

A DASH OF INGENUITY and persistence has paid off for Tom Herr who is finishing paying for an Ellington township farm with this $2,505 check from the Lincoln division of Ford Motor.

The reward check was accepted for deposit by Miss Irene Stafford at The Cass City State Bank Friday morning. (Chronicle photo)

Herr Reaps $2505 Award

Big Pay-off in Suggestion Derby

"You've got to keep trying," Tom Herr grinned, as he prepared to deposit the check for $2,505 into his account at The Cass City State Bank Friday. It's the silliest ones that often are the best, the ones that really pay off.

And Herr is a qualified expert on the subject of award suggestions that cut costs for factories and pay off on a percentage basis to employees.

For in the five years that he has been employed at the Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Co. at Wixom, Mich. (near Pontiac) Herr has submitted an estimated 150 suggestions to the company.

Not all of them are adopted, of course, but the ones that have provided Herr with a lot of nice extra loot.

Eliminates Pieces

The big one for $2,505 was one of the simplest. Since the luxury Lincoln has practically all power windows, Herr suggested that two pieces of metal could be eliminated. They were and Herr's share of the savings resulted in the man-sized check.

He struck paydirt the first time about two years ago when his suggestion for eliminating six rocker panel molding clips was adopted. This one was good for $559.

I got another check along the way someplace for 25 bucks, but darned if I can remember what it's for, Herr explained.

The big check awarded this week will hasten Herr's arrival to the Cass City area community.

"I like this nice country air and have planned on living here for some time," Herr explained. In 1959 he bought the 80 acres southwest of Cass City where he plans to make his home.

The property was purchased from Norman Herr, who now lives at his business residence on M-81, east of Cass City. Norman Herr is Tom's uncle.

With the $2,505 slapped down for payment of the property, Herr now has a target date of the spring of 1964 for moving his wife and family to the area. Herr has three children, Mark, 6, Sharon, 7, and Tom, 8.

Strangely enough, neither Herr nor his family has any previous connection with a small town or farm life.

I was born in Pontiac and have lived in that area all my life, but I aim to change . . . and the sooner I can, the better it will be for me and my family, he concluded.

Boy Dies In Farm Accident

The Cass City community was rocked Monday morning by the tragic news of the accidental death of little Wendell Scott Truemmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Truemmer of 7791 Bay City-Forestville Road.

The little boy, who would have celebrated his fourth birthday July 24, hanged himself while attempting to climb from the top of a ladder in a tool shed at his farm home.

According to investigating officers, Wendell evidently slipped just as he was taking his first step down. He was found hanging between a beam and the top rung by his mother.

Police theorized that the little boy was dead for 20 to 30 minutes before he was discovered. Cass City Police Chief Carl Palmateer said that Mrs. Truemmer reported that she had called to the boy playing in the yard at about 10:30 and received an answer. A few minutes later, Mrs. Truemmer called again and when she received no answer went into the yard to look for her boy and discovered him on the ladder.

She carried the body into her farm home and immediately called authorities. Funeral services for Wendell were held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Owendale. He was at Little's Funeral Home until noon of the day of service.

Surviving Wendell, besides his parents, are a sister, Colleen; two brothers, Dana and Michael, all at home; his maternal grandparents, State Rep. and Mrs. Edmund Good of Gagetown, and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Truemmer of Sebewaing.

About a dozen years ago, it looked as if Bob were well established with his father in the theatre business but TV arrived and the theatre business went.

After kicking around at a couple of other jobs, the Schuckerts decided to start over and about four years ago uprooted the family and started living on the tightest of budgets while Dad went to school.

This spring he finishes the first step in his career and congratulations are in order . . . it's inconceivable to think that after the sacrifice necessary for his education.

Elkton Residents in Cass City Collision

Police Chief Carl Palmateer investigated a collision Friday, May 3, at 3:45 p.m. at the intersection of Church and Leach streets. Mrs. Lucille Leckenby, 50, of Elkton drove through a yield right of way sign into the path of a car driven by Carol A. Horton, 28, of Elkton.

Carol Horton was travelling east on Church street and Mrs. Leckenby was going south on Leach.

Riding with Mrs. Leckenby were Mrs. Leonard Seley, 43, Becky Seley, 9, and Mrs. Mary Ramsey, 75, all of Elkton.

Both cars were damaged. Mrs. Leckenby was issued a summons for failure to yield right of way.

Ten Insurance Firms Told to Cough Up $30,000 for Damages

A Tuscola county jury awarded Searl Foster, owner of the Millington Hotel, a judgment of $30,000 plus interest for 11 months at 5 per cent, in a suit against 10 insurance companies.

The damages were awarded against the companies who shared the insurance liability for the building and personal property after it was demolished by an explosion and fire April 23, 1962.

The insurance firms refused to pay the insurance claims totaling $30,000 because they contended that Foster had failed to live up to terms of the insurance agreement by not having enough insurance to cover 80 per cent of the value of the building.

The case opened at 9:30 a.m. and went to the jury at 3:50 p.m. The jury deliberated only 25 minutes before granting the full amount of the claim for damages.

The jurors were: Grace Ewald, Paul Vollmar, Hugh Kitchen, Pauline Sonderhouse, Richard Fox, Maurice Taylor, Leo Allen, Janet Harmon, Mrs. Herman Denizer, Alvin Smith, Raymond Rabideau

UNKNOWN THIEVES were successful in breaking open this safe at IGA Foodliner in Cass City last week end, but were unable to crack a second safe in the store. Cass City Police Chief Carl Palmateer examines the safe wrecked by the vandals.

From the Editor's Corner

There is a story behind the story in this issue of the Chronicle. A brief paragraph tells that Robert F. Schuckert is a graduate of Florida Southern College.

Folks who arrived in the village within the last five years probably don't know that Bob is middle-aged and the father of four children.

About a dozen years ago, it looked as if Bob were well established with his father in the theatre business but TV arrived and the theatre business went.

After kicking around at a couple of other jobs, the Schuckerts decided to start over and about four years ago uprooted the family and started living on the tightest of budgets while Dad went to school.

Force Back Door

The thieves forced a door on the west rear of the building to gain admittance to a room housing the store's compressors.

They gained entrance to the main building by chopping a hole in a back wall.

The small amount of money that the thieves were successful in getting was taken from a safe on casters.

The safe was rolled from the front of the building to the cooling rooms in the rear where it was smashed open. Ironically, premium stamp books that could have been exchanged for premiums were not touched.

The vandals also attempted to get into a second safe in the building, but were not successful. This safe is imbedded in steel reinforced concrete. The cement was hacked around the edges and the combination of the safe jammed, but remained unopened.

Church Softball Forms Loop Monday

The Cass City Church Softball League will hold an organizational meeting Monday, May 13, at 8 p.m. in the Methodist Church.

All churches interested in fielding a team should have a representative present. Officers of the league will be named.

For more information, league representatives are asked to contact Wayne Brown or Larry Summers.

Androl pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol on M-25 when arraigned May 1.

Few Clues In IGA Week-end Robbery

Cass City Police Chief Carl Palmateer and Michigan State Police have no definite clues to the identity of the thieves who broke into IGA Foodliner Saturday or Sunday and took $233 in cash and an undetermined amount of food, nylons and tobacco.

Palmateer said that several prints have been found and were sent to Lansing for possible identification. We have been questioning persons who could have been connected with the robbery without results, he said.

Owner Harry Lenda said that it is impossible to tell just how much the loss in the store will amount to. We know they took cigars, cigarettes, Jello, cereal, candy, nylons, choice cuts of meat, cheese, margarine . . . and several other items. How much the total will be can't be ascertained until an inventory is taken.

Need Bond Issue For Final Okay

Cass City's application for $75,000 from the Area Development Administration has been tentatively approved and village authorities this week initiated procedures necessary for final approval and the start of a $150,000 water improvement program in the village.

To secure the $75,000 from the Federal government, the village must match the grant with $75,000 of its own.

In the application the village indicated that they would raise money locally by general obligation bonds.

A special election seeking taxpayers' authorization has been scheduled for June 24.

President Lee Rabideau said that no new taxes are contemplated to repay the bonds . . . the council expects to be able to take the money from sewer and water revenue. Trustees raised water rates several months ago to take care of capital expenditures for the system.

In raising its share of the $150,000, the village had two options . . . it could have raised the money by revenue bonds, pledging the revenue from water and sewer to pay the debt. This type bond does not require a vote of the taxpayers.

The council nixed this approach because revenue bonds invariably boost the interest cost. General obligation bonds pledge the entire revenues of the village for repaying the debt and are cheaper. Persons familiar with similar issues feel that the interest rate on the bonds may be around 3.4 per cent.

The village was able to secure comparatively quick action on its application because the council had previously ordered the village's consulting engineer, Hubbell, Roth and Clark, Inc., to complete an exhaustive survey of the village's water needs.

Using the survey as a guide, the village was able to quickly adopt a workable program to participate in the program. Haste was necessary because all unused funds will be unavailable after June 30.

The Program

Essentially, the program consists of 9,900 feet of eight-inch water main, 1,320 feet of six-inch water main and a new water tank.

High on the priority list was the new tank. Cass City is presently served by a tank with a 60,000-gallon capacity, already older than the normal life expectancy of similar units.

The proposed new tank boasts a 200,000-gallon capacity and will be more strategically located. One of the problems of the tank in the southwest corner of the village is that it is considerably lower than the school and Hills and Dales Hospital and both facilities suffer lack of water pressure.

The new tank is tentatively slated to be placed in Hills and Dales Subdivision at the highest point north of Huron and Dale streets, the highest point in the village. Cost of the tank is estimated at $56,403.40.

The new eight-inch water main will run from the plant to the new water tank, an estimated distance of 5,250 feet. It will go from the plant to Rose street in Cass City Recreational Park. From the park it travels along Rose street to Seeger. From Seeger it runs north to a location near 4775 Seeger (between residences of Robert Stickle and Dr. William Selby.) An easement then runs the line west to the tank site.

Other eight-inch mains will be installed on Brookier, Church and Hill street from Pine to Dale street, replacing six-inch mains now serving Hills and Dales Hospital.

The larger, weighing seven pounds and one ounce, was born May 6 at 11:57 p.m. His twin weighed five pounds and three ounces and was born at 12:03 a.m. May 7.

The Harmons have two other children, a girl and a boy.

It could turn out to be a natural family joke for the first twin always to be accusing the second of being "too little . . . and too late."

Another 2,000 feet is slated on Church street from Maple to Brookier streets and the final eight-inch installation on West street from Church to Main. Total estimated cost of this phase of the work is $66,033.00.

Six-inch main will be installed on Huron street from West street to Seeger street and from Maple street to Ale street. Each of these projects is 670 feet long. Total cost of the six-inch installation is $7,563.60. These new mains will replace 1 1/2-inch mains and give needed service to the area covered.

Total construction cost for the project is $130,000. The remaining $20,000 will be used for architect's and engineer's fees and financing.

50 Hear Evergreen School Problems Discussed Monday

An estimated 50 to 55 members of Evergreen Township Unit School District gave almost unanimous approval to the school in an informal discussion and straw vote Monday night at the school.

The board had presented two plans for an addition to the school to persons attending. One was to convert the gym into two classrooms and build a new gym and the other was to add two classrooms.

Practically all of the members felt that adding two classrooms was the better of the plans.

Authorities estimated that the addition would cost about $39,000. One of the classrooms would be immediately utilized and the other used for needed storage space. The storage room would be available for easy conversion into a second additional classroom when needed.

Authorities stress that the proposed addition to the school is only in the discussion stage. No date was set to hold an election and bring the proposition before Evergreen township electors.

Addition of two classrooms at the school has been a nagging problem for over a year. Last July the proposition was presented to voters at the annual meeting, but no action was taken.

A Day Late . . . But Still a Twin

He's a day late . . . but still a twin boy. The sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Harmon of Mayville were born on two different days at Cass City Hospital.

The larger, weighing seven pounds and one ounce, was born May 6 at 11:57 p.m. His twin weighed five pounds and three ounces and was born at 12:03 a.m. May 7.

Fourteen Bridges to Cost County $35,000

Tuscola county will spend from $30,000 to $35,000 rebuilding 14 bridges in the county this year and the county board of supervisors were shown colored slides of these bridges at their regular session Monday at the courthouse in Caro by Elkland Supervisor Ed Golding.

The pictures were taken on a tour of the county by the road-bridges committee and members of the Tuscola County Road Commission. Among the bridges to be rebuilt is the bridge across White Creek on Shabbona Road in Novesta township.

Golding said that the 14 pictured for the board that were selected for rebuilding are not all of the bridges in poor condition in the county, but were the worst ones and ones selected for immediate attention.

Set Rates

The board set the wage scale for custodians of the courthouse. Full time building and grounds men will be paid $3,700 per year. Beginning employees will be hired at $500 less than the maximum and be given increases of $125 each six months they work. Part-time help will be paid $1.15 per hour not to exceed 35 hours per week.

New Boat

The board authorized an expenditure of $1500 to buy a boat and equipment for the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

Beauty Tips

By Rita

Today's beauty tip is a reminder that a shiny look when made up, and breakouts, are two skin signals that you have oily skin. Your complexion is suffering from imbalances - more oil is being secreted than can be thrown off by the pores.

Cleanse your face with a really good face soap; work up a lather and wash, wash, wash. Then rinse every trace of soap away with warm water and a face cloth. Next close the pores with an astringent, applied with cotton pads, with special attention to nose and chin areas.

Follow this routine faithfully and see if the condition doesn't clear up! If this sounds like a large order at home, remember that facials are just one of the many beauty services at HELEN'S BEAUTY SALON, 6469 Main Street in Cass City, Michigan. Phone 872-3535, or come in!

HOUSEHOLD TIP: Next time you have many letters to stamp and seal, use a halved potato; it's just moist enough, and saves the taste of glue on the tongue!

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Teller

The Novesta Baptist Church was the setting of the Saturday, April 20, wedding of Patricia May Harmon and Ernest Eugene Teller. Miss Harmon is the daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. George Harmon of Decker. Mr. Teller is the son of Mrs. Lenora Teller of Cass City.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, who also performed the ceremony with the assistance of Rev. Pursey of Caro.

The bride wore a gown of imported hand-clipped Chantilly lace fashioned with wrist-point sleeves and a sabrina neckline encrusted with iridescent on a fitted bodice. Iridescent sparkled lace edged tiers complemented the full floor skirt which fell to a chapel train. Her queen's crown of pearls and Swedish crystals was secured to an imported silk illusion bouffant veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of three white cymbidium orchids and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a silver cross with a spiral center, which was a gift from the groom.

Dressed in identical dresses of petal pink brocade featuring bell shaped skirts, fitted bodices and topped with brief jackets, and wearing floral bandeaus with circle veils were Miss Judy Przykucki of Alpena, who was maid of honor, and the bride's cousin, Miss Ruth Ann Dailey of Three Rivers, bridesmaid. They carried matching basket arrangements of white pompon mums with pink trim.

Carlton Teller, brother of the groom, served as best man, with Jim Glinke of Angola, Ind., serving as groomsmen. Sam Wells, cousin of the groom, and Bob Harmon, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Harmon chose a beige lace dress with beige accessories. Mrs. Teller wore an aqua floral print dress with beige accessories. Both mothers had corsages of pink carnations.

The reception was held immediately following in the Deford School. Mrs. Emily Meiser of Cass City served the wedding cake and Mrs. June Dailey of Three Rivers poured punch. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Combs served as master and mistress of ceremonies.

As her going-away outfit, the bride selected a suit of blue and grey wool plaid, with black patent leather accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids. After their honeymoon in Washington, D.C., and Virginia, the couple is making their home in Almont.

EDITOR'S CORNER

Several years ago the automobile horn was outlawed in Memphis, Tenn. A special ordinance made it illegal to sound the slightest beep inside the city limits because police and safety officials thought horn blowing was more of a nuisance than a necessity. It had some surprising results.

Many taxicabs disconnected their horns. Drivers said the temptation to blow their horns was always great and it was safer to remove them. An elbow might touch the horn accidentally, which could prove both costly and embarrassing.

Fines for violation of the anti-horn blowing law ranged from $10.00 upwards. It was effective, and visitors to the city often commented on how quiet Memphis was.

A visiting motorist from Mississippi evaded the ban on horn blowing. He attached an electric doorbell to the side of his car and drove through the heart of Memphis ringing his bell merrily. Police scratched their heads, but allowed him to proceed. Motorists and pedestrians guffawed.

If all the motorists in the world were wide awake and all the pedestrians watched where they were going, there would be no need for automobile horns. But I know many a tight spot a polite "beep-beep" of the horn has got me out of.

All the cars on our used car lot have horns, a wide variety of sounds because we have a wide variety of used cars. All the horns work, because we don't sell any cars in Memphis, Tenn., and everything else in the cars we sell works too.

We don't want to blow our own "Horn", but, have you noticed the number of 1963 Chevrolets on the road?

Chevrolet's popularity is at an all time high. In 1962 Chevrolet registered over 2,000,000 passenger cars. The first time this feat has been accomplished by any manufacturer.

And the '63 is even bettering last year's records.

Come in and look over our stock of Corvairs, Chevy II's and Chevrolets. We are building 46,000 cars a week and they're still scarce, we're lucky to have them.

Health Thoughts

by Dr. E. P. Lockwood

As you know, there is not an invention in the history of the world which is not patterned after some perfect little organism or function of the body. The human body functions perfectly and harmoniously as a whole.

How often do you stop to consider how wonderful is your body? Many of the most educated people in the world know little or nothing about their own bodies. And why is it?

The expert photographer uses an instrument which is patterned after the eye. The mechanic uses ball and socket and pivots and hangers in making his devices run and work smoothly. The automobile engine is fed gasoline and turns much in the manner of the human body.

Suppose that a car stops and refuses to go. The average person would look and look and yet could not see that the gas line was clogged. The expert mechanic would know by the actions of the car instantly what was wrong.

Your body is the same when it is not functioning normally. There is a block to the life energy. The life energy is there as is the gas in the car. However, due to the block, the life cannot get through to function. The chiropractor is scientifically trained to remove that block restoring normal function and health.

Cass City Posts Easy Track Win

Cass City thincads racked up another meet victory Wednesday, May 1, when they topped Marlette and Caro in a triangular meet with little trouble. The Hawks registered 66 9/10 points. Marlette was second with 44 9/10 and Caro third with 25 points.

Walter Hampton paced Cass City to the victory. He won the 120-yard high hurdles, the 180-yard low hurdles and the high jump.

Hampton was far below his record-setting performance in the high jump of six feet, as he registered only five feet, six inches. But, it was enough to cop first in the meet.

Cass City was helped to the victory by team depth. They won six seconds and tied for another and finished third eight times in the 18-event meet.

As predicted early in the season by Coach Oarie Lemanski, the Hawks were strong in the relays. They finished first in both the mile relay and 880-yard relay.

Hawks Lose Crucial Game

Cass City dropped a crucial game Monday at Cass City Recreational Park when they bowed to the Vassar Vulcans in a battle of the Thumb B Conference leaders. The score was 9-3.

With a little better luck, Cass City might have made the game much closer than the final score indicated. Twice with the bases loaded Hawk hitters lined into double plays to kill rallies.

Vassar went into the lead in the first inning and was never headed. Dick Stroupe, who had been Cass City's most consistent pitcher, had a really bad day. He lasted only one-third of an inning. A couple of errors, a single and a home run forced him from the mound with one man out in the first.

Al Wallace took over the hurling and pitched creditably for the next five innings. He allowed only one run until the sixth when he weakened and was touched for four hits and four runs.

Jim Champion hurled the last inning and retired the side in order.

Cass City touched Gary Miner for eight hits. The Vulcan pitcher kept them well scattered. The Hawks scored a single run in the first as Walter Hampton walked and Roger Karr singled. Milt Sherrard singled and Sammy Wells singled to drive in the second tally. Hampton scored again in the fifth as he singled and went around on walks and errors. Sherrard led the Hawks with three hits in four tries. Karr collected two for three.

R. Dickerson was the big gun in Vassar's 10-hit attack. He slammed out three hits in four tries including a home run and a triple.

Sandusky Game

Cass City racked up its third straight Thumb B Conference victory Thursday, May 2, when they unleashed a 10-hit barrage to win a 13-6 decision over the Sandusky Redskins at Sandusky.

The Hawks scored twice in the second on singles by Jim Knoblet, Sherrard and Schember. They stretched the margin to 5-0 in the third on just one hit, a single by Champion. Walks and errors forced the three runs across.

The Hawks scored three more in the fourth and turned the game into a rout in the fifth as they scored five times. The rally was featured by a circuit blast by Hampton.

Hampton also went the distance on the mound for Cass City. He allowed eight hits including a home run by Cubitt in the top of the seventh.

Big Stickers

Cass City has developed some big stickers this spring. As a team, the Hawks are hitting an even .300. Leading slugger is Karr who boasts a .427 average.

Second is Hempton at .381. Marv Irer is slugging at a .363 clip and Champion's average is .350.

Research is underway at Michigan State University to standardize the old carpenter's stand-by, the 2 x 4. The lumber industry is in the process of reaching an agreement on exact specifications for the 2x4, according to a forest products scientist at Michigan State University.

Ten Made Citizens

Ten persons became naturalized citizens of the United States Monday in proceedings held in Tuscola County Circuit Court Monday before Judge Timothy C. Quinn at Caro.

Among the 10 were two husbands and wives and two brothers.

The brothers, Richard and Wesley Szpunar, are from Kingston. The man and wife combinations were Archibald Ross McGregor and Luella Victoria Grace McGregor, both of Lapeer, and Alexander Otto Konrad Herrmann and Ollie Marie Herrmann, both of Vassar.

Others becoming United States citizens were: Patricia Margaret Reinert, Millington; Evelyn Michelle Winzler, Mayville; Tashiko Cooklin, Deford; and Michael Vincent Szabo, Lapeer.

More than 100,000 Michigan people are employed in the production of $750 million worth of forest products each year.

Six-Man Tax Allocation Study Commission Set for Action

With the appointment of Milton Bedore and Shurford Kirk to represent the board of supervisors, a tax allocation study commission has been formed for Tuscola county. Other members of the commission are: Clayton Hunter and Quentin Howell, representing the townships, and Jack Smith, superintendent from Vassar, and Erwin Dean, member of Millington board of education, representing the schools.

The study commission will attempt to settle permanently the vexing question of how the tax millage will be split among schools, townships and the county. Presently the allocation committee allocates the money yearly and yearly there is discussion, dissension and recrimination among the representatives of the three tax sharing participants.

The new constitution has authorized the various counties a plan to settle the question permanently.

Under the plan, counties can raise up to 18 mills (as compared to the present 15-mill limitation) and set permanently the ratio for schools, county and townships.

Before becoming official, any plan would have to be referred to the people for a vote and if passed would be the law until presented to the voters again for revision. There is no chance, most insiders say, that the commission would attempt to ask for a total of three more mills for local government and education... but it's feasible that the commission could come up with a plan asking for a 16-mill limitation instead of the 15. Any plan adopted would not go into effect until the constitution does... sometime in 1965.

Small Wheat Farmers Should Register to Protect Income

Michigan grain dealers are alarmed about the apathy shown by small (less than 15 acres) wheat growers who have not registered for the wheat referendum in the state. Michigan has about 98,000 small wheat farmers and many of them are not yet-eligible to vote May 21.

The Grain Dealers Association says that if the referendum passes, all farmers will be subject to acreage allotments and restrictions. When farmers register they automatically agree to comply with the program, if it passes. However, they are free to vote no.

will not be eligible to receive the certificates which must be furnished in order to sell wheat for milling purposes. It must be sold at the feed wheat level. Certificates this year are worth about 70 cents a bushel on about 80 per cent of the farmer's crop.

In previous years, farmers with less than 15 acres of wheat were exempt from quotas. Certificate wheat is expected to be $2.00 per bushel and non-certificate $1.30 per bushel.

Reduction of Acres
If the quota system is approved, 10 per cent of the current farm allotment for growers over 15 acres and from the base acreage of smaller growers would be taken from production.

For diverting these acres from production, a farmer will receive 30 per cent of the normal yield with payment based on the support price of $2.00 per bushel. Regardless of whether or not the referendum passes, farmers will be subject to controls. However, the 15-acre exemption will remain in effect if the wheat growers vote no on the new program.

The Michigan Feed and Grain Dealers Association is conducting a drive to get all small growers to register before the May 13 deadline.

They say that the small grower can't lose by filling out the certificate and could lose up to a third of their wheat income by failing to sign.

Features
One of the features of the new wheat program is for the first time the control is switched from the number of acres to the number of bushels allowed.

Penalties are severe for over-growing. Growers will pay some $1.63 per bushel on double the normal yield of the excess acres unless actual yield is proven to be less.

Michigan Wheat
Michigan's variety of soft winter wheat enjoys a strong demand and is never in as great an oversupply as other varieties, authorities say.

Contest Winners

Akron-Fairgrove Future Farmers of America won top honors with a score of 684 points in the Annual Land Judging Contest sponsored by the Tuscola Soil Conservation District April 25. Maynard McConkey, District Chairman, has announced.

Caro FFA was in second place with 598 points and the Reese Chapter was close behind with 595 points.

Eight FFA Chapters in the District were represented by a total of 55 students in this year's contest, McConkey said.

The other FFA Chapters which took part were: Cass City, Mayville, Unionville, Millington and Kingston.

CLEAN-UP TIME

Continued from page one. eye. Members of the village council have been assigned alleys by drawing areas from a hat and will inspect the alley they are responsible for.

Although Cass City has designated a week in the spring and fall for clean-up, keeping the community sparkling is really a full-time job, authorities say, and pays off in a nicer place in which to live, work and do business.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

VOLUME 57, NUMBER 4

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1963

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I been in a state of shock all week over a item quoting a official from the U. S. Department of Education. It seems the experts has started teaching a new system of arithmetic to the school younguns. They ain't got it going in all the schools yet, the piece says, but by 1965 they hope to have the old system done away with complete and the new one installed all over the country.

I read the piece 6 times, Mister Editor, and on the last time around I knowed me or them was crazy and, natural, it had to be me. They got the Constitution and the Administration on their side and, like the feller said, you can't beat city hall.

In the first place, the experts is doing away with the "Tutem System" which is the two times two is four system. They say this ain't true if you use "Base Seven." I reckon Base Seven is a first cousin to Third Base or Cloud Nine or somepun. Anyhow, Base Seven and Tutem is in conflict. It says so right on the front page.

Furthermore, they allow as how it ain't important in this new arithmetic to know what a circle is; the main thing is to know "what happens when the circle loses its roundness."

And in this new system of arithmetic fer the school kids of 1965, they won't be no such thing as a line. It will be knowed as a "set of points standing shoulder to shoulder."

And they put the stopper in the jug by announcing the days is about over fer adding, subtracting and dividing. Under the new system these items will be called "intersection, union and complementation."

I recollect complaining a few years ago when the schools slowed down on teaching reading, writing and arithmetic, and started giving courses in hair-do, folk dancing, and flute-playing. I just didn't know, Mister Editor, when I was well off.

But I reckon, like this piece says, the next generation has got to have a "Univac mind" to keep pace with space. In another 20 years, when a feller wants to call up his wife at the factory where she's working, he'll have to dial 663-2549 and tell 'em its Social Security 243-48-9565, Internal Revenue Service 44-6005846 calling SS 244-07-3037, IRS 43-610-5745, please. And a feller can't handle that situation with the kind of arithmetic we got now.

I started to report these matters to the fellers at the country store Saturday night, but I got to figgering it wasn't no use in having everybody going crazy at the same time, at least not till 1965.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

I Could Bite My Wrists....

By Dave Kraft

With the baby only minutes away, according to my wife, we've decided to think up a name for the child. We thought it would be nice, at least for the record, if the kid had a first name as well as a last when he puts in an appearance.

We figured he'd fit in better on a family and a social level, too. I mean, how long can you address a child as "Hey, you!"?

Actually, we've been working on names ever since we got our "greetings" from the doctor. So far, we've figured out enough names for seven or eight kids of them is acceptable.

That is, they are not acceptable to my wife. I couldn't care less. As John F. Kennedy once said, "What's in a name? A relative by any other name would still have a job."

Once, or so I thought, we had it all set. If it was a boy, we'd call him Eric David Kraft and if it was a girl, we'd call her Cassandra Kay Kraft.

A day or so later, my wife asks, "What are we going to name the baby?" "I thought we had it settled," I muttered.

"You mean Cassandra Kay?" she scoffed. "Don't be stupid."

Suppose she started going with a boy that stuttered. By the time he got out "C-C-C-Cassandra K-K-K-Kay K-K-K-Kraft," it would be time to bring her home.

"We could cross that bridge when we come to it," I pleaded. "I mean, after all, it'll be two or three years before she starts dating, if it is a girl."

After awhile I saw the light or at least the futility of trying to instill any consistency in my wife. So we decided on another name. That was about seven names back and I've completely forgotten what it was.

I noticed one thing, however, she didn't insist that we change the boy's name. I didn't make anything of it at the time. I thought I might as well count my blessings. I should have brought it up. Perhaps something could still have been done about it, I'll tell you about that in a second.

We had another boy's name that I liked quite well but that got scrapped out of convention.

We were going to call him Christopher Kraft. We'd call him "Kris Kraft" for short because, and I hope you'll forgive me, he was a do-it-yourself project.

I'm afraid neither name is destined to be worn by a child of mine, however. My wife went to the doctor's the other day for her scheduled check-up.

When I got home, she was wearing her "something tragic has happened but try to be brave" look. I took it in stride.

"What's matter? What's matter?" I yelled. "Something tragic has happened, but try to be brave," she soothed. "Yes, yes I know all that," I screamed, "but what happened?"

"The doctor listened to the baby's heartbeat today," she started. "He didn't find it!" I shouted. "I already had a heartless wife... now I was going to have a child with the same malady."

"Of course, he found it, stupid," says she. "The only trouble is that it has a heartbeat of 166." "What's wrong with that? He's speeding, maybe?" I asked.

"No, stupid, and stop calling her 'he'. The doctor said that's a sure indication that it's a girl."

I tell you, I could bite my wrists. I'm already a man in a house of women. It's already reached the point where I'm being forced to wear lace on my unmentionables. One more girl and I'll be ready for the Mad Hatter factory.

My drive for $20,000 is up 38 cents this week. This gives me a grand total of $2.74. I'm putting all this money in a trust fund for the baby... because I don't trust myself with so much loot.

I got three cents from Anonymous. You all know J. L. Anonymous, Deford, don't you? The money was attached to a sticker that read "WE GAVE." In small time at the bottom was "up on all them phony charities." I wonder what the implication is.

Mrs. John Goodall stopped in and, true to her name, left a dime. Now if I could just get Alfred on the stick.

A nice lady from Detroit, Mrs. Kenneth Hoff, sent me a quarter! Good grief, I haven't seen so much money since the last time.

She said she'd won 11 cents of it from two friends in Cass City. Probably in a fast game of poker. She said she would have sent 30 cents but she had to use a nickel for the stamp.

Do you know what I did? Last week's paper carried the story about the results of the Womanless Wedding and I forgot to mention the name of one of the lead characters.

I left out Bob Benkelman's name. Bob's from that radio station in Caro and as most of you know, he's a leading character, period.

I thought I'd better mention his name so no one would think there was any animosity on my part just because he's with that other media, even though it is... well, you know.

Seriously, Bob was the glue that held the whole program together and I think he did a fine job.

Many people aim to please, but some are mighty poor shots.

Sometimes it works, but many a man gets a hard fall from the big bluff he puts up.

A dollar has wings today, but it is still easier to replace the ones that fly away.

FORD

FOR '63 OFFERS YOU

PROVED PERFORMANCE!!

PROVED DURABILITY!

Ford's making all the big news today in open competitive road and track events. It's all in the record. Front-running Fords are proving the kind of performance they deliver is total performance.

Performance and durability in a car make a combination that's hard to beat. And big-league competition puts performance in perspective. Mechanical failure forced some pretty hot performers to quit in the Riverside 500... the Daytona 500... Atlanta 500... and the Bristol, Tenn. 250. But the Fords kept going to win every time. The Fords were proving it takes more than speed and acceleration to win. It takes durability, too. Road and track competition is a speeded-up test program. It tests brakes... suspension... cornering... steering... roadability. It tests total performance. And Ford delivers—not only in competition, but in your kind of driving too. See your Ford Dealer and sample total performance in a '63 Ford for yourself.

VILLAGE OF CASS CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

A regular meeting of the Council of the Village of Cass City was held on April 30, 1963 at 8:00 p.m. All members were present. Minutes of the March regular and of four (4) special meetings were read and approved as read. Motion by Auten seconded by Seals that the proposed wage and fringe benefit plan be adopted. Yea-6. Nay-0. Motion carried. Motion by Gunther seconded by Althaver that A. Hillman be granted an increase of .06c per hour. Yea-3. Nay-2. Mr. Seals abstained. Motion carried. It was agreed that a street light will be installed on Maple Street between Garfield and Third pursuant to the request contained in a petition by residents in the area.

Mr. Willy was granted permission to attend a convention in connection with water pollution at Boyne Falls in May.

It was agreed by the members that responsibility for use of the fire hall rooms by various groups must be placed and that said use must be controlled. Mr. Schram was instructed by President Rabideau to change the locks and the Clerk was made responsible for scheduling. The tentative plan is for the police department to open the building and to make an inspection when they close it. Any organization that does not keep the rooms clean and orderly will lose their privilege for future use.

The matter of formally leasing the property of James Gross was discussed. The property is being used as a public parking lot and if leased it would probably relieve Mr. Gross of liability in the event of a claim. No money would be involved in the lease.

After discussion, and on agreement of the Council, President Rabideau instructed the finance committee to proceed with force and vigor in the collection of all past due amounts due the village. The village operates on a cash basis and is in no position to carry any amount beyond its due date.

Motion by Auten seconded by Seals that the meeting be adjourned.

Bad Axe Post Slates Open House

The Michigan State Police will hold their seventh observance of Michigan Week with an open house at all posts on Hospitality Day, May 21, according to Sergeant John Lohrsturfer, commanding officer of the Bad Axe post.

Visiting hours at the Bad Axe post will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. A special welcome is extended to the public to examine the equipment and facilities and find out how the department operates. Visitors will be escorted on tours by officers.

"Visitors are always welcome at the post, but open house provides a special opportunity to find out how a post is operated," said Sgt. Lohrsturfer. "They will learn how we function and the services we perform. Questions are invited and there will be an exhibit.

The Bad Axe post is situated at west city limits in Bad Axe.

Good Living Conditions Top Importance in Luring Industry

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
What Industry Seeks

Officials in many Michigan communities are looking for the answer to an important question and planning specialists at Michigan State University think they have it.

The question, foremost in the minds of city planners hoping to draw new business to their economy, is this: What does the business executive look for when locating a new plant?

Site, available labor and market proximity are obviously part of the answer. MSU experts say there is much more to be considered, however. Many communities can provide these features so the competition is greatly cancelled out in these categories.

"Executives are placing more emphasis on recreation facilities, schools, shopping areas and other factors that contribute to the 'good life,'" says Louis Twardzik, parks and recreation specialist for MSU's Cooperative Extension Service.

The theory is that the executive not only wants a nice place to live and raise his family. He also feels that good living conditions for his employees will make for higher productivity.

This executive wants the "fringe benefits" of a well planned community, according to Twardzik.

The MSU specialist contends that subsidies for new industry will not necessarily provide the drawing power the community invest-tends. Studies suggest that subsidies tend to attract unstable businesses, while the well-established industries, the kind all communities really want, are more likely to locate with an eye on these "fringe benefits."

Twardzik stresses the value of well-developed and managed open spaces: playgrounds, sports areas, community centers, parks and swimming facilities.

"In all too many cases, local industrial efforts completely miss the idea that the town should be a pleasant place in which to live," he said.

In advising local planners, Twardzik's primary recommendation is that they view their community by asking themselves the question, "Is this the kind of town where strangers would want to invest and live?"

Be A Bellringer

Bells will ring throughout the state on July 4 if Gov. George Romney has his way.

Calling for a slight change from the traditional firecracker sounding on the anniversary of Independence Day, Romney hopes civic leaders will join in getting bells chimed in every church, government and school building simultaneously.

Working with the Hi-Y Clubs of the Michigan YMCA, the Governor's plan calls for the bells to ring for four minutes starting at 1 p.m. on July 4. Romney said such an observance should represent "a solemn tribute to our country's founders and as a dedication to our national unity and our undying devotion to our country and for what it stands."

More Signs

Approach of the vacation season foretells increased traffic on Michigan's vast network of high-speed roadways.

To the State Highway Department it also means an increase in the comments about its directional sign placements. In the past two years, since motorists began to use full length east-west and north-south freeway routes, the comments about the signs have been numerous.

A legislative study of tourist industry problems last summer came forth with the general impression that motorists wanted more information from the signs. They wanted greater use of directional signs to small communities along the route, and they sought more definite data than they could gain from the "Food-Gas-Lodging" markings at freeway exits.

Standards for the freeway sign installations are set by the Federal Government, which pays for approximately 90 per cent of the limited access roadways.

State highway officials are hoping they can make some improvements in the system, however, to satisfy at least some of the most frequent complaints.

"We are making a continuing study of freeway signing," says Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie. "Our goal is to provide the motorist, whether he be a Michigan citizen or a visitor from another state, with signs that will help him to reach his destination quickly and safely."

More To Learn

Do your children look upon you as all-knowing? If so, a Michigan State University psychologist says this false idea should be removed as quickly as possible.

This goes also for the child's belief that his teachers and the encyclopedias have all the answers.

Dr. Milton Rokeach of MSU believes people cannot be creative if they blindly accept the word of authorities. They become close-minded and unresponsive to new ideas.

The state of mind of complete reliability on authority comes about, according to Rokeach, because children get the idea that parents and other authorities know all that is to be known, and that the most one can hope for is to learn that same amount.

According to the MSU psychologist, a parent ought to make it clear to his children that there is a spiral of advancing knowledge that never ends," the professor contends.

IT SEEMS TO ME The Crowd Never Cheered A Boxer

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

Once again there is an outbreak of sentiment against the prize fighting business. Nothing will come of the many speeches and promises of new and tighter regulations. It is to be hoped that this entertainment can get away from killing as did the Roman Arena when it stopped killing lions or people on "Ladies' Night." I have before me, as I write, a double column of statements by prominent persons deploring the Paret and Moore deaths in the professional ring. Norman Cousins, in the November 5 issue of the Saturday Review, which he edits, wrote:

"It is nonsense to talk about prize fighting as a test of boxing skills. No crowd was ever brought to its feet screaming and cheering at the sight of two men beautifully dodging and weaving out of each other's jabs. The time when the crowd comes alive is when a man is hit hard over the heart or the head, when his mouthpiece flies out, when blood squirts out of his nose or eyes, when he wobbles under the attack and his pursuer continues to smash at him with pole-axe impact." And "So it seems to me."

I was sorry to read that Dave Kraft has left THE CHRONICLE. We got to know both of the Krafts when Mrs. Searls also was an employee at THE CHRONICLE. Dave is not only a good writer but he and Diana were not content to sit by and do nothing -- entering into the worthwhile activities of Cass City. But naturally this columnist would not stand in Dave's way toward progress. I hope he continues, not only living here, but turning out his column, as well. He has been a good staff member of the paper and a responsible citizen. We wish him good luck!

Why worry about the future, Whether a slave or a free one? Why suffer and fret when it's a fair bet

There's not even going to be one?

(By S. Omar Barker)

From the mail bag of Rep. Ed Foreman, Republican (I) from Texas - comes a letter which says:

"My friend over in Terebone Parish received a $1,000 check from the government this year for not raising hogs. So I am going into the not-raising-hog business next year. What I want to know is what is the best kind of farm not to raise hogs on and the best kind of hogs not to raise. I would prefer not to raise Razorbacks, but I will just as gladly not raise Berkshires or Durocs. One thing more, can I raise 10 or 12 hogs on the side while I am in the not-raising-hogs business, just enough to get a few sides of bacon to eat?"

Probably he got a government pamphlet on this subject which gummed things up, but good! "Or so it seems to me!"

I was honored, one day not too long ago, to be asked to help select the proper symbols and colors for a new set of altar cloths and pulpit antependia for use at the First Presbyterian Church. It is always an honor to feel you have special knowledge that is of use to someone, and this time especially so as these will honor the memory of my good friend, Donald MacLachlan. At this same time Mrs. Grant Hutchinson is completing the hangings at the Methodist church. At every church which I have served as pastor such cloths were made part of the worship life of the church.

Agent's Corner

Mrs. Frances T. Clark
County Extension Agent in Home Economics

When you were a child did you ever try this English exercise, a canner can can anything in a can, but a canner can't can a can, can he? This exercise demonstrated parts of speech, but the canning industry has demonstrated the importance of "convenience" to the American homemaker.

We open about 40 billion cans and over 80 billion glass containers of food a year. It adds up to an average of 250 cans of food a year for each one of us. With canned foods and a little creative magic, homemakers can serve delightful dishes that successfully ignore the seasons.

Most supermarkets offer a selection of more than 1,000 canned food items.

It is not astonishing in these days when a flip of a switch gives us light and a twist of a dial produces sound movies that we expect food processors to provide us with ready-cleaned, ready-to-use canned foods that save time and work with little or no waste.

We recognize the high nutritive value, convenience, ease of storing, economy and quality-dependability of these canned foods. In fact, it may have caused us to take them for granted.

About half the nation's vegetable crop goes into the more than 133 different canned vegetable items offered.

Can you guess which canned vegetable is most popular? It is the tomato. Tomatoes and tomato products such as juice, catsup, chili sauce, paste and puree far exceed the total quantity of any other canned vegetable. Three-fourths of the tomatoes grown are used for these products. About two-thirds of the peas grown are eaten in canned form, the remainder is eaten fresh, frozen or dried.

Usually, nothing is added to canned vegetables except water and sometimes a little salt or sugar for seasoning. However, if you want to be sure of what your canned vegetable contains, check the label. The label information can be depended upon. It has been written to conform to law and standards established by the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act covering foods which cross state lines. The label is a window to the contents of a food can. It can help you locate the product, form and style best suited for your intended use. It is the "outside" information on the "inside situation."

Quality in canned foods is best protected when they are stored in a dry moderately cool area.

As you purchase canned food items, it is practical to date the label. This makes rotation of inventory simpler.

Sauerkraut and pickles are the only vegetables with a short shelf life, around 12 months. All other vegetables have shelf lives of three or more years.

I have a free booklet, "Convenience Foods", that you may have by calling my office.

On March 28 an amendment to the comminuted meat law went into effect. Do you know what this means to you as a meat shopper? It means, effective on that date, beef that is ground and has 20 per cent or less fat, will be advertised and labeled as ground beef. If it has between 20 and 30 per cent fat, it must be advertised as hamburger. The retail price for ground beef will probably be higher than for hamburger. According to the law, no comminuted beef sold in Michigan can have more than 30 per cent fat.

While the United States' population is only six per cent of the world's population, Americans consume 29 per cent of the world's meat.

The road to ruin is seldom crowded with men turning back.
