

GAINING A REPUTATION as a champion bass fisherman in the area is Jim Gross of Cass City. His prestige was enhanced by this monster small mouth. It weighed 3 7/16 pounds and measured 19 9/16 inches in length. It was worth 23 points in the contest sponsored by Mort Neff on television.

Gross caught the fish at 10 in the morning, fishing off shore on Father's Day in Saginaw Bay. He used a worm harness as bait. Besides the lunker, Gross caught several other bass that morning.

Water Users Pay Up After Village Campaign

After passing a new water rate system and regulatory code recently the Cass City Village Council has been conducting a campaign to collect overdue accounts in the village.

President Lee Rabideau reported that the campaign has been successful. Except for bills in dispute, all but one of the delinquent subscribers had made arrangements to pay the water bills.

The council accomplished its aim by a personal collection campaign and, in one instance, by shutting off the water.

Still plaguing trustees is the problem of persons renting homes and leaving without paying water bills. Several accounts of this nature were lost. The council has established a deposit fee of $10 for these subscribers and will weigh its effectiveness as the new program takes effect.

Greenleaf Votes To Operate School

Electors of the Greenleaf school voted 40 to 36 not to annex to Cass City in a special election Monday night.

The decision means that the school will operate again for the 1963-64 school year. The board has not yet hired a teacher for the approximately 25 students who will attend in the fall.

Tyre Zip Code Number Announced

Postmaster Mary B. Spencer has announced the Zip Code number for Tyre patrons. It is 48474.

The new numbers go into effect nationally July 1 and should be used on all return addresses of mail. All mail addressed to Tyre should also carry the number as part of the address, Postmaster Spencer said.

Voters Apathetic About Bond Issue

Village voters were surprisingly apathetic about whether or not Cass City's $75,000 bond issue was authorized or turned down Monday. The referendum attracted only 92 voters to the polls.

The issue was given resounding approval by the voters. The count was 72 in favor and 19 against. One ineligible voter's ballot was not counted.

The bonds were made available to the village for financing the revamping of the water system. Trustees do not contemplate issuing the bonds at this time unless matching money is received from the Accelerated Public Works Program.

Hold Routine Meeting

Council to Bid Curb and Gutter

The Cass City Village Council will advertise for bids for curb and gutter on Garfield Street this summer. The decision was reached at the regular meeting of the Council Tuesday night at the Municipal Building.

The decision highlighted a drab meeting of the council when little important business was transacted.

President Lee Rabideau said that bids for curb and gutter have been going as low as $1.77 per foot. The property owner pays $1.75 to the village for the work. Since the work capacity of the village crew is taxed to the limit in the summer, trustees decided to see what the village could hire the work completed for. Another bid to be let will be for the insurance for the vehicles owned by the village. The village has a fleet policy on the cars.

New Truck
The village will also buy a new truck. Vehicles are purchased from the three local dealers on a rotating basis at 10 per cent over the invoice cost. The truck will be a Ford. It will be rated at two and a half tons as compared to the two-ton truck now in service. The truck now serving the village will be converted for use of removing sludge from the disposal plant. Primary conversion cost will be for placing a tank on the truck.

Nix Signs
The council will crack down on real estate signs on village property. The "sold by" signs will be removed and local real estate men will be asked to use discretion with signs on private property.

Records Fine
A representative of the Michigan State Highway Department revisited Cass City to examine road records. The department had inspected the village books earlier and recommended changes in accounting procedures.

After the most recent examination, the department reported that the books were now satisfactory.

Other Business
The council instructed Village Engineer Bill Schram to see that parking limit signs were installed on the remainder of Main Street. At the present time, only half of the restricted parking area is posted.

As soon as the remainder of the signs is erected the village will again stage a campaign to eliminate overtime parking.

Gerald Prieskorn requested a bicycle rack in front of his store. After deliberation the request was denied. Trustees felt that a bike rack that stood at the corner of Main and Seeger in the past proved to be unsuccessful.

Fourth Vote for Funds Scheduled At Deford School

The Deford Community School Board has voted to try again to secure extra millage to operate the school and for capital improvements. The board announced a special election to be held Monday, July 8, at the school at 8 p.m.

The request will be the same as the one turned down by a three-vote margin at the annual meeting in June... three mills for three years.

"Since that meeting, we've made several contacts with taxpayers in the district and we feel that they now understand the proposition a little better," Glenn Tousey, board secretary, reported.

It will be the fourth attempt for the district to raise more operating funds. Besides the vote at the annual meeting, an original request for the funds ended in a tie vote and when the millage request was resubmitted a little later it was defeated.

Liner Ad Finds Home For Dog

"I sold my dog," Mrs. Jim Jezewski reported Thursday morning when she stopped in at the Chronicle office.

This is the fast-action liner ad Mrs. Jezewski placed in last week's issue:

FOR SALE—Pekingese dog, male, 21 months old, tan with black face. Call 872-2472. Mrs. Jim Jezewski.

BOTH TEACHER AND PUPILS are very interested in the special reading classes offered this summer at Cass City School.

Teachers and Students Welcome Course

Summer Reading Clinic Sparkles With Possibilities

What's the reason for this new feeling? Mrs. Orion Cardew says, "It's a new feeling of 'togetherness' of the pupils and the teacher."

This feeling stems, Mrs. Cardew feels, because students know that they are grouped with other children, regardless of grade, at the same comparable learning level as they are... each has problems.

There can be no feeling of inferiority or inadequacy to other members of the class that could exist in regular classroom work. "Togetherness" is also achieved by the size of the classes. Each of the three sections has 16 pupils as compared to 35 or over in regular school-year sessions.

Mrs. Malvina Howarth, in charge of one of the three sections, says, "Many of these children have had special adjustment problems in the regular school year, but seem to welcome the chance for this special summer program even after a vacation of only one week when most of their playmates are out having fun."

The advanced reading class. The students come from the third, fourth and fifth grades.

Children with reading problems in earlier grades often leave them behind with age and teachers feel the special instruction is not necessary for those pupils. Therefore, students below the third grade are not included in the classes.

Class Length
Classes meet daily from 8:30 to 11 a.m. Reading in all its phases is taught. Phonetic sounds, sight reading and oral reading are all stressed with the emphasis changed to fit the needs of the individual student.

And that's another reason that the teachers feel that they are on the right track... the size of the class and teaching just one subject make it possible to give each child special attention... needed, but not available in regular class. Concluded on page four.

THE LAST MAJOR installation in the new St. Pancratius Church will be the baptismal font which arrived Tuesday. The font weighs about one ton. The altar weighs about 2 1/2 tons. They are of white limestone.

The installation was designed by Sister Jeannine of the Dominican Sisters of Adrian. Father Arnold Messing, right, supervises the placing of the font in the church.

After 3 Years' Work

First Mass Sunday At Catholic Church

Final preparations are being completed this week for the beautiful new $165,000 St. Pancratius Church. The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered for the first time in the new building Sunday, June 30, at 8 a.m., the Rev. Father Arnold Messing, pastor, announced this week.

The Mass will mark the culmination of three years of work, prayer and sacrifice, the pastor said. Friday evening at 8 p.m. the new church will be blessed by Father Messing in a special ceremony. The blessing is required by Canon Law before the Sacrifice of the Mass may be offered, Father Messing explained.

The blessing is not to be confused with the formal dedication of the church. These ceremonies will be held later when the Most Rev. Bishop Stephen S. Woznicki, bishop of the Saginaw Diocese, will preside.

A definite date will not be set, Father Messing said, until it is certain when Bishop Woznicki will leave for the second session of the Ecumenical Council.

If the council is postponed several months, the new church can be dedicated in late August or September. Otherwise, the dedication will be held next spring, probably May 12, the patronal feast of St. Pancratius.

Open House
In conjunction with the dedication, an open house will be held for all persons in Cass City and out-of-town visitors.

Father Messing said that visitors are welcome at any time, but that he felt a formal open house should wait until the dedication when all of the final details of construction have been completed.

The spacious new building will seat 530 persons as compared to the 180 in the former church. For this reason, three Masses will no longer be necessary.

Starting Sunday, Masses will be at 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. Father Messing said. The former church building will be converted into a social hall.

New Surplus Food Regulations Cause Little Change Here

Tuscola County Social Welfare Director Irl Baguley said this week that the tightening of regulations for distribution of surplus foods would have little effect in Tuscola county.

The new regulations require that total income of the families be considered when distributing surplus foods.

Prior to the new regulations, a member of a family could get food, regardless of what income another member of the household had. Now the income of all residents of a household must be considered before food is distributed.

Baguley said that his department is reviewing the cases now, but that "it is doubtful whether five or six families will be affected."

The county has some 600 to 700 families in the program, but due to economic conditions and the summer season there are about 100 fewer families drawing the food now.

"I expect we will be back to our normal load next winter when the number of families served is always at its peak," Baguley concluded.

From the Editor's Corner

The present village council has no intention of issuing the $75,000 worth of general obligation bonds made available for the water system in Cass City unless Federal matching funds are received.

But we'll be willing to make a bet that these same bonds will be issued within three years regardless of whether Washington comes through with money or not.

We aren't basing this opinion on any "inside" information or off-the-record remarks by persons in the know.

The water system (especially the water storage in Cass City) is inadequate and sooner or later will require replacing.

When the problem becomes too acute to dodge, where will the money come from? It's our guess that it will be from the issuance of the bonds authorized Monday.

A story released by the Michigan Department of Conservation this week says that pheasants are increasing in the Thumb. The results were ascertained by a count by rural mail carriers.

The statistics do not include the Cass City area. Bob Profit, who reports that local carriers usually participate in the pheasant sighting program three times a year, did not conduct a spring count.

Most nimrods report that the over-all count means little in relation to hunting success anyway. Birds tend to congregate in localized areas... one hunter finding an abundance of birds and another a few miles away locating none.

Readers of this column may recall a note about Bob Schuckert, who at middle age went back to school to receive his college degree. Bob was visiting in town this week.

He reports that he has entered Florida State University to start another four-year program to earn his doctorate in psychology. Life begins at 40 and careers at 45 in the Schuckert family.

School Boiler Plan Due

The Cass City Board of Education will receive plans for the recommended new school boiler from Hansen and Snyder, Saginaw engineers, at a special meeting of the board Thursday night at Cass City High School.

The recommendations are sure to include plans for building the boiler in a separate room adjoining the recently constructed shop building.

The reason the boiler will not be placed in the present boiler room is that the law forbids placing a boiler with over 125 horsepower under a classroom. Superintendent Willis Campbell said.

Previous estimates of the cost of a new oil burner was in the $25,000 range. The boiler that had previously served the school blew up in the final week of school this spring.

It is probable that the boiler will be installed after the footings for the building have been laid. The remainder of the building will be built around the boiler.

Need Early Copy

So that subscribers will have their paper before the July 4 holiday, the Chronicle will be published early next week.

Newsstand copies will be available on Tuesday instead of Wednesday and rural delivery will also be one day early.

Because of the early paper, all deadlines are advanced and advertisers and contributors should plan to have material submitted as early in the week as possible.

Hunt Company Low Bidder for Road Job

C. R. Hunt Construction Co. of Cass City was the low bidder on a construction job on M-53 between Almont and Imlay City.

At a bid price of $324,229, the Hunt Company will widen each lane two feet to bring the highway to the standard 24-foot width of two-lane highways. The work is to be completed by fall.

One Hurt In Five Crashes

One person was slightly injured in five area accidents reported by Cass City and Tuscola county police officials.

Tom Jones of Cass City, driver of a Fuelgas truck, collided with a Sebewaing driver-trainer car driven by Roger C. Sting. The accident occurred Friday on M-81 when Jones attempted to drive onto the highway from the shoulder of the road where he was parked. There were no injuries.

John Muntz, 19, of Caro required treatment for injuries suffered Sunday when he lost control of a motorcycle he was driving on M-81 at 50 miles per hour. The cycle tipped as he lost control because the front wheel started to wobble. The vehicle was owned by Robert Papp, 17, of Cass City.

Cass City Deputy William McKinley investigated a collision at the corner of Elmwood and Dodge Roads. Russell David Seigneure, 26, of Freeland and James McIntosh, 16, were the drivers. The Seigneure car was damaged on the front end and the McIntosh car on the left side.

Raymond Harold Spaulding, 27, of Cass City was hit as he attempted to make a left turn on M-81 near Hurds Corners. He was hit by Louise Bailey of Farmington. She was ticketed for not having her car under control. The Spaulding car was damaged on the left side and the Bailey car, on the front and right side.

Police Chief Carl Palmateer investigated a property damage accident at the intersection of Main and Seeger streets Wednesday, June 19.

John Joseph Murray, 39, of Uby struck the rear of a vehicle driven by Mrs. Joyce Hampshire, 29, of Cass City. Mrs. Hampshire was about to turn left when her car was struck by the car driven by Murray. Murray was ticketed for not having his car under control.

Local Trio Battle for Canny Canine's Car

Coach Wayne "Speed" Wilson has a dog which believes that his owner's car belongs to his boss and to him, period. The dog's "devotion to duty" provided some anxious moments for Gerald Prieskorn and two volunteer helpers the other day.

It all started when Wilson and Prieskorn swapped cars so that the coach could take a compact bus on the trip with 11 high school boys to a basketball clinic in New York.

While his bus is away, Prieskorn is using Wilson's car. The borrowed car was parked in the lot in back of Prieskorn's store with the windows open when he started home for what proved to be a late, late lunch.

The dog had taken over. Evidently, it had wandered downtown and spotted his master's car and promptly jumped in. Prieskorn resolutely and confidently approached the car to put the dog out, but stopped short when the dog showed signs of a perfect willingness to take off an arm or leg.

It was plainly a case for more reinforcements. Bernard Freiburger and Dale Damm, from adjoining stores, were called into the fray.

Meanwhile, the dog had jumped out of the car and the time seemed ripe. But the animal is quicker than man. Through the window again to resume possession went the dog... the men retreat... the dog bounds out... the men advance... the dog jumps in.

"Believe me," Prieskorn reports, "no one is going to steal that car with that dog around."

"We tried everything including dog biscuits and coaxing without much success. Finally, Freiburger and Damm succeeded in gaining the dog's attention and I jumped in the car, rolled up the window and took off. You'll never find that car parked with the window open again until Speed returns," Prieskorn concluded.

Tight Pitching Marks Week's City Loop Tilts

Erla's are threatening to make a runaway of the race for the title in the City Softball League as they opened up a two-game lead with only three games played.

Tuesday, June 18, they edged Walbro 2-0. Sunoco topped General Cable, 1-0, in the second of two well played games.

Oarie Lemanski received credit for the victory in the Sunoco win. He pitched the first six innings. Andy Kozan hurled the final frame.

Each team notched four hits. Big blow was a triple by Gene Wilson to drive in Wayne "Speed" Wilson for the winning run. Clare Melendorf wasted a triple for the winners.

Erla-Walbro

The Erla-Walbro tilt was a real pitchers' duel featuring Elwyn Helwig and Bosch, Imlay City import.

Bosch struck out 18 and gave up only two bunt singles to Roger Karr. Helwig allowed only one hit and struck out nine. Both of Erla's runs were unearned.

Dan Erla's single was the Food-men's only hit.

Beauty Tips

By Helen

It's easy to slip into bad habits with the simpler points of make-up. For example, too much rouge is often applied inadvertently; to remove it, use a tissue, but don't rub! If it isn't easily removed, apply a few drops of cold cream to the tissue and try again. It's a mistake, too, to dip a puff directly from powder jar to the face; rub the powder into the puff thoroughly before applying. You'll avoid that mask-like look! To look your best with the least time and trouble, leave your beauty care to us. From makeup to latest hair styles, you'll like our service. Appointments not always necessary, phone 872-3535. ## 2 Teams Undeatefated In Church League

The Argyle-Baptists continued to lead the Church Softball League as they racked up a victory in the only game they played during the week to remain undefeated with a 3-0 record. Hot on their heels is Decker-Snover which has won their only two starts of the year.

Wednesday, June 19, the Decker-Snover combo had little trouble winning over the Deford Methodists, 10-3. In the late game Wednesday Cass City Catholics won a slugfest from the Cass City Methodist and Presbyterians. Walks dominated the game. Clark Erla started for the Catholics and was relieved by Jim Turner who received credit for the win.

Thursday, Shabbona Methodists measured Grant-Fraser 15-9. Roger Root was on the mound for the winners. In the 9 p.m. contest Decker-Snover scored an easy

Forrest Walpole Princeton Cum Laude Graduate

Forrest T. Walpole, son of W. E. Walpole of Cass City, graduated cum laude from Princeton University in ceremonies held in front of Nassau Hall Tuesday, June 18.

Forrest Walpole

Walpole received an AB degree with a major in history and plans to attend the University of Michigan law school in the fall. While at Princeton he was a member of the varsity track team for three years and a member of the mile relay team that set the indoors and outdoors University record. He belonged to the Tiger Inn, a school eaters' club. He was a member of the Christian Science Organization at the school for four years.

Walpole is a 1959 graduate of Cass City High School. Nearly 900 degrees were awarded at the graduation ceremonies.

Friday the Argyle-Baptists handed the Cass City Catholics their first defeat of the year, 3-1. The pitching of Jerry Hillaker highlighted the game.

Gagetown Nazarene ran roughshod over weak Riverside-Mizpah-Evan, 20-6. The winning pitcher was Lloyd Nicholas. Home runs were slammed by Larry Summers and Roland Nicholas.

Monday, the Methodist and Presbyterians won a decision over the Shabbona Methodists, 5-3. J. D. Alexander hit a home run to help Bill Hutchinson record the victory.

In the final game of the week, Church of Christ pounded out 10 runs to help Don Englehart register a win, 10-8, over Grant-Fraser.

3 From Area at CMU Music Camp

Norma Austin, Karen Bond and Arlene O'Dell, students at Cass City High School, are attending the second annual high school music camp conducted by Central Michigan University's music department.

A record enrollment of 250 high school musicians has upped the attendance 81 per cent over the initial camp held last year.

The camp gives high school instrumentalists and vocalists the opportunity to participate in band, chorus, orchestra, sectional rehearsals, concerts, recitals and special camp programs.

They are also introduced to music theory and literature, and may attend several musical events which will be presented during the time the camp is in session.

The camp will close with a concert June 29.

Former Teacher Set to Live With Eskimos

Miss Patricia Hall, a former teacher in Cass City Public School and now an instructor at Wayne State University, will spend the summer living with Canadian Eskimos.

According to an article in the Detroit Free Press, Miss Hall left Detroit Saturday and will stay until early September when winter starts in the Northwest territory where she is going.

Miss Hall has shipped a three-month supply of food, a tent, sleeping bag and stove. Her clothes are geared to frosty days and 10-below-zero nights.

When she returns to the University in the fall she will write her findings for the Canadian government.

The government is concerned because Eskimos have been dying by the thousands in recent years from diseases brought by the advances of civilization.

Some of our foreign-born who become citizens via the melting pot enter politics and find themselves in the pressure cooker.

One-sided Games Mark Week's Action in Local Little League

The Pirates and Giants share top spot in Cass City Little League following this week's action that saw the Yankees fall deeper into the league cellar.

Yankees-Cubs

Wednesday, June 19, the Cubs topped the Yankees, 11-2. Crow pitched the first inning for the losers and Fred Ryan the last five.

John Novak went the distance for the winners. The Cubs slashed out 13 hits to account for their 11 runs. They were paced by D. Clara who had a perfect night with three for three.

Giants-Tigers

In the first of two lopsided games during the week, the Giants won easily over the Tigers, 18-3. The feature of the game was the 16 walks to the Tigers. The winners combined the Annie Oakleys with 11 hits for their big 18-run total. The Tigers picked up their three runs on seven hits and one free ticket to first.

On the mound for the Giants were Dave Ashmore, who went five innings, and Robbie Alexander, who pitched one inning. There was a parade of pitchers for the Tigers: J. Asher, B. LaValley and J. Mark.

Hitting features of the game were a home run by Marty Zawilinski for the Giants and LaValley also connected for a circuit clout for the losers. It was possibly the longest ever hit at the present park, traveling 250 feet in the air. Ashmore received credit for the win and Asher was charged with the loss.

Pirates vs. Yankees

The Pirates clobbered the Yankees in a very one-sided game Monday, 35-4. In running up their awesome total, the Pirates picked up 23 hits, 17 walks and were helped on base by numerous errors.

Pitching for the Yankees were Selby, Hunt, D. Little and Ryan. Tom Guinther went all the way for the Pirates, striking out seven and walking two.

Ryan was the big stick for the Yankees with a pair of doubles. Selby and Hunt each contributed a single and double for the losers. Leading hitters for the winners were Guinther with a double, three singles and two walks in seven trips and J. Zawilinski with two doubles, two singles and two walks in seven trips.

Holes slammed out a home run, his third of the season.

Run Down

By Dr. E. P. Lockwood

We often unconsciously compare our own body mechanisms to that of a watch. You'll hear people say: "I'm run down." Why not carry the analogy one step further? When a watch is run down and doesn't work right we have it adjusted. We can do the same for the body through chiropractic adjustment.

The result in both cases is the same. The watch and the body are both made up of hundreds of tiny parts, all of which must be meshed together in perfect coordination and balance, and with nothing to impede the flow of vital energy. The mainspring of the watch is its "brain." With human beings the brain is the mainspring of all our actions conscious and unconscious. Our system of interlocking gears to transmit vital impulses from the brain is our spinal cord.

Shock, fatigue, a fall, any one of a hundred causes can throw the spine off balance, interfere with proper channeling of nerve impulses from the brain to the other organs of the body. When we're "run down," it's a symptom that, like our watches, we need "adjusting." The chiropractor corrects the distortion that has altered or obstructed the proper channeling of nervous impulses and restores the body to the desired equilibrium.

BULEN TALKS Cars

IT'S AN ILL WIND THAT BLOWS NOBODY GOOD

Our country is in prosperous times. It seems we have to live with a significant percentage of unemployment due to the relentless advance of automation. But this is the cost of change. Birth and growth have always caused some penalty, though their end result is universal good.

The car industry is one that economic experts call the bellwether of our whole economy. For the second year running, automobile sales are booming despite many experts who said this was impossible, and they promise to surpass the record year of 1955.

If you are thinking of buying a car this year, here are some facts that may help you make a better decision: New car prices will never be lower for what you get for the money. Dealer volume is high so that unit profit can be lower and dealer concessions on trades (how you measure the actual cost of a new car) are at record levels. Booming new car sales mean bulging used car stocks with more variety and quality to choose from.

The finance difference between a new and used car is $28.00 a month based on January-March figures. New car payments are $86 monthly based on the average 31.8 months contract, and used are $58 for the same contract time. New or used, now is a wonderful time to purchase.

We sell both kinds and back them up with reliable and economical service, honest guarantees and a never-ending effort to keep you buying from us.

Report First Ham Radio Field Day Successful Sunday

The first annual radio field day staged by the Michigan Amateur Radio Club was successfully concluded Saturday and Sunday at the Caro fairgrounds, Patrick Kendall, president, announced this week.

The purpose of the tests was to make as many contacts with other "hams" as possible in a 24-hour period, using not more than 150 watts.

The portable generators and other equipment were powerful enough to transmit 500 watts, but club members deliberately held the power down to qualify for a certificate of achievement under the nation-wide sponsoring organization.

Even with the limited power the men were able to contact the Canal Zone and the West Indies. They made between 375 and 400 contacts in the tests.

They were able to transmit about 16 of the 24 hours that the equipment was set up. Power wire and atmospheric conditions kept them from transmitting the remainder of the day, Kendall reported.

Purpose of the tests is to be prepared in time of disaster to work with the weather bureau and other authorities for fast transmission of the news when regular channels might not be available.

Participating in the test were: Irvin Hughes, John Wagner, Chuck Wyrick, all of Caro; Phil Kay, Vassar; Kendall, Cass City, and Engineer Larry Robinson, Caro.

periods. And special attention is required because the problems vary. One child might read well silently, but not orally. With another, phonetics might be the stumbling block. A third child may dislike reading and the teacher may be able to use the extra time she has to ferret out the cause and perhaps cure it.

Extra Hours

The teachers are paid for working the half day but they spend most of many afternoons going over the results of the morning's work or planning the schedule for the next morning.

Part of the cost is contributed by the parents who pay $8 per pupil for the course and the remainder by the taxpayers in the school district.

SRA Helps

All of the teachers are enthusiastic about the help they get from the Science Research Reading (SRA) laboratory supplies. Purchased at a cost of $232, the SRA gives a complete program designed for various levels of learning.

"It isn't that the SRA supplies anything radically new," Mrs. Howarth said, "but that it furnishes materials and a course of instruction that make for a good program."

Tape Voice

At least one of the students in the course will be able to tell how well he progressed in the course. Reading aloud was his problem and his voice was taped at the beginning of the session and will also be taped at the end of the course to document progress.

Not Definite

With only one week of the course completed, the teachers are not ready to dogmatically report that the program is an unqualified success... it's too early to tell.

But in their own minds, it's evident to the casual observer they feel the program sparkles with possibilities.

"You just know this program is going over when you notice the attitude of the children when they come to class," said Miss Garety. "It's the most rewarding aspect of the entire summer clinic."

Local Grower Looks For Big Berry Crop

The dry weather in the last 10 days has hurt the strawberry crop for many growers, but it has not curtailed the production for Ed Marshall.

Marshall brought in samples of oversized luscious berries this week and says his crop looks very excellent.

Producers in other areas of the county are not as fortunate. County Agricultural Agent Al Ballweg says that early berries in the county were good to excellent.

However, the lack of rain recently has killed the crop and many of the growers with early berries say that their crop is finished.

Shipped-in berries from the big producing areas of southwestern Michigan are normal as many of these large growers have irrigation.

A man's strength should never be judged by the great number of promises he breaks.

Navy Promotes

Harold J. Wroubel

Harold J. Wroubel, aviation structural mechanic third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Wroubel of Tyre, was advanced to his present rate May 16 while serving with Training Squadron 31 at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Tex.

Advancement is based on meeting the Navy's military and professional requirements and determined by the needs of the service and scores attained on the Navy-wide competitive examinations given biannually. His promotion results from successful participation in the February examinations.

The small, still voice of conscience is never that way when it echoes back from the neighbors.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

They ain't nothing no more that can't git "surveyed" or "compiled." For instant, I see by the papers where the National Macaroni Institute has just completed a "survey" and found that the per capiter consumption of noodles and macaroni by Americans in 1962 was 4.424 feet.

I think Americans has got teched in the head over this fad since we got them Univac things and electric brain gadgets. Here is another piece about a New York outfit making a "survey" on girl watching. It shows the average male observes a passing female on the street for an average of 5.5 seconds. And men in groups stares longer than individuals, it says. And construction workers stares at girls longer than anybody else, averaging about 8.9 seconds to the girl.

And this company making the "survey" has discovered that five per cent of the American males ain't normal. They don't even look at a girl on the street.

And some of the Commerce Department officials has made a survey on cigarette smoking in this country. They report that in 1962 cigarettes was smoked at the rate of 11 a day fer ever American over the age of 14, and the cost was 6.9 billion dollars. They go on to report that men smokers is outnumbering the wimmen smokers but the wimmen is catching up fast. In 1955, the piece says, they was 7 million wimmen smokers and today it has jumped to 25 million, with the men still holding the lead at 37 million.

I was reciting these figgers at the country store Saturday night but most of the fellers was unimpressed. Clem Webster said he couldn't care less if Americans was eating 10 foot or a country mile of noodles per capiter, and Bug Hookum claimed it wouldn't bother him none if ever woman in the U. S. took to smoking cigars. But Ed Doolittle allowed as how he had saw a few figgers from the Federal Reserve Bank that had shook him up. One out of ever two people in the U. S. that voted in 1960 is now getting Government checks from Washington and the number is increasing ever year, Ed reported.

Clem Webster said they wasn't no cure fer it, that the voters has got their Congressman car into the barrel. If he don't vote fer more benefits, he don't git re-elected, and what a Congressman craves most in this world is to git re-elected.

Zeke Grubb allowed as how the voters has got a sure bet in this deal, said it reminded him of the story about the loving husband that called the paper and wanted to put in a ad-offering $1,000 reward fer the return of his wife's pet cat. When the feller on the paper ask him if this wasn't a pritty high reward fer a cat, he answered, "Not this cat, I done drowned it."

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

There's No Love Between Me and It --

By Dave Kraft

A friend of mine is a barbecue nut. Everything has to be cooked outdoors, regardless of what it is or what the weather. It isn't unusual to see him standing in his backyard in a torrential rain or a blinding snowstorm bending over his portable pit, stocking up the coals.

The other night they invited us over. I thought for an evening of relaxation and the enjoyment of our company. I figured as long as we were going to be sitting around in idle conversation, I'd bring my rat gun so we could work on it.

Lately it has been giving every indication that it's about ready to start firing out the stock. It just wouldn't do for the self-proclaimed "King of the Rat Shooters" to get himself assassinated by his own rifle.

We used to have a grill. You remember Dr. Earl Nelson? We loaned it to him last fall when he and his wife went on a picnic near Port Austin.

When they left, they forgot the grill. As far as I know, it's still sitting on the edge of the beach smoking away.

If the truth were known, I told friend Nelson that he'd be a friend no more if he brought the blasted thing back.

I think I told you about my experiences with that charcoal-burning volcano when I got it last year. About how I put on a large dose of the "flameless" fire starter and how it roared up and singed all the hair off my arm and peeled the paint off the side of the house.

After such a violent beginning, I had visions of barbecued steak, barbecued chicken, barbecued everything in just a matter of minutes. Sort of "on the fire, over and out."

The first chicken we tried to barbecue ended up asking me if I'd stoke up the coals 'cause it was getting cold sitting out there in its pinfeathers. The darn thing finally died of old age and exposure.

Anyway, there's no love lost between me and barbecue pits.

When we got to my friend's house, there were the usual greetings and then he steered me into the living room. There in the middle of the floor was a pile of metal.

It looked vaguely like someone had brought a sports car into the living room and killed it.

My friend explained that it was his new grill and that since we were just going to spend the evening in idle conversation, why not put it together. I hid my rat gun behind my back.

We started at 8:45, using the instructions, and by midnight we'd built a recliner chair, a lawnmower... and a sports car... but no grill.

Once we almost had it looking like a grill, but somehow I managed to bolt my right arm onto the spit and when he turned on the little motor that runs it, I made three revolutions before he could get it stopped. Boy, that makes you dizzy. After that, it didn't look like a grill anymore.

At 12:01, we threw the instructions away... at 12:16, we had a grill. We took it out to the garage, built a fire in it and at 12:20 we had a pile of molten metal in the middle of his garage floor.

I went into the house, wrapped up the baby, collared my wife and grabbed my rat gun. If there's anything I can't stand, it's seeing a grown man cry.

For those of you who may be interested (and it's a subject that no longer holds any interest for me) we still do not have a new addition. If my wife doesn't come through soon, we're going to have a subtraction. I'll subtract her little head from her shoulders.

Thanks, though, for the suggestions. Some have suggested a humpy road, castor oil (which doesn't work) and getting her snookered up. I favor the last one. So if you see me down at one of the local pubs with a glow on, you'll know I'm trying to have a baby.

Judging Clinic to Aid County 4-H'ers

Hay Drying Building Plans Available

Free plans for a solar hay drying building are temporarily being offered by Michigan State University's Department of Agricultural Engineering.

"The plans are for a modified 36x52 pole building with a storage capacity of 100 tons of hay," reports Fred H. Buelow, leader of MSU's solar heating and drying research effort. "A fan placed high in the building brings air under the roof where it is carried via a vertical duct to floor level. Once there, horizontal ducts distribute heated air through the hay."

The building is of permanent construction and may be used for storage all year around. It has two open sides, making it a self-feeding barn.

More than 60 requests for the plans have been received so far, says Buelow. Interested farmers are advised to write for "Solar Hay Drying Plans," Department of Agricultural Engineering, MSU, East Lansing.

Buelow points out that the use of solar energy for heating and drying hay and grain crops is gaining wider use throughout the country. "The sun's energy -- plus properly designed buildings -- are being used to dry crops more simply and more economically than ever before," he says.

"Solar heat raises air temperature in these buildings by as much as 15-20 degrees and, at the same time, cuts the humidity in half. As a result, farmers can dry their crops quickly and protect them for safe storage."

When a fellow starts up the ladder of success he's apt to hear more complaints than compliments.

Allison Green Directs Floor Action As Speaker of House

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
How It Works

The political workings of the Legislature in Lansing gives it something in common with the U. S. military forces; it's a wonder that either functions as well as it does.

In both House and Senate each party names a floor leader, or whip, and an assistant to him. In addition, each party has a caucus chairman.

During the recent session, however, the titles borne by certain men did not exactly match the members who performed the duties of the positions, particularly in the Senate majority ranks.

The floor leader is charged with the responsibility of directing his party's debate whenever possible and making sure his colleagues stay in line on party questions. The caucus chairman is more strictly a presiding officer of the closed door party meetings, although he must be a strong-voiced leader.

In the Senate this year, for example, Sen. Stanley Thayer of Ann Arbor was named caucus chairman and Sen. William Milliken of Traverse City held the title of floor leader for the Republican majority.

But it was Grand Ledge Republican Sen. John W. Fitzgerald, son of the former governor, who exhibited most of the leadership for his party in the Senate.

Fitzgerald, one of the organizers and still chief spokesman for the Senate group commonly known as the "young moderates," is the oldest of the trio of leadership in Senate service. He has served since the cash crisis session of 1959. Milliken and Thayer are both in the second term.

Democrats named Sen. Raymond D. Dzendzel of Detroit as their leader.

In the House, Detroit Democrat Joseph J. Kowalski retained his floor leader's title without contest. Kowalski is now serving his eighth term in the Legislature and works effectively in the floor leader's post.

Republicans named Rep. Robert E. Waldron of Grosse Pointe to succeed Allison Green of Kingston when Green was elected House Speaker. Much of the direction for GOP floor action continued to be held by Green in his first session as Speaker, however. He also is GOP caucus chairman in the House.

As one of the leading states in the use of migrant laborers to harvest the crops, Michigan has several times come close to initiating a program of this type on its own.

Former State Rep. Edgar Currie, Detroit Democrat, tried for 10 years or better to get legislation adopted to require services and improved care for the migrant farm families working here.

Now Congress is giving serious consideration to four bills which would allow the outlay, in separate appropriations, of an estimated $60 million for improved education, sanitation and working conditions of migrant laborers. The bulk of the effort under the Senate plan would provide more than $35 million in matching funds to states to pay the cost of educating migrant children and establishing adult education programs for the workers.

Additional funds would be set aside for states which provided day care services for young children of migrant laborers and sanitation facilities in field work areas.

These areas are almost precisely those which Currie attempted to get Michigan monies for in past years. He met strongest opposition from legislators who feared the cost it would incur on farmers who employ the temporary labor. With Federal funds forthcoming the votes could shift.

Sneezin' Season

The onset of summer brings thousands of Michigan residents a problem known to nonsufferers as the sneezin' season.

Individuals bothered by hay fever or asthma during the hot, humid weather when the pollen count jumps sky high do not take this season as lightly, however.

Bozette City, a popular spot for winter tourists, issues an open invitation to allergy sufferers to spend their summer there.

The community near Lake Charlevoix boasts the purest air in the Midwest. In several years of testing, Bozette City never recorded a day the pollen count went over the distress point.

Rotation Grazing Ups Pasture Yields

Want to increase pasture yields for dairy cattle by 20 per cent? If so, give rotation grazing a try, advises Don Hillman, Michigan State University extension dairy specialist. Dairy men can expect an increase in milk production providing they properly manage the pasture.

Hillman recommends dividing pasture into six plots with about an acre for every eight cows. "Turn the cows into the pasture when the growth is six to eight inches in height," he says. "If you wait until the growth is knee-high, it gets too big on later plots and much of the potential feed will be trampled down."

"If the growth on a plot gets too big, it can be harvested for either hay or silage."

Just turning the cows into pasture plots will not be enough feed for some cows. Production will tell the story. Cows producing less than 40 pounds of milk daily should require little additional grain. But those producing from 60 to 80 pounds will drop noticeably if given no grain. The exceptional cow producing over 70 pounds daily will probably be short on protein and her energy supply will be limited.

If the pasture gets short during July and August, dairy men will have to furnish some hay or silage to keep milk production up, concludes Hillman.

4-H Talent Show Scheduled Friday

Talented 4-H Club members in Tuscola county will join to present the annual Share-the-Fun program Friday, June 28, at 8:00 p.m. in the Wilbur Memorial 4-H Building, according to Ed Schrader, County Extension Agent in 4-H Club work.

Four acts will be chosen to represent Tuscola county at the District program later this summer. Two small group acts and two large group acts can compete on the district level.

The Share-the-Fun program provides an opportunity for 4-H club members to participate in dramatics, vocal, instrumental and dancing and are all judged on talent, audience reception, costuming and originality, Schrader continued.

IT SEEMS TO ME New Pesticide Laws Are Needed Now

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

In Miami, Fla., a mad rush of people clamoring to pay their delinquent water bill deluged City Hall lately. They all thought that the city had cut off its supply lines. The real cause of the water shortage was that a road grader had accidentally cut the main water supply into Miami Springs.

Is there a parallel here to the fervor with which prayers are offered after a close friend is killed in an accident? Some people evidently think of God as the Divine Ambulance Chaser, or "So It Seems To Me."

A small town near the border of Texas was noted for the quick operation of a speed trap. Eighty-five per cent of its revenue was derived from visitors so ticketed. Protests from high state officials did nothing -- so the legislature of the state abolished the town!

Rachel Carson's newest book is a polemic against the use of chemical insecticides, holding that they kill birds and can kill human beings. Ordinarily when I read something like that I smile indulgently and comment that Miss Carson's a little naive. However, the New York Times carried a story which began: "Senator Abraham A. Rubicoff of Connecticut said today that a pesticide vaporizer, marketed for home use over government objection that it was unsafe, has been 'implicated' in the death of an eight-year-old girl." Inadequate laws and poor or nonexistent testing programs before putting it on the market are at least partially responsible -- and new laws are needed. Or, "So It Seems To Me."

From frequent contributor the Rev. Melvin Vender comes the information that the Peace Corps needs older people to carry out this thrust towards peace. They would go to Asia, Africa and Latin America. Age is no barrier to Peace Corps enlistment; you can get information from Mr. Vender by calling him. Also included was the information that the government now is publishing a series of pamphlet type aids to a bride available at no charge. To get them write, asking for "Packet for the Bride," Office of Information, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.

Every newspaper and news commentator includes some references to yet another "color incident." It seems that our generation had to ease relations between all people of the earth. Prominent people -- from the entertainment world, from active church youth groups and from legal and citizen's rights groups -- have come the decision that as long as the South has begun integration, so should the North. While our area seldom sees a Negro, we find ourselves involved! The big question is our own attitude. Do we accept as a fellow-citizen the Negro? Will we be willing to have a Negro family next door? Will we hire a Negro where we work? These and other questions soon will face us in a practical way. Gone are the days when we can mouth the doctrine of equality because we did not actually have Negroes next door. This issue will have to be faced individually and soon at that. Or, "So It Seems To Me."

Church mergers and the race situation in our land are two of the trials and opportunities faced by our day. Nobody is happy either with the status quo or with the conflicts that come when we face the issues today. One thing we can each do is read up on the issues. Your church denomination probably publishes a magazine full of news about world problems that relate themselves to you. The daily papers have done a good job both "covering" the story and in the editorial comment. May I call your attention, again, to the daily column of Ralph McGill -- a leading Southern newsmen -- which contains much levelheaded sense? (I read it in The Detroit News.)

The news magazines, Times and similar journals, also are 'must' reading for the citizen of today. Knowing the background of a situation will mean a lot when your participation in some phase of it is necessary. Or, "So It Seems To Me."

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500XL SPORTS HARDTOP

IF YOU KNEW WHAT

THIS "CAR KILLER" KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING A SOLID, SILENT SUPER TORQUE FORD

This steel-edged pothole is probably the world's toughest test of a car's suspension. We drive into this car killer at 30 mph, locking our brakes as we go so the wheels can't roll through the hole as they normally would. The car slams against the far edge of the hole with such impact that it literally bounds out.

If you added up the cumulative effect of all the jars and jolts your car's suspension system experiences in years of normal driving, it wouldn't match the impact of one trip through the hole. Yet—a Ford must run this test three times to prove its strength.

How can a Ford take it? Because Ford's front suspension has extra beef in spindles, springs, suspension arms—in fact, it's about 20 pounds heavier than the front suspension of our principal competitor's car.

We don't expect you to abuse your car the way we do our test cars. But, however you drive, you'll welcome the extra strength of a total performance Ford. Ford strength is tested in a thousand ways in Ford's laboratories and proving grounds—and in open competition in the world's toughest rallies and stock car events.

Look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, the World 600 at Charlotte, N.C., and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control and road-clinging suspension—could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery: if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance...total performance.
