

Hire Holmes To Plan School

Warren Holmes, Lansing architectural firm, was selected Monday night by the Cass City Board of Education to act as architects for the proposed new Cass City High School.

Selection of the firm followed a report by Board of Education members who made field trips Thursday, July 9, and Monday to schools built by the four architects under study.

Under consideration, besides Holmes, were Spence and Smith of Saginaw, Toshach, Prime and Spier of Saginaw and Sedgewick-Sellers of Flint.

Each firm was rated 1-4 by ballot with Holmes drawing five firsts, and one second. Next was Spence and Smith, followed by Toshach, Prime and Spier and Sedgewick-Sellers, in that order.

There was some hesitation by members in selecting Holmes because of the "sameness" of previous school buildings. Current buildings, however, show more style and design.

Board members also agreed that the firm's stress on educational facilities rather than style and the fact that it builds nothing but schools were important factors.

Bus Trips

Compensation for bus drivers on special trips was raised from $13.00 to $15.00 for all-day trips, plus $1.50 for each meal, following a report by Donald Koepfgen, board member.

Koepfgen told the board that a check of compensation at other schools revealed that Sandusky, Deckerville and North Branch pay $20.00 for all-day trips.

Part-day trips were raised from $1.00 an hour to $1.50 an hour. Compensation for hauling students to games was set at $5.00 for the first 50 miles and five cents for each additional mile.

Pay for athletic trips was set at $6.00 for the first 50 miles and five cents for each additional mile. Exceptions were trips to Ann Arbor, Lansing, Mt. Pleasant, Detroit or towns of equal distance which will be classed as all-day trips.

"K-12" Bill

Supt. Donald Crouse outlined the so-called "K-12" bill which provided that a State committee and an Intermediate District committee be set up to formulate plans for putting all students in districts offering kindergarten through 12 grade facilities.

Crouse stressed the importance of Cass City's district being represented on the Intermediate District committee. "This committee can make recommendations to alter existing district lines and it is important that we are represented," he stated.

The Intermediate committee will be comprised of five members elected at a joint meeting of all boards of education offering 12 grades with no more than two members from any one constituent district.

Five more members will be elected at a joint meeting of all boards of education offering less than 12 grades and the probate judge of the area will appoint another five members.

The Intermediate Board will appoint three of its members to the committee.

Following approval of an intermediate district plan by the State committee, elections will be held, either by intermediate district or by individual districts if it falls in the intermediate district.

Film Library

Crouse advised against joining, at this time, the Coronet Film Library which offers films to area schools at 70 cents per student. Four schools in the county are currently members of the Library.

Concluded on page three.

From the Editor's Corner

Probably because I am in the business, I am an avid newspaper reader. We take both Detroit dailies, Port Huron and Bay City papers and exchange papers with a host of area weeklies.

For this reason, another of the periodic strikes of the Detroit papers is very annoying to me.

Reading the Free Press in the morning is a ritual that I miss more than I would my morning coffee.

Here's the latest on the topless swimming suit. The Lapeer County Press (one of the weeklies that we get) took a survey of area women to get a reaction about the new suits.

The survey revealed that all of the women with figures that measured in the area of 36-24-36 thought the idea was A-okay. However, the ladies with figures that were 40-36-40 or similar reported that the fad was shocking and in poor taste.

The most ambitious sidewalk sale in the history of the village is planned for next week by the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce.

The sale will be held July 23-25 and will coincide with the completion of the new sidewalks in the business district of the village.

The construction of a new road in Huron county for several miles from US-25 south, starting at Sleeper State Park, reminds me of construction north of the Canadian Sault several years ago.

In Canada, they seemed to make very little progress from year to year on a road under construction and we always marveled at why it took so long.

Huron county seems to be making even less progress on the road from the park. The road has been under construction for two years now and it looks as if it will be at least another year before it is completed and opened to traffic.

We won't try to analyze the reasons, but there were 15 persons at the annual school meeting Monday. That's enough to make the meeting worthwhile.

The board had talked about abandoning the meeting last year when just one person attended.

Four Hurt Tuesday In Area Accidents

Four persons were injured in three accidents Tuesday on S. Cemetery Road, according to reports filed by Tuscola County Sheriff's Deputy Gary Wilson.

Samuel Hnatuk, 76, Cass City, was ticketed for improper turning following a collision involving his car and a second car driven by Albert Englehart, 40, Deford, at 4:45 on Cemetery Road, two miles south of Cass City.

Hnatuk reportedly made a left turn in front of the Englehart car. He and his wife, Mary, 62, were taken to Hills and Dales Hospital where she was treated for head and back injuries.

Neither Englehart nor his son, Delbert, nine, were injured.

Earlier Crash

Earlier in the afternoon, at about 3:00 p.m., a car driven by Duane Pelton, 17, Deford, struck the rear of a pickup truck driven by Laverne Rutkowski, 23, Cass City, on Cemetery Road two and a half miles south of Cass City. Rutkowski was reportedly making a turn into a driveway when the accident happened. He suffered a slight head injury and Pelton suffered bruises. Both were treated at Hills and Dales.

Tuesday morning Janet Hurd, 19, lost control of her car on Cemetery Road, a quarter-mile south of the Cass River bridge and it skidded into a ditch.

Two Hurt

In other accident news, two Cass City youths were injured when the motorcycle they were riding crashed into the rear of a car Sunday morning on M-25, six miles northeast of Caseville.

Injured were Larry Thompson, driver of the motorcycle, and Ray Peasley, both 16. Thompson suffered multiple bruises and Peasley was treated for left knee laceration and bruises.

Huron county sheriff's deputies report that a car driven by Harold Smith, 55, Birch Run, had stopped to make a left turn and Thompson, unable to stop in time, slammed into the rear of the car.

Spencers Attend Nazarene Assembly

The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Spencer recently returned from the west coast where they attended the General Assembly of the Church of The Nazarene held in Portland, Ore. Thirty-five pastors of the Eastern Michigan district of the Church of The Nazarene made the trip. The General Assembly meets every four years.

Over 21,000 persons took communion in the Sunday morning service June 21. It was the largest crowd ever assembled in the Memorial Coliseum. Four thousand and others were unable to be seated. Seventy-eight districts of the denomination were represented and 85 delegates from mission fields were present.

The Church of The Nazarene, founded in 1908, has more than doubled its membership in the past 20 years, with a present membership of 405,000.

Supervisors Cracking Down on Vandalism

Tuscola County Supervisors are cracking down on the malicious and dangerous destruction of rural street signs and the removal or moving of signs and lights warning of barricades on roads under construction.

The supervisors feel so strongly about the problem that they met in special session Tuesday morning at their own expense to start a campaign to eliminate the destruction.

Deford To Try Again

Cass City and Deford school district voters will take the next steps following approval of Deford's annexation to the Cass City system Monday night by Cass City Board of Education members at their regular meeting.

Supt. Donald Crouse reported to the board that his office has received a letter of intent and the board then voted to accept the request and proceed with annexation as soon as possible.

Cass City voters will not be required to vote on Deford's acceptance but will ballot on whether or not to accept Deford's bonded indebtedness.

Deford voters will vote on both the annexation and assumption of Cass City's bonded indebtedness.

Deford is currently levying five mills which will be retired in 1968. Crouse explained that the five mills, spread out over the entire Cass City district, will amount to about three or four-tenths of a mill.

If the annexation passes, Deford's valuation of $2,300,000 will push the Cass City district's worth from $15,800,000 to $18,100,000.

Crouse remarked that while acceptance of Deford would increase our bonded indebtedness for a while, "over the long haul, our condition will improve to our advantage."

Crouse was asked if the annexation would alleviate Cass City's over-crowded situation and he explained that it might add to it at the junior high level.

Bulging at the seams, Deford is already teaching lower grades on the auditorium stage. The coming election will be the second attempt at annexation to Cass City by the district. Two years ago Deford voters turned the issue down.

Giving impetus to the current annexation question is the so-called "K-12" bill which provides that the Intermediate District set up a committee to put all primary districts into K through 12 districts.

In such a case, Deford stands the chance of being split in half with one portion going to Kingston and the other portion going to Cass City.

They decided to start the attack with major emphasis on two points:

1. They authorized a reward of $100 for the apprehension and conviction of anyone destroying the street signs or lights and signs on Tuscola County barricades.

2. Extra special deputies for the next 90 days have been authorized for the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department. The additional deputies will cruise the county in unmarked cars, authorities said.

Prior to the special board meeting, a committee met to try to come up with a solution to the problem. It included Ed Golding of Elkland township. Others were Clayton Hunter, Clarence Buchinger, Howard Clement, Gail Parrott, Everett Starkey and Earl Butler.

Also represented at the committee meeting were representatives of the sheriff's department; the Tuscola County Road Commission, and Judge T. C. Quinn. "We will need more than the extra deputies to cure the problem," Golding said. "What is vit-

Ruhl Reports School Year Ends in Red

Approximately 15 persons, comprising one of the largest crowds to attend an annual meeting in recent years, heard Treasurer William Ruhl report that Cass City School District finished the year $1,502.18 in the red.

Ruhl's report showed that expenditures for the year totaled $475,056.30 while revenues were $466,453.48. Although the figures show an $8,602 deficit, insurance payments and other revenues not in bring the deficit to the $1,500 figure.

Instruction costs were up $11,246 from $296,905 on June 30, 1963, to the $308,151 spent during the year just ended.

Administration costs rose $157 from $23,956 to $24,103. The system's cafeteria rounded out the year $261.03 in the black. Revenue for the cafeteria totaled $35,820 and expenditures were $35,558.

"Very fruitful... most interest I've seen in years," is how President Horace Bolen summed up an exchange of questions and answers between the 15 persons present and the board.

Questions ranged from site and completion of the proposed new school to investment of funds being set aside for debt retirement.

Remodel Theatre

Dick Hendrick announced this week that he will redecorate and remodel the Cass Theatre. The work will include work on the front of the building by Champion Outdoor Advertising and painting and cleaning of the interior, Hendrick said.

al to the success of our program is the help of interested county residents who will report the vandalism when they see it occur."

Golding said that he felt that it was the obligation of every resident to help the police catch the persons responsible.

Destroying the signs is uncalled for destruction of property, he said, but changing the signs on barricades is a danger to human life.

Golding illustrated his point for the Chronicle by pointing to the work on North Cemetery Road which starts at the intersection of Bay City-Forrestville Road.

The other night someone moved the lights and the signs so that a motorist not familiar with the road would think the detour was on the Bay City-Forrestville Road and that Cemetery Road was alright to travel, he explained.

Committee Appointed
The supervisors will watch the progress of the program closely through a committee appointed Tuesday. Serving will be: Golding, Buchinger, Starkey and Lyle Frenzel.

Tie Vote Defeats Union

A vote for representation of Walbro Corporation employees ended in a 52-52 tie Thursday at the company's plant.

There were no challenged votes and better than 90 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots. There were 115 voters eligible.

The tie means that there will not be representation at the plant. Labor laws read that another vote cannot be held for at least 12 months.

VANDALS STRIKE—Ernie Hildinger, Tuscola county road commission stock superintendent, holds samples of some of the damage which prompted county supervisors, law officials and news media to meet in special sessions Monday and Tuesday. All the signs shown were put in place late this spring or early summer. Most show shotgun and rifle damage. The road sign in Hildinger's hand was twisted out of shape and the stop sign has been slashed with an ax. (Chronicle photo)

YOUR LIFE CAN DEPEND ON BRAKE FLUID

A motorist in a small, mid-western town got into his four-year-old car one morning recently, started it up and drove from his home to the first traffic intersection on the way to his work. He applied his brakes . . . and was lucky to escape with his life as he plowed into the side of a passing transport.

He learned too late to prevent what could have been a fatal accident—that he had no brakes at all. They had "leaked" out on him during the night. His brake fluid, used to build up pressure of the linings on the drums, had drained out through a broken connection on the fluid line to his left front wheel.

Such an accident could happen to any of us, even with late model cars. The only remedy is constant inspections of hose connections and fluid levels.

A small leak may not affect normal brake operations up to the time your car is parked. The danger occurs when it is left standing long enough to drain away this vital fluid, on which all braking action depends.

How can this danger be overcome? Only by regular checks by an alert mechanic trained to recognize leaky connections and malfunctioning parts. It should be done as often as the car is lubricated at a very minimum.

Wherever you take your car for service, insist on a regular inspection. If it is at our garage, this check is a part of our normal lubrication procedure.

Hot Weather Can Contribute To State's Highway Carnage

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Blame Heat

Summer weather is rarely given direct blame for highway mishaps, but most experts agree it is a factor.

Usually, however, this factor is teamed with the increased motor traffic, shorter tempers, and others to cause the disasters which occur on the roads.

Heat waves which cause distorted visual patterns for otherwise tired motorists often are listed among weather conditions contributing to accidents.

Even brief rest periods on a summer outing can mean a big difference between highway safety and roadside tragedy.

Michigan's roads offer one of the most convenient means of getting these rest periods. The rest areas scattered throughout the state also offer a close look at some of the beautiful scenic spots at roadside.

Rest areas provide rest room facilities, picnic tables, parking areas for cars and trucks, telephones in some cases, a state map and drinking water.

Just over 30 rest areas are state maintained on main routes. Many others are placed by community and county officials.

The steadily increasing rate of highway accidents and deaths points up the need for use of these roadside facilities. Deputy State Highway Commissioner Frederick E. Tripp describes rest periods as "an effective means of reducing driving fatigue, an important feature of any highway safety program."

Old Flags Restored

Visitors to Michigan's capitol find an empty display case on the main floor rotunda. The void during the next two years will represent progress in preserving a segment of historical mementoes.

Some 211 historic battle flags carried by Michigan regiments during the Civil War, Spanish-American War and the two World Wars are displayed in the rotunda cases.

Last fall the first batch of flags, many of them barely holding together in shreds, was shipped to West Point for restoration.

Deterioration of the flags continues while they are on display because of the strain placed on the cloth by its own weight, notes Floyd Haight, chairman of the State Civil War Centennial Observance Commission.

In time the flags would eventually have been destroyed by the process. At West Point, however, each flag will be sandwiched between two layers of nylon netting dyed to match the flag colors.

By hand-stitching the three layers together, the nylon net takes the strain off the flag when it is hanging. The nylon will not deteriorate with age, Haight

Conserve Soil The Easy Way

Nearly two million farmers have switched to conservation farming during the past 25 years, but few of them did it all at once. Instead, they made the change in easy steps usually one at a time. It's easier that way, and a lot better all around.

An eight-page bulletin, released recently by USDA's Soil Conservation, explains how farmers can put soil and water conservation to work on their farm with a minimum of fuss and bother.

The bulletin, illustrated with drawings, tells the farmer exactly whom to contact and how to start conserving his soil and water.

The booklet is PA-501, "Soil Conservation Is Easy If You Do It With A Plan — One Step At A Time." You can get a copy from the local SCS office, 837 S. State Street, Caro, Michigan, Wilbur Kellogg, Work Unit Conservationist said.

Legion Auxiliary Officers Installed

Twenty-six attended the July meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary held Monday evening in the Legion hall. Highlight of the meeting was installation of officers for the coming year by Mrs. Albert Keller Jr. of Caro, past Unit president and president-elect of the Seventh District Association.

Three members, Mrs. Garrison Stine, Mrs. Edward Schwartz and Mrs. Arthur Little, had perfect attendance records for the year and Mrs. Schwartz was presented with a gift in recognition of a five-year perfect attendance record.

Mrs. Stine, who will serve as president for a second year, announced that membership chairman for the coming year will be Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. William Donnelly will again be Junior Activities chairman. Other chairmen will be announced at the August meeting.

Following the meeting a pot-luck lunch was served. Door prizes went to Mrs. John Erla and to Linda Calka.

HUSH-MONEY

Silence is always golden, but it is doubly so to those who are paid to keep quiet.

DEBT-RIDDEN

Accept favors from others and you're placing a mortgage on your peace of mind.

MIXTURE

For success in any endeavor the right proportion of prudence and boldness is needed.

VARIETY WAS THE KEYNOTE of the annual pet show at the Cass City Recreational Park last week. Chickens, pigs, ants, ponies and many other unusual pets were shown. Typical were the entries of these youngsters.

I'm Just Not Old Enough to Chaperone

By Dave Kraft

The other day Bob Hutchinson came into the office, under the bidding of Fred Leeson, Recreation Program director, and invited my wife and me to be chaperones at the record dance last Thursday night.

I was pleased and hurt, all at the same time. Whether Fred knew it or not, it was the first time I'd ever been asked to chaperone anything.

I was pleased to think that Fred had enough confidence in me and hurt to realize that here at last was the awful truth that I am now too old to be chapped and must be a chaperone.

There are three inevitables in life... taxes, growing old enough to be a chaperone and death. I'm paying the one, doing the other and waiting for the third.

That night, just so I wouldn't appear to be too far removed from the crowd, I dressed in the sweater-tennis shoe mode and brushed up on my rather limited teenage slang.

But these Cass City kids are a disappointment. I expected gang fights, smart aleck punks and general resentment at my presence. Instead we spent a most enjoyable evening dancing and watching the kids dance. There were no smart alecks and the kids acted as though they were glad that we were there.

Nothing has changed since I was in that age bracket. All the boys stand on one side of the floor and all the girls stand on the other side and each group pretends to ignore the other while secretly trying to get up enough nerve to mix.

What's so extraordinary is that these same shy youngsters get out on that dance floor and their inhibitions are shed like last year's long underwear.

I mean those dances. A couple of them look like gang fights and I was just getting ready to break them up when my wife stepped in and explained the situation.

Bill Eberline did a more than average job as disc jockey for the dance. He has quite a talent for that sort of thing and he handles the crowd well.

Fred said that the dance will become a regular Thursday night event during the recreation program season. I sure hope so... maybe he'll even ask us to chaperone again.

Guess who knows more about you than any other person in town outside of your mother-in-law? Doctor? Nope! Telephone operator? Nope! Dentist? Nope! Minister? Nope!

Give up? Your garbage man! He knows when you've had a party, what you've had to eat and what you didn't eat, whether you're a spendthrift or a miser, the type of magazines you read, how you pay your bills and when you're sick.

He knows what goes on in your bathroom and can tell you what kind of toothpaste, hair oil, cosmetics, soap and toilet tissue you use.

He knows if milady has rough hands from using a harsh detergent, or a giant in her washing machine. He can tell you things about madam's hair that even her hairdresser doesn't know for sure.

Don't get me wrong. I'm not implying that your garbage is carefully separated and catalogued by your garbage man. Gosh knows that my garbage man doesn't have enough time to give any garbage any strict surveillance but working in such close proximity with my garbage, he's bound to notice a few of the recurring discards.

I say he knows all these things, but that isn't to imply that he would tell. I imagine that sanitation men, like doctors, have some oath never to betray a confidence relayed to them via the silver can.

Still, just to be sure, I keep my garbage bill paid and all my garbage is wrapped in newspapers and tied with gay ribbons.

Our motto around home is "Tontus, cebellis, garbagillis," which roughly translated, means "Never cross the garbage man... he knows too much."

FINISHED PRODUCT

Mrs. Krug Dies After Long Illness

Funeral services for Mrs. Chris (Mary) Krug, lifelong Cass City resident, were held Monday at Little's Funeral Home following her death Saturday, July 11, at Cass City Hospital after a long illness.

Born Dec. 7, 1884, in Grant township, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John R. McDonald. She married Chris Krug in Gagetown March 26, 1918. They made their home in this community. The couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1963.

Surviving, besides her husband, are: two daughters, Mrs. Harry (Harriet) Reitz of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. B. G. (Margaret) Shafer of Jackson, and three sons, John and Dugal, both of Cass City, and Lewis of Auburn Heights.

Also surviving are: five sisters, Mrs. Jenny Williams of Roseville, Mrs. Basil Hartt of Pontiac, Mrs. Harvard McCall of Bad Axe, Mrs. Francis Jilbert of Burbank, Calif., and Miss Olive McDonald of Tulsa, Okla.; a brother, Richard McDonald of Gagetown; seven grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. Two sisters preceded her in death.

Rev. Homer Bassett and Rev. G. C. Guilliat officiated and interment was in Elkland Cemetery.

The man who travels in circles eventually finds out he doesn't know which way to turn.

Today money will buy almost everything except the knowledge on how to use it.

IT SEEMS TO ME

It Was Only 19 Years Ago...

By the Rev. Robert J. Searls

It was only 19 years ago, but scholars then knew our world would never again be the same. It was on this date in 1945 that this nation sponsored the first atomic explosion. Thus, mankind had begun tapping the rich resources of nature in a new (and not yet understood after 19 years have passed) way. The men most responsible for the Bomb (it has been written with a capital "B" ever since that day) were also realizing that they could not just invent this weapon and shrug their shoulders denying all responsibility for its use. Actively, some of these scientists began lobbying, in a world-wide effort, to the end that their discovery would not be put to its ultimate use.

Military men, however, could not understand why these scientists should create such a weapon and then object to its use. Even after the dark days when U. S. planes dropped one bomb over Hiroshima and another over Nagasaki, and saw in actual reality what "total destruction" meant, the world has engaged in a race to see who could outrun the other in stockpiling atomic weapons. The bombs available today would, we are told, make the Bomb over Hiroshima look, by comparison, like the explosion of a firecracker on the Fourth of July!

A new term, "overkill," has grown up with atomic weaponry. It now denotes the difference in sizes of atomic weapons. Also it testifies to the over-supply of this weapon. Surely we have sufficient atomic weapons in our supply depots now! Or, so it seems to me.

Do you recall these lines from Longfellow's "The Village Blacksmith?"

Each morning sees some task begun,
Each evening sees it close;
Something attempted, something done,
Has earned a night's repose.
They are especially fitting for the person who does significant labor and who goes to bed dead tired, but with a sense of accomplishment. Or, so it seems to me.

Most churches have gone on a summer schedule that puts the hour of worship earlier than the rest of the year. This makes it possible for you to worship God in your chosen church, then in the ample time left in the day, to have a family picnic or other outing appropriate to the time of year. There is always a person who is so happy in his ignorance who says, "I can worship God and fish at the same time." I agree; you can, but do you?

For some weeks I watched the TV commercial for fruit punch on the "Tonight Show", trying to figure out who that sport-shirted cartoon character reminded me of. I finally knew! Now I wonder what took me so long. You have already identified one of Cass City's leading citizens, Baldy Ellis! Or, so it seems to me.

Is this draft necessary? I refer to the continuous drafting of our best young men into military service. President Johnson has announced that it may be possible to end the drafting of civilians into the armed forces sometime during the next ten years. This is long overdue. There have been too many inequities in the draft law, which has meant that the boy whose parents had connections frequently was deferred. This peace time conscription is foreign to our way of life; we do not think anyone will miss it. The present draft ends in 1967.

The minister of your church faces a different task than he faced a few years ago. The Southern Baptist Convention, America's largest denomination, is only the most recent to have to face the facts! A shift in emphasis is expected. Or, so it seems to me!

My good friend, the Rev. Melvin Vender, pastor emeritus of the Presbyterian Church, frequently makes available to this column, and its readers, news items relating to the retired people in our midst. One item caught my eye. It seems like older women are finding that clothing stocked for sale to them is especially unsuitable in color, unattractive in fabric and poorly designed.

Seek Early Bean Queen Candidates

Farm Bureau, Grange and farmers' club groups have been asked to encourage qualified candidates to get their nominations in early, Aug. 1 this year, for the Tuscola County Bean Queen Contest which again will be held in conjunction with the 1964 Tuscola County Fair during the week of Aug. 24. Fred Black of Akron is county bean queen committee chairman.

At a meeting of the committee, it was decided that Aug. 1 should be the deadline for entering the contest. The earlier date will make it possible to get contestants together for pictures, a luncheon and judging with the selection to be kept secret until the presentation of the queen on the evening of the Fair.

Interested young ladies are asked to contact their local groups to enter the contest. Contestants must be unmarried and a farmer's daughter, who has or is now growing beans. Age limitation is 17 to 25 years, inclusive. County bean queens of previous years are not eligible. Bean queen entry blanks are available through the local club president or secretary and may also be had by calling at the Cooperative Extension Office, Courthouse, Caro.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where the feller that runs the Clayton County Journal in Georgia has got indicted for bootlegging. I ain't meaning to throw no rocks at the newspaper profession and it could be he got in such a state of poverty he had to get in the bootlegging business to keep his newspaper going. Actual, if they find him guilty, the Judge had ought to make his advertisers serve his sentence. A heap of merchants don't believe in advertising and maybe he had more'n his share of them kind.

I recollect when I was a boy hearing my Grandpa tell about some famous newspaper feller named Henry Grady fixing up one of them kind of merchants real good. When editor Grady called on this merchant for a ad one week the merchant run him off, claimed nobody read ads in the paper. Editor Grady went back to his office and fixed this feller up a want ad. "Wanted, live cats, will pay good price for live cats brought to my store." Then he signed the merchant's name to the ad.

For two days and nights folks was standing in line at this feller's store with live cats. Folks from all over the country, even the youngsters, was bringing cats. They was tom cats, pussy cats, black cats, white cats, pole cats, red cats. Final the merchant phoned editor Grady and told him he was going to sue him, and to take the dad-berned cat ad out of the paper. Farthermore, he told him to come by his store immediate and he would give him a page ad on his merchandise.

As a general rule, newspaper folks seems to be pritty good folks and I'm sorry this feller in Georgia had such pore advertisers. But if I had been this editor I would have writ President Johnson and got on the poverty circuit instead of getting into the bootlegging business. But some folks is proud that way, Mister Editor, just ain't going to take no charity, even from Washington where charity was invented.

Speaking of the newspaper profession, if I keep writing this little piece for your paper I had ought to git took into the profession and be eligible for all the benefits thereof, as they say in official language. But I have a few handicaps in this business. I use little words on account of I can't spell the big ones, and I don't know but two punctuation marks, the comma and the period. As a general rule, I was chewing a little tobacco when I was writing this piece, and when I pause to spit, I just put in a comma or a period and start going again. If you have any trouble with punctuation, Mister Editor, just get a wad of tobacco and try out my system.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Au influential man has the knack of getting others to accept him at his own valuation.

Men who expect to build fame and fortune out of the ashes of their ancestors are more to be pitied than praised.
