

From the Editor's Corner

Although many sources are predicting that 1964 will be a billion dollar tourist year, the secretary-manager of the East Michigan Tourist Association says that the mark will not be reached.

Citing Florida as an outstanding example of good tourist promotion, he says that the goal won't be reached because there has not been enough advertising and promotion.

We'd love to have this man in business in Cass City.

We received a call asking when the general election would be held this year. With the turmoil caused by the Supreme Court decision, we were afraid to give a definite answer. Since the call Wednesday morning, however, we found the latest information from James M. Hare and if the caller is a reader, we report to him that the vote will be Nov. 3.

In addition, Hare lists over 30 other deadlines for officials and voters between now and the end of the year. We won't list them, but if by any remote chance you want to see what they are, come in . . . you never know when you might want to glean such interesting information as Sept. 15 is "the last day to certify ballot wording of local propositions to local or county clerks."

Things continue to look up on Main Street.

Latest to spruce up is Schneberger TV and Appliance which has added a spanking new front to their building. It's a valued addition to the business district and should help make the community more attractive to area shoppers.

Walbro Test Room Fire Scene Again

For the third time this year, a Walbro Corporation test room was the scene of a fire fought by Cass City firemen Monday night.

Firemen extinguished the fire at about 11:30 Monday night and held damage to the test room. Lost in the fire were several carburetors under testing and valued at, according to Lambert Althaver, plant official, "a few hundred dollars."

Cause of the fire is unknown. It was the second fire in this particular test room this year and the third test room fire of the year at Walbro.

Villagers on Last of Great Lakes Liners

Time is running out for Thumb residents who continue to "miss the boat" by not taking advantage of one of the area's most convenient and relaxing vacation programs.

If the present trend continues, area vacationers have only a short time to take part in the end of an era that once flourished in the waters surrounding the State.

Two of the staunchest supporters of the program are Miss Mary Lou MacIntyre and Jim Fritz, both crew members on the S. S. South American, the last of a once huge fleet of luxury cruisers that hauled vacationers up and down the Great Lakes.

Cass Cityans Miss MacIntyre, a native of Cass City, is the social director aboard the South American, a post she has held since 1945. She is the sister of Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer and Mrs. W. J. MacDonald, both of Cass City.

Fritz, 19, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Fritz of Cass City and is completing his first summer aboard the ship as a crew member.

The pair were among the chief welcome to greet Chronicle News Editor Dave Kraft and WKYO News Chief John Bowles, guests of the Georgian-Bay Lines Friday through Sunday, on the South American.

Hostess Company officials claim Miss MacIntyre runs the ship, at least from the passenger standpoint. Her duties consist in the main of providing "entertainment for the passengers" and keeping them

Pests Infest County

Hot Spell Swell For Bugs, Beetles

It's a banner year for bugs and beetles in Tuscola county, Agricultural Agent Al Ballweg reported this week.

Plaguing the farmers and the family gardeners over most of the county as well as in the Cass City area are the Mexican Bean Beetle and the Green Clover

Pat Stirton Drowned in Calif. Mishap

A former Cass City man drowned Monday afternoon near Eureka, Calif., when he became caught in a powerful undertow while exploring the shore for marine life.

Drowned was Pat Stirton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie

Stirton of Cass City. Stirton was visiting a sister, Mrs. Tressler Way in Arcadia, Calif., and had taken a ferry boat ride out of Eureka on Monday.

After the boat tied up, he walked along the shore, looking for marine life. According to reports, he was in a small inlet when he was overcome by high waves and the undertow.

Stirton was a junior high science teacher at Fraser. He was a graduate of Cass City High School and Michigan State University. He did post-graduate work at Ann Arbor and Rochester, N. Y.

Surviving, besides his parents and sister, are two other sisters, Mrs. Charles N. Clarke, Birmingham, and Mrs. Ivan Steiner, Urbana, Ill., and a brother, Gordon, of Kerwood, Ont.

Funeral services were still pending at press time.

Worm. In addition to these pests, six townships in the southwest section of the county are under quarantine because of an invasion of the Cereal Leaf Beetle.

Farmers in the area are unable to move a combine across the road if it is on the township line unless it has been sprayed . . . a state inspector is checking and trying to keep the beetle from spreading.

Weather Hurts The same prolonged warm weather that has made corn, beans and other crops look as good as they have in years, is aiding the destructive pests.

Ballweg says that all farmers would be wise to keep a close check on their bean fields. We've had the Mexican Bean Beetle in isolated areas every year, but this year they are building up over wide areas.

Ballweg says the Green Clover worm has branched out from its usual depositions in clover and alfalfa. They are really hurting the bean crops, Ballweg explained, by eating holes in the leaves.

This is a new threat to the crop in the experience of the agriculture extension department.

Local gardeners who have reported the Mexican Bean Beetle can rid themselves of the pests by spraying with pyrethrum. This insecticide is safe and should do the job, Ballweg concluded.

Legion to Share Profits in Circus Performance Here

The circus is coming to town Friday and the local American Legion Post hopes that everyone in the area will make it a point to enjoy the show, slated to be given a mile and a quarter south of Cass City.

For the more people, the more money and the Legion will share in the profits, Lee Tracy, commander, said this week.

The Legion gets 25 per cent of the first $200; 40 per cent of the next $300 and 50 per cent of all admissions after $500.

In addition 10 per cent of the money taken in on the grounds goes to the Legion.

It will be the first circus in town in several years and Concluded on page four.

SIDEWALK DAYS was a happy business promotion for most of Cass City's businessmen who reported banner sales from the yearly event. But for M. B. Auten it was just a happy day. Thoroughly enjoying a ride on the Ferris wheel next door to his bank were the irrepressible Meredith and Miss Gertrude Gray, long-time employee at the bank. (Chronicle photo)

No Rusty Water

You'll Never Notice New Water System

The new water tower and water mains will be placed in service within a couple of weeks but don't look for any startling changes when the $150,000 system is in operation.

That's the word from Village Engineer Bill Schram. There will be more volume and persons in low pressure areas (Hills and Dales "Hospital-Cass" City Schools) will notice the difference, but that is about all.

Housewives will be gratified to learn that a sudden influx of rusty water is not expected when the new mains go into operation, Schram reported.

The council authorized a 30-day extension for completion of the water tower. Plans call for the tower to be completely disinfected before placed in service.

Schram said that the second test by the State has been completed and that the water in the new mains is now pure.

Other Action

In other action concerning the water work, the council agreed to pay one half of a $100 damage claim by Henry Cooklin, while John Carlo Construction will assume the other half of the bill.

The village assumed half the cost because of an agreement with Cooklin when a right-of-way was granted to the water tower.

The clean-up of the streets after water project work may be taken over by the village and charged to Carlo Construction, if plans under consideration are adopted.

Gagetown Event "A Success" Say Volunteer Firemen

Gagetown firemen termed their three-day Gagetown Firemen's Field Day a success after pocketing a net profit of $575.00. The event was held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Gagetown Park.

This year's proceeds surpassed the $511.16 take from the Field Day held two years ago by about $64.00.

Several hundred persons turned out to watch Saturday's parade. Winners were: Gagetown-Carolan 4-B, first place; Owen-Gage High School Band, second place, and Don Loomis' ponies, third place. Honorable mention went to Jim Lenhard in the decorated bike category.

Officials attributed the success of the venture to the warm weather. The most popular concession was the Owendale Lions food stand.

Winners of the cash prizes were: Robert Dunn, Flint, $75.00; Joan Hurley, Gagetown, $50.00, and SuAnn Comment, Gagetown, $25.00.

Rep. Spencer Airs Views at Rotary

Rep. Roy Spencer, Republican from Lapeer Co., told Cass City Rotary members what he feels are the most important issues in the State and outlined the progress of the State in an address at the Cass City Hotel.

He said that fiscal reform is still of top importance to Michigan and that the revamping of the property tax is vital to the progress of the State.

Spencer also outlined the progress of the State under the GOP, citing the surplus in the State's general fund and the better image of the State as two giant steps forward.

Spencer attacked the recent Supreme Court apportionment ruling, saying that it further weakened chances for local government.

Cooling Device Sales Are Hot As the Weather

We're havin' a heat wave in Cass City and merchants selling cooling devices couldn't be happier. Temperatures ranging in the 90's have made the purchase of a fan in Cass City almost an impossibility . . . there just aren't any left.

A check with three major sellers of fans and air conditioners in the village revealed what appears to be a country-wide problem. So many persons are buying cooling devices that the distributors and manufacturers can't keep up with the demand.

Stan Asher of Thumb Appliance reports that his firm has sold 65 cooling devices so far this year. This includes air conditioners, dehumidifiers and fans.

"We've sold our complete stock out four times," reports Harold Asher. "And there are no more available."

Bud Schneberger at Schneberger TV and Appliance Sales and Service agreed with the Ashers. "Everything has been selling pretty good," he says, "including refrigeration. We're having a hard time keeping up."

At present, he has only two fans left.

Gamble Store manager Lloyd Bryant also reported overwhelming sales in cooling devices.

"We sold about 60 of the big 20-inch fans and could have sold 100 more if we'd had them," he relates. "They'd come in lots of 12 and 18 and six hours after they arrived, we'd be all out."

"We very seldom sell any air conditioners but this year the demand was so great we didn't even stock any floor models. People would just walk in and say 'I want an air conditioner' and not even look at the catalogue."

Bryant also commented on the difficulty in obtaining new stock.

Bleak Curb Outlook

According to Donald Rush, chief of planning and sufficiency of the Michigan State Highway Department, residents on Main have a good chance to receive drainage . . . but very little chance for coveted curb and gutter.

The position of the department was revealed at a meeting Thursday at the Cass City Hotel. Attending were interested Main street residents, the planning commission and village council.

Little Increase Rush said that traffic counts on two separate occasions several years apart indicated that there was very little increase in traffic, not enough to warrant curb and gutter.

To protect our highway in the village, Rush said, we will run a survey of the drainage problem and if it is necessary the chances are good that it will be authorized.

Tyre Post Office Closes July 31st

Unless petitions from objecting Tyre businessmen and residents have effect, the Federal government's economy binge will write the final chapter on Friday, July 31, to 102 years of service by the Tyre Post Office.

The post office will be closed in conjunction with the retirement of Mrs. Mary B. Spencer as postmistress on Friday after nine years of service.

Lynn Spencer, mailman, reports that he has received orders from the postal department to move his entire route intact to the Ubyl facilities. He will work out of the Ubyl post office and the nine persons who had call boxes in Tyre will erect route boxes.

Spencer, who has been the Tyre mailman for the past 11 years, reports customers will not be able to tell the difference. Mail addressed to Tyre will be delivered without delay indefinitely under the old address.

Petitions from the area businessmen and residents have been

Okay Street Compromise

The Cass City Village Council hammered out a compromise on the street and parking problem on Leach and West streets, north and south of Main street, at their regular monthly session Tuesday night at the Municipal Building.

Immediate action for curb and gutter and sidewalk will be taken on West, a block north and south of Main, and on Leach, a block north of Main.

The original plan will be followed. The street will be left wide enough to accommodate angle parking for the full block each way. The plan was pushed through over the objection of Jim Seals, who felt that angle parking in the residential district was not fair to the property owners there.

Dr. D. E. Rawson said that he felt that since the trees had been removed on the streets under discussion, that the most important

Beam Kills Keyser

A Cass City father of six was struck and killed Tuesday by a steel beam which fell as it was being hoisted into position atop a dust bin at the Wallace and Morley Elevator in Gagetown.

Dead from a skull fracture is Daniel H. Keyser, 25, Route 1, Cass City.

Keyser and two other men were working atop the dust bin, about 20 feet off the ground. The eight-foot steel I-beam was being lifted into position by a crane operated by Lorne Stein, Pigeon.

Witnesses state the beam slipped from its clamp and fell about 15 feet, striking Keyser in the back of the head crushing his helmet.

On the bin with him were Ron Fritz, Bay City, and Ken Badgley, Gagetown. Badgley grabbed Keyser to keep him from falling from the tower.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. H. T. Donahue, Cass City. Coroner Ben Collon, Caro, attributed death to a fractured skull.

Sheriff's deputies are investigating the accident and the clamp which was holding the beam was taken to Caro for study.

Keyser was employed by Barton, Inc., of Hutchinson, Kansas, the same firm which built the Frutchey Bean elevator in Cass City. The crane operator was employed by Kuhl Construction Company, Sebewaing.

Keyser is survived by his wife, Helen, and six children, Susan, Luanna, Daniel Jr., Dale, Dean and David. Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Keyser, Tyre.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3:30 p.m. from Little's Funeral Home with the Rev. Homer Bassett officiating. Interment will be in Elkland Cemetery.

Edison refuses to come into the village under present conditions, President Lee Rabideau explained, and many of our trees are badly in need of trimming.

In other action concerning trees, Bernard Freiburger and Dr. D. E. Rawson were appointed to a committee to investigate a tree planting program in the village.

The village will also investigate a sprayer to handle a chemical to dust for Dutch Elm Disease in the village, it was decided.

Arrest Two for Disorderly Conduct

A Deford man was sentenced to 30 days in county jail following his arrest Thursday on a disorderly conduct charge in Caro.

Alfred Furness, 44, Deford, was also ordered to pay a fine and costs of $106.25 or serve an additional 60 days in jail. He appeared before Justice Frank Rolka.

Brian W. Reid, 22, Cass City, was arrested Saturday night in Caro on a disorderly charge but was released the next day when he paid fine and costs of $56.25.

matter for the council to consider was to clean up the area and make it presentable.

He reiterated his position that the members of the council were liable for damages in the previous cutting because there is no official notice of their intentions in the meetings.

"But let's settle this thing as quietly and harmoniously as possible," he said, "I don't feel that there will be any large objection to finishing the work already started, but if the project is extended to the other block (Leach, south of Main where the trees have not been cut) there will be fireworks."

After more discussion, a resolution was adopted okaying work on the streets and asking for a recommendation from the planning commission before proceeding with the remainder of Leach.

Curb and gutter on the street will cost property owners $1.75 per running foot and the new sidewalks will be assessed at 50 per cent of cost.

Attending the meeting to gain information were Keith McConkey, Warren Kelley, Arlen Hartwick and Bill Kritzman, local businessmen in the area.

During the discussion, Lambert Althaver asked what the position of the council was in connection with Oak and Maple streets (the two blocks east of Seeger).

This sparked a discussion about major and minor streets, but no definite plan was outlined by trustees.

Council Eyes Tree Planting

The council is working on an ordinance for the trimming of trees in the village. The primary reason for the move is to establish an authority so Detroit Edison can proceed with its work here.

Edison refuses to come into the village under present conditions, President Lee Rabideau explained, and many of our trees are badly in need of trimming.

In other action concerning trees, Bernard Freiburger and Dr. D. E. Rawson were appointed to a committee to investigate a tree planting program in the village.

A Good Man's Hard to Find

A good man nowadays is hard to find.

At least that is what the village council is learning in its attempts to replace secretary Bill Bridges.

Bridges had announced that he was quitting his post Friday and the village has been trying to replace him.

No applications have been received that have received the unqualified endorsement of the council and trustees are still investigating leads.

Meanwhile, the problem is keeping the village operating. To entice Bridges to stay another month they okayed a new salary of $110 a week . . . about twice what the job is currently paying.

rina neckline. Seed pearls and crystal beads adorned the bodice and extended to the skirt which fell into a chapel-length train. Her wedding-cake crown of pearls and crystal beads held a bouffant fingertip illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations with lily of the valley.

'n' EVERYTHING NICE

By John Sommers

"Hey Dad, bring home some cookies for us little kids, we're all out!"

These were the goodnight instructions left with me by my eldest daughter as she went to bed one night last week. You know it's amazing how cookies and kids seem to go together and how fast cookies disappear when kids are around. Sure they waste some but kids waste some of everything they eat. Cookies are a wholesome, nourishing way for kids, and grownups too, to satisfy that sweet tooth without that anxiety for teeth, digestion and appetite that goes with too much candy.

Come in and take a look at the cookies we bake for kids (and grownups too). A beautiful variety of flavors, of fillings and of sizes, will surely tempt you and we're confident you'll be filling your cookie jar often, just like we do. My kids like them all.

Incidentally I took some cookies home that day, and Saturday and I'm taking some home today too!

Our cookies and kids just go together.

Re: Reportment Phone Calls
Arthur Willis, Treasurer
Tuscola County Court House
Dear Mr. Willis:
As you know this office has been doing Red Cross Home Service, strictly on a volunteer basis, since July 1, 1964.
We have hoped every year to be able to discontinue this service but we have been having difficulty finding someone who will do the work without salary so I seem to be in a bind. I am sure that you can help me out by leaving them without anyone to turn to when it involves someone in military service.
Enclosed is check number 68 in the amount of $454.30 which is nearly as much as we can figure pay them up to the bill that comes in the first of this month and which we have not received as yet.
We have had jobs how the supervisors want you to handle this but it is money the county has already paid out on calls for the Red Cross.
We hope this does not make you too much extra work.
Cordially,
Mrs. Ella C. DeBoer
Veterans Counselor

The ad features the BULEN logo and text: 'The United Patent office has ruled that no application for a patent on a perpetual motion machine can be considered unless a working model is submitted with the application which would prove without a doubt the claims of the inventor. No such machines have ever been submitted. NO... there isn't any use heading for the garage or cellar workbench to prove that Uncle Sam acted hastily, but if you must, you might go armed with the fact that nobody can create motion without friction, regardless of how minute. The reason that many businessmen have remained in business for such a length of time is because they have avoided friction with their customers by simply representing their merchandise on an honest, straight-forward basis over the years they have been engaged in business... What better way to cut friction to a minimum? Good will and friction do not go together anyway, so good will along with good new and used cars have become the nearest thing to perpetuation ever produced at BULEN MOTORS. This is one of the reasons that BULEN has remained in the auto sales business for such a length of time. Now instead of heading for that workbench, why not head for BULEN'S and look over the new model Chevrolets and while you are at it, the OK used cars the little woman is perpetually telling you about. Erla's are in second place in the Ugly Recreation League and must depend on another team in the league to defeat Carlings in the next game if they are to have a chance at the loop title. Carlings has a 6-1 record and Erla's has a 5-2 record. In two previous games Erla's and Carlings split.

In last Friday's game, Erla's defeated Strohs, 7-3.

The club displayed a balanced attack as they lashed out eight hits to make Al Bosch's job on the mound an easy one.

Bosch continues to be the class of the league. In the four games he has been on the mound for the Foodmen he has whiffed 57, an average of over 14 per game.

As a team, Erla's have a .216 average, considered good for a fast softball league. Dan Erla leads all hitters with a .445 average. Other leading hitters are: Elwyn Helwig, .368, and J. Hillaker, .308. No other hitter is hitting as much as .250.

KOMMENTS BY KRAFT

I Wasn't A Bit Sick—Just Uneasy

By Dave Kraft

Avast, ye lubbers! "Cruiser" Kraft is here. The "Terror of the Great Lakes" is back with wild tales of mutiny on the beautiful S. S. South American.

Any of you who traveled on the S. S. South American, out of Detroit, as high school graduates, know pretty much what it's like.

Last Thursday afternoon, John Bowles, from the Caro radio station, called and said he had two reservations on the ship as guests of the line. The South American is the last of the Great Lakes cruisers and is the end of a once flourishing era.

Needless to say, I accepted. The fact that I'd heard that there was a ratio of six pretty Detroit secretaries to every man played hardly no part in my decision.

Bill Eberline took us to Detroit and after a ride with Bill, John was able to introduce me to everyone as his little, gray-haired, old father.

We boarded the ship and as soon as they dropped the mooring lines, I became seasick . . . or should that be lakesick. Actually, I didn't get sick, just uneasy.

What was making me uneasy was my first impressions of the rest of the passengers. I thought for a moment I was in Retirement Village. I walked to the bow and looked up at the wheel house where hangs a banner proclaiming "S.S. South American."

Right ship, maybe the wrong deck. I searched the decks from stem to stern and they were nowhere to be seen. Where were my six pretty Detroit secretaries?

It was plain I'd have to revise my picture of the situation. Well, one pretty Detroit secretary is better than two ugly ones. I went up to the first crew member I saw and asked him where the secretaries were and he said "I shoulda' been on last week. I checked then with the Purser and he said I shoulda been on next week. I darn near got off this week."

Well, nothing to do but relax, sit in the sun and rest, which I did. I'll say this, six Detroit secretaries couldn't have treated us any better than the crew did.

And the food. First night out we had roast duck. Next morning we had steak for breakfast.

Still, I wouldn't advise you to spend your vacation aboard the S. S. South American. At least not the first part. Instead, get in your car with the kids and race all over the country, fighting with several million Americans for accommodations and room on the road.

Keep this up until you can't stand it anymore and then grab the kids and board the South American. The rates are cheap, cheaper than, say at a hotel, and the livin' is high.

There's recreation or if you prefer, you can just sit and soak up sun and refreshments.

Next time I go, it'll either be the week before or the week after.

Spectators at the White Sox-Indians Minor League game Thursday night were treated to a rare sight. They witnessed the one and only showing of your old Uncle Dave as a first base coach. About the only sight rarer than that would be my assisting a doctor on a brain surgery operation.

What I know about baseball is infinite . . . so little as to be almost immeasurable. I told this to Coaches Dick Hampshire and Newell Harris before they sent me over, but they sent me anyway. Before I left the dugout, which really isn't dug out, Harris said, "Just watch the catcher and when he muffs a catch, send the runner to second base."

All I can say is that it's a good thing those kids know more about baseball than I. Twice I tried to send the first base runner to second with the bases loaded. The kids were real nice about it. One of them suggested that he watch the man on third base and "when he goes, I'll run." I couldn't see anything wrong with that so I told him to go ahead.

They're pretty mean to each other. They call each other all manner of vile names and mean sayings. Things like: "Fe Fi, Fo, Fum! Pitcher's full of bubble gum!" Stuff like that.

Once or twice I got the runners off and onto second, but usually only after two outs and they never seemed to make it to third or home.

The coaches didn't say much about the whole thing. I did notice that they didn't ask me back again this week.

I'd like to call your attention to a "Letter to the Editor" in this issue. It has raised some very serious questions against one of the Chronicle's columnists and I can assure you that a complete investigation is under way.

The letter is from a James Stock and the postmark is Caro. He is a "retired private investigator."

An extensive search of Caro and suburban Caro fails to disclose a James Stock.

The letter really scared the be-geebers out of me. I opened it up and looked first at the signature. The "Private Investigator (ret.)" was a shocker. I figured it was all up for me.

It's a real interesting letter, don't miss it.

No excuse is as good as a satisfactory performance.

Life is a game of chance, and many feel that the cards have been stacked against them.

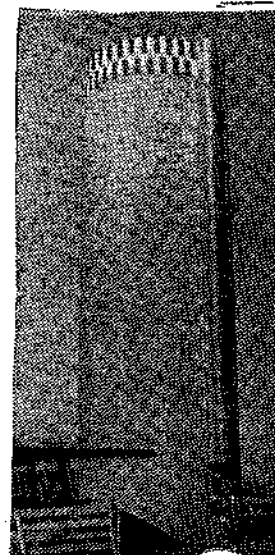

People are prone to follow example, and if fear is in the lead a panic is quite certain.

IT SEEMS TO ME How Many Hours Go Into the Material?

by the Rev. Robert J. Searis

Have you ever given time to try to figure out how many man hours of labor go into your child's Church School material? Take the obvious persons responsible, for example. First comes the one (or those) responsible for determining what subjects ought to be studied when; then come the writers and illustrators; the printer has the important task of determining what type, what ink, what type of cover will be used, etc. All in all, it takes thousands of people who give dedicated service to make certain that each lesson is Biblically accurate, understood by a trained teacher, absorbed by a student.

Every so often these materials are changed; editors attend meetings with parents frequently, not to mention teachers. In the Methodist Church this is one of those years. Attractive new lesson manuals will be used first in September. To help teachers with this new material, laboratory schools will be taught, giving helpful directions on its use. One such school is being held

THEORY ONLY
One good turn deserves another, but there is no such thing as perpetual motion.

DAY DREAMS
Don't expect to become famous by basking in the shade of a fine old family tree.

Probably no decision has ever caused a storm such as the one caused by the Supreme Court which, in effect, bans public scripture reading and prayer in public classes or assemblies. As the dust settles, it appears that the Congress is now considering a bill to amend the US Constitution to permit these traditional exercises to be held. It has come as a surprise to many people to learn that most denominations approve of and accept the court's decision! I believe that every church represented in Cass City takes a position similar to that of the court. This writer feels that the dust should be allowed to settle some more before taking any steps which we might later regret. Or, so it seems to me.

Congratulations to the United Presbyterian Church in the US! This predominantly white denomination elected a Negro, the Rev. Edler G. Hawkins, to be moderator of the denomination. A successful pastor (whatever that means), who led his church from having nine members to its current 1,000 members, Mr. Hawkins has been twice selected to be moderator of the New York City presbytery. With other responsible posts to his credit, observers were quick to point out that this position was not bestowed on him because of his race, but because of his ability. Again, congratulations!

Who said this? Overheard on a party line: "I won't go into all the details, dear. In fact, I've already told you more about it than I heard myself."

This column complained in an earlier issue about the nuisance of having street-wide, filled-in ditches at various points in the village. Now that these have all been blacktopped, I withdraw my complaint!

All-county 4-H Horse Show Slated

Eleven older horse club members have planned an All-County Horse Show-How in an attempt to bring more of the 117 4-H'ers enrolled in the horse project into the circle of blue ribbon winners at the Tuscola County Fair.

The Show-How will be Aug. 3 at 2 p.m. at the fairgrounds. In case of rain, club members should bring an umbrella. The planning committee, which is taken from all parts of the county, will cover different phases of preparing horse and rider for the fair.

All eleven members of the committee will present a fashion show of proper and improper riding clothes.

Dave McNaughton of Snover and Jack Burns of Decker will demonstrate how to saddle and bridle a horse.

Susan Maciag of Vassar will demonstrate proper mounting.

A demonstration on washing and grooming horses and cleaning tack will be given by Suzanne Hedley of Unionville and Sandy O'Connell of Owendale.

The dos and don'ts of showing a horse at halter will be given by Suzanne Kirk of Fairgrove, Jerry Cassie of Kingston and Shirley Perry of Caro.

A committee report was read by Mr. Althaver which recommended several improvements that would be of value to the Village and that might make the position more attractive to a qualified applicant. It was decided that an ad should be run in the Chronicle.

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was discussing the new plan them Congressmen was using to git their swages raised $7,500 a year. They didn't git by with that $10,000 hike on account of a roll call vote and this being an election year, but now they was sneaking through the back door with that $7,500 figger for themselves and scaled down a little fer Federal employees.

Ed Doolittle allowed as how the Government had been in the red 29 of the last 35 years, was now $309 billion in debt, and all them Congressmen was doing with this latest shenanigans was cut the price tag from $545 million a year to $533 million.

Clem Webster reported that Congressman Brock of Tennessee had a good plan to git the country out of debt but he couldn't sell it on account of the Congress ain't had no experience in anything but deficit financing. Clem said Congressman Brock would give the members a one per cent hike in pay ever year we had a $1 billion surplus, and cut their pay one per cent fer ever year they went $1 billion in the hole.

Zeke Grubb said he had been around a long time, could even recollect back to Tommy Manville's first marriage, and he ain't never knowed the Congress to buy nothing in the economy size.

Ed, that was presiding over the session, told the fellers if they didn't have no objections, he would like to git on some other subject, said his stummiack was a little upset already.

Bug Hookum was pointing out on that map of Asia we got on the wall where the Communists has moved the "neutral line" down another 10 mile in one of them countries, all with the blessings of General DeGaulle. Bug allowed as how the General was going to wake up some morning and find they was moving the line through his front yard. It was the opinion of the fellers that General DeGaulle's halo was starting to tarnish a bit. One of the fellers claimed it was even gitting rusty.

Zeke reported he had saw in the papers where they was al-

Eliminate Red Tape In Mental Care

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Better Mental Care

Care of mentally ill patients in Michigan apparently will undergo some change in procedure, but will follow the current trend under the state's new mental health chief.

Dr. Robert A. Kimmich came from California to Michigan July 1 to serve as head of the large Mental Health Department.

One of his first observations was that much of the red tape involved in mental care should be eliminated. "I would like to see us minimize the number of persons and places a patient has to go to in order to receive care," he said.

The trend toward part time, close-to-home care facilities is one which should be continued, said Kimmich.

Michigan accentuated this trend within the last three years. Its aim is to provide care as close to home as possible and on a day-care or out-patient basis wherever practical.

Establishment of community care facilities was enabled by legislative act last year. Prior to the official act, mental health experts touted community care centers as the answer to space demands in existing institutions.

One possibility for even further localization of care for mental patients was hinted at by Kimmich shortly after his arrival in the state.

He said he hoped to develop a broader program of cooperation with general medical practitioners, social workers and others in a position to observe potential mental problems and suggest early treatment programs.

Beauty Treatment

The aging process which has been working on Michigan's Capitol building for 85 years is about to be stopped.

Some $200,000 was appropriated this year to clean the exterior of the sandstone building. It was white when built, but over the years has become a dirty, streaked gray-black.

Art-minded citizens have contended over the years that the aging process should be allowed to run its course unhindered, that the natural look should be preserved.

Others, many tourists among them, say the state's central government building should be more physically attractive.

A new coat of paint was applied to the dome of the building within the past few years, emphasizing more the aged appearance of the rest of the facade.

Some experts feared the effect of sand blasting on the soft Indiana sandstone structure, but state officials expect a new cleaning process to be used this summer will eliminate this risk.

By fall almost 20 years of debate on the advisability of the project will be a moot point. There will be a new face on the building which will house so many new legislative faces at the beginning of the new year.

New Party

An unknown factor in the fall elections nationally, reaction on both sides of the civil rights question, many have particular impact in Michigan.

Democrats usually count heavily on the Negro vote. The Freedom Now Party has nominated Negro candidates for several of the open offices in an effort to marshal the Negro vote to these people.

Any major shift in the Negro vote is viewed by Democrats as a threat to the party's strength in marginal districts and tight statewide contests.

Republican Gov. George Romney has made little public comment on the new party but made a major attempt in 1962 to win Negro votes in his campaign and will again be trying to capture a large segment of this population group to his side in this year's contest.

Organizers of the new minor party say their effort is a protest to both major parties for failure to give the recognition and representation due Negro voters in Michigan.

Impact of the new group will not be felt until after Nov. 3 but both parties are likely to be eyeing the Negro vote more closely this year because of formation of the Freedom Now Party.

The safest investment for any young person is time and money spent for a good education.

Re: Uncle Tim caper
Dear Mister Editor:

An extensive search of Tyre and suburban Tyre fails to disclose not only Uncle Tim but any of his nephews, brothers or other kin. It appears entirely possible that his weekly letters to you are, indeed being written by someone using Uncle Tim as a pseudonym.

Has it ever occurred to you that perhaps an aspiring journalist whose political insight, spelling and grammar have yet to reach full bloom is using your publication as a means of seeing his efforts in print?

I feel it is entirely possible that Ed Doolittle, Clem Webster and Uncle Tim's other alleged intimates are also fictitious although I did locate a Paul Webster near Tyre.

I, naturally, only supply the facts so that you may draw your own conclusion.

You'll be happy to know that the young fellow you've been employing under the name of Dave Kraft is using his own name and his newspaper references from Washington State are accurate. He even had two other kids with bikes working for him.

Covert observation of his home life discloses that he is, indeed, the slow-witted, bungling clod he portends to be in his column.

This will be my final investigative effort as I have mortgaged my home and office to go into a great new venture. By an extremely fortuitous set of circumstances connected with my work I have purchased some extremely rare four, five and seven leaf ciphers which I expect to resell at a great profit.

I trust this information will suffice to set you at ease regarding the above matters.

I am yours respectfully

Dear Dave Kraft:

We greatly enjoyed reading your story of Doug Howell and his well drilling outfit. I will recall the first machine that Doug's father (who was my uncle Grant Howell) bought and had shipped to the freight station in Gagetown on a flat car.

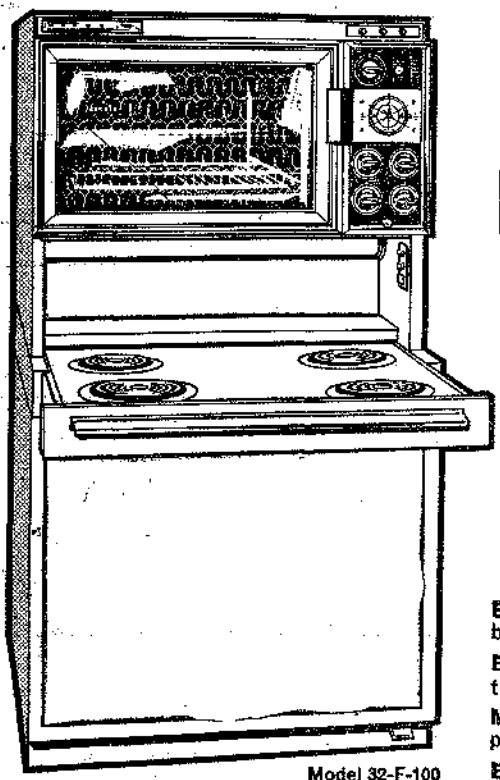

It was unloaded down a ramp, then Uncle Grant got a Mr. McLellan with an ox team to haul it up the road and park it in our yard, where we needed a well drilled. That was the only time I ever saw an ox team working, and it was wonderful to watch them lean into the yoke as they pulled the heavy machine up a steep hill with deep sand ruts all the way.

He walked beside the team, touching them from time to time with an "ox gad" to guide them, and urging them on with "Come on, Buck! Come on, Bright! Haw, Bright! Gee, Buck!"

The machine was set up and drilling went well until about 110 feet down, when the drill struck a hard head, and Uncle Grant worked for days to get down about 18 inches more. He was so worried about it that he could scarcely sleep nights.
