

Sheriff Deputies Keep Order at Yard

State Police riot squads and deputies from four area counties cleared spectators from the Michigan Livestock Exchange auction ring Tuesday when they became unruly during an otherwise quiet demonstration by National Farmers Organization members.

Police escorted the six buyers present from the ring when it appeared the demonstrators were getting out of hand. The crowd made so much noise that the auctioneers couldn't be heard and just two deacon calves were sold before the sale was called off.

Riot squads, comprised of about 30 State Police under the direction of Lt. Jack Nemrova, Bay City, assistant district commander, 3rd District, lined the yards along the sheriff's deputies from Huron, Lapeer, Sanilac and Tuscola counties. State Police were from West Branch, Tawas, Bay City, Bridgeport, Bad Axe and Sandusky.

NFO pickets were given an opportunity to stop entering trucks and talk to the drivers for a reasonable length of time. Drivers wishing to enter the yard were not hampered any further.

Lt. Nemrova explained the presence of the riot squads as "to prevent violence and maintain order."

Sheriff Quincy Hoffman, Sandusky, explained to demonstrators that the deputies and state police were at the yard at the National Farmers Organization members.

From the Editor's Corner

Trying to write this column away from the office and without a typewriter is as hard for me as teaching would be without workbooks.

After nearly two decades of pounding out columns and stories with the typewriter, any other way is slow, cumbersome and difficult and actually seems to inhibit my thought processes.

As we hang around with nothing to do but watch TV, read and rest, we have plenty of time for thinking.

Every morning we still miss the Free Press, especially after seeing a morning TV news show - then wanting to find out what it is all about in the paper.

I read an article by a columnist recently that pointed out that Detroit doesn't seem nearly so close, its problems so vital now that the paper doesn't mirror the happenings of the community.

In my mind, anyway, Detroit is becoming just another large city - like Chicago or New York where important things happen but are not of a great interest to me personally.

When the papers stop reporting the human interest stories, the kid at the zoo or the boy with the Tiger baseball, the city loses the touch that brings it into focus as the news center of the entire state.

Benefit Dance To Aid Decker Cancer Victim

Chances are, if you need a helping hand in Decker, you'll get it and to prove the point, neighbors and friends of Mrs. Leo Ashcroft, a cancer victim, are holding a benefit dance Saturday, Sept. 12, to provide her with funds for a new medicine.

Mrs. Ashcroft, in her late 50's, has had cancer for the past five years, according to Mrs. James Fleming, a neighbor. Mrs. Ashcroft's husband is a farmer.

The couple have exhausted their finances with X-rays, therapy and other treatment not covered by insurance. Just recently, doctors prescribed a new medicine which may arrest the disease or at last relieve the extreme pain.

The new medicine, however, is quite costly and hard to obtain. Neighbors and friends of the well-liked Decker woman heard of her plight and organized the dance.

Decker Masons donated their hall for the dance and Bill Montague of Caro and his orchestra will provide the music. The dance is slated to start at 8:00 p.m.

Mrs. Ashcroft, a former Walbro employee, has spent all her life in the area, living also at Kingston and Wilmet.

Area persons wishing to attend the dance may purchase tickets at the door.

Gagetown Church to Dedicate Addition

Gagetown Nazarenes will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the building of their church Sunday with special services at 2:30 p.m., according to Rev. Alvin D. Richards, pastor.

Dedication of a new $6,000 addition will also be held during the services.

Dr. E. W. Martin, D.D., will be the featured speaker at the program and a large attendance is expected.

The new addition, the first to the church in its 50 years, is ultra-modern and features a foyer, rest rooms and an extra Sunday School room.

The dedication will be held despite the fact that the new addition is not completed. Rev. Richards stated that it should have been finished two weeks ago, but

"KITTY-KITTY, HERE I COME" — Margarita Lopez, 27-year-old teacher from Gagetown, packs her luggage as she prepares to leave on a jaunt that will take her to her new teaching job in Quiriquire (Kitty-kitty), Venezuela. Top salary, fringe benefits and a "chance to do something different" were the chief attractions for the year-long job. (Chronicle photo)

South American Job Offers Teacher Something Different

Ordinarily, "Kitty-kitty" means soup's on for the cat. However, if you're a 27-year-old teacher and "Kitty-kitty" is spelled Quiriquire, it means home for the next year.

That's what is means for pert Margarita A. Lopez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Regino Lopez of Gagetown. Marge, as she prefers to be called, left Monday, Aug. 31, from Tri-County Airport for Quiriquire, Venezuela, where she will teach for a year as an employee of Creole Petroleum, an affiliate of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

For an American teacher, Quiriquire also means a big salary, fringe benefits, recreation and a whole new way of life.

Located in the northeastern portion of Venezuela, Quiriquire has a population of 7,500, many of whom work in the Creole Petroleum oil fields. The climate varies with altitude and the temperature ranges from 65 to 95 degrees.

Rainfall is heavy and lush tropical vegetation predominates. It is also only 11 degrees north of the equator.

Marge applied for the teaching position there through an ad in the NEA Journal last February and was notified of her acceptance last May.

"Something Different" She chose the job primarily because she wanted to become more familiar with her native language, Spanish, because of the salary, but mostly because "it was something different."

For the past four and a half years, Marge has been a second and third grade teacher at Edith Baillies Elementary School in Saginaw, which has about 800 students in grades kindergarten through six.

A Gagetown resident all her life, Marge is a 1955 graduate of Cass City High School and a 1960 graduate of Central Michigan University.

Marge's decision means change, not only in location, but in nearly every aspect of teaching.

School begins September 16 and ends July 6 for the first graders which she will teach. Easter and Christmas vacations are much longer.

Smaller Classes "Classes are much smaller," she reports. In Saginaw, her average class-load was 25 students. At Quiriquire, her average class will be 10 students.

The students are all the children of Creole Petroleum employees. Marge will be one of four North American teachers at the school.

Marge will also fulfill her desire to learn more of her native language. Seventy-five per cent of teaching is done in the native language, either English or Spanish, depending on the student.

She must also provide a strong second-language program. "Aside from the heavy concentration on language, the curriculum is pretty much the same as in North American schools," Marge reports.

Maid Provided During her stay, she will live in a bungalow type home with three other teachers. The home features a bedroom for each teacher, two bathrooms, a dining room, kitchen, living room . . . and a maid.

A common fund is set up for the purchase of food and to pay the maid who does all the house-keeping and some cooking.

Social life centers around the Community Club which offers swimming, bowling and other recreational activities.

Creole Petroleum is one of the major oil companies of the world, with a one billion dollar investment in Venezuela, the largest investment of any single company working in that country.

Operating mostly deep-water wells, the company pumps over one million barrels of oil a day in that country alone.

Besides a higher salary, Creole Petroleum offers its teachers other fringe benefits such as 30-day vacations, profit sharing and free transportation.

Taxes range from four to seven per cent of the gross earning. However, teachers spending more will attend the State Tax Assessor meeting in Detroit Oct. 19-21. Also appointed to the committee by Chairman Quentin Howell were Carson Leach and Everette Starkey.

Mrs. Drudge reported her husband missing, according to Marr, when she returned home Saturday afternoon from Caro State Hospital where she is employed.

Livonia Pilot Recovering from Crash Injuries

A 38-year-old Livonia man seriously injured in the crash of his small plane near Gagetown Monday, Aug. 10, while crop dusting, is apparently recovering without ill effects, according to a letter from his wife.

Mrs. Edward Clements, wife of the pilot, wrote Mr. and Mrs. William O'Dell of Cass City, in a letter dated Sept. 1, that her husband is shaking off the effects of shock and injuries.

"He doesn't remember much about the hospital or his first week home as he was still quite confused and shaken up," she writes.

Clements was crop dusting near Gagetown under consignment to Farm Chemical of Cass City, managed by O'Dell. He spent 10 days at Hills and Dales Hospital in Cass City before being transferred to a hospital near his home.

What caused the crash has not been reported, although at the time authorities speculated he lost air speed following a turn. The plane crashed and slid down a small hill.

A check of similar crashes by Skyway Crop Dusting, Ann Arbor, the firm Clements flies for, revealed that very few pilots survive such crashes.

Mrs. Clements reported that her husband expressed his gratitude to the witnesses of the crash who helped remove him from the plane.

order of Gov. George Romney. Strangely enough, although male NFO members grumbled at the presence of police at the yard, it was the women members, wives of the pickets, who gave police the most trouble, agitating and arguing with police.

A convoy of seven trucks entered the yard, despite the picketers' pleas. All told, there were 58 head of livestock, some veal, pork and cows on hand for the sale.

In Cass City, pickets blocked the driveway of Erla's Meat Packing slaughterhouse over the week end and during the early part of the week in an attempt to halt incoming livestock.

Similar squads of police were on hand at auctions in Caro and Lapeer.

Prices continued to hold about usual for this time of year with the market a little stronger for hogs, according to the Chicago market. Beef remained about regular.

NEW START

Start from scratch—you can't build a new reputation on the ruins of an old one.

BULEN TALKS Cars

Have you ever seen a child wearing glasses - and noticed that your first impulse might be to feel sorry for him? Well, you needn't - because actually if you're going to feel sorry for that child - feel sorry for him before he got his glasses. Before he could follow the flight of the new jets, the Baseball over the infield, the shiny new sports car racing down the freeway, or the shiny new colors on everything in today's life.

If you are going to feel sorry, feel sorry for the children who don't know there's a far brighter world to be seen, and who don't say anything because they think everybody sees what they see.

To see, is a valuable gift of life that can enhance all of our values and make them more pleasurable. This thought applies not only to the child with glasses but also to all of us who do not take the time

"to see."

A pause to see and appreciate the many pleasures of the day can be topped off with a visit to BULEN MOTORS to look over the many bright new CHEVYS available, in the showroom... and we maintain our OK used cars so that they are a pleasure to look upon and try out.

Come in and look us over today!
CLEANUP!!! Two more weeks till the '65s bow in. We must move the 12 '64s we have still in stock. Our loss is your gain. We will refuse no reasonable offer. "Hamlet" Scheduled In 4 Performances

Richard Burton in "Hamlet," one of the greatest attractions in the history of the New York stage, will be presented direct from Broadway at the Strand Theatre in Caro for four performances only through the revolutionary new electronic-optical Electronovision process of Theatrofilm.

One thousand theatres throughout the United States and Canada will present Burton's once in a lifetime interpretation of "Hamlet" on the same two days. The four performances will include two matinees and two evening performances.

"Hamlet" concluded its Broadway run in New York Aug. 8. Instead of a "road" tour of the play, it will be brought to audiences from coast to coast in Electronovision Theatrofilm.

The new electronic-optical process makes it possible for audiences everywhere to see an outstanding Broadway production exactly as it is performed on the New York stage.

The production has been acclaimed on Broadway by critics and public alike, with many calling it Burton the greatest "Hamlet" of all time.

Tickets will be sold in advance and will be at popular prices.

—KOMMENTS BY KRAFT—

Behold, It Was A Praying Mantis

By Dave Kraft

We got several reactions to our picture of the dejected donkey in last week's issue.

Pat Rabideau and Mrs. Clyde Wells both wise-cracked, upon seeing me that Thursday, "Well, Dave, see you got your picture in the paper again."

Both within the same hour. I told Rabideau that I didn't think he'd recognize me from that angle but he did.

The night the paper came out, some girls came in and said they sure liked the picture of the "cow" on the front page. Every now and then I pick up a little scratch from making reprints, but if it gets around that my donkeys look like cows, I may as well forget the whole thing.

These are three prize bloopers that the public never saw because of the adeptness of our proof readers.

From a nursing school graduation: "So and so will be among nursing students salted to take part in commencement exercises."

From a softball story: "He was backed by errorless gail by his teammates."

From a card of thanks: "And all the friends who sent cars and flowers."

I've always considered myself something of a master of animals. Kind but masterful. Always in control of the various beasts.

The other day I was visiting some friends who were not home. By that, I mean that I didn't know they weren't home when I went to visit them, but when I got there, they weren't home... if you see what I mean.

Their dog, however, was home. Always, and I mean without exception, whenever I had called before, the cur was friendly. Playful, even.

This time he was a slobbering, teeth-gnashing maniac. He slashed at my tires and made other obscene gestures that only dogs can make.

Ignoring his threats, I got out of the car and headed for the door. He came at me, head down, scruff up and teeth bared.

I crouched. Somewhere I had read that if you stare an advancing dog steadily in the eyes, he'll turn and run. I imagine it would be quite hard to stare him in the eyes if he was advancing away from you, but then why would you want to?

I stared. He kept coming. Then he hesitated... took another step... hesitated.

I kept staring. It was obviously working. As long as my eyes held out, I'd be okay. I felt a twitch develop in the left cuticle. Hmmm? Excuse me, I mean the left cornea.

He came at me again. I stared harder. Any harder and I'd give him the double whammy so popular with "Evil Eye" Fleggie, or whatever his name is, in the "Lil' Abner" comics.

I kept staring right up to the moment he sank his chompers into my money shins. Then I didn't stare any more. I closed my eyes tightly so the tears couldn't get out.

I also slapped my hand to my head and that's when I found out why all my staring hadn't worked... I had my sunglasses on.

Did you see in last week's paper that Zemke Real Estate was 48 years old? Can you imagine that. I'd have sworn that Bill was only about 49 himself.

Nothing new on our still. I sent a nasty letter but as yet I've heard nothing. Somebody was telling he how to make a still out of a pressure cooker but they took him off before he could finish.

I walked into Cass City & Gas Thursday and before I could hit him for his ad, Cliff Ferguson pulled out a cardboard box and said, "What's this?"

I was going to say, "A cardboard box," but before I could, he whipped off the lid and lo and behold, inside was a praying mantis.

It was the first praying mantis I'd ever seen that close. If I recollect correctly, the praying mantis kills and eats its mate immediately after mating.

Some days a guy can't do nothin' right.

Methodist Church Moves Toward Integration

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

It's nice to see one's denomination praised once in a while. Being the second largest, my own more often is criticized. But The Christian Century, a very influential magazine, in its issue for August 5, comments editorially that "Methodists Move Toward Integration," pointing out that the churches are moving forward at a lot faster clip than the General Conference anticipated. Two new Negro bishops, Bishop James S. Thomas and Bishop Prince Taylor Jr., have been elected to that high office (the highest the Methodist Church has) and sent to head Methodist work in Iowa (300,000 members, nearly all white) and in New Jersey (200,000 members, 95 per cent white). The churches of the former Negro Central Jurisdiction are integrating with the white churches. In several other parts of the nation, this integration is taking place at a rate that indicates that being Christian has nothing to do with segregation. Or, so it seems to me!

Well, the crime reports for last year have been submitted to (and digested by) the FBI, with the disappointing information that crime in our nation is up once again -- by 10 per cent! J. Edgar Hoover estimates that the cost of crime to the country as a whole was 27 billion dollars! (That income tax bite out of your pay check looks a lot smaller, somehow.) Since 1958, the FBI chief reports, crime has increased five times as fast as the population has grown. Chicago's crime rate dropped this year, and Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Miami, Phoenix and Lexington, Ky., all have higher crime rates than Chicago. With Las Vegas now in the top spot, where are the advocates of legalized professional gambling?

"The shocking story coming out of Mississippi, confirming the deliberate, premeditated murder of three young men associated with the voter-registration program, has sickened us to the point of pain. We hope the perpetrators of this foul deed will be apprehended and punished to the law's limit." These lines from an editorial from the magazine, Christianity Today, edition of August 28, 1964, reflect the feelings of us all. We add our sympathy to their families.

What Negroes think about key problems was revealed recently by four reporters of THE NEW YORK TIMES. Jobs, housing, crime and education, in that order, constitute their biggest problems. One in eight believes there is much police brutality; one in three that there is little such brutality; fewer than one out of ten said that they themselves had witnessed any. Three out of four think that Martin Luther King Jr. is doing most for the Negro but 55 per cent put their confidence in the NAACP as the organization doing most for them. There were many other topics submitted to those being interviewed. It is important to know this to help us make an evaluation of what is happening around the country. Or, so it seems to me.

Timely Fall Tips For Farmers

Alfred Ballweg, county extension director, reminds farmers of the following timely fall items:

Take soil samples now. Then plan fertilizer program and place orders for delivery before the spring rush.

Apply lime in fall to neutralize soil acidity for spring planting.

Application of atrazine, amitrol-T or dalapon in early November can be first step in quack-grass control. Do it early enough to plow before winter freeze-up and keep quack roots exposed during winter.

MCPA on legume fields now will not damage plants but will kill yellow rocket.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

Me and my old lady, as they say in the papers, "observed" our 45th wedding anniversary last week. We "observed" it just like the other 44, by gitting up and starting the morning chores.

We've got along pritty good all through the years, comparative speaking. Fer instant, I was reading where a feller in Denver didn't like the way his wife cooked his eggs fer breakfast, so he throwed 'em in her face. Whereupon she whammed him over the head with the frying pan. That's a mighty pore way fer a married couple to start off the day. I learned 45 years ago that if I didn't like my old lady's cooking, to eat it with gusto, as they say on the society pages.

I also learned along about 45 years ago they ain't no percentage in a feller arguing with his wife. As the old saying goes, you can come up with a ton of logic and she'll beat you ever time with a ounce of tears. And I ain't never been a feller, Mister Editor, to challenge the impossible. My old lady does the talking at my house and I do the listening and I've found this to be a mighty peaceful arrangement. I recommend this system high fer married couples that ain't gitting along too good.

Incidental, family life has changed a heap since I was a boy. I'm always reading in the papers where some baby-setter has kidnapped a young'un or has got murdered or somepun. I was 50 years old afore I ever heard tell of a baby-setter. When I was a young'un the baby-setter was the next oldest child. We had a step ladder system in the family, and they was always a baby-setter from about the 6th year of marriage up till the 26th. And when I was a boy the father used his belt to hold his pants up and his kids down. Times has changed. So has the kids.

Moving on to bigger things, I see by the papers where the Democrats and the Republicans was to the point in the campaign where they was accusing each other of stealing sheep. Both sides is predicting a depression if the other side wins. If a depression comes, I hope the Lord will take care of the rich. The pore knows how to take care of their selves.

They was two things you can perdict fer shore in politics. When candidates on both sides git in the farm country they always blame the farm program on the other party, and when they git in the cities both takes credit fer the big prosperity in the nation. And second, if you see some feller walking down the highway with a bundle on his back, the "outs" has won the election and the "ins" was coming home from the public trough. In November I aim to watch the highways. It's faster than gitting the returns on TV.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Public Education Only Answer To Eyesore Litter Problem

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Dumb and Dirty?

Since public education is the biggest problem behind the state's anti-litter campaign, much of the Keep Michigan Beautiful effort is aimed at mass information media.

Gordon B. Bonfield of Grand Rapids, chairman of the permanent Keep Michigan Beautiful organization, now has 10 citizen committees working to inform various segments of the population of the need for no-litter attitude.

Each is working with local organizations "so that others will know of the campaign and how they can help," said Bonfield.

Armed with Michigan's new anti-litter law, the committees hope to encourage law enforcement officials to levy penalties upon litterbugs. These penalties can include such things as requiring an offender to remove litter from public places.

But preventing the cluttering eyesores caused by litterbugs is the main goal of Keep Michigan Beautiful.

Through the use of a national film, brochures and broad publicity campaigns, they hope to make Michigan citizens aware of the litter problem and how every individual can help diminish it.

"As time goes on, we hope to produce a movie made on the Michigan scene to point up the problems we have right here at home and how we can lick these problems," said Bonfield.

Keep Michigan Beautiful started under the administration of former Gov. John B. Swainson as a group of high government officials.

This group studied the problem generally to determine its scope and make recommendations for official action to eliminate it.

Then under Gov. George Romney the new organization was formed among prominent private citizens to provide a continuing effort.

Working with organizational help from the State Chamber of Commerce in Lansing, the new group has been lauded by Gov. Romney for its work to date as "a remarkable example of private action in the public interest."

Fewer Babies

Birth records in Michigan are expected to continue the seven year downward trend, State Health Department statisticians predict.

Reports during the first six months of this year showed a continued decline from the previous year. The January to June figures reported 2,622 births less than in the same period of 1963. Births hit a peak in 1957 at 207,277 and have declined every year since. Last year's total of 177,686 births marked the first time since 1952 that the number of births in Michigan did not exceed 180,000.

Low Pay Improves

Nurses in Michigan hospitals received a substantial increase in average earnings over the past few years, but they are still not among the top five categories in hospital personnel.

This year's survey by the Michigan Hospital Association showed the average starting salary of a general duty nurse has increased 20.3 per cent since 1959 while the cost of living has gone up only 7.6 per cent.

The top five salaried positions in hospitals are the nurse anesthetist, pharmacist, registered social worker, physical therapist and staff dietitian, the Association study showed.

Monthly pay among 30 key hospital staff jobs this year has increased an average of 4.3 per cent over 1963, the survey showed.

Alan Barth, executive director of the Association, said 73 per cent of the Association's hospital members participated in this year's survey.

The average pay for the 30 positions was $376 per month as compared to $362 in 1963 and $347 the previous year. The study was limited to certain positions which could be related to the other job classifications being surveyed, said Barth.

Awareness of Tax

Taxes on income remain a major issue with the people of Michigan, the current campaign reveals.

Several legislative candidates from throughout the state who went through a primary campaign report that one of the most frequently asked questions from their constituents was "Where do you stand on a state income tax?"

There has been no indication at this time that either candidate for Governor plans to propose a state income tax program next year.

There can be little doubt, however, that each will be listening to public sentiment about it as they travel the state in the remainder of the campaign.

Zonta Members to Attend Conference

The first monthly dinner meeting for the Zonta Club of Cass City was held at the Hotel Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Plans were formulated for money-raising funds for the year and a resume of work accomplished was presented.

Several Zonta members plan to attend the District 5 Conference to be held in Windsor, Ont., Sept. 25-27. The hostess clubs will be Chatham, Sarnia and Windsor and the conference will be held at the Prince Edward Hotel.

Helen Baker, president, was elected to represent the local club as delegate and Helen Stevens was named alternate delegate.

Reconvene EUB Fellowship Classes

The Wednesday evening Bible Fellowship Hour of Salem EUB Church will reconvene Sept. 9 at its new time of 7:30 p.m.

The Fellowship Hour is a family service with classes for children, youth and adults, according to R. E. Betts, pastor.

The hour-service features a combined opening session with a brief worship in the sanctuary where all ages meet together and sit in family groups. This is followed by separation into various classes for study and prayer for the remainder of the hour.

Slate Ram Day at Cass City Yards

Buyers will deal directly with the seller and the age, weight and price will be marked on each ram. Rams will also be dipped prior to the event.

An increase in salary to the modern family only means more debts they have to pay.

The only redeeming feature about air castles is that you don't have to pay rent on them.
