

Ambitious Program Revealed

Village Street Program Set

An extensive street repair program is in store for Cass City if plans under study by the village council are followed this summer. The work is expected to shove the village budget to an all-time high when adopted at a special meeting next Tuesday. The meeting slated at the Municipal Building at 7 p.m. is open to village residents.

The village plans to place curb and gutter on West and Leach streets, a block north and south of Main street. These are major streets and money from state weight and gas tax can be used for the work. All streets are classified as major or minor streets and only a small portion of money received from the State can be used for "local" roads . . . and only streets that can show major usage such as plants, schools, connections to State highways, etc. are eligible to be major roads.

Besides the curb and gutter on Leach and West, the second half of the curb and gutter work on East Main will be completed. This work extends from Seeger to Sherman Street. When the new curb is installed, new sidewalks will be constructed as they were last year from Seeger to West street. Since the state is a major supplier of money for this work under a maintenance contract along M-81, the work will be let by bid as it was when the first half was completed last year.

Besides the work on streets serving the business district, the village's most ambitious off-street curb and gutter program is also scheduled. Garfield from Seeger to Ale streets will be blacktopped. This road was drained and curbed and guttered last year.

Third street is expected to be curb and guttered. Drainage on the street is already adequate. On Ale between Garfield and Third (a long block) the council also hopes to be able to do curb and gutter work, the street committee said.

Now in progress is a survey of the alleys adjoining Main Street in the business district. How much work will be completed this year on this project is not yet known.

Trustees are in hopes that the survey will show that the alleys can be drained from the middle outwards instead of from the outer edges to the middle. If it can, construction costs will be much less, trustees said.

It is not likely that this project will be entirely completed this year.

The alley program is one that a committee of the Chamber of Commerce agreed was necessary. Later there were several meetings called when some retailers thought that the program should be changed to include curb and gutter of the approach streets.

Robert Stickle, Democrat, and Richard Wallace, Republican, will serve for a two-year term. Thomas Jackson, Democrat, and Ed Doerr, Republican, will serve for a four-year term.

Lights for Park
Two new lights for the park will be erected. They will be arranged with an existing light to better illuminate the picnic, pool and tennis court area.

Dump Site
Trustees are cautiously examining locations for a new dump site far enough away from inhabited areas not to conflict with property owners. No action has been taken at this time.

Deny Requests
The council denied a request for village maintained light on the school grounds. Acting on the advice of the zoning board, it also denied a request for rezoning of property from commercial to business on Sherman street.

Factory Key to 3-Cent Saving on School Project

Whether or not Cass City Public Schools can save three cents per square foot on blacktopping the Campbell Elementary School playground will depend on the availability of asphalt from a factory slated to be in the area this spring for a nearby road project.

Kermit Hartwick, local contractor, told the board Thursday night, Feb. 20, that the project would cost approximately 18 cents per square foot if obtained from the factory.

Otherwise, he explained, the cost would be about three cents more per square foot for asphalt hauled out of Bay City.

Total cost of the project could not be ascertained immediately because the board has several different measurements of areas to be covered.

The board started investigating the cost of blacktopping the playground following numerous complaints that the area turns into a mud hole on rainy days and during the spring, making it unfit for play.

Hartwick's report was taken under advisement.

Finkbeiner Dance Nets Almost $170

Estimated net proceeds from the Cass City Lions and Firemen's "Don Finkbeiner Benefit Dance" held Thursday, Feb. 20, at the high school has been set at close to $170.

Coupled with a $400 fund set up by Cass City firemen from donations and another $150 in donations to Finkbeiner, total contributions to the family since his accident have been close to $750. The family has also received food and other items.

Finkbeiner is improving rapidly from burns suffered in a fire and explosion Jan. 14. He reported Wednesday morning that his severely burned hands are now out of their bandages and that his right hand is almost completely healed.

His face, neck and ear burns are also nearly healed.

Attendance at the dance was light; however, many persons purchased tickets which were available by donation. Harry Little, in charge of ticket sales, reported that approximately $200 was collected and that after expenses, there will be close to $170 left.

Some money from ticket sales is still to be turned in.

Ticket Man in Village Accident

A Cass City man was ticketed Monday in one of two area accidents during the past week involving area persons.

Ticketed for disobeying a traffic signal was George C. Miller, 58, Cass City. Miller's car slammed into the side of another car driven by John H. Hazzard, 20, Bad Axe, early Monday morning at the intersection of Main and Seeger streets.

Miller, traveling north on Seeger, ignored a flashing red signal at the intersection. The front end of the Miller vehicle was damaged and the right side of the Hazzard car was damaged.

A Cass City woman was treated for bruises Tuesday, Feb. 16, when she lost control of her car on a curve on River Road, about a half mile west of Cemetery Road.

Mrs. Ruth M. Wagner, 43, told Deputy Lee Morrison that she lost control when she met another car on the curve. Her car went into a ditch on the left side and hit a tree.

Asher Ends 26 Years in Business

A long career in the junk business will end next week for Manley Asher when details of the sale of Southside Auto Parts to Russell Ayres of Cass City are expected to be completed.

The sale has been contemplated for several weeks. Ayres is now bonded to conduct the business and when the license transfer is completed he will take over the yard. Target date for the transfer is Mar. 1.

He has been working at the yard for several weeks to familiarize himself with details of the business.

Asher will be leaving the yard with mixed emotions. He has spent a lifetime in the junk business and likes the work but "ill health has forced me to retire now", he explained.

Started in 1938

"I think it was in 1938 when I first opened up for business at the 10c barn", he said. The barn was located just northwest of the Seeger-Main streets intersection. It was the start of a long career. "A few years later John Cole and I became partners at the location now owned by Cass City Auto Parts", Asher explained.

We were together, he said, until I sold out to him and purchased the junk business owned by Joe Knepper at the location now housing R&M Auto Parts on Main St.

In 1947 I sold the building to Brinker Lumber Co. and a year later started at this location, he concluded.

Many Changes
Over the years there have been a host of changes in the junk business, Asher exclaimed.

From the Editor's Corner

Interested in learning for yourself what is going on in village government? One of the best ways is to study the budget and ask questions.

The budget is available now for inspection and will be presented at a special meeting Tuesday at the Municipal Building at 7 p.m.

I read a just criticism of the press the other day in one of the daily papers. A columnist was writing and he said in every story he ever read regarding labor-management disputes it was a union DEMAND and a management OFFER.

I never thought of this type of slanting of news until it was brought to our attention.

How observing are people? Last Thursday I broke one lens in my glasses.

I decided to wear the glasses with one lens even though my wife thought it was a ridiculous thing to do. She felt that it would become immediately noticeable to everyone.

I wore the glasses constantly from Thursday night till Tuesday noon with a lens missing. During this time only two persons, Don Erla and Bill Kritzman, noticed it was gone.

My wife says that everybody noticed but were too polite to point out that a lens was missing.

Coach Wayne "Speed" Wilson is hoping that history will continue to repeat itself.

At the drawing for the District B tourney in Caro, Cass City drew a bye and will play the Bad Axe-Sandusky winner.

That's the same situation that prevailed last year when the Hawks upset the Redskins after losing to them twice during the year.

Speaking of basketball, never in recent years has there been a tourney with the favorite less clearly established. Marlette and Sandusky share the favorite's role, but Cass City could beat either of them. Just a step behind are the improving Lakers and Vassar.

Teachers Win $100 Pay Hike

Cass City teachers walked away from a two-hour salary session Thursday night, Feb. 20, with a pay raise and a bright future, even though they didn't get all they were asking.

The hike included a $50 addition to the increment, a $50 raise in base pay and a $600 jump in maximum pay. Also granted were extra remuneration for further teacher education and a change in sick leave benefits.

Approximately 17 teachers, including official representatives of the Teachers' Club, exchanged arguments with the board in an effort to push toward a compromise agreement.

The somewhat stormy session ended with one teacher commenting, "Thanks for treating us like human beings. It's the first time we've ever had a give-and-take session and we really appreciate it."

Increment Raise

In detail, the board agreed to the following: a $50 raise in base pay to $4,750; a $200 increment for first-year teachers and a $150 increment for the next 11 years. All teachers past the second year of experience will receive the $150 until they have reached the new maximum of $6,600.

For teachers who have been with the system for more than one year, the raise will mean $200 more next year. For the first year teacher, it will mean $250.

The $50 hike in increment and in base pay will cost the school an additional $4,500 next year for the 45 teachers involved.

In offering their proposal, Mrs. Lucy Starmann, Teachers' Club salary representative, presented suggestions by Mrs. Gerald Prieskorn, board member, made at a previous meeting and then submitted the teachers' proposition.

Mrs. Prieskorn's suggestions were essentially the same as was finally granted, except that a raise in base pay was not included and the new maximum was $6,550.

The teachers sought a straight $200 increment for 12 years and for the 14 teachers who had already reached the maximum, $200 per year until they reached the new maximum.

"No Point"

For a time it looked as though the talks would bog down over the increment issue. Robert Stickle, social studies teacher and one of the most outspoken supporters of the raise, charged that the salary meetings were of "no point." We offer suggestions and the board gives us what they think we should have."

Both Board President Horace Bulen and Board Member Don Reid concurred that there was a lack of planning in the salary situation. Reid suggested that a committee of teachers and board members get together, perhaps in the fall, and start work on salary problems.

Bulen remarked to Stickle that "We hope you don't think we're opposed to giving you a raise. We want you to understand that we are not at cross purposes . . . we're just limited in what we can do."

Lyle Clarke, agriculture instructor, another firm raise supporter, offered a strong argument by remarking, "How long are we going to be able to hire teachers out of colleges at what amounts to $3,739 in wages after deductions or about $71.00 per week?"

Bill Leverich, one of three non-teacher spectators, raised murmurs of protest when he argued that beginning teachers' pay was comparable to that of beginning engineers because teachers only work nine months per year. It was quickly explained that teachers actually work at least nine months and three weeks for their pay.

Mrs. Prieskorn, who offered the final increment motion, also set a pattern for future salary sessions by remarking that it would be a good idea to also investigate the teachers' proposal. Concluded on page four.

Analyze Area Sales

Rural per capita spending lags far behind the per capita sales of counties in metropolitan areas, judging by an analysis of sales tax returns for the fiscal year that ended in June of 1963.

The per capita sales tax figures of several counties were computed by Bob Myers, publisher of the Lapeer County Press, together with the per cent of increase of sales from 1961-62 to 1962-63.

Per capita sales are figured by taking the population of the county and dividing it into the sales tax collected. These are county figures and no breakdown is available for the amount of business conducted in each community within the county.

Per Capita Sales
Tuscola county	$40
Lapeer county	$47
Sanilac county	$42
Huron county	$49
St. Clair county	$51
Genesee county	$64
Oakland county	$66
Clinton county	$33
Livingston county	$43
Eaton county	$40
Wayne county	$62

The Tuscola county per capita sales are depressed by the patients at Caro State Hospital, who are counted in the population but buy very little merchandise. In Lapeer county, Myers deducted this population while figuring the per capita sales.

But even with this potential boost, the county does not rank. Concluded on page four.

Installed were: Patti Sawicki, scribe; Jacqueline Husa, treasurer, and Mary Golding, Diana Bryant, Sharon Hartel and Susan Bills, patrol leaders.

Also installed were Yvonne Erla, Bettse Betts, Gwen Bills and Barbara Crow, assistant patrol leaders. During an investiture held to pay special tribute to "Thinking Day", Feb. 22, Wanda Hacker and Bettse Betts, new members, were brought into the troop by Mrs. James Husa, leader.

Dues for the day were donated to the "Thinking Day Fund" which is used to start Girl Scout troops in countries where financial aid is needed.

IT SEEMS TO ME

Did You Ever See So Many Pipes?

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

One of the added pleasures available while dining in a restaurant these days is to watch the cigarette machine. In recent weeks I have watched people going by the machine with lifted chin and military bearing which hint at a battle, at once indicating victory over the enemy but with the right reserved to do battle again. Some look around to see how many others in the room are smoking and then, a little furtively, get a pack of cigarettes. I have noticed, too, in places of businesses as far away as Detroit, as close as the nearest eating place locally, and at intermediate locations, bright warning stickers attached near the money device, warning teen-agers that there is an age restriction in this state and the health hazard is mentioned. And did you ever see so many pipes?

Congratulations to Lt. Governor John Lesinski for doing some personal investigating and throwing his weight around (both bodily, of which he cannot deny he has plenty, and in terms of influence) concerning the availability of obscene magazines on Lansing newspapers. There are dangers in censorship but also dangers in having such magazines available; our kudos to the Lt. Governor. Or, so it seems to me!

IT'S A JOKE, SON! The weary husband was met at the door with sad news. "We'll have to eat out for dinner," his wife said cheerily. "I couldn't fix anything because the electricity went off."

"Electricity!" growled the husband. "We have a gas range." "I know," the wife went on, "but we have an electric can opener!"

Information has reached us that the American Medical Association has prepared a simple card that doctors say can save lives. Wallet-sized, the card is to be filled in with medical information that is needed when emergency treatment is called for. For example, this writer happens to be allergic to penicillin and in an accident away from home, could die before anyone knew of it. These cards are especially necessary for older people. To get one, write to Retirement Advisors, Dept. PC, 8 East 54th St., New York, N.Y. A card of this type, appropriately filled in, could well save your life!

The merger of the EUB Church and the Methodist Church has run into some threatening snags that could slow up the timetable of the union of the two churches. Accepted as nearly accomplished, the serious areas still not resolved could delay the merger at least four more years. This is to be regretted but the difference in sizes makes it difficult to be fair; what is fair for the smaller group is unfair for the larger. There would be ratio of about 14-1, the Methodists being the larger. For an item by item account of one man's feelings on them, see the "Michigan Christian Advocate," pages 6 and 7, issue of January 23, 1964.

The recent meeting of Pope Paul, head of the Roman Catholic Church, and Ecumenical Patriarch Athenagoras, head of the Eastern Orthodox Churches, was widely hailed as a reuniting of a split that took place 1054, A.D. It seems unrealistic to look for an organizational reunion in the foreseeable future; but just to have a channel of communication is a good sign. Or, so it seems to me!

The Aswan Dam on the River Nile in Egypt will cover hundreds of ancient manuscripts now in caves, graves and other similar hiding places. Dr. Bruce Metzger, a professor at Princeton Theological Seminary, already has found portions of the Christmas story. With fellow archaeologists, he is spending as much time as he can spare, trying to save the valuable manuscripts before the great dam makes further work there an impossibility. The manuscripts also include early church history, and are of extreme value in reconstructing the Gospels. Or, so it seems to me.

BULEN TALKS Cars

WHY COLD WEATHER MAKES CARS HARD TO START
Testing your anti-freeze for strength and your cooling system for leaks is a must in preparing your car for winter. But right next in importance is an ignition tune-up if you want to avoid waiting for the tow truck some morning not long from now.

Low temperature has two effects on automobile ignition: it reduces the energy output of the battery—the spark that kicks the motor into action—down to 40 per cent of its peak output, and it stiffens engine oil so that as much as 2½ times normal electrical power is required to move the engine.

These percentages are reached at zero temperature, which is more often than you think in a car left standing overnight in a winter wind. Peak efficiency for starting occurs at 80 degrees. For the battery, this drops to 65 per cent of efficiency at 32 degrees. Engine inertia increases 165 per cent at 32 degrees.

It is easy to see why, with the engine being 2½ times as hard to move, and the battery losing 60 per cent of its power to move it, that cars are hard to start on cold winter mornings.

Our service mechanics will check your battery for its charge rating and clean and tighten terminals. A minor tune-up will look after your plugs and points so that more of the battery's power will go to move the engine. Now is the time to use the new light multiple grade oils. The few cents additional in cost will pay for a lot of tow charges.

Thought For Lent

Rev. James Brail
Read John 19:23-25a.

We hear sermons and sing hymns which speak in glowing terms about the Cross. We forget that the cross was an instrument of execution which provided a cruel, torturous, barbaric method of putting a man to death. It served the same purpose as the gas chamber and electric chair and the gallows do today — to take a man's life.

In Jesus' day, as in ours, somebody had to carry out the execution. There had to be someone to pound the nails into the hands and feet of the condemned criminal. There had to be someone to hoist the cross into an upright position and then to wait until the criminal was pronounced dead.

Four Roman soldiers were selected for crucifixion duty the day that Jesus was crucified. It was customary for the clothing of the executed criminal to become the property of the soldiers who formed the execution squad. A Jew's clothing in Jesus' day consisted of five articles: the head-dress, the outer garment, the girdle, the shoes and the tunic or robe which he wore over the outer garment. Each soldier took one item, leaving the robe. They agreed that it was too good to be cut into four pieces. They decided to cast lots for it. By tossing the dice, one of them walked off with Jesus' robe.

While the soldiers were gambling for Jesus' garment, they weren't aware of what was happening on the cross. Jesus was gambling on them and on us. In dying on the cross He was betting

His life that we were worth dying for. He was playing for keeps, wagering His all that we might be reconciled to God.

Jesus is in the same business today as He was on the cross, the business of redeeming lives, setting men free and bringing healing to broken and sinful lives.

He calls us to prove by our lives that He made a good bet. He calls us to cast our lot with Him, not a piece of His clothing. Elton Trueblood in his book, "The Company of The Committed," says that the Christian life is the biggest venture on which a man can risk his life. It is the richest prize for which he can wager. The Christian gambles his life on the truth that life is most meaningful when he chooses to follow Christ. It is most blessed when he knows His fellowship. It is most virtuous when His Spirit dwells within us.

Studdert-Kennedy has described this passage of scripture in his poem, "Gambler."

"And sitting down they watched him there,
The soldiers did:
There, while they played with dice,
He made his sacrifice,
And died upon the cross to rid
God's world of sin.
He was a gambler, too, my
Christ,
He took his life and threw
It for a world redeemed.
And ere his agony was done,
Before the western sun
went down,
Crowning that day with crimson crown,
He knew that he had won."

Simple Solutions Sometimes Will Solve Complex Problems

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Color It Green

Simple solutions sometimes help with complicated problems. An example of such an idea is now before the Legislature. It might help in dealing with juvenile problems.

The House has sent to the Senate for consideration a measure to issue a distinctive driver's license for minors. Introduced by Rep. John Toepp, Cadillac Republican, the bill called for a green tint on driver's licenses provided for drivers under 21 years of age.

Differentiating between a minor and an adult on a driver's license would be an effective deterrent to "doctoring" licenses for use as proof of age. Michigan licenses have been claimed as doctor-proof for several years, but many minors have been able to beat the system of the special paper used.

A different color license probably would make "doctoring" more difficult. Another effect likely in the color change would be to readily identify minors in traffic violations.

There is a move afoot in the Legislature to bring juvenile motorists under Michigan's point system of traffic violations. With a different color license there would be no question, with or without the point system in effect, as to which motorists were in the juvenile range.

Juvenile delinquency, like the school dropout problem and a number of other questions facing state officials, is one in which some small effort could lead to a wise solution. Colored licenses might be the first major step in this area.

Drivers' license changes have been proposed in the past, however, and money to accomplish the aims has been a major obstacle.

Lawmakers and state administrators must weigh the question in this area of whether the investment in having different kinds of licenses is worth the corrections such a change might prompt.

The most recent example of proposed change not implemented is the license photo requirement enacted into law several years ago. Cost of the equipment needed has not been resolved yet. Legislative thinking this year indicates both the color change for minors and use of photos might be a fact of life in the near future.

Test of X-ray Machines

The danger point in human absorption of radiation has never been officially set by scientists, but every attempt is made to keep this exposure at a minimum.

X-rays, one source of radiation, are constantly under study to find ways to reduce the already slight amount of radiation emitted.

In dentistry, for example, a survey has been made throughout Michigan to protect the public where X-rays are concerned.

Test pictures were taken on about 3,500 dental X-ray machines in Michigan to measure the amount of radiation to which the dentist and his patients were subjected.

Beam size was measured in tests conducted by the State Health Department and dentists whose machines indicated excessive beam size were given a lead disc or filter to reduce the intensity.

Less than half the machines tested required adjustment, said Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis. The machine test is still under way and officials expect that the total reduction in radiation as a result of the program will amount to well over 1.5

TEACHERS' SALARIES

that the "base pay be raised to $5,000 as soon as financially possible." A tentative goal was set at 1965-66. The 1963-64 state median was $5,003.

Degree Compensation

Besides the increment, base and maximum increases, the board also granted extra compensation for teachers working for advanced degrees.

Previously, the school paid a flat $9.00 per credit hour. For example, a three credit course was worth $27.00 to the teacher taking it.

The board agreed to continue the $9.00 plus $100 per year after 15 hours credit toward a Master's Degree has been earned. After the M.A. degree, as an incentive to keep learning, $100 per year will be granted when 10 credit hours are earned in subjects specifically related to the subject matter taught or necessary for additional degrees.

Originally, it was suggested that the board drop the $9.00, but the teachers pointed out that while it paid less than half of the cost, it was still a help in defraying immediate costs of the course.

Last year the program cost the school approximately $500.

Sick Leave

One point the board and the teachers agreed upon was sick leave. Previously, teachers were allowed 10 days per year sick leave, accumulating to 30 days. Under the new setup, they still get 10 days per year, but accumulative to 90 days.

Another new clause is that upon retirement, one-half of the accumulated sick leave or a maximum of 45 days, is to be paid as terminal pay.

Seeks Extra Pay

A request by Orion Cardew that the board consider granting him supplemental pay for work in his department after and before the school year, was tabled until the next meeting.

Cardew explained that his duties as shop teacher require that he spend 12 days during the summer doing inventory, ordering supplies and other clerical work.

He contended that in the past, until two years ago, he had always received extra pay for the work and asked for similar pay starting this year.

Junior High Third In Cage Tourney

Cass City won the consolation trophy in the Junior High tournament held last week at Caro. Their only loss was to the eventual champions, Marlette.

They dropped the opening game to the tournament champions and then went on to defeat Elkton and Bad Axe to finish third.

Possibly the most unusual game of the three played was in the battle for third place against Bad Axe. Cass City won easily and in the first quarter held the Hatchets without a point as the team jumped into a 17-0 lead. The final score was 53-87.

In the second game, Cass City topped Elkton, 24-28.

In the three games, Dave Bliss was the leading scorer. He netted 45 points in the three games. Ron Weippert was effective in controlling the backboards and John Maharg helped the Hawks with 33 points during the tourney games.

Men run into trouble and swear that trouble runs after them.

Be sure you are right—then pause a moment for reflection.

There's always a vacancy for the man who has made good.

THIS BATTLE FOR THE rebound was won by Mike Dixon of the Lakers as he tipped the ball away from Ed Retherford Friday. Cass City rallied in the last half to win the game. (Chronicle photo)

Hawks Squeak by Lakers with Last Half Rally Friday, 56-54

Cass City staged a last half rally to defeat the improving Lakers of Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Friday on the spacious Laker floor. The score was 56-54.

The game was far different than the first game between the two clubs when Cass City walked off with an easy victory, 84-45.

Coach Wayne "Speed" Wilson used a zone defense during the entire first half and Coach Ed Wolford's quintet took advantage of it to take a first half lead.

At the end of the first quarter the Hawks were in front, 10-9.

But in the second period the Lakers found the range. With John Anderson hitting from the corner they moved into a 27-22 lead at the intermission. It was the lowest scoring game for the Hawks since the second game of the season against Vassar.

The Lakers continued to hold their advantage, until midway in the third quarter when Wilson sent his charges into a full court press. The tempo of the game changed and the Hawks started to close the gap.

At the end of three quarters, the margin was down to just two points, 40-38. The lead changed hands several times in the fourth quarter before Cass City took the lead with about four minutes to go.

With 30 seconds left, they were in front by four points. The Lakers scored with five seconds left to close the gap to one basket.

But Walt Hempton took the ball and dribbled around for the final seconds to clinch the victory.

Hempton led the Hawks with 17 points. Ed Retherford had 10 was well divided.

Anderson paced the Lakers with 21 points and Mike Dixon chipped in 16 to keep the game close.

The box score:

Cass City	FG	FT	FA	PTS
Hempton	8	1	1	17
Retherford	5	0	2	10
Randall	1	2	3	4
Champion	2	2	2	6

Lynn Atwell Only Triple Winner at Top Ski Meet

Lynn Atwell, Cass City's 11-year-old ski ace, focused state and national sports attention on Cass City Saturday and Sunday when she grand slammed her way to three firsts at the Central Division, United States Ski Association, meet at Nub's Nob near Petoskey.

Lynn became the only triple winner at the event by taking firsts in down-hill and giant slalom on Saturday and another first in the slalom on Sunday in her category, Class IV, girls 11 and under.

Approximately 150 skiers from the 10-state Central Division attended the meet. The Central Division is one of the largest divisions, both in land area and states, in the nation. Participation in the events was by invitation and competitors had to be regional winners.

The meet was the last major competition for the year for Lynn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Atwell, Cass City. Only Classes I and II go on to national competition.

Associated Press and United Press International, both national press organizations, covered the meet.

Slate Open House At LaFave Home

All electric living will be the highlight at the open house to be held by Mr. and Mrs. Roy LaFave at their new home in Gage-town on Friday and Saturday, Mar. 6-7. The home is located at 4844 South Street and will be open in the afternoon and evening both days.

The new home is all-electric in every respect and is designed to remain modern for years to come. Instead of furnace or boiler, the LaFave home has flameless baseboard heating units with individual thermostats in each room. This complete zone control makes it possible for each room thermostat to be set at a different temperature to suit the comfort requirements of the occupants.

Other electrical features of the home are built-in surface cooking units, built-in oven, automatic washer and dryer and automatic water heater. Certified wiring, approved by the Michigan Electrical Industry Association, assures full use of appliances and outlets throughout the house without worry of fuse burn-outs or overloaded circuits. Light for Living, in accordance with the recommendations of the Electric Living Division of the Detroit Edison Company, enhances the beauty of the home and provides comfort for all seeing tasks.

The home has a spacious living room, dining area, two bedrooms, utility room, kitchen, bath and attached garage.

In recognition of the modern electrical excellence of the home, Mr. and Mrs. LaFave have been presented with a Total Electric Gold Medal Home Award by Detroit Edison.

State's Day Set At World's Fair

By Elmer E. White

Michigan Press Association
Michigan in New York

Proclaimed as a never-to-be-duplicated extravaganza, the 1964-65 World's Fair at New York will have a substantial contribution from Michigan.

In addition to the major display units being constructed by Michigan firms, probably most notably the auto companies, the special state participation will be timely.

"Michigan Day" at the World's Fair will be the first day of "Michigan Week" here. For the first time, the annual state promotion will have a national exposure. Ralph Swan, who has been associated with economic development projects and Michigan Week events for several years, is spearheading the "Michigan Day" plans.

Breakfasts for alumni of the University of Michigan and Michigan State University will start the activities in New York May 18. Graduates of other Michigan colleges and actually every former Michigan resident in the New York area on that date will have an opportunity to attend the sessions.

Later that day Gov. George Romney will lead a delegation of an estimated 800 state government, business and industry leaders attending the Fair on Michigan Day.

With transportation facilities very convenient from many Michigan cities to New York, thousands of state residents are already planning trips to the World's Fair. State planners are hoping many of them will be on hand May 18 for the official tribute to Michigan.

1900 Dead

Statistics can be deceiving, but a careful look at complete sets of records usually can give the full picture.

The traffic fatality toll for 1963, for example, indicated that at least 1,867 persons died. This was just a provisional total, however, and State Police are now estimating the count will be closer to 1,900 when the last delayed reports are made to East Lansing.

This is far from the whole story on roadway tragedies. The full picture can only be seen by taking into consideration the total number of accidents, injuries and dollar losses.

A staggering $240 million is the cost figure placed on 1963 Michigan traffic accidents by the National Safety Council.

This is based on a complicated formula including property damage, medical expenses, insurance costs and loss of wages.

The total of 257,694 accidents was reported during the period. Nearly half of the accidents resulted in personal injuries. Childs said the injury total of 123,749 was the worst on record for a 12-month period.

Horsin' Around

An innovation in conservation work may be seen within the next year or two. It could provide new avenues of recreation for Michigan's citizens.

A group of 21 senators led by Sen. William G. Milliken, R-Traverse City, has sponsored a measure to create a state system of horse trails and hiking networks.

This idea originally came forth nearly two years ago in a report of a private organization, the Michigan Natural Resources Council.

Duties of setting up the two systems would be given to the State Conservation Department and a special riding and hiking trails advisory committee.

Under Milliken's bill a survey would be required to determine the available routes, develop a master plan and put the plan into use. The advisory committee proposal should meet previous objections relating to conservation matters in the state.

The proposal called for the Conservation Director to appoint a seven-member committee with two of the members from each of three districts. The Upper Peninsula, Northern Lower Michigan and Southern Lower Michigan would have regional members on the committee and the seventh person would be named on an at-large basis.

Camp sites are referred to in Milliken's measure, but it would be left up to the committee and Conservation Department the extent to which such facilities would be included with the trails system.

Conservationists view the possibilities for development of this new system as tremendous. With a minimum purchase of land throughout the state many more scenic spots not now accessible by car would be brought close to the tourist.

Horseback riding, once considered on the wane because of the urbanization of the state, could be revitalized greatly by facilities for its enthusiasts.

Charity and fault-finding are two things that often begin at home.

KOMMENTS BY KRAFT

A Genius Type Husband And A Nagging Wife

By Dave Kraft

Tuesday night, over one of the local television stations, comes a dramatic and stirring drama called "Divorce Court."

It opens by threatening the viewer with the fact that sometime or other, either through your friends, enemies, relatives, yourself or complete strangers, you will be affected by divorce.

Using real actors and real cases, the show proceeds to show you what you're in for if you ever try to untie the marital knot.

Every now and then there is a disturbance of some sort, a mother jumping to her feet to call her spouse a lout or a father jumps to his feet to call his wife a louse or the judge jumps to his feet because his leg has gone to sleep.

At these, the most interesting parts of the show, the producers insert, a word from our sponsor. You can usually count on a disturbance every 15 minutes.

The other night the case involved an inventive, creative, genius-type husband and a nagging, bickering, overbearing wife. She was suing for divorce because her inventor husband hadn't invented anything, much less a paycheck, for the 20 years they'd been married.

Immediately recognizing the husband as a kindred spirit, I took up his cause and my wife, because the other woman was obviously wrong, took her side.

Toward the end of the program I stupidly asked my wife if she thought the woman would get her divorce and she said, of course, because the man was a good for nothing, lazy individual.

This naturally triggered a fight and for awhile it looked as if we might have to ask the judge on TV to arbitrate. After a time, I conceded, mostly because my wife was giving me an Indian burn.

What I'm leading up to is this... can I sue the network for alienation of affection? Probably not. They'd just show that there wasn't any affection involved and then what would I do?

You know what this town needs? It needs a good cultural organization. A group that devotes time to furthering the understanding of creative arts and the development of creative talents.

A group that would study the various arts, such as music, writing, painting and so forth, for one, two or three months per field. A group that would study a subject's history, great contributors and mechanics.

Or so it seems to me... (Where have I heard that before?)

Mrs. Earl Beyette, whose husband develops our pictures, took a look at the picture. I ran last week of me with my beard and wrote: "Dear Dave, In another week or so you will look like our

MSU Scholarships Available to Farm Bureau Members

Three scholarships for young people are now available through Michigan State University, according to Mrs. Clare Carpenter, chairman of the Information Division of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau.

They include a scholarship for a junior or senior at MSU in the amount of the general fee for one year, which is over $300; a short course scholarship for $100, and a practical nursing scholarship for $200.

There is no age limit on the practical nursing scholarship, but the applicant must have evidence of having been accepted by a school.

The scholarships are a gift, not a loan, and can be renewed for one year.

Requirements are that applicants must be a Farm Bureau member or a member of a Farm Bureau family and be willing to prove financial need.

Those interested should contact Mrs. Marjorie Karker, Michigan Farm Bureau, 4000 N. Grand River Ave., Lansing, 4 Mich. Necessary forms for application will be sent upon request.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

This "adult education" drive they been putting on everywhere final got down to the country store Saturday night. The feller that runs the store pasted a map of Asia up on the wall. He allowed as how he was getting tired of hearing the fellers argue if this or that country was in South America or Africa when it wasn't in neither one.

You will recollect here a while back Zeke Grubb was claiming Vietnam was in South America while most of the fellers claimed it was in Africa. This is to report, Mister Editor, that it is in Asia and all the fellers could see it plum good on the map Saturday night.

Incidental, this is the first time they has been any remodeling or redecorating at the country store since 1927 when somebody pasted a picture of Lindberg on the meat counter. That big color map of Asia give the place some class and I'm expecting the price of bread to get "adjusted" up about 2 cents more on the loaf.

Zeke come across the country of Cambodia on the map and this called for some discussion. Zeke ain't much on maps but he carries in his head all the latest figgers on foreign aid. Zeke is one of them fellers, Mister Editor, that thinks big and way out. He can tell you the import duty on cotton and give you the figgers on how much wheat we exported to the world in 1963 but he couldn't tell you to save his life the local tax rate for 1964.

Well, anyhow, Zeke got purple around the ears when he come across this Cambodia country. He reported this was the country that took our aid money for eight long years to the tune of $365 million, built roads, factories and schools with it, then joined up in December with Russia and told us to git our military base out of the country and be on our way.

The fellers was all agreed that the Government does some funny things with the taxpayers money. Furthermore, claimed Bug Hookum, things was getting worse instead of better. Bug allowed as how he was looking any day now for one of them Government research agencies to appropriate $100,000 to find out why a chicken crosses the road.

Clem Webster brung out a clipping he cut from the papers and showed it to the fellers. It reported the Chinese Reds was claiming "Comrade Nitika is a psalm-singing buffoon" and that he is reading the Bible. Clem said them Chinese got shoe-pounding mixed up with psalm-singing and it was agreed by all that ole Khrushy ain't guilty and ain't qualified yet for Sunday School teaching.

It was voted unanimous to paste this clipping over Cambodia on the new map and cover up that $365 million rat hole.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

4-H Service Club Plans Exchange Trip

The Tuscola County 4-H Service Club discussed its inter-state exchange trip to New York and new members that will be taken in during the April meeting, according to David McNaughton, reporter.

The meeting was called to order by Sheryl Severance in the absence of the president.

Ed Schrader, county 4-H club agent, told the group about the arrangements being made for the exchange program with 4-H clubs in New York. It was decided that those club members interested in the exchange program will be selected by a prepared speech given before the club in May.

New members will be initiated into the club in May, McNaughton concluded.

Walker Cisler, with Miss Marilyn Ayler of his staff, reviews some of the many letters received in response to the series of messages of which this is the concluding one.

To the Families
Whose Homes are Served by EDISON

I've been writing periodically over the past several months to tell you something about Detroit Edison—to outline some of its principles and policies; to remind you of the services offered you; to reiterate our earnest desire to act in the best interest of you and our other customers throughout Southeastern Michigan.

We have great faith in our state's future and pledge that we will do our share to assure that future. We're happy to be a part of the busy Michigan scene.

Though this concludes this series of letters, it will not end our endeavors to keep you informed about our company and the industry of which we are a part.

To those of you who have written in response to one or another of my letters, I am especially appreciative. Your comments have been most helpful. If you have a question in the future about the company or any of our programs, always feel free to contact my office directly, or any of the 73 Edison customer offices in the area we serve.

It has been pleasant for me to have had this opportunity to communicate with you and to tell you how the Detroit Edison system serves you.

Sincerely,

Walker L. Cisler
