

Stock Yields Big Dividends for All

A stock that sold for $50 a share 10 years ago and has paid just one cash dividend since placed on the market is regarded by many local persons as the best investment they have ever made.

And the list of persons applauding this investment includes hard-headed businessmen, civic leaders and bankers. For, the stock is in the Cass City Development Corporation.

The corporation, of course, "that Cass City has become a is one of the primary reasons thriving small industrial center. General Insulated Wire, Walbro, Anrod, Bassett Manufacturing—all were negotiated with the help of the Corporation.

Assets Increase
Despite its primary function of developing the community, the directors have ably protected the investment of the 83 persons who originally exhibited faith in Cass City by investing from $50 to $500 each.

Today stock in the corporation is worth some $78.79 per share, it was revealed in Tuesday night's annual corporation meeting. The 50 per cent increase is looked upon as a windfall by many of the original investors who were told only that they would probably get all of their money back sometime.

Besides the increased value of the stock, investors received a 10 per cent dividend several years ago.

When the corporation was formed it was a nonprofit organization. But when business deals made it apparent that a profit would accrue from sales and rentals, a switch to a profit organization was made.

New Land
Originally, the corporation owned some 21 acres of land. With the exception of two and a half acres which is now in use by industry, all was sold several years ago.

The small plot surrounds the sales and engineering building of Walbro Corporation. The Development Corporation owns the land and the building and leases it to Walbro.

To be ready for future expansion, the directors purchased another parcel of land adjacent to the original site and now hold it in reserve. They now have 37 more acres unoccupied.

Local stock has steadily appreciated from the Walbro building. Originally costing $37,500, the mortgage now has been reduced to $13,458.

Stock for Sale
The board has developed the policy of buying up stock when possible from persons no longer in the Cass City business scene. Widows, retired persons and others should be able to cash their stock if at all possible, the board feels.

The members would like to see it purchased by businessmen and others who were not connected with the village when the original sale was made in the community.

"One of the unique features of our corporation," Herb Ludlow, a director, said, "is the number of stockholders we have. That's why we would like to sell the stock of persons no longer in the community's business scene to those that are."

Actually, there is less stock issued in the corporation now than there was when it was organized. Fifteen shares of the stock have already been retired.

Long Term Job
All but one of the directors are charter members of the board . . . directing the corporation's activities since its inception.

The members who served during 1963-64 include: President Cliff Croft, Vice-president Joe Riley, Treasurer Jim Gross, Secretary Herb Ludlow and Luke Tuckey and Harry Little. All but Gross have served on the board since it was organized.

Gross served as treasurer to the organization before stockholders voted to enlarge the board of directors so he could become a member.

To Pay Final Respects Today To John Sandham

Cass City lost one of its pioneer businessmen and civic leaders Monday when John A. Sandham, 87, died at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Mr. Sandham was active in the business and civic life of the community for over a half century. He was a familiar sight on country roads as he actively conducted his insurance business until he became ill about a month ago.

He served for 15 years as a member and president of the Cass City School Board. He was a member of the village council for 25 years.

Mr. Sandham was a member of the Cass City Rotary Club and served the organization so ably that he was honored at a special party given by fellow members in his honor. A moment of silence in his honor was observed by the club Tuesday.

Mr. Sandham and his wife were room-sized contributors to Hills and Dales General Hospital. Each "room gift" required a donation of at least $5,000.

He was a life member of Tyler Lodge F&M 317 and served as a director of the Cass City State. Concluded on page four.

Graham Paid Again

Ousted Probate Judge Henderson Graham was put back on the county payroll late last week after Bay City Circuit Court Judge Richard Smith declared that stopping his salary did not come under the jurisdiction of the local circuit court.

Graham was issued three checks for retroactive pay from January through Feb. 14. Ousted in May, 1962, for "misconduct", according to the Supreme Court, he had collected $15,437.45 in salary as of January of this year.

In acting on the case after three days of hearings, Judge Smith ruled that "after hearing arguments of counsel, and having determined that it (the court) does not have jurisdiction of this matter . . . order that the motion be denied."

The motion to show cause was filed early in January by Maurice Ransford, Caro attorney acting as a citizen, and was filed against the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors, Treasurer Arthur Willis, Clerk Archie Hicks and Graham. The motion sought to have Graham show why his salary shouldn't be stopped, contending that he was not legally occupying his office.

Next step in the long fight which has now ranged from the local court through the Michigan Legislature, is up to the Supreme Court which has a similar motion before it. Whether or not the Court will act has not been decided.

Graham's term officially ends this year and although the new constitution provides that probate judges must be lawyers, as an incumbent, he could seek reelection again.

United Parcels to Hire Dave Ware

Dave Ware, Cass City, will be one of three drivers working for United Parcels trucking firm when it begins operations in Cass City Monday, Mar. 2. The men will service the Thumb area.

The firm, headquartered in Detroit for the past 40 years, hauls from wholesaler to retailer. The move to Cass City is part of an expansion project throughout the state.

Just where the firm will be housed has not been announced.

Finkbeiner Dance Slated for Tonight

Cass City Lions and village firemen are reminding area residents that their joint sponsored "Don Finkbeiner Benefit Dance" will be held tonight (Thursday), in the High School Gym at 8:30 p.m.

The Noblemen, a Deckerville dance band, will provide the music and all proceeds will go to the Don Finkbeiner family to help meet expenses incurred by Finkbeiner when he was injured in a fire and explosion last January.

HALE AND HEARTY after 21 years on the job in Gagetown, Ray Toohey prepared for his first trip on a new route in Cass City Saturday. (Chronicle photo)

Veteran Carrier Starts New Route

Ray Toohey, 64, of Gagetown can recall many changes in the area postal system in his 21 years as a rural carrier and none is probably more striking than the population shift on the farm.

The veteran carrier, now with in sight of retirement, said that the reduction in the number of patrons is the principal reason that he is now the carrier for Route 2, Cass City, instead of Gagetown.

"When I first started hauling the mail there were 175 box holders on my comparatively short (40-mile) route," he explained. "When I was transferred there were only about 100 boxholders as the farms got larger and the people fewer."

His new assignment about doubled the mileage for Toohey. This route is 76 miles long, he said.

The switch by the postal department makes sense, Toohey believes, even though it causes him much more work. There is now only one route out of Gagetown and 51 families there will be receiving mail on the Cass City routes. There have been changes on Cass City routes 1 and 2 to equalize the work load.

The change is part of a general overhaul of the postal district that will see the elimination of 1,500 routes in Michigan and Illinois. The change here is expected to save taxpayers $3,000.

Future Planned

Perhaps one reason that Toohey can regard the change in work load without rancor or too much regret is that his plans are completed for retirement. "I could retire now," he said. "I have a small farm near Gagetown to keep me busy."

Toohey has lived all his life in Gagetown. He married the former

From the Editor's Corner

A story in the Chronicle may have saved some embarrassing moments for the Cass City Band Saturday. An advance story last week told how the band was heading for Flint Beecher to play in the District Solo and Ensemble Festival.

All preparations at the school were aimed towards competition at Flint. Meanwhile, plans had been switched and Cass City was scheduled at Sebawaing . . . only the change failed somehow to get to Director Ron Walker.

It took a happy coincidence to save the day. The band director at Sebawaing is Manley Fay, a native of Cass City and a Chronicle subscriber. He read the story, started wondering who had goofed and called Cass City School.

The band went to Sebawaing . . . and did right well, too.

The office was swamped with calls from subscribers affected by the switch in mail routes in Gagetown and Cass City. The Chronicle has secured all the changes from the postal department and made the necessary switches.

However, if we happened to goof in the changeover and your paper doesn't arrive, be sure to call.

Mrs. Bob Benkelman is the latest in a long list of persons who have complained about out-of-town magazine sales personnel who are selling subscriptions at inflated prices.

She says that a combination of four popular magazines offered can be purchased for $56.66 and that these people are asking $93.60.

These sales persons should not be confused with the Junior Class at Cass City High School which is also selling subscriptions to magazines and offer the best with the rest . . . the Chronicle for $8.00 per year.

Less than a decade ago Cass City could boast of the finest athletic facilities in the Thumb. Now that all of the rest of the schools in the Thumb B Conference have constructed or are constructing new high schools, we rank at the bottom . . . with one pleasant exception.

Thanks primarily to the Gavel Club, Cass City has the finest track in the Thumb. And Gavelites are working to keep it that way. Members are working nights to construct 80 new self righting hurdles of the latest design.

Teachers Tell School Needs

More teachers, more time and more materials were the chief factors among needs of six Cass City Public Schools teachers who appeared on a panel at a School-Community Association meeting Tuesday night at the Campbell Elementary School.

An unexpected 90 persons attended the session which SCA President Jack Esau called the "second first meeting of the SCA." He explained that an original meeting last January was canceled when only 12 teachers and 12 citizens appeared.

George Elliott, guidance department, acted as moderator with Mrs. Orlis Lemanski, English; Robert Stickle, social studies; Mrs. Leone Shaw, language; Ronald Raulin, science, and Dexter Johnson, math, as members of the panel.

The six teachers, representing their respective departments, began their presentations by outlining their objectives and course goals and concluded with departmental needs.

Esau, at the close of the session, remarked that the panel had given "us a much keener appreciation of the curriculum and its needs."

He announced that the next SCA meeting would be Tuesday, March 31, and would deal with the elementary curriculum and its needs.

English
Mrs. Lemanski told the group that her department has "very few material needs." She lamented, however, the fact that there is no "ability grouping. All the students are thrown together in their 9th, 10th and 11th grades."

She explained that the only current grouping comes in the 12th grade in college preparatory English.

Chief complaint was the lack of teachers. She urged a "decreased load for teachers." At present, she has over 170 students.

Because there are so many students, she said, written assignments must be kept at a minimum because of the time involved in correcting them.

She also stressed a need for a remedial group ("I have a number of students who can't read or write a coherent sentence"); better learning attitudes ("This takes cooperation at home") and an uplift in community English standards.

Social Studies
Materials were the chief need of the social studies department, according to Stickle. "We need more current periodicals, more news magazines, more maps and more books," he charged.

Time to teach was another

Concluded on page three.

Board To Talk Salaries

Whether or not Cass City Public Schools teachers will seek another pay raise for the coming year will be learned Thursday night, Feb. 20, when teacher contracts are discussed at a special Board of Education meeting. The meeting will be in the high school library at 7:30.

Last year, the teachers pushed for and received an additional $100 for Master's degrees, pushing the budget up $5,200 over the scheduled increments of $3,500.

It has not been reported what teacher salary plans, if any, are for Thursday's session.

Salaries are normally discussed at the regular February meeting but the matter was inadvertently left off the agenda. Teacher contracts are usually given out the first of March and are returned within the month.

In other school news, Mrs. Gerald Priskorn, head of a special committee screening applicants for the open superintendent's post, reported that her committee hopes to be able to make a recommendation for the job at the March board meeting.

Gagetown Caucus Nominates Four New Trustees

Four new Gagetown village officials were nominated at a village caucus Monday night. All other officials chosen were incumbents.

New members are Richard Carroll, Victor Rocheleau and Elery Sontag, two-year term trustees. Doug Comment was named to fill the one-year vacancy left with the recent death of Walter Zuraw.

Re-nominated were William Downing, president; Mrs. Dorothy Beachy, clerk-treasurer, and George Wilson, assessor.

Comment will also act as village street administrator, a post previously held by Zuraw.

Trustees whose terms expire next year are: Bill Burrows and Orlo Wood.

Fourth Quarter Highway Fund Monies Allotted

Cass City is slated to receive $3,924 as its share of fourth quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections, John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner, reported this week.

Net receipts of the Highway Fund during October, November and December of 1963 amounted to $49,723,336, an increase of $3,545,716 over the same period of 1962.

Tuscola County will receive $170,225 while Sanilac and Huron counties will receive $163,182 and $156,529, respectively.

Other area villages to receive portions of the money include: Gagetown - $1,861, Kingston - $1,003 and Uby - $1,676.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provides that 47 per cent goes to the State Highway Department, 35 per cent goes to the state's counties and 18 per cent goes to 518 incorporated cities and villages.

Three Hurt in Area Automobile Crashes

Three area persons received injuries in two accidents during the week, according to reports from Tuscola county sheriff's deputies and State Police.

Saturday morning a car driven by Julius H. Goslin, 70, Gagetown, was damaged when it turned in front of another car driven by Henry A. McCreedy, 39, Unionville. The accident happened on Colwood Road, a quarter mile south of the Akron Road.

McCreedy's wife, Fern, 34, was treated by Dr. H. T. Donahue, Cass City, for bruises. The couple's son, Timothy, was uninjured.

A parked car owned by Raymond Clarkson, 40, Crosswell, was damaged Saturday night when another car driven by Edward Leblond, 36, Cass City, backed into it on Weaver Street near the Cass City Lanes Bowling Alley. The left rear door of the Clarkson vehicle was damaged.

A Cass City man was ticketed Thursday, Feb. 13, for failure to yield the right of way to a car driven by Dale E. Buehly, 28, Cass City.

Ticketed was Archie L. Patterson, 48, Cass City. The accident was at the intersection of Milligan and Schwegler roads. Riding with Patterson was Vern Peters, Cass City. No injuries were reported.

A car driven by Irma Anker, 23, Cass City, turned into the Sunoco service station Friday afternoon and struck the rear corner of a car being backed from the curb by David Lee Wilson, 21, Hurds Corner Road, Caro.

An icy patch in the road was blamed in an accident Thursday,

Feb. 13, in which two Owendale youths received bruises.

Injured when they were thrown from their car were Roger Mayer and Daniel Gohsman. The vehicle left Sebawaing Road, two miles west of Owendale and struck a culvert. Both boys were treated at Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon.

Band Cops Honors at Festival

Twelve Cass City Senior Band members played their way to five Division I ratings Saturday at the District III Solo and Ensemble Festival in Sebawaing.

The band also captured 10 second division ratings and one third division spot.

Winning Division I ratings were: Charles Iseler, saxophone solo; James Husa, cornet solo, and David Guinther and Husa, cornet duet.

Other first division winners were: Ann Sheppard, Don Joos, Evelyn Smentek and Joyce Smentek, clarinet quartet, and Mick Pomeroy, Charles Peasley, James Husa, Bob Spencer, Jon Avery and Bonnie Spencer, brass sextet.

Next step for the Division I winners, according to Ronald Walker, band director, will be the State Solo and Ensemble Festival at Grand Rapids Christian High School, March 21.

Walker announced that the solos and ensembles will be featured at the Midwinter Band Concert Monday, Mar. 9. Next competitive event for the band will be the Junior and Senior High Band and Orchestra Festival, Saturday, Mar. 14.

Saturday's competition was preceded by a two and a half hour solo and ensemble program featuring the sixth, junior and senior high bands Wednesday night, Feb. 12, at Cass City Schools. Walker judged the various soloists and groups and gave them pointers on weak points.

Letters to Editor

The Chronicle welcomes letters to the editor. In most instances letters will be printed in full. However, the paper reserves the right to edit letters to fit space requirements. All letters must be signed.

Detroit, Mich.

Mr. John Haire,
Cass City, Mich.

Dear Mr. Haire:

Inclosed is a check for the renewal of my subscription to the Chronicle for one year.

Each week I look forward to receiving the paper and reading of the happenings around "my home town."

However, it was sad news when I learned of the burning of my old home, the Lyle Roach house. This was the farm where I was born and my parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Martin, lived there over fifty years, so there were many happy memories, including my own wedding and also my sister's wedding.

Mrs. Frank Hutchinson wrote to me about the fire, then when I received the Chronicle and saw the picture of the ruins and a barn in the distance which I thought was the old Jessie Soles barn, I recalled the wonderful times I had playing, as a child with the Soles' girls.

I believe that Mrs. Carrie Retherford of Deford is the only living person of the older generation who lived on our "Good Old Townline."

I still enjoy reading the articles of "Uncle Tim From Tyre," also the witty "Kommments By Kraft."

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Haire,

We enjoy the Chronicle very much. It's nice to know what's going on back home, but lately the paper has been coming a week late. There has been a slight error in our address. Our address is 2310 SW 89th Court.

Always wanted to get away from Cass City, but now that we've been away for three years there is no place like being home. No matter where you go or what you do, you can never have everything the way you want it. We don't have all the cold weather in the south (Florida) that you have in Michigan but the things we do have are worse.

Hope to be back home someday.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Lon Decker

Feb. 16, 1964

Dear Mr. Haire:

We would like to thank the teachers and school administration for their efforts in the schooling of our children for the past several years.

We thank them for giving their best despite obstacles which hinder their work.

We thank them for outside help they've given our children plus the countless other children in the community without reward or acknowledgement.

We thank them for the excellent example of their own personal conduct.

We will always realize our debt to them and to the school board that is constantly trying to better things for the teachers and the children to give the parents and community a school to claim with pride.

Sincerely
Bob and Rachel Hervey

SUGAR 'N' SPICE

'n' EVERYTHING NICE

By JOHN SOMMERS

In looking for the best way of telling people what we are trying to do for our customers here at Sommers' Bakery, I happened on this column writing idea (not my own) and it looked so good I decided to use it. (Secretly, I always wanted to write.)

The name "Sugar 'N' Spice 'n' Everything Nice," (not original either) is from the old refrain "What are little girls made of?" and since I will be writing about our bakery (where we use sugar and spice and everything nice) and since this will probably be read mostly by the ladies, I hope the title is fitting.

Now - let's consider - Why is February "National Cherry Month?"

Aside from the fact that cherries are a nutritious, wholesome, beautiful and delicious fruit, (and that Michigan grows a lot of 'em), it is my opinion that some very intelligent promoting on the part of the cherry growing industry, connected with that old story about George and his little hatchet (unconfirmed) resulted in national recognition.

Uncle George has a birthday Saturday (born in 1732) and we have a recipe for his birthday cake (also unconfirmed) that is as different and delicious as it is good-looking. We will feature it Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Why don't you try it along with his Cherry Coffee Cake, Cherry Cup Rolls and Cherry Boston Cream Pie at

Thought For Lent

By The Rev. Arnold Messing

"Do you not know that those who run in a race, all indeed run, but one receives the prize? So run as to obtain it. And everyone in a contest abstains from all things -- and they indeed to receive a perishable crown, but we an imperishable. I, therefore, so run as not without a purpose; I so fight as not beating the air; but I chastise my body and bring it into subjection, lest perhaps after preaching to others, I myself should be rejected." (St. Paul's first epistle to the Corinthians, 9:24-27)

The Olympic games were held for the first time in the year 776 B.C., at the little town of Olympia, located on the western coast of southern Greece. Every four years athletes from all over Greece would compete at these games in various track events: foot racing, relay racing, shot put, javelin throwing, wrestling and boxing. In our own times, the Olympic games, after having been dropped for centuries, became international sports festivals ever since they were started again in 1896. Since then some new and exciting events have been added to the games, but I'm sure they were as exciting to watch in 776 B.C. and in St. Paul's day as they were in 1964.

At any rate St. Paul was very familiar with these contests and when he arrived in the city of Corinth, not far from Olympia, he used some everyday similes to drive home some important lessons. First he recalls how every man of any prowess strove to win honors for himself and his home town. Then he reminds them that as Christians they are taking part in a much more important contest and are competing not for some perishable laurel wreath but for an everlasting crown.

Through them he teaches all of us that is not enough to admit the truth of Christianity; it is not enough to know its teaching; it is not enough to be nominal Christians; we must put our knowledge into practice; we must live the Christian faith in our daily lives. This demands sacrifice. This demands curbing our senses and their unlawful appetites. This demands a continual discipline of self. The race for the eternal crown, the boxing bout against our spiritual enemies, is not won until we draw our last breath, so all our life we must keep our eyes on the winning post, all our lives we must keep in perfect training. This is no easy task. But if athletes can mortify their bodies and abstain from things that would lessen their proficiency for the sake of a passing reward, surely we can do this for the sake of an eternity of happiness. The commandments of God and the direction received from the Church are written to help us toward our goal; they are not nasty restrictions placed on our liberty, but are "rules of the game" drawn up by an all-wise Trainer. If we violate them we disqualify ourselves and exclude ourselves from the prize.

Many of our young American athletes trained vigorously for two months in preparation for the IX Winter Olympics. Each year during Lent, we Christians have an opportunity to train especially hard for the imperishable crown of which St. Paul speaks.

BULEN TALKS Cars

HOW MUCH IS YOUR USED CAR WORTH?

If there is a Sixty Four Dollar question facing the car dealer in his daily business, it is our title for today's column. The answer, to both dealer and customer, depends on two things: the condition of the car and the dealer to whom it is traded.

ANY dealer will offer more for a low-mileage used car in immaculate condition than a worn-out model of the same make and year. He is not a philanthropist. He knows the car will bring more on his used car lot.

There's a difference though. A premium quality used car is worth more to some dealers than others. It is worth more to a dealer who deals primarily in top quality used cars. He has a premium market with people who know his reputation for superior used cars and are prepared to pay a little more for quality. He is selling quality - not price. Though in the end, the value he delivers for the money is always greater.

In contrast, there is a dealer whose main sales appeal is low price. This dealer actually PREFERS a high-mileage, rough condition model of reasonable appearance he can buy at an extra-low dollar figure. He prefers it because he can doctor it cheaply to run well for a limited time, then sell it at a "bargain" price for a good profit.

If you have a high-quality used car you are thinking of trading, we earnestly suggest that you let us quote you a difference figure.

Bad Game

It was a bad game for the Hawks in every respect. For the first time this year, Cass City was beaten badly in the rebounding department. In contrast to the game in Cass City when Walt Hempton helped Cass City rebound the Redskins, Friday's game was no contest as Weber, Goringe and Doerr dominated the offensive and defensive boards.

A bright spot in the dark night for Cass City was the play of Al Wallace who played the second half and scored 12 points while helping with the rebounding.

Jim Champion was about the entire offensive show for the Hawks. He hit for 33 points, although he did not start the game.

The Redskins racked up another first against Cass City in the one-sided victory. For the first time this year, the Hawks' opponent scored more field goals than they did. The Redskins had a decisive 40-32 margin.

May Experiment

Coch Wayne Wilson reported that he may experiment with a new line-up this week for the game with the Lakers. "We are sure to end up no lower or no higher than third in the conference now," he explained, "and maybe another line-up will click."

Depending on results of scrimmages this week, it is possible that Champion and Ed Retherford will start at guard with Wallace and Walt Hempton at forward and Jim Knoblet at center.

The box score:

Marriage Licenses

The following persons applied for marriage licenses during the past week at the County Clerk's office, Caro.

Leon C. Stecker, 21, Unionville, and Alice J. Gangler, 18, Unionville.

David L. Thayer, 18, Reese, and Sandra L. Adams, 17, Caro.

Elmer A. Gerber, 41, Vassar, and Lillian E. Curvin, 50, Vassar.

Donald G. Hudson, 21, Marlette, and Doris F. Rich, 21, Silverwood.

Math

Material needs in the math department are minimal, according to Johnson. He cited a need for better understanding on the part of the students of what some of the higher math subjects involve. "The word 'algebra' terrifies some students," he explained.

He also urged "team teaching" in algebra, using a three-day group session of all classes and a two-day individual class program. This, he explained, would save time and leave the teachers free for other work.

Guidance

Elliott concluded the meeting by listing a lack of vocational information and a lack of vocational contact as the chief problems of his department.

School Slates Government and Talent Exchanges

Five Cass City High School student council members are slated to take part in a student government exchange with Harbor Beach Thursday, Feb. 27, according to James Seals, assistant principal.

Slated to take part in the trade are: Fred Reid, student council president; Jeri Ryan, junior class president; Ed Retherford, parliamentarian; Bob Rabideau, sophomore president, and Eileen Hicks, home room representative.

A similar body of students will come to Cass City where they will be shown how the local school government operates. Student participation in extracurricular activities, morale and handling of student problems will be stressed.

Talent Exchange

In other student affairs, three talent acts, selected in recent talent competition, are currently exchanging with three other area schools.

Participating are songstress Sandy Copeland, a comedy routine featuring Bob Profit and John Herhalt and a four-piece band starring Mick Pomeroy, Charles Iseler, Dick Bullock and Richard Bukowski.

The three acts played in Sandusky Wednesday and are slated to play in Caro. Cass City will host similar acts from Caro, Marlette and Sandusky on Wednesday, Feb. 26.

BOOK REVIEW

This Book Tells All About Advertising

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

Since Christmas, I have been reviewing books of interest that I received as gifts -- and which I am willing to loan to the library if their copies are all out. My wife gave me several new books including one which is different but of special interest to me, "Confessions of an Advertising Man," by David Ogilvy. I recommend this book to all who already have some background in how the advertising world works.

A few pages are given telling of the experiences of the author in his pre-advertising days. When he first came to this country he became assistant to the famous "pollster," Dr. George Gallup. This gave him some invaluable experience, both of people and of how to find out what people really think!

You will recognize the following advertisements of his: the Guinness Guide to Oysters, the man in the Hathaway shirt (complete with eye patch), along with his campaigns for Schweppes, Puerto Rico, Rolis Royce, the Shell Oil Company and many more.

By the time you have finished reading the book you feel as if you've taken a short course in the advertising business and are now qualified to enter the field. Each chapter heading is a "How . . ." For example: "How to Manage an Advertising Agency" (which is just the way this talented man entered the business -- at the top!) "How to Get . . ." "How to Keep . . ." "How to Be a Good Client" are the next three chapter headings.

Each chapter includes an outline of numbered steps; and all the secrets but one are included. It is conceivable that a small advertising firm could open for business on the basis of the techniques described in this book -- given some talented staff people. He objects to that phase of advertising which is important to Cass City, the billboard.

As a private person, I have a passion for landscape, and I have never seen one that was improved by a billboard. Where every prospect pleases, man is at his vilest when he erects a billboard. When I retire from Madison Avenue, I am going to start a secret society of masked vigilantes who will travel about on silent motor bicycles chopping down posters at the dark of the moon.

But, recognizing that not all Americans will agree with him, he then describes how to design 'copy' for the billboards.

As interesting as a novel for me were his descriptions of why certain slogans are chosen over others and why the medium (i.e., newspapers, television, etc.) varies with the advertised product.

If any of this rings a responsive chord inside you, by all means read this book! It would have a certain amount of real value to the man whose business can't support a major advertising campaign, but who could (perhaps with Mr. Haire's advice) begin in a small way to advertise effectively. I can see that businessman spending a certain amount of his profit on well thought-out advertising, and, as business volume grows, spending the same proportion on advertising as his business justifies. It is not enough to advertise just when a business is new! This book will fire up your imagination; let you see behind the scenes of one of our days' most important and most exciting new businesses.

Farm Income to Drop While Farms Grow, Survey Tells

One of the paradoxes discovered in a survey of Thumb area farms is that farm income is going to decrease and farm land is going to sharply increase in the next few years.

A survey of 77 farms in Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac, Lapeer and St. Clair counties by Michigan State University revealed the following trends that will be realized in just three more years . . . 1967:

1. The best farm land will be selling for $1,000 per acre; permanent pasture will sell for $200 per acre.
2. Ten per cent fewer farms in the Thumb in 1967; but different types farms will be affected differently. Small dairy farms will decrease by 30 per cent. Cash crop farms will decrease by 15 per cent. Large dairy farm and large general farms will decrease by less than five per cent.
3. The downward pressure on farm prices will increase.
4. There will be more part time farmers; many fewer full time farmers, and 25 per cent less hired farm laborers.

What is needed

The survey said that more capital was needed on the farm for capital improvements. Also needed is more livestock or more acreage.

Another very necessary need is for relatively large amounts of credit. These could be used profitably on all of the farms interviewed, the MSU report indicated.

Not So Bright

The future is not bright for the young man considering farming as a career. A combination of less buying opportunities and a continued growing capital outlay will force many young men to turn elsewhere for opportunity, the report concluded.

Regardless of your walk in life, smooth running will get you there a lot quicker.

No one is too big to be kind and courteous, but a great many people are too little.

At least the race to keep up with living expenses gives a man a run for his money.

THE BUILD-UP

It's the repetition of a true story that produces almost all of the world's fiction.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Approximately 33 Lions from the two clubs heard Chesny give a progress report on various district projects and objectives. He told local Lions that he was "very happy with the Cass City Lions. They are a credit to the community, the district and the State."

He also exhorted both clubs to strive for membership retention, urging the group to not only seek new members, but to keep present members.

The Question Is — How Many Want To?

By Dave Kraft

Recognize the gent in the picture? You say he looks familiar? No, it isn't Bing Crosby with a beard. Nope, it's not Ernest Hemingway with a hat. No sir, it isn't a skinny Burl Ives.

NEWS EDITOR? How many men can drink a cup of coffee, smoke a pipe, type and grow a beard at the same time? How many want to?

Fooled you, didn't I? It's your old Uncle Dave. At least that's what your old Uncle Dave looked like until last Thursday night.

Then I went home, tore off the hat, spit out the pipe and shaved off the beard. And that which was, is no more.

It didn't go easy, I'll tell you. As you can see, I attempted to grow a somewhat full beard. I shaved that down to a goatee. I didn't like that so I shaved it down to a mustache. The mustache made me look like a poor man's Thomas Dewey, so I shaved that off.

I took one look at my naked face and decided I didn't like that either but as I was about to shave that off, I remembered I had just completed my 15th shave on that particular blade. By the time I got a new one in, I was out of the notion.

I was sorry to see it go, but it had to be. All it did was accent my already oversized nose and make it look like a ski jump in the middle of a brush pile. Besides that, my kids started not to recognize me and the bill collectors started to recognize me.

One thing I've learned, if you want to stir people up, just grow a beard . . . that goes for you women, too. It's something I'll never understand. Nobody gets excited when you grow hair on your head, but try to cultivate

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Kelly, 58

Requiem High Mass for Mrs. Clement (Gertrude) Kelly, 58, was held Saturday at St. Pancratius Church. Mrs. Kelly died Wednesday morning, Feb. 12, at Hills and Dales General Hospital where she had been a patient for three weeks. She had been ill since May.

Born in Erie May 11, 1905, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel LaBute. She married Clement Kelly in Kingston in 1933 where they lived following their marriage. They came to the Cass City area six years ago.

Surviving, besides her husband, are: three daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Baldwin and Mrs. William Wallace, both of Mt. Clemens, and Mrs. Charles Damoth of Cass City, and three sons, Richard and Kenneth Seigneure, both of Mt. Clemens, and David Seigneure of Fraser.

Also, surviving are: three brothers, Daniel LaBute of Pennsylvania, Harold LaBute of Trenton and Edward LaBute of Miami, Fla.; two half-sisters, Mrs. Alfonse Vaerewyck and Miss Theresa O'Connor of Detroit; one half-brother, Michael O'Connor of Detroit; 23 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Rosary Devotions were held Friday evening at Little's Funeral Home. Fr. Arnold Messing officiated at the services and interment was in St. Michael's Cemetery, Wilmet.

a strand or two on your face and you're in trouble.

But so much for the beard. It's a dead issue. With the slate wiped clean, as it were, we can now go onward and upward to bigger and better nonsense.

You know this cigarette-cancer thing has brought about some new fashions in feminine smoking. Don't be surprised if the next time you try to kiss your wife or favorite girl, you get your eye poked out by a lighted cigar.

But the real height of fashion is for madame to smoke a pipe. Why not? Mammy Yokum has done it for years. I can't think of anything more lady-like and dainty than the light of my life with a pipe in her mitt.

I was making a few disparaging remarks about the new trend and a female listener defended, "but it's vogue." I agree. It's definitely "vogue." That's vogue spelled "vulgar."

But that's the way it goes. We gave them the right to vote and now they're trying to smoke our cigars. I think we men ought to put our foot down, or collectively speaking, our feet down. Who knows, this may be our next great cause.

Speaking of women's trends, these new low cut dresses which expose things that even milady's hairdresser didn't know about are going to be a real problem.

I expect to see a rise in business for eye doctors, particularly among married male clientele. I suppose I should have my eyes taken care of before the rush starts or before my wife takes care of them for me.

We want to thank our farmer clients for our successful years in Cass City. Many of you were a lot more to us than clients.

We are pleased to leave our home and practice to Dr. and Mrs. Scollon.

Sincerely,

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Hervey

Schedule Home Economics Work Shop Friday

"Today's Family - What's It Like" is the topic to be explored at the Friday, Feb. 21, meeting by more than 150 officers and leaders of Home Economics Extension study groups from St. Clair, Huron, Lapeer, Sanilac and Tuscola counties.

The one-day workshop is the second in a series of four meetings called "Adventure in Education." The series is designed to help the women do a better job of planning, carrying out and evaluating local home economics-family living extension programs.

The Friday workshop will feature MSU family life authorities as speakers. They'll deal with such aspects of family living as aging, changes in society - such as automation and mobility - that affect family life and the changing roles of family members.

The first meeting, held in Caro in January, concerned "The Land-Grant Philosophy—What It Means to You." Extension leaders studied the ideas that led to the establishment of the 68 land-grant institutions, including MSU, that are dedicated to providing education to all who desire it.

The women also traced this philosophy to the founding of the Agricultural Experiment Stations and the Cooperative Extension Service and from there to the existence of their own home economics extension study groups.

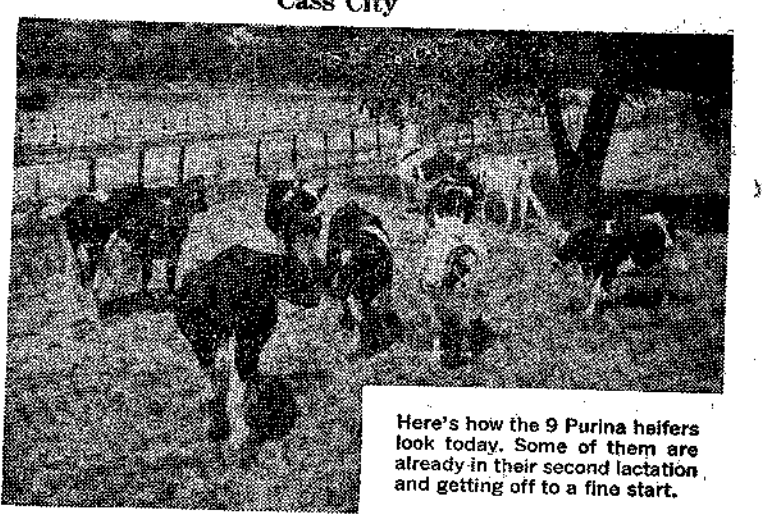

Other topics to be covered in the series will be "What Is an Effective Home Economics Family Living Program?" and "What Is Our Responsibility as Leaders?"

Members of the planning committee are Mrs. Dreil Hull, Capaci; Mrs. Glenn Edwards, Bad Axe; Mrs. Glenn Ingram, Clifford; Mrs. Martin Houston, Richmond; Mrs. Chester Sadowy, Applegate; Mrs. Alfred Brink, Akron; and Mrs. Victor Kain, Filion. Each is an officer of the county or district organizations of Home Economics Extension study groups.

The planning committee is being assisted by County Home Economics Extension agents and by Miriam J. Kelley, State program leader for the home economics-family living program of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service.

AVERAGED 10,808 LBS. MILK IN THEIR FIRST LACTATION

Here's proof that early freshening pays off! These heifers averaged freshening at only 22 months instead of the normal average of about 31 months... nearly a full lactation early! So each of them produced nearly 10,808 lbs. of "extra" milk in their first 305-day lactation, compared to heifers freshening at 31 months.

No. P 10's first calf was born dead. She started slowly, pulling down the average of the group. She produced only 6,697 lbs. of milk. On May 16, 1963, No. P 10 had a normal calving and she's now off to a much better start.

Projected mature production of these heifers (based on standard U.S.D.A. factors) figures 14,499 lbs. One, P 11, has an estimated mature production of 19,062 lbs. of milk!

Years of research at the Purina Dairy Research Center, Gray Summit, Mo., has built feeding and management programs to help you grow animals fast for early breeding and freshening... for long, profitable milking lives.

Stars Host Masons At February Meet

Master Masons were honored Wednesday, Feb. 12, following the regular meeting of Echo Chapter OES. Approximately 75 were present to see a humorous skit portraying the Stars' impressions of a Masonic meeting.

Amusing performances were given by Ruth Morell, Audrey Cummins, Helen Lorentzen, Betty Greenleaf, Dorothy Tracy, Lucille Wotton, Elizabeth Gledhill, Mildred McConkey and Mary Merchant.

Worthy Matron Betty Stilson spoke briefly on fraternal relationships and welcomed those Masons present, each of whom introduced himself. A reading entitled "Brick Laying" was presented by James Seals, followed by a vocal solo, "The Builder," by the Rev. George Getchel. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Getchel.

At the conclusion of the program, lunch was served by Mrs. Fred Neitzel and her committee. The dining room was decorated in a Valentine motif.

During the business meeting, it was decided to participate in an OES Thumb Association project of remembering on St. Valentine's Day those members who are not able to attend meetings. Twenty of Echo Chapter's members received a red rose Feb. 14.

Mrs. James Seals, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, announced that a card party will be held Saturday, Feb. 22, in the Masonic Hall. Progressive euchre will be played.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I been over to Ed Doolittle's house all afternoon studying his dictionary. Like I told you on account of being such a good speller myself, I ain't never invested in one of them books.

But they was times nowadays where a taxpayer can't keep up with what's going on in Washington without a dictionary. If things don't git better in the Congress, it looks like I'm going to have to buy one.

For instant, I was reading in the papers where Congressmen was now gitting $600 a year more fer postage and it was "retroactive" to last July. From the best I can make out from Ed's dictionary, this means a Congressman is gitting stamps fer letters he mailed last July when he was already gitting these stamps from his office fund. In a manner of speaking, I reckon you'd have to say our Congressmen was now mailing "retroactive" letters. They ain't many folks that can turn this trick.

My memory, Mister Editor, goes back a long way. I can recollect when the wimmen folks were starched petticoats that rattled when they walked. If they was anybody in the house that can recollect farther back than that, let him stand up and be recognized. And not in my memory has they been such waste and extravagance as we got in Washington today.

Me and Ed was discussing these matters and he was of the opinion that the average Congressman ain't got but one definition of waste—a dollar or two spent in some other Congressman's district. Fer instant, Ed said he was reading a piece where Congressmen used $385,029 in "petty cash" last year on them junkets they took to Paris and such places. He said these figgers was give out by the U.S. Treasury Department and was official.

Incidental, I see by the papers where President Johnson's "economy drive" ain't setting too good with some of the hired help. When he cut the number of official cars amongst the various agencies from 491 to 136 one of them fellers in the State Department was complaining we was the only country in the world where a diplomat in striped pants had to ride a bicycle. Personal, Mister Editor, a little more walking and a little less talking might do some of them fellers a heap of good!

I was reading the other day where some feller was explaining the red, white and blue in our flag. He claimed the taxpayers was seeing red when they discussed taxes, was turning white when they got the bill, and was paying till they got blue in the face. He didn't mention it, but I reckon some of the taxpayers was also seeing stars.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Top Corn Hybrids Named in Tests

The highest yielding corn hybrids in the 1963 Michigan corn performance trials have been named. They produced 14 bushels more per acre than the average of 190 hybrids tested over the state.

"Performance results show that you do not need to grow late maturing hybrids to obtain high yields," reports E. C. Rossman, crop scientist at Michigan State University who conducted the tests. "The best early maturing hybrids will yield as much or more corn than late maturing hybrids."

"Planting early maturing hybrids is one form of frost protection. Also, they can be harvested earlier when weather is more favorable and harvest losses are lower."

The hybrid corn trials were conducted at 12 locations in Michigan by the MSU crop science department in cooperation with seed corn companies.

A detailed report of performance records for all hybrids tested in 1962 and 1963 is presented in the Cooperative Extension publication entitled "Corn Hybrids Compared in 1964," available at the Tuscola County Extension Office.

Jumping at conclusions is a lazy man's way of digging up facts.
