

From the Editor's Corner

I spent the week end in East Lansing watching the state finals and semifinals basketball tournament games, a jaunt that has become a tradition over 13 straight years.

There's a lesson to be gleaned from the performances. This column pointed out a week or so ago that students are learning more and more and at the time I referred to academic studies.

But the same comment could be made about the physical program. The players of today do fantastic things on a basketball court and move with grace and agility that would have been considered impossible in just the short span that I have been a tournament spectator.

I suspect that the adults would rather see a home talent show staged by the Lions and Gavel Club instead of the Kenny Roberts' Hootenanny show scheduled Thursday, April 16.

But judging by the reaction of my four-year-old son the clubs have picked a children's winner with what my boy calls the "jumping cowboy." You parents can kill a couple of birds with one stone if you buy tickets to the event. You'll be pleasing the kids and helping the benefit programs of both clubs.

Tax Returns Lagging

With close to $50,000 left on the Tuscola County tax roll, County treasurer Arthur Willits expressed dissatisfaction with this year's tax collections.

"Tax returns are not quite as good as last year," he commented Tuesday in an interview. He reported that $49,313.38 in county tax is still to be collected from a total tax roll of $881,924.51.

The two top townships were Columbia with 98.88 per cent of its taxes collected and Gifford with 98.68 per cent of its collections in.

Five local townships were close behind.

Elkland Top in collection in the area, with 97.97 per cent of its collections made, was Elkland township. With a total tax roll of $229,591.14, the township reported $224,737.02 had been collected, leaving a balance of $4,854.12 on.

THUMPER MacRAE, he's the rabbit, accepts a handful of sugar coated cereal from his mistress, Margaret MacRae. Thumper is a four-year-old Easter bunny who hasn't been living up to his Easter traditions because, he thinks he's a human. Margaret is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. K. I. MacRae, Cass City, and Thumper... well, he's a member of the family, too. (Chronicle photo)

Rabbit in House Is Hare-raising

With Easter just days away, Cass City bunnies are out scouting hiding places for their Easter eggs. All of them, that is, except a large black and white rabbit named Thumper who lives with the Dr. K. I. MacRae family in Cass City.

Thumper, a four-year-old Checkered Giant, is the pet of Margaret MacRae, 14, and if the truth were known, hasn't laid an Easter egg in his life.

As a matter of fact, Thumper doesn't even consider himself to be a rabbit. He'd prefer to be thought of as a dog... or, better still, a human... In any event, he's firmly entrenched himself as a member of the family.

Thumper arrived at the MacRae home four years ago this Easter after considerable coaxing by Margaret. Her parents explained that rabbits were live-stock and couldn't be kept in the town.

Margaret finally wore down their resistance and Thumper was purchased from Jim Tuckey, Cass City.

He got out of his pen the first night and ever since has had the run of the house.

One of the first questions that arises in the mind of the casual observer, as soon as he gets over the shock of seeing a rabbit bounding around the living room, is the matter of hygiene. Does Thumper ever forget that he's not outside?

"Very Clean" "He's very clean and completely house-broken," Mrs. MacRae reports. "He trained himself," she says.

Thumper starts every day with the same ritual. He thumps his way up the basement stairs to the door of the kitchen. He scratches at the door and upon being let in, heads for the refrigerator.

At the refrigerator he performs his only trick, standing on his hind legs, until someone gives him a carrot.

Likes Bananas "You get some insight of Thumper's thinking from his eating habits. He goes for such un-rabbitish items as fruit, sugar coated cereal and bananas.

The MacRaes discovered Thumper's appetite for bananas when he got up on a table and ate a bowl of fruit.

Life with Thumper hasn't been all a bowl of carrots. "The worst thing he ever did," Mrs. MacRae points out, "was to eat the centerpiece I had prepared for a luncheon for Dr. MacRae's guests."

Rather than explain that a rabbit had eaten the centerpiece, Mrs. MacRae prepared another.

Thumper also had a penchant for chewing things. "It became quite a problem until we got some salt tablets," says Mrs. MacRae. He liked light cords, furniture and carpeting.

Best Friend One of Thumper's best friends is Blackie, a 12-year-old dog who probably thinks she too is a human. Blackie is not only a friend, she has appointed herself Thumper's protector.

"They're good friends," Mrs. MacRae tells, "and the dog protects him."

"Last summer we were on vacation and the neighbors were taking care of the dog and rabbit. Thumper got out of his cage and Blackie wouldn't let the neighbors put him back. They finally managed to bribe Blackie away with a piece of meat," she relates.

"It was the same thing last summer with other dogs. Blackie kept them all away while Thumper was outside."

Jealous Even though they are good friends, Thumper is extremely jealous of any attention lavished on Blackie. Mrs. MacRae related an incident in which she was sitting talking with Blackie on the basement steps.

Thumper bounced around behind her, put his feet on Mrs. MacRae's back and began scratching her to divert her attention from the dog.

The friendship may end before too many years. As dogs go, Blackie is 84. She spends much of her time in the sun or lying down, and her time is running out.

As rabbits go, Thumper is probably the most unpretentious rabbit around and he adapts well to almost any situation. During part of the interview, he napped while lying on his back in Margaret's arms.

Mrs. MacRae remarked that it is not unusual for Thumper to join members of the family in a

4 Injured in Area Accidents

Four Cass City area persons received injuries in three accidents investigated by area police during the week.

Three Cass City teenagers escaped with bumps and bruises Sunday when their car turned over on Cedar Run Road, two miles south of Gageton.

Bad Axe State Police report the accident happened when Judy Quick, 18, Cass City, lost control of her car on a curve. The vehicle went off the road and turned over. Troopers blamed breaking up of the edge of the roadway as the cause of the accident.

Biding with Miss Quick were Marilyn Roch, 17, and Roger Reid, 12.

Blame Rubbish Burners for Four Area Grass Fires

Grass fires blackened several acres of Cass City area farmland in four fires reported over a three-day period early this week.

Twenty-five mile an hour winds kept firemen at a grass fire at the Greenleaf school late Tuesday afternoon for over two hours. Several acres of land were burned, including a number of trees. Sparks from burning rubbish started the fire.

A fire at the Greenleaf township dump, seven miles north-east of Cass City, spread to adjacent fields Sunday and burned off approximately 40 acres before Cass City firemen could bring it under control. Some timber was also destroyed.

Monday afternoon was the busiest day for local firemen with two fires reported within an hour and a half of each other.

Firemen were called to the Norman McCready farm seven and a half miles west of Cass City at about 5:00 p.m. Monday to put out a grass fire which had spread to a stand of small cedars and threatened to destroy the woodlot.

Approximately 10 acres were burned, including some of the trees and some cedar logs. Elkland Township fire department treasurer Fritz Neitzel reported the fire started from sparks from a neighbor's trash burner.

Earlier in the afternoon, at about 2:30, firemen were called to Herr Radiator Shop east of the village when sparks from a rubbish burner started a grass fire. Residents had the fire under control before firemen arrived and damage was slight.

The county's dry weather was blamed for several grass fires which raged throughout the county during the past week, and firemen are urging extreme caution when burning trash.

The bride is the former Kay Frances Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Madison Jones Jr. of Jesup, Ga. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. Patterson of Argyle.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length wedding gown of silk face peaux and Chantilly lace. The lace formed the bodice which featured a Sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt with inverted pleats fell into a chapel train with lace motifs and large bow highlights. The shoulder length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a cluster of organza roses and pearl-tipped leaves.

She carried a white satin Bible topped with a white orchid showered with Franchised carnation, pearls, illusion and bridal satin streamers.

Miss Joan Pittman was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of pink satin which featured a bell-shaped skirt and matching bolero. Her headpiece was a veiled crown of pink velvet. She carried a cascade bouquet of blue iris and white daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sandra Jones, sister of the bride, and Miss Linda Hires. They wore dresses of blue satin designed like that of the honor attendant. Their cascade bouquets were of white iris and pink daisies.

Ronald Webb of Ft. Stewart, Ga., was best man. Usher-groomsman were Huey Hayes and Purvis Gaspard of Ft. Stewart.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Imogene Tyre, aunt of the bride, greeted the guests.

Miss Betty Sue Spinner kept the bride's book. Serving were Mrs. Jimmy Fennell, Mrs. Warren Strickland and Mrs. Elmo Bennett.

Out of town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Perry of Cass City.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15½-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space.
This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over).
Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

History of Eating Utensils WSC Meeting Topic

Eating utensils and their history were the topic of a talk presented by Mrs. Keith McConkey Tuesday afternoon at a Woman's Study Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Ronald Keegan. Mrs. McConkey showed the 20 persons attending the meeting various types of eating utensils. She explained that shells were the first aid to eating and that the spoon was the first piece of tableware to be fashioned, followed by the knife and fork.

SPRING COMPLAINT

This time of year there is one service problem that every car owner should attend to without delay. It is mis-aligned front wheels due to winter ruts and spring potholes.

The pothole problem is a temporary one, of course, but it is the grand finale to a torture test you have been giving your car over winter's ice and ruts. The aftermath can include cut tires and damage to springs, shocks, wheel bearings, tie-rod ends and the whole exhaust system.

The best remedy for potholes is to cut your speed so you miss as many as possible. But even though you miss 'em all, you can be sure that the rough roads of winter have set you up for some major bills in the future, unless you take preventive action now.

Failure to correct misalignment can result in rapid and excessive wear to your front tires. We will be glad to check your alignment along with a general examination of your muffler, tail pipe, brakes, etc. Tightening body rattles in a few crucial spots is also a good idea. Winter is tough on shock absorbers and in any once-over they should receive special attention.

Like good doctors, our mechanics have no desire to operate unless absolutely necessary. If there is nothing wrong, they'll tell you.

Battle Location of Convalescent Home

A controversy is raging in Sanilac county over the location of the proposed new county convalescent hospital. The principal point of contention is the facility's erection in connection with the proposed general hospital at Sandusky.

The proposition was discussed Thursday, Mar. 19, at Decker-ville at one of several special meetings scheduled throughout the county to study the question.

Dr. James R. Cripps, Marlette, was the chairman of the meeting and members of the supervisors' hospital committee served as a discussion panel.

The panel defended the combined hospital plan and said that the failure of the Sandusky general hospital was "unthinkable." The terms of the 99-year lease of the Sandusky hospital ground states that if the general hospital building is no longer used as a hospital, the building and land reverts to the county.

Hospital Auxiliary Talks Equipment

Hills and Dales General Hospital's Women's Auxiliary heard hospital administrator Richard Palm discuss modern cardiac resuscitation equipment at a meeting held Monday afternoon at the hospital.

The resuscitation machine was demonstrated at the group's last meeting and is under consideration as an addition to the hospital equipment.

In other business, it was announced that bridge tournament play-offs will be held in May. Legislative news was reported by Miss Nina McWebb in regard to pending bills dealing with hospitals and patient care.

The next auxiliary meeting will be Monday, April 27, at 2:00 p.m. in the hospital meeting room.

Gavel Invitational Track Meet Lists Record Entries

One of the fastest growing track meets in the state, the Gavel Club Invitational, is continuing to set new records, Bob Stickle, tournament manager, said this week.

With the meet a full month away, already some 33 teams have indicated that they will send representatives to Cass City April 25.

The response assures the meet of more entries than ever before. Schools represented will range from "A" size (the largest) to "D" size (the smallest) and come from as far away as Rochester and Midland.

Flint schools, which have dominated the meet in past years, will again be well represented with five entries. The schools expected to compete include:

Flint Ainsworth, Akron-Fair-grove, Flint Atherton, Bad Axe, Flint Beecher, Flint Bentley, Saginaw Buena Vista, Midland Bullock Creek, Clio, Davison, Saginaw Douglas MacArthur, Flint Hamady, Harbor Beach, Hemlock, Flint Kearnsley, Lakers, Otisville, Lakeville, Marlette, Mayville, Merrill, Mt. Morris, Port Huron Catholic, Reese and Rochester.

Others are: Sandusky, St. Louis, Vassar, Uby, Cass City, Frankenmuth, Caro and Flushing.

Band Wins Five II Ratings at State Festival

Thirteen Cass City band students played their way to five II ratings at the State Solo and Ensemble Festival held Saturday in Grand Rapids, according to Ronald Walker, band director.

Two of the students also passed proficiency tests. They were Charles Iseler, senior, second proficiency, and James Husa, sophomore, first proficiency.

Other Cass City students participating in the festival were: Gerald Gunther, Dave Gunther, Mick Pomeroy, Charles Peasley, Bonnie Spencer, Bob Spencer, Jon Avery, Ann Sheppard, Donald Joos, Joyce Smentek and Evelyn Smentek.

Next major program on the band's agenda is the Spring Concert slated for April 24 in the High School gym.

The underdog may get sympathy, but that never evens the score.

Rate Increase For Parcel Post Starts April 1

Parcel post rates will jump April 1, Cass City Postmaster Lewis Bishop reminded patrons this week. The increase will average about 13.1 per cent and yield about $75.4 million annually.

Also increased by about 13 per cent will be catalog rates which is expected to add about $2.4 million to postal revenues, based on current volume.

It will be the first increase since Feb. 1, 1960, in parcel post rates, Bishop said.

To illustrate, the postmaster pointed out, a six-pound parcel, average weight for local area delivery, will cost 37c instead of 32c.

RABBIT RULES ROOST

Thumper, like most people, thrives on notoriety and has appeared in several children's pet parades. Once he won fourth prize in the Summer Recreation program's "Parade on Wheels."

The rabbit's residency in the MacRae home is viewed with mixed emotions. Margaret, of course, thinks having a rabbit for a relative is fine.

Mrs. MacRae calls him a "spoiled rabbit," and Dr. MacRae, who, according to his wife, "tolerates" Thumper, concedes he's "amusing." David MacRae wasn't available for comment.

Mrs. MacRae concluded the interview with a remark about Thumper's love for sugar coated cereal. "I've often thought, after seeing that Trix commercial, that I'd write the company and tell them that Trix are for rabbits."

Easter Seals Help Locally, Nationally

The Tuscola County Crippled Children and Adults Society is staging its annual Easter seal campaign, Mrs. Margaret Gee announced this week.

The Seal money is used for the care of 250,000 crippled children. Locally the volunteer organization has been active in the last year. Crutches for a child; special shoes and rebuilt shoes for 10 children; examinations; wheel chair for a child, and many other related services have been performed in the area.

The local group is a member of state and national societies and part of the money received goes for research, rehabilitation centers and hospitals and convalescent care, authorities said.

Zontians Name Mrs. Ed Baker To Head Club

Also named to Zonta offices were: Mrs. Russell Leeson, vice-president; Mrs. George Roch, secretary; Mrs. Albin Stevens, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry Little, Mrs. Willard Agar and Mrs. Esther McCullough, board of directors. Mrs. Almer Krueger was named entertainment committee chairman.

Miss Tineke vanEerde, Netherlands exchange student, gave background on her country's family life, cities, religion and schools. She was introduced by Mrs. James Ballard, program chairman.

Accompanying Miss van Eerde were Mrs. Gilbert Albee and her daughter, Dee Ellen. Miss vanEerde is currently staying with the Albees.

In other business, the club heard a report on the rummage sale held recently. Proceeds from the sale will go for a scholarship. Members of the scholarship committee are Mrs. Ballard, chairman, Mrs. Agar and Mrs. McCullough.

Mrs. Baker was elected as a delegate to the Zonta International Convention slated for July 5-9 in San Francisco. Mrs. Cameron Martin was named alternate.

IT'S SERIOUS BUSINESS when a young lady starts to select her Easter bonnet... especially when she helped to make it. Trying one of the many creations of paper and ribbon created by the Kindergarten class at Cass City School is Laurie Decker. Helping her with the big decision is Mrs. Betty Murphy, teacher. ### Feeding Contrasts To Highlight Tour

Contrasts in operations of cattle feeding will be the highlight of a tour for cattle feeders slated in Tuscola county Tuesday, Mar. 31, according to the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service.

The tour will feature a visit to three farms, two using the latest in modern equipment on high priced land and the other a home-made or conventional lot utilizing cheap land, authorities said.

The cheap land operation will be viewed at the Frank Fuller feed lot, four miles northeast of Caro on M-81, and a half mile east on Gerou road. It starts at 10 a.m.

At the lot 80 to 90 head of common Michigan type cattle, including some Holsteins, are fed. Surplus feed with special emphasis on corn silage is used.

At 11:15 a.m. the lots of Ed Goodchild and sons and Howard Foster and Larry Bauer will be visited. They are located 2 3/4 miles south of Fairgrove.

Both of these farms have recently moved into cattle feeding on a larger scale. New silos, push button automatic feed handling, divided feed lot, using high moisture corn are some of the features.

Quality Angus and Hereford steers are fed. Storing of liquid manure on the Foster farm and its advantages will be explained. A visiting expert on the tour will be Bob Deans, extension specialist in the animal husbandry department at Michigan State University.

Lunch will be served at the last stop through the courtesy of Detroit Edison Co.

Mrs. Boyne, co-chairman of the Tuscola County Women's Community Committee, and Lotter were guest speakers for the evening, promoting greater interest in Farm Bureau.

Rinard Knoblet led the group discussion of the topic, "Farm Control Bills Cancel Farm Voice." The group will meet with Mrs. Mack Little April 20. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

March 19, 1964
To the Editor
The Cass City Chronicle
Cass City, Michigan

May I express my appreciation of the March 12th reporting of my retirement from the County Department of Social Welfare? The article was factual, well written and illustrated and it was doubly appreciated as it called attention to the work being done in the county through the Nursing Home. It called attention to the fact that this is an institution built by the county, staffed by county personnel and for service to county people. Something of a rarity in these days when we are inclined to look to the State and Federal governments for all kinds of services. The Home is always open to visitors for inspection and the patients welcome friends and relatives during visiting hours. Again I would like to thank your staff for the lively interest shown by your article.

Yours very truly,
Irl L. Baguley, Director
Tuscola County Department of Social Welfare

Vets Benefits Not Social Service

The State Commanders of Veterans' organizations together with other spokesmen concerned with veteran's benefits, opposed proposals which would place veteran's programs under a "Department of Social Services" in comments before a Lansing legislative committee hearing.

They took exception to the idea that veterans' benefits were "social welfare" programs and as such should be placed under a "Social Services Department." They also vigorously opposed a proposal to place the Michigan Veteran's Facility in Grand Rapids under the State Health Department.

In a statement following the meeting the elder statesmen of the Commanders Group, Guy W. Graham of Kalamazoo, 84-year-old Commander of the Michigan Department of the United Spanish War Veterans stated: "Both sadness and anger compel me to remind those whose memories are short that every veterans' benefit ever enacted in my lifetime, whether by Federal, State or County Governments, has recognized the principle that such benefits were not charity nor welfare. Veterans' benefits have always been recognized by the American people as benefits authorized for those who served in the Armed Forces of this country in time of war or national emergency."

The couple request no gifts.

I've Seen About Everything When . . .

By Dave Kraft

Anybody remember Walt Disney's full-length feature about "Dumbo, the Flying Elephant?" It concerned a little elephant and his friend, a little mouse.

Dumbo could fly. This peculiarity caused the leader of a troop of crows to comment, "I done seen about everything . . . when I seen a elephant fly."

I was standing in front of the office the other day, looking east down Main Street, and this thought occurred to me. I done seen about everything . . . when I seen:

Meredith Auten getting a loan from the Pinney State Bank.

Frederick Pinney opening an account at the Cass City State Bank . . . under his name.

Millard Ball getting a grease job at Clare & Andy's and Cliff Ferguson buying tires from ST&H.

Joe Riley buying his shoes at Kritzman's and Bill Kritzman buying a tie from Federated Store.

Gerald Prieskorn checking out items at Hunter's Dime Store and Bill Hunter washing windows at Prieskorn's Ben Franklin.

Scotty McCullough getting a prescription filled at Wood's Drug Store and Tom Proctor buying a bottle of aspirins at Mac & Scotty Drug.

Farm Produce buying some fertilizer from Agrico and Caro

Farmers Co-op referring its customers to Frutchey Bean.

John Sommers munching on a donut in Konwalski's Bakery or Konrad frosting a cake at Sommers.

Leo Ware telling Frank Meiser to load up his fuel oil tank and Frank telling Ken Copeland to "Fill 'er up."

Thumb Appliance's Harold Asher buying a color TV from Schneberger's or Ken Churchill, Thumb's chief repairman, installing an antenna for Bud Schneberger.

Harry Lenda from IGA, buying all his groceries at Hartwick's and Arlan Hartwick boxing groceries at Freiburger's Grocery.

Lloyd Bryant sweeping the floor at Bigelow's and Lloyd Vyse of Bigelow's asking Gib Albee for a three-sixteenths socket for a socket wrench he bought at Gamble's.

Brooks Fleming chowing down at Sherman's and Pat Martin booking the New Gordon Hotel for a banquet.

Dave Kraft writing a religious column and Bob Seav's writing a humor col . . . Oops, he's just liable to do it and I'll be out of work.

I could go on with this as long as twin businesses hold out, but I think you get the idea.

Here's a good one . . . Bill Johnston telling Dwaine Peters, "Just a little off the top."

I'm not saying these things haven't happened, or that they won't . . . it's just that when I do see them happen, I'll flap my ears and fly away.

Well, unless things start picking up, your old Uncle Dave is going to be spending the long, hot summer with his feet in his daughter's wading pool. Frankly, I don't think there's enough room for Vern Bothell, his 20 dogs and my two "dogs" in that swimming pool.

Not one $25.00 check have I received nor one tin of caviar. Smoked oysters have I none and as far as I know, my tent will be a star-filled sky.

Here's something that might help. We'll use the community or neighborhood plan. Five people, with five dollars each, makes $25.00.

Or, if necessary, I'll make arrangements for $1.00 down and a dollar a week.

If you've really got your heart set on contributing to this most commendable of all charities, I'll do my utmost to help you out.

Possibility of Ballot Box Chaos Grows Stronger Daily

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
When To Vote?
Delay of the fall election primary grows as a possibility almost daily in Michigan, and the prospect for ballot-box chaos is expanding.

Still a big question mark are two major groups of offices. Both the legislative and congressional districting matters are tied up in courts in the state, with everyone apparently waiting for some word from higher authority.

The legislative apportionment matter went to the State Supreme Court in early February. Court members say they will wait for clarification of judicial policy on representative government from the U. S. Supreme Court.

Congressional guide lines drawn last year by the Legislature are also being challenged.

The Legislature has ready alternative plans to avoid last-minute problems in both areas of the election, but it too wants to wait.

Elections officials at the state and local levels have given more than ample warning of the effect of recurring delay. Any primary set for later than early September could mean some areas could not have the election machinery ready for the November vote.

At best, decisions will be reached to enable setting a Sept. 8 primary and the November election will be normal. Even at this, the prospective candidates and voters will have a difficult time getting acquainted to assure responsible decisions.

At worst, however, Michigan's three or four million voters could be asked to elect 143 legislators and 19 Congressmen from a rotating bedsheet ballot which could provide only the assurance that the men with the best names would win.

Growing Older

Variety is the spice of life, it is said, and the Michigan Commission on Aging has run the gamut of variety within the past two years.

Within this period, the Commission has been served with the extremes. Gary D. Hansen was a very young man who specialized in studies dealing with the aged. He resigned recently as Commission director to head the Institute of Gerontology at an Oregon college.

Replacing him, the Commission went to the other end of the age scale to appoint a man who is in the age group with which the Commission is concerned.

A retiree from the industrial relations-personnel field, Harry

J. Kelley is 72 years old. He retired just three years ago.

Like Hansen, the new director has been working in the field. He has been chairman of the Grand Rapids-Kent County Coordinating Council on Aging and has also served as president of the Michigan Society of Gerontology.

Commission Chairman John B. Martin has described Kelley as "one of the best informed men in the state on the problems of aging." One thing for sure is that Kelley fulfills the Commission's strong belief that senior citizens themselves probably are well qualified to serve in their own field.

Champion Park

The state park at Holland continues to be the biggest drawing card for spending tourists in Michigan, latest reports from the Conservation Department confirm.

During 1963, the Department studies showed Holland State Park again ranked first among the 65 parks and recreation areas in both total permit receipts and in spending.

This past year, however, Grand Haven State Park was the attendance pace-setter with nearly 1.1 million visitors. Holland State Park ranked second in this popularity yardstick.

Visitors spent a total of more than $33 million in Michigan last year for gasoline, groceries and similar items outside of the revenue involved in concession sales and camping and vehicle permit purchases.

The Department reports indicate the expenditures came from nearly 13.5 million daytime park users and a record 210 camping groups.

The two Western Michigan parks drew heaviest, but the next three attendance drawers in succession indicated heavy use by state residents. The next three most popular areas were Waterloo and Island Lake Recreation Areas and Dodge No. 4 State Park, all relatively close to the Southeast Michigan metropolitan complex.

ADDED BURDEN

Don't let the younger generation worry you—worry merely makes the older generation older.

RECESSION

Good resolutions are lost because a man turns over a new leaf one day and turns it back the next.

The most popular good roads movement is about 65 miles an hour.

Personal News from Gagetown

The Owen-Gage Parent-Teachers Club members will hold a meeting Tuesday, March 31, at 8 o'clock in the Owendale school. The program will feature slides shown by the Detroit Edison Company, a preview of the New York World's Fair. Refreshments will be served.

Israeli Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Ephram Yuchtman of Ann Arbor were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hendershot. Mr. and Mrs. Yuchtman came to the United States in September of 1963 to study at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. They are originally from Rehovot, Israel.

Mrs. Yuchtman served two years in the Israeli army and is now majoring in the field of physiology and will teach in high school when she returns to Israel.

Mr. Yuchtman has received his BA and MA degrees at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and now is in the doctoral program of social psychology. When he receives his PhD he will teach in the Hebrew University and also do research work.

The Yuchtmans expressed amazement at the vastness of our country, as their country is only about 150 miles long and 50 miles wide and has an immense population. They also stated that if their country had two or three lakes the size of Higgins or Houghton Lakes their severe water problem would be completely solved.

The Yuchtmans will spend three years here and will then return to Israel.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Ziehm returned Monday, March 16, from a tour of the West where they visited friends and relatives in Oregon, California, Utah, Mexico and Colorado.

Mrs. C. P. Hunter went to Detroit Thursday to visit at the home of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hunter, and will go to Toledo, Ohio, to spend a week or so with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Wood.

Mrs. Eugene Comment and family, Mrs. M. P. Freeman, Mrs. Patrick Kehoe and Mrs. John Bliss went to Pontiac Sunday where they attended a bridal shower for Miss Patti Comment, given by Miss Coleen O'Neil at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neil. Thirty guests attended. A dessert luncheon was served and games played.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weigel and Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson, Karen and Robert, all of Bay City, and John Fischer, student at MSU, East Lansing, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fischer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fischer spent Thursday in Saginaw with their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Aniello Infante.

IT SEEMS TO ME Watching Mixed Marriage Closely

By the Rev. Robert J. Searis

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Arthur Ramsey, head of the Anglican Church (the Church of England), has made himself the toast, or is it "roast," of the younger clergy in England by asking candidates for the ministry not to marry until they have served four years in the priesthood. In the meantime, seminaries in the U.S. are erecting new dormitories to house their married students.

The year. But already 1,037 special days have been designated for celebration. . . . And, how can we determine how mature we are? Pretty good indicators include: what you read, voluntarily; what you spend your money for; what you think about, and how you spend your free time. How do you rate?

POME department:
Has any genius

That squirts where I am not?

The Rev. Gustave Weigel, Roman Catholic ecumenical leader, died at 57. A friend of good relations with other churches, he will be much missed by protestant leaders. Or, so it seems to me.

The approaching marriage of Lynda Bird Johnson, a member of the Episcopal Church, to Bernard Rosenbach, a member of the Roman Catholic Church, is being watched closely to determine just how far his church will go in the newer ecumenical spirit. Until now, for such a marriage to take place, the non-Catholic party was required to agree to allow all children to be raised as Catholics; the Catholic party was also to exercise influence on the partner to join the Roman Catholic Church. With the Mass now allowed in English, are interfaith marriages soon to be allowed? We join millions on the prayer bench, hoping that one more barrier between Churches can be destroyed.

Thought For Lent

Worth Doing?
The Rev. Marion S. Hostetler
A friend of mine likes to collect humorous mottoes, and one of his favorites is this: "Anything that is worth doing is worth doing for money." Humor is a funny thing; usually it's the element of surprise that makes us laugh. That motto wouldn't seem very funny to anyone who had not already been indoctrinated with the dictum, "anything that is worth doing is worth doing well." It's the surprise ending that tickles our funny bone.

But aside from the humor of it, what do you think about that motto? Is it really true that "anything worth doing is worth doing for money?" Or to put it another way, would you agree that "nothing is worth doing unless I am going to make something out of the deal?" Certainly the world of business depends on making a profit. A firm would soon go bankrupt unless it made some profit on at least the majority of its transactions.

But life is more than business. A businessman is first of all a human being and in his human relationships he won't get very far if he refuses to do anything unless it gives indications of making money for him. If he is a hunter, the amount he spends on equipment, ammunition, travel and lodging will be greater than the cash value of the venison or fowl he brings home. If he likes boating, he certainly can't figure on making a profit every time he trades boats, even after he makes allowance for all the tax deductions he can take on the customers he entertains aboard.

If he loves his wife and children, he will take time to do things with them and for them, even though there is no expectation of present or future profit.

If he loves his wife and children, he will take time to do things with them and for them, even though there is no expectation of present or future profit.

It seems to me that this is the reason why Jesus allowed himself to be crucified. It must have been that He loved something or someone else more than He loved His personal welfare. He could have escaped the cross, you know, by walking away from Jerusalem when He saw that the resistance to Him was coming to a head. He might have enjoyed a life of wealth and power if He had chosen to perform miracles for a fee. But it was love that led Him to the cross—love for people, love for truth, love for God. "Greater love has no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

Green Acres FB Meets with Boucks

Twelve members of the Green Acres Farm Bureau attended the Saint Patrick party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Bouck Tuesday evening, March 17.

Instead of the usual program, Mrs. Bouck presented two 40-minute recordings edited by Dr. John Furbay, International Education: Director of Trans-World Airlines. He was the main speaker at the State Farm Bureau convention in Lansing last fall.

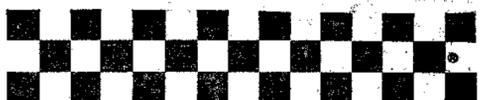

Cards were played and the traveling prize was won by Ronnie Gracey.

Lunch was served by the hostess at a table decorated with a Saint Patrick's Day theme.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fox, April 21.

It pays to feed heifers, dry cows the Purina Way!

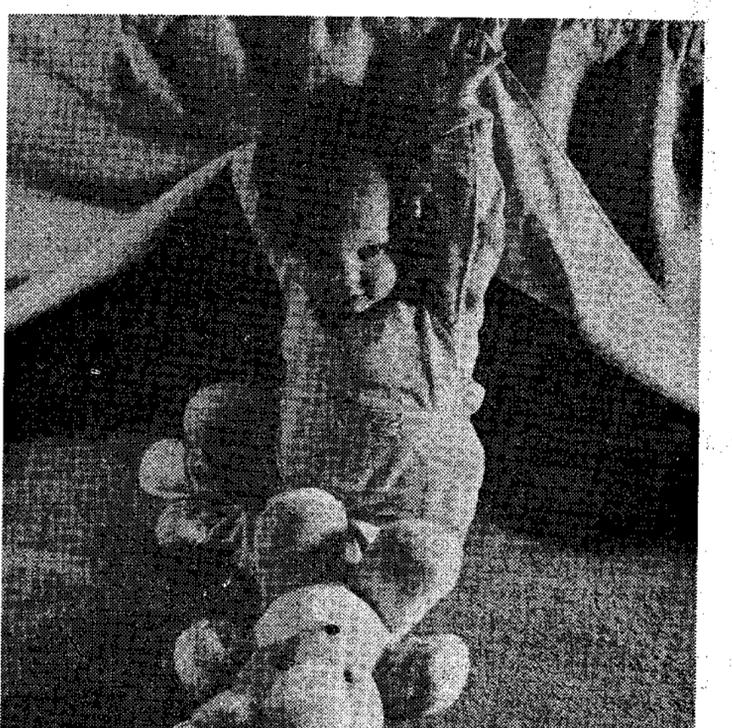

Grain feeding of heifers and dry cows is an accepted practice by leading dairymen. They do it to make more milk . . . and more money. Many report 1,000 pounds more milk during the next lactation when a dry cow is properly conditioned on Purina D & F Chow. You feed it according to body weight . . . a thousand-pound cow, for example, needs only 10 pounds a day. Purina D & F—full name, Dry and Freshening Chow—is specially designed to help build body condition, which later converts to low-cost milk. You'll find D & F in coarse or pellet form, whichever fits your feeding situation best.

Either way, it's one of the smartest feed buys on the market today. Ask for it by name—"Purina D & F"—at our Store.

ELECTRIC HEAT HELPS KEEP YOUR WHOLE HOUSE CLEANER!

Customers say with electric heat, you won't have to dust under beds, wash walls or clean draperies nearly as often. Why? Electric heat is flameless. Dust-laden outside air, in the quantities necessary to support a fire, is not drawn into your home. And because it is flameless, there's no soot. No fumes.

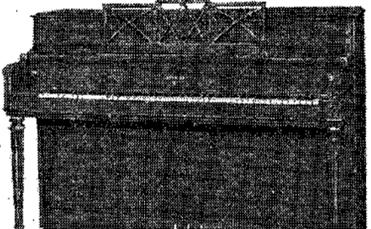

You get more out of life electrically. And Edison's new low All-Electric Living Rate gives you more reason than ever to consider electric heat. Before you buy, build or modernize, talk to an Electric Heating Contractor or Edison about electric heat.

All Pianos, Regardless of use, should be tuned twice each year?

A piano contains not less than 9,000 parts, consisting of wood, iron, steel, copper, brass, ivory, plastics, wool, cotton, cements, etc. The average full scale 88-note piano has about 225 strings stretched to a tension of from 150 to 200 lbs. each, so that the metal plate and frame carries a stress of from 18 to 20 tons.

Each of these strings must be kept at its proper tension or it will be off pitch and, therefore, out of tune. Changes from moist to dry air cause wood to swell and shrink, thus changing the tension on the strings.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor: I see where some professor of philosophy at Yale claims if it wasn't for the troubles we got, all of us would be so satisfied we'd be miserable. I reckon that's why I'm overflowed with bliss all the time. I tote just enough troubles around to keep me happy.

And all a feller has to do to keep a good stock of troubles on hand is to read the papers ever day. Fer instant, I was reading this piece last night by one of them Washington column writers where the new House Office Building they was putting up in Washington fer $85 million would be the most costly building ever erected any place in the world.

He was giving some figgers to show how fancy they was getting with this new building. It will cost $2 million more than the Pentagon, $43 million more than the Empire State Building, $50 million more than the Golden Gate, $83 million more than the world's largest commercial building and $13 million more than the United Nations building.

This column writer said this new building that was going to serve as offices for our Congressmen has everthing from disappearing spittoons to gold plated plumbing.

When all them Congressmen git home from Washington and takes to the stump for the November elections, it'll be mighty interesting, Mister Editor, hearing them talking economy and trying to explain this building all at the same time.

Another thing that's been giving me a little worry lately is the way everybody bring into court is claiming he has been denied his constitutional rights. I see, fer instant, where a feller convicted of hitch-hiking in Maryland has appealed his case on the grounds the fourth amendment gives the people the right to petition. He allows as how this covers his case, that all he was doing was standing alongside the road with his thumb out petitioning a ride. I'd say offhand that the chances fer him winning his case was pretty good.

Another item in the papers this week that could help a feller with his worries was the claim from a famous New York doctor that American women was getting warped and lop-sided from wearing high heels. He says a woman can't balance 100 or 150 pounds on a dime without warping somepun. But on the other hand, I see and read ever day things that proves I live in a land and age of great opportunity. Fer instant, when Jimmy Hoffa started out, he didn't have a union to his name.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim
