Local Aid Easing Misery of Burns

A visitor commented to Donald Finkbeiner at his home Monday that he looked as if he'd gone 10 rounds with Sonny Liston, to which Finkbeiner quipped, "and lost."

The personable 27-year-old Cass City repairman was released from Hills and Dales General Hospital Friday where he had been under treatment for burns suffered 11

From the Editor's Corner

The 10-year agreement between the village and Elkland township under which the Elkland Township Fire Department operated has ended.

Under this program the village housed the equipment and furnished the men while the township purchased the equipment.

There has been some feeling among village authorities that the system is inequitable.

The reasoning behind this feeling is that persons living in the village are presently paying township taxes as well as village taxes.

In other words, villagers help pay for the cost of buying the equipment through township taxes and then pay all of the costs of maintaining and housing the equipment through village taxes. An unofficial estimate is that 54 per cent of the taxes in the township are paid by village property owners.

This writer feels that the present arrangement is unfair and agrees with persons who feel that a change should be made to more equalize the financial load.

Another phase of fire costs that is currently under study county-wide, and also in need of revision, is the cost to neighboring townships for fire protection. In these days of big investments in fire equipment, prices should be adjusted to at least partially cover the costs and they undoubtedly will.

Willis Campbell often comes up with a remark that really hits the funnybone and Tuesday he was at his best.

The United Fund was paying tribute to him and Charles Chaskes, public relations man for the organization, was speaking. He told a joke about a pastor who substituted gin for water in a glass he always had in the pulpit to overcome nervousness.

Then he continued to pile up accolades to Willis for his 14 years' service. After he was through, Campbell slowly rose, took his empty water glass, pushed it in front of him and said to the nearest man, "Art, how about taking this out and filling it full of gin."

The crowd roared.

Walbro Asks for Return of Vital Research Pump

Walbro Corporation is missing a fuel pump that disappeared from their plant this week and would like to have it back . . . no questions asked.

For the pump is no good to anyone other than the company, but to Walbro it is worth many, many ordinary pumps.

The unit was under test by the research department of the company. Bill Eberline, company engineer, says that there has been 850 hours of experimentation on the pump in about two months of work.

Although the pump is very important to Walbro, it is worthless to anyone else. It is not designed for use on standard engines, authorities said.

The pump was running on a test rack outside of the plant when it disappeared.

"Anyone locating the pump can drop it off at the plant or give us a ring and we'll be glad to come and get it," Eberline said.

Area Drivers in Minor Accidents

A car driven by a Cass City youth was totaled early Tuesday morning when it was struck by another car at the intersection of Main and West streets.

Uninjured in the accident were Roger L. Ashmore, 16, Cass City, driver of the totaled car, and James McDonald, 29, Cass City, driver of the second car.

According to Patrolman William McKinley, investigating officer, McDonald pulled from West Street and struck the Ashmore vehicle. Ashmore's mother, Mrs. Charles Ashmore, 38, an occupant in his car, was also uninjured.

Huron county sheriff's deputies reported that high winds and blowing snow caused Norris Melendorf, 47, Pigeon, to lose control of his milk truck Saturday on Thomas Road, two miles southwest of Pigeon.

The truck went into a ditch and then struck a tree. No injuries were reported for Melendorf.

A Caro man suffered head injuries when his car smashed into the Cass River Bridge, a mile south of Cass City on Cemetery Road, Friday night.

Ticketed in the accident was Bernard Guy Stratton, 35, East Dayton Road, Caro. He was charged with not having his car under control. Stratton was taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital where he was treated for injuries.

Stratton told sheriff's deputies that he met a car at the corner of the bridge and it forced him off the road.

In another accident earlier in the afternoon a car driven by Wallace S. Woodrow, 39, Elkton, slammed into another car driven by Albert D. Englehart, Shabbona Road, Deford, at the intersection of Shabbona and Crawford roads.

There were no injuries reported.

Willy replaces Al Avery who has held the post for the past three years.

Other officers elected included: Jerome Root Jr., assistant chief; Eldon Stoutenburg, first captain; Richard Root, second captain; Elwyn Helwig, secretary, and Fritz Netzel, treasurer.

Helwig and Netzel were re-elected.

Don't Forget CD Self-Help Course Kroswek Urges

Area residents interested in saving their lives in the event of a nuclear attack or any emergency are reminded that a free 16-hour medical self-help training course will begin Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 7:30 p.m. at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Civil Defense Director Frank Kroswek is urging at least one member of each village family to attend the free course which will offer "intensive training in medical self-help measures."

4-H'ers Pay Homage to Three Men for Long, Able Service

The long and dedicated service of three native Cass City men was recognized Saturday evening when the Cass City Livestock Club honored Alfred Goodall, Dr. Harry Crandell and Clarence Merchant.

The three men were the guests of honor at a banquet at the New Gordon Hotel. Together the trio has 42 years of service as club leaders and 60 years in 4-H work.

Each of the guests pointed out the benefits they received from the 4-H program while Ed Schrader, 4-H agent, pointed out the tremendous asset the men have been to 4-H.

"It takes a champion to produce a champion 4-H'er and certainly Cass City has had its share of champions," Schrader said.

He attributed the efforts of the leaders to make 4-H meaningful to younger members as the reason that excellent young leaders are now ready to step in and carry on the 4-H work in the community.

Goodall traced his 21 years in 4-H, first with the West Elkland Club and then with the Cass City Livestock Club. He cited 4-H as the guide to good citizenship. Crandell complimented the club on its consistent award-winning record and said that the interest and cooperation of parents made it possible.

Merchant summed his 13 years as dairy leader up by saying that they were the best years of his life and urged continued hard work by club members to carry the club along to further honors.

Each of the men is able to look back on a championship caliber 4-H project in his youth.

Goodall showed the grand champion steer at the Detroit Junior Show in 1937 and Crandell showed the champion lamb in 1932. Merchant was 4-H Holstein boy of the year in 1931 and showed the grand champion female Holstein at the State Fair.

From that start the three men have each achieved singular honors in open livestock competition. The three leaders and their wives were presented corsages and bouquets.

On hand, representing 4-H members of the past, were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Murray of Wilkinton and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kritzman of Kawkwilin.

Bob Milligan was toastmaster and Arthur Battel gave the invocation.

Budget Tops Slated Income

County spending for 1964 is expected to be $65,150 over anticipated income. Supervisors learned Monday at the final session of their six-day January meeting.

Anticipated spending for the year, as set up in the budget drafted by the board Monday, will be $710,500. Anticipated income for the year is $645,350.

Chief effect of the increase in spending will be to cut a 1963 surplus of $74,569 to $9,419.

In setting up the budget, the supervisors pared $775,000 in requests for the various departments to the final $710,500.

A Social Welfare fund request of $155,000 was cut by $30,000 and $27,000 was trimmed from building and grounds which would have financed a posting machine for the county treasurer's office.

The county agricultural agent's office also felt the knife as the board cut $1,500 for 4-H premiums from a $14,300 budget. Technically, tax funds cannot be used as prizes for individuals.

Although the budget is over anticipated income, it is still some $20,000 lower than 1963's anticipated budget of $720,926.77. Actual spending in 1963 was $683,181.61.

Next step for the budget will be a public hearing Feb. 6 at 10:00 a. m. in the supervisors' room at the courthouse.

The board stepped up progress on the new jail with the hiring of Clark R. Ackley, Lansing architect, to design the proposed jail. Ackley also designed the County Nursing Home.

Supervisors on the special building committee suggested Ackley after visiting three recently completed jails, all designed by the architect.

The committee was also given

SCA Announces Meeting Change

A School-Community Association meeting, originally slated for Monday, Feb. 3, has been changed to Tuesday, Feb. 18, Victor Guernsey, publicity chairman, announced Wednesday morning. The meeting will be held at 8:00 p.m. in the elementary school gym.

Guernsey announced that the association will attempt to bolster attendance at the meeting by using the same techniques of notifying parents as used in the organizational meeting.

Parents will be telephoned, sent letters via their children, and news releases of the program will be sent out. The meeting is open to the general public.

Various departments are slated to report on curriculum needs.

Chamber Committee Says

Need Complete Alley Program

The Citizens Improvement Committee of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce zeroed in on the village's alleys in a presentation to the village council Tuesday evening at the Municipal Building.

The committee, headed by Fred Pinney and Jim Bauer, asked for a three-pronged attack:

1. Grading and draining of the alleys.
2. Backtopping of the alleys.
3. A new system of waste and trash disposal.

The ambitious program has been estimated to cost around $25,000 and Pinney said that he felt it was vital now to keep the business district alive in the face of increasing competition.

"I would be in favor of floating a small bond issue to get the work done now if it becomes necessary," he said.

Council's Position
The village council feels a lot of questions need answering by the committee before a comprehensive program can get off the ground.

President Lee Rabideau said that the budget could stand the estimated $12,000 that resurfacing and drainage of the alleys would cost and plans were set Tuesday to hire a Caro surveyor to plan the work.

The phase of the program that needs much more study, trustees feel, is the removal of trash. This program will cost about $9,000, not including the truck. Rabideau appointed Fred Auten, Lambert Althaver and Village Engineer Bill Schram as a committee to meet with the Chamber committee to study the system and produce answers to several questions.

They want to know how much the merchants served will pay for the new system and whether or not the cost of the equipment will be paid for by charges for

Doctors Attempt to Save Man's Fingers

Fremont doctors are trying to save the fingers of a former Cass City man which were mangled in a well-digging accident Friday that has already cost him one finger.

Rev. Herman Rock, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rock of Deford, lost his right index finger at the second joint when it became caught in a winch being used in the well-digging project at his parsonage at Holton.

Doctors are attempting to save Rock's three other fingers of his right hand by skin grafts.

Rock is a 1957 graduate of Cass City High School. His father is Novesta township clerk.

They also feel that a definite survey should be taken to find out the number of merchants who will pay after a basic cost is ascertained.

Bauer said that a check with Caro street authorities revealed that the merchants and the community are very happy and satisfied with their trash disposal system which is the same as the one that is advocated for Cass City.

Essentially, the removal system requires eight trash containers at $612 each, an open bucket at $600 and a loader at $3,000. The loader would be attached to a village truck now in use at the disposal plant and the containers taken away and replaced as needed.

Reveal Details Of Plan

Backtopping the alleys in the business district is a major program that will require cooperation of businessmen and necessitate a chain reaction of progressive action to be successful, the Cass City Village Council feels.

For there is more to resurfacing than the draining, grading and laying of the blacktop.

Resurfacing the alleys is a step towards more and easier shopping in Cass City. Plans call for the alleys to be resurfaced the entire 35-feet of village right of way and parallel parking established on the south side of the south alley and the north side of the north alley.

The target area extends from West to Maple (from Cass City Oil and Gas to Bulen Motors) on the north side of Main and all of this area on the south side, plus part of the block west of West Street.

But to be effective, property owners in the affected area should plan to resurface from the village right of way to their stores, members of the council said. This serves two purposes . . . it keeps the blacktop from crumbling on the edges when cars drive off and on and makes convenient "back door" shopping a reality.

On the south side of the alley the utility poles of General Telephone need moving to the poles owned by Detroit Edison. Gen-Tel has agreed to spend the several thousands of dollars the project will cost after they are sure that the village is going to complete the project.

Hawk Debaters In 2nd Place Tie In Local League

Cass City High School debaters ended their Thumb Debate League schedule Monday in a three-way tie for second place after posting an 11-5 season record.

Debate squads took three of four debates at league finals Monday in Millington. Cass City is sharing the second place slot with Inlay City and Vassar. A second place trophy will be awarded later.

Frankenmuth is in first place with a healthy 14-2 record and tied for third are Millington and Sandusky with 10-6 records.

A Red Hawk negative squad, comprised of Judy Nicol and Tim Knight, topped Owen-Gage's affirmative and a Cass City affirmative squad, made up of Bob Milligan and Bonnie Spencer, won over Akron-Fairgrove's negative.

Another affirmative squad, comprised of Bonnie Spencer and Richard Hartwick, beat Brown City's negative. An Inlay City team topped a negative squad comprised of Mary Lou Spencer and Bob Milligan.

Although Monday's meet was the last on the local schedule, still to be held is a State debate schedule meet, according to Miss Nedra Mendelin. The date and school involved have not been announced, Miss Mendelin reported.

Authorities Hail Accreditation

Hills and Dales General Hospital Administrator Richard Palm has announced that the hospital has been accredited by the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals as of Wednesday, Jan. 22, after meeting standards set up by the Commission.

"These standards have evolved from years of experience and observations of those hospital practices which have proved consistent with high quality patient care," Palm explained. "To accredit and recommend a hospital to the public, the Commission considers it essential that the hospital meet these standards."

To the patient, accreditation means better care provided by a competent staff using adequate diagnostic and therapeutic equipment, shortest possible hospitalization and an accurate record of illness.

Accreditation is also important to the doctor because it assures an efficient physical plant and qualified technical personnel, Palm reported.

Hawks Score 103; Crowd Applauds

Cass City High School became the first team in the Thumb B Conference to break the 100-point barrier in a league tilt, as they scored 103 points against Frankenmuth Friday at the Cass City gym.

The smooth working Hawks have been steadily increasing their scoring pace throughout the season and Friday six players hit in double figures as the club shattered all previous scoring marks.

The climb toward the century figure caused much more excitement than the game as the crowd cheered wildly everytime the Hawks scored in the last half of the fourth quarter to creep closer to the magic figure. The game itself was decided at the end of three quarters.

Marvin Irver scored the field goal that registered the 99th and 100th points and the crowd cheered as if the team had just won a state championship.

Although Cass City was the first in the conference to hit the coveted mark, they undoubtedly will not be the last. With the new rules, stopping the clock when the ball is dead, it will be only a matter of time before the 103-point record will be eclipsed... possibly this year.

Cass City worked towards its total with almost as many points in the first half as they netted in the final two periods.

The team scored 21 points in the first quarter, 27 points in the second quarter, 30 in the third and 25 in the final eight minutes.

It was a game that the players will never forget.

Hawks Push Eagles Out of 2nd

Cass City roared to a surprisingly easy victory over the Frankenmuth Eagles Friday to oust the visitors from a tie for second place in the Thumb B Conference at Cass City High School. The score was a record shattering 103-75.

Leading the team to victory was Jim Champion who came off the bench in the middle of the first quarter to burn the nets for 33 points while playing an aggressive defensive game.

Champion played a little over three full quarters and approached the school scoring record of 39 points, held jointly by Tim Burdon and Fred Leeson.

As outstanding as Champion's scoring effort was, it was overshadowed by the balanced team scoring by the rest of the players as they set a new school and conference scoring record.

check on Cass City's small court, the whistle was tooting most of the time.

Converting free throws has been one of the Hawks' big weaknesses this season, but Friday they meshed a creditable 41 of 60 tries. Frankenmuth hit 17 of 37. Besides Champion's total, Marv Irver and Ed Retherford both scored 14 points and Walt Hempton contributed 12.

JV's Lose

they bested the Hawks in the preliminary, 75-64.

Play Marlette
The Hawks will battle for undisputed possession of second place in the conference Friday when they play at Marlette, which is currently tied with Cass City with two league losses. In the first fracas between the two clubs, the Hawks bowed in the last half, 70-62.

Tuesday the Hawks will be home in a nonconference game with Buena Vista of Saginaw.

Seven Sentenced In Circuit Court

Three Forstoric sisters were ordered to pay fines, costs and restitution in a two-year-old malicious destruction charge heard Wednesday, Jan 22, in Circuit Court in Caro.

Circuit Court Judge Timothy Quinn ordered the girls to pay a fine of $25.00, costs of $5.00 and restitution of $70.00 after they pleaded guilty to the charge.

The three broke into a house in Kingston township, owned by Ronald Swatwell of Wilmot township, and broke a window, eye glasses, a gun and a chair, all valued at less than $100.00. The incident took place in February, 1962.

Three Mayville area youth were given probationary sentences and fined in connection with the breaking and entering of the Mayville High School Dec. 12 and the theft of several musical instruments, valued at $1,000.

Gary D. Briggs, 20, and William Chureotte, both of Mayville, were given two-year probationary sentences and ordered to pay fines of $500 and costs of $150. If there are no violations, $250 of the fine will be returned.

Larry Cooper, alias Larry Robinson, 19, rural Mayville, was given the same fine and costs. However, he was given a three-year probationary sentence with the first year to be spent at Camp Pugsley. He was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

In other court news, James Bedell, 20, Vassar, on probation on a breaking and entering charge, had his probation revoked after he admitted committing larceny in Vassar Jan. 15.

Bedell was on probation for breaking into Burkel's Texaco Service Station in Caro Oct. 4, 1962. He was remanded to the county jail.

Mr. John Haire, Editor
Cass City Chronicle
Cass City, Michigan

It seems to me:
That the recent outburst of accidents or mishaps occurring on our big Cass River bridge in the past few years has stirred much controversy over the fact that the bridge is becoming much too narrow or the new automobiles are becoming much too fast. Possibly both of the above mentioned have a recognition to a certain extent.

The majority of the people when informed of accidents such as the case last week, have a tendency to form their own opinion of the person involved.
In these recent accidents, I feel that the drivers were not given the benefit of the doubt. Two detrimental factors involved here are when approached from either direction especially at night there are no definite signs which indicate that there is an "S" curve sign or an approach sign to a bridge, and the only warnings are far too near the bridge.

I would, if I may suggest a method of safety for this problem which would involve the use of a traffic light located on the bridge structure and operated automatically by the headlights of an on-coming vehicle. This would always give the right of way to the first car approaching and of course the facing traffic would have to wait. This is normal procedure for many intersection lights in the large cities. Also I think that signs should be set a safe distance from the approach.

I sincerely hope that the space used in your column can be of use to the safety of any motorist.
Sincerely,
Patrick Kendall

servicing homeowners with safe, clean, economical heating comfort for the last fifty years. Many home owners in Cass City have used oil for heating these many years without an accident such as occurred recently. Fuel oil will not explode and we can prove it. Now that Cass City has had natural gas available since last September, an explosion has occurred. Further, a gas leak was discovered in the street in front of the home that exploded. Natural gas is an extremely explosive fuel in the event of a leak that finds its way inside of a home. It takes very little to set it off, just turning on a light switch or a motor starting will cause an explosion if gas is in the air. In this case it seems likely that the broken gas valve in the street followed a course to the basement of this home, and when the service man turned on the furnace switch, a spark set off the gas in the basement.

We are not going to leave a stone unturned until we determine how the explosion occurred and we feel quite certain that the gas leak in front of this house found its way into the basement and ultimately exploded.
The oil industry and the insurance company have assigned chemists to make a thorough investigation and their findings will be reported to you.
Our industry reputation is at stake and we intend to prove, without a doubt, that we are not guilty as accused.

Yours truly,
Michigan Petroleum Association
J. W. Kent,
Associate Executive Director

To whom it may concern:
I have quoted and been misquoted, in papers throughout the state, things that are not true about the fire and explosion at Mrs. Mack Little's home. For any quote untrue that I made I am sorry if it gave the wrong impression. I would like to set some things straight.
Fuel oil will explode only if heated to a very high degree of heat in a contained space. It would NEVER explode in a room where the temperature was such that a person could work or live in it. In fact other materials would be burning in the room long before fuel oil vapors would even reach an explosion point.
Fuel oil is one of the very safest of materials used in the heating of homes or other buildings.
What caused the explosion at Little's is as yet unknown. The Elkhart Township Fire Department does not have the facilities to examine and find out for sure.

Sincerely,
Al Avery

ANOTHER IN A LONG string of awards for Willis Campbell was presented Tuesday when he received the Golden U award from the Michigan United Fund. Presentation was made by Charles Chaskes, left. (Chronicle photo.)

Campbell Feted

Another in a long string of honors was bestowed on Superintendent Willis Campbell Tuesday at the Cass City Rotary luncheon when he was given the Golden U award for his service to the Michigan United Fund.
The award is presented by the United Fund to persons who lead lives in communities . . . about 100 Golden U pins are presented annually.
Campbell's presentation was a unique one, Charles H. Chaskes of Lansing, who made the presentation, said because no other local drive chairman has compiled as many years of service as Campbell.
Campbell ramrodded the local Community Chest since it started and has 14 years to his credit . . . more than any other individual in the state.
When he received the award, Campbell said that it was silly to give it to him alone. "A good many persons right in this room have been connected with the Community Chest each year since it started and still are helping," he asserted.
To commemorate his service, a cake with 14 candles was served. During Campbell's tenure the Community Chest has never failed to go over its quota.

EUB Group Slates Special Observance
Mrs. Stanley Bauman, Elkton, will be the guest speaker at a special "World Service Day" program Sunday, Feb. 2, at the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church. Sponsoring and presenting the program will be the WSWWS group.
Mrs. Bauman's theme for the service will be "Go Forth . . . Renewed."
The WSWWS has taken the responsibility of the observance of World Service Day, according to church officials, so that missionary education can be disseminated and so that a special offering for missions may be taken.
The offering will help the church participate in evangelism, heating, chapel construction and developing lands to their fullest potential.

Remember Jan. 24—An Epic Day in Cass City

COMMENTS BY KRAFT

Remember Jan. 24—An Epic Day in Cass City

By Dave Kraft

January 24, 1964. Remember that date. Mark it down. It's a date that could have world-shattering repercussions. A date like Feb. 12 and 22. Or like July 4 or Oct. 12.

It could be . . . but odds are that it won't. Nevertheless, re- member that date . . . Jan. 24, 1964.

That's the day I started my beard.

At 7:30 a.m. on that particular Friday I laid my razor down, never to be picked up, except for an occasional trim, until such time as I get sick and tired of being unshaven and unwanted.

After I received the petition with the 26 names (It reads like a wanted poster from Walbro) I went to the boss, petition and let- ters in hand.

After several seconds of trying to stammer out what I wanted to do, he caught the general trend of thought and said it made no never mind to him. "It's your face," he charged, and there he had me.

And so, by the time you read this, I should have what will pass for the beginning of a beard.

From time to time I will bring you up to date on the growth and general condition. If there's any- thing in particular you wish to know about growing a beard, feel free to ask.

Since I've grown beards before, I've heard most of the customary remarks and jokes. Things like "Fuzz-face", "Castro," "House of David" and others, which are un- printable, leave me cold. However, I've decided that the best, most-original, printable comments about my beard will be printed each week in this column.

Getting back to that petition, it was signed by Alton O'Connor, Daryl Wismer, M. D. Morse, Mary Christie, Ann Milligan, Ed- win A. Scharr, Clark Auslander, Otto S. Goertsen, Glenn Tuggle, J. D. Tuckey, Kay Niedrich, Nor- ma Osborn and William Eberline.

Others on the list were Janet Muntz, Lois Harris, Eva Knoblet, Richard Dillman, William Ewald, Nancy Hunter, Carol Kennedy, Joyce Frederick, Dale Groth, Ferris Ware, Dale Brown, John W. McBurney and Helen Bayl.

It concluded: "We fixed you now, Dave, didn't we? I hope your wife will forgive us for do- ing this to her-and I hope she will keep you around -- beard or no beard. Don't think you can do it anyway."

Listen here, you smarties, I darn near got out of it and I would have if it hadn't been for your petition. As far as my wife is concerned, she didn't want me around under any circumstances. And as far as my not being able to do it . . . that's what they said about Billie Sol Estes and look where he . . .

I got a letter from George Turner. He states: "I disagree with Miles (Profit) since I know he's a nut! So go ahead and grow a beard. If your wife says any- thing, send her over to my place. My dad just got a new bag of cement. And if anybody else says anything, there's plenty of cement."

George . . . you've got some good ideas.

Linda, (Mrs. James) Brown, Drayton Plains, dropped me a line asking about subscription prices. She said a lot of nice things about the paper.

I've got a little problem. She writes, "My husband has two aunts that have a farm near Cass City and we haven't been home in a long time. They also get the paper. (Florence Ingles and Han- nah Brown). Would you put a lit- tle piece in your column for us telling them James and Linda say "hello" and we will be home this summer?"

Gee whiz, Mrs. Brown, I can't put a note in this column telling Florence Ingles and Hannah

Zontians Slate Rummage Sale

The Cass City Zonta Club held its monthly dinner meeting at the New Gordon Hotel Tuesday night, Jan. 21.

Reports by committee chairmen were given. Mrs. Russell Leeson gave a report on the Chamber of Commerce conference in Lansing. She and Mrs. James Bauer rep- resented Cass City.

A committee was appointed for the annual spring rummage sale with Mrs. Harry Little, chairman, and Mrs. Almer Krueger and Mrs. George Murray, committee mem- bers.

Mrs. Bauer introduced her hus- band, James Bauer, who talked on "Planning and Zoning" with the village as an example.

"This," he said, "is a long-term program for the village. Zoning is only the legal device for regu- lating the land in the village and planning is guiding the growth of the village."

Following the address, a ques- tion-and answer period was held.

Mrs. Bauer, Mrs. Leeson and Mrs. Little were the program committee for January.

The man with a wife who is quick on the draw should be wary of a joint account.

It Doesn't Pay to Be A Clergyman

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

IT SEEMS TO ME

Steps toward church unity will be taken this year that will bring more denominations into organic union with other denominations than ever before in the history of mankind. Some of the steps will be faltering ones; maybe just the start of talks that will bear fruit much later or not at all. Make no mistake about it: Church union and church co-operation will move faster than even the leaders of the denominations now realize. We shall keep you informed.

A "sweeping reorganization" was voted at the sixth assembly of the National Council of Churches, which met a month ago in Philadelphia. Present for the first time on an "official basis" were five Roman Catholics and five Jews. A memorial service was held on the night that President Kennedy had been scheduled to speak. A wide variety of speakers was heard and many resolutions were passed. Business meetings seem dull and reading of them makes for dull reading, but it is precisely at this point where advances come about. Or, so it seems to me.

Ouch! Read this and see if you don't feel like crying with pain: "It's often easier to integrate a chorus line in a burlesque palace than a choir line." This statement was heard from Whitney Young, Jr. at a recent meeting of the Urban League National Conference. Those attending also heard that the status of the Negro is worsening, in US economic life; yes, worsening. Negro family income averages about $3,000 annually (for white families it is just double that figure, or $6,000); unemployment is twice that of whites. I guess we were smart to choose white skins; 'Or so it seems to me.'

Sign in front of a travel agency: "Go Away!"

So often people want to do something about a problem but find "that something to do" is elusive. Well, here is a good way to help fight apartheid in Africa. Send your gifts to: Africa Defense and Aid Fund of the American Committee on Africa, 211 East 43 Street, New York, N.Y. 10017.

One of the most exciting advances in relations between the Roman Catholic and Protestant Churches came recently with the announcement that later this year a Roman Catholic edition of the Revised Standard Version (RSV) of the Bible will be published in Edinburgh. This recognition on the part of Catholics of the validity of Protestant Biblical scholarship may prove to be an effective move in causing improved relations between the two great bodies of the Christian faith.

POME written by one of my favorite poets, Ogden Nash: To keep your marriage brimming With love in the loving cup, Whenever you're wrong, admit it; Whenever you're right, shut up.

Newly-elected President of the local Council of Churches Keith McConkey talked, for this paper, of changing the base of choosing delegates to the Council. "A lot of church people really do not know what the council does. All they think of is the co-operative services we sponsor. "Delegates, shirt-sleeve weather is here, on the church front!" Or, so it seems to me.

Charles Wingenbach tells that as a student, some years ago, he heard news come over the radio that the East Germans had revolted against their Communist leaders. Seeing a British classmate, he told him: "The Germans are revolting!" The Englishman calmly lit his pipe and said: "Well, old chap, I've sometimes thought so myself."

If you can't find the punch line to that story by the third reading, you're still suffering from a

New Year's hang-over. Or, so it seems to me.

Herman P. Miller of the Census Bureau shows the following life-time earning for various occupations: doctors $717,000; lawyers $621,000; aeronautical engineers $395,000; college teachers $324,000; accountants $313,000; plumbers $236,000; carpenters $185,000, and clergymen $175,000. Consumers determine only the last; might be some indication of why there continues to be a shortage of clergymen (ministers). Or, so it seems to me.

SP4 Larry Goodall In Exercise in Korea

Army Specialist Four Larry P. Goodall, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Goodall of Cass City, and other members of the 7th Infantry Division took part in Exercise Snowstorm in Korea.

The week-long field training maneuver, which ended Jan. 18, was designed to test the division's ability to operate under Korean winter conditions and to measure the effect of extreme cold on men and equipment.

Specialist Goodall, a supply clerk in Battery B, 1st Battalion of the division's 31st Artillery, entered the Army in August 1961 and arrived overseas in June 1963. He is a 1961 graduate of Cass City High School.

Final Rites Held For Walter Zuraw

Final rites for Walter A. Zuraw, 44, Gageton town owner, were held Saturday morning in St. Agatha Catholic Church. He died Wednesday night in Hills and Dales General Hospital after a two-day illness.

Born in Bay City April 27, 1919, Zuraw married Cecelia Szymczak in Nine Mile, Michigan, Oct. 9, 1943.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, Caro council, and a member of St. Agatha's Catholic Church.

Surviving, besides his widow, are: four sons, Thomas, Patrick, David and James, at home; two daughters, Janet Marie and Mary Martha, at home; his mother, Mrs.

Paul Zuraw of Bay City, three brothers, Leo of St. Clair Shores and James and Edward, both of Bay City, and one sister, Mrs. Bernard Boensch of Bay City.

Arrangements were by Hunter Funeral Home in Gageton where rosary was recited by Father McLaughlin Friday night.

Burial was in St. Stanislaus cemetery in Bay City.

People living on a budget over the holidays had to be content to let the world go by.

THE SOLUTION

It would be a simple problem to disarm nations if a way could be found to disarm suspicion.

Seek More Money to Improve "Sad" Library Service in State

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Too Few Books
More than half Michigan's population had no library service at all in 1962 and one million more had inadequate service. Records of the State Library Board also show that more counties had no service than received service.

In a time when knowledge is increasingly important, this is considered a sad situation, indeed. Consequently, a plan is proposed to the Legislature which would make the valuable benefits of books available to more people.

At present the state directly supports only $1.5 million of the $13.2 million needed to operate libraries at their existing level. The difference comes from local sources, penal fines and federal funds.

The plan proposed would double state support over the next three years. The cost would average about 37¢ per person per year, or about $2.9 million if all areas of the state organized library systems which qualified for the program.

This would call for specific grants for individual libraries and book systems which served areas of high population. Intent of the detailed plan proposed by the MLA and State Board is to encourage improvement of the quality of library service and expansion of this service to areas not now reached by libraries.

Last year's attempt to get a state aid formula for libraries through the Legislature didn't get far. There was little apparent interest voiced by the public, and other legislative proposals which drew more attention gained precedence.

This year advocates hope more individuals will provide local support for libraries and will write or call their Senators and Representatives about the library bill.

The State Board argues that library needs are left out in the cold so far as financial assistance is concerned. Statistics seem to support this contention.

The Board notes that about $2.5 billion is allocated annually for public services in Michigan such as sewers, water, police protection, health, education and welfare benefits at all levels of government. The Board believes its province should get more than $13.2 million of this public service expenditure, and that the public sorely needs services of libraries.

Limit Outstate Students
A decision to set a flexible quota system on out-of-state students from certain areas at Michigan State University should make many members of the State Legislature happy.

A recent announcement by MSU President John A. Hannah was basically what some legislators have been attempting for several years.

Hannah said studies indicated four Eastern states were not doing their share in providing public higher education for their college-age youth. The states he listed were New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

The new policy at MSU is to limit enrollments from applicants from these four states. Hannah said an overload of Eastern region students would not benefit the University population.

Legislators have objected to the number of out-of-state students, particularly from New York, for several years. There have even been threats of decreased appropriations if some method were not found to cut down out-of-state enrollments, which legislators believe increased Michigan costs.

Basically, the legislators used the same argument Hannah has cited. They said New York and several other states did not provide sufficient public education, and the influx here of Eastern students was due to the cheaper tuition rates here as compared to private Eastern institutions.

While legislators likely will be pleased with Hannah's decision, it is also possible it could result in heavy pressure for all other Michigan colleges and universities to set similar quotas.

The alternative to this pressure for a quota system could be the imposing threat of the wrath of the legislative punestring holders.

Gold in the Backyard
Each individual would undoubtedly deny it, especially at the end of the month when bills roll in, but Federal statistics show Michigan is a wealthy state in terms of individual income.

Michigan is one of 13 states in the nation in which income reported in the 1960 census averaged $6,000 or more annually. The national average was $5,700.

A good part of the hike in average income as compared with a state level of less than $4,000 some 10 years ago was due to the fact that the number of working women increased sharply during the period. Today, census figures show 28 per cent of Michigan's married women are working.

The nine-week training includes naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, military drill, first aid and survival.

New Scientifically Formulated SUPER Q Plant Food
Now GUARANTEES Bigger Profits!

V-G Chemical Co. proudly announces revolutionary SUPER Q Plant Food—the only plant food specifically formulated to meet the requirements of high-goal producers in this area only. It supplies the exact nutrients needed for your sugar beets and field beans. It is actually guaranteed in writing to outperform any other fertilizer available in side-by-side tests.

CUSTOM-MADE FOR HIGH-GOAL PRODUCERS
SUPER Q is a unique fertilizer custom-made for high-goal producers who want still greater profits than they now get with ordinary fertilizers. Leading agronomists and soil scientists have advocated a fertilizer of this type for many years. With the help of these authorities—and more than 1500 soil samples from top farmers in this immediate area—SUPER Q Plant Food has been formulated. It contains every nutritional element in the proportion needed by your soil to produce maximum yields.

MANUFACTURED HERE TO PRODUCE RESULTS HERE!
The soil in each area of the country has its own peculiar requirements—its natural excesses and deficiencies. No single analysis can be made to meet the needs of every type of soil and crop. That is the difference between SUPER Q and conventional fertilizers. SUPER Q is made here to be used here. It contains every ingredient needed for growing high-yield, top-quality, peak-profit crops.

SUPER Q is built up to quality, not down to price. Interfering elements and those whose need is not indicated for this locality have been left out. Every ounce of SUPER Q works for more profit per acre.

EXPECT RESULTS LIKE THIS FROM SUPER Q
Sugar beet yields show marked increases and much greater sugar content. Field beans are much higher in quality and in yield. You reduce disease and insect damage greatly. The carefully balanced SUPER Q formula provides all the plant food required for early maturity, maximum growth.

GUARANTEED IN WRITING
V-G Chemical Co. is so firmly convinced of SUPER Q's superiority that we guarantee in writing that it will outperform any other fertilizer used in a side-by-side test—or we will pay you double the difference in fertilizer cost per acre. If you're already getting top yields, SUPER Q can help you break your yield barrier and cash in on still greater profits. Start planning now for bigger profits from your next crop. See us soon about SUPER Q Plant Food.
