Water Bids Lower Costs

were jubilant Monday after bids for the proposed revamping of they were some $13,000 under the estimated $150,000.

The bids were opened at the Municipal Building. Low bidder for the new water mains was John Carlo Inc. of Warren, $58,-631.76. Second bidder was A. T. Barnes Construction Co. of Cass City. Barnes bid $67,468.04.

Other bids were: K. G. Marks Inc., $71,179.00; Patrick LaFave, $71,828.00; Troelsen Excavating Co., $77,098.00; Riedel Construction Co., $95,617.92, and G. A. Odien Inc., $97,722.80.

Water Tower Bid The low bid for the new water tower was submitted by Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. of Detroit. The bid was $51,400. Two other bids were received. The Pittsburgh-DesMoines Steel Co. bid $59,365 and Doreon Inc. bid $65,-

The new tank will have a 200,000-gallon capacity as compared to the 60,000-gallon capacity of the present tank.

Its location in northwest Cass City is considerably higher than the site of the present tank and is expected to provide ample water pressure for the village.

A third section of the bids was cancelled when no bids were received for electrical work. The total cost of this phase of the work is estimated at $3,000 and the village will let the work without a bid rather than hold up the Representatives of Hubbell, Roth & Clark Inc. were at the opening and figured the total cost after the bids were opened. The two bids total $110,031.

Boost Lunch Price 5c

The full impact of the rising cost of living hit a number of Cass City students this week when it was learned that their lunches were going to cost an additional five cents a day beginning second semester. Board of education members voted Monday night to raise lunches for students from grades seven through 12 from 25 cents to 30 cents.

Elementary students won't entirely escape the raise, because the motion provides that all lunches be raised to the 30-cent the beginning of mark with school next fall. Spurring the move for the price increase was a report from Supt. Willis Campbell that a heatlh inspector had ordered the school to for the cafeteria's dish washers. Campbell estimated the cost of the unit at about $700 plus the cost of installation. Plans for the unit were originally included but a lack of funds caused it to be dropped. Coupled with the cost of the new unit was the fact that the cafeteria department finished the year $300 in the red.

Campbell estimated that approximately 300 high school students eat in the cafeteria each day. Using this figure, the five cent increase would mean an additional $75.00 each week.

Village authorities in Cass City Engineering and architect's costs are $9,310. Legal fees and administration cost $1,200. Conthe water system revealed that struction contingencies were set at $5,258.24 and project contingencies will cost $2,200.

On-site inspection will be $2,-000 and the village tentatively plans to have Albert Whitfield

Start Friday

Because of the Federal participation, the work must start Friday. A start on the work is expected to begin, but weather will probably hold back any major progress until spring.

The water system is being erected on 50 per cent Federal aid under the Accelerated Public Works program. The lower bids reduce Cass City's share of the cost from $75,000 to $68,500.

Graham Denied Salary

Circuit Court Judge Richard D. Smith, Bay County, signed an order Wednesday morning restraining ousted Probate Judge Henderson Graham from receiving his salary until a show cause hearing is heard Tuesday, Feb. 4. The hearing was postponed until later because Graham's attorney had previous commitments.

Judge Smith, appointed by Su-Court Administrator preme Meredith H. Doyle after Circuit Court Judge Timothy Quinn disqualified himself, signed the order at about 9:30 Wednesday

Quinn disqualified himself after signing the show cause order Wednesday morning, Jan. 8.

The Graham case sprang into the news spotlight again early last week when a taxpayer's suit was filed by Maurice Ransford, Caro lawyer, seeking to halt payment of Graham's salary.

Graham was relieved of his duties in May, 1962, by the Supreme Court, but continued to draw his salary.

Ransford's attorney, Douglas habit will tell you that pills and Williams, also wrote a letter to other devices are ineffective and Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley asking that the probate judge post be declared vacant in Tuscola county.

In answer to the letter, Dep. Atty. Gen. Leon S. Cohan is reported to have said that the attorney general is "unable to intervene in this matter."

Pupils Wanted to Start Art Class

An evening art class will be ofobtain a pre-rinse attachment fered at Cass City High School for any interested person if as many as 15 indicate they are interested in the course, it was announced this week.

Although the time, day and cost of a course is now indefinite. Supt. Willis Campbell said that the last adult class offered at the school was typing and students paid $10 which went to the teacher.

A similar charge plus cost of materials, is anticipated if a course is started in art.

Persons desiring to enter a course are asked to call the school or Mrs. James Bauer.

Finkbeiner was the more severely injured. He suffered second and third degree burns on his hands, wrists, face and neck and extensive burns on his ears. Mrs. Little suffered a severely wrenched left knee and abrasions on her left leg.

Authorities speculate that the explosion was caused by fumes from an oil furnace or from fumes from a cleaning solvent Finkbeiner was using to clean parts in the oil furnace.

Finkbeiner, a local plumbing and heating repairman, had been called to the home Tuesday morning by Mrs. Little after she had awakened in the night and smelled fumes. He had reportedly finished working on the furnace and was cleaning pipe couplings with lacquer thinner, a standard procedure for Finkbeiner. The explosion is believed to have occurred when he turned on the furnace switch.

The resulting blast blew out windows and tore doors from their hinges. A five-foot square. four-inch thick concrete slab on the front porch was broken and moved several inches.

Fire Chief Al Avery reported the house was lifted at least 18 inches into the air because an air

A committee to "weed out" ap- be needed for special education. plicants for the superintendency of Cass City Public Schools was appointed Monday night by Board of Education members at their January meeting.

So far, eight brochures have been received from three of the State's leading university placement bureaus, giving extensive data on possible candidates for the wide-open superintendent's

Members of the committee slated to survey the brochures are Mrs. Gerald Prieskorn, Donald Reid and Arthur Holmberg, principal.

The brochures were not filled out by the applicants and are only suggestions of the respective universities. The committee will look over the brochures already received, as well as others that will come in, and select those best suited to the post.

The committee will then write to the candidates, asking for an interview. The committee may also visit systems in which the candidates are now employed.

Whoever gets the post may have to take it for considerably less than the $12,000 now being paid to Campbell. One member of the board stated the offering price is "around $10,000, although if the particular applicant has considerable experience, we'll offer more."

A bid for the post by a Cass City man was turned down following a ruling by the Bureau of School Services that it is "mandatory for a superintendent to have a Masters Degree" in order to meet University of Michigan accreditation.

The most leniency offered by the Bureau is that the candidate without a Masters be within "nine semester hours of obtaining his degree."

Horace Bulen, Board president, stated that "with regret we must rule out" the Cass City man's application.

Candidate brochures were received from University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Central Michigan University.

A report on the suggested placement of another special education room sparked discussion of plans to push for a new Cass City High School.

Warren S. Holmes, architect, in the report, suggested placecial education room at the northwest corner of the elementary building. He also estimated that cost of a second room would be near the cost of the first, or $21,000.

The Board has been considering a second room, although the first room hasn't been filled, in order to provide classroom space in the heavily crowded elementary school. The arrangement would be only until the second room would Holmes' report prompted Board member Don Reid to suggest, "Why don't we rent the EUB Church basement and start working on a new high school if we think we need it.

He cited the increase in students since 1950. Campbell backed his remarks by reporting that the system, according to the school census, had a 30 to 40student per year gain. "We're behind two rooms now," he asserted.

A possible method of financing the new school, in part, at least, was brought into the open when one board member reported that the current 1 3 4 mills for the bond issue on the Elementary School would expire near the end of 1965 and that the current 11/2 mills approved last year for operating expenses would also expire at the end of 1965.

It was suggested that voters be asked at that time to allow the resulting 314 mills to go toward a new school.

In other business, the board approved the purchase of a new school bus after it was pointed out that the budget had been set up so that a bus could be bought. The bus, to be purchased from Bulen Motors, will have a 54passenger capacity. Michigan Claims Service has offered to repair the stage curtain burned during the Christmas concert for $121.00. Actual cost of the repair will be $75.00 plus $46.00 for installation. The curtain was burned when a hot light in a stage lamp was accidentally placed against it.

The Asthmatic By Dr. E. P. Lockwood

About this time of year asthma sufferers are looking desperately for some relief from the wheezing and heavy chestsleepless rights. They gasp or breath and nature's vay of trying to air contricted bronchial Many theories have been propounded as to the cause of asthma of which allergy seems to be the most popular today: allergy to dust, ragweed, various pollens, wheat germ, certain foods, etc.

But why then, doesn't everyone have asthma or hay fever? Did you ever stop at that consideration? You see everyone has a weakness in some part of the body. Just like there are no two of us who look alike there are no two of us who have identical manifestations of disease.

In asthma, there is a constriction of the bronchial tubes which causes difficult breathing. Life is partially blocked at some point in the spine causing the spasm of the bronchial tubes.

Many patients suffering find great relief and in time complete relief from their fatiguing attacks. Children respond almost immediately; more often because of shorter term. There is no need to suffer when you have within your body the components of health. Chiropractors make no charge for consultation.

The tight Thumb B Conference 22 points. The Hawks had five games this season have left Coach Wayne Wilson with little chance experiment with various player combinations under game conditions. But Friday Wilson was able to clear his bench and still post an easy victory over the Lakers, 84-45.

Wilson opened the game with a new starting combination. Ron Randall replaced Jim Knoblet at center and Dave Stine was shoved into a starting role at guard.

Cass City moved in front early in the first quarter and was never seriously threatened throughout the game. The visitors kept in the game in the first period and trailed by just six points at the end of the first quarter, 18-12.

In the second period, Cass City broke the game wide open. Using balanced scoring, they hit for 21 points while the Lakers connected for just nine points. Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port was unable to hit the net with any degree of regularity all night.

The Hawks continued to roll in the second half and midway through the third period Wilson started substituting freely. No matter who was in the game, Cass City continued to pile up a lead. At the end of the third period the score was 55-32. In the last quarter Laker Coach Ed Wolford tossed in the towel and used his bench and Cass City rolled for 29 points, the team's best one-quarter total of the sea-

ASK TO SEE THE REFERENCES

A wise employer who is thinking of hiring a new employee usually wants to see his references before making a final decision. It's a sensible practice that car buyers could often make use of profitably.

An automobile represents a sizeable investment for all of us and it is usually the second largest purchase in terms of dollars that most of us will ever make if we own dur own homes. If we don't then it is the largest.

It seems only common sense that if we have some unsettled doubts about a particular car that we are thinking of buying that we should ask for the name of the previous owner.

It's the basic policy at Bulen Motors to furnish prospective buyers with this information on request. We are always pleased when a customer makes such a request because the confidence created by a previous owner testimonial goes a long way to creating a satisfied customer. Bulen Motors protects its customers as a matter of practice by operating a used car division based on the following policies: We do not sell at retail any car that has been a police cruiser or taxi unless it is so stated at the time of sale; We do not retail cars that have been in a major wreck involving frame damage; All used cars sold at retail are inspected and reconditioned where required; We do not falsify mileage and provide the previous owner's name as

John Scandalios, General Manager, reported in an interview with the Chronicle recently that there are approximately 350 production workers employed at the large modern plant and about 33 persons in administration.

These workers pour millions of dollars directly into the area in the form of wages. In addition, of course, the plant provides business for many suppliers in Cass

In just three short years, the company's workload has grown so that the 125,000 square feet in the main plant on Garfield Street is entirely utilized. The company is making daily use of its 12,000 foot plant across the street as a warehouse. This building handled production cord work before the new plant was erected.

Three Operations

Basically, General Insulated Wire Works has three operations in its Cass City plant. One of its specialties is making plastic insulation and jacketing for wire. The operation begins with the storage of resin in two large storage silos. Through a process too complicated for the untrained observer, the resin is manufactured to a plastic ready for insulating the wire in either the cord or wire division of the plant. The raw white plastic compound feels like a cross between sugar and fine flour.

General Insulated Wire Works, a division of General Cable Corporation, specializes in plastic covered wires and supplies this wire to other plants owned by General Cable Corporation.

Wire Plant The function of the wire plant is drawing wire to exact diameter requirements. At Cass City this process ranges from wire the thickness of a mil to 114 in hes in diameter. Wire a mil thick is so thin it looks like Christmas tinsel.

Two Attend State Chamber Meeting

A meeting of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce at Lansing was highlighted by three cutstanding addresses Tuesday, Jan. 7, Mrs. Mary Leeson and Mrs. James Bauer, local Chamber delegates, reported this week.

Michigan President Walter Patenge reported methods of financing and ways of recruiting new members. National President Ed Neilan told of accrediting local chambers. Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State University, told of the availability of scholarships and remarked that there is money available in scholarships for every qualified student.

The ladies reported that they learned that Cass City has the lowest dues ($25) of any Chamber in the state. The next lowest is $60 per year, they said.

Ford Wins Motor Trend's

"Car of the Year" Award

January 8: Motor Trend magazine's "Car of the Year"

Award goes to an engineering breakthrough! It honors all the '64s from Ford "For engineering advancement in the concept of Total Performance, proven in open competition."

Champion Services Held at Little's

Funeral services were held Saturday at Little's Funeral Home for Clifton Champion, 70, lifelong area resident. He died Thursday morning, Jan. 9, at Cass City Hospital where he had been a patient for a month. He had been in ill health for 11 years.

Born in Cass City Aug. 23, 1893, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Champion. He married Miss Goldie Parsons in Caro June 8, 1923. Following their marriage, they made their home in Cass City. For the past 11 years they have lived in their summer home near Caseville.

Mr. Champion was employed at Auten Motors in Cass City for 84 years. He served in the U.S. Army in World War I, was a life member of Tyler Lodge No. 317, F&AM of Cass City and a memof the First Presbyterian Church.

Surviving, besides his wife, is a son, Samuel of Pigeon.

Dr. Marion Hostetler, First Presbyterian Church pastor, officiated and interment was in Elkland Cemetery.

Echo OES Chapter To Host County OES

About 40 attended the Jan. 8 meeting of Echo Chapter OES when Mrs. Gerald Stilson announced that Echo Chapter will be host March 14 to a meeting of the Tuscola County OES Club.

Mrs. James Seals announced a meeting of the ways and means committee Jan. 15 at her home. A new sheaf for Ruth's station was presented. Contributions toward the purchase of the sheaf were made in memory of Joseph Sommers and Richard Bayley by members of their families. Mrs. Stilson also announced that

I Don't Want To Be A Beatnik

Dave Kraft

Notice anything different? You're right! My picture has grown a beard! Don't get excited though because my picture is the only thing that has ... grown a beard, I mean.

The picture was taken about two and a half years ago. I thought I'd run it and let you see what I look like with a beard, just in case any of you were holding back on giving your approval for me to ... grow another beard, I mean.

If you recall, a week or so ago I said I'd ask the boss if I could grow another one if I received 30 requests from readers over a two week period.

As of this writing I've received 15 requests to grow a beard and one not to... grow a beard, I Miles Profit was my only dissenter. He wrote Dear Mr. Kraft: I read your article in the newspaper about you growing a beard for 30 requests. I drew many different beards on your picture. I don't think you should grow one because you look handsome enough already."

I've been sitting here for five minutes trying to think up a smart answer to that, but you just can't argue with good, sound

I mentioned last week that Hedy Kessler had written on behalf of her family giving me an okay. I reread the letter and now I'm not so sure.

She wrote "Dear Mr. Kraft: There is nothing in this world I'd rather see than you with a beard. I have never seen a beatnik in my life."

Let me explain. I don't intend to become a beatnik, I just intend to grow a beard. Writers Hemingway and Steinbeck had beards as do Conductors Mitch Miller and Skitch Henderson and they're not considered beatniks.

My wife has a beard and she's not considered a beatnik. Of course, I realize that comparing myself to Hemingway, Steinbeck, Miller and Henderson is like comparing the village dump with Mt. McKinley and comparing myself just not in their class.

She continues "So please let your whiskers grow and I'm sure the whole town will be delighted. I'm also speaking for my mother. She thought a goatee would give you that touch of masculinity!" (Hmmm, sticks and stones.)

"May I suggest that if you should get enough votes and you decide to let that beard grow, have a picture taken of yourself and have it printed in the Chronicle. I'm sure that all your readers would like to see a real beatnik."

Well, so much for the correspondence. Tell you what I'm Caro, Michigan, all of whom are owners of property and were owners of property prior to the time of the dedication of the platted area and who did not join in as proprietors of the plat, yet find themselves in the peculiar position of having their property included in the Pine Crest Acres Subdivision, contrary to their wishes.

It is my understanding that there is other property that is also used in this subdivision, although, in fact, the owner thereof has not joined in the dedication along with the other proprietors named above. I do not, however, represent this other party.

My Clients do not wish to have their property included in this subdivision.

My Clients do not wish to have their property included in this subdivision.

Under the so-called Plat Act, being Act 172 of the Public Acts of 1929, as emended, and specifically Section 59 thereof, being M. S. A. 26.409, the Circuit Courts for the several counties are authorized and empowered on application to alter, vacate, correct or revise any plat upon application of either the proprietor of said plat, or the Prosecuting Attorney of any County of the State, when such Prosecuting Attorney of any County of the State, when such Prosecuting Attorney stall be directed to make an application by the Board of Supervisors of his County when a plat has been or shall be recorded without having been properly executed or acknowledged, or for any couse, legal and yalid assessment of taxes cannot be made upon the lots situated within the plat.

I hereby make request on behalf of my clients that the Board of Supervisors direct the Prosecuting Attorney for Tuscola County to make application to the Circuit Court for Tuscola County to alter or vacate, to correct or revise the plat of Pine Crest Acres Subdivision.

I further request on behalf of my clients that I be advised by the Board of Supervisors upon adjournment of its next session or diffriguence.

Were truly yours,

4-H Clubs Need $500 for IFYE

Tuscola County 4-H Clubs are beginning their drive to raise the necessary $500 for the International Farm Youth Exchange program, according to Ed Schrader, county extension agent in 4-H club work.

Dick Ross, 20, of Caro was recently selected as one of the four IFYE's from Michigan to represent the USA this spring. The program cost is approximately $2,000, of which $1,500 is paid by the National and State 4-H Foundation, and $500 must be raised locally. All organizations are being asked to contribute to the program.

The selection of Dick is an outstanding honor for Tuscola county. Each year several young people apply for the IFYE program. The selection is made on the applicant's ability to represent the United States and leave the type of impression desired on the people he will be living and working with. Dick can do the job, Schroder continued. He has been active in the 4-H program, has a rural background and is now a senior education major at Michigan State University.

The $500 must be raised by 1 in order for Dick to qualify for his assignment. Upon his return, he will be available to share his experiences with groups in Tuscola county, Schrader con-

Noted Speaker Slated at Sanilac Soil District Meet

G. S. McIntyre, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, will be the featured speaker at the Sanilac Soil Conservation District annual meeting Thursday, Jan. 16. The event starts at 1:30 p.m. in the Farm Bureau building in Sandusky. All land owners and operators in the county are invited to attend, authorities said.

The nation could show more progress if half the people didn't waste time trying to figure out how the other half ought to live.

Wisdom is uncommon because it involves a lot of common sense.
