

Find Aide To Jail Breakers

A 17-year-old Deford youth is being held in the county jail for investigation in connection with an attempted jail-break Thursday night, Feb. 7.

Arrested Tuesday by Deputy Carl Palmateer was Jerry A. Curtis, 17, Curtis, in a statement made Tuesday, admitted giving seven hacksaw blades to two jail inmates.

The blades were used by Louis Cook Jr., 21, Caro, to saw through jail door bars. He was discovered by Sheriff Hugh Marr when he heard the noise and investigated.

Also implicated in the break attempt was Glen McDonald, being held on a murder charge. Cook was in jail for writing a check for over $3,000 with insufficient funds.

Curtis was contacted and agreed to bring the blades while visiting another prisoner. He is being held without charge until further investigation by Prosecutor James Epskamp.

In the township . . . VOTING was brisk in both Cass City and Elkland township primaries Monday. Both polled about the same number of votes with 312 in the village and 337 cast in the town-

Area Accidents Injure 5 Persons

Three accidents involving area persons were investigated by local and area county police during the past week. Five persons were injured in two of the accidents.

The latest accident was reported Tuesday when a Genesee Coverall and Towel Service truck backed from the curb into the path of a car driven by James Smithson, Cass City.

The driver of the truck, James R. Steel, Saginaw, told investigating officer William Schram that he was attempting to back from the curb in front of Leeson's Paint and Wallpaper store to Oak Street so he could continue traveling east. Smithson was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision.

Extensive Damage

Cars driven by Noah Farmer, 50, Deford, and Leonard Talaski, 32, Bad Axe, were damaged in an accident late Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Sebawing and Elkton roads.

Huron County Deputy Robert Quinn reported that Farmer, unable to see because of high snowbanks, pulled out to see oncoming traffic. Talaski applied his brakes and skidded into Farmer's car.

Damage to Farmer's car was estimated at $1,200 and $250 for Talaski's vehicle. Farmer suffered cuts and bruises and Talaski was shaken up.

Three Injured

Mr. and Mrs. William Zemke, Deford, were injured slightly Thursday afternoon, Feb. 14, when their car collided head-on with another car driven by Mrs. Louise Reinhold, 46, rural Caro, in a blinding snowstorm north of Caro on Colwood Road.

Mrs. Reinhold is still in Caro Community Hospital for treatment of a fractured left wrist, cuts on the face and bruises. Zemke, 34, and his wife, Joan, 30, were treated at the hospital and released. Their children, Kurt, four, and Christopher, two, were not injured.

Two Named to All-Star Bands

Two Cass City High School Band members have been named among selected high school musicians from 86 Michigan high school bands which will make up two 107-piece "1968 Greater Michigan All-Star Bands." The bands will meet at Forest Hills High School, Grand Rapids, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 23-24.

Named from Cass City to participate were: Betsy Jones, 10th grade, flute, and Bill Dobbs, senior, trombone.

A concert featuring both bands, and open to the public free of charge, will be heard Sunday, Feb. 24, at 4:00 p. m. in the Forest Hills High School gymnasium, climaxing two days of rehearsals.

Two nationally known directors, Dr. William D. Revelli, University of Michigan, and Mark H. Hindley, University of Illinois, will conduct.

Also to be featured at the second annual event will be three well-known and outstanding musicians.

From the Editor's Corner

There is now only a little over a month to decide whether or not you favor a new constitution. What has caused most of the discussion is reapportionment. If you think the apportionment regulation is fair, you should have no problem.

Although there has been a lot of discussion about other issues, nearly everyone would favor the new document if reapportionment were set to their liking.

It has been this one issue that has caused the Republicans, originally against a new constitution, to support it now and the Democrats, who were originally in favor of the new basic law of the State, to fight its adoption.

General Insulated Wire Works awarded George and Marie Roch 15-year pins as a memento of their service in the organization.

Thomas McAllister, prominent Bad Axe lawyer, said that he has been subjected to a good deal of ribbing because of the Chronicle's choice of words describing his accident last week.

As the story explains, McAllister said, I stopped and talked with the driver of the other car and was definitely not a hit-and-run driver.

Clayton Neiman, husband of the driver, was also unhappy with the story, saying that his wife did not make an abrupt stop as McAllister claims.

Quinn to Sentence Three

Sentencing of Glen McDonald, 30, Caro, found guilty of second-degree murder, was set for Wednesday, Feb. 27, by Circuit Court Judge Timothy Quinn, following McDonald's trial Wednesday, Feb. 13, in Caro.

McDonald pleaded guilty to an open charge of murder in the death of Richard English, 30, also of Caro, outside Jim's Tavern, Reese, on December 10.

Witnessing the proceedings was reportedly the largest crowd ever to attend a Tuscola county trial. The courtroom was packed, with every seat taken and approximately 75 persons standing.

Breaking and Entering

In other court news, three Mayville youths admitted breaking and entering of the Juniata Store, owned by Elvyn Kolosky, on Feb. 4. Arraigned were Wayne Beach, 18; Danny Lee Bellamy, 17, and Steve Baxter Jr.

A presentence investigation was ordered for Beach, Bellamy was continued on $500 bond and Baxter was remanded for examination. All three will be sentenced March 6.

Forgery Charge

Louis Cook Jr., Caro, arraigned before Judge Quinn on a charge of uttering and publishing with insufficient funds, pleaded guilty to the charge and a presentence investigation was ordered for March 6.

Cook wrote a $3,023.86 check against the State Bank of Vassar, on January 18, in Caro. Both Cook and McDonald participated in an attempted jail break two weeks ago (see story.)

Elect Trustees In Record Vote

Sparked by intense competition for the three open trustee posts, voters turned out in record numbers Monday to elect village officers. A total of 312 votes was cast, 43 more than the hefty 269 recorded in 1962.

Incumbent Jerome Root Jr. led all candidates in the race for one of the three trustee posts. He polled 228 votes.

Filling the other two open posts will be freshman Councilmen Bernard Freiburger, 203 votes, and Lambert Althaver, 149 votes.

Other nominees received the following votes: Robert M. Hunter, 130 votes; Kenneth Eisinger, 91 votes; and Dean Hoag, 46 votes.

The remainder of the offices were unopposed. On the ballot for treasurer were the names of Harry L. Bridges and Alden Asher. However, Asher stated that he would not accept the post if elected. For treasurer, Bridges received 270 votes and Asher, 63.

Other unopposed officers elected were: Lee Rabideau, 245 votes, for president; Bridges, 216 votes, for clerk; and Mac O'Dell, 254 votes, for assessor.

Two to Compete For MSU Awards

Two Cass City High School seniors are slated to be among several hundred students from throughout the country who will compete March 1-2 at Michigan State University for the institution's most coveted scholarships, according to James Seals, guidance director.

Attending will be Bill Dobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dobbs, Cass City, and Bob Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harmon, Novesta township.

The students will be the second of two groups invited to the campus to compete for 10 alumni distinguished scholarships worth some $6,000 each and a number of other tuition grants. The first group took three-hour tests last week end.

Merit Tests

In other education news, Seals reported that approximately 40 high school students will take the 1968 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test Saturday, March 9, at 9:00 a. m.

Concluded on page four.

Six Top Ratings for Band

Cass City High School band members played their way to six Division I ratings at the annual District Three High School Solo and Ensemble Festival Saturday.

The band also won seven Division II ratings and three Division III ratings at the festival held at Beecher High School, Flint.

Division I

Soloists in the top division were Betsy Jones, flute; Bill Dobbs, trombone, and Charles Iseler, alto sax.

Ensembles in the first division included: Charles Iseler and Arlene O'Dell, alto sax duet; Ann Sheppard, Charles Iseler, Carolyn Phelps and Sharon Profit, woodwind quartet, and Michael Pomeroy, Charles Peasley, Robert Spencer, Richard Stroupe and Bonnie Spencer, brass quintet.

Division II

Division II soloists were: Ann Sheppard, clarinet; Maryanne Barriger, flute, and Robert Jones, French horn.

Four ensembles earning Division II ratings included: Robert Profit and Karen Bond, snare drum duet; Robert Spencer and Jon Avery, brass duet; Robert Spencer and Robert Doerr, brass duet, and Ann Sheppard, Betsy Jones and Jean Meredith, woodwind trio.

Division III

Three duet ensembles received Division III ratings. They were: Norma Austin and Bonnie Butler, clarinet; Maryanne Barriger and Barbara Starnum, flute, and Carolyn Phelps and Sharon Profit, woodwind.

Accompanists included Roger

Little Change in Township Slates

Elkland township voters turned out 337 strong Monday to name candidates for the coming Spring Election during the first Primary election in the township's history. Other area townships named their candidates in caucuses Saturday.

In the only contested race, Delbert Profit, incumbent, was named treasurer over Mrs. Gloria Hartwick. Profit polled 216 votes while Mrs. Hartwick had 110 votes.

Elected without opposition were Edward Golding, supervisor; Charles Patterson, clerk; John Marshall, trustee, and Don Koepfen, board of review. All but Koepfen were incumbents.

Thirty-four write-in votes were cast for 19 persons for the highway commissioner, justice of the peace and constable jobs.

Gagetown Caucus

Gagetown President Joe Mosack termed the village's caucus Monday night, the "smallest in five years," with only 51 persons present.

Named to the ballot were: Bill Downing, president; Mary Ann Lenczer, clerk; Ed Fischer, treasurer; Clarence David, assessor; and Walt Zuraw, Orlo Wood and Bill Burrows, councilmen.

Mosack, currently finishing his fourth term as village president, would not comment on whether or not he will seek re-election in the Spring Election. He won his third term in office as a sticker candidate.

Elmwood Township

Approximately 25 persons named the slate for Elmwood township in a caucus held Saturday. All present officers were renominated.

They include: Milton Hofmeister, supervisor; Harlan Hobart, clerk; Royce Russell, treasurer; Ernest Beardsley, board of review; Arthur Carolan, highway commissioner; Leo Seurnyck, justice of the peace, and Les Lounsbury and Jim Turner, trustees.

Evergreen Township

An estimated 25 persons also picked the candidates in Evergreen township. Named were Arthur Craig, supervisor; Floyd Kennedy, clerk; James McIntosh, board of review, and L. D. Stevens, treasurer.

Also named were: Albert Jones, justice; Alvin Burk, constable, and Arlington Gray and George Krause, trustees. Krause will serve for the remainder of the term left vacant by the death of Earl Phetteplace.

Novesta Township

Because of no inter-party opposition, Novesta township did not hold a primary election.

Candidates include: Henry Rock, clerk; Gail Parrott, supervisor; Arthur Hartwick, treasurer; Walter Kelley, trustee; Kenneth Churchill, justice; Elmer Webster, highway commissioner, and Leroy Kilbourn, board of review.

The only contested race in the Spring Election will be for the clerk's post with Francis Smentek, Democrat, seeking to unseat Rock.

Greenleaf Township

All township officers were renominated in Greenleaf township's caucus. Named were: Anson Karr, clerk; Stanley Wills, supervisor; Mrs. Ronald Fox, treasurer; Ronald Fox, trustee; Martin Sweeney, board of review; Robert Hall, justice; Henry Bartnik, constable, and Bob Hoadley, highway commissioner.

Grant Township

Grant township, also under the primary system and because of no opposition, did not hold an election. Candidates who filed under the Township Party were: Arnold Schweitzer, supervisor; Gillies Brown, clerk; Ephraim Knight, treasurer; Bruce Ricker, trustee, and Jay Dickinson, board of review.

Two Terrible Quarters—Hawks Drop A Pair

Cass City lost a nonconference game Tuesday night to one of the better Saginaw Valley Class "B" squads as Bay City St. Stans rallied in the last half to take a 78-59 decision.

St. Stans, which won 11 out of 12 this year, has a veteran team with lots of height.

Behind the bombing of Jim Champion, who netted eight points, the Hawks moved into a first quarter 17-12 lead only to lose it in the second quarter as St. Stans outscored them 21-16. At the half the game was tied 33-33.

In the third period the Bay City quintet staged a tremendous 28-point spree to salt away the game. They were ahead 61-49 going into the final canton.

The Hawks got outstanding performances from its sophomore duo . . . Ed Retherford led all scorers with 18 points, Champion netted 17 and Jim Knoblet scored nine. Knoblet was effective under the basket.

St. Stans featured balanced scoring with four players in double figures, Bob Neal had 19; Ron Kukla, 17; T. Krawczyk, 28, and F. Kaidan, 11.

Coach Wayne "Speed" Wilson told his Cass City Red Hawk cagers, after their 65-54 loss to the Lakers of Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Friday, that three quarters of good basketball is not enough for victory in the Thumb B Conference.

And his statement just about sums up the Hawks' seventh loss in 10 starts in the league.

For three quarters Cass City was as good or better than the co-leaders of the league, but in the second period their defense fell apart and their offense followed suit and the visitors whipped in 24 points while the Hawks were garnering only six . . . the lapse cost the Hawks a chance for an upset.

In the first period both teams played championship caliber ball. With Walt Hampton hitting a pair and Ed Retherford burning the meshes for eight points, the Hawks whipped in 18 points to stay on the heels of the Lakers, who meshed 19 behind seven point scoring efforts from Bill Hamilton and George Miller.

The disastrous second quarter attack of the Lakers was led by Hamilton, Don Eilon and Jerry Young, who netted all of the points. Young was particularly effective as he used the fast break and drive shots for nine points in the period.

And while the Lakers were passing and shooting well in the

Turkey Dinner

St. Patrick's Day, Sunday, Mar. 17, at Cass City Lutheran Church.

"DEAR CAROL," -- Ten-year-old Carol Zellar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zellar, Cass City, scans a letter she received recently in answer to a letter she sent last winter to President John F. Kennedy. In her letter, she asked the President for a girl's physical education class at Cass City.

JFK Hears of School Problem

Cass City's educational problem got some spotlight attention recently because 10-year-old Carol Zellar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zellar of Cass City, feels that when you want to get something done, you should go to the head man.

Carol, concerned because Cass City Public School has no girl's physical education classes, dropped President John F. Kennedy a line early this winter, asking him for a solution.

Much to her parents' surprise, but not to Carol's, she received an answer late last month. It did not, however, have any suggestions for Cass City's physical education problem.

As the pretty sandy-haired youngster put it in her letter, "I asked him what it was like to be president and what his responsibilities were. I told him I might like to be president."

"I told him I live on a farm and had quite a few animals and that we've got a Chinese pug, just like he has."

Asks for P. E.

"I told him that they (the school) didn't have a gym class, except tumbling for the boys . . . just for the boys, no girls in it," she explained.

"I asked if maybe he'd write to the school and tell them maybe they should have a gym class," Carol concluded.

Apparently the President, burdened by the crush of minor problems, such as the Cuban and Berlin situations and 50-mile physical education hikes for his staff, couldn't find an answer to Cass City's problem.

The answer, dated Jan. 16 and postmarked Jan. 22, was under the signature of Ralph

A. Dungan, "special assistant to the President."

On plain white stationery with the heading "The White House, Washington," the letter read:

"Dear Carol: Thank you for your letter to the President and for your friendly thought in writing. In reply to your query, he feels highly honored to have been elected to the Presidency. While the duties are indeed heavy and constant, the President gladly accepts his responsibilities and is determined to keep our Nation safe and strong.

With the President's best wishes,

Ralph A. Dungan
Special Assistant
To The President"

When asked if she was surprised when she received an answer, she replied, "Not too. I figured maybe he'd write back . . . or maybe his assistant."

"We were more surprised than she was," explained her father.

Asked why she thought the president hadn't written a reply himself, she explained seriously, "He was probably too busy."

Carol lives with her parents on an 80-acre farm six miles southwest of Cass City. Zellar also works for Farm Bureau Services, Saginaw. Also at home are a brother, Gary, eight, and a sister, Pat, 15.

Carol took the letter to school to show her fifth grade classmates and teacher, Mrs. James Milligan. Asked what the other children's responses were, she confided, "They wouldn't believe me until I showed it to them."

Avery Addresses Village C-D Class

Al Avery, Cass City fire chief, gave instructions on artificial respiration and use of the five department rescuator at the Civil Defense class held Friday at the American Legion Hall.

Warren police notified the County sheriff's office who in turn contacted local authorities. The boy's father brought him home.

The family had previously lived in Warren.

Teachers, Board To Argue Extra Pay Proposition

Cass City High School teachers, receiving supplemental pay were to have appeared before the Cass City Board of Education in a special meeting Wednesday night to tell why such pay shouldn't be dropped from their contracts. Eighteen teachers are affected.

An informal meeting between the board and the school's teachers was held Monday after classes to "clear up some misunderstandings," according to Mrs. Pauline Milligan, teacher's club president.

Mrs. Milligan reported that the meeting was comprised of informal discussions and that no action was taken.

School board members set the Wednesday meeting following the regular meeting Monday, Feb. 11, when the question of supplemental pay set off a furor during the board's discussion of teachers' contracts for the coming year.

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolet, with four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price; the low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking car that would send any family packing; another family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure adventure, America's only sports car, Corvette—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Picked your favorite already? The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!

MSU—U of M Have Highest Non-Resident Tuition Rates

Some $10,000 rolls into Michigan for every student from another state who attends Michigan State University for four years, according to a study by that institution.

A slight variation between the tuition fees at MSU, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, the "Big Three" of state-supported institutions of higher learning, would indicate this could be an average contribution to Michigan's economy.

Multiply this by the number of non-resident students at the three universities and the contribution to the state is considerable.

Tuition at MSU is $870 per year, for the nine-month school year, to non-residents. During the most recent complete school term MSU recorded 5,421 out-of-state students at East Lansing and another 77 at its Oakland branch.

The University of Michigan charges out-of-state students $900 during the first two years, and $960 for the upper class years. The Ann Arbor institution leads the state colleges in non-resident enrollments with 7,748 out-of-state students registered last fall.

At Wayne, some 771 non-residents pay $666 per year for their education.

With the exception of one or two universities, MSU and U of M charge the highest non-resident rates in the nation.

Freeway motoring in Michigan would have fewer hazards if the traffic flow were more closely regulated, according to some experts.

With this closer regulation in mind, State Sen. Lester O. Begick, Bay City Republican, and three other members have proposed a bill to set a 45-miles-per-hour minimum speed limit on the freeways.

Begick's proposal has the full support of state highway officials.

The experts contend that many freeway accidents, most of which involve rear-end crashes, are caused by motorists driving too slow rather than those who exceed the maximum speed limits.

"The principle objective of speed control is to achieve as much uniform movement of cars on the highway as possible," says Commissioner John C. Mackie.

"The slowpoke is a highway menace, especially on freeways.

"The slow driver impedes the normal movement of traffic and is a hazard to motorists who are traveling at the maximum speed. It is hazardous to allow one driver to go 70 while another is dawdling along at 15 or 20 miles per hour."

Bills setting the freeway minimum speed at 45 miles died in legislative committees last year.

In addition to the voluminous supply of library literature on the proposed Constitution, there is also a healthy-sized speakers' bureau awaiting invitations to speak on the new document throughout the state.

The Democratic Party, one of the chief opponents of the April 1 ballot question, is offering to make speakers available to groups interested in hearing the "con" arguments on the document.

On the "pro" side, 13 groups which comprise the Coordinating Committee for the new Constitution have a number of speakers touring the state to speak for the adoption of the proposal.

Both groups offer the services of speakers without charge, of course.

A unique plan by a state aide completely outside the field of conservation is gaining strength rapidly among the outdoor recreation specialists.

When Paul Lutzier, aide to the Secretary of State, first proposed the creation of a chain of 20 islands in Lake St. Clair, he considered it a dream which might be fulfilled during his lifetime.

"As a bachelor I will not leave any children to enjoy Michigan's recreational facilities, but it would be a great satisfaction to be able to have contributed something to the enjoyment of future generations," said Lutzier.

Now the plan for using the shallow lake channel for filling in islands will be presented formally to the Michigan Legislature. The Conservation Commission has given Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy the go-ahead to ask for $100,000 for the initial study of the Lutzier proposal.

Legislators interested in recreation have already heard much of the plan.

Since the number of tourist and recreation-minded legislators has been increasing steadily for several years, the study proposal is very likely to get a sympathetic hearing.

Whether $100,000 will be found for the proposed study remains to be seen, but even a lesser amount appropriated soon would give the Lutzier plan a faster start than its author anticipated.

WSC Welcomes Two New Members

Two new members were welcomed into the Woman's Study Club Tuesday at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Harold Perry, with Mrs. Margaret Haire presiding.

Brought into the club were Mrs. Fred Pinney and Mrs. W. J. McDonald. Mrs. McDonald is a former member and treasurer of the club. She just recently returned to the village.

The program consisted of making "Pinkie Puppets" for the Hills and Dales General Hospital Auxiliary and cloth picture books for the county retarded children. Fifteen members attended the meeting.

I Still Miss The Phone Girls

By Dave Kraft

Say, how about that Rotary pancake supper? I sure do enjoy those. We went to our first one last year.

That one was not an altogether happy affair. We came late, sat around long and finished in a hurry. I spent the rest of the evening hunched over a glass of Alka-Seltzer.

This year it was different. We came early, didn't wait too long and didn't leave a thing for anybody else. I'd have enjoyed it more if we'd left Sally at home with her mother.

Right off the bat, my wife starts to make trouble. We walked into the gym with the baby toddling along between us. I heard somebody say, "No, you don't have to have a ticket for infants in arms."

In one fell swoop, I scooped up the baby and jumped into my wife's arms.

"Get down, you big boob! What do you think you're doing?" "Didn't you hear him? Babies in arms don't have to have tickets. You carry us in and think of all the money we'll save."

"You get down and think of all the money we'll save on a hospital bill or I'll break your arm," she says. You just don't know how impossible she can get sometimes.

"Okay, I'll carry you in, I said in an unthinking moment. In her present condition, I'd have to carry three in instead of two. Fair's fair, but that wasn't.

We compromised. I carried Sally in and rolled my pant legs up and bought a child's ticket. Saved a clear 50 cents.

Sally was a stinker through the whole thing. She ran all over the place and everytime I'd try to discipline her, she'd stiffen up and start screaming.

When I'd raise my arm to strike her, my wife would step in with a wristlock and force me to my knees. Now, that's darn embarrassing.

Once she ran off and we couldn't see her. My wife says, find the kid. I say, what for? My wife says, cause she's gone. I say, good, maybe someone will take her home. But no one did... except us.

You know, modern telephoning has its place, I suppose, but I still miss the girls. Gone but not forgotten are the happy "hello," the throaty "number, please," and the grateful "thank you."

Giving some of these girls a plain old telephone number was more fun than squeezin' oranges. For another thing, it was the only way I could talk to another woman without my wife hauling me off to the woodshed.

I remember one girl that used to come on with a soft, husky voice that used to make the old hackles raise and when she said "number, please," boy, you gave her a number.

Half the time I'd forget the number and when I finally remembered it, she had understanding. She'd say "thank you." And I'd say, "Shucks, it was nothing."

I tell you, it made my whole day. But it's all gone. If you want to get any kicks now, you have to call long distance and it gets pretty expensive.

I called Marlette the other day. I dialed the "one" for long distance, then the prefix "ME" and then the first digit. I couldn't find a "dash" so I dialed the rest of the numbers.

I waited for the girl to say, "your number, please," but instead came a metallic "I'm sorry, your call has not gone through. Will you please hang up and try again? This is a recording."

That was a little more pleasant than just "number please," but the fact that it was a recording seemed to detract from its warmth.

I tried again. Again came the same metallic "I'm sorry and so forth, ending with "This is a recording."

I tried it again... and again... and again. After you dial eight numbers six times, your fingers start to swell and you have difficulty getting them in the dial holes.

I tried once more. Once more came the "I'm sorry..."

"Now look, lady, my fingers are beginning to look like sausages. You're sorry, I'm sorry and if I don't get this call through, Alex Bell is going to be sorry he ever started this whole thing."

"Furthermore, if you don't stop this nonsense, I'll tie a knot in the receiver cord and choke you to death... recording or not."

I was going to threaten her with a dull needle, but thought better of it.

She had just said "again" when I finished my tirade and I waited for the inevitable "This is a recording." This time, however, it was "This is NOT a recording."

Speaking of my wife's condition, the Junior Woman's Club gave each of its members a comic "Color Me..." theme picture at their meeting Thursday, along with a little verse.

The one for my wife was of a woman stabbing a ball of yarn. The verse went:

"Her secret method is stab-one, purr two.
Confuses her husband with first pink and then blue.
Since the fish have expired, she has a tiger for a pet.
He will be "newsy" with whatever they get.

Color me... Krafty."
Real cute. The picture was by Mrs. Ed Wallace and the verse was by Mrs. Russell Ayres with Mrs. Dan Eria assisting both.

Gagetown Soldier At Missile Base

Army Pfc. Robert F. Symanzik, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Symanzik of Gagetown, recently was assigned to the Sixth U. S. Army Missile Master Support Detachment at Fort Lawton, Wash.

Symanzik is a 1950 graduate of Sebawaing High School and attended Michigan State University. Symanzik is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

Offer $2,000 Dairy Scholarship

The Chicago Dairy Technology Society is again offering a $2,000 scholarship to freshmen entering college in the fall of 1963.

The scholarship is offered by the Society to encourage more students to enter the dairy technology field, according to L. G. Harmon, food scientist at Michigan State University. Dairy enrollments have been on the decline during recent years.

Students must live within the states of Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa or Wisconsin to be eligible for the scholarship. The winner of the award will receive $500 during each of his four years of study.

Michael A. Lindquist, Bark River, sophomore, is currently attending Michigan State University under this scholarship. Lindquist has maintained a nearly all-A average during four terms of study.

Applications are judged on the basis of scholastic standing, character and extracurricular activities. Additional details are available by writing to the Food Science Department, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Elmwood Extension Names Committee

A three-member nominating committee was appointed for the Elmwood Extension Group at the organization's regular February meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Leroy Evans.

Named were Mrs. Ruby Evans, chairman, Mrs. Donna LaFave, and Mrs. Irma Anker. Eleven members and one guest attended the 10:30 a. m. meeting Feb. 18. Dinner was served at noon.

In other business, the group voted to have a flower fund with donations to be taken at each meeting. Mrs. LaFave was named chairman of the committee.

The lesson, "People in Our Lives," was given by Mrs. Alma Wald and Mrs. Mildred Laurie.

The meeting was called to order with the reading of the "Woman's Creed." Roll call was a kindly deed. Mrs. Vivian Strause and Mrs. LaFave assisted the hostess.

IT SEEMS TO ME Divorces, Delinquency Shooting Upward

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

A disturbing set of statistical data appeared in the Sunday press a few weeks ago and I pass it on to you. One in every four marriages ends today in court. The current divorce rate is seven times what it was 100 years ago. The juvenile delinquency rate (and there seems to be a relationship between divorce rates and behavior patterns) has nearly tripled in 20 years. The illegitimacy rate has tripled since 1938. More than 200,000 emotionally disturbed persons are admitted to state and local hospitals annually. It appears as a foregone conclusion that were the home doing better the rest would be better, too.

The following bitter verse appeared first to me also in a Sunday paper. Laugh long and ponder longer: (They are from a column by Dr. James Laird, pastor of Central Methodist Church, Detroit)

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Many colors on the altar.
One color in the pew.
And the second goes:
"For the governor of Mississippi and others similarly afflicted."
Now I lay me down to sleep
And pray before I take my ease,
If I should die before I wake,
A segregated heaven, please.

HUMOR! An 11-year-old boy's question to his father -- "Which weighs the most, an elephant or a piecost?"
Not knowing, the father asked, "What's a piecost?"
He replied: "About 70 cents."
The moral according to Joseph A. Sugg of Detroit is: Never answer a question with a question.

And there is a story going around about the poor little shoe who is crying because its mother is a sneaker and its father is a loafer! (How do they tell when a shoe cries? Look at its tongue, of course!)

The electric computer saves man a lot of guesswork but, then, so does a bikini bathing suit! And did you know that mistletoe was the original go ahead signal long before traffic lights were invented.

Relations between Roman Catholic and Protestant bodies seem bound to occur. After improving in so many areas across the nation, they are again out in the open because of the President's education-aid bill which includes no provision for Roman Catholic schools. The fact that our fair village has no Parochial Schools at present dulls our interest. It behooves us to look deeper into this in case our residence changes.

February 26-27 is the time, by the Supreme Court, now set aside to hear the case of prayers and Bible reading in public schools. One large, influential Protestant magazine, THE CHRISTIAN CENTURY, has written: "In brief, what they involve, is an evasion of an area of government by a sectarian religion." (Issue dated February 13, 1963.)

On Sundays from 12 noon until midnight, 116 persons were killed on Michigan highways in 1961! Add to that the fact that during the same hours 162 persons were killed on Fridays and 185 lost their lives on Saturday! Is there still a Michigan motorist so intent on being blind that he wants to add to the number of hours that liquor is available at bars?

I was just getting so I felt good about having an agent to handle some writing I've been turning out. Then came the moment of truth when she paid me a visit! Now I feel in Kindergarten again! But at least she was kind enough to be honest with me and she had obviously read my book for which I now see a 1975 date for printing.
Or so it seems to me.

Seed Growers Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Tuscola County Association of Certified Seed Growers was held Feb. 14 in the Odd Fellows Hall, Akron, at 1:30 p. m., according to Raymond Hecht of Reese, association president.

Program speaker was Dr. Ken Payne, chairman, farm crops department, Michigan State University. Other program speakers were: Herbert Pettigrove, secretary of Michigan Crop Improvement Association, and a representative of the A. T. Farrell Company, Saginaw.

One hundred and six certified seed growers in Tuscola county grew 4,869 acres of certified wheat, oats, barley, corn and beans during the 1962 crop year that passed inspection.

The production of certified seeds represents a sizable industry within our total county agriculture, said Hecht.

Lynn Atwell Cops Summit Ski Meet

Ten-year-old Lynn Atwell, Cass City, who already has an outstanding collection of ski trophies, added three more Saturday by taking first places in three different categories at the Summit Ski Meet at Summit.

Lynn topped skiers from all over Michigan in the 10-15, 15-18 and 18-and-over age groups, including a Summit ski instructor in the last category.

A skier since she was three years old, Lynn has raced six times this year and has brought home six firsts. Of her 16 trophies, 11 are firsts.

Lynn out-raced 18 skiers in the first category, 15 in the second section and 11 in the last. She finished 14 seconds ahead in the 10-15 group, three seconds ahead in the 15-18 and nine-tenths of a second ahead in the 18-and-over class.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stu Atwell, Cass City.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where Senator Hart is urging the Congress to pass a law again "deceptive packaging," claims the women folks all over the nation is hollering loud on this matter. He said one of his loyal women constituents reports it has got to the place where a honest housewife can't go to the grocery store no more and tell from the package what she is getting or how much.

The chances is mighty good that this same honest housewife was wearing false eyelashes, a black wig over her gray hair, a girdle to hide her bay window and a jar of face paint to cover her wrinkles. I ain't agin Senator Hart's bill in the Congress, but I'd have to say, Mister Editor, that "deceptive packaging" ain't confined to the grocery business. Maybe Senator Hart had better put in two bills. On second thought, if my old lady sees this, maybe it was better I kept my big mouth shut.

Speaking of the Congress, them fellers ain't gitting the proper credit for one little item. Back when I was a boy the nickel was a very handy coin for a feller to tote around in his pocket. It would buy a heap of things, including a cup of coffee, a good cigar, and the Saturday Evening Post. Then evil days come upon the land and a nickel went out of style. Socialism took over so fast that the Saturday Evening Post jumped to 20 cent and started coming out on Tuesday. The welfare locusts swarmed over the nation and the public debt got so high the people quit counting it up and started counting it down. And it was at this sad stage in our history that the Congress has come out with the five-cent postage plan, restoring the nickel to respectability and fixing it so it would buy a two-cent stamp. Three cheers for the Congress!

But things on the whole, Mister Editor, is looking better. President Kennedy allows as how he's going to lower taxes and reduce spending. With that magic accomplished, Russia advocating peace and capitalism, and Castro without no missiles, about the only problem pressing us at the moment is the teenage menace. And I think we can solve this problem if the fathers of America will use their belt for the same thing their ancestors used it for, to hold their pants up and their younguns down.

Of course, we'll always have a few minor problems, like fat women wearing slacks and Bobby Kennedy's wife falling in the swimming pool, but these is matters that can be handled by the United Nations. And if they can't solve 'em, we can always pass a law, paint a sign or appoint a committee. And if all these fail, the Congress can always make a appropriation.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

KITCHEN TALK

Keep bacon in its original wrapper.
Keep under refrigeration. Do not freeze. Bacon becomes rancid if held in freezer too long.

BACON MUFFINS

Sift together 2 cups IGA flour, 1
tbsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, 2 tbsp. sugar. In a bowl beat one TableRite egg until light, add 1 cup milk and 1/4 cup TableRite salad oil. Add dry ingredients and 1/2 cup chopped crisp bacon. Mix only until flour is dampened.
Fill paper muffin cups (or greased muffin pan) 2/3 full. Bake 20-25 minutes in 425° oven. Makes 12 muffins.
