

Smokers Swap Fags for Stogies

Smoking trends in Cass City have changed from "Smoke, smoke, smoke that cigarette" to "smoke, smoke anything else you can lay your hands on," following a Government advisory committee report early in January linking cigarette smoking to cancer.

A check this week with Cass City area grocers, tobacco shops and suppliers revealed that many local smokers would rather "switch than fight" and have taken up the cigar and the pipe in lieu of the cigarette.

James Bauer of Bauer Candy Company, a tobacco distributor, said that the report has "very definitely affected cigarette sales, probably as much as 10 to 15 per cent."

"We won't know the total effect until the end of the month," he explained. "We normally have a drop in January because so many cigarettes are given as Christmas presents."

"All the pipe, pipe tobacco and cigar companies are way behind and orders are hard to fill," he says. He also reported that prior to the report his company had a backlog of pipes. "They've taken anything up to $4.00 and now all I have left are $5.00 and up pipes."

Bauer doesn't feel the trend will last nor does he agree with the report. He predicts that most of the "switchers" will return to cigarette smoking.

Of the report, he stated that the solution was not in curbing adult smokers but in stopping smoking among minors.

"I think we should shoot for an educational program among minors," he charged. Even this would be difficult because, according to a survey of venders, seven out of 10 minors smoke with parental consent.

Foodliner Agrees

Harry Lenda, IGA Foodliner manager, agreed that the report has affected cigarette sales.

"Last week we noted it the most," he reports. "Cigarette sales were down, I'd say, by almost 30 per cent."

Cigar, pipe and pipe tobacco sales are up by about the same amount, so you can see they're not giving up too much," Lenda commented.

The store's cigarette sales are mostly by the carton.

Tobacco Shop

Fort's Confectionery, the closest thing to a tobacco shop in Cass City, also noticed a rush on pipe and cigar selling.

"We've sold more pipes in the last two weeks than we normally would in two to three months," reports Frank Fort, owner.

"There's been no great reflection in tobacco sales in general," he stated. "Not too many are quitting, just switching."

He also predicted that cigarettes will work back into the number one spot. However, he also expects pipes to hold much of their new won popularity.

No Difference

The only dissenter to the effect of the report was Barney Freiburger, Freiburger Grocery.

"I've noticed no difference," he says. "Oh, I've sold a half dozen more pipes, but as far as my store is concerned, my tobacco sales are pretty much normal."

"It's hard to tell," he continued, "it will probably take a month before we'll really know. My last week's order was the same as always."

Coveted Job for Campbell

Superintendent Willis Campbell announced this week that Gov. George Romney has appointed him to the Board of Control of Central Michigan University.

The board is the governing body of the school and was created under the new constitution. "I am gratified by the appointment and the confidence shown in me by the governor," Campbell said.

One of the prime requirements for board members is a broad interest in higher education. Another is the ability to "feel comfortable in a responsible policy making position."

With a lifetime in education, a MA degree and his work as superintendent of Cass City schools, Campbell qualifies on all counts.

His Duties

Campbell will have four major duties as a member of the board. The first will be to set major operating policies of the school. The second will be to supervise and guide the work of the school administrators. The third is to regulate courses of study and elect the president of the school.

The fourth major objective will be to guide the spending of the multi-million dollar school budget.

School Meeting To Feature Teaching Panel

Persons attending the School-Community Association meeting Tuesday at Willis Campbell Elementary School will learn some of the problems of the school from the persons who should know them best... the teachers. The meeting starts at 8 p.m.

A panel discussion will feature six teachers talking about courses that they teach. They will answer questions of interested citizens.

The teachers and their subjects are: George Elliott, guidance counseling; Ronald Raulin, science; Dexter Johnson, math; Mrs. Oarie Lemanski, English; Robert Stickle, social science; Mrs. Leone Shaw, foreign language.

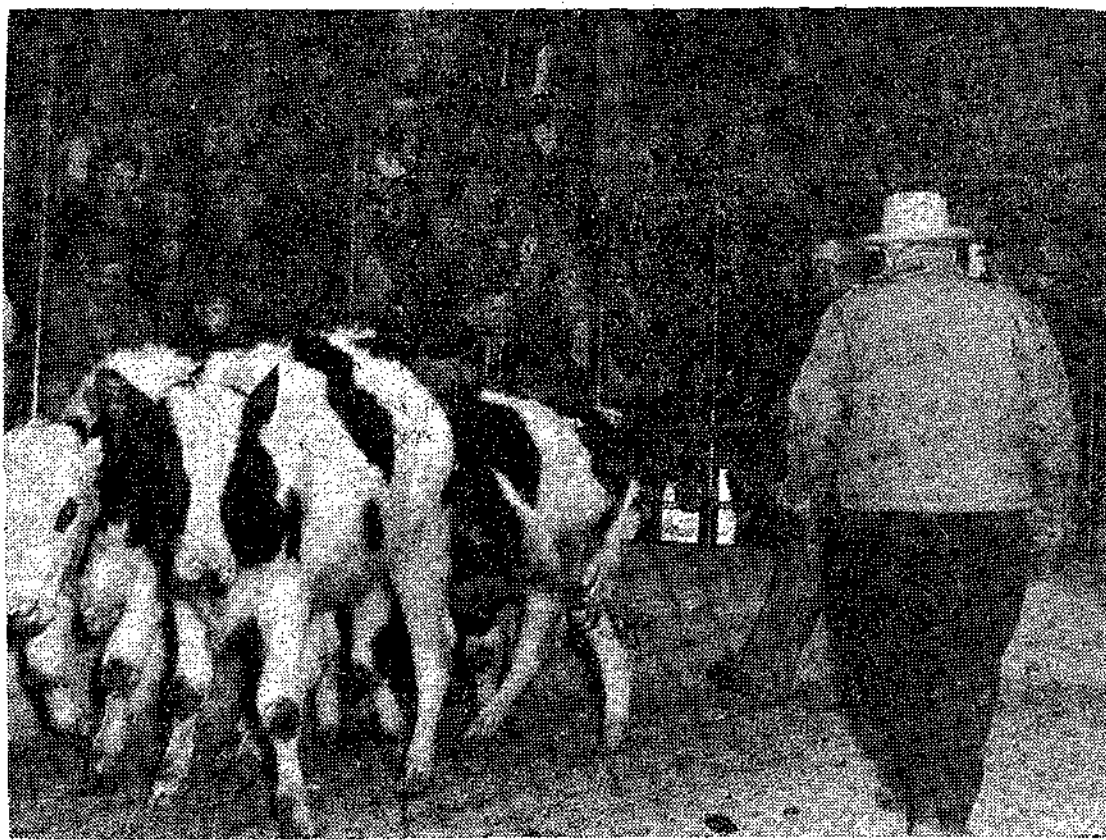

It will be the first meeting of the group since the organizational night and authorities for the group are hoping that adults in the district will take the time to find out more about the school's curriculum.

Band Set for Annual Festival

One of the major events of the school year for Cass City High School band is scheduled Saturday at Flint Beecher High School. It is the annual senior band solo and ensemble festival.

Band Director Ronald Walker said that there will be some 30 students participating in an estimated 25 events.

The opening numbers are at 10 a. m. and will continue through the day to 4 p. m., Walker explained.

CAPACITY CROWDS ATTENDED the opening of the Michigan Livestock Exchange Yard Tuesday when an estimated 5,000 farmers and interested visitors flocked to the yard at the intersection of M-53 and M-81, east of Cass City.

First cow through the ring was sold for Frank Little of Cass City. It was one of 1,300 head of cattle shoved through the sale from 1 p. m. Tuesday to 12:30 a. m. Wednesday.

At one time during the day trucks were lined for several blocks waiting to be unloaded for the sale.

Despite the throng, the new yard was able to handle the livestock without difficulty. The holding pens will accommodate up to 1,500 animals.

The sale attracted consignors from all over the northern Thumb area.

From the Editor's Corner

William A. Parrott, who travels extensively, returned recently from the south and brought back a sample of a form needed for registration in New Orleans.

The form is eight legal sized single spaced typewritten pages and if residents of Cass City were forced to fill it out, a lot less eligible voters would be on the poll books.

Among the questions asked, in addition to a quiz on government, are: color, sex, the name of the householder at present address, place of employment and several others in a similar vein.

What possible connection these answers could have with the ability to vote was not explained.

For the first time in the three years since Cass City switched from the caucus system of government there was no primary election this year.

In previous years there has been five or six candidates for the three open trustee positions on the council. It is possible, but not likely, that there will be competition, via write-in candidates, at the general election.

In Elkland township, lack of competition is nothing new. There has been no competition for office since the switch was made to the primary system.

If one believes the adage that the voters only speak out when dissatisfied, local representatives must be fulfilling their jobs adequately.

Remain Calm, Give Right Information Firemen Plead

After spending several precious minutes racing up and down West Street Thursday morning, Feb. 6, looking for a fire, Cass City firemen issued a plea to area residents to remain calm and give the proper name and addresses when reporting fires.

Firemen were unable to find the fire because they had been given an incorrect address in the excitement.

The fire was at the Roger Guinther home and was caused by children playing with a cigarette lighter in an upstairs bedroom.

Firemen reported that a corner of a rug was damaged but that smoke and chemical damage was slight.

Treasurer Fritz Neitzel, in making the plea for correct information, remarked, "The first five minutes are what count in a fire. Luckily, this one wasn't too serious."

An engine fire in a car owned by Kenneth Rosenstengel, Huron County Line Road, caused heavy damage to the engine and front interior of the vehicle Tuesday afternoon.

Firemen were unable to determine what caused the fire.

Architect Hired For County Jail

A special building committee signed a contract with Clark R. Ackley, Lansing architect, to do preliminary work on the proposed new county jail, supervisors learned Monday at their regular February session.

Ackley is the architect who designed the Tuscola County Nursing Home and has designed several jails throughout the state.

He was actually selected for the job at the week-long January session, after the committee had visited three of the jails he had designed. At the January session the committee, headed by Shuford Kirk, was given the power to enter into an agreement with Ackley.

First Raise in Two Years

School Ups Top Salaries

Pay raises totaling $1,600 for four Cass City Schools administrators highlighted a Board of Education meeting Monday night which dealt with salaries, superintendents and sites.

The salary increases were the first administrative increases in two years. The administration turned down even token salary increases last year because the school was then operating on an "austerity budget."

Receiving the increases were Principal Arthur Holmberg - $400; Assistant Principal James Seals - $500; Elementary Principal Mrs. Paul Murray - $400, and Guidance Counselor George Elliott - $300.

Seals received the biggest hike after it was revealed that he had originally augmented his summer income by teaching driver training. When he accepted the assistant principal post last year it was for the same salary he received as guidance counselor, but for 11 months instead of nine months.

Last summer the driver training and the assistant principal jobs overlapped and Seals ended the summer with only one week off.

It was suggested that he be given a larger salary and his driver training requirements cut down. Mrs. Gerald Prieskorn, board member, pointed out that with a new superintendent coming in this summer, Seals would be needed "more than ever" at the school.

Special Meeting

Teachers' contracts for the coming year will be discussed at a special meeting Thursday, Feb. 20, at 7:30 in the high school library. Salaries are normally discussed at the regular February meeting, but it was inadvertently left off the agenda. Teacher contracts are usually given out the first of March and are returned within the month.

Superintendent

A special committee set up to handle applications for the superintendent's post has narrowed a field of approximately 20 applicants down to five candidates. Three of the men, according to Mrs. Prieskorn, have been interviewed and the remaining two will be interviewed Saturday and Sunday.

Two suggested sites for the proposed new Cass City High School were discussed after Supt. Willis Campbell read a report on a survey made by Warren S. Holmes, architect.

The report offered two suggestions. 1. That the new building be put all on 30 acres running north and east of the present high school building, currently owned by Dr. H. T. Donahue. 2. That it be placed on the land directly east of the existing school buildings on land which is presently owned by the village and two residents.

After discussing the suggested sites, it was felt other opinions should be obtained and two other architectural firms were to be contacted.

Asst. Principal Seals was asked to bring the board up to date on progress being made in a recent strengthening of disciplinary regulations.

Seals stated that a crack down on tardiness and absenteeism had cut tardiness by one third and reduced absenteeism by five students each half day.

Five new nozzles have been placed on showers at the school in an attempt to cut boiler operating expenses. The new nozzles put out 2.6 gallons per minute compared to the original nozzles which had a six gallon per minute output. Campbell reported that other new nozzles have been ordered.

A three-member committee is slated to examine different band uniform styles, select one and submit specifications to the board for approval. The committee will consist of a Band Boosters member, a member of the board and the band director.

The Band Boosters currently have $2,000 on hand for new uniforms and since the current budget made provisions for new uniforms, it is expected that the school will match the figure.

It will cost approximately $5,000 to re-outfit the whole band.

Don Reid was appointed to attend a Tuscola County Intermediate School Board budget meeting Thursday, Feb. 27, at Kingston. The appointment followed the reading of a request by William A. Scott, county superintendent, asking that a member be appointed to attend the meeting which will approve the 1964-65 Intermediate School district budget.

Sweeney Receives Plaque for Top Holstein Herd

There are four farmers with herds averaging 600 pounds or more of butterfat per year and Dolan Sweeney of Uby has one of them. His herd averaged 602 pounds of butterfat per cow.

The prominent Holstein breeder was presented a plaque by the Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the achievement.

The ranks of the state's "600-Club" doubled this year. Last year there were only two herds reporting 600 pounds of butterfat or more, one of which was the Sweeney herd.

The latest presentation is one of a long list of awards that Sweeney has earned. A previous outstanding achievement was the raising of a bull that commanded a premium price from an artificial breeders' association.

Used by Egyptians

By Dr. E. P. Lockwood
Spinal manipulation was first used by the Egyptians and the Greek physicians many years before Christ. Chiropractic, as known and practiced today, was founded by Dr. D. D. Palmer in 1895. He systematized and developed this form of spinal adjusting and prepared himself to teach it. Dr. Palmer established the fact that constriction of the spinal nerve openings through joint deviations affects the spinal nerve root as well as the spinal cord and is in many cases the fundamental cause of symptoms of various ailments. He based his reasoning on results obtained in his clinical practice, and later proved his work by X-ray.

Due to its beneficial results, the science has attained wide recognition ranking as the largest drugless profession with numerous colleges, clinics and sanitariums. The professional training to practice covers a period of four years. From statistics compiled by the Chiropractic Research Bureau it is of particular interest to note that spinal adjustments obtain results in many conditions where traditional methods prove ineffective. One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. E. P. Lockwood whose office is located at Cass City, Tel. 872-2765. Adv.

WALT HEMPTON snags a rebound for the Red Hawks. Cass City dominated the boards and the game as they posted an easy win over Vassar at Cass City High School gym.

Cass City Wins Two Loop Games

After a slow start in the first period, the Hawks found their shooting eye and rolled to an easy victory over Bad Axe Tuesday at Cass City High School. The score was 79-52.

With shots bouncing in and out of the bucket in the opening stanza, Cass City was held to just 12 points while the Hatchets connected for 15 in the first quarter.

But in the second period the Hawks found their stride and started pumping in the buckets. They hit for 20 points and moved into a 32-23 halftime advantage.

At Wallace, up from the JV squad, played his first quarter of varsity ball in the third quarter as Coach Wayne Wilson experimented with various combinations with an eye for the future.

Just about every line up was effective and Cass City continued to pull away from the visitors. At the three quarter mark the score was 49-33.

At one time in the fourth quarter, Cass City was in front by 30 points and Wilson cleared his bench to give everyone a chance to play.

Jim Champion led all scorers with 24 points while Walt Hempton had 16, most of the markers coming in the fourth period.

Cass City stayed in the race for second place in the Thumb B Conference Friday as they out-gunned Vassar in a free-scoring tilt at Cass City High School gym, 84-76.

The game was in marked contrast to the first game between the visitors to 15.

Debate Squad Ends Season at District Meet

A run of bad luck hit Cass City debaters Saturday at the State League District meet at Akron-Fairgrove and they finished out of the money with two wins and four losses.

Qualifying for the finals, were Saginaw St. Mary's, Frankmuth, Kingston and Akron-Fairgrove.

The young Cass City squad showed real promise, under the tutelage of Miss Nedra Mendelin, debate coach, for the 1963-64 local and state debate season. With 19 wins and 11 losses for the season and a tie for third place in the local league, it is expected that the squad will be a moving force in next year's debate meets.

At Saturday's meet, the negative team of Bob Milligan and Tim Knight won two and lost one. The affirmative team of Bonnie Spencer and Jim Husa lost all three contests.

Saturday's losses ended the season for the Hawk debaters.

WE ALL BUY THE IMAGE Did you ever stop to think of what it is that makes people buy one product rather than another? Or why one business prospers and another fails?

According to the psychology experts, it's the public's mental "image" - or mental picture...of a product or business that accounts for its success or failure. Sometimes a good image of a business or product can be built up by clever advertising propaganda to bring overnight success. Often this is the case with a new product, introduced to the market with an expensive advertising splash. But the image never lasts unless the product delivers the satisfaction it promises unless the picture of promised satisfaction is REAL. This is true of all advertising that doesn't represent the facts. Its cost represents wasted money.

Our basic attitude in running a car dealership is to create the kind of establishment that we would want to do business with IF WE WERE THE CUSTOMERS. Customers want honest treatment, truthful guarantees, good service and fair value in everything. Give them that and you'll keep them.

We hope, in talking honestly to you about the car business in this column, that we can convey to you a true picture of our business. Should you decide to patronize us, we don't intend to waste our advertising dollars by not following through with the satisfaction we promise.

KOMMENTS BY KRAFT

And That Extra Special Valentine to . .

By Dave Kraft

Well, tomorrow is the big day for all us young lovers. Hearts and flowers and candy and like that.

I remember when I was in grade school. We knew how to appreciate St. Valentine's Day. It wasn't who you got valentines from, it was how many. We always looked on the person who got the most as something of a hero . . . or heroine, as the case may be.

And then in high school there was that extra special valentine you gave to that extra special girl . . . and this extra special girl . . . and that extra special girl.

After high school when you settled down to the deadly serious business of "real" love you gave valentines in the same manner you put a stamp on an envelope . . . just to make sure the message gets through.

In my case, it did. It was the age-old story of boy chasing girl until she catches him.

The first year after we were married, I gave her a box of candy and a valentine card.

The second year I gave her a candy bar and a hastily penned note.

This year I'm going to give her a red-ribboned divorce summons. I'd probably give her goodies and salutations, but there is a dark spot in our white shirt of happiness.

The other day I ran across some of my wife's old yearbooks while she was at the grocery store. If I didn't know better, I'd have said they were hidden. I opened the cover and inside, on the normally bare front leaves, were scads of notes. Some of them were downright intimate.

One read, for instance, "Dear Di, You were the cleanest locker buddy a person could ever have. It was fun sharing coat hooks with you. Love, Sam."

I confronted her with it when she got home. "Who's Sam?" asks I. "Sam who?" asks she. "Don't Sam who me," says I. "Well," says she, "if you can who's Sam me, then I can Sam who you."

I could see that I wasn't going to get any place this way so I confronted her with the facts. "This Sam, that's who. The one you shared a locker with."

"Why you sneaky yearbook pecker. If you must know, that was a girl friend of mine named Sam." "Oh, sure. And my name is Esther." "Hello Esther." "Don't get smart."

"Her name was Samantha Hill and we used to call her Sam Hill for short." "Well, I've got a few things I'd like to call her for short."

With that I turned and, because I didn't have my shoes on, socked out of the room.

Right now I'm trying to find some of my old yearbooks. Mine don't have much writing in them, but that's nothing a pen and a little imagination can't fix. I used to know a few "Sams" in my time, too, you know.

Mrs. Lew Bishop was in the other day and told me that the warm weather had tricked a couple of clumps of her daffodils into breaking ground. In February yet!

She wanted to use my beard to cover them up with in case it got real cold. Now if there's anything I don't need, it's flowers growing out of my beard.

She doesn't have to worry anymore about what to cover them with . . . it snowed Saturday.

I'm still getting a lot of comment about my beard. One fellow said I looked like that great Civil War president and I said "distinguished?" He said, "No, shot."

Jim Reagh told me one about an "Eleventh Commandment" which I don't think I'll go into here.

One thing's sure. It's (the beard) a good way to start a conversation. I like to feel that growing a beard is something unique, yet it's darn seldom that when the talk turns toward beards, somebody doesn't pull out a billfold and show a picture of when he had a beard.

As soon as mine passes the stage of looking like an accident, I'll have a picture taken and then off it comes. I've become inclined to think that while everybody loves a fat man, nobody likes a skinny jerk with a beard.

IT SEEMS TO ME You Can't Send Them All to the Moon

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

One thing that has been overlooked in the incident which involved a furnace repair man, a home-owner and the Fire Department was the speed of the response to the fire call. According to reports, Fireman Don Finkbeiner was the first person at the scene of the incident! In fact, the speed with which he responded sets some kind of record for speed in responding to a fire call!

Or, so it seems to me.

Our population explosion will not be relieved by sending men to the moon. According to the "Population Bulletin," 7,000 people would have to be shot off each hour just to keep even with the birth rate. Cost is a little high, too; at present, $3 million per traveler. Indications are that the total bill for sending emigrants to the moon would total $500 billion a day. No, fellow columnist Dave Kraft, there is no reduction even for a husband who stays home while his wife vanishes into the moon's craters!

On the golf course a preacher took a mighty swing at his ball and sliced into a big tree on the edge of the fairway. In a few seconds a bird appeared with the ball in its beak, flew toward the green and dropped it in the cup. The minister looked up and implored, "Please, Father, I'd rather do it myself!"

We are happy to pass on the information that a $12,000 check has been given by a department of the National Council of Churches to the 16th Street Baptist Church of Birmingham, Ala., to help restore their church building. This is the church, you recall, where four young Negro girls attending Church School were killed when a car of white men roared by on a Sunday and a homemade bomb was thrown at the church. If you have reached the point where you no longer feel that you can be happy and remain uninvolved in our nation's race situation, your check would help repair that church. Just address it to the church in care of the Rev. Mr. John Cross, Birmingham, Alabama. It's past due for us to demonstrate our feelings of brotherhood with those who are paying a big price. Or, so it seems to me.

As the church union which is to unite the EUB and Methodist churches draws nearer, we expect to see increased co-operation locally. Building on the Council of Churches foundation, in addition to the Vacation Bible School and services for special days, we ought to expect to witness some meetings of the two boards, leading to still more acts of brotherhood. Or, so it seems to me.

Congratulations from this column to "Moose" Willy; now that he is chief of the Fire Department, we can expect thoughtful changes as they become necessary and suitable. To Al Avery, retiring as chief of the department, go our commendations for a good hard job well done! Or, so it seems to me!

HOW ELSE? Sign in the window of an optometrist shop in lower Manhattan: EYES EXAMINED WHILE YOU WAIT!

"Like a breath of fresh air!" was the way one church leader hailed the trip of Pope Paul to the holy land recently. This is the first foreign visit by a pope in modern times and served notice on the world that there would be more such trips. He returned home via jet airliner. We have no way of knowing what was said when the pope met with Eastern Orthodox leader Athanasios I, but the fact that there was a meeting of the two men blotted out 900 years of separation and silence. While no intelligible churchman would base any hopes for union on this, it does appear that Pope Paul is both willing and able to practice brotherhood. Who knows where relaxed relations will ultimately lead the church? Or, so it seems to me.

At the 25th Annual Pastor's School in Ann Arbor which I was able to attend with the Rev. Dr. Marion Hostetler recently, three great men directed our thoughts to modern man and how the churches can be of help to him. Nearly 500 ministers were in attendance, showing their concern for this phase of the churches' responsibility. And our grateful thanks to the Michigan Council of Churches for providing the leaders and for sponsoring the two days!

THE PROOF
An excuse sometimes gets a man by, but nothing beats a satisfactory performance.

A good yarn often says more than a caustic remark.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was discussing this romance affair atwixt Liz Taylor and this feller Burton and that calls for a heap of discussing.

First off, Mrs. Burton allowed as how Mr. Burton was the kindest man in the world for allowing her to git her divorce on the grounds of him being extreme cruel. Ed Doolittle said nobody but a Solomon could figure that one out.

Then Liz, that changes husbands to match her wardrobe, has been married in four different brands of religious faiths and ain't found one yet that has stuck. In the meantime, her and Burton has been living together fer two years in what they was calling a "courtship" arrangement. The whole thing was so confusing that the fellers I'd decided Liz and this feller deserved each other and let it go at that.

Clem Webster was of the opinion that Liz was a good example of how the wimmen folks was getting to be more of a problem every day. At his house, fer instant, Clem said it was automatic for his old lady to have the last word, but what was gitting him down was them thous and words afore she got down to the last one.

Bug Hookum allowed as how the law said a husband was the head of the house, and he had noted where the courts has ruled a pedestrian has the right of way, and Bug was of the opinion that both was safe if they didn't try to demand their rights.

When the fellers at the country store git to discussing wimmen, Mister Editor, things can go in any direction. Zeke Grubb claimed we needed a new law again a woman having a hair-do more'n one foot high. He said he might compromise fer 18 inches and that was his ceiling. But it was general agreed they ain't nothing in the Constitution agin them space hairdos. One of the fellers recollected New York passed a law agin the tattoo business but the big court held agin the law, claimed it was infringing on personal liberty.

Josh Clodhopper figured maybe the fellers was too hard on the wimmen folks, said he was reading a piece in the papers where a couple was celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary and the husband claimed in all them years his old lady ain't never changed the furniture around in the parlor. If he's telling the truth I'd have to say he got hisself a gem of pure gold.

Personal, Mister Editor, the only thing I know fer certain about a gal is that the first thing she notices about a feller is whether he notices her.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

New Grain Base Price May be Set

A new farm feed grain base may be established under the 1964 Feed Grain Program for farms which did not plant feed grains in 1959 and/or 1960 that meet eligibility requirements, George Schian of the Tuscola County ASCS office has announced.

To be eligible for a new feed grain base, Schian said, the operator must expect to receive 50 per cent or more of his livelihood in the current year from the production or agricultural commodities on the farm; must have had at least two years' experience in the production of feed grains in the last five years; must have adequate equipment for the production of feed grains; the land must be suitable for the production of feed grain, and neither the owner nor the operator may have an interest in any other farm for which a feed grain base has been established.

Interested producers who can meet these requirements should contact the County ASC office not later than Feb. 28 and file an application, Schian said.

A farm for which a new farm feed grain base is established will not be eligible to participate in the 1964 program. However, such farm will qualify as an old feed grain farm and be eligible to participate in the 1965 program.

State's Short-term Research Could Lead to Long-term Gain

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Riches in Research

Short-term research which could lead to long-term gains for the state has been proposed to the 1964 Legislature.

Seven of the state's public colleges and universities would be designated to conduct the research. Each of the proposed 13 projects would be completed in less than two years and hopefully could improve or expand Michigan's business economy.

The request before the Legislature is to release previously appropriated funds totaling $480,055. The ultimate goal is to turn this investment into millions of dollars in new industry.

Something for everyone is the idea behind the proposals sponsored by the Economic Expansion Department and the legislative committee on economic growth.

Studies included in the request range from the impact of tourism, to processing and utilization of freeze-dried eggs, to the demand for in-plant package manufacturing machinery, to Upper Michigan's wood resources.

In cost the proposed research varies from a six-month project with an estimated $6,500 expenditure, to a 12-month $100,000 study, and a 24-month project which would cost $90,000.

Boiling down the various ideas for research projects held by various members of the university staffs took the better part of a year, said B. M. Conboy, head of the Economic Expansion Department.

The interested state institutions submitted 100 specific research proposals which would have cost $3.8 million. The projects submitted to the Legislature represented those the Department and legislative committee felt could have the biggest impact on economic development and for which there is the greatest present need.

Continuation of research projects such as these appears to have tremendous possibilities for putting new ideas into practice for the benefit of Michigan's distressed and depressed areas.

Legislative approval of the requests holds the key to success of these unique efforts to improve Michigan's economic position and keep it growing.

Legislators' Pay Raise

Writing laws for a state is no easy job, but it carries with it an enviable power which has been exercised twice in the past four years. This is the power to raise one's own salary.

In 1960, one of the first years when legislators were on the job nearly year-round, the House and Senate members voted themselves a $1,250 pay hike, including salary and expenses. This brought them up to $5,000 salary and $1,250 expenses.

Two years ago a legislative

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

The fuel is regular. The performance is premium.

Premium performance doesn't cost a nickel extra in a '64 Dodge. Because under that handsome hood lurks the largest standard engine in the low-price field (318 cu. in. V8). It doesn't cost you extra at the gas pump, either! Regular grade fuel suits it just fine.

Dodge is as luxurious as it is lively. The Polara 2-door hardtop above, for instance, features a rich saddle-grain vinyl interior, a comfort-providing flip-down center armrest, foam seat padding, and thick wall-to-wall carpeting—all standard equipment. Yet it's priced right with comparable models of Ford and Chevrolet.

In all, there are twenty-two Dodge models to choose from. In three series. Each is a low-priced car. And each is backed by a long, strong 5-year/50,000-mile warranty.* You could easily pay more for such a fine automobile, but why should you? See your Dependable Dodge Dealer instead!

HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU:
Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1964 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and intake parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. Required Maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

BPW Club Plans for Fall District Meet

Eighteen members of the Business and Professional Women's Club and three guests, the Misses Tineke vanEerde, Dee Ellen Albee and Linda McConkey, attended the monthly dinner meeting of the club Feb. 5 at the New Gordon Hotel.

Miss Margaret Matuszak was program chairman and she introduced Tineke vanEerde, exchange student from Holland, who spoke of her native country - the land of canals and bicycles. She told of a busy, crowded country with a summer temperature of 68 degrees and winter temperature of 20 degrees. In Holland, persons must be 18 years of age before being licensed to drive automobiles. Cheese and bulbs are among the countries exports.

Tineke, a senior at Cass City High School, will leave in July to return home. She and other exchange students came by jet plane but will make the return trip by boat.

In the business meeting, over which Patricia Wagner presided, Marguerite Pawlowski was appointed finance chairman. Various recommendations, as the result of the January board of directors meeting, were acted upon: members voted a $50.00 contribution to the Don Pinkbeiner fund; voted a $50.00 scholarship to a qualifying senior girl; hold a bake sale in April, and to contribute to the exchange student fund.

Members voted to erect emblem road signs at the two approaches to the village.
