

Beer Party Costly

Six Detroit youths picked the yard of Police Chief Carl Palmateer to toss a beer bottle from a car and the rash maneuver resulted in fines and costs of $175.80.

Mrs. Palmateer saw the boys toss the bottle and noted the license plate of the car. Her husband tracked it down to the corner of Oak and Main and found the boys drinking beer from malted milk cartons.

They pleaded guilty when arraigned in Justice Court before Justice Reva M. Little and each paid a fine of $25 and costs of $4.30.

The group included Robert V. Breyer, Michael McDonald, Paul Schram, Richard Tackelson, Michael Twomey and Michael Dzurida.

Caught Speeding

In other Justice court news, Keith Jammer of Frankenmuth paid $24.30 in fines and costs and Thomas Bukoski of Uby paid $19.30 as both pleaded guilty to speeding in the village.

No Developments

Palmateer also reported that there have been no new developments in the IGA robbery case. "We are waiting for fingerprint identification from the State," he said.

4 Seek School Posts

There will be only four candidates seeking the two open posts on the Cass City School Board in the election slated for June 11 at Cass City High School.

Petitions received prior to Saturday's deadline were filed in behalf of Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn, Chris Schneider, B. A. Calka and Don Reid. It is the least number of candidates ever to seek a board position since the district switched to the petition form of election. Last year seven candidates ran for the open spots on the board.

One new member of the board is assured. President Jack Esau did not choose to run for re-election. Reid is the incumbent member of the board seeking election.

Mrs. Prieskorn has served a brief term on the board as she was appointed to fill an unexpired term. It will be her second try for a full term on the board.

The remaining two candidates are seeking the office for the first time.

B. A. Calka, real estate broker, has served as a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club president and is a member of the board of directors of Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Schneider is the purchasing agent at Walbro Corporation. He has been active in school affairs and served on many committees promoting the school.

The two members receiving the highest number of votes will be elected for four-year terms.

Most observers expect a substantial vote to be cast in the district as authorities are also asking the voters to approve a mill and a half levy for three years for capital improvements at the school.

Ask $120,000 for Damages

Damage claims totaling $120,000 for injuries alleged to have been suffered in two accidents were filed in Tuscola County Circuit Court Monday.

A claim for $100,000 was filed for injuries suffered in an accident a half mile west of Cass City on M-81 on Aug. 15, 1958.

The suit was brought by Clarence Marshall of Genesee county, the guardian of Veneta Marshall, 10, against Catherine Nicol of Sanilac county.

The complaint said that Veneta, then five years old, suffered severe and permanent injuries in the accident and was unconscious for seven days following the crash.

The complaint also alleged that the accident was caused by negligence of Mrs. Nicol who was Forty-four students, from grades seven through 12, formed the candlelight procession and repeated the honor society pledge as administered by Bonnie Spencer. Twenty-three previously elected members took part in the impressive ceremony.

Gagetown Home Damaged by Saturday Blaze

Smoke, water and fire severely damaged the Sylvester Pinkoski home in Gagetown Saturday night as the Gagetown Fire Department battled for better than an hour before bringing the fire under control.

The home was empty at the time the fire was reported by a neighbor. Firemen said that the fire broke out in the walls of an upstairs room and eventually broke through the roof. Damage was extensive.

The department succeeded in saving the majority of the furniture in the home.

The Pinkoskis have vacated their home while repairs are being made.

No estimate has been revealed of the amount of the loss.

For Better Business District

Study Urban Renewal Here

Improving Main Street has long perplexed merchants in Cass City who realize the importance of smart-looking, modern buildings as an inducement for increasing business.

The problem has been that there has not been enough business to warrant new buildings for many of the Cass City merchants.

Monday, local retailers heard of the Urban Renewal program of the Federal government... a program designed to give Federal assistance to communities with "blight" areas.

A brief outline of the provisions of the plan was sketched by Lee Jolgren, expert in urban renewal from Vilican and Lehman, city planners.

Good Start

Cass City is in a more advantageous position than many communities because many of the preliminary steps required by the Federal government have already been provided, Jolgren said.

The very first requirement is that the village have a master plan for orderly growth and progress... the community has had a master plan for several years which was developed by Vilican and Lehman.

Complicated Procedure

As could be expected, urban renewal is a complicated procedure. The very first step for Cass City, Jolgren said, would be to have the village send for a Federal representative to determine whether the village was eligible for Federal Aid.

If he determines the village qualifies under the government's conservation program, the village then could take steps to secure the aid.

The aid to the community is substantial. In communities the size of Cass City, the government will pay 75 per cent of the cost of an approved project.

Briefly, and much simplified, the plan calls for the village to condemn buildings thought to be "blighted," raze them and build new modern structures in their places. These buildings would then be leased or sold for use as private businesses approved for the area.

Long Wait

Even though the community qualifies for the program and decides to pursue it, don't look for any drastic changes in the immediate future.

Jolgren said that the absolute minimum for a project would be about two years and most of them take from five to seven years to complete.

Besides building improvements, the plan also pays for necessary street, sidewalk, sewer and utility in the project area. It also allows credit for any money spent within the area within the last three years.

If Cass City's Main Street credit qualify, it is likely that credit could be allowed (and payment received) for work completed on the sidewalks.

Jolgren was introduced by Cliff Croft, who arranged to have him speak in Cass City.

School Board Seeks 3 New Programs

The Cass City School Board authorized investigation of three new programs and conducted routine business at its regular session at the school Tuesday night.

The school will look into a summer class, hiring a practice teacher and merit pay raises for teachers.

Top priority was given to the summer program. Teachers will be interviewed and students who could benefit by a summer reading program will be given a questionnaire to take to their parents to see if they would be allowed to attend.

The plan has been tried in a couple of other Thumb schools without too much success, Supt. Willis Campbell reported. However, if interest warrants it a class will start here this summer.

At the request of Principal Arthur Holmberg an attempt will be made to secure a student with three years of college training for work at the school for one semester. The teacher will be paid three-fourths of the basic pay for teachers.

No definite action was taken on the merit pay raises for teachers, but board members indicated that they would like to have a qualified person speak about the subject in Cass City.

Open Meeting The board scheduled an open meeting to discuss the proposed 1 1/2 mills levy for capital improvements at the school. It will be held Tuesday, June 4, at 8 p.m. at the school.

Debt Millage Trustees voted to leave the debt millage for the school's two bond issues the same as it has been in previous years.

James Seals, recently named assistant principal to replace Eli Holes, will not receive an increase in salary this year.

Seals was paid as an administrator for his work as counselor and this year received $6,500. If paid on the regular teaching scale, he would have received $5,900 as a teacher in the system for eight years with a Master's degree.

In addition, this year Seals receives summer employment from the school as a driver trainer. Eli Holes, whom Seals replaces, received $7,300 this year.

The board will review Seals' salary next year.

Order Bus

The school authorized purchase of a new school bus from Auten Motor Sales for delivery in September. There are three buses in the Cass City system that are 10 years old.

Another project that the board feels cannot be delayed is a new roof for the school. No costs for the job have been ascertained, but estimates range upwards from $5,000.

Transfer Rev. Wurtz After 13 Years Here

The Rev. S. R. Wurtz, pastor of the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church in Cass City for 13 years, has been transferred to the Gifford EUB Church. The action was taken at the 102nd annual session of the Michigan Conference of the church this week at Grand Rapids.

Wurtz was the oldest pastor in Cass City in point of service. He came to Cass City from Gladwin. He has spent 39 years in the ministry.

He will be replaced by the Rev. Robert E. Betts of Lake Odessa. Wurtz said that he will conclude his pastorate at Cass City Sunday, May 26, and will be in the pulpit of the Gifford church Sunday, June 2.

Gifford Church Judged by the membership rolls, there is little difference in size between the two churches. Cass City's membership is 152 and Gifford's 150.

However, the Gifford church has fewer activities as it is a rural church, Wurtz explained. For instance, he said, all of the activities of the ladies' organizations are grouped into one... in Cass City there are several groups and they meet more often.

Attending the conference, in addition to Wurtz, was Miss Maxine Loney, lay member representing the Cass City church.

Kindergarten enrollment and registration at the Owendale-Gagetown Area Schools will be held at both schools on Tuesday, May 21, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Superintendent Charles Mayer has announced.

Hope for the best—then buckle down and work for the best.

SPRING CONCERT

three bands will perform at the concert. Included will be the 30-member Fifth Grade Band, the 42-member Junior Band and the 26-member Concert Band.

A varied musical show will be presented. Selections range from the rich harmonic texture of a Bach chorale to the refreshing melodies of the Broadway show, "Oklahoma", Case said.

Special features will include a trombone solo by Bill Dobbs and a Dixieland quartet with band accompaniment. Playing will be Mick Pomeroy, cornet; Ann Sheppard, b-flat clarinet; Bill McCarty, tenor saxophone, and Dobbs, trombone.

Chorale Show

The high school choir of nearly 90 voices will sing a variety of selections, Parrish reports. Included will be "He Watching Over Israel" from the oratorio, "Elijah", by Mendelssohn and "The Silver Swan", a 16th century madrigal by Orlando Gibbons.

Other selections include the popular "All the Things You Are" by Hammerstein and Kern; "People Will Say We're in Love" by Rodgers and Hammerstein and special background music for Dobbs, senior soloist, who will sing an original song entitled "Forever Young." Lyrics, music and solo-choral arrangement are by Parrish. This song is now under consideration by Sam Fox Publishing Co., Inc., a large New York music company.

Other vocal soloists are Sandra Copeland, Rosemary Deering, David Ashmore and Charles Iseler.

Other Acts

Duets will be presented by Sandra Copeland and Dean Rienstra. Nancy Deering and Gary Kelley, the Severance sisters, Linda and Ruth, Ilene Hicks and Gayle Dillon and the Rienstra twins, Dennis and Dean.

Also performing will be "The Undergrads," a quartet featuring Tom Craig, Dobbs, Tom Ellis and John Herhalt.

The public is invited and a free-will offering will be taken, authorities said.

Methods Change But Not the Service

Few, if any, businesses in Cass City stretch back to before the great fire of 1881 and none is serving the Cass City area essentially the same way it did when organized. But today McNeil's blacksmith shop repairs and improvises for area farmers and residents and back in 1881 did the same thing.

The service is the same, but the methods are different. Although the forge is still a focal point in the middle of the shop on Leach Street, much of the work is now done by acetylene and electric welding.

William Bentley, the founder of the shop, was the artist of the forge in the plant, McNeil recalled. The pioneer resident of the community, who worked 68 years as a blacksmith, used the forge for all type metal work. Bentley, the stepfather of McNeil, proved the old adage, "that hard work never killed anyone," as he lived to be well over 90 years old before he died about 12 years ago.

Today the forge takes a back seat to modern methods, but is still in use practically every day for heating plow points, bean knives and bending and shaping iron.

Although McNeil spent 25 years with Bentley in the blacksmith shop, he didn't learn welding from his stepfather. I bought a book for $5 and taught myself, he recalled, for when electric and acetylene welding were developed, Bentley was about ready to retire.

Wagon Wheels

Still visible in the shop is the old furnace room used for the repairing of wagon wheels, one of the main functions of the shop in early years.

The old wooden wagon wheels shrunk and the spokes became loose, McNeil said, and our job was to make them tight again.

We would do this by removing the tire (the steel band on the outside of the wheel) and shorten it by cutting out a short section and welding it back together, McNeil said. Then you placed the tire in the "furnace" for heat to expand it and sweat it back on the rim of the wheel. It makes a snug job.

Shoes Horses

Rubber tired wheels eliminated this work, of course, and the old furnace room is boarded up . . . but one of the jobs of early years still goes on . . . shoeing horses.

"I do it strictly as an accommodation now," McNeil explained, "because shoeing horses is hard work and my health is not up to a lot of this type work."

Three Locations

In its long history in Cass City, the shop has been in just three locations. The first was in the present Hunt's Construction Co. office on West Street. From this spot the shop went to the location now housing Clare and Andy's Sunoco Service on Main Street and finally to its present location on Leach Street where it has been for 20 years.

May Carry On

It's just possible that the shop will be in its present location for a good many more years. The McNeils have three children, a girl, Mrs. Paul (Judy) O'Harris, who lives in Cass City, and two sons, Richard, 17, and Wayne, 10.

Wayne is in school in Cass City and Richard works with his dad in the shop.

While Richard is presently learning the trade, he's not at all sure that he will carry on in the family tradition.

If I can get a job in industry, I'll take it, he declares. . . . If he's successful, it might well be that one of Cass City's oldest businesses will die when Roy puts away his torch for the last time.

If he doesn't, Cass City may have the appreciated services of the McNeils for generations to come.

The true measure of a man is his contribution to the world.

To Honor Teacher At Open House

Friends and former students of Mrs. Mattie Hoy will attend an open house to be held in her honor at the Owendale Gym Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Hoy has completed 45 years teaching, including 21 years in the sixth grade at Owendale school, and is retiring.

Prior to coming to Owendale, she taught nine years in country schools, eight years in Auburn and six years in Kilmanagh. She taught the eighth grade at Raupp school in Lincoln Park for one year.

Mrs. Hoy plans to spend her winters in Arcadia, Fla., near friends from Owendale who now live in the community.

Your Child

By Dr. E. P. Lockwood

Many parents ask: "Do you think you could help my child? Her appetite is so poor and she gets colds so easily." Many persons are of the opinion that "Children's Diseases" are different from those of the adult. In reality there is little difference for the child's body is the same functionally as the adult's. You were once a child.

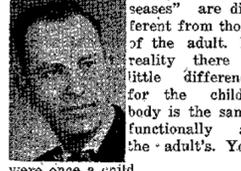

A child, as a rule, makes about the best patient . . . mainly for the reason that he has not carried nerve interference as long and since his body is in the formative stage will respond better and more quickly than the adult.

It is only sound reason that if Chiropactic will work for one person (adult) it will work for another (child). The principle is immutable and is applicable to any condition. As we have said before, Chiropactic is good for any part of the body which nerves supply, and nerves supply every part.

It is very well worth your while to have your children checked by a Chiropactor if there is any suspicion of disease or lack of ease in the body. For the sooner the block to that vital life energy is removed, the less damage will be done and the quicker the response.

Your Chiropactor will welcome you and your children in his office, for a healthy generation will make a better nation.

(One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropactic, written by Dr. E. P. Lockwood, whose office is located at Cass City. Tel. 872-2765). Adv.

BULEN TALKS CARS

REGULAR SERVICING IS GOOD SENSE

An automobile engineer recently figured out that if cars today were built with the tools and methods of 1910, but at today's labor and material costs, a medium-priced car would sell for more than $60,000.

That's just one way of measuring the wonderful progress that's been made in the automobile industry. Without that struggle for advancement the auto industry might well have killed itself with $60,000 cars.

Today's cars have more than 15,000 parts, the electrical system leading the way with 8,000 separate parts. Many cars use 7 miles of wire to link this all together.

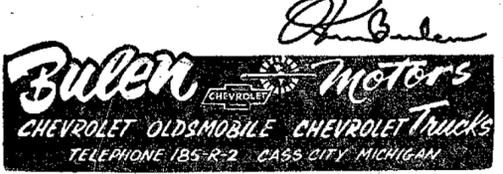

There are more than 400 springs of 175 different kinds in an average car; the two coil springs in front are the largest, the springs in the carburetor are the smallest.

Medical science has prolonged the life of man by I don't-know-how-many years and a good mechanic can do the same for your car. You may not want to keep your car for 70 years but when you're selling it one of the best advertisements will be: it was serviced regularly by the same mechanic. A regular servicing program can save you money, and we'll be glad to show you how.

LIFETIME GUARANTEE ! ! !

We will guarantee your new Chevrolet or Oldsmobile as long as you own it. Gimmick? No. All you must do is, change your oil with Quaker State, none better and only 50c a quart, every 60 days.

Then, if something goes wrong, we pay the bill.

Survey Shows Cass City's Hospitals Big Business

When checking the employment picture in Cass City, two of the larger community industries are often overlooked. They are the Cass City Hospital and Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Together the two facilities hire some 117 persons and attract visitors to the community from many miles away.

Patients from as far as 25 miles and farther are not uncommon and provide a big boost to the business climate of Cass City.

This is National Hospital Week and the theme for the observance this year is "Today's Hospital... Career Center for America's Youth."

In local hospitals job classifications range from accountant to X-ray technician. For every hospital patient there are more than two employees.

In Cass City Hospital in the first three months of the year, 45 babies have been delivered and the 22 employees of the facility have been kept busy with 1,548 patient days of care registered in the three-month period.

Hills and Dales, which has operated for 33 months, has serviced over 5,500 patients. Administrator Dick Palm reports.

In the dietary department an average of 5,000 meals per month are served and much of the supplies is purchased locally for this department.

The hospital maintains its own laundry and processes an average of over 13,000 pounds per month.

In 1962, Palm said, 892 surgical procedures were performed at the hospital.

National Picture

Nationally, hospitals employ more than a million and a half workers in 200 different job classifications, hospital authorities reported.

Parker Wins McDurmon Trophy

Hawks Upset Vassar to Cop Thumb B Track Title Tuesday

Cass City wrestled the Thumb B Conference track title from Hempton Sets Track Record In Dual Meet

Cass City finished first in all but one event (the shot-put) and swept all places in three events to crush Sandusky in a dual meet at Cass City Recreational Park Wednesday, May 8, 88-19.

The meet was highlighted by Walt Hempton's high jump of six feet, one inch for a new record. In a previous meet, Hempton had tied the old mark of six feet . . . Wednesday he cracked the old record and now will be in a position to go after further laurels in regional and state competition.

Biggest individual point producer among the Hawk thinclads was Roger Parker who placed first in the 120-yard high hurdles, the 180-yard low hurdles and ran a leg of the 880-yard relay. He also finished second in the shot-put.

The complete results: 120-yard high hurdles-Parker, CC; Hempton, CC; Goring, S. 16. 100-yard dash-Karr, CC; Rienstra, CC; Hyde, S. 11.05. 880-yard run-Bryant, CC; Bohnsack, CC; Rehberford, CC. 2:11.5. 440-yard run-McIntosh, CC; Rienstra, CC; Hull, S. 55. 180-yard low hurdles-Parker, CC; Hempton, CC; Ross, CC. 2:20.5. 220-yard dash-Rienstra, CC; Winters, S; Pasieczny, CC. 2:33.5. Mile run-Harmon, CC; Shaw, CC; Bullock, CC. 4:55. Mile relay-Cass City, Bryant, Rienstra, Rehberford, McIntosh. 8:44.5. 880-yard relay-Cass City, Parker, Karr, Rienstra, Hempton. 1:37.1. Shot-put-Weber, S; Parker, CC; Kasanke, S. 37' 11 1/2". Broad jump-Bullock, CC; Hyde, S; Karr, CC. 17' 9". High jump-Hempton, CC; Winters, S; Kloc, CC. 6' 1". Pole vault-McIntosh, CC; Henderson, S; Izdorek, CC. 10' 6".

Vassar in a close duel that wasn't settled until the final event of the day. The meet was held Tuesday in Cass City. The Hawks finished with 73 points. Vassar was a close second with 68 1/2 points. Others in their order of finish were: Bad Axe 45, Frankenmuth 34, Marlette 23, Caro 18, Sandusky 12 and Lakera 2 1/2.

On its way to victory Cass City set four Thumb B track records and runner-up Vassar set two new records.

Roger Parker, who was awarded the Clare McDurmon trophy for the "outstanding athlete in the conference," paced the Hawks with record-breaking performances in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 180-yard low hurdles. He shaved .2 of a second off the low hurdle mark and bested the former record of :15.5 in the high hurdles with a :15.25 mark. It was the first time the trophy had been presented.

Walt Hempton set a new mark in the high jump with a leap of five feet, 11 1/8 inches to break the old mark of 5 feet, 9 3/4 inches.

In the pole vault, May of Vassar broke the mark set by Fred Leeson of Cass City with a vault of 11 feet, 11 1/2 inches - 2 1/2 inches better than the previous record. The record is still way below Ed Freeman's jump of 12 feet, 6 inches, the track record.

As expected, Jim Colosky of Vassar set a record in the shot-put with a toss of 52 feet, one inch.

Cass City's mile relay team completed the assault on the records with a time of 8:40.9, breaking the mark of 8:42.9 set by Frankenmuth. Running were Bryant, McIntosh, Dean Rienstra and Harmon.

In addition to the record-breaking performances, Cass City also won a first in the second heat of the 880-yard relay with Bryant running the distance in 2:10.2. Hempton also picked up second place behind Parker in both hurdle events.

Other points were won for Cass City by the following finishes: McIntosh, fourth in the first heat of the 440; Dennis Rienstra, third in the 220; Harmon, second, and Dean Rienstra, third, in the second heat of the 440; Bohnsack, third, and Parrott, fourth, in the first heat of the 880; Shaw, fourth, and Bullock, fifth, in mile run; Cass City second in 880-yard relay; McIntosh, third, and Izdorek, fifth, in pole vault; Dennis Rienstra, third, in high jump.

Cass City Nine Blows Chance For Title Tie

Cass City lost a golden opportunity to climb into a tie for first place in Thumb B Conference baseball Monday when Caro rallied in the last inning for two runs and a 7-6 victory. League-leading Vassar also lost and the status of the top teams remained unchanged.

Cass City went into the seventh inning leading 6-5 when an error by usually reliable Milt Sherrard paved the way for the loss. Gary Kelley was on the mound when the winning runs scored.

In the final analysis, it was a leaky defense the spelled defeat for the Hawks. Cass City was charged with seven errors.

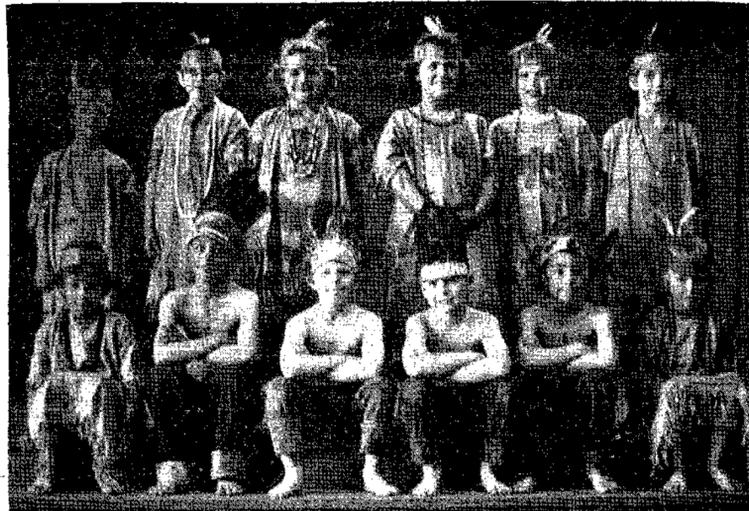

Leading stickers for Cass City at Caro were Jim Knoblet who capped a double and a single in four tries; Jim Champion who socked a three-bagger and a single, and Al Wallace, who duplicated Champion's stickwork.

KOMMENTS BY KRAFT

"Challenge Dad To This One"

By Dave Kraft

I was sitting at the table the other morning and in a fit of self betterment, and because my wife wasn't speaking to me, I started to read what I thought was the comics on the back of the box of cereal.

It turned out not to be comics but a series of "Ideas for Outdoor Living." Now on week ends, the closest I come to outdoor living is when I mow the lawn. As a matter of fact, my whole life is a perfect example of physical unfitness.

In this day of speed reading, speed reducing and like that, it was only a matter of time before we had "quick calisthenics."

This series on the back of the box contained a rope climb, a balance beam and the hop-step-jump.

The rope climb was out. It began "All you need is a strong rope and a tree branch." They forgot to include the most important ingredient... "and some muscles."

Now I don't mean to imply that I don't have any muscles. I'm sure that between both of my arms, I must have a muscle. Everyone has muscles. What am I, some kind of a muscular outcast?

The balance beam was also out. In the first place, I didn't have the material for building one. In the second place, one of the principal requirements of the event is that you duck-waddle across the beam.

Everytime I get into a duck-waddling position, my knees lock. I'd look pretty silly making advertising calls in that position. People would soon come to look down on me. I'd be a sort of a journalistic Toulouse-Lautrec.

The hop-step-jump routine, however, interested me. Under the heading was the instruction: "Challenge Dad to this one."

Since there is no one here to challenge old dad, I took it kind of personal.

You're supposed to build a pit and set up marks and all that jazz, but I figured before I got too far into this thing, I'd better try it out.

The instructions are thusly: You run up to this mark. From the mark, you hop on one leg... then land on same leg. Then immediately leap up on the same leg for the step. Land on other leg and jump from that leg over pit. Then swing other leg up and out to land on both feet as in regular broad jump.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was going a little easy on the Congress for a change and was devoting the program mostly to personal matters.

But Isaac Cornfodder did report he had saw a statement by Senator Symington that the Navy has got enough canned hamburger in storage to last for 59 years and 2 months. Isaac allowed as how he wasn't complaining about this item on account of he knowed this was our regular stockpiling procedure, but he was a little disturbed that they didn't mention no mustard and catchup stored to eat with it.

Ed Doolittle said if it was all the same to Isaac, he'd rather not discuss hamburgers, mustard, catchup and such things. Ed reported he was putting on weight and his old lady was worried about his eating habits. He said she had took to talking about "kalories" and things he ain't heard about till now. Ed claimed his old lady was the champion worrier in seven states and he had always left the worrying up to her. He said it was his insurance agent ulcers.

Anyhow, allowed Ed, his old lady has announced that from now on breakfast is getting cut in half. He told the fellers he didn't eat nothing much for breakfast but 2 eggs over light, some country sausage, a couple hot cakes with molasses, and two cups of coffee. Ed said his big meal come at night.

But from now on, he figured about all he'd git for breakfast was the weather report on radio and had got so's he couldn't understand that half the time. It used to be, he claimed, if it was going to snow or rain the feller on the radio said so, but nowadays everthing is somepun about "percipitation" that don't mean nothing to him one way or the other.

Clem Webster agreed with Ed that things like kalories and percipitation was bad and ought to be agin the law. Bug Hookum was lamenting that our language is getting so fancy it's hard fer a one-gallus feller to understand it. Bug said he recollected reading, when Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher got hitched, the piece said they was "joined in holy wedlock." In the old days, claimed Bug, the papers just said so-and-so took a wife. Of course, allowed Bug, everybody knows it was the other way round, but editors in them days was kind to the wimmen folks.

Zeke Grubb was of the opinion that editors ought to keep matters a little more constant. For instance, he said, when Liz and Eddie split up the papers had ought to report that they was "disjoined in unholy divorce." Anytime, Mister Editor, you want Zeke to come to town and git out your paper, just let him know.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Letter to The Editor

May 11, 1963

Dear Editor:

I note with interest that the Farm Bureau has come up with a new program for wheat growers if and when they defeat the 1964 wheat program in the May 21 referendum.

Here's what they offer:

1. No marketing quotas or acreage allotments. We can grow all the wheat we want to.

2. Price supports based on the higher of (a) the world wheat price for the last three years, or (b) 50 per cent of parity.

3. A provision that CCC wheat stocks can't be sold for less than 115 per cent of the support price plus carrying charges.

4. A voluntary cropland retirement program with minimum three-year contracts. In simple terms, here's what would happen with this kind of program. First of all, we could expect a wheat harvest of 65 to 75 million acres. (We planted 84 million acres in 1949 and 79 million acres in 1953.) We could expect wheat to bring no more than the support price of $1.25 a bushel, and probably a lot less than that at the farm.

With a glut of wheat on our farms, most of it will go into government storage. And it will be there a long time because CCC can't sell it for less than 115 per cent of the support price plus carrying charges. Purchase and storage costs will take an increasingly larger bite out of the tax dollar.

And to top it off, a cropland retirement program with rates set by competitive bidding. Benson took a quick look at that one a few years ago and headed for the Soil Bank because even he was smart enough to see that we'd end up paying a fat price for poor land under such a program.

Surely Farm Bureau knows that neither Congress nor the taxpayer will buy that kind of program. And neither will wheat growers. Instead, I believe most of them will do exactly the same as I'm going to do—vote in favor of wheat allotments.

Because I believe most Michigan farmers are willing to give up an acre or two of wheat to help reduce the surplus if they can get a decent price for their contribution.

Governor Romney Wants to Use Highway Funds to Promote State's Traffic Safety

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Safety First-Second

An apparent move to broaden the use of presently earmarked highway funds has been indicated early by Gov. George Romney. Speaking to a traffic safety group in Lansing before the approval of the new Constitution was even verified by the Board of State Canvassers, Romney called for a study to determine the feasibility of using highway funds to promote traffic safety.

Romney's theory was that since today's roads are designed to encourage safety, the same funds to build them should also be available to preach the subject and conduct research on it. His specific reference was to possible use of the funds to re-establish a Traffic Safety center similar to the one in operation at Michigan State University until last year, when it was cut out of the state budget.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie reared up quickly at Romney's suggestion.

Mackie said he believes it would be "a serious mistake" for the State Legislature to divert highway funds to another agency. Under the new Constitution, however, the earmarking of these funds will end.

The commissioner's fear is that, "When they make the first diversion to a quasi-highway agency, the second one will become that much easier."

This fear is not altogether unjustified, it would appear. There have been some discussions among legislators already that a traffic safety center, driver education, highway police patrols and all other highway-related state programs should be financed by road funds.

While Mackie's complaint about possible "raids on highway funds" was heated at the first public mention of the possibility, his antagonism toward such uses might be lessened if he were assured the new uses were kept in quasi-highway programs.

What Mackie really appears to fear most is that the Legislature will do exactly what the new Constitution gives it the power to do. That is to spend highway funds for all highway purposes "as defined by law."

The list of state government operations which could be construed as "highway purposes" is longer than most would expect. It would certainly be unfortunate if the legislators, many of whom resent the present financial independence of the Highway Department, were to stage a wholesale raid on the funds which would deter the long-range construction plans.

Warn Your Children

The warm weather months bring forth an increase in the incidence of child molestings, but it needn't be so if youngsters are properly advised.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett has asked teachers to provide a special aid to law enforcement officials before Michigan's children begin the summer vacation, when they spend more time playing outside.

"The teacher's cautioning words can sometimes exert more influence in impressing the children than if the warning comes from another source," said Bartlett. The proper words of caution will also reach all children if given in the classroom. This was partly what prompted Bartlett to call on the teachers.

"Children should be cautioned fully against accepting gifts or rides in cars from strangers; against going for walks with people they do not know, and against playing alone or in deserted areas where responsible adult observation is not possible," he said.

Warnings to children about making friends with strangers, whether given by parents or teachers, should also encourage them to report "any unusual attempts that strangers make to become acquainted with them," he said.

Book Worms

Library facilities at state parks and recreation areas will be greatly expanded this year, but the camping facilities at public fishing sites will be reduced, according to Conservation officials.

State Librarian Genevieve M. Casey will be circulating more than 9,000 books for use this summer at 47 state parks and recreation areas. This is the largest number of areas to offer the library service since the program began 15 years ago.

An average of 200 books will be available in the various park libraries, located in the manager's office. New parks adding the service this year are Muskegon in Luce County, Algonac in St. Clair County, and Port Crescent in Huron County.

BOOK REVIEW

It's the Story of Lincoln's Wife

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

THE TRIAL OF MRS. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, by Homer Croy, is the story of the great man's wife and her trial of 'lunacy.' It is told with great understanding and sympathy and this is the first time this sad part of Mrs. Lincoln's life has been chronicled. There was some truth in the accusation that she behaved erratically at times -- but what person does not have periods like that?

She travelled, after her husband's shocking death, accompanied by an ever-increasing number of huge steamer trunks packed full of purchases she made solely because she wanted to be in the world -- not confined to the small hotel rooms into which she moved her husband's picture and her few miserable possessions as she traveled about.

She had, of course, seen her husband die at the hand of Booth. She had also lost three sons and had only one living, Robert Todd Lincoln. But since she did not get along with his wife, she was prohibited from visiting in their house and seldom saw little Mary -- her favorite grandchild. In fact, outside the times she did see her son, her world was made up of strangers -- who found it easy to recall many 'queer' things she had done -- but who, nonetheless, did not refuse to sell her the trunk loads of junk she carted everywhere.

Robert Lincoln, we must assume, acted as he thought it wise to act, as did the others testifying to the 'lunacy' of the president's widow. This part of the trial is all too true of countless people in our society -- placing a 'worn-out' parent in an institution because caring for them at home is both embarrassing and difficult. Thank goodness that era is passing, so that today we learn what older people can do and, with few exceptions, do not need to institutionalize them because of age.

The story is well told and well documented, and the element of suspense is well employed so that, even knowing that she was not proclaimed mentally ill, still we wonder what the verdict will be. Homer Croy is not as well-known here as he is in the West where his novels have more often found their plots. He is easily seen to be a good and thorough researcher, plus a craftsman in his trade.

Mary Todd's background, in its pre-Lincoln days, is described briefly but with modern purpose -- to illustrate the role of environment and (on the other hand) of inheritance. We see little Mary, her mother dead when she was seven, her father aloof and her stepmother inadequate. Croy observes:

"She had these three outstanding traits of character: her love of money, her great desire for possessions and her wish for somebody to protect her."

These make up the skeleton on which the story hangs -- in this very interesting and well-documented tale.

Army Offers Special Program For Future Nurses

The United States Army Nurse Corps is presently in urgent need of 2,000 nurses.

To help fill this need, the Army is offering assistance to talented young men and women in obtaining the educational foundation to become professional nurses.

The student nurse who is qualified for participation in the Army's program would receive financial assistance in his or her last year of nursing education in a diploma program, or the last two years in a college nursing program.

Receiving complete medical and dental care and authorized to make purchases at military commissaries and post exchanges, the Army Nurse Program student also receives full Army pay and allowances and has other Corps privileges. However, while in school, the student nurse would not participate in military activities nor wear a military uniform.

Following graduation, and licensure as a registered nurse, the student who has participated in the Army's assistance program for two years will then serve in the Army Nurse Corps on active duty for 36 months. The participant for one year will serve on active duty for 24 months.

Four months prior to graduation the Army-assisted student will be given the opportunity to list three Army Hospitals in the United States where he or she would like to be assigned. Application for overseas duty may be submitted after arrival at his or her first duty assignment, following a basic orientation course at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

For further information, contact your local United States Army Recruiting Station, or write to: Army Nurse Counselor, c/o United States Army Recruiting Main Station, 6301 West Jefferson Avenue, Detroit 17, Michigan.

Soil Week Shows Land-Water Needs

"We Turn Our Eyes to the Future" is the theme for this year's observance of Soil Stewardship Week, May 19-26, Maynard McConeky, district chairman of the Tuscola County Soil Conservation District, announced.

Soil Stewardship Week is designed to reflect on the pleasures and benefits derived from soil and water.... a time to reflect that these gifts were given for continued use... not just for today.

We should remember, authorities said, that land and water add to our lives and we are expected to be stewards of this heritage.

Modern living places more demands on land and water resources than ever before. Housing spreads from cities over agricultural lands. New industries look for locations where water is plentiful. Nonfarm folks look for open, green places for recreation and relaxation. More and more water is needed as populations swell.

Soil Stewardship Week is designed to call attention to the needs for land and water and the need for preserving them, McConeky said.

Daniel Papp Helps on Stricken Islands

Daniel E. Papp, Jr., shipfitter third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Papp of Cass City, a member of Naval Mobile Construction Battalion Eleven, is presently assigned duty on Guam, Marianas Islands, since Typhoon "Karen" struck the island in November.

Troops were airlifted to Guam within 48 hours after the storm hit, to assist in disaster recovery operations. By January, the restoration phase of recovery was well under control, with Construction Battalion Eleven playing a major part in the operations.

Construction Battalion Eleven's Guam deployment ends in June, when the unit returns to its home base at Port Hueneme, Calif.

Most people learn from experience—others never recover.

Most worry is self-inflicted—many people become victims of their own impatience.

Buy during May and get your choice of either a 50-piece set of stainless or a hand mixer!

Right now, an electric water heater is a bigger bargain than ever! If you buy during May, you can choose either a 50-piece set of Superior Stainless tableware in the popular Super Star pattern by the International Silver Company or a Hamilton Beach MIXETTE portable mixer... absolutely FREE!

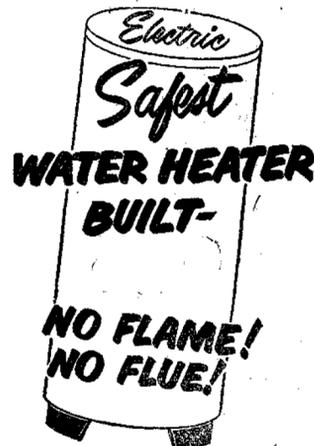

What's more, you get hotter water—only an electric water heater operates regularly and continually at 160° without endangering heater life. The hotter the water, the further it goes, the brighter the tableware, the cleaner the clothes!

You get Edison's money-back one-year guarantee of satisfactory performance. Look for satisfaction guaranteed electric water heaters —at your plumbing contractor's, appliance dealer's or Edison office.
