

DANNY COPELAND became Tuscola County's first gravel pit drowning victim this year Wednesday, June 5, at Green's gravel pit, two miles east of Caro on East Dayton Road.

Pit Swim Fatal for Danny Copeland

Tragedy struck in the few moments that it took Mrs. Stuart Copeland, Kingston, to go to her car and get a blanket and return to the shore of Green's gravel pit. When she left, her son Danny was wading in the water near the edge of the pit and when she returned he was gone.

He drowned and never reappeared until Kenneth Jensen of Millington, a skin diver, recovered the body in 35 feet of water 2 1/2 hours later.

How the boy was lost will never be definitely known. The family theorized that perhaps he waded into a hole or was lost while attempting to swim. Danny was unable to swim but was fond of lying on his stomach in the water.

It was the second drowning in two years at the gravel pit and one of four that occurred in county pits during the past two swimming seasons.

Danny was born July 20, 1954, in Cass City.

Surviving, besides his parents, are: a brother, Curt, and a sister, Lori Lou, and many other relatives in the Cass City area, including his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cope-

The raise in rates at the Cass City Pool was of brief duration. The increase was unauthorized and the park committee decided that it should be left the same as last year. Pay periods will be a dime and cards for the season $5.00. The cards will be available when the pool opens Saturday.

Judging by the results of special elections for funds at other area schools, Cass City can consider itself lucky to have more money for operating the school.

Extra millage propositions in four Huron county districts, including Gagetown-Owendale school, and in Caro and Deford were turned down.

However, a new gym for Deckerville School was given the green light in Monday's balloting.

A story in the Memorial Day paper told how flags had been placed on veterans' graves for over 50 years in Cass City. Mrs. A. A. Ricker volunteers the information that the vets have been remembered much longer than that. I know that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union made bouquets for the graves at least 60 years ago, she said, and probably much longer than that.

The complete story on the furnace for Cass City School will probably be learned next week. A former Cass City resident, "Oz" Doerr, now one of the ace trouble-shooters for Wicks Corporation, will be in town next week to give his recommendations for a new unit.

Owendale-Gagetown Nixes Fund Levy

Owendale-Gagetown voters nixed a proposal for a two-mill levy for one year for a sinking fund for construction and repair. The vote was 108 yes and 143 no.

A proposal to increase the tax limitation lost 144 to 104.

Leo Seuryck was re-elected to the board of the school without opposition.

Reid, Prieskorn Elected

Okay Levy For School

In a surprisingly light vote Monday, Cass City School District electors authorized a 1 1/2-mill tax for three years for capital improvements at the school.

The vote was held in conjunction with the regular election of members to the school board. Incumbent Don Reid and Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn were elected.

Only 568 votes were cast as compared to over 1,000 votes in the last election when the school asked for money.

The light vote was one of the two principal reasons why the tax bill passed on its fourth try, some observers said. The other, authorities theorized, was because the board listed the improvements needed and showed where they intended to spend the money. The largest single item was a new boiler ($25,000) and the necessity for the improvements was given added weight when the furnace blew up a few days before school was to have ended for the year.

Plan of Action

Superintendent Willis Campbell cautioned taxpayers not to expect to see all of the improvements listed by the board accomplished immediately. "You must remember," he said, "that the school will not receive the first installment of the extra money (about $23,000) until April, 1964."

Regardless of the availability of the voted funds, the school board will act at once on two major items of repair... the school roof and the new boiler.

Joy Ride Proves Costly

The four Caro High School seniors who buzzed around the Cass City schoolyard May 24 found that disregarding the driving regulations can be expensive.

They were summoned to Cass City Justice Court and each paid a fine and costs of $9.30 after pleading guilty to the charge Saturday.

The youths fined were: Katherine Mary Brock, Nicholas Biel, Maxey Jay Andress and Robert Marion Wazsak.

The students were hauled into court after Superintendent Willis Campbell signed a complaint with Tuscola County Sheriff's officers.

Each of the students testified that they entered on the south side of the school and were not aware of the sign posted on the north side, telling of the driving restrictions.

Other Cases
Police Chief Carl Palmateer issued tickets to Gary John Jackson, 20, of Tyre and Jerry R. King, 19, of Cass City for reckless driving on Main Street.

Jackson, who had a record of previous complaints, pleaded guilty June 4 and was fined $50 and costs of $4.30. King pleaded guilty June 10 and paid a fine and costs of $29.30.

Free Movies Off To Flying Start

The free movies for children 12 years old and under, sponsored by Cass City merchants, opened Friday night and Theatre Manager Dick Hendrick reported that many children attended.

Because of the length of double features, the silver dollar giveaway will be held between features and the film most attractive to children will be shown first.

In that way parents who want their children out of the show around 9:15 p.m. can pick them up right after the drawing, Hendrick said.

The show is free to kids 12 and under with tickets from participating merchants, but adults can attend by paying the regular admission price, according to the manager.

Schwaderer to Attend Institute

Ernest Schwaderer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schwaderer of Cass City, is one of 28 teachers to receive tuition scholarships to the University of Michigan's Summer Institute.

The Institute is for teachers of English and will be held from June 24 through Aug. 2. It is sponsored by the University's department of English.

Schwaderer taught this year in Bad Axe.

No New Funds for Deford

Deford Community Schools turned down a request for three mills for three years for additional operating funds by the narrow margin of 50 to 47 Monday.

It was the third time that the additional funds were denied the school. Glenn Tousey, secretary, said that the board would continue to operate as it has in the past... borrowing against anticipated state revenues to operate.

Already there has been discussion by persons in the district about another vote for the additional millage.

In other business at the meeting, voters re-elected Eugene LeValley and Glenn Tousey to the board. Tousey was unopposed, while LeValley won over two other candidates by a comfortable margin.

Evergreen School
There was little excitement at the annual meeting for Evergreen School. Only 18 taxpayers attended. The board reorganized and named new officers.

Ernest Bullock is the new president who succeeds Milton Fox. Otis Dorland was re-elected secretary and Mrs. Kathryn Turner, treasurer. Fox and Mrs. Mary McNaughton are the other trustees.

Interest in Evergreen school affairs is expected to increase after the board confers with state representatives and reports to the district what type building program will be permissible for the addition of classrooms to the school.

Bikes Gone; Calls Continue to Pour in

"I sold both bikes the day the paper came out and I'm still receiving calls," said Mrs. Ken Maharg as she came to the Chronicle two weeks after her fast-action liner was inserted.

Mrs. Maharg ran the following ad:

FOR SALE—2 26-in. bikes, good condition. Also Collie pups for sale. Ken Maharg, 6 north, 1/2 west.

For Special Education

County Wrestles With Tax Rate

The millage for special education continued to plague the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors in their June session Monday at the courthouse in Caro.

The problem stemmed from a decision by the tax allocation committee to reduce the three-quarters of a mill voted by the people to a half mill.

After the decision was reached, William A. Scott, superintendent of the county school intermediate district, brought in an opinion by the attorney general saying that reducing the amount was illegal and the original allotment was restored.

When Arthur Haley, a member of the tax allocation board, made his report, a heated discussion followed. A suggestion was made to circulate a petition to see if the entire levy could be rescinded, but no action was taken.

Critical of Program

In its first two years, many county residents have been critical of the special education program. They felt that the money should include help for trainable as well as educable children. Trainable children are those who can be taught to care for themselves, but cannot be educated.

Prior to this spring, Scott reports, it was illegal to use the money for other than educable children. This spring the legislature changed the law and Scott said that a room for trainable children will be open in the county in the fall.

It will be the former Darbee school, on M-81 east of Caro.

Meanwhile, supervisors appointed a committee to investigate the special training program. Haley was made a member of the committee.

Other Business

The last traces of the Tuscola County Farm will disappear when plans for disposal of the barn and silo on the land are completed. Bids will be taken for the barn and silo with the stipulation that the foundation of the barn be removed and the ground leveled.

The county now leases the county farm land.

The building and grounds committee was instructed to visit Lapeer to examine a tax computing machine used in that county.

son and the Rev. Stanley Wilson. Seated in the front row are: Becky, 8, Bethany, 2, and Byron, 6.

That's a head-hunter's shield that the missionary is holding... an authentic memento of over four years on the Islands.

Little Money; Much Satisfaction For Wilson Family

It isn't often that a pastor doesn't preach and is happy about it. But the Rev. L. A. Wilson was chased from his pulpit at the Cass City Church of the Nazarene Sunday and was delighted to leave... for he was replaced by his son Stanley, just returned after four and a half years as missionary in the Philippines.

Now home on a year's furlough before returning to the Islands for reassignment, Wilson and his family will tell of their experiences in Nazarene churches in the States, including the problems and the awards of their work.

The awards come in satisfaction "in doing the Lord's work," Wilson said... not in monetary gains.

The Wilsons entered the ministry at considerable financial loss to the family. Before becoming a minister Wilson was a teacher. He attended Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, Ill., and graduated from Bethany Nazarene College in Bethany, Okla., in 1951. In 1953 he earned his Master's Degree from the University of Michigan.

While at Kankakee he met his wife. She is a 1955 graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

Wilson taught in several public school systems from 1952-58. His final job was in the Saginaw suburban school system where he worked as a full-time administrator at a salary in 1958 of $5,600. His wife taught at Hemlock.

Missionary families of the Nazarene doctrine all receive the same amount of money... it's adjusted for the number of children in the family and other basic considerations, but otherwise it's the same whether the missionary be doctor, lawyer, worker or, as in the case of the Wilsons, teachers. The salary is just enough to live on.

The final year of his tour in the Philippines Wilson spent as administrator of Faith Academy, an interdenominational Protestant school for children of missionaries. In '63 some 30 mission groups were served. A full-time teaching staff catered to the needs of 215 students.

A teaching situation that occurred at the Academy is a good example of how missionaries in Wilson's church operate. The school was a teacher short and Mrs. Wilson filled the gap for the year without any pay outside of the money that her husband received from the church.

American Customs
The Filipinos are an Americanized people. Education is spreading everywhere into the grass roots and because there are so many dialects spoken on the islands, English is fast becoming the basic language of the area, Wilson said.

After the third grade, courses are taught in English, he explained. But it's a different type English than the Americans have... just as American English is different from that spoken in Britain.

Seniors Told to Blast-off

One of the largest classes in recent years was graduated from Cass City High School Thursday evening, June 6, when 104 seniors were presented their diplomas by Superintendent Willis Campbell.

Austin J. Buchanan, director of admissions at Central Michigan University, addressed the graduates, using as his subject, "Blast-Off." He suggested that the "count-down" for this launching had occurred long before and that years of preparation and training had gone into the seniors' preparation for life. "Yours is a big responsibility," he said, "as you go out to try to help solve the world's problems." He cautioned the graduates that merely collecting a catalogue of knowledge was not enough but that the ability to use this knowledge, to think clearly and openly, were of even greater importance. Second only to the willingness to think, the speaker placed the willingness to do, to work and to assume responsibility.

Among scholarships presented to members of the class were the following:

Central Michigan University: State Board of Education Grants to Sherryl Law and Sandra Retherford. Rawson Foundation Scholarship to Carol Fritz.

Michigan State University: Honors Scholarships to Bill Dobbs and Bob Harmon.

University of Michigan: Regents-Alumni Scholarship to Mary Lou Jones.

Saginaw Business Institute: Joanne Miljura.

A Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs scholarship for nursing study at Saginaw General Hospital was given to Charlene MacRae. The Cass City Business and Professional Women's Club awarded a scholarship to Ruth Ann Willis. Jane MacLachlan was the recipient of a scholarship for nurses' training at Henry Ford Hospital, provided by the Cass City Junior Women's Club. The Thelma J. Hunt Memorial Scholarship was given to Dean Rienstra for study at Central Michigan University.

The Paul Smarks trophy for outstanding achievement in athletics for the past year was awarded to Roger Karr.

Members of the National Honor Society were recognized as were the valedictorian, Mary Lou Jones, and the salutatorian, Robert Freiburger. Kay Mark, yearbook editor, was made a member of Quill and Scroll, high school journalism society.

Music for the commencement program was provided by class members. Bill Dobbs played a trombone solo and Nancy Dearing closed the exercise with the singing of "The Lord's Prayer." A quartet of senior boys, Jim Fritz, Dean Rienstra, Brewster Shaw and Bill Dobbs, was also featured.

Capacity crowds of friends and relatives filled the high school auditorium both for graduation and for the baccalaureate service Sunday night, June 2, at which the Rev. S. R. Wurtz addressed the graduates.

Hoppes Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Hoppe of Cass City celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday at the Farm Bureau Building in Bad Axe. About 300 friends and relatives attended to pay tribute to the couple.

The Hoppes were married June 12, 1938, at the Linkville Lutheran Church. They have lived for 17 years in Grant township. Except for two years with a baking company, Mr. Hoppe has spent his life farming. Although the couple have no children, they have 110 nieces and nephews.

Mr. Hoppe is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hoppe and Mrs. Hoppe is the former Minnie Zabel, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Otto Zabel.

The Hoppes are members of Our Savior Lutheran Church at Bad Axe.

The anniversary was highlighted by a dinner, followed by a dance. A lunch was served later in the evening. A six-tier anniversary cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Ruth Christner, niece of Mrs. Hoppe.

Guests attended from Bad Axe, Detroit, Flint, Bay Port, Kinde, Port Austin, Unionville, Sebewaing, Caro and Cass City.

School Reunion to Start in Afternoon

Members of the committee in charge of the reunion for students who attended Cass City High School in 1919 or before said this week that the event will start at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, June 22, when members will be able to get reacquainted during a visiting period.

Cass City students with class pictures or pictures of school activities in the reunion period are asked to bring them to this meeting.

A tour of the school has been arranged as another highlight of the afternoon.

Persons attending the afternoon session will be asked to register and receive tickets for the evening dinner. Also attending the reunion will be the husbands or wives of the Cass City students.

If you're a teenager, accent your youth for all it's worth! Use the freshest appeal you can muster. If you're now using a dark lipstick, for example, give it away! Beg, borrow or baby-sit for a pink lipstick... and see that it goes on the very cleanest face possible. Wash, wash, wash! And if you need to kill a soap-skin, powder very lightly; if there are blemishes that need hiding, help keep it a secret by using a pale pink shade. Manicure, facials, hair care... all are important to your future beauty. Let us help you form the habit of proper, professional beauty care. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cliff

An open house honoring the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cliff of 4300 West St., Cass City, will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 23, at their home.

They were married June 25, 1913, at Owendale by the Rev. E. F. Hildebrand. Their attendants were Mrs. Maude Finkel Stickland, maid of honor, and the late Peter Sinclair, best man.

The honored couple have five daughters: Ercelle Pelton of Columbiaville, Bernice Pelton of Deford, Irma Chisholm of Owendale, Reatha Hughes of Cass City and Leatha Czapl of Detroit. They have 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The family invites friends and relatives to the celebration.

Action Brisk in City Softball Loop

The City Softball League was off to a flying start Tuesday, June 4, after an absence of a year in Cass City.

In the opening games at Cass City Recreation Park, Walbro topped Clare and Andy's Service, 8-7, in extra innings and Erla's defeated General Cable, 7-0.

Walbro-Clare & Andy's Walbro seemed to have its game against the gasmen well under control as they led by six runs going into the top of the seventh.

Elwyn Helwig had pitched a strong game but was forced to leave for a meeting. With Lee Hartel on the mound, the losers rallied to score seven runs and take the lead.

Walbro scored a lone run to tie the game, 7-7, in their half of the eighth and the factory nine pushed across the winning run in the ninth. Ferris Ware, who relieved Hartel in the eighth, was the winning pitcher.

Hartel helped the Walbro cause as he slammed out three hits for the winners.

Erla's-Cable Dan Erla was in rare form in the opener as he limited Cable to three hits in the 7-0 victory. He received lusty support at the plate from Jim Johnson and Eugene Kloc who slammed round trippers in the victory over the wiremen.

Don't Be Misled

By Dr. E. P. Lockwood

Sick people are more frequently than otherwise unaware of spine failure in cases of sickness, pain and disease. Spine failure does not always produce pain or discomfort in the back, unless there is acute backache or lumbago, but don't be misled. In the great majority of cases, the effects of spine failure are observed at some distant point remote from the spine, such for example as neuritis in the arm or leg; headache or malfunction in one or more vital organs. Because of this fact, you can be excused for not immediately recognizing the location of your pain or illness being in the spine. If you have been doctored for some time and find yourself relieved, but not entirely well, might it not be wise to try something different, some new approach and means to locate and remove the cause, rather than treating the effects?

In the spirit of sincere helpfulness it may be suggested that you consult a modern Chiropractor. It may mark the day when you start on the road to vibrant health.

(One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. E. P. Lockwood whose office is located at Cass City, Tel. 872-2765.) Adv.

BULEN TALKS Cars

WASTED GASOLINE

Someone has estimated the average driver wastes, just throws away uselessly, 34 gallons of gasoline a year, enough to keep a car on the road for a month or six weeks.

Studies over a number of years, have shown that motorists are averaging 18 miles to the gallon when they should be getting 19. Bad driving habits are mainly to blame.

There are so many "rules for drivers" that one person can't possibly keep them all in his head. But these six rules come from the head of a big fleet of company cars; he found these rules cut their costs-per-mile way down and brought that extra month of free driving.

Don't make jackrabbit starts. Get away smoothly and shift into high gear as soon as possible.

Slow down gradually when you know you're going to have to stop. Your car runs on the power from gasoline already burned, so there's no sense wasting all that momentum by coming to quick stops.

Don't race your motor while waiting for lights to change or while warming up. Moderate speeds save gas and save brakes. Don't ride the clutch or brakes. And finally, get regular checkups and servicing.

PLEASE COME IN AND SEE OUR REPLICA OF THE 50 Millionth Chevrolet, on display this week.

An Impala Sport Coupe in a Special Gold, of which there will be only one for us. If you don't like to meet yourself all the time, this might be your car?

Area Girls Among Graduates At Michigan State University

Charlene M. Beckett and Janet E. Perry, both of Cass City, were among 2,759 students who received degrees at Michigan State University commencement exercises Sunday.

Principal speaker was Frederick R. Kappel, chairman of the board of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Miss Beckett received a BA degree in elementary education with majors in fine arts and science. She has accepted a position teaching second grade in Caro Community Schools.

Miss Beckett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beckett. She is a 1959 graduate of Cass City High School.

Janet E. Perry was one of 50 senior women at Michigan State named the most outstanding in the class of 1963 by a board of their peers. The announcement was made at the traditional Lantern Night ceremonies on campus June 2.

Selection of Miss Perry and other women cited was made by 16 resident members of Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary.

The Lantern Night program includes a lantern-lit procession of MSU women. During the ceremony, upperclassmen pass their lanterns to underclassmen, signifying the passing of responsibility from one class to another.

While at State, Miss Perry was president of Spartan Women's League and a member of Spartan Round Table and Associated Women's Student Board. She served as secretary and treasurer of the Food and Nutrition Club.

Miss Perry received a BS degree in dietetics. She will intern for a year at the University of Michigan following her graduation.

Bulen Motors to Show Special Chevrolet

Horace Bulen, owner of Bulen Motors, announced this week that a duplicate of the 50-millionth car produced by Chevrolet division of General Motors Corporation will be on display at his dealership June 12 through June 16.

Bulen recounted the Chevrolet success story by noting that in its first full year the company produced 3,000 cars. Last year nearly 2 1/2 million were manufactured. There are now more than 21 million Chevrolets on the highways.

In recognition of this manufacturing milestone, Bulen Motors is inviting everyone to see the 50 millionth car and accept the company's thanks for making the growth of the dealership possible, Bulen said.

Win Spelling Bee

Four of Sanilac county's eight contestants took honors in the Friends of Michigan Schools State Spelling Contest at Charlotte Tuesday, June 4. Three of them are students from Parker School where Mrs. Mary Prentiss is teacher.

Kaye L. D'Arcy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee D'Arcy of Kingston, placed third in eighth grade. Rhonda Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Roth of P.A.s, was fourth in eighth grade. Jim D'Arcy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D'Arcy of Kingston, placed second in seventh grade and Roy Radloff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Radloff of Marlette, was fourth in sixth grade.

Sanilac county spelling champions competed with Eaton county winners and pupils from schools in Cheboygan, Cass, Barry and Midland counties in a close written contest. The F. M. S. However, each county is limited to two contestants from a grade.

Among the most frequently misspelled words were gnaw, scissors, hygiene, syllable, reindeer, poison, purr, mischievous, air-conditioned, supersede, vilify, precedence, promissory, picnic, liquefy and separator.

To Honor Wilsons At Special Services

A special service has been scheduled in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Wilson, pastor of the Cass City Nazarene Church, Sunday.

The service will mark 40 years of continuous work as pastor of Nazarene churches in Michigan for Wilson.

The anniversary program will feature songs by the Warren Kelley family at 7:30 p.m. and an anniversary message at 8:30 by the pastor.

The honored couple are looking forward to greeting old friends after the program, persons in charge said.

WILSON FAMILY

Continued from page one. are Christian... the problem is to keep the faith strong in the people and have their actions reflect God, Wilson asserted. "It's really the same problem that we face here in America in a good many ways," he concluded.

The Wilsons have four children and all speak two languages, Hokano and English. The youngest, Bethany, 2, speaks a combination of the two languages at once.

While interviewed, the older children talked with their father in one of the dialects of the Filipinos.

ASK FOR A DEMONSTRATION COMPARE NEW HOLLAND HAY EQUIPMENT — SEE WHY IT'S FIRST CHOICE OF CASS CITY FARMERS

CRUSHING GIVES FAST, UNIFORM HAY CURING!
Do it best with a New Holland Model 404!

With the Model 404 you get complete conditioning... your surest way to top quality hay.

The Model 404 Crusher has almost full contact between rolls—completely conditions entire stem. Result: stems dry faster, so you can bale sooner—before the leaves become so brittle they shatter in handling.

Exclusive toggle linkage lets rolls open and close for changing crop conditions, while always maintaining uniform pressure. Eliminates clogging, hand cleaning, "over-conditioned" hay. Also, patented roll positioning adjusts rolls for positive pickup in both light and heavy crops.

See us soon. Ask for a demonstration.

A Half-Hour's Haying...

WHICH WAY FOR YOU?

Now one man can easily bale and load faster than a 2- or 3-man team! This year New Holland's improved One-Man Haying system is more dependable than ever. And easy to own. In fact, with the time- and labor-saving features you get with One-Man Haying, the system soon pays for itself. Then it starts paying you. See us soon. NEW HOLLAND'S MODEL 155 ELEVATOR GIVES MORE REACH FOR YOUR MONEY!

New Holland's Model 155 Elevator handles bales at a steep 60-degree angle. Bales go to the mow fast—and they won't tumble back!

The Model 155 stores crops quickly, efficiently. It handles small grains and ear corn, in addition to baled hay.

60-degree elevation means higher reach than ordinary elevators of similar length. Adaptable to electric motor, gas engine, or PTO drive.

The Model 155 is available in four standard sizes: 24-ft., 30-ft., 36-ft., and 48-ft. Additional 5-ft. sections can be added to any of these.

See us now for details.

MOW UP TO 7 ACRES AN HOUR
...with a New Holland Model 450 Mower

Optional adapter lets you hook up conditioner behind mower, do two big jobs in the same swing through the field!

The pitmanless Model 450 Mower is fully-mounted and hitches quickly to most ASAE 3-point tractors. Its long (3 3/4 in.) sickle stroke means faster mowing action, better mowing efficiency.

You'll like the way New Holland's pitmanless action gives smoother, quieter mowing with just enough vibration to jog short, fine grasses from the cutter-bar. This reduces time-consuming delays from clog-ups. You'll mow up to 7 acres an hour, get all the crop, even from hilly fields!

See us soon. Ask for a demonstration.

Dale Abke Speaks At Women's Meeting

Twenty-four Tuscola County Farm Bureau women attended the regular meeting June 7 at the Farm Bureau center in Caro.

Mrs. Rinerd Knoblet and Miss Martha Knoblet, Cass City, served refreshments during the social period.

Dale Abke, deputy superintendent of the Tuscola Intermediate School District, spoke on the special education program in the county.

Abke stated that 120 students were enrolled in the eight special education rooms in the county. He explained the procedure followed when selecting students for special training. Finding qualified teachers who understand these children is the biggest problem facing school authorities.

Mrs. Clare Carpenter, Cass City, was re-elected to serve the group as county chairman for the fourth consecutive year. Elected to the vice-chairman's post was Mrs. Ford Boyne of Marlette.

Tests Complete for Carpenter Holstein

Betheldale Coffeydale Spoford, a seven-year-old Holstein cow owned by Vernon J. Clare and Richard Carpenter, Cass City, produced 17,850 pounds milk and 587 pounds butterfat in 305 days.

Michigan State University supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official breed improvement programs of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

In announcing the new record, a spokesman for the national Holstein organization said that it compared to the average cow's annual output of 7,211 pounds of milk containing 270 pounds of butterfat.

Quackgrass - Michigan's most troublesome weed - can be controlled. Facts on control of this weed are available in Extension Folder, F-312, which is available from your local Cooperative Extension Service office.

Mrs. John Dickie of Mayville is treasurer.

In other business of the committee, the program schedule was approved and the tour to Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda discussed.

The committee reported experiences shared with the foreign students who visited Farm Bureau homes recently. This project originated in the women's committee and with the collaboration of Rev. Lutz of Mayville proved to be a successful venture.

COMMENTS BY KRAFT

If He Were A Car He'd Be A Compact

By Dave Kraft

Some weeks back the Kraft family was visited with a new addition to the family. He was a boy-type individual, clear-eyed and with a happy disposition.

He was a puppy.

For that matter he's still a puppy. During our married life we've had four puppies. For one reason or another, their tenure as members of our family has been extremely short.

This one has stayed the longest. He's about seven inches long, four inches high, extremely furry and very aggressive.

His mother was mostly something else and part Pekinese. From the look of her son, she wasn't particularly circumspect in her choice of suitors.

His father is supposed to be 100 per cent Belgian poodle. Try as I might, I can't find a dog book that lists a Belgian poodle. He looks like a miniature English sheepdog that's just lost his flock.

Our puppy has inherited his mother's size. If he were a car he'd be called a compact. Since he's a dog, I prefer to refer to him as a "toy". In keeping with this and because he looks like a teddy bear, we call him "Teddy," to which he almost never answers.

Teddy also has some of his father's characteristics. He's definitely part poodle... or perhaps that should be "pudle." That's why he's so clear-eyed... he's full of water clear up to his eyeballs.

He has certain other habits that do little to endear him to yours truly, but I got him for a reason and here he'll stay.

As you know, my lawfully (perhaps that should be awfully) wedded wife is expecting to become a mother for the second time. On our first attempt at parenthood, we had a daughter.

Since then my life hasn't been fit for a dog, so to speak. My wife had me outmanned and outgunned before Sally came on the scene and then with her in reserve and backing my wife up at every turn, I didn't stand a chance.

Now this new one may be a boy or it may be another girl. I have a 50-50 chance that it may be one or the other. If it's a boy the odds will even somewhat... of course, I never expect to win, but I won't lose so badly.

And if it's a girl, well, they can only back me so far into the corner....

That's why I got the dog. He's a boy. A poor substitute I'll grant you, but, like someone I used to know would say, better than a kick in the teeth.

Now, that's why I got him, but he's turned into something of a traitor and I'm considering changing his name to Judas.

The other day I turned my back on my daughter to give her mother a harsh word or two and when I looked back, she had made the center of the road.

Every now and then someone comes down that road like Pearly Jones taking the last lap in the Indianapolis 500 and I could just see Sally making like the flagman dropping the checkered flag. The only trouble was that she'd probably drop right with it.

With a scream like a Norseman going into battle, I charged toward her. She out-maneuvered me by running directly away from me and making a gently swinging curve back towards the house. Sally was a running style that would put Roger Bannister to shame.

As she swept back off the road and onto the lawn the puppy came running toward us. Although I felt a glow of pride, thinking surely he was coming to help me, I yelled, "Never mind, Teddy, I'll get her."

He stopped and Sally whizzed past him. As I drew up alongside he launched himself (and for Teddy a launching is quite a feat) and sunk his little ivory into my ankle.

So this is how it's going to end, I told myself. Hamstrung by a hairy hypocrite. Bit in the bud (that's bu-d) by a Belgian. I tried to stomp him into eternity but he was too quick for me.

About this time my wife came to the door and gave me a dressing down for my wound and a dressing down for teasing Sally and the dog.

I swear if this next one isn't a boy, the next man in a rocket will be you know who.

Dairy farmers with 20 to 40 cow herds will find it profitable to continue grazing rather than harvesting and hauling the feed to the dry-lot, according to a Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where a fellow named Edward Harriman that has charge of such matters for the Post Office Department has given permission to manufacturers to come out with some new models for rural mailboxes. He recommends the new models open from the back side instead of the highway side so the youngsters can fetch the mail without getting hit by cars. He didn't say how the rural mail carrier was going to stuff the mail in from the backside, but I reckon one of them Government agencies will solve this problem just as soon as they get a couple million "research" appropriation from the Congress for this purpose.

Brother Harriman says the Government ain't setting no price standards on the new boxes and if a fellow wants to get hisself some "status" in the community, he can have one made special, maybe gold-plated and costing $1,000 or more. Personal, I'd prefer a barrel mounted on four cedar posts and opening from the bottom so's I could run the wheelbarrel under it and handle my literature from the Government agencies all in one operation. I aim to write my Congressman a letter along these lines.

I been trying to figure out, Mister Editor, how much tax relief I'm going to get out of President Kennedy's plan for cutting taxes. About the best I can figure right now is that it'll be like dropping a lump of sugar in a barrel of coffee. I ain't going to get enough relief to taste it. I saw where one fellow said we ain't had no real tax relief in this country in 200 years, since our ancestors gave the Boston Tea Party, and we ain't liable to get no more till the voters has a Washington Tea Party.

Well, Mister Editor, I hate to report it but the fellows at the country store Saturday night come out for this social medicine business. Ed Doolittle said if you take the long view of the thing, they ain't no way around it. Folks has got to have more medical care so's they can work longer for tax purposes. Farthermore, Ed claims the kid of today is going to have to last a heap longer than his Pa did and be a heap stronger and able to pay more taxes.

Zeke Grubb said he'd have to go along with Ed on this item. Zeke figures the doctors is all strong agin the social medicine program, but Zeke allows as how the doctors is going to have a hard time paying off the national debt by themselves.

Personal, Mister Editor, I voted agin the resolution. I'm agin social medicine or social anything. Ever time the Government gits into one of them social deals we have to send $2 to Washington to get $1 back. I'd even be agin social mail boxes, would rather buy my own barrel.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Small tears in children's clothing can be mended by darning the hole and then covering it with a pretty button or bow.

Michigan farmers, might have the title of "big spenders," according to the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service. Figures prepared by MSU economists show that farmers usually spend about $72 million per year for feed and seed; $51 million for hired labor; $39 million for petroleum products, and $40 million for fertilizers. Going along with these figures are an additional $115 million for repairs and maintenance of equipment and buildings together with about $57 million for short-term interest, electricity, telephone and other miscellaneous expenses. Although there are fewer farmers every year, they spend nearly half a billion dollars each year for production expenses.

Carpenter's Bull Named Gold Medal Sire

Pabst Leader Robel, herd sire at the Carpenters' Betheldale Farms, has been recognized by the Holstein-Friesian Association as a Gold Medal sire, according to Howard W. Thoele, superintendent of the Advanced Registry department.

Previously recognized as a Silver Medal type sire this bull has now qualified as a Silver Medal Production sire, thus is recognized as a Gold Medal sire.

Thoele states that this is the highest recognition given to a sire in the Holstein-Friesian breed and, therefore, is an achievement of which the Carpenters can be justifiably proud.

Qualification was based on the daughter-dam comparisons for production which were required to meet certain requirements to enable the presentation of the award.

Gov. Romney for President Cheered by State's Democrats

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Which Capitol?

Appearance of Gov. George Romney in Washington on several recent occasions stirred up national interest in the prospect of Michigan's chief executive as a 1964 Republican presidential candidate.

Democrats feel they could use Romney's part in the national political arena as a tool to regain the governor's chair. With a number of potential winners in the party ranks, the Democrats would be very happy to accuse Romney of abandoning Michigan.

Romney has said time and time again he does not have national political ambitions. Because of his firm remarks along this line many state GOP leaders feel he would be unwise to accept a nomination in 1964 if it was offered at the national convention.

Further, Republicans would be hard pressed to find a candidate of his stature to keep the power within the state.

Another group of Republicans feel it would be to Michigan's benefit if the state's first GOP governor in 14 years were offered the presidential nomination.

Those close to the governor say Romney is totally sincere in his current denials of having presidential aspirations. Other observers note, however, that Romney denied any intention to run for governor very close to his Feb. 10, 1962, announcement of candidacy.

Romney will be on the spot at home with the presidential nomination. Nominating petitions for governor must be filed with the Secretary of State about a month before the national political conventions are held.

Romney will have to make up his mind on whether to seek or accept the presidential nomination long before the convention so the Michigan GOP will have another candidate filing for governor. If Romney is to accept a "draft" nomination, he will have to inform a number of state party leaders in advance so they can boost the candidacy of a second governor candidate even if he files for re-election.

Practical Politics

The Michigan Senate finally is planning to take advantage of a Ford Foundation grant designed to help the lawmaking body while giving graduate students an opportunity to see the practical side of political and governmental activity.

Two years ago the Ford Foundation offered a $164,500 grant to provide legislative internships for graduate students over a period of six years.

In 1964 the State Senate will use four such interns in cooperation with officials of Michigan State University, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. The House has yet to accept terms of the fellowship program.

Senators agreed to appropriate $9,000 to be combined with the Foundation grant, providing the interns with $400 a month for an 11-month period.

Sen. John W. Fitzgerald, Grand Lodge Republican who heads the Senate Business Committee, said the participating students would be assigned as staff assistants to Senate leaders or committees.

The participating students, in political science, journalism or law, will receive college credit at any of the three universities for the program. They will attend a weekly seminar in addition to their daily work with Senators.

Stamps For Land

Nothing new under the sun? This familiar quotation usually is true and the Michigan State Nurses Association appears to have found a new approach to an old idea.

Housewives have been saving trading stamps of one variety or another for many years, but the association recently gave a new twist to the craze.

Registered nurses throughout the state have been collecting 20,000 books of trading stamps. These will be turned in as payment for a piece of Lansing property on which the association will build its state headquarters.

If you have trouble reaching under the refrigerator or stove when you scrub your kitchen, try using the long-handled brush that you used to wipe the snow off your car last winter.

The wall in a basement stairway can be an ideal spot for storage of brooms, mops, dust pans, overalls, jackets, outdoor clothing and sports equipment. It is a simple matter to purchase a peg board, install it on the wall, and insert metal fixtures on which to hang the various items.

"Haylage" Good For Top Farms

Putting up the hay crop in the form of low-moisture silage or "haylage" is practical only for the careful and efficient farm operator. Haylage is the term given to hay-crop silage stored at 50-55 per cent moisture.

"Successful results with haylage depend on following specific management procedures," according to Donald Hillman, Michigan State University dairy specialist. Storage losses with good management are practically nil, but they can be serious with careless harvesting.

"Cows like the haylage and will get more dry matter than from silage of higher moisture content," says Hillman. Haylage is also a highly satisfactory way of handling the hay crop mechanically and lends itself to "push-button" feeding.

Forages must be harvested in the early stages of growth which means bud or pre-bud stages and not later than one-tenth bloom for alfalfa. "This is important from the standpoint of proper fermentation, having a highly digestible feed and a forage that packs better," Hillman adds.

A hay crusher or conditioner will speed up drying and help save the valuable leaves. Haylage should be put in the silo at about 50 per cent moisture and be chopped about one-quarter inch in length. "Short chopping helps insure good packing and elimination of air," says Hillman. The drier the material, the harder it becomes to exclude the air, which can result in spoilage.

The silo should be topped with two or three feet of direct-cut silage or a plastic cap to help prevent surface spoilage after the silo is filled. It may also be necessary to seal silo doors and cracks in the wall to exclude all air.

"This method of storing roughage is recommended only for the careful operator, but properly handled, 'haylage' is an excellent way to harvest, store and feed hay-crop forages," Hillman concludes.

Business executives are placing more emphasis on recreation facilities. Schools, shopping areas and other factors that contribute to a "good life" are key considerations when looking for new plant sites, according to a Michigan State University parks and recreation specialist for the Cooperative Extension Service.

IT SEEMS TO ME Public Welfare Is Mixed with Morals

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

The religious world took over the news with the lingering life and then the death of Pope John. In a sense at least, we in this nation were more aware of the death of this Pope than his predecessors. He came from common stock and showed much more awareness of American needs and resources than had been shown by any Pope hitherto. He was largely responsible for a new interest in church mergers and was the sponsor of a world-wide interest in potential mergers that might lead ultimately to reunion of Christian denominations. Pope John will be missed.

Public welfare aid gets mixed up when it wanders into the field of morals. When a child's stomach is bloated from lack of food it is not relevant information to know that his parents were not married. No one deplores the fact that an increasing number of children are born out of wedlock each year but depriving the victims of a bad situation does little to help. The Christian Century, in its May 22 issue, points out that 81 per cent of children benefitting from Aid To Dependent Children (ADC) are legitimate. And, contrary to general knowledge, juvenile delinquency and crime rates are not higher for the group receiving ADC. Christian faith was led to feed the hungry because they were hungry. I fail to find any other commandment which supersedes this.

All good citizens are searching their daily papers for news of New Hampshire's trouble in connection with their legalizing of a lottery. Why don't you join them?

One thing we often neglect to remember about our newest states is that they have a different makeup than the old forty-eight. Hawaii faces up to the same problem of how much religion can be allowed in public schools but with a twist. For example, a bill has been introduced in the Hawaiian legislature to eliminate vacations in connection with Christmas and Good Friday at school. While given little hope of passing, it should be noted that 100,000 of Hawaii's 632,000 people are Buddhists.

It should be noted for the record that when the Rev. Charles Webster, pastor of First Baptist Church of Clemson, S. C., went publicly to the aid of Negro student Harvey Gantt last year, his church did not support his stand and he was asked to resign last month. Mr. Gantt was successfully enrolled in January.

Did you note that the wife of a Methodist denominational executive, who is herself an ordained minister, was a runner-up in a state-wide beauty contest in New Jersey last month? It wasn't too many years ago that this alone would force her to leave the church.

Mrs. G. Stine Heads Legion Auxiliary

Election of officers for the coming year was held in the monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary at the Legion hall Monday evening. Mrs. Garrison Stine was named president and Mrs. Vern McConnell, the vice-president.

Others elected were: Mrs. Arthur Little, secretary; Mrs. William Donnelly, treasurer; Miss Esther Buehly, chaplain; Mrs. Philip McComb, historian, and Mrs. Luis Salas, sergeant-at-arms. Members of the executive board elected were Mrs. William Anker, Mrs. Dorus Kinkman and Mrs. Arthur Kelley.

During the business meeting Mrs. Arthur Little reported on the Seventh District convention which was held Sunday at Otter Lake. Mrs. Leo Tracy reported gross receipts from the rummage sale of $113.75 and Mrs. Dorus Kinkman reported gross receipts from the Poppy sales of $401.54.

Officers will be installed at the July meeting at the hall. Games were played at the close of the meeting and refreshments served.

by the committee in charge. The door prize went to Mrs. Leo Tracy. Nineteen attended.

Hold Final Rites for Former Resident

Services for Mrs. John (Fanny) Epplett, 84, of Pontiac, a former resident of Cass City, were held in the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home in Pontiac Friday.

Mrs. Epplett died Tuesday, June 4, in Pontiac General Hospital a few hours after suffering a stroke.

She was born Sept. 9, 1878, at Gageton, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ibbittson. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Warren M. Sherk; three grandchildren; a great-grandchild, and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Sansburn, all of Pontiac.

Burial was in Elkland Township Cemetery.

GEHL CHOP-ALL

SWALLOWS 16-FOOT SWATH

1 Positive-feeding auger . . . 5 feet long, 22 inches in diameter . . . pulls in the heaviest windrows. It's spring-mounted to give continuous floating pressure.

2 New wide-throat design with wide packer wheel grips hay for faster feeding to compression roller and knives. Ever-Sharp knives give you a full season's chopping without sharpening.

3 Quickest switch. A telescoping drive-shaft insert easily slips into place. Two large easy-to-grip hand-size nuts complete the hookup. No wrench needed.
