare costs, divide the price per pound by the average number of servings per pound. When the number of servings per pound is considered, lower price per pound does not always mean it's a more economical meat. Let me give you this guide to help you: spare-ribs, serve 1-1 1/3 pounds per serving; Boston butt yields 2 1/2 to 3 servings per pound, loin end roast yields 2 to 2 1/2 servings per pound, picnic shoulder yields 1-3/4 to 2 servings per pound.

I don't think I have to tell a great many of you homemakers that there is quite a trick to making a good cream pie that can be frozen and stored successfully.

Well it's that trick that the research home economist at Texas Technological College in Lubbock, in cooperation with food and nutrition specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, have come up with: a special way to make cream pies so that the filling doesn't separate or get grainy, lumpy or spongy and the crust remains flaky.

Cornstarch, the researchers find, is the most acceptable starch to use in the filling of a cream pie that's going into the freezer. Also, you get the best results if you freeze the pie filling and shell separately, then combine the two when ready for use or use the frozen filling in a freshly baked crust.

Bake the shell on the outside of the pan, then remove, wrap and freeze. The filling may be frozen on the inside of the same size pan, then removed and wrapped.

Raw egg whites may be frozen separately and used in a meringue later or freshly beaten whites can be baked on the frozen cream pie.

I just found out that Americans drink more canned pineapple juice than any other noncitrus fruit juice. Fruit nectars comprise the next most popular non-citrus juice followed by grape, prune and apple juice.
