Fuelgas Enters Natural Gas War

What started as a two-way battle for the lucrative natural gas rights in Cass City has turned into a three-pronged affair as Fuelgas Co. of Cass City has asked the village council to consider a liquid propane plant in the village.

At a special meeting of the council Friday, Fuelgas General Manager Ken Eisinger offered to pipe liquid propane to village consumers at a price that will "match or beat" natural gas.

He said that Fuelgas President Clarence Hubermehl of Flint is now working with company engineers to bring a definite proposal to trustees. It is due at Tuesday's council meeting.

Village President Lee Rabideau said that members of the council are investigating systems similar to the type Fuelgas proposes in other communities in Michigan.

Southeastern Favored
Prior to the proposal by Fuelgas, Southeastern Michigan Gas Co. had received all but formal acceptance of its proposal to furnish gas to the community.

Consumers Power Co. was also bidding.

The Fuelgas plan calls for the erection of a plant near Cass City in an appropriate area, Eisinger said. Pipes would be installed, much the same as those used by natural gas, and propane piped to the homes.

"We would probably have an office downtown at a little later date," Eisinger said. He estimated that he would hire three more men to handle the system.

Council Decides
Regardless of who gets the right to ask for a franchise, the decision will be reached by the council, Rabideau said.

There will be no vote to decide which company will get the franchise, but area residents will have the opportunity to accept or reject the company that the council okays.

It takes a three-fifths majority of the persons voting to approve a franchise that runs for 30 years.

Gas Delivery Date

Rabideau said that regardless of who gets the authorization that there would be no natural gas delivered to Cass City homes or industry this year.

Gas should be available for the 1964-65 heating season, all companies agree.

Jury Awards $2,000 Damages To Vassar Woman

Wanda Force of Vassar was granted a judgment of $2,000 Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court for injuries suffered in an accident in Vassar Feb. 28, 1962.

Mrs. Force was hit by a car driven by John Briggs as she attempted to cross Huron street near Cass Avenue. Briggs passed a car on the right from a parked position and struck Mrs. Force who was walking diagonally across the street. She had asked for $50,000 damages.

Members of the jury were: Charles Keyes, Donald Darbee, Lester Woern, George Stock, Mrs. Veda Cole, Lois Walker, Leah DuBois, Arthur Hameck, Mrs. Ralph Hartman, Iva Houghhood, Francis Smentek and Francis Nixon.

Tuscola County Exhibitors at State Fair Told

The Cass City area will be well represented in the record entries of Michigan livestock and farm products at the Michigan State Fair Aug. 23-Sept. 2. Local entries abound in the sheep, swine and beef cattle divisions.

Among the sheep exhibitors are Walter P. Goodall and his children, Larry and Wilbert, and Crandell and Ludlow. All have won many blue ribbons and the Crandell-Ludlow combo swept the top honors in the Oxford show last year.

In swine competition, Kenneth, Janet, Kathy and Tommy Jickling, Mark and John Battel and Wilbert Goodall are entered from the local area.

James and Alan Milligan will be trying for top prizes in the beef cattle division.

In the agriculture competition, Royce Russell of Gagetown has

Two Accidents, One Injury in Area Monday

Two accidents were reported in the Cass City area Monday. Monday morning, a car driven by Mrs. Arthur Little was struck in the rear by a car driven by Kenneth S. McCormick, 24, of Detroit.

The accident occurred on Main street as Mrs. Little was attempting to park in front of the Chronicle office. The right front fender of the McCormick car was smashed and the rear of the Little vehicle was damaged in the mishap.

McCormick was ticketed to appear before a Caro Justice for failing to have his car under control and causing a property damage accident.

Randall Crash

Leslie Nicholas, 15, of Cass City escaped with minor injuries in a crash on M-81, about two miles west of Cass City, that demolished the car he was riding in. Nicholas was thrown into the windshield of a car driven by Ronald Randall, 17, of Cass City. Randall struck the rear of a car driven by Hazel E. Martin of Cass City.

Mrs. Martin told the investigating officer, William McKinley of the Cass City Police Department, that she was traveling east at 80 miles per hour when the crash occurred.

Randall reported that he was traveling at about 60 miles per hour prior to the mishap. The car skidded 64 feet before the impact, McKinley reported.

Nicholas was taken to Cass City Hospital for treatment of facial injuries.

Roger Ashmore was also a passenger in the car, but was not injured.

ORPHAN BUNNIES—These wild baby rabbits have found a new home at the Richard Hendricks. Their mother deserted them Friday after a dog found their nest under the bushes across the road from the Hendrick home. The nest was left undisturbed for two days to see if the mother would return. She didn't and the little rabbits almost starved before the children took over. The babies are fed with a doll bottle and respond very well to this method of feeding. Now food and care are no problem. One bunny was injured by the dog, but recovered, and all are doing fine. Watching the rabbits are, left to right; Sally Loomis, Becky Loomis and Ron Hendrick.

Special Education Rockets Ahead Burning Tax Dollars

Often misunderstood and frequently maligned, special education is the test growing phase of education in Tuscola county.

Ever since county taxpayers authorized a three-quarters of a mill levy in a special election several years ago, special education has received increased emphasis from educators and last year a whopping $146,376.23 was spent on the program.

In these days of ever-increasing shortages of funds for schools, the special education is an anachronism . . . the program is rolling in dough.

Starting the 1962-63 school year, there was a carry-over of $15,750 in cash and almost $60,000 in bonds. Despite some $91,000 spent for new buildings, there was still $40,000 on hand at the end of the current school year. Total expenditures for the program were $146,376.23.

With the money rolling in faster than the Intermediate School District (who administers the program) can spend it, there has naturally been a giant acceleration in the program.

Last year there were eight rooms where special education was taught . . . this year there are 10. Despite the acceleration, Ralph Brown, one of the two diagnosticians on the special education staff, says that there will not be enough room to teach all the children that should be in the course. With the 10 rooms, authorities say that they expect to handle about 160 children.

Misunderstood Program

Brown and others connected with special education in the county are appalled at the ignorance of citizens about the program. "And I include teachers and professional persons in this category, too," Brown said grimly.

Although they don't claim this is typical, authorities like to tell the story of the overpowering matron who came storming into the special education room at the courthouse in Caro and demanded that her child be enrolled. "Anything special that's offered at school, my child is going to have," she is reported to have said.

The Dimensions

Special education as now practiced in Tuscola county is a diversified field. Just this year at the insistence of county supervisors, the trainable but not educable child, has been added to the program. Previously, this work had been carried on by volunteers working with contributed funds.

Special education also includes therapy for students with speech handicaps and emotional problems.

But the special rooms already built, under construction or to be constructed are neither for the trainable nor for the emotionally disturbed student. They are for the mentally handicapped.

These students are divided by age and achievement potential in the special education rooms scattered in most primary school districts in the county. Here they learn.

Teaching them is a staff that has expanded along with the program.

Large Staff

It includes nine and possibly 10 teachers. Topping the list are the relatively high-priced diagnosticians, Brown and William Stewart. Dick Reava is the dean of the staff and was a campaigner for a special education program in the county long before funds were approved by the voters.

Handling speech correction problems are Bill Cannon, Ronald Lader and William Francis. New to the staff and also in speech correction are Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Kidder. Mrs. Dessie Davison of Caro has been hired to teach the trainable children at a school site still to be selected. If a social worker can be found, she will become the 10th teacher on the staff.

State Participation

State participation in special education can reach up to three-quarters of the cost of the program. However, in Tuscola county the state pays a little less than half of the cost under another of its complicated cost-payment formulas. County taxes net the program about $102,000 annually; state aid less than half this much.

Reduce Taxes

What's going to happen when no more new special education rooms will be needed in the county? Will the program continue to roll up huge surpluses? No, says Director William Scott. When the saturation point is reached, special education will ask for less money from the county.

Basis for Program

Persons close to the program say that there is a sound financial reason for spending the money for special education in addition to the apparent moral responsibility of citizens to care for others less fortunate.

They say that putting a trainable child in the proper school may remove him from the care

Livestock Yard Set To Open

A Michigan Livestock Exchange auction yard is practically certain to be erected at the corner of M-53 and M-81 this fall, according to a member of the cooperative marketing association.

A yard at the selected site is expected to cost about $67,000 and raising the money is not expected to be difficult. When an Exchange yard was opened in Cassopolis recently investors subscribed more than twice as much money as was needed and half had to be returned.

Approval of a governmental regulatory commission is needed before plans for the yard can proceed.

The Michigan Livestock Exchange is a cooperative venture of farmers run by a seven-man board of directors. Among the directors are a Lapeer county and a Huron county farmer.

The Exchange is a marketing organization with yards scattered throughout Michigan including Detroit and Battle Creek.

From the Editor's Corner

It caused scarcely a ripple in the activities of the game, but it was the highlight of the evening and perhaps of the season.

It happened Tuesday night in a game in the City League between General Cable and Clare & Andy's Sunoco. Tuesday was the final night of the year and the game meant nothing in the standings. Cable was shorthanded and one of the men pulled what I assume to be his 10-12-year-old son from the stands to fill out the last position in right field.

Things went along in humdrum fashion with Sunoco in the lead until it was time for the youngster to come to the plate in the fastest softball league in town.

Hurler Andy Kozan strangely lost his stuff and the boy hit the ball to the second sacker and it suddenly became too hot to handle. The boy was on first.

Dad immediately came down to coach and sent the youngster off in a steal of second. No one covered and the ball went into centerfield. The center-fielder picked up the ball and threw wildly to third and the boy scampered home with a run he scored all by himself and went grinning self-consciously back to the bench.

From the couch box at first, the boy's dad sang out with "Thanks men" to the entire Sunoco team and the incident was closed.

It was a sight to behold.

A Chronicle story about Dick Szarapski's fish pond south of Cass City proved to be news even to the conservation department in the county. They became aware of the pond through the story and this week were in town to check on it.

"We like to know about all of these ponds in the county," they said.

Who do you think would be the run-away champion if a contest were run for Cass City's most photographed person? It's Mrs. Oarie Lemanski.

We've received no less than five different shots of the sharp shooting Cass City school marm as she wins shooting championships.

All reporters like shots of pretty girls and we're no exception so we've printed another of our local celebrity this week.

We are constantly amazed by some of the work completed by grade youngsters. The latest to come our way was submitted by Mrs. Fred Maier. It was the work of Dale Strickland, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Strickland of Detroit.

While staying with his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Strickland of Cass City, he composed a pamphlet entitled "Our Ocean of Air" that uses terms and expressions that would do credit to many high school youngsters. The entire pamphlet was typewritten.

Consumers Power Co. received the nod to furnish natural gas in. Concluded on page four.

SLIGHT INJURY—Three Cass City youths remarkably escaped serious injury Monday night when this car driven by Ron Randall smashed into the rear of a driven by Mrs. Hazel Martin. Leslie Nicholas suffered facial cuts when he was thrown into the windshield.

Lasting Good

By Dr. E. P. Lockwood

One of the most important things to look forward to in Chiropractic Service is "lasting good." This factor alone is sufficient proof to indicate that chiropractic deals with the direct cause specifically with that of ill-health and sickness. It is sufficient to promote interest of any person who is in bad health. One should consider chiropractic upon the immediate onset of sickness, so that the nerve pressures are removed before organic and structural changes occur in weakened tissues.

The response is quicker and I find that the patients who complete the required chiropractic service continue to enjoy good health. It is the "lasting good" in our service that makes possible our comprehensive schedules.

All vital organs of the body function because of their nerve supply. This nerve supply often becomes corrupted when the spine becomes injured or any of its bones displaced. Such displacements may alter the nerve supply to the vital organs, upset their regularity of function and cause countless ailments.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. E. P. Lockwood whose office is located at Cass City, Tel. 872-2765). Adv.

BULEN TALKS CARS

THE NEW CAR CLEANUP

If you have been putting off the decision to purchase a new car this year, you would be well advised to not delay any longer. 1963 models - which have proved extremely popular with the public - are going to be in short supply as the production year tapers off.

National sales of all makes averaged out have been selling 10 per cent ahead of last year and automobile industry analysts are practically unanimous in forecasting unusually low dealer stocks for the end of the model run.

Though dealers are not expected to be carrying heavy inventories from now until the 1964 models make their appearance, year end discounts are traditional and make good sense to both dealers and the public.

You will be able to buy a new car from Bulen Motors from now until the new car introduction at a lower net price than any other time of the year. 1963 models at this time of year have been through a multi-million-mile road test that has given factory engineers a chance to iron out any minor performance faults that might have shown up in first-of-the-year models.

Regardless of savings in the purchase price, however, your new car from Bulen Motors will be thoroughly pre-serviced as usual. Wheel alignment, engine performance, body tightness - in all, some seventy check points are adjusted by a mechanic looking for flaws and the process usually takes most of a day.

CLEANUP - 1963 Models
All our Popular 1963 Chevrolets and Demonstrators MUST be sold by the middle of September. We still have a good stock of Impalas, Bel-Airs and Biscaynes.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SAVE ! ! ! !

STAY SHARP ALL SEASON

Ever-Sharp knives that hold a razor edge all season! New cutter bar that holds a sharp edge up to 20 times longer than ordinary bars! Both features are standard with all Gehl Chop-Alls to give you a full season of short-cut, non-stop chopping... from the first load of hay to the last load of corn.

The new Gehl knives are chrome-plated to stay sharp, chop clean, to give you short-chopped feed. The new cutter bar is faced with tungsten carbide, the same material used to cut or drill steel. Together, the two give you trouble-free chopping and a short, fine, uniform cut—best for feed, best for storage.

For a full season of no knife-sharpening, no cutter bar changing, no time-wasting delays—see us today.

Bowling Leagues Now Organizing

We want to organize City League Bowling as soon as possible this year. Dick Dillman, league secretary, reported this week.

We plan to have either an eight or 16-team league, depending on the interest shown in bowling this year.

"All persons wanting to bowl in the City League should call me or Andy Kozan Jr. at once," Dillman said.

Lady Bowling

In other activities concerning bowling for the 1963-64 season, authorities said that persons interested in joining any of the leagues should sign up as soon as possible.

Persons bowling Tuesday nights should call Miss Betty Carmer or Mrs. R. J. Searls. Thursday night bowlers should call Mrs. N. Melendorf.

Both new and experienced bowlers are welcome, authorities said.

Projects Announced
On Thumb Roads

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced recently that bids will be taken in 1966 for projects to modernize sections of three state highways in the Thumb area.

The projects include the modernization of 8.5 miles of US-25 from Port Austin to Huron City in Huron county, the modernization of three miles of M-90 west from US-25 at Lexington in Sanilac county and the reconstruction of five miles of M-90 from M-53 to the east city limits of Brown City in Lapeer county.

Erla's Eliminated
In Opening
Tourney Round

Erla's were eliminated by Swift Ice Cream in the opening round of the State Class "B" tournament at Port Huron Saturday in an outstanding pitching duel, 1-0.

Al Bosch of Erla's actually out-pitched George Collins of Swift's, but lost anyway as the winners cashed an unearned run in the second inning.

Collins reached first on an error, advanced on a hit by Fran Kern and came home on an infield out.

Bosch allowed just three hits and whiffed seven, while Collins struck out three and allowed seven hits. Elwyn Helwig led the local attack with three hits in as many tries.

Swift's lost the next time they played to Owendale, which copped the tourney.

Brown Leads Team to Win in All Star Clash

The all-star game in the Cass City Church League wasn't much of a contest as the squad coached by Doug Bird rolled over a dream team coached by Russ Hillaker, 17-3.

Bird's pitchers were outstanding as they allowed only four hits, three of the scratch variety. Gary Kelley started and was the winner. He was followed by Lloyd Nicholas and Wally Hempton. Roger Root took the defeat.

Wayne Brown of Cass City Methodists-Presbyterians led the hitting attack with five hits including a three-run homer in the first inning that sailed over the fence.

Use reason as a guide in life, and principle as a safeguard.

Area Winners at Huron County Fair

Cass City area residents copped various honors at the Huron County Fair at Bad Axe this year.

Clare Carpenter of Cass City is co-owner of the three-year-old Holstein bull, Glenafon Rag-apple Climax, which was grand champion of the fair in the Holstein class and also grand champion at the Black and White Show.

Exhibitors of sheep from the area that won honors were: Wilbert Goodall - Southdown and Romney rams and ewes and Cheviot ewe; Walter Goodall - Corriedale ram and ewe and Cheviot ram; Fanny Hutchinson - Shropshire ram, and Dean Hutchinson - Shropshire ewe.

GOING UNDERGROUND—This 12,000-gallon tank is going to be buried east of the main high school building and south of the new addition to the school. Jerome Root stands beside the tank which will be filled each week with 7,400 gallons of fuel, authorities said.

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1963

Letter to Editor

The Chronicle welcomes letters to the editor. In most instances letters will be printed in full. However, the paper reserves the right to edit letters to fit space requirements. All letters must be signed.

August 19, 1963
To the editor:
After reading the front page column on "Use of School In Jeopardy," I felt it was my duty as a parent whose children enjoyed the program to write this letter.

I am sorry to hear that the gym was left a mess - but I wonder if a little paint and plaster of Paris is going to jeopardize the summer program. If there was some misunderstanding as to who was to clean up the room let's not let the readers think there was not good supervision at the school. I visited the gym several times and found things relatively quiet for a room full of some fifty youngsters ranging in age from four to fourteen. Let's give those who did their jobs a little thanks and then some thought toward next years program.

Sincerely,
Emmie Kaufman

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:
I see by the papers where a Government food expert says "fresh and tender grass" would be a good food for human beings. Furthermore, he claims if they would package it under a attractive name, it would sell to the American housewives.

I put this item on the agenda at the country store Saturday night and all the fellers was agreed it won't work. Ed Doolittle said he recollected back in 1944 when the Congress changed the "Skim Milk" label to "Dry Milk Solids" hoping to help sales. Senator Overton of Louisiana, reported Ed, was again the change and when they done it over his protest, he put in a bill of his own. He ask them to change the name of Castor Oil official to Nectar of the Gods. That didn't git but 2 votes in committee so Senator Overton substituted another bill to call it Elixir of Life, and when that didn't git but one vote, he quit trying.

Zeke Grubb said he was brung up on the saying that they was two things that was hard to do, climb a fence leaning toward you, and kiss a gal leaning away from you. Zeke claims a third thing hard to do is take somepun everybody knows about and increase sales by giving it a fancy name. He allowed as how you could put a basket of fresh grass on the grocery counter and call it Astronaut Salad and it still ain't going to sell.

I reckon I'd have to agree with Ed and Zeke on this item, Mister Editor. That Government food expert probably had time hanging heavy on his hands and come up with this idea while he was playing golf on fresh and tender grass.

Clem Webster said this name changing business brung to mind a item he saw in the paper last week about a movie actress gitting married for the fifth time. Clem reported he had got used to reading about these movie wimmen and it was all right with him if she got married 10 times, but they was one feature of the ceremony that ought to be agin the law. Ever time one of them wimmen gits married or divorced, claims Clem, the papers lists all the previous victims. It will say her first husband was Senator Jones, her second the Duke of Hayville, the third the Attorney General of France and so forth. Clem argued that no woman should git all this free publicity at the expense of the men she has tricked into marrying her. The fellers agreed Clem had a mighty strong point and it was voted to git a letter off to our Congressman on the matter.

This marrying business, Mister Editor, gits complicated in the space age. I was reading where a college student said one wife was monotonous, two wives was higertry, and 3 wives was trigernometry. And I reckon that about sums up the attitude of the younguns of today toward matrimony.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

IT SEEMS TO ME Lots of Money So Why Short Dresses?

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

This column is delighted to learn that Dr. Marion Hostetler has been offered and has accepted the pulpit at the First Presbyterian Church here. This columnist has been acquainted with Dr. Hostetler for some time, and is sure that he will bring to Cass City a fine ministry. Some may remember meeting him when the youth groups of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches put on a series of meetings, several years ago. We welcome him with open arms and urge you to do the same.

What does a man have to do to be called "Doctor" as a minister? This question has arisen with the coming of the Rev. Dr. Hostetler to Cass City. There are two ways to obtain a doctor's degree in the ministry. Frequently, a minister's work is recognized as effective, or he holds a pulpit of distinction and is honored by a college with a Doctor's degree. Or, it can be an earned degree. This means that the minister, who has already tied up seven years getting higher education, ties up at least four years more obtaining a Master's degree and the Doctor's degree. The first is called an honorary degree while the second is an earned degree.

Both the degree held by Dr. Hostetler and the one toward which the Rev. John Fish is now working are in the second category.

While we reserve our political affiliation to be in the private domain, we cannot but pay tribute to the Kennedys for the dignified manner in which their infant son's death has remained a family matter. We wish they did not have to go through this period of deep personal suffering, but rejoice in the manner in which they have conducted themselves.

We know that many who read this column have had similar experiences and taken them "in stride." We are delighted by the fact that the infant survival rate is higher every year. My personal salute to those fine people who lose (as Mrs. Kennedy has) baby after baby, and see the causes of these deaths conquered just too late. Adoption of children is best for such people and many fine men and women are yesterday's "adopted kids."

Or, so it seems to me!

How interested are you in movements toward Church unity? More and more denominations are expressing official interest but the individual churches sometimes feel that they are being pushed. There are many matters on the local level. What about problems of merging Church School, women's societies and youth groups in a merger of denominations? Whose missionaries do we support? How do our ministers get assigned to our church? And what about politics of who is on the effective boards and committees.

These seem minor when seen from the national level, but are more important on the local scene. We recall the union of the Methodist Churches from three major Methodist bodies and numerous language Methodist denominations which took place in 1939. We recall, too, the Congregational movement leading to The Church of Christ several years ago. That union still has both ministers and ruling board members locally who have not gone along.

Yet, how can the churches work separately in a world like ours? Many of our activities are the same. In Cass City, at this time of year, there are many who visit in other churches without really feeling that they are visitors! We are told by the men who are working on these things that Union is coming! First, by The United Brethren Church and The Methodist, who are organized on the same order. Then with the Presbyterian and the new church, above. Also to include the Episcopal Church which is not represented locally.

There are tremendous questions that have yet to be raised and faced! But, within the next ten years these churches will merge and others will start proceedings to merge with like-minded church bodies. It will be a marvelous experience to have even a part in such major movements. Or, so it seems to me.

We get the point of a comment by the Rev. N. J. Ezekiel, head of the Lutheran Church of India, who is puzzled by one aspect of life in America: "Why, with so much wealth in your country, and with so much money to buy beautiful cloth, do American girls and women wear their skirts so short?"

We do not wish to take a stand on the issue right now, but to serve our readers will be content to be an observer and to report back, maybe, Or, so it seems to me.

"Our basement was hard to heat..."

"Electric heat helped us turn a chilly basement into a year-round family room," says Mrs. Horace Johns, of Millington, Mich. "We have electric heat in the second-floor bedrooms and bath, too. Keeps them as warm as the rest of the house—even warmer if we want. We can raise the temperature in any of these rooms without overheating the whole house. One reason we chose electric heat in the first place was because it cost less to install. Now we like the convenience of electric heat so much that, if and when we buy another home, we'll have it throughout."

What about your home? Do you have a hard-to-heat room? Are you adding on a room? Are you buying a new home? Is the heating system in your present home more trouble than it's worth? One of the types of electric heating units shown below may be the answer to your heating problems. One easy way to find out is to ask your electrical contractor. Another is to call your Edison office. We'll be glad to send you a copy of our free booklet "Electric Home Heating" and will answer any questions you may have about the modern, worry-free way to heat your home—electrically.

Draft Rules For Conscientious Objectors Told

Editor's Note—The draft has been extended for four years, until July 1, 1967. This means that the young men of the country must continue to expect to serve in the military forces. This series of articles outlines the basic responsibilities and rights of young men under the draft law.)

The draft law provides special procedures for persons claiming to be conscientiously opposed by religious training and belief to combatant duty, or to all duty.

If a registrant establishes conscientious objection to combatant duty only, and is otherwise available and qualified, he is classified in Class I-A-O and may be inducted for noncombatant duty.

If a registrant establishes conscientious objection to all duty, he will be classified in Class I-O and then is liable to perform civilian work in the national health, safety or interest for two years in lieu of service in the Armed Forces.

Special procedures to evaluate claims of conscientious objection and for assignment to civilian work are provided and are too complex and detailed to discuss here.

Local boards have a special responsibility with respect to members of the Standby Reserve, whether these reservists have served on active duty or not.

The Director of Selective Service is required by law to maintain up-to-date information in the hands of the Armed Services as to whether each Standby Reservist may be recalled to active duty or should be left in civilian life because of occupation or dependency.

Standby Reservists are subject to orders to active duty in the event of war or national emergency declared by Congress, but only after their availability has been determined by Selective Service. To make that determination, local boards must obtain information from Standby Reservists. The boards must keep this determination current.

Final Services Held For Area Farmer

The Rev. Melvin R. Vender officiated at funeral services for Arthur "Bud" Popham Friday, Aug. 16, at Little's Funeral Home in Cass City.

Popham died Tuesday, Aug. 13, at Bay City General Hospital where he had been a patient six days. He had been in ill health the past year.

A lifelong resident of the area, he was born in Cass City Feb. 14, 1919, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Popham. He operated a farm on Crawford Road and also worked in the welding business.

He was a World War II veteran and is survived by uncles, aunts and a number of cousins. Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Cultivate the good habits you have—it's the only sure way to weed out the bad ones.

Trouble Looms for Commission Under Redistricting Plan

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Trouble Ahead in Redistricting
Two reorganization requirements under the new Constitution, one involving the Legislature and the second - other state government agencies, may well produce an unfortunate occurrence.

Under the 1960 Federal census, Michigan picked up a 19th seat in Congress. Inability of the Legislature to agree on a redistricting plan forced the 1962 election of a Congressman-at-Large. No new division of the state has yet been accomplished.

This stalemate is a minor forecast of what will occur when the legislative apportionment and agency reorganization begins.

Another example of the backbiting which can be expected in meeting the Constitutional provisions was seen last year when the State Supreme Court ordered changes in the State Senate districts.

Although the order was stopped by an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, the members of the law-making body were worried. Each was hesitant to recommend any plan which would cut one of his colleagues out of a seat, but primary was each Senator's concern for his own district.

In its wisdom, the Constitutional Convention provided for a commission rather than the Legislature to redistrict the lawmaking body when necessary. The commission members, however, will meet the same pressures as legislators have when they attempted to realign the U.S. House districts.

State Agencies, Too
Instead of having 18 Congressmen pleading for the safety of their seats, however, the four-man apportionment commission will get pressure from 144 legislators.

State agency heads will be putting on the same kind of battle for their jobs when the Legislature starts work on the consolidation of state government into not more than 20 principal departments.

Among the agencies, however, there is less a spirit of closeness than exists among legislators, so the backbiting is likely to be even more bitter.

Many agency spokesmen would be only too willing for their unit to absorb several others, as long as they were maintained as the chief managers of the new division.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner, has already suggested, for example, that a dozen agencies which now deal with various facets of public health be merged into a single unit. Presumably Heustis would be more than willing to be director over the new division.

Undoubtedly several other present department heads will be submitting plans similar to Heustis'.

Changes Ahead for Lansing
Visitors to Michigan's capital city in future years will see an amazing change from the 1963 model if current plans for development are carried out.

The proposed expenditure of $35 million will provide a group of new state office buildings and parking facilities in a six-block area immediately west of the capitol building.

Long under consideration but held up by financial problems, the development plans started to get off the ground at the close of the regular 1963 session.

A House-Senate committee has been studying the Administration Department's plans for the project all summer and will be ready with some recommendations during the special September session, but most of the ideas will be advanced later.

Necessity for the new office space in Lansing was put forth in an architectural report which showed state agencies need more than 56,000 additional square feet of working space to meet their needs through 1968.

The plans being considered by the legislative committee call for daily fee parking facilities for 4,000 employees, a new Highway Department administration building, four-story structure to house the revenue and Secretary of State departments, and a Supreme Court building.

A. N. Languis, state building director, said the plan as proposed would allow 27 state agencies to move their operations out of some 40 rented facilities in the Capital city.

Watch Furnace Frauds
It seems as if summer just started, but the calendar will show that it is nearly over and there is much to be done to prepare for the winter.

One of the chief concerns of any family as fall and winter approach should be the safety of the home. The furnace tops the list of items to be checked, according to State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.

Kelley's consumer protection division emphasizes that if a consumer has any worries about his furnace, it should be checked long before it is needed for heavy duty service. Most important, however, the state unit notes that the furnace should be checked by a reputable heating concern.

A common complaint to the consumer protection division in recent years has involved door-to-door furnace repair and cleaning solicitors. Advice on repairs or replacement of a heating unit has frequently induced homeowners to spend money unnecessarily, unit spokesmen said.

By checking the condition of your furnace before cold weather causes an emergency, you can compare estimates of competitors and be sure the work you pay for is necessary.

How to Control the Strawberry Weevil

Supt. Willis Campbell announced this week that there has been an invasion of the strawberry root weevil in the Cass City area. The bug is relatively harmless, but likes to take up winter quarters in homes, Campbell reports.

The adult weevil is about a quarter inch long and blackish-brown in color. They have short, blunt snouts protruding from the front of the head. Their bodies are hard-shelled when fully mature and the hard-shelled wings are pitted with small depressions. The adults cannot fly because their upper wings are joined together.

The weevil usually begins migrating into buildings in July and for a month or two are found in bathtubs, cupboards or even hanging from ceilings. As far as is known, they do not damage clothes or food. Sometimes they cause trouble by getting into the working parts of household equipment. Householders may mistake them for much more troublesome insects such as bed-bugs.

The immature form (grub) of strawberry root weevil feeds on the small roots of wild and cultivated strawberries, brambles and evergreens such as pines and yew.

Once the weevil is inside a building no insecticide is entirely satisfactory. The best way to control them is to spray them outdoors or if they get inside, gather them up with a vacuum cleaner.

For more information on the control of the strawberry weevil, Cass City High School has a pamphlet that is available.

Good reputations are never fully appreciated until they are lost.

Vacations would be more enjoyable if they didn't cost three times as much as the first estimate.

Johnsons Working At Church Camp

About 1,200 campers, including area residents, are attending the United Missionary Church Camp, Brown City, this week.

The Rev. and Mrs. Fred Johnson of Cass City are supervising the children's work at the camp. Evangelists for the camp meeting are Dr. Delbert Rose and Dr. H. M. Couchenour. Dr. Rose has written several books and teaches at Asbury Theological Seminary in Kentucky. Dr. Couchenour has taught in colleges and seminaries and is now engaged in full-time evangelistic work.

The Rev. Willis Hunking, missionary just returned from Nigeria, is in charge of youth and the Rev. Curtis N. Collier is the minister of music.

Sunday was Missionary Day and Tuesday was Women's Missionary Society Day.

District Superintendent Bruce Pearson estimated that about 3,000 persons will be attending several of the services at the 10-day session. The Rev. J. E. Tuckey is camp secretary.

The easiest way to be far-sighted is to move to the heights.
