Age No Handicap

She Lives Alone ... And Likes It

"Time goes by faster than I can count," sighed Mrs. Elizabeth McArthur recently as she was asked to recall some of the notable time in her 90 years of active living ... most of them in the Cass City area.

Looking years younger than her age, Mrs. McArthur was obviously enjoying good health and the party in her honor that included a day off from regular house cleaning chores.

For despite her years, there is still plenty of work to keep Mrs. McArthur busy. She lives alone (by choice) in her modest farm home, three-quarters of a mile north of Deford, and keeps it in spotless condition.

"That's about the only hobby I have anymore," she said. "I don't knit or crochet or any of those other things that some folks my age like to do. I used to knit and make quilts, but gave it up."

Perhaps she doesn't find making quilts interesting because in the early days on the farm she had to make quilts to keep from freezing to death. "It wasn't a hobby," Mrs. McArthur wryly recalled.

Although remarkably alert, she can't brag about it in the family ... she has three sisters who are all in remarkably good health and two brothers still going strong.

The sisters are Mrs. Jennie Rohrbacher, 91, and Mrs. Mary Sweet, 82, both of Pontiac, and Mrs. Margaret Waggoner, 69, of St. Petersburg, Fla. All attended a birthday party in Mrs. McArthur's honor Monday, May 13. In addition, two brothers are living. They are Anson Henderson, 87, of Deford and Crighton Henderson, 76, of Tacoma, Wash.

"Lizzie", as she is known to many of her friends, was feted with a gift and birthday party featuring ice cream and cake.

She recalled that she had seen many changes in the Cass City area since she moved here just two years after the great fire of 1881 with her parents.

Although she and her husband did not homestead the 40-acre farm where she now lives, she has been on the farm for 65 years and doesn't care to leave.

Among her friends at her birthday party were Harriet Rayl, Mary Holcomb, Jean Kilgore, Tressa Biddle, Lena Patch, Hannah Palmateer, Maudy McArthur and four nieces of Mrs. McArthur.

Still Seek Funds

Water Grant Fizzles

Cass City's $75,000 grant for an improved water system under the accelerated public works program of the Federal Government received a serious setback, members of the village council learned this week by letter from J. P. Harris, regional director of community facilities.

According to Harris, the $400 million that the program was allotted has been spent. For this reason the request is "not disapproved even though final action has to be deferred."

The village had thought from previous correspondence that the request had been authorized and would be finalized as soon as the government was shown that the village could raise $75,000 to match the share provided by the government.

Will Still Vote
Accordingly, trustees took steps to receive taxpayers' okay for a $75,000 general obligation bond issue. The vote for this issue will be held June 24.

There will be no change in this plan. The council will still ask for the money. It will be used only if more money becomes available and the Federal grant is authorized.

Taxpayers are reminded that Monday, May 27, is the last day to register to be eligible to vote on the issue. Voters must register with Village Clerk Bill Bridges at the Municipal Building.

Registration with Township Clerk Charles Patterson does not qualify electors to vote in the village election.

86% Vote No Here

Wheat Controls Topple

Michigan's farmers turned down the Kennedy administration's wheat program by a resounding margin and Tuscola county farmers were even more solidly against the program than the rest of the state.

A total of 2,712 votes was cast in the county as small farmers (less than 15 acres) eligible to vote for the first time flocked to the various polling places Tuesday.

A total of 2,340 no votes and 364 yes votes were cast. Only 14 per cent of the county voters were in favor of the program as compared to 25 per cent in the state-at-large.

The defeat of the program nationally boosts the prestige of the Farm Bureau which fought against it from its inception.

Because of the vote, the program now calls for a crop with no limits on acreage or marketings. Price support will be 50 per cent of parity and will amount to about $1.25 per bushel for growers who choose to stay within their acreage allotments.

To put the new program into effect a two-thirds majority would have been needed.

There is a serious over-supply of wheat nationally, but Michigan growers are in a better position. The type wheat grown here is usually not overproduced.

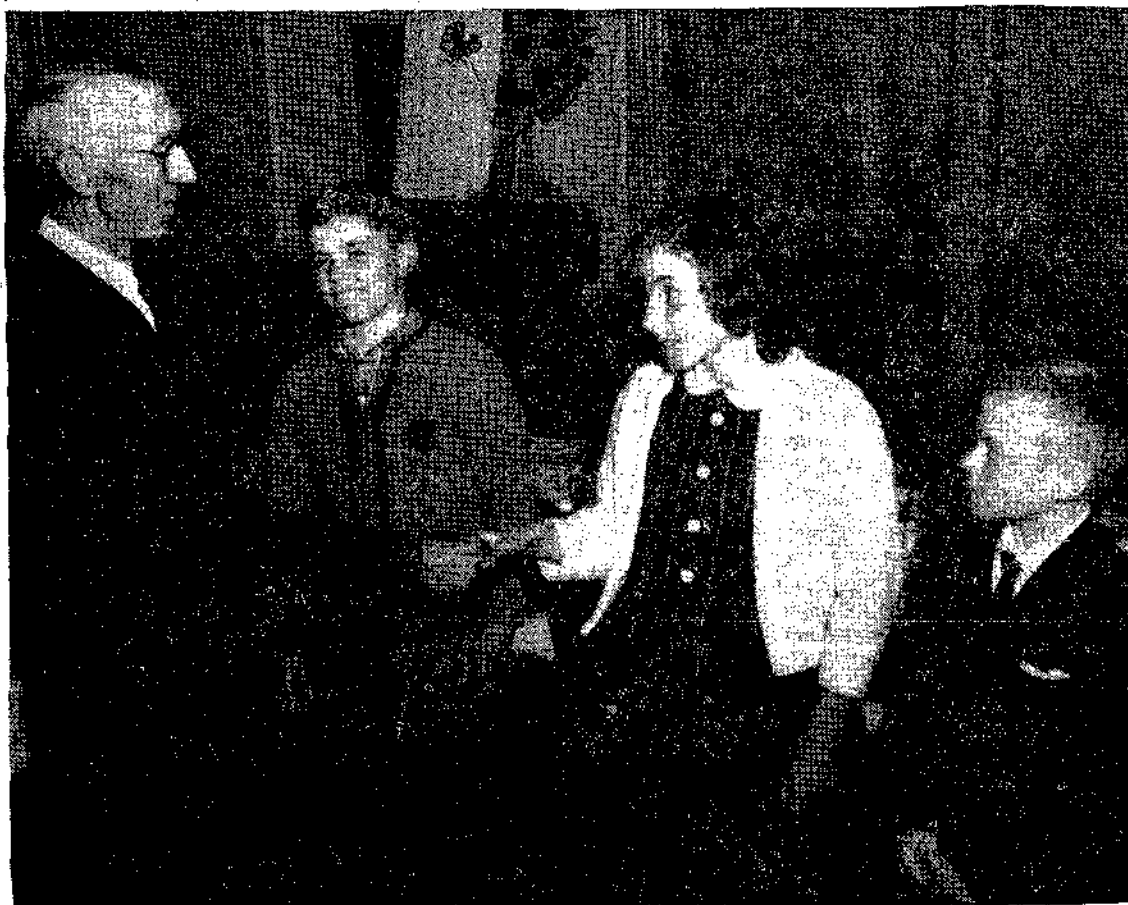

Local Tax Split Told by Board

Schools will receive the same percentage, townships less and the county more, if the preliminary allocations of the Tuscola County Tax Commission are followed after any objections are heard at the hearing for representatives of affected governmental units slated for Tuesday, May 28.

The breakdown of the tax funds are:

County	1962	1963
Townships	4.25	4.4
Schools	1.75	1.5
Intermediate school district	9	9
district		.1

A new appropriation for the intermediate school district (county board of education) was set because under a new law the money Continued on page three.

Foor Applauds Cass City's Wide Streets, Hospitality

Visiting dignitaries from Reading, in Hillsdale county near the Ohio-Michigan line, were royally treated in day-long festivities that marked Mayor's Exchange Day during Michigan Week.

Attending the various functions were Mayor Emmerson Foor and his wife and Councilman Art Giber and his wife.

The quartet was ushered into the community by the Cass City Band and were featured in a parade down Main Street.

Heads of the various civic clubs and the village council attended a meeting staged by the Cass City Rotary Club in honor of the visitors at noon.

Three Cass City students presented brief talks about Michigan. Tom Kolb spoke of Michigan wildlife, Richard Ross told of the history of Cass City and Sandra Schuette of the Mackinac bridge. Mrs. Helen Greenleaf, teacher, introduced the pupils.

Fred Auten, president pro-tem, presented Mr. Foor with a clock-calendar desk set on behalf of the village.

A note of levity was injected when Councilman Giber was "presented" with a dinner jacket and an ancient tie when authorities learned that the couple had left behind a bag with their clothes.

Mayor's Impressions
Foor's most vivid impression of Cass City was its wide streets. We don't have them in Reading and its holding-back a plant that wants to locate ... but we're working on the problem, he said.

Another difficulty facing Reading, Foor explained, is its sewage disposal plant. A new plant is in the talking stage. Although just slightly over 1,100 persons, Reading boasts the largest plant in Hillsdale county. The Wagner Manufacturing Co., which builds harnesses for Ford Motor Co., hires about 550 persons ... about 80 per cent of which are women.

The community has built a Teen Center in a location donated by the Methodist Church. Foor has been on the council for 11 years and hopes to retire at the end of his current term.

Afternoon Program
In the afternoon the wives were entertained at a Zonta tea at the home of Mrs. Almer Krueger and Foor presided over a Cass City council meeting.

Dick Erla, Michigan Week chairman for Cass City, introduced the visiting dignitaries.

Old-Time Building Passes from Main Street Scene

One of Cass City's oldest buildings passed from the Main Street scene this week as the building formerly used by Cass City Oil & Gas was moved from its location at the corner of Main and West Streets.

The building was used as a bank for about two years before being purchased by Cass City Oil & Gas Co.

The removal of the building improves the business corner and fulfills a promise that Cliff Ferguson made to remove his grease rack from village property where it had been located for many years.

From the Editor's Corner

The wee animals' continue to plague the Robert Bassetts.

A couple of years ago, Mrs. Bassett called the Chronicle to say that bees had built a hive and invaded her home and she was unable to get rid of them. We referred her to Agricultural Agent Alfred Ballweg, who suggested a remedy that worked.

This week, Mrs. Bassett called with another problem and said that she had forgotten Ballweg's name. "I've got ants in my cupboards and have tried everything without success."

Answering the distress appeal, Ballweg hustled over to Cass City and samples of the dead ants were sent to Lansing for identification.

When a cure is finally recommended, the Bassetts are hoping it's as successful as the one that banished the bees.

Vinegary John Sandham, a sprightly 85 years old, reports that he spent 15 years on the Cass City School Board and 20 years on the village council and "never received a penny for it," after he read last week about school boards receiving money for their work.

We figured it was a public duty, Sandham said, and that's why we never were paid and is probably why Cass City's board is the lowest paid in the county.

But Improvements Delayed

School Solvent At Year's End

That Cass City Schools will end the school year in the black is probably the most significant fact that emerges from the welter of facts and figures in the financial statement and prognostication for the final months of the school year.

Best guess is that the school will either break even or have up to $9,500 at the end of the year ... when all of the funds due are collected.

Taxpayers trying to rationalize these figures with the demand for a mill and a half for capital improvements should realize that the budget has been balanced because some necessary improvements have been postponed past the time of practicality. The school roof, 10-year-old buses and library room lights are cases in point.

Some two years ago when the school's financial pinch first became acute, the administration shaved about $1,000 a month from operational expenses by omitting some of the "postponable" capital improvements and the move helped to balance the budget.

School's Budget
Today the school is operating on a total budget of around $410,000.00.

Of this, administration and teachers' salaries cost $343,495.09. Building upkeep and other school expenses cost about $60,000 annually.

Even though the school's true financial picture will be as presented, the end of the fiscal year June 30 may show the school is in the "red."

The reason for this is payment from State Aid. Cass City should receive $212,261.72 from State Aid and to date has $66,716.72 due. If payment is not received in time, the school would have to borrow against funds due.

The school also receives tuition payments for students outside the school district. From some $25,000 due from 159 high school students and 18 elementary pupils, a total of $4,612.45 is past due the district.

The state also pays transportation costs under a complicated formula and about $1,600 from $9,664.58 is yet to be collected.

When all these funds are received (authorities say that collection is almost automatic, but sometimes delayed) the school's cash balance will be slightly in the black.

Liner Searches Out Band Instrument

Use the Chronicle liner ads if your child needs a band instrument, so Mrs. Stuart Merchant reports to the office.

She recently placed this ad: Want to buy used cornet. Call after 5 p.m. 872-2041.

Mrs. Merchant ordered the want ad to run for two times but cancelled the second order when she received three calls the first week.

Set Programs for Memorial Day

The program annually held in Cass City to commemorate Memorial Day has again been arranged, according to Edward Golding, Elkland township supervisor, and Barney Freilinger, councilman and co-chairman for the event.

The event will start with a parade at the corner of West and Main streets at 10:30 a.m.

Marching to the Elkland township cemetery will be several local groups headed by the Cass City High School Band.

Among the various organizations participating will be the American Legion, Legion Auxiliary and Cass City Girl and Boy Scout groups.

Master of ceremonies for the day will be Jack Essau. The Rev. Fr. Arnold Messing will deliver the memorial address.

The program at the cemetery will start at 11 a.m.

Grant Program
The annual Memorial Day services at Grant cemetery will be held Sunday, May 26, at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Howland, pastor of the Owendale EUB Church, will be the guest speaker.

The Owen-Gage Band is scheduled to play. Veterans will participate and special music will be furnished by the RLDS Church, Owendale.

Grads Set For Final Whirl

The annual Senior swing-out today (Thursday) at 9 a.m. will herald the start of final activities for the 105 graduating seniors at Cass City High School, one of the largest classes to graduate from the school.

Sunday, the second of traditional events is scheduled when 79 members of the class start on a five-day ship and rail trip to Mackinac Island and Chicago.

The class sails from Detroit at 3:30 p.m. Sunday aboard the SS South American. A stopover is scheduled at the Island Monday and the class arrives in Chicago at 1 p.m. Tuesday, May 28.

While on board the class is entertained with a full program arranged by the steamship line.

In Chicago, the class stays at the Palmer House and tours the city, leaving Chicago by rail Thursday morning, May 30, for Imlay City where they will be transported home by school buses.

Sponsors accompanying the students will be Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ackerman, Rockwell Scherzer and Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer.

Baccalaureate will be Sunday, June 2, and commencement Thursday, June 6.

County Recount Scheduled Tuesday

If the new-count recount for Michigan is not called off, the work in the 16 county precincts is expected to be completed in a day, Clerk Archie Hicks reported this week.

Tuesday, May 28, has been set as the day in the county. However, early returns from other areas recounted have shown no significant changes and many observers feel that there is a good chance that the recount will be cancelled.

Work Starts on Addition to Cass City Hospital

Work started Friday on the addition to Cass City Hospital as members of the board and Administrator Mrs. Bertha Hildinger participated in ground-breaking ceremonies Thursday.

The addition will immediately add nine beds to the maternity ward of the hospital, Mrs. Hildinger said.

The addition will be 44 feet wide and 66 feet long.

The basement and the first floor will not be completed at this time. An elevator for patient use will be installed.

General contractor for the work is Booms Construction Co. of Harbor Beach and completion is expected by fall or before.

Money for the addition was raised through a community-wide pledge campaign and over $100,000 was eventually raised.

Cost of the addition has not been released by hospital authorities.

Early Copy for Holiday Paper

So that Chronicle subscribers can have their paper delivered before Memorial Day next week, the Chronicle will be published early.

Accordingly, all news and advertising copy must be submitted earlier. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

Several Accidents in Area

Trace Car to Find Hit and Run Driver

Herbert S. Glassford, 60, is in critical condition at Hills and Dales General Hospital from injuries received in a hit-and-run accident Saturday at the M-24 bridge south of Caro.

Glassford, who works for the Tuscola County Road Commission, was struck by a car as he was setting flares for warning traffic. Tuesday afternoon he was still unable to give a statement to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

Bad Axe State Police and the sheriff's department, who cooperated on the case, have taken Ray Elmig of Caro into custody on a preliminary charge of driving without a license. More serious charges are being withheld until Glassford is able to give a statement.

Elmig was traced to the scene from a report of eyewitnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knoodle of Akron, who reported seeing a Pontiac car at the scene of the accident.

Police traced Elmig to his home by running down the Pontiacs in the area. A piece of material was found on the car and it matched the pants of the victim, police said.

Elmig, in a statement to authorities, said he felt a bump, looked back but failed to see anyone ... he said that he thought he hit the side of the bridge.

Glassford was thrown to the side of the road by the accident and was discovered by this group of Caro youths who were driving by: Danny Schell, Richard Jacques and Terry Burrows.

Cass City Police Chief Carl Palmateer issued a summons to Charles D. McPhail, 20, of Owendale for failing to yield the right-of-way in an accident at the corner of Doerr Road and West Main street Friday.

McPhail, driving north on Doerr road, stopped for the Main street corner but failed to see a car

Pupils Red Faced About Red Paint

Four Millington High School students have red faces this week after they painted the town red last week end. Sheriff Hugh Marr reports that two minor boys and two girls had admitted taking red paint and doing their best to paint the township.

Their night work included a huge banner saying Millington High School, followed by an obscene word over the front of the town hall and the painting of a number of stop signs.

Disposition of the cases has not yet been decided, Marr said.

Chevy II Nova 400 6-Passenger Station Wagon

A Chevy II wagon looks this big when you load it up and this big when you gas it up

That, in the eyes of most Chevy II wagon owners, is just about the size of it. A king-size appetite for cargo. But a dainty one for gas. And this, we hardly need add, is just the kind of wagon we planned it to be. Taut and trim as it is on the outside, we went to great lengths to keep it BIG where a wagon should be BIG. The load platform extends a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate.

And for all the pepper we packed into that 6-cylinder engine (there's also a choice of an even thrifter 4 in most models), we were careful to keep it simple, easy to service—and a real stickler on economy.

Feel in a traveling mood? Well—happy coincidence—this is the time of year your Chevrolet dealer feels in his most generous trading mood. Looks like it's high time you two got together.

Letters to Editor

The Chronicle welcomes letters to the editor. In most instances letters will be printed in full. However, the paper reserves the right to edit letters to fit space requirements. All letters must be signed.

Dear Editor:

Like so many others, I am anxious to be justifiably proud of all parts of our fine town. When a job needs to be done, Cass City has a reputation of doing it. That very reputation that called me to Cass City appears to be at stake. I speak now of the school system. It is, of necessity, operating in the past and I believe giving our youth a passe education. Facilities are in need of repair, heating, roof and structure all crying for the care it deserves. The school board has been forced into long debate between asking for 1, 1 1/2 or 2 mills in order to keep a minimum standard. It is so easy for the voters to say No to a local school tax issue. It has been done and redone locally. In fact, it is a source of laughs in other Thumb communities.

Our citizens have only to hear our college students say they feel our school failed them and a twinge of pain should be felt in every No voter in our district.

It is time for the new people who want better things for themselves and their children to band together with the progressive people of the Cass City area and vote Yes when the opportunity comes on June 11th.

One step further, new younger blood is asking for a chance at the thankless job on the school board. They have shown talent and interest and are capable of doing a good job. It would help a great deal to vote for them.

I have moved here from a community larger, but a town that wants for its youth the finest facilities and education possible. They are living for today and tomorrow when the youth will be our leaders. We too should do the same but it takes the effort of saying yes and doing our part. Please help.

Most Sincerely,
 Tom Proctor

Fabulous Trip for Marsha Boosts State's Farm Products

State Bean Queen Miss Marsha LaFave, 19, of Owendale and three other Michigan beauty queens will return home Saturday after a fabulous week touring the east in a jaunt that is equally rewarding to boosters of Michigan's farm products.

With Miss LaFave are Gayle C. Robinson, 19, of Sparta, the apple queen; Geri Ann Glidden, 18, of Mattawan, blossom queen, and Geri Sue Schmidt, 20, Farmington, cherry queen.

According to Marsha's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murl LaFave, the girls left for Chicago from Lansing where Gov. George Romney saw them off.

From Chicago the group headed for Nashville, Tenn., where they appeared on the "Grand Ole Opry" show.

Highlight of the day Monday was a congressional breakfast at Washington, D. C.

On Television

The girls taped a program Tuesday in New York for "Play Your Hunch" and it is slated to be shown today (Thursday) over channel five at 10:30 a.m.

Wednesday, they taped a radio show with Arthur Godfrey to be heard at a later date. Later that day they visited the "Queen Elizabeth" at dock in New York.

The girls were also interviewed for Seventeen magazine and Friday Miss LaFave will present the governor of Massachusetts a bag of Michigan navy beans.

The girls are scheduled to return home Saturday.
 Marsha is a freshman at Central Michigan University. She plays the piano, sings and dances. The queens are selected on the basis of poise and intelligence, as well as beauty.

The girls' expenses are paid by the Michigan Agriculture Department and various farm associations. Total cost is annually around $3,500.

The queens will be seen by nearly 35 million persons and will be plugging Michigan products, farm authorities said. "We feel that the exposure is worth more than a million dollars."

Chiropractor Cites Method Of Keeping Fit

By Dr. E. P. Lockwood
 Chiropractic adjustments will release the vital nerve forces that are required to keep your resistance up to par. You have within you all the resisting power you need but that power is of no service to you so long as it does not reach every part of your body.

As long as there is nerve impingement the flow of vital force to the various organs will be interrupted. Chiropractic is a natural method by which to keep strong and healthy. Thousands of individuals have been restored to robust health and vigorous activity by the application of its principles. Achievement in restoring sick people to health merits your consideration, investigation and trial.

Every man, woman and child should realize the tremendous health value that occurs by keeping the spine in normal condition. Disease is lack or excess of function in any part of the body. All function is controlled by mental impulses from the brain.

Therefore, the cause of disease must be interference with the line of communication between the brain and the diseased part. It necessarily follows that the only permanent way to do away with the disease is to adjust its cause and thus restore the communication. Chiropractors do this by adjusting the vertebral misplacements that cause the obstruction.

(One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific chiropractic, written by Dr. E. P. Lockwood whose office is located at Cass City, Tel. 872-2765).

CAR COLORS

Almost everyone can remember the days when the standard color for automobiles was black. You expected a car to be black just as refrigerators today are white. Twenty years ago, black was the color of 75 per cent of the cars made; today only 10 percent of our cars are black.

Liveller shades on automobile bodies only became practical in 1939 when the development of titanium and cadmium increased the durability of auto paint by 400 percent.

Now that almost any shade of exterior finish is possible, psychologists are starting to develop theories about automobile colors - and I'll pass them along for what they're worth. You can try them out on your own car, or on the cars at our lot.

First of all, two-tone color jobs are supposed to make a car look longer and lower.

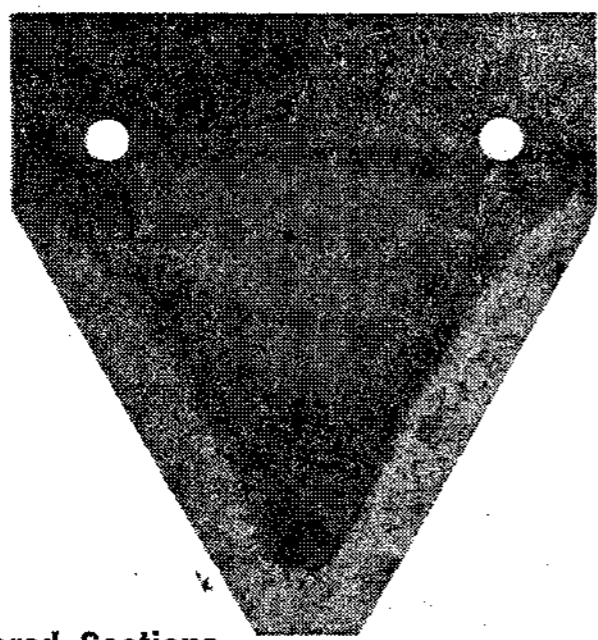

Colors at the red end of the spectrum make a car look bigger, the psychologists say, while colors at the blue end make it look smaller. At the same time they say that dark colors tend to make a car look smaller and heavier, but light colors make a car look larger and lighter.

The durability of car paints that came with the application of titanium and cadmium has been a great boon to the used car buyer. That showroom shine lasts a lot longer these days, and especially on cars that have been given reasonable care.

General Motors cars painted with "LUCITE", Acryllis Laquer retain their showroom shine for up to three years. All that's required is washing with cold water. Waxing is not required, but should help.

When this paint first appeared it was an "extra cost option", now standard on all GM Cars. Just a sample of the extra value built into today's cars.

Hawks Cop Regional Track Title

Prepare for State Finals Saturday

Although hopes are high that Cass City's thinclads will win points in Saturday's state finals at the University of Michigan, most authorities feel that the Hawks' chances of coping a state title are slim.

But win or lose, it has been a successful season for Cass City. Saturday they added the regional crown to the Thumb B Conference title they won Tuesday, May 14.

They took the title from Vassar, the defending champion, who finished second. The margin was wider than it was in the conference meet when Cass City and Vassar finished first and second.

Cass City totaled 57 points and Vassar, 49 1/2.

The remaining nine teams finished in the following order: Bad Axe 24 2/3, Saginaw Buena Vista 22 11/18, Caro 15 2/3, Bridgeport and Douglas MacArthur 7, Millington 4 1/2, Yale and Cros-Lex, 4 1/9 and Sandusky 1/9.

New Records

Three new meet records were set. Jim Colosky of Vassar broke his own record in the shot-put with a toss of 53 feet, 4 1/2 inches. Roger Parker, Cass City, set a record in the low hurdles with a :21.45 mark. Walt Hempton, Cass City, set a record in the high jump at 6 feet, 1/2 inch.

Parker's record was set despite a 25 to 35-mile-per-hour head wind, with gusts to 50 miles per hour, that track officials estimated slowed straight races about a second and others about three seconds. Colosky also won the broad jump and Parker the high hurdles. They were the only double winners at the meet.

The complete results:

120-yard high hurdles—Parker, CC; Hempton, CC; Brittain, BV, :16.5.

Cass City's Share Of Road Funds Up for Quarter

Revenues from first quarter collections of the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund are up a little over six per cent in comparison with a similar period from the previous year, John C. Mackie, Highway Commissioner, reported this week.

Cass City's share was up from $6,645 to $7,021 for the quarter. Other villages in the area showed the following increases: Kingston from $1,700 to $1,794 and Gageton from $2,319 to $2,436.

Tuscola county received $290,027 for the first quarter last year as compared to $308,348 this year. Sanilac county's share was $297,239 and Huron county received $282,215.

Mackie said the receipts were up because more 1963 license tabs were purchased than in the previous year when new plates were bought earlier.

The money collected is divided: 47 per cent to the State Highway Department, 35 per cent to the counties and 18 per cent to cities and villages.

The money must be used for roads and streets.

READY FOR SATURDAY'S state finals are these Hawk thinclads who qualified at Saturday's regional meet in Cass City.

stra and Roger Karr. Kneeling are: Walter Hempton, Dennis Rienstra, Mike Bryant, Bob Harmon and Dave Bullock. Dale McIntosh, who also qualified, was absent when this picture was taken.

Full Gas Tank Prevents Serious Tractor Fire

The Elkland Township Fire Department credited a full gas tank for averting what could have been a serious tractor fire Monday noon at the Harold Deering farm near Deford.

The tractor burst into flames when gas spilled as the tank was being filled and was ignited by a welding torch. Deering was welding the seat on the tractor. The entire gas tank was enveloped in flames. Because the tank was full, firemen theorized, the fumes did not cause an explosion.

The wiring of the tractor and its battery were damaged. More annoying is rust in the gas tank. The intense heat on the tank loosened the rust and it clogs the gas line and the tractor stops after running briefly.

Lose Home

The Carl Ruso family are temporarily making their home with the William Ashmore family in Gagetown after a fire completely razed their home in Wisner Tuesday, May 7.

The blaze, thought to have been started by an exploding stove, broke out while the family was not at home. Before it was discovered, it raged out of control, taking the home and all of the contents.

The amount of the loss was not revealed. The Ruso family are former residents of the Gagetown area.

Local Scouts at "Fitness" Jamboree

Cass City Eagle Patrol - Troop 194 won second place in a physical fitness camporee Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Camp Pine Acres for scouts in Huron and Tuscola counties. Millington annexed the championship, Port Hope was third and Unionville, fourth.

It was one of the largest events in scouting in recent years. A total of 228 scouts from 10 troops attended. Events included three running events, the broad jump and an obstacle course.

Awards were presented Saturday night at a campfire. Each troop received a participation ribbon for troop flags and each boy received a camporee emblem.

Student Prof Should Reduce Size of Classes

In an effort to better the instruction in the seventh and eighth grades at Cass City High School, school authorities are attempting to bring a practice teacher into the system next year from Central Michigan University.

The plan, said to have been used with some success in other schools, calls for a student with three years' college training to spend a semester at the school.

The teacher will work primarily in English classes, which today have more students than is considered good for proper teaching.

The addition to the staff would probably also conduct special reading classes and tutor students who need it, taking the workload from some of the overtaxed regular teachers, according to Principal Arthur Holmberg.

Holmberg also said that the new teacher could conduct classes for students who are presently in the study hall more hours than necessary because of lack of teachers to work them into more class schedules.

Hiring of the teacher, if one is found available, will be an experiment in Cass City . . . it was authorized at the last meeting of the school board.

Behind every successful man lies good management and superior judgement.

COMMENTS BY KRAFT

These Two Are Really Bugging Me

By Dave Kraft

"And now we interrupt this program for an important message from our sponsor." These 13 words preface the cure to all our social, economic, health and miscellaneous problems, if we are to believe the television hucksters.

It is probably the most often repeated line in the English language. The only other line that might be used more often is the line I used to hand my wife before we got married... and you know where that got me.

There are two commercials that follow that line that are currently bugging me. They're soap commercials and I know from long experience that I shouldn't watch soap commercials, but sometimes they catch me off guard.

One of them is the giant in the washing machine and the other is a little white tornado that keeps following this lady home.

The one about the giant begins with two little kids arguing: "My mommy has a giant in her washer," says one. "Aw, you're kidding," says the other.

A better line for the second kid might be: "So what. Wait'll you see what my daddy has locked in his desk drawer." Now there's a real attention getter.

The next scene shows a big hand coming out of the washing machine. The mother stands there, calm and reserved. A neighbor lady who just happens to be there, screams, "Look out, there's a giant in your washing machine." Then the other lady comes on with something like, "Relax, it's a friendly giant," and everything is okay.

I don't know about you, but I, for one, don't want any giants, friendly or not, living in my washing machine. Besides, this just points out the low opinion the hucksters have of the consumer. You and I know darn well you can't get a giant small enough to fit in a washing machine... Not these days anyway.

The next scene shows the hand holding a box of the product. The mother walks over, completely unafraid, and takes the box from the proffered hand. Now, right here I'd change the script. I'd either have the hand grab the mother and throttle her or have it suck her into the machine and wash the living Dickens out of her. Anything to give her a proper fear of giants.

The whole thing smacks of loose living to me. I suspect the mother has been carrying on an affair and when the neighbor came over, she told her paramour to hide in the washing machine, which is pretty stupid. That's the first place I'd look.

She probably forgot he was in there and turned the machine on by mistake. The hand coming out of the machine is the typical gesture of a man going down for the third time.

Right about then would be a good time to go into the living room, turn on the TV and watch commercials.

The one that really insults me is the white tornado bit. The wife comes home from shopping, groceries in arms. She confronts her husband, who has been trimming either the hedge or his toenails. He sees the white tornado raising havoc in the top of the grocery bag.

"Hazel," he screams (everybody screams in commercials) "There's a white tornado in your grocery bag." Now here stands old Hazel, grocery bag at eye level, and old hedge-trimming George thinks she can't see a white tornado in the middle of it.

There are a couple of inaccuracies in the thing already. One, no self-respecting wife would carry the groceries from the car to the house when a perfectly good husband is standing nearby.

Two, no self-respecting husband would be out trimming the hedge while his wife is away. He'd be out with the boys or in the house on the couch grabbing some sack time.

Right after the husband screams, he makes like to run away. The wife stops him, however, with a word of assurance, "It's okay, George. It's a friendly tornado." (Here we go again.)

I'll tell you one thing, if that were me, I wouldn't have run. If some dinky white tornado thinks he's going to intimidate me, he's full of hot air.

I'd just walk over to that white tornado with my hedge trimming shears and cut him off where his wind starts.

I could go on but I think you see the point I'm trying to make. It is my contention that if we television watchers joined forces we could beat this problem.

If you have any suggestions, get in touch with me and we'll see what we can do. But not right now... it's time for me to watch my favorite commercial.

Edward Golding of Cass City is the owner of a grade Red Dane cow, Spring, which produced 18,916 pounds of milk and 681 pounds butterfat to top the list in the 305-day records class for the month of April, according to Alfred Ballweg, county extension director. Other dairymen having cows which produced 86 pounds or over in this class are Clayton Rohlf and Sons, Fairgrove; Ronald Opperman, Vassar; Ben Loeffler, Reese; Ronald Hampshire, Deford; Clinton K. Blackmore, Vassar; Carl Bauer, Reese; William Parrott, Cass City; Alfred Cooklin, Deford; Mrs. Fanny Hutchinson, Cass City; Don Koepfgen, Cass City, and Howard Loomis and Sons, Gagetown.

Clarence Merchant is owner of the top herd which produced an average of 59 pounds fat. The herd of Ronald Hampshire, Deford, took second place with 56 pounds fat. Other herds which produced an average of 45 pounds fat or over are those owned by Ben Loeffler, Reese; Don Koepfgen, Cass City; Clinton K. Blackmore, Vassar; Howard Loomis and Sons, Gagetown; Gerald Miller, Unionville; Mrs. Joyce Burdon, Gagetown; Quibro Farm, Caro; Lloyd Walz, Vassar; Charles Crittenden, Kingston; Blaylock and Rupprecht, Vassar; Carl Bauer, Reese, and Ronald Opperman, Vassar.

Idle young men are sometimes needy old men in the making.

Dear Mister Editor:

My cousin Hiram mailed me a clipping last week explaining all about the new Kennedy budget that the Congress is debating. This piece tells everything in detail, four-square and gospel clear, it's the first time I've known for certain what was heads and what was tails in this matter.

Hiram is a backwoods Republican, but the man doing the explaining in this piece is a White House expert named Walter Heller and I feel pretty shore he is a Harvard Democrat, so this balances off the piece and makes it non-partisan and a authority on the subject.

He says our 8 billion dollar debt in 1962 was bad, in fact it was so bad he calls it a "deficit of weakness." And the reason he says it was bad is on account of it was a mistake, that the Government planned a surplus in 1962 and anything the Government didn't plan is bad. But he explains that by increasing the debt in 1963 what we got is a "deficit of strength" on account of hiking spending and cutting taxes and the Government planning it that way. He says anything the Government plans is good. Furthermore, he explains that with a 8 billion dollar deficit many factories and workmen is idle, but with a "deficit of strength" they would be put to work.

I was explaining these matters to the fellers at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle allowed as how everything was now crystal clear to him. Ed said we couldn't git this country moving ahead by just borrowing the same amount ever year, if we borrowed 8 billion last year, 10 billion sounded like a pritty reasonable figger to him fer 1963. Ed is all fer progress, Mister Editor.

Zeke Grubb reported he ain't got around to working on the Kennedy budget yet, said all his time has been took up lately trying to figger out a item in one of his pamphlets from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Zeke had the item in his pocket and he got it out and read it to the fellers.

How Valuable Is Local Newspaper Advertising To Local Business People?

Here's What the American Bankers Magazine Has To Say:

"No business man or woman in any town should allow a newspaper to go to press without his or her name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half, or even a quarter page advertisement in each issue of the paper, but your name and address should be mentioned, if you do not use more than several inches of space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town... it's the best possible town advertiser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself and definitely to the town."

figgered, according to this item, that if a family buys in big amounts, a man and his old lady and two younguns can eat fer 5 per cent less than three, 10 per cent less than two, and a full 20 per cent cheaper than one.

These experts claims a small family can't take advantage of big quantity prices on account of they git caught with too much spoilage and left-overs. Clem Webster said this was very valuable information and that he aimed to start the new system right away. He figgered he'd fall in about the 8 per cent class on account of his old lady was a little heavy on the eating. But he reported the spoilage and left-overs wouldn't be no problem, he'd just give 'em to the hogs.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

IT SEEMS TO ME Americans Taste Better—2 to 1

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

In a serious discussion in the House of Lords in Parliament the other day, Lord Shackleton informed his co-workers that Englishmen taste better than Americans. He based his findings on a survey of Polynesian cannibals who no longer allow their tribes to eat Americans because "they are bitter and their fat is contaminated." I just know that some Madison-Avenue ad executive is now working on an ad jingle that will state that "Americans taste better, two-to-one" -- or so it seems to me.

Our TV aerial came down during a recent windstorm and the set worked almost as well without the mass of metal as with it. Has the American people been fooled all this time about the benefits of TV aerials? Channel 5 seemed as good as ever and the balance as bad as ever -- or so it seemed to me.

In an article entitled "Pornography, Sex and the Church" in The Christian Century of May 1, Ralph Cannon suggests some titles I here pass on to you: "Now It Can Be Told: What the Serpent Really Said to Eve"; "The Decline and Fall of Bathsheba, Or One Bath Too Many"; and the final offering "Delilah's Dilemma, or Samson, Are You Still Using That Greasy Kid Stuff?"

Incidentally, the article is a fine one, suggesting five ways in which Church people can act to clean up sex-dominated publications. Our church youth groups, it is suggested, can work cooperatively and beneficially to put on youth programs in this field annually!

Men! To Arms!
 It seems that both the Republican and Democratic Party platforms in 1960 promised to seek laws guaranteeing equal pay to women for equal skills and jobs. Yipes! First thing you know some stupid scientist will let the cat out of the bag about the equal ability of the feminine portion of our population. Why else do most men work? Because of the little woman! Next thing you know, they'll (women) be wanting to vote... and fish on their days off. Or so it seems to me.

Robert Welch, founder and chairman of the now infamous John Birch Society, now believes that there are Communists in the JBS! It was bound to happen -- there just haven't been enough presidents of the US to pick on -- Welch having declared Truman, F. D. Roosevelt and Eisenhower Red as Communist rain, not to mention the late Secretary of State Dulles and CIA director Dulles (brothers), Chief Justice Earl Warren and Dr. Milton Eisenhower (brother to Ike). I don't suppose that any members of the Society are able to read this column or I would have to warn my brother about this strange illness Welch sees creeping over our nation! I wouldn't mind any label Welch pinned on me but it seems to me my brother has a right to protest that he doesn't even eat Mr. Welch's candy!

THE FAMINE MAKERS, dealing with why China is facing starvation, written by Valentin Chn (no, he's not related to the nasal commander, Ah Chn!) calls us to a concern for those in need when we have a surplus. I have received a copy of Chn's serious discussion but have not had time to read it. I would like to observe, however, that I find it more and more difficult to see our over-filled granaries on the one hand and hear of people starving on the other hand. Must we play it like the Russians and make doubly sure that only our friends (meaning those that vote on our side in the UN) are fed, and let all else die of starvation? Seems to me the Bible has a story about a man who fed his brothers although they had previously sold him into slavery. Was he crazy, or a man of God?

Named Secretary Of Ladies' Group

One of the highlights of the annual achievement day of the Sanilac county home economics extension May 14 was the installation of new officers.

Secretary for the organization is Mrs. Clark Auslander of Shabbona. Other officers are: Mrs. Chester Sadowy, chairman, Sandusky; Mrs. Jesse Withey, vice-chairman, Peck, and Mrs. Ray Albrecht, treasurer, Crosswell. Mrs. Phil Smith of Decker is a new council member. Also honored were ladies who have been longtime members of the organization. The group included Mrs. John Waun of the Snover group who has been a member for 35 years.

You can count on it—the only people who listen to both sides of an argument are the neighbors.

Heart Disease Still Leads List of Death-Dealing Maladies

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Infant Mortality

Continued emphasis on good prenatal care brought about another drop in the number of infant and maternal deaths during the past year, but infant immaturity and congenital malformations remained among the "Top 10" killers in Michigan during the period.

State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis noted diseases of the heart remained the leading cause of death in Michigan.

Various heart ailments accounted for approximately two-thirds of the increase in deaths from the previous year. Provisional reports compiled by the Health Department's statistics division showed the total number of deaths from all causes increased from 67,118 in 1961 to 69,743 last year. Heart disease accounted for 1,722 of the increase in deaths.

Heustis noted there were no changes in the ranking of the 10 leading causes of death. All showed slight increases, except congenital malformations which ranked eighth and infant immaturity, ninth-ranked.

Maternal deaths, which were not actually in the top 10, dropped during the year from 76 to 55, while infant and fetal deaths from all causes showed a decline of 269 in 1961.

Other leading causes, behind the 27,068 heart disease deaths, were cancer, strokes, accidents, pneumonia and influenza, diabetes, arteriosclerosis, malformations, immaturity and cirrhosis of the liver.

Visit From Afar

Blowing its own horn for taking hold of a good idea is the position where the Michigan Press Association finds itself.

Early this year Pierre Salinger, Presidential news secretary, noted at the association's annual meeting that usually foreign newsmen see only New York and Washington, D. C., because there is no effort made to show them other parts of the country.

Latching onto this idea, MPA members joined in an effort with John W. Crawford, of the Michigan State University division of mass communications, to make one attempt to disprove Salinger's observation.

The result was a recent visit to Michigan by three United Nations correspondents: Dr. Sabina Leitzmann of Frankfurt, Germany; George E. Enniff of the Ghana News Agency, and Vladimir Bogachev of the Russian news agency, TASS.

The trio spent two days on the MSU campus at East Lansing, where they spoke to journalism classes and held a press conference.

Then the three split up for a single day's visit. Leitzmann went to Sebawa as guest of the Sebawa Blade-Crescent. Enniff went to Vicksburg to be entertained by Meredith Clark, publisher of the Vicksburg Commercial, and Bogachev traveled to Whitehall with Louis J. Berman, an MSU staff member and publisher of the Whitehall Forum.

This unique project designed to increase international understanding through professional ties could profitably be expanded.

Model Parents

Leadership, consistency, patience, understanding and perception are attributes needed in one special variety of people. It may well be that you fall into this category.

According to Dr. Troy Stearns of the Michigan State University College of Education, every parent needs to have great quantities of these attributes, as well as other characteristics.

"Parents must set a good example for children to follow, and then be patient as the child attempts, in his own way, to follow this example," he said.

Look at the record... FORD'S WAY OUT FRONT IN PERFORMANCE AND DURABILITY!

Ford's the one to watch this year! The record proves today's great Super Torque Ford is certain to be a better car for the kind of driving you do every day. It's a standout road car!

Performance and durability make a combination that's hard to beat. Mechanical failure forced some pretty hot performers to quit at Riverside... Daytona... Atlanta... Bristol. Fords won them all—proving it takes more than speed and acceleration. It takes durability, too. Open competition is a speeded-up test program. It tests brakes... suspension... cornering... steering... roadability. It tests total performance. And Ford delivers—not only in competition, but in your kind of driving, too. See your Ford Dealer for the proof—sample total performance for yourself.

Riverside, Calif. A '63 Super Torque Ford crossed the finish line first in a field of 40 cars. This 500-mile event is run over a twisting, turning 2.7-mile sports-car track.

Daytona, Fla. In the toughest 500-mile event of the season, Fords came in 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th. Over half the starters in a field of 50 at Daytona never even finished.

Atlanta, Ga. Score another big win for Ford in open competition—the Atlanta 500. Atlanta's 500 miles equal, roughly, the wear and tear of 100,000 miles of ordinary driving.

Bristol, Tenn. This 250-mile event on a half-mile track is one long, continuous left turn. Fords finished 1st and 2nd—another dramatic victory for total performance.
