

COMPLETE RECOVERY seems to be on the docket for Gordon Bigham who was severely injured in an auto crash Aug. 4. (Chronicle photo)

Complete Recovery Looms for Gordie

Nearly six weeks after he was mangled in an automobile accident, Gordon Bigham of Cass City is still in slight pain — but he is a very happy young man and so is his family.

For, it appears that Gordie will miraculously make a full recovery. The youth, who hovered near death for three days, suffered injuries to his lungs, kidney, spine, leg and ribs in the crash.

Today he is up and walking around and says that the pain gets less and less and is very slight now.

Trying Time
Gordie doesn't say too much about it, but you know that he went through some very trying times on the road to his present stage of recovery.

He was in severe pain for two weeks and was in bed four weeks. One of the worst moments came when he was well enough to be placed in a cast to help his injured spine.

The back had partially set and the youth was placed between two tables where his spine was straightened by the doctors.

Home School
Gordie hasn't been able to go to school yet, but he is keeping up on his studies. A senior at Cass City High School, he is working at home.

The help of a buddy, Robert Fischer, is making this possible. Both Robert and Gordie are taking identical courses and Robert drops in daily with the assignments and talks over what's going on in the classroom.

Just how long this will continue may be determined Friday when Gordie goes for X-rays. When the cast was placed, physicians said that it would have to be worn up to six months.

Gordie and the Bighams say that the help that Fisher has been giving is typical of the many acts of kindnesses that the family has experienced since the accident. It's truly wonderful the way folks have been, they said.

When Gordie was at the hospital he required three pints of blood which was donated by friends.

Very Costly
The Bighams aren't complaining about it, but the accident naturally has been very expensive. They haven't any final figures on the total cost but they expect it will be around $2,500.

But the cost, weighed against what looks like a complete recovery for Gordie, is really very little, the family feels.

First Beets Due at Caro Plant Monday

The sugar beet harvest for growers served by the Caro plant of the Michigan Sugar Co. will start Monday.

G. C. Smith, field manager, said that until weather permits storing, delivery will be restricted to 300 truck loads a day, the slicing capacity of the plant.

Receiving hours during the restricted period will be from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Hours will be extended to 11 p.m. later in the season.

Delivery of beets during the early season will be controlled by tickets issued by fieldmen.

This year the crop is estimated at 16½ tons per acre,

Smith said. The harvest will total 175,000 tons as compared to 148,000 tons in 1962. The increase will come from an additional 1,750 acres devoted to beets this year, Smith explained.

All piers will be equipped with Grab Roll screens to help speed truck unloading.

Exchange Yard Debut Sale Nears Completion

Sale of debentures for the proposed new auction yard of the Michigan Livestock Exchange is nearly completed, an authority of the company reported this week.

We need $65,000 to open here, authorities said. This will give us ample funds to build the yard, acquire the property and have sufficient operating capital.

A new yard always takes about a year before it starts making money, he explained. The reason is the nonrecurring costs involved in a new operation, the official said.

The most recent yard opened by the Exchange is at Cassopolis, which authorities describe as "very successful." It has been operating two years.

Construction of the yard here will not start until final details of the debenture sale have been completed, authorities said.

Six Injured in Five Area Mishaps

Six persons were injured in minor accidents involving Cass City area persons this week, according to reports of various police officials.

Conrad A. Mossack, 25, of Gagetown suffered cuts on the right knee and head when his car collided with one driven by David W. Miller, 41, of Essexville, Monday.

Mossack was taken to General Hospital in Bay City but refused treatment.

The accident occurred, Miller reported, when he missed a turn off Center Road and was making a U-turn when struck by the Mossack car.

Miller was cited for making an improper turn and Mossack for failure to stop, by the Bay County Sheriff's Department.

Slight Injury
Six-year-old Forest Ewald of Unionville suffered a bruised knee when he rode a bike into the side of a trailer Saturday. The car was driven by John McBurney of Cass City.

The accident occurred on Dickerson Road, three miles west of Colwood Road, according to the report of the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

Car Hits Truck

James E. Hayes suffered face lacerations and Hilda Hayes received an injured ankle when they hit a truck Thursday driven by Charles E. Roach, 23, of Deford.

The Carsonville couple said that they did not see the truck turning as they were attempting to pass it on M-46 near Carsonville.

Hits Abutment

Lee Jamieson, 33, of Gagetown lost control of his car at noon Thursday on McAlpine Road, four miles southeast of Owendale, and hit a bridge abutment.

The crash occurred when Jamieson was looking back to inspect a trailer he was hauling behind his car.

He suffered bruises of the chest, right elbow and left knee. Huron Deputy Robert Quinn investigated.

Another Gagetown resident, James Schnell, 18, was injured Thursday when his car left North Cedar Run Road on a curve two miles south of Gagetown, and struck a utility pole.

He was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Stine Reports Gas Stolen from Farm

Maynard Stine of Cass City reported this week to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department that he observed an unidentified thief stealing gas from a tank in his yard.

The theft occurred at 3:15 a.m. Saturday morning. Stine was unable to describe the car or its occupant in the darkness.

The sheriff's department is investigating.

Fire Plagues Family

Picture on page six.

No other family in the Cass City area has been so plagued by fires as the Harvey Lindermans.

Friday, the family suffered the third major fire in recent years. The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Linderman at her home, eight miles east of Cass City.

She was cooking dinner in the kitchen when she decided to kill a few annoying flies. One of them stuck to the wall after it was killed and Mrs. Linderman casually reached up to sweep it to the floor.

She noticed that the wall was hot. The Elkland Township Fire Department was called and succeeded in bringing the fire under control after a two-hour battle.

Damaged were the roof and the walls of the home. The loss has not yet been determined, but was covered by insurance. Firemen theorized that the fire was caused by faulty wiring.

Previous fires suffered by the Lindermans were even more disastrous. Some three years ago a barn was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

A little later a house the Lindermans owned about a half mile up the road was destroyed by fire.

Dave Ackerman Appointed to Study Group

Dave Ackerman, teacher at Cass City High School, has been appointed to the Michigan Cooperative Curriculum Program by Lynn M. Bartlett, Superintendent of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

The committee is designed, Bartlett said, to improve instruction in Michigan through the combined efforts of citizens, local school systems, institutions of higher education, voluntary educational associations, socio-economic associations and the Department of Public Instruction.

Ackerman will serve on the committee without salary.

A workshop is scheduled at Boyne Mountain Lodge at Boyne Falls Sept. 26-27. A series of meetings at the conference is designed to get the program off to a flying start, Bartlett said.

NFO Asking Members to Hold All Grain

The National Farmers Organization is asking all of its members to store fall-harvested grain, Oren Lee Staley, president, said this week.

The action includes corn, grain sorghums, soybeans and edible beans.

NFO authorities said that everyone can borrow at 80 per cent of the cash value of grain and beans that are properly stored.

Soybean growers in the NFO are being asked to sign sales agreements with the organization, authorizing the NFO to sell soybeans for $2.75 per bushel. The price is 25 to 35 cents higher than the current North Central State farm prices for No. 1 grade soybeans, NFO authorities said.

Similar action may be initiated on corn, sorghums and edible beans.

NFO officials also said that holding actions this year would probably be on a wider scale, including livestock, milk and grain.

Lions Plan Clean Sweep in Village Broom Sale

Cass City Lions were slated to "sweep" through the village Wednesday night and tonight (Thursday), in their annual Broom Sale. Final plans for the sale were made at the club's regular meeting Monday night at Martin's Restaurant.

Brooms being sold are made by State blind persons and include whisk, household and various push-type brooms. Proceeds from the two-day promotion will be used for local, county and state-wide civic programs.

General chairman for the event is Lloyd Bryant with Pete Riestra, Tom Jackson, B. A. Calka and Ron Keegan as team chairmen.

In other business, the club made plans to tour the Rochester Leader Dogs for the Blind School, Rochester, on Sunday, Sept. 29.

Area residents interested in visiting the school are being invited to join the Lions and their families for the tour. A motorcade will form at Cass City High School at 11:30 a.m. The tour at the leader dog school will begin at approximately 1:30 p.m.

Persons, other than Lions, wishing to attend should contact Dave Kraft by phoning 872-8816 before Friday, Sept. 20.

Experts Laud Local Firemen

Elkland township firemen are devoting 18 hours of their spare time to learn how to better control fires in the Cass City area.

The firemen are attending a course sponsored by the Department of Vocational Education of Michigan and the University of Michigan Extension Service.

Ramrodding the course are two veteran firemen from Bay City and Gerald Hull of the Bay City Fire Department.

The course is a combined demonstration of techniques and classroom theory work. It encompasses all phases of fire fighting.

Local firemen are studying fire characteristics, hose work, pumping operation, rescue procedures, ladder work, ventilation and electric wire safety.

Both of the instructors said that the interest in the course was excellent. Attendance was near perfect on each of the five nights that instruction was given.

The final meeting is scheduled Thursday and the men will be tested on both theory and practice in fire fighting, Hull explained.

He also said that the Elkland Department was among the best that he had taught.

From the Editor's Corner

Dearborn High School students followed their team to Cass City in three buses. They must have been rented. A commercial sign on one of them extolled the virtues of a popular gin.

When a contractor does business with the State Highway Department, one of the costs that they must absorb is for a flagman to control traffic when the normal lanes are impeded. Not so for the Highway Department itself. A State crew has been revamping the Cass River bridge east of Cass City and there hasn't been a flagman on the job since they arrived... and it has been one-lane traffic for several weeks while the crew has been working.

Through the urging of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce, a new ladies' clothing store will open in the building formerly housing Patterson Meat Market on Main Street. The Jack Huijens will return to the village business scene. Many residents will recall the store they ran here for many years before selling out. Today they have other stores in Pigeon and Marlette. The exact date for the opening has not been set.

A committee has been appointed to implement the plans and a work night will be arranged. General chairman of the committee is Ken Eisinger. Lloyd Vyse is in charge of originating the new display. Others working on the committee are Paul Alfano and Mrs. Russell Leeson.

The committee urges residents to erect displays of their own this Christmas. There will be no contest or prizes, they say.

Battel was the only top winner in the three divisions from Cass City, but other area exhibitors placed high in the final judging.

Mary Lee Russell won fourth place for both her individual and pen, while Grant Goodall had the fifth pen and sixth individual. Larry Clink of Caro showed the fifth individual.

Tom Russell showed the seventh place individual and pen and George Russell, the sixth place pen and ninth individual. Wilbert Goodall had eighth individual.

Hog Competition
While they failed to win the individual grand championship, members of the Cass City Livestock Club swept many of the other honors.

Roger Root showed the reserve champion pen and Tom Jickling, the first lightweight hog.

Common Sense

By Dr. E. P. Lockwood

We learn in grade school physiology that the body is made up of a bony framework enclosing organs, and controlled by the nervous system.

Peculiarly, many forget this fundamental fact, and as time goes on, and when sickness is present in our own bodies, we may think of the affected area as a lone structure in the body, rather than connected with the nervous system.

For example, in a case of heart trouble, the heart fails to function normally; consequently, symptoms of pain, shortness of breath, dizziness, et cetera, result.

It is only common sense to locate the cause rather than to try to care for the heart as a separate part of the body.

When one stops to think that the heart has a hook-up or nerve connection in two ways, one set of nerves acts as an accelerator to speed up function and the other as an inhibitor to slow down function, it becomes clear why the "machine" must all be in order to receive perfect results.

How much better it is to restore the nerve supply for normal function. This example is true of every organ that we have in the body.

It should be remembered that when any organ fails to receive its normal nerve supply from the brain through the nervous system it will cease to function normally.

This, then is the basis for sickness or disease. Correct the cause through chiropractic adjustments and health is the natural result.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific chiropractic, written by Dr. E. P. Lockwood whose office is located at Cass City, Tel. 872-2765). Adv.

ENGAGED

Patricia Ann Comment

The bride-elect is a graduate of Cosmetology School in Detroit.

A spring wedding is planned.

A SHAM

A religion that will ease a man's conscience without cramping his style is absolutely worthless.

The only way to outshine your neighbor is to build a good reputation and keep it polished.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen A. Vermilya

Mr. and Mrs. Glen A. Vermilya are making their home at 4413 West Street, following their Aug. 30 wedding and a trip to the Catskill Mountains and Niagara Falls.

The Rev. Richard Canfield performed the ceremony, which took place in the First Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. The church was decorated with candelabra, palms and beauty baskets of white gladioli.

The bride is the former Nancy Joan Weeden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace W. Weeden of Rollinghills, Calif. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Vermilya of Cass City.

The bride's gown was an Alfred Angelo original in silk organza accented by bands of Chantilly lace, which formed the scalloped neckline and gave a panel effect on the full skirt which fell in a chapel train. Her crown of pearls held a bouffant veil of imported bridal illusion. The bridal bouquet was pink roses surrounded by white carnations and lilies of the valley on a white lace fan.

Mrs. Douglas Jensen of Elsie, the groom's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a princess style dress of light blue organza over taffeta featuring a scalloped neckline and scalloped sleeves. She wore a matching headpiece of blue and white carnations and carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations on a white lace fan.

Thomas Maleck of Cass City was best man. Don Greenleaf was organist and played "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a two-piece dress of light pink lace with matching accessories and the groom's mother wore a light blue batiste dress. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

A candlelight dinner was served to 45 guests at Martin's Restaurant following the ceremony.

The bride's going-away ensemble was a blue sheath with matching jacket and white accessories.

The groom is a 1960 graduate of Elsie High School and served three years with the Marines. Mrs. Vermilya is a 1960 graduate of Narbonne High School, Harbor City, Calif., and a graduate of Los Angeles City College. The groom is employed at Don-Al Farms.

The bride's family came from California to attend the wedding and other relatives attended from Florida, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

The world is governed by the law of supply and demand in most cases, but making mistakes is not one of them.

Rumors without a leg to stand on have a way of getting around.

BULEN TALKS CARS

ARE WOMEN SAFER DRIVERS THAN MEN?

Well, statistically it can be shown that they are. Then again, it can be statistically shown that they aren't. So if you're in mixed company, here are some statistics you can use for both sides.

Women hold about 39 per cent of all driving licenses, yet last year they got into only 19 per cent of all accidents. So that's simple. They're the safest drivers, huh?

But wait a minute there gals. Another one of those statisticians kept on digging and he came up with the conclusion that men drive more than women. Figuring it out on an accident-per-mile traveled basis it comes out that men have 18 per cent fewer accidents by day and 3 per cent fewer by night. If you're still not satisfied with the figures you can take it up with the U. S. Bureau of Roads who issued them.

If you ever have occasion to pull a trailer, even the small, two-wheeled variety used for week-end camping trips, here is some useful information to remember. It takes up to twice as long to stop a car pulling a trailer of any kind. So if you are not used to pulling trailers, be sure to maintain distances that will permit safe stops in the event of emergencies.

If you sometimes feel that cars are getting more expensive compared with what you earn as the years go by, here are some figures to ponder. In 1947 an average wage earner had to work 31.2 weeks to buy an auto, compared to 1962 when he had to work 24.5 weeks for it. ONE LEFT.

1963 Chevrolet Biscayne 4 door sedan with 6 cylinder engine and standard transmission. Silver, and a beauty.

We do have a couple of Demonstrators: Olds F 85 Deluxe 4 Door Sedan, White.

Corvair Convertible. 102 HP Engine; Power Glide Transmission, Radio, Whitewalls, etc. Only 3200 actual miles. Dark Green.

1963 Chevrolet Half Ton Pickup with wide box. Painted Red. Like new with only 3000 actual miles.

A SUBSTANTIAL GAIN was registered on his play as Larry Groombridge pickedup nine yards behind good blocking. The Hawks lost to Dearborn, 34-0.

HAWKS LOSE

back for Cass City as he pounded out over four yards per carry.
Groombridge surprised by picking up over four yards a try...
just a fraction under Parrott.
Retherford averaged 2.23 yards at quarterback. His average was hurt when he was thrown for losses while trying to pass. Don Englehart averaged 2.5 yards a carry and Freshman Carl Weip-pert had two yards per try.

Green Squad

The greenness of the squad was clearly evident in the opening quarter of the game. Dearborn took the ball and marched for a touchdown with ridiculous ease.
They repeated the next time they had the ball and the score was 14-0 midway through the first period.But after the slow start, the Hawks began to find themselves and were able to make a more credible showing.At halftime they were behind 28-0. In the final two periods, Dearborn was able to score just once.

Man-Made Cover for Trout

More often than not, many of the Conservation Department's stream improvements go unnoticed by fishermen. And that's the way these projects are planned—to provide man-made changes which look like the work of nature's forces. The log sod cover shown above is a good case in point; without the aid of this hand drawing, the project's natural "finish" hides the work of men which has produced a place of escape for trout, and shored up an unstable stream bank. As you can see from this sketch, the log sod cover has been anchored by driving several posts into the stream bottom. So-called "whaler" logs were spiked to these posts; freshly-cut logs and poles were then fastened to the whalers. After lodging a large log along the outer edge, Department workers sloped the structure up the bank. They added finishing touches by sodding the entire structure. New impetus has been thrust behind this and a host of other stream projects by the Accelerated Public Works program which is being financed 50-50 by state and federal funds. Work has already begun which will turn out more than $180,000 worth of improvements during the next two years to create choice fishing spots and protect streams against soil erosion.

Michigan hunters with permits will be allowed to shoot antlerless deer during this fall's regular firearm season in 46 northern areas where white-tails have overbrowsed their dwindling winter food supplies or caused serious crop damage. Slightly over 156,000 permits will be issued by the Conservation Department to shift a potential winter loss of 60,000 surplus animals into the legal kill column for sportsmen. Permit applications will be available from hunting license dealers by mid-September. Oct. 10 is the deadline for postmarking this year's new punch-card applications. Hunters are urged to apply early to aid the Department in its handling of applications which are expected to total about 250,000. Cards will be machine-processed to "draw" successful applicants for over-subscribed areas.

4-H Award Winners On New York Trip

Five of the 44 4-H members taking part in the educational award trip to New York are 4-H Club members from Tuscola county. They represent one phase of the accomplishments of the 1,260 boys and girls in every township of Tuscola county.

The five 4-H'ers are: Sue Ann Burns of Millington, Rodney Welsh of Vassar, Faye Campbell of Caro and Dean Poppy and Mike Spanghel, both of Unionville. They are all state winners in the Demonstration Program at the recent State 4-H Show held on the MSU campus.

Collectively these five 4-H Club members have completed 60 years of 4-H Club work and also completed a wide range of projects including Food Prep, Crops, Dairy, Poultry, Home Improvement, Conservation, Electrical, Tractor, Clothing and Food Preservation. They are all members of the County Service Club and are all junior leaders in their local clubs.

While on the educational award trip, these 4-H'ers will study the working of the United Nations officials and representatives for foreign countries. They will tour New York City, Niagara Falls, Pittsburgh and other points of interest. It will not be just a sight-seeing tour, but one of study and learning, according to Miss Mary Woodward and Miss Amalie Vagstad, planning members from the State 4-H Staff.

Miss Helen Higgins of the Detroit Edison Company will also act as a tour leader. Miss Higgins spends considerable time with 4-H leaders and members every year in training sessions in electrical, freezing and food preparation. She worked with Miss Campbell on her electrical demonstration this year.

Youth Rally Set In Caro Saturday

Severances Capture Top Oxford Honors

In the Oxford division of the sheep show at the State Fair, the Cass City area has reigned supreme for several years due to the host of excellent flocks in the area.

In this competition, the team of Dr. Harry Crandell and Herbert Ludlow has reigned, always closely pursued by the Lloyd Severance family of Decker.

This year the Severances caught the champions and won more of the top honors at the show.

However, the contest was hotly contested and between them the two area breeders took most of the top honors.

The Severances showed the champion and reserve champion ram and champion ewe. Crandell-Ludlow showed the reserve champion ewe.

Other placings for the Severances included: ram lamb, fourth and fifth and second pair; yearling rams, first and second and first pair; aged rams, first and sixth; ewe lamb, second; yearling ewes, first and fourth and first pair, and get of sire, first.

The Severances won the premier breeder banner for the best exhibit of eight animals.

The Crandell-Ludlow results were: ram lambs, third and sixth and first pair; yearling rams, third and fourth and second pair; aged ram, second and third; ewe lamb, first and sixth and first pair; pen of four lambs, first; yearling ewes, second and sixth and second pair; get of sire, second, and first flock.

EDITOR'S CORNER

TV newsmen came up with a startling disclosure.

The former 15-minute show (excluding commercials) and superimposed word for word in the columns of the New York Times would cover just a little over two and a half columns of the paper's front page.

Over the years we've reiterated our dependence and thanks to folks who take the trouble to turn in news and news tips.

One of the best through the years has been the Alfred Goodalls. As head of the Cass City Livestock Club, he sees that we have all of this news.

The returns at the 4-H and FFA Sale in Curo is a gas in point. All of the facts were garnered by the Goodalls and submitted Tuesday night so that we could pass the information on to you today.

Basketball is edging into the football season at Pigeon. The Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball League play an exhibition at Laker High Oct. 1. Athletic Director Wayne Wilson has 150 tickets for area fans at $1.50 per copy.

IT SEEMS TO ME

Eyewitnesses to History In The Making...

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

Well, we have once again been eyewitnesses to "history in the making". As we watched the "March on Washington" via television we saw, not only an orderly group of people tramping down the grass near the Reflection Pool (I sailed boats there as a boy), but we saw thousands of Negro and white citizens who were concerned enough about civil rights to give up a badly-needed day's pay to let the nation and the entire world know how they felt about their rights to jobs, housing, treatment in the armed forces, education and the whole gamut of today's life. Orderly, they came into the District in the morning, carrying their lunch bags as they had been advised to do and following orders given them by parade marshals. Finally, walking a few blocks from the Washington Monument they listened to some speakers and some singers; then turned around and headed home again.

The eyes of the world were on them in this peaceful demonstration and saw with amazement a gigantic display of the peaceful protest of thousands of citizens who are "second class citizens" in a nation that has only one class. The amazing thing is that with thousands of skeptics ready to blame any trouble on the marchers, police reported that the day, crime-wise, was much lighter than usual, with "practically no complaints or arrests and that none of the few they did have were connected with the March. Understandably, some authorities were worried; but the Negro leaders were highly effective in controlling their people.

It is a widely-held sentiment that the demonstration was a good thing for the United States to have happen. The attitude of the marchers demonstrated that they are basically American citizens trying to achieve for themselves the fundamental rights guaranteed them by the U S Constitution. Notably absent were the surly demonstrators usually present in such displays in other nations. Absent, too, were hecklers in any number. Communists were on the side line and definitely not in leadership positions!

Some of these visitors had nourished hopes all their lives that some day they would get to see our capitol and the other landmarks in Washington; many had saved money all their lives to be able to take a trip there, but they left after only half a day, without protest. Many of the churches served two warm meals to any of the visiting marchers; some provided nursery care for youngsters whose parents were part of the demonstration.

There were many things that could be written about "The March on Washington" (for example, the attitudes of certain Southern Congressmen) and we will mention more later in subsequent columns. One of the great television networks has presented a three-hour block of time to evaluate, not only the march, but the entire situation between races in our nation as of now. In a world of rapidly changing attitudes toward racial brotherhood, "The March on Washington" has demonstrated that the majority of American whites may be confused but they are not in any sense blocking the growth of the Negro citizen's participation in America. Or, so it seems to me.

Our attention was also focused that same week on the three miners of Hazelton, Pa., who were trapped in a mine after a rock slide. Then on another situation where a larger number of men were trapped. There have been charges made by miners concerning conditions. However, in this day of decreasing use of coal, the miners face a world that seems not to care about them anymore! Can't the mining industry, made up of human beings after all, take steps necessary to stop the trapping of men and the resultant deaths of too many of them?

A July meeting of official delegates to a meeting of leaders of the Methodist and United Brethren Churches ended with reports that giant steps had been taken toward merger of the two bodies, both of which have churches in Cass City. The name of the merging body will probably be the "United Methodist Church," according to reports. Some differences have yet to be resolved: The tenure of bishops (EUB elects every four years, Methodist elects for life.) Who picks District Superintendents? (EUB DS's are elected, while Methodist DS's are appointed by the Bishops.) EUB members have been fearful of being overpowered by the larger denomination, but it is proposed that the EUB Church be guaranteed a certain proportion of delegates to legislative bodies for at least the first 12 years.

Did you hear the story that President Kennedy was seeking to benefit from the experience of men who were government leaders and now are dead so had a "hot-line" direct to hell put in his office? As soon as he heard about it, Khrushchev immediately desired one, too. His cost: "Fifty kopecks," or about five cents. "But," he inquired, "What about the US bill in the amount of 50 million dollars?" "Ah," said the Moscow phone company, "But here it's a local call."

Varied Program at OES Meeting

Forty persons attended the September meeting of Echo chapter OES Wednesday evening.

The Tuscola county OES club meeting was announced, to be held Sept. 26 at Vassar.

Mrs. Don Lorentzen announced that 23 members of the Order had been remembered with cards or gifts during the summer and Mrs. Lester Evans sent birthday cards to seven children living in the OES Villa at Adrian.

A class of eight members was examined for their proficiency cards.

A brief memorial service in memory of Ray Boughton was conducted by Mrs. Don Lorentzen and Mrs. Fred Neitzel. Plans were made for a family potluck supper Oct. 2 at 6:30 p.m. to precede the annual meeting and election of officers. Installation of officers will take place Oct. 19.

The worthy matron, Mrs. Keith Murphy, will entertain her officers and their husbands or wives at a card party in the Masonic hall dining room Sept. 28.

Bauer's Holstein in Record Performance

A six-year-old registered Holstein cow owned by Carl Bauer of Reese has completed an outstanding lactation record of 25,119 pounds of milk and 905 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. Only four cows out of 75,000 in test in Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Associations produced over 900 pounds of butterfat in 1962, according to records kept by the DHIA Data Processing Center at Michigan State University. Bauer is a member of the Tuscola Dairy Herd Improvement Association. The record was supervised by David Greenleaf, supervisor for the Association.

MOVE UP TO CHRYSLER '64

Engineered better...backed better than any car in its class

The '64 Chryslers are here: the luxurious New Yorker (above); sports-bred 300; and the surprisingly easy-to-own Newport.

Clean. Crisp. Handsome. Designed in the modern concept. Bold but not brassy. Engineered by men who have accounted for more "firsts" than any automobile maker. So well built the vital moving parts are warranted for 5 years or 50,000 miles. (Details below.)

The '64 Chryslers are full of news: there's an optional steering wheel you can adjust, up or down, to any one of seven different positions. Bucket seats are standard on 300 models (passenger's reclines).

These are the '64 Chryslers. They have no junior editions to compromise your investment. Go see them. Move up to Chrysler '64.

Plan Annual Ram Day at Imlay City

Do you need a ram this fall? If so, you will want to plan to attend a Ram Day at the Imlay City Fairgrounds on Saturday afternoon, September 21, from 1-4 p.m. Purebred breeders in an eight county area will bring rams to this event and offer them for sale. Each ram will carry a tag giving its age and price.

This will be the third year a Ram Day has been held at Imlay City. Each year more persons have found this an excellent place to pick out a good ram.

Don't forget that the use of a good ram is the first step toward more income from flocks. The rate lambs grow and quality at market time are definitely inherited. The same is true of the amount and quality of wool.

Good rams don't cost money, they make money for you, according to Graydon Blank, MSU sheep specialist.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I was reading a piece in the papers where one of them Wall Street experts was advising folks to "build a second income." He was claiming the national economy was getting to the place where one wasn't enough.

This feller must have got lost crossing the New Frontier because we been in that fix for a long time now. It got started back during the second World War when Sadie took a job on the swing shift to help out on the war effort. When the war was over, prices got so high that Sadie had to stay on the swing shift to help her old man make both ends meet.

For instant, I saw some figgers the other day where six married wimmen out of ever 100 was holding down jobs in 1940 and now 38 out of ever 100 was working full time helping with the family expenses, and they was predicting that in another 10 year about three-fourths of all married wimmen in the nation would be coming home with a payroll check.

Furthermore, it ain't only the wimmen folks that is working on this "second income" project. I was reading a piece from the U. S. Labor Department that announced they was 3 million men in this country holding down one full time job and one part time job, and another 75,000 was holding down two full time jobs, working 8 hours on one and doing another eight hours somewhere else.

I was raised up in the old school, Mister Editor, when a woman's place was in the home, as the old saying goes, but with the taxpayers trying to keep up the interest on a $300 billion debt, old fashioned field tomatoes costing 25 cents a pound, and a pair of $2 shoes costing $18, most wimmen staying in the home ain't going to have no home very long.

This "second income" is a way of life that's been sneaking up on this generation of Americans and ain't had much publicity, but it is coming full bloom and this feller from Wall Street is way behind the times.

Incidental, this new "equal pay" fer wimmen law the Congress passed is liable to force more men into the two-job column. I was reading where one big manufacturer claimed it cost 30 per cent more to hire wimmen than men, an account of wimmen being absent so much and on account of the constant turnover in wimmen employees. He allowed as how his firm was cutting way down on hiring wimmen and replacing 'em with men.

This makes sense to me, Mister Editor, but it didn't register with my old lady. She says she aims to write her Congressman about it. With me and her both getting off a letter to Washington about once a week, I'm expecting to get a subpoena to appear afore the Committee on Un-Americanism or somepun.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Civil Rights Program Needs Long-term Effort for Success

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Equal Rights

Official state policy on civil rights is that no citizen should be denied education, employment or other opportunities because of his race, religion or creed.

This policy, a long-standing one, has been spelled out in detail a number of times in recent years. The emphasis throughout the country this year on civil rights has again brought Michigan's policy to the forefront.

Gov. George Romney reminded state agencies of this policy when he first took office. A short time before that, former Gov. John B. Swainson re-issued a statement of policy to all agency heads. Prior to that, long-time Gov. G. Memmen Williams emphasized his support of the equal opportunities policy.

Activities in the South recently prompted the leaders of the two major political parties here to appoint new human relations coordinators to improve the civil rights picture in Michigan.

At the same time, the state Attorney General announced a plan to implement the civil rights provisions of the new Constitution, taking effect Jan. 1.

On the education front, Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett formed a state committee on equal education opportunity. The committee's job is to determine where improvements might be needed to insure that each Michigan citizen gets his full civil rights in education.

It might be observed, that these recent efforts can only serve their intended purpose if continued on a long-term basis. One-shot efforts in the field of civil rights would be of little value if their purpose was just to "win friends and influence people."

In civil service in Michigan, equal employment opportunities are a reality. Capacity for a position is the only factor taken into account.

In at least one other governmental unit, civil rights are being emphasized to contractors who deal with the state. The State Highway Department issues a letter each year at the beginning of the construction season.

Commissioner John C. Mackie informs contractors wishing to bid on state projects that they should hire on the basis of ability. A contractor who takes into consideration other factors could be disqualified from bidding on state work.

Continuing, unsung efforts of this type appear to be those which will further the state policy in the long run.

Concentration on civil rights this year brought forth one other interesting point: a paradox of sorts.

When school superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett was asked how many Negro teachers were employed in various school systems, the paradox brought about by just a few years' passing came into focus.

In past years, applications for various jobs including those in most school districts contained a blank where "race" was listed. Some years back, however, a hue and cry about racial discrimination prompted school districts and many other employers to leave this off job application forms.

Thus, when Bartlett was asked to count Negro teachers it became a large task to survey school districts, which in turn had to check each school.

The simple line on a job application would have eliminated this extra census, but the desires of the Negro community a few years ago had been not to have this designation available.

An "Operation Bootstrap" appears to be in order among Michigan's and the nation's youth.

Within this state alone, an estimated 10,000 young people joined the long list of high school dropouts this fall. About double this will probably be added as the school year progresses. Past experience shows the persons on this list often are also on the unemployment rolls.

As in most experiences of life, one learns by his mistakes. For the school dropout, however, the lesson often comes too late to correct the error of cutting off education.

A youth determined to leave school most likely will have a deaf ear to a parent or older friend who attempts to convince him otherwise.

Statistics indicate that young people are unemployed at about three times the rate for the total work force, while some jobs geared for young people go unfilled because of the lack of trained applicants.

A concentrated effort by youth leaders in the schools might well be able to spot the signs of disinterest before a dropout is recorded and convince the individual that it is to his best interest to remain in school.
