

Girl Scouts Hurt By Inept Program

The Tuscola County Girl Scout program is definitely snafued. A combination of factors has reduced the once strong Day Camp program in Cass City to a point where as recently as Monday morning, Leader Mrs. Patrick Rabideau was not certain if the camp (July 15-19) was to be held this year.

And this pinpoints one of the factors that has plagued the program... lack of communication between the Mitten Bay Girl Scout headquarters and the local troops. It is just one in a long list of difficulties.

Another blow to the program, local leaders believe, is the increase in the cost of the camp from $1.00 to $3.00.

The $2 is to be used to purchase noon-day meals that the girls formerly brought with them. But to families hard-pressed to stay within a budget, it's much easier to pack a meal than it is to shell out $2... especially if two or three girls were scheduled to attend.

The confusion mounted when long-time camp director Mrs. Earl Mattlin resigned and her successor was not appointed until after scout troops had stopped meeting for the year. (Mrs. Rabideau learned Tuesday that the new director is Mrs. Ralph Janes of Caro.)

The Effect
How much has the program been affected? When Whispering Pines was first organized several years ago over 250 girls from the county flocked to Deford each day for two sessions. This year, according to Mitten Bay authorities, a little over 100 girls have indicated they desire to attend.

In addition, a second day camp originally planned for July 22-26 has been cancelled because of lack of applicants.

How Many?
Mrs. Rabideau is now trying to find out just how many girls from Cass City plan to attend. "I need adult leaders and I need to arrange transportation for the girls... but I don't know how much. Please have girls planning to attend call me at my home," she said.

Not Too Late
For girls who have not yet sent in reservations, there is still time to attend by filling in the day camp registration blank and sending it to Saginaw.

Report School In Black

Just seven persons attended the annual meeting of Cass City School District Tuesday at the high school to learn that the district ended the year in the black. Treasurer Bill Ruhl presented the report that showed that $441,352.51 was received in the general fund at the school and $442,103.35 was disbursed from the general fund.

Although the district actually spent more than it received, the school's books will more than balance when the remainder of money due (some $6,000) from the Deford district is received.

When this money arrives (and it is expected momentarily) the school will be some $5,000 in the black for the year, the report showed.

Costs Rise
The cost of instruction at the school showed an increase, while administration costs were down slightly over the previous year.

The report at the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962, showed that $280,486 was spent for instruction as compared to $296,905.22 spent in the year just concluded.

Administrative costs were down for the second year in a row. This year they dropped to $23,956 from last year's $24,015.

DROPS IN FOR BREAKFAST—Tiny Showboy is just one of the Speirs family. A while after he was first purchased, about a year and a half ago, Dad Bob Speirs brought the animal in the kitchen and he established a precedent for the kids.

Now Tiny is a frequent visitor in the kitchen. He takes no urging to come trotting in and loves the bread that the family feeds him. Giving him a crust is Jane Speirs. Watching, from the left, are Skippy and David. The three children share the fun of caring for and riding the pony.

The Speirses enjoy horses. Besides the pony, they have several full-sized horses that Ronald, an older brother, and mom and dad ride regularly.

Change Plans for New School Boiler

The Cass City School Board will determine the cost of two major school improvement projects Monday, July 29, when bids for the new school roof and the new school boiler are opened.

The cost of these projects will determine how much of the remainder of the capital improvement work promised the voters can be done immediately.

Trustee Don Reid is in favor of borrowing the money and proceeding with the work at once, while other members of the board want to borrow as little as possible to complete the major jobs and then spend the remainder of the money for the improvements as it is paid by taxes.

No decision was reached by the board Tuesday night as action was deferred until the opening of the two bids at the end of the month.

Boiler Plans
A switch in plans for the boiler has now been authorized. Board members were advised that it is okay to place the boiler in the present room and plans for a separate building have been discarded.

The board is expecting four or five bids on the boiler. All of the bidders but Wickes Boiler are bidding on one type unit. Wickes is bidding on a different type. The Wickes boiler is more expensive, but said to have other advantages. After experimenting most of last Thursday we discovered that we can't. Therefore, the new machine stands idle in the corner while we wait for a factory expert to bail us out.

The Chamber of Commerce this year seems to be off to a flying start under the direction of Mrs. Lucile Bauer. Interest, as evidenced by the attendance at Tuesday's dinner meeting, is gratifying to all interested in Cass City's progress.

As good as it is, it doesn't measure up to the cooperation that the Pigeon Chamber boasts. Mrs. Eleanor Eicher, who runs stores in both towns, reports that in Pigeon merchants are taxed on a sliding scale according to the volume of each.

Lowest dues payment is $75 and the highest is $150 per year. Cass City's bargain rates are only $25 yearly.

And what's even more impressive is that some 67 out of 72 business and professional men in the Pigeon community belong. It is a mark worth shooting for.

Sidewalk Sale Plans Complete

Plans are complete for the annual sidewalk sale scheduled in the village Friday and Saturday, July 19-20, according to an announcement made this week by William Kritzman, a member of the Chamber of Commerce retail committee.

There will be rides for the kiddies and the largest selection of reasonable merchandise on the walks that we have had since the event started in Cass City several years ago, Kritzman explained.

Sidewalk days is one of several sales planned by the retail committee during the year. It is the biggest value event of the summer season.

Deford School Nixes Request for Operating Funds

Hopes of the Deford Community School Board for more funds to solve an acute financial pinch were dashed Monday at a special meeting of voters in the district.

A proposition for an additional three mills for three years for operating was defeated 67-45. Board members had hoped that their recent campaign in the district explaining the need for more money would result in a favorable vote.

At the annual meeting several weeks ago the same proposition lost by the scant margin of three votes.

Evidently the board's campaign in the district resulted in organized opposition that was successful in defeating the proposition by a substantial margin.

It was the fourth try in the district for more operating funds.

The National Farmers' Organization will hold its 7th Congressional district meeting at Cass City High School Wednesday, July 31, at 8:30 p.m. Main speaker will be Erhard Pfingsten of Sergeant Bluff, Iowa. Ice cream and cake will be served. Door prize. Members and non-members invited. No charge.

Supervisors Ask State for Better Traffic Control

A resolution to the Michigan Highway Department asking for better traffic controls at the corner of M-81 and North Vassar Road highlighted the activities of the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors Monday at the courthouse in Caro.

The resolution called attention to the numerous fatal accidents at the corner and said that for this reason the department should make whatever changes it feels necessary to better safeguard the lives of county residents.

In other business, the supervisors were invited to visit the Deford pulpwood plant of the Scott Paper Co. by County Agricultural Agent Alfred Ballweg. The plant is a major industrial activity in the Deford area.

Deaf for 50 Years

Like Having A New Life, Says Mrs. Jeffery After Operation

"It's like having a new life at 70," said Mrs. Roy Jeffery this week as she explained the thrill she receives from being able to hear after suffering for 50 years from partial deafness.

Mrs. Jeffery is currently recovering from an ear operation that she believes will eventually bring her perfect hearing. "Every day it gets a little better as the swelling goes down," she explained. And as it does, a whole new world of sound opens up for her. "I never realized before what a racket our washing machine makes... and the other day I heard Katherine tapping her foot on the floor."

Being able to hear makes you want to participate in life. When my hearing was bad, I sometimes shied away, from public because hearing was such a strain," Mrs. Jeffery explained.

New Technique
If such a simple operation brings such an outstanding result, why didn't she have it done years before? The answer is that up to about three years ago the operation, performed in Saginaw for her, was not known. "I read about it in the paper and investigated," she said.

"That's one reason why I am so willing to tell about my experience for publication," Mrs. Jeffery said, "maybe it will help cure someone else."

Likes Area
Mrs. Jeffery was born in Bay City but moved to Grant township when just a year old. When she was 18 she suffered a case of measles and her hearing difficulty stemmed from the after-effects of the disease.

When she married Roy Jeffery, they lived in Detroit where he was employed as a superintendent at Ford Motor Co. But their hearts remained in Cass City and they purchased a farm north of Cass City and spent their free time here.

Mrs. Jeffery still owns the farm. She share-crops the land and rents the house. She moved into Cass City with her daughter, Mrs. Harold Hulbert, four years ago.

Besides Mrs. Hulbert other children are: Mrs. Dorothy Rohnkohl of Utica, Roy "Bud" Jeffery of Cass City and a stepdaughter, Leola Veil.

NO NEED NOW for this hearing aid for Mrs. Roy Jeffery. For 50 years she used hearing aids and still was severely handicapped. Following an operation recently, her hearing has steadily improved and she leaves the hearing aid in her dresser. (Chronicle photo)

Chamber Members Applaud Work of Committees Tuesday

The operation of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce was explained by members of the board to the membership-at-large Tuesday night at the New Gordon Hotel in a special evening dinner meeting that attracted a surprising 50 members to hear a variety of speakers.

President Mrs. Lucile Bauer acted as toastmaster for the evening and after a brief note about the dinner introduced the speakers.

Treasurer Ken Eisinger told the members that the board was attempting to hold down expenditures. He said that in the first six months of the year only $402 had been spent, including money that had been set aside for future projects such as the Centennial in Cass City in 1965. Eisinger also explained that money spent for retail promotion activities would not be paid for by the Chamber, but by the merchants participating.

The money spent for retail promotions will be spread out in other Chamber activities.

Biggest single cost item this year will be for Christmas decorations, Paul Alfano, who explained the budget, said. He said that despite a very tight budget, the Chamber needs more money than it has. We hope to get this through a concentrated membership drive, he reported. Mrs. Bauer added that present members can help by urging that their neighbors belong and pay their dues.

Christmas Samples
The reason that Christmas expenditures will rise sharply is that the Chamber plans new Christmas decorations for Main street. The ones now in use are three years old and are due for a change under the policy followed in recent years.

Lloyd Vyse presented samples of four different types Christmas decorations made in miniature. The samples are about six inches high and are exact duplicates of decorations that will be about four-feet tall if they are built for Main street.

Retail Activities
Bill Kritzman, chairman of the retail committee, introduced Gerald Friessorn who explained the promotions planned by the division during the year.

He explained details of the Sidewalk sale in the village Friday and Saturday, July 19-20. Merchants voted to help pay for ride tickets to keep the cost down to 10 cents for children.

Tickets will be available from participating merchants.

Kritzman then asked for suggestions from the audience for improving the retail committee's service to merchants. Remember that we are competing town against town more than we are merchant against merchant today, he said.

Village Improvement
Tom Proctor, co-chairman of the village improvement committee, explained the function of this group.

He said that the current project under consideration is parking in the community. He explained that B. A. Calka and Fred Piney are working to establish the facts before making any recommendations to the committee at large.

This committee's endeavors embrace anything connected with village improvement and it is designed to keep the rest of the community up to the industrial growth.

"In some ways Cass City has been a progressive community and in others it lags," Proctor said. "Our committee wants to eliminate pessimism and attack the areas where investigation indicates that action is needed."

Zone Township
In suggesting improvements, Calka asked the group to consider zoning M-81 for residential and farming to keep business in the downtown section.

After discussion, Calka, Keith McConkey and Lee Rabideau were appointed to a committee to work with the planning committee on the project.

Members attending were asked to fill out suggestion forms telling what they thought Cass City needs and what they would like to see the Chamber board accomplish.

Two Concerns Seek Franchises

Air Plan for Natural Gas

Competition for the natural gas franchise in Cass City is keen. Following the appearance at a special council meeting of representatives of Southeastern Michigan Gas Co. Wednesday, July 3, representatives from Consumers Power Co. were in Cass City inquiring informally about extending to Cass City.

It would appear that the council will have a choice of granting franchises to either or both of the companies, subject to the approval of the residents involved.

Consumers is six per cent cheaper than Southeastern. However, it has a $47 hook-up charge for the first 60 feet of line to customers' homes. Presumably Consumers would service Cass City by extending their mains from Caro.

The Cass City Village Council and the Elkland Township Board are considering a request by Southeastern Michigan Gas Co. for franchises to bring natural gas to the community.

Speaking at a combined meeting of both governmental units Wednesday, July 3, were Jim Shaw, district manager, and Loyd Watson, legal counselor, for Southeastern.

They outlined the necessary steps for piping natural gas to the community.

To place gas lines on village and township property, franchises are needed... similar to the ones under which Detroit Edison operates in the area it serves.

These franchises are for 30 years after which they must be renewed. They must be authorized by the council and approved by the voters. In the village, a three-fifths majority is needed and in the township a simple majority is all that is necessary.

No Assurance
If the franchises are granted, there is no definite assurance that Southeastern will extend into Cass City. However, the granting of a franchise to one company does not prohibit the granting of another to a competing concern.

But the first company to build lines in the community then has the exclusive right to the area unless the Michigan Public Utilities Service Commission rules that two companies should serve. For practical purposes in Cass City, the first company here would have an exclusive franchise.

The Problem
This is the problem that faces the council and the township board. Southeastern's headquarters is in Port Huron and now serves Marquette, Crosswell, North Branch and other Thumb communities.

Right next door to Cass City is Consumers Power Co. which serves Caro.

Consumers sells gas six per cent cheaper than Southeastern, which is a comparatively new and much smaller company. ($6 million in gas revenues last year.)

However, Southeastern has free service of gas appliances and Consumers does not.

Service Area
If Southeastern is awarded the franchise, it probably would not get to Cass City for at least two years and when it comes would serve only the populated area.

Shaw explained that all homes in Cass City and property adjacent to the village in Elkland township would receive service. Also served will be the farms adjacent to the main gas line running from Marquette along M-53 and M-81.

Estimate Customers
Shaw said that, judging on the basis of previous experience, about a third of the owners in the service area would switch to gas the first year and at the end of three years, 50 per cent would be using the fuel.

Heavy Investment
Bringing gas to the community requires a heavy investment. The main line extending from Marquette costs about $20,000 per mile to construct. A six-inch line running from M-53 along M-81 to Cass City costs $6,000 per mile and the two-inch line that would go to the users, costs $5,000 per mile.

No Cost
Shaw said that Southeastern pays all costs of running the lines, the franchise elections and hooking to the homes of gas customers.

Rates Vary
Pinpointing the cost of natural gas to the users is difficult because the rate schedule is weighted by volume... the bigger the user, the less the cost.

He claims the average bill is equivalent to about 15-cent oil and 12.9 LP gas.

Bulen New Head Of School Board

The Cass City Board of Education elected Horace Bulen to succeed Jack Esau as president of the board in its organizational meeting Tuesday night at Cass City High School.

Jack Esau

Horace Bulen

Esau, who did not seek re-election, concluded his board career when he turned over the presidency to Bulen.

One reason that Esau decided not to seek re-election is that he is attending night school at General Motors Institute in Flint and the class takes much of his spare time.

The GM course is in plant management, Esau explained. He thanked the board members for their help and said that his work for the school had resulted in a "keen awareness of the problems and an appreciation of the volunteer work of all public officials."

Bulen, speaking for the board, thanked Esau for "an excellent job for the Cass City School District."

Other officers re-elected were Secretary James Milligan and Treasurer Bill Ruhl. Mrs. Geraldine Priessorn, recently elected, assumed her seat on the board at the meeting.

Beauty Tips

By Helen

Since the eyes are the most important facial feature, they require careful attention. The newest look in beauty and makeup is the natural look, and to keep eyebrows as natural as possible, use feathery strokes and never draw them in unless there's a noticeable defect. To enlarge the eyes, mascara lashes lightly and use an eyelash curler when dry. Apply pencil strokes and eyeshadow with a light hand or you'll not achieve the natural look. A beautifully styled hairdo is a perfect frame for your face. You'll find the latest styles and techniques at our salon. Appointment not always necessary, phone 872-3535, HELEN'S BEAUTY SALON, 6469 Main street in Cass City.

P.S. For limp, lifeless, lazy hair we have an amazingly unique chemically formulated permanent with "backbone" skeleton that is infused permanently into fine hair, giving more inner-support, strength and holding quality than ever before possible. Given at Helen's for $12.50.

Undefeated Argyle Leads Church Loop

Argyle-Baptists continue to roll along undefeated as they combined good pitching with a solid defense and strong hitting for easy victories.

It looks as if the battle in the Church League will be for second place. Argyle leads the second place teams by two and a half games with only six games played. Five teams in the 10-team loop have won three and lost two games.

Argyle defeated Church of Christ, 10-0, Friday when Jerry Hillaker posted a shutout. Don Englehart was charged with the loss. The Gagetown Nazarenes won a slugfest from the Cass City Methodists-Presbyterians, 17-7, in the nightcap Friday.

Erla's Win Exhibition Tilt With Mayville

When Erla's have Bosch on the mound, they are one of the toughest teams in the Thumb. They proved it again Saturday when they bested undefeated Mayville in a pitchers' duel, 1-0.

Bosch had to be good to defeat Putnam of Mayville. Each hurler allowed but two hits and the lone run scored was unearned.

The winning run scored when Frank Creason whiffed and then raced to first as the catcher missed the ball. Creason then scored without benefit of a hit. He stole second and came home on infield outs.

Putnam struck out five and Bosch whiffed 12. Bosch was especially effective in the clutch. In the sixth inning when the lead-off man reached first on an error with the tying run, he promptly struck out the third, fourth and fifth men in the visitors' batting order to quell the threat.

Accept Invitation
Don Erla, manager of Erla's, announced that the team has received an invitation to play in the class Port Huron Invitational tourney and are slated to play their first game Saturday night.

Lloyd Nicholas was credited with the win and Rebert Fischer took the loss. Roland Nicholas slammed a home run for the winners and Dave Wilson, Art Randall and Bill Ruhl helped keep the game close with round-trippers for the losers.

Wednesday, July 3, the Cass City Catholics topped Grant-Fraser in a slugfest. The score was 20-11. The winning pitcher was Jim Turner and the loser, Wally Hempton.

In the second game of the evening, Shabbona Methodists topped the Decker Methodists. Roger Root was the winning pitcher.

The early game Monday evening was marked by the slugging of Larry Maharg. The youngster slammed out a home run as the Catholics measured Decker-Sno-ver, 5-2.

In the final game of the week, Church of Christ was charged with another loss. Deford Methodists outlasted them in a 17-10 game. Gary Kelley was the winner; Don Englehart, the loser.

The standings:

Team	W	L	GB
Argyle-Baptist	6	0	-
Gagetown	3	2	2½
Catholics	3	2	2½
Shabbona	3	2	2½
Church of Christ	3	2	2½
Deford-Kingston	3	2	2½

Slate Hymn Sing At EUB Church

An old-fashioned hymn sing will be held at the Salem EUB Church Sunday evening at 8 p.m. the Rev. R. E. Betts, pastor, announced this week.

The Sunday School orchestra, special vocal numbers and Bible readings will be among the highlights of the meeting.

The public is invited to attend, Rev. Betts said.

Yankees Still Winless In Little League

It is not certain who will finish first in the Cass City Little League, but it's regarded as almost a certainty that the Yankees will be the cellar dwellers when the season is over.

The Yankees dropped another game Monday, July 1. The league-leading Giants posted an easy 18-0 win.

The winners were paced by lusty hitting by Terry Brinkman who collected four hits in four tries including two home runs, a double and a single.

The Giants banged out 16 hits in their victory. Fred Ryan pitched four innings of good ball and J. Selby hurled the final two innings. The Yankees mustered only five hits off Robbie Alexander who went the distance.

Pirates vs. Cubs

The Pirates stayed in contention for the regular season championship with a victory over the Cubs, 8-1, Monday, July 8. The game was highlighted by David Sherrard who hurled a no-hitter. The only run scored by the Cubs was notched by Dennis Clara who walked and then romped home when the Pirate catcher threw the ball into centerfield trying to stop him from stealing second base.

Sherrard walked eight and struck out 11. Little Lee Taylor hit a home run for the Pirates. Eight was the magic number for the winners. They collected eight hits, eight walks and eight runs. The Cubs worked Sherrard for eight walks. Bob Skinner pitched three and a third innings and Kim Hopper finished the game for the losers.

The standings:

Team	W	L	GB
Giants	5	1	-
Pirates	4	2	1
Cubs	3	3	2
Tigers	2	3	2½
Yankees	0	5	4½

The old blue laws never prevented men from painting the town red.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Czekai

Palms, candelabra and baskets of white and orchid gladioli formed the background in the Cass City Methodist Church for the June 29 wedding of Miss Margaret Ann Kozan and Gary Morris Czekai.

The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Alfred Gasho of Romeo, assisted by the Rev. James Bruid.

Soloist was Fern McCreedy of Unionville who sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest." She was accompanied by Joan Merchant, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kozan Sr. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Czekai, all of Cass City.

The bride, escorted on the arm of her father, chose a gown of rosepointe lace over net and taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice and full bouffant skirt designed with scalloped tiers of lace and trimmed with chipped crystals. A pearl and crystal queen's crown held her English silk mist veil.

She wore pearls and her great-aunt's engagement ring of tiny blue opals and carried a lace covered white Bible with a purple throated orchid and satin streamers covered with pompons.

Gowns of lilac taffeta with bouffant skirts, a cabbage rose and streamers at the back were worn by her attendants. Their crowns were of pearls with short lilac net veils and they wore pearls and crystals.

Miss Mary Ann Kozan, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Mary Schuette and Miss Linda Ashmore, also cousins of the bride, were her bridesmaids. Their flowers were white lace trimmed satin crosses with white and lilac tinted carnation arrangements.

Think!

By Dr. E. P. Lockwood

Think for yourself and reason the proposition in your own mind. What is the logical result when the nerve supply is reduced to any particular organ of the body, or when these vital forces of health are unable to follow their normal channels due to interference?

Chiropractic adjustments not only restore health; they also build health. The old adage: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," may be considered trite, but it is sound truth.

The Chiropractic principle briefly stated, is this: The cause of disease is in the person afflicted. Adjustments correct conditions that produce illness.

The junction of every organ in the body is controlled through the brain, by mental impulses, which are transmitted over nerves. Any impingement or pinching of the delicate nerve fibers, interfering with the free flow of vital nerve forces causes impaired or abnormal function. This is disease. This nerve interference is produced by a vertebral subluxation.

The chiropractor -- expert in his knowledge of the spine -- locates the point of nerve pressure, and by adjusting the subluxated vertebra, releases the pressure. Normal condition -- Health -- is the result.

(One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. E. P. Lockwood whose office is located at Cass City. Tel. 872-2765). Adv.

Area NFO Chapter Elects Officers

The National Farmers Organization (NFO) organized a chapter in Tuscola county at a charter meeting Tuesday, June 25, at Deford Community School.

John Kuck of Unionville is the president and a complete slate of officers and directors was named.

Harold Francis of Deford is the vice-president and Stanley Van-Vliet of Decker, secretary. Elected treasurer was Gordon Holcomb of Deford. Trustees named were: Harold Deering of Deford, three years; Alex Borodychuk Jr. of Unionville, two years, and Eugene Putnam of Caro, one year.

Eugene LeValley of Deford is delegate to the district convention.

Meet in Lansing
In other business of the farm organization, some 80 members of the NFO dairy bargaining committee met at Lansing Friday, June 28, to hear Albin Rust of Wisconsin, head of NFO dairy commodity department, speak. He said that NFO is organizing in 18 states and has signed contracts with many processors.

After a discussion of the NFO contracts, members voted for a holding action on milk in the fall.

Gagetown Loses Political Leader

A heart ailment proved fatal for Anthony J. Mosack Sr., 68, of Gagetown Thursday. The former village president succumbed at his Gagetown home.

He had been in ill health for a month and had been treated for his ailment at Hills and Dales General Hospital prior to his death.

Known by his wide circle of friends and acquaintances as "Joe", it was in his reign as village president that much of Gagetown's street improvement work was accomplished.

He was responsible for many spirited political campaigns in the village.

In his political campaigns, he attracted many staunch supporters and many deadly political enemies. As a result, most of the elections were very close with practically every registered voter in the village participating. Mosack won more often than he lost. He voluntarily retired as president a year ago.

Born July 2, 1900, in Gagetown, he was a lifelong resident of the community.

He operated a wholesale store for ecclesiastical supplies. He was a member of the Holy Name Society and a Fourth Degree member of the Knights of Columbus.

Mosack married Mildred Rose Everts in Detroit in October of 1922.

Surviving, besides his widow, are: a daughter, Mrs. Gerald Kerbyson of Cass City; four sons, A. J. Mosack Jr. of Mentor, Ohio, James of Flint, Al of Cass City and Robert, at home, and 12 grandchildren.

Final rites were held Monday at St. Agatha Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. Frank McLaughlin officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

Rosary devotions were recited at 8 p.m. Saturday by the Knights of Columbus and at 8 p.m. Sunday by Fr. McLaughlin. Hunter Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Cass City Educators At NEA Convention

Six members of Cass City Schools faculty attended the National Education Association's 101st annual convention in Cobo Hall, Detroit, Wednesday, July 3.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Orion Cardew, Mrs. Paul Murray, Mrs. C. W. Price, Miss Martha Knoblet and Mrs. B. H. Starnann.

The group attended a business session in the morning, debating on adapting a new educator's code of ethics and also visiting the educational exhibitions. In the afternoon, the following department programs were attended: Updating Industrial Arts to Meet Technological Developments, Demonstration class, Fifth grade students from Detroit Mann Elementary Schools - "Let's Listen to Music" and Social Studies and attended the Third General Assembly in the evening.

The theme of the convention was "A Great Profession-Ours by Choice."

AN EGG ISN'T ALWAYS AN EGG

A New York advertising agency ran a trade journal advertisement a little while ago in which they made the point that the difference between one agency and another was really just people. They did it by showing a picture of what looked like an ordinary run-of-the-mill chicken egg. To a lot of people an egg is an egg and they're all alike as peas in a pod (which, come to think of it, are actually all different too).

Well, they pointed out that one egg could look like any other but inside it could be a prairie owl or a Plymouth Rock or a Rhode Island Red or it could be sterile or ticking with life. Their egg turned out to contain a potential lady alligator!

Car buyers are making a mistake if they think that car dealerships are all alike except for what appears to be slight differences in price.

Car dealerships are very different. Some stress high volume sales and play down service. Some advertise heavily with price ads, train salesmen to be aggressive and believe that the long term repeat customer is usually not worth the trouble.

Well, we DO stress service, we don't normally advertise heavily and we try and stress quality when we do. We train our salesmen to be aggressive but in seeking out the best solution to the customer's needs in order to make a sale. Most of all we think that a repeat customer is worth all the trouble you can possibly go to to keep him.

ELECTRONIC ENGINE ANALYZER
This wonder gadget will show what's wrong with your engine in short order, in fact it will do anything except get the ball game on Channel 2. Joking aside it will pinpoint trouble. We invite you to come in and see it work. No charge.

Another very expensive purchase to try to give better service.

Sharon Profit Joins MYF Bus Caravan

Sharon Profit of Cass City is one of 36 young persons selected to join the 1963 12-day bus caravan sponsored by the Detroit Conference - Methodist Youth Fellowship. The group left Dexter Monday and will tour the southern states.

Among the highlights of the trip will be visits connected with church work. Stops include visits at the Church of the Redeemer in Chicago, Bethlehem Center in Nashville, Clark College, Emory University, Stone Mountain and the Wesleyana Collection in Atlanta.

The trip will take the group through parts of Illinois, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, Kentucky and Ohio.

One stop includes an overnight stay at the Cherokee Center in North Carolina and a visit to the Indian Pageant.

Miss Profit is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Profit of Cass City. She is a member of the Cass City Methodist Church and is president of the Port Huron District Youth Fellowship.

THE UPLAND SPONGER
IS A FAMILIAR FIGURE IN MICHIGAN WOODS COME MAY. AND NO WONDER... HE IS HUNTING THE MOREL... A MUSHROOM GOURMET'S SAVIOR...

MOREL GROUNDS ARE USUALLY A GUARDED SECRET BUT A LITTLE LOOKING AFTER A WARM SPRING RAIN IN "POPPLE", HARDWOOD STANDS OR OLD ORCHARDS SHOULD PRODUCE SOME.

SQUIRRELS, CHIPMUNKS, GROUND SLEEPS AND MICE COMPLETE WITH MAN FOR MUSHROOMS.

THE FALSE MOREL EDIBLE TO SOME POSITIONS TO OTHERS, HAS A MURKIN CAP.

MORELS COME IN VARIOUS SIZES AND SHAPES BUT ALL HAVE PITTED CAPS.

"but for the Grace... THERE GO!!"

You've often thought that... even said it... at the sight of a badly smashed car, the sound of an ambulance siren, the report of a traffic death.

These are dramatic reminders of the tragic part of our auto accident problem... of more than 108,000 persons injured and nearly 1,600 killed in Michigan last year, and of an even greater rate of injury and death this year to date.

The less-dramatic accidents aren't so likely to arouse this feeling of deep concern... but they should.

These are the broad, and fast-growing, base of the problem. Our present rate of 260,000 accidents a year involves nearly four damaged cars for every injury, 250 for every death... and in many of these the only difference between a bent fender and a funeral is just a split second.

Stopping traffic tragedy starts with the take-no-chance driving which avoids even minor mishap.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

VOLUME 57, NUMBER 13

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1963

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where one Congressman is complaining about they got 4 full time plumbers on the White House payroll. He reports they got 20 bathrooms and if they don't all break down at the same time, one full time plumber would be a plenty. What this pore Congressman don't know is that we got certain standard stockpiling procedures for Government workers as well as for supplies. The chances are 10 to one they got enough plumbing materials stored in the White House basement to build 40 bathrooms from scratch. So they figger that materials for 40 bathrooms calls for 4 plumbers. That's what is knowned, I see by the papers, as Government "logistics." I fergit this Congressman's name, but the odds is good that this is his first term in the Congress.

Things is getting more and more complicated in the Pentagon Building, according to the piece I got here. It says the Pentagon boys has just put on another "assistant" that's got 33 words to his title. It says here he is "The Assistant to the Deputy Special Assistant to the Assistant for Space Office, Deputy Director, Research and Engineering (Tactical Warfare Programs) of the Defense Department's Tripartite Corporation Program, Sub-Group M, Military Space Research." When that feller writes a letter, Mister Editor, I reckon he has to put the letter on one page and use another sheet for his title.

It's a great pity, Mister Editor, we can't git some folks in Washington that appreciates the simple things in life. For instance, take that Mayor of a little town in Alabama named Newton. I was reading where they built a new town hall and put a brick planter across the front. The Mayor put turnip greens in it, claimed he didn't know nothing that needed less care and looked so pritty. Furthermore, he aims to put buttermilk in the water cooler and is going to rig up a vending machine where the town workers can git a nickel's worth of cornbread. It would be a great blessing to the country if we had a few fellers like the Mayor of Newton in the Pentagon Building.

I have took note through the years that country editors tells about things in simple words the folks can understand, and in a pinch I reckon they ain't no part of America the people has got more confidence in than the grassroots press.

Even here at home things git more complicated ever day. My old lady went to the country store last week to git a gallon of kerosene. In the old days the feller at the store would stick a Irish potato over the spout, but now he fills the can with kerosene for 20 cents and, to hear him tell it, would have to git another 10 cent for the potato to break even.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Depend too much on advice of others and you can't be independent.

The fellow who follows his impulses is headed for real trouble.

Completing the list are: Wilbur Hoover, John Kolbasa, Leah DuBois and Frances Nixon, Vassar; Charles Starita, Otter Lake; Fred Witkowski, Caro, and James Finn, Fairgrove.

Services Sunday for Steven Chuno, 85

Steven Chuno, 85, died Friday, July 5, at his farm home after a six-month illness. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Cass City Presbyterian Church with the Rev. M. R. Vender officiating.

Mr. Chuno was born in Hungary Nov. 20, 1878, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chuno. He came to Pennsylvania when a young man and married Mary Gelda in 1906. The came to Novesta township in 1924. Mrs. Chuno died in October of 1949.

He was a member of the Cass City Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Henry (Margaret) Jackson and Mrs. Rose Strauss, both of Cass City, Mrs. Andy (Betty) Toro of Detroit and Mrs. Paul (Clara) Raychock of Lake Orion. There are also 12 grandchildren surviving.

Little's Funeral Home had charge of funeral arrangements and burial was in Novesta cemetery.

I Went Fishing The Other Day - -

By Dave Kraft

"Summertime and the livin' is easy. Fish are a jumpin' and the cotton is high..." So go the words of the well-known song.

I went fishing the other day... the fish weren't jumpin', the livin' wasn't easy and the only one high was my fishing partner. As a matter of fact, the way the weather turned out, I wasn't even sure it was summer.

I went with a friend of mine who is a real fishing nut. Knows the fishing routine inside and out.

I haven't been pole fishing since 1956 back in Washington State when I was out hiking after a flood and I came across a landlocked salmon. I took my hiking stick and poled him to death.

Of course, I did go ice fishing last January and I caught this perch. Did I ever tell you about my perch... but that was a little different.

Anyhow, we left here in beautiful sunshine and arrived at one of the marinas near Bay Port in overcast. The plan was to rent a boat and motor and go out to one of the islands.

When we got to the marina the owner informed us that he had lots of boats but no motors. Besides, he told us, it was too windy to make the trip. We could, however, fish in the middle of the marina cut. Lots of fish... pulling 'em out like teeth at a denture factory.

So we rented a boat and made ready to set out. "You row, Kraft." Now I row a boat worse than I paddle a canoe and if any of you remember last Labor Day, you know that's pretty bad.

Nevertheless, I gave it a try. I jumped into the front of the boat and started churning up more water than one of those old side paddle-wheelers gone amuck.

We didn't make much headway and after a bit I looked at my partner to see what was wrong. "Maybe you ought to push off from the shore first."

I think he was trying to be nice. That was the last time during the whole episode that he was even civil.

After I pushed off I managed to run into the shore several times and hit three boats and one swimmer. It was after I hit the swimmer that my fishing partner wrenched the oars away from me and rowed to the center of the cut.

Since I didn't have any fishing gear I borrowed some of his. "You ever use a casting rod before?" he asked. "Sure," I replied. "Well, just in case you've forgotten, use your thumb for pressure when you cast."

I must not have applied enough pressure because after my first cast, the reel looked like a reject from a string factory. I had seen a similar situation once when the kitten got into my mother's sewing basket.

My friend wrenched the pole from my hand (One thing about my friend...he's forceful.) "Here," he growled, "use this spinning rod while I straighten this mess out. Just keep your thumb on this gadget when you cast and let loose of it at the top of your cast."

I turned back to my fishing, but not before I noticed my friend fish a small bottle from his coat and take a healthy swig.

On my first cast with the spinning rod I held the white gadget too long and drove my lure straight from the tip of the rod to the bottom of the cut.

"You're not trying to brain them, Kraft, just catch them," said the voice behind me. Also from behind came the gurgle-gurgle as he took another swig.

The next time I let go of the white gadget too soon. I waited for several seconds for the splash of the lure and when I turned around to ask why there was no splash, I saw why.

My friend was wearing it on the front of his fishing jacket. Taking full command of the situation I said, "Aw c'mon, fellow, quit horsing around. I'm trying to fish."

On my next few tries I caught a boat, a low-flying swallow and the same swimmer I'd hit with the boat. Presently, it started to rain. By this time my friend was drinking openly from his bottle.

By the time I rowed the boat to shore, he was lying in the bottom of the boat crying and mumbling something about someone destroying all his expensive equipment.

If there's anything I can't stand it's a man who can't hold his liquor.

A man with tact has the ability to change the subject without changing his mind.

New Free-way Speed Law Raises Night Speed to 70

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
New Laws

The second set of laws affecting Michigan citizens will take effect Sept. 6.

The quirk of having two batches of new statutes take effect in a single year occurred because the 1962 legislative session did not end until last December. By law, statutes enacted in a given session take effect 90 days after adjournment of that Legislature unless otherwise specified during the session.

This year the Legislature gave some 90 bills "immediate effect," so they became law when signed by the Governor on a date specified in the measures. Typical of these are the appropriations measures, which became effective July 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year.

Nearly 160 other measures, most of them having more direct bearing on John Q. Citizen, will go into effect Sept. 6.

Among the new laws affecting a large percentage of the citizenry is a measure allowing motorists to drive 70 miles per hour at night on Michigan's full controlled access freeways. Currently the night time limit is 60 miles per hour. The same bill will also set a minimum speed of 45 miles on the limited access highways.

Increased fees are in store for a number of people. Hikes in the marriage license fee, notary public registration, dentists' certificate of practice, registration of unrecorded births, and fees for veterinarians' licenses were all put into effect this year.

Still another group of laws enacted by the Legislature this year become effective in September but will not be used until later dates.

This practice is commonly used to allow implementation of laws by affected individuals and groups between passage of the bill and enforcement of the law. Examples of this type of legislation from the current session are a measure requiring the installation of seat belts on all new cars sold in the state, and a bill requiring many school districts to provide bus transportation to parochial school students as well as those enrolled in public facilities.

The seat belt requirement will not take effect until the start of 1965, and legislators wrote a July 1, 1964 effective date into the controversial school bus bill.

Tenting Tonight?

Pressures on camping facilities in the state continues despite recent additions and improvements made by the Conservation Department.

Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the Department's parks division, reports that during 1961, Michigan's camp sites were used "2,270,959 days." This figure is arrived at by compiling the number of days used and the number of campers accommodated.

The division is responsible for 51 state parks and 13 recreation areas spread throughout the state.

Camping facilities are well spread throughout the various sections of the state and are able to accommodate many touring families.

Elmer lists his biggest problem is that the division has no way to control the flow of traffic. Too often too many people want to camp at the same time and same place.

Constant increases in the number of campsites registered have failed to keep pace with the heightened interest in camping. In 1956, for example, Michigan listed nearly 96,000 campsites and 7,000 groups were turned away by "No Vacancy" signs. By 1961 the sites were increased to more than 161,000 but 36,736 groups were turned away and both figures were raised again last year, Elmer said.

Schools and People

Michigan ranks at about the midpoint among the states in the educational training provided its children, according to the Michigan Education Association.

Among the 50 states, the average number of years of school completed ranged from a low of 8.7 years in Kentucky and South Carolina, to a high of 12.2 in Utah.

Michigan's standing, as that of many states, was sharply affected by the differences within the state.

County breakdowns show median school years completed by Michigan children ranged from a low of 8.5 in Keweenaw and 8.7 in Lake counties, to a high of 12.2 years in Washtenaw.

Children in Ingham, Midland and Oakland counties came close to the Washtenaw high by completing a median of 12.1 years of schooling.

The theory has been advanced that if a man expects to be liked he can't do just as he likes.

Spend more than you make and eventually your forward progress will come to a sudden halt.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

The Cass City Village Council passed an ordinance that established a planning commission in Cass City.

The State jail inspector continued to agitate for a county jail, saying that a fund should be started immediately to replace the present building. (The building still serves Tuscola county.)

A final pre-consolidation meeting was scheduled for Owendale and Gageton schools.

The best camp in Cass City's history was the way Scoutmaster Keith McConkey described the stay of 17 local scouts at Camp Rotary. Scouts attending were: Jakabs Zalte, Bill Hutchinson, Ed Knight, Bill Eberline, Jerry Ross, Tom Ellis, Bill Bliss, Tom Craig, Martin Yedinak, Larry Shagena, Danny Gee, Jim Fritz, Bruce Avery, Mike Bryant, David Barnes, Bob Bliss and Chuck Iseler.

Youth was to be honored at Cass City's annual home-coming, Chamber of Commerce President B. A. Calka announced.

Gary Zellar, 8, was injured when struck by a car at Cass City Recreational Park. He was treated and released at Pleasant Home Hospital.

Eli Holes and Mrs. Michael Yedinak explained the Cass City recreational program to members of the Rotary club.

In its second year at their new Deford location, "Whispering Pines," the Tuscola County Girl Scout camp, smashed all previous attendance records when a total of 286 girls registered.

Ten Years Ago

Cass Food Lockers was sold to Mr. and Mrs. John Erla and son Dick of Imlay City.

Seven Cass City Boy Scouts leave for the Jamboree in California. They are: Jack Perry, Stuart Little, Jerry Perry, Robert Baker, Ron Fleenor, Dale Iseler and Fred McConkey.

About 200 children crowd the pool for Red Cross swimming classes.

The Baptist Church held a dedication service to mark the remodeling of the church and

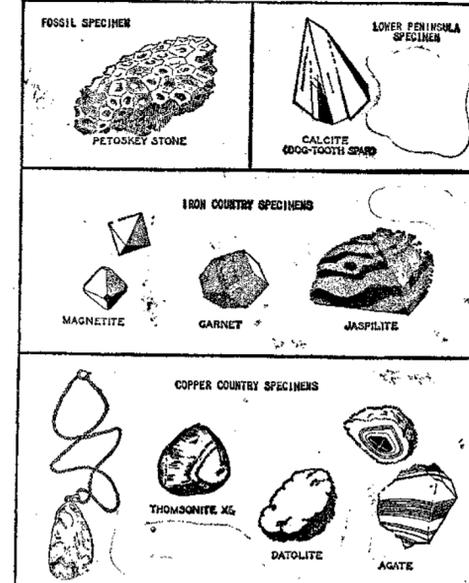

William Gage's Rating Advanced

William Gage, engineman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gage of Deford, was advanced to the present rate May 15 while serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Tidewater, an Atlantic Fleet unit homeported in Norfolk, Va.

Advancement is based on meeting the Navy's military and professional requirements and determined by scores attained on the Navywide competitive examinations given biannually. The promotions resulted from successful participation in the February tests.

Rock Hunting "Gems"

Each year, more people are striking it rich in outdoor fun collecting rocks and minerals in Michigan. Specimens that may be worked into pendants, earrings, and other jewelry are found in a number of places with the foremost area being the Keweenaw Peninsula—"Copper Country." Shores of Lake Superior are some of the best collecting places; colorful agates and thomsonites are much sought after along pebble beaches. Waste rock dumps of old copper mines offer excellent opportunities for finding such treasures as datolite. Another rock that takes a gem-like finish is jaspilite, found in the Marquette region of the "Iron Country." Garnet and magnetite are other popular collector's items from this country. Among the lower peninsula's outstanding display specimens are calcite crystals, located in limestone quarries near Monroe. The Petoskey stone, a fossil common in beach rubble along the south shore of Little Traverse Bay, rates high on the wanted list of many "gem" hunters. To learn more about rocks and where to find them, write the Department of Conservation, Publications Room, Lansing 26, for a free copy of "Collecting Minerals in Michigan."

Final Services for Edward Watson, 78

Funeral services for J. Edward Watson, 78, were held Thursday, July 4, at Little's Funeral Home.

Mr. Watson died Monday, July 1, in Cass City Hospital where he was a patient five days.

Born in Crosswell March 7, 1885, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Watson. He married Miss Dollie Hirsch in Sandusky Jan. 24, 1911, and they made their home in Marlette.

He was a member of the Novesta Baptist Church.

Survivors include his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Lewis Gidcomb of Pontiac and Mrs. George Wilkins Jr. of Utica, and four sons, Cecil of North Branch, George and Arley, both of Cass City, and Harold of Pontiac.

One sister, Mrs. Walter Morgan of Imlay City, and one brother, William of Crosswell, also survive. There are 16 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

The Rev. George Harmon, pastor of the Novesta Baptist Church, officiated at the final services and interment was in Novesta cemetery.

IT SEEMS TO ME Color Prejudice Is As Good As Gone

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

What does the Christian faith say to all that has been happening recently? Your answer would depend on what branch of the Christian faith you listen to. But this much is sure: there are a lot of questions that need answers that are oriented to an active Christian faith.

First of all, I am encouraged by the Freedom Walk in Detroit on a recent Sunday to share some thoughts with you about the way I see the race situation today. Because of the leadership of the Rev. Martin Luther King, the Negro no longer merely dreams of reaching his place as a man, with nothing withheld from him because of his skin color. That dream is in the making today. King is one of our day's most careful scholars and certainly one of its most effective leaders. I heard the man speak in Detroit during Lent several years ago and was impressed with the amount of reserve power he seemed to have. Religiously he ranks among the top men of the cloth. (Could you do all he does; going to jail, addressing crowds of people with cogent arguments, sleeping every night in strange beds and still preach on a Sunday morning?) Socially, he is a first rate problem in an all-white world.

With race riots hitting city after city, I recall visiting Detroit for the first time just after it had its famous race riot of twenty year ago; and in the intervening span of years I have heard police and others warn that the race situation could explode again.

Secondly, we are past that point in history where anyone can honestly say that today's American Negro is an inferior race. Sure, with the leavings from our educational system, he is not as well educated as are we. But we see more and more Negroes entering the professions. Thirdly, who can say that our own Abe Sabah is any less a Christian citizen because he is darker than we? No, the day when men and women with brains can be prejudiced against a man because of his color is as good as gone. Of course, there are Southern politicians making hay out of white fears. And not nearly all of the wrongs have been righted . . . but the day is coming which will see our land filled with whites, Negroes, Orientals and Indians who will be living in our neighborhoods and working in our factories — even playing cards at an evening sponsored by a lodge.

This is longer than this column usually devotes to one subject, but this particular subject has become so big that we will see more changes in the place of the Negro in a lifetime than any other generations could report in a century.

May I say, too, that at our recent Methodist Conference at Adrian we said some of the most reasoned things to this situation that could be said; and yet continued plans to relocate one of our best Churches, because its once all-white neighborhood is now nearly 100 per cent non-white. And, if the time has come for choosing up sides, I'm ready . . . or so it seems to me.

As you know, the Supreme Court recently handed down a ruling in line with an earlier one forbidding devotional exercises in school. Where I went to high school it was the custom to read from the Scriptures and offer prayer at the start of the day. That will never happen again in America! To tell the truth, I do not recall anything happening in the devotional period except some spitball fights (the teacher, of course, had to close his eyes during prayer as an example) and other prayers (non-spitball) to get an Esquire magazine out of the file before someone else ripped out the gate-fold page which contained pictures that shouldn't have been printed . . . Or, so it seems to me.

We congratulate the Catholic Church that once again a Pope has been elevated who is anxious to work with the other Christians. We also congratulate the local St. Pancratius Catholic Church, which had its first service in its very beautiful sanctuary. We stopped off the other day to view the new building, and in walking around came across a workman who seemed familiar. On inquiry we found that he was familiar — the Rev. Arnold Messing, who in three years has brought this edifice to be! Let me say that it is a beautiful job; the church has much warmth and is highlighted by its mammoth baptismal font and altar of stone.

GOOD THINKING
Many a man displays good judgment by showing a lack of it in some of his friends.

SELF-DESTRUCTION
Nobody likes a swindler, but the fellow who deceives himself is the worst swindler of all.

Human nature being what it is, a man's conscience is the loser when he begins to argue with it.
