

More Tax Funds for Village

Taxes in Cass City will jump over seven per cent this year as Village Assessor Mac O'Dell reported a total assessment of $4227,200 to the village council Tuesday night at its regular meeting at the Municipal Building.

The valuation is $30,800 higher than the tax base used last year. Since the council voted to use the same mill rate (13), the increased valuation means an increase of $4,004 in village taxes.

Last year some $54,500 was realized from taxes and this year the village will have $58,500 to spend.

There has been no general revaluation of property this year and the increased revenue will not be reflected in most property owners' tax statements.

Much of the increase will come from taxes levied on new personal property and real estate in the village.

Salary Discussed

Trustees also discussed the salary of O'Dell. He will receive $600 for assessing in 1968. The amount was voted at a previous meeting before the general election. O'Dell asked for the $600 for the work just completed. Because it is doubtful whether it is legal to pay him the increased wages this year, the matter was tabled for further study and consideration.

Chronicle Article Aids in Stolen Car Recovery

Information in a Chronicle news article last week aided Cass City Police in the recovery of a stolen car Thursday, Mar. 21.

Bob Hoadley, owner of a service station northeast of Cass City on M-58, told Police Chief Carl Palmateer that he checked the license number in the article against that of a car that had been parked near his station for the past week.

The number and the description coincided and he notified Palmateer.

The car, owned by Thomas Little, Cass City, had been taken from the General Insulated Wire Works parking lot Saturday, Mar. 16.

Palmateer has questioned several suspects and some were given lie detector tests. He was to have checked with County Prosecutor James Epskamp Wednesday afternoon to see what, if any, action would be taken.

From the Editor's Corner

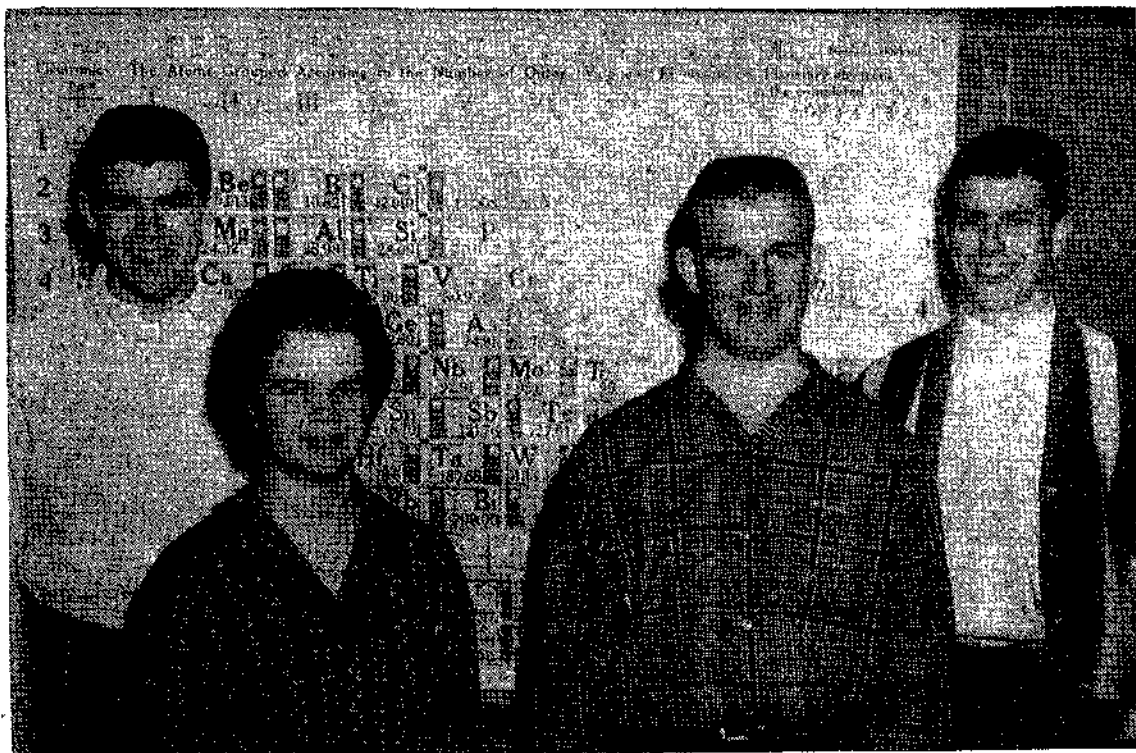

Dave Kraft asks: With Jim Bauer serving as president of the Planning Commission and Rotary Club and Lucile Bauer as president of the Chamber of Commerce, does the family qualify as Cass City's Kennedys?

Michigan's best chance for progress, we believe, is under a new constitution. We intend to vote yes and urge that you do also.

The way that the NFO has captured the interest (if not the memberships) of area farmers is illustrated by the two Deford meetings. At the first, 25 farmers attended. At the second, 75 heard the facts about a farm union.

Look for another big clean-up, paint-up, fix-up drive in Cass City again this spring. Last fall the village made a determined effort to spruce up. The council would like to see it done again. They pledge full cooperation and are hoping to see the Chamber of Commerce take over the project for fast action.

Chief Carl Palmateer is patrolling the streets in a new car these days. In case you feel it necessary to keep a "weather eye" out for him in the rear view mirror, we report that the new car is silver blue and not the Seafoam blue that you've been accustomed to seeing the last two years.

SCIENCE FAIR WINNERS—These four Cass City High School students were awarded medals as the exhibitors of the best projects during the school's two-day Science Fair Saturday and Sunday. They

Four Win Medals "Join Union or Perish"

At Science Fair

Four of the ten first place winners in the Science Fair Saturday and Sunday at the Elementary School were judged the best in a field of 135 projects and were awarded medals, according to Art Holmberg, principal.

The four medal winners and the other six first place winners are eligible to attend the Regional Science Fair Saturday and Sunday, Mar. 30-31, at Vassar.

Medal winners and their projects were: John Herhalt, "Effects of Alcohol on the Internal Organs of a Rat"; Fred Reid, "Suspension of Coloidal Particles"; Bonnie Spencer, "Pascals' Triangle"; and Bob Spencer, "Centricircle."

Other first place winners were: Bob Harmon, Jim Fritz, Amelia Claus, Sue Greenleaf, Mary Lou Jones and Cheryl Ann Sheffer.

Judging of the regional fair will be held Saturday morning and awards will be presented Saturday night at an awards banquet at 7:00 p.m. The fair is open to the public.

Top prize in the Regional Fair is a trip to the National Science Fair. Students from 13 area schools will be competing for the prizes.

At the local fair, an estimated 500 persons attended the two-day session.

Overheated Stove Brings Firemen

An overheated oil stove at a Deford home routed Elkland township firemen and caused extensive smoke damage Tuesday evening at about 6:45.

Owner Theron "Whitey" Hopper, 5795 Bruce, Deford, reported that the damage was insured.

Hopper had the stove under control when firemen arrived.

But Praises Road Program

State Raps Village For Road Records

Cass City's road bookkeeping is poor and its street program good, Floyd Waugh, of the local government division of the State Highway Department, told members of the Cass City Village Council Tuesday night at its regular meeting at the Municipal Building.

Waugh told trustees that they have a responsibility, set by law, to show the amounts spent on "major" and "local" streets.

Each year Cass City receives money from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for use on roads. Streets designated major are ones that are used by more than local traffic.

Seeger, Garfield and Doerr Road are among the streets designated major in Cass City. The law requires, under a complicated formula, that about $3,400 per mile be spent on major streets and $711 per mile be spent on local streets. Major and minor street designations must have the approval of the Highway Department.

Waugh told trustees that his job was to enforce the law. "I have been over the problem with the village engineer and clerk," Waugh reported, "and I am confident that the problem has been

Farmers' Interest Stirred by NFO

The National Farmers Organization (NFO), billed by supporters as the way to economic salvation for farmers, is exciting the interest of Thumb farmers.

At Brown City last week 700 attended a sausage feed at the school, a meeting drew 94 in Bad Axe, many farmers turned out in Unionville and Monday night a second meeting at the Deford school attracted more than 70 farmers.

At Deford, the farmers heard statistics about costs and prices via a tape recorder and were shown a membership contract. "What needs to be done?" the voice on the tape recorder intoned.

Basically, NFO says, farmers must set the price of their products. Efficiency is not enough... they take it away from you on price on the other end.

I wonder, said the speaker, how many families stopped to give thanks to the nation's turkey growers for the $1.25 they contributed for the bird on the table... plus all of the labor for producing it? Turkeys cost the farmer about 21 cents to produce last year and sold for 15-16 cents. The reason turkeys sold for less than they cost, NFO says, is because the farmer is the only producer in the national economy who goes to the market and says, "What will you give me?"

You are living in a controlled economy. We are going to have to get together as farmers or we're not going to last long. Supply and demand doesn't work anymore, says NFO.

Farmers must form a union as all other segments of the economy have in order to benefit from the power of collective bargaining.

Ramrodding the meeting at Deford was Melvin Zurbroid. He explained in detail the membership agreement of NFO.

The NFO says that 30 years of effort by Farm Bureau, MMPA and Washington have not helped the farmer. They say it's time farmers helped themselves.

Three Cass City youths escaped injury Saturday night, Mar. 23, when their car failed to negotiate a curve and slid into a ditch south of Caro.

Larry R. Hughes, 18, Cass City, reported to sheriff's deputies that he was traveling on S. Colling Road and didn't see the curve because of a hill. The accident was near Dixon Road.

Riding with him were James Fritz, 17, and Edward Knight, 18, both of Cass City. The car was owned by Burton Allen, Deford.

In other accident news, a Caro driver was ticketed Friday night, Mar. 22, for "improper overtaking," when his car struck the rear of another car on Kingston Road near Wilnot.

Ticketed was Gerald Miller, 45, rural Caro. Miller's car reportedly struck in the rear another car driven by Elmer F. Champagne, 32, Kingston, when Miller attempted to pass Champagne.

Occupants in the Champagne vehicle were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lusico, Kingston.

"New-Con" To Stimulate Turnout

Expect Big Off-Year Vote

Michigan's proposed new constitution is expected to bring Tuscola county and state voters out in record numbers for the Spring Biennial Election Monday, April 1.

County Clerk Archie Hicks has announced that he expects "the heaviest vote in sometime for a spring election." Hicks reported that 16,000 ballots have been ordered. County registration is 18,400.

State voters will receive three ballots: state education officials, Supreme Court Justices and the new constitution.

On a local level, county township voters will vote for their respective officials.

Hicks also reminded absentee voters that the deadline for applications for absentee ballots is Saturday, March 30, at 2:00 p.m. He also pointed out that the deadline for mailing the ballots is the last mail on election day and not midnight as previously reported.

Education Ballot.

Michigan voters will pick two University of Michigan regents, a superintendent of public instruction, a State Board of Education member, two Michigan State University trustees and two Wayne State University governors.

The candidates are as follows: UM Regents -- Eugene Power and Donald M. D. Thurber, Democrats, and William B. Cudlip and Ink White, Republicans.

Public Instruction Supt. -- Lynn M. Bartlett, Democrat, and Raymond N. Hatch, Republican.

State Board of Education Member -- Gerald Tachow, Democrat, and James F. O'Neil, Republican.

MSU Trustees -- Don Stevens and Jan B. Vanderploeg, Democrats, and Stephen S. Nisbet and Arthur Kennedy Rouse, Republicans.

WSU Governors -- Michael Ference Jr. and Leonard Woodcock, Democrats, and Marshall V. Noecker and Alfred H. Whittaker, Republicans.

Supreme Court

Two State Supreme Court justices will be named from a nonpartisan slate of four. Seeking the posts are Paul L. Adams, Donald Holbrook, Richard G. Smith and Eugene F. Black, incumbent. Smith and Holbrook are Republican endorsed.

Constitution

A simple "yes" or "no" vote will determine whether or not Michigan will get its first revised constitution in over 50 years.

The ballot, titled "State Proposal C," asks "Shall the revised Constitution be adopted?"

Local Contests

In local contests, area township voters will pick officers named in caucuses and primaries held in February. Polls will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Candidates and polling places are as follows:

Elkland township -- Edward Golding Sr., supervisor; Charles E. Patterson, clerk; F. Delbert Concluded on page two.

Opening of Hospital Bids Rescheduled

Inclement weather Thursday, Mar. 21, forced Cass City Hospital officials to postpone the scheduled opening of bids for the proposed addition to the hospital, according to Morris Jones, member of the board.

The bid opening was rescheduled for Thursday, April 4, at 7:00 in the elementary gym.

Last Thursday's early morning snow storm prompted several of the bidders to call and report that they couldn't make the meeting.

Con-Con Meeting Friday in Caro

Area residents are reminded that the illustrated discussion of the proposed new Michigan constitution will be presented by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan Friday night at 8 p.m. at Caro High School.

The discussion period will be about two hours and there will be no charge for admission.

Most civic groups and other organizations have endorsed the meeting as one of the finest ways to become acquainted with the provisions of the new constitution.

Greenleaf Township

The Biennial Spring Election will be held at the Town Hall April 1 to elect township and state officers. Also to vote on the new constitution. Anson Karr, clerk.

LEMMING? Nope, just a case of mistaken identity. This infuriated field mouse was caught as a lemming, but his long nose, sharp ears and long tail cleared his name. Lemmings have been causing a furor among village residents because of the lemming-caused damage to shrubs uncovered by melting snow. (Chronicle photo)

Lemming Controversy Rages On

Does Cass City Need Pied Piper?

"It's a lemming." "No, it's a vole." "You're both wrong, it's a field mouse."

The foregoing argument is taking place in Cass City coffee shops, business places and living rooms. It is one of the most controversial topics to hit the village in recent weeks and verification by authorities has done little to abate the surge of interest.

While the arguing is going on, the topic of conversation, a brown, stubby-tailed, mouse-like rodent with long beaver-like teeth, is busy raising Cain with villagers' shrubbery and lawns.

Actually, the matter is no joke to property owners whose shrubs, bushes and lawns have been ravaged by the pint-sized villain. Whatever it is, the rodent considers the bark of shrubs and bushes a delicacy.

Those shrubs and bushes stripped of bark by the pest's long incisors will become diseased and die, destroying sometimes long years of labor and care.

Several villagers have reported that their shrubs have suffered in past years, but not to the extent experienced this winter.

Home owners were not aware that the rodent had been chewing up their shrubs until the recent warm spell melted snow from around the bushes. The pest had apparently been burrowing under the snow to the bushes and then, using the snow as a cloak, ate the bark off the trees.

It's a Lemming

Howard Greene, Michigan Department of Conservation game biologist, Unionville, authoritatively identified the pest as a "hog lemming." He made his identification from one caught by a local resident.

The hog lemming is a four or five-inch mouse with a short tail, according to a University of Michigan manual. His habitat is low damp bogs or meadows in which there is a heavy growth of grass. He is typically a grass eater, although other succulent vegetation and insects are taken on occasion.

His desire for grass would explain why some lawns have large chewed up areas which look vaguely like results of a mole, but are not underground.

The huge damage this year and not in other years can be explained by the mouse's fluctuating population booms. One year they are very abundant and the next, very scarce.

The hog lemming is not to be confused with his European cousin who has achieved considerable fame through spasmodic migrations during which millions of the little rodents have migrated right into the ocean to drown.

The only things that might not bear out Greene's identification are the lemming's eating habits and the UM manual's "doubt that the hog lemming can ever be considered a harmful mouse."

It's a Vole

One village resident, who has routed several of the pests from snowbanks and hurried them on their way to their final reward, suggested they might be "voles."

A current dictionary described a vole as "any of a genus and various allied genera of mouse-like or rat-like rodents." The same dictionary identified the lemming as "any of several small rodents..."

It would then appear that a vole is a lemming and a lemming is a vole... and only a lemming or a vole can tell which.

No Field Mouse

Whatever the rodent is, it isn't a field mouse. The field mouse has a long nose, sharp ears and a longer tail. Cass City's menace has a rounded nose, flat ears and a short thick tail.

Control

It was rumored that some residents had complained to the village about the damage. Bill Bridges, village clerk, denied the rumor and expressed surprise that the problem was in existence.

"I don't think we'll do anything about it," he remarked, "unless they become a health problem or threaten to overrun the village."

A check with the Michigan Conservation Department, Caro, revealed that the problem was a new one for them. The office suggested regular rodent control procedures, such as traps and baits.

They warned, however, to be careful with baits since the lemming is not a ground burrowing animal and baits must be left on top of the ground where other animals and birds can find them.

Greene suggested placing regular spring mouse traps in runways as a possible solution.

A lady resident whose shrubs suffered tragically this year and last, vehemently denied that regular procedures are effective. She explained that all summer long she placed baits that were never touched.

The problem took on political significance when one resident suggested that "maybe the Russians planted them."

Whatever the cause or whatever the cure, unless something is done soon, Cass City may have need for a Pied Piper.

Firemen Wanted

Area men interested in becoming auxiliary firemen have been invited by Fire Chief Al Avery to attend the March department meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8:00 p.m. in the Scout Rooms over the fire hall.

The department is in the process of building up its auxiliary from which new fire department members will be picked. Auxiliary firemen can attend meetings and other functions and assist at fires. A fire training course slated this May or June will also be open to auxiliary members.

Avery stated that the only qualification the men must meet is that they be 21 years old or over.

35 Track Hopefuls Look For Way to Beat Vassar

Some 35 athletes turned out for the opening session of track recently and Coach Oarie Lemanski started working for the many important meets to be held at Cass City Recreational Park.

Most observers see little chance for Cass City to wrestle the Thumb B title away from Vassar this year.

Expected to pace the Hawks at their meetings this year will be Roger Parker, a track stalwart since his sophomore year. His specialty is the hurdles.

Among the other letter winners who are expected to help pile up points are: Bob Harmon, mile; Walter Hempton, high jump; Brewster Shaw, half mile; Paul Izydorek, pole vault; Mike Bryant, 440, and Dean and Dennis Rienstra, dashes and 440.

Others winning letters last year were: Dale McIntosh and Larry Groombridge, pole vault; Chuck Seeley and John Shagena, shotput; John Bohnsack, 440; Dave Bullock, 440 and half mile; Donald Bullock, half mile and pole vault; Mike Holik, mile, and Jerry Ross, low hurdles.

Lemanski expects help from sophomores and others who failed to earn letters last year, but said that it was too early to tell just who can be counted on for points in the upcoming meets. "When we get outdoors, we'll know more about it," Lemanski said. The Coach expects Cass City to be strong in the middle and distance events, but weak in the dashes and field events. Vassar is again rated the team to beat in the Thumb B.

The schedule:
(All meets at Cass City)
April 17 Vassar
April 24 Lakers
April 27 .. Gavel Club Invitational
May 1 Marlette
May 8 Sandusky
May 14 Thumb B
May 18 Mich. regional B
May 27 Thumb B Junior High and underclass.

Cass City Extension In Regular Meet

Fifteen members and one guest attended the Cass City Home Extension Club meeting Monday, Mar. 25, at the home of Mrs. Ed Rusch.

The following officers were elected and will take office Sept. 1, 1963: Mrs. Zella Vyse, chairman; Mrs. William Ruhl, vice-chairman; Mrs. Grant Ball, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Alton Mark, council member.

Mrs. Rusch was named "Woman of the Year" during the meeting.

Mrs. Frank Meiser and Mrs. Fay McComb presented the lesson, "Your Money's Worth in Meat." The next lesson, "Shoe Covering," will be given at Mrs. Vyse's home on Monday, April 15.

Spring Sport for Sharpshooters

Itching for some action with your bow and arrow or spear? If so, Michigan's spring season on rough fish is what you've been waiting for. It runs from April 1 through May 31 in lower peninsula streams designated by the Conservation Department; carp, suckers, redhorse, mullet, dogfish, and garpike are the legal targets. In the upper peninsula, sportsmen can test their shooting eyes and throwing arms on these coarse fish during the month of May. From May 1 through August 15, archers and spearman may also take carp, dogfish, and garpike in designated inland waters. Besides the sport they provide, these seasons score a bulls-eye in helping to reduce rough fish which crowd desirable game species in many waters. Lists of waters open to the seasons are available through the Department's publication room in Lansing or any of its field district headquarters.

SPRING ELECTION

Profit, treasurer; John W. Marshall, trustee, and Donald Koepfgen, board of review. Polls -- Precinct 1 and Precinct 2, both at the Elkland Town Hall.

Elmwood township -- Milton Hofmeister, supervisor; Harlan Hobart, clerk; Royce Russell, treasurer; Leslie Lounsbury, trustee; James Turner, trustee; Leo Seuryneck, justice of peace; Ernest Beardsley, board of review, and Arthur Carolan, highway commissioner. Polls -- Town Hall, Gagetown.

Novesta township -- Republican candidates -- Gail Parrott, supervisor; Henry Rock, clerk; Arthur Hartwick, treasurer; Walter Kelley, trustee; Leroy Kilbourn, board of review; Elmer Webster, highway commissioner, and Arleon Retherford, health officer.

Democrat candidates -- Francis Smentek, clerk, and Kenneth Churchill, justice of the peace. Polls -- Town Hall, Deford.

Greenleaf township -- Stanley Willis, supervisor; Anson Karr, clerk; Aletha Fox, treasurer; Ronald Fox, trustee; Robert Hall, justice of peace; Martin Sweeney, board of review; Henry Bartnik, constable, and Robert Hoadley, highway commissioner. Polls -- Town Hall.

Thirty Cast in Mouse That Roared

Selection of a cast for the hilarious "The Mouse That Roared," this year's Junior Class play, has been completed, according to Miss Evelyn Shields, dramatics director.

The play, which will feature 15 boys and 15 girls, will be presented Thursday and Friday, April 4-5, at the High School at 8:00 p.m.

Miss Shields explained that the play centers around a mythical European country with a logical gripe against the United States. The three-mile by five-mile nation decides to start a war with the U.S. which it will most naturally lose.

As a conquered nation, it will be given government aid to get back on its feet. Something goes amiss and the little nation wins. The resulting hub-bub is calculated to give viewers many laughs.

An English movie version of the play starring Peter Sellers, British comic, was quite successful.

Female cast members are: Sharon Profit, Kathy Langenburg, Sandy Copeland, Beryl Copeland, Dee Ellen Albee, Lorraine James, Judy Muntz, Janice Parker, Pam Dillon, Judy Quick, Sally Edzik, Mary Perlaki, Phyllis Ewald, Diane Repshinska and Marilyn Roch.

Cast in the male roles are: John Herhalt, Gary Miller, Tom Ellis, Tom Craig, Fred Reid, Dick Stroupe, Allan Milligan, Dave Parrott, Bob Profit, Roger Hartwick, Sam Wells, Mick Pomeroy, Dave Bullock and Jim Hoshner.

Further details on the play can be obtained from cast members and other members of the Junior Class.

You'll never get up in the world if you give the world cause to get down on you.

MSU Extension Cut Fought by County Office

Approval by the Senate Appropriations Committee of a bill that would cut an estimated $386,396 from Michigan State University's agricultural services has caused a flurry of activity among home extension officials in the area.

An estimated 70 persons attended two meetings Friday night and Saturday morning, Mar. 22-23, called by Alfred Ballweg, county extension agent, to outline plans to fight the bill which went to the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee for approval Monday.

The MSU cut, which would be given to Wayne State University, could possibly mean a loss of Federal monies and, according to Ballweg, would mean a curtailment of extension activities.

Under the present system, MSU's extension service receives 20 per cent of its monies from the county, 45 per cent from the state and 35 per cent from the Federal government.

Ballweg intimated that the cut was part of an over-all plan to eliminate the home extension division of the extension office. In order to receive the Federal money, a home extension program must be carried out.

He explained later that the cut, if approved, would not be taken entirely from home extension activities, but would be spread out over the whole extension program.

Ballweg urged those present to "apply pressure" to county Senate and House representatives to fight the bill.

There are 30 home extension groups in the county with a membership of approximately 500 women, according to Frances Clark, home extension agent.

Nobody needs a vacation so badly as those who just had one.

Retherford Makes All Star Squad

Ed Retherford, who led Cass City in scoring, was the lone Cass City eager to be named to the 10-man Thumb B All-Conference Basketball team, released this week.

Retherford had the added distinction of being the only sophomore to be named to the mythical honor squad.

The three top teams in the standings dominated the selections. Co-champions Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port and Vassar led all schools with three men on the squad. Named were Jerry Young, Bill Hamilton and Don Fillion, of the Lakers, and Al Murphy, Jim Colosky and Dave Suprenant of Vassar. All are seniors.

Sandusky placed two juniors, Rick Cramer and Doug Gorrings, while Caro rounded out the team

Andrzejewski Rites Slated for Friday

Final rites for Casmer Andrzejewski, 74, are to be held Friday, Mar. 29, at the St. Pancratius Church at 10:00 a.m. with Fr. Arnold Messing officiating.

Rosary devotions will be held tonight (Thursday) at 8:00 p.m. at Little's Funeral Home with prayer services Friday at 9:30 a.m., also at Little's.

Mr. Andrzejewski died Monday at Cass City Hospital where he had been a patient for the past five days. He had been in ill health for the past three years.

Born in Poland, February 18, 1889, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Andrzejewski. He came to this country 46 years ago and settled in Detroit.

He married Miss Martha Madziarski in Canada May 25, 1915. The couple made their home in Detroit for awhile and moved to the Cass City area 31 years ago where they lived until his death.

Surviving, besides his wife, are: two daughters, Mrs. Alexandra Sokol of Detroit and Mrs. Helen Lubaczewski of Caro; one brother, John Andrzejewski of Poland, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Borowski of Wyandotte and Mrs. Josephine Rozadowski of Poland. Also surviving are four grandchildren.

Interment will be in Ellington Cemetery.

with Oscar Carlson.

Roger Karr of Cass City received honorable mention. Others mentioned were Gary Thompson of Bad Axe, Paul Chappel of Marlette and Elwin Cubitt of Sandusky.

The Junior high youth fellowship of Salem EUB church met Tuesday evening at the Lawrence Bartle home with Linda Bartle as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hunt spent Saturday with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hool and children, at Windsor, Ont.

Newell Harris, who had been at his home here for a week between terms at MSU at East Lansing, returned to college, Monday.

A dinner in the Earl Harris home Sunday celebrated, belatedly, the birthday of their daughter, Mrs. Nick Decker Jr. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Decker Jr. and children of Caro, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hampshire and children, Newell Harris and Miss Lois Dorland.

Mrs. Sam Blades was called to Snover to do substitute teaching Thursday and Friday of last week.

Bonnie DeLong is a medical laboratory technician, not a dental technician as reported previously.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hall and little daughter of Pontiac spent the week end with Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gross.

Seven members of the Art club were present March 20 for the monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Christina Goodall. Members enjoyed a Swiss steak dinner at the Fraser church. In the business meeting plans were made to make Easter favors for patients in the Stevens Nursing home. Mrs. Albert Whitfield was in charge of entertainment.

Mrs. Emory Lounsbury had as Sunday afternoon visitors, Mrs. Harold Mittlstat and Mrs. Lydia Chard of Decker.

Kidney Disorders

A great deal of mystery has existed in the popular mind as to kidney difficulties and to one unacquainted with the facts it might seem that the application of Chiropractic for the relief of such disorders is but another addition to the mystery.

The function of the kidney is that of elimination to filter out and excrete the excess water and waste products from the blood circulation. This function is made possible by the selective action of the cells of the kidney tubule. After the kidney cells remove the harmful substances from the blood, the unwanted materials are washed out of the tubules into the pelvis of the kidneys, down the ureters into the bladder, and then cast off by the act of urination.

It is easy to see that the junction of the kidney is dependent upon the integrity and condition of the epithelial cells that line the little tubules with which each kidney is honeycombed. These in turn depend for their health upon normal nerve impulses. The nerves that supply the kidney controlling the distribution of blood to the kidney and the excretory function of the organ can be traced to the center of the spine where any spinal displacement or irritation will interfere with their harmonious action.

The Chiropractor is able to determine by modern diagnostic methods when kidney trouble does exist. He is thoroughly trained to remove any disturbance with the vital nerve supply to the kidneys restoring the normal health of the organ.

A STITCH IN TIME . . .

There once was an Irishman who declared: "I'd give a hundred dollars to know where I'm going to die."

"Why do you want to know that?" asked a friend. "You'd be no better for knowing."

"Faith," said the Irishman, "but I would. If I knew where it was I'd never go near the place." That Irishman reminds me of a lot of motorists who drive cars equipped with automatic transmissions that they neglect and treat roughly. If they only knew when the mechanism was going to give out they could sell the car just a little ahead of time and save the repair expense.

Automatic transmission specialists know that almost all transmission trouble is unnecessary if the driver drove with ordinary care and gave some ordinary service to his transmission.

Automatics should not be jerked into gear or reversed with the engine revolving at high speed, which seems too obvious to mention until you see someone doing it.

And like the engine itself, it should have its oil changed - at 25,000 mile intervals - and the pan dropped and cleaned out. This will hold ordinary wear to a minimum by getting metal particles and sludge out of the fluid.

These two simple rules will likely make your automatic last the life of your car and avoid a hefty repair bill.

And, if you get stuck in mud or snow, DON'T ROCK IT OVER FIVE MINUTES. If you can't get out then, chances are you won't, and you will burn up your transmission. Wrecker service is cheaper than transmission overhaul.

Thought For Lent

THE CALL OF LENT
By Robert J. Searls

What is Lent? What does the word mean? How come we never heard much about it until recent years?

Well, 'Lent' comes from Latin and signifies springtime and we recall that Easter is a spring festival of the church. In religious circles it is used to signify the forty week-days before Easter. Down through the years it has been a time in Church life to prepare, personally, for the resurrection experience. This until recent years was left to our Roman Catholic friends but it is now observed in practically all of the major church bodies.

Now we are ready to say, the Call of Lent is the call to preparation. As our Lord prepared himself for the Cross he (at various times) prayed, fasted and otherwise engaged in practices that brought him closer to his Father, God.

The Call of Lent is the call to dedication, 'As in the mood of preparation we read with special devotion the Gospels, so we set aside much more time for prayer, for worship and for service to others. The very word 'dedication' carries with it the sense of giving, so our churches have, rightly, special opportunities to give for special projects. Other churches have extra services during Lent. So, too, we tend to spend less time throughout Lent in social activities and in some churches there is partial fasting and other self-denial.

The call of Lent is a personal call to you not only to 'tune-in' more closely to God but a reminder that God already has chosen you and expects you to be his.

The most common mistake is to mistake ambition for ability.

Bigamists are just average men who have the wrong number.

Make good use of your time, and you'll have more to spare.

EUB Church Picks Officers for 1963-64

Church and Sunday School officers were elected at the annual meeting of Salem EUB Church, Wednesday, March 20. A family supper was held at 7 o'clock.

Church officers elected were: trustees for three years - Maurice Joos and Hugh Connolly; lay leader - Jacob Hiller with S. C. Striffler as assistant; co-organists - Mrs. Stanley Kim Jr. and Mrs. Esther McCullough; minister of music - George Dillman; choir director - Mrs. Maurice Joos, and financial secretary - Ronald Geiger.

Other officers included: church treasurer - Richard Hampshire; memorial fund treasurer - Mrs. Maurice Joos; head usher - Jack Esau; church reporter - Mrs. Ronald Geiger, and sick and flower committee - Mrs. Earl Harris and Mrs. Dale Damm.

Sunday School officers elected were: superintendent - Donald Buehly with Maurice Joos as assistant; Sunday School secretary - Sherry Seely with Mrs. Grace Brewton as assistant.

The congregation voted that during the months of June, July and August Sunday School and Church Services will start one half hour earlier with Sunday School to convene at 9:30 a.m. and the Worship Service at 10:30 a.m.

A good thing to remember is that the fellow who has the best credit uses it the least.

There's much kindness in the world, but few people do enough good turns to get dizzy.

Life is a tough battle, but a day's experience is worth more than a year of advice.

Port Huron Firm Awarded Cass River Project

Work on the 27.2-mile Sanilac and Lapeer County Cass River Improvement Project is slated to begin within the next two months following the awarding of the project contract Wednesday, Mar. 20.

Low bidder was the Blue Water Excavation Company, Port Huron, with a bid of $679,819. Two other companies were awarded lesser contracts on the project.

The Port Huron firm was awarded the contract to excavate 2,788,288 yards of dirt and level the same; clear 468 acres, and provide 202 corrugated metal side pipe drainage structures. The company is also to do bridge protection work on 18 county road bridges and take care of 428 acres of seeding spoil banks.

Pat Lafave, Caro, was awarded the contract to construct 39 farm rock ford crossings for $42,950. Pierce Mason, Sandusky, will construct two steel road bridges for $37,426.

Work will start within 60 days of the letting of the contracts and is to be completed in the summer of 1964, according to Stuart Armstead, Sanilac county drain commissioner.

The channel improvement starts near Shabbona Road, Evergreen township, Sanilac county, and ends at Peck Road, North Burnside township, Lapeer county. It will involve 70,000 acres in Sanilac county and 20,000 in Lapeer county.

The project is an inter-county project carried on with the cooperation of the Soil Conservation service under Public Law No. 566, Armstead reported, and involves both federal funds and funds raised locally.

Two Decline Gagetown Posts

Gagetown, after a relatively quiet caucus and village election, regained some of its reputation as a hotbed of political ferment Wednesday night, Mar. 20, when the village council named two replacements for officers named in the recent election.

Council members, at an installation of officers, named George Wilson assessor to replace Clarence David and Mrs. Vern (Dorothy) Beachy clerk, replacing Miss Mary Ann Tenczer.

Both Miss Tenczer and David refused to accept the offices. David reportedly declined the nomination at the caucus but his name was put on the ballot anyway. At that time, he stated he would not accept the office if elected.

Miss Tenczer listed the press of duties in her various other positions as her reason for declining her post.

Wilson is an employee at the Farmers and Merchants Bank and Mrs. Beachy is a housewife.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

17 Awarded C-D Class Certificates

Seventeen Cass City persons were awarded certificates on completion of a nine-week Civil Defense Medical Self-help course Friday night at the Scout Rooms.

Frank Kroswek, civil defense director, was the featured speaker. Kroswek showed a film on resuscitation and instructed mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on the demonstration model.

Certificates were awarded to: Leo Tracy, Mrs. Marjorie Shagena, Mrs. Mike Petrone, Mrs. Edward Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. Vern McConnell, Ronald Spiers, Mrs. Charles Merchant, Peggy McConnell, Mrs. Glen McClorey, Mr. and Mrs. Cass Bartnik, Mrs. Herb Bartle, Mrs. Bennie Glatton, Mrs. Charles Holm, Basil Wotton and Mrs. Arthur Little.

Before awarding the certificates, Kroswek conducted a test covering the nine-week session.

The course was taught by Mrs. Basil Wotton and Mrs. Leo Tracy and was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

No New Leads in County Robberies

Sheriff's deputies have failed to turn up any new leads in the investigation of the breaking and entering of two Reese businesses and a Caro firm last week end, according to Sheriff Hugh Marr.

The businesses, Ayre Rambler and the Reese Farmers' Elevator in Reese and Massoll's Dodge Sales and Service in Caro, were broken into late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Owners reported that only small amounts of change were taken from cash drawers. Police believe that all three robberies were committed by the same persons.

At Massoll's the culprits forced a door and stole an estimated $10.00 from the cash register.

They gained entry at Ayre Rambler by breaking a window. Owner William Ayre reported approximately $20.00 missing from the change drawer.

After breaking into Ayre's, the thieves apparently went next door to the lumber office of the elevator and forced a rear door.

Sheriff Marr reported that only a small amount of change was taken from the lumber office.

Attempts at all three places to find latent fingerprints failed, Marr stated.

Name Committees

President Lee Rabideau appointed standing committees for the year at the regular meeting of the council Tuesday night at the Municipal Building.

The new president also reappointed A. J. Stevens, village attorney, and Mrs. Helen Stevens, health officer.

Standing committees are: president pro-tem, Fred Auten; finance, Auten, Lambert Althaver; streets, Jerome Root Jr., Harold Guinther, Rabideau; park and pool, Root, Guinther; building, James Seals, Bernard Freiburger, Bill Schram; police, Rabideau, Seals, Auten.

Concluding the list are: fire department, Althaver, Seals; clean-up, Freiburger, Guinther; sewer and water, Rabideau, Auten, and dump ground, Freiburger, Root.

It was the first regular council meeting for two new members of the council: Althaver and Freiburger.

Girl Scouts Sell Estimated 1,400 Boxes of Cookies

Girl Scouts from Cass City's two troops sold an estimated 1,400 boxes of cookies during their recent sale, according to tabulations from their Scout leaders.

Leading the sales was Troop 113, lead by Mrs. Betty Dewey, with 87 cases or 1,044 boxes of cookies. Troop 150, according to assistant leader, Mrs. Joseph Gruber Jr., sold 31 cases or 372 boxes.

Top ten salesgirls from Troop 113 were Lynn Haire, Carla Calka, Susan Ayres, Sally Geiger, Kay Spencer, Mary Ayres, Carol Benkelman, Jean Doerr, Linda Whittaker, and Karen Kerbyson. Although final results for Troop 150 were not available, Mrs. Gruber was able to list Barbara Gruber and Suzanne Rabideau as the two top salesgirls for that troop.

Cass City Pupils Set to Visit Alma College

Approximately 80 science students from Cass City High School and junior high school will go to Alma College Saturday for the Alma College High School Science Day. The group will include interested students from all senior high science classes as well as a portion of the eighth grade.

The visiting students will inspect the science departments at the college during the morning. They will also hear an address by Dr. Armand J. Guarino, of the University of Michigan, on "Men, Molecules and Mistakes."

There will be tours of the campus and a luncheon in the Van Huse Commons.

The afternoon program features a concert by the Alma Singers and a panel discussion on opportunities in science. The Dow Planetarium will be available all day for demonstrations.

While the students are attending their meetings, sponsoring science teachers will meet with resource people from both the college and high school level to consider recent trends in their subject fields. Attending from the local faculty group will be Ronald Raulin and John Schmitt-hausler.

Plant Michigan Certified Oats...to be sure

Year after year you can realize higher yields when you plant Michigan Certified Oat Seed. Michigan Certified Seed is field and laboratory proven for high germination, varietal purity and uniform high QUALITY. All varieties are tested and proven particularly adapted to Michigan's climate and soils to give the best possible yield with an excellent test weight.

CLINTLAND 60

A Yellow oat best suited to southern Michigan and late planting in the central part of state. Early maturing.

GARRY

A White oat for central and northern Michigan. Usually the highest yielding oat and responds to early planting.

RODNEY

A White oat for central and northern Michigan. Carries high test weight and yields best when planted early.

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1963

Personal News from Greenleaf

Fraser Ladies Aid met Wednesday at the church for dinner and quilting. A Swiss steak dinner was served. The next meeting will be April 3.

Mrs. Doris Mudge entertained at Sunday dinner, honoring the family birthdays in March. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoadley of Inlay City, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Karr, Robert Hoadley and Mrs. Hazel Watkins, Bill and Bob Watkins. The birthdays celebrated were those of Howard Hoadley and Robert Watkins.

Jeanne Fisher and Kathryn Nickolas visited Kathleen Fisher in Bay City Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sweet of Lapeer visited Mrs. Lucy Seeger Sunday and, with Mr. and Mrs. Don Seeger, enjoyed a ride along the lake shore, returning for dinner with the Don Seegers.

Guests Sunday at the Rodney Karr home were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sowden and family of Yale. They also called on Mr. and Mrs. John Battel.

Mrs. James Walker spent Friday with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sweeney. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fisher were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Hendrick.

Mrs. Mary Flint of Cass City was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoadley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ballagh, Judy and Betty visited the Earl Ballaghs in Detroit over the week end. Linda and Ann spent the week end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wills.

Tuesday guests at the John Battel home were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tappen and daughter Susan, Billy Sowden and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sowden and two children, Debbie and Douglas, from Norfolk, Virginia. Donald has received his discharge from the Navy and he and his family are on their way to Wisconsin, where they will make their home.

Thursday was Betty Ballagh's birthday and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wills, were supper guests.

John B. Battel spent a week's vacation at home, returning to school in East Lansing Sunday.

Mark Battel spent three days last week in East Lansing as a delegate from the FFA.

KOMMENTS BY KRAFT

"Lemming Call You Sweetheart"

By Dave Kraft

Goal -- $20,000. Contributions -- $1.85. Balance -- $19,998.15.

These are the latest tabulations in my worthwhile push to set myself and my family up in style. There are those who might say this is not much progress, but you know what they say about Rome in one day.

This week's contributions totaled, in face value, 22 cents. However, one contribution was worth $8.52, another had a lot of sentimental value and another wasn't worth a cent.

Dean Morrison of Gorman, Calif., owner of the Caswell Cafe, sent me a dime and two cents. The dime was a 1949-S, valued, according to Dean, at $1.00!

The money was attached to a meal ticket to Dean's cafe worth $5.50 in trade. It will come in handy the next time my wife wants to eat in a "little out-of-the-way spot."

The one that was chock-full of sentimental value came from a lady reader. It was a shoestring... the same one she and her husband had lived on 18 years ago when they got married.

She told me how things were "B.C." (before children) and if I hadn't known better, I'd have said it was a thumbnail sketch of our situation.

She said she'd have sent me some money, "but with coffee jumping from five cents to 10 cents a cup and telephone calls from a nickel to a dime, well, frankly, we didn't get where we are by giving money away."

Mrs. Orville Hubbard sent me a real wooden nickel, worth five cents in trade at a Minden City grocery store with the wish that I "spend it in good health." If I go around pushing wooden nickels, I won't be in such good health.

Judy Ann O'Dell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Dell, now a student at Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., sent me two nickels and advised me to remind her mother to send her a subscription so she could read this column and the IGA ads. You'll remember Judy as one of the cashiers at the local IGA store up until a few weeks back.

It's pretty obvious by the story on the front page that lemmings are the going thing. You've got to have lemmings chewing up your shrubs or you just aren't in the swing.

I mean, if you don't have lemmings, you're nobody.

I spent a couple of hours Saturday and Sunday finding out I'm nobody. After digging around for an hour Sunday, I find that I'm bereft of lemmings.

Oh, they were there once, but either I was digging too slow or they were moving too fast.

I wouldn't have minded not having any lemmings, but I'd made some pretty big boasts about catching some... to my wife. You'd think that after a while, I'd learn to keep my big mouth shut. It went like this: "Where are you going?" "I'm going to dig up some lemmings." "You're going to what?" "I said, I'm going to dig up some lemmings... you know."

"I know this is probably some stupid trick to get out of the house and get together with your stupid, drunken friends." "I don't have any stupid friends."

We parried back and forth for a good half hour until I convinced her that I wanted to catch one for a picture. She ended the session with, "If you want to look stupid digging around in the snowbanks and taking pictures of lemmings, go ahead."

I dug for an hour Saturday. I quit when I noticed all the neighbors watching me from their windows. I dug an hour Sunday. I quit when one of them drove by with his windows down and I heard him say something about "nutty Kraft out digging in the snowbanks again."

I sure wish I'd caught one. Think of all the material I'd have had for this column.

Lemmings are supposed to be docile unless squeezed too hard. Wouldn't it have been a riot if I'd caught one and he'd bit me?

Speaking of squeezing lemmings, I could have said, "Oh, I just sat around all week end squeezing lemmings and making lemming ade."

Or if I'd caught one, I could have named him Jack Lemming, after the actor.

Or better yet I could have made up a song called "Lemming Call You Sweetheart, I'm In Love With You."

But I didn't. I was always a status seeker and not having a lemming to my name really hurts. Now when people talk about their lemmings, I have to excuse myself or sit around and tell lies.

I have a hard enough time lying about things I have without lying about things I don't have.

See Greenleaf brought me what she believes to be a meteorite. She brought it in a couple of weeks ago and I keep telling her I'm going to do something with it. I'm afraid if I don't do something pretty soon, she'll turn me into a meteorite.

Her father found it in 1950 in a gravel pit near Sandusky. The pit was being used on a road job on which her father was an inspector for the State.

It was about 15 to 20 feet below the surface and was found when it stopped a gravel crushing machine. The piece she brought in, a flat, palm-sized, extremely heavy copper-like metal, was attached to another piece about 12 inches across.

They believed it to be a meteorite because it was found in a place where no similar metal had been found. It showed traces of high temperature burning and it was extremely hard.

Her dad broke a drill trying to break it off the big piece and failed to budge it with an acetylene torch. He finally knocked it off with a sledge hammer after several weeks of hammering.

This is the first one I've ever seen. We're always happy to get these kind of leads and can use more.

The people who manage to keep their heads above water nowadays have learned to stay out of the expensive dives.

Cass City Youths Enlist in Navy

Two 17-year-old Cass City youths enlisted in the Navy Thursday, Mar. 21, according to a report from the U.S. Navy Recruiting office, Bad Axe.

They are Leslie R. Schram, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schram, and Alan L. Guilds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn B. Guilds, all of Cass City.

Both youths signed up for three-year hitches and have reported to the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Upon completion of training, they will receive 14 days leave before being assigned to a ship of the fleet.

Schram and Guilds both attended Cass City High School.

Mrs. Papp Dies in Detroit Hospital

Funeral services were held Saturday, Mar. 23, at Little's Funeral Home for Mrs. Emma Papp, 76, following her death Wednesday, Mar. 20, at Saratoga General Hospital, Detroit. She had been a patient at the hospital for one hour but had been in ill health for the past six years.

Born in Hungary June 10, 1886, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Toth. She came to this country in 1910 and married Louis Papp in New Brunswick, N. J., July 10, 1911.

In 1913, they moved to Detroit and later moved to Deford in 1920. Mr. Papp preceded her in death Dec. 13, 1956.

She has made her home for the past three years with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Clemens of St. Clair Shores. Mrs. Papp attended the Assembly of God Church.

Surviving are: four daughters, Mrs. John Demetri, Mrs. Lewis Pashoff and Mrs. Elmer Murry, all of Detroit, and Mrs. Clemens of St. Clair Shores, and one son, Daniel Papp of Cass City. Also surviving are 18 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. A brother and sister preceded her in death.

Rev. George Getchej officiated at the services and interment was in Novesta Cemetery.

There's an element of success in every man, but it seldom begins to operate until some womankind treads on his heels.

Fall by the wayside in the race of life and you won't get paid for the mileage you've earned.

LEARN THE FACTS ABOUT

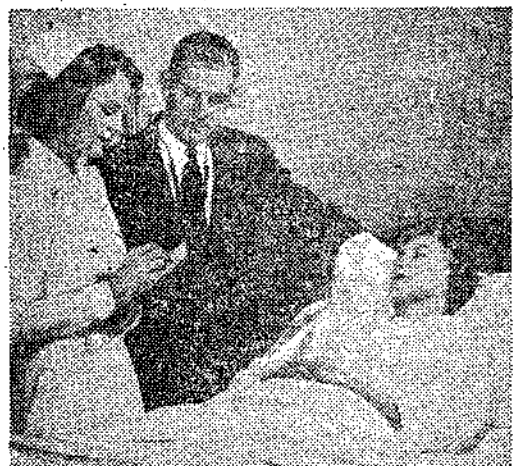

The Secret of Buying Hospital Insurance that PAYS

DOCTOR BILLS often are a big part of the expense connected with a sickness or accident. An American Republic Plan can help pay these bills for you in time of need.

SURGEONS' BILLS, TOO, can wreck a family budget. An American Republic Plan can help pay the costs of operations. Look for the man who can explain these plans to you.

HOSPITAL EXPENSES have been going up at the rate of nearly 1% a month since 1950. An American Republic Plan can help pay these bills when you need money most.

On its record of paying claims—the most important way to judge any insurance company—American Republic ranks Number One among the "Top 40" firms in its field. The few minutes it takes you to learn about American Republic "Tailored" Protection may be worth hundreds of dollars to you—at a time when you may need every cent you can lay your hands on!

Today, eight out of ten families have some kind of hospital, surgical or medical insurance. But the need for this type of protection is greater than ever. Hospital and medical care costs have been going up nearly 1% each month since 1950. If your present policy is two years old or older, and was adequate when you bought it, the chances are good that you need more coverage right now.

With over 900 companies writing individual accident and health insurance, how can you choose the company that's best for you? Experts say the best way is to ask: What is the company's record for paying claims?

According to the latest available issue of the Statistical Edition and Argus Chart of the National Underwriter Company, publishers of official insurance statistics since 1897:

Of the top 40 companies writing individual accident and health insurance, American Republic Insurance Company of Des Moines, Iowa, ranks FIRST in percent of premium dollars paid to policyholders in claim benefits.

American Republic policyholders also enjoy the important benefits of TAILORED Protection. This feature makes it possible for qualified people OF ALL AGES to have up-to-date health insurance protection—and, at the same time, avoid buying coverage they may not want or need.

Even if you already have hospitalization insurance, American Republic TAILORED Protection can start where your present coverage leaves off. And it pays fully stated benefits in addition to any amounts you may collect from any other health insurance policy you may now have.

American Republic Representatives are now contacting residents of this community to explain American Republic TAILORED Protection. One of these representatives will call on you soon. Watch for him.

FREE FILM SHOWING IN YOUR OWN HOME

Fully-qualified, specially-trained American Republic Representatives are pledged to show an educational and informative color film to all residents of this county. The American Republic TAILORED Protection Plans will be fully explained and will be available to all who qualify.

Corn Before Beans Reduces Root Rot

Bean growers are advised to grow corn before field beans in their crop rotations in order to reduce root rot.

A. L. Andersen, Michigan State University botanist and plant pathologist, says the crop that precedes field beans in a rotation somehow affects the number of disease-carrying micro-organisms in the soil. He notes that recent field tests showed the incidence of root rot to be significantly lower when corn preceded beans in a rotation. On the other hand, when barley preceded beans in a rotation, the highest incidence of root rot appeared.

Root rot costs Michigan bean growers about $2 million each year, Andersen reports. It is noticeable in the early stages of growth and is most severe when bean plants are flowering.

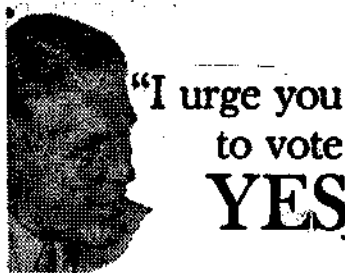

A biological control of root rot (using other micro-organisms to control the disease) is the most practical method for keeping root rot in check, Andersen reported. Chemicals are too expensive for a low-return crop such as field beans, and disease resistant varieties are slow to be developed.

Andersen and his graduate assistant, Don Huber, have spent three years studying the effects of different crop rotations on root rot. Each of five different rotations was tested at the Ferden farms near Chesaning where soil scientists had grown field beans under these rotations continually for the past 22 years.

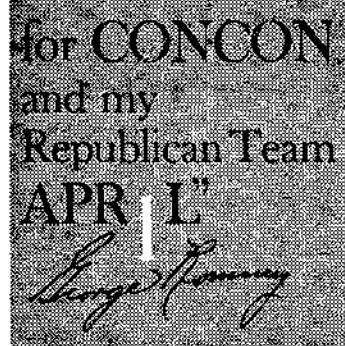

Continued tests are planned to eliminate root rot by using biological controls.

Sell Wool Before Mar. 31 for Profit

Sheep raisers who can safely shear their sheep by March 31 will very likely benefit if they sell their wool on or before this date, according to Graydon Blank and John Ferris, Michigan State University animal husbandry and agricultural economics specialists.

This situation results from the fact that current farm prices for wool are now above the anticipated national average price on wool sold in the 1962-63 marketing year ending March 31.

The national average is expected to be about 47c per pound. This would indicate that a payment of approximately 30 percent of gross sales will be necessary to bring the national average up to the incentive level of 62c per pound. Unless growers feel that they can top the national average price on wool sold after April 1, their chances are better by selling before April 1.

Fine and half blood and short staple medium wool are not as high as good medium wool so the growers of these grades will have a little more on which to gamble but the advantage of selling by March 31 still seems comparable to that gained in medium wool.

The decision to shear and sell by midnight of March 31 will depend on whether or not housing conditions for the sheep permit this to be done safely, if there are enough shearers to do the job and if the price for wool remains at the current level for the remainder of March.

Growers who cannot safely shear until after March 31 need not despair since they too will receive an incentive payment based on the 62c level. However, it would appear that their total payment will more likely be at 62c rather than above as is possible this year. They may receive as much or more per pound after March 31 but if they do, so will others. Therefore, the national average will be higher and the incentive payment lower.

This is the last year growers will have to make this decision. The USDA has changed the wool marketing year from the April 1-March 31 basis to the calendar year effective with the 1963 year. Therefore, the 1963 wool marketing year on which the national average will be determined will only be 9 months, running from April 1 through December 31, 1963.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

Zeke Grubb's preacher come by the country store Saturday night, announced he had been away a couple days on business for the Lord. He was called back, he reported, to one of his old churches to preach the funeral for a member of the congregation that was known in them parts as about half sinner and half saved. The good Parson said he doubted a feller could be half-and-half in this matter but he wasn't there long enough to argue agin public opinion.

Anyhow, he told the fellers, they had a mighty good crowd at the Church. Folks in that section, he reported, come to funerals like they do weddings and homecomings. It gives 'em a chance to gossip about their neighbors and talk about the crops.

He allowed as how his departed friend would've been mighty pleased to see all the fuss they made over him. They buried him in a cemetery 8 miles from the Church and while they was going from the Church to the grave, said the Parson, all cars stopped along the road. Furthermore, he told the fellers, they let the departed ride through red lights and put his name in the local paper.

It was a great pity, allowed the Parson, that folks waits till a man is dead afore he can git a kind word or deed. They'll catch him walking down the road while he's living and try to run over him, then pull off the road and stop when he's coming along dead. It would be mighty nice, he claimed, if a pore feller could git a preview of his funeral while he was still here to appreciate it.

On the home front, he announced, a few members of his congregation was having their troubles. For instance, he said Rufe Zinder come to him for advice, said his old lady was gitting so crabby he was looking fer her to bite his head off.

He said he told Rufe that was the reason they wrote "fer worse" in the wedding rites, cause they knowed things would git worse from time to time. He told the fellers confidential that he didn't take no sides with Rufe in the matter, that the last time he got mixed up in a family fight he got the "worse" part.

And Hezekiah Adams come to him for advice about his daughter, reported she was 17 and wanted to git married. The good Parson said he dodged that one, too. In fact, he told the fellers, the only real safe advice he ever heard a preacher give on personal matters come from a new pastor to his flock the first Sunday:

"Brethren and sisters, they is certain people you need to git acquainted with in carrying on the Lord's work. You ought to git acquainted with the High Sheriff and a few grocery stores, that operates on the time-payment plan, and fer goodness sake, git acquainted with the Bank!"

Yours truly,

I seem to get quite a few calls for ideas for Lenten dishes and these calls gave me an idea for a story. What do we know about the past history of beans?

I find to "know beans" about history of the bean family takes a bit of doing. As long ago as 3000 B.C. they were growing soybeans in the Orient. The cowpea or "black-eyes pea" of our own South was taken westward from India in prehistoric times. This same plant spread eastward to China, too, at an early age. The Greeks and Romans knew still another kind of bean, the Fava bean or "broad bean," which looks a great deal like a lima bean.

In past centuries they did not make much of a distinction between beans and peas. "Beans" was a sort of general term for edible seeds of leguminous vegetables.

After Columbus discovered America, we had a jackpot of all kinds of marvelous new vegetables and fruits. Among them the many varieties of the common bean. This was a wonderfully good addition to the limited diet of the old world. There were beans from America which we now call Navy beans, kidney beans, marrow, pinto and lima beans. There also was an especially delectable waxy green or golden-podded variety which, when immature, could be cooked pods and all. Today these are our familiar "snap", green or "string" beans. An early report on these snap beans commented, "This fruit is good and pleasant to eat, in so much that me gather and boyle them before they be ripe, and doe eate them coddles and all."

The green bean branch of the family originated in Central America. Because they were easy to carry, the mature suds eventually made their way to both North and South America. All these early, green-podded beans were string beans, as are a certain number of varieties today.

The stringless or snapbean was introduced as recently as 1894. Almost all commercial varieties of green beans now grown are stringless at the harvest stage. They are also tender but crisp, hence, the more modern term "snapbeans." Snapbeans made a generally good contribution to the diet, including ascorbic acid, other vitamins, minerals and cellulose for bulk. The snapbean is one of America's favorite vegetables for it takes some 439 million pounds of fresh snapbeans to satisfy our appetites.

Cheese also is a good food to serve during Lent. Do you know the difference between a natural cheese and a pasteurized process cheese food? I find that many people do not. Yet, the terminology should be your clue.

A cheese is exactly that. A cheese food is other things too. It has moisture and milk solids added and sometimes such flavorings as pimentos, fruits, vegetables and meats. So, if you are looking for the most cheese per pound, you should select a natural or a pasteurized process cheese, which is a blend of natural cheeses. If you want a specialty item, one that is milder, easy to spread and quick to melt, you should then choose a cheese food, or possibly a cheese spread.

So, no matter what type of cheese you want, know what you want to buy by reading the label on the package and know the terminology used in describing cheese.

IT SEEMS TO ME

Voila! I Am Assured of Readers

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

I learned this week that my book review columns have a new list of avid readers. Seems that one of the teachers at high school now requires that a book review column be brought to class. Voila! The local paper gets torn asunder and I am now (for only a short time, I fear) assured of readers. (Note to school board: please find out who the wise and able teacher is and offer him a new contract with a raise in pay!)

Pan Alley:

1. An oldtimer is a fellow who remembers when folks rested on Sunday instead of Monday!
2. Joe Karpur of Stuttgart, Ark., reporting the theft of 1,000 teeth from his dental laboratory and noting a similar burglary of 4,000 at Augusta, Ga., said, "I think it's a teething ring." (Now there's an item you can really get your teeth into!)

Notice! Patrick C. Rodger, who keeps this type of statistic, reports that more than 50 merger negotiations are now going forward among Protestant denominations.

A bill destined to create much controversy (and bound to pass) in the Michigan legislature is the one introduced by Senator R. Vanderlaan which will empower local school boards to provide free bus service to non-public schools. It is estimated that this will cost more than $2 million dollars. While not a local issue at present, it will become one when a parochial school is built here. Or so it seems to me.

Three young Methodist ministers in the southern part of our country have lost their jobs and 25 others face this same dread

4-H's Set for Tour at Midland Dow Plant

4-H members with vegetable projects will head for Midland next week for the spring meeting of the Michigan Junior Vegetable Growers' Association. The day-long session will feature a tour of agricultural chemical research at the Dow Chemical Company.

"The session will provide high school students an outstanding opportunity to learn of careers in agricultural chemicals," according to Lee Taylor, extension horticulturist at Michigan State University.

M.J.V.G.A. stresses the need for qualified workers in vegetable processing and marketing.

Association officers for 1963 include Ron Jeninek, Three Oaks, Berrien county, president; Earl Threadgould, Belleville, Wayne county, vice-president; Lewis Bordeaux, Wakefield, Gogebic county, vice-president; Cecelia Vucich, Benton Harbor, Berrien county, secretary-treasurer; Tom Jewett, Grand Blanc, Genesee county, promotional director; Elaine Ellis, Marlette, Sanilac county, director, and Douglas Sanders, Mason, Ingham county, director.

Sanders is also vice-president of the National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association.

Extensive Personal Legislative Contacts Helping Gov. Romney Win Key Battles

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Effective Technique

The honeymoon between Gov. George Romney and the Republican-dominated Legislature is lasting longer than many thought possible.

As expected, the Governor meets his biggest problems in the House of Representatives, but difficulties also have cropped up in the Senate where his party holds a 23-11 margin.

Despite the problems, however, Romney's tactics of extensive personal contacts with the Legislature have worked to his advantage. The biggest question is how much longer can he win his battles.

Romney lost a little ground when his bills to further Olympic bid chances reached the House. The more conservative GOP spokesmen there insisted on some safety measures which he had not expected. He wanted the measure to pass without change, but gave in when the conservative voice indicated it would not retreat. The changes would not hurt the bills, he decided, but his further insistence on no change might hurt him.

In the Senate, his toughest battle came on the long-controversial proposal to put Michigan under Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed: the ADC-U question. He made it very clear in his State of the State message and another special request to the Legislature that passage of this legislation was an important part of his program.

The GOP majority in both houses had been fighting such legislation for two years, ever since the Federal program started. House members switched positions quietly with the justification that now many other states were in the program and passage here would not cause widespread attention to Michigan as a welfare state.

In the Senate, however, the program was temporarily blocked by a quirk. There were enough "Old Guard" Republicans who remained opposed to the program that the GOP badly needed Democratic votes to pass it.

The 11 Democrats attacked Romney's ADC-U proposal as too restrictive and too "watered-down" from the version former Gov. John B. Swainson wanted during his term of office. They said they would withhold their votes entirely.

With these two pieces of legislation counted as Romney victories, the future battles likely will appear as only minor skirmishes. So far, however, the new governor has disproved the theory that you can't win them all.

Every Day Counts

The annual observance of Michigan Week is rapidly approaching.

This year, as in the previous nine "brag weeks," each day will have a special purpose to recognize. Sunday, May 19, will be "Spiritual Foundations" day; Monday is "Our Government" day; Tuesday, "Hospitality" day; Wednesday, "Our Livelihood" day; Thursday, "Education" day; Friday, "Our Heritage" day, and Saturday, "Our Youth" day.

Bernard A. Kalahar of Center Line, president of the State Association of County Supervisors, is coordinating the local plans for the Monday programs.

As a member of the Macomb County Board of Supervisors for 19 years, Kalahar is fully familiar with the growth of local government.

His plan for the May 20 programs calls for civic and service clubs, schools and other organizations to promote meetings "where people familiar with all the ramifications of local government explain how the various offices function, in clear and practical terms."

The traditional "Mayors' Exchange" and open houses in government offices also will be emphasized for the 10th consecutive year as primary functions of "Our Government" day during Michigan week.

Better Teachers

Michigan teachers may soon be required to have more extensive training in their field to be licensed by the state.

A proposed revision to the Michigan Teacher Certification Code has been in the works for about six years. The Commission on Teacher Education and Certification consulted nearly 1,000 professional people and educational organizations in drawing its recommendations for code changes.

"The proposed code is definitely a compromise measure representing as best it can all the beliefs and convictions of the hundreds of people in Michigan who are striving to improve the quality of education," said State Board of Education President Chris H. Magnusson.

Revision of the code was proposed because it was felt the present regulations, written in 1938, could hardly set the minimum qualifications for teachers nearly a quarter-century later, said the Board President.

"The vast explosion of knowledge since then; the enormous increase in our population; public pressure to educate everyone to his limit of learning, and the realization that the continuation of a free society will depend on a totally educated populace demand a concerted effort to keep our standards for teaching at the highest possible level."

In addition to raising the educational requirements in fields related to teaching, the proposed revision would require administrative school personnel to be certified. At the present time there is no requirement for certification of administrators such as principals.

Be considerate of the rights of others—it's the strongest link in the chain of human friendship.

Zonta Prexy Goes To Mrs. Ed Baker

Mrs. Edward Baker, wife of a Cass City electrical contractor, was named 1963-64 president of the Cass City Zonta Club at a meeting held Monday, March 18, at the New Gordon Hotel.

Mrs. Baker will succeed Mrs. Almer Krueger. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Russell Leeson, vice-president; Mrs. George Roch, secretary, and Mrs. Al Stevens, treasurer. Installation of officers will be held at the April meeting.

Nominating committee members for the new year are: Mrs. Willard Agar, Mrs. Keith Mc-Conkey and Mrs. Esther McCullough. Mrs. McCullough is a new two-year member.

In other business, the club voted to send $75 to the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees in the Near East, known as Ramallah. The project is sponsored by Zonta International.

Mrs. Harold Wells presented a program on safety. Mrs. James Ballard and Mrs. Krueger are program chairmen for the April session.

36 days that proved Ford's total performance!

RIVERSIDE, CAL.
January 20

In a total performance test of brakes, suspension and steering on the twisting Riverside sports car course, Dan Gurney drove a Ford hardtop to victory over 43 other stock cars. The 500-mile grid demonstrated Ford's superior stamina and road-holding.

MONTE CARLO
January 23

The '63 1/2 Falcon V-8 Sprints made their debut with a fantastic showing in the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Through Europe's worst winter weather they placed 1st and 2nd in class. Besides this, one Sprint defeated every entrant in the Rallye's six special stages.

PURE OIL TRIALS
January 27

In a competition designed to test all-around performance, Fords were overall winners in Class I and Class II in the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona. Their total performance design added up to most total points in gas economy, acceleration and braking events.

DAYTONA, FLA.
February 24

Daytona "500" history was made when '63 1/2 Fords blazed into the first five places! Since Daytona is the toughest track in the world, this was eyewitness proof that Ford's total performance design can endure the maximum in automotive punishment.

... and here are the 63 1/2's that gave total proof of Ford's durability and handling!

You may never see a competitive auto event. But at 30 mph on rain-slick blacktop, in the close-packed rush of 5 o'clock traffic, on a twisting mountain road, the results are important to you. On every slippery surface you need the kind of roadability that placed five Fords out front in the Daytona "500." On every busy cross street—you want the brakes that won on Riverside's sports car circuit. Your engine will hold up better through years of turnpike use because it's as beautifully balanced as Falcon's Monte Carlo V-8's. The winning competition car is bound to be a great road car—and Ford is the big winner!

If it's Ford-built, it's built for performance... total performance!

Past Ruths Honored By Gifford OES

The March meeting of Gifford Chapter OES was held Tuesday evening, Mar. 19, in the Masonic Hall in Gagetown.

The Worthy Matron, Iva Profit, selected the meeting to give special recognition to the station of Ruth. There were 20 past Ruths remembered, one of whom, Maude Sarosky, held this station 40 years ago.

Beatrice MacLachlan gave a short history of the Biblical character of Ruth after which the past Ruths were presented with corsages of daffodils, gifts of the worthy matron.

The lunch was prepared by the March birthday committee with Beryl Osborne as chairman. The tables were decorated with shamrocks and daffodils. Cake, coffee and sandwiches were served to about 60 persons.

Due to illness and weather conditions, the Thumb Association president, Louise Weiss, Port Sanilac, was unable to attend.
