File $100,000 Damage Suit In Circuit Court

A $100,000 damage suit was filed this week in Tuscola County Circuit Court by Searl and Teckla Foster of Millington for damages suffered in the spring explosion and fire that razed the Millington Hotel.

The Fosters are owners of the hotel. They allege that the explosion was caused by a leaky gas tank used at a gas station owned by Beulah Hall and Ervin Dean.

The Festers claim that the tank had been buried near the station for over 40 years and that the tank was rusted and leaked.

Gas escaping from the faulty tank, they said, was carried through a sewer pipe to their hotel to cause the explosion.

Besides the owners of the gas station, the Fosters also are seeking damages from N. & W. Transportation, Inc., for pumping gas into the tank they claim is faulty.

Another case was filed in circuit court this week by Carl H. Reynold against the A. T. Barnes Construction Co. of Cass City for Reynold claims that the company owes him money for legal work in Bay county in 1961.

Use of School In Jeopardy

The Cass City Recreational Department's use of the elementary gym in the summer is in jeopardy because the room was not properly cared for this summer.

"That room's a mess". Trustee Elwyn Helwig reported. There is plaster of Paris and paint on the floor and the tables. "If that's the way the room is to be used, them I'm against letting them have it. I don't care what anyone says."

Although no formal vote was taken among members, it seemed to be the concensus of board members that more drastic supervision is due next year, if the elementary gym is to be thrown open for the youth of the Cass City area.

According to information released by the Federal Contracting and Assisting Agencies, the lowest possible labor rate allowable is $2.65 for beginning laborers. Other common laborers will receive $3.00 per hour.

The village is forced to abide by the wage scale because it is receiving half of the cost of the entire $150,000 construction project from the government under the Public Works Acceleration

Even though wages double those paid in many cases, the village should realize a substantial savings in total costs. The reason for this is that labor costs

Several Injured In Minor Area Auto Crashes

Several persons received minor injuries in four minor accidents reported in the Cass City area during the week.

Two Cass City girls were among four persons injured in an accident Saturday morning at 1:45 o'clock. Jane Gretz, 15, received cuts and bruises on the leg and Joann Brown, 15, suffered lacerations of the face and forehead.

Also injured were James Eisinger, 16, and Gunther Kiklinski, 16, both of Elkton. They received cuts and bruises. The injured were treated at Hubbard Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe.

Eisinger was the driver of the car. He crashed through the dead end of Moore road, about four miles south of Elkton. Trucks Collide Ernest Sbresny Jr., 25, of Gagetown was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital for minor injuries sustained in an accident on Mill Street in Gagetown Wednesday, Aug. 7.

Bad Axe State Police, who investigated, said that two trucks of the Evans Products Co. of collided. A truck Gagetown driven by Sbresny came around a corner and rammed the side of a truck driven by Raymond Root, 22, of Caro.

Property Damage

Minor property damage was reported in an accident Wednesday, Aug. 7. Don Finkbeiner, 26, driving a 1960 panel truck, backed into a car parked at Martin's Restaurant by Mrs. Dean Hoag, 21. The right rear fender of the Hoag car was damaged.

Injured in Caro Harold Schwaderer of Cass City was injured in an accident at the corner of State Street (M-81) and Cleaver road in Caro Saturday afternoon.

Schwaderer was a passenger in a laundry truck driven by Richard Kitchen of Tuscola Kitchen was unable to avoid hitting a vehicle driven by Harold George Hanson of Holly, Hanson failed to stop for the M-81 intersection. Schwaderer was taken to the Caro Community Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises.

Hanson was issued a ticket by Caro police who investigated.

In the application for the grant, authorities estimated that direct labor would be about 30 per cent of the total cost. A total of 80-man months will be needed to complete the work. The remaining 70 per cent of the expenditures will be for supplies, engineering, etc., and the government will also participate with 50 per cent of the cost. Trustees are -onfident that there will be many persons seeking jobs from all over the area. Besides the rommon labor scale, other typical wages set by the government include all phases of the construction. A truck driver will pick up $3.08 per hour. Driving a farm type tractor is also worth $3.08, the government says. Scrapers, loaders and trenching machine operators will pick up $3.70 per hour. Painting the new water tower will be paid for at the rate of $4.40. The same amount will be paid electricians and iron workers. Plasterers receive $4.27 and carpenters drop to $3.83.

Top rate listed (but probably not needed here) is for boilermakers whose scale in this area is $4.57½ per hour.

Football Physicals Slated Aug. 24

Coach Oarie Lemanski said this week that physicals for all boys interested in trying out for football will be held Saturday, Aug. 24, from one to 2:30 p.m. at the high school.

Lemanski said that lettermen will be able to pick up uniforms anytime. The remainder of the candidates will be suited when they report for physicals.

We have received several calls this week concerning natural gas in Cass City, trying to find out more about the two companies seeking natural gas franchises in Choosing between the two companies is not an easy decision. The council has been wrestling with the problem for several weeks. We know that there have been investigations and work on the problem by councilmen since the last regular meeting.

We have no quarrel with whatever choice the council makes . . . if it is based on all the facts available.

We do believe, that the issue should be settled at a regular meeting or at a special meeting well publicized in advance so that interested persons may attend if they choose to do so.

A hurry-up special meeting to decide this important issue serves no practical purpose. The next regular council meeting is just 11 days away and airing the findings for everyone to study seems to me to be in the best interest of the community.

All-night police protection would have been a big boon to Erla's Food Center this week. After the break-in of the store (see story), Dick Erla reports that he learned that his burglary insurance was not in force. It was automatically cancelled by the insurance company it was with three years ago when they learned there was no all-night police protection. They don't even want to insure stores anywhere without night police protection, he added. The incident pinpoints a problem in Cass City.

Determining the hours that the police department works has plagued the council for a decade. The trouble is that protection is needed during the day and during the night and the money available limits the department to just one man with part-time relief help.

School Roof Complete

FOURTEEN PAGES

The new roof on the Cass City High School building will cost less than anticipated by the school board, it was reported at the regular meeting of trustees Monday night at the school.

The good news was tempered by the disclosure that work on the roof has revealed other work that is necessary. According to Trustee Elwyn Helwig, who inspected the work while it was in progress, about four feet of the brick wall extending from the roof leaks and needs to be repaired.

When the roof job was first authorized, trustees expected a good deal of additional expense repairing the roof boards under the built-up roof. However, when the old roof was taken off, it was revealed that only two new boards were needed, Consequently, there is expected to be a minimum of extra expense. The bid price for the work was $5,024.

Other Work

Other work at the school is not proceeding as rapidly. The new school boiler has not yet arrived and the old boiler is not yet removed. There is no cause for concern yet, trustees feel, as the low bidder has said that the new unit will be installed in plenty of time to meet the Sept. 15 dead-

Although the school carried insurance on the old boiler, it doesn't look as if they will be able to collect. According to Superintendent Willis Campbell, the key to the claim is whether an explosion occurred. For insurance purposes, an explosion probably did not occur when the boiler went out of commission just as school was ending.

The insurance covered liability for student injury and damages to the furnaces and surrounding areas caused by explosion. It cost the school $190 per year. Another project promised when voters approved a mill and a half special tax levy for three years will be delayed until spring. Paving of a part of the playground area will be held up besave the district money to hold the work over. Now there are no large surfacing companies doing road work in the area. Next year North Cemetery Road will be let and present plans call for negotiations with the contractor doing this work to do the school's work at the same time.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was discussing everything from preachers to ignorance in the Congress and it wouldn't take but a couple of them sessions to git yourself a education.

Ed Doolittle was telling about a preacher they had onct that always brung up the money subject at the end of every sermon. But Ed allowed as how Abner Singletree put a stop to that. Abner had one of them old timey dollar Ingersoll watches, Ed explained, and the preacher would no sooner git started talking about more generous giving to the Lord than Abner would come out with that big Ingersoll and start winding her up. Ed said you could hear the gears grinding clear out to the street and all the other members would start looking at their watches, squirming around, thumping the dust off'n their hats, and glancing toward his sermon Incidental, Ed said this preacher told him onct he never did like that feller Ingersoll nohow on account of him being a atherist and he was mighty glad when his dollar watch went up to $5 and folks like Abner had to quit buying it. Farthermore, he told Ed, time pieces and the Lord's work didn't go together. He said he had a church onct where they had a clock hanging on the back wall and the congregation spent more time looking back than they did

Speaking of preachers, Clèm Webster said this made him recollect a story he heard his Grandpa tell when he was a boy. Clem's Grandpa was living in the mountain country of north Georgia in them days and he belonged to a church they called Bull Wallow. Everbody in the congregation in them days made liquor and them that didn't own a still or have a interest in one wasn't considered much in the Bull Wallow church. They was having a meeting one night to git money to build a new church. Several of the members had made a nledge. when the preacher come in about half annointed and yelled, "Git on home, folks, I'm going to build the dad-burned church my-

This stopped the discussion on preachers fer the evening and Zeke Grubb pulled out a clipping from the papers saying the congress was studying adult ignorance, claimed "adult ignorance is a pressing problem in both houses of the Congress." Zeke said he'd been complaining about this ignorance in the Congress fer years, was mighty glad to see where them Congressmen' theirselves had final took note of the situation. But Zeke claimed he wasn't expecting no improvement in this matter anytime soon, that them Congressmen was always "studying" somepun that didn't mean

HOW GOOD ARE TODAY'S CARS?

.Back in the days when granddad was a boy folks thought that the automobile was a modern miracle, thirty miles per hour was a reckless speed and that engineering wizards had "gone about as 'fur' as they can go" in developing the new horseless carriages.

Youngsters won't remember it, but back before the invention of the self starter all cars were started with a mighty heave from a hand crank that every motorist carried as a necessity. The cranking action was to the right and it often required numerous turns before starting. Then when it did start, the counter thrust when the engine compression forced the crank back left many a pioneer motorist with a broken

Progress since those days has meant thousands of inventions as well as improvements upon improvements. Mufflers, for instance, would be fifteen feet long and two feet in diameter if built on the standards of thirty years ago. But to meet the needs of today's engine power engineers found ways of improving muffler efficiency as the engines became more powerful.

Modern cars are truly mechanical marvels. Machined tolerances made possible by electronic measurements are finer than one tenth of the thickness of a human hair. If it were not for modern mass production methods they would cost so much that only the wealthy could afford them.

Therein lies the primary reason dealers exist and are important- to give individual attention and service to a mass-produced product. We believe that you will not find better.... individual attention than you'll find at Bulen Motors.

tion for the five-team league. The play-offs were off to a flying start Wednesday, Aug. 7, as the Pirates topped the Cubs in a well played game, 9-2.

It was all even for four innings, but the Pirates broke the game wide open in the fifth with an eight-run rally. The winners picked up six hits and a walk in the inning.

The Cubs picked up two hits, but they were both home runs. Belting the round-trippers were Kim Hopper and John Novak. For the Pirates, John Zawilinski and Frank Holes each had three hits in four tries. Dave Sherrard, who pitched the final three innings for the Pirates in relief of Mike Murphy, was the winner. Novak took the loss. The Pirates picked up nine runs and 13 hits and played errorless ball. The Cubs made two misplays.

Giants vs. Tigers The Giants posted a very easy victory Thursday in the second night of the tourney as they bombed the Tigers, 21-3. The Tigers started well as Joey Mark lashed out a home run with a man on in the first inning to take a short-lived lead. But after that blow, Dale Ashmore had the game under con-

Terry Brinkman paced the Giants with two doubles and Ashmore helped his own cause with a double and a single. Ashmore was credited with the win and Mark was the loser. The Giants had 10 hits and the Tigers were held to five by Ashmore. Pirates vs. Yankees

The Yankees pulled the upset of the season with a 16-13 victory over the Pirates Friday. The Pirates had their worst night of the season and Coach Harold Guinther said it was the first time this season that the club looked truly bad.

The Yankees played inspired hall. After spotting the Pirates a six-run lead in the first inning on a grand slam home run by Frank Holes, the Yankees came. storming back to win.

The Giants got 14 hits and 19 runs in a game called after four innings. Caister was the starter and the loser. He was relieved by Jack Selby in the second. Brinkman went all the way for the Giants. The Yanks picked up only two safeties off his slants. Brinkman and Alexander each had three hits in four tries for the winners.

They continued their drive in the seventh with another run for the victory, J. D. Alexander was nicked for seven hits as he received credit for the win. Andy Kozan allowed five hits, but was charged with the loss.

Bill Kritzman, with three hits, and Chris Schneider, with a pair of safeties, led Walbro. Sunoco was paced by Carl Kolb, with two hits, and Tim Anthes, who lined a home run over the fence. Cable-Erla's Cable came about as close as possible to being the first team to defeat Erla's this year. They rallied for five runs in the final two innings to pull within a single counter of the league champions, only to fall short of a coveted victory. Jim Brown, making his first start for Cable, allowed just five hits, but was hampered by shoddy support in the field.

Erla's turned the Cable miscues into runs and scored seventimes with their five hits. Dan-Erla was the winning pitcher.

Reunion Saturday

Relatively few men without prior military service qualify for exemptions compared to the numbers who, for temporary periods, qualify for deferments.

As far as men without military service are concerned, the largest exempt group is made up of ministers of religion and theological students. Relatively small numbers are exempt as aliens or as sole surviving sons of families which have lost one or more sons and daughters in service.

On the other hand, deferments affect a great many men. Largest deferred group is that made for service in the Armed Forces -- the IV-F or I-Y registrants. Others may be deferred in Class III-A as fathers or because their induction would result in extreme hardship to dependents; because they are engaged in study or occupations important to the national health, safety or interest (Class II-A, II-C or II-S); because they are satisfactory members of a Reserve component including the National Guard, or are in ROTC (Class I-D).

Two types of students deferments are provided. Deferments in Class II-S is for full-time students who are making normal progress in their studies. However, with normal progress, a man may complete college before he reaches the age at which induction is imminent. But it is important to keep the local board advised of student status as a sudden heavy mobilization could bring the draft age down into the college group. The deferment is also available to graduate stu-

The other student deferment, designated Class I-S, is provided by law to permit a man to complete an academic year when he is ordered for induction during the school year. The deferment is available only once. It expires at the end of the academic year or when the student ceases to pursue a full-time course satisfactor-

Occupational deferments are used, for example, to avoid aggravating the teacher shortage and to insure an adequate supply of scientific, engineering and technical personnel in the defense effort or in activities vital society and the to civilian

Fathers who are not physicians, dentists or veterinarians are deferred for fatherhood by itself. Where other dependents are claimed, it must be demonstrated to the local board that extreme hardship to bona fide dependents will result from induction.

Relatively few qualified men pass their 26th birthday in a deferred or exempt status. And remember, a man deferred any time before age 26 remains liable to age 35.

COUNCIL MEETING

August 7, 1963

A regular meeting of the Council of the Village of Cass City was held on July 30, 1993 at 8:00 o'clock p.m. All members were present.

Minutes of the last regular and of one special meeting were read and approved as read.

Representatives of Southeastern Michigan Gas Co. and of Consumers Power Co. were present to answer questions of the Council members in connection with their request for a franchise to serve Cass City with natural gas. The council delayed a decision pending further investigation. Several members of the 4-H club appeared in person to present a request for council action in helping them find adequate

The clerk was instructed to contact Harold Schwaderer concerning the concrete wall on Clare Schwaderer's property. It was understood that he is handling the matter for his father.

A citizen's petition requesting strict enforcement of the ordinance regulating dogs within the Village was discussed. No action was deemed necessary.

Motion by Althaver seconded by Seals that a resolution authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds in the aggregate principal sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00) for the purpose of paying part of the cost of acquiring and constructing an elevated water tank and various water mains, together with necessary appurtenances and attachments thereto, be adopted. Or so it seems to me.

We would like to add our congratulations to those going to the Rev. Melvin Vender, newlyhonored by the Presbyterian Church of Cass City. He is now officially 'minister emeritus.' This is an honor given after retirement to a minister, denoting both honor and affection to a former pastor. Mr. Vender once served that church, returning to Cass City for his retirement home; and has taken a role of leadership since then. Following the decision of the Rev. John Fish to leave Cass City, Mr. Vender has preached frequently from that pulpit, in addition to fulfilling previous obligations. In periods when the pulpit is vacant, Mr. Vender will guide the church with his seasoned experience.

America is learning a lesson the hard way as the summer progresses. It is now evident that the racial crisis is not just a matter of a few weeks. The papers report a wide variety of places where Negroes are making great strides in employment, housing and schooling. A great many white people have been forced to change their viewpoints about those of other races. It now seems evident that the starting of school year will bring things to the boiling point. We can do this: write any friends we have in the southern states expressing the Christian position and encouraging them to stand with the church. And, we should treat Negroes who come to and through Cass City as we would treat anyone. Or, so it seems to

The State Supreme Court of Oklahoma has ruled that school buses purchased by public schools cannot be used for parochial students. The court ruled that funds for school buses and their maintenance and operation are to be devoted exclusively to public schools. Not an issue locally at this moment, it could become one if the local Catholic parish decided to initiate parochial education.

The EUB Church people are proud of the way their minister, the Rev. Robert Betts, has grasped the local situation as it affects his work. This tall young blond has been busy calling in his new parish and in doing the administrative work. We met him at the local Council of Churches meeting recently and were pleased to greet him. We don't know just where he stands yet on the EUB-Methodist merger or on the larger merger that would see the Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopalean meld into one body. However, the real issues are even now being hammered out by denominational executives. It seems to me that we have fine young ministers at both local churches who should be able to effect joint efforts of various sorts to pave the way.

Class of 1948 Holds Reunion

Fifty-one former students of Cass City High School attended a class reunion Saturday, Aug. 3, at the high school auditorium. It was the second reunion for the class since they graduated 15 years ago in 1948.

Orville Hubbard of Kingston was master of ceremonies and introduced Willis Campbell who told class members of the accomplishments at the school in the last five years. The Rev. Gene Sickler of Newaygo gave the blessings and the dinner was served by the Evangelical United Brethren Church women.

The trophy for having the youngest child was won by Hugh Bogart of Mukwonago, Wis. Louis Langenburg was hailed for having the most children while Mrs. Joyce Karr of Silver Springs, Md., was recognized for coming the greatest distance.

A committee was appointed to plan the next reunion.

Sharon Hoppe took third place, which will make her eligible for second alternate to the National NJVGA Convention to be held in Pittsburgh, Pa., this fall. Bonnie Kennedy took fourth and Patty Rogers, 10th place.

Thursday evening, Aug. 8, a final leaders meeting was held at the Sandusky Fairgrounds. Those attending from the Evergreen Clab were: Mrs. Arlington Gray, Mrs. Clair Auslander, Mrs. L. D. Severance, Mrs. Alan Rogers, Mrs. Ed Hoppe, Mrs. Gene Chapin and Mrs. Alvin Burk.

Friday evening, Aug. 9, five junior leaders helped with the "set-up" at the fairgrounds at Sandusky. Those attending were Sharon Hoppe, Esther Gray, Joy Turner, Jack Burns and Alvin Burk II.

Monthly Meeting-

The Evergreen Guys 'N' Gals 4-H Club held its monthly meeting, Friday, Aug. 9, at the Alvin Burk home. About 25 winter and summer members answered roll call by naming a vegetable.

In the absence of the regular officers, who were helping at the fairgrounds, Patty Rogers, assistant president, took charge of the meeting. The American flag pledge was given by Marshie Geister and the 4-H pledge led by Cherryl Dorland. The secretary's report was given by Paula Copeland and the treasurer's report by Marilee Turner.

Completion of 4-H projects was the main business. Plans were made for a party to be held for all winter and summer members Monday evening, Aug. 19. Members are to meet at the Alvin Burk home at 5:30 p.m. Refreshments for the party will be supplied by the

Seed Alfalfa Now Without Oats

"Seed alfalfa now without oats for excellent seedings." the advice of Dr. M. B. Tesar, crop scientist at Michigan State University, who points out that summer seedings are "naturals" after plowing wheat stubble or following fallow. Alfalfa seeded during early August is just as productive the next year as when seeded with oats in the Recent MSU tests have shown the importance of early seeding. "Stands seeded on Aug. 12 had average yields of 3.8 tons per acre, but dropped to 3.3 tons when seeded Aug. 28," says Tesar, Sept. 11 seedings yielded only 2.6 tons per acre.

A recent survey showed that 28 per cent of southern Michigan dairymen seed alfalfa in the summer - one half of them after wheat. "Seeding after wheat has resulted in successful seedings by farmers who failed to get good stands on wheat in the spring,' says the scientist.

Oats compete with summer seedings for moisture. Aug. 12 seedings of alfalfa with oats had average yields of only 1.8 tons per acre the next year when oats were green chopped on Oct. 3 or not cut in the fall.

Tesar recommends mixing three pounds of brome grass seed with the fertilizer to get proper distribution rather than with oats when seeding with alfalfa. He also advises band seeding followed by press wheels or a cultipacker for top stands. The soil pH should also be above 6.5 and adequate amounts of fertilizer used. "Vernal is the best variety for most rotations, especially when left for three years or more."

Mental Health Problem Needs Attention at All Levels

By Elmer E. White Michigan Press Association Improve Care

Attention to mental health problems at the local level brings together the many people involved in the "public interest"

Under the 1963 Community Mental Health Services Act, 12member boards are provided to administer programs in individual communities or for counties or groups of governmental

The most likely representato the Michigan Society for Mental Health, are members of the clergy, medical and legal professions, general hospitals, schools, public health, public welfare, and citizen organiza-

Working in concert, such individuals can design a mental health program to fit the particular needs of the community the board serves.

For example, a community mental health board might contract with the psychiatric unit of a local general hospital to provide intensive, short-term inpatient service for the acutely mentally ill.

State funds would match the community expenditures if such a program met state standards for service.

The board might also find an entirely new service is necessary to meet the community's needs. In this case also, if state standards were met, up to 60 per cent of the cost would be paid for from state funds.

The best estimates available indicate that as many as 75 per cent of the acutely mentally ill can be saved from long-term state mental hospitalization if intensive inpatient services are provided at the local level.

Communities already are spending money on mental health because each county is responsible for the first year cost of an individual hospitalized in a state institution.

Under the new act, officials estimate much of this money could be put into the community programs because of the anticipated decrease in state commitments if local facilities were

Individuals and groups which urged passage of the new law this year, including the Society tives on these boards, according for Mental Health, expect widespread participation by communities. They predict, on the basis of experience in other states, tlet Michigan might cut its mental hospital population by 50 per cent in 10 years because of the new law.

Could Reduce Payroll

A possible side effect of the new Community Mental Health Services Act could reflect on the State Civil Service Com-

During 1962, the Commission reported 33.8 per cent of all state employees were working in the mental health field. This was the largest single employer in state government, with some 10.400 workers.

The second largest employer was the combined services of health, welfare and employment security agencies, which had nearly 5,500 employees during the same period.

During the year, state emaveraged ployment workers. Presumably a reduction in the case load at mental hospitals would result in a decrease in mental health employment. The employment reduction probably would not be as great, however, because currently mental health officials say the hospitals are understaffed for the work load.

Department officials could be expected to balk at any attempt to reduce the work force at the same rate as admissions are cut. ****

A Billion In Gas

Michigan is among some 22 states which have collected more than $1 billion in gasoline taxes since the levy was imposed.

The first imposition of a state gas tax in the nation occurred in 1919. Since then states have collected an estimated $52.7 billion from this lucrative source of income.

Michigan first imposed a tax for the privilege of using highways in 1925. The current state levy is 6 cents per gallon. Farmers and governmental units get all the tax they pay back, however, and 1.5 cents of the levv is refunded to bus companies 8-8-3 operating under a municipal
